League Hits Snag On Ethiopian Question

OPPOSITION
POPS UP ON
EVE MEETING

England Appears To Be Only Nation To Call For Forceful Action of Council; Scandinavia Seeks Protection of Small Nations

(By Associated Press)

Ethiopian Situation at a glance: Geneva, July 30.—(AP)—League of Nations mild Ethiopian policy meets opposition on the eve of the important council meeting.

Addis Ababa.—Ethiopia's field army marched for destination today to be the frontier of Italy's colony in Eritrea.

Rome.—More troops sailed for East Africa; Italian delegates journey to Geneva for the council sessions.

London.—Anthony Eden departs with demand for Mussolini to explore every possibility for peace.

Paris.—France ordered reinforcements for Somaliland garrison to assure neutrality.

Geneva, July 30.—(AP)—The League of Nations council encountered obstacles today in its apparent program of speaking softly and moving gently in the impasse between Italy and Ethiopia.

League circles said England appeared to be the only member of the council to call for forceful action at the momentous session tomorrow.

Reports from Scandinavia states indicated that those nations were following keenly the league's handling of the dispute and were insistent that it should protect the interest of smaller nations. Any persistent temporizing in the East African problem, Geneva sources said, might lead to difficulties at the special session of the league assembly and possibly even to threat of new resignations.

England's stand for the special council session aroused widespread interest. Anthony Eden, British minister of the league of nations affairs, is popularly cast in the role of "leading man."

Speculation mounted as to whether Eden would demand a complete investigation of the controversy including a pledge that Italy halt its mobilization of troops in East Africa or would be content with revival of arbitration.

Violators of Traffic Laws and Drunks Highlight Regular Monday Sitting

Three violators of city traffic laws were given hearing in police court yesterday morning along with several drunks arrested by officers over the week-end.

M. J. Blivens of Ashe county, said by police to be a salesman, was bound over to county court on a charge of driving drunk. He was reported to have been arrested while driving over the city under the influence of whiskey. He gave bond and was released until the next sitting of county court.

Victor Cozart and Adrian Peed, the latter colored, were released on payment of cost on a charge of speeding.

Five persons, P. T. Walters, Jesse Whitaker, Ed Dail and Will Williams and Lill Brown, the last two colored, were convicted of charges of drunkenness, some paying fines of $5 each and others being released on payment of cost.

Police reported a larger number of drunks over the week-end than any other period in some time. The same statement was made by county officers who said they were called to a number of drunken brawls Saturday night and Sunday.

In practicing economy, Australia is making smaller stamps and printing fewer pictures on postcards.

Power Head Missing
From Lobby Inquiry

Although they had sought him for 10 days, agents for the senate lobby investigation reported they could not find H. C. NEGRO HELD
FOR SLAYING
IN FRANKLIN

Head of C. J. Stokes Severed from Body in Attack by Sweat Ward

Louisburg, July 30.—(AP)—C. J. Stokes, prominent Hayesville township farmer of Franklin county was killed this morning near his home and officers are holding Sweat Ward, negro, who witnesses said, severed Stokes' head from his body with an axe.

Ward was arrested and clubbed into submission by Constable C. O. Wrenn and W. E. Neal and Ashley Fuller. He was brought to the office of Dr. H. G. Perry here for treatment and wrecked the office in an attempt to escape. He was clubbed into submission again and was taken to jail. Ward also is charged with shooting to death a negro woman either before or after the Stokes' killing.

FIREMEN TAME BLAZE
THREATENING LUMBER

Laurinburg, July 30.—Fire which threatened 1,000,000 feet of dry lumber and 50,000 gallons of gasoline, kerosene and oils, destroyed the boiler room of McLeod and Sinclair's saw-lumber plant here last night.

Fire departments from Bennettsville, S. C., McCall, S. C., Hamlet, Rockingham and Maxton rushed trucks here in a few minutes, but, untroubled by winds, the Laurinburg department had averted the worst of the danger.

A large force was still at work at 9 o'clock and does not expect to get all the fire out before this morning. Thousands of persons jammed the area, many from other towns, excited by reports the whole town was burning up.

Company officials were unable to estimate the damage.

SERIOUSLY INJURED
IN KNIFE ASSAULT

Whiteville, July 30.—Sedo Miles, operator of a local service station, was painfully injured by a knife cut, received at the hands of W. B. Blue, white man from Laurinburg. The knife found its mark about the stomach and face of Mr. Miles, who was rushed to local physicians.

Blue has been placed under $500 bond and must answer charges of assault with a deadly weapon.

The trouble, it is reported, started when Mr. Miles attempted to escort Blue from the former's station because of the drunken condition of the latter.

Continuance Results From Inability to Spare Police as Witnesses Today

Durham, July 30.—(AP)—Trial of Hubert Emory, textile worker, and C. H. Hocutt, tobacco worker on a charge growing of the disorders at the Durham hosiery mills plant No. 1 yesterday morning was continued until August 9, today by Judge Walter C. Bass.

The continuance was granted at the request of Chief of Police George Proctor who said the arresting officers were needed in the hosiery strike zone and couldn't appear as witnesses without weakening the police force on duty at the mills. Quiet prevailed at the mills here this morning.

PREPARE NEW GAME LAWS

Seasons for Shooting Wild Game Set Forth Today by County Game Warden

The new game laws as passed by the last General Assembly are being printed and will be ready for distribution in the next several days, it was made known today by Cecil Jones, Pitt county game warden.

Along with this announcement, Jones stated that combination hunting and fishing licenses had been placed on sale in various places throughout the county and urged sportsmen to buy at once so they will have no run-in with the law.

The seasons for shooting of various types of wild game as set forth by the new law follows:

Beaver, muskrat, otter, November 1 to February 15.

Opossum, Raccoon (with gun or dogs) October 1 to February 1.

Opossum, Raccoon (trapping) November 1 to February 15.

Tobacco Warehousemen
Adopt New Agreement

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the East Carolina Tobacco Warehouse Association was held in this city last night for the purpose of setting up the machinery necessary for the proper enforcement of the voluntary warehouse agreement. Inasmuch as the required ninety per cent of the members of the Association had signed the agreement, it was declared to be in full force and effect and binding upon all the signatory parties.

The Board approved the following member warehousemen of the Association as the governing Council, who will be charged with the duty of securing compliance with the terms of the agreement: W. S. Moye, Greenville, N. C.; Perrell, Farmville; J. J. Gibbons, Wilson; B. H. Bunn, Rocky Mount; and E. V. Webb, Kinston. The first meeting of the Council is scheduled to be held in Greenville on next Tuesday night, August 6, at which time one of its members will be appointed as Chairman to preside at subsequent meetings of the Council. An Administrator will also be appointed to administer the provisions of the agreement.

The following resolution was adopted by the Directors:

WHEREAS, the Agricultural Adjustment program offered by our Government, sponsored by our Governor and supported almost unanimously by the warehousemen and the tobacco farmers, has proved most beneficial to the tobacco industry by a more equitable distribution of the profit derived from tobacco and its products; and

WHEREAS, the Tobacco Warehouse Code contributed materially to this result by safeguarding the interests of the growers in the sale of tobacco at auction, by eliminating unfair competitive practices which were detrimental to the buyer, the warehousemen and the grower, and by providing a more orderly market for the sale of tobacco, through requiring correct weights, by preventing unnecessary speed in selling tobacco, by prohibiting speculation in tobacco by warehouse employees, and by the correction of other practices harmful to the growers; and

WHEREAS, the entire body of East Carolina warehousemen, with a few exceptions, realizing the benefits that flowed from the Code, have voluntarily adopted a contract and agreement designed to continue the provisions contained in the Code; and

WHEREAS, it is manifestly unfair to those warehousemen who desire to continue to operate under such provisions for less than ten per cent of the warehousemen to refuse to operate under the agreement, thus placing the contracting warehousemen at the mercy of unfair competition and cut-throat trade practices inimical to the best interests of the farmers; and

WHEREAS, it is the desire of this Association that all warehousemen in this Belt become parties signatory to this contract and thereby be placed on an even footing, and to serve our farmer customers in the best possible manner.

NOW THEREFORE, be it resolved that the Board of Directors of this Association do hereby earnestly request the few remaining warehousemen who have not accepted this agreement to do so at once, and agree to comply with the expressed desire of the President of the United States and the Governor of North Carolina to continue former codes by means of voluntary agreements.

John G. Robinson Succumbs To Throat Ailment at Home in Cincinnati

Cincinnati, July 30.—(AP)—John G. Robinson, 3rd, 62, who until 1916 carried on the circus established by his family 100 years ago, died at his home here today.

After disposing of his circus interest in 1916, he was secretary of the United States Playing Card Company here. His death was due to a throat ailment.

His illness interrupted plans for his firm to revive the family circus interests to be built around three of the four elephants which his father retained after leaving the show.

News Behind The News.

Washington By RAY TUCKER

READY: Republican pilgrims to Palo Alto are spreading word that Herbert Hoover has a presidential gleam in his eyes. Although Mr. Hoover declined to reveal his intentions his visits came away with the conviction that he wants a re-nomination.

Mr. Hoover is more buoyant and hopeful than he has been since his disastrous defeat, according to those who talked with him. He convinced eastern politicians that the GOP has a chance to come back next year. But he emphasized chiefly the need for mobilizing squabbling factions in his own party for a large scale attack upon the New Deal.

He "sold" his cues on both sides. Three visitors who had been fairly mild towards the administration—Col. Frank Knox, Gov. Nice of Maryland and Fat Hurley—left

Mr. Roosevelt viciously and personally after leaving the Hoover home-stead. Then Gov. Nice collected a group of Hooverites, Old Guardsmen and Hooverbats for a week-end on Chesapeake Bay. They underwrote the Hoover program with the exception of his desire to lead the fight next year.

HOLLERS: Administration critics are cooking up some sizzling strategy for breaking the Senate-House conference deadlock on the holding company bill.

Three House conferees—one Democrat and two Republicans—oppose the "death sentence." They won't agree to any conference action which will permit a clear-cut vote on this provision in the lower chamber. They get word from their scouts that the lines are wavering because of the Black lobby revelations. The

HIGH PRICES
EXPECTED FOR
GA. LEAF CROP

Tifton All A-flutter Today in Preparation for Opening of Mart Thursday

Tifton, Ga., July 30.—(AP)—Fruitons of a year of labor will bring a harvest of millions in cold cash to South Georgia this week in the nation's only leaf tobacco market section.

While only a few pounds of tobacco lay on Tifton's 220,000 square feet of warehouse space today a feeling of excitement was spreading through the little farms, the cleanly swept warehouses and the buyers' offices.

The annual break will begin Monday. By tomorrow tenant farmers with families will be on their way here with thousands of pounds of fine tobacco that represent their year's toil and their year's reward. This year's crop is expected to exceed that of 1934 by approximately 22,000,000 pounds. While not even experts can determine the prices of first days' sales will react, but tobacco men here believed the new crop will bring a higher price.

Last year's average price for the state was 18.73 cents a pound. It was not apparent here today that the State Legislature's new tax bill fixing maximum warehouse rates will have any effect on sales. Farmers generally through the tobacco section have indicated they will market their crop despite federal court litigation under which the state has been enjoined temporarily.

Warehousemen are asked to post bond and rate differentials to protect farmers in the event the rate law later is held valid. Meanwhile in Atlanta the Commissioner of Agriculture Tom Linder criticised tobacco warehousemen for making no effort to test the validity of Georgia's regulatory bill "until just before the opening of the markets."

Hunt for Perry Wilson Continues After Escape From State Prison Camp

Officers continued their search today for Perry Wilson, negro, who escaped from the state prison convict camp, about two miles north of Greenville Sunday, along with two others who were later recaptured.

Wilson, who was serving four and a half years for assault with a deadly weapon and secret assault, had served about two and a half years of his term when he "walked away" from the prison camp during the afternoon. The other two adopted the same method of escape. Camp Superintendent Manley Sellers said today. They were all trustees.

Herbert Hemby, serving three to five years for breaking and entering, and Jasper Ridick, serving 7 to 10 years for murder of another negro, were nabbed in Greenville early Monday morning. They had been hiding here since escaping and officers rounded them up after being "tipped off" concerning their presence.

Camp officials aided by officers of surrounding towns and counties continued today the countryside today in an effort to apprehend Wilson.

Hemby, charged with robbing the home of Dr. Carr here several months ago, was convicted in criminal court during the first of the year. He is considered one of the slickest negro crooks in the section.

Negro Slayer
Lynched By Mob
Near Louisburg

Louisburg, July 30.—(AP)—Goven "Sweat" Ward, 25 year old negro axe slayer of C. G. Stokes, Franklin county farmer was lynched today by a mob which took him from officers and hanged him from a tree, half a mile from the scene of the killing.

While state highway patrolmen and national guard and county officers sought the mob in an effort to prevent the lynching, its members hanged the negro, described by Sheriff J. T. Moore as "crazy" to a huge oak, half a mile down the road from where he chopped off Stokes' head within an axe this morning.

His body was filled with pistol and shotgun wounds but whether he was shot and then hanged or the slugs fired into his body after it was tied by the rope, could not be determined.

Ward, a medium sized ginger-cake negro, was taken from the sheriff and Deputy T. M. Bean ten miles from here shortly before noon as they were hurrying from the county with him as a precaution against violence. The sheriff said there were about 25 men, some negroes and some white, in the group which stopped the car and took Ward.

Immediately after the mob went off with the negro, the sheriff notified his office. When word of it reached Governor Ehringhaus he ordered all available members of the State Highway Patrol here and national guards of Henderson, call also had Company C 120th Infantry ed out.

The negro was hanged before the patrolmen or the guardsmen could reach the scene.

Ward killed Stokes and decapitated him with an axe this morning when the farmer sought to claim the negro who had attacked a negro. (Continued On Page Four)

Late News Flashes

Resist Collection of Tobacco Taxes
Macon, July 30.—(AP)—A preliminary injunction resisting collection of taxes from North Florida tobacco growers for non-compliance with the Kerr-Smith tobacco control act was granted in United States District court here today.

Immediately after the order attorneys said they expected intervention to be filed in the case of 150 or 300 other tobacco growers in North Florida and South Georgia seeking the same relief.

Take Drastic Action to Get Hopson
Washington, July 30.—(AP)—The senate lobby committee today threatened to arm every United States marshal and federal agent with subpoenas for H. C. Hopson, dominant figure in the Associated Gas and Electric system.

Earlier in the committee received evidence that the association system had spent $791,000 opposing the utility bill including $25,000 fee to the law firm of Patrick J. Hurley, secretary of war in the Hoover administration.

RESTRAINING ORDERS
SIGNED IN AAA CASES

North Wilkesboro, July 30.—(AP)—Temporary restraining orders in a dozen AAA cases were signed here yesterday by Judge Johnson J. Hayes of the Middle District U. S. Court.

The government asked 60 days in which to prepare its answer to the various complaints. Judge Hayes required the plaintiffs to post adequate security to protect the government against loss of taxes and also costs of the case in the event the act should be finally upheld.

SEEK TO GET
BILL ON FLOOR
BY TOMORROW

Chairman Doughton Hopes for Passage by Saturday; Same Measure Is Given Stamp of Approval by President

Washington, July 30.—(AP)—The new $27,000,000 tax bill was formally approved today by the house ways and means committee.

Chairman Doughton, (D. N. C.) hoped to get the measure up on the floor tomorrow. He said that he believed it would be taken up by Thursday at the latest.

"I hope we can get it passed by Saturday," Doughton added. "If we don't we certainly can get it through by Monday."

The bill included reforms outlined by President Roosevelt in his message to congress June 19 advocating a "wider distribution of wealth."

It embodies new taxes on inheritances and gifts in addition to those already levied on estates and gifts; increases estate and individual incomes and corporations, excess profits and graduated levies on corporations net income.

Indications were that representative members of the ways and means committee would file a minority report criticizing the bill because of the contention it would do nothing worth while toward balancing the budget.

APATHY STILL HOLDS REALTY

Sluggish Movement Reported in All Sections of Pitt County Past Week

The apathetic condition that has prevailed on the Greenville and Pitt county realty market continued today with only ten transactions having been reported the past week. It was revealed today by records in the office of the register of deeds.

The majority of the transactions involved lots in the city of Greenville and Ayden with the largest carrying a total consideration of $500.

The next most important transfer was that of L. R. Tripp and others to J. R. Blount, for $275.

With the fall approaching an improvement in the realty market is expected. Sales last fall and winter were the heaviest in several years, and a revival is sanguinely looked forward to by dealers in all parts of the county.

Considerable building has been going on in Greenville and some other towns of the county for several months now and with the federal housing program getting in full swing in Pitt county it is expected additional buildings will be started in the next few months.

The transfers reported here this past week follow:

F. Roy Mewborn and wife to Mary L. Mewborn 1 lot, $500.

Cammie P. Moore to E. H. Tarr, 1 lot, $10.

Mary H. Humphrey to E. Y. Lovelace, 20A, $10.

B. T. McLawhorn and wife to Eva M. Turnage, 1 lot, $1.

Jeannette S. Peck and husband to L. B. Garris, et als 2 1/2 lots, $10.

Gaither S. Porter to L. B. Garris, et als, 2 1/2 lots, $10.

T. S. Tyson and wife to A. W. Ance, 90-A, $100.

Edward Ebron and wife to H. L. Hodges, 1 lot, $10.

Colonial Ice Co. to Helen L. Tucker, 1 lot, $10.

L. R. Tripp et als, to J. R. Blount, 1 lot, $275.

filluster in conference is based on the presence of Bennie Cohen, but the real purpose is to block a showdown in the House.

House rules provide that a conference committee may be discharged if it has not reported twenty days after its appointment. The twenty days will be up August 2. Unless the jam is broken by that date, Speaker Byrns may defy tradition by naming House representatives who will go along with the White House.
And then you'll hear some hollering.

BATTLE: The appointment of Tom-Tom Heflin as an FEA ballyhoosier furnishes a tip-off on the political boys' respect for the trouble-making qualities of Huey Long and Gov. Talmadge of Georgia.
"Insiders thought long and hard before they placed Alabama's senatorial pride on the federal pay roll.
They anticipated and received many protests from powerful people who recalled his religious tirades in the Senate and his one-man revolt against Al Smith. Restoration of Heflin to favor is a daring move in view of personal and political circumstances.

Nobody in the know expects Mr.
Heflin to stick to such a routine subject as housing promotion. He has been assigned to the states of Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Alabama, Arkansas, and Mississippi—
the territory where the Long-Talmadge team may put on an act
next year. As a political crooner and rabble-rouser Tom-Tom has no equal. He can fight fire and phantoms with the best of them.

RESCUE: The assignment of Charlie West to the Interior Department represents a presidential attempt to make peace inside and outside his official family. Mr.
Roosevelt has told friends that too much of his time is given to soothing politicians sore at Harold Ickes' snubbing.

Mr. West lacks experience and political polish. He is young, enthusiastic and idealistic. But he is personable and likable. As Mr.
Roosevelt's liaison man with Capitol Hill, he has achieved prestige by proxy. When he opened black tipper bag and extracted morning memos signed "FDR," he spoke with reflected authority. It was a fine build-up. He has established many friendly contacts with House Democrats.

Mr. Ickes has been bereft of any Congressional friends. His department is stacked with Republican holdovers and Progressives. The politicians carried their complaints to the White House when he named Edgar Puryear, former secretary of the late Bronson Cutting, as his patronage guide. "Another Republican to say 'no' to us," groaned the Democrats. So the President
countered with Under-Secretary
West.

INDICATOR: Fateful papers lies
on Attorney General Cummings' desk. How he acts upon them will determine whether the administration intends to remove the antitrust brakes from industry of clamp them down. It is the first test of the White House attitude on this problem since the NRA crack-up revived the Sherman and Clayton acts.

The papers refer to the proposed merger of the Republic Steel and Corrigan-McKinney Steel companies. Mr. Cummings' bright young men attacked the consolidation but a federal court ruled against the government. Mr. Cummings has until August 14 to determine whether he will acquiesce in the court's decision or carry the anti-trust suit to the Supreme Court. It is the most important legal problem before the administration. Both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Cummings realize it and have taken their time in deciding.

The Attorney General has received recommendations for and against an appeal. He can decide either way, but informed people think he will bow to the court's ruling. If not, he is counted on to set forth the conditions under which such mergers may be effected and thus

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Laurie Moore anddently has discovered that she must marry her former employer, Mark Albery, to save the career of Rex Moore, the man she loves. So far as the public knows, she and Rex are married. Albery knows they are not, however, and declares he will be able to arrange a "divorce" when he is able to find Laurie's mother
him at the earliest possible time.

Chapter 36
GLADYS AGAIN

Laurie shivered with sad memory when Albery used the same phrase as Rex Moore had done. She felt like something of no importance, tossed from one hand to another.
Foot-proof story to get rid of her.
She had sold herself into bondage, and she was terrified.

"And, of course, at present, you must stay on at the office, for the sake of appearances. We can keep in touch that way. Moore will get off on his flight as soon as possible. And then we can plan our little summer holiday, you and I."

His smile, so outwardly charming, lighting his impressive face into virile life, made her tremble.

"Then, that's all fixed up, dear little girl!" he said. "And now I must get off. I've got a business banquet tonight, worse luck!"

He took her in his arms. She went cold under his passionate kisses.
A tragic figure, a shrinking victim of the man she loathed, but to whom she had given the right of possession, because she could not help herself.

Laurie had been spending Sunday
with her newly-married girl friend from the office out in the suburb
where she lived, almost on the fringe of the country.

The tube train took her back to Piccadilly Circus, and she started out to walk back to Westminster by the pleasant route of St. James's Park. It was such a lovely mellow night.

There was nothing to go back for.
Gladys was not at home. The troupe had gone to the outlying Surrey towns for three weeks, too far for her to come home every night.

Mark Albery was in Paris over the week end, much to Laurie's relief. He had wanted her to go with him. There had been a scene, but she had made a firm stand. It was amazing, even to herself, what power she had over him.

Around Piccadilly Circus was a stream of traffic unusual on a Sunday night. But everybody who could had spent the day in the country. As she was about to cross the Circus, Laurie was held up as the traffic was let through.

A taxi came along and slowed down for a few moments. Its occupants caught Laurie's eye. A young man in evening dress sat on the side nearest her. She remembered. Of course, it was Lord Dagenbury's son, young Dallas, whom she and Gladys had met at Fen Grotton. She had taken a dislike to him, and what Albery had told her of him had not made her change her mind.

Suddenly he moved, and a girl's head appeared beside him, leaning forward. Laurie's heart gave a loud knock. Gladys's lovely little head, bare, the dim light on her glorious dark golden curls. Gladys, dimpling and smiling, in evening dress, an exquisite bunch of orchids on her shoulder, from which the light wrap had fallen.

He bent towards her. The taxi moved on, shot away, leaving Laurie rooted to the spot.

GLAD—and young Dallas! What was she doing with him at this time of night in a taxi, when she was staying in lodgings at Guildford? It was past ten o'clock now. She must have come from Guildford, dressed for the evening, and be going back there.

Oh, if only Glad could confide in her! Laurie tried to reason with herself, as she walked on. After all, there was nothing out of the way in going out to supper on a Sunday night with a young man. But Glad had not said she had met young Dallas again.

And there was the fear that was always subconsciously gnawing at her heart. If anything should happen to Glad!

She had a vision of the young man's blunt, blurred face; his eyes, as she remembered them, green and frivolous; his hat ears standing out.
It would not let her sleep.

The next morning she had a telegram from Albery from Paris. He would not be back until the evening.
He would call and take her out to dinner.

She decided to go to Guildford.
She could not rest until she had seen Glad.

When she arrived at the girl's lodging, she was told her sister was at the theatre for a rehearsal.
So that was true, at any rate. It was a slight relief. Laurie could not bring herself to question the landlady about when Glad had come home last night. She walked to the theatre.

The stage was set for rehearsal,
when she reached the theatre, and the auditorium was in darkness. As Laurie groped her way, the manager met her, and recognized her, telling her that her sister was about to rehearse a solo dance.

They had engaged a special dancer, but she had fallen ill, and manager expressed great satisfaction with the girl's performance, and installed Laurie in a seat to watch.

Laurie was frankly enchanted.
Gladys was wonderful. She was ethereal, distant, alluring, and just touched with a haunting madness in the final bars.

The manager came back to Laurie's side after directing a few alterations in the dance.

"This is only the second rehearsal,
Mrs. Moore," he said proudly. "Do you know, I think your little sister has a touch of genius? What Gladys really needs is a year or two of hard study and practice, both at home and on the Continent. She would make a big name."

"She shall if she wants to, when I am married to Mark Albery," said Laurie to herself, with quiet bitterness.

"WHY, Laurie, old girl!" cried Gladys on seeing her sister. She sounded rather extravagantly pleased. "What on earth are you doing here? Come to see me rehearse —specially? What's the office doing without you?"

"I want to talk to you, Glad. Come and have lunch in some place in the town."

"Thanks much! I can do with something tastier than Ma gives us at the digs," the girl said, still with a touch of ostentatious gaiety. "But what's up, really?" she went on, as they walked away from the theatre.

"Glad, I saw you last night in a taxi—with that young Dallas," said Laurie abruptly, awkwardly, speaking as if she were ashamed of herself.

"Me!" exclaimed the younger girl.
"You saw me with whom?" She turned eyes wide with amazement
on her embarrassed sister.

"With that young Mr. Dallas we met at Fen Grotton, Lord Dagen-
bury's son."

"Where—may I ask?"

"In Piccadilly Circus."

"Did you say—in a taxi?"

"Yes. I was coming back from Nora's place. The traffic was stopped, and your taxi pulled up just in front of me. It was about ten o'clock. Oh, Glad, don't deny it!"

"Not guilty!" said Gladys coolly.
"Did you have some drinks at Nora's?"

"Glad, don't play with me! It was you—you know it was."

"But it just wasn't, old girl. I'm sorry, I must have a double."

"Glad!" Laurie's poignant voice fell on deaf ears. Do you mean to tell me you were not with Mr. Dallas last night—that you've never met him
since that time at Fen Grotton?"

"That's exactly what I do mean," Gladys replied.

"Glad!" said Laurie again, utterly discouraged, as her sister turned that drooping, sullen look on her.

"But I could have sworn it was you."
"You must go about looking in every cab, I should think!" Gladys replied belligerently. "For goodness' sake, Laurie, when will it dawn on you that I'm not a baby and can look after myself? It wasn't me you saw, and that's that."

Laurie said nothing more.

They ate a nice meal without paying any attention to it, both busy with their thoughts.

When they were out in the street
again, Laurie said quietly:

"I must have made a mistake, Glad. But I'm glad I came. Your dance is lovely. You're going to do big things."

"I hope so, Laurie. I love it. I just want to practice, practice all the time." This was genuine enthusiasm, and all the way to her lodgings
Gladys talked of her work.

Her charm, who was rooming with her, was in the little sitting room,
having just finished her meal.

"Nelly," said Gladys loudly, and with a ringing laugh, "please put my sister right! Where was I last night at ten o'clock, dear?"

"Why, here, Glad!" answered the obedient Nelly.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

TROUBLE: John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers is up against a ticklish problem. There's no chance whatever for enactment of the Guffey coal bill by tomorrow night—though it will show progress and may even get through the House by then. So Lewis will either have to go through with the threatened strike or gamble on another postponement in the hope that the bill will pass shortly.

Each of the three previous days

has cost Lewis more of his prestige with his followers. In their eyes he appears to have been played for a sucker by the administration. Lewis realizes this, but has taken a chance on weakening his position in order to clinch the Guffey bill—which he figures will reestablish him as the leader who gets things done. But he can't stall too long or the direct actionists in his outfit are likely to take matters right out of his hands and strike anyway. If that happens his power is shot for keeps.

It's known that Lewis doesn't really want a strike. It might get out of hand and boomerang on him.
New York sharps are betting he will risk playing with the administration

DOUBT: Meanwhile the northern waging a hot battle of their own behind the Guffey bill screen.

The northerners are practically contention—the wage differential between sections which gives the southern mines a big competitive advantage. Both believe it would at least be sharply reduced under commission rule as provided by the Guffey bill. The north is determined that it shall be the south that it shan't. Both are privately ex-can muster on Congress. The con-

Knight-Parker.
Aulander, July 18.—A wedding of much interest was solemnized Sunday morning, July 14, at 9 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. Willie Jenkins, when Miss Daisy Belle Parker, daughter of the late Hersey B. Parker and Mrs. Sallie Parker Dunning of Aulander, became the bride of George Van Buren Knight, son of Mrs. G. D. Knight of Charleston, S. C. The Rev. Lannie Sasser, pastor of the Aulander Baptist Church, officiated, using the ring ceremony.

The home was beautifully decorated with gladioli and dahlias. The vows were spoken before an improvised altar.

A special radio program had been previously arranged for the wedding through the station at Petersburg, Va. The following selections, "I Love You Truly," and "When I Grow Too Old To Dream," were rendered before the ceremony, at the request of the bride.

The bride wore a long white lace dress, with white picture hat, white gloves and shoulder corsage of white gardenias and bride's lace. Immediately after the ceremony the bride changed to a traveling suit of navy blue crepe with white accessories.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Knight left for the Shenandoah Valley, Washington, D. C., and other points of interest, also Charleston, S. C., home of the bridegroom. They will be at home in Greenville, N. C., after July 24.

Mrs. Knight received her education at East Carolina Teachers College, Greenville, and for several years taught in the schools of Pitt county.

Mr. Knight is manager of the McClellan Chain Store at Greenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Knight arrived in Greenville Sunday and are living in the home of Mrs. Selma Carson Moore on East Eighth street.

The first to speak was Ernest Arnold. Introduced by Hayward Dail who was in charge of the program last night Mr. Arnold was indicated as the one who has charge of the Triple A in Pitt County sees to its actual being carried out. The first speaker said he could report considerable activity of his office but that everything was up-to-date with the eighty thousand acres measured and tabulated and the thirty thousand marketing cards being made out.

Mr. Arnold said that no one knows just exactly what the status of the Triple A is for with the death of NRA and the new legislation riding through with undesirable amendments and all that in conference at the moment, it is impossible to say exactly. But as for the local picture he was more certain that for all it has up to now been a profitable and interesting time under the Triple A.

The request to plow well grown cotton under astounded everyone most but the farmers did it and Pitt County came through with special commendation from the government for its cooperation. Pitt fell readily in line and cooperated in the carrying out of the rest of the developments of the Triple A. There are not twenty-five acres of tobacco in Pitt County farmed without contract, Mr. Arnold reported.

At this point Mr. Arnold quoted some very impressive figures: Number of pounds of tobacco sold in Pitt County in 1932 21,616,400 with total amount received in money $2,647,200. In 1934 31,455,634 pounds were sold for $9,440,361.44 with rentals in Pitt County amounting to $224,906.50 and adjustment payments totalling $504,067 making a grand total for the 1934 crop come to $10,169,335.74.

The story in figures for cotton as follows: Number bales 13,130 with amount received for this 1932 crop coming to $492,375.00. In 1934 11,714 bales were produced selling for $937,120 with rentals of $74,140.26 and Parity payments of $21,250.19 totalling $1,032,510.45 for the 1934 crop. Which Mr. Arnold said was undeniable proof of profit under the Triple A.

The next to speak was Jasper Winslow who serves on the State Committee and receives no compensation. In his usual brief direct manner Mr. Winslow told how the

WELL-KNOWN COMPANY MAKES TREMENDOUS GROWTH FROM THIS SMALL BEGINNING

Twenty-five years ago in June, this small horse-drawn tank wagon represented the rolling stock of the American Oil Company.

The company started with three employees and 300 gallons was a "big" day.

Twenty-five years is a long time when counted in terms of weeks and days. But it seems a very short period when measured in terms of the amazing progress of the American Oil Company.

For in that time the American Oil Company has expanded its territory from one city in one state to thousands of cities and 18 states and the District of Columbia.

It has thousands of dealer and company owned stations—a huge fleet of tank trucks—one of the largest arrays of railroad tank cars—thousands of employees—15 main-moat ocean terminals and the world's biggest, newest and most modern refining unit.

Truly this is a remarkable growth and the American Oil Company is being congratulated on all sides by its many friends and customers.

SEE CLEARING PARK TANGLE

Waynick Thinks the Right-of-Way Question Will Be Cleared Up Soon

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, July 30.—The present tangle in Washington with regard to the securing of the right-of-way for the Park-to-Park highway thru Virginia and North Carolina will soon be adjusted so that construction can be started on the first link in North Carolina, Chairman Capus M. Waynick of the State Highway and Public Works Commission said today. The State Highway Commission, acting under the special law enacted by the 1935 general assembly, has already exercised its right of eminent domain and acquired the land needed for the first 12 miles of the parkway, extending from the Virginia-North Carolina line, down through Alleghany county to Deep Gap. It thought that this was sufficient and that construction would then proceed at once.

But because of the Via case brought in Virginia, in which the plaintiff sought to question the right of a state to use its power of eminent domain to acquire property to later be turned over to the Federal government, the Public Works Administration in Washington became somewhat jittery and so far has held up starting actual construction of the parkway in this state. It has been insisting that it cannot start construction until the state turns over fee simple titles to the parkway route. It is agreed that it may take a good many months yet to dicker with all the owners of the land through which the parkway is to go and secure final titles.

So Chairman Waynick has sent Charles Ross, chief counsel for the highway department, to Washington to confer with Secretary Ickes, boss of the parkway plans, and Mr. Ross is to confer with Secretary Ickes in Washington today. He will attempt to convince "Honest Harold" that the title to the parkway right-of-way is already vested in the state, under the 1935 law, and that the details of the purchase price and the securing of the actual deeds can be attended to while the highway is under construction, also that these deeds will be ready to deliver by the time the construction work is finished. He will also argue that is the U. S. Supreme Court rules for the plaintiff in the Via case that the Federal government can exercise its right of eminent domain and the state will pay whatever price has been agreed upon.

ROUND UP RING OF COUNTERFEITERS

Hickory, July 30.—The little ring of counterfeiters who managed to pass some of their spurious twenty dollar bills in the Hickory area recently, has been rounded up and ample evidence secured to convict them, according to information given out here by Henry E. Thomas, of the U. S. Secret Service, while on a brief business visit in Hickory.

It will be recalled that two men drove up to the Mountain View Filling Station, south of Hickory on Saturday night, July 13, and passed a counterfeit twenty dollar bill which was soon detected by Dewey Yoder, a brother of Jake Yoder, proprietor of the gasoline station. The two men escaped after an exciting chase.

FIVE INJURED WHEN MAN FIRES ON CROWD

Chadbourne, July 30.—Five persons were seriously injured when Almon Ward fired a shotgun into a crowd of people in the Mollie section of Columbus county. The injured were rushed to Tabor City. Physicians, after treatment, expressed the opinion that all of them would recover.

Immediately after the firing took place, the assailant was placed under arrest and was later allowed to go free, after posting a $500 bond. Ward was charged with assault with a deadly weapon and will be given a hearing at the next term of court.

Reports coming from the scene of the accident indicate only one shot was fired, which was at close range. All of those injured are members of the same family and include Zella, Louise, Elizabeth, Edward and J. C. Ward.

GREENIES TO RESUME PLAY WITH SNOWMEN

While Greenville and Snow Hill marked time yesterday after playing their scheduled Monday game on Sunday, six other clubs of the Coastal Plain circuit engaged in combat with the results placing the runner-up Kingston club a few points closer to the league leading Greenies.

As Kingston was defeating Williamston 8 to 4, Ayden beat Goldsboro 6 to 1 and Tarboro took the New Bern Bears for a 4 to 3 ride. Greenville and Snow Hill were to meet at Snow Hill this afternoon to complete their two-game series after which New Bern will come here tomorrow for the beginning of another two-game series.

With the Greenies comfortably leading the race by a margin of several games, fans were looking forward to the outcome of this week's play with interest. Several days setback for the rampaging league leaders would change the picture of the standings completely, but nobody is looking for anything of the kind with the Greenies playing the best ball of the season.

After two straight wins over Williamston and Snow Hill the league leaders went to Snow Hill this afternoon confident of returning home with the bacon in spite of the fact that the Snowbirds always carry pocketful of surprises around with them, ready to spring them when least expected.

Kingston's victory over Williamston yesterday placed them a game nearer Greenville which is leading the parade by a six-game margin. But this meant little or nothing in the hand-bitting, foot-fielding province of Manager Ben Parlow, who after dropping a couple of games to Goldsboro last week resumed their victorious march against Williamston and Snow Hill to the general satisfaction of thousands of fans here.

The climate of the season is hard to a month away now and then the four top clubs will play an elimination series in determining which two will play for the flag which has been flying on a mountain near Third Street school athletic field here for the last two seasons.

Nobody doubts that Greenville will be among the leaders and with Tarboro and Goldsboro showing a tremendous amount of fire, decidedly transformed from the club of the first of the season. It wouldn't be surprising to see one of them—both—in the elimination series. A six-game lead is conceded to be a slim margin for a team with a month of play to go but it looks like a mountain in some of the clubs down near the bottom with an elephantine struggle before them if they hope to play in the semi-finals.

Greenville baseball fans are proud of the fine record the club has been able to set the last two seasons and are confidently looking forward to another successful season with the flag still remaining at Third Street for next season's playoffs to fight over during a season as spectacular as the present.

STINE JOINS THE GREENIES

By R. O. MOYE
The Greenville club now has a Max on the squad but not "Herr Max." Max Stine, widely known Pennsylvania athlete, a product of Dickinson College, in Carlisle, Pennsylvania, has been annexed to the club roster to take the place of the clowning cohort of Chubby Dean, Runt Bostic, who was compelled to retire from the club upon acceptance of a position with the Imperial Tobacco Company in Georgia. He will play the shortstop position.

In Saturday's game he started off the winning sixth frame for the Greenies with a single of John Gaddy. He scored the first run of this inning which was half the number of runs made in the game. His home town is in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, which incidentally is the home town of Ty Wagner.

AYDEN STOPS BUGS
Goldsboro, July 30.—Goldsboro's seven-game winning streak in the Coastal Plain League play ran into one-hit hurling by Brownlee of Ayden yesterday and the victory string was snapped as the Aces clubbed a 6-1 decision.

Doc Smith's club collected 11 hits off two local flingers. Goldsboro's only hit—a triple by Patrick—scored Dalrymple, who had walked, in the second inning.

Brownlee fanned 10 in turning in his goe-hitter. He walked six but was just wild enough to be quite effective.

Ayden counted singletons in each of the first four innings. Wall's single, a walk, and Knowles' single accounted for one in the first, and Ervin Rossall hit for the circuit in the second. The third inning run came on a walk and singles by Douglas and Atkins. The game's only error—made by Culler, who had replaced E. Webb on the hill for Goldsboro—let in a run in the fourth.

The Aces topped off their scoring by getting two in the seventh—on a walk, a sacrifice, a double by Douglas, and singles by Knowles and Atkins.

Score:
Ayden 111 100 200—6 11 0
Goldsboro 010 000 000—1 1 1
Brownlee and Tatum; E. Webb, Culler and Sutfenfeld.

KELLER SETTLES IT
Kingston, July 30.—Charlie Keller's inside-the-park homer with the bases loaded in the eighth gave Kingston an 8-4 victory over Williamston yesterday.

The Eagles' other runs were made in the first inning. Fuzzy Andrews, new first-sacker from Pittsburgh way, singled. Erwin doubled. Keller then singled to score Andrews and Erwin. Morgan doubled, and Stonebraker climaxed the scoring by hitting a single to send in Keller and Morgan.

Thus, Keller's total for the day was six runs batted in. Since he scored another, he had a part in the counting for all but one of the locals markers.

Williamston scored doubletons in the third and fifth. Gaylord walked to start the third. The bases were filled when House singled and Leary walked. Doyle then singled to send in two runs.

The Martins pulled into a tie in the fifth. Leary and Doyle singled, and Chappell walked to cram the corners. Wahler singled to score Leary and Doyle.

The visitors threatened in the sixth and seventh. Gaylord opened the sixth with a triple but, after House had gone out on an infield tap, Leary hit a fly to Morgan in left and Morgan doubled Gaylord at the plate.

Kingston set the stage for Keller's game deciding homer in this fashion: Strayhorn singled. Harris, attempting to sacrifice, beat out an infield tap. Irwin walked. Then came Keller's hit to deep center.

Score:
Williamston 002 020 000—4 12 2
Kingston 400 000 04X—8 14 0
Lyter, Cherry and Doyle; Harris and Strayhorn.

TARORO DEFEATS BEARS.
Tarboro, July 30.—Askew's single, Rhymers' sacrifice, and Chumbris' single to center produced a ninth-inning run to give Tarboro's cellarites a 4-3 victory over New Bern yesterday.

The score ended a deadlock which had continued since the seventh, when New Bern pulled even by scoring twice. The Bears had counted once in the first frame and Tarboro had scored three in its half of the opening verse.

Rhymer, winning hurler, and Andreoli went the route in one of the best games of the season here.

Andreoli was very stingy between the first and last innings. Tarboro got off to a good start when Male doubled with one out. After Brake had popped out, two passed balls permitted Male to score. Bassin walked, Bryant singled and stole second, and McArthur singled to send in two scores.

New Bern's first-inning run came on Shipp's single, his stolen base, Sewell's infield out, and Norwood's single.

Eason and Van Horn singled in the seventh to pave the way for the Bears' scoring in that inning. Ferebee laid down a bunt, and the bases were filled when Chumbris bobbled a throw. H. Ferebee popped to Chumbris, and Andreoli fanned. Rhymer then uncorked a wild pitch to permit Eason to score, and Van Horn tallied when Shipp beat out an infield hit.

Score:
New Bern 100 000 200—3 7 0
Tarboro 300 000 001—4 9 1
Andreoli and H. Ferebee; Rhymer and Peritt.

New York Cotton

New York, July 30.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady one lower to one higher with steady Liverpool cables offset by favorable weather and crop advances.

October contracts after selling off to 1134 rallied to 1139 and were ruling around 1138 at the end of the first hour with active months net unchanged to two points higher.

The price of October ranged from 1143 to 1152 during the morning and was hanging around 1151 around midday with active months on higher to one lower.

Futures closed steady one to five lower.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, July 30.—(AP)—The stock market suffered a rather brisk shakeup today as traders cashed in some of the profits on the belief that the recent advance had been a bit too rapid.

After a rather steady opening selling orders involving large blocks of the favorites unsettled the list and the ticker tape dropped a minute behind floor transactions.

Various specialties and the rails were resistant from the start. The activity dwindled in the second hour.

After a rather steady opening selling orders involving large blocks of the favorites unsettled the list and the ticker tape dropped a minute behind floor transactions.

and the buying flurry in the aircraft brought support to many of the hard pressed leaders.

The reaction was attributed largely to technical factors. Grains were a trifle easier and cotton marked time.

The bonds department indicated no pronounced trend. Foreign exchanges were only moderately mixed. The late stock tone was irregular. Transfers were 1,600,000 shares.

NEGRO SLAYER LYNCHED BY MOB NEAR LOUISBURG

A woman and Farmer Sturgeon Ayseue, in what apparently was a mad frenzy. Officers who brought the negro to Louisville after the killing said witnesses told them that Ward suddenly went amuck about 9 a. m. at the home of his sister and struck her down with a rock. Ayseue who was passing by intervened and was knocked down with a bottle. Stokes was working across the road from the woman's home and started to the assistance of Ayseue. As he tried to reason with the enraged negro he was knocked unconscious with a rock. Ward then seized a knife and severed the farmer's head. Other negroes working nearby overpowered Ward and held him until officers arrived.

After being brought here, Ward was taken to the office of Dr. H. G. Perry for an examination, but tried to escape and was overpowered only after he had broken up furniture in the physician's office.

He was then taken to jail and it was shortly afterward Sheriff Moore decided to take him to Rocky Mount, fearing a mob attack on the jail here.

Several hours after the lynching the body was still hanging from the tree while Coroner R. A. Bobbitt was summoning a jury. Scores of the curious streamed to the section in the mid-afternoon and between 300 and 400 people thronged the grave where the negro was hanged.

Solicitor William Bickett of Raleigh, district prosecution officer, and County Attorney Charles Green arrived before the body was taken down and conferred with the coroner and officers. The handcuffs put on by Sheriff Moore when the officer left Louisville with him were still on the body.

Forty cars of state highway patrolmen arrived after the lynching and the officers found occupation in directing the traffic as cars filled the road leading to the grave.

AMERICAN MARCHES AHEAD!

NOW! "AIR-CONDITIONED" AMERICAN GAS

AS the second achievement for its 25th Anniversary, the American Oil Company presents a regular gasoline as new—as modern—and as different as its name—"AIR-CONDITIONED" American Gas.

In how it's produced, in what it is, in what it does—"AIR-CONDITIONED" American Gas now moves even further ahead of other regular gasolines that have become pretty much alike.

First of all, "AIR-CONDITIONED" American Gas is a 100% Pure Petroleum Base. Our new refinery with its new processes is able to develop from the raw crudes a regular gasoline with more net energy per gallon and more other desirable qualities than ever before possible.

No acid is used in our refining operations. Most other gasolines are acid-treated. Acid-treating injures anti-knock quality and also leaves traces of acidic compounds in the gasoline.

Further, it hasn't been necessary to add any of the chemicals used in most regular gasolines. The result is a new type of gasoline that offers you things no other regular gas can offer. Here they are:

READ ALL THESE GUARANTEED FEATURES

"AIR-CONDITIONED": Conditioned at refinery to counteract erratic engine tendencies caused by outside temperature and humidity changes. This guarantees uniform and efficient motor performance in any weather.

CLEAN BURNING: 100% Pure Petroleum Base—No Added Chemicals—100% clean burning—no harmful deposits.

GREATER NET POWER: "Air-conditioned" gasoline plus clean burning guarantee superior performance. Hence, GREATER NET POWER.

HIGHER ANTI-KNOCK: By new processes—without acid treatment—in the world's most modern refinery, we obtain naturally from 100% Pure Petroleum Base a higher anti-knock value than other regular gasolines get artificially by the addition of chemicals to bring up anti-knock alone.

MORE MILES: Greater net power and higher anti-knock rating net more miles to the gallon than any other regular gasoline.

"AIR-CONDITIONED" Your Motor!

Stop at any Yellow and Black American Gas Pump and fill up your tank with "AIR-CONDITIONED" American Gas. Then keep your car "air-conditioned" with this amazing new "AIR-CONDITIONED" American Gas. Even though it costs us more to produce, it is being sold at regular gas price from Maine to Florida and inland by thousands of American dealers and stations.
