Greenville Man Reports $21.64 Average From Fairmont Opening Day

First official price averages received by the Daily Reflector from Greenville tobacco men on the Boarder tobacco markets came today from Jennings Ragsdale at Fairmont, considered one of the leading markets of the belt.

The message said "market sold opening day 770,760 pounds of tobacco at an average of $21.64 a hundred pounds."

The report covered first day's sales, Ragsdale said, as averages for the second day's sales had not become available when the message was dispatched.

Unofficial reports received from other markets of the belt, though regular news channels reported averages similar to that at Fairmont. Virtually all messages mentioned the fact that farmers are well pleased with prices being paid. The average is similar to those last year.

Reports from the border were received with gratification by tobacco growers of this season who usually consider prices there an index to the local market which is scheduled to open August 26, three days later than last year.

However, the opening average here last year was $21.16 a hundred pounds compared with $21.64 paid on a border market during first day's sales.

Work of harvesting the crop of this belt was being pushed forward rapidly today with indication it would be completed several days before the opening of the markets—an occasion of carnival and general good feeling throughout the belt.

Several of the redrying plants began work on Georgia tobacco here this morning and others are scheduled to open Monday morning to handle shipments of bright leaf from both belts.

The factories give employment to several thousand people and the payroll always contributes to the general improvement of business conditions throughout the community.

DOLLAR DAY
ON THURSDAY

Business Houses to Offer Big Array of Values Here for One Day Only

Greenville merchants today were turning their attention to semi-annual "Dollar Day" to be staged here next Thursday, and indications pointed to one of the best events of the kind in years.

"Dollar Day" is held twice annually by merchants of the city in an effort to give the shipping public the advantage of the thousands of bargains offered here from day to day and this year will be no exception to the general rule.

With twenty-one merchants taking part in the trade event this year a great array of bargains, covering virtually every branch of the merchandising field, will be offered.

The merchants will confine only one day to the bargain event but the Daily Reflector will offer special subscription prices for three days. This will give those wishing to take advantage of the special offer—the first in several months—an opportunity to do so over a three day period, ending Saturday.

With the best stocks they have had in years, the participating merchants probably will have a greater range to choose from this year than ever before and people who come from a radius of many miles in many instances will save enough on their purchases to pay cost of transportation.

Greenville business houses have taken "Dollar Day" seriously, and seek to split profits on "Dollar Day" values with the thousands of people who trade with them day in and day out throughout the year.

Shoppers from a radius of many miles are expected to visit the city Thursday and buy liberally of the splendid values to be found on all counts.

The event is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and officials of that organization expressed hope that thousands would visit the city during Dollar Day and take advantage of the exceptionally fine offers business houses are preparing for them.

Late News Flashes

Senate To Boost Taxes.
Washington, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Going far beyond President Roosevelt's tax program the Senate finance committee decided today to boost taxes on the small income tax payer by lowering existing exemptions and to raise surtaxes in the lower brackets.

The committee officially announced it also had abandoned the House inheritance levies in favor of increases in estate taxes and all the changes estimated to boost the total revenue by more than $400,000,000 instead of $250,000,000 upward in the House measure.

The new surtax schedule along with lowering the exemption for small taxpayers was proposed by Senator LaFollette, Progressive of Wisconsin.

It would receive further exemptions for married men from $2,500 to $2,000 and for single men from $1,000 to $800.

It also would start existing surtaxes at $3,000 net income instead of $4,000 at present and raise the rates from earnings of 4 to 59 per cent to a scale of 4 to 75 per cent. The last to apply to net incomes over $50,000.

An estimated $22,000,000 in added revenue from the new income and surtaxes was announced in lieu of $45,000,000 under the House surtax schedule which applies an increase only to incomes over $50,000.

Governor Calls Bluff
On Textbook Question

Reflector Bureau,
Sir Walter Hotel.

By J. C. BASKERVILLE

Raleigh, Aug. 10.—With the new state rental textbook system tottering on the brink of collapse because of the refusal of many of the textbook publishers to cooperate with the new state Textbook Purchase and Rental Commission, Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus, on the eve of his departure on his vacation, served notice on the publishers that they would cooperate and play ball with the state, and the new rental commission, that the state would ignore present contracts and go into the open market, and buy textbooks wherever it can. He called attention to the fact that the present textbook contracts apply only to the purchase of textbooks by children and parents and not by the State, with the result that the state can ignore these contracts at any time and make new ones with publishers or else buy in the open market.

"Adoptions now existing relate manifestly to books to be purchased by the children or parents and all contracts were made in contemplation of the right of the general assembly to change the law," he issued. "They have no reference to purchases by the state itself as contemplated by the new law. If publishers of adopted books refuse to cooperate or conform to the new law, then the state may be compelled to purchase other texts. It will not hesitate to do what is necessary to carry out the legislative will and to provide for the school patrons an adequate and economical plan of textbook rentals and distribution in keeping with the legislative act."

Governor Ehringhaus also said that the textbook rental system will be put into operation "in time for the opening of the next school year unless blocked by the refusal of the publishers to cooperate."

ITALY CALLS

Rome, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Italy summoned a new unit of its reserve military power to the colors today.

A royal decree published in the official gazette, ordering the subalterns and technicians of the air force classes of 1909 and 1910 recalled for service for an undetermined time.

The decree was issued while the mysterious plane disaster in Egypt, which caused the death of Luigi Rassa, minister of public works, and several others continued to draw "expressions of sorrow and bewilderment."

The mystery and sorrow over the accident was expressed in Mussolini's newspaper Popolo D'Italia which said:

"This disaster gives us a profound sense of bitterness also because this plane which was flying from Cairo to Asmara after a flight from Rome to Egypt was a significant achievement."

MEDICAL MEN

County Society Guest of Pitt Community Hospital; Many Guests Present

The Pitt County Medical Society held its regular monthly meeting this week in the new sun-parlor of the Pitt Community Hospital, with many invited guests present. The meeting was preceded by an elaborate dinner in the dining room of the hospital, the society and visitors being guests of the hospital.

The occasion for the society meeting at the hospital was for the purpose of inspecting the alterations, new additions and generally improved facilities of this splendid hospital.

A number of case reports were made by the members of the society as well as by the visitors; the usual formal scientific papers being carried over to the next meeting.

At a previous meeting of the society on July 11, the society not only unanimously endorsed the Standard Milk Ordinance recently adopted by the Pitt County Board of Health, but also endorsed the enforcement efforts being made by the health department.

J. L. Smith was allowed to pay cost on a charge of drinking too much whiskey.

Border Market Prices
Range Around 20 Cents

Florence, S. C., Aug. 10.—(AP)—Tobacco growers looking back on the first two days' of sales of the auction season smiled with satisfaction today.

Reports from 16 market towns in the Pee Dee section of South Carolina and the border section of North Carolina showed price ranges generally higher than for last year's first sales, the average ruling around 20 cents.

The giant warehouses were silent today as the markets enjoyed their usual Saturday holiday.

Opening sales at Whiteville where 615,345 pounds were sold brought an average of $22.63. Official figures at Lumberton showed sales at 610,034 pounds for the opening day at an average of $21.30.

An unofficial reports from other markets showed price average ranging from 20 to 23 cents and observers reported that farmers were generally well satisfied.

Official figures for the opening day sales on the Timmonsville market were 350,000 pounds at an average of 20.75 a pound.

While official figures for many of the markets were lacking, estimates placed the figures above 20 cents.

Large sales were generally expected when the markets reopen Monday.

PITT COUNTY BUDGET GIVEN FINAL 'OKAY'

Tax Rate Fixed At 90 Cents At Meeting Of Board Of Commissioners This Week

The Pitt County Board of Commissioners meeting here this week placed final okay on the budget tentatively adopted several weeks ago and fixed the countywide tax rate at 90 cents on the $100 valuation. The rate last year was 88 cents.

The tax rate, an increase of four cents over the previous year, is based on a valuation of around $10,000,000, about a million and a half dollars above the previous year.

The total amount of the budget this year was given as $347,724. It was stated that $270,000 of this amount would be derived from taxes and the remainder from fees and contributions.

The budget is divided as follows: General fund, 14; county home, 1-2; Outside Poor and Relief, 7; School Maintenance, 7; Health Department, 3 1-2; Debt Service, 57.

The only increase reflected in the budget this year are $8 cents in the rate for outside poor and relief and school maintenance.

The outside poor and relief was increased from four cents last year to 7 this year to be able to take care of the increased demands made upon the county by the poor element. The rise in school maintenance came from increase costs of upkeep of the various schools of the system whose operation are supported by funds under the eight month school law. The rate was increased from 6 to 7 cents.

SUMMER UNION SERVICES TO END AUGUST 25

Rev. Worth Wicker Scheduled to Deliver Sermon at Theatre Tomorrow Night

Rev. Worth Wicker, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, is scheduled to deliver the sermon at the Union Service to be held at Pitt theatre tomorrow evening at 8:00 o'clock.

There are two more services on the schedule after tomorrow evening and the speakers are Rev. J. A. Melver, pastor of Immanuel Baptist church, and Rev. J. R. Potts, who is to appear in the place of Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, who will be out of the city.

Whether the series will continue longer than the 25th had not been definitely decided upon today by members of the Ministerial Association, sponsors, but this will probably be determined during the next two weeks. It was intimated when the services started several weeks ago that they might extend through the first of September, but the schedule was carried only to the 25th with the extension to be decided later.

Good crowds have attended the services so far and the remainder of the series is expected to be largely attended. Ministers of the participating churches have delivered specially prepared sermons at each service, and choirs representing the various churches also rendered special numbers.

The services are held each year in an effort to bring the various denominations in closer contact with one another and with a view to interesting non-churchgoers in the work of the church.

The public is urged to attend in large numbers and help crowd the theatre to capacity during the three remaining services.

NEGRO HELD IN TWO CASES

John Bryan of New Bern, Charged With Breaking - Entering And Larceny

John Bryan, 45-year-old colored man, said to have come from New Bern, was held by police here today on charges of breaking and entering and theft.

He was taken into custody early this morning after police had been "tipped off" concerning his activity by another member of his race.

Police said the negro is charged with breaking into the home of Willie May Wooten, colored, yesterday and making away with a quantity of meat, flour and wearing apparel.

He is also alleged to have stolen several chickens from the home of D. D. Overton, in the western section of the city, last Saturday night.

Chief of Police George Clark said Bryan would be given preliminary hearing in the regular session of Police court next Monday morning.

Handsome Millionaire Wanted.
Palm Beach, Fla. (AP)—A 65-year-old woman has sent Mayor James Owens a letter which he is to turn over to the "own's most eligible bachelor." The letter says the woman will wed a bachelor who has a "million smackers," is nice looking, tall and has blue eyes.

Mr. Davis, asking for the legislative committee of the Tobacco Association of the United States several days ago, pointed out, to the governor that wanting tobacco exports to China were believed due mainly to the silver purchase act and asked him to join a move for repeal of the act.

Today, in suggesting the conference, Mr. Davis said:

"In behalf of the tobacco interests, I have written the governors of the principle tobacco growing states, and I am inclined to believe that upon your invitation they will meet with you for a conference. I feel quite sure that if you were to hold such a conference and would like to have some of our leading tobacco exporters present that the president of the tobacco association would arrange accordingly."

News Behind The News.

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

TIME: The panicky flight of American wealth from soak-the-rich taxation explains many things about the administration's private program which have been dark even to some insiders.

Had President Roosevelt's original demand for enactment of the measure in five days prevailed, wealth would have had no chance to escape. But reports to various agencies for June and July tell of shifts and gifts of stockholdings, generous investments in Mr. Morgenthau's tax-exempt and a general exodus from the tax collector's vineyard. The pickings may not be good as a result of the warning which squabbling over the measure has provided.

Democratic Senators regard the Jackson statement on taxes (probably written by Herman Oliphant, Treasury counsel) as a fine campaign document, but they will toss its recommendation out the window. In revising the House bill they will give more weight to the Rhode Island election returns than to rebuilding the nation's tax structure from the grass roots up.

TARGETS: President Roosevelt stirred senatorial curiosity when he revealed that 70 per cent of the 58 people reporting taxable and non-taxable incomes of more than $1,000,000 in 1932 belonged to only 14 families. The Senators would like to know whom they'll hit if they really do soak these unnamed rich.

A few curious statesmen dug out old income tax returns and they think they have bracketed the targets of proposed taxation. There have been a few upsets in recent years in the hierarchy of wealth, but the Senators think they have an idea of the identity of the "four."

RELIEF CASES SHOW DECLINE

Only About 48,000 Registered in State As Against 200,000 Previously

Reflector Bureau,
Sir Walter Hotel.

By J. C. BASKERVILLE

Raleigh, Aug. 10.—Out of a total of approximately 200,000 persons who have been on relief rolls, all supposedly able bodied and hence employable, only about 48,000 have so far registered with the National Employment Service so as to be eligible for jobs under the Works Progress Administration program, it was learned today from Mrs. May Thompson Evans, state director of the National Relief Service.

Who is the reason for the slowness of former relief cases in registering with the Reemployment Service in order to become eligible for jobs on WPA projects? It is because they do not yet understand the new rules and the new set-up, or is it because they fear they will have to do more work than they were required to do under the old Emergency Relief Administration program?

A good many here in close touch with the situation are convinced that one of the principal reasons so few former relief clients are registering for jobs with the WPA, is because they do not relish the idea of having to work continuously for the wages which will be paid by the WPA. Many of these former relief clients, it is agreed, do not understand that their only hope and chance of obtaining relief is by registering with the reemployment service and then by getting WPA jobs. As a result, they evidently believe that if they just sit tight and do nothing, that some relief agency will continue to take care of them. But there is a vast number of former relief clients who are not registering because they do not like the idea of having to work for what they get and who would rather sit around and do nothing than get WPA jobs and have to work regularly for the next ten months, a good many in close touch with the situation agree. Many of these would rather take now and then, or of getting jobs with private employers. (Continued on Page Three) teen families." Your guess is as good as theirs, which runs about like this: Families Rockefeller, Baker, Ford, Dodge Harkness, Whitney, Mellon, duPont, Guggenheim, Marshall Field, Vanderbilt, Fleischmann, Duke and Wrigley. Comprising enterprises ranging from oil to yeast and chewing gum, steel mills to baseball teams.

PORTENTS: Although Democratic spokesmen laugh off the Republican comeback in Rhode Island, privately it was a shock. Had it been staged a few months ago it might have junked the New Deal program then before Congress.

You will be able to judge its effect when the tax bill emerges from the Senate Finance Committee, where several New Englanders—Walsh of Mass., Gerry of Rhode Island, Lomenagan of Connecticut—will line up with southern conservatives to extract what few teeth the measure has now. Yankee members have teamed together to fight the New Deal since the returns arrived. Though they like President Roosevelt, statesmen must eat.

DECISION: The fate of the holding company bill now lies in President Roosevelt's hands. It will die in conference committee unless he agrees to the House provision for regulation instead of abolition of holding corporations.

His advisers are split. The Corcoran-Cohen group want him to stand out against any measure which does not contain the "death sentence." More moderate counselors urge him to accept the House version and hail it as "only a beginning" in the move to put holding companies out of business. Then, if the anti-utilities reaction Mr. Roosevelt expects does not set in during the Congressional recess, he will be in a position to retreat.

The Senate is now in a mood to accept the House bill. Senator Wheeler can give that body another try at Section II or he can block another test in the upper chamber. What he does will depend upon the White House.

VETERANS: The faces of Wright Patman and Elmer Thomas are wreathed in smiles these days. They substantiate strong reports that these old soldiers have negotiated a deal for passage of the bonus bill next January.

Mr. Patman calls is a "compromise," but he winks when he talks of the Democratic leaders' agreement to place the bill on the calendar next January. Nobody in the know expects Congress to slap the veterans in the face on the eve of election, despite a presidential veto. That's not politics. There's another tip-off in the fact that Democrats close to the White House are cooking up a measure which won't call for straight-out inflation.

The GOP had counted on the soldier vote for 1936. Former Legion Commander Edward Hayes has figured in all the "grass roots" conferences. So have other influential Legionnaires, including Teddy Roosevelt, Hanford McNider, etc. But the Democrats may beat 'em to it.

BENDING: Joe Robinson isn't bucking the administration openly on the sale of whiskey in kegs, but he is the main influence behind the scenes. A fellow-Arkansian, Rep. Claude Fuller, handled the matter for him in the Ways and Means Committee.

The staves for the kegs are grown in Joe's Ozarks, and the cooperage industry is centered in the same vicinity. His constituents made big money from bootleggers' demand for 5-gallon kegs during prohibition, but sales have fallen off since repeal. Thus the second "noble experiment" is plunged into the same kind of politics which wrecked the first venture.

Secretary Morgenthau insists that kegs will bring back the bad old days. He contends that refilling of bottles with moonshine is hard enough to prevent, and that sale in

READY MADE WIFE

Chapter 46

GLADY'S STORY

"Your sister is downstairs," said Rex. "I've put her in charge of the woman in the dressing-room, who has taken her into a small salon, which is empty. She is very much upset. Go down to her at once."

He caught Glad's arm, as she swayed, almost fainting in her relief. "Steady!" he said gently. "You mustn't give way. Wait for me downstairs. I won't be long."

As she hurried out, trembling, she saw Rex Moore advancing on Jimmy Dallas with murder in his eyes.

Gladys was weeping quietly in the simple, unrestrained misery of a tired child. The tears rained down in a curtain. She had evidently changed her clothes before her flight the night before. She wore a light blue muslin frock and a thin crepe coat over it, and a darker blue crocheted cap on her glorious curls. The dress and coat were crumpled, and looked sooty and finery.

Her whole aspect was bedraggled, like a flower that someone has broken off its stem and flung away. She had lost all her defiance; the

And in some wonderful way that I don't understand Rex found you."

"Laurie, he can do something to me—I can't tell you what!" Glad confessed, shaking in a sudden paroxysm of fear and shame. "When I'm with him, I can't even think of myself. I didn't know what I was doing. Now it seems it can't have been me who came here with him, and lied to you, and made poor Nelly so miserable, by telling her she must keep my secret."

"Never mind, darling," said Laurie. "It's all right now."

But Gladys had to unburden her poor little heart. "Now I know I never believed in him at all," she repeated in a strangled voice. "I just wanted to be with him—anyhow. It was all my fault, Laurie. I led him on to think that I knew what he meant. And I thought I did."

"But—when we were back again here last night, after she show and the supper—I just knew that I had been all wrong. I didn't want just a good time. I didn't want to be with him—anyhow. I'm afraid I made a silly scene. I knew what I'd done and I went quite dotty, I think. He tried to make me stay, and I ran away."

Laurie sat with her sister's hands clasped in hers. She did not look at Glad.

Rex advanced on Jimmy with murder in his eye.

note of gay selfishness had gone. There was no trace of sullen resistance in the exquisite, tear-drenched face.

Laurie took her in her arms, thanking the dress-room attendant and intimating that she could go. The little salon led out of a writing-room. Nobody was likely to disturb them at this late, or, rather early hour.

"Glad—Glad! My little one, don't cry!" soothed Laurie, like a mother. "You've nothing to cry about now. I've found you, darling; that's all that matters. You're quite safe with me. And Rex is here. Rex found you, Glad. He's wonderful. I'm so happy. I can think of nothing now that you're safe."

THE girl cried a little more, but not for long. In the atmosphere of love and selfless devotion with which her sister had always surrounded her, she soon recovered herself. But it was a stricken soul that looked out of the grey-blue eyes.

Glad's heart had been sorely wounded, but her self-assurance had received a more crushing blow still. She had thought herself so strong, so independent. She had imagined she could have plenty of fun, and not pay for it. She had put her faith in men in the shape of Jimmy Dallas. And she had had a nasty tumble from the dizzy height of romance and adventure into the mire of cruel reality.

"Laurie, I'm so wretched!" she said, in a voice hoarse from fatigue and fright. "I thought he loved me. I was crazy about him. And now you'll hate and despise me. And I loathe myself for being such a fool."

"Don't talk like that, Glad!" said Laurie. And now her level-headedness revealed itself, and she spoke in a quiet, business-like way. "Everything is all right. I have seen Mr. Dallas, and I know that he tricked you into coming here with him, and that you went away last night because you found him out."

New York

BY LOUIS SCHNEIDER
DISTURBED: A party of industrial leaders recently completed a tour of the Middle West. They found crop conditions good but fruit products were not in a healthy state. Industrial activity is high. Sentiment, however, is not.

The leader of this party has reported to his financial friends that farmers are turning against President Roosevelt. This because they believe his present tax plans will not get enough money to relieve the mounting government deficit. To the farmer it means he will eventually be heavily taxed. In industrial centers employers as well as employes were found anti-Roosevelt. It is blamed on higher living costs—due to AAA processing taxes—and complete failure of the noble NRA experiment.

When the NRA was in existence employers found means and methods to get the most work out of the least number of employees. Now that the NRA has gone the way of all flesh, employers are finding it hard to readjust themselves to current conditions. Employees on the other hand find that corporations continue to extend working hours, continue to reduce wages in addition to using more efficient producing machinery which results in fewer jobs.

week. $50,000,000 of the proceeds will pay off a New York bank loan which was arranged last year and is due on September first. The remaining $26,000,000 will be used for the redemption of Canadian National Railway debentures of 1954. Bond dealers say that only about $5,000,000 of these debentures are held in the United States.

SPARK: The Republican victory in Rhode Island followed a fight of conservative ideas against those of the New Deal. According to Rhode Island political leaders the Democratic candidate was beaten by the votes of laboring classes and not wealthy interests. Manufacturing conditions in that state have not been favorable to working employees ever since Roosevelt assumed his official duties. "The NRA and AAA processing taxes did the trick."

The politically informed—Republican and Democratic alike—agree that Roosevelt will be in a jam in 1936. A Democratic leader told your correspondent that the people of the country didn't vote for Roosevelt as much as they did against Hoover—in the 1932 elections. "Anybody could have beaten Hoover in that year." The Rhode Island vote has thrown lots of pep into the backs of the Republican National Committee. They now see a spark of life—but there's dissension in the ranks.

RESULTS: Railroad quarrels say that car loadings for the second half will show marked improvement over those of the same period last year. Greater activity in the heavy industries, the progressive increase in building operations and the possibility of work relief are regarded as potential tonnage factors for improvement in the rail situation. Congested centers of population in the eastern territory are expected to show best results.

TRICK?: When General Motors increased its regular dividend payment it literally put President Roosevelt and his administration on the spot. Mr. Sloan, head of the GM organization, stated that a liberal dividend policy would continue as long as the administration didn't pull adverse surprises. General Motors has a stockholders' list of close to one million. Financial interests believe that should General Motors cut the dividend because of some excuse attributed to the administration it will mean that every shareholder is a guaranteed vote against Roosevelt.

Other corporations are expected to make similar statements when declaring increases or extra dividend disbursements. Since it was Joe Kennedy, Chairman of the Securities Exchange Commission, who estimated some nine million shareholders in this country, it isn't hard to see how such a campaign trick could lick FDR in 1936.

INCOMES: Should the tax bill become law it will add heavy burdens to those who earn large incomes. The 1933 figures show that of all filing tax returns for that year only 7.9 per cent of the total cleared incomes of $50,000. Yet the figures show that of the total sum collected this 7.9 per cent paid 51.8 per cent—more than half the income tax payments received by the government.

Many cities in Texas are facing financial crises due to diminished incomes, the bureau of municipal research of the University of Texas reports.

GERMAN MONEY SUNK BY NAZI FILM RULING

Berlin (AP)—The Neues Deutsches Lichtspieltheater, a German firm of film producers, has learned that 250,000 Austrian shillings, invested in a Vienna film, might as well be written off as lost. The company subscribed the money toward the production of a film entitled, "Episode," in which Paula Wessely, a German favorite, plays the leading role. When the film reached the nazi propaganda ministry, its experts discovered that its author, Walter Rensch, is a Jew. The film was promptly placed on the black list.

CALIFORNIA IS CALIFORNIA AND MISS STEIN LIKES IT

San Francisco (AP)—Gertrude (a rose is a rose is a rose) Stein boosted California during a recent visit here by writing a letter to her brother in Paris saying, "I like it here—don't tell me I don't like it here—we like it here," with the result that the brother and his wife have come back to San Francisco to live after 31 years' absence. The brother, Daniel, who was manager of the San Francisco street railway lines until he went abroad in 1904, predicts Miss Stein also will return to California.

Belt Buckle Leads Parade
Budapest (AP)—Police Sergeant Johann Baksa was pensioned because at a recent dress parade his belt-buckle was always a step ahead of the marching line. As yet no Hungarian Townsend has arisen to suggest $200 a month for every man over 70 inches in circumference.

JACKSON IS ACCEPTED IN ACTUARIAL SOCIETY

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 10.—The Jefferson Standard Life Insurance company has received word that E. M. Jackson, assistant actuary, successfully passed the examination requirements of the Actuarial Society of America and secured his fellowship in the society.

Mr. Jackson was one of 18 candidates in the entire United States and Canada to successfully complete these examinations and was the only southerner. The examinations for membership in the Actuarial society thoroughly test the applicant's technical and practical knowledge of life insurance and to be elected a fellow in the organization is considered one of the highest honors that can come to a student of life insurance. It is interesting to note that only four or five southern men have ever been successful in securing this recognition.

Mr. Jackson, a native of Pitt county, is an honor graduate of Wake Forest college. He joined the Jefferson Standard company September 6, 1926, and for nine years has studiously applied himself to the study of life insurance.

High Riot Costs Drain On Funds Of Irish City

Belfast, Northern Ireland.—(AP)—Outbreaks of street fighting such as that which recently claimed six lives here have proved an expensive luxury to Belfast's taxpayers since the war.

The city has paid out more than $100,000,000 in compensation for injury, death and destruction at that period.

By act of parliament, each civic treasury in the British empire is liable for all riot compensation fixed by the courts when it can be proved that more than three persons caused malicious damage either to property or person. Belfast has found the cost a burden.

The city's peak years for rioting bills were from 1921 to 1924, when they totaled $590,000, $4,000,000, $3,450,000 and $1,250,000, respectively. Heavy losses of life, entailing payment to relatives and widespread damage to shops and houses contributed to the figures.

Since those peak years, thanks to sterner police measures in rioting zones, disturbances have been more quickly nipped, but the recent outbreak after Belfast's "Twelfth of July" demonstration will prove a severe blow to the treasury.

In addition to those killed, more than 50 were known to have received treatment for injuries.

But for the strict preventive measures adopted by the authorities in recent years the toll would have been much higher. Armored cars, curfew laws, banning of processions and prohibition of street gatherings have helped keep matters in hand.

Another helpful measure has been the repaving of most of the city's cobbled streets with concrete, thus depriving the rioters of their favorite ammunition. The initial cost of repaving was high, but the concrete may pay for itself in time.

RELIEF CASES SHOW DECLINE

(Continued from page one) players than to register with the NRA and be in line for WPA jobs which they would have to work at steadily.

"The fact of the matter is that there are literally thousands of people now on relief and who have been on relief since it started, who actually do not need this relief but who have accepted it as long as it did not mean that they had to put out much work," an official connected with one of these Government agencies said here today. "As long as they could get some relief money by working only a few hours a day a few days a week, they were willing to put out that much effort. But now that they are going to have to work 40 hours a week, month after month, and get their wages by the month, many are deciding that the 'relief' they will get isn't worth the effort and labor necessary to get it. As a result a lot of former relief clients are either not going to register at all and take their chances on getting along some way, or they are either going to get out and try to get jobs with private employers."

Owing to road conditions, the average life of an automobile in Argentina is considerably shorter than in the United States.

Shorebirds Fly South; Presage Good Hunting

St. Paul, Minn.—(AP)—Harbinger of sportsdom's annual rendezvous with waterfowl, the early shorebird migration is filtering through Minnesota from the north.

Eager sportsmen, their thoughts projected to fall and duck hunting, regard the shorebird movement as a reliable criterion of "sport ahead."

First guage of general migration the fight presages the swarm of waterfowl southward through the nation's sporting lanes.

To wild life observers, the shorebird exodus has its color. Garbed in post-nuptial plumages at variance with spring markings, such birds as sandpipers, herons, gulls, terns and plover congregate on lake flats beginning in early August.

Leisurely the birds saunter southward. As August wanes, Canada's northern terrain literally "rains" shorebird migrants upon Minnesota and the Mississippi flyway. As the flight diminishes, waterfowl begins its trek to the Gulf.

Opportunities for Minnesota's latest recreational innovation—bird observation—are profuse in the shorebird display. Numerous enthusiasts, displaying a fervor which hunters admit outlives exceeds their own, invade mud flats and other favorite shorebirds habitats daily with binocular and camera.

WILMINGTON SLAYER GETS 25 TO 30 YEARS

Wilmington, Aug. 10.—Entering a plea of guilty of second degree murder, John D. Gore, 27, negro bootlegger and "bad man" of Foxtown, in Superior Court today, was given 25 to 30 years in State's Prison for the fatal shooting last June at 11th and Orange streets of Joseph R. (Buddy) Jones, also colored.

Commenting that every murder case tried this week had grown out of illicit liquor, Judge J. Paul Fritzel of Snow Hill, said, "My own view is this man is guilty of first degree murder."

Also indicted for the slaying was Josh Gore, John D. Gore's brother. Solicitor Burney said he will not be able to try Josh Gore during this term, which ends this week.

WASHINGTON MEN DROWN IN RIVER

Washington, N. C., Aug. 10.—Milton McGowan, 30, well known letter carrier of near here, and Gotha Woolard, a farmer and neighbor of McGowan's, were drowned in Pamlico River six miles below Bayview late yesterday afternoon when a boat from which they were fishing capsized in midstream.

McGowan, popular in this section, was also a widely known farmer, a resident of Washington, Route 1.

According to word received here, the drownings occurred as McGowan and Woolard attempted to walk past each other in the small fishing boat and the craft overturned. Their efforts to swim to shore were futile.

Two companions of the drowned men, Norman Oliver of Washington, and Otis Edwards of Route 3, Washington, clung to the capsized boat and were saved by fishermen.

The bodies of McGowan and Woolard were recovered last night at 9 o'clock after fishermen had dragged the river for some hours.

The party of four men were fishing near Duk Bak Camp, a well known sportsman's resort on the Pamlico, when the tragedy occurred.

CLAIM OFFICERS ATTACKED THEM

Charlotte, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Alleging a group of Charlotte policemen roamed about the city the night of August 3 making unprovoked attacks upon unoffending negroes, a committee of prominent negroes today petitioned Mayor Ben Douglas for a hearing before the Civil Service Commission.

With the petition were affidavits from eight negroes who said they were struck by officers with blackjacks, lengths of rubber hose and cue-sticks.

The committee presenting the petition represented the negro Pioneers Association.

After conferring with other city officials, Mayor Douglas issued a statement saying a full investigation would be made. In addition to the mayor those signing the statement were Claude B. Squires, Civil Service Commissioner; Chief of Police E. D. Pittman; Chief of Detectives F. N. Littlejohn, and Councilman L. R. Sides.

Five fire wagons were called out to extinguish a fire in the top of a tall palm tree growing in a vacant lot in Venice, Cal.

NEGRO BADLY INJURED BY HIT-AND-RUN DRIVER

Wilson, August 10.—John Gear, Wilson County negro farmer, was seriously hurt late Wednesday night when a car driven by Bud Ward, another Wilson negro, ran over him on the Wilson-Greenville highway near here. Gear was taken to a local hospital. It was found that he had suffered a fractured skull and leg. He is expected to recover.

Ward was arrested around 4:30 Thursday morning by Deputy Sheriff J. A. Driver at his home near Stantonburg, and put in jail under $500 bond charged with reckless driving, assault and hit and run.

NEGRO CHARGED WITH BURGLARY

Plymouth, Aug. 10.—Strands of cloth from a rosebush matched his torn trousers and the tracks in the yard were similar to those of William Bell, 22, negro former employee of the Springwood Dairy near here. So officers are holding him for first degree burglary and assault at the W. F. Lucas farm last night.

Miss Mary Roxie Swain, 76, who is a relative of the Lucas family, awoke yesterday morning to find a negro sitting on the side of her bed and before she could scream, he choked her almost into insensibility. An alarm clock at 3:30 frightened him away before he did her further injury. Officers say that he had been drinking. He leaped from a second-story window in making his escape from the house. Numbers of times the negro had helped in cleaning the house and knew the interior arrangements.

The chief cause of the severe dust storms of recent weeks in the west was the drought of last summer, say federal soil experts.

'SPECS' HURLS VICTORY OVER TARBORO CLUB

The league-leading Greenville baseball team kept the cellarite Tarboro club on the toboggan yesterday by handing them a 5 to 3 licking on their own home grounds.

The victory was the 39th for the league leaders as they returned to their home lot today to engage the cellarites in the last of the two game series. Tomorrow the leaders are scheduled to meet Ayden at Ayden in the playoff of a game rained out on July 10th, and from all indications that contest promises to be one of the season's most spectacular as the Aces battle stubbornly to hold their slim lead on fourth place.

Tarboro fans were treated to as much baseball yesterday as they have witnessed this season. There was plenty of hitting in the opening stanza—just enough to give the sport lovers a thrill—but after that Doc Mitchell and "Specs" Garbee, the latter a recent acquisition to the Greenville club, bore down with all their might and permitted no more scoring. It was one of the finest pitching duels of the season and provided a clear conception of what these two hurlers can do when they set out to do something.

Greenville made every hit count for a run in the opening stanza. Tarboro counted a total of eight safe cracks but found it impossible to convert more than three into runs as fast fielding behind the excellent mound work of Garbee prevented the cellarites from providing any real serious threat after the opening start. The fireworks started after one man was down for each club.

Ambler, with a free pass to first, set the victory-push in motion for Greenville. Wagner, hit by a pitched ball, went to first and Ace Parker, who can always be counted on to do his part, singled to load the bases. "Chubby" Dean, the youngster who lead the league with the stick the past two weeks, "telescoped" to the plate and cracked out a three base drive to send three runners racing home. Billy Hulskamp, also one of the faithfuls with the stick, singled to score Dean, pulling up at third when Askwew made a bad throw to second after making a fine stop of Farley's hard drive. Dean then scored on Johnson's infield out.

Male, Bryant and Bassin loaded the bases with singles in Tarboro's half, and one run was chalked up when Stine errored McArthur's bounder. Cobb doubled and two runners raced home with the last tallies of the game.

Bassin and Mitchell, with two hits each, lead the cellarite stick attack, while Ty Wagner, with a 500 average in his credit, was the leader for Greenville.

"Chubby" Dean's three-base crack was the londest drive of the performance, although he and Wagner were ably assisted in knocking out the victory by Parker, Johnson and Hulskamp.

It was the second time the leaders had defeated the cellarites during the week. Tarboro won the opening game of the series last Monday, but were blanked 5 to 0 here the following day.

With the cellarites fighting hard to lift themselves out of the abyssal darkness of the lower rung, the game today was expected to provide plenty of stick work.

SNOW HILL WINS

New Bern, Aug. 10.—Chan Parmelee had the better of Stuart Flythe in a brilliant pitching duel yesterday as Snow Hill capitalized on timely hits and costly-for-the Bruins—errors to take a 3-0 verdict.

Check homered over the right field wall in the fourth for the only earned run of the game. Errors let in tallies in the sixth and eighth.

Flythe fanned seven, while Parmelee's sinker put the clincher on four strikeout victims.

Perry and Griffin, with a pair of singles, paced the fast-strapping visitors. Branch and Sewell did likewise to lead the Bears.

A big turnout of faithful local fans saw a good ball game even if the result wasn't to their liking.

New Bern 000 000 000-0 8 2

NO. 14 FOR UPCHURCH

Ayden, Aug. 10.—Jim Tatum hit a homer with three on and Worliss Knowles hit two homers to account for three other tallies as Ayden defeated Williamston 10-3 here yesterday.

Home runs also produced two of the visitors' scores. John Gaddy turned the trick in the fourth, and Corbitt duplicated in the sixth.

Lefty Upchurch pitched the victory, his 14th of the season. The tall southpaw was quite wild—he issued 11 walks. Gaddy, his opponent, walked six.

Tatum's four run blow featured the local's six run sixth inning. Wall tripled to start the verse. After the next two batters had gone out, Knowles singled to drive in a run. He stole second and scored on Atkins' single. Patrick doubled and Faust Johnson walked to fill the bases and prepare ways for Tatum's homer.

Knowles' first homer came in the fourth. The other was made in the seventh with one on.

Tatum hit a double in addition to his homer. Knowles' two homers and one single gave him a perfect day at the plate.

Corbitt, with a single in addition to his homer, was the only visitor to make more than one hit.

Score: R. H. E.
Williamston 000 101 100-3 5 1
Ayden 000 106 308-10 9 0

Gaddy and Doyle; Upchurch and Tatum.

EAGLES GET 5-3 WIN

Goldsboro, Aug. 10.—Kinston's Eagles got base hits in the right spots today to defeat Goldsboro 5 to 3.

Relief pitching of Humphries was a big item in the Kinston victory. He went to the hill in the sixth and pitched perfect baseball except for issuing one hit-batsman ticket in the ninth. He fanned four of the first five batters he faced and used that method to retire seven in the 3-2-3 innings he worked.

Goldsboro's only runs came in the sixth and that uprising led to Humphries' arrival. Michel singled to start the rally, moved to third on Morris' hit, and tallied on Dairymple's infield out. E. Webb hit a homer over the left field fence. Elmo Patrick doubled, and then Mr. Humphries intervened.

Batteries—Goldsboro: Wilson, E. Webb and Sutenfeld; Kinston: Woodlief, Humphries and Strayhorn.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Numerous highs for the year or longer were registered in today's brief stock market session despite the usual week-end profit-taking.

for a Saturday in months. The close was firm. Transfers were 1,390,000 shares.

The news from the market standpoint was a little mixed but the appetite of both traders and investors for leading equities still seemed unappeased and overnight buying orders piled up in the commission houses.

The "blue tip" Chip favorites continued to attract following although number of low priced stock came to life. Brokers said interest was increasing with south and southwest attributing substantially to the demand.

A jump in wheat prices at Chicago following the government crop estimated brightened the picture. Cotton improved.

Rail bonds gave another lift to the loan department. Foreign exchanges were quiet.

Policeman Mysteriously Slain

Fayetteville, Aug. 10.—(AP)—J. Ross Jones, 41, chief of police here for the past 30 years, died in a hospital here today several hours after suffering a mysterious pistol wound in a hotel room.

Mrs. Jones and friends who had brought her to the hotel for a late supper found the body of the officer who was native of Gettysburg, Pa., lying on the bed with a bullet wound in the temple.

Only a few minutes before he had telephoned his wife to meet him. Mr. and Mrs. Worth Moffee, of Sanford, had left the room to bring her from her home.

Although the officer had been on constant duty for 48 hours investigating a recent bank robbery at Smoaks, S. C., and had arrested one of the suspects, he was in good spirits when they left the room, Mr. and Mrs. Moffee said.

When they returned with Mrs. Jones, the room door was found unlocked, the chief's revolver was by him on the bed and his watch and wallet containing more than $40 lay on the dresser. The bullet had entered the temple, emerged on the other side and lodged in the mattress. Authorities were notified and an inquest was ordered.

The telephone call to Mrs. Jones was made at 11:30 and the Moffees returned to the hotel with her at 11:50. The officer died in the hospital at 5:45 a. m.

The defense ordered no testimony at the brief trial while the state put on only five witnesses including Miss Annie Grogan, 55-year-old retired school teacher and victim of France's alleged attack.

After sentence was passed France was started on the journey to the state prison under guard of state highway patrolmen.
