Four More Years Of Control To Be Offered Leaf Growers

CONTRACTS TO 1939 WILL BE OFFERED SOON

New Contract Designed to Provide Basis Already Established For Equalities of All Types of Weed; New Program Will Carry Forward Additional Adjustments For Growers; Little Farmer Taken Care of

Washington, July 29.—(AP)—Four more years of production control will be offered growers of flue cured tobacco, the leaf that goes into the manufacture of cigarettes.

Contracts extending the program through 1939, it was announced by J. B. Hutson, AAA tobacco chief, will be available at county offices in each of the flue cured belts.

The new contract will be designed to provide basis already established to bring about equalities between all types of growers especially small producers.

Growers who helped in developing the program requested that consideration be given the small growers who usually plant three acres or less in tobacco.

This request is in line with the new policy adopted in connection with the 1934-35 program and it will be given consideration in administration of the new program, Hutson said.

The new program will carry forward the basis already established with such adjustments as will result in more equitable basis; provides for an adjusted payment at the end of each contract year to represent the difference between the farm and parity prices and sets a 35 percent limitation on acreage of production which may be required in any one year.

There are approximately 137,000 cooperating flue-cured growers in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. Approximately 98 percent of those who participated in the AAA referendum last June voted in favor of crop control.

The new contract will provide for termination of the plan by any individual grower by proclamation of the agricultural secretary. A feature will be a safeguard against land removed from flue cured production being used for other commercial crops.

RAIN IN JULY SETS RECORD

One of the heaviest rains in years was recorded in Greenville last Friday night, swelling the total for July to the largest on record in the local government weather department. It was made known today by B. T. Clark, weather observer.

The precipitation here during the evening was given as 2.79. It swelled the July total to 15.24 as against 15 inches in 1929, the largest previous record, the report indicated.

The total amount of rainfall up to last Friday night was 12.45 inches. This came over a period of several days about two weeks ago when crops were damaged about $1,000,000.

It was at first thought the rain Friday night would cause widespread loss by slowing down housing operations in tobacco farms, but it was said today the loss would be negligible. The rain tended to slow down the rapidly maturing weed, and with fair weather today, it was believed the loss from over-maturity would be small.

The water in many fields was over a foot deep immediately after the rain fall Friday night, but this rapidly disappeared and hundreds of farmers returned to work this morning, pushing the harvesting of the golden crop as rapidly as possible.

Ethiopia Makes Major Concessions To Italians In Effort To Avert War

Geneva, July 29.—(AP)—League of Nations circles said today Ethiopia made a major concession in its dispute with Italy by refraining from insistence that the council did to the bottom of the controversy.

Emperor Haile Selassie in the latest communications to the league contented himself with getting back to the arbitration attempt. He asked at its sessions three days hence that the league council define the powers of the deadlocked conciliations commission.

In answer to the Italian contention that the commission should restrict discussion to the frontier incidents, however, Ethiopia, demanded that no such limitations be imposed.

The "king of kings" had the right to call for council investigation of the East African crisis under Article 15 of the league covenant under which the council eventually would make recommendations for settlement.

If the council approves such recommendations unanimously any nation defying them would be pronounced an aggressor.

League sources interpreted Ethiopia's move in pointing the council meeting toward a decision on the arbitrators' powers as a move to put Benito Mussolini in an awkward diplomatic position.

Rome, July 29.—(AP)—Premier Benito Mussolini put aside all celebration of his 52nd birthday anniversary today to draft Italy's stand before the league of nations council in the Ethiopian dispute. While Il Duce worked at his country retreat, Rocca Dell Carmine, authorities said Italian delegates were certain to attend the council sessions.

BIG WHISKEY SALES IN PITT ON SATURDAY

Land Office Business Done at All Three Stores of the County Opening Day

Legal liquor stores opening at Greenville, Farmville and Ayden last Saturday did a landoffice business, it was revealed today by figures released by C. O. Horn, head of the Pitt County Alcohol Beverage Control Board.

It was said that approximately $2,500 was taken in at all three stores which opened at 9 o'clock and closed at 6, hours which will be observed every day of the week except Sunday.

Greenville, the largest of the three towns, recorded the heaviest sales. The store served a total of 1,240 customers who purchased 1,384 bottles for a total sum of $1,331.75.

The store in Ayden was reported to have sold approximately $465 worth of its stock and Farmville went some better with $600.

The store at Fountain was not opened today as previously stated, but probably will be during the early part of the week, or as soon as the building there has been completed and stock transferred from the storage warehouse here.

The Greenville store was crowded all day and the employees had all they could do to take care of the demands of the customers. Of course there were many sightseers but the majority went there to buy and it was an ordinary occurrence to see some well known citizens walking along the street with a package tucked under his arm.

HIDES CACHE OF BOOZE BENEATH CHICKEN COOP

Chadbourn, July 29.—One of the most unusual liquor catches ever made by local officers was effected when a search was made of the premises of Fred Williams, by Deputy J. M. Hinson.

The back yard of the Williams home was the location of a chicken coop. Not that the back yard is an unusual place for such a structure, but this building possessed an air of suspicion. An investigation revealed a pit under the hen house, almost concealed and containing 15 one-half gallon-jars of illegal whiskey.

Williams has not been apprehended by officers, as he was not at home at the time of the raid and has not been seen by officers since that time, but his arrest is expected soon.

KINSTON WILL VOTE ON EXTRA SCHOOL TAX

Kinston, July 29.—Residents of Kinston will vote on a special school tax August 6. If the tax carries the school term will be extended from eight to nine months. As a result of reductions in the school levies, taxpayers would pay only three cents on the $100 more than they have been paying with the extension in effect.

BRITONS WIN COVETED CUP IN NET MATCH

George Hughes and C. R. Stuckey Defeat Allison and Van Ryn In Final Rounds

Wimbledon, July 29.—(AP)—England won the coveted Davis cup, emblematic of the world's tennis supremacy for the third straight time today when the new doubles combination of George Hughes and C. R. Stuckey defeated the American pair of Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn, 6-2, 1-6, 6-8, 6-3, 6-3, in the challenge rounds double match.

The victory gave England the necessary third win in the five-match series.

The Britain victory was the final crushing blow to America's hope for recapturing the cup lost to France in 1927. The first blow was delivered Saturday when "Bunny" Austin pulled out a five set victory over Allison in a singles match in which the veteran Texan was favored.

FEW COUPLES GO TO ALTAR

Marrying Business Has Shown Pronounced Slump in Pitt This Summer

Persons desiring this service have been asked to obtain blanks at the local farm department and file them for consideration of the federal government which is planning extensive electrification of rural communities throughout the nation.

"It appears," said Dean Schaub in a communication received from him by the farm department today, "that this will be the only opportunity of this sort that the various communities will have to have their conditions looked into by the Rural Electrification survey committee, so I trust that you will cooperate with your county in every way."

E. F. Arnold, director of the farm department, said today he had received a batch of blanks and urged persons desiring to take part in the survey to visit the office and obtain copies.

Although the survey had been completed here, Mr. Arnold made known that some sections of the county had not been included, and believed that those regions will take advantage of the new survey now being started.

Considerable publicity is being given the survey throughout the state in an effort to give every rural dweller an opportunity to take part in the federal movement if he desires.

Those obtaining licenses to marry during the week were: Curtis Fleming and Miss Alice Loraine Little, both of the Falkland community.

ENROLLMENT INCREASES AT COLLEGE HERE

Registration Reported as The Heaviest in Several Past Years Today

That more students are attending college this year than in several previous years is indicated by the numbers enrolled in the present Summer School of the College and by the indication that a larger number than usual will be enrolled this fall.

Registration for the second term of Summer School is the largest during recent years, the total for this term having reached almost three hundred.

Since the close of registration, there have been a number of applications for admission which of course could not be accepted. However, not including those registered for and now making the New England-Canadian Study Observation tour, total number of students registered to date is 279. With the numbers that will be added by the two other travel tours to be conducted during August, the total for the entire summer will be above one thousand.

Advance enrollment for the fall is at this time ahead of previous totals for the same period. According to Dr. Howard B. McGinnis, the registrar, "The outlook for the fall is more promising than in years."

NEW ELECTRIC SURVEY TO BE MADE IN PITT

Rural Dwellers to be Given Another Opportunity to Take Part in Federal Plan

A new survey will be made in communities of Pitt county not included in the federal rural electrification survey completed here sometime ago. It was made known today by I. O. Schaub, director of the State College Extension department.

Persons desiring this service have been asked to obtain blanks at the local farm department and file them for consideration of the federal government which is planning extensive electrification of rural communities throughout the nation.

"It appears," said Dean Schaub in a communication received from him by the farm department today, "that this will be the only opportunity of this sort that the various communities will have to have their conditions looked into by the Rural Electrification survey committee, so I trust that you will cooperate with your county in every way."

Late News Flashes

New Taxes Proposed. Washington, July 29.—(AP)—Proposed new taxes to include incomes as low as $50,000 and taking away three-fourths of that portion of an income over $5,000,000 were made public today by the House ways and means committee.

The new schedule had been tentatively approved by committee Democrats who previously had agreed not to levy additional taxes on incomes under $150,000 and to apply the maximum 75 per cent tax only to incomes over $10,000,000.

At present the taxes on a $56,000 is $9,500. The proposed schedule would make it $9,560.

The present levy on $1,000,000 is $533,000 whereas the new tax would amount to $641,000.

The proposed new individual income tax schedule was made public as Chairman Doughton of North Carolina, called the first meeting of the new committee to consider the bill drafted to carry out President Roosevelt's idea of wealth distribution.

GRADY SPEAKS AT UNION MEET

Rev. R. C. Grady, pastor of the Presbyterian church, delivered the sermon at the union service at Pitt theatre last night and was heard by a fairly good crowd.

The speaker's theme centered about solving some of the great problems of life, declaring that this could be accomplished alone through close contact with Christ.

The services, sponsored by the Ministerial Association, will continue the remainder of August or to the first of September, and members of all denominations were urged to attend in large numbers.

Dr. G. R. Combs, pastor of the Methodist church, will deliver the sermon next Sunday night.

Mr. Grady spoke on the subject: "They Found Themselves Alone With Jesus." Basing his introductory remarks upon the fact that the "most difficult problem you and I as individuals have is how to understand and derive worthwhile meaning from life's experiences." He raised the question: "What does it mean to find oneself alone with Jesus" as regards these crisis of character, these great moments of living, these tragic mishaps and trials which come to each of us at some time or another along life's journey?

As the speaker interpreted the answer, such would mean three things. First, "that you and I will penetrate to the very bottom of that particular experience—whatever it may be—and get from it its deepest and clearest possible meaning." Second, "that we will then gain the determination and the power to see that issue and decision, gained in view of the meaning that has been derived, through to its very highest end." Here the speaker pointed out that this would be gained a conviction of Divine Purpose illuminating the circumstance or event in question which would lead, thirdly, to "a growing sense of the Divine Companionship in our lives." To understand and be assured of this "sense of the Divine Companionship," the effects that are thus produced in individual lives through this "growing reality" of the presence of Christ would be these, the speaker pointed out. "For one thing, a desire for meditative contemplation upon the qualities of Christ that these same qualities might be the more incorporated in our own lives. Again, a lessening of the hold upon us of those things that fret and bind us, and a growing grasp upon us of those values that use and develop us. Yet again, a diminishing attachment to those matters temporal, and an extending absorption in those matters eternal. To illustrate: one's interest will increase regarding the eternal struggle for social justice and economic freedom and decrease regarding the temporary, immediate objectives of any single political party. Finally, there will be gained a sense of fellowship with others who, too, have found themselves alone with Jesus" under the high-motive power of the Kingdom of God.

Although the survey had been completed here, Mr. Arnold made known that some sections of the county had not been included, and believed that those regions will take advantage of the new survey now being started.

Considerable publicity is being given the survey throughout the state in an effort to give every rural dweller an opportunity to take part in the federal movement if he desires.

PITT TOBACCO CROP BEST IN RECENT YEARS

Quality Described as Far Above The Average This Year; Curings Excellent

The Pitt county tobacco crop is described as the best in many years by persons who have visited various sections of the county during the last several days.

Although rain two weeks damaged the crop somewhat, it was said that there was still enough tobacco left to go well above the federal allotment, and that it is curing up splendidly.

One man said it was the finest cigarette tobacco he believed he ever saw in any single crop year. The leaf was reported as generally uniform throughout the county, and because of its fine quality is expected to make up for any loss which growers suffered from the rain.

It was reported that the rain Friday night would probably result in considerable damage, but observers said today the rapidly ripening leaf had been retarded by the wet weather, enabling farmers to get it out of the fields without loss.

Farmers were harvesting and curing their crop at full speed a-head today and were said to be overjoyed by the excellence of their cures, described as the best in years.

Although the rainfall Friday night was heavy, the growers were able to go into their fields again today to resume housing the crop which last year was valued at $10,000,000.

TWO ARRESTED IN LIQUOR RAID

Officers Seek John Harrington, Operator of Log Cabin, on Whiskey Charge

County officers today were seeking John Harrington, operator of the Log Cabin filling station on the Washington highway, on a charge of illegal possession and sale of whiskey following a raid on the place this morning at 2 o'clock.

Sheriff Whitehurst said his officers found three gallons of whiskey and arrested two men named Harrington and Simpson, employees of the Log Cabin. John Harrington was not present when the raid was made, but a warrant was immediately issued for his arrest.

Sheriff Whitehurst said drinks were being sold over the counter in the old fashioned barroom way and that whiskey was also disposed of in larger quantities.

The prisoners will be given hearing at the next sitting of county court.

DRUNK ROBBED IN JAIL

Wilson, July 29.—The saying "honor among thieves" was blasted for good and all in the county jail here Saturday night.

Oscar Best, negro, was arrested on a drunken charge and lodged in the local bastille until court Monday morning. He went to sleep with $15 in bills in his pocket in the negro bull pen of the jail. This morning he woke up and his hard earned wealth was gone.

He appealed to Deputy Sheriff A. C. Tinton, who began an investigation into the "robbery." After a few minutes of search and interrogation of the other prisoners in the cell room he found the stolen money in the collar bands of Ashley Wilson and Eddie Graham, two negroes in jail for robbery.

Atlanta, July 29.—(AP)—Tobacco warehouse operators went ahead today with preparations for the opening of the Georgia bright leaf auctions with the same schedule of handling charges of last year pending a final decision on their temporary injunction against the state's new law reducing the rates.

Judge Bascom S. Deaver, of the federal district court, who granted the temporary order in Macon Saturday announced he would invite Judge N. P. Bryan, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Judge William H. Barrett, of Augusta, to sit with him two weeks from today for a hearing on whether the injunction shall be made permanent.

Meanwhile comment from a number of operators of the large auction points indicated they intend to go ahead with the marketing in spite of the threat of Commissioner of Agriculture Tom Linter that they withhold their tobacco because of the action of the warehousemen against reduction of charges.

Pending final disposition warehousemen will charge the old schedule of rates and file their parls of each sale, paying the court the difference between the fees prescribed by the new law and what they collect.

They were ordered also to post a $2,500 bond to guarantee cost of dispersing this money in event the new state law is upheld.

Buyers, growers and warehousemen expected to handle a bumper crop of tobacco during the selling season. Prices, many said, are expected to average around the $18.75 paid in 1934.

Many growers said they planned to go ahead and sell because they were unprepared to hold the crop.

HADDOCK HELD FOR ASSAULT

Cecil Haddock, of the Cox mill community, was held in the county jail today awaiting trial on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon growing out of an alleged unprovoked attack on a negro named Less Atkinson.

Officers said Haddock hit Atkinson on the head with a piece of iron in a drunken attack on the negro. The assault was described as unprovoked as the negro had made no advances on the white man.

Haddock was brought to Greenville and confined in the county jail to await hearing probably tomorrow.

GUARDS BACK FROM BRAGG

Local Military Unit Returns With Four Loving Cups to Their Credit

Battery A, local unit of North Carolina National Guardsmen, returned to Greenville Saturday night and Sunday from Fort Bragg where they have been in annual encampment for the past two weeks.

As customary, the artillerymen returned home with a big share of honors for taking part in competitive sports and actual military training.

One regular army officer was so impressed with the showing made by the battery that he was said to have remarked, "Give me that battery and I'll fight any man's army."

That was about the greatest compliment that could be paid to a group of young soldiers, and the boys were actually "strutting" when they landed in town yesterday to resume their regular place in civilian life.

The trip to and from camp was made in trucks, a complete departure from former years when the annual pilgrimage to training camps was made by train.

The soldiers came home with four loving cups to their credits. One was captured in the trace meet when Norwood Northrup ran away with honors. Jimmy Johnson captured another in the heavyweight championship boxing match for the third consecutive season, and officers of the battery won the third in the gold tournament. Another came from field activities.

Other officers of the camp said the battery showed great improvement than any other unit. The entire battalion came in for favorable comment also.

Captain Herbert Waldrop said he was highly impressed with the fine showing made by his men and felt confident all members of the company derived much benefit from the intensive training period.

He said the weather was very good and that only one member of the company was reported on the sick list. He suffered a slight attack of malaria and was in the hospital about one week.

The artillerymen for the last three years have won favorable comment from commanding officers and the fact that they were able to do the same this year caused much elation among officers who directed the training for several weeks prior to departure.

Several other companies of this section of the state also attended the encampment and were warmly commended for their work.

When Mr. Roosevelt took office the United States was short 122 ships of its treaty quota. He has spent $430,464,667 to build 76 of those ships—cruisers, aircraft carriers, submarines, destroyers.

WAR: What gives our diplomats grey hairs is Britain's scrapping of ratios combined with her agreement that Germany may build a fleet at least one-third as large as her foe at Jutland.

The expenditures would be staggering, but they would be the smallest part of the cost. Any smart statesman knows that when nations have a fleet of shiny ships floating around loose they eventually want to trip them out on the other fellow.

Mr. Hopkins has already relaxed the provision with respect to slum clearance projects. The stand for building trades wouldn't stand for that, especially as many of their members had refused to go on relief rolls.

READY MADE WIFE

SYNOPSIS: Because Laurie does not approve of certain suggestions made by Rex Moore, her employer, she resigns. Albery had been under the impression that there had been something wrong in the relationship between Laurie and Rex Moore.

Chapter 25 THE TRUTH

Showing the whole story of him. Laurie listened and he listened attentively. As Laurie's rich voice rang out, he desired her more than ever, and hated Rex Moore more than ever, because it was so plain that she loved him and would willingly furnish her own character to defend his.

"But why did Moore go on with it?" he asked, when she had finished. "Because he said you'd never forgive him for deceiving you and pretending he had a wife. He said you thought such a lot of yourself and you couldn't stand being fooled, and he said, 'I'd done well out of being his widow for two years, and I owed it to him to help him in his job, now that he had come back.'"

"You're a good pair of actors, I must say," remarked Albery very quietly, but with a note of concealed anger that frightened the girl. Then, he fixed his glowing dark eyes on her, "And so it was all a pretense—you married life?"

"It was a pretense," she said dully. "We lived in the same flat, because we had to—keep it up, Mr. Albery," she added, raising her voice. "I've told you the truth, because I will not allow you to misjudge Rex Moore."

"He has treated me wonderfully. He forgave me for what was a wicked thing to do. It was not until I saw him that I realized I had been a liar, a cheat, and a fraud. And I deceived you, too, and I ought to be sorry for that. But I am not sorry, because, after all, I did work for you as well as I could."

"You need not be sorry, Laurie," he said, and in his voice trembled his overmastering passion for her, which might have been a thing bit for its underlying madness. "I think you are a wonderful girl. And I know you did it all for your sister."

She was the most beautiful, the most enchanting woman in the world to him, as she sat there, so white, her face working with such tragic emotions.

"Laurie, will you be my wife?" he asked. "Oh, no, Mr. Albery, I could not marry you! I don't care for you."

"I will take the risk," he spoke slowly, snavely, as usual, and without sign of feeling. "You are the only woman I have ever asked to be my wife. All my life I have had a prejudice against marriage. The women I met never seemed worth while. From the first I loved you. Now I want to marry you, to make you a part of my life for good and all."

He came towards her, smiling, inspired by his own vision of their future; but she waved him away. "Mr. Albery, I can't marry you. Please don't say any more!"

"I hope you will change your mind," he said. He himself was a changed man. Gone was every trace of the admirer, the lover. Even the friendly, considerate employer was no more.

Mayor and President Roosevelt have been working more and more closely together recently. The third member of the triangle is Governor Lehman of New York. There isn't much love lost between him and the Mayor—but they are pulling in unison under the inspiration of their mutual friend in the White House.

always have done before. That hope would go glimmering if their program across. The projected realignment would have far-reaching political results—both local and national.

Consider a few of them. The old-time invisible Democratic government of this city would be busted to bits. Business here could save itself a lot of money if it didn't normally have to pay both direct and indirect tribute to the Tiger.

SHIFTS: Quite a hullabaloo has been raised about the transfer of listed securities from the smaller exchanges to the Big Board in New York since the Securities Commission inaugurated uniform listing requirements.

Experts say this gloomy prophecy is so much applesauce. While a dozen or so issues have been transferred to the New York Stock Exchange since the beginning of the year there has been nothing like a rush to switch.

Nor will there be. Most of the companies listed on the out-of-town exchanges have no use for a New York market. What interest there is in them is pretty well localized.

FANCY: But this reassurance does not apply to the New York Curb Exchange. The corporations which have left the Curb to sign up with its big brother are few in number—but in volume of trading they represented a substantial portion of the Curb's business.

But the Curb's worst headache is still ahead. Roughly two-thirds of the stocks traded on its floor are unlisted. They must list and register with the Securities Exchange Commission before July of next year or get off the Exchange. It will be a terrible job to the Curb if they choose the latter alternative.

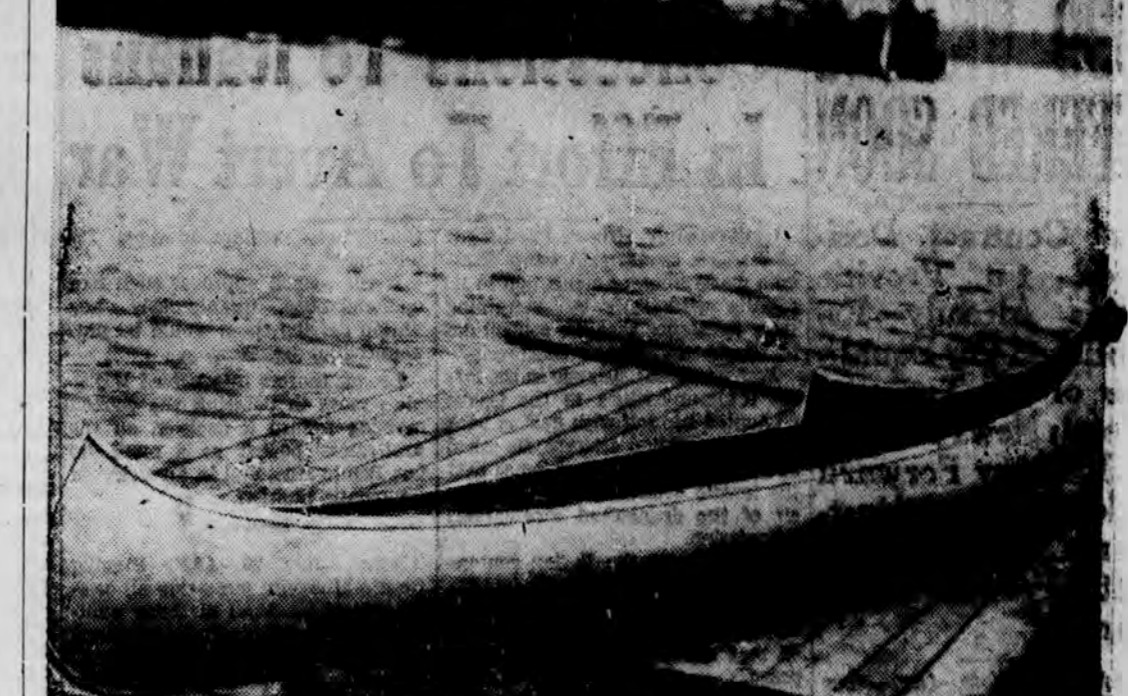

A lot of them may. The chief reason they are unlisted now is because they don't want to file too many details about themselves. If issued this privacy on the Curb they are likely to take refuge in the over-the-counter market.

STOPPED: A shrewd observer raises the point that if TVA is prohibited from using federal funds to purchase power plants and systems it is also possible that federal funds cannot be loaned to minor subdivisions for the purpose of reducing interest on outstanding debts.

RESULTS: Tammany still dreams of a return to the dear departed days of Dick Carter and Tom Platt—when the Tiger boss in the city and the GOP boss in the state worked together for the advantage of the right people.

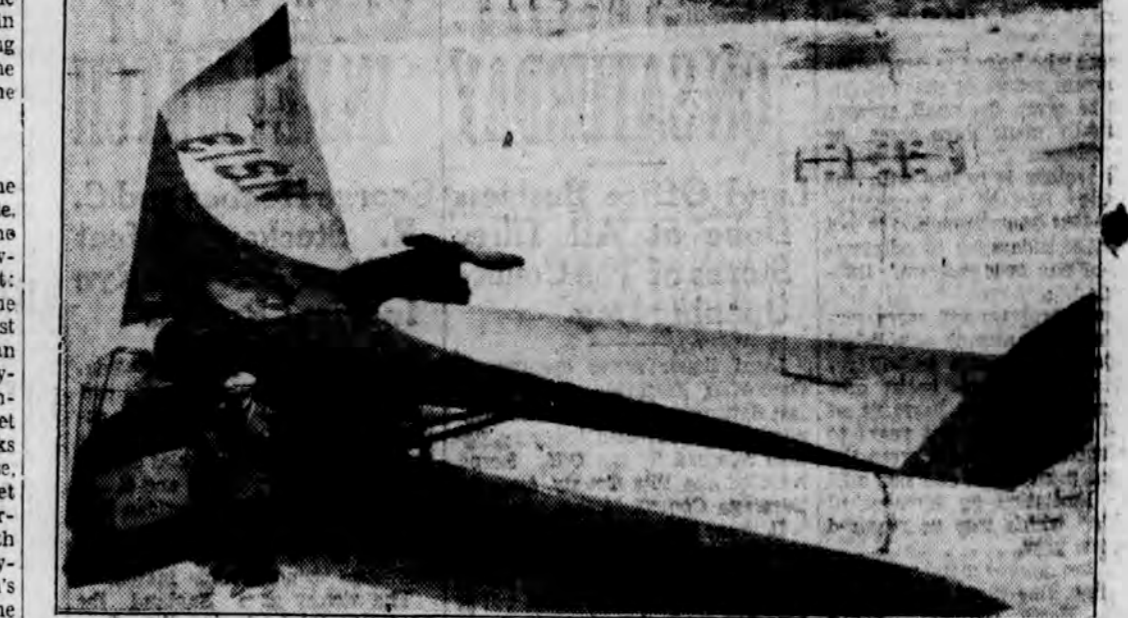

While in this depressed mood he climbed into a taxi recently and engaged in conversation with the driver. Still living in another day, "Joe" asked the cabman if he, too, had served in the War.

WIFE DROWNED IN WEIRD LOVE TRIANGLE

ERE Summer Work.
Tuesday evening at the West Greenville School, "In Dixon's Kitchen," one of the Carolina Folk plays, was delightfully given, to a large and enthusiastic audience. The players have spent much time in making the play worthwhile. There was much favorable comment given to the manner in which the characters played their respective parts.

In addition to the play, Jack Humphrey sang "Lonesome Road," and "Nobody Knows The Trouble I'm In," which was well received by the audience. Jim Griffin caused much merriment by his humorous ventriloquist act.

The characters were as follows: Annie Lee Griffin, Effie Dell Lee; Lem, a friend of Annie Lee's, Jack Humphrey; Pa Griffin, Kay Paul; Ma Griffin, Mae Harper; Gil Griffin, F. B. Morris; Jack Griffin, F. C. Harper.

The directors, Misses Helen Burnette and Mary Shaw Robeson, are now working on another Carolina Folk play, "Job's Kinfolks," and it is hoped that many town people will attend the next performance.

MOST PARTS OF THE STATE STILL 'DRY'

Piedmont Section Remains Politically Dry in Spite of What Others Do

Reflector Bureau.
Six Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, July 29.—Sentiment over the entire state has not gone "wet" and most the Piedmont and western counties are still politically "dry," regardless of how the individual voters may drink, or how much, according to a good many political observers who have been out over the state recently.

The reason for this, they maintain, is that in order to win in the close counties where the Republicans have been wooing the dry Democratic vote for years, the Democrats must have "dry" candidates. For they still fear that unless the Democrats keep their candidates at least politically "dry" enough of the bone-dry Democrats will join forces with the Republicans to cause the Democrats to lose control in these counties.

While there is no doubt that most of the solid Democratic counties in the eastern part of the state are "wet" and in favor of state liquor stores and state liquor control, this does not mean that the entire state has gone "wet" or that the Piedmont and western counties are going to support "wet" candidates for state or county offices.

GREENIES WIN TWO CONTESTS OVER WEEK-END

By R. B. UTKAY (Reflector Staff Writer)

If the fix ever had any intention of casting his lot with the Greenville club of the Coastal Plain League he was probably dissuaded over the week-end as the Greenies defeated Williamston Saturday and Snow Hill Sunday in two of as pretty games as ever seen on the local diamond.

The score Saturday afternoon was 2-0 and that yesterday was 2-1. The Sunday afternoon crowd was given one of the big thrills of the season when Ace Parker, hard-hitting Greenville left-fielder, socked the ball over left field fence for the circuit. He was the first man up in the second inning and the powerful blow set the hundreds of Greenville fans wild, but carried no elation to the hearts of the two hundred or so Snow Hill fans who came over to see Snow Hill attempt to do what Goldsboro did the middle of the previous week—lick the league leaders.

Yesterday might have been termed "Parker and Williams" day at the Third Street school athletic field, as the big Furman hurler also figured into the limelight along with Parker by hanging up his fifth consecutive victory of the season. While he allowed the visiting Snowbirds eight hits they were so well scattered that only one run was realized from them.

Opposing Williams was no other than Greene county's beloved Mike Briggs, whose rabbit's foot luck deserted him yesterday as the locals made five hits and two errors total two runs—enough to put the game on ice—although the crust was mighty thin.

Snow Hill's run came in the third on singles by Perry and Briggs. The Greenies showed the winning run over in the sixth when Huiskamp singled, stole second and third and tallied on Pettie's error of Johnson's stizzling grounder.

George Barley, Duke "fire ball" artist, was the hero of Saturday's game. He recorded his tenth successive win as his teammates made an elephantine effort to make up for the two defeats handed them by Goldsboro two or three days before. He allowed only four hits as his teammates hit opportunely and fielded cleanly to strengthen their position at the top of the standing of clubs.

John Gaddis of Wake Forest, pitched for Williamston, and while he also allowed only four hits, they came close enough together to enable the Greenies to walk away with the bacon in their belts. Each of the pitchers had four strikeouts.

Max Rina, who came to Greenville from Dickinson college to relieve Clifford "Runt" Rostie, who is giving up baseball to return to his post on the tobacco market, started the rally that gave the locals victory with a single. Ambler sacrificed and Huiskamp walked. Huiskamp was forced by Warner, and then Devin doubled to empty the bases.

Corbett, Cheek, House and Chapman counted for one each of the Martins' singles. "Chubbie" Dean with a triple and double lead the Greenville stick attack with Barley and Rina accounting for one each.

Ambler and Huiskamp featured in the field for the locals as Hantz grabbed honors for Williamston. There was nothing left about either game, both teams playing hard to hold their positions in the standing of clubs, realizing that the matter of only a few games would determine the picture entirely. But Greenville, smarting from the two straight licks inflicted by Goldsboro, was in no mood for anything but victory and handled the ball with fine determination. Not an error was chalked up against them for the week-end games, and fans who attended saw a display of some of the fine playing as seen on the local diamond in many a day.

The game yesterday took the place of that scheduled for today, but tomorrow will find the Greenies playing in Snow Hill in an attempt to make a clean sweep of the series with the Greene county lads.

AYDEN HELD TO FOUR HITS New Bern, July 29.—Stuart Flythe limited Ayden's sluggers to four scattered hits yesterday while his mates were getting ten safeties for a 6 to 2 win.

The Bruins hustled hard before jammed stands that cheered wildly. Flythe pitched himself in and out of holes. Four of his five strikeouts came with ducks on the pond. New Bern got off to an early lead with runs in the second and third, but the visitors tied it up in the sixth on a walk to Douglas, Knowles' double, Flythe's wild throw to third, and Atkins' fly to center. It wasn't that way long for Norwood doubled in New Bern's half and came in on Sue Eason's homer over the rightfield wall. Smoky Perrebe singled to start another assault in the seventh, and advanced to second on brother Ham's sacrifice. He reached third on Flythe's grounder and scored on Shipp's infield hit. Shipp went to second on the play, and scored on Sewell's single, with lightning speed around the sacks. Eason's homer and single and Cleary got a double and single apiece. Tatum and Knowles got doubles for Ayden, and singles by Pitcher Johnson and Atkins rounded out the losers' baseknockers.

Score: R. H. E. Ayden 000 002 000—2 4 1 New Bern 011 002 20x—6 10 2 S. Johnson and Tatum; Flythe and H. Perrebe.

WINS IN EIGHTH Kinston, July 29.—A three run, eighth inning rally broke a three-all deadlock and gave Kinston a 6-3 victory over Tarboro here yesterday in the first local Sunday league game. Lloyd Joyce bested Steve Physloc in what was a hurling duel until the eighth.

Kinston scored early when Patton walked in the second inning. He went to third on Stonebraker's single and came in on Strayhorn's hot to rightfield. Tarboro evened things with one in the fifth, when Cobb safe on a fielder's choice, went to second on Physloc's single. He rounded third on Chumbric's fielder's choice and was safe when Greenberg dropped Patton's throw in a chase between third and home.

Kinston stepped into the lead again in the last of the fifth when, after two were out, Greenberg and Reasnit hit successive doubles, with Greenberg scoring on the second. Reasnit came in when Bassin faulted on Irwin's drive to leftfield. Ketter rounded out the end of the inning.

The count evened in the sixth when Tarboro nudged over two scores on three singles and an outfield error. Brake singled Bassin was safe on error, McArthur and Strayhorn.

Irwin hit three for four including a double, and Stonebraker had two for four. Tarboro's six hits were scattered.

Score: R. H. E. Tarboro 000 012 000—3 6 2 Kinston 010 020 00x—6 10 2 Physloc and Short; Joyce and Strayhorn.

There were a few spots in evidence but the majority of the leaders registered advances. Grains furnished no support for securities, wheat milling about nervously following talk of crop damage having been well discounted. Secondary rails bonds improved. Seek Pitt Convict. Raleigh, July 29.—(AP)—Pitt county officers today were seeking Perry Wilson, who alone of three convicts eluded capture after escaping from the Pitt county prison camp late Sunday night.

Wilson, Jasper Riddick and Herbert Kenley, all Grade A—men, "walked off" from the Pitt stockade. Guards caught Riddick and Kenley a short distance from the camp. The man sought was listed as a C grade prisoner, not entitled to any privileges, but had been given Grade A privileges at the camp. L. G. Whitley, assistant superintendent of the penal division, said: "Wilson had previously escaped and was serving a sentence for conspiracy and secret assault."

Talk Future of State Railroad Raleigh, July 29.—(AP)—The future of the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad, state controlled line between Goldsboro and Morehead City, was discussed here today by Governor Ehringhaus, President Luther Hamilton and members of the board of directors. The road is now operated by the Norfolk-Southern but the lease between the state and the operating company was broken more than a year ago due to alleged default by the company.

The annual meeting of the board of directors of the railroad will be held at Morehead City next month and Governor Ehringhaus recently indicated that either the lease might be closed with the Norfolk-Southern or the state might operate the road itself on a part rental basis as the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac is operated.

"We are canvassing the whole situation and getting things in line for the general meeting," Governor Ehringhaus said. "There is nothing definite to say now about the railroad."

The state is pledging its investment in the Atlantic and North Carolina as collateral for a loan for development of the port terminals at Morehead City. The money to be loaned by the federal PWA has not been made available but all details are believed to be nearing completion.

SCHOOL BODY ADOPTS RULES TO SAVE CASH

Commission Begins Work on New Plan To Determine What Teacher Cost Is Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, July 29.—New regulations designed to save several thousand dollars a year on the cost of teachers salaries have just been adopted by the State School Commission. LeRoy Martin, executive secretary, announced today. One of these regulations is that no school or unit of administration may expend more for teachers' salaries in any one of the eighth months than the total expended for salaries the first month. Another is that every superintendent must report the total salaries for each school under his jurisdiction as soon as the first month of school is completed, so that the School Commission can know at the end of the first month what the total salary cost for the entire year will be, instead of having to wait until the end of the eighth month, as in the past.

"The meaning of the first regulation is that the total salary cost for any school the first month must be the maximum for each of the eighth months, and that if any teacher drops out during the school year, the teacher who is employed to take her place must work for the same salary, regardless of the type of certificate she holds. In the past, if a teacher with a Grade B Certificate resigned at the end of the first or second month to get married or to go to some other school or county, the school committee frequently would employ a teacher with a Grade A certificate to replace her, and thus necessitate a higher salary. As a result, it was impossible to estimate the money needed for salaries until the end of the year.
