Airliner Overtakes As Pilot Makes Vain
Attempt to Avoid
Striking Launch

Miami, Fla., April 11.—(AP)—The 19-ton airliner, Brazilian Clipper, sank today after a collision with a fishing boat in the harbor of Port of Spain, Trinidad, drowning two passengers and the steward and injuring possibly a score of others including José Iturbi, world famous pianist.

Radio messages to Pan American Airways division headquarters reported others of the 18 passengers and seven crew men were rescued from the partially submerged Queen of the South American skyways.

The big airliner overturned as pilot Wallace Culbertson of Miami swerved in a vain attempt to avoid striking a small launch directly in the path during the dawn take-off. The plane left its pontoon, struck the launch, plunging the Brazilian clipper over into the water. A "crash" boat from the Pan American Seadrome immediately put out and picked up the survivors.

It was almost the same spot where the Brazilian clipper was damaged last December when a gust of wind nosed the plane over during a landing.

Three Persons Held
After Strike Flare-Up

Sioux Falls, S. D., April 11.—(AP)—At least three persons, including a woman were injured and a strike leader was arrested today as trouble flared anew at the John Morrell and company packing plant where some union butchers have been on strike for more than a year.

Police, firing several tear gas shells, dispersed an estimated 300 strikers and their sympathizers who besieged the plant last night and attempted to halt employees on their way to work. Three persons were injured and more than a score of cars damaged by the stones before the police acted.

Hopes For Pretty Easter

FAIR WEATHERSun Not Expected to Beat Down on Easter Bonnets in East

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—Both fair weather and cloudy skies were forecast today for the nation's Easter parade—all depending on their geographical location.

Middle western states, the weather report showed, will get the best breaks tomorrow with fair weather predicted for that area.

But the sun may not beat down on new bonnets in New York, eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware or Maryland. For those states the word now is "Sunday cloudy, not much change in temperature."

For most of the Southern states the forecast of "partly cloudy." Much of the far west will enjoy sunshine.

No heavy rain storms, however, appear to be on the books for any section.

Former Pitt Man
Tells Experience
In Flooded Areas

Dr. Jonathan W. White Relates
First Hand Account of Conditions,
During Pittsburgh Flood

Dr. Jonathan W. White of the department of agronomy at the Pennsylvania State college and a native of Greenville, spent several days in Pittsburgh during the time that city was inundated with flood waters and has written a personal account of the situation.

During the nine days Professor White was marooned in Pittsburgh he was unable to communicate with his family and much anxiety was felt for his concern.

Following is Dr. White's account of the situation in one of the districts for which the Red Cross is asking contributions to aid in rehabilitation work:

"At the time of the flood I was staying at the William Penn Hotel, which was fortunately, situated high enough to be out of the water. However, during most of my stay there, the hotel was without water, heat, light, telephones, elevator service, etc. People had to walk to get to their rooms on the twenty-first story and I went from Thursday night until Sunday noon without being able to have a drink of water.

"Naturally, during the crisis, this hotel was swamped with people and in view of the conditions, the hotel carried on admirably. The lobby was lighted by about a dozen candles, and people were milling about. It gave one a queer feeling to see frantic men pointing flashlights into people's faces, looking for lost friends.

"I witnessed thousands of rescues during my stay in Pittsburgh. One day I stood for several hours at the entrance to Oliver Avenue and witnessed rescues from the second stories of buildings along Penn Avenue. All of the buildings, including the giant Woolworth structure, were submerged to the second stories.

"The Golden Triangle was completely submerged.

Weather Report Carries Hopes of Fair
Weather in City

Hopes for a pretty Sunday were increased today as a bright sun replaced heavy clouds, in evidence for the past several days, and indications were that the various churches would be well-filled for the special services planned for tomorrow.

The churches in the city have announced their programs for the morning services include special Easter music.

The official weather report for the section predicted "fair to partly cloudy tonight and tomorrow."

Merchants reported a much increased business as last-minute shoppers sought to purchase their Easter raiment in hopes they would be able to join the "Easter parade" tomorrow.

The temperature took a rise with clearing skies this morning, and in spite of the fact that scattered clouds were in evidence, it was hoped these would disappear.

All stores and offices operated on their usual schedule today, but the banks, the library and the ABC stores will be closed Easter Monday.

The college began its Easter holiday last Thursday noon.

SEEK PROTECT
WOUNDED MANHammer-Armed Mob of 150 Attempts to Get Accused Negro

Danielsville, Ga., April 11.—(AP)—National guardsmen sped to this city from tornado-stricken Gainesville, Ga., today to protect a wounded negro, accused of attempted assault upon two white girls from the violence of hammer-armed crowd.

Sheriff T. L. Henley said a throng of 150 on gathered about Madison county jail seeking custody of the prisoner, who was booked as Lint Shaw, farmer.

He said he believed the situation was under control.

The negro was shot three times last night, the sheriff said, when he slashed two officers with a knife in an attempt to escape from custody.

Sheriff Henley said Shaw was identified by "the girl he choked," a young woman in a party of three whose motor car stalled at dusk yesterday near the village of Colvert, Ga.

Screams of another girl frightened the negro away, Henley said. He reported E. A. Elder, one of the officers stabbed by the prisoner, suffered a serious wound in the lung. The other was slashed on the right arm and left hand.

Avoid Complete Collapse
Of European Negotiations

Serious Disagreements Among Great Powers
Continue, However, As Diplomats Return to Their Homes for Easter Vacation

(Copyright by Associated Press)
Geneva, April 11.—(AP)—Great Britain's diplomats won a breathing spell in negotiations for European peace today, avoiding a complete collapse of conciliation in the two-fold crisis after the nations clashed almost to the breaking point.

Serious and dangerous disagreement among the great powers still dominated the peace, however, as the statesmen who had been conferring in the League of Nations center during the week returned to their homes for the Easter holidays.

Bitter differences persisted between Britain and France, not only over how to hasten a settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, but also over the fundamentals of European attitude toward Germany's repatriation of the Rhineland.

Britain, in a conference of the Locarno powers which lasted until midnight nevertheless, won from both France and Belgium acceptance of the view that conciliation with Germany had not failed and that a new effort should be made.

The league conciliation committee of 13 kept its hands on the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, but was in adjournment until next Thursday. Britain having yielded in its earlier demand that the committee remain in session until a decision was reached.

Salvador de Madariaga of Spain, chairman of the committee, decided to open peace talks between Italy and Ethiopia Tuesday with the sanctions committee of 18 hovering in the background, ready for a call if conciliation failed.

The news from Ankara that the Turkish government had formally demanded revision of the Lausanne treaty in notes to diplomatic representatives of the powers to permit it to fortify the Dardanelles, did not tend to ease the situation.

Mr. Skinner was born April 13, 1883, the son of Mrs. Hattie Skinner and the late Charles Skinner, of this city. He was educated in the Greenville schools, Oak Ridge Institute, and received a business course in Baltimore. RELIEF FUNDS
NEARING GOALToday's Contributions of $227.50 Bring
Total to $1,818.71

Individual contributions and those made through committees today increased the money raised here for the Red Cross disaster relief fund to $1,818.71 and it is hoped, within sight of the goal of $2,500 set for this county by the national organization.

A committee headed by E. G. Flanagan and J. H. Waldrop reported contributions of $132.50. Another group headed by J. M. Mitchell secured donations totaling $85 and the workers in the State Bank gave $35. These amounts, with the sums contributed individually, brought today's figures to $227.50.

Officials of the drive pointed out that a number of the contributions were made by persons who have given to the fund previously. The county was at first asked to contribute $750. This amount was quickly raised and, as the suffering and homeless increased, the quota was increased to $1,000. As tornadoes added to the flood suffering, the chapter was asked to contribute at least $2,500.

Rev. W. A. Ryan, chairman of the special committee, then began a concerted effort to scout the county in efforts to reach the goal and organized committees to work the various parts of the city. Gratifying results have been realized from the efforts of Chairman Ryan and others.

Dwight Beard Sentenced
To Die For Texas CrimeJury Returns Verdict
After Deliberating
Twenty Hours

Dallas, Texas, April 11.—(AP)—Dwight Beard, 25, was convicted of murder and was sentenced to death here today for the holdup-slaying of former Detective John Roberts, December 23, 1935.

A jury which had deliberated 20 hours brought in a verdict of guilty and decreed the North Carolina man should die in the electric chair. Defense attorneys announced immediately that the case would be appealed.

Edwin Fure, foreman of the jury, said there was never a vote for acquittal. He said the first vote taken was nine to three for a guilty verdict, and that the jury disagreed only between the death sentence and a 90-year prison term.

It was the second time Beard has heard a death sentence read for him. Two years ago in North Carolina he was sentenced for the murder of a merchant. The death penalty was commuted to life imprisonment there.

The jurors were given the case late Thursday, and yesterday they were given, on their request, a record of the testimony, of Dr. Albert Houck of Lenoir, N. C., who testified the defendant was insane.

Sponsors Move To Urge Session

J. E. Winslow was named president of the permanent organization of the Pitt County Farm Bureau at a meeting of the board of directors of that organization last night at which time plans were made for holding a meeting of the full membership to lay plans for a proposed trip to Raleigh to urge the governor to call a special session of the legislature immediately for the purpose of considering tobacco curbs.

The bureau's membership is urged to attend the meeting Tuesday at 2 o'clock at the college.

Mr. Winslow said this morning that he was the aim of the directors to have at least 2,000 farmers and farm leaders from this county to go to Raleigh some time the latter part of next week to urge the governor to take prompt action. Each of the 1,100 members of the Bureau will be urged to go and take farmers, other than members, with them. Farmers in other counties also will be invited to join the trek to Raleigh.

Sanford, N. C., April 11.—(AP)—Deputy Sheriff James Thomas was shot to death. Deputy Sheriff Owen Taylor was wounded in the stomach, and Robert Williams was wounded to an undetermined extent in a battle between sheriff's officers and whiskey still operators at Colon, a short distance north of this place just before noon today.

A group of five deputies raided a whiskey making plant operated by Williams, his brother and a negro. When the still operators were surprised they opened fire on the officers and the fire was returned.

Taylor and Williams were brought to the hospital here. Taylor's condition was not considered serious but that of Williams had not been determined early this afternoon.

The other two men at the still were reported to have been captured later.

Tax Drafters Turn
Back To New Plan
Despite High Court

Members of House Subcommittee
Agreed Ruling Not Applicable to Certain Dividends

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—House tax drafters turned back to their new corporation tax plan and decided, that despite doubts raised by a Supreme Court decision, they could tax certain kinds of dividends paid in the form of stocks.

Chairman Samuel B. Hill (D-Wash.) told reporters Democrats of the House ways and means taxation sub-committee also were "puzzling" over an avenue of tax evasion that lies in "pyramiding corporations."

Hill said the Supreme Court held that stock dividends are not taxable because they are not income. Among his committee men the decision would not apply to dividends that changed the interests of stockholders in a corporation.

The chairman could not say how much additional revenue would be produced by applying normal and surtax rates to stock dividends.

The sub-committee Democrats agreed, he said, that where stock holders are offered an option of taking a dividend in cash or stock "that is not a stock dividend under the Supreme Court decision."

Asked whether the administration had made any new insistence on processing taxes, the chairman told reporters:

"We are writing this bill and we are not putting processing taxes in. You can write that for the papers."

Postal Inspector at Philadelphia
Says Important Evidence Found
In Case of Mailed Bombs

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., April 11.—(AP)—Six suspects, questioned all night in the "Easter gift" bombings which killed one man and maimed four other persons, were released by police investigators today.

Among those questioned was a former miner in whose home police said they found a clear box similar to the ones in which the bombs were mailed.

At Philadelphia, Postal Inspector John W. Johnston, said his men had state investigators uncovered "very important clues" including finger prints found on the death-dealing packages.

Detectives said they were convinced Michael Gallagher, aged cemetery sexton, who was killed by a bomb, had been marked for death. Some investigators took the view last night the explosive was meant for another Gallagher who was involved in several mine union disputes.

Thomas Maloney, president of a disbanded mine union, and his young son were reported "critical." The other two, Margaret Maloney, the mine union leader's daughter, and Clinton Lehman, son-in-law of Gallagher, showed improvement.

SEARCH KILLER

Mrs. Titterton Was Not Assaulted

New York, April 11.—(AP)—Evidence that Mrs. Nancy Evans Titterton was criminally assaulted before she was strangled in her Beekman place apartment was shown by an autopsy today, assistant chief inspector, John A. Lyons announced.

Meanwhile top rank police detectives hunting the slayer of the attractive 34-year-old authoress, wife of a national broadcasting company executive, disclosed a man's fountain pen found near the nearly nude body was their only definite clue.

Fingerprints on the wall beside the bath tub, where Mrs. Titterton's body was discovered late yesterday, were smudged badly they were worthless, the officers said.

After 12 persons, questions for nearly six hours by the police were released early today, Deputy Chief Inspector Francis J. Keat and Assistant District Attorney William F. O'Rourke announced:

"We have found no new leads in this case."

Lewis Titterton, in charge of literary rights and continuities for the broadcasting company, was one of those questioned. The others were:

Two delivery men who found the body when they entered the unattached door of the Titterton suite in the Beekman place apartment building; two janitors, four painters who had been working there yesterday and three persons described as friends of the family.

Titterton, who was at his office when notified of the tragedy late in the afternoon, said the last time he saw his wife alive was when he left for work.

Plan Make Farm Census More Complete In State

Letters Asking Cooperation Being Sent to Farmers

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.
Raleigh, April 11.—In order that the State Farm Census, made each year by the State Department of Agriculture and the U. S. Crop Reporting Service, may be more of a help than ever before to the farmers of the state, an effort is now being made to perfect this census and make it more complete than ever before, Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham said today.

Accordingly, letters are now being sent out to some 75,000 farmers, most of whom failed to report their farm census figures last year, urging them to report their figures this year and calling attention to the benefits of having a census that is 100 per cent correct.

Last year 250,267 farmers cooperated in the census and reported their farm planting figures at the time they gave in their taxes, leaving between 50,000 and 75,000, who either failed to report their census data or who failed to make a complete report. The names of these 50,000 or more farmers have since been obtained by the crop reporting service and during the past few days Frank Parker, State Statistician, has been sending out letters to all these farmers, asking them to make a complete report of their crop plantings this year. It is pointed out to these farmers that this information is entirely confidential, that it is not to be used for taxation purposes, but merely to help them, especially in the determination of the Federal government's new soil improvement program.

The North Carolina farm census is already the most complete and accurate farm census in the United States, the figures show, and gives the surplus and deficit crops by counties. It also shows by counties the soil conserving and soil depleting crops and the acreage planted to each, so that it is going to prove invaluable in working out new soil conservation program in this state. Parker pointed out, who terms the census "the perfect foundation for the new soil conservation program."

The state farm census is valuable to the farmers of the state in two respects, as follows:

1. It serves to keep the farmers informed of their own intentions to plant by compelling them to make a yearly inventory of their plantings and to keep an accurate check on what they produce on their farms.

2. It gives them accurate, dependable information as to what all the farmers are producing over the state as a whole and thus enables them to plan their own farming operations so as to keep their production balanced.

The results of the farm census by counties and by crops is published each year in The Farm Forecaster, published by the State Department of Agriculture, which is sent out to all these farmers for their information. The State farm census figures are collected, compiled and published at least a year before the Federal figures dealing with these same matters are published. The figures show that on the whole, the state census figures are more complete and more accurate than the Government figures.

The state 1934 farm census was 91.2 per cent of the 1934 Government census for corn, 102 per cent for cotton, 97.2 per cent for tobacco, 103.8 per cent for wheat, 99.8 per cent for Irish potatoes and 100.2 per cent for sweet potatoes, a comparison of the figures shows.

If a majority of the 50,000 to 75,000 farmers in the state who have not heretofore been cooperating with the farm census will now give it their support, as Commissioner Graham believes they will when the matter is brought to their attention, and these farmers join their efforts with the 250,267 farmers who have been cooperating with it all along, the total will be brought to more than 300,000 farmers and the census will be almost 100 per cent complete.

A graph prepared by Frank Parker shows that the census has been steadily increasing in accuracy and coverage each year, that it was about 92 per cent complete in 1935. If the cooperation of these 50,000 or more additional farmers can be secured this year, as he believes will be done, the 1936 farm census should be at least 95 per cent complete.

BRUNO HAUPTMANN COMES HOME—IN A COFFIN!

In death, as in life, Bruno Hauptmann was a magnet for all eyes. A crowd of the curious is shown surrounding a mortuary in New York as a hearse bearing his remains arrived from Trenton, N. J., where he was electrocuted for the kidnapping and murder of Baby Lindbergh. (Associated Press Photo) cans to vote with them against any of these plans, but as they did in the 1933 referendum on the Eighteenth amendment. But there is nothing to indicate that the next legislature will consider submitting the liquor question to a state-wide vote, since the 1935 legislature refused to do so, knowing that if it did, the proposal would probably be defeated. But there is every reason to believe that the next legislature will either extend the present county system to any county which wants to have a state-wide control system or set up a state-wide control system under which any county may hold an election and get state liquor stores.

This latter plan is the one being advocated by Sandy Graham and John A. McRae of Charlotte, both definitely for a state liquor control plan, with Graham advocating a three-way split of the revenue between the counties, the cities in which the stores are located, and the state.

The trend in the various counties on the liquor question is being watched very carefully.

Liquor Seen As Issue In Gubernatorial Campaign

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.
Raleigh, April 10.—The liquor question is rapidly becoming one of the major issues in the present campaign for Governor, though by no means the major issue. But it is agreed by most observers that the positions of the various candidates with regard to the liquor question and liquor control are having a very definite effect upon their chances to win the nomination, especially in the 17 eastern counties in which liquor is now being sold in county liquor stores, as well as in the 25 to 50 other counties which want legal liquor and want to share in the profits from its sale.

It is already evident that the 17 counties now having legal liquor stores and from which all the profits go into the county treasury, want to keep the present county liquor control and liquor stores plan and will put up a bitter fight against any other plan in the next general assembly. The 64 liquor stores in these 17 counties had gross sales amounting to $1,880,585 the first six months they were in operation with profits amounting to $421,129 for this same period. This means that these stores are doing a gross business of more than $3,000,000 a year and that the profit accruing to the counties is amounting to almost $1,000,000. This is the easiest revenue these counties ever collected and they naturally do not wish to kiss it good-bye. Virtually every candidate for the general assembly from these 17 counties has already announced that he is running on a county control platform and will fight to prevent any change in the present system.

In addition to these 17 wet counties, almost every day neighboring county wants "lower stores." It is agreed, because these other counties see the revenue the wet counties are getting from the liquor stores and because they know that residents of the dry counties are helping swell the profits of the liquor stores in the wet counties. So a great many of the candidates from the present dry counties both in the east and in the Piedmont, are running on county liquor control platforms. In the belief that nothing will supply more easy revenue and more political jobs for these counties than the opening of county liquor stores.

As a result, all except the majority of the bona fide dry now are inclined to agree that the 1937 general assembly will be preponderantly in favor of the legal sale of liquor and will extend the present county option system under which any county which wants to may hold an election and vote on whether it will have county liquor stores or not, or permit the counties to vote on the opening of state stores, under state supervision and control, but in which the counties and towns will share the revenues with the state. Those who believe that liquor control rather than revenue should be made the principal objective, insist that the state stores plan is much better than the county stores system, although it is agreed that many of the counties will fight for the counties to get all the revenue, especially the counties which now have liquor stores.

And here is where the candidates for the Democratic nomination for Governor come into the picture. Clyde R. Hoy and Dr. Ralph W. McDonald have almost identical positions with regard to liquor and liquor control, both having said they are willing to submit the question to a state-wide referendum. This is exactly what the bone-dry want done, being confident they can defeat any state-wide liquor control or county option referendum plan in a state-wide referendum, especially since they can count upon the Republi-

Strawberry Preserves

Strawberry season is here again and you will be anxious to put some fruit on your shelves for winter use as well as serve them fresh during the spring season.

You will like this recipe for sun-cooked strawberry preserves: "The berries should be washed, capped, stemmed, drained and measured. Allow an equal weight of sugar and fruit. For every two pounds of fruit allow one-fourth cupful of berry juice and heat with sugar. Cook and pour over the berries in shallow trays. Stand in sun for three or four days, bring indoors at night. Dampness is a great foe to successful sun cooking. Allow the fruit to remain in the sun until it is well plumped and the syrup is thickened almost to a jelly. If the sun fails to shine, keep the preserves in a cool oven. Pack in sterilized jars and seal."

If you care for more strawberry recipes get the State Circular No. 113, "Jelly, Preserves, Jams and Pickles."

"Fresh Strawberry Tarts"

1 quart strawberries, washed and hulled; 1 cup sugar; 1 package strawberry jelly; 1 cup warm water; 1 cup cream, whipped; and 9 baked 3-1/2 inch tart shells.

Combine strawberries and sugar and let stand ten minutes. Dissolve jelly in warm water. Pour over berries. Chill until jelly begins to thicken. Fold 4 tablespoons thickened jelly into whipped cream. Chill. Place layer of whipped cream in bottom of each tart shell. Chill about 10 minutes. Cover with layer of jelly berries, pressing hull end of each strawberry lightly into cream. Add thickened jelly to fill tart. Chill a few minutes longer and serve.

BOYS' LEADER CLUB SPEAKER

W. H. Montgomery of Wilmington Addresses Kiwanians

W. H. Montgomery of Wilmington, director and also field secretary of Boys' Clubs of America, Inc., and prominent Kiwanian, was the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club last night.

Mr. Montgomery, known to his friends as "Bill," related the activities and aims of the boys' organization with which he has been connected for a number of years.

Explaining that it was financed by voluntary contributions from interested citizens and from its member organizations, he said the club was primarily for under-privileged boys.

He explained the club worked more harmoniously with Boy Scouts than any other organization.

In relating the activities of the club, Mr. Montgomery said they included promotion of new clubs, community studies of boy-life conditions, program mapping to aid local organizations, advice and assistance on financing, training courses and institutes, personnel service bureau, building service, publicity service, library work, annual conventions, inter-club competitions, commissions of study and group insurance.

Mr. Montgomery is interested in having a Boys' Club inaugurated in this city and prior to the regular meeting discussed the possibility with officials of the club.

The speaker has been active in Kiwanis circles for many years, having served as lieutenant governor of the Seventh division of the Carolinas and later as governor of the district. He has been secretary of the Wilmington club for about 10 years and is in charge of work of the boys' brigade of the organization.

Miss Iris Hooker received much applause with her singing and playing of the ukulele and officials of the club formally thanked her for taking part on the program.

She was brought to the club by Mrs. Ray Tyson, club pianist. R. A. McDougall led in club singing.

Special attention was called to the divisional meeting to be held Friday, April 17, at Winston. All Kiwanians planning to attend the meeting have been asked to get in touch with Inter-City committee, which group is charged with working up a large attendance from the local club.

The program last night was sponsored by the attendance committee, composed of Dave Moore, Joe M. Taft and Charles V. Wilkerson.

The attendance prize last night was won by D. H. Conley. It was presented by Dr. Marion Davis.

Besides those on the program, guests were Kiwanian Lloyd Canady of Raleigh, Warren Gillespie of the local high school faculty, A. J. Lewis of Rocky Mount and K. T. Funnell, county welfare officer.

SPORT SLANTS

Clarence Pinkston, former national platform diving champion and the winner of the event at the 1920 Olympic Games at Antwerp, believes the United States swimming team will defeat Japan in the Olympic Games at Berlin next summer.

"I can't see anything but a dog fight between Japan and United States swimmers," Pinkston said, adding that only in one or two events—possibly the 100-meter free-style and breast-stroke—will representatives of other countries have much chance.

He Converted Degener
Pinkston now is swimming and diving coach for the Detroit Athletic Club and has developed some of the best divers and swimmers ever to represent the Midwest in national and international competition. He changed Dick Degener from a fair swimmer into a great diver who is counted on as America's strongest diving hope in the 1936 games. Another of his proteges is Jimmy Gilhula, national A. A. U. 220-yard free-style titleholder.

Pinkston attributes the failure of the all-America team which invaded Japan last summer to the illness of Gilhula and the absence of Adolph Kiefer, sensational young Chicago back-stroke specialist, and Al Vande Weghe, another back-stroke star.

The United States splashed won the 100-meter back-stroke, 100-meter free-style and the 400-meter free-style, while Japan took the 1,500-meter free-style, the 200-meter breast-stroke and the 800-meter relay.

Pinkston expects the United States Olympic team to win the three events it did in Japan and to take the 800-meter relay because of this group of stars: Gilhula, Jack Medina, John Macdonis of Yale, Art Lindgren, Paul Wolf of Hollywood and Tom Haynie, University of Michigan star. Six swimmers will be taken for the relay, with four being picked in Germany for final competition.

"Degener should win both the three and ten-meter diving titles," Pinkston said.

Pinkston Picks Favorites
Here are Pinkston's choices of those who will fight for places on the U. ## Aviation Bureau Probe Is Expected To Air Old Feuds

Disclosures in Senate Investigation May Result in Far Reaching Effects in Industry

Washington. — The senate's decision to explore the question of aviation safety through its commerce committee may result in disclosures which will have far-reaching effects.

There have been hints of a shake-up in personnel and organization of the bureau of air commerce before it is over. Officials of the bureau, at least, are prepared for anything.

Ever since Senator Bronson Cutting of New Mexico plunged to his death in a transport plane near Kirksville, Mo., last year, air safety has been a question of major concern to senators. Cutting was a great favorite among his colleagues. His death focused attention on the bureau of air commerce and its efforts to enforce safety regulations.

That crash prompted the present investigation. A committee of five senators headed by Copeland of New York and including Johnson of California, a close personal friend of Cutting, has been given $10,000 to do the job.

It has been an open secret in Washington for a long time that there is dissension in the bureau of air commerce and that sooner or later it would be forced into the open.

There were at least five candidates for the post of director of the bureau when Eugene Vidal was appointed. Vidal's selection left several rivals not only disappointed but outright resentful.

Senators already have been told by former employees of the bureau that it was impossible to inject new ideas of safety into the bureau because of refusal of old employees to accept suggestions.

Officials of the bureau have countered this such accusations come from individuals who were fired for excellent reasons and are prepared to submit documentary evidence to prove it.

They declare that all they need is the opportunity to appear before the senate committee to prove their case.

Bureau officials claim they can count on the support of more than a majority of the transport pilots as well as some of the greatest names in aviation. They have ready

Soft Shades And Airy Fabrics Featured In Simple Post-Lenten Evening Gowns

Post-Lenten parties will call for new gowns and wraps. Fashion decrees that they reflect simple elegance. The new frock on the left, fitting nicely into both the dinner and dance picture, is created of black net over a plain black slip and is lightened by a short sleeved bodice and wide hem band of natural colored linen lace. A little standing collar and short sleeves give a distinctive air to the summer wrap on the right. Elizabeth Hawes designs it of white silk bengaline with a molded bodice and a skirt which falls in deep folds. Although net is used in the gown illustrated, other airy fabrics also are in favor.

They are also prepared to present to the committee as witnesses for the bureau such noted fliers as Jimmy Doolittle and Amelia Earhart.

WPA ACTIVITIES IN PITT COUNTY

Project No. 641, repair to City Schools and grounds in Greenville. Since this project has been in operation a much needed athletic field has been completed. This field enables the athletes of Greenville High School to invite their visiting teams without being ashamed of their athletic field. I am quite sure that they are able to play a much better game on a good field than on a bad one. Therefore, if it had not been for the Works Progress Administration Greenville would have been handicapped in having a place for any recreation.

The citizens of this community are most grateful, and appreciative for the cooperation which they have received from the Works Progress Administration.

Project No. 620, grading and paving sidewalks in Farmville, N. C. During the past two weeks 60 cu. yds. of sidewalks have been completed in Farmville. These sidewalks are five feet wide and four inches thick. By this project Farmville has been able to make this much needed improvement in her sidewalks.

Project No. 705, repainting Shepard Memorial Library. The Shepard Memorial Library, which is publicly owned, was in a very bad condition, but through the cooperation of the Works Progress Administration the Library has been repainted throughout the whole inside. Everything is complete except the finishing coat on the upper story rooms. This adds much to the beauty of the Library, which Greenville so proudly owns, and causes everyone to enjoy visiting and making use of the Library.

Project No. 1085, Construction of Nine Hole Golf Course. The nine hole golf course has been laid out in shape for the planting of the grass seeds during the past two weeks. The right of way has been cut for the fairway, and when completed it will furnish much pleasure for the citizens of Farmville, N. C.

Project No. 728, Malarial Drainage Control, Swift Creek. The drag line began work on Monday, March 9th, at noon. Up to date it has dug 1660 lineal feet which is 14,605 cu. yds. of dirt. The ditch is 32 feet top, 28 feet bottom and 3 feet deep. Two acres of right of way was cleared during this time. The drag line is in operation sixteen hours per day, six days to the week. We have forty men employed on the project including the Engineers, Foremen, Timekeepers and Laborers.

The Women's Department in this County have made 4,799 garments, at a total value of $9,079.10, which have been delivered to the Welfare Department for distribution to the poor of Pitt County.

EXTRA SESSION NOT IMMINENT

Governor Is Believed Convinced Term Is Useless at Present

Reflector Bureau.
Sir Walter Hotel.
Raleigh, April 11.—No special session of the general assembly is regarded as likely any time soon by those known to be close to Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus, despite the demands being made for an immediate session by Dr. Ralph W. McDonald and A. H. (Sandy) Graham, two of the four Democratic candidates for the nomination for Governor, and by tobacco farmers in some sections of the state.

The reason for this belief is that Governor Ehringhaus is known to be convinced that it would be useless to call a special session to consider any tobacco crop control legislation unless and until both Congress and South Carolina pass the crop control legislation now before them. And some are convinced that Governor Ehringhaus will not even then call a special session unless Georgia also enacts a tobacco crop control compact law. But the prospect of a special session of the Georgia legislature is regarded as even more remote than a special session in North Carolina.

At the present time Governor Ehringhaus is convinced that even if a special session could do something to help the tobacco farmers, and even if Congress should pass the state pact enabling act now before it and South Carolina should pass its act, that it might do more to injure the state and the farmers than to help them, those close to him agree. For in North Carolina the Governor has no veto power and hence no power to limit the deliberations of a special session to the matters indicated in the call. So while the Governor might call the legislature for the purpose of considering tobacco crop control legislation, there would be nothing to keep it from considering and enacting any legislation that might be proposed, from the sales tax to liquor.

QUERY AT WAIKIKI—IS WHALE GOOD LUCK?

Americans Borrow Millions To Speed Predicted Building Of 250,000 Homes

Saws and hammers echo again as American families, spurred by easier borrowings and a desire to escape crowded living quarters, start a home building "boomlet."

By SIGRID ARNE

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—Building of private homes has increased so rapidly in the last half year that a building "boomlet" is predicted for 1936.

This year will see the construction of 250,000 new homes, says Stewart McDonald, federal housing administrator. He is corroborated by the federal home loan bank board which foresees the construction of "over 200,000" new homes during the year.

Many factors contribute to this sudden rush of Americans for homes of their own — some social, some financial.

Federal experts point to the shortage of homes, estimated from 750,000 to 1,500,000, created by the depression years when new construction slumped. They also point out that there is a large "marriage reserve" among persons unable to marry during the depression; to widespread doubling-up of families which now are seeking homes of their own; to accumulated obsolescence of old homes; to the normal desire of householders to escape run-down neighborhoods, and to the return of net population movement from farms to cities.

New Home Owners

New schemes, to finance home building, inaugurated by the federal housing administration, have opened avenues to a new set of would-be home-owners. Prior to the government's entry into the field it was customary to write no mortgages for longer than 12 years.

Many of the homes were secured by first and second mortgages, necessitating periodic renewals with extra charges. Furthermore, most financial institutions limited their lending on homes to 50 to 66 per cent of the value of the property.

Federal housing put into effect last year a plan for mortgaging that permitted payments over 20 years. The plan was a single mortgage arrangement which also permitted lending a higher per cent of the value of the home.

Federal housing records for last year forecast the types of homes and loans that the majority of Americans will be seeking. The average value of the new one-family homes secured by federal housing last year was $6,000. Terms of payment averaged between 17 and 20 years, and 70.8 per cent of those mortgages were written for 76 to 80 per cent of the value of the homes.

FHA Strides Ahead

The federal new home housing program started in January, 1935, and 12,360 loans totaling $60,248,256 were made that year. These figures are expected to double during 1936.

In addition 708,405 loans totaling $245,070,729 were made for the modernization of old homes.

Mortgages accepted by the FHA in the first three months of 1936 for home building and modernization totaled $41,043,685, compared with $7,070,613 in the same period last year.

Many other institutions are engaged in combating the housing shortage. The federal home loan bank board is releasing money to building and loan associations.

PWA expects to construct 25,000 dwelling units this year at an approximate cost of $130,000,000. These units will be, for the most part, in large apartment communities, and will be rented to those who move in.

Resettlement plans under way will provide 29,315 new homes this year. They will average in cost from $1,457 for a three-room house to $2,500 for a six-room house.
