IL DUCE ASKS FOR REPLY ON PEACE TRUCE

Negotiations Reach
New Head In European Crisis

PREMIER SEEKS
FRENCH OPINION

Italy's Terms Include Disarmament
Of East African Empire

Paris, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Negotiations between Rome, Paris and London for settlement of the Italian-Ethiopian war and the European crisis rising from it came to a new head today with Premier Mussolini pressing for an answer to his peace conditions.

Il Duce, after his conciliatory dispatches from Addis Ababa, asked the central negotiator, Premier Pierre Laval whether France would be willing to accept Italy's proposition for East African peace.

Mussolini, making his request through Vittorio Cerrutti, Italian ambassador to France, also sought the French Premier's opinion as to what Great Britain's reply to the terms would be.

Circles close to Laval expressed the belief openly there was little hope Great Britain—or even France—would accept Il Duce's proposal.

Italy's terms for final settlement of the conflict with Ethiopia have been printed widely here as including disarmament of the East African empire, an international protectorate over the central region and Italian protectorate over the remainder.

Emperor Haile Selassie has abruptly rejected any such solution.

Obstetric Class
Widely Attended
By Pitt Doctors

The Postgraduate Obstetric Institute conducted in Greenville by Doctor J. R. McCord, Professor of Obstetrics, Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., is proving popular, according to those in charge.

The Institute is being sponsored by the State Medical Society and the State Health Department with the Pitt County Medical Society and the Pitt County Health Department cooperating.

The Institute began Monday at the Rotary Club, and will be continued each afternoon, two to five o'clock, through Friday of this week.

Today's subject dealt with "Difficult Labor Cases," and the lecture was supplemented by a three-hour film.

Postgraduate work, in an important branch of medicine, is made possible by the U. S. Children's Bureau. It is an effort on the part of the Children's Bureau and the State Health Department to reduce maternal and infant mortality.

The Institute brings to the door of the busy practitioner the most modern methods used in obstetrics. The following physicians have been in attendance during the Institute:

Ayden, M. T. Frizzelle, G. G. Dixon, Bayboro, D. A. Dees, S. E. McCotter, Falkland, Jesse Morrill; Farmville, John M. Mewborn, Mrs. John M. Mewborn; Fountain, E. B. Beasley; Greenville, P. B. ETHIOPIANS SALT WELLS TO HARASS ITALIANS

Bids Opened Today For State's Gasoline Supply

Gasoline, Oil Firms
May Try Force State
To Meet Terms

GASOLINE WARS
SAVE N. C. MUCH

Actually Been Buying
Gas For More Than 6 Cents Less Than
Station Quotations

Reflector Bureau,
Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Oct. 24.—Bids on a six months supply of gasoline for state needs—approximately 5,000,000 gallons—were opened here this morning by the Division of Purchase and Contract. But it is expected to be late this afternoon or tomorrow before the nature of the bids is known, also whether any of the bids will be accepted, since considerable time is necessary in which to tabulate the bids.

Reports were current this morning that the gasoline and oil companies were going to try to force the state to accept bids made on the basis of tank car prices, plus a small differential for handling, instead of the present basis of posted service station prices, less a discount. At the present time and for the past six months, the state has been purchasing its gasoline under a contract giving it a price of from 5.5 cents to 5.77 cents per gallon less than the posted service station or retail price, less the Federal tax of 1 cent a gallon. As a result, the state has actually been buying its gasoline at from 6.5 cents to 6.77 cents per gallon less than the posted service station prices in all sections of the state.

The gasoline companies, however, do not like this system because it applies in localities where "gasoline wars" are in progress between the big companies and independent dealers, as well as in places where the regular prices prevail. In localities where the price of gasoline to the public is 21.5 cents per gallon, the state pays only 15 cents a gallon. But in places where gasoline prices are going up and the retail price service stations is only 18 cents a gallon, as is the case in Salisbury, North Wilkesboro and a few other places, the state pays only 11.5 cents a gallon. This results in a pretty heavy loss to the gasoline contract holders in these sections.

Indications this morning were that the Division of Purchase and Contract was going to continue to insist that the bids be submitted on the service station price, less a discount basis, rather than on the tank car price basis.

G. O. P. Convention Be Held In Chicago

Chicago, Oct. 24.—(AP)—One of the most influential members of the Republican national committee today said the 1936 convention of the party "unquestionably will be held in Chicago."

He said the city will be selected because of its comparatively central location, the availability of hotels and the desirable feature of the Chicago stadium where the 1932 GOP presidential nominating convention was held. Democrats also met in Chicago in 1932 at the stadium.

Gov. Ehringhaus To Address Meet New York C. of C.

North Carolina Governor to Speak at Annual Banquet Dinner at Waldorf-Astoria Hotel

New York, Oct. 24.—Governor Ehringhaus, of North Carolina, and United States Senator Lester J. Dickinson, of Iowa, have accepted invitations to speak at the 167th annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York, it was announced today by President Thomas I. Parkinson. The dinner will be held at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel on November 21.

This year's banquet will mark the anniversary of more than a century and a half of public service by the chamber, which was founded in 1768 and received its original charter from King George 3rd of England. The dinner is in charge of the following committee: Elton H. Hooker, chairman; H. Donald Campbell, John M. Davis, William L. DeBost and William J. Graham.

Wrecks Strews Weed On Bethel Highway

Pete Bunting of Robersonville and D. C. White of Colerain were bound over to county court yesterday afternoon following a wreck seven miles from Greenville on the Bethel highway.

Bunting, driving a truck belonging to the M. C. T. Freight company of Robersonville, struck a truck driven by White and belonging to E. L. Akers of Windsor. Both trucks were travelling in the same direction, the Akers truck being loaded with tobacco. The wreck, belonging to several farmers, was scattered over the highway and it was impossible to distinguish the owners of the different piles.

The wreck occurred as the freight truck attempted to pass the tobacco-laden vehicle, striking it. White was the only injured. He received slight abrasions about the head.

Bond was set at $50 each for White and Bunting.

Funeral Is Held For James Arnold

James E. Arnold, 59, died yesterday morning at seven o'clock at his home in Maple Cypress, after an illness of two weeks.

Funeral services were conducted this afternoon at 2:30 at the graveside in Jasper. Rev. T. E. Davis, Methodist minister of Vanceboro, officiated.

Mr. Arnold spent most of his life in the community in which he died, having been engaged in the lumber business.

He is survived by his wife, three sons, D. H. J. E. and H. E. Arnold; two daughters, Miss Mary Lilly Arnold and Mrs. George Ewell, all of the Maple Cypress community.

URGE FARMERS IMPROVE LINT

High Quality in Cotton
Includes Great Number Factors

Raleigh, Oct. 24.—The quality of American cotton is of vital importance in this day when it has to compete with both foreign lint and artificial fibers.

North Carolina growers cannot pay too much attention to the improvement of their cotton, declared J. H. Moore, cotton technologist of the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station.

High quality in cotton includes good staple length, uniformity of length, strength, and the proper fineness of the fiber. The color, amount of trash in the lint, and the smoothness of preparation found in the bales after ginning also affect the quality, Moore said.

Factors which affect the quality are: the variety and purity of the planting seed, soil management and fertilizer practices, methods of picking and ginning, disease and insect pests, and seasonal weather conditions.

It is important that all the cotton in one bale be of uniform length and quality, Moore stated, as mixed cotton tends to bring the better portions of the bale down to the lower quality of the inferior portions when the cotton is manufactured.

The various picking should be ginned into different bales, as the quality of the first, second, and third pickings usually varies considerably.

Growers who contemplate cotton raising next year will find it profitable to begin now to study the various factors which affect the quality of their cotton and to prepare to raise their crop according to the best methods Moore added.

Full-Grown Pears On Tree In Pitt

It appears that the second crop of fruit in one season in this section is not unusual.

Today J. N. Barnes of Route 3, Greenville, brought to the office of The Reflector a twig from a pear tree on his place with three full-grown, solid pears. The tree usually bears in June.

The Pitt county man said he also had an apple tree in full bloom. He reckoned, however, the cooler weather in evidence now would put an end to fruit blooming in the section.

News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

ISSUE: Though Democratic politicians profess to fear no man in the 1936 election they admit privately that Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas and Bill Borah would probably make the strongest showing. So Ace Publicist Michelson has set out to hack them down as he did Herbert Hoover in 1932.

You will soon read Democratic handouts emphasizing these two prohibitions. Mr. Michelson will point out that the Kansas Governor took the dry side in a bitter state fight, and that Mr. Borah has always been a constitutional white ribboner. The idea is to weaken

BITTER BATTLE IS REPORTED IN EAST AFRICA

Ethiopian Troops Are Concentrating On Southern Front

SELASSIE AWAITS
OFFICIAL WORD

"We'll Make It Hard
For Those Italians", Heard On All Sides
in Ethiopia

Addis Ababa, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Reports of a bitter battle raging in the Webbe Shibili river section spread through Addis Ababa today.

They rose soon after news of a mountain concentration of Ethiopian troops was drawn up to resist the Italian invasion on the southern front. Nasibu, governor of Harar province and commander of Ethiopian southern forces, reported from Diredda that his warriors were concentrating in the mountain ravines and passes prepared to defy the troops of General Graziani.

Word raced through the bazzars that the Ethiopians and Italians already were fighting but the capital still awaited official confirmation.

"We'll make it hard for these Italians" was the comment heard on all sides.

While there was no news from the northern front to indicate that the forces of Ras Seyoum and General De Bono had escaped their stalemate, military observers believed the Italians would make another thrust to the south next week.

Law Enforcement Meet Scheduled For City Nov. 7th

Sheriff S. A. Whitehurst of Pitt,
President of State Sheriffs' Association on Program Nov. 7

The Law Enforcing Officers division of the Institute of Government will hold a meeting here Thursday, November 7, at the court house. The meeting will be for the eastern district of the division.

Eight such meetings will be held throughout the state, the sessions beginning October 29.

The eastern district includes the following counties: Beaufort, Carteret, Craven, Greene, Hyde, Jones, Lenoir, Onslow, Pamlico and Pitt. Registrations will begin at 1:30 o'clock, with the meeting scheduled to get underway at 2 o'clock. It will continue through the afternoon.

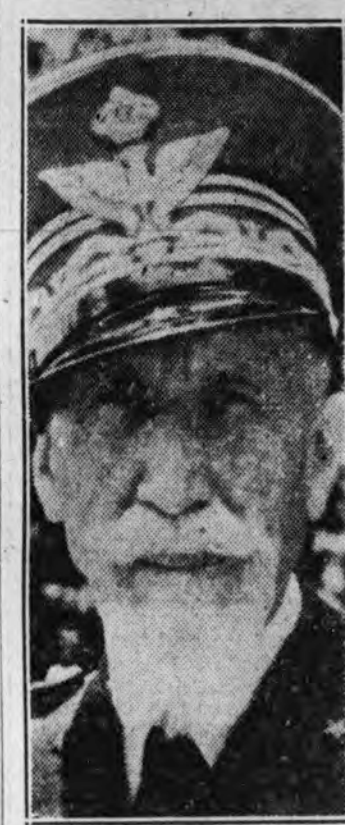

City police officers, county sheriffs and deputies, state patrolmen, federal agents and solicitors, mayors and other interested county and city officials are invited to attend the meeting.

The program is divided into discussions of three subjects: 1—Coordination of city, county, state and federal law enforcement agencies in a program of crime prevention and criminal law enforcement in North Carolina; 2—Practical problems of law enforcing officers; 3—County, district and state-wide training schools for law enforcing officers, guidebooks for officers, crime detection laboratory and clearing house of information for law enforcing officers.

Sheriff S. A. Whitehurst of Pitt county is one of those on the program. Others include Chief W. G. Fiedler of High Point, president of police officers association; Captain Charles D. Farmer, head of the state highway patrol; Frank N. Littlejohn, chief of detectives of the Charlotte police; and Edwin M. Gill, state parole commissioner.

Sheriff Whitehurst is president of the state sheriffs' association.

WEED PRICES REACH PARITY

Official Average This Season Nears 21-
Cent Mark

Yesterday's sales on the Greenville tobacco market brought the season's total poundage to more than 43 million pounds and the season average price to approximately the 21 cents a pound mark. More than $9,000,000 has been paid out on the market here since the beginning of the season.

With the price situation now at its peak, warehousemen were urging the growers to market their tobacco, especially the better grades, as early as possible. The block sales were cleared early yesterday and the market moved along today with fairly heavy offerings but not by any means capacity sales. Friday, as a rule, is a heavy day and large sales were looked for tomorrow to be followed by still heavier sales during the coming week.

Official figures on yesterday's sales were 932,982 pounds for $22.31, 319.88, an average price of $23.81 per hundred pounds.

Reorganize Units At N. C. University

Chapel Hill, Oct. 21.—The University Library School of Library Science have been reorganized into one division with a single administrative board, it was announced today.

Under the new set-up, the administrative board just appointed divides budgets, personnel, and major policies of the library.

One of the main features will be the diversification of members, including representatives on the board from many different departments of the University instead of being formed from the Library staff.

Members of the new board are: Librarian, R. B. Downs, chairman; Dr. Susan G. Akers of the School of Library Science; Dr. Richmond P. Bond of the English Department; Dr. W. deB. MacNider, of the School of Pharmacy; Dr. A. R. Newcome, head of the History Department; Dr. A. E. Ruark, head of the Physics Department; and Dr. M. T. Van Hecke, head of the Law School.

Kiwanians To Hear Lieutenant Jones

Lieut. Lester Jones of the Eastern division of the North Carolina state highway patrol, will deliver an address on highway safety at the regular bi-weekly meeting of the Greenville Kiwanis club Friday night at the Women's club.

Another feature of the meeting will be the reports of the delegates of the local club in the Kiwanis district meeting held at Charleston, S. C., last week.

'Dutch' Schultz Shot As Violent Gang Warfare Strikes New York City

MORE FARMS
IN CAROLINA

Number Increased
More Than 7 Per Cent Under AAA

College Station, Raleigh, Oct. 24.—Under the AAA, North Carolina has more farms and is producing more food, feed, and livestock than five years ago.

Since 1930, said Dean I. O. Schaub, of State College, the number of farms has increased by 21,259, or 7.6 percent, while the amount of land in farms increased 10 percent.

Figures from the agricultural census of this year show that the number of acres under cultivation rose from 5,309,754 to 5,965,547.

Much of the 870,000 acres taken out of tobacco and cotton cultivation went into the 1,000,000-acre increase in the production of food and feed crops.

The survey also showed that on the farms are 13,000 full owners, 4,000 part owners, and fewer than 5,000 tenants.

Efforts Underway For Flying Field, Permanent Airport

"Red" Guthrie, Local Aviation Enthusiast, Making Efforts to Secure
Property For Airport

"Red" Guthrie, local aviation enthusiast said this morning that efforts were being made to procure property near this city for a flying field and that it was hoped that this was the beginning of a permanent airport for Greenville.

Guthrie, who stated that F. O. Miller and others were interested with him in seeking the establishment of an airport here, said that just as soon as a field was procured a plane for sightseeing flying would be brought here and that later if interest was sufficient, an effort would be made to establish a flying school for the instruction of would-be aviators.

Provisions Made For Non-Signers Account Religion

Non-Contracting Tobacco Growers
Taken Into Account by AAA
Administration's

Washington, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Religious and moral scruples on tobacco growers which perhaps prevented some from signing adjustment contracts were taken into account today by the AAA in announcing plans for distribution of tax payment warrants.

The Kerr tobacco act levies on the sale of tobacco a tax of 33 1/3 per cent of the price for which the tobacco is sold. Tax payment warrants are issued to producers to be used in paying the tax.

Non-contracting producers who, because of religious or moral scruples, did not sign a contract, but who have not planted a larger acreage or produced for market a greater quantity of tobacco than they could have produced for market under contract are entitled to the warrant.

The AAA said that there are several religious sects in Pennsylvania whose creed will not permit them to sign any contracts with a governmental agency.

All Employables Be Put To Work By Thanksgiving

Raleigh, Oct. 24.—George W. Coan, Jr., state works progress administrator, today outlined the latest policies of the WPA to some 75 district officials from all parts of North Carolina and told them to pick around 1,000 to 1,500 projects for immediate work which will cost about $12,000,000, with the Federal Government supplying $9,000,000.

This afternoon the district administrators were preparing the priority list and Coan said they would be released to newspapers over the week-end as soon as state office approval is added.

The administrators figure 15,000 persons would be put on WPA or work by November 1, around 25,000 by November 15 and the entire state's eligibility list for WPA of 34,000 by Thanksgiving.

Officers Given Orders
To Arrest Albert
Stern

2 BODYGUARDS
ALSO SHOT DOWN

Detective Inspector
Orders City-Wide
Search For Another
Gangster

New York, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Violent gang warfare which struck down Arthur (Dutch) Schultz, Fleishheimer and four of his henchmen, sent police today on a frantic search for a 21-year-old gunman accused of wholesale hoodlum slayings.

Endeavoring to put a swift stop to the outbreak of violence here since prohibition days, officers ordered the arrest of Albert Stern, already wanted for the ax-murder yesterday of "Pretty Louie" Amberg.

Stern's picture was identified by three witnesses as that of the man who wounded a lieutenant, Martin C. Krompfer, in a brightly lighted Broadway barbershop last night shortly after the noted ex-beer runner himself, his chauffeur and two body guards were shot down in Newark, N. J.

Two bodyguards, one of whom had dashed outside to return the gunmen's fire, died today. They were Otto Berman and Leo Franky.

Police were told to "shoot to kill" if they encountered Stern, apparently one of a group of triggermen designated to wipe out the Schultz gang.

Amberg's, they reported, is the seventh recent underworld slaying of which Stern is accused.

Detective Chief Inspector Francis J. Keane, also ordered a city-wide search for Charles Luciano, chain gambler, whom he alleged was the most powerful gangster in Manhattan.

He said he wanted to determine whether Lu's associates might have decided to wipe out the Schultz gang in one sensational coup and seize control of every racket in the city.

Schultz was in a critical condition, delirious and very low, with three bullet wounds and Bernard Rosenkratz, 36, the chauffeur, was very close to death.

Grand Jury Indicts "Smoky" Saunders On Murder Charge

Walter Schaeffer, Pal of Saunders
Also Indicted; Both Out on $5,000 Bond

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 24.—(AP)—Indictments charging Jockey Willie (Smoky) Saunders with being an accessory to murder and Walter Schaeffer, race track exercise bay, with the murder of Mrs. Evelyn Bluminski, were voted by the county grand jury here today.

The joint indictment was returned by the jury several hours after it began investigation of the auto ride death of the young Louisville married woman whose blood-spattered body was found on the Ohio river road here about 3 a. m. last Sunday.

The jury heard the testimony of Mrs. Agatha Mackison, the other party girl on the fatal ride, which climaxed a night of drinking and merrymaking at Louisville hotspots.

Saunders, 20, who rode to fame this year by riding winners in the Kentucky Derby here and the Preakness at Pimlico, Md., was at liberty under $5,000 bond. His pal, Walter Schaeffer, 25, is a native of Chicago Heights and has been a rider since he was 15. Both stoutly denied any responsibility for the woman's death.

Additional Funds Granted To State By Comptroller

Works Project Administration Projects
Approved for North Carolina
Total Over Five Million

Washington, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Approval by Comptroller General J. R. McCarl of an additional $90,120,124 of WPA allotment today boosted the total immediately available for expenditure to $902,709,270.

The money will be used by WPA administrators in 22 states and New York City to carry out projects selected from the $265,381,936 panel submitted for approval by McCarl.

The value of projects approved today includes North Carolina, $5,670,970.

Duke And Auburn To Meet Friday At Duke Stadium

Durham, N. C., Oct. 24.—Duke's Blue Devils and Auburn's Plainsmen, both defeated but potentially powerful, battle it out in anybody's game in Duke stadium tomorrow afternoon. The kick-off will be at 2:30 o'clock.

The Plainsmen, upsets of Tulane and Kentucky by scores of 10-0 and 23-0 respectively, lost to Tennessee the week-end between those two great victories. The Blue Devils swept to four straight one-sided victories over Wake Forest, South Carolina, Washington and Lee and Clemson before stepping out of the undefeated class Saturday at Georgia Tech.

It will be a meeting of a team trying to come back and a team right at top strength. The situation has the experts baffled. Comparative scores give the Plainsmen about 40 points to spare but Duke followers won't believe anything like that.

The Blue Devils worked this week on the defensive play of their line. The Duke forwards could do nothing with Georgia Tech last week and its poor work was probably the chief reason for the Blue Devils' downfall at the hands of the Yellow Jackets. Coach Wallace Wade will probably make frequent changes tomorrow if the starting forwards fail to perform as expected.

Jack Alexander, midget little full-back, who received a leg injury in last week's game with Tech, may not be able to start tomorrow and his place will probably be taken by Harwood (Silver) Smith, sophomore line smasher.

Both teams worked out lightly this afternoon to complete preparations for the game. The Plainsmen arrived here this morning and were at full strength for the battle.

Carolina-Tech Football Game Homecoming Day

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 24.—Can Carolina's pass defense hold against the terrible Tornado of Georgia Tech as it has held against Tennessee and Maryland? The outcome of the Carolina-Tech game here Saturday before a large Homecoming Day crowd will depend largely on the answer to this question.

The Yellow Jackets literally played basketball on the gridiron against Duke, tossing forwards and then laterals which were handled three and four times. The play which put the ball on Duke's 9-yard line in scoring position was recorded such—Edwards to Sims to Kneeman to Appleby. With such masterful handling of the pigskin as this, a pass defense has to be alert and wide-awake at all times.

In four games this season, the Tar Heels have intercepted 18 opponent passes. Again the highly-rated Tennessee Vols—Carolina snatched no less than 9 Vol tosses. To top this the Carolina defense has allowed only 17 completions of 53 attempts.

Chapel Hill will be scene of colorful festivities for the Homecoming occasion. Tomorrow night a big pre-game pep rally will be held and will be broadcast from station WFPT in Raleigh from 8:30 to 9 o'clock. Fraternities and dormitories are planning vivid decorations for the campus and the town.

The brisk advance sale of reserved seats indicates that the crowd may be the largest of the season so far in this state. Orders for reservations were still pouring in today.

SPORT SLANTS

Alfred G. Vanderbilt's great handicap horse, Discovery, seems destined to be dogged by a nemesis of one sort or another. Last year it was Cavalcade which ruined his three-year-old campaign by heading Discovery in the six important races in which they met. Now it is Top Row.

With the 1934 three-year-old champion out of the picture as the result of an accident early in the season, Discovery breathed a bit easier. Vanderbilt's thoroughbred found his real racing speed as a four-year-old in the Brooklyn Handicap in June when he raced the mile and a furlong in the world-record time, 1:48 1-5, to beat King Saxon and Omaha.

Since that time Discovery scored in ten important stake races and his string was unbroken until Top Row out-ran him in the $25,000 Narragansett Special late in August. Top Row enjoyed a pull of 29 pounds in the weights when Discovery was forced to carry a back-breaking load of 139 pounds.

Outweighed
The general impression after the running of the Narragansett was that the Vanderbilt horse was beaten by weight. The 29 pounds Discovery was forced to give way to Top Row easily represented the margin of victory, which was a length and a half.

Discovery came back to win several important handicap races. His most recent victory was scored in easy fashion early in October when he whipped the ordinary field entered in the Hawthorne Gold Cup by three lengths. Top Row remained idle after the victory in Narragansett.

When the two four-year-olds met again in the $25,000 added Massachusetts Handicap at Suffolk Downs, Boston, there was a shift of seven pounds in the weights. Discovery was assigned 138 while Top Row carried 116 pounds.

The result was pretty much the same as in the Narragansett, for while the shift in weights cut Top Row's margin of victory down to a neck, the gallant son of Peanuts turned in a mighty fast performance when he raced the mile and a furlong in 1:49 2-5 to erase the marks set by Discovery in winning the Bunker Hill Handicap in July. The impressive thing was that Top Row won in the last 100 yards after Discovery had just about come on even terms.

Discovery remains the outstanding handicap horse of the 1935 season. Although he was beaten he was far from disgraced. He ran a fine race but simply was not equal to the assignment of giving away 22 pounds to a horse like Top Row.

Match Race Sought

Walter O'Hara, of Narragansett Park, is hussling around trying his best to line up a $50,000 match race between Discovery and Cavalcade early in November. O'Hara reports that Bob Smith, trainer of Cavalcade, believes his charge will be in racing shape by that time. Mrs. Dodge Sloane's champion three-year-old of last year is working well and Smith hopes to set Cavalcade down to a real trial shortly to decide his fitness for such a test.

If the match does not go through the rivals of a year ago will have to wait until the Santa Anita Handicap next year to have it out.

State Gridmen Entrain Tonight For Manhattan

Raleigh, Oct. 24.—Upon completion of their practice this afternoon in Riddick Stadium, members of the North Carolina State College football squad will entrain at 9:05 tonight for New York and their game Saturday with Manhattan College in Ebbets Field, Brooklyn.

Coach Hunk Anderson will take 33 men with him but as yet has not announced his selections. Carroll Conrad, lanky reserve end, will be one left behind. He broke his hand in a scrimmage Monday. Conrad would have made the trip. The break his hand this season. The other two are Nick Hayden, monogram back, and Louie Marks, sophomore center. Their breaks have healed and the two men will more than likely make the trip. Marks is a Bronx boy.

State's two flashy sophomores backs, Eddie Berlinaki and Cowboy Robinson injured in the Georgia game, will be ready to lead State's offense, says Anderson. The youngsters are expected to show Metropolitan football fans some of the fastest and neatest running they have seen in many a day. They are two of the South's best backs.

Park And Game Refuge Be Situated In Bladen

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel, Raleigh, Oct. 21.—A combination public recreation area, game refuge and demonstration forest will be established on a 30,000 acre tract in Bladen county by the Resettlement Administration. It was announced here today by James M. Gray, regional director of land utilization.

The purchase of this area, which includes three state-owned lakes, has already been approved by Federal authorities and an allotment of $124,000 has already been made available for the purchase of the land. All of the land being acquired has been offered for sale voluntarily by the owners, who will be paid by the government as soon as the titles have been approved by the office of the U. S. Attorney General. Those families now living in this area will be assisted by the Resettlement Administration in acquiring better farms.

This particular tract is known as the Jones, Salter and Singletary Lakes project, since the purchase area centers around a number of state-owned lakes and is admirably suited for recreational development as well as to demonstrate the proper utilization of land. As originally planned, the project did not include Lake Singletary, but was later expanded to include this lake at the request of a large number of citizens of that section.

This particular area was selected for a demonstration project by the Resettlement Administration because of the low agricultural productivity of the farming lands in it and because of the adaptability of the lakes and woodlands to recreational uses. On other projects of similar nature being developed by the Federal government, the improvements include telephone lines, roads, trails, lookout towers, fences, bath houses, camp grounds, reservoirs and cabins for vacationists. It is expected that eventually all such improvements will be built in this area. It is also expected that the lakes will be improved and reforestation on areas that have been denuded. The project is expected to become self-liquidating through the sale of hunting and fishing permits.

To All To Whom These Presents May Come—Greeting:

Whereas, it appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the Pitt Tobacco Company, a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated at No. Albemarle Street, in the city of Greenville, County of Pitt, State of North Carolina (none being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 22, Consolidated Statutes, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution:

Now Therefore, I, Stacey W. Wade, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 3rd day of October, 1935 file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

Directing Systematic Courses.

Misses Cleo Rainwater and Lucy Nulton, members of the faculty of East Carolina Teachers College, who are critic teachers in the Training school, are directing groups of Craven county teachers in systematic courses in the teaching of reading in the grammar and primary grades.

The groups will meet in New Bern on Saturdays several times during the winter, for class work, checking on text book and reference work, for discussion and presentation of problems in reading.

Last winter these two teachers had courses in science with the same groups in the grades.

Miss Rainwater, who is critic teacher for the fifth grade, has the grammar grade group, and Miss Nulton, second grade critic teacher, has the primary group. Both of these have had considerable experience with supervisory and extension work aside from that of critic teaching.

Patrol Head Explains Driver's License Law

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.
By J. C. BASKERVILLE

Raleigh, Oct. 24.—The drivers of automobiles in North Carolina should begin to study the new drivers' license law and to realize that after November 1 they are going to have to drive much more carefully than they are now in order to keep their drivers' licenses, Captain Charles D. Farmer of the State Highway Patrol said today.

Contrary to popular belief, there are many offenses for which drivers' licenses may be suspended at once, prior to conviction, while there is a large number of violations in which the revocation of drivers' licenses is mandatory after conviction, Captain Farmer pointed out. The length of time for which a drivers' license can be suspended by the Department of Revenue cannot exceed one year, but may be for any period up to twelve months.

The license of any driver may be suspended immediately, before trial or conviction, of any persons who are arrested for any of the following violations, under Sec. 11 of the 1935 drivers' license law:

1. Manslaughter or negligent homicide resulting from the operation of a motor vehicle.

2. Driving a car while drunk or while under influence of narcotics.

3. The commission of any felony in which an automobile was used.

4. The failure to stop and render aid in the event of a motor vehicle accident.

5. Perjury or the making of a false statement under oath to the Department under this act or any other law relating to ownership of motor cars.

6. If the driver has been involved in any accident resulting in the death or personal injury of another or serious property damage, which accident is obviously the result of the negligence of the driver.

7. If the driver is habitually reckless or negligent.

8. If the driver is incompetent to drive a motor vehicle.

9. If the driver is an habitual violator of the traffic laws.

10. If a driver has permitted fraudulent or unlawful use of his license.

11. If a driver has committed an offense in another state which would be grounds for suspension or revocation in North Carolina.

12. If a driver has been convicted of illegal transportation of intoxicating liquors.

"The motorists of the state should take note that their drivers' licenses may be suspended immediately for any of these 12 causes before they are tried in court," Captain Farmer said. "If they are later convicted, it then becomes mandatory for their licenses to be revoked for a period of one year, which means that they will not be permitted to drive their cars for an entire year. And by means of the drivers' license law, we will for the first time be able to enforce these revocations. Heretofore, it has been impossible to prevent any one from driving a car because we had no license law. But now, with every driver required to have a license, it will be comparatively simple matter to suspend or revoke licenses and absolutely prevent the drivers whose licenses are suspended or revoked from driving."

Thus if a driver is arrested for driving while drunk, the patrolman will at once take up his driver's license and send it in to the Highway Safety Division of the Department of Revenue. The driver will be given an opportunity to have a hearing within 20 days after receiving notice, if he desires it. The license will remain suspended until after his case is tried. If he is found guilty, the Department must revoke the license for a period not exceeding one year. If the driver is found not guilty, the license will be returned. This provision was put in the law to prevent the drivers arrested from forestalling trial of their cases by continuances and appeals. For now the more they delay and the more appeals they take, the longer they will be deprived of the use of their cars.

"A good many people have said that the drivers' license has been made too easy to obtain," Captain Farmer said. "But while it is very easy to get a driver's license, it is not going to be so easy to keep it. Those drivers who want to continue to keep their licenses and use their cars had better begin right now to be as careful as possible, since after November 1 we are going to enforce the drivers' license law to the letter."

War Of Intellectuals Breaks In France On Italy's Tactics

By CHARLES FOLTZ
Paris (AP)—Smouldering political differences between France's intellectual leaders has finally burst into flame over the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

Members of the French Academy snub each other when they meet. Outstanding persons in the intellectual "Who's Who" are calling and being called names. First shot in the intellectual war was a manifesto which appeared in the nationalistic "Le Temps" as Italian planes bombed Addis.

Over the signatures of 64 writers, artists, poets and scientists, including Leon Daudet, Louis Bertrand, Bernard Fay and Charles Maurras, the "right" leaders of French thought condemned sanctions against Italy and warned of "the suicide of civilization over a few African barbarians."

The manifesto was the signal for a split of intellectuals into two groups—right, nationalist and fascist against left, anti-fascist and communist.

Jules Romaine, Andre Gide and Romain Rolland led leftist intellectuals in a vitriolic denunciation of their fellows. They attacked the right group as "fascists," interpreted criticism of sanctions as a move to "junk" the League and "revert to national barbarism."

Within a week long-standing friendships were shattered in arguments over cafe tables and pamphlet printers were snowed under with a rush of orders.

To date no one willing to accept the responsibility of acting as mediator has appeared. Paul Castiaux, a poet of the left group, met arbitration suggestions with a Gallic shrug.

"What do you expect?" he said. "Without differences there is no intellectual life. If we did not disagree we would not progress. And the greater the disagreement—perhaps the greater the progress."

FAT GIRLS GET THE GO-BY—SLIM GIRLS WIN MEN

Less Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, Hard, Exhausting Schedules or Working Out. Marmola Prescription Tablets.

There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right.

All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace.

Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks—and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same scientific method used by doctors. So don't waste your time or money striving to reduce with methods that are hard, futile or depend on harmful, health-racking salts and laxatives for their action. Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get Marmola today from druggists.

Science Finds Rat's 'Reasoning' Superior To Five-Year-Old Child's

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Adult rats show reasoning power superior to that of five-year-old children in laboratory experiments at the University of Michigan.

By reasoning power is meant the ability to recall several separate experiences and to combine them logically to solve a problem. Whether rats can reason has been a debated question. Their possession of this quality seems to be verified at Michigan, not only by the nature of the problems solved, but by medical tests afterward identifying the brain tissues they use in the solutions.

The Problem.
As these tissues are similar to those in human brains, the animals offer means to a better understanding of this highest function of the human mind. The work at Michigan is directed by Norman Maier, Ph.D., assistant professor of psychology.

For the problem of children and rats, imagine a building shaped like a swastika. It is playground size. Its interior is four tunnels crossing swastika fashion, so that child, or rat, can enter at any end and emerge at any other end.

Children and rats are taught to find their way through the tunnels, until they are able to enter at any end and come out at will at any end, they choose.

Then in one tunnel entrance is placed a toy the child wants. He is shown it, taken to another entrance and told to go find the toy. He is unable to reason out what direction to take in the tunnel. At the center of the swastika, where the passages cross, he has three possible directions. He finds the right one by "trial and error," exploring one after the other.

More Intricate Ones Solved.
Not so the rats. Their lure is food, which they cannot trace by smell. They are shown it, then like the children placed at a different entrance. The adult rats take the correct turn the first time 90 per cent of the time.

Medical treatment of certain areas of their brain takes away this power in the rats. It does not abolish their power to learn or to remember. It affects apparently only the integrative ability used in reasoning—an ability which psychologists think is based on a law of man's action by the brain cells.

The rats in Dr. Maier's laboratory solve problems much more intricate than the swastika—problems which the children cannot touch at all. In these problems the rats learn four separate parts of a route to find.

Combinations Changed.
The routes are interchangeable, so that even a human pedestrian might have to stop and think which corner to turn. Each day the combination is changed. That is, each day a rat has to learn that his route today is different than the one he previously solved.

By pure chance the rats should solve the problem 25 per cent of the time, as there are four possibilities. Due to the daily changing, they would solve less than 25 per cent by chance alone. Their actual solutions are 57 per cent correct.

Hunter's Needs On Display Here

"Billy" Nisbett, Local Window Dresser, Creates Artistic Display at Biount-Harvey

"Billy" Nisbett, window-dresser for Biount-Harvey who has had pictures of his art printed in trade magazines a number of times, bears out his reputation with his creation of hunters' needs now being displayed in the Evans street window of the store.

The display artistically shows what the well-prepared hunter who carries this fall. Also seen are a number of mounted animals furnished through the courtesy of Will Lipscombe, local sportsman. A black squirrel, a coon and a gray squirrel are shown in the window.

Nisbett, who received training in window display in Charlotte, has been connected with Biount-Harvey two years this fall.

OUR Want Ads Pay

The "swastika" design in the picture shows how the "reasoning" problem was prepared. Children, thoroughly familiarized with tunnels, shown in this fashion, are shown a toy at one opening. Taken to another, they are able only by chance or exploring to find the right turns. Adult rats, given the same test with food they could not smell instead of a toy, took the right turn the first time in 90 per cent of the time.

Hoover, Borah May Not Run; Seen As Key Speakers

By BYRON PRICE
Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington

Guesses about prospective Republican presidential candidates cover a very wide range, but in the last analysis the conjectures now center mainly around two men—Herbert Hoover and William E. Borah.

This does not mean that the nomination lies between these two. Indeed, the most prevalent guess of all is whether either of them will be a candidate at all.

It does mean, however, that no discussion of the outlook can go very far without someone saying either, "if we only knew what Hoover means to do," or "The thing would be much easier to figure if Borah could be induced to announce his real intentions."

For no matter how sure the political prophets may pretend to be when they speak for publication, it can be set down with certainty that they will remain disturbed and doubtful in their own minds unless and until Hoover and Borah declare themselves.

The reasons for this are apparent. The two are regarded by many voters as personifying the two Republican schools of thought. Each possesses a potential influence not claimed by any other candidate. The strength of both seems to be augmented by the contrast in their personalities and methods, and by the fact that each is surrounded by a certain air of mystery.

Mr. Hoover is the titular leader of his party. He has been President. He polled (in 1928) more votes than any other Republican in history. In the year of Republican disaster, 1932, he polled better than 15,000,000 votes.

Mr. Borah is a popular hero to large sections of the electorate. His name has been a household word for nearly a generation. He is possessed of a power of eloquence and persuasion which some believe has been equaled in no other American since Bryan.

No other aspirant pretends to command similar qualities. Arriving by two distinctly separate routes, these two men are conceded in almost every quarter to be assured of a headstart over the field, if they desire to start at all.

The Guesses About Hoover.

The general surmise among the politicians is that Mr. Hoover will not run; but this conclusion does not appear to be based on actual information.

It arises quite naturally from a recognition of the extreme difficulties of a political comeback after the sweeping defeat of 1932. It arises from a belief that, with a large section of his party actively antagonistic, Mr. Hoover could not hope to be nominated, or elected if he were nominated.

Certainly there are abundant signs that the former President himself has not put irrevocably aside all possibility of a "vindication" nomination.

He is not out enrolling delegates, but he is speaking directly to prospective delegates and saying plainly that if the voters had known what the Roosevelt administration intended to do, the Republican ticket would have won in 1932.

He has not announced a candidacy, but he most pointedly has not said he would not be a candidate. How can he be counted out?

Confusions About Borah

There is greater doubt among the political wisecracks about Mr. Borah. Always difficult to predict, his conduct recently has been highly suspicious to his enemies.

Assumptions that he will not run are based, as in the case of Mr. Hoover, on a conviction that he could not win. It might be possible for him to sweep the primaries and still be thrown out at the convention by the old-line party leaders who have been affronted for years by his independence of party control.

Assumptions that he will run are based on his well-known ambition to be President, on his continued refusal to say he will not be a candidate, on hints from his friends that he will bear watching, on his willingness to keep himself and his views conspicuously before the public.

Opposition In Primary Seen For Clyde A. Erwin

However, No Candidate in Field Yet for School Head

EHRINGHAUS NAMED ERWIN

Believed Many Displeased With Superintendents Actions During Legislature

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel, By J. C. BASKERVILLE

Raleigh, Oct. 24.—Indications are that State Superintendent of Public Instruction Clyde A. Erwin will have opposition in the primary next June. No one has announced yet as a candidate against Erwin for the nomination, but reports are becoming more and more persistent that before many more weeks pass there will be a candidate against him, and a strong one, in response to a growing demand from a large number of teachers and superintendents, as well as from the public generally.

It is no secret that a very large number of teachers, principals and superintendents have never been very enthusiastic about Erwin from the time he was first appointed State Superintendent by Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus, following the death of Dr. A. T. Allen. It is also generally known that a great many of these same teachers, principals and superintendents were displeased with Erwin's activities during the general assembly. A good many are convinced that if Erwin, July 17, Warren, executive secretary of the North Carolina Education Association, and their paid lobbyists had concentrated more on getting a larger appropriation for the schools and less on furthering their own personal political interests, that the general assembly would have appropriated at least $22,000,000 a year for the schools instead of only $20,000,000 a year.

Most of those who went through the 1935 general assembly and who followed the course of the school forces, are now convinced that if Erwin and Warren and the powerful organizations which they dominated had stood solidly behind Dr. H. P. W. McDonald in his efforts to get a school appropriation of at least $22,000,000, that this effort would have been successful. It is also agreed that this sum would have been sufficient to grant the teachers a salary increase of 25 per cent instead of only 20 per cent, and to give them a bonus for service as well as workmen's compensation.

But many believe that Erwin and his followers compromised on the smaller appropriation for two reasons. First, that they preferred to accept the smaller appropriation of $20,000,000 rather than antagonize the political forces, including the administration, which were insisting that $20,000,000 was all that the revenue in sight would provide. Second, that the smaller appropriation would make it difficult for the State School Commission to operate the schools on the basis desired, which would thus give the opponents of the School Commission a powerful argument either for the abolition of the commission or for placing it under the direction of the State Superintendent. Later on, when the School Machinery Act was up for consideration, Superintendent Erwin and the forces backing him, including the North Carolina Education Association, sought to have the law changed so that the State Superintendent would also be chairman of the School Commission, instead of merely a member. But this effort failed miserably, since the general assembly refused to make the changes desired. It also refused to reduce the personnel of the commission, as had also been sought.

On the surface here, appearances are that the State Superintendent and the entire Department of Public Instruction are cooperating fully and completely with the State School Commission and its new executive secretary. But underneath the surface, it is generally conceded that Erwin and his Department of Public Instruction are still as bitter as ever in their hatred of the School Commission and are still busy trying to preserve and increase the prejudice towards the commission among the school teachers, principals and superintendents.

For instance, there are definite indications that there is already a studied effort being made by persons believed to be closely associated with the Department of Public Instruction and the North Carolina Education Association to make the teachers believe that the reason they will not be allowed any sick leave this year is because the School Commission does not want them to have, despite the fact that the general assembly provided for sick leave. The facts in the case are, however, that there is now money available for sick leave because the legislature did not appropriate any funds for it. So the commission cannot grant sick leave with pay without reducing salaries accordingly, with the result that it decided it was not fair to penalize all the teachers merely to give sick leave to a few. Many of the teachers now realize this and are refusing to be misled.

POLITICS at random

By BYRON PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

It is no accident that most of the firing along the national political front comes at this stage from the anti-administration side. Those who are opposed to Mr. Roosevelt need be in no doubt about their target. That he will be the nominee of his party is conceded. That he will campaign on his record as President goes without saying.

Those who are in favor of Mr. Roosevelt find themselves in a vastly different situation. They do not know who the Republican nominee will be or for what he will stand. They do not know in what direction to shoot. Furthermore, some of the Democratic generals believe the public aspects of the campaign have developed altogether too soon, and that nothing is to be lost by keeping comparatively quiet for that moment.

Among these leaders the conviction is that it would be better to let the opposition exhaust itself, so far as possible, a year before the election; to let the aspirants for the Republican nomination wear themselves and possibly wear out their popularity in advance; and to wait and see what casualties develop among the Republicans themselves as the various factions battle for party supremacy.

The lack of open Democratic effort does not mean, however, that the party's high command is inactive. Underneath a great deal is happening. State by state, the national Democratic planners are looking into organization problems as they may affect 1936.

In most cases these problems center about a more or less routine effort to put enthusiasm into established state organizations, and prepare them to move forward with maximum efficiency. There are exceptions, however, and Mr. Roosevelt's home state of New York presents one of them. In spite of Mr. Farley's overtures, speculation continued whether Tammany will come to a satisfactory understanding with the strong non-Tammany elements of the party. Negotiations on that point are continuing.

Illinois, Ohio and Missouri among others, have internal Democratic troubles of consequence. Kentucky just through an intensive gubernatorial primary campaign, is torn by Democratic factionalism and is receiving commensurate attention from the party peace-makers. Further west, California Democrats are split between old-liners and Sinclairites, and special reconciliation work is going forward Louisiana and Georgia the south have rival Democratic factions so far apart that in spite of present peace efforts, two sets of delegates may be sent from each state to the national convention.

Wisconsin ruled politically by the LaFollette Progressives, and Minnesota, under a Farmer-Labor governor, present still other organizational tangles. The endeavor there will be to get the local Progressive and Farmer-Labor organizations to work in harmony with the regular Democrats for Roosevelt.

What is being done in these various directions receives a minimum of advertising. There are no announcements the Democratic party is reorganizing "from the grass roots" or that intensive preparations for 1936 are "about to be launched."

The statements issued from time to time from the Democratic National Committee are much in the nature of those which have been appearing regularly for months. Rarely do they refer to the approaching presidential campaign or to what the party proposes to do about it.

The answer is that at this stage the party managers would rather do in private what they are doing to prepare for 1936. They have no statements to make about plans and projects "about to be launched" because the launching took place some weeks ago when no one was looking.

New York Cotton

New York, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Cotton futures barely steady three higher to four lower. Considerable southern hedging and some scattered liquidation was absorbed by trade buying and a continued demand from abroad which kept the market fairly steady within three or four points of yesterday, closing quotations at the end of first hour.

After showing net losses of about six to 10 points on active months, selling tapered off and the market held quiet late in the morning at rallies at three to four points from the lows.

Futures closed steady 3 to 8 higher. Spots steady, middling 11.35.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 24.—(AP)—The stock market paced slowly a little today but selective buying was sufficient to offset profit taking and keep the general run of prices on a barely even keel. The petroleum and low-priced issues were given a brisk push in the first hour with the ticket tape dropping slightly behind floor dealings, but the fast pace was not maintained. Scattered specialities were again in demand. A number of "new highs" were recorded. At the beginning of the final hour the list showed little change from forenoon positions. Sales approximated 2,200,000 shares.

Clemson Trounces South Carolina 44-0

Columbus, S. C. Oct. 24.—(AP)—Clemson turned its traditional State Fair week game with South Carolina into a rout today, burying the Gamecocks under an avalanche of touchdowns, 44 to 0.

For the first time since the initial contest of the long series in 1890, rain fell on the battle but a near-capacity crowd of 17,000 saw South Carolina take one of the worst lickings the series has seen.

MALARIA

Speedy Relief of Chills and Fever

Don't let Malaria tear you apart with its racking chills and burning fever. Trust to no home-made or mere makeshift remedies. Take the medicine prepared especially for Malaria—Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic gives real relief from Malaria because it's a scientific combination of tasteless quinine and tonic iron. The quinine kills the Malarial infection in the blood. The iron builds up the system and helps fortify against further attack. At the first sign of any attack of Malaria take Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. Better still take it regularly during the Malaria season to ward off the disease. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is absolutely harmless and tastes good. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic now comes in two sizes, 50c and $1. The $1 size contains 2 1/2 times as much as the 50c size and gives you 25% more for your money. Get bottle today at any drugstore.

MALARIA

Speedy Relief of Chills and Fever

Don't let Malaria tear you apart with its racking chills and burning fever. Trust to no home-made or mere makeshift remedies. Take the medicine prepared especially for Malaria—Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic gives real relief from Malaria because it's a scientific combination of tasteless quinine and tonic iron. The quinine kills the Malarial infection in the blood. The iron builds up the system and helps fortify against further attack. At the first sign of any attack of Malaria take Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. Better still take it regularly during the Malaria season to ward off the disease. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is absolutely harmless and tastes good. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic now comes in two sizes, 50c and $1. The $1 size contains 2 1/2 times as much as the 50c size and gives you 25% more for your money. Get bottle today at any drugstore.

MADAME LOUISE PSYCHIC ANALYST

PERSONAL LETTER
FAMOUS EVERYWHERE AS A REMARKABLE
PSYCHIC ANALYST
MAKES AN HONEST PROPOSITION
* I do hereby solemnly swear to make no charge if I do not faithfully fulfill every word embodied in this statement. I will tell you just what you want to know about friends, enemies, or rivals; whether husband, wife or sweetheart is true or false; how to gain the love of one you most desire; control or influence the action of anyone, even though miles away. I further guarantee and promise to make you no charge unless you find me superior to any analyst ever consulted. There is no hope so fond or wish so great that I cannot accomplish for you.
* I guarantee success where others fail.
* I give you never-failing advice upon all matters of life, such as love, courtship, marriage, divorce, law suits, speculations and transactions of all kinds. I never fail to reunite the separated, cause speedy and happy marriages, overcome enemies, rivals, lovers' quarrels, evil habits, stumbling blocks and bad luck of all kinds.
* I lift you out of your sorrow and trouble and start you on the path to happiness and prosperity. There is no heart so sad or home so dreary that I cannot bring sunshine to; in fact, no matter what may be your hope, fear or ambition, I do guarantee to tell it all before you utter a word to me, and after I am finished if you are not absolutely satisfied and if I do not faithfully fulfill every word and claim above, then you pay not a penny, and I do herewith sign my name to this statement.
