ESTIMATE OF COTTON CROP IS SMALLER

October 1st Estimate Of This Year's Crop Is Smaller Than A Month Ago

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The Department of Agriculture announced today a cotton crop of 11,464,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight was indicated from conditions prevailing October 1. A month ago 11,489,000 bales was indicated; production last year was 9,636,000 bales.

The October 1 condition and indicated production gave South Carolina 65 per cent normal with 745,000 bales expected and North Carolina 72 per cent with the expectation of 615,000 bales.

Ginning of this year's crop prior to October showed South Carolina 320,513 bales and North Carolina 101,729 bales. The Census Bureau at the same time announced cotton ginned from this year's crop prior to October 1 to total 4,230,367 running bales counting round bales as half bales and exclusive of linters, compared with 4,963,384 bales to that date last year and 5,990,071 bales in 1933.

Condition of the crop October 1 was reported as 64.0 per cent or normal compared with 64.5 on September 1 and 73.6 on August 1; this year; 59.9 on October 1 last year and 57.9 for the 1924-1933 average.

The indicated yield reported 191.5 pounds per acre compared with 192.0 a month ago; 193.3 pounds two months ago; 170.9 pounds produced last year and 177.1 for the 1924-1933 average yield.

High Schools Study Government Action

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 8.—The first chapter of the materials which school leaders asked the North Carolina Institute of Government to prepare on the actual workings of government were completed today and copies mailed to high schools throughout the State.

The materials, which will be released monthly, will be put in use immediately in close to 100 North Carolina high schools, and arrangements are being made by a number of others to secure supplies.

The Institute's studies, which have been recommended by the State Superintendent, Textbook Commission, and Teachers Association, are designed to supplement rather than supplant the existing texts on civics and government.

Based on data collected by staff members in actual field studies of different North Carolina counties and towns, they portray government in action instead of the conventional government in books.

The first chapter, which serves as an introduction, deals with the pyramid of overlapping governmental units under which every citizen lives, outlining the complex, interlocking, and overlapping relations, and showing how they color all governmental operations.

Maps showing how the town is superimposed upon the county upon the state upon the country and charts illustrating the increase in population, governmental functions, and cost of each unit are used to make the story interesting and vivid.

A number of little known facts are brought out and interesting comparisons drawn, such as the fact that the cost of state and federal government has increased more than 1,000 times (since 1790) while the population of North Carolina was increasing seven times, and such as the fact that out of every 100 people in North Carolina 48 are of voting age and only 23 vote.

One of the features is the "North Carolina County Tree," one of the few such studies ever worked out, showing the genealogy of the family of Tar Heel counties.

The next release, it was announced, will be devoted to the law-enforcing machinery, city, county, state, and federal in North Carolina, while those who will take up governmental accounting, tax gathering, administration of justice, and other governmental functions.

The Institute, which is a joint organization of public officials, civic leaders, and school people and which is designed to serve all groups alike, is directed by Albert Coates. Other members of the staff are Henry Brandis, Jr., T. N. Grice, Dillard S. Gardner, Mr. R. Alexander, and Harry McGalliard.

British 'Eat More Fruit'

London.—(AP)—Britain's "Eat More Fruit" campaign resulted in a record consumption of nearly two million tons during 1934. The actual amount reported in the imperial economic committee's review was 4,463,760,000 pounds, representing a consumption per head of 85.6 pounds compared with 85.5 pounds in 1933 and 88.5 pounds in 1928.

WAR RAGING ON THREE FRONTS

This map shows the location of the principal fighting on three fronts in the Italian conquest of Ethiopia. In the extreme north, the invaders seized Addis Ababa and made ready to advance on Makale, 20 miles to the south, where a major battle was expected. Meanwhile, another Italian army was assembled at Mussa Ali, apparently bent on seizing the one railroad leading to Addis Ababa, the capital. Far to the south, the army from the Italian Somaliland marched northward, bombing towns near the Dolo frontier. (Associated Press Map)

Roosevelt Farm Program Shapes Up As Major Issue

By BYRON PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

Possibilities of an extraordinary scope are seen by the practical politicians in the developing debate over the Roosevelt farm program.

For one thing, the issue has a geographical aspect which is certain to play a major, if not a determining, part in party strategy next year. No other factor contributes quite so much to the growing conviction that the Democrats will make their principal appeal to the west, the Republicans to the east.

Secondly, there is the constitutional question. It so happens that public speculation about the forthcoming session of the Supreme Court centers largely around the cases contesting the validity of AAA. If the Court throws out the processing law, then what?

Administration officials will not answer that question categorically. But there are signs that they can see no way to patch up AAA under an adverse court decision except by a constitutional amendment.

Whether they would feel the pulling power of the farm benefits great enough to warrant advocacy of constitutional change must await the event; but all logic indicates at this stage that if an amendment is to be proposed at all, the farm issue will be its vehicle.

An Established Policy

The unique character of the issue becomes apparent only when the present situation is compared with that of other campaign years.

In past times farm relief has come for much political discussion, but the interest has centered largely in the farm states, and much of the debate has been academic. Now the voters will be considering an established policy, not a theory, and the interest is nationwide.

On the one hand is the exceptional circumstance that the farm belt is receiving its payments regularly from AAA; a factor which no one would undertake to discount in any election. On the other hand is the exceptionally bitter resentment which these payments have aroused among some consumers, and among many manufacturers who have to pay the processing tax.

The whole situation has such a compelling element about it that it is no wonder politicians are asking: Can either party hope to carry the agricultural west without being for AAA, and can either party hope to carry the industrial east without being against AAA?

Internal AAA Worries

The cause for Republican worry is plain, since concededly that party must have some western states if it is to win the election.

It should not be supposed, however, that all of the anxiety is on the Republican side. Electoral votes do not grow thickly over the west; simple mathematics demonstrates the hazards of trying to elect Mr. Roosevelt without any eastern help at all. Moreover, some of the large eastern cities long have been Democratic strongholds. Is this advantage simply to be abandoned?

Internally, too, the AAA has many worries. The increase in food imports is not calculated to stir enthusiasm in the farm country, and administration officials just now are nursing several separate head-aches arising over wheat, hogs, cotton, and potatoes.

'KANGAROO' CASE BEFORE HIGH COURT

Negro Sues Pitt County Board For Injuries Received At Hands Of Prisoners

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Oct. 8.—North Carolina's Supreme Court, which has to struggle with piles of strange litigations has a novel one on its hands from the fifth judicial district in which Lehman Moye, Pitt negro, seeks to sue Roy T. Cox, Noah Williams and S. I. Dudley, Pitt county commissioners for alleged offenses of the Kangaroo court.

Moye, who was a prisoner in Pitt jail, alleges that he was tried by the Kangaroo court, a tribunal within the jail and officered by fellow criminals. This court, it is charged, tries newcomers, fines them, and if they cannot pay, then brutally manhandles them. Moye says that he has previously served jail terms and suffered at the hands of the Kangaroo court. He alleges that he told the officers not to put him in the cells with the Kangaroos but they did. Filing Moye the court proceeded to collect when he had no money. The punishment prescribed "ten lights, ten heaves, five straddlers" and "four-over-the-hills." This means that the fined prisoner gets 10 light blows, ten heavier ones, five extraordinary ones, and 14 with all the power that the thugs can muster. Moye charges that these commissioners knew about the Kangaroo court and did nothing to prevent its sessions.

He resisted and alleges that his leg was broken and that he is partially disabled for life. He sues for $5,000. Judge Barnhill heard the case on demurrer and overruled the motion of the defense. The case now comes to the highest court to determine whether Judge Barnhill was correct or not.

This is the first litigation brought here. The commissioners are sued for failure to perform their duty. It is understood that these "Kangaroo courts" are very common in eastern North Carolina and that they may become the subject of official investigation. The decision in this case may come down Wednesday afternoon in the second batch of court opinions for the fall.

DETROIT HAD A BIG NIGHT AFTER SERIES

Detroit, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Detroit woke up today with a terrific hang-over, emotional and otherwise, but it came out of the ether happier than ever before in all its baseball history automatically reclaiming its first world series champions, Mickey Cochrane's Tigers. I's heads could scarcely lift from pillows; bosses whispered hoarsely to stenographers, police walked around in a daze and street cleaners muttered to themselves as they carted away the debris.

Cochrane was to blame. Cochrane and the eagle back Goose Goslin, his particular co-partner in the slaughter of the innocent Chicago young scrappy Cubs. It was the beloved bowlegged Goose, nearing the end of his trail but still a great money player, who slapped a line drive into center field with two out in the ninth inning of yesterday's sixth world series game, that scored Cochrane from second with the run that beat the Cubs four to three, won the series four games to two and loosed the celebra lion unequalled in Detroit. Nothing like it had happened in baseball since Walter Johnson and his Washington Senators won the title.

Mrs. Nancy Pope Died Last Night

Mrs. Nancy E. Pope, age 84, died last night at eight o'clock at the home of J. R. Vick in Simpson with whom she resided. She had been in declining health for some time and death was not unexpected.

Funeral services were conducted this afternoon from the late home at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. I. J. Strawbridge, pastor of her church. Burial followed in the Porter cemetery at Simpson.

She is survived by two sons, J. T. and J. C. Pope, one daughter, Mrs. John Moore, all of Pitt county; one adopted son, Lieut. F. R. Bell of the State Highway Patrol at Lumberton; three brothers, W. H. J. A. and J. F. Porter; one sister, Mrs. W. R. Harris, all of Chatham township.

Mrs. Pope was born in Pitt county and spent her entire life here. She was the oldest member of the Simpson Methodist church.

Active pillars were J. C. Galaway, J. B. Rouse, J. A. Briley, M. T. Tucker, James Edwards, Harvey Pate.

ENGLAND MAY TAKE CHARGE

Say Italy Ready For Form Of Sanctions; Ethiopia Asks Italian Minister To Get Out Immediately

(By Associated Press)

The League of Nations having declared Mussolini's Fascist government an outlaw among nations today pondered the nature of sanctions to be imposed against it. A mandate to Great Britain to supervise such sanctions by a vote of the League assembly was one of the plans discussed. Premier Laval, of France, hoped to keep the sanctions mild.

The assembly meets tomorrow to carry out the sentence of sanctions passed by the council yesterday after convicting the Italian government of aggression against Ethiopia. If the sanctions are of an economic and financial nature the Italian government is prepared to make the best of it. If Duce's economists have pointed to measures of independence adopted by Italy in recent months — "Corporated state which provides bread, lighting, fuel and transportation without dependence upon the outside world; monopolies on necessary raw materials; in fact co-ordination of the full forces of the government months ago for such a campaign as now exists." The economists said "Mussolini got the jump on the world."

The Italians are prepared also for the worst in case the sanctions assume a military nature. The million man army is under orders to defend key coastal cities; air drills have been held; everything is being done to meet military sanctions with military measures.

On every hand were indications that Italy is "digging in." In Ethiopia her northern army consolidated its position about Addis Ababa and Adigrat, captured Sunday. Soldiers were held in check as the artillery bombarded concentrated Ethiopian warriors in the mountains. In these mountains to the south was a vast force of Ethiopians under command of Ras Seyoum, governor of Tigre province.

As the two forces maneuvered for positions for the first major pitched battle war observers felt the issue might come at Makale, 60 miles south and east of Addis Ababa.

Emperor Haile Selassie who must depend upon manpower to meet the modern forces of Italy has some 750,000 troops in the field or on the march.

Geneva, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The League of Nations was informed today that the Ethiopian government had asked the Italian minister to Addis Ababa and his entire staff to leave Ethiopia immediately. The request for the Italian envoy's withdrawal announced in an official communication to the League signed by Teclé Hawariat, the Ethiopian delegate. Reasons for the ejection of the minister were given as alleged misuse of the Italian legation radio station for the creation of internal disorders in the country to which he is accredited. Despite independence of aggression on the part of Italy of which Ethiopia has been the victim, said Hawariat's communication, and the unjust way which without any declaration or justification has been imposed upon it, the Ethiopian government has been resolved to permit the Italian minister and his colleagues remain in Addis Ababa, whatever might have been the inconvenience of this decision, the Ethiopian government wished to show new proof of its loyalty, its sincere and pacific intentions and its spirit of conciliation.

ROTARY MEET LAST NIGHT

Committee Reports And Group Singing Comprise Evening's Program

Plans for the coming year were reported by the chairman of the various committees of the Rotary Club at the meeting of the Greenville Rotary Club last night for their regular weekly dinner and program hour. Gus Fleischman who is chairman of the Program Committee presided over this part of the session.

A feature of last night's program was the good time enjoyed by all in their group singing led by Louis Bullock of Goldsboro. There is nothing like knowing one's limitations. Jasper Winslow and "Ferdie" Harding admit they are not pushing Caruso for voice honors but they do vow they cannot tell whether it is the strumming of Apollo's golden lyre resounding in the room or whether it is truly the voice of Karl Pace whose vocal chords must have been touched by Melpomene—or however it is goddesses create the gift of rare voice in man. But really Mr. Bullock was on a high about the singing and invited the men to join his men's chorus which meets every Monday night from 7:30 to 8:15. Mrs. Arthur Smith, the Club's new pianist was presented to the Club by Judson Blum, chairman of the music committee.

Visiting Rotarians were Bruce Eure of Ayden, Norman Winslow of Washington, Louis Bullock of Goldsboro, and J. H. Barrick, of Springfield, Tennessee, who is going to be located in Greenville for several months and will associate with the Club while here.

Guests of the evening were little Miss Catherine Van Nortwick and M. R. Winslow, of Fairmont, Indiana, Gilbert R. Combs, a new baby Rotarian, was greeted by the members. "Ferdie" Harding won the attendance prize given by Wesley Harvey, Bill Lee, the club president announced the formal installation of a Rotary Club at Englehard, N. LEAF SALES SET RECORDS YESTERDAY

Day's Average Was $24.95; Most Money Paid Out For A Single Day

Two new records for this season were established on the Greenville tobacco market yesterday when the total money paid out when the total money paid out was $341,044.07 and the day's average price was $24.95 per hundred. Sales yesterday brought the season's total sales to more than 30,000,000 pounds and the season's average price to $19.65 per hundred pounds.

Officials figures on the market made public today are as follows:

Yesterday's sales 1,367,046 pounds for $341,044.07, average $24.95 per hundred pounds.

Season's sales to date 30,994,384 pounds for $6,091,416.78 an average price of $19.65 per hundred pounds.

With October usually considered the best month in which to sell tobacco, especially the better grades, growers are being urged to grow and market their best tobacco now.

It is estimated that the Greenville market for the season will sell some over 60,000,000 pounds of tobacco and the sales to date indicate that about half of the crop has been sold. Last season the Greenville market paid out more money than any market in the state despite the fact that one market sold more poundage than was sold on the market here. With anticipated continued price increases it is possible that the growers selling on the Greenville market this year will receive nearly as much money this season as they did last season despite the lower prices for this year's crop.

Lutheran Women Holding Meeting In Charlotte

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Oct. 8.—Lutheran women in Raleigh and throughout North Carolina are headed today to Charlotte where the Women's Missionary Society of the United Evangelical Lutheran Synod of North Carolina are holding today, Wednesday and Thursday their Golden Jubilee convention.

The sessions will be in St. Mark's Church and Mrs. G. W. McClanahan of McLeansville, president of the North Carolina society, will preside. The convention will have some distinguished visitors, among them Mrs. C. E. Gardner of Indianapolis, president of the National branch of the United Lutheran Church in America; Mrs. John M. Cook, national treasurer of Philadelphia; Miss Clara Sullivan, missionary to China; and Mrs. J. A. Linn, member of the executive board of Savannah.

The first sessions will be devoted this afternoon to business and at three o'clock this afternoon Mrs. C. E. Norman of Raleigh whose subject is "Meditation: Attainment through Vision," makes the first address. Rev. R. L. Patterson will conduct the first vesper service and Mrs. Gardner makes the first visitors' address. Then Wednesday morning with Miss Sullivan taking the second Meditation and Mrs. E. R. Trexler presiding, the convention goes into its heaviest day. The home missionaries, Miss Cora Pearl Jeffcoat of Watauga, Mrs. E. R. Lindeberger of Asheville, Mrs. H. A. Shroder of Durham and Rev. Dr. E. C. Cooper of Shelby bring messages from the fields.

Tomorrow afternoon is the great jubilee program and Mrs. J. A. Morett, Miss Pearl Setzer Deal, Mrs. McClanahan, Mrs. P. W. E. Peachau, Mrs. F. A. Blasinger, Mrs. Morett, and Mrs. Cook carry the speaking. In the evening Miss Odell Kizer, Miss Clara Sullivan and Mrs. Merton Robinson speak. The St. Mark's choir will give special music.

The Thursday morning hour will close the convention with Mrs. J. A. Linn concluding the Meditation series. Mrs. Linn installs the officers and Mrs. John M. Cook finishes with "Homebound Thoughts." The Golden Jubilee hymn written by Mrs. C. B. King, will be sung at the close.

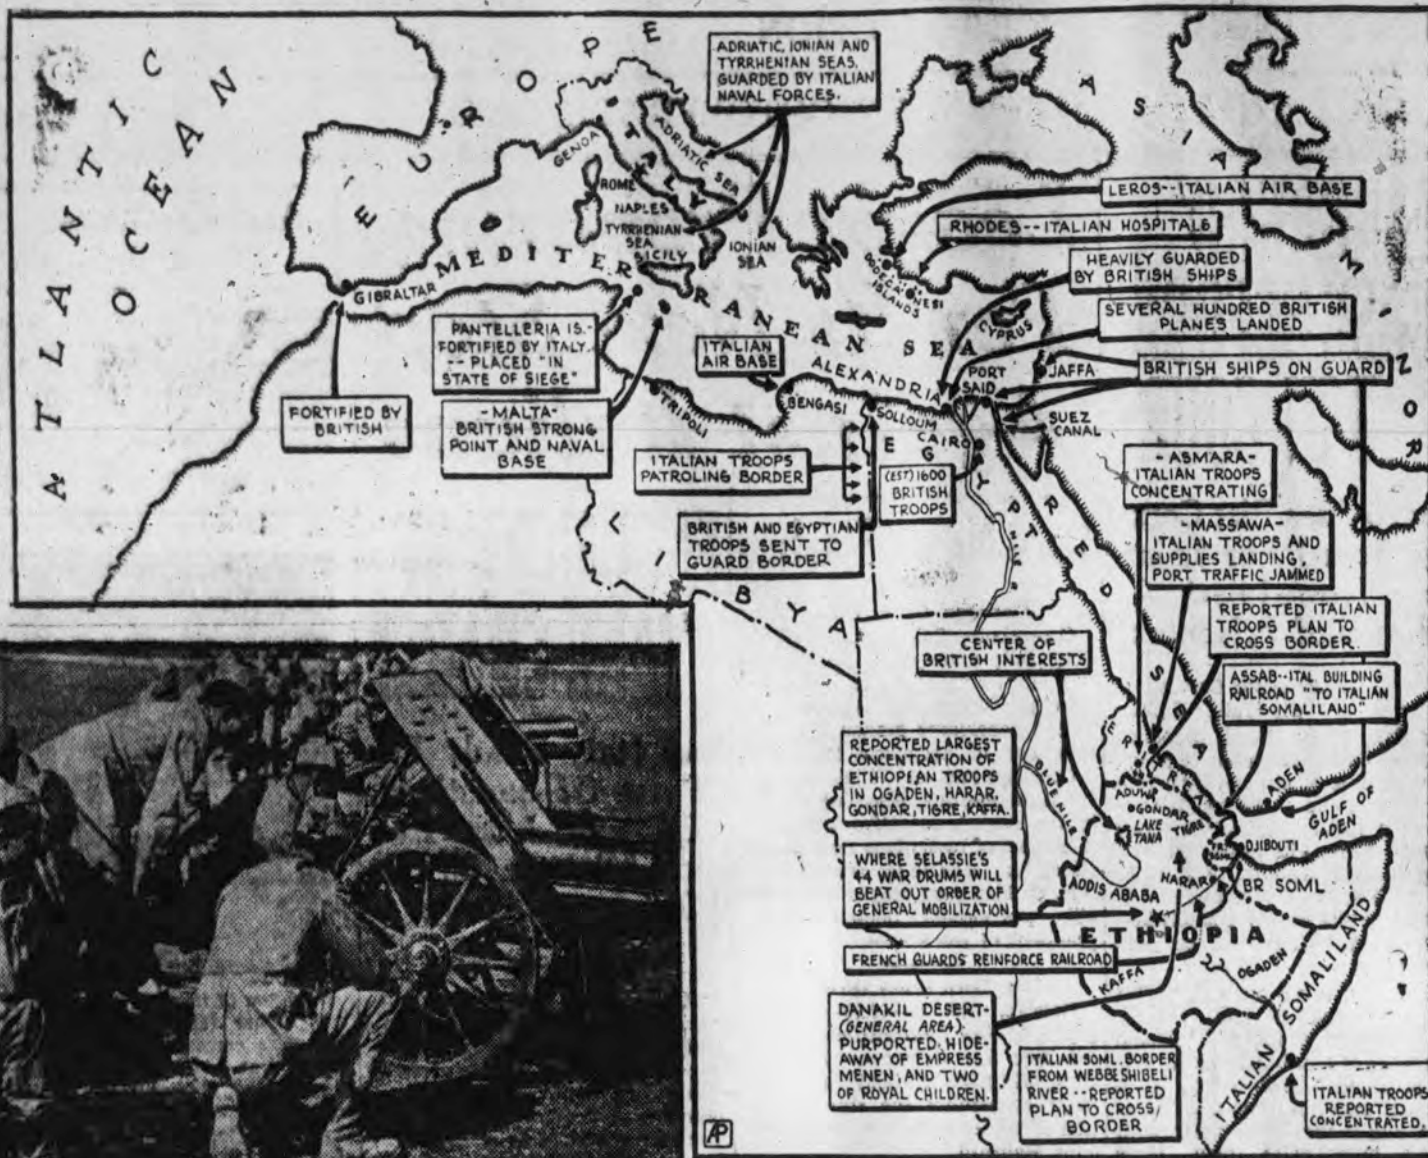

There is wide church interest in an event which has been clouded by world wars and world series events.

BUSINESS IS STARTED BY FISHERIES PLANT

Stage Set For Next Act In Italo-Ethiopian Drama

In the Mediterranean and north and east Africa the stage sets are almost complete for the next act in the Italo-Ethiopian drama. Premier Mussolini, left, holds the controls, with the ear of the world tuned for his command, "Avanti!" (forward), which would raise the curtain on another major conflict. Thousands and more thousands of Italian troops have poured into Africa. These in the picture left are in training at Massawa, Eritrea, but other legions are waiting and drilling in Italian Somaliland and Libya.

The Italian navy has been ordered into strategic positions in the Mediterranean. A large portion of the British navy also has maneuvered into positions designed to guard Great Britain's colonial interests in that section of the world. In Ethiopia, almost the entire male population is ready to take up arms at the word from Emperor Haile Selassie I. For months, Ethiopia's regular army has been learning the tricks of modern warfare. Those pictured at right are getting a taste of trench warfare. The map shows the stage as it is set today.

CERTIFICATE OF DISSOLUTION
State of North Carolina Department of State.

To All To Whom These Presents May Come—Greeting:

Whereas, it appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the Pitt Tobacco Company, a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated at No. Albemarle Street, in the city of Greenville, County of Pitt, State of North Carolina (none being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 22, Consolidated Statutes, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution: Now Therefore, I, Stacey W. Wade, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 3rd day of October, 1935 file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 3rd day of October, A. D., 1935.

HIGHS GET READY FOR NEXT GAME

After fighting a scoreless battle with Morehead City last Friday, the Highs are preparing to meet Kinston for their second game, Friday. In the opening game a number of boys were playing their first game, and a number of weak spots showed up. With another week of practice and with their first game behind them the boys should be in better condition to play Friday. With all the boys interested in football and anxious to beat Kinston as they did last year, they should put up a good fight next week.

The attendance at the game Friday showed that a number of people are interested in our team. The team would appreciate it greatly if a number of people were out to see them practice as well as seeing them play a game. If a number of you were out there at practice the players interest would be up and they would try harder. Come out and show these boys that you are interested in them.

Governor Enthused Over University's Football Eleven

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Oct. 8.—Governor E. B. Ruffin yesterday in possession of a good voice after extensive use of it Saturday on which day he made a speech and roared for the University of North Carolina.

His Excellency shares the enthusiasm of Associate Justice Willis Brodgen of Durham, Judge W. A. Devin of Oxford and Judge Walter Small of Elizabeth City, for football. And it must be a tremendous matter of state that knocks him or them out. The executive was within 140 miles of the game on his speaking trip to Asheville. He ran over to see the Tar Heels win the first. While Maryland has been having his excellency ever saw taken things easy and thus giving the Tar by them against the Tar Heel's daughter.

"We've got another football team over there this fall," he said, "and Tennessee has too. Don't let anybody lessen your admiration for what Carl Snively did by telling you Tennessee was a push-over. Three of those great backs who ran over a year ago in Chapel Hill were in there trying to run again. Our boys stopped them. Watch Tennessee. That's no baby team."

The Tar Heels, the Governor said, had everything and then did not use all of it. His excellency sees now for November 16 the greatest football game that North Carolina ever watched in this state or anywhere else, the annual contest between Duke and Carolina. "There will be need of two Duke horses to hold that crowd," he said. Being Governor of all the people he would not pick the winner. But he believes he can do it. He did last year.

The executive will see two big ones this week, Duke and Clemson in Durham, State and Wake Forest in Raleigh Saturday night. He thinks these two teams are far better than people generally regard them. The Governor of North Carolina did not play football, but he is as good a judge of a team as any of the alleged experts.

TAR HEELS FACE VETERAN ELEVEN AGAINST "TERPS"

CHAPEL HILL, Oct. 8.—North Carolina's Tar Heels are expected to be pushed to the limit Saturday by Maryland's powerful team of veterans. Ten of the starting lineup were stars on the highly successful Terp eleven last year.

Maryland walked St. John 39-6 in their opener and, loop into camp V. P. I. by 7-0 Saturday. In neither game were the Terps forced to open up their highly touted offense. They coasted, played a jam-up defense and took advantage of the breaks.

North Carolina scouts reported that the Terps have a strong club with a potential offense and a tight defense. They had high praise for the fast moving veteran backfield comprised of Hendley, Guckeyson, Sachs, and Ockmley. These four started last year.

While Maryland has been having his excellency ever saw taken things easy and thus giving the Tar Heel scouts no chance to get any real dope on them, North Carolina has been pushed to the limit. They easily overcame Wake Forest but showed all their tricks in topping Tennessee 38-13. The Vols possessed a good team but for some reason could not click. The alertness of the Tar Heels proved the margin of victory.

Overconfidence may enter the Tar Heel camp and the possibility of a let-down is to be feared. Special attention will be given the pass defense which twice faltered in the Vol game and allowed both Tennessee touchdowns.

In Bill Guckeyson the Terps have one of the South's great passing aces. Six feet and 185, Guckeyson was the star of the V.P.I. contest in which the Terps employed only straight football and simple passes, both forwards and laterals. His running and defense play was superb. He averaged 45 yards on punting and completed 4 forwards for a gain of 64 yards. He himself scored a touchdown on a lateral and a 13-yard run.

STATE AND WAKE FOREST TO MEET SATURDAY NIGHT

College Station, Raleigh, Oct. 8.—The speedy and elusive backs of State College face a real test Saturday night when State meets Wake Forest College in Riddick Stadium at State.

The two sophomore sensations—Cowboy Robinson and Eddie Berinski, and the scintillating juniors, Joe Ryneka and Howard Bards—ran brilliantly against Davidson and South Carolina. Will they repeat against Wake Forest's Demon Deacons?

Without doubt, these youngsters face in Wake Forest the strongest team they have met this fall. At least, the Deacons have a line that gave Carolina, Duke, and Clemson more trouble than any other team to face these clubs this fall.

Clemson, rated as one of the strongest teams in the South, had its hands full in defeating Wake Forest 13-7 on Saturday. A long return of a punt saved the Tigers. Carolina, the team that Saturday defeated Tennessee's Red Bowl team, 25-13, was held to a 14-0 score by Wake Forest. Duke, the team that crushed Washington and Lee, defending Southern Conference champions, 28-0, on last Saturday had to do all its scoring against Wake Forest in the second half to defeat the Deacons, 26-7.

That's the team Robinson, Berinski, Ryneka and Bards must buck Saturday night.

Bert Shore is the big man in the Deacon line. A finer left end would be hard to find. Frank Reese, State backfield coach who scouted the Wake-Clemson game Saturday is high in his praise of Shore.

Shore has many number of capable forward mates. In fact, Herman Hickman, Deacon line coach, has developed at Wake Forest one of the school's best lines. Some of the other Deacon line leaders are Perk Rhinehardt, Clarence Bullard, Ed Rogers, George Hooks, Joe Swan and Forest Glass.

No doubt about it, Robinson, Ryneka, Berinski and Bards face a real task Saturday night, in the Deacons.

GREAT BACKS TO DUEL WHEN DUKE AND TIGERS MEET

Durham, N. C., Oct. 8.—One of the greatest arrays of backfield talent ever to step on the turf of Duke stadium will duel when the Blue Devils and Clemson's Tigers, both undefeated, go into battle Saturday afternoon.

Despite the fact that the Tigers have gone along this season without the services of what was thought to be their greatest back—the brilliant Randy Hinson—followers of the Clemson team have still seen the finest bevy of backs in the school's history.

Hinson, who is well-remembered by fans in this section because of his performance against Duke last year, is expected to be ready to return to action against the Blue Devils and his presence should boom the Tigers to a new high. They will be harder to beat this Saturday than they have been in any other game this season.

While Hinson was out, a reserve from last year, "Streak" Lawton has led the Tiger attack. He went to town against P. C. and V. P. I. and last week sold out on a 70-yard journey to score the winning touchdown against Wake Forest. Joe Berry, while not as prominent in the running as Lawton, has the best ground-gaining average among the Clemson leather-juggers. And there are Mac Folger, 190-pounder, General Lee, Tate Horton and Sophomore Clyde Pennington. They have all done outstanding work this season.

Duke's corps of backs is ably headed by "Ace" Parker whose accomplishments this season and last year have been amazing. He has an average this season of over 10 yards each time he has carried the ball from the line of scrimmage which does not include that gained returning punts or kick-offs. His punting to the "coffin-corner" has been unbelievable and his passing miraculous.

Not far behind him in running are Jule (On) Ward, the ex-blocking back, Jack (The Scooter) Alexander, and the three sophomores—Honey Hackney, Silver Smith and Herb Huggins. All have runs of over 40-yards to their credit this season.

Junior Woman's Club.

The regular meeting of the Junior Woman's Club was held in the club house on October 4, at 8:45. Mrs. Perkins opened the meeting with an address of welcome to the new members and spoke a few words on the ideals and aims of the club. The meeting was then turned over to the hostesses, Mrs. J. J. White and Mrs. Francis Bowen. A musical was presented by Miss Gorrell of East Carolina Teachers College, on the violin, with several delightful selections; and by Miss Bessie Brown, with several lovely vocal selections, accompanied by Mrs. Curtis Perkins. Immediately following this Professor Deal gave an interesting talk.

A social was enjoyed at the end of the program, during which tea and sandwiches and cakes were served by the hostesses. At the conclusion of the social program, a short business session convened. The club voted to sponsor a bridge tournament on Monday, October 14th, and also to divide the membership into voluntary departments of art, literature, music, dramatics, American Civic department, and American Home department. The club then adjourned for the afternoon.—Reported.

Announce Birth and Death.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil A. Turner announce the birth and death of a son, on Monday, October 7th, 1935, Pitt General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Langley Entertain.

Bethel, Oct. 8.—Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Langley entertained Friday night honoring their daughter, Evelyn, on her fourteenth birthday. The living room was beautifully decorated with flowers, glowing candles and lamps. Games were greatly enjoyed by the younger set, after which all were invited into the dining room. In the center of the table, spread with a beautiful lace cover, a large birthday cake rested, lighted with fourteen candles, a green and white color scheme being used throughout the party.

Sandwiches were served "a la grappe" and ice cream, followed by white and green mints.

The honor guest was presented with many beautiful gifts. The guests left at 10 p. m., wishing Evelyn many happy returns of the day and thanking Mr. and Mrs. Langley for the lovely entertainment.

Those present were: Misses Evelyn Langley, honor guest, Geraldine Taylor, Bert Brown, Helen Taylor, Gloria Whitehurst, Frances Taylor, Lucretia Beach, Mary Kelly Teel; Messrs. Norman James, Dennis William Alexander, Archie Reid Tyson, Tillet Alexander, Frank Whitehurst, Jr., William D. Brown, William Beach, J. R. Teel, of Bethel; Misses Dorothy More, Lucy Churchwell, Marjorie Dudley, Greenville; Marion Nobles, Stokes. Assisting Mrs. Langley were, Mrs. Wadie Carson, Mrs. R. B. Teel and Mrs. J. J. Jones, Bethel. Calling later in the evening was the unexpected visit of Mrs. Hathaway Cross of Raleigh, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Alexander of Stokes.

First Church of Christ, Scientist.

"Unreality" was the subject of the lesson sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 6.

The golden text was from Jeremiah 23:28: "What is the chaff to the wheat, saith the Lord." Among the citations which comprised the lesson sermon was the following from the Bible: "And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people. Then saith he to his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few; Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest." (Matt. 9:35, 37, 38).

The lesson sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Truth is immortal, error is mortal. Truth is limitless; error is limited."

Truth is intelligent, error is non-intelligent. Moreover, Truth is real, and error is unreal. This last statement contains the point, you will most reluctantly admit, though first and last it is the most important to understand.

The science of Christianity comes with fan in hand to separate the chaff from the wheat. Science will declare God aright, and Christianity will demonstrate this declaration and its divine Principle, making mankind better physically, morally, and spiritually.

OUR AMERICAN LEGION.

Hark! the call, and yes they heeded Left their homes with even pace. They were whole-hearted Americans.

Ever ready to win the race. Ah! how brave they were to face war.

Leaving home and friends and all Facing every terror.

If by chance they'd give their all, When from camps they were all ordered.

To go over the boundless deep, How our poor hearts ached within us.

When from us they sailed away, We remember oh! the horror, Even to this very day.

Kept us singing, keep the home fires burning, And 'twas true our hearts were yearning.

Until they had fought and won, And a new peace thus begun.

Let us honor all our legion, All who are living, all the dead. May the cross be lifted o'er them By His hand may they be led.

Thinks Beaufort

Morehead Link Should Be Used

Raleigh, Oct. 7.—The three miles of railroad from Morehead City to Beaufort, owned by the Norfolk Southern and which it now seeks to abandon, should be kept in operation both from the standpoint of service to people in Beaufort and the surrounding territory and from the standpoint of national defense, according to Secretary of State Stacey, W. Wade. The Norfolk Southern has agreed to lease this strip of line, almost half of which is trestle, to the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Company which owns and will soon operate its line from Goldsboro to Morehead City. But until the engineers of the A. and N. C. make an examination of the track and trestle and arrive at an estimate of how much it will cost to maintain the trestle each year, the company is not expected to lease the Beaufort line, even at $1 a year. For the prevailing opinion is that the line and trestle are in very poor condition and that the A. and N. C. would have to spend a large amount of money reconditioning them.

"I am very hopeful, however, that the officers and directors of the A. and N. C. will find it possible to take over this line to Beaufort, since I feel that it should continue to maintain service into Beaufort even if it does cost a little more than it can make in revenue on the business out of Beaufort," Wade said. "There is a rich farming and trucking area just outside of Beaufort and much of this produce can now be shipped more cheaply by rail than by truck. There is also a large fish and seafoods business there."

"But I also think the Federal government should insist on keeping this line open from the standpoint of coast defense, since it forms a necessary link along the route to Cape Lookout. So I am hoping that the Interstate Commerce Commission will refuse to permit its abandonment and compel either the Norfolk Southern or the A. and N. C. to keep the line open."

From A Satisfied Customer of Keel's New Warehouse

Ayden, N. C.
Route 2, Box 16,
10-2-33.

Dear Mr. Keel:

I will write you a short letter to let you know that I certainly do thank you for that sale you made for me Tuesday.

Mr. Keel, I will never forget you. I am going to stick up to you as long as I live, for you are one smart man. You worked every way you could to get what you could for my tobacco last Tuesday.

I thank you and I thank you, I think white and colored, too, were just as pleased at that sale as I was. I came to Ayden and showed that bill to seven people and everybody said that was a good sale.

Mr. Sam Hardee was at my home when I came back and I showed that bill to him and he said that was one good sale and he has been trying to get his son Harry to carry his tobacco there. I do everything I can to get every pound there I can. When I go and see your house full I feel as good as you do. I hope you will get higher and higher all the time and nothing more.

Will close,
From,
Ellie Leggett.

HOEY FRIENDS NOT WORRIED OVER GRAHAM

Shelby Man's Supporters Claim He Will Carry West and Win Election

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

By J. C. BASKERVILL

Raleigh, Oct. 8.—Friends and supporters of Clyde R. Hoey for Governor are not in the least worried or alarmed either at the reports of a heavy swing towards Lieutenant Governor A. H. (Sandy) Graham in many counties or at the progress which Dr. Ralph W. McDonald is said to be making. They maintain that Hoey can still count on 80 per cent of the Democratic votes in the Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh Congressional districts, and these districts usually center on one candidate and stick with him.

With the result that these three districts are usually the ones which elect the Governors and Senators in the state. So if Hoey can count on a majority of the Democratic votes in these western districts he can be pretty sure of winning the Democratic nomination for Governor, even if Graham and McDonald succeed in carrying most of the other districts, his friends maintain.

"For years it has been true that the candidate which could carry the Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh Congressional Districts—and in many cases only the Tenth and Eleventh—has been the one which has been nominated, either for Senator or Governor."

It was pointed out by a Hoey supporter here today, "These were the districts which nominated Ehringhaus for Governor and Gardner before him, also the ones which nominated Bailey for the Senate and which for years had kept Simmons in the Senate."

And the reason for this is that in most of the counties in these districts the fight is a straight out fight between the Democrats and the Republicans, with the result that the Democrats invariably settle on one candidate and stay with him. And all present indications are that the Democrats in these counties are going to center on Hoey and stay with him."

One reason for the belief that Hoey is going to get the bulk of the Democratic support in the west is because for the past 15 or 20 years he has been helping the Democrats in these counties with campaign speeches in behalf of the Democratic candidates—and these speeches in many cases turned the tide and resulted in the nomination and election of the Democratic candidate, it is maintained. The Democratic leaders in these western counties have not forgotten what Hoey has done to help them, with the result that they are now going to do all they can to help nominate and elect Hoey, those who know the situation in these counties say.

It is not argued, of course, that Hoey had everything already sewed up in these counties in the west. It is agreed that Graham has some very substantial support in a good many of them. It is also conceded that McDonald has made some progress in a good many, especially along "the ridge" and including such counties as Stokes, Surry, Caswell and Wilkes. The more optimistic Hoeyites maintain that he will also get a big vote in the Ninth District, including Cabarrus, Caldwell, Iredell and Rowan counties, although the backers of "Sandy" Graham maintain he will get a larger vote in these immediate counties than will Hoey. The general belief here is that McDonald cannot expect to get very much from this group of industrial counties. The fact that Congressman Robert L. Doughton of the Ninth District has already publicly announced that he will support Hoey has undoubtedly helped Hoey in this district, most observers believe, since it usually follows Doughton almost to a man. This district has always been more conservative than anything else, with the result it is now regarded as more likely to support Hoey than either Graham or McDonald.

While McDonald is conceded to be making some pretty substantial gains in a good many western counties, some of the more experienced political observers here frankly doubt if he can consolidate and hold these gains until next June.

They point out that whatever he is able to do he will have to do almost single handed, since very few of the Democratic leaders in these counties can be counted upon to give him any assistance.

It is agreed that a great deal still depends upon the position which Hoey takes with regard to the sales tax and the liquor question. But most of Hoey's supporters maintain that when he does make a statement dealing with these questions that it will be highly satisfactory to almost every one. Such a statement is not expected before January at the earliest, however.

Gypsy Freedom

Bucharest (AP)—The "Gypsy Republic of Fantanele," a village 50 miles from here, is said to be one of the wealthiest communities of Rumania.

The 600 gypsies have their own senate, the president of which has just celebrated his 99th birthday. The village, by special charter, pays no taxes, nor does it demand any favors from the Rumanian government.

Six out of seven days the village is in the hands of the women folks.

Each Friday the men start for Bucharest with their musical instruments for every one is a player. Wednesday nights they return to the village and place the money earned at the disposal of their "finance minister."

If a gypsy judge passes a sentence, the verdict is read to strains of music. If someone dies in Fantanele, his favorite songs are played at the funeral.

Europe Sees Menace Of New 'Bloc' As Ethiopian Situation Nears Climax

By MELVIN E. COLEMAN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

There is a new shadow across Europe.
It suggests by its shape that Ethiopia might have been reversed north and south, and held between the old world and the light of collective security which statesmen have been trying to kindle through the medium of the League of Nations.
The shadow might well be labeled "sanctions," for talk of using that League weapon brought it into existence.
Sanctions, especially economic ones, need unanimity to be effective. League circles at Geneva predict that if such measures are voted the step will be taken without dissenting voices but there will be silent voices. Some governments, it is said, are almost certain to "abstain," a method of keeping still akin to the defendant who when asked to plead guilty or not guilty "stands mute."

Situation 'Delicate.'

Geneva has reported that Switzerland and Austria, both connecting Italy with Germany, are in especially delicate situations so far as sanctions are concerned. Their railroads haul goods chiefly to and from Italy. Austria's state-owned lines would be ruined, Vienna has said Geneva, if this traffic were cut off.

Switzerland, besides a like dilemma is confronted with the fact that a fourth of her population is Italian in ancestry and speech and not likely to take with grace the application of punitive measures to their mother country.

Germany is cut of the league in all except name and her membership ceases formally on October 21. She may continue to collaborate with Geneva on social questions, but thus far no one with a shred of authority has ventured to vision Hitler's Nazis supporting Franco-British efforts to quench Italian ardor in Africa. Berlin has said merely that she would remain neutral so far as fighting is concerned.

Goembos Goes Hunting.

There are doubt too whether Hungary would go along with the League in applying sanctions. Julius Goembos, premier of defense, has also her minister, officially for a hunting expedition with Hitler's right hand men. Skepticism in other capitals as to whether the killing of the visit brought the explanation that it was only natural with the rest of Europe talking peace and the continent unsettled as a result of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict. Germany and Hungary should have preliminary discussions.

Poland, too, is an enigma to those who are figuring on the effectiveness of sanctions. She is bound to France by an old alliance but has a newer cultural and non-aggression pact with Nazi Germany and is on friendly terms with Italy. Only recently a new Polish liner sailed into New York, a ship built by Italy in exchange for 5,000,000 tons of Polish coal.

Thus leaving out of the picture the traditionally neutral Switzerland, there looms ahead the project of halting Mussolini's African adventure, a band made up of Austria, Hungary, Poland and Germany. There is coal, iron and steel in Germany, grain, cattle and horses in Hungary, coal and textiles in Poland, machinery, wool and leather in Austria and railroads to bring all these products to the Italian borders.

'Signs of the Times.'
There has been thinly veiled threats that Italy would quit Geneva entirely rather than submit to League penalties. Germany is out and Poland is none too well pleased with the position accorded her at Geneva.

Austria and Hungary are surrounded by the "succession states" of the Little Entente—Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Yugoslavia—run by and Italy absent from Geneva and two remnants of the pre-war Austro-Hungarian empire would be awkwardly placed at the international table.

Add this to the signs of the times—the French have sent more troops to the Italian and German borders. Germany's new army is marching and wheeling in sham warfare. Italy's legions are sailing overseas and massing quietly on the Alpine frontiers. Her fleets are concentrated in the Tyrrhenian and Ionian seas, ready to converge on the weakest spot of the "life line" of the British empire running from Gibraltar to Suez.

England's floating fortresses ride restlessly at anchor at the two extremities of the Mediterranean and reinforcements for British garrisons and air fields on its shores are arriving daily.

Spain is "taking steps to guard her neutrality" near Gibraltar. Greece utters plaints about the treatment of her nationals who live on Italian-owned islands off the coast of Asia Minor. And on that coast the troops of President Kama Ataturk build roads from which all except military traffic is barred, one, need unanimity to be effective.

Ethiopian currency is the Maria Theresa and Menek dollars of a nominal value of about 50 cents, but in part of the country bars of salt or even cartridges are used.

The Pawumwa Indians of South America are said to go almost naked and to use the blow-gun with poisoned darts.

A new "shadow" threatens Europe as the result of sanction threats against Italy—the "shadow" of a new alignment splitting central Europe from Italy to Poland. Recent developments indicate that for one reason or another, several nations might refuse to join hands with other League of Nations members in enforcing economic or military sanctions against Italy should she enter Ethiopia. The map shows these nations—Hungary, Austria, Germany and Poland.

WPA TO PUT 2,000 MORE MEN TO WORK

State WPA Expects
To Receive $2,000,000 From Washington This Week

Reflector Bureau.
Sir Walter Hotel.

By J. C. BASKERVILL
Raleigh, Oct. 7.—At least 2,000 more men will be given jobs on WPA projects within the next day or so as the result of the receipt of almost $2,000,000 more in cash with which to begin work on 146 additional projects in the state. George W. Coan, state Works Progress Administrator announced today. This is in addition to the opportunity 1,000 men who have already been put to work on about 20 additional projects.

By the end of this week the state WPA hopes it will have received at least $2,000,000 more from Washington and that it can put another 2,000 to 3,000 men to work. For projects totalling more than $9,000,000 have already been approved for North Carolina, this figure including those for which the money has already been allotted and made available. This leaves at least $7,000,000 worth of projects which have already been approved but for which the money has not yet been actually received here. From three to five days is usually required between the time projects are approved in Washington until the money for them is received by the WPA here. As a result it is expected that at least $2,000,000 more in cash will be received here before the end of the week.

Up to Saturday last week a total of $1,879,000 in cash had been received in federal funds to pay for the government's share on 146 projects which had already been approved. Mr. Coan announced. If the amount which the local sponsors of these projects is added to this amount which the WPA is putting up, the total is considerably in excess of $2,000,000. It was pointed out. Notice was immediately sent to the various districts in which these projects are located to make every effort to start these projects as soon as possible. In some places it may be possible to get a few of these projects started today and the others will begin as soon as those who are eligible for work on these projects can be notified. Under the PWA regulations, 90 per cent of those who are given work on WPA projects must be former relief cases to have since registered with the National Reemployment Service.

The largest project in this batch of 146 for which funds have already been received, was the greater planting project, in which the WPA will put between $175,000 and $200,000. This project will give employment to fishermen who have heretofore been on relief along almost the entire North Carolina coast. Not as many persons will be given employment in this as by some other projects, since in addition to labor, a good deal must be expended for boat hire and seed oysters. But it is believed this project will provide employment for the greater portion of the fishermen who have no regular employment or income during the winter months. It is believed that this oyster planting work will eventually make North Carolina waters among the largest producers of fine oysters in the United States.

Another large project in this same batch is the park and recreation ground program in Monroe, scheduled to cost $137,000, including the amount being put up by the sponsors. Another large project is the completion of the World War Memorial tower on the State College campus here, in which the WPA will put $37,000. Most of the other projects approved are comparatively small and scattered over almost every section of the state.

While accurate figures have not yet been received from all districts as to the number of persons already at work on WPA projects WPA officials estimate that at least 6,500 are already employed on WPA jobs and that this latest batch of projects will increase the number to at least 8,500 or 9,000. If the state WPA receives as much in cash grants this week as it did last, it should be able to put from 2,000 to 3,000 people to work by the end of this week or the first of next, it was indicated.

No indication has been received from Washington as to the total amount of money which it intends to allot this state, but a few weeks ago WPA Administrator Hopkins assured Governor Ehringhaus, Senator Bailey and Congressman Doughton that North Carolina could expect to get at least $30,000,000 from both the PWA and WPA. Accordingly it is expected that the state will get at least $27,000,000 from the WPA, since it has gotten only about $3,350,000 from the PWA.

NOTICE OF SALE OF LAND UNDER DEED OF TRUST

By virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain deed of trust executed by Levy Tyson to T. H. Woolard, Trustee, on the 29th day of May, 1934, and which deed of trust is recorded in Book M-33, page 43 of the Pitt County Registry; default having been made in the payments as provided in said deed of trust, the undersigned will on Monday, the 21st day of October, 1935, at 12 o'clock noon before the Court House door in Greenville, N. C., expose to public sale to the highest bidder the following described tract of land: A certain piece of land lying and being in Chatham Township, Pitt County, North Carolina, and adjoining the lands of J. E. Sutton, Eliza Mills, Bill Buck, Windsor King et al., and containing 55 acres, more or less, and being the same land conveyed to B. F. Tyson by his mother, Mary J. Cox, by deed recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County in Book S-13, page 213, less one fourth of the original tract which was conveyed to D. M. Clark by B. F. Tyson and later conveyed to T. H. Woolard by D. M. Clark, see deeds recorded in Books Q-14, page 49 and W-17, page 143 of the Pitt County Registry. The interest and right in the above described tract of land to be sold is all of the right and interest which Levy Tyson has therein and being the land which was conveyed to Levy Tyson by Hattie Tyson and which deed is dated May 17th, 1934, and recorded in the Pitt County Registry, and it being all of the right and interest in the above described tract of land which Hattie Tyson inherited from her father, B. F. Tyson.

Terms of sale cash, and sale made to satisfy said deed of trust. This the 20th day of Sept. 1935. W. H. WOOLARD, Trustee. Julius Brown, Atty. Sept. 21-11w-4wk.

SCHOOL FOLKS
RESENT FEES
FOR LOBBYING

School Lobbyist Received $2,500 And Expenses For Four Months' Work

Reflector Bureau,
Sir Walter Hotel.
Raleigh, Oct. 8.—The fact that the North Carolina Education Association paid a professional lobbyist $2,500 in fee and expenses for four months work during the recent session of the general assembly—that twice as much as the average principal gets for eight months work and about four times as much as the average teachers gets for teaching the eight months term—has not proved very pleasing to many teachers and principals ever since this fact became known. In addition to paying this $2,500 to former State Senator Stover P.
Dunnagan of Rutherford county, home county of State Superintendent of Public Instruction Clyde A.
Erwin for lobbying for measures desired by Erwin and the Education Association, the Association also paid the hotel and "entertainment" bills of two other lobbyists, it was admitted by J. B. Warren, executive secretary of the Education Association before a meeting of county school principals in a nearby county, according to reliable reports heard here today.
It is also understood that the bills paid for "entertainment" as submitted by lobbyists included some expensures for liquor used in winning and dining some of the members of the general assembly.
At least, when questioned by several school principals as to whether these bills included any expenditures for liquor, it is understood that Warren agreed that it probably did include some such expenditures. But when he was asked if he could say just exactly how much of the Association's funds, contributed by underpaid principals and teachers, had been expended in buying liquor for lobbyists, it is understood that Warren replied that these expenditures were not itemized with the result that he could not say what the "expenses" listed included.
It is also understood that a number of these principals asked Warren to tell in detail just what good resulted from the employment of Dunnagan as a lobbyist, and what he had accomplished and that Warren had rather a difficult time answering these questions.
A number of the 1935 assembly men today, when asked how much Dunnagan accomplished, said that in his opinion his work was "not worth five cents."

AMERICAN DESIGNS HOME
FOR LONDON EXHIBITIONS

London (AP)—A mammoth exhibition building, providing 12 acres of floor space and costing more than $12,000,000, is to be erected before the end of 1936 only a few miles from the center of London at Earl's Court.
Designed by C. Howard Crane, famed American architect, the concrete structure will contain more modern features, from flood lighting to air-conditioning, than any similar building in the world, according to announcements.

GULF HURRICANE WARNING
BROUGHT TO FLEET BY AIR

Washington (AP)—A seaplane roars down over the waters of the Gulf of Mexico, dips low and drops small wooden blocks bearing three-foot yellow streamers with the legend—"Hurricane Warning!"
It is a new system worked out by the coast guard jointly with the weather bureau to provide warnings for a sponge-fishing fleet of 100 small boats which piles the waters 40 to 80 miles offshore in the gulf.
Only seven of the little vessels have radios.

NORTH CAROLINA UPSETS VOLTS

In their worst defeat since 1925, the powerful Tennessee football team was upset 38 to 13 by North Carolina at Knoxville. The Tarheels' 200-pound fullback, Jim Hutchins, is shown tearing through the Volunteer line for a 19-yard gain which was followed a few plays later by a field goal. (Associated Press Photo)

New York Cotton N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady to six points advance with higher Liverpool cables partly offset by hedge selling. There was moderate business on the call but hedging was slight and the market became firmer during the early trading.
The market sold up nine to 11 points net higher before the end of the first hour.
Prices later sold up to new high ground for the movement with December going to 1123 and May to 1138 or about 16 to 22 points net higher. Prices were off a few points from these figures when trading was suspended to receive the government report.
When the market reopened prices eased off to 1101 for December and 1117 for May of about 19 to 23 points from the high levels of the morning.
At midday the market was quiet at net declines of about three to five points.

The biggest worry, to course, is the Supreme Court. What might happen on the farms if AAA were held unconstitutional, and the Republicans countered with some sort of export bounty proposal?
The problem is too heavily laden with alternatives to permit the politicians to agree on any definite conclusions. It is safe to say, however, that no other issue is receiving more careful study in the camp.

U. S. Merchants
Play Minor Role
In Ethiopia Trade

By ALEXANDER K. GEORGE
Washington, D. C. (AP)—The United States has a comparatively small business interest in Ethiopia, the primitive African empire whose potential riches form the chief stake for Mussolini's venture.
Fastidious coffee drinkers in this country consume a considerable amount of Ethiopia's high-priced product but that isolated and exotic country is a romantic interest in a people whose rulers claim descent from King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba and who for 16 centuries have fiercely guarded their ancient type of Christianity.
Minerals Not Exploited
The foreign trade of Ethiopia never has been nearly so great as the reputed wealth of the country would seem to justify. It is not an industrial country despite a reputation for having mineral potentialities of such an amazing extent that it might well become one of the most productive nations in the world.
Gold, platinum, coal, copper, silver and oil have been found, but there has been little or no exploitation of these resources, and just how much wealth lies hidden in the land no one really knows. Wild coffee grows in abundance and, if it were cultivated by approved methods, could be produced in enormous quantities and become an important part of the world's coffee supply.
Principal American imports from Ethiopia in 1933 were coffee, goat-skins, beeswax and civet, the oil's retailing $27,078. This country in the same year sold $181,164 worth of automobiles, petroleum, sewing machines and typewriters to Haile Selassie's realm.
Religious Missions
Main participants in Ethiopian trade are French Semeliland, Jason, Belgium, England and India followed by the United States, Russia, Italy, Egypt, France and Germany in the order named. Increased production in the country is said to depend largely on exploitation of mineral resources and development of highways.
There are no American business houses established in Ethiopia.
American interests there are concerned mainly with religious and anthropological missions, future engineering projects and anticipated highway construction which if implemented will open a market to varieties of American manufactures.
