Vessels Rush To Scene

Miami, Fla., Sept. 3.—(AP)—While a rescue ship slogged helplessly by, sledge hammer waves pounded the leaking liner Dixie as she lay grounded on a coral reef off the Florida Keys with 350 persons aboard.

In his second message since the Morgan liner struck the Caryfort reef this morning, the skipper of the imperiled vessel wirelessed: "Few passengers injured; several members of the crew minor injuries. Ship taking some water in double bottom tank. Waiting for weather to moderate before transferring passengers."

Standing nearby but reporting she could not see the Dixie was the Oil tanker Reeper.

A fleet of other vessels steamed through heavy seas to aid the liner. They were the United States Fruit liners Platano and the Limon, the tankers Watertown, Agawist, the coast guard cutter Carrabaset, Sukey and the Steamship King.

The Navy department at Washington announced that the Steamship King was steaming full speed to Caryfort reef.

A Key West two more coast guard cutters and a commercial tug awaited moderation of weather before going to the rescue.

ABC BOARD IN REPORT HERE

Commissioners Hear
Of Activity Of Liquor Stores At Meeting Yesterday

Board of County Commissioners in regular monthly session at the court house here yesterday confined their attention mainly to discussion of routine matters, but also heard a report from the newly created ABC board on its stewardship of four liquor stores set up here several weeks ago.

Although it was said the report for each store was of a favorable nature, the figures were not released to the public, this being deferred until about the middle of the month when it was said a complete statement of activities would be made.

The board operates stores at Greenville, Ayden, Farmville and Fountain, and is planning at this time to open a store at Bethel following a favorable referendum conducted by the citizens of that town several days ago. C. O. K. Horn, chairman of the board, said it was planned to open the Bethel store during the latter part of the week.

Stores are furnished by the Greenville store which has a warehouse of sufficient size to care for the storage of several carloads of whiskey.

The commissioners, who adopted their budget at a previous meeting and got this tremendous task off their hands, listened with interest to the control board report. It was understood that a condensed report of all activities of the various stores will be made as quickly as possible and will be turned over to public scrutiny as soon as it has been officially okayed by the commissioners.

FOUR PERSONS

Troops Called Out To Subdue Fighting In Heated Mayoralty
Election

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Three city firemen and a special policeman were shot and slightly wounded as rioting broke out at several polling places in one of the most heated mayoralty elections ever recorded here.

Adj. General Vivian Collins ordered out between 250 and 300 members of the 118th field artillery to report to seven of the city's 29 precincts to suppress rioting, after Sheriff W. C. Spencer reported the situation was getting out of control.

Two political factions, one with the backing of the county organization and the other the city machine, have waged a bitter campaign in the mayoralty race wherein Mayor R. E. Chaney with the support of the city organization is seeking reelection over former Mayor E. M. McKay, who asked for the vote to return him for his fourth term.

Skulls were cracked, a number of precincts as workers for one side or the other wielded clubs freely. Hospitals reported several treated for minor hurts.

The national guards armed with machine guns, pistols, and rifles and heavy clubs left from Columbia as Governor Dave Sholtz ordered them to report to Sheriff W. C. Spencer.

Wayne County Told
It Needs A New Jail

Goldboro, Sept. 3.—Wayne county needs a new jail, according to recommendation of Warren H. Booker, director of the Division of Sanitary Engineering of the State Board of Health in letters to the Wayne county board of commissioners. Sheriff Paul Garrison, and Dr. G. F. Reeves, county health officer. Director Booker's recommendation followed an inspection of the Wayne jail about a week ago by E. B. Roach, district state inspector.

In Inspector Roach's report he states that the jail here is entirely inadequate to take care of the prisoners. Director Booker pointed out in his letters that the time is limited in which to take advantage of the PWA loan and grant for such construction work.

LEAF MARKET
PAYS OUT BIG AMOUNT HERE

$231,054.29 Released
To Farmers Of This
Belt In Tobacco
Town Yesterday

The Greenville tobacco market yesterday paid out more money to the farmers of this great bright leaf producing area than any other day since opening of the market the first of last week, it was revealed by official figures made public this morning by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales.

The market paid out a total of $231,054.29 for 1231,834 pounds of tobacco and the general market average was $18.76 a hundred.

The sale was the largest of the season with exception of the opening day when two million pounds from virtually all sections of the belt were offered here.

Mr. Cobb said virtually all of the 30-odd counties selling tobacco on this market were represented at yesterday's sales.

As customary since the market opened, common grades of leaf continued to predominate with prices described as a snail's pace during the closing day of last week.

The supervisor of sales said there was something like 1-1/4 million pounds of weed on the floors of the ten warehouses today with indications sales would be completed during the late afternoon in preparation for as heavy if not heavier offerings tomorrow.

The market the opening week sold around four million pounds of leaf and sales probably would have been much heavier had it not been for the rains which descended intermittently upon this part of the state during the last three sales days of the week.

If weather conditions are favorable to grading this week, it is believed sales will be considerably heavier than the previous week, especially after the good start made yesterday.

Mr. Cobb said that in spite of the predominance of common tobacco here, the leaf, grade for grade, sold as high, if not higher, than at any other market in the belt. The average here was not caused by low prices but from the vast quantities of trashy tobacco offered from day to day.

The quality of leaf offered here since the opening has been described by numbers of observers as the commonest in years, due mainly to unfavorable weather conditions which prevailed here at a period when the leaf was reaching a state of maturity.

Tobaccoists were confident there would be a pronounced upturn in the general market average when farmers begin offering better grades of tobacco.

Mills Resume Work
At Pelzer After Ter-

Mills Yesterday

Pelzer, S. C., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Bright bayonets of alert national guards flashing through cordons of steel had brought peace today to the embattled streets of the strike harassed Pelzer Manufacturing company where a mother was killed yesterday and a score wounded in a gunfire barrage to the accompaniment of reverberating dynamite.

The two plants which were closed yesterday after the sanguinary rioting opened today as usual at 6:30 o'clock without untoward incident and with what Superintendent J. F. Blackman said was a full force of 700 men. The mills, he said, normally employ 1400 workmen in two shifts. There was no picketing.

As military authorities took over the work of maintaining order several officers devoted themselves to a "roundup" of those alleged to have participated in the strike when strike pickets are alleged to have fired hundreds of bullets into the crowd of persons desiring to work.

G. W. Henson, 64, was in the county jail at Anderson charged with murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Bertha Kelly, young mother of two children who was among the first to fall as rifles, pistol and shotgun fire raked the area in front of the main plant while a similar skirmish was in progress at another plant some distance away.

Many Cars Carry
New Lights Today
After Test Conducted
On Highway

Many an automobile and truck carried new lights today as result of a check-up made by highway patrolmen on various highways leading to and from Greenville last night.

Stationing themselves on the outskirts of the city, the patrolmen halted scores of cars not carrying proper lights and saw to it that the operators had their lights properly adjusted before leaving.

Lester Jones, lieutenant of Troop A, with headquarters in Greenville, said the test last night was conducted principally for the instruction of the new patrolmen who began service yesterday as a part of the enlarged patrol ordered by the last legislature.

The check was under the direction of Sgt. Jackson, who saw to it that the men received plenty of experience, especially in view of the fact that more cars seemed to be

Campbell Sets New Speed Record

Sir Malcolm Campbell (inset) holder of the world land speed record, broke his own record in a run on the salt beds of Utah this morning. His average speed was 299.874 miles an hour. He sent his mighty Bluebird over the measured course at a slightly lower speed than during his first run yesterday.

DEPOSITORS
CLOSED BANK
TO GET MORE

Additional Dividend
To Be Paid Depositors
Of Old National Bank

Depositors of the National Bank of Greenville, which closed here in 1930 have already received the guaranteed 75 per cent of their money and will probably receive between $12,000 and $15,000 more bringing their total recovery of funds to close to 90 per cent. The final payment will bring the total received by depositors to between $350,000 and $375,000. This announcement was made by officers of State Bank and Trust Company, of this city, the institution that was organized after failure of the National Bank and took over assets of the closed bank guaranteeing the depositors 75 per cent of their money over a period of four years. State Bank officials last night also voted a two per cent quarterly dividend to its stockholders to be paid October 1 to stockholders on record September 25.

Immediately following the closing of the old National Bank local business men not wishing to have the institution go through the costly procedure of liquidation with large losses to the depositors, began steps to organize the new bank to take over the affairs of the closed institution. Under the plan the stockholders of the closed bank, instead of standing the loss of 100 per cent assessment on their stock paid $125,000 per share for stock in the new bank and the bank was opened with a capital stock of $100,000 and a surplus of $25 in August 1931. The four per cent dividend on the 75 per cent guarantee to depositors of the closed bank was made the 27th of July this year and the bank officers filed that there is still approximately $12,000 to $15,000 yet to be divided between the depositors of the old bank.

The new banking institution has made considerable progress since it began operations and in the four years has made a profit of approximately $60,000. Under the original setup the directors decided that no dividends would be paid to the stockholders until the bank had disposed of its obligation of a 75 per cent guarantee to the depositors of the old bank. In view of the recent settlement and the present condition of the bank the directors decided that it is now time for the stockholders to begin to receive dividends on their investment and the first dividend was voted last night. The institution at this time has a capital of $100,000, its original paid in surplus of $25,000, an earned surplus of $45,000 and $15,000 set aside for reserve.

According to tradition, Schenectady, N. Y., stands on the site of the chief village of the Mohawk Indians.

The weather bureau announced the hurricane passed out into the Gulf of Mexico early today, continuing on its way.

Before entering the Gulf the disturbance traversed a partly inhabited section of the Bahamas; mainland from which reports of the storm's effect were not immediately available because of isolation.

Final Rites For Woodrow Peaden Held At Falkland This Afternoon

Funeral services for Woodrow Peaden, 21-year-old Falkland young man, who died at the hospital here yesterday morning from injuries sustained at the hands of a hit-and-run driver, were conducted from his late home at Falkland this afternoon at 3 o'clock, as officers continued their effort to apprehend the driver of the death car.

The final rites were conducted by Rev. H. M. Wilson, pastor of the Farmville Presbyterian church and interment was made in the family burying ground near the home.

He is survived by his parents and several brothers and sisters, all residing in this part of the country. Peaden was fatally injured as he walked along the Greenville-Pinebluffs road, in Edgecombe county, about a mile from the Pitt county line Sunday morning about 4:00 o'clock. He was rushed to the local hospital for medical aid but died Sunday morning at 8 o'clock.

Conscious until he last died, Peaden's injuries, he told investigating officers the driver of the car failed to stop and sped on through the fog. Before he could get out of the road, a second car said to have been driven by a Mr. Black ran over his body. Black stopped and helped passengers rush the young man to the hospital.

An inquest was opened this morning at Falkland by Pitt and Edgecombe county coroners, but was continued indefinitely pending further investigation of the affair.

Mr. Black, second man to run over Peaden, said he road was so foggy he did not see the young man lying in the road until after he struck the body and got out to investigate. He helped passengers get the youth into a car and rush him to the hospital.

The jury held Blake blameless and said Peaden came to his death at the hands of a hit-and-run driver unknown to the jury.

Coroner A. A. Ellwanger, of Greenville, assisted Dr. Baby, of Tarboro, in conducting the inquest.

Ayden Aces Eliminate Greenies From Playing In Finals By Score 7-0

Crippled almost beyond hope of victory because of injuries and absent players who had been called back to college for football practice, Greenville was barred from participation in the championship series by Ayden yesterday afternoon by the tune of 7 to 0.

The leaders displayed little of the fire and determination that enabled them to finish the regular season at the top of the standing of clubs with several games to spare, and fell victims to the pitching of Lefty Upchurch, Ayden's premier hurler.

Reynolds May, former Duke university hurler, who last season enabled Greenville to pull the surprise of the year by defeating Kingston for the circuit flag, pitched as pretty ball as anybody wanted to see up to the seventh inning. But the best he could have done would have been futile. His teammates exhibited none of the dynamic stick work that marked every game in which they participated before the injury jinx overtook them and halted their victorious march. Murderers' row which had blasted the hopes of many of the best hurlers of the league throughout the season was strangely silent, as the Aydenites banged the ball vigorously during the latter stages of the game to put the game on the ice and win themselves a place in the post-season series with Kingston, scheduled to begin at Kingston this afternoon and alternate between the two towns until the best four-out-of-seven is realized.

The Greenies, in spite of their decreased power and speed, had managed to tie the count in the semifinals with Ayden. When the two clubs went to Snow Hill's neutral park yesterday they stood two-all for the honor of taking part in the championship race. Kingston, on the other hand, finished the argument last Saturday afternoon by winning their third straight game from Snow Hill—a club that had been expected to show much more power than they did in the clash with the Kingstonians who last season lost out to Greenville in the post season race in spite of the fact that they entered play a five to one favorite.

The semifinals proved the old saying "young never know what is going to happen in baseball" to the satisfaction of everybody everywhere. It completely upset the apocryphal of the entire league, switching the fourth place Ayden club and the second place Kingston club in the championship, and eliminating Greenville and the third place Snow Hill club.

Although the game was to have been played in Greenville, it was carried to Snow Hill at the suggestion of Ayden club officials who felt it would be fairer to their club at the time showing they had made against the leaders. A large crowd went to Snow Hill to see the lead go down in defeat and lose the flag which has flown so proudly over the local park for the past two seasons.

Greenville defeated Ayden the first season and Kingston the second and since that time the small piece of bunting has been flying saucily from the flagpole here, challenging the various teams which matched their strength against the Greenies during the intervening time.

With the fine showing made by the Greenies the first of the season, and in fact, until about a week before the close of the regular season when some of the best players were benched because of injuries, fans hereabouts had hopes of retaining the flag for another year. But as the semifinals proved, it is impossible to say what is going to happen in baseball, and all hope of the bunting remaining here was shattered when Ayden walked off the diamond with a 7-0 victory in their game.

But, other ball seasons are coming, and the Greenies will be found in there battling in an inspired way for what they get, just like they have always battled, giving more attention to a clean, fair brand of sport than to the desire to win at all costs.

Snow Hill, Sept. 3.—Labor Day was no holiday to Woodrow Upchurch, Ayden southpaw pitcher. Upchurch had pitched Sunday and had come through with a five-hit, one-run victory. That win evened his club with Greenville in the post-season battling, and Upchurch went back to the hill today in an effort to pitch victory in the deciding contest.

And he did. Once more the tall left-hander offered five-hit pitching, but this time he issued only four hits in the scoring column. His Ayden mates won 7-0, and thus advanced to a place with Kingston in the championship finals of the Coastal Plain League's odd playoff.

Upchurch was full master of the Greenies. Only one for advanced as far as third base—this happened in the second when Farley walked and Garbee singled. But May lifted a fly to right.

The losers' only other threats, if they might be called that, came in the fourth and seventh. The first batter in the fourth drew a walk, the next two went out, and then Upchurch issued another walk. But he breezed out of that predicament. Farley opened the seventh with a hit but was forced by Garbee. May hit to Upchurch, who errored. The Ayden flinger preserved his shut-out by striking out Barley, a pinch-hitter, and by getting Ambler via the fly route.

A crowd of 3,000 fans gathered at this neutral battleground to view the deciding battle, and the customers were treated to a good ball game even if the Aces won handily in the final count.

Reynolds May, Duke University athlete, turned in fine hurling for the visitors for seven innings. Over that route he almost matched Upchurch's airtight flinging. The Aces scored in the fourth—on hits by Knowles, Atkins, and Patrick, all after two were out—to account for all but one of the safeties made off May in seven stanzas. And that was the lone run until the Aces blew the lid off things in the eighth.

Six runs were counted in the eighth. Tatum and Knowles contributed singles, Atkins offered a double, and Patrick dropped in a triple to provide the telling knock in the big inning. A couple of walks, to Morris and Douglass, and an error helped.

The Greenies were minus Ace Parker, star outfielder who had to leave to report for football drills at Duke, and Max Stine, regular shortstop. Billy Huiskamp, outfielder, played shortstop. Pitchers looked after the outfield jobs.

Wayne Ambler, with a pair of singles, led Greenville. Ayden's leaders were Worliss Knowles, with two singles; Atkins, with a double and a single; Patrick, with a triple.

Yesterday's triumph was the 19th contributed by Upchurch to the Ayden cause this season. He won 17 games during the regular campaign. He lost to the Greenies in the opening contest of the semifinals.

REALTY HOLDS FIRM IN PITT

Market Here Healthy With Ten Transactions Reported In County Lately

There was little change in the realty market here during the past week and records in the office of the register of deeds today indicated that only 10 transfers were reported during the period.

However, with the coming of the winter season an improvement in the market was expected as people turn their attention to erection of new homes and other kinds of buildings during the early spring.

Although nothing like a boom has been experienced in the realty field here the past two years, the market has maintained a healthy tone with from a dozen to two dozen transactions being reported each week.

At one time, shortly after business began to climb out of the depression pit, exchanges were recorded at the rate of fifty or sixty a week. It probably will be a long time before another season like that rolls around again, but real estate men are watching the market attentively at this time, greeting each indication of improvement in residential property with pleasure.

With exception of one, all of the transactions reported here the past week involved small sums. The one, however, from W. G. Lang and wife to R. L. and F. M. Davis, involving four tracts of land in the Farmville area, carried a consideration of $6,500.

The remainder of the transactions ranged all the way from $1 to $250. They follow:

J. H. Higgs to Emily Moyer Hadley, 1 lot, $10.

R. B. Greene to Estelle Greene, 1 lot, $250.

Mary M. Savage to Jas. L. Savage, lot No. 1, $100.

J. F. Peed to G. W. Prescott, 1 lot, $10.

W. H. Wilson to Frank Wilson, 2 lots, $10.

W. G. Lang and wife to R. L. and F. M. Davis, 4 tracts, $6,500.

E. G. Flanagan and wife to Alonzo Taylor, 1 lot, $250.

Nellie Moyer, et als to James Sumrell, 1-2 A, $25.

John Hill Paylor to Elspeth A. Joyner, et als, 1 lot, $1.

R. A. Joyner and wife to Rosa B. Parker, 1 lot, $40.

PWA And WPA Applications Filed With Many Never Being Heard From Again

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

By J. C. BASKERVILL

Raleigh, Sept. 3.—Most state officials here are anything but excited over the last-minute drive of the Public Works Administration and the Works Progress Administration to get millions of dollars worth of additional projects into Washington before the deadline for new applications closes September 12 there, and September 5 here in North Carolina.

"What is the use of spending hours and hours of work, and in many cases spending hundreds of dollars on plans and estimates and what not, when the chances are that most of these projects will never be heard of again after they get to Washington," is the attitude most state officials here and many city and county officials over the state are taking. Many state departments have projects which have already been pending in Washington before either the PWA or the WPA for many weeks and in some cases for months and are just about convinced that the only way to get anything done is to go ahead and do it at state expense with state money or not at all.

"It is going to be almost impossible to get any project approved by the WPA in Washington for North Carolina that amounts to anything more than ditch-digging, privy-building, leaf-raking or boondoggling for the reason that they already have made such big allotments to the more politically important states that nothing but crumbs are left for the southern states," one state official who has just returned from several days in Washington said today. "For now that so much of the money has been used up and already allotted to other states, they have had to reduce the average per man per year so that it is really worth while projects can now be undertaken."

"The real facts are that most of the WPA staff in Washington formerly were connected with the old Emergency Relief Administration and are still wedded to the old CWA ideas of leaf-raking and boondoggling rather than really worthwhile projects. There is also a tremendous amount of political jealousy between the PWA under Secretary Ickes and the WPA under Harry Hopkins, with the result that the tendency in the WPA is to turn thumbs down on any project that comes over from the PWA which Ickes approval already on it."

"Another trouble with the WPA in Washington is that it is so loaded down with political job holders and sentimental social workers who

ENGLAND AGAINST HAILE'S GRANT

England turned "thumbs down" on a reported vast oil grant (shown in shaded area of map below) by Emperor Haile Sellassie in Ethiopia to an English-American company for exploitation, stating the deal could not be negotiated without consultations among Italy, France and Britain under treaty of 1906. The project was negotiated by Francis M. Rickett (top left), British promoter. John A. Brown (top right) is president of the Socony-Vacuum Oil company of America, which is said to control the American and British interests taking over the land. Meanwhile Mussolini announced Italy cannot be halted by political trickery and prepared for 200,000 more men to don uniforms. (Associated Press Photos)

Harper-Duval.
The marriage of Miss Gladys Virginia Duval and Dr. Frank Trumbo Harper was solemnized in an impressive ceremony at noon today in Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church. The church was beautifully decorated. Against a background of long leaf pine and ferns were placed baskets of Ascension lilies tied with maline, carrying out a white and green color scheme.

As the guests assembled Mrs. R. A. Tyson, wearing a gown of rose crepe with white accessories and a shoulderette of pink roses and valley lilies, played a program of nuptial music, including "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," by Herbert, and "Liebestraum," by Liszt.

Proceeding the ceremony, Mrs. J. H. Waldrop sang "Because," by DeHardenlot, and "Until," by Sanderson. Mrs. Waldrop wore a gown of navy blue crepe with shoulderette of pink roses and valley lilies.

As the bridal party entered the church, Mrs. Tyson played the Bridal Chorus from the opera Lohengrin, and during the ceremony she softly played "To A Wild Rose," by McDowell.

First to enter were the ushers, Dr. Merle Bonner, superintendent of the Guilford County Sanatorium, Jamestown, and Dr. C. W. Goodwin, resident physician of the Tayloe Hospital, Washington. They were followed by the maid of honor, Miss Doris Duval, sister of the bride. Miss Duval wore a stunning dress of brown crepe, trimmed in gold with matching accessories, and carried an arm bouquet of tansy and roses tied with gold chiffon.

The bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a most becoming model, the blouse was of rust velvet with belt of gold, and the skirt was of brown crepe. Her accessories were brown suede and her flowers a corsage of orchids and valley lilies. The groom entered with his brother, George Harper, of Kinston, as best man.

Dr. Gilbert R. Combs, pastor of the church, united them in marriage, using the ring ceremony. As the wedding party left the church Mrs. Tyson played the Wedding March by Mendelssohn.

Mrs. J. O. Duval, mother of the bride, wore a gown of blue crepe, and Mrs. F. T. Harper, mother of the bridegroom, black chiffon and crepe. Their flowers were shoulder clusters of deep pink roses.

Mrs. Harper is the attractive and popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Duval. She was educated in the city schools and Massey's Business College, Richmond, Va. For the past two years she has been secretary to the superintendent of city schools. Since the announcement of her engagement she has been honored at a number of social affairs.

Dr. Harper, formerly of Kinston, is the son of Mrs. F. T. Harper of Kinston, and the late F. T. Harper. He received his B. S. degree from the University of North Carolina and his medical degree from the Medical College of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia. At present he is assistant superintendent and resident physician of the Guilford County Sanatorium at Jamestown.

Immediately following the ceremony, Dr. and Mrs. Harper left for a wedding trip. On their return they will make their home in Jamestown, North Carolina.

Out of town guests here for the wedding included Mrs. J. E. Timberlake, Enfield; Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Jones, Jacksonville; Mr. and Mrs. George Grace, Morganton, West Va.; Misses Mildred Enock, Carrie McGirt, Ruth Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Mayes, Jamestown; Mr. and Mrs. Julius Slater, Mrs. Ella Temple, Kinston; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Andleton and Misses Nettie and Edith Timberlake, Enfield; Mr. and Mrs. John F. Duval, Sanford; Miss Nettie Whitehead, Miss Edith Whitehead, Enfield; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rush, Kinston.

Reception For Wedding Party.
Last night following the rehearsal for the Harper-Duval wedding, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Duval entertained informally, members of the wedding party and out of town guests.

The home was attractively decorated, carrying out the bridal motif of green and white.

On arrival guests were registered by Mrs. R. L. Coleman and Miss Helen Fleming served punch. In the dining room the table was covered with a cloth of lace and centered with the wedding cake, circled with trailing clematis. Silver baskets of white roses tied with maline and white candles in silver holders were placed at either end.

Mrs. Duval assisted by Mrs. W. S. Dall, Miss Margaret Ward and Miss Elizabeth Kasey, served a green and white ice course with salted nuts and mints.

Much merriment was caused by cutting the wedding cake.

Among the guests were Dr. and Mrs. G. R. Combs, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Tyson, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Waldrop, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wilkerson, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. operating last night without lights than any other time recently.

Then also the patrolmen gave their attention to several persons who left and entered the city at too fast a rate of speed. The violators were warned in this instance with the admonition that a second violation would result in indictment.

Forty men have been assigned to this patrol group. They had been in training at Raleigh since last June and began service yesterday. After receiving actual experience at headquarters here they will be assigned to strategic points in this part of the state with orders to more stringently enforce highway legislation than ever in an effort to reduce the toll of death.

Lieut. Jones said this morning he was gratified with the showing made by the men in their initial training performance last night and felt confident they would be able to render a high type of service to the communities where they are to be stationed.

more trouble than any other form of crime during the last several months, and scores of persons either have paid heavy fines and had their licenses revoked from three months to a year or sent to the roads.

There has been very little improvement in the situation despite court action, and scores of persons have been killed in this part of the state alone in recent years because of drunken drivers at the steering wheel.

Court had just completed its summer vacation of one month when Superior court began sitting. However it managed to clear its slate and be in readiness for the rush always expected to come in the wake of inactivity for such a period.

With the harvest season about over, not nearly as much trouble as usual is expected to be encountered work should be rushed forward in getting witnesses into court, and much more rapidly today and tomorrow than prior to the court vacation when farm activities were at their height and it was almost impossible to get either defendants or witnesses into court without imposing a great hardship upon the growers.

Remodeled Penney Store Is Ready For New Business Now
The remodeling work on the J. C. Penney Company store at 315 Evans street has been completed.

Over 2,000 square feet of selling space has been added by the construction of an entire new balcony which will be given over exclusively to ready-to-wear. The additional space on the main floor has been rearranged to permit a more extensive showing of shoes, and men's and women's furnishings. As it now stands, Penney's is one of the most attractive and up-to-date shopping centers in this section. Departments are well arranged, with allied lines of merchandise grouped conveniently together and plenty of "elbow room" around the busy spots.

The entire Penney staff is busily engaged arranging the large shipments of merchandise specially ordered for the fall and winter season.

C. P. Earhart has managed the Penney store here since 1925. He has been associated with the Penney Company for 18 years and is thoroughly familiar with the buying habits and wants of the people of this section. Under his capable guidance the Greenville store has enjoyed a steadily increasing volume of business.

ALLEGED KIDNAPERS HELD IN TENNESSEE
Greensboro, Sept. 3.—Sheriff Joe Phipps said today that Knoxville, Tenn., police, have advised him that they have under arrest Carl Barber and Harman Messer, who have been wanted here since July 12.

The two young white men are suspects in the kidnapping of M. A. Bowman at his filling station 10 miles north of Greensboro. He was forced at pistol point from his garage, taken to a pine woods some miles away, robbed of over $50 and his watch and pistol, and then was left tied to a tree, it is alleged.

Barber and Messer are being held for London, Tenn., authorities on charges of highway robbery and assault with intent to kill.

In addition, a large number of acres of beans and other late summer and early fall crops were flooded by several inches of water or, in some instance, washed away. Mr. Dillard made a survey of the county, visiting several sections.

The amount of loss to be suffered by the planters will depend, to a great extent, on market prices for the fall produce.

TEXTILE WORKER DIES IN MILL STORE FIGHT

Ellen, S. C., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Eugene Faulkner, 30-year-old textile worker who came here six months ago from Roseboro, N. C., was stabbed to death at a mill village store here yesterday in a fight, allegedly with Stanley Hamilton, who was lodged in jail.

Witnesses told a coroner's jury that Hamilton and Faulkner had disagreed in a poker game, and that Hamilton attacked Faulkner when they met in the store. They said Hamilton plunged the knife into Faulkner's side, and was himself slightly cut during the ensuing fight in which Faulkner received numerous serious wounds. The victim was said to have been unarmed.

YOUTH CONFESSES KILLING TASHJIAN

Elizabeth City, Sept. 3.—Solving a mystery that has puzzled Elizabeth City and Virginia police for two weeks, Edward White, 17-year-old high school student, today confessed that he killed John Tashjian, Armenian watchmaker of Elizabeth City.

Tashjian's body, the head pierced from the rear by a bullet, was found beside his automobile on a lonely road in Norfolk County, Va., early on the morning of August 18.

In an oral confession, made after three hours of questioning, White declared that the shooting occurred in a struggle with Tashjian, who was said by the boy to have made improper and repulsive advances.

The Armenian threatened his life when he would not submit to his proposals, declared White, who waived extradition to Virginia and was returned to Norfolk County for a hearing Friday in Portsmouth.

SOME CITIES NOT PLEASED ABOUT ROADS

Six Municipalities Dissatisfied With Allotments By Highway Commission

Reflector Bureau, Raleigh, Sept. 3.—Only six cities and towns out of more than 200 in the state to which the State Highway and Public Works Commission has already made tentative allotment of funds for street maintenance from the $500,000 set aside for this purpose by the 1935 general assembly, are still dissatisfied and protesting the allotments, Chairman Capus M. Wayne of the commission said today. And most of these six cities and towns have raised some valid points in connection with their protests so that there is a possibility that some alterations may be made, Wayne indicated.

These six cities and towns are Charlotte, Asheville, Gastonia, Lenoir, Greensboro and North Wilkesboro.

"When the representatives of the various cities and towns who conferred with us here finally realized that under the law we could not allot any money for any streets other than those already marked as routes for state highways, and that we could not allot funds for maintenance of other streets that might be used by through-traffic or around the city traffic unless they were already marked as official routes, most of the objectors finally admitted they were satisfied," Wayne said.

"All of the representatives of the cities and towns were very pleasant in outlining their objections and we had a fine meeting. We put our cards on the table with them, went over the law together and by the time the meeting was over every one was pretty well satisfied, leaving only six cities and towns not yet entirely satisfied. We hope to work out an adjustment very shortly that will prove satisfactory to every one."

While it is not possible to allot any of this street maintenance fund to any streets not marked as routes for state highways, the Highway Commission has the authority to designate new routes as additional routes through cities and towns, and if and when this is done, it will be able to allot funds for the maintenance of the streets traversed by these additional routes, Wayne pointed out. This may be the means of taking care of some of the objections of some of these six cities, especially Charlotte, Wayne hinted.

A Washington Daybook

By ROBERT BLUMBER
Washington.—Uncle Sam already has begun his annual tremendous job of acquainting the people of the nation of what has been done in the way of new laws by the 74th congress.

More and more bills are being passed each year. It is estimated that some 500 pages will be required to index new legislation enacted since January 3. And some 3,000 large pages will be necessary to print the text of the new laws.

The task of compiling and indexing the statutes at large passed by congress rests on the shoulders of the historical adviser of the state department, Hunter Miller.

The legal section of Miller's office does the actual work. The historical adviser also has the responsibility of seeing that the original law—bearing the signatures of the Speaker of the house, the Vice President and President—is preserved carefully.

Many Copies Made
These original pieces of legislation, printed on parchment of 100 per cent rag, are sent to the state department immediately after the President affixes his signature.

The editor of the laws of congress in the legal section of the historical adviser's office first gets four copies of each law from the government printing office. Each of these copies is certified as a true copy of the original. Then one is sent to the bureau of the budget, another to the treasury, the third to the general accounting office and the fourth to the public printer.

A special proof with broad margins is run off for the state department. In these margins each law is classified, summarized, annotated and catalogued.

Laws Executed 500
When the corrected proof is returned to the office of the historical adviser the marginal references are checked to previous volumes. This done the copy goes once again to the public printer for plating. The plating is checked with the second revised copy at the state department then it goes back to the printer for binding.

The secretary of state must produce a bound volume of laws enacted at each session at the end of that session. The 73rd congress required two volumes.

Astrid's Story Book Romance

Statecraft Had No Hand In Leopold's Wooing Of Late Queen

(By The Associated Press)

Astrid, Nordic queen of the Belgians, who met death when the car which her husband was driving plunged into a Swiss mountain lake, didn't wish to wear a crown.

Suzanne Silvercruy's daughter of the chief justice of Belgium, related that shortly after the royal betrothal was announced the then Princess Astrid said to her:

"I love him, but I was just afraid to become a queen."

A Plain Citizen.

The remark was in explanation of another statement, that she had said, "no" to Leopold's pleading three times within three weeks. Their marriage took place November 10, 1926.

The wooing of the dark-haired Swedish princess by the heir to the Belgium throne read like a story book romance. Albert, King of the Belgians, who fell to his death from a cliff near Namur, Belgium, in February, 1934, said at the time of the marriage that Leopold had chosen his wife without benefit of statecraft.

It was related that when Leopold would a-wooing go, he dressed in the plainest of "civies," boarded a third-class railway coach at Brussels and proceeded to the Swedish royal family's summer home as if he were a plain citizen.

Maybe a Butler.

He would carry his own valise from the station to the royal estate and the villagers, noting the frequent comings and goings of the quietly dressed young man, thought he was a butler or pantryman, traveling back and forth from the chateau to the royal palace at Stockholm.

There were almost no whisperings of the royal romance until Astrid and Leopold themselves announced it.

Astrid was noted for her democratic simplicity. A trait which has been fostered in Sweden's reigning family. She, like all her sisters, was trained in the domestic arts and she also was schooled as a Red Cross nurse.

Astrid, queen of the Belgians, who was killed recently when the car in which she was riding plunged into a Swiss lake, is seen here with Prince Albert, her youngest child. The picture was taken late in the spring.

Prince is Born.

Typical of her outlook was the fact that while her first child, Princess Josephine Charlotte, was a baby, the future queen often was seen pushing a baby carriage along the shady Avenue Louise in Brussels, a favorite promenade for young mothers of the Belgian capital.

Princess Josephine Charlotte was born October 11, 1927. There was considerable notice taken of the event, but this rejoicing paled in comparison with the acclaim when Prince Baudouin appeared September 7, 1930. This youngster was named Duke of Brabant and heir to the throne after the death of his grandfather, King Albert. Queen Astrid's third child, Prince Albert was born June 6, 1934.

STUDENTS TO GET SOME AID

Those Seeking Funds From Federal Source Should Apply To Schools Attended

Reflector Bureau, Raleigh, Sept. 3.—Students who think they are eligible to receive aid from the National Youth Administration to help them attend college or high school this year, should make their applications direct to the president of the college or the principal of the school they plan to attend rather than to the state director here, C. E. McIntosh, State Director of the N. C. Youth Administration said here today. For all the state office here does is to allot the money to the various colleges and schools which are approved. A committee at each college will determine applicants are eligible and how much aid each will receive, McIntosh said.

There are now 53 colleges which we have approved and there will probably be 57 in all, to which funds will be allotted by the Youth Administration to help students who otherwise would not be able to stay in school this year. McIntosh said. "In addition, funds will be allotted to many other schools of sub college grade, including virtually all the high schools, to help students of sub-college training to stay in school."

This aid will be extended to students which are in non-profit schools and colleges only, with the result the business colleges, private schools and colleges operated for profit will not be able to participate, McIntosh said. But all state operated schools and all other schools and colleges of a non-profit nature will be able to participate.

In order to be eligible, a student must furnish proof that he or she will not be able to attend college or high school this year without this aid and also that they must be able to do good work in school. Each school or college will determine what it considers "good work."

College students who are approved for this aid will receive up to $20 a month from the Youth Administration funds, but less if it is decided they can get along on less than that. Those of sub-college grade will receive up to $6 a month, but this also may be scaled down to their actual needs.

New York Cotton

New York, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady unchanged to 2 higher on buying. Trade houses demanded small offers. Offerings increased after the call with little more hedging coming from South. Demand was limited. Prices eased off to 1027 for October and 1043 for May to decline of 2 to 6 points but there was enough trade demand to hold prices steady at these levels.

The market held steady around midday with October ruling around 1023 and May 1046 or 3 points higher to 3 points net lower. Futures closed steady 2 to 8 lower.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Opinion as well as prices were decidedly mixed in today's stock market. Some traders may have spent a little more over the extended holiday than they had intended and these came down to the board rooms in a profit taking mood. There were other, however, who discretely bought specialties and it was noted that the turnover contracted appreciably under realizing.

Grain and cotton backed and held in restricted range. Bonds exhibited in decisive trend and foreign exchanges were quiet. Rubber futures were heavy in sympathy with the industry in London. The late tone was irregular. Transfers were 100,000 shares.

Late News Flash

B. Ghent, director of the Jacksonville veterans relief.
Director Ghent told the newspaper that only one building still remained standing after the storm.
There are some reports of missing persons and Ghent said he knew of a number had been injured.
The town is a small settlement of about 100 families about 65 miles south of Miami.
Twenty or 30 miles of railroad track has been washed out in the section, he said. Ghent said he would not express at this time his opinion regarding the condition of 900 former service men quartered south of the watch house in the cars of the train in the Keys last night.
Worse than the storm of 1926 at Miami Beach was the way Ghent described the wreckage left in the wake of last night's storm. He was at the beach in 1926.
Whale Harbor, a small fishing village, is no more, Ghent reported. The Homestead section where Florida's citrus crop was already for shipment, was damaged to a disastrous extent.

Capture Negro Assassin
Lumberton, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Jim Watson, 38, negro farm hand, charged with attempted assault a month ago on the four-year-old daughter of H. B. Bruton, Roberson county farmer, was arrested early today at a negro house near Fairmont and brought to jail here.
Acting on a tip that Watson was in the home of Avery Powell, negro, Roberson county officers and state highway patrolmen went to the place at 3 a. m. and took him into custody.
Watson was said to be suffering from fresh wounds inflicted two weeks ago when he was fired on by a group of citizens who came on him on the highway near Lumberton.
At the time he was the object of one of the largest manhunts ever staged in this county.
The negro fled from his home on August 17 after the child told her father of the alleged attempt assault two weeks previously. For two days posse scoured the country with the aid of bloodhounds but Watson escaped them.

May Prevent War.
(By The Associated Press)
Diplomats at Geneva said the League of Nations may ask Premier Mussolini and Italy and Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia to promise not to resort to war to settle their dispute.
Small nations were reported as worried about their future in the league. A New York broker, Leo Chertoff said he was fully prepared to exercise his option on a concession of oil land and lumber rights in Ethiopia. Since the time of the deal was not made public it was impossible to determine whether the concession was in conflict with that signed last week by Prince M. Rickett, Italian governor and Emperor Selassie also for oil and mineral rights.
Secretary Hull announced in Washington that the concession granted by the Ethiopian government to the African exploration and development corporation would play no part whatever in the attitude of the United States toward Italian-Ethiopian situation.
Britain moved faster in reinforcement of her air and military forces at Malta, the nerve center of the Mediterranean.

Wellington, N. Z.—(AP)—New Zealand is buying more American automobiles, an indication of returning prosperity, according to business circles. For the six months ending with June, exports totalled $135,545,000 and imports $83,590,000 giving a substantial trade balance.

So Mild! YOU CAN SMOKE ALL YOU WANT

I'M FUSSY ABOUT MILDNESS. CAMELS ARE SO MILD THEY DON'T GET MY WIND. I LIKE THE 'LIFT' I GET WITH A CAMEL

STORE EXECUTIVE—Dorothy Smart Bill

I FOLLOW THE CHAMPIONS' CHOICE AND SMOKE CAMELS. EVEN WHEN I SMOKE LOADS, CAMELS DON'T JANGLE MY NERVES OR IRRITATE MY THROAT

ILLUSTRATOR—Jean Miller Spades

Champion swimmers speak with authority when they discuss sound wind—healthy nerves—and Camels. Buster Crabbe, champion in the 400-meter free-style Olympic event, says: "I have smoked Camels for years. If you go in for sports at all, I'd advise Camels. You'll find, as I did, that Camels are so mild they never get your wind or cut your endurance."

What Buster Crabbe says is confirmed by Helene Madison; by Jane Fauntz, the Chicago girl who rose to Olympic fame; and by Stubby Kruger and Josephine McKim. So turn to Camels. Enjoy those costlier tobaccos in Camel's matchless blend. Smoke all you wish. Athletes say, "Camels don't disturb your nerves or wind."

I SMOKE CAMELS. TOO THEY ARE MILD. DON'T UPSET MY 'CONDITION' AND CAMELS TASTE SO MUCH BETTER!

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.
