

CRAWFORD TO FACE CHARGE
MANSLAUGHTERGirl Injured In Auto
Wreck Died Yesterday; Crawford In Jail

Henry Crawford, young white man, remained in county jail here today in default of $1,000 bond with the charge of careless and reckless driving against him charged to that of manslaughter as a result of the death yesterday of Miss Nina Hines who was injured when he wrecked his car near this city Tuesday October 1.

The young woman, who was selling magazines on the local tobacco market, went joyriding with Crawford during the noon recess of tobacco sales and the accident occurred on a sharp curve on the Farmville highway just west of this city as the couple was returning to the city. The car was reported to be traveling at a very high speed when it failed to take the curve, turned over several times and crashed into a tree. The young woman was rushed to Pitt Community hospital with a broken shoulder, fractured skull and other injuries. Crawford was placed in jail pending the outcome of her condition and later his bond was fixed at $200. Early this week a turn for the worst caused Crawford's bond to be raised to $1,000. In default of the bond he was held in jail here and since the death of the girl yesterday the charge against him has been changed to manslaughter.

Miss Nina Hines was a native of Wayne County but for the past year her mother, had been residing in Durham. Funeral services for the victim were held at the former home near Goldsboro this morning.

Mailing Out Of
Driver's Licenses
Has Been Delayed

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel, Raleigh, Oct. 11.—The mailing out of the actual drivers licenses to those whose applications have been approved has been delayed somewhat the past two weeks because of the inability of the Department of Revenue to get the fast, mechanically operated photographic machines necessary to turn out the photostatic copies of the licenses, it was pointed out by department officials today. As a result, production of the licenses has been limited to only about 7,000 licenses a day with the two hand-operated machines now in use. These machines have already turned out approximately 100,000 finished licenses and these are now being mailed out.

When the contract was signed with the Remington-Rand Company for the lease of these machines, it was expected that they would be automatic. But the last automatic Dextraph machine was sold by the company the day before the contract was signed. Work was at once started on another machine, but it has not yet been completed. The company has now promised that this new automatic machine, capable of making 25,000 drivers licenses a day, will be here and ready to operate by October 15. The other two hand-operated photographic machines will also be retained, so that it will be possible to turn out at least 32,000 licenses a day or about 200,000 a week. By running two or three shifts and operating the machines night and day, it will be possible to turn out 60,000 licenses or more every 24 hours or more than 400,000 a week.

When we get this automatic photographic machine next week, we should be able to catch up very rapidly with all the applications for drivers licenses which have already been received," Arthur Pulk, director of the Division of Highway Safety said today. "For while we may be a little late getting the license of the late applicants back to them, we feel sure we will be able to get the licenses to those who have already sent in their applications by November 1. We are going to do everything possible to speed up the issuance of the licenses from now on."

U. N. C. SOPHOMORE HOP
SET FOR NOVEMBER 15

Chapel Hill, Oct. 9.—The date for the annual sophomore hop has been set for Friday night, November 15, the evening before the Carolina-Duke game, it was announced by Billy Seawell of Chapel Hill, chairman of the dance committee.

Due to the fact that the Tin Can has been condemned, arrangements are being made to hold the affair in Swain Hall.

Either Jimmy Poyner's orchestra of State College, or Les Brown's orchestra of Duke University, will furnish music.

Clyde E. Mullis of Charlotte, and Crowell Little of Asheville, are on the dance committee with Chairman Seawell.

FATHER DROWNS GIRLS

Arrested in St. Louis, Ferrin Rowland (left) of Harrison, Mich., confessed, police said, that he drowned his two step-daughters, Katherine Woodin (top), 6, and Virginia Woodin (bottom), 2 "just to get rid of them." Their bodies, trussed together with wire, were found in a lake near Flint, Mich. Rowland hanged himself in jail today.

Pontiac, Mich., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Ferrin Rowland, 36-year-old farmer-woodsman who drowned his two young stepdaughters because he "just wanted to get rid of them" hanged himself with a rope made from pillow cases in Oakland county jail today. Deputy Sheriff Louis Burt found the body.

Sheriff Spencer C. Howarth and Prosecutor David C. Pene, who examined him said he was dead. They called Coroner Lee Voorhes. The discovery was made when Deputy Burt went to Rowland's cell to take him to the prosecutor's office for additional questioning. Rowland's arraignment on a murder charge had been postponed until this afternoon in order that his wife might be brought from Harrison, Michigan, to confront him. He had declared Mrs. Rowland knew of the double slaying.

Houston, Texas, Oct. 11.—(AP)—More than 3,000 members of the International Longshoremen's Association in Texas and at Lake Charles, La., began a strike at 8 a. m. today.

The union dock workers said they will not return to work until operators contract with the association at New Orleans and agree to include Lake Charles in the new contract, for this district, Texas steamship men contended they have no control over conditions at New Orleans and Lake Charles.

The operators have already started preparations to handle cargoes with non-union labor. In some instances, however, ships will probably be tied up for a few days until the steamship men have come to assemble non-union crews.

URGES WAR ON
IN THIS COUNTYDr. Ennett Points Out
Need For Anti-Tuberculosis Association Here

Speaking before the Pitt County Medical Society at its meeting here last night, Doctor Ennett, health officer, in making his regular monthly report to the society on the health situation in Pitt County, referred particularly to the situation as regards tuberculosis. In part he said, "In Pitt County there has been practically no decrease in the white rate in the past three years, and no decrease in the colored rate for the past two years, while the rate in the State has shown a gradual decline. Of course, we must take in consideration that the rate of negroes in Pitt County is very much higher than when the State is considered as a whole, but this does not alter the fact that the number of tuberculosis deaths in the white population of Pitt County has not decreased any in the past three years. I consider this a serious situation. Tuberculosis is preventable, but it is not being prevented in Pitt County."

He then referred to the fact that Pitt County has no Anti-Tuberculosis Association, and suggested that such an association be organized, whereupon Doctor Grady Dixon, Ayden, made a motion which was unanimously carried, that the Pitt County Medical Society not only endorse such an association, but that the President of the Society appoint a committee to assist Doctor Ennett, the health officer, in its organization.

The President, Doctor Jenness Merrill, appointed a committee consisting of Doctor M. T. Friselle, Ayden, Doctor Louis C. Skinner, Greenville and Doctor E. B. Beasley, of Pouncey.

Doctor Ennett stated that, since the control of tuberculosis is not wholly, or even chiefly a medical problem, but a social and economic problem as well, it is his idea that this anti-tuberculosis association, to be effective, must have not only the physicians of Pitt County among its members, but the influential laymen and women throughout Pitt County. In other words, the association, while having the backing and support of the medical profession, should, in reality, be a laymen's association.

PITT LIQUOR
STORES SHOW
LARGE PROFITSNet Profits To County
Amount To $12,307.37 Since First Stores Opened

Figures given out today by the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, taken from the monthly report of operation for the period ending September 30, 1935, as prepared by the County Auditor's Office, show a net profit of $12,307.37, or a percentage of 23.75.

The net profit for the various stores was:

Greenville store, $7,043.68; Farmville store, $3,589.23; Ayden store, $1,163.54; Fountain store, $347.95; Bethel store, $162.97, which together with discounts earned, amounting to $148.26, make up the total as shown.

During the fifty-five days since the first stores were opened the net sales were $51,807.97, deducting cost of merchandise amounting to $33,225.93, leaves a gross profit of $18,581.99, or a percentage of 35.86. Expenses for the period amounted to $6,422.88. This covers a large item of freight, and in addition salaries, insurance and bonding, fixtures, administrative expense, and State and Federal license fees. A total of $1,875.37 has been paid to the State and Federal Government to cover sales tax and license fees, of which $1,554.23 was for sales tax. The total number of bottles sold since the opening was 62,799, at an average of 82 1-2 cents per bottle.

FARM TAXES
MUCH LOWERRate Last Year Was
33 Cents An Acre
Compared To 64
Cents In 1928

Washington, Oct. 11.—(AP)—A marked reduction in taxes on farm lands in North Carolina was noted today in the Agriculture Department report. North Carolina farm real estate tax per acre was shown to have decreased nearly 50 per cent since 1928. The rate as shown for last year was 33 cents per acre compared with the high average of 64 cents in 1928.

Although the rate for the state is far below the average of a few years ago much greater reductions must come to equal the low average that prevailed before the war. The rate for North Carolina in 1913 was 10 cents per acre. After that year the average in the state began to rise and had reached 34 cents per acre in 1920.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
News Behind The NewsWashington
By RAY TUCKER

STERILE? The flow of gold to this country resulting from threat of war privately worries some of our monetary experts. It may dilute trade still more, furnish a new basis for domestic inflation and embarrass Secretary Morgenthau in carrying out Congress' mandate to buy one-third as much silver as we have gold.

Treasury economists won't admit it but some fear that we may be left carrying a gold bag—a sort of Midaslike fate. There is the growing suspicion that other nations, looking gold, may decide that they can do without it and embark on a permanent policy of managed currency. Some of the countries which have had to resort to that expedient seem to be doing fairly well—so well that a Treasury official has gone abroad to see how they do it.

Traditionalists, however, see a great future for gold. They can't believe the world will hit upon any substitute as an international medium of exchange—even though FDR has demonstrated, with the active aid of Mr. Morgenthau, that you can do strange things to a nation's gold supply and monetary measure of value.

USES DOOR KNOB
TO CATCH SNAKE

Using a white door knob as bait, C. J. Cannon, who lives on the J. H. Briley farm near this city, yesterday caught and killed a snake that for some time had been robbing his hen's nest of eggs.

Cannon said that from day to day the eggs would disappear from the nest and when he was unable to find out who or what the thief was, he baited the nest with a white door knob resembling, somewhat, an egg. Yesterday in the vicinity of the nest Cannon came upon a snake which was having difficulty in making its getaway and he immediately killed the snake and cut it open to investigate. Inside he found the door knob that he had placed in the hen's nest and the mystery of the disappearance of his eggs was solved and the thief permanently disposed of.

SENTIMENT ON
COTTON PLANContinued Production
Control Program
Will Depend Upon
Sentiment

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 11.—(AP)—The government today inquired into the sentiment in the cotton belt on continued production control and planned to draft the 1936 cotton adjustment program from evidence obtained.

Farm administration officials headed by Cully A. Cobb, chief of the AAA cotton division, arrived from Washington for the hearing. Robert K. McConaughy, attorney with the Department of Agriculture is presiding at the two day inquiry. The farm bureau federation favored a continuation of the adjustment program and was prepared to sign at least a score of witnesses to the stand to need for future acreage reductions in southern cotton fields.

Donald Kirkpatrick, general counsel for the American Farm Bureau Federation had for the record a letter from General R. E. Wood, president of Sears-Robuck Company, of Chicago, to Edward O'Neal, federal president, declaring business had recovered rapidly in the south since the AAA adjustment program became effective.

The shaded area on this map indicates the northern Ethiopian territory seized by Italians, including the holy city of Aksum. While the right wing of the invading army was taking Aksum, the left wing consolidated its positions in the towns of Adigrat and Edaghamus and pressed on toward Hauxien. The radio picture of Premier Mussolini at the left shows him in Rome watching thousands in the public square as they celebrated the Italian advances. Meanwhile all but two nations, Austria and Hungary, were expected to vote sanctions against Italy as punishment for the Ethiopian aggression. Although they held their friendship for Italy too valuable to apply sanctions, Austria and Hungary said that they were not withdrawing from the League of Nations. Officials at Rome said Italy will rest on Addis Ababa, but will push onward to further conquests in Ethiopia. Addis Ababa reported Ethiopians successful in guerrilla thrusts. Commission Ready For Telephone Corp. BattleReflector Bureau,
Sir Walter Hotel

By J. C. BASKERVILLE

Raleigh, Oct. 11.—The State Utilities Commission is leaving no stone unturned in getting ready for its court battle with the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, in which it will seek to compel the telephone company to put into effect the rate reduction amounting to $321,000 a year to its North Carolina subscribers. Utilities Commissioner S. A. Wynn announced today. It will be recalled that the Utilities Commission ordered this rate reduction to become effective as of January 1, 1935, but that the telephone company obtained an injunction against the order and is now forcing the state to go into court in an effort to enforce it.

If the Utilities Commission wins its case, the Southern Bell company will be compelled to disgorge whatever proportion of this $321,000 it has already collected from its subscribers in the state this year. If the telephone company wins, it will continue to charge its subscribers in this state $321,000 a year more than the Utilities Commission says it is entitled to under the law.

Two outstanding utility rate experts having already arrived here within the last few days to assist the commission in compiling its evidence to show that the rates charged by the telephone company are excessive and should be reduced. One of these is Henry J. Saunders of Washington, D. C., for many years a rate expert connected with the Interstate Commerce Commission but now in private practice. Mr. Saunders is now going over the appraisals of the telephone company as submitted by it, checking its costs and other items and company (Continued on Page Two)

Sales This Week Averaged $23.70; Season's Average Nearly $20

More than six million dollars have been paid out on the Greenville tobacco market since the season opened here August 26 according to official figures made public this morning. Prices continued good on the market yesterday and this week's average price was $23.70 per hundred, the highest week's average of the season. Sales through yesterday brought the season's average price to $19.89 per hundred pounds. More than 30,000,000 pounds had been sold on the market to date the figures showed.

The official figures for yesterday, the week from last Friday through yesterday, and the season through yesterday follow:

Sales yesterday 752,258 pounds for $177,792.22, an average of $23.64 per hundred.

Sales for week 4,515,000 pounds for $1,070,241.33, average $23.70.

Sales for season 33,103,414 pounds for $638,972.81, averaging $19.89 per hundred.

Offerings were heavier on the market today and early prices indicated that the day's operations would bring the season's average price nearer the 30 cents mark. Today's sales will probably bring the season's total poundage close to the 35 million mark.

With still better prices looked for next week war-housemen were preparing for probably the heaviest offerings of the season.

Stew Supper
Here Proves Delightful Affair

Tobacconists of the Greenville market together with several other friends were guests at a delightful entertainment last night at Respos place on the north side of Tar River, with a group of Grifton citizens the hosts for the occasion. The hosts included J. R. Harvey, W. I. Blaise, J. L. Quinerly, R. E. Nelson, H. A. Hart, W. M. Taylor and M. B. Hodges.

Following a bounteous supper of barbecue, Brunswick stew and accessories, W. I. Blaise, Mayor of Grifton, acted as toastmaster, and extended a brief welcome to the 150 guests present. He expressed appreciation for the efforts by local tobacconists in behalf of the people of his community selling on the Greenville tobacco market and expressed delight that so many had been able to attend last night's supper.

Others of the hosts added a word of welcome or what Mayor Blaise had said and then the meeting was turned over to K. W. Cobb, supervisor of the Greenville tobacco market. Mr. Cobb in turn called upon war-housemen and representatives of buying industries and other parts of the tobacco industry, here all of whom expressed great appreciation for the hospitality of the hosts. In addition to those in the tobacco industry, a host of present likewise expressed words of appreciation and praise for the gracious hosts from Grifton.

NO EMBARGO

War Materials Through
Indirect Sources

Geneva, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The full sanctions committee of the Assembly of the League of Nations comprising the member-ships represented in Geneva minus the Italians adopted the recommendation of its subcommittee that a general arms embargo be placed against Italy and that present embargoes against Ethiopia be lifted.

The resolution passed by the big committee contained paragraph designed to block any effort by Mussolini to get war supplies through neighboring anti-sanction states such as Austria. This paragraph states that members of the League will "take such steps as may be necessary to prevent re-export directly or indirectly of arms to Italy or its possessions."

London, Oct. 11.—(AP)—An authoritative source said today the British government is ready to lift its arms embargo against Ethiopia the minute the League of Nations approved such action.

Rome, Oct. 11.—(AP)—A source close to the government said today that Italy will remain in the League of Nations unless sanctions of a military nature drive her out. An economic blockade backed by naval power would be considered as military sanctions this source said. A government spokesman stated Italy desires to remain in the League and wishes to modify the League's construction so that it will be effective for the maintenance of peace rather than being an instrument of war as it now is.

Addis Ababa, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The Italian minister to Ethiopia Luigi Visconti-Giglicet, yielded today to the demand of Emperor Haile Selassie that he get out of the country at once, and announced that he and his aides would depart tomorrow.

(By Associated Press)

There were utterly unconfirmed reports of sensational developments in the fighting zones today. For instance reports were circulated in Addis Ababa, capital of Ethiopia today that Aduwa "city of vengeance" taken by Premier Mussolini's vast northern army had been recaptured by an army of 32,000 Ethiopian warriors. One Reuters' report was that he 2,500 Italian soldiers garrisoning the city taken by storm last Sunday, had been massacred by the Ethiopians in a desperate drive to halt the advance of General De Bono's mechanized forces.

There was nothing to indicate these were more than rumors. Italian officials denied the report that Aduwa had been recaptured with the massacre of the Italian garrison.

A report from Dire Dawa, Ethiopia, not confirmed by any other source, said Ethiopian forces had captured Walwal and Wardair on the southern front.

From other sources Aduwa was reported quiet and General De Bono was on the way to the city from his Asmara, Eritrea, base to officiate at ceremonies in tribute to the 15,000 Italians slaughtered there in 1896. An official announcement at Rome tended to bear out the report of quiet on the northern sector. Light Italian casualties had occurred, the communique said, and many Ethiopian chiefs had surrendered during the advance.

There has been no confirmation of the capture of the Holy City of Aksum by the Italians.

At Addis Ababa high Ethiopian officials said today that the government may be obliged to use force unless the Italian minister to Ethiopia leaves within the specified 48 hours.

Geneva, Oct. 11.—(Copyright by AP)—A League of Nations committee today recommended an embargo on future arms shipments to Italy and the lifting of the present embargo by some countries against such shipments to Ethiopia. The recommendation was made by the committee of 16 formulated to decide what sanctions would be applied to punish Italy for its attack on Ethiopia.

It made its suggestion shortly after Baron Pompeo Abet, and this six other members of the Italian delegation had left Geneva for Rome.

The Graham family had meant in the educational history of North Carolina. He stated that no one on this campus was a better friend to the students than Miss Graham.

Miss Graham's father, John Graham, head of the famous Warrenton High School, was one of the greatest teachers the state had for a generation. Her uncle, Alexander Graham, was one of the leaders in the development of the public schools. She is a first cousin of both Frank Graham, president of the University, and Ed Graham, former president.

The subject of Miss Graham's talk was "Why I like Mathematics and Why I like to Teach It."

She told the students that while she always liked mathematics in a general way because of its definiteness, and because the solution of difficult problems was challenging, her fondness for mathematics above all other subjects was a growth. She gave as reasons for this fact that there were no specialized curricula in high schools nor in normal schools, when she attended them. In high school, under her father, John Graham, she devoted more time to the study of Greek and Latin than to mathematics. When she went to Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., she continued her study of Latin and Greek as well as Mathematics and her teachers in these subjects were men of stronger personalities than her Mathematics teacher. It was only after she began to teach Mathematics that she grew to love it. The beauty and rhythm in Algebra appealed to her. The symmetry of the work, the exactness, were appealing. Proofs of originals in geometry grew to be beautiful as works of art. Putting up a flawless proof of a theorem in geometry was to her like moulding a piece of statuary.

This love for the subject grew tremendously when she went to Teachers College, Columbia University. There the beauty of graphs of equations, the power and usefulness of the formulas and the function idea were all disclosed. The well-trained teachers she had were largely responsible for this enlarged growth in appreciation. The greatest of these teachers was Dr. David Eugene Smith under whom she had courses in the History of Mathematics and in Methods of Teaching. He, more than any one else, showed the possibilities for better teaching of the subject.

Among the reasons she mentioned for liking to teach Mathematics were: the opportunity to pass on to others the beauties and wonders and powers of the subject; the opportunity for training in citizenship; and the opportunity for character training.

In closing, she used an idea from Dr. Smith. "Mathematics lights seven lamps; the lamp of utility; for without it the masses would not be reached; the lamp of beauty, for without imagination there is no discovery; the lamp of mystery, for Mathematics pierces the clouds and lassos the stars; the lamp of poetry, for what is Mathematics but the poetry of the mind and what is poetry but the Mathematics of the heart; the lamp of infinity, for the possibilities are without limit and man is made to feel how infinitesimally small he is on this one of a multitude of universes; the lamp of religion, for while Mathematics may not make one who is not so inclined, religious, but if one is religious, Mathematics makes one feel the grandeur of it as nothing else can."

'Queen of the Castanets.'
"Queen of the Castanets" is one of the titles given to La Argentina, Spain's greatest dancer, because she works wonders with these little shell-shaped percussion instruments of wood that have played an important role in the dances of Spain.

In the hands of this artist they seem to bring out all the rhythms and moods of the people and life of Spain. Sometimes she uses them to express sly humor or pert coquetry, or again she rattles them with such sharp clicks they sound like machine guns, or again she makes them whisper lovely secrets.

"Sesquidillas" one of the most famous of her dances and one of the favorites with her audiences, is Arthur spent the day with Miss Frances Dilda Sunday.

FIRST COMES THE FOUNDATION

As Harper's Bazaar so aptly puts it, "The object of our affection just now is not a little waist, or a flat front, or anything of the kind. We are after a smooth but soft line over the hips—dresses will be draped this Winter, and any good fitter will tell you that it is almost impossible to drape a dress properly unless the curve over the hips is right." We agree and offer you two ways to achieve this beautifully proportioned sculptured look you want—one, with the all-in-one-foundation—the other, with the girdle or step-in worn with the correct brassiere.

The makers have fashioned the new garments so meticulously, that they fit with perfection—control just enough. Firm, unstretchable satins, broches, batistes are combined with the finest elastics and "power" lastex. But the very particular news for you is that, whatever type of figure you are, for whatever the occasion from sports to evening, the FORBES' CORSET SERVICE offers you the absolutely right foundation—and, of course you will benefit by our unerring good taste in selection.

Elsewhere in this issue here appears a story of the death of a young woman as a result of an automobile accident caused by reckless and too much speed, and we venture to say that here are many, who after reading this report, will within the course of the next 24 hours, take just as great a chance in driving their automobile at a speed far beyond reason. Just how much warning it is going to take to make our people safety conscious with regard to automobiles is an unknown quantity. Certainly in view of the reported fatal accidents from day to day it seems that people from fear alone would let up a little in the accelerator.

Greenville's high school football squad goes into its second contest of the season this afternoon. Just how this afternoon's contest will come out is not known, but it is reported that Greenville has an exceptionally good team this season and certainly our citizens interested in the schools should give the team their support by attending the games.

SHIPS: Passamaquoddy won't become a federal "white elephant" or lack of a market for its power is entering the minds in New England have their way. They hope to import new industries to make up for textile and pulp mills they are slowly losing to an industrially-minded South.
They are working on a program which calls for the location of aluminum and shipbuilding plants within the shadow of Quoddy, Boston, under the still undisclosed plan, would become a bustling port whence fast liners would make the trip to Europe in four days. In going after aluminum units the New Englanders will compete with another federal project. Bonneville Dam in Oregon has been advertised as the new center of an aluminum industry.
There is unconscious political humor in the situation. Having lost valuable sources of funds and employment to the Democratic South through smart selling by Commonwealth and Southern's fine organization, anti-New Deal New England now bids for some of the major industries of that erstwhile Girardian of Republicanism—Pennsylvania. Washington, of course, will be called on to supply federal subsidies for the proposed expansion and possible transformation of the political and economic map.

BIRTHDAY: Far-reaching plans for incubating information regarding the making of the Constitution are being made by the commission created by Congress to prepare for celebration of the sesquicentennial of the formation of the Constitution. Every state will celebrate its ratification of the Constitution or its admission into the Union.
By essay contests among the nation's school children, by movies, booklets, radio and the press the commission will stir up interest in the ancient document and its framers. A series of postage stamps will be issued showing milestones in the making of the Constitution.
The commission is nonpartisan, consisting of five Senators, five Representatives, and five citizens appointed by the President, with the President as Chairman.

SOFT: Every new law brings new lawyers and lobbyists to Washington to cash in on public ignorance. But the new Motor Carrier Act regulating trucks and buses has produced the prize "sucker" screed of the year. A truck operator received a legal letter which read, in part, as follows:
"For the past year the writer has made a specialty of matters before the Public Utilities Commission of the state of —, particularly in cases involving certificates and permitted carriers. Because of my acquaintance with the members of the commission and through the aid of a member of the — Senate, the results have been 100 per cent. satisfactory to clients. I will be too glad to handle your application, and will go so far as to guarantee your permit or no charge to you. On account of the large number of cases in which I am retained, I am making a very low fee of $40 for each applicant etc."
The trucking operator replied that he knew two Senators. But most people solicited fall for it, which helps explain why the poor get poorer and the political lawyers richer every year.

CHARGE: Republican scouts claim that the New Dealers are fighting foul in their efforts to prevent a GOP comeback. No public accusations have been made as yet but they will be when backstage managers decide they will do the most damage.
So far the GOP has had pretty good luck at lining up contributions for its 1936 war chest—much better luck than the Democrats. Corporations have been chipping in with something like old-fashioned enthusiasm. The story runs that key New Dealers—alarmed at Republican progress—have been privately telling potential corporate contributors they would be wiser not to abet the enemy. Delicate but pointed hints are said to have been dropped about legislative and other reprisals.
The worst of it is that a number of business men are apparently taking the warning seriously. In any case they aren't coming through as expected. Of course the Republicans may have trouble producing evidence to support their claims—because those alleged to have been "intimidated" won't talk for the record. But lack of evidence won't forestall vigorous chat about blackmail and coercion. It's a beautiful charge if they can make it stick.

REVISED: New Yorkers have been paying close attention to the President's speeches on his western tour. As a result they are beginning to take more stock in his "breathing spell" for business.
They note that FDR's recent talks have taken a new tone. He has laid off lambasting big finance and industry. Such criticisms as he has offered of right wingers have been amazingly mild—all the more amazing because he has been traveling in a section which might normally be expected to respond to attacks on "the interests." His San Diego speech was rated especially significant of an altered philosophy. In that one he stressed "individual achievement" almost in the Republican manner.
Astute observers figure that Mr. Roosevelt is breaking ground for a revised political strategy that will hold good through '36. They predict he will proceed on the promise that the West and South are safe—with Huey Long dead—and devote his political energies to recapturing the confidence of the industrial East.

POPULAR: Major George L. Berry is trying to win business support for his job of coordinating industrial recovery by arranging for virtual suspension of the anti-trust laws. Insiders under and he has had several talks with Department of Justice representatives along that line.
Big business leaders wish him all success in his plan but are frankly skeptical. They are convinced that the Federal Trade Commission's anti-trust action against the National Electric Manufacturers is a more accurate wind-vane than the hopes of Major Berry holds out. It is also pointed out that trust-busting is always a popular pastime.

OMITTED: Industrialists are becoming more interested in the Trade Commission's attempt to promote voluntary codes. Suspicious at first, they are now beginning to believe they have nothing to lose and perhaps something to gain by playing along.
When NRA died and the Trade Commission began to take over, business men were vocally against having NRA labor provisions foisted on them again by some form of back-door phrasing. Now they are finally convinced that the Commission has no objection if they frame codes without hour and wage clauses.
Not only that—there are no benefits or exemptions as a reward for including labor provisions. So naturally these will be omitted from all codes under Commission auspices—and code-making will progress more rapidly.

HALF: New York deffs its hat to Dr. Hjalmar Schacht for smooth financial maneuvering. They can take the interest coupons they have bought at a bargain back to Germany and swap them at a nice profit for blocked marks which they can use to purchase supplies at home or resell—at still

ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS TO HOLD MEETS

One Of Safety And Crime Prevention Meetings to Be Held Here

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 11.—North Carolina law-enforcing officers will gather in district conferences throughout the State the latter part of October and the first part of November to discuss mutual problems and lay plans for concerted and continuous effort in crime prevention and highway safety.

The dates for the eight meetings were announced today as follows: October 29, Raleigh; 30th, Winston-Salem; 31st, North Wilkesboro; November 1st, Asheville; 5th, Charlotte; 6th, Lumberton; 7th, Greenville; and 8th, Edenton.

The series is being arranged through the Law Enforcing Officers Division of the Institute of Government by the leaders of city, county, state, and federal officers in North Carolina. The district conferences, plans for which were adopted at the State-wide School of Law Enforcing Officers here last

Leaders Of Groups of Law Officers

The leaders of the city, county, state and federal law-enforcing agencies in North Carolina have joined in the Institute of Government in arranging a series of eight district conferences of law-enforcing officers, designed to focus attention and co-ordinate the efforts of all groups on the problems of highway safety and crime prevention.

summer, will be followed by city and county schools.

The Institute of Government, it was announced today, has completed arrangements for the printing of 253,000 copies of its new guidebook on Highway Safety. These will be distributed to every officer, citizens groups, and high school in the State, it was said, forming the basis for safety instruction and promotion by all three groups.

A. the district conferences the morning sessions will be limited to police, sheriffs, and state patrolmen for the district. The judges and solicitors of the intermediate courts will join in the afternoon sessions.

Each district conference will culminate with a buffet supper at which mayors, members of the bar, and members of the public affairs committees of the various citizen groups will meet with the officers in the interests of co-ordinating the efforts of all groups in a state-wide program of law enforcement.

Among the topics for instruction and discussion are rules of evidence, arrests, searches and seizures, investigations, preparation of cases for trial, civil service, politics in law enforcement, and uniform laws and uniform enforcement of laws.

Along with these will be featured the co-ordination of all groups of law-enforcing officers in the enforcement of the motor vehicle laws, which is one phase of the larger problem of crime prevention and criminal law enforcement.

end is Vic Williams, 6 foot 5 end. The lateral attack of the Terps is rated the most dangerous in the South, and incidentally Guckeyson is on the receiving end.

Matching this aerial display Carolina can offer Don Jackson, one of the leading passers in the nation, who completed 7 out of 10 tries against the Vols, Dick Buck top pass-snaggers, followed by Andy Bershak and Harry Montgomery.

Maryland may get the advantage of the punting. Guckeyson averaged 46 yards against V. P. I. No. once did the Gobler safety man catch the ball, it was so well placed. Jackson will do the Tar Heel punting. To date he has out-punted both Edens and Kitchin of Wake Forest and Palmer and Harp of Tennessee. His average is 39 yards.

The Terps will have a veteran team on the field. Only one sophomore, Mike Sargent at right guard, will be in the starting lineup. The backfield is one of the fastest in the country. Quarterback Hadley leads the "race-horse" quartet. He is an ace track man, a 1:55 half-mile.

On the other hand Carolina will have two and possibly three sophomores in the lineup. Andy Bershak and Johnnie Sniskens are sure starters while Henry Bartos, for his brilliant play in the Vol game, may get the call at one of the tackles.

State Improving Offense For Game With Wake Forest

College Station, Raleigh, Oct. 9.—Obviously pleased with the defensive game the State line played in Saturday's game with South Carolina, Coach Hunk Anderson is seeking to improve the offense of the forwards this week in time for the game Saturday night with Wake Forest in Riddick Stadium at State College.

If State's blocking had been just a shade or two better Saturday, the Wolfpack would have scored several more touchdowns against South Carolina. The Wolfpack backs frequently got by the line of scrimmage, but as they headed into the Gamecock backfield, found three or four men bearing down upon them.

"We have got to clean up the secondaries," Coach Anderson told the Wolfpack this week as he began pointing the Techs for Saturday's Big Five test with the Demon Deacons. "You can open holes in the line, but you must be able to get the ball into the backfield."

The shifting of Vince Farrar to left tackle from guard has given State much more strength and power at that position and has not weakened guard play as Anderson still has four monogram guards, led by Captain Barnes Worth, and two promising sophomores.

Farrar is one of the most powerful football players in the State and when he wants to, can play tackle as well as any man in the country. His great game again, Duke when a sophomore is still remembered as one of the greatest exhibitions of tackle play ever produced in this State.

Coach Anderson said he did not know whether Al Edwards, injured right tackle, would be ready for the Deacon game. Edwards hurt his ankle in a scrimmage game three weeks ago and missed both the Davidson and South Carolina games. If he can play Saturday, State's line will be at its peak.

South Carolina could do nothing with the State forwards, the Gamecock backs being tired for losses more times than they made gains. If Anderson can get the Techs to function as well on offense he will be a much happier coach. Anderson can't see anything but a hard and close battle Saturday night. "It looks like anybody's game," Coach Anderson says.

Teachers Get Pay Checks On Time This Month

Reflector Bureau.
Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Oct. 11.—All teachers are being paid on time this month and no delay has resulted from the provision in the new school machinery act which requires the State School Commission to check and certify the payroll and budget for every county and city school system each month before the allotments are made and vouchers issued. Claude F. Gaddy, assistant secretary of the commission said today. The law requires that the State Commission here not later than the fifth of each month, settling forth the amount needed to pay the expenses of the preceding month, including the payroll for teachers' salaries.

These requests are immediately checked by the auditing division of the School Commission against the expenditures of the previous month and against the payroll as previously certified by the State Department of Public Instruction. If the requests are found to be correct and reasonable, they are then certified to the Department of Public Instruction, which in turn authorizes the state auditor to issue an order for the lump sum certified as needed by the city or county school system and to deposit this amount the state treasurer. The city or county superintendent is also notified that this amount has been deposited, and he can then write the warrants necessary to pay his teachers, janitor, bus drivers and other employees, as well as for the payment of all bills incurred during the preceding month.

No checks or vouchers are ever or vouchers are ever written by the School Commission and no money handled by it, it was explained. But it must approve all budgets and pay rolls before the Department of Public Instruction can authorize the State Auditor to deposit with the State Treasurer the amounts required for each school administrative unit each month. All vouchers are written by the city and county superintendents on the State Treasurer, after they have been notified that their requests have been approved and the money deposited.

Diphtheria And Whooping Cough Seasons Here

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel, Raleigh, Oct. 11.—The number of diphtheria and whooping cough cases in the state is already increasing, with the "season" for both these diseases due to last from now until spring, Dr. J. C. Knox, epidemiologist with the State Board of Health pointed out today. He also pointed out that so far this year there have been more cases of and more deaths from both diphtheria and whooping cough than from infantile paralysis.

"There have already been 741 cases of diphtheria reported so far this year and 60 deaths up to September 1, with 9,682 cases and 266 deaths from whooping cough, while there have been only 632 cases of infantile paralysis and only 48 deaths from infantile paralysis within this same period," Dr. Knox said. "Yet parents have been almost frantic in their fear of paralysis while both diphtheria and whooping cough are both more prevalent and more deadly."

Another factor is that while infantile paralysis is a warm weather disease and likely to disappear almost entirely during cold weather, both diphtheria and whooping cough usually increase during cold weather and do not subside until warm weather, Dr. Knox pointed out. As a result, the number of cases as well as the number of deaths from diphtheria should increase from now on, while infantile paralysis will virtually disappear.

"The number of cases and deaths from diphtheria are almost inexorable, because diphtheria can be almost entirely prevented by having children vaccinated with the toxin-antitoxin or toxoid vaccine, one injection of which is now sufficient to immunize from 96 to 98 per cent of those given the serum," Dr. Knox said. "In fact, diphtheria could almost be wiped out entirely if parents would have their children immunized as soon as they become six months old. But unfortunately there are thousands of parents who do not realize how serious and dangerous diphtheria is. They would go to any amount of trouble to safeguard their children against infantile paralysis, but will not go to the trouble to take their children to the nearest health officer to immunize them against diphtheria."

New York Cotton

New York, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady one higher to four lower with trade buying in near months and southern and foreign selling in the late positions. December after selling at 10.93 eased to 10.89 and ruled around 10.91 at the end of the first hour with the general list net unchanged to one lower.

The market at midday was quiet within a point or two of yesterday's closing quotations.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Leading stock market issues soared further to new highs for the year or longer today before profit taking stemmed the upward flight. After a strong opening in which numbers of blocks of several thousand shares were traded and the ticker tape dropped several minutes behind floor transactions, the market slowed down and prices backed a trifle. Rails, various utilities were inclined to slip. At attention was devoted almost wholly to the industrials. Grain and cotton barely steady, were not especially helpful. Secondary bonds again followed equities. Foreign exchanges were narrow. Securities pointed higher in London and Paris.

The late stock tone was firm. Transactions approximated 1,900,000 shares.

Forms Available For Application For Cotton Loan

College Station, Raleigh, Oct. 11.—Forms on which cotton growers may apply for the government 10-cent loans are now available in the various county farm agents' offices. To secure a loan, the grower should carry out the following procedure, said J. F. Criswell, of State College:

See that the cotton bears the required bale tag, which was put on at the gin. Then place the cotton in a bonded warehouse.

Take to a local bank or accredited loan agency the following forms, properly executed:

Note of producer and loan agreement. No. CCC Cotton Form A; warehouse receipts from bonded warehouse where cotton was stored; government certificate of bale tagging, obtained from ginner, and either the producers letter of transmittal, No. CCC Cotton Form B, or lending agency's letter of transmittal, No. CCC Cotton Form C.

The bank or loan agency will then advance the money to the grower, Criswell stated.

He also said that forms on which growers may apply for price bonus or adjustment payments have been shipped from Washington, but have not yet arrived at the State cotton office at State College.

Growers who still have unused 1934 cotton tax-exemption certificates on hand should take them at once to their county agents' office and fill out the proper form, so they can get 1935 certificates in exchange for the old ones, Criswell added.
