ABRUPT HALT IN MOVE FOR

ACTION FINALOfficial Sources At Shanghai Express
Fear, However, Halt
Only Temporary

(By Associated Press)
The possibility of an upheaval in the Japanese government over the North China situation was foreseen by Japanese political experts today due to the abrupt halt in plans for making China autonomous under the protection of the Japanese army.

The experts in Tokyo described the near crisis as a conflict between Japanese and military leaders. Well informed sources in London said the British government was largely responsible for the halt in the North China independent move through bringing political pressure to bear in Tokyo and by supporting Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

(By Associated Press)
The autonomy movement in the five provinces of North China came to an abrupt halt today and indications were seen in Tokyo that an imperial suggestion was responsible for the sudden hiatus.

Official sources in Shanghai expressed the fear that halt was only temporary, but Japanese and Chinese quarters agreed it was definite. The Japanese armies high command in Tokyo instructed its subordinates on the Asiatic continent that officers confining in Chinese nationalist movement were exceeding their authority.

Japanese militant leaders in China were reported to have told Chinese national leaders to undertake their own reforms in North China intruding into the area a regime and a public attitude more acceptable to the Japanese.

Certain Chinese officials, however, pointed out that the Japanese army in the continent has often exercised independence might be demonstrated again.

The cessation of the autonomy activities followed a visit by Ambassador Aoyoshi of Japan to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, the Chinese leader in Nanking, Wednesday.

Treasury Refuses
Pay Out Federal Money For RoadsFenth Carolina Highway Head Says
Federal Aid Road Projects Being Delayed by Action

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Joe Calus, executive manager of the State Highway Administration Gov. Olin D. Johnston created by military edicts, charged today that the refusal of E. P. Miller, state treasurer, to pay out federal trust funds had prevented contractors on federal aid road projects now underway from being paid.

"Those funds are not enjoined by the Supreme Court," Calus said, "but Mr. Miller refuses to pay them out."

Calus asserted the usual procedure in handling federal contract projects was "being followed to the letter" but that Miller was refusing to pay warrants presented by the highway engineering division for the work on grounds that the Supreme Court had restrained the payment of federal, as well as state highway funds.

Calus said Miller was the trustee of the funds for the Federal Government, that the funds belong to the Federal Government, were intended to finance Federal Aid Projects and therefore could not be enjoined by state courts.

It was learned contractors on many of 30 Federal aid projects now under construction had protested at not being paid in accordance with their contracts. Several said they were unable to meet their own payroll and may be forced to shut down.

GOV. JOHNSON DECLARES
HE WILL HOLD HIS GROUND

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina today expressed determination to continue his military control over the state highway Department despite reports that action might jeopardize roads now under construction with Federal funds.

Reminded of the possibility the state may be completely cut off from Federal aid as a result of a restraining order tying up state highway fund, Johnson said troops would continue to enforce his road rule "just as long as it is necessary."

Pitt Kangaroo Court CaseTribunal Grants De-murrer To Former
CommissionersCOURT REVERSES
JUDGE BARNHILLPlaintiff Contended
Commissioners Responsible for Treatment in Sham Court

It was the general opinion here today that the State Supreme court's action in overruling the decision of Judge M. V. Barnhill in the case of Lehman Moye against the Pitt county commissioners that the case had been definitely settled in favor of the defendants.

Moye, a negro, brought action against the commissioners alleging they were responsible for treatment he received in "kangaroo court" in the Pitt county jail in August 1933.

In arguing the case, counsel for the defendants contended that the complaint failed to state a cause of action against the defendants and therefore they asked for a demurrer. In applying for the demurrer, the defendants did not deny that the plaintiff received the treatment he alleged he received at the hands of the commissioners, but contended the commissioners were not to blame for the actions of the prisoners in the "kangaroo court."

J. B. James, counsel for the defense, argued before the Supreme court that the sheriff was the sole custodian of the jail and though the commissioners had prescribed rules and regulations for the jail, they could not prevent the prisoners from whipping one of their number.

Moye contended he was fined $1.25 by the "court" and being unable to pay the "fine" was given "ten lights, ten hives, five 'straw-balls' and fourteen over-the-hill" licks with a paddle kept for such purposes. He claimed he suffered "unbearable" pain from the licks. He then brought action against the commissioner.

County Commissioners at the time the action was started were R. H. McLawhorn, W. J. Smith, Roy T. Cox, Noah Williams and S. I. Dudley. Other than James, they were represented by the firm of Harding and Lee.

Attorneys for the plaintiff were P. R. Hines, Albion Dunn and Thurman Kitchen.

MAYOR HOLDS

Holds First Session

Greenville's new mayor M. K. Blount, who was sworn into office yesterday afternoon by J. F. Harrington, clerk of Pitt Superior court, got down to real business this morning and held his first session off Mayor's court.

Mayor Blount made the following statement in connection with his appointment to the office of Mayor:

In accepting the appointment as mayor for the unexpired term of the late Honorable R. C. Flanagan, I do so with a feeling of deep appreciation and sense of responsibility which naturally follows this office. While I realize it will be difficult for me to carry on in every way the work of our beloved mayor, Mr. Flanagan; yet, it will be my purpose to serve the town to the best of my ability and make Greenville a bigger and better town. I welcome from the citizens of the town suggestions and urge their cooperation to this end."

Sol Spencer, negro, was bound over to County court on two charges, breaking and entering and highway robbery. The negro was charged with beating and robbing another negro last week-end, and while in jail confessed, Police Chief Clark said, to having entered the home of another negro and stole a quantity of clothes.

Montie Bain was bound over on a liquor charge.

Several negroes were ordered to pay the costs on a charge of trespassing. They were arrested in a warehouse and officers expressed belief they had been gambling, but evidence was not sufficient on the gambling count and they were charged with trespass.

Raleigh, Nov. 21.—(AP)—W. Vance Baise, state highway engineer, said today an agreement had been reached with officials of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads over differences on PWA and regular federal aid projects which include expenditures of about $5,500,000.

Plans for the program will be submitted to Washington within two weeks, he said.

He had conferred on the matter this week with Charles H. Moore, field, district federal road engineer.

Baise announced the commission will receive bids December 5 on 12 roads and street projects estimated to cost $840,000.

FARMERS GET
COTTON PAYAdministration to Say
'Merry Xmas' with Cotton Checks

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The farm administration planned to say "Merry Christmas" to cotton farmers to the tune of about 30 million dollars in price guarantee payment.

December 15 was set as the goal to begin the movement of checks. Meanwhile pointing to a steady climb of cotton about the 12 cents a pound level, Cully A. Cobb, administration cotton chief, predicted the total cost of the purchase guarantee would fall below an original maximum estimate of 53 million dollars.

Cobb estimated that from the beginning of the new crop year August 1 to November 14, when the spot average passed the 12 cent mark producers sold 5,800,000 of the 7,750,000 bales ginned and will receive $29,886,000 in adjustment payments.

New York, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The New York Times and the North American newspaper Alliance reported today that Lincoln Ellsworth had hoped off on his second attempt in 24 hours to fly across the Antarctic continent.

Ellsworth and his pilot, Herbert Hollock-Kenyon, had been forced to give up their first flight and return to the base on the Wyatt Earp, because of an oil leak in the motor after three hours and 11 minutes in the air.

The explorer and his pilot again had favorable weather for the take off with virtually no winds and a few light clouds.

would be quite a dish for is possible for at least one

In the back yard of the home of Bob Humbers may be found a number of ripe strawberries, and as proof of the unusual occurrence W. J. Turnage brought a sample to the office of The Reflector late yesterday afternoon. He declared they were plenty more.

News Behind The NewsWashington

SEPARATION: President Roosevelt has ordered his statistical sharks to explode several myths about unemployment past and present—if possible.

The move is based on the theory that inauguration of federal relief changed the public attitude toward the unemployment problem. It is estimated that in pre-Roosevelt days several million people now regarded as officially jobless were objects of private or public charity.

Young married couples helped out the old folks. Farmers on the ragged edge lived on neighborhood bounty. Many families had an aged or incapacitated relative whom they fed and bedded without asking for help. Under Roosevelt they became Uncle Sam's wards.

'PIRATE'S GOLD' CASE DEFENDANT

Chief among 40 persons on trial charged with defrauding scores of middle westerners in the sale of "shares" in a mythical estate of Sir Francis Drake was Oscar M. Hartzell (right), shown accompanied by a guard on his way to the federal court room at Chicago. The prosecution says the defendants told investors the plunder of Drake, 16th century pirate, had multiplied in English banks to box-car figures, and promised the "share-holders" riches. FILES PLEAUrges Supreme Court
Not to Review Bruno
Hauptmann Case

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The state of New Jersey today urged the supreme court not to review the conviction of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for kidnapping and slaying the Lindbergh baby.

A 30 page brief filed by Joseph Lanigan, assistant state attorney general, concludes with the words: "It is respectfully submitted that the petitioner (Hauptmann) has not shown himself to have been deprived of any right accorded him by the 14th amendment and further that he has been convicted and is now being held in custody under due process of law within the provisions of the constitution."

Hauptmann recently appealed to the highest tribunal to save him from the electric chair.

He criticized the activities of the Attorney General of New Jersey, David T. Wilentz, and asserted the celebrated trial at Flemington resembled a "circus."

The season's average at the close of business yesterday was $21.18 and a total of $12,457,378.83 had been paid by the various local warehouses.

Ethiopia's northern defenders were severely repulsed and put to flight by the fascist invaders in a mountain battle today the Italian field command reported.

Four battalions of infantry and one of cavalry were said to be pursuing the retreating warriors of Ras Seyoum, Ethiopian northern commander, after the clash at a mountain pass south of Makale on the route to Amba Alot.

Mussolini at the same time was strengthening Italy's resistance to league of nations sanctions by granting leave of absence of three months to 100,000 troops. The government announced they would be used to increase Italy's agricultural and industrial production and said the move had no "international significance."

Time of Meeting; A. B. Corey
Team Shown to Be Leading

A report on the American Legion's membership drive at the regular monthly meeting of the Pitt County post Tuesday night revealed that 185 members had been enrolled for the coming year at that time.

The meeting was held at the field hut at Third Street school. A steak dinner was served.

The team captained by A. B. Corey was shown to be leading in membership secured. The team was followed by the E. E. Price team and the J. H. Rose team, in second and third place respectively.

Commander Hicks Corey has set a goal of 200 members by Saturday night.

It was announced at the meeting that the pencil and pen deal in the membership drive would continue until January 1. Under provisions of the deal, any one securing 15 members are entitled to a pencil with the Legion emblem, and any one securing 30 members are entitled to the pen. Both pen and pencil are subject to award to any one person.

Legionnaires Grady Dixon of Ayden reported on the trust fund campaign, but nothing definite was available and a further report will be made at the next meeting.

The legionnaires decided to contract with a comedy group which has played in a number of the largest cities of the state. The comedy will be presented here under the auspices of the post at the High School auditorium December 12. The name of the skit is the "Eaves Droppers" and the cast is composed of nine men and four girls. The show is typical of western life. A quartette also will be included on the program. The musicians have been heard on the air as the Tuscarora male quartet and the Mohican string band.

Officials of the post expressed pleasure at securing the program for Greenville.

INTEREST SHOWN IN FINAL GAME OF GREENVILLE HIGH

The Greenville High School football squad will close its season tomorrow afternoon when it plays New Bern High School in the local stadium.

Considering the small number Coach Farley had to pick from, he has developed a fine football team. There has not been very much competition among the candidates for the team. Some of these were cut out because of failure to pass studies but in spite of all these obstacles, these boys have been trying hard every day. This is Coach Farley's first year in teaching and coaching in Greenville High School but it is not his first appearance. He played on and managed the local baseball club this summer. Coach Farley is a graduate of Duke and coached in Danville, Va., last year.

He has announced that his starting lineup will probably be: Hodges, Watson, Abeyounis, Clark, Brewer, Hamilton, Rountree. The backs will probably be Ellen, Forbes, Parrish, Pierce.

Saturday's Game Last On Program For E. C. T. C.

The football team of East Carolina Teachers college will make its last appearance on the season on the home field here Saturday afternoon when it will engage the Appalachian eleven.

The visitors will enter the game a strong favorite. Coach Brewer's team not having suffered a defeat on North Carolina soil this year. The Teachers have not enjoyed more than a mediocre season this fall.

What the locals like in experience and material they are expected to make up in fight and determination. Consequently, a good game is expected between the two colleges.

Virginia Presents All-Time Stars In Game With U.N.C.

Chapel Hill, Nov. 21.—When the Cavaliers from the University of Virginia come here Thanksgiving Day to battle the North Carolinas Tar Heels they will bring along a trio of "all-time all-star" men.

One Virginia player and two of the coaches are ranked by a nationally known football authority, George Trevor of the New York Sun, on the "all-time" teams at their respective colleges. The player is Captain Johnnie Leys who has been selected as an all-time Virginia end. The coaches are Head Mentor Gus Tebell, as all-time Wisconsin end, and Line Coach "Butch" Slaughter, an all-time Michigan guard.

Incidentally the two coaches were selected as All-Americans in their college years.

This is Leys' last season and whether he will follow in the footsteps of his coaches remains to be seen. But at any rate, he has a big star. He has been nominated for All-America consideration by several authorities.

Advance In Sales Indicates Crowd at Duke-State Game

College Station, Raleigh, Nov. 21.—Advance ticket sales this week indicates that a capacity crowd will witness the North Carolina State-Duke University game here Saturday in Riddick Stadium. The kickoff has been set for 2:30.

Dr. R. R. Sermon, State's athletic director, said there would be accommodations for those desiring to see the game which should rank with the best of the year in interest and keenness of play. There are plenty of tickets left, Dr. Sermon says.

If necessary temporary bleachers will be erected, but Dr. Sermon said he thought the stadium, with a seating capacity of 15,000, would be able to take care of the crowd.

College To Furnish Materials for Roads

Raleigh, Nov. 21.—Short stretches of cotton roads existing now in five states may soon be built in North Carolina from fabrics woven in the North Carolina State College textile school, says Dean Thomas Neisner, head of the school.

The universal adoption of cotton as a base for roads would mean a tremendous consumption of cotton thereby benefitting the Southern cotton farmer, manufacturers, and the public in general.

The short experimental roads now in existence, having been built under specifications sponsored by the Cotton Textile Institute of America, have proved very successful. W. Vance Baise, chief engineer of the North Carolina State Highway Commission, recently made the announcement "we intend to build some of these cotton roads in the spring."

Crippled Children Get Better Chance Following Meeting

Raleigh, Nov. 21.—Crippled children in North Carolina will have a better opportunity than they have ever had before as a result of the meeting and organization in Raleigh Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock of the State League for Crippled Children, to be attended by representatives of various clubs, civic women, patriotic and other organizations.

A program has been prepared by H. L. Stanton, supervisor of vocational rehabilitation of the State Department of Public Instruction, to be followed by organization and action of officers. The organization calls for a state-wide set-up, a district set-up, entering in 16 orthopedic clinic cities, and a county committee with a county chairman and one committeeman from each school district. The clinic centers are Elizabeth City, Roanoke Rapids, Tarboro, Wilson, Goldsboro, Wilmington, Fayetteville, Durham, Greensboro, Winston-Salem, Mount Airy, Charlotte, Gastonia, Lenoir, Asheville and Bryson City.

Governor Ehringhaus will open the program with introductory remarks. Dr. O. L. Miller, Charlotte, will speak on Orthopedic Treatment of Crippled Children. Frank Barber, Asheville, will discuss "Lay Work for Crippled Children." "Welfare of Crippled Children" will be discussed by Mrs. W. T. Bost and State Supt. Clyde A. Erwin will speak on "Education of Crippled Children." The last address will be by E. J. Howenstone, executive secretary of the International Society for Crippled Children, on "Relation of State and National Organizations."

The State League will seek to mobilize and organize forces in every community for aid for crippled children in correcting their deformities and seeing that they have educational advantages and proper care in enabling them to overcome their handicaps.

Civic clubs especially, women's clubs, the American Legion and Auxiliary and other groups have already contributed much in effort and money toward giving the crippled children a break, and the State League will seek to extend this effective work into every locality. Mr. Stanton has sent out 1,100 invitations and has received very gratifying responses from the organizations interested in this phase of social and economic work.

OUR NEW MAYOR

In electing Marvin K. Blount as mayor of Greenville the Board of Aldermen chose a man well qualified for business and legal experience to fill the job and in accepting the office Mayor Blount has expressed the desire to serve the city of Greenville to the best of his ability. The selection of such a man by the board coupled with the determination of the new mayor to serve the city to the best of his ability should bespeak a successful administration of the city government.

REMEMBER THE ORPHANS

One week from today is Thanksgiving Day, a day of festivity and holiday for most of our people. While you are making your plans for a celebration of the occasion include in your plans a gift for some of the orphanages of this state in order that the motherless and fatherless children might also have more for which to be thankful during the months to come as a result of your generosity. Our people have been materially blessed this year and certainly we should be willing and glad to share our blessings with those more unfortunate than ourselves. Plan now to give at least one day's income to one of the orphanages of this state as a Thanksgiving offering. You may give it through your church or fraternal order, or direct to the orphanage, but either event do not let Thanksgiving pass without our making a donation to one or more of the orphanages.

HIGH COURAGE

by Jeanne Bowman

SYNOPSIS: Dramatically, Ansel Kellogg, Anne Farnsworth's oldest and best friend, has returned from South America and taken charge of her father's estate. Anne is accused of murdering her father's uncle, Lee Farnsworth. With the aid of John Neuman, whom Anne loves, Kellogg has found and produced witnesses who materially alter the trend of events. Now he is asking a chance to tell her how he was at the time of the shooting.

Chapter 41

THE NET TIGHTENS

"My boat, she behind and at right of that girl's," the Indian told Kellogg.

"What happened there at the time?"

"Lady, she climb up on boat like she get to trap Somebody say, loud, 'Anne' She turn round. Shot he sound. Think if boat not dip on wave, she shot. Die."

Anne sat horrified; then her surprise was correct. By the grace of a wave which had rolled her boat, Lee Farnsworth and not she, was dead.

And Crocker, Rob Crocker to whom she once entrusted her future, had bought cartridges for the weapon which had fired the shot.

"White Deer, did you see any of the occupants in other boats close to Miss Farnsworth?"

The Indian's lip set in a stubborn line.

"Come on, Charlie, you wouldn't have this girl hang because you're afraid to talk?"

"Nikka 'frid,' the man protested. 'Don't know sure. Only know girl not shoot.'"

"Well, tell us what some of the men nearby looked like."

"All dress same. All wear slickers, big hats. One closest to her he wear fancy sweater under coat. Red."

Judge Kellogg reached for a bundle Neuman handed him. He unrolled it, disclosed a turtle neck sweater of scarlet with interwoven lines of purple and blue. After introducing it as an exhibit, he turned to the chinook.

"Could this be it?"

"Yes, Pretty. The black eyes glittered with enjoyment of the gay color."

"Are you sure?"

The bronze brow wrinkled. "No, sure," he compromised. "Just think White Deer wish to be right. White Deer American, wrong no man."

"That's a fine idea, Charlie, too bad others haven't the same feeling. You're excused."

"Hale Carson, next, if you please, Mr. Bailiff."

Anne, watching Farley and Rob Crocker, saw them exchange startled glances as the sturdy cannery man entered and was sworn in as a witness.

"Mr. Carson, what are your duties?"

"General caretaker of the Farnsworth cannery."

"Where were you the night of August 3rd?"

"Hanging around the cannery. There was trouble brewing among the fishermen and we figured I'd better keep an eye to the buildings."

"Did you see any of your employees at the time?"

"Sure, that is, the young ones, Mr. Crocker and Mr. Farley. Crocker was there all evening."

Anne sighed with relief. Then the murderer couldn't have been he, and perhaps her trust hadn't been so flagrantly misplaced.

"But Farley took off in a gutterer soon after the fishermen left."

"Do you remember how Farley was dressed at the time?"

"Yeh, it was kinda chilly, so I loaned him a sweater of mine I keep round the cannery, and a slicker and sou'wester."

"Is this the sweater?"

"Sure, that's it. I wondered what he'd done with it."

"That will be all."

A dead silence settled over the courtroom. Anne looked around. Plunked along the railing were the deputy sheriffs, all on the alert. Bewildered, she wondered what would happen next. She turned back to Judge Kellogg. He was facing the district attorney.

"Are you ready to ask for a dismissal?" Ansel asked.

"There is no motive," the man answered, uneasily.

"Very well," Kellogg turned back to Judge Benson. "If it pleases the court, I will produce a witness who will provide evidence that there is a man present in this court room at this moment who would benefit by the death of Anne Farnsworth."

"I am going to ask the witness to bring to the stand a man who has been in the court room for the duration of her life."

"May I proceed?"

"Proceed, but first we will have a recess of fifteen minutes, during which the witness will be produced."

After the recess, the witness was produced. He was a man of middle age, with a serious expression, and a well-cut suit.

So what he does is to call in their ministers or ambassadors whenever he is about to sign a new treaty extending commercial favors to other countries. He smacks his lips over the benefits which the agreement will mean to other nations under the "most favored nation" clause. Then he quietly explains that the lower duties cannot be extended to "our country, Mister Ambassador, because it discriminates against us."

The game works almost every time. One Balkan country repealed its quota regulations within five days after Mr. Hull had one of these heart-to-heart talks with its diplomatic representative. Mr. Hull is smashing tariff walls more rapidly than most people realize.

GRIST: Republican chieftains are rubbing their palms in the expectation that they can stage an old-fashioned tariff onslaught against FDR in 1936. It will be a battleground on which they have won many victories.

GOP publicists are quietly compiling a list of the articles and farm products which can be imported at low rates under the Hull reciprocal treaties. They will use this propaganda where it will do the most good, remembering the old slogan that the tariff is a local matter. They will mix it up with red-white and blue defense of the American standard of living and serve it hot.

The Nazi steel episode will be capitalized. Chairman Fletcher's writing boys have clipped every newspaper story on the subject. It may involve only a small shipment and Secretary Ickes won't let it happen again if he can help it—but Herr Hitler has a lot of enemies in this country.

New York
By JAMES McMULLIN
VERSATILE: New York's reaction to Secretary Roper's assurance of a permanent breathing spell for business—battered with Washington confirmation that he spoke with FDR's approval—was a blunt "Oh, yeah!" Some such move had been expected about now as a timely reminder that the President is calling signals around the right end now.

Big time conservatives are no more convinced than they were three months ago. They don't want to be. They are far too concerned about electing Mr. Roosevelt from

If the present act is outlawed by the courts the whole question of utility regulation will again become a political football.

Some leaders of the power industry are already resigned to the probability that holding companies will be a conspicuous target in next year's campaign. Naturally they don't like the idea—but at the same time they are convinced that the worst is over and that it will not again be possible to heat Congress up to take such drastic action against them as the present law represents.

Some of the biggest figures in the industry still concede that some form of federal regulation is needed to prevent future abuses and express the hope that the current argument will eventually result in more moderate legislation which will accomplish this purpose without putting cleanly financed and managed companies on the spot.

COLD: Railroad specialists estimate that earnings reports for the month of September and October will make the best comparative showings of the year. This is partly because the record for the comparable period of 1934 was so poor. Indications are that from November on both traffic and earnings figures will be less favorable.

They can see no fundamental improvement in the railroad situation. Prospects for such hoped-for developments as consolidations and wage cuts look more remote than ever. So bullish furries in railroad securities leave them cold.

LEADER: Political sharps credit FDR with a smart move in naming Tammany District Leader John J. Kelly as U. S. Marshal for the southern New York district. Kelly is a staunch opponent of the Tammany old guard whom ex-boss John F. Curry represented, and is somewhat less than a bosom pal of the present chieftain James J. Dooling. It is known that Dooling had an entirely different candidate in mind for the first juicy federal plum that has fallen in Tammany's lap.

Kelly has quite a personal following and strong backing behind the scenes. Insiders figure he is being groomed by Roosevelt and Farley to replace Dooling—perhaps soon—if the present leadership continues its hostile attitude toward the New Deal chief. That might make an enormous difference in the Tiger's attitude in 1936.

Hancock Still Thinking Of Running For Senate

Reflector Bureau.
Sir Walter Hotel.

By J. C. BASKERVILLE

Raleigh, Nov. 20.—Congressman Frank Hancock of Oxford and Representative from the Fifth Congressional District is still thinking seriously of becoming a candidate for the United States Senate against Senator Josiah W. Bailey in the Democratic primary in June, 1936 instead of seeking the re-nomination as representative from his district, those who have talked with Hancock recently report here.

One man who talked with Hancock within the last few days said here today he was confident the young Oxford lawyer would announce his candidacy within the next ten days or two weeks, in spite of the belief prevailing here in Raleigh and in many other sections that Bailey is already too strong that he will not have any opposition.

That Hancock will cause Bailey some irritation and discomfort if he does become a candidate is generally conceded in most political circles here, especially if Hancock bases his campaign upon Senator Bailey's record, as he has indicated he will if he runs. For most impartial observers agree that up to a year or so ago, the Bailey record in Congress gave a great deal more satisfaction to the Republicans and the Liberty Leaguers than it did to the Roosevelt Administration and the Democrats. It is agreed, however, that as the time for the primary and his re-nomination grew nearer that the Senior Senator went through a "Saul of Tarsus" transformation, saw the light, and proceeded to "get right" both with the Administration in Washington and the rank and file of the Democratic voters here at home. It is also conceded that Senator Bailey has distributed his patronage so that it would do him the most good in the primary. Most observers also believe that his has been the guiding hand and the master's voice in the selection of the Works Progress Administration personnel throughout the state, which has already put more than 30,000 former relief cases on regular payrolls and is putting more to work daily.

The fact that it is human nature for people to remember chiefly those things which happen in the immediate past and to quickly forget those things which happened two, three, four or five years ago, is distinctly in Bailey's favor, most political circles here maintain. Consequently the public generally is going to be much more impressed with what Bailey has done during the past year or two to get this and that PWA project, the Morehead City port, a new postoffice, a CCC camp and still more recently various WPA projects, than they are with anything he failed to do three, four or five years ago. And Congressman Hancock and Richard T. Fountain can view with alarm and regard with regret the things Senator Bailey failed to do before his conversion to the "New Deal" without getting the public greatly aroused or even as Bailey can point with pride to the things he has done and the pie has passed out within the past two years, according to most opinion here. It is pointed out that for almost a year now Dick Fountain has been carrying on his back-yard, cross-roads store and filling station campaign against Bailey by attacking his record, and has gotten almost nowhere and many doubt if Hancock can do much better than Fountain.

Accordingly the belief prevails in most circles here that unless Hancock is merely seeking a more graceful way to retire from Congress than by being beaten for his seat in the house, he had better not run. For the prevailing opinion here, as well as in most other sections of the state, according to reports, is that Senator Bailey cannot be defeated. Not that he has suddenly become so popular or that there are not those who are opposed to him. He is still far from popular, especially from Raleigh eastward. But the general conviction is that the odds are just too much in his favor, especially now since the WPA is at last beginning to function and to provide jobs for workers, as well as for the unemployed politicians many months ago. For it is no secret that those holding WPA official jobs, in both the state and district set-ups, are almost 100 per cent for Bailey.

Still another thing which has undoubtedly helped Bailey among the "New Dealers" is the fact that he has shunted C. LeRoy Shipp of Greensboro into the background if not into the discard, and elevated Herbert G. Culley to the post of chief organizer and money raiser, many here believe. As a result, the odds are still on Bailey.

Attorney General Goes To Capital On Social Set-Up

Seawell and Commissioner of Labor to Appear Before Federal Social Security Board Tomorrow

Reflector Bureau.
Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Nov. 21.—A good many persons here, including some of the best lawyers, seriously doubt if the North Carolina law designed to permit the Governor to appoint a board to put the Federal unemployment insurance plan into effect, will be held valid either by the Federal Social Security Board in Washington or by the State Supreme Court, despite the fact that both Attorney General A. A. F. Seawell and Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus are convinced the law is constitutional.

Both Attorney General Seawell and Commissioner of Labor A. L. Fletcher are leaving for Washington tonight to appear before the Federal Social Security Board tomorrow afternoon to explain the North Carolina law to the board. It is pointed out that the Nebraska general assembly passed a law similar to the North Carolina law, delegating to some existing body the power to legislate or make rules and regulations for putting the nation unemployment insurance into effect, but that the Nebraska Supreme Court has just held this law unconstitutional. As a result, the Governor of Nebraska has just

C., merchant and Duke alumnus, was persuaded by a deluge of telegrams from students and alumni to stay away from the Duke North Carolina game. called a special session of the general assembly.

Even if the Federal Social Security Board should decide the North Carolina law adequate, most of the lawyers here who have read the law maintain that the North Carolina Supreme Court would probably hold it unconstitutional because it delegates to the Governor and Council of State the power to legislate, which under the constitution is the sole prerogative of the general assembly.

The Governor and Attorney General, however, maintain that all this law does is to permit the Governor and Council of State to designate some state department to administer the unemployment insurance law in the state and to authorize it to receive "contributions" from the Government, employers or from other sources, so that the state will get the benefit of the money collected by the Government from employers under the payroll tax imposed by the Federal act. Otherwise all of this tax will go into the Federal fund.

Road Department Experimenting On Center Markings

Center Lines May Be Placed on All Highways Instead of Only on Curves and Hills as Now the Case

Reflector Bureau.
Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Nov. 21.—Additional experiments with center lines on the highways, as well as with a new automatic center lining machine which will paint a 4-inch center stripe on any pavement at the rate of 10 miles an hour, are being conducted by the State Highway and Public Works Commission.

There is a growing demand for continuation center lining of all paved highways in order to promote safety and these new experiments are regarded by some as indicating that the highway department is planning to center line highways on a much larger scale than in the past. With the exception of a few strips of highway which have been centerlined for experimentation, the highway department has confined the center lining to hills and curves only.

Highway engineers and officials spent most of yesterday observing the operation of the new center lining machine recently built and perfected by B. B. Sapp of Raleigh for the American Highway Marker, Inc., a local corporation organized to build and market these machines from Mr. Sapp's patents. The machine put down a black center line for about four miles out U. S. Highway No. 1 towards Wake Forest, and in the afternoon put down about six miles of yellow center lining on State Route No. 10 from Raleigh south towards Smithfield, which has an asphalt top. The center lining machine is mounted on a truck with an attachment that keeps the paint spray nozzle exactly in the center of the highway at all times.

The center lining machine does not interfere with traffic and it is not necessary to put out wooden blocks to keep cars and trucks off the line until the paint dries, as it does when hand machines are used. Instead of applying the paint with a brush, it is applied through a spray nozzle under 100 pounds of pressure, thus forcing the paint into the concrete or asphalt. The pavement is cleaned off with compressed air before the paint is applied. After the line of paint is put down, it is automatically covered with dry sand, which prevents its being smeared by car tracks. This sand also serves to make the painted line non-skid when dry.

WPFA PASSES QUOTA TODAY

WITH 35,000 ON PROJECTS

relief, we will not have any trouble," Coan said. "But a lot are going to stay on relief just as long as they can. The danger is that some of them will stay on too long and then be left out in the rain with no relief, no job and no nothing. But we are going to provide jobs for all of those who really want to work and who are unable to find work any other place."

Messages of congratulation at the manner in which the North Carolina WPA organization has gotten its projects started and exceeded its quota of employables have been received from Washington officials.

At first there was a tendency on the part of some of those who had been on relief, and thus getting higher rates of pay on an hourly or daily basis, to object to the pay schedules being paid by the WPA. It is admitted. But since they have come to realize that they now get a fixed sum each month, regardless of weather conditions, and have shown that the aggregate is usually greater than they got while on relief projects working only a few days each week, this dissatisfaction is disappearing. It was indicated. The only thing that now disconcerts some of the workers is that they must work every day, six days a week, four weeks each month in order to draw their pay.

The rate of pay being paid on most of the WPA projects is as follows: for unskilled labor, $19 to $30 a month, depending upon the type of work and working conditions; for intermediate labor, $27 to $49 a month; for skilled labor, from $35 to $68 a month and for professional and technical labor, from $39 to $75 a month. Since most of those formerly on relief belong in the unskilled labor classification, most of the projects had to be planned to provide more work for unskilled laborers than for any other class.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The stock market's bullish forces hit back in the saddle today apparently little the worse for their tumble of the previous session.

Considerable caution was in evidence as buying was largely concentrated on scattered specialties. Trading was a little better than steady. Motors, steels and communications stood aside. The late tone was firm. Transfers approximated 3,300,000 shares.

County Boy Scouts To Go On Camp Trip Thansksgiv'g

Summer Camp Put Off Because of Infantile Paralysis Before Local Boys Attended

The Boy Scouts of Pitt County will be provided with a two day camping experience during the Thanksgiving holidays at the Episcopal Camp Leach, near Washington, N. C.

Since the East Carolina Council Camp, Camp Charles, was closed early in the summer, due to the Polio epidemic, before the boys from Pitt County and Beaufort County were able to attend, the Camping Committee of these districts have provided a two day camp for Friday and Saturday following Thanksgiving. Every arrangement has been made in all phases of the camp.

The program consists of games, hikes, instruction, outdoor camp fire program, special instruction in Stars, leather work, bead work, wood work, and nature study. Special ceremonies and initiations, Saturday night a Court of Honor where any advancements earned during, or before camp, may be made. Many boys will take advantage of this opportunity and advance as much as one rank. A large number of the outstanding Scouters of the East Carolina Council will give leadership to this camp and provide the boys for ample opportunity for two full days of real Scouting.

The Camping Committee of the East Carolina Council prides themselves in the good fortune of having secured two of the best cooks in the state to attend the gustatory whine of the Scouts of this council. In order to give the boys the maximum time for doing their work in advancement and having their fun out of doors Sam and Minnie, the Camp Charles Cooks will serve at Camp Leach. To defray the cost of food and service each boy will pay $2.00 for the six meals he eats at camp, or if he does not stay the full time a proportionate part will be charged. Each boy will furnish his own blankets and what ever other equipment he wishes to bring.

Boys staying the full two days must send their $1.00 registration fee to the Council office in Wilson at once so their name will be in the pot. Pitt County Scouts, the Beaufort County Scouts say they will have a larger attendance than you. What do you say?

The Ethiopian government announced the Italian machines passed over Harar and Diredda in eastern Ethiopia just after the Lion of Judah started back for the capital which he left only yesterday. communicate said the Italian planes dropped no bombs, indicating they were "pursuing the Ethiopian plane" or reconnoitering.

New peace moves were underway at Paris where Maurice Peterson, head of the Ethiopian department of the British Foreign Service, was to resume informal discussion with French experts.

Anti-British feeling was again manifested in Egypt as students and after groups compelled some shops to close as a demonstration against Great Britain. Police outwitted the demonstrators who broke many shop windows, but there were no serious injuries to middle afternoon.

Unexpected rains slowed the advance of General Graziani's Italian southern army as roads were clogged with mud delaying the movement of guns provisions and ammunition.

Italians in the north at the moment were busy building roads, supply depots, wells, and hospitals, apparently for a new push.

FAT GIRLS GET

THE GO-BY—SLIM

GIRLS WIN MEN

Less Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right. This tiny gland pours into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace.

Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same scientific method used by doctors. So why not lose fat the easy way—without starvation diets or back-breaking, bending and rolling exercises? Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get Marmola today from druggists.
