

TOBACCO POURING INTO CITY FOR MART OPENING

Population Of Addis Ababa Ordered To Evacuate Soon

EXPECT ITALY TO BOMB CITY FROM THE AIR

Ethiopian Emperor Instructs Civil Population To Hide Valuables In Subterranean Caverns; Merchants Begin Moving Property Into Hills; Large Assemblages Discouraged

Addis Ababa, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie today ordered the civil population to evacuate the capital within a week. He acted on the belief that one of Italy's first acts will be to bomb Addis Ababa from the air.

The Ethiopian emperor also ordered all valuable property hidden in subterranean caves. His order stirred the capital's 120,000 residents. American and other foreigners remained calm, some believing the league of nations might yet save the situation.

The population in evacuating was directed to avoid assembling in large numbers. The citizens were told to scatter to distant points. Already many merchants have begun to move their property into nearby hills.

The government, it was stated, has taken necessary precautions to assure wireless communications with the outside world in the event of a bombardment.

Death Claims

Sam Baker In Simpson Area

Sam Baker, 60, died Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of his brother, Doc Baker, near Simpson.

Funeral services were conducted from his late home this afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. J. B. Rouse, and burial was made in the family burial ground near Winterville.

Surviving are three brothers and three sisters: John Baker, Greenville, Glascio Baker, Winterville, and Doc Baker, Chocoma; Mrs. Sam Smith Winterville, Mrs. J. L. Smith, Beaufort county, and Mrs. Lula Marshall, Ayden.

The deceased, a native of the county, was engaged in farming. He lived all of his life in this county.

NOT UNDER $2,000 BOND

WHITE SLAVERY CHARGE

Wilson, Aug. 24.—A Federal warrant has been filed here with U. S. Court Clerk G. L. Parker charging Wesley Carver, of Roanoke Rapids, with violation of the white slavery act. Carver was arrested a short time ago on the charge and after a hearing before U. S. Commissioner W. O. Thompson, of Roanoke Rapids, was placed under $2,000 bond for his appearance in Federal Court here in October.

Carver is charged in the warrant with taking 15-year-old India Harris, daughter of Mrs. Laura T. Harris, of Roanoke Rapids, across the North Carolina State line into Virginia by automobile and there having illegal intercourse with her against her will. The incident is said to have occurred last month and Carver was arrested on a warrant signed by India's mother.

OFFICERS TUSSELE WITH ARMED MEN

Burlington, Aug. 24.—Two young white men are in the city jail today following an attempt night before last to shoot their way to freedom when Patrolman I. H. Dabbs and J. M. Faulkner trapped them as they allegedly were in the act of stealing an automobile.

The men held are Hallie Kelly, Maple Avenue, and Leonard Harris, of Durham. Police headquarters reported that a third man, is being sought. He escaped during the brief struggle when the officers grappled with Kelly for his gun.

Tobacco Floods Marts Of New Bright Belt

Raleigh, Aug. 24.—(AP)—By car-wagon and motor truck, tobacco came today to the new bright belt warehouses for the initial auction sales which begin Monday on 15 markets.

Large opening day breaks were expected on the markets and good prices were anticipated in view of the trend which has prevailed on the early Georgia and Border markets which have been open for several weeks.

Markets of the new bright belt are at Washington, New Bern, Wallace, Tarboro, Ahoskie, Smithfield, Kinston, Robertsonville, Williamston, Rocky Mount, Farmville, Greenville, Wendell, Goldsboro and Wilson. The largest bright leaf market in the world, last season sold 60,000,000, about a fifth of the belt's total.

Greenville, second market in the belt sold about two million pounds less. The price average there was the highest in the belt.

TARBORO WINS SWIM CONTEST AT LOCAL POOL

Locals Make Fine Showing Against Visitors but are Out-pointed

Tarboro won most of the honors in the swimming contest with Greenville at the municipal swimming pool on Fifth street last night at 8 o'clock, it was revealed today by records compiled by H. A. McDougle, manager of the local pool.

Although the Tarboro swimmers, who have defeated practically every town in this section of the state during the summer, won most of the first places, they were tied by the locals in a few of the contests.

It was the first event of the kind held here this summer and numbers of persons interested in this form of sport were on hand to see Greenville take on the strongest team of the eastern part of the state as their first contestants.

Ample seating accommodations were provided around the pool to take care of the visitors and those attending fully enjoyed the excellent showing made by both aggregations.

McDougle expressed himself as highly gratified over the splendid showing made by the local swimmers in the face of such formidable competition and said he believed they could have easily defeated a team not quite so experienced.

Although the summer is rapidly drawing to a close it is probable other contests of this kind may be arranged between now and the end of the season to provide additional amusement for the hundreds who frequent the pool each day.

"Rat" Boykin of Tarboro and John Laureates of Greenville tied for first place in the front jack contest.

Guss Hill outpointed Boykin of Tarboro in the back jack.

Rees Boykin of Tarboro, first place in the 50 yard free style dash, and Leon Patrick of Greenville, won second place and Howard Hussey of Tarboro, third place.

In the fifty yard back stroke Rees Boykins of Tarboro emerged in first place, Russ Clark, Tarboro in second place and Richard Gaylord, Greenville, third place.

Old English Postcard Found
Hutton Cranswick, England, (AP) A joiner, repairing a mail box in this Yorkshire village, found in it a postcard which his son had mailed 15 years ago to a neighboring town. The box had been in daily use ever since.

The Federal-State Crop Reporting service on August first estimated the 1935 tobacco crop at 511,810 pounds compared with a yield of 417,975,000 last year. The average yield for the period from 1928 to 1932 was 468,526,000 pounds. On August 1 the condition of the crop was estimated at 86 per cent of normal.

Last season's yield netted the farmers $130,157,000 while Dean I. O. Schaub, of the North Carolina State college extension service said benefits payments amount to $8,015,380.

Dean Schaub said it was impossible to estimate how much the farmers might get in benefit payments this year but cited increased yield and said the crop should be worth $130,000,000 to $150,000,000 to farmers this year if prices average on the Georgia and border belts hold an increase normally in the new bright belt markets opening Monday. The old belt and burley markets open later.

Britain Rushes Fighting Planes To African Front

London, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Questioning eyes pried into Great Britain's state of preparedness—or lack of it—today even as British fighting planes were reported roaring toward Egypt to guard the Suez canal, passage way to the African powder keg.

Part of the London Press bleated with unveiled skepticism the nation's ability to risk conflict by attention to applying sanctions should Mussolini war on Ethiopia.

WEBB'S HOUSE WILL RENDER FINE SERVICE

Big Warehouse Here Receiving Offerings Today With Greatly Improved Facilities

Webb's warehouse, one of the largest and best auction centers in this part of the state, was receiving tobacco today for the opening of this market Monday.

Clyde Webb, operator of the warehouse, said the first of the week his house was in better shape than ever to take care of the offerings of the growers this year.

To Timberlake, one of the best known tobacco men of the section, will be associated with Mr. Webb this year in the operation of the warehouse. Both will be on sales each day to see that the farmers get the top of the market in prices and service.

The house has been placed in splendid condition for reception of offerings this season and every facility offered by an up-to-date auction house will be found in evidence on the floors of the concern.

A practical farmer himself, Mr. Webb knows tobacco and what it should bring and is forever striving to give the farmers the benefit of his long experience in the industry. He has been on the Greenville market for a number of years and each season has contributed largely to the progress of this, the world's greatest, sales center.

Farmers interested in the best service the market has to offer along with high prices were urged by Mr. Webb to pay his warehouse a visit during the present season, believed to be one of the best the market will ever experience.

Webb's has been ready for business for several days and tobacco was rolling in today for the opening sales Monday when thousands of people will be on warehouse floors to see how prices are going to pan out.

Neutrality Bill Rushed Today To White House

Washington, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Despite assaults that it places America in an "international straight-jacket," and was only a gesture toward peace," the senate today speeded to the White House the compromised resolution to balk at American neutrality in any foreign war.

MORATORIUM MEASURE NEAR STATUTE BOOK

House To Complete Action Today; No Opposition Expected From The President

Washington, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Legislation giving farmers a chance to obtain a three-year mortgage moratorium was but a step away from the state books today. Without a single objection the house yesterday approved and sent to the White House the new Frazier-Lemke bill designed to replace the moratorium law declared unconstitutional by the Supreme court last spring.

Leaders predicted the president would sign the measure.

CIVIL COURT CLOSES HERE

Hooker Case Continued Until Another Term; Criminal Court Opens Monday

The one week term of civil Superior Court was adjourned here yesterday afternoon after disposing of around 20 of its thirty or forty case calendar, it was revealed today by records in the office of Clerk of Court J. F. Harrington.

A one-week term of criminal court will convene here Monday morning with indications that most of the week will be confined to the hearing of the thirty or forty jail cases now awaiting consideration.

The term will be featured by the selection of a new six months grand jury and charge by Judge Walter L. Small of Elizabeth City.

Before adjournment yesterday court started into the case of S. T. Hooker, who is attempting to recover $8,100 he was ordered to turn over to the court at a previous term, but the action was continued until another term.

Judge Small said in view of the fact that the sum had been ordered seized by the court for the benefit of the University of North Carolina, he thought the university should be made a party to the action. Thad Eure, chief officer of the university, who was present, asked that the case be continued until another term to give him time to confer with a committee of the university. Judge Small granted the request.

Something over a year ago, $8,100 disappeared from Mr. Hooker's lock box in a local bank. The money was later returned to him by the police with the understanding that the thief not be prosecuted. John Warner was indicted later but was set free because of lack of evidence.

Mr. Hooker had said he was not able to identify the money as that taken from his bank box and Judge M. V. Barnhill, who was presiding at the time, ordered the money be seized by the court for use of the University. He instructed the clerk of court, however, to hold the money pending new issues in the case.

The case has held the interest of the public here for several months and it probably will result in a well filled courtroom when it finally comes up for consideration.

RUSH WORK IN CONGRESS FOR CLOSE TONIGHT

Leaders Hope To Adjourn Present Session During Afternoon Or Night

Washington, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Determined to adjourn tonight if humanely possible, congress renewed a host of disputes at mid-morning where it left off at midnight.

Feelings were largely disregarded as legislators bent on their own pet ideas strove to push some of it across. The leadership continued to keep the upper hand for final action on the mass of proposals.

When the 10 o'clock convening hour struck both branches had yet to approve finally the conference agreement on wealth taxes, utilities holding companies and liquor control. None was expected to cause much trouble.

The contested neutrality legislation had right of way in the senate while the house sought decisions to send the measure barring gold clause suits to the house.

President Roosevelt paid little outward attention to what went on down Pennsylvania Avenue, aides saying he still was drafting his talk to the meeting of the young democrats tonight.

Various cabinet subordinates were looking over bills already sent to him before he could sign them into law. These included the amendments to bolster the AAA and TVA, Guffey coal control, rail pensions and the taxes to pay the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage moratorium and the immense harbors and rivers bill.

Little hope was held out for house passage of the senate food and drugs act regulations and Walsh government contract proposals.

If they can keep folks in line for the senate, Speaker Byrnes told reporters "we ought to be able to quiet early this afternoon."

Senators' pressure to require 12 cents a pound cotton loans instead of 9 cents opened a filibuster possibility for members to remain in session over the would have held over the 9 cent announcement until Monday. Sleepy eyes predominated in both branches until debate aroused the membership.

Less than fifty representatives were on hand for the house opening. Strategy placed the tax measure on the house schedule to assure a quorum for amendment. Alcohol control got the first call. Rep. Fuller, Democrat, of Alabama, denounced the bargain with the senate as a "surrender to liquor and glass bottle lobby."

LIGHT DOCKET IN CITY COURT

Two Drunks Constitute Docket; One Goes to Roads, Other Pays $10 Fine

One of the lightes: Saturday morning dockets in months faced city court this morning and work completed in comparatively short time.

There were only two cases docketed since Wednesday. They consisted of charges of drunkenness, a violation that police reported the first of the week to be on a rapid increase here.

With the tobacco market opening Monday drawing hundreds of people from all sections of the country, police indicated they expected to have about all they could handle over the week-end. With the desirable element coming to the city this season of the year there is always the floaters type that has never been conducive to improvement of public life.

Dave Creech, white man appearing on a charge of taking on an overdose of liquor, was sentenced to 30 days on the roads.

Marshall Hardee, appearing on a similar charge, was released on payment of $10 and cost of action.

Knitting Fad Hurts Polish Mills
Warshaw, (AP)—Owners of factories making knitted articles have complained to the government that the knitting fad among society women has cut their sales in half. A tax on needles or wool was proposed to help the situation.

Woman Questioned In Sister's Death

San Francisco police questioned Mrs. Florence Boykin (above), 52, for possible "leads" in the death of her sister, Mrs. Gladys Glens Fair, who was shot to death in Long Beach. Mrs. Boykin visited Mrs. Fair shortly before her death. A missing 32 revolver which Mrs. Boykin says she let in Los Angeles is believed to be the one which killed Mrs. Fair. 482 FORMER RELIEF MEN GIVEN JOBS

NRS Makes Place-ments But None Yet Are Reported on WPA Jobs in N. C.

Raleigh, Aug. 24.—A total of 482 former relief clients who have registered with the National Reemployment Service in the state have already been placed on Works Progress Administration jobs because as yet no WPA projects have been approved and gotten under way in North Carolina. Mrs. May Thompson Evans, state director of the NRS said today. Approximately 72,587 of the 200,000 or so former relief clients have already registered with the reemployment service in order to be eligible for WPA jobs. But so far there are not any WPA jobs, due to the fact that the WPA in Washington has not approved any of the projects submitted from North Carolina. Approval of many of the projects already submitted by WPA Administrator George W. Coan, Jr., is expected any day now. Coan has submitted more than $10,000,000 worth of projects to Washington for approval, after having already approved them as state WPA administrator.

Former relief clients are still registering very slowly, Mrs. Evans said, in spite of the efforts of the N. C. Relief Administration to assist clients in registering. It is hoped that at least 150,000 of the 200,000 or more former clients will register, but many doubt if the total registration will amount to more than 100,000 persons, or about 50 per cent of the former number of relief cases.

UNION MEET TO CLOSE HERE SUNDAY NIGHT

Rev. J. R. Potts To Deliver Final Sermon At Pitt Theatre Tomorrow Night

The final service of the series of union services held in this city during the summer months will be held at Pitt theatre tomorrow night at 8 o'clock with Rev. J. R. Potts delivering the sermon.

The services, sponsored by the Ministerial Association, have been under way each Sunday evening for the last two months, and it was said today had proved of much help to the community.

All churches of the city are participating with the choirs of the various congregations providing the music. Both sermons and music each service have been of an inspirational nature and members of the association expressed themselves as highly gratified at the spirit of co-operation shown both by the churches and the public.

While attendance was not as large at times as desired, it was considered fairly good in view of the usual small congregations during the summer. On a number of occasions the spacious auditorium has been well filled.

The sermon last Sunday evening was delivered by Rev. Worth Wickler, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church and the Episcopal choir had charge of the music.

It was not said which choir would direct the music tomorrow night but assurance was given that the program for the evening would be one of the most inspirational during the summer.

Members of the association urged the public to attend the final service in large numbers and in the way express their appreciation of the efforts of the organization to bring the members of the various denominations in closer communion during the summer.

Late News Flashes

CONGRESS ADJOURNS TONIGHT

Washington, Aug. 24.—(AP)—A resolution fixing the adjournment of Congress for tonight was adopted on a voice vote in the House early this afternoon.

Working For Adjournment.
Washington, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Getting to work with a will for quick adjustment the Senate dispatched the neutrality resolution to President Roosevelt today and the House agreed on the compromise alcohol control bill.

Senate acceptance was expected to get the liquor measure to the White House as easily, but both branches had yet to act on the $250,000,000 tax and utility holding companies regulation bill.

Speaker Byrnes said adjournment by mid-afternoon was impossible unless the drive in the Senate to force a 12-cent cotton loan intervened. He expected the House to take little time in the gold suit ban bill.

Thronged Senate galleries were tense as Senator Johnson, Republican of California, and Connolly, Democrat of Texas, called the neutrality resolution only a gesture toward peace. It passed over the vote started, the count being 77 to 2 with only Bankhead of Alabama, and Gerry, Democrat of Rhode Island.

OVER MILLION POUNDS HERE THIS MORNING

Opening Monday Morning at 9 o'clock Expected to Find Between 1 34 to 2 Million Pounds Here; Market In Best Shape in History; Tobacco Men Arriving; Spirit of Carnival Pervades Countryside

Tobacco was pouring into Greenville today with predictions of one of the largest opening breaks in history Monday.

K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales of the local market, said this morning at 11 o'clock that there was 1,000,000 pounds of leaf on the various warehouse floors with indications that this would be increased to 1 34 or 2 million pounds by the opening day.

It was reported that much of the tobacco on the floors here today was of an inferior quality to last year's opening day offerings. This was due largely to unfavorable weather conditions prevailing during the latter part of the summer. The annual movement of leaf to Greenville started Wednesday and was expected to reach its peak today and tonight. The ten warehouses, covering six acres of floor space, are expected to be crowded to capacity when the curtain on the 1935 season is run up Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

Five sets of buyers, representing all large buying companies, will appear on as many sales Monday morning at the appointed hour. Selling at the rate of 300 piles an hour, as allowed by law, they are expected to sell around 1,500,000 pounds the opening day.

The market is in the best shape in history to take care of the offerings of the farmers this year, Mr. Cobb said. With ten warehouses and nine factories, a tremendous amount of leaf can be handled daily without the blocks of old days.

First sales will be held at the following warehouses: Harris, Centre Brick, Webb's, Keel's, and Dixie.

The market, last year sold nearly $2,000,000 pounds of leaf at an average of $31.41 a hundred pounds. With increased acreage authorized by the federal crop control movement, sales figures are expected to be swelled considerably this year.

Greenville will enter the season with the distinction of having established the highest price average and sold the most tobacco of any other market in the world. This is an honor every tobacco man here is proud of and every effort will be made to maintain the record again this year.

One new brick warehouse and improvements to several others will feature the opening this year. This will have a tendency to greatly expedite the handling of the bright leaf throughout the season. The market with its increased facilities is able to take care of 3 1-4 million pounds of tobacco daily, and farmers who sell here will find no trouble obtaining space for their offerings.

As customary on the eve of the opening of the market, a spirit of carnival pervades the countryside today with indications it will reach its height by Sunday night in anticipation of the beginning of the annual flow of money Monday.

Thousands of people from many parts of the country will join the annual pilgrimage to this shrine of high prices and big sales, hoping to be among the first to obtain news concerning the price trend, the most important of all.

Scores of eating houses and concessions, along with the usual number of street shows, sprang up like magic in tobacco town during the latter part of the week and farmers will not lack for entertainment or something to eat when the auctioneers begin to sing their song of joy to the countryside.

Tobacco town as usual was a scene of feverish activity as hundreds of workers on warehouse floors received the farmers' offerings and placed them on the floors for initial sales. Warehouses and factories made every effort possible to clear as much space as available to help speed up activities in every department of sales.

The Coliseum at Rome accommodated 100,000 spectators, 87,000 of whom were seated. Its arena measured 182 feet from side to side, and 285 feet from end to end.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

News Behind The News.

Washington By RAY TUCKER

DOMINATION: President Roosevelt and Federal Financier Eccles are playing a slick game in restraining their gloatings over the latest revision of the Federal Reserve System. To paraphrase Adam, they are taking the cash and letting the credit go to Carter Glass, who refers to Mr. Eccles as "that Mormon missionary."

Contrary to public reports, the measure Mr. Roosevelt signed vests extra-ordinary power over the nation's banking system in the administration. Its appointees on the federal board will control the three most vital functions that affect the supply of money, its use and interest rates. They will be in a position to determine open market operations, the amount of bank reserves and the rediscount rate. No quibbling over superficial authority withheld by Congress can change this central fact. The administration will dominate the money market.

Mr. Roosevelt means to wield that power. The Eccles declaration that the banking system should reinforce economic planning was cut out of the final bill, but the idea persists. Only New Deal bankers need apply when Messrs. Roosevelt and Eccles get around to naming the board's new members next February.

PRESSURE Mr. Glass doesn't think the administration outsmarted him. But the inside story reveals that his foes resorted to duplicity and pressure when the fight came to a showdown.

Henry Steagall of Alabama, who handled the bill for the White House, pretended to balk at changes demanded by the Glass coterie. (Continued on page two)

By BYRON PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

There are at least a half-dozen reasons why history is likely to take special note of the 1935 session of Congress.

Consider the ambitious proportions of some of the monuments erected in eight months of parliamentary struggle:

The social security program. The wealth taxes. The $4,800,000,000 relief appropriation. The stroke at the utility holding companies. The labor relations act. The prohibition against gold and processing tax recovery suits.

Unlike temporary buttresses set up by the first Roosevelt Congress, most of these monuments are designed to stand for all time. The President and Congress have attempted to re-make America, nothing less.

Whether the accomplishments of the session mean the salvation of the country—as some say—or the ruin of the country—as others say—they still remain accomplishments of an extraordinary, perhaps of an epochal calibre.

Aims Of New Laws
It is not easy to arrive at an incisive phrase, which both sides will accept, to describe the general effect of this legislative program as a whole. Examining the measures one by one, however, certain common characteristics stand out.

One group of the new laws tends unquestionably toward greater centralization of power in the federal government. Another group aims frankly at a leveling of the economic structure, under that stronger central government, by taking away from those who have and adding to the security of those who have not.

To the first group belong the relief policy of this Congress, and the policy of closing the door to recovery suits which might hamper the government in executing the economic changes it desires.

To the second group belong the social security program, the wealth taxes, the utility act and the New Deal for labor relations—which was urged by organized labor as a guarantee of greater security and better living for workers.

It would seem beyond dispute that, by and large, Congress has been moving toward a social and economic system closely governed by regulatory measures from Washington, and responsive in many ways to what President Roosevelt has called "the very sound public policy of encouraging a wider distribution of wealth."

A Precedent
How such a venture turns out will be a matter for history, but it is possible that future generations may be interested in this session for still another reason.

Besides passing laws, it set a precedent. Faced with a Supreme Court decision which struck at the supports of its legislative philosophy Congress went along with a Presidential leadership which advised passage of legislation regardless of doubts as to its constitutionality.

At a moment when even many friends of the administration felt sure AAA would be declared unconstitutional, for instance, a law was passed enlarging and strengthening AAA.

The precedent of bringing about such a situation may stand, in the end, as one of the most conspicuous of the session's monuments.

Seek Special Session Of State Legislature

Reflector Bureau.
Sir Walter Hotel.
By J. C. BASKERVILLE

Raleigh, Aug. 24.—Sentiment is growing by leaps and bounds over the state for a special session of the general assembly to be held as soon as possible, for the enactment of a three-fold program as follows:

1. Social security legislation, so that state will be in line to cooperate with the Federal laws and take advantage of the old age pension and unemployment insurance laws.

If the state does not pass such legislation it is estimated that it will lose between $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 a year which it otherwise would get.

2. State-wide liquor control and liquor stores legislation, from which the state can get between $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 a year in revenue, but which will be impossible to enact in the next general assembly.

3. Reduce the sales tax rate to 2 per cent or remove the sales tax entirely from meals and essential foods, since recent collections show the present sales tax will yield several million dollars more than is needed and thus piling up a huge surplus.

It is understood that the News and Observer here will come out with a story advocating a special session in its Sunday edition tomorrow morning and will carry numerous telegrams and messages from prominent people over the state urging a special session. Numerous members of the general assembly who have been here the past week expressed themselves as in favor of a special session. They said that if North Carolina is going to stay in line with the Federal government and the other states, that it must enact a special session and at least enact a state social security law so it can participate under the national social security act.

It is expected that Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus will be as strongly opposed to a special session on his return from his vacation next week as he was when he left. But many are inclined to doubt whether he will be able to continue in this position in the face of the strong demand already developing for a special session. There are also strong political reasons for such a session.

SOUTHERN IS SUED FOR KILLING SLEEPING BOY
Greensboro, Aug. 24.—Carl Fulp, 18, went to sleep on the Southern Railway tracks near Morrisville, east of Durham, on August 29th, a year ago. As he sat sleeping on the end of a cross tie he was hit and killed by an eastbound train.

Yesterday in Guilford Superior Court the administrator of his estate, S. J. Fulp, entered suit against the railroad company for $2,995 damages, claiming the engineer was negligent in that for 1,000 feet or more before the train reached the boy, the track was straight and the engineer should have seen the sleeping boy in time to halt the train or in time to alarm the youth with whistle blasts.

AYDEN WINS FROM LOCALS BY SCORE 6-5

Billy Hulskamp, Greenville outfielder, made his debut as a pitcher at Ayden yesterday afternoon and the crippled leaders lost their fourth consecutive game to the tune of 6 to 5.

Billy might have come through with a win after the two-run ninth inning rally staged by his teammates, but the rampant Aydenites came through with a similar rally in the same inning and sent three runners scurrying over the rubber to clinch the game.

Although yielding a total of 13 hits, Hulskamp breezed along nicely in the early stages, but the hard slugger Ayden club wouldn't be denied and came through with enough timely knocks in the last frame to tighten their position in the semi-final series to open next Monday to determine the two clubs to play in the championship race.

The trouble started for Greenville in the last frame when Stanley Johnson was issued a free pass to first. Dallas Morris drew another pass after Wall had fled out. Patrick doubled to score two runs and went home himself on Knowles' single.

Wade, pitcher, who has been doing catching chores for Greenville while Wagner has been on the bench with a bunged up finger, furnished the highlight with the bat with a home run in the second to draw first blood for the leaders. It was the only long range hit of the game although a two-bagger or so enlivened rallies during the latter stages.

Hulskamp, who helps his father run a shoe factory out in Iowa when not going to Duke University and playing ball, fared much better on the mound than the usual run of hurlers do, and had it not been for Ayden's disastrous ninth inning batting spree, he would have come out of the battle with a victory hung around his neck. He is one of the most versatile players on the local club, and fans who went to Ayden to see the patched up leaders attempt to break their losing streak, were pulling for him to win.

Paust Johnson, Atkins and Worles Knowles, with two hits each, led the Aydenites, while Ambler and Garbee also accounted for the same number for Greenville. Every Ayden player was credited with at least one safe blow.

Ayden came to Greenville today to ring down the curtain of the league, but each club of the circuit will be engaged in play-offs tomorrow to make up for games rained out during the summer. The semi-finals are scheduled to begin Monday.

League Heads Meet Tonight To Plan Series

A meeting of directors of the Coastal Plain League will be held at Ayden tonight to arrange for the semi-final series to determine the two clubs to play for the league championship.

Although Greenville, Kinston, Snow Hill and Ayden have clinched spots in the preliminary bouts, the pairings remained uncertain today and probably will not be definitely determined until after play this afternoon or tomorrow.

Greenville has definitely sealed up the first place, but the other three clubs are so close together that anything may happen between now and the final games scheduled for tomorrow.

Under the queer play-off system, the team finishing in first place will meet the third place club, and the runner-up and fourth place clubs will clash for honors.

Fans who have followed play of the various clubs throughout the season were watching the outcome of the season with no little interest. Although Greenville has dropped four straight games because of crippled players, the club is expected to pick up steam in the semi-finals and make a bid toward keeping the flag, which has flown over the local park two years, here another season.

Ty Wagner and Chubby Dean, two of the club's mainstays, probably will be seen in action when the semi-finals open Monday. Wagner came back to town yesterday, but it is expected he and Dean will take it easy until the testing period comes. Two or three other players are on the bench because of injuries and this is largely responsible for the inability of the locals to win the last four days. Up to the injury of Dean last week at Williamston, the club had been literally whipping everything it came in contact with, and it is hoped the same old formula will be evident when play to determine the championship players opens Monday.

WILSON BLANKS SNOW HILL
Goldboro, Aug. 24.—Hogan Wilson, Goldboro hurling ace, held Peabody Walker's Snow Hill club to four scattered hits as the Bugs blanked the visitors 2-0 yesterday in the opener of a scheduled four-game series. The teams play at Snow Hill Saturday and come back here for a doubleheader Sunday afternoon.

Sivley started on the mound for the visitors and yielded only a quartet of blows and one run in six innings. Newsome went in the box for the visitors in the seventh. Fans were mystified over the change.

John Griffin, Snow Hill third-sacker, garnered three of his team's four safe blows. Check hit a double in the second inning.

The Bugs' first score came in the fourth, when Frank Suttfield doubled and scored on Doyt Morris' single. The other run came in the seventh, on an error, a passed ball, and Patrick's single.

MARTINS DEFEAT TARS
Williamston, Aug. 24.—Williamston's Martin's made six hits and several breaks count for a 5-3 win over Tarboro yesterday. The cellarites made eight hits but most of them came at the wrong time.

Gaylord hit a pair of doubles to pace the Martins. Short, with a double and two singles, led the Tars.

Tarboro's runs came in the 4th. Cobb and Bassin singled, and McArthur beat out a bunt. Bryant's single drove in two runs, and Cobb scored on an error.

The Martins' big inning was the sixth. Gaylord started it with a double, and scored on Hoyle's double. Doyle walked. A passed ball moved up the runners, and House scored on Corbett's infield out. Chapell walked. He and Doyle pulled a double steal, with the latter counting what proved to be the winning run.

BAILEY MAY SEEK POST OF LT. GOVERNOR

Five Candidates Seen In The Race For This Office in N. C. In 1936

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.
By J. C. BASKERVILLE
Raleigh, Aug. 24.—There is more than a possibility that State Senator Carl L. Bailey of Washington county will become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor and that there will be a total of five candidates in the race for the state's Number 2 post. For while Willie Lee Lumpkin of Franklin county, of the anti-sales tax hyphenated team of McDonald-Lumpkin in the 1935 general assembly, has not yet formally announced as a candidate, he is regarded as already being a candidate. It is believed he will formally announce within a few weeks.

There are already three announced candidates for the nomination for Lieutenant Governor, namely, State Senator Paul D. Grady of Kenly, Johnston county; State Senator W. P. Horton of Pittsboro, Chatham county and former State Senator George McNeill of Fayetteville, Cumberland county, who served in the 1933 senate. If Bailey becomes a candidate, three members of the 1935 senate will be candidates. Lumpkin was a member of the house in the 1935 general assembly, which was his fourth term in the house.

The prevailing belief in most political circles here is that neither of the three present announced candidates for Lieutenant Governor can be nominated and that Lumpkin is very likely to win the nomination unless some candidate enters the contest who can gather enough strength to beat Lumpkin. Friends of Bailey maintain that he is the only potential candidate who has the personality, ability, intelligence and oratorical ability with which to beat Lumpkin and the field and are urging him to make the race more than ever before. They naturally belong to the more conservative wing of the Democratic party and are in favor of continuing the present note of conservatism in the government of the state, especially with regard to taxation. For while Lumpkin is expected to run on an out-and-out platform pledged to repeal the sales tax and very similar to McDonald's platform of "Save the Poor and Soak the Rich" on which he is seeking the nomination for Governor, Bailey, if he becomes a candidate for Lieutenant Governor, is expected to stand on his record in both the 1935 and 1933 general assemblies in which he worked for and voted for the sales tax and to defend rather than apologize for this action.

A good many here, however, maintain that Bailey cannot possibly be nominated if he runs, principally because he comes from too far east, because he is not well-known enough in the central and western sections of the state and because no one can be elected to anything running on a platform favoring the retention of the sales tax. They agree that he has a colorful personality, a voice that commands attention, a beautiful command of the English language and an engaging manner, all of which would help him greatly in a campaign. But they just don't think he can make the grade, unless he can devote his entire time to getting out over the state from now until the primary next June. And that type of campaigning takes money and plenty of it.

New York Cotton
New York, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened fairly steady 7 to 13 lower under southern and foreign selling and on disappointing Liverpool cables.
Business was only moderately active at the start, being restricted apparently by a disposition to await the outcome of the 12 cent loan proposal in the senate or the effect of the 9 cent loan offer on the marketing policies of farmers in the south.
Pressure eased the market off again at the end of the first half hour, October was selling at around 1054 and May 1047 or about 10 to 14 points net lower.
Futures closed fairly steady 21 to 25 lower.

N. Y. Stock Market

The power issues sagged from the start and other groups joined them in the final hour. The close was heavy. Transfers were 1,100,000 shares.

There seemed to be a disposition on the part of commission house customers to fight commitments over the week-end.

A BROADWAY GONDOLIER

He drove a taxi and was thrown out of radio stations. But when he paddled a gondola, radio begged for his favor. He's Dick Powell singing new song "Broadway Gondolier" at the Pitt, Monday and Tuesday.

Cotton was again on the losing side with the 9 cent government loan the principle motive for. Grains were listless. Bonds were mixed. U. S. government security received a little support. Sterling recovered.
