

N. C. American Legion Asks For Cash Payment Of Bonus

RESOLUTION ADOPTED AT CONVENTION

Resolution Adopted at Fayetteville Meeting Today Without Dissenting Vote; Asheville Selected as Next Convention City Over Winston-Salem.

Fayetteville, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Immediate cash payment of the adjusted service compensation certificates was asked by the North Carolina Department of the American Legion in a resolution adopted today at its annual convention here.

Proposed by the resolutions committee the resolution was approved without a dissenting vote.

Asheville won the 1936 convention over Winston-Salem. The committee on selection of next year's convention site brought in a divided report. The majority recommended Asheville and the minority favored Winston-Salem. A motion for adoption of the minority report lost 74 to 215. Other business transacted included abolition of the office of state athletic officer and creation of a three-man commission to handle the work formerly conducted by C. K. Torrence of Gastonia, state athletic officer.

EVANS STREET STORE ROBBED

Nichols' Market Entered Last Night; $25 in Cash and Foodstuffs Missing.

Robbers entered Nichols' market on Evans street last night and made away with cash and foodstuffs estimated at between $25 and $30.

Cutting their way through a screen in a back window, the robbers rifled the safe, which had been left open, of around $7 and papers described by Mr. Nichols as "very valuable."

The robbers then supplied themselves with considerable meat and other kinds of food before leaving the same way they came.

The robbery was discovered when employees opened the store for business early this morning.

Police were notified and immediately began an investigation but it was said this afternoon that no clue leading to identity of the robbers had been obtained.

Fingerprint experts of the police department photographed several prints left on the safe and other parts of the store and hoped to be able to track down the culprits through this medium.

Board Considers New Health-Farm Building

The Pitt County Board of Commissioners in regular monthly meeting at the courthouse here yesterday considered a proposal for erecting a building to house the county health and farm departments, but no definite action was taken. The board was scheduled to meet again this afternoon to complete work on the proposal.

A new home for the departments was declared very necessary in view of the crowded condition of the courthouse and lack of room to carry on work of the two departments. The farm department has been located in the Edwards' building back of the courthouse for several years, due to insufficient room on the second floor of the courthouse where it was formerly located.

If the new structure receives the board's okay it will probably be located on the courthouse square, although this phase of the question had not been reached when the board recessed late yesterday afternoon.

The board confined the major part of the session to routine business, such as paying of bills, hearing reports from various departments, and later discussed the erection of a new building in addition to two other projects which were not divulged.

It was believed final action on the proposed building and two projects would be taken when the board assembled this afternoon. At least this hope was expressed at the courthouse today shortly in advance of the arrival of the commissioners for the session.

The board was also scheduled to complete work on the tentative budget adopted some time ago, but owing to a number of changes, this was delayed until later. Whether it would be reached this afternoon was a matter of conjecture.

The budget reportedly carries a higher figure than last year due to increased cost of operation of the government. The tax rate will be decided upon along with completion of the budget. This is expected to reflect a slight increase over the previous year due to the budget boost.

Valdosta, Ga., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Reports of good offerings and satisfactory prices continued over the Georgia bright leaf tobacco belt today.

At Nashville one man sold 21,700 pounds for a total of $6,295 with the price ranging from 25 cents for his lower grades to 32 cents for his better grades. Buyers said unofficially that the sale was probably a record one for the section.

BAR OUTSIDE WORKERS AT PELZER MILL

Militiamen Set Out to Prevent Anybody Entering Mills But Regular Workers.

Pelzer, S. C., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Militiamen set out today to keep every one out of the Pelzer cotton mills except workers employed in the plant or living in the mill village before the strike July 25.

The state troops acted in accordance with an order by youthful Governor Olin C. Johnston, himself a former textile worker—who declared Pelzer in a "state of insurrection"—tantamount to martial law.

The governor issued an order late yesterday which in effect prohibited outside workers from coming to the Pelzer mills. Union officials had charged that several hundred workers had been imported by the mills.

TOBACCO MEN OFF TO S. C. AND BORDER

Opening of "Border Belt" Thursday Is Watched with Interest in This Area.

Greenville tobaccoists were moving toward South Carolina and North Carolina border markets today in preparation for the opening of the tobacco markets Thursday morning.

The vanguard of buyers and other market representatives left Greenville today and Thursday will be present at the opening sales.

Some of those who are on the Georgia market at this time will probably be sent to South Carolina and the border to help take care of the rush always marking opening day sales.

With the Georgia market averaging better than 20 cents, farmers and others interested in the industry were casting their eyes toward the South Carolina and border belt to see how the price situation will pan out there.

The Georgia opening not only carried elation to farmers of that state but was received with general satisfaction by farmers of the Eastern North Carolina belt, where the finest bright leaf tobacco of the world is produced.

Usually when prices are good in Georgia and South Carolina the opening here may be expected to show considerable strength, and on the basis of this theory Pitt county growers today were pushing the harvest of their golden crop to the markets open.

Although the housing business is pretty well advanced in this section, considerable work remains to be done before the farmers are ready to make their annual pilgrimage to market. However, every indication pointed to completion of housing and curing well in advance of the opening when the annual flow of money will bring joy to thousands of hearts throughout the county.

The Pitt county crop in spite of torrential rain about a month ago is considered one of the finest of years, observers here said this week, and if prices are anyway like normal the crop should sell for well above that last year, especially with increased acreage as allowed under government contract.

The county produced approximately 30,000,000 pounds of weed last year and under the increased acreage allotments, it was expected the total this year would be around the 36,000,000 pound mark.

LEAF MARKET CARDS TO BE READY AUG. 16

Farm Department Is Preparing to Advise Growers When To Come for Cards.

Tobacco marketing cards will be ready for Pitt county growers by August 16, ten days ahead of the opening of the Eastern Carolina tobacco markets, it was made known today by E. F. Arnold, director of the local farm department, who is in charge of preparation and distribution of cards.

Mr. Arnold said today his office was busy preparing notices to be mailed out to growers, advising them when their cards will be ready. Immediately upon receipt of notices, he said farmers should go at once to the farm office and obtain their cards.

The task of preparing both notices and cards is a monumental one in view of the fact that there are 3,000 contract signers in the county calling for a total of between five and six thousand marketing cards.

The cards will call for slightly above 36,000,000 pounds of weeds as compared with 30,000,000 last year, the farm director said. Although the crop in some areas has been damaged by hail and rain, Mr. Arnold said the quality of leaf this year was excellent.

The issuance of marketing cards follows close on the heels of the measurement program in which the acreage of all contract signers were checked and their compliance with the government program ascertained.

Although some of the growers were required to cut down a portion of their tobacco to meet allotments when the measuring program was completed, the farm director failed to report any serious violations. In fact, Pitt county has come nearer complying with provisions of the government program than any other county in the country. This is quite appropriate in view of the fact that the movement resulting in the government crop control program originated in this section three seasons ago when a warehouse holiday was declared until better prices were paid for the product. The advantages which farmers are enjoying today from improved prices resulted directly from that holiday.

ITALY ORDERS MORE MEN TO TAKE UP ARMS

75,000 additional Soldiers Ordered to Go to East African Battle Front.

Rome, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini today called 75,000 more men to arms as a consequence of heavy Ethiopian mobilization.

Particularly he ordered the mobilization of two regular army divisions and volunteer fascist black-shirt division and created two replacement divisions.

The long expected "communique No. 9" announced the increase in Italy's fighting strength.

The mobilization order brought the number of divisions already sent to East Africa or in training for service there to seven regular army and six black-shirt militia.

TWO STATES VOTE TODAY

Voters Go to Polls in Rhode Island And Mississippi; Numerous Candidates.

(By Associated Press)
Mississippi balloted today in a state office democratic primary as Rhode Island voters filled a congressional vacancy in an election generally regarded as a new deal test.

In Kentucky last Saturday's vote which indicated the necessity of a run-off primary to decide its gubernatorial contest between A. B. Chandler and Thomas S. Rhea, the latter was leading with a margin too small to permit claim to the nomination.

SNAKE-BITTEN PREACHER SAYS HE'S IMPROVING

Thomasville, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Although his arm was swollen and black, Campbell Holmes, local preacher, who let a rattlesnake bite him as a demonstration of his faith, today still declined to receive medical attention.

Holmes' condition was reported as somewhat improved by attendants at his home. Holmes attributed the improvement to prayers by himself and members of his congregation. He let the snake bite him at a church service Sunday night.

Holmes described himself as a "Sanctified Holy" minister.

SEEK SUPPORT FOR NEW LEAF TAX, GEORGIA

Mass Meeting Called for August 9 to Carry on Fight for Validity of Act.

Nashville, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Circulars distributed here today called for a mass meeting of all tobacco growers in the Georgia tobacco belt August 9 to adjust means of carrying on a fight for validity of the new state law fixing warehouse charges.

The circulars bore the names of Senator J. Henry Gaskins and Rep. J. H. Swindle, of Beaufort county.

"The Georgia Tobacco Warehouse Association has secured a temporary injunction in federal court enjoining the enforcement of the recently enacted law which would reduce our warehouse charges from 30 to 20 per cent," the circular said.

FUNERAL FOR SLAIN FARMER IS HELD TODAY

Final Rites for Bennie Smith Conducted in Falkland township at 3 P. M.

Funeral services were held today for Bennie Smith, 38-year-old Falkland township farmer, who was shot to death by his father-in-law E. J. Peaden, 63, in an altercation at a tobacco barn on the Peaden farm in Falkland township, Sunday night about 11:30 o'clock.

Peaden was held in the county jail without the privilege of pending a sanity hearing ordered by a coroner's jury shortly after the shooting. Peaden, Coroner A. A. Ellwanger said after the inquest, had been mentally upset since a stroke of paralysis two years ago, and was not believed to have been in his right mind when he fired a bullet through his son-in-law's heart, producing instant death.

The final rites were conducted from the late home at 3 o'clock by Rev. J. C. Moye, Free Will Baptist minister of Snow Hill, and a large crowd of farm people from the surrounding territory attended. Burial was made in the family burial ground near the home.

The deceased is survived by his wife and two small children, in addition to a brother and three sisters residing in this and other parts of the country.

He declined Pat's invitation to suggest patriotic rates around which the Mississippi could rally Rooseveltian soakers.

The man responsible for Mr. Morgenthau's silence is the President. Long ago he issued a standing order that Treasury spokesmen should not propose specific rate schedules to Congress. MAN PLEADS INNOCENT OF MUTILATION

Mandeville Zenge Tells the Court He Knows Nothing Of Bauer Slaying.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Mandeville W. Zenge, young carpenter, today pleaded innocent to the charge that he murdered Walter J. Bauer, Churchville osteopath, by mutilation.

The plea was entered in Zenge's behalf by his attorney Joseph Green when the prisoner was arraigned before Judge Austin F. McCarthy in felony court. Judge McCarthy then asked Zenge if he wished to make a plea personally. Zenge said he did and pleaded innocent.

He was remanded to the custody of the sheriff by the state attorney who in five days of questioning had been unable to shake his contention that he knew anything about the death of Dr. Bauer.

THREE CHARGED WITH ASSAULT ON FARMER

Fair Bluff, Aug. 6.—Three young men, living in the Freshwater section of Columbus county, were arrested Saturday and charged with assault with a deadly weapon on A. P. Worley, with intent to kill.

The trio, Jack and Jeff Strickland, brothers and Joe Butler, were released after posting bonds of $500 each.

Reports are to the effect that the young men, all in their early twenties, went to the tenant house of Mr. Worley and frightened the occupants. When Worley went to the scene of the disturbance, it is reported the trespassers became angry, went to their home, secured a gun and returned to fire on the farmer. He succeeded in escaping, but not far enough to be out of range of a few shot.

J. H. ROSE WINS STATE LEGION POST

Greenville Man Named Vice-Commander Eastern Area; Pitt Post Wins 2 Cups.

J. H. Rose, commander of Pitt County Post of the American Legion, was elected vice-commander of the Eastern district by the North Carolina Department of the American Legion in annual convention at Fayetteville today, the Reflector was advised by long distance telephone this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

In addition to conferring this honor upon the Greenville school superintendent, the State department also awarded two loving cups to the Pitt county post, one for the best work in child welfare and the other for membership. It was the second successive time the membership cup has been awarded to this post.

Josephus Daniels, Jr., of Raleigh, son of the ambassador to Mexico, was elected commander of the State department, at the closing session of the Legion during the early afternoon.

Shortly before adjournment Hubert E. Olive, retiring commander of the department, read a letter from Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy during the world war and actively interested in the work of the Legion, that he favored immediate cash payment of the bonus. The Legion had previously adopted a resolution favoring immediate cash payment of the bonus. It was thought endorsement of the action by the ambassador to Mexico would help boost the cause of the ex-service men in obtaining full payment of their adjusted compensation certificates.

BOOK TROUBLE PARTLY CURED

Not Certain, However, That Rental Books Will Be Available First School Day

Reflector Bureau,
Sir Walter Hotel.
Raleigh, Aug. 6.—Book troubles which the state's representatives yesterday discussed with the publishers in Richmond were partially cured by that visit, but it is not yet certain that the rentals will be available by the opening of schools early in September.

The state sent from Raleigh Superintendent Clyde A. Erwin of the department of public instruction; Attorney General A. A. F. Sewell, and Ebert N. Peeler, secretary to the rental commission. News of the difficulty in which the state has fallen got out earlier in the week, but comment was withheld when it appeared that there may be a delay.

There still may be none, but despite the conference yesterday it seems virtually certain that the state cannot get all the books to the students in time. The complete changing of the method of handling authorized by the 1935 general assembly caught the state without machinery for distributing the texts.

In the old days there were county depositories in each of the 100 counties and the books went straight from Raleigh to those depositories. The texts are here now, school people say, but there is no way to get them out to the schools.

Infantile paralysis may come to the rescue and the schools may stand closed a few weeks longer than otherwise they would have done. Even with every favoring circumstance it appears to be certain that not all the books can be sent to the schools by the regular opening.

The 1935 general assembly enacted a rental law which will save a great amount of money, according to the state's representatives, who are anxious that such savings may not be dissipated in a long wait at the opening of the schools.

COLUMBUS TAX RATE INCREASED 10 CENTS

Whiteville, Aug. 6.—At a meeting of the county commissioners the tax rate for Columbus county was fixed at $1.10 for the fiscal year of 1935-36. The new rate is ten cents higher than the one of last year, the raise being made to care for the county budget, which accounts for six cents of the increase and the other four cents being made by the board of education to pay for additional school buses, salary raises and additional teachers.

The Navy Department reserves the right to undertake completion of found to be at fault.

Naval officials informed Congressmen that Secretary Roosevelt has made no move to investigate the cause of the strike. From other sources the legislators hear that the Navy executive refused to receive an employees' brief describing the trouble as a "lockout." The significant is that if the administration

many other contracts it may have

ROLL-CAL: The on-again, off-again unemployment census seems to have been lost in the shuffle.
Economic experts have urged it as a means of learning the low-down on the number of people out of work. Many students regard the
A. P. of L. figures as too high and the National Industrial Conference estimates as too low. The study was also counted on to show how many workers had been permanently replaced through mechanization and entrance of women into industry.

But persistent inquiry discloses that there are no plans or allotment of funds for the survey. It is not on the calendar of the Division of Applications or the Allotment Board. There is inside talk that it would furnish no permanent benefits inasmuch as conditions change so rapidly. Others predict that the desired information will become available through a roll call of workers and workless that will ac-

age and unemployment pension system.

FIGURES: The nation's steel makers have come off fairly well in their private feud with the New Dealers. They have resisted Harold Ickes' moves to lower prices in FPA work. They outmaneuvered Attorney General Cummings in the investigation into steel rail prices.
They managed to preserve the system of shipping f.o.b. Pittsburgh.

But the mild Cordell Hull is laying for them. Their broadside against his pet hobby—reciprocal tariff agreements—nettled him, and his aides have prepared a reply which is awaiting his return from vacation. It denounces the complaint of the American Iron and Steel Institute as "absurd," "grotesque," and their tariff attitude as "short sighted."

Whereas they claimed that 3600
men had been thrown out of work by foreign imports of steel in the first five months of this year, Mr.
Hull will say that the increase of exports over imports during that period gave employment to 31,436
men. He will list a $400,000,000 gain in steel exports for 1934 over 1933.
And also point out that six steel magnates drew down $1,106,916 in salaries last year.

SETTLED: Comptroller McCar-
l can't have that $11,200,000 marble palace he expected to get near the

with the old Pension Office, which is to be revamped at a cost of $4-

around it showing sword-waving heroes bestriding capricious steeds that drag smooth-bore cannon over the prostrate foe. "Are you sure the frieze will be taken off?" asked

l have it."

This decision broke the heart of local judges who had a plan to transform the Pension Office into the gem of Judiciary Square. They must remain in squatty quarters.

with a joy that was half fear, and switched off the connection to Albery's private room. If she must not see him, at least she could speak to him.

"Why?" she asked.
"Because there's a good chance tomorrow. I'm going to do a rather interesting little flight, with an altitude test. Quite safe. It was a sort of jargon, wasn't it?"

"Mr. Albery has told me I must not see you any more," she said in a hameless voice. "He said it would be dangerous. I mean to you plans."

Rex's voice came over in a rough laugh.

"Albery won't be here tomorrow.
He need never know. He's off to Berlin tonight. You're not a slave, Laurie—yet? Or a prisoner, are you?"

She choked down a little sob. He didn't understand.

"Never mind, if you don't want to," he said angrily.

Again she was seized with one of those inexplicable, irresistible impulses.

"Yes, I'll come," she said. "I'd love to."

He gave her quick directions
where and when to meet him.
As she listened, her heart leaped
in her breast like a live thing.

It was the most beautiful early morning Laurie had seen in her life.
She was up with the dawn and caught the first train of the day to Cambridge. Already, in the train, she felt that she was flying—that she had left the earth and would never come down again.

The car was there, outside the station. It was nearly an hour's drive to Albery's private air field.
Rex Moore was there, waiting for her at the entrance to one of the great hangars. But he told her he was not going up for another half hour or so, and insisted on taking her to the canteen to have a cup of coffee and something to eat.

"I can't find my usual mechanic anywhere," he said, as they left the canteen. "He seems to have entirely disappeared and nobody knows where he is. Quite a new man is on duty. I found him filling my tank
when I got here."

"Does that matter?" she asked.

"Of course not. Only I can't think where Brown can have got to. I was used to him. Now we may as well push off. It's a two control machine.
Perhaps I'll let you take the controls when we're up—if you're very good! He gave one of his rare boyish laughs.

"That will be grand!" said Laurie
excitedly.

"In you get."

AND then a voice came from the ground behind her.

She heard Rex Moore give a sharp exclamation of surprise and anger.
She almost fell back, and Rex lifted
her to the ground.

Mark Albery had just come up,
hurrying, with his swift, light, graceful strides. His face was as impassive as ever, but his voice was like a whip.

"What can this mean? What are you doing here, Laurie?"

She said weakly: "I thought you were in Berlin."

He gave a low laugh that made her tremble.

"Obviously, I was prevented from going at the last moment." He paused, as if trying to control himself. When he spoke again, his voice was silky. "Have you forgotten my warning about being seen with Moore? Or did you deliberately take advantage of my absence?"

The girl's spirit rose.

"I did not think this once could matter," she said. "Some time ago Rex promised to take me up in the air with him. I didn't suppose anybody would know anything about it," she added recklessly.

Albery turned to the airman.

"Are you quite out of your mind, Moore?"

"As Laurie has told you, it was an old bargain. This seemed a good chance, in perfect conditions."

"Is there any reason why I shouldn't go, now I'm here?" the girl put in warmly. She had forgotten her fear of Albery in her bitter disappointment.

"I absolutely forbid you to go," Albery said. He spoke with inexplicable violence. "You will come back with me to the house at once. You seem to have forgotten how much depends on this."

She met his eyes, so cold, so vengeful, so full of something like hatred,
that all the spirit went out of her.

He was her master; she could do nothing. She turned away from Rex Moore, then daring to look at him again. That beautiful dream day was not to be.

Moore shrugged his impatient shoulders, as if throwing from him
all the bothers and complications that infest the earth, and climbed into his plane.

Albery stood still to watch him
take off.

It was a perfect performance; the plane rose, after a short skim, bird-like into the air.

The next instant Albery turned to her, impassive, smoothly courteous, inviting her back to the house.

"I am glad I was in time to prevent you from making a fool of yourself, Laurie," he said.

ALBERY drove straight back to London, taking Laurie with him.

They got to work in the office as soon as they got there, although it was already four o'clock. Albery had a great many letters to get off. He was going to Berlin tonight, instead of yesterday. He had been held up by the unexpected arrival of his chief business colleague in Australia, the very man who had discovered Laurie
in Sydney and sent her to England.

Now, he was the business man, concentrated on his work. Laurie was the perfect secretary. Not a personal word passed between them.

When she brought him the letters to sign and he had finished them and handed them back to her, he said in his smooth voice:

"Laurie, have I your promise that you will not repeat this folly? Will you please give me your word that you will not see Rex Moore again?"

"Yes, I give you my word," she answered quietly.

"You can get off now," he added.

"I will call for you at your place to take you out for a late meal before I leave for the station. I am going by the night service. If I could only take you with me!" he added, fixing glowing, ardent eyes on her.

She went cold and stiff, expecting him to take her in his arms, but just then one of the departmental managers came into the room, and she escaped.

A little later, as he was leaving the office, Albery's telephone rang.

He heard Rex Moore's voice.

The receiver dropped from his hand. He went as white as a sheet.
His lips curved into a ghastly grin of horror. As he picked up the receiver again, he shook so that it rattled against the table. It was several seconds before he could find his voice, and then it boomed in his own ears like thunder, although only a whisper went over the wire.

"Is that Mr. Albery?" Moore was asking. "Please put me through to Mr. Albery's private phone! Mr. Albery? Rex Moore speaking!"

"Albery speaking! Rex—how did it go?" His left hand clutched at his throat.

"A devil of a mess," came the answer. "It might have done for me. A fool of a new mechanic filled my tank with the new fuel. Where could he have got it from? Brown was nowhere to be found. He isn't here
now. I tried altitude first. That went.
I was just getting speed when I noticed something queer. Bang it went —same as before. I was four thousand feet up. But I'd taken a parachute, so I'm still alive. The plane is burnt out in a field. That stuff is impossible. I thought I'd let you know at once."

Moore's voice was ordinary enough. But was it just a little too casual? Did Rex Moore guess at something? Did he suspect the new mechanic. The new fuel—by mistake?

With the greatest effort of his life
Albery recovered himself.

War or peace between Italy and Ethiopia may depend on a meeting of the League of Nations council to consider the conciliation commission's work toward adjusting the difference between the two countries. mur at paying less interest? Wage earners have no kick coming. Only bondholders are taking it on the chin—and they are not yet generally aware that progressively cheaper refunding is the outcome of a deliberate policy.

Wise sources comment that stockholders needn't feel too discouraged by this development. Unless corporations grant the lion's share of their gains from cheaper borrowing to labor—which they won't—the New Deal tax which is due to bite

FALL: New York learns that Premier Laval of France has ideas of his own about adjusting the price level. He doesn't intend to fool around with monetary measures if he can help it. Instead he plans to correct maladjustments by governmental decree. If the cost of living gets too high—order wages raised.
If debts are too onerous—scale down
by edict.

M. Laval evidently agrees with the Committee for the Nation that a shifting price level means economic earthquakes. But his proposed method of coping with the problem is in marked contrast with the Committee's theory—and the British practice—that the remedy is to alter the price of gold in terms of domestic currency.

Most financial men ridicule the proposition that a price level can be controlled by manipulation of gold values. But they rate Laval's scheme even more fantastic. They claim he

Stalin and the Emperor of Japan

GREENIES ARE ROUTED 12-2 BY CELLARITES

By H. B. UTLEY
(Staff Writer)

Tarboro, which has established quite a reputation this season for slipping up on Coastal Plain league teams and beating the fire out of them before they could recover from surprise, pulled such a trick on the league-leading Greenies at Tarboro yesterday and when the Greenies had recovered from the attack, the score stood 12 to 2 in favor of the cellarites.

It was the worst licking taken by the Greenies this season and snapped their five-game winning streak. The game developed into a complete rout and gained momentum so rapidly the league-leaders found it impossible to overcome the tremendous lead through spectacular late inning rallies for which they have become famous.

Ace Parker, who has developed a pronounced penchant for hitting home runs this season, enabled the Greenies to preserve some semblance of the ability that put them at the top of the standing of clubs when he smashed the ball over the fence in the second inning to account for half of his team's runs. The other run was made on Tarboro errors. Not a single one of the cellarites' runs was placed in the earned category as Greenville chalked up a total of 6 errors to establish a record for any single game this season.

Steve Physioc went the route for Tarboro and held the hard slugging leaders pretty well in control throughout the game except in the second and fourth when rallies looked rather dangerous.

The loss snapped Guy Williams' five-game winning streak. Williams remained on the mound only 3 1-3 innings before May was called on to do relief work. Tarboro scored six runs on Williams and a similar number on May. Williams yielded a total of seven hits and Williams six.

Tarboro started things humming in the second when Chumbris and Male walked and Bryant singled to fill the bases. Chumbris scored when Williams threw to first in an effort to catch Bryant off the bag. Bassin went out but McArthur walked and Cobb flied to right field to let in Male.

The Tar Babies counted two more in the third. Bryant reached first on an error, and Bassin, McArthur and Cobb singled in succession. Chumbris featured in the field for Tarboro, accepting a total of nine chances without a bobbie.

Wagner was credited with two hits, the only member of the league-leading outfit to get more than one safe smack. Bassin, with three for five and Askwew with a double and single lead the attack for Tarboro. The defeat snapped Greenville's five-game winning streak, the last coming at the expense of the Tar Babies here Sunday by a margin of 1 to 0.

Tarboro was to continue hostilities in Greenville this afternoon and it was likely the murderous bats of the Greenies, denied full time activity yesterday, would launch a driving offensive against the cellarites for another victory.

Greenville made more miscues in the game yesterday than in any other contest this season. The inability to handle the ball with usual speed and accuracy might be charged to the hot weather—certainly not to lack of skill—and fans were looking forward to the boys appearing in old-time role this afternoon as they seek to tighten their hold on the standing of clubs.

SNOW HILL WINS TWO

New Bern, Aug. 6.—Red Sivley thumbed his nose at the heat wave today and pitched Snow Hill to a double-barreled win over New Bern. Scores were 5-9 and 9-1.

The sorrel-topped Snow Hill flinger gave the Bears seven hits in the opener and blanked them after the first inning. He yielded six hits in the seven-inning night-cap.

The quick start in the opener didn't help New Bern, as Perry homered in the fifth to put Snow Hill into the scoring column and Neuman did the same—but with two on—in the seventh to assure victory for the visitors. Neuman's round-tripper landed on top of the inch-thick fence in left and fell on the payoff side of the fence.

Williams, who yielded seven hits, hurled well for the Bears in the opener despite his defeat.

Sivley had little trouble in the finale, in which the visitors collected 14 rousing knocks off Hoens, who pitched until the fourth, and Wheel-

Manager Peashead Walker's visitors offered a jam-up brand of play in both games and well deserved the triumphs.

Sivley's performance of today was the second successful "iron man" trick pulled this season in the Coastal Plain. Bill Herring, Goldsboro hurler, worked the double-win act against Tarboro recently.

KELLER'S HIT DECIDES IT
Goldsboro, Aug. 6.—Charlie Keller's double to left in the 11th inning sent in the tally which enabled Kinston to edge a 5-4 victory over Goldsboro here yesterday afternoon.

It was Keller's third hit of the day and enabled him to share batting honors for Kinston with Tommy Irwin, who also made three safeties.

Charlie Harris, Davidson College athlete, pitched the route for the Eagles and yielded seven hits. All Goldsboro's runs came in the fifth. The visitors reached Culler and Webb for a down safeties.

Kinston 5 0 12 001 000-5 12 3
Goldsboro 4 0 0 0 0 0-4 7 1

DEAN STILL CLINGING TO STICK LEAD

"Chubby" Dean, who plays in the outfield almost as well as he pitches, continued to lead the Greenies at bat during the past week, according to figures compiled today by R. O. Moye, official scorekeeper of the local club.

Dean was credited with a total of 51 safe drives out of 125 times at bat. He appeared in 39 games. "Chubby" who has been with the club three seasons, is as much a favorite with the fans as he was the first year, and when he comes to bat now and a hit is needed he comes mightily near providing it.

Johnson, on first base, grabbed second place with 58 hits out of 185 trips to the rubber. He has appeared in a total of 49 games. Johnson is not only a prowess with the bat but is a holder of the first water. His spectacular playing of the first corner has been a source of much comfort to fans when the clouds hung dark and heavy and dependability—one of the prime requisites of a player—is needed.

George Barley, "fireball" chunker, appeared in third place with 12 hits out of 39 times at bat. He has appeared in 14 games, 11 of which he pitched and won. Not a single loss has been chalked up against the florid lad.

The remainder of the team follows: Including all games played thru August 4, 1935.

ACES TIE FOR FOURTH RUNG

Ayden, Aug. 6.—Ayden's Aces gained the top end of a 12-8 count, in a loose game with Williamston's Martins here yesterday, and the result put the Aces and Martins in a tie for fourth place.

The locals piled up a 7-3 lead in six innings, but the Martins scored one in the seventh and came back with four in the eighth to wrest the lead at 8-7. But the home club had enough left—and five runs were chased across the plate in the eighth.

Royal drew a walk to start the eight-inning fireworks by the Aces. Tatum sacrificed, and Johnson was safe on an error. Wall walked to fill the bases, and one tally was forced in when Dallas Morris walked. Douglas singled to drive in two and advanced to second on a throw to the plate. Worliss Knowles topped off proceedings by hitting a double to send in two tallies.

Douglas, with a homer and three singles, hit 800 to lead the Aces. He homered to open the fourth and a bit later in that inning Ervin Royal hit consecutive homers to account for the Martins' four-run spurge in the eighth. House's blow came with two on. House also hit a double to be the only Martin with more than one hit.

OUR NEW REFINERY AND MODERN PROCESSES CAN GIVE YOU "AIR-CONDITIONED" AMERICAN GAS

IT took our new refinery and modern processes to give you a brand-new and modern type of gasoline—"AIR-CONDITIONED" American Gas—different from and superior to any regular gasoline on the market. It is produced from a 100% Pure Petroleum Base, is not acid-treated, and does not require the addition of any of the chemicals used in the average regular gasoline of today.

Then this 100% pure petroleum base gasoline is so conditioned—through our modern processes at our new refinery—that it does things no other regular gasoline can do. Here they are!

GUARANTEED FEATURES!

"AIR-CONDITIONED": Conditioned at refinery to counteract erratic engine tendencies caused by outside temperature and humidity changes. This guarantees uniform and efficient motor performance in any weather.

CLEAN BURNING: 100% Pure Petroleum Base—No Added Chemicals—100% clean burning—no harmful deposits.

GREATER NET POWER: "Air-conditioned" gasoline plus clean burning guarantees superior performance. Hence GREATER NET POWER.

HIGHER ANTI-KNOCK: By new processes—without acid treatment—in the world's most modern refinery, we obtain naturally from 100% Pure Petroleum Base, a higher anti-knock value than other regular gasolines get artificially by the addition of chemicals to bring up anti-knock alone.

"AIR-CONDITION" Your Motor!

Stop at any Yellow and Black American Gas Pump and fill up your tank with "AIR-CONDITIONED" American Gas. Then keep your car "air-conditioned" with "AIR-CONDITIONED" American Gas. Even though it costs us more to produce, it is being sold at regular gas prices from Maine to Florida and inland by thousands of American dealers and stations.

32 WHISKEY STORES NOW OPEN IN N. C.

Eight Others Expected to Begin Business During The Present Week

Reflector Bureau.
Sir Walter Hotel.
By J. C. BARKER.
Raleigh, Aug. 5.—The Turlington Act and prohibition are almost things of the past as far as eastern North Carolina is concerned, where 32 county liquor stores are already open and in operation in 15 counties. Within the next few days New Hanover county expects to open five stores—three in Wilmington and one each at Wrightsville Beach and Carolina Beach. Before the end of this week Greene county is expected to open an additional store and Pitt county two more. So by the end of this week at least 40 legal county liquor stores, where legal liquor is being legally sold, are expected to be open in 16 counties.

The counties and the number of stores now open and doing business in each are as follows: Wilson, 3; Vance, 1; Warren, 2; Halifax, 2; Martin, 3; Nash, 3; Edgecombe, 3; Pitt, 3; Craven, 3; Carteret, 2; Lenoir, 2; Onslow, 1; Greene, 1; Pasquotank, 1; Beaufort, 3.

Within the next 30 to 40 days the number of liquor stores in these 16 counties is expected to increase to at least 50, according to several in close touch with the situation. The belief is that as soon as the tobacco markets open a number of additional stores will be opened either in towns that now have only one store in other towns in the counties. There is already some keen competition between a good many of these counties to get the business from neighboring "dry" counties and several counties have opened stores in small towns near the county lines of "dry" counties in order to attract the thirsty from these neighboring towns.

The business of all these 32 liquor stores is expected to be given a helpful boost by the end of this week by state-wide advertising campaigns in both daily and weekly newspapers by the manufacturers of some of the standard brands of liquor for sale in these stores. For while the recent opinion of the Attorney General is to the effect that liquor stores may not advertise and that places where liquor can be purchased at retail must not be mentioned, that manufacturers may advertise in newspapers throughout the state, in so-called "dry" counties as well as in the "wet" counties, so long as they do not advertise the sale of their products at retail. As a result, the manufacturer of one well known line of whiskeys and gin is known to be planning to start advertising in a large number of daily and weekly newspapers by the middle or latter part of this week. None of these advertisements will mention where any of these liquors may be obtained, but since they are carried in stock in virtually all of the 32 county liquor stores now open, those interested will know that they can buy these liquors in the liquor store nearest to them. This lifting on the ban on the advertising of liquors in "dry" as well as in "wet" counties is expected to materially increase the volume of sales in all of the stores.

MISSING COED IS CONEY 'BARKER'

Ann Sibley, Chicago, who ran away from Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, more than a month ago to see life, was found "ballyhooing" in refined tones for a Coney Island side show by detectives. And now Miss Sibley herself is being ballyhooed as "the coldest girl who came to Coney for a thrill." (Associated Press Photo).
