Crop Values On Heavily
Increase In North State

1935 Income From Farms Comparable to Pre-depression

LEAF RECEIPTS
MOST SINCE 1919

Figures Released By Commissioner of Agriculture Graham
Following Study

Reflector Bureau,
Sir Walter Hotel,
Raleigh, Oct. 17.—Crop values in North Carolina last year were, in a number of instances, comparable with those of pre-depression years, it was pointed out by Commissioner of Agriculture William A. Graham, following a study of complete figures issued by the Department of Agriculture. "The corn crop, for example," Commissioner Graham said, "brought $38,540,000, which was the highest since 1927, when the total was $38,952,000. In 1932, it dropped to a little more than $15,000,000."

"The cotton crop," he continued, "was valued at $39,941,500, being the highest since 1929. That year this staple brought $59,236,269. The lowest figure in recent years was $20,141,000 in 1932."

Turning to tobacco, Commissioner Graham cited last year's total of $119,155,000 as being the highest since the peak of $157,778,000 was reached in 1919.

"Livestock values in North Carolina at the present time," he said, "include: all cattle, $13,037,000; sheep, $339,000; mules, $37,882,000; and horses, $7,514,000."

"While North Carolina does not rank among the great wheat growing states of the union, the crop last year represented a total value of $4,498,000, which was the highest since before the depression."

"It is extremely gratifying," Commissioner Graham continued, "to note that the total value of the peanut crop last year was $13,728,000, as compared with only $4,726,000 the preceding year. The next highest on record since 1919 was $13,024,000 in 1923. Tame hay jumped from $7,466,000 in 1933 to $12,932,000 in 1934, while the value of soybeans rose from $688,800 to $1,159,000."

"Thus, it will be seen at a glance, that North Carolina is not entirely dependent on any one or two crops for its agricultural livelihood. Continued diversification will bear this out to a still more striking degree," he said.

Milk Distributed
By Relief Agency

200,000 Pounds of Dry Skim Milk
Given Relief
Clients

Raleigh, October 17.—Dry skim milk to the amount of 200,000 pounds, has been distributed in North Carolina during the last four months, by the North Carolina Emergency Relief Administration, according to a statement today by Mrs. Thomas O'Berry.

A recent survey of the distribution in some of the cities of North Carolina showed the following amounts: Asheville, 15,000 pounds; Greensboro and High Point, 15,000 pounds; Winston-Salem, 10,000 pounds; Charlotte, 10,000 pounds; Durham, 8,000 pounds; Raleigh, 8,000 pounds and Wilmington, 6,000 pounds.

Dry Skim Milk which is distributed to relief clients and unemployed, is useful in baby diets and in cooking. By adding water, liquid skim milk is produced, while the addition of a small quantity of butter makes a good grade of whole milk.

At present there are 160,000 pounds in the state ready to be packed for distribution. Notice has been received also of 160,000 pounds of this useful product which will come into the state in the near future.

Fletcher Defends
Spending Program
Of New Deal Govt.

Chairman of Senate Banking Committee Says Spending Restoring Credit

Washington, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Striking back at critics of New Deal spending, Chairman Fletcher (D-Pa.) of the Senate banking committee, said today that "government activities and expenditures have restored about $10,000,000 of the bank credit lost in the $21,000,000,000 deflation of 1933 through 1935."

"Business is going to get the benefit of that," Fletcher contended in an interview. "The money the government is putting out is going to people who are putting it in banks. It is increasing purchasing power and likewise expanding the credit facilities of the banks."

PATRONAGE IS

"Real Democratic Party" Described As Goal Of Those Dissatisfied With FDR

Reflector Bureau,
Sir Walter Hotel,

Raleigh, Oct. 17.—North Carolina regular Democrats are watching for signs in Washington that there is going to be an effort to organize the anti-Rooseveltians into "a real Democratic party."

Several individuals who have taken violent swings at Roosevelt from time to time have been consulted. They may go to Washington tomorrow, they may wait until next week. If they go and the conference fails to produce anything they will return and say nothing about it. If they get anywhere the hole world will be informed.

The question of patronage worries them, but money does not. There is an abundance of funds for any and all causes that may help the Roosevelt disruption. The New Democratic Party would be the old in fact. It would sloganize "Preserve the Constitution" and "Save us from Bankruptcy." They would expect to get most of the Republicans wherever the G. O. P. is too weak to take care of itself.

It would be very much like the old Palmer and Buckner wing of the Democracy in 1896. Bryan had captured the Democratic nomination and was making war upon Cleveland. The Gold Democrats were even more "sound money men" than the regular Republicans who flurried right brazenly with the free silverites. But the Gold Democrats took votes enough from Bryan to give McKinley and Hobart several close states. Bryan was then very much where Roosevelt is today. The President is to be called a bad name, "socialist." Money will then come.

The New Democratic Party would not have offices to bestow, but would have money which is a satisfactory substitute. The suspicion may be that there is a strong suspicion that it will. But some "representative" men are to make the experiment. They cite the heresy of the Gold Bux and the apostasy of Roosevelt to show that it can be done. The first led a revolt against the Republican regulars, which is really going in the direction of the present Roosevelt. And for that matter, Bryan was leading against regular Democracy and helped to rout it. There is not much of a parallel in the present proposal.

In general, when the country goes conservative it elects a Republican and when it goes radical it elects a Democrat for President. Seldom has the rule failed. At present it is not revealed that the regulars, the old liners in both parties, control the situation. Roosevelt is rated a radical whose party loyalty is mighty weak. He has voted anti-Democratic many times. He cast his ballot for his cousin Teddy and told about it. There are old-time Democrats who declare they will not vote for him again because he is not a party man and they are. These uprisers say it is quite probable that President Roosevelt will not ask the renomination as a Democrat but as a New Dealer. And that might help to organize a party of discontent.

Washington people next week will have a chance to see whether any group of disorganized and greatly disaffected Democrats can break the New Deal down politically. Observers of old party evolutions do not see any chance for such a campaign as it would tend to disorganization rather solidarity. They do remember that the state seven years ago went Republican but not on the issues at present raised.

Revival Service
Being Held Here

A two weeks revival service is being conducted at the Salvation Army headquarters by Rev. and Mrs. B. Patterson of Greenville, S. C.

In addition to the evening services, meetings are held each day at noon at the various warehouses. Large crowds are reported to be attending the meetings. Services begin at eight o'clock each night at the Army Hall at 1016 Dickinson avenue. The public is invited to attend the services.

Greenville Tobacco Sales
Near 39,000,000 Pounds

Season's Official Average Ranges Around 21 Cents

TODAY'S PRICES
MAY BOOST AVER.

Offerings Today Estimated at Approximately One Million Pounds of Tobacco

Today's sales on the Greenville tobacco market brought the season's total sales near the thirty-nine million pounds mark with the season's average price close to 21 cents a pound.

Official figures on the market for the season, including yesterday's sales showed $7,903,223 pounds sold for $2,762,774.36, an average price of $2.48 per hundred. Offerings today were estimated to total around a million pounds and early sales indicated that the day's prices would bring the season's average price up a few cents on the hundred. Better prices over the past three weeks have brought the season's average price up from an early average of between 17 and 18 cents to the present figure.

Yesterday's sales on the market were 943,926 pounds for $227,958.15, an average of $24.13 per hundred pounds.

With daily price averages now ranging around the $25 figure, or better indications were that the season's average price would probably run between $21 and $22 per hundred.

The better price situation since October 1 is attracting more growers to the Greenville market and next week is looked forward to by warehousemen as probably the biggest week of the season so far.

EVIDENCE: Gov. Herbert Lehman is quietly talked of as the next Secretary of the Treasury in the Cabinet shuffle which President Roosevelt is expected to make before the 1936 elections, Secretary Morgenthau is said to be slated for his early leave, a diplomatic post.

This report ties in with Gov. Lehman's reluctance to offer himself as a candidate for reelection in New York State. Undercover advisers say that Mr. Lehman, for various reasons, faces trouble in a reelection contest. Tammany doesn't like him and some of his policies have alienated upstate voters. A more popular figure, it is believed in political circles here, would help the President to carry New York. Mr. Lehman's accession to the Treasury post would also serve as evidence that the administration means to go slow on business during the next year or so. He is acknowledged to be a conscientious and able executive. His former firm has excellent international connections.

Paris Reports Says
British-Italian Fleet
Clash Would Be New Problem For League

London, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Authoritative sources stated today that a British demand on the French government for its unqualified promise of French naval support in the Mediterranean in the event of an Italian attack on the British fleet was made before Premier Laval of France last night by George Russell Clerk, the British ambassador to Paris.

The same sources stated that Laval, asked by Sir George for "absolute definite assurance," in turn requested a few days to consider the matter.

Laval, according to these sources, said he would like to consider the question carefully, but that a definite answer might be expected in a day or so.

The specific question asked by the British ambassador last Monday was whether, in acting together under the League covenant, the French could be relied upon to cooperate with the British in event of any attack on the British fleet by Italy.

Last night in a second meeting the British ambassador pressed Laval for a reply as to whether Great Britain could have absolute assurance that in certain events French support of Great Britain would be forthcoming.

British officials said definitely that the British fleet would remain in the Mediterranean.

LAVAL REFUSES COMMENT

Paris, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Premier Laval of France, said reliable sources today, has refused to comment on a report that the premier told Ambassador George Russell Clerk of Great Britain that the presence of warships in the Mediterranean was of consequence unnecessary for the application of sanctions and that therefore France must decline to assume any immediate responsibility under the League covenant in case of conflict.

If the British and Italian fleets clash under present circumstances, said reports attributed to authoritative circles, France would refuse to consider it automatically a case of Italian aggression, but rather a new incident requiring the league to determine the aggressor.

However, officials attempting to minimize the crisis, said "the governments are on excellent terms."

Air Forces and Non-Commissioned Forces of 1906 Class Are Called Out

Rome, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Italy directed attention to its home defense today as informed circles expressed concern over relations with Great Britain.

Air forces and non-commissioned officers of the class of 1906 (men born in that year) were called out. Officials of the ministries of corporations, agriculture, finance, communications and merchant marine, conferred in detail on measures for facing the food supply situation in case League of Nations sanctions are applied and for defense against nations putting sanctions into practice.

Pessimism replaced the earlier optimism and the dominant mood in capital quarters. Informed circles frankly said they were worried.

Urgent Plea Made To
All Greenvillians
For Aid

The annual drive to secure funds to finance Boy Scout activities in Greenville was in its last day today with a victory breakfast scheduled for Friday morning.

Solicitors in the annual drive reported success in their efforts to secure money for the organization, revived last year when a fund was raised to aid the youths.

The goal of $1,500, however, was about half reached on the first day of the two-day drive, workers reported.

Officials pointed out that anyone making a pledge was not obligated to pay the amount at once, but could do so at his convenience. The pledge can be paid in cash, divided in installments or paid later in a lump sum. However, efforts are being made to contact every person in the city.

Should the solicitors fail to reach anyone desiring to aid in this worthy cause, the pledge will be accepted and fully recognized if the donor will get in touch with J. W. Overton or J. H. Waldrop, both of whom can be found at the Guaranty Bank and Trust company.

Plans call for a breakfast tomorrow morning at eight o'clock at the Friendly dining room to celebrate the victory drive. If it is discovered that the full quota of $1,500 has not been reached, solicitors will go out in a final effort to pledge the difference.

Past No. 39 Starts Annual Campaign For New Members Here

Already boasting the largest membership in the history of the post, the Greenville post of the American Legion, today was in the midst of its annual membership campaign.

The drive was inaugurated at a meeting Tuesday night at which a fish supper was served.

The post, number 39, had a total membership at the close of the annual drive last year of over 250 World War veterans. J. Hicks Corey, commander of the local post, said efforts would be made to hold all its old members and gain additional ones for the ensuing year.

The drive has no time limit, the campaign continuing until the post authorities feel they have enrolled every available member in the city.

Following the drive, the sign on Fourth street at the intersection of Evans will be repainted with the entire roster printed thereon with the new list of officers.

More Than Words

Addis Ababa, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia today declared: "I will not discuss peace while there is a single Italian soldier on my soil."

This statement, given as a formal answer to reports of possible peace overtures, was given directly to the Associated Press.

The Associated Press correspondent informed the emperor that Great Britain had refused to reduce its fleet in the Mediterranean.

The emperor explained: "This proves Great Britain is determined, not merely by words, but by the might of her army and navy, to compel all outlaw nations to respect the covenant of international justice and the principle of righteousness on which the security of the world rests."

The Ethiopian government ordered new cavalry and infantry detachments to hasten to the support of its northern and southern armies today to meet and anticipated advance of Italians into the empire from all fronts.

Zella, British Somaliland, tribesmen reported today to the district commissioner here that the 17th British camel corps guarding the Somaliland front had suffered casualties during an Italian advance in the Ogaden desert.

Details of the alleged invasion were lacking, but authorities said they believed if such a thing was true it would have been due either to the Italian units running over bounds of their territory or might have mistaken the British camel forces for Ethiopians trying to get around their flanks.

The fall term of the Wilson district, United States court, will convene in Wilson Monday with a heavy docket to be disposed of by Judge J. M. Meekins of Elizabeth City.

An order signed by Judge Meekins in New Bern last week directing the government to show cause why it should not be restrained from collecting tobacco taxes from non-contract signers is returnable in the court. The case is attracting much interest in this section of the state. Judge Albion Dunn of Greenville is one of the lawyers for the plaintiff.

New Move For Clemency Probable For Luke Lea

Wife of Former United States Senator In Raleigh

FIRST EFFORTS MINUS SUCCESS

Tennessean Serving Six to Ten Year Sentence for Violation Banking Laws

Reflector Bureau.

Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Luke Lea of Nashville, Tennessee, is in Raleigh and with her coming arrives a story that she may present for some sort of clemency anew the petition of her husband, Colonel Luke Lea, who is serving a long term in the state's prison for alleged conspiracy to wreck the Central Bank and Trust Company of Asheville.

The first effort made to get Colonel Lea out on "newly discovered evidence" failed. But when that presentation was made it was strongly suggested that the door of hope was not closed. Colonel Lea's attorney, J. Melville Broughton of Raleigh, declared that his client never would admit his guilt of the offenses for which the eminent Tennessee newspaper man and attorney, former United States Senator, and army officer, was given a six to ten years sentence. The issue in that appeal was outright pardon. The prisoner was not seeking mercy. He may not present his cause in the same way this time.

In fact, it is believed that the Governor will be asked to commute the Lea sentence so as to take considerable time from those long years. Colonel Lea's prison life has not disturbed him mentally. He seems to be as cheerful a man among men as he was when he counted big in Tennessee and in his regiment overseas. But he has lost about 50 pounds in weight. He has been treated specially in prison.

There is considerable feeling in the state that Colonel Lea was tried in North Carolina for such offenses as the Tennessee people charged against him. But he came to North Carolina willingly and stood trial. He lost and carried a tortuous appeal finally to the United States Supreme court. When he lost finally he came here and began serving. His record is perfect as a prisoner. These things will be used, if the case is pressed at this time, in favor of clemency. It is understood that Mrs. Lea is here for the purpose of making such an appeal.

Price Reviews Charges Against The "New Deal"

By BYRON PRICE (Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

Putting aside individual issues, the Republican indictment against the "new deal" may be summed up, as it stands today, in a few brief specifications:

That it is unsound economically. That it is not working in practice. That it is contrary to the Constitution. That it violates the Democratic promises of 1932.

The first three of these charges have been discussed widely, and Mr. Roosevelt's supporters have replied to them at some length.

It has been argued on the administration side that new economic measures were necessary if the country was to be rescued from the depression; that the beneficial results are apparent in improved economic conditions; and that "new deal" policies do not actually violate the Constitution, but merely apply constitutional principles in the light of the greatly changed necessities of the present day.

There remains the final charge of bad faith. Republican spokesmen are declaring with increasing frequency that the most vital features of the Democratic platform on which Mr. Roosevelt was elected have been scrapped; and thus far most Democratic leaders have ignored the accusation, or at least have undertaken no complete reply to it.

Hoover's Indictment

The weight attached to this part of the indictment in Republican quarters is evidenced by the prominence given it by Mr. Hoover in the keynote address he recently delivered at Oakland.

After suggesting that the Democrats would have polled far fewer votes three years ago if they had disclosed their intent to increase expenditures, maintain a deficit and increase the number of government employees, the former President continued:

"They would have lost still more votes had they informed us that they would abandon the gold standard; that they would devalue the dollar by 41 per cent; that they would repudiate government obligations; that they would seek to circumvent the Constitution; that they would attempt to socialize and regiment Americans."

Mr. Hoover takes the negative aspects of the case. He charges lack of frankness, rather than actual affirmative deception. Other Republicans, however, have gone further, quoting directly the Democratic platform promises to reduce government expenditures by one-fourth, maintain a "sound" currency, and enforce strictly the anti-trust laws. Some even have pointed out it was the Socialist platform, not the Democratic, which proposed such things as a $5,000,000,000 relief appropriation, a $5,000,000,000 public works appropriation, and old-age pensions.

Robinson's Reply

A reply to Mr. Hoover's speech was issued by the Democratic national committee in the form of a statement by Senator Robinson, the party's leader in the senate.

This statement took exception to the former President's figures on expenditures, disputed his thesis that the present industrial upturn dated from the supreme court decision holding NRA unconstitutional, and concluded:

"Like every other Republican speaker of the present era, while deploring the relief expenditures, he gives no hint of any project, plan, or even an idea of a substitute program to keep the unemployed from hunger and hardship until such time as industry can and will put them back to work."

The statement may or may not have been intended as an all-inclusive answer to Mr. Hoover but, for whatever reason, it did not review in detail his charge of lack of frankness.

If this Democratic utterance is significant in its content and in its omissions, it would seem that the dispute develops in this fashion:

The Republicans say the Democratic party has broken faith, duped the voters, and turned its back on solemn promises. The Democrats reply: "How could it have been helped, and what would you have done?"

But perhaps much more will be heard about this later.

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Smith attended the State Fair in Raleigh yesterday.

Don Kirby of Wilson, was a Greenville visitor today.

J. W. Joyner of Farmville, was here today.

Charles A. Creech, state inspector of convict camps, was here today making inspection of the camp near this city. While in this city he was the guest of his brother-in-law, T. T. Hollingsworth.

Mrs. R. M. Garrett, Mrs. J. S. Ficklen, Mrs. N. O. Warren and Major and Mrs. B. L. Wilson spent today at Atlantic Beach.

The Round Table

The Round Table held its regular meeting with Mrs. E. B. Higgs Tuesday, October 15th. The members were greeted by Mrs. Higgs in her usual happy manner. The artists' arrangement of handsome roses, dahlias and other colorful flowers added charm to the occasion.

The president, Mrs. Austin, presided, and welcomed Mrs. Katherine Thomas as Mrs. Guy Smith's guest, and Mrs. Jack Edwards as Mrs. E. W. Griffin's guest for the year. Other guests present were: Mrs. Julius Elberidge, Mrs. J. A. McIver, Mrs. E. L. Henderson, Mrs. J. A. Lewis and Miss Metch of Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Mrs. J. E. Nobles had charge of the program. Her subject, "Historic Shrines in Charleston, South Carolina," Mrs. Nobles' recent visit to Charleston enabled her to give us first hand information of unique Charleston. Her enthusiasm was contagious her hearers actually visited with her many lovely sights in historic Charleston. St. Philip's Church, "The Westminster of South Carolina," and old St. Michael's with its wonderful, sweet, historic chimes.

Mrs. S. J. Everett gave interesting current events. At the conclusion of the program, the hostess assisted by Miss Elizabeth Higgs and Mrs. Helen Higgs Kirkpatrick, served a tempting salad course with tea.

Fiftieth Birthday

Leon T. Hardee was fifty years old Sunday, October 13. This being his birthday, his children gave him a surprise birthday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hardee, Jr.

While at the table he opened his presents, which he appreciated very much.

Those attending were his children and grandchildren and was enjoyed by all.—Reported.

West Greenville P. T. A.

On Wednesday afternoon, the Parent-Teacher Association of West Greenville school held their second meeting for this term in the school auditorium. The society was delighted to welcome Rev. W. A. Ryan who talked on the "Importance of Home and School Cooperation in Raising and Educating our Children."

The keynote of Rev. Ryan's most helpful talk was "The necessity of parents reading literature that has to do with things which make up the lives of our children, and then make a study of it." He also recommended that a concerted effort be made for every mother in the P. T. A. to have access to a good parents' magazine.

Following this address, vocal selections by Mrs. Dink James and Miss Agnes Fullilove accompanied by Miss Ona Shindler, were much enjoyed by everyone present.

During a short business session, reports from different committees were made and plans for raising funds discussed.

Miss Laura Foley's grade won the prize for having the largest number of mothers present.—Reported.

Dancer Arrives in New York

Shivering with Chills Burning with Fever

Sure Relief for Malaria!

Don't try homemade treatments or newfangled remedies! Take that good old Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. Soon you will be yourself again, for Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic not only relieves the symptoms of Malaria, but destroys the infection itself.

The tasteless quinine in Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic kills the Malarial infection in the blood while the iron it contains builds up the blood to overcome the effects of the disease and fortify against further attack. The twofold effect is absolutely necessary to the overcoming of Malaria. Besides being a dependable remedy for Malaria, Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is also an excellent tonic of general use. Pleasant to take and absolutely harmless. Safe to give children. Get a bottle today at any drug store. Now two sizes—50c and $1. The $1 size contains 2½ times as much as the 50c size and gives you 25% more for your money.

Buenos Ayres, and other big cities. It is interesting to note that she comes here directly from the country in which she was born and from which she took her stage name.

The only place in which she will appear before coming here is Lynchburg. She will go from here to Greensboro, the only other place in the state in which she will give a performance. Her tour includes twenty-nine engagements, most of them in the big cities, from Texas to Boston, with two in Canada.

She concludes the tour in New York City and after that will sail for a series of European engagements.

She will appear in her great program of dances next Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock, in the Campus Building of East Carolina Teachers College.

Double Marriage

This morning at 5:30 o'clock at the home of Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Harris a quiet and solemn ceremony was performed when Miss Minnie Harris became the bride of Jesse B. Bullock and Miss Ethel Bullock became the bride of Floyd P. Harris.

The living room was beautifully decorated with potted plants, white carnations and roses, carrying out a color scheme of green and white.

The wedding vows were spoken by Rev. C. J. Harris, father of Floyd P. Harris in the presence of members of the immediate families.

Mrs. Bullock is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Harris of near Greenville, N. C., and is highly esteemed among her friends.

Mr. Bullock is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bullock of near Bethel, N. C., and is very popular wherever he is known.

Mrs. Harris is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bullock of near Bethel, N. C., and sister to the above groom. She is well known and is held in high regard among a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Harris is the son of Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Harris of near Greenville, N. C. and is a very successful farmer.

Immediately after the ceremony they left enroute for Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Wilmington, Del. and other northern cities. They will return in a few days to their respective homes.—Reported.

Good Cast in "Way Down East"

A dramatic story, rich in its sympathies, eloquent in its unusual photography and dealing with the fundamental story of a girl who has erred and her right to love again, "Way Down East" is coming Monday and Tuesday to the Pitt Theatre, with Henry Fonda and Rochelle Hudson co-starred in the leading roles.

Derived from the play whose force and appeal have made it America's greatest melodrama for more than forty years, the picture tells the story of two who fought bigotry and hatred for the right to love.

FAT GIRLS GET THE GO-BY—SLIM GIRLS WIN MEN

Lean Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diet, Laxing, Exhausting Labor or Weakness, Irritation, Habit-Forming Laxatives

There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right. All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace.

Physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks—and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same scientific method used by doctors. So don't waste your time or money striving to reduce by methods that are hard, futile or depend on harmful, health-racking salts and laxatives for their action.

Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get Marmola today from druggists.

Archery

To obtain the Merit Badge for Archery, a Scout must:

1. Make a bow, arrow and string with which he shall shoot an extreme flight of at least 150 yards.

2. With a bow and arrow make the following score on a regulation four foot target, shooting thirty arrows at each distance: At 50 yards a score of at least 60; at 40 yards a score of at least 80; at 30 yards a score of at least 100.

3. Give the meaning of York, American and team rounds wands; flight, and butt shooting, and roving. Mention three American woods that can be used satisfactorily in the making of a bow. (Perhaps the three best known are Yew, Hickory and Ironwood).

4. Know something of the history of Archery and the principal archers of the past and the present, and their records.

Celebrates 78th Birthday

Fountain, Oct. 17.—On Tuesday night, October 15, Miss Frances Dilda entertained a lovely dinner party in honor of her father, Mr. Jonas Dilda, 78th birthday. The dining room was decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. The table with an Irish lace cover, and as its centerpiece a three-tiered birthday cake containing 78 pink candles, white candles in silver holders were lighted at either end of the table. There were place cards for twelve, the majority of whom were between the ages of 70 and 85. The hostess, assisted by her mother and Mrs. Bennie Phillips, served barbecue and Brunswick stew, ice cream and cake.

Those enjoying the evening with Mr. Dilda were: J. R. Tugwell, Sr., and Watt Parker of Farmville; Henry Lamm of Wilmington; William McArthur of Greenville, and F. L. Eagles, Abner Eason, Marcelus Smith, R. L. Jefferson, J. R. D.

Moore, J. R. Dozier and H. B. Mayo of Fountain.

Mr. Dilda's home is in practically the same spot in which his father's was, where he was born. He has been married twice. By his first wife he has five children, thirty-four grandchildren and thirty-six great-grandchildren. There are three children by his last wife.

YOUR HELP NEEDED
Early reports from the campaign for funds to carry on the Boy Scout work in this community for another year, indicate that the fund is only about half pledged. There is no greater work for any community than of providing proper training and environment for the boys and it has been proven that through the Scout organization is one of the best ways to accomplish this. As a good citizen you cannot help but be interested in the boys of our community who will be our citizens of tomorrow. You have a definite obligation in helping to provide for these boys and we urge you to do your share now by pledging your financial support to the Boy Scout program here.

HOW QUICKLY CAN YOU STOP?
Here are some facts you have probably read but in view of the great number of accidents caused by the failure of motorists to realize the danger of excessive speed we feel that it will not hurt you to refresh your memory on these facts, and we urge you to study them and then consider them the next time you have the urge to step on the gas.

At a speed of 30 miles an hour a car travels 44 feet in a second. During the 3-4 of a second required for the driver's mental reaction to an emergency the car has traveled 33 feet and then according to brake test charts, 40 additional feet are required to stop the car, making a total of 73 feet necessary for stopping a car traveling 30 miles per hour.
At 40 miles per hour the car travels 59 feet a second covering 44 feet during the 3-4 second required for mental reaction of the driver. 71 additional feet are required to stop the car, making a total distance of 115 feet necessary for the average driver to stop a car traveling at 40 miles per hour.
At 50 miles an hour a car travels 74 feet a second, covering 55 feet during mental reaction and requiring an additional 111 feet for stopping, making a total of 166 feet necessary under average conditions to stop a car traveling at 50 miles an hour.
At 60 miles an hour the car travels 88 feet per second, covering 66 feet during mental reaction and 160 feet additional required for stopping, making a total of 226 feet.

At 70 miles an hour the car travels 103 feet per second, covers 77 feet during the reaction period and requires 218 feet for stopping, making a total of 295 feet.
Beyond 70 miles an hour you may figure out for yourself but the above figures should be sufficient to convince you of the dangers of fast driving and assure you that fast driving is a quick way to the hospital or the cemetery.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

was simply going through the motions of being nice to another lobby group, according to this view. The two lobbies—legion and labor—have rarely had a common objective in their behind-the-scenes fights on Capitol Hill.

WOODE: Unbeknownst to his closest friends President Roosevelt has made a survey of the delays which Comptroller General McCall has caused in passing upon New Deal projects. It undoubtedly spells doom to the movement for a change in the law to permit his reappointment.
Mr. Roosevelt has discovered that Mr. McCall requires ten-and-a-half days to determine whether proposed expenditure on New Deal projects is legal. That delay has slowed down many PWA and WPA projects, especially the latter, and it has irritated the White House. But the President got another shock when he revealed his discovery to some of his advisers. "Ten-and-a-half days," roared Harry Hopkins. "That's foolish! It takes me four weeks or more to get my projects okayed by the Comptroller General."

Despite the official antipathy toward Mr. McCall the administration continues to woo him. The bowl of roses which appears on his desk each morning—he is a flower fancier—is said to come from the White House greenhouses.
SIGNALS: Despite President Roosevelt's affection for Vice President Garner, political exigencies may demand that the popular Texan step aside next year for a running mate who will bring more political strength to the ticket. Talk of shoving "Jack" for a more active and helpful figure is heard from Capitol Hill to the White House these days.

Democratic insiders realize that they can't dump Mr. Garner unless he agrees to the scheme. He is too popular in both houses of Congress, and friendly Texans head almost all the important committees in the House. But they suggest that "Jack," who has always been a loyal political soldier, may agree to abdicate.

The most talked-of candidate for the V. P. nomination is "Honorable" Donahoe, now Senator from Ohio. Others on the list are Gov. Paul McNutt of Indiana and Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia. All three would make a strong appeal to conservatives, but the necessity for holding Ohio and Indiana in line seems to give the call to "Honorable" That nickname alone is worth thousands of votes these days.

GERMS: Government hygienists are trying to devise a scheme that will protect Uncle Sam's beer revenues without jeopardizing public health. It is one of many secret sorrows which prohibition repeal has bequeathed to an administration suffering from a social complex.

For 75 years federal tax regulations have required that the excise stamp be affixed to the bung hole of beer barrels. Under this system the barrel cannot be tapped without destroying the stamp, thereby preventing future use of the barrel for bootlegging purposes. But in the process of delivery the barrel is naturally rolled across streets and sidewalks, and the stamp gathers unhygienic germs at every roll.

In enforcing the law by driving the bung hole stamp through the barrel, some germs picked up on the streets and sidewalks become mingled with the beer. The alcohol, of course, may kill them, but experts doubt it. So now tax and health experts are putting their heads together to figure out a system which will safeguard health and revenue.

New York
By JAMES McMULLIN
CLUE: Chairman Jesse Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will have to fish or cut bait with the New Haven Railroad. The situation has reached a show-down. Either he must violate his standard of making only sound loans and grant the New Haven's request for a $5,000,000 advance on its unsecured note or let it go broke with a bang.
A graceful out could be found if only the Pennsylvania Railroad would yield to the urgent entreaties of Jones and the New England governors and guarantee the New Haven loans. Pennsylvania has been told in no uncertain terms that this is the only way it can salvage its stock equity in the New Haven. Moreover, Jones is using all the pressure he can—and he knows how to turn it on—but the Pennsylvania owes him nothing and can afford to be independent. Insiders predict that Pennsylvania will resist both threats and blandishments and refuse to endorse a note which it would almost certainly be called upon to pay.

HIGH COURAGE
by Jeanne Bowman

SYNOPSIS: Anne Farnsworth has found the insolence of her relatives almost as hard to bear as the sudden and tragic death of her parents. Now Judge Kellogg, an old family friend, has told her that she is not the daughter of the Farnsworths, but the daughter of an unknown mother—not even adopted. Unable to prove adoption, she will not inherit the large Farnsworth fortune. And Tom Farley, one of the relatives plans further persecution.

Chapter II CAMPAIGN PLAN

FURTHER persecution? Anne stared at Ansel Kellogg in bewilderment. "But what else can he do?" she asked.
"He had planned to break all of this to you tomorrow at the reading of that part of the will ready to be made public. He had planned, I believe, to do it in so cruel a fashion you would try to retaliate."

"There is a provision, made by Luke, that should any person contest the will, that person will be cut off from any participation in the estate. You wouldn't know that. He would."

"And then there was the publicity he intended to have directed towards the clouding of your name, or lack of name."

"Aside from that, he intends to try to keep you from taking one article from your home. I can forestall him there. I want you to make a list of everything you own from fur coats to bath soap, all monies you have spent on the house, on anything or anyone other than yourself. Will you do that?"

"But there is so much, you know mother and Dad were both interested in my new home and were constantly buying things and storing them in the house because our new home wasn't ready for them. I know," she said, suddenly, "Yvonne, can list my clothing and personal things, and Harney . . . say," she began with sudden illumination, "this is why Mrs. Farnsworth fired Mrs. Harney this morning."

She explained to the judge. "Of course," he agreed, "Charlotte and Tom would be working together. By getting Mrs. Harney out of the way, they could question your right to things and should appear for you they could say she was doing it in retaliation for being discharged."

"Well, we'll fix that little game," he declared in triumph. "You have Mrs. Harney come to see me."
"She's down-stairs now."
"Send her up. Then you'd better go on home and have Yvonne pack your clothes, and in the meantime I'll try to figure out a place for you to stay."

"You won't have to appear at the reading of the will, tomorrow. I'll represent you, that will save you from some of their devilry."
"Now, feeling all right? Think you'll be able to get home alone?" Anne nodded.

"You've been a fine brave girl, Anne," Judge Kellogg told her in parting. "Luke would have been proud of you."

Anne carried this thought with her. To have Luke proud of her had always been her ambition. She cherished the thought no less now. She felt that he and Lucinda would have told her themselves had they not been sure their secret would never be revealed, and had they lived Tom Farley would have kept silent.

Anne drove methodically. She stopped at the red lights, went into gear on the amber and released her clutch on the green, and all the time her mind tried to assimilate what she had learned in Judge Kellogg's office.
A traffic officer, seeing the sleek black car pass with a pretty girl at the wheel, talking aloud to herself, looked at a nearby clock. Too early in the morning for intoxication; she must be angry. His wife talked to herself when she was in a temper; nevertheless he watched the car until it was out of sight.

"I am the daughter of Luke and Lucinda. I am not adopted. Tom Farley wants me to challenge the will, but why need he? If I do not belong to these parents, I'm not kin, and therefore I won't receive a share. He wants to disgrace me publicly."
"Why? So I can't fight, I suppose." She turned into her own driveway, looked up at the big house which had been her home. Already it had taken on the look of another's. And then she saw Rob's car in the driveway.
Anne sustained, tomorrow, a still worse blow.

Do You Want To ADD SOLID POUNDS To Your Weight?
—If Thor's Vitamin B Compound Fails You, It Costs You Nothing!
If you are too skinny and scrawny, and want a strong, gracefully curving figure that you can be proud of, Thor's Vitamin B Compound, the new yeast, iron and copper treatment, is guaranteed to help you attain it in a short time or it costs you nothing.
Modern research has revealed that no matter how much you eat, you cannot gain firm, healthy flesh without supplying your system with an abundance of vitamins B and G. Neither can you have rich, red blood, a glowing skin, and a strong body without sufficient iron and copper to build up an abundant supply of rich, red blood corpuscles.
That is why so many people praise Thor's Vitamin B Compound for helping them put on firm, healthy weight—not bloated fat. Thor's Vitamin B Compound supplements your jumpy nerves, worn-out stomach, and weak, thin blood with the vital vitamins B and G, and the iron and copper they have been starving for.
Get a bottle of this new treatment today. If the very first bottle fails to help you to your entire satisfaction, money promptly refunded. Sold by Pitt Drug Co. and good drug stores everywhere. Phone 15.

Duke Off Tonight For Game Saturday With Georgia Tech

Durham, Oct. 17.—With the squad in the best physical condition of the year, Duke's Blue Devils were completing preparations this afternoon and will entrain tonight for Atlanta where Saturday they meet Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets. It will be the Blue Devils' first return to the place where in their final game of 1933 they dropped their candy and a claim to grid greatness by losing to the Techs 6-0. The Blue Devils had won five straight games at that time and met the Jackets in the finale. Ace Parker, Duke's great quarterback who has scored eight touchdowns this season, returned to work this week after having been out last Saturday against Clemson and will be back at his old post against the Yellow Jackets. The Blue Devils have spent the week installing new plays to use against the Jackets. There has also been a good portion of the time spent on pass defense and in brushing up other departments. Saturday's game will be the third between Duke and Georgia Tech in this modern series of game. The annual attraction was inaugurated in 1933 and Tech took that unforgettable contest to give the Blue Devils their lone defeat of the season. Last year, the Blue Devils partly avenged that defeat by taking the Techs in Duke stadium 20-0.

SOUTHERN ACCENT LEADS TO LONG-LOST BROTHER
Van Nuys, Calif. (AP)—A chance remark brought about a reunion of Peggy Peterson, Van Nuys life operator, and her brother, J. O. Williamson, cameraman, after they had not seen each other since they separated as children at New Orleans 15 years ago.

Elmer Dyer, another cameraman and friend of Williamson, had dinner at Mrs. Peterson's restaurant and remarked:

"Your southern accent is exactly like that of a friend of mine—Jimmy Williamson."

"My long lost brother," Mrs. Peterson exclaimed.

So Dyer arranged a meeting.

State Stadium Ready Saturday For Football

Raleigh, Oct. 17.—State College's hardened concrete stands, the entire lot of them, will be ready Saturday for the Georgia-State football game in Riddick stadium and every seat seems certain to be occupied.

The last sections completed were due to wait for use until October 21, but the weather has moved up the time. Without calling on any extra devices State can seat 15,000. Temporary bleachers can add 3,000. There may be needed as State tends to get classier.

The Wolfes alone play Georgia which last year marked the University of North Carolina from the fall schedule. The two teams present the best "Natural" in sight. Harry Mehra, Georgia head coach, and Hunk Anderson, State teacher, played together at Notre Dame and never lost faith in the scoring power of that system. State showed Notre Dame at its best last Saturday night against Wake Forest. The Bull Dogs from Athens have also a team of tremendous running power. The Notre Damers will be working their wits for plays.

Georgia with a much strengthened team over last year is given no license to beat State on the strength of its rejuvenation. Carolina beat Georgia 14 to 0 last year. State tied Carolina at seven all. State's team is incomparably better than it was a year ago, has better running, tackling, kicking and blocking. Calfish Smith, Georgia's most illustrious end, looked

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Selective buying proved a sustaining factor on today's stock market. But quiet profit taking acted as a sustaining influence.

There was little bearish sentiment in evidence but boom talk was not so loud as in the past several days. The war headlines did not seem to have much influence on trends.

The late stock tone was irregular. Transfers approximated 1,350 shares.

Congress Veteran Compiles Record Of Voting In West

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington — Politicians of both parties in their speculations of what the west will do in the national elections of '36 might find it useful to consult a study of that section of the country recently made by Representative Taylor of Colorado, acting majority leader of the house in the last congress.

Taylor, 77 years old and elected for 14 consecutive terms to the house, has compiled what he chooses to call "an official roll call of the west." He has assembled in one chronological and alphabetical order the congressional pioneers of the western part of the United States.

Sixteen states are included in his study. The record starts at the time each of the states was admitted to the Union. He started from the west with Mexico of Guadalupe Hidalgo, of February 2, 1848, and came on down to March 3, 1933, a period of 85 years.

"West Independent"

During this period he found that there were 204 senators from the 16 states. Of this number, 133 were Republicans, 63 were Democrats, four were Populists, and the other four were independents of various kinds. From those states, over the same period, came 429 representatives, of which 264 were Republicans, 130 Democrats, 13 Populists, and 22 were various types of independents.

During their territorial days these states sent to Washington a total of 106 delegates.

Here are some of the deductions Taylor made from his study:

"The west is more tolerant than the rest of the country of widely different political, religious and other opinions."

"The people are more independent"
