Body Of Huey Long Lies In State As La. Pays Homage

BURIAL FOR A GREAT LEADER BEING PLANNED

Dictator's Remains Placed In Rotunda $5,000,000 State House to Receive Honor of Populace; National Guardsmen and University Cadets Honor Guard; Burial Thursday

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Dynamic, fervid Huey P. Long, swept from the peak of power by an assassin's bullet, lay in death today, amid the monument of his lengthy political reign over Louisiana's affairs.

This stunned capital city, scene of his unprecedented drive to domination in an American state, his masterful legislative coups that made him a dictator, his use of the militia to force his will, turned out to pay homage at his bier and gave him a leader's burial.

The rotunda of the ornate $5,000,000 state capitol here built to a height of 33 stories as governor, was chosen as the place for his body to lie in state, surrounded by a guard of honor of national guardsmen and a special detail of 24 of his beloved Louisiana State University cadets, from 1:00 p. m. today until time for his funeral at 4:00 p. m. Thursday.

He will be buried on the state house lawn in the slim, graceful shadow of the capitol citadel.

CHILDREN MUST GO TO SCHOOL

Welfare Department Announces All Children From 7 to 14 Must Enroll

Children between the ages of seven and fourteen years are required by law to attend the public schools of their community, it was announced today by K. T. Futrell, director of the Pitt County Department of Public Welfare.

In making the announcement the welfare head expressed the hope that full cooperation would be given in his department in all communities to the end that no child will be deprived of the right to attend school.

The announcement received by the Daily Reflector today follows:

This notice is to inform the general public that all children between the ages of seven and fourteen years of age are required by law to attend the public school in the community in which they reside while the school is in session in their respective communities. Parents and guardians of children that fall within the provisions of the compulsory attendance law will please take notice to the end that children be provided with the necessary clothing and books for them to attend the public school.

The principal or superintendent of the school may excuse any child coming under the provision of the law for temporary non-attendance for various reasons. The rural schools open on Thursday, Sept. 12, and every child between the ages of 7 and 14 will be expected to enroll during the first five days of school. Principals and teachers have been asked to report the non-attendance of all children who come within the provision of the law to the Attendance Officer at the close of the first week.

It is hoped that full cooperation will be given in the several communities to the end that no children will be deprived of their right to attend school.

During the first seven months of 1935, business and residential construction in Norfolk, Va., was greater than the combined totals of 1933 and 1934.

HEMBY FAILS TO RECOVER IN SUIT HERE

T. M. Gorman and Flanagan Buggy Co. Not Held Responsible for Accident

C. L. Hemby failed to recover in his $10,000 damage suit against T. M. Gorman and the John Flanagan Buggy Company in the civil term of Superior court here late yesterday when a jury returned a decision holding the plaintiff responsible for any damage or injury he may have suffered in the accident leading up to the action.

The case, begun with the opening of court Monday morning, was received by the jury at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and a decision was returned last night about 9 o'clock.

Instead of allowing Hemby damages, the jury was said to have found him guilty of negligence responsible for injuries he claimed to have suffered when his car crashed into the rear of another machine driven by Gorman on the Ayden-Kinston highway, between Ayden and Grifton, in December 1933. Hemby was said to have been operating his car at a high rate of speed when he crashed into the (Continued on Page Five)

PLAN TO OPEN SECOND LIQUOR STORE IN CITY

Negotiations, However, Temporarily Stalled by Inability to Find Building

The Pitt County ABC board today was considering plans for establishment of a second liquor store in Greenville, but negotiations had temporarily been stalled today by inability to obtain a suitable location, it was announced this morning by C. O. H. Horne, chairman of the board.

The county's fifth store was opened at Bethel last Saturday and reports today indicated good business was experienced during the three days the place has been open.

Bethel was the only township in the county that voted against establishment of legal whiskey stores when the county-wide election was held on the question about three months ago. Since that time, however, another election has been held and the proposal to establish a store carries by a good majority, G. G. Murrell is the manager.

Despite the fact that establishment of a second store here is being temporarily halted by inability of the board to find a proper location, Mr. Horne said members of his board were still attempting to find a building that would meet their requirements and hoped to be able to make a definite announcement in the next several days.

Liquor stores in all sections of the county have enjoyed splendid business since they were opened nearly two months ago, and although a complete report of their activities has not yet been made public, it was announced at the last meeting of the Board of County Commissioners that a condensed report would be made in a short time.

Stores are located at Greenville, Farmville, Ayden, Fountain and Bethel. Receipts have been larger at the Greenville store than the remainder due to the fact that it has a larger territory to draw from and the town is several times larger than any of the others.

Late News Flashes

Three Wounded In Gun Fight. St. Louis, Sept. 11.—(AP)—State Representative Lawrence J. Fontana and two policemen were wounded this afternoon in a shooting affray that started in the recorder's office at St. Louis city hall.

The building was thrown into confusion as police chased Fontana through the corridors and finally wounded him in the hip.

Jonathan Painter and Arthur Sullivan, members of the police department, were wounded. All were rushed to a city hospital.

The cause of the shooting was not learned immediately. Witnesses said Fontana and a deputy city marshal entered the office of John T. English, recorder of deeds, and a few minutes later several shots were heard.

Much Tobacco At Fairmont. Fairmont Sept. 12.—(AP)—Tobacco was selling here today at an estimated average of $20 a hundred, with 60,000 pounds on the floors. Most grades were poor.

RECEIPTS OF BRIGHT LEAF STILL HEAVY

Official Report Shows 1,239,106 Pounds of Leaf Sold in City Yesterday

Torrential rain which fell in this section of the state the last two days failed to halt sales on the local tobacco market yesterday, and the official report of K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales, issued today showed receipts for the day were 1,239,106 pounds. Farmers were paid $224,128.65 and the general market average was $18.09.

Sales were relatively lighter today but it was indicated there was nearly a million pounds on the floors of the ten warehouses. Sales are expected to be completed during the mid-afternoon when tobacco men will turn their attention to the reception of heavier offerings tomorrow and Friday, barring unfavorable weather, of course, which has cut sharply into offerings most of the season.

Continued offering of common grade tobacco was noted on the various warehouse floors yesterday, and the price situation was described as firm in the face of a type of tobacco which has done much to depress the general market average throughout the season.

With the coming of improved weather both offerings and prices are expected to show a pronounced gain. It has been hoped for several days there would be a let up in the poor quality of tobacco, but so far sales have been marked by tremendous amounts of leaf lacking both body and color and this has been largely responsible for the average existing here.

Observers are firm in their contention that taking the situation grade by grade the price trend in Greenville is as high, if not higher, than any other market in the state, especially in those sections where the crop has been described as the best in years.

Another appeal to farmers to hold common tobacco selling below six cents a pound was made yesterday by the governing Council of the East Carolina Tobacco Warehouse agreement. This came in the wake of a similar appeal issued several days ago by the governing board of the federal crop control movement in this county, but as yet little effect has been realized from the movement.

Farmers from a radius of many miles continue to appear on the local market daily and have expressed appreciation of the tremendous facilities which Greenville has provided for the handling of the great money crop of this part of the country. Ten warehouses and nine giant factories along with the simultaneous operation of five sales daily have given Greenville an enviable position in the bright leaf world, and as in past years growers from a great distance have been attracted here with their offerings.

PITT SCHOOLS READY TO OPEN ON THURSDAY

Director Donald Conley Looking for One of the Best Years in History

After enjoying their usual summer vacation, Pitt county school children will make their annual pilgrimage back to the schoolroom tomorrow morning to take up where they left off last year the arduous duties of obtaining an education.

Donald Conley, director of public instruction in this county, who announced the list of teachers of the various schools last Monday, said today everything was in shape for each school to move off smoothly on its annual grind.

Flourishing in the opening will be 13 white and 54 negro schools located in all sections of the county, even in the most remote areas.

Because of a rule of the State School Commission permitting the enrollment of children six years of age by January 15, Conley said the largest attendance figures in the annals of the county were expected to be recorded in virtually every community. This, added to the average increase of attendance, is expected to swell total enrollment to such extent that a more serious extent than ever before.

One hundred and eighty-three teachers will have charge of the task of educating the youth of the land in white schools and 133 will take up a similar task in colored institutions. The white faculty is scheduled to be swelled by two additional teachers to be placed at Arthur later, the school head said.

Because of the early opening of schools in Pitt, the State School Commission has exempted the county from the rental textbook plan ordered by the last legislature. While Pitt resumes study of the same books used last year, other centers of the state will be struggling with the new book plan attempting to convert chaos into order.

A number of new teachers will be seen in some of the communities this year, but in the majority of instances the same faculty used last year will be back on the job more determined than ever to cling tenaciously to the splendid record established last year.

Announcing the teachers list the first of the week, Conley called on patrons in all parts of the county to cooperate with school forces in making the year the best in history. He asked students to also give attention to the task at hand and make it possible for teachers to render a higher type of service than ever before.

Conley said he was optimistic for the future in spite of the congestion caused by swelled attendance figures, but hoped to get organized in a few days and have things rolling along in an orderly manner.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

News Behind The News.

Washington. By RAY TUCKER

SHIFT: The National Coal Association's acceptance of the Guffey bill has weakened the operators in their negotiations for a new agreement with the United Mine Workers. It may—or may not—remove the threat of a major strike from the White House doorstep.

At first the great Mellon coal interests endorsed the Guffey proposal. But when they couldn't get what they wanted—elimination of submarginal mines and rivals—they backed out. Counsel Don Rose advised that the bill was unconstitutional, though he held otherwise of the record. Anti-Mellon interests made capital of this discrepancy. Suddenly the Mellon group adopted a neutral attitude. The miners

FOUR BANDITS WANTED HERE BEHIND BARS

One Gangster Wounded in Gunfight with Raleigh Officers Last Night

Chief of Police George Clark left for Raleigh this morning to take part in the questioning of four heavily armed men arrested by capital city officers in a spectacular uptown raid last night in which one of the bandits was wounded.

Some of the men are believed to have figured in the attempted robbery of two stores here about two or three months ago and the wounding of Policeman John Mobley in an exchange of gunfire between the bandits and the officer.

Those held are Clarence Hamilton, ex-convict and notorious bootlegger, of Raleigh, shot through the thigh by one of the officers as he reached for his gun; Coley Cain and Roy Faison of Raleigh, and William Jones of Ahoskie.

Raleigh officers said the men, rounded up are believed to be remnants of the gang of Worth "Dick" Proctor who is now serving a term in state prison. Proctor and his gang were captured in a raid at Rocky Mount about 18 months ago.

Roy Henderson of High Point, alleged to be a former member of the same gang, was arrested by Wake county officers at Garner, near Raleigh, last Monday night, along with Annie Bell Hight, 18, of Durham. Both were placed in jail pending investigation by Raleigh and other Eastern Carolina authorities.

YOUTH HURT IN CAR WRECK

James Simpson Sustains Broken Shoulder in Accident Here Last Night

James Dudley Simpson, son of J. D. Simpson, manager of the local express office, received a broken shoulder and other injuries last night when the car in which he was riding turned turtle as it attempted to turn at the corner of Elizabeth and Ward streets.

The young man was rushed to the local hospital where he was reported to be getting along favorably today in spite of considerable pain caused by the injury.

Carl Langley Jr., the driver of the machine, escaped injury although he was reported to have suffered from painful bruises and shock.

Investigating officers said the machine evidently attempted to make the corner at a too high rate of speed and turned a complete somersault before coming to a stop. Passersby attracted by the noise of the wreck rushed to aid the young men in extricating themselves from the automobile which was said to have been considerably damaged.

No action was taken in view of the fact that the crash was declared by investigating officers to have been unavoidable.

Both highway patrolmen and city officers arrived upon the scene but the investigation was turned over to city authorities due to the accident having happened in the city limits.

Report of Committee Shows 99 Percent of Growers Already Signed

The thirty-eight township committees engaged in the new tobacco control sign-up in this county made their report to County Agent E. F. Arnold last night. The report revealed that more than 99 percent of the farmers living in the townships had signed the new 1935-39 tobacco contract. When the fact is taken into consideration that 2,438 farmers on receipt of notices that their contracts were prepared and in the hands of their local committees, voluntarily went to them and signed within four days, it is evidence beyond question that the rank and file of farmers in Pitt county are enthusiastically behind the AAA program.

The few remaining contracts of absentee landlords will be secured by the committees by the last of the week and it is the belief of these committees that by Saturday night Pitt county will have a complete sign-up of all growers in the county.

All of the committees expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the response made by the farmers in their respective townships. The county committee expected (Continued on Page Four)

Pitt Leaf Growers Ask 35 Percent Acreage Cut

Pitt county farmers today had signed a petition calling on the tobacco crop control administration, to apply the maximum 35 percent reduction in tobacco acreage in 1936, it was revealed in a report released this morning by E. F. Arnold, director of the Pitt County Farm Department.

Under the terms of the new four year federal control contract already signed by 99 percent of the tobacco growers of this county, the tobacco administration is authorized to cut acreage to 35 percent if conditions in the industry at anytime are found unfavorable to the growers.

In the petition signed by 1,407 farmers in 11 townships of the county, it is declared that the signers feel "that growers are not receiving a just price for this crop" and that by making a cut, you could permit growers to sell at their poundage made under their contracts without driving prices below a fair and equitable return to the farmers.

It was said at the farm department along with issuance of the petition that more than two thousand growers are expected to sign the petition urging J. H. Hutson, tobacco code administrator, to make sufficient deductions in acreage to create an active market and thereby secure equitable prices for tobacco offered.

The petition follows: "To be Hon. John B. Hutson, Tobacco Administrator, Washington, D. C. Dear Sir:

We, the undersigned, have signed 1935-39 tobacco contracts and urge that you apply the maximum thirty-five percent cut in the tobacco acreage in 1936.

We feel that the growers are not receiving a just price for this crop, and feel that by making a maximum cut, you could permit growers to sell at their poundage made under their contracts without driving the prices below a fair and equitable return to the farmers. Respectfully submitted."

Delegation Told Only $40,000,000 Additional Money Now Due N. C.

Washington, Sept. 11.—(AP)—North Carolina today faced the problem of making $40,000,000 meet its federal works relief program which already totals $96,000,000 in proposed PWA and WPA projects.

A delegation from the state was told by Works Progress Administrator Harry L. Hopkins that the state's proportionate share of the $40,000,000 federal funds was $70,000,000 while $30,000,000 of that amount already had been allocated for CCC camps, federal highways, rural reforestation and subsistence homesteads.

The 300 PWA applications filed in the state office at Chapel Hill call for an outlay of $48,000,000 while more than $11,000 WPA projects totals $50,000,000.

Two actions were given consideration by the court this morning. M. G. Smith was permitted to pay costs on a charge of drunkenness and similar action was taken in the case of Willie Oakley, appearing on the same charge.

WARNS ITALY AGAINST WAR WITH AFRICA

Sir Samuel Hoare, Foreign Secretary Says League of Nations "Must Enforce Peaceful Settlement of Italo-Ethiopian Dispute"; Italian Preparations For War Continue; 50,000 More Men Called to Colors

(By Associated Press) Great Britain today gave warning to the world through her foreign secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, that the League of Nations must enforce a peaceful settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

He said that League failure would wreck the "main bridge" binding England to the continent.

Great Britain, stated the diplomat, will back the League covenant "in its entirety." He suggested that at that people should then extend help to "backward nations."

In his speech he said: "We believe that backward nations are without prejudice to their independence and are entitled to expect that assistance will be afforded them by more advanced peoples in the development of their resources and the building up of their national life."

Those who heard Sir Samuel interpreted his speech as a friendly warning to Premier Mussolini of Italy that Great Britain would be opposed to an unprovoked war against Ethiopia.

Meanwhile Italian preparation for war steadily ahead as 50,000 more men were called to the colors in a draft believed to be the last step necessary to complete mobilization this month of 1,000,000 men.

Ethiopian woman, too, took up the colors and began mobilizing "battalions of death" for active service at the front should hostilities with Italy break out.

Mrs. J. Baker Dies Suddenly Near Red Oak

Mrs. Jesse Baker, 70, died suddenly last night at midnight at her home in the Red Oak community of this county after about a year of declining health. While it was known she was in feeble health, her death came as a shock to the community where she had lived for the last forty years.

Funeral services will be conducted from the late home Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Elder Hinnant, pastor of the Pine Grove Free Will Baptist Church, and burial will be made in the family burying ground near the home place.

Mrs. Baker had been a loyal member of the Pine Grove Free Will Baptist Church for 50 years and had always exhibited much interest in the work of the congregation as well as the denomination generally.

Surviving are her husband, Jesse Baker; a brother, Joe A. Manning of Ayden, in addition to several nieces and nephews.

WHEN I HOLD MY DADDY'S HAND

I never shall forget the days when I held my Daddy's hand,
A great big caloused piece of flesh and bone, but to me a thing most grand.
Whether we strolled the boulevard, or walked on the commons sand,
The thing that meant the most to me, was a-holding Daddy's hand.
The church bells tolled on Sunday, a symphony most grand,
But there was not joy I had, when a boy just holding Daddy's hand.
We walked down the crowded sidewalk, to the circus and the wonderland,
But the thrill I felt was the safe content when holding Daddy's hand.
Dear old Daddy has gone to his last repose, to a mansion above so grand,
And my greatest joy the great Lord knows, was when holding Daddy's hand.

MARTIN RAPS 'POLITICS' IN N. C. SCHOOLS

Retiring Secretary of School Commission Says Politics Rule System

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Sept. 11.—Outgoing "Commissioner" Leroy Martin, secretary to the State School Commission, did not compass his leaving without a shot at the "politics" in the schools, a condition to which your bureau often has adverted without augmentation of friendships among the educational fraternity.

Mr. Martin's declaration that the schools are completely in politics lacks everything of originality since the Republicans have been saying it 25 years and some Democratic protestants have been at it almost as long. The late Henry Page once declared the state superintendent, Dr. J. Y. Joyner, "a glutton for power." Mr. Martin doesn't get quite so personal but he is a lot more direct.

In the Republican assaults the attacks are of course political. The Republicans have been denied any local control and many of them charge that county and city superintendents must be Democrats to have assurance of any positions. Facts have disproved the accusation in part, but the Republican representatives have been pitifully few. Mr. Martin is probably too good a Democrat to champion Republican superintendents and principals but he is quite concrete in his other animadversions.

For instance, he says "half the high school business is a farce." He would do away with about 50 per cent of them. He observes that thousands of teachers get their places, not for ability to teach, character or experience, but by political favor. Republicans have said the same thing many times. They have been helpless in protesting. The out-goes many times has expressed to newspaper men his feelings, but he was talking as man to man. One of the scribblers caught him in going-away gown. He spoke then as a former state employee.

Still, as has been observed today, Mr. Martin, who proved himself a very capable commissar, was picked politically. He was the petted child of politics' old age. He delivered the goods. He justified the extremity to which politics goes. And he lived, eight years, to see the simplicity of the fiction that "the schools must be kept out of politics." Politics never could be kept out of the schools.

Cardui During Middle Life

While she was going through the change of life, Mrs. Susan Price, of Hallsboro, N. C., was "very weak at times, and had to go to bed," she writes. "I couldn't sleep well and didn't have an appetite. I was so nervous, I was always looking for something bad to happen. I read of Cardui and took it. It helped my nerves so much and gave me strength and built me up. I took Cardui off and on for two years. I have recommended Cardui to other people, hoping they would be helped and given strength as I was with this good remedy."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician. (Adv.)

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Of Pain

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't pass it pints a day and so get rid of more than 2 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS—which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS.

REPUBLICANS NOT BEHIND MR. McDONALD

Old Guard to Discuss Political Situation at Winston-Salem on Friday

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Sept. 11.—When the Republican state executive committee meets Friday in Winston-Salem to discuss state politics, it will consider the nomination of Dr. Ralph W. McDonald on their ticket to oppose the Democratic nominee, it is understood here in Raleigh; but how the party leaders can do it is more than anybody here can understand.

Dr. McDonald has declared for the New Deal. He went so far as to offer his withdrawal from the contest if Farmer Bob Doughton, champion New Dealer of the country, would make the race. True it is, Republicans have welcomed the late Huey Long as an ally, but it's different with Dr. McDonald. Such Republicanism as now abides in North Carolina is concerned chiefly with putting down President Roosevelt; and all his works. Dr. McDonald as the conspicuous New Dealer would be the worst sort of affront.

There is a community of interests. The Republicans dislike the sales tax, but Dr. McDonald's liberal attitude on the liquor question is another objection to him. One of the excuses for Gilliam Grissom's candidacy for governor on the Republican ticket is to lead the country as far away from Roosevelt and McDonald as the North Carolina part of it can be carried. It is conceivable that the Republicans could be induced to join hands with Hoyer or Graham to make certain the destruction of the New Deal candidate Dr. McDonald. But hooking up with him to make it a dominant North Carolina policy is unthinkable.

Still, it is recalled here that the Republicans once fused with the Populists, their antithesis in every major political policy, to beat the Democrats of North Carolina. And that may be the present enterprise. In 1894 the issue was "down with machien government." The Democratic organization was charged with all sorts of election frauds and with government by big business, of which there was little in those days. Some such fraternization might be possible now, but it is exceedingly unlikely.

SHORTER CROP MEANS
MORE MONEY

The fact that about ninety-nine per cent of the tobacco growers in this county have signed the new four year acreage contracts together with the fact that about 1,500 have signed petitions urging a full cut of 35 per cent in next year's crop is evidence that they are convinced that the way to hold up prices is not to have more tobacco than is needed by the trade.

So long as there is enough tobacco to fill all needs of the companies and a surplus to spare the companies will not worry about their source of supply nor the prices they pay, but let there be doubt as to the supply and the companies will be more anxious to buy at prices that will give the growers a living wage. The best way for growers to get a fair price for the balance of this year's crop is to keep enough off
the market to create a shortage and then let it be known also be short.

of the country and used their power

had not outlawed the Blue Eagle.
That's why President Roosevelt's selection of the men who will administer the Guffey Act becomes all-important in the eyes of coal capital and labor. Most of the applicants so far have been operators whose companies could not survive
the depression. Labor doesn't like the list, fearing they will revert to type. It does not trust coal operators bearing gifts.

UNDER: Although Charles West,
White House liaison man, was named Under Secretary of the Interior
to improve relations between Boss Ickes and the politicians Mr. Ickes apparently holds no grudge. Whenever he leaves Washington he gives young Mr. West full authority to act in his place.

But Mr. West won't get much time to serve as the President's research expert and errand boy under the routine mapped out for him by Mr. Ickes. The latter was himself up enough work on the West desk
to keep the erstwhile contact man occupied for months.

If the President hoped that the loyal Mr. West would serve as a political check on his independent Cabinet member he was mistaken.
Mr. Ickes has given his new Under Secretary an office on a floor four down from his own. Already they refer to Mr. West as "Four Floors Under Secretary."

USEFUL? Some wise Republicans are beginning to lose less sleep
over Herbert Hoover's political prominence as the 1936 election approaches. They think it might be a good idea to encourage it.

Their idea is that recurrent talk of Mr. Hoover as a possible presidential candidate will draw Democratic fire against him. They have undoubtedly hard that Charley Milchelson's publicity strategy is to elaborate on the "Hoover Crash"
whenever he sends out New Deal publicity. The Democrats' one answer to criticism of Mr. Roosevelt seems to be: "Do you want to go back to Hoover?" He is the ghost with whom the Farley forces hope to frighten the political children of 1936.

But if the GOP suddenly names
a man who has no provable sympathy with Hoover policies—Borah, Knox or Landon—it would force the Democrats to make a quick shift in strategy. In other words, Mr.
Hoover as a "camouflage candidate"
might turn out to be a real help
to the real nominee.

HELP: The last New Deal activities these days is not deliberate.
It results from the fact that departmental and emergency administrators are occupied with writing regulations to carry out legislation passed in the last few minutes of the recent session.

Until they have been promulgated nobody will know how far-reaching the various new laws are: TVA, AAA and the National Labor Relations Board are drafting rules which entrust them with far greater power than they ever had before. Some of the administrative deductions may surprise the members of Congress who cast the votes for these all-powerful statutes.

In fact, letters written to various New Deal agencies by Democratic legislators cast a comic sidelight on the recent session. In most instances the members ask for an ABC explanation of the laws which they passed at the request of the White House. The folks back home are apparently asking questions which their representatives can't answer without advice of political counsel.

and buried.
The Morgans have retained most of their prestige in financial circles despite investigations and such and most of Wall Street is delighted at their return to the wars. The only exceptions to this rule are a few security dealers whose own position is none too firmly established and who fear the effects of such distinguished competition.

There's no doubt that the new firm will be a success. The many corporations with Morgan connections will go to them naturally when questions of financing come up. Insiders estimate that J. P.
Morgan & Co. alone should be able to turn three or four hundred million dollars' worth of business a year their way.

GOOD: As frequently reported
here such a split-up in the house of Morgan has been under consideration for more than a year. It was deferred first to see how the Securities Act would work in practice and also to await reopening of the securities market on a worthwhile scale. The Morgans were satisfied on those points some months ago—but action was still postponed in the hope that the amendment to the Banking Act of 1935—allowing banks of deposit to underwrite security issues—would be passed. A Morgan partner had a hand in writing that amendment.

If it had gone through it would have meant that J. P. Morgan & Co., itself could have re-entered the securities business—and naturally the partners preferred not to separate if they could help it. Hope died when the amendment was rejected and Morgan interests became reconciled to the idea that the legal distinction between commercial banking and security dealing is permanent. Then the split became the only solution.

The outlook for investment banking was rated good enough to overcome a strong disinclination to break up the original Morgan firm.
That's the most significant angle of the whole affair.

ADVICE: The American Youth Congress has strong ideas of its own about what the federal government should do to aid young people.

It isn't at all impressed with the National Youth Administration. Recently Aubrey Williams—head of the NYA—wrote the Congress a letter asking for suggestions. If he was expecting a grateful reply he got a shock. The Congress pointed out that $50,000,000 was a ridiculously small sum to begin with and that $32,000,000 of it had already been allocated before their advice was asked—and inferred that he wasn't kidding them at all.

They further suggested that if he really wanted to accomplish something worthwhile the best thing to do would be to scrap the NYA and substitute the Youth Congress legislative program. This program is to be introduced at the next session of Congress and is due to make conservatives' hair stand on end.

FORCEFUL: It will be called the American Youth Act. Some of its provisions are as follows:
All work projects authorized by the Act shall be actually beneficial to the community. Projects shall not be of a military character, nor under the jurisdiction of the War or Navy departments, nor "designed to subsidize any private profit-making enterprise."

The Secretary of Labor and Commissioner of Education are directed to establish a system of vocational training and employment to provide regular wages for all youth between 16 and 30. These wages shall be at the prevailing rate but in no case less than $15 a week plus $3 for each dependent.

The Act shall be administered by National Youth Commissions. Not less than one-third of their members shall be elected representatives of youth organizations, not less than one-third shall represent organized labor and the remainder shall be representative of social service, education or consumers' organizations. No person shall serve on such a board who, as an employer of labor,
"may have any interest in depressing wage levels by a system of apprenticeship wages for young workers."

The benefits of the Act shall be extended to all youth without discrimination because of "nativity, sex, race, color, religious or political opinion or affiliation." No youth shall be disqualified from benefits for participation in strikes or refusal to work.
Funds for the purposes of the Act shall be raised by taxes on inheritance, gifts, and individual and corporation incomes of $5000 a year and over.

There is little chance for enactment of the bill but you'll hear a lot about it in early '36. It is important as a forceful reflection of the views of a large and hitherto inarticulate part of the population.

Duke Backs Not Showing Up So Good

Durham, N. C., Sept. 11.—Coach Wallace Wade is convinced that he has a pretty good corps of running backs at Duke University this fall but that means practically nothing to him.

He meant business this week when he told the backfield candidates that the boys who blocked were the ones who would be on the first team this fall—no matter how elusive or fancy a stepper he may be, when he has the ball under his arm.

The backs have not been blocking well and since a true Wade-coached team primarily a good blocking team, the Duke mentor is not feeling so well about his backs. His first string of runners are all veterans—Jim Boyd at blocking back played in some games last year before being injured; Jule Ward, halfback, was the regular blocker last year; Jack Alexander punched lines for the 1934 Blue Devils; and Ace Parker quarterbacked capably last year.

In the second outfit he has lined up are the four boys who were regular freshmen backs last season—Sammy Gardner, at blocking back; Herbert Hudgins, halfback; Harwood Smith, fullback; and Elmore Hackney, quarterback.

Forming a third combination are Jack McAninch, John Johnston, Sam McCaskill, 1934 letterman; McCaskill, Clark and Tom Finn, freshmen backs last year.

The four selected out of that group to form her starting combination against Wake Forest in Greensboro the night of September 21 will be the best four blockers in the lot—and you can lay your money on that.

bandits received from Raleigh today follows:

In an uptown raid last night, Raleigh police captured four heavily armed gangsters, wounding one of them seriously, as the round-up of a gang of Eastern North Carolina safe-blowers and robbers neared a climax here.

Clarence Hamilton, ex-convict and notorious bootlegger of Raleigh was shot through the thigh by one of the officers as he reached for a weapon. Captured with him were: Coley Cain, 22, of 715 Gaston street; Roy Faison, 1331 Hinson street, and William Jones, 26, of Ahoskie.

Cain and Faison are both ex-convicts and are well known to officers throughout this section.

The shooting occurred as a posse of officers, who had been watching a parked car near Dawson and Mortrick, "covered" five men who drove up and prepared to transfer to the parked machine, believed to be stolen.

Hamilton, the officers said, reached for a gun as the door to the car was opened. One of the policemen fired on him, wounding him in the hip. He again reached for the gun as he crumpled on the car's running board, and an officer kicked the weapon from his hand.

The round-up took place about 10 o'clock on the 100 block of South Dawson Street, where the police had been watching for hours a car they believed to have been stolen.

As another car drove up, and five men started to transfer what turned out to be guns and explosives to the stolen car, the police swooped down upon them.

The shot was fired by Officer E. D. Foxworth, striking Hamilton in the thigh. It was reported at Rex Hospital that a bone was broken by the bullet.

The wounded man lay on the running board of the car for about 10 minutes awaiting the arrival of an ambulance and a crowd of upward of 100 persons gathered, viewing him in the glare of a police spotlight.

One of the occupants of the car escaped, a spectator declaring that he ran down the Carolina Hotel alley.

In the bandit car, driven by Faison as the men approached the stolen machine, were found two automatic shotguns and four pistols one a .45-calibre Army automatic identified by Public Safety Commissioner T. K. Fountain as one of the 3 weapons stolen a year ago from the armory of the Raleigh unit of the National Guards. Fountain is captain of the guard unit.

In addition to the weapons, the police found a quantity of soap of the variety used by safeblowers in applying nitroglycerine to safes. One of the men had four pairs of cotton gloves in his pocket.

Undoubtedly, police said, the men were preparing to leave on a safe robbery expedition in Eastern North Carolina.

Within the past few months numbers of safes and stores have been robbed, and police said they felt sure "we got the right bunch, or part of them."

Cain has served a term for safe-blowing and Faison also is known as a robber and bootlegger.

After taking Hamilton to the hospital and the other three captives to jail, the police set out for Hamilton's house at 215 South Dawson Street, which Coley Cain also has been occupying recently. There the raiders got a gallon and a half of liquor.

HEMBY FAILS TO RECOVER IN DAMAGE SUIT HERE

Gorman car.

The jury also found that Plana-gan Buggy Company was not connected with the accident due to the fact that Gorman was not a representative of the firm. It also found that Gorman was not parked on the highway as claimed by the plaintiff, but was moving along the road at a low rate of speed with all lights burning.

These facts were said to have been established by issues answered by the jury in its four hours of deliberation.

The case was one of the most hotly contested here in several years and scores of witnesses were examined by both plaintiff and defense. Each side was represented by some of the most powerful legal talent of the section.

The long time required in disposing of the action held up consideration of between thirty and forty other cases scheduled to receive consideration during the one week term of court presided over by Judge Walter L. Small, of Elizabeth City, who is making his second appearance here in the past five years.

Hemby contended he received a broken jaw and other injuries when his car crashed into Gorman's machine, claimed to have been parked on the highway. Both machines were virtually demolished in the crash.

The defense, on the other hand, contended they were not responsible for the accident as the car driven by Gorman was moving along the highway at a low rate of speed with all lights burning and suffered damage as result of Hemby's carelessness.

Barring another hitch such as the case completed last night court was expected to push rapidly through the remainder of the calendar, with the prospect the end of the week will find the majority of cases completed. Some are expected to go the compromise route as usually occurs at each term of court.

The Good People of North Carolina Always Remember The Name— CHARLES SPARKS' MANAGEMENT IS THE GUARANTEE!

PREDICT WORK ON TERMINAL TO BEGIN SOON

Governor Ehringhaus and Senator Bailey Given Encouragement on Capital Visit

Washington, Sept. 11.—(AP)—An early start of construction on the proposed $2,000,000 public work port terminal development at Morehead City, N. C., was predicted today by Governor Ehringhaus and Senator Bailey.

Bailey said only one remaining technical detail stood in the way of release of federal funds for the work and asserted this would be cleared up shortly.

Governor Ehringhaus said the state was prepared to take over management of the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad which it controls and which will connect the port with the interior of the state. J. T. Crowell, former manager of the Belfast and Morehead railway in Maine has been chosen manager of the N. C. line.

It is a detail in connection with state operation of the railroad, the two state officials said, which is holding up release of $450,000 in PWA funds to the Morehead City port commission for construction of terminal facilities and $1,500,000 to the war department for harbor improvements.

The 3,000 foot jetties which are to be built will be constructed on granite and Ehringhaus expressed hope the state will be operating the A. and N. C. railroad in time to get the business of transporting this material to Morehead City. "That revenue will mean much to us," he said. "And I think we are entitled to it."

New York Cotton

New York, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady 2 to 7 points advance in higher Liverpool cables and trade buying.

The opening advance seemed to meet increased buying and sagged a little after the call with active months ruling one to four points net higher at the end of the first hour.

Advances of 7 to 10 points were followed by light reactions. After working up to 1062 December was ruling around 1058 with the market in the late trading about 1 to 5 points net higher. Futures closed barely steady 1 higher to 11 lower.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Bullish fires let up in the stock exchange today with a heat reminiscent pre depression days. Several issues advanced $1 to $4 a share and the turnover approximated 2,400,000 shares, making it one of the biggest days of the year.

Much of the list turned about without getting anywhere but several issues reached new highs for the year or longer with motors and accessories again actively sought. Favorable mid-week trade statistic modern firmness in the cotton and grains markets and a fairly steady tone in bonds provided a favorable background for the bullish capers in the stock list.

Denmark, 36-year-old bread salesman was bound over to the grand jury on first degree murder charges today in connection with the death of two of his daughters of burns received when fire swept their bedroom August 30.

Peace justice Thomas S. Ferguson ordered the father held without bond to await the grand jury's action.

A coroner's jury yesterday decided Denmark "caused the fire" which proved fatal to two daughters and badly burned another. He admitted throwing gasoline, thinking it water, on burning clothing.

The jury did not however, declare him criminally responsible and recommended no course of action for Judge Ferguson.

Battle For Leadership Starts In Louisiana

New Orleans, Sept. 11.—(AP)—From the bier of Huey P. Long politicians will turn to Louisiana's political battlefield cleared of its most famous warrior by an assassin's bullets to engage in duels and group warfare until leaders appear to carry the standards of the Long and anti-Long factions.

Until Long's body is laid away tomorrow nothing will be done under the public eye, but as soon as Long died underground jockeying began until four distinct groups already have risen to challenge leadership in the Long organization.

These groups always backing and pulling against each other were held in line by Huey Long, who ruled with a rod of steel. He throttled in its inception any signs of revolt and held his followers solidly behind him.

So far all the seeks for leadership have agreed for the time being to stand behind Governor O. K. Allen, titular head of the Long machine. However, Allen feels uncertain of his course as he always learned heavily on Long, a boyhood friend, and frequently he has expressed a desire to seek calmer waters.

The anti-Long action was hot much better off for leadership but the passing of Huey Long from the scene has lifted many obstacles in the way and the runningfort hem should become easier. Their troubles will be in bringing into a common fold the conflicting anti-Long factions. If this faction could be grouped into one solid group they might give a serious challenge to the Long organization.

Youth Admits Taking Part In Extortion Plot

Statesville, Sept. 11.—An extortion plot and kidnap threat on which local police officers had been working for several days, reached a climax today when Grady Mullis, 18-year-old employee of the Statesville Cotton Mill confessed to the writing of a note to C. F. Campbell, card room foreman at the mills, demanding that he produce $2,000 in cash.

Raeferd Barnes, 17, also an employee of the Statesville mill and Mullis had both been in custody, under investigation, since yesterday.

The threat note, left in the back screen door of Campbell's home in Statesville mill community, demanded that Campbell get the money from his friends and leave it in front of the high school building. The letter said: "You have a pretty little girl and you would not want anything to happen to her, would you?" The note closed with "take your choice, money or death."
