NATIONAL GUARDS PATROL S. C. STRIKE AREA

NEW FORCES TO BE SOUGHT AT PELZER

Steel-Helmeted Soldiers Called as Officers Fear Outbreak at Pelzer Manufacturing Company Mills; Mills Closed Today But Work Will Be Resumed Tomorrow

Pelzer, S. C., July 16.—(AP)—Steel-helmeted national guardsmen today took over maintenance of order in the textile strike situation here which local officers feared had explosive qualities.

Called out by Governor Olin D. Johnson after midnight, 60 men and officers of company 6, 118th infantry from Greenville rolled into this little community in the southwestern part of the state with the dawn and by 7 a. m. were on patrol duty at the Pelzer Manufacturing Company mills.

The mill which experienced a walkout yesterday did not attempt to open this morning. Sheriff A. Clump said he was informed by Superintendent J. F. Blackman that they would try to reopen tomorrow.

Captain Edgar Hughes, commanding the national guardsmen, disclosed he was asking that another company be sent here.

LEGION MEETS OUT OF TOWN

Post to Enjoy Supper On Herman J. McLawhorn Farm Near Winterville Tonight

Members of Pitt County Post of the American Legion were to be guests of Ayden and Winterville legion members at a barbecue and Brunswick stew supper tonight at 6 o'clock on the Herman J. McLawhorn farm, on the highway between Ayden and Winterville, about a half mile from Winterville.

This is the first time the legion has held a meeting out of the city in several months and members were looking forward to the occasion with more than usual interest.

The invitation was extended to the post by members of the Ayden and Winterville communities at the last regular meeting and was immediately accepted.

If there is anything Ayden and Winterville people know how to do it is fix barbecue and Brunswick stew and the layout tonight will probably be the most elaborate and appetizing the former service men have had the chance to sit down to in many a day. The boys who went across the ocean several years ago to fight Kaiser "Bill" can hide a good one in view of the fact that it breaks the monotony of meeting in the same place all the time and offers different menus.

It was understood that attendance would be large tonight in spite of unfavorable weather conditions which have held the community in grip for several days.

NAB ESCAPED CONVICT IN LAURENBERG BARN

Laurensburg, July 16.—John "Tootie" McLeann, negro trusty and convicted filling station robber who escaped from the State road camp here yesterday, was captured tonight by Laurensburg police, concealed in the hay rack of a mule stable, covered by sacks in the barn of Angus Maynor, local negro.

HOLD NEGRO FOR SHOOTING

James Addison Jailed Here For Wounding Walter Page at Leens Today

James Addison, colored, was jailed here today on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon growing out of the shooting of Walter Page, also colored, at Leens, about 15 miles north of Greenville during the morning.

With a 22 bullet wound in the stomach and arm, Page was rushed to Robersonville for medical aid, but the full extent of his injuries had not been determined by sheriff's officers here this afternoon. The bullet, fired from a rifle, passed through the negro's stomach, entered his arm and lodged in the wrist.

Addison, who was picked up by Deputy Sheriffs Preston Pierce and Herbert Harris, on a road a short distance from Leens, admitted his identity, and said he shot Page because he was scared of him, and though he had reached in his pocket for some weapon with which to attack him.

Although Page was believed to be in a serious condition, officers said they believed he would recover.

ANTI-JEWISH RIOTING BRINGS STERN WARNING

Berlin, July 16.—(AP)—Anti-Jewish rioting last night brought a warning to criminals to the state from the state police today.

It followed demonstrations on the Kurfurstendamm boulevard which lasted until the early morning hours and which the press called putting a "damper" on growing Jewish arrogance.

Blame Legislature For Shortage School Money

Reflector Bureau.

By J. C. BASKERVILL

Raleigh, July 16.—If the school appropriation of $20,000,000 for next year is not enough to permit every teacher to receive an increase of 20 per cent in his or her salary this year, the fault lies with the general assembly in failing to appropriate sufficient money for such an increase and not with the State School Commission whose duty it is to distribute and allot whatever sum of money is appropriated for the schools by the general assembly. It is pointed out here today. For several days the Raleigh News and Observer has been carrying stories which have been leaving the impression with many people that the State School Commission is attempting to withhold some of the money which the general assembly appropriated for teachers' salaries and that sufficient money was appropriated for every teacher to get

MILLIONS SEE MOON ECLIPSE

(By The Associated Press)

The moon totally eclipsed by the earth shone colored from the reflected rays last night and early today in a celestial spectacle that kept millions of Americans up past bedtime.

The eclipse was the longest visible in the country in fifty years. There will not be another of such length for another half century.

CHILD HIT BY CAR, INJURED

William Crawford Badly Hurt in Accident Near Ballard's Cross Roads

William Crawford, five-year-old son of W. J. Crawford, of the Ballard's Cross Roads Community, was reported seriously injured when struck by an automobile by W. G. Ward of Greenville on the highway near Ballard's Cross Roads, yesterday.

The child was brought to the local hospital suffering from a fractured skull broken thigh and painful bruise in the back. Although little hope was at first held out for his recovery he was reported to have shown much improvement the last several hours and attending physicians said this morning strong hope was held out for his recovery. There were no witnesses to the accident described as unavoidable which happened near a barn where the child's father was curing tobacco. The barn is situated close to the highway and the child suddenly dashed around the corner of the building onto the highway directly in the path of the Ward car.

SPUD PRICES LOWERED ON STRIKE FRONT

Eastern Shore Growers Decide to Cut Prices as Buyers Refuse to Buy

Painter, Va., July 16.—(AP)—Squeezed by a buyer's boycott and accumulating demurrage charges, Eastern Shore potato growers today slashed their peg price from $2.10 to $1.60 a barrel and prepared to welcome the federal government as a powerful ally in their battle for increased earnings from their crop.

The sharp reduction was made by the governing council of the growers whose authority was enforced anew by massed growers who met again last night at Central School here to consider the emergency.

Spokesmen explained that for the past week only 50 to 60 carloads of potatoes a day had been moving from the district in contrast with usual shipments of 300 to 400 carloads at this time, ordinarily the peak of the season.

Potatoes dug and moved to the tracks in anticipation of shipment were rapidly piling up such high demurrage charges that these assessments would outweigh the worth of the potatoes themselves, farm leaders said.

The drastic cut in prices was made necessary by the coming in of growers in the Tidewater section of the state and who sold below the peg prices attained in the Eastern Shore strike, leaders pointed out.

Liquor Store Thrown Open At Washington

Washington, N. C., July 16.—(AP)—Beaufort county's first liquor store was opened here today and by noon 137 customers had purchased $127.44 worth of liquor.

The store opening was delayed until 10:30 awaiting the arrival of federal license.

Late News Flashes

Carry Liquor Fight to Higher Court
Henderson, July 16.—(AP)—Organized drays of Vance county who recently lost an effort before Judge W. S. Devin to restrain an election on county liquor control today filed an appeal to the Supreme Court although a liquor store authorized by the election last week has already been opened.

Never Absconded Convicts
Charlotte, N. C., July 16.—(AP)—R. C. Cape, one of three former prison camp officials on trial in Superior court here on charges of mistreating two negro convicts testified today he never abused the negroes.

American Arrested in Berlin Rioting
Berlin, July 16.—(AP)—E. W. Wood of New York, a midshipman of the U. S. battleship Wyoming, was arrested in the anti-Jewish riot in Kurfurstendamm Boulevard last night and spent the night in jail.

He was released today after paying a fine of 50 marks—about $20. Several hundred American midshipmen spending a holiday in Berlin. (Continued on Page Four)

MAKE SURVEY SWIFT CREEK

Federal Government Takes First Step Toward Relief of Flood Area

The federal government was reported today to be conducting a survey of Swift Creek with a view to improving overflow conditions caused by the stream being clogged with logs by a force of relief workers nearly two years ago.

Working along the creek the relief workers chopped down numbers of trees and let them fall into the creek. Before the program could be completed relief money gave out and the tree remained in the creek. (Continued on Page Three.)

PERSONNEL OF TWO WHISKEY STORES NAMED

Control Board Scheduled to Name Greenville Employees This Afternoon

The Pitt County ABC board announced this afternoon shortly before 4 o'clock the personnel of the liquor store to be established in Greenville.

W. H. Ward is manager, Charlie James, assistant manager and J. B. Edwards, clerk.

The board had not yet decided on locations of the county stores but probably will do this early tomorrow.

The Pitt County Liquor Control Board met in its office on the second floor of the courthouse this morning and selected managers and clerks of liquor stores to be established at Farmville and Ayden but left selection of the Greenville store personnel until sometime this afternoon.

The manager of the Farmville store is J. R. Shearin and the clerk is W. E. Joyner.

R. C. Coward is manager of the Ayden store and Edwin Tripp, clerk. The personnel of the two stores was picked from a number of applications coming from the communities concerned, and there were several to be taken under advisement before the Greenville employees are chosen.

In addition to discussion of personnel, the board also considered locations for stores in all three towns, but no definite decision was reached. It was understood that a warehouse was also being sought in Greenville where all liquor will be stored before being distributed to the various stores.

Store sites have been under consideration since the middle of last week, and while several have been offered in all three towns, one board is finding it rather difficult to find a desirable place. All buildings selected will have to be remodeled to meet certain specifications before being accepted by the board.

COUNTY COURT IS POSTPONED

Regular Weekly Sitting Abandoned on Account of Rush Work on the Farms

The regular weekly sitting of County court scheduled for today was abandoned to give farmers an opportunity to catch up with work on their farms.

The postponement was ordered the latter part of last week in view of the long siege of rain which has held away over this immediate part of the state, greatly slowing down farm activities, and making it necessary for farmers to give every minute of their time to the movement of crops from fields.

Only a few cases had been scheduled for hearing today and the majority of the defendants were out under bond. Most of the actions originated in Greenville but a few came from other sections of the county.

Although no mention has been made of it, the time is not far away when County Court takes its annual vacation of a month or so. That will probably come in August as it has in past years and announcement of the date was being looked forward to with interest by officials and attaches.

The docket has grown considerably smaller the past several weeks and last week only about a half dozen actions were given consideration. This condition will continue until after the harvest season is over in this section and the criminality inclined hits the path that usually lands them in court.

This map, with the arrow pointing to the Hankow-Hanyang district, shows where 10,000 people were drowned by flood waters in the Yangtze river valley when a dike collapsed near Hanyang. Witnesses said "a wall of water literally leaped through the breach, sweeping everything before it—houses, livestock, humans." (Associated Press Map)

WALKOUT OF MILL WORKERS IS THREATENED

300,000 Persons Will Strike If Congress Fails to Pass Labor Laws

Philadelphia, July 16.—(AP)—The United Textile Workers of America threatened a general strike of 300,000 workers if congress adjourns without passing laws to protect labor.

The strike warning was sounded yesterday by Francis J. Gorman, vice president of the textile workers at the annual convention of the American Federation of Hostery workers.

Gorman expressed confidence, however, that the Roosevelt administration "will not permit congress to adjourn and leave the working people at the mercy of the unscrupulous."

He said he believed the textile bill setting a 35 hour week and $15 minimum wage had the administration's support.

YOUTH RETURNS HOME, WAS MISSING TWO DAYS

Benson, July 16.—W. R. Norris, Jr., 13-year-old boy who disappeared from his home last week, has returned home. He explains his absence by saying he was visiting. He was gone two days and rode away on his bicycle without informing his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Norris.

JOHNSTON AND WAKE LIST TWO NEW CASES WITH ONE EACH IN DUPLIN AND GUILFORD

Raleigh, July 16.—(AP)—There were six new cases of infantile paralysis in North Carolina reported to the State Board of Health today as the disease continued to show a slight decline in incidence as compared with reports during the latter part of June.

Johnston and Wake counties where the disease has centered each listed two new cases and one each came from Duplin and Guilford counties.

There have been 381 cases of the dread polio myelitis reported in the state this year, most of it in the eastern section.

The vital statistics office of the board of health released its June mortality reports today showing 10 deaths from the disease this year in the state as shown by official records.

Last year in June only one person had died of the infantile paralysis. There have been some unofficial fatalities from the disease listed this month.

It has been found that more than 10,000,000 persons are treated annually in the hospitals of the United States.

Washington

By RAY TUCKER

UNFAIR: The most damaging charge hurled at White House lobbyists concerns a reported offer of federal judgeship to two members of the House-Interstate Commerce Committee in return for support of the "death sentence" in the utility bill. Although nobody dares mention names publicly, House talk runs that the men are Rep. Clarence F. Lea of California and Rep. Edward C. Elmer of Iowa.

Fact is that both legislators were in line for judicial honors long before the holding company struggle began. Department of Justice sleuths have finished the usual investigation of candidates for the bench in Mr. Lea's case, and report him as "A-1." Mr. Elmer must wait till an ageing but stubborn jurist in the Iowa circuit retires.

Now neither man may be promoted for fear it would be hailed as proof of the rumor. It's an excellent example of how damaging reports originate and destroy.

SHIFT: Democratic medicine men—and the woods are full of them—send word to the capital that President Roosevelt's political health is on the mend. His dramatic one-man duel with the power interests is credited with checking the slide down the popularity ladder that set in with the Supreme Court upset.

House members have returned with the same impression after visits with the home folks. Some of the more jittery fellows dashed home over the week-end intervening between the vote on the holding company and the TVA measure. They wanted to feel that famous and influential pulse. And the same fellows who defied the President on the "death sentence" reversed themselves on the Tennessee experiment.

COURT HANDS DOWN OPINION IN HOOSAC CASE

Court Divided Two to One As Ruling Is Handed Down at Boston Today; $700,000,000 In Processing Taxes Hinges on Constitutionality of Measure

Boston, July 16.—(AP)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today ruled the processing taxes collected under the Agricultural Adjustmentment Administration act are unconstitutional. The act was divided two to one in its decision.

The decision was handed down in the case of the Hoosac Mills which challenged the constitutionality of the processing tax and which appealed to the Circuit Court from a decision by Federal Judge Elisha H. Brewster.

The Hoosac Mills receivers had asked recovery of $81,694 paid in taxes under the AAA.

Judge Scott Wilson read the 23 page decision today in which George F. Morris, of New Hampshire, concurred. Judge George H. Bingham, senior justice, dissented.

The Circuit court took the appeal of the Hoosac receivers under consideration April 23.

The collection of some $700,000,000 of processing taxes hinges on the question of their constitutionality.

The Hoosac Mills suit was one of many brought by textile corporations who sought recovery of taxes paid on constitutional grounds. The Hoosac suit was chosen by United States attorney as a test case to be carried to the United States Supreme court chiefly because of the initial success of the government in obtaining favorable decision in the district court.

MOON ECLIPSE NOT VISIBLE

Leadens Skies Prevented Greenville People From Seeing Lunar Antics Last Night

Rain last night prevented people of this section from seeing the moon eclipse set for 10:12 o'clock although thousands scanned the lowering clouds in an effort to get a glimpse of the lunar movement.

It was the first total eclipse of the moon since 1927 although partial eclipses have been noted in various parts of the world since that time.

The eclipse is also scheduled to take place again tonight at the same hour. It begins at 9:14 p. m. and ends at 2:43 a. m., although the actual eclipse is visible for only an hour and forty minutes.

Persons who strained their eyes in an effort to penetrate the leaden skies last night may have better luck tonight but rain still was the order of the day this morning and may be unkind as to continue through tonight as it did last night.

During the eclipse it is possible to see the moon only faintly even where the sky is very clear. It assumes the form of a bronze disc.

CAPE FEAR RISES AT FAYETTEVILLE

Fayetteville, July 16.—The Cape Fear river had reached a stage of ten feet at 9:30 o'clock last night and was rising at the rate of one-third of an inch an hour. It is thought the river may go to 15 feet or more.

ment. They fixed it so they'd be politically right once at least.
Burt Wheeler is capitalizing on this switch in conference discussions of the conflicting House and Senate holding company bills. He is trying to frighten House spokesmen into accepting the Senate "death sentence" slightly revised so as to save the lower chamber's pride. He may put it over.

DING: Harold Ickes has slipped from presidential favor. The er-while muscle man of the Cabinet didn't profit from the experience of rivals who took on too many enemies and too much territory—
Ray Moley, Lew Douglas, Jerry Frank, George Peek, Hugh Johnson.

The President has lost patience with Childe Harold's propensity for hanging the official family wash in the headlines. Mr. Ickes hasn't caught the idea of Mr. Roosevelt's smiling admonitions that "I wouldn't let that worry me, Harold." The Secretary of the Interior has lost all his recent bouts—on relief to Hopkins, on taking over all conservation activities to Wallace, on the Virgin Islands.

But the man who holds many unrecorded victories over Mr. Ickes is Jay Darling, biological survey
chief and better known as "Ding
the cartoonist." "Ding" stealthily swiped $6,000,000 from Interior funds to buy game refuges. He stopped the building of a road there, and then bought the whole the whole swamp. Now he has presidential backing in taking over an Ickes
mountain in Southern Oregon where the government's only herd of antelopes roams. "Ding" likes Ickes
but he loves wild life.

DEFERRED: Dan Roper is striving desperately to maintain the semblance of friendship between business and the White House, even though he isn't getting much encouragement from the President.

Mr. Roper's advisory council was ready to resign in a body at their last meeting, although he won't admit it. The majority were for ex-humming a few skeletons, too. But he persuaded them to make another attempt at serving as liaison dummies, as so many think they are.
A few counselors whose counsel is never taken figured it would be to their advantage to remain on the inside looking out.

They compromised by naming a committee to decide whether the council would stick or desert. And again Uncle Dan showed his shrewdness. Four of the seven on the committee are favorably disposed to the President—Messrs. Kendall, Swope, Teague and Fawcett. The bus-up is deferred till fall anyway.

DROUGHT: The politically in-expert W. Forbes Morgan riled his superiors with his public admission that the President had lost ground in New York and New England. But what he told his friends privately made them put on mourning.

Mr. Roosevelt's power taxation and AAA policies have slammed tight the doors of party contributors, according to Mr. Morgan. The givers are few and far between.
Some tried to make a deal with him, promising to contribute if and when Mr. Roosevelt gives ground in his attack on them. Others have handed over all they can afford to the American Liberty League.

Democratic lack of funds may become serious soon. Headquarters activities cost at least $500,000 a year for operating expenses alone.
The Farley-Hurja political factory never shuts down. It's getting so bad that some weeks the ghost doesn't walk around GHQ in the National Press Club Building.

HOUSE: Inner circle talk of a bipartisan coalition against President Roosevelt next year is dying out. Only Andrew W. Mellon, who thinks in terms of fiscal policies rather than party politics, was ever strong for it among the bigwigs.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Rex Moore has come home from a dangerous fight over Africa to find that Laurie, the girl who is pretending to be his wife in order to save his job, is dying with Mark Albery, who employs both of them. Rex is telephoned by Wanda Steele, a woman to whom he owes a great deal, and goes to call on her. Mrs.
Steele's generosity has saved Rex's job, but she wants more from Rex than gratitude. She wants love.

Chapter 24 THE MEETING

IT WAS news to Rex Moore that Laurie and her sister had spent the week end at the Albery house in the country. Well, why not? Albery was evidently in love with Laurie. And when they parted, he and she, when this farce had played itself out, Albery would no doubt marry her. And it would be a great match for her and a splendid life.

What had it got to do with him?
She would have done very well out of being his widow for two years.

He stifled an angry laugh, as he rose to go.

But he was going to do very well out of it, too. He was going to get everything he could out of Albery.
This fight, after two years, had been like the taste of blood to a tiger, and it was only through Albery that he could continue his career.

Laurie was alone in the sitting-
room when Rex came back.
"Gladys told me you were here," she said. Her voice was cold, but she took an involuntary step forward, as her eyes met his. "You might have let me know."

"I'm sorry I didn't think of it," he answered. His voice was rough. "I'd clean forgotten that your sister was here and that I ought to do the proper thing. But, after all, it will make things easier for you for her to know from the first that I'm an unman-nerly boor!"

Her voice was withering.
"I've had enough of it. You've covered yourself with glory again, haven't you? Mr. Albery thinks the world of you. Your position with him is quite safe. You can make an end of it now, can't you?"

"That was the last question you asked me before I went to Africa," he reminded her. "You seem to think of nothing else."

"Why should I? It was our bargain, wasn't it?"
"Yes—And then, all in a moment, he looked at her, and she was quite different. She was not the same girl. He could not explain it; he did not understand. But for the first time he saw her blue eyes, soft and dark, like sapphires, and her glossy chestnut hair, and he knew that she was beautiful, desirable, wonderful. And he said to himself,
"But I don't want to make an end of it!"

And his eyes held Laurie's, and strangely enough, it was the same with her. She saw him for the first time, his strength, the fine, lean poise of his head, the deep, compelling gaze of his grey eyes, the sudden pulsating humanity of him when he smiled. She saw him, splendid, wonderful—the most wonderful man in the world.

And she said to herself—"What's the matter with me? He hasn't changed. He's Rex Moore—no, he isn't! He's the Rex Moore I dreamed of! I don't hate him any more. I want to go close to him. I want to stay with him, I don't want to go away—"

AND because a woman is always more frightened when she discovers that she loves a man than a man is when he discovers he loves a woman, Laurie suddenly gave a stifled little cry and hurried to the door.

"I'm tired—I've got a busy day
tomorrow, Good-night!"
He put out his hand, but she brushed past him. She was shaking in every limb. She was terrified of tumbling down, when he would pick her up and she would be lost.

"But Laurie, I've got a lot to tell you!"
Why, even his voice was new! It was warm; it drew her to him; it stole round her heart. But there was only one thought in her mind—to hide this madness from him.

"Tomorrow will do," she called out lightly. "Honestly, I'm tired. We can talk much better in the morning."

Through the long, sleepless hours
of the night Laurie said to herself,
"I must be mad. I can't be in love with him. Why should I? What would he think? How he would laugh! It would just appeal to his cruel sense of humor that I should end up by falling in love with him!"

"It will be all right in the morning," she comforted herself. "It must be this ridiculous artificial life.
Of course, it's all rubbish. My nerves are in pieces. When we separate, there's Mrs. Steele waiting for him. Of course, he'll marry her.
Look what she can do for him with all her money. He'll be quite independent of Mr. Albery—of everybody. The first thing he did when he got back was to go to see her."

And so on, round and round in a circle, the same thoughts, all merging into the memory of Rex Moore's voice that had suddenly caught her heart, saying—"But Laurie, I've got a lot to tell you!"

Rubbish! What could he have to tell her?

With Rex Moore it was different.
To begin with, he was physically and mentally exhausted after his arduous fight, and he slept quite a good deal.

But when he did wake up now and then, and especially after dawn, his thoughts did run on somewhat the same lines as Laurie's, although he was not so shattered as she was by the discovery, but more angry with himself.

"Might have made a fool of myself," he reflected. "What ever would she have thought? That I was crazy, no doubt. I think I am. But there it is, I believe I'm in love with her. How ridiculous! She hates the sight of me."

AND so on and so on, the same thoughts, all merging into the memory of Laurie's face, seeing it as if for the first time—the soft blue eyes, the loveliness of the little trembling smile, the sudden appeal to his manhood, the fierce desire to take her in his arms. And then the blankness when he hurried out of the room with light, careless words
of rebuff, like a slap in the face.

Well, anyhow, he hadn't given himself away.

Presently, he was splashing in his cold bath, and planning to spend the whole of the day on the last of the articles for the American newspaper.

He had written all the others while on his trip, waiting for the rescue party to fetch the missing airmen. He had had no sleep for two whole nights. When this one was written, he would be able to pay back half the money Albery had lent
him. That would give him a freer hand.

As to Wanda Steele and his debt
to her, he would have to find some way of settling that.

His discovery that he had fallen in love with the girl who was supposed to be his wife, therefore, had undoubtedly altered his outlook on life, but it had not altered his world,
as was to be the case with Laurie.

Laurie came into the dining-room
when Rex had just finished his breakfast. She looked very smart and cool in her neat dark blue office attire, and she seemed to be in high spirits, although her eyes had a somewhat fixed expression.

Gladys had gone to rehearsal in Finsbury Park, where they were opening in another week's time.
While they were in the nearer suburbs, she was staying in the flat;
but, later, when they went farther afield the troupe would have to live in lodgings again.

Laurie had had breakfast with her sister an hour ago. Rex had been for a run around Battersea Park before his, as his was his custom.

"Well, you said we could talk better in the morning," he said.
"Have you time now?"
"If you like. I am not due at the office for three-quarters of an hour."

That touched him on the raw, as from now onwards every reference to her association with her employer must do.

"I understand you had something you wish to discuss," he said gruffly.

His voice and manner reminded her of the man in the train the first day they had met. And it came to her more that from that moment this spark had been struck from her being that was now alight and that made her furious and miserable at the same time.

Yes, it was true. Morning hadn't changed it. She wasn't mad; he mattered more to her than anything in the world.

(Copyright, 1935, Coralie Stanton)

Tomorrow, Rex and Laurie try to plan their future.

McDonald, Representative from Forsyth county and who had made a continuous fight for a larger appropriation so that teachers could be paid more, insisted that $20,000-000 was not sufficient to give them all a 20 per cent increase and insisted that a minimum of $22-000,000 was necessary to insure even a 20 per cent increase in salaries and all other items. It was at this point in the debate at which Representative Bryant read the letter which McDonald had written to all city superintendents asking them to continue the campaign for $24,000-000 a year in order to be sure to get at least $22,000,000 a year, insisting that if they showed a willingness to compromise on only $22-000,000 they probably would not get more than $20,000,000. At this same time, Rep. Bryant also said he had been assured by the school authorities that $20,031,000 would be sufficient and that they would accept that amount in lieu of the $22,000,000 which they had been seeking.

HELD UNDER $500 BOND ON LIQUOR ACCUSATION

Kinston, July 16.—Will Pope Aldrich of La Grange was placed under $500 bond for his appearance before
Federal Court on a liquor charge.
Aldrich was arrested by Revenue
Officers Mallard, Bennett and Hurshaw in a filling station of the eastern outskirts of La Grange on Highway No. 10. It is stated that the officers went into the filling station where Aldrich was employed and ran on to some liquor sales. He resisted arrest, it is said by Commissioner W. H. Sutton who bound him over, and as a consequence the usual $200 bond in such cases was raised to $500.

FLEISCHMANN CLUB SPEAKER

Minister Gives Rotar- ians Picture of Ital- ian-Ethiopian Dis- pute

By WYATT BROWN
Last night Reverend Gus Fleischman presented the Greenville Rotary Club with a visual and oral picture of the trouble Italy is having in carrying out her designs in Abyssinia. First Mr. Fleischman pointed out on the map the exact geographical position of Abyssinia
and indicated Italian holdings immediately adjacent to Abyssinia.
He accidentally split his foot open and that the trouble had been while cutting tobacco wood.

started by a boundary dispute.
"Italy reached the status of a full ledged state in 1870 after the other nations of the world had split Africa up between themselves. So any African soil for natural resources that Italy has got has had to be in any old way," Mr. Fleischman said.

In March 1934 Mussolini outlined his sixty year plan which compre-hends world primacy by the twenty-first century. They seek nothing to North or West. Mussolini says their future lies East and South—Asia and Africa. In Abyssinia are natural resources which Italy needs.
Italy, according to magazine Time is determined to have Abyssinia and only awaits ending of rainy season
in September to start taking Abyssinia.

At this point Rev. Fleischman indicated some of the newer and more horrible chemicals for destructive war that have been invented.
He told of one which can be dropped from the air and since the Abyssinians are barefooted, it will kill them when they walk upon it where it has fallen upon the ground. It just shows, Mr. Fleischman said, to what ends man will go to carry on war.

Italy has been led to believe she can behave as she wishes toward Abyssinia because she has seen Japan and other nations do the same thing. It will be easy to swing the work right into conflict, Mr. Fleischman said.

"The world needs and wants three things. One, it needs peace between nations, political peace.
Second there needs to be an equitable arrangement of economic resources of the world among nations. Third, there needs to be righteousness—moral backbone to the other two," he said.

The guests of the club last night
were Al Hughes of East Orange,
New Jersey and Bryce B. Brown of Schenectady, New York, and John J. Sigwald, a Wilson Rotarian. The attendance prize was won by Bill
Lee and was given by Wyatt Brown.
The president of the Club, Bill Lee presided. Lawrence Stroud told briefly of a recent visit to the headquarters of Rotary International in Chicago.

CARY PEOPLE REJOICE AT BEAR'S DEPARTURE

Cary, July 16.—Cary is believed to be free from the roamings of the bear which escaped last week from the premises of H. Langdon, of Morrisville. At least there have been no recent reports of bear-like depredations.

It is learned that Mr. Langdon has made many efforts to entice the bear back into captivity but so far has failed. Cary people are quite delighted that the bear has taken his departure. There was considerable fright here as a result of the bear's activities and missing pigs and chickens are believed to have been consumed by the animal.

PERSONNEL OF TWO RUM STORES NAMED

The tax department, who has been made supervisor of liquor control stores, said the board was scheduled to take up locations again this afternoon and hoped to be able to report some progress after the session is over.

Orders for two carloads of liquor have already been completed by the board but it was understood that shipment would not be ordered until storage and liquor store sites have been secured.

C. O. H. Horne, chairman of the ABC board said Saturday he hoped the stores would be opened much sooner than at first anticipated but with delay incurred in obtaining locations it was not believed this could be accomplished until sometime next week. However, he said every effort was being made to begin the sale of legal whiskey as soon as possible and his board planned to remain in session every day until this has been done.

The legalization of whiskey was given approval of the voters Saturday before last and the control board was named the following Wednesday by the commissioners who had almost as much trouble finding members as the board is having finding locations at this time.

However, with warehouse and locations out of the way, the board believes it will be a matter of only a few days before legal liquor is on the market and their struggle to set up the stores only a memory.

Stream, causing it to overflow hundreds of acres of low land over a course of forty miles or more.

Landowners and others interested in the economic and health conditions of the affected area immediately took the matter up with relief authorities, and after failing to get more than promises finally appealed to Congressman Lindsay Warren for aid.

In a short time the citizens were assured that something would be done to relieve the situation. That was several months ago, and now the survey is under way to determine just what is needed to complete the job.

It is impossible to estimate the loss to farmers of the district but it will go into the thousands of dollars. The health situation in the flood territory has also been of concern to authorities and if the creek is not cleared soon it is impossible to say what the outcome will be in the next several months.

Health Department to See That Standard Ordinance Is Fully Enforced in Pitt

On May the 9th, the Reflector informed the citizens of Pitt county that the Pitt County Board of Health, as of April 23rd, adopted the State Standard Milk Ordinance to be effective county-wide, beginning May 1st, 1935. The item read in part, as follows:

"On April 24th, all dairies in Pitt county known to the health department were advised of the passage of this ordinance, and they will be given a reasonable length of time in which to meet its requirements."

It was further stated "the enforcement of this ordinance will be under the immediate direction of Mr. J. P. Stowe, Pitt County Sanitary Inspector, working under the health department, but this enforcement will not in any way interfere with such towns as are already enforcing the Standard Milk Ordinance requirements. It will simply be a matter of the county inspector co-operating with the inspectors of these municipalities."

Since the publication of the above

TEAR GAS QUELLS STRIKERS IN BLOODY RIOT

After engaging in a four-hour riot in which scores were injured, lumber mill strikers at Tacoma, Wash., are shown fleeing from tear gas released by national guardsmen. notice, Mr. Stowe has been inspecting the dairies and making laboratory examinations of the milk. In order that the ordinance work no great hardship on the dairies, they have been given until May 1, 1935, in which to bring up to "Grade A average of the 4 samples. It should be also stated that matter of sanitation of the dairies enters into this grading, as well as the examination of the milk itself. For the purpose of giving every dairy full opportunity to reach a high sanitary grading, the inspector for the 1st grading period will postpone his inspection until the last 3 days in the month of July.

It is probable that the public will be interested in the following regulations taken from the milk ordinance which are to be enforced in Pitt county in an effort to give its citizens a wholesome milk supply.

All dairy workers or milk handlers must furnish, annually, to the local health officer, a health certificate showing the dairy worker free of any contagious or infectious disease.

All dairies must have a numbered permit issued by the local health officer, and this permit number must appear in a conspicuous place on the dairy vehicle in figures at least 3 inches high and 1 1-2 inches wide.

All milk sold must be labeled as to Grade: A, B, C, or D, and must be delivered to the purchaser at a temperature not higher than 50 degrees F.

After May 1st, 1936, no milk may be sold which is not Grade A, except Grade B may be sold during a degrading period of 30 days.

Grade A milk is milk with not less than 3.25 per cent butter fat, not less than 8 per cent solid-not-fat with a bacteria count of not more than 50,000 per cubic centimeter, and produced in a dairy which conforms to the sanitary regulations of the Milk Ordinance.

Milk must be graded 4 times a year, or every three months. The first grading period runs from May 1st to August 1st. The ordinance requires that the health department, at the end of each grading period, publish in the county papers the grade made by each dairy.

Each dairy must furnish, annually, to the health officer, a certificate from a licensed veterinarian showing that all dairy cows over six months of age have been tested for tuberculosis and contagious abortion (Bang's disease), and are free from such diseases.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS

Ago

IN July 1910, we founded the American Oil Company. It was a very small beginning, and there was no excitement except in the hearts of the few of us who were handling the affairs of the new-born company.

"Our equipment was very simple—nowadays it would be called primitive. Our policy was just as simple, but far more important. For a good policy endures, while equipment wears out.

"That policy was—and still is—to offer honest values, honestly described, to market distinctive and better products, to constantly work towards their improvement, to sell them at fair prices, and to render efficient service. That policy developed AMOCO-GAS, the original special motor fuel. It created AMOCO Motor Oil—Orange AMERICAN GAS—and the long line of other quality petroleum products we sell.

"In line with this policy we recently improved AMOCO-GAS. And very soon now—we'll announce an improvement in another of our products.

"Twenty-five years have passed, and 25 years is a pretty good age in a business as young as the petroleum business. This company has grown to be a major factor in the industry. We have large refineries, and an extensive marketing system from Maine to Florida and inland. But what we value most of all is our splendid organization and the fine public good-will toward us.

"We sincerely thank all of our associates, dealers, other customers and friends whose support and approval have made this 25th Anniversary possible."

H. H. Austin Chairman of the Board
AMERICAN OIL COMPANY

INJURED IN AUTO WRECK LAST SUNDAY

Mrs. B. Fleming of Greenville was painfully injured in an automobile wreck Sunday afternoon. She received cuts and bruises on the head and arms as did her brother who was a second occupant of the car. They received medical aid at the local hospital.

BREAK CHICKEN DISPLAYED HERE

M. L. Kittrell, of Route 2, Greenville, brought one of the greatest freaks of the century in the way of a biddy to the office of the Daily Reflector today.

It was a triple-mouthed, triple-eyed chicken, described as three days old, but with little chance to survive. Kittrell said the chick ate heartily, but not as much as three chickens would eat, although it had the same number of mouths.

Kittrell said the biddy came along with a brood of normally healthy chickens and had proven to be the cynosure of all eyes wherever displayed.

Registration For Second Term To Begin Tomorrow

Registration for the second term of Summer School will take place tomorrow. With the enrollment for the first time at well over the five hundred mark, it is expected that the attendance for the entire summer will be somewhat higher than in the past.

The schedule of subjects offered includes a wide variety of subjects available for those wishing to take work the latter term of the summer for certification or regular college credit. A large number of students are working toward graduation in August.

The second term has several attractive s. age entertainments scheduled. There will be also the summertime treat of watermelon feasts and barbecues in the college woods.

RAIN AGAIN BLOCKS PLAY OVER CIRCUIT

Rain continued to whip across the section of the state yesterday and resulted in all play being blocked in the Coastal Plain league. Already several games behind club officials turned their attention today to preparation for doubleheaders in an attempt to catch up with the schedule.

Tarboro was scheduled to play in Greenville yesterday afternoon but about the time play was to have been called rain descended in torrents, completely soaking the already wet diamond. Greenville went to Tarboro today but with clouds still hanging ominously over the section it was doubtful if the game could be played.

While Greenville goes to Tarboro Snow Hill will go to New Bern. Williamston to Ayden and Kinston to Goldsboro.

Because of the rain little change has taken place in the standing of clubs. Days when Greenville was washed out clubs that were providing the greatest competition for the top lost to underdogs leaving the average about the same.

With the season a month and a half old and about the same length of time to go before the close of play all organizations from now on will make a desperate effort to clear their slate of all postponed games so that they will be in proper shape to end the season without having to play themselves to death to catch up.

New York Cotton

New York, July 16.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady one to four points advance in partial response to steeper Liverpool cables which were offset by commission house selling.

October sagged off from 11.74 to 11.67 and March from 11.56 to 11.60 with active months generally showing net losses of two to four points at the end of the first half hour.

At midday October was selling around 11.61 and March 11.54 or 8 to 9 points net lower.

Futures closed barely steady.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, July 16.—(AP)—The stock market was two minded today scattered specialties again attracted buyers while many of the so called leaders backed water in the face of moderate profit taking.

The list started out with a steady to firm undertone but the resistant levels which have been present for several days apparently could not be surmounted easily. The rails steels and equipments did virtually nothing. There were a few soft spots in evidence.

The grains moved up and then slipped back following closely the Liverpool market.

Cotton was a bit easier. Other commodities were mixed. There was a better demand for secondary bonds while low yields longas were usually neglected.

The late stock tone was irregular, transfers were 900,000 shares.

Seek to Ward Off Court Blow
Washington, July 16.—(AP)—In Congress and in the offices of its best legal minds the New Deal sought today to ward off a blow aimed at the AAA by the Circuit court of Appeals at Boston.

The court held the processing taxes which helped finance benefit payments to crop producing farmers were unconstitutional.

Administration officials said they would appeal to the Supreme court. Efforts were renewed in the senate meanwhile to pass legislation which would throw all such litigation out of court.

The house investigation of lobbying for and against Utility holding company bill again held attention.

A movement for an early adjournment of Congress without action on the Roosevelt tax program received a blow when the house tabled a resolution for the session next Tuesday. Previously Rep. Dean, Democrat, of Georgia, had been applauded when he urged the members to go home quickly.

The house ways and means committee turning temporarily from consideration of the tax problem agreed to approve a bill setting up a alcohol control administration as a division in the treasury.

Congressional conferees on the social security bill predicted they would reach an agreement by night-fall on everything but the amendment exempting private plan which would be submitted to the house for a vote.

Ethiopia Expected to Declare War
Addis Ababa, July 16.—(AP)—Official circles disclosed today that Ethiopia had begun extensive definite military preparations to meet an emergency.

The officials who made the disclosure said the military steps were found necessary following failure of arbitrations and also because of the Italian declaration that they intend to use force against Ethiopia.

Government officials said that while a general mobilization order had not yet been decreed by Emperor Sellassie this step was foreseen shortly.

Ready to Close Morehead City Loan
Raleigh, July 16.—(AP)—The formal contract between the Federal Public Works Administration and the Port Commission of Morehead City under which a federal loan of $297,500 and a grant of $127,500 is to be made available for terminals at Morehead City is scheduled to be set to Washington tomorrow in complete form.

A. A. F. Swell, Attorney General, said today that officers of the Port Commission and the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad had signed the contract and it was being signed by officials of the Wacovia Bank and Trust Company which will be trustee.

The Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad which is state controlled will pledge its resources as collateral for the federal loan.
