ACCEPTS BID TO

He "Will Be Glad

GLAD OF CHANCE
TO STATE FACTS

Chief Executive Says
He Will Welcome
Opportunity to Explain His Actions

Raleigh, April 18.—(AP)—Governor Ehringhaus today accepted an invitation to attend a meeting next Tuesday when tobacco growers of Eastern North Carolina are scheduled to "march on Raleigh" to seek legislation to control the 1936 tobacco crop.

Answering a telegraphic invitation from J. E. Winslow of Greenville, head of the State Farm Bureau and leader in the movement, the Governor said he would be glad to appear at the meeting.

"I will be delighted to meet with the tobacco growers here on Tuesday," Governor Ehringhaus wired Winslow, "and sincerely hope and invite representatives from every county and section interested to be present when I shall have opportunity and propose to acquaint them fully with the facts in the present situation."

Governor Ehringhaus had refused to call a special legislative session to consider compact legislation for tobacco limitation "until it is manifest something can be done to control this year's crop."

Eastern Railroads Lose In Fight For
Rate Postponement

Roads Had Asked That Basic Two
Cent Per Mile Rate Be Deferred
For Passenger Coaches

Washington, April 18.—(AP)—Eastern railroads today lost their fight before the Interstate Commerce Commission for an 18-month postponement in the June 2 effective date of new low passenger fares.

The roads had asked the postponement of a basic two cent per mile rate for passenger coaches, recently prescribed by the commission and the substitution of a trial 2.5 cent rate during the interim period.

The commission decided five to five on the postponement petition and the issue was referred to Transportation Coordinator Joseph B. Eastman for determination. Eastman is a member of the commission but because of his position as coordinator votes only in a case of ties.

In a statement Eastman said the postponement petition presented nothing "either on the law or on the fact which was not before the commission and considered by it at the time of its decision and its proceeding, with two exceptions."

These he listed as the carriers' plea that "extraordinary flood conditions had made a rate cut inadvisable and that they asked authority to institute a 2.5 cent fare voluntarily."

Mrs. John F. Coward
Is Seriously Burned

Mrs. John F. Coward, resident of Chapels Cross Roads, this county, fainted and fell into the open fireplace at her home yesterday afternoon, severely burning the right side of her body and face and burning her right arm almost to a crisp.

Her husband, who was in another room, happened to walk into the room about the time she fell and pulled her from the flames. She was rushed to a hospital in Washington where attaches feared her right arm would have to be amputated.

Local Fire Department
Being Standardized

The Greenville fire department will be able both to give and to receive aid from other fire departments in the future, the equipment of the local organization having been standardized under the direction of N. H. Ballard, engineer for the Southeastern division of the fire underwriters association of Atlanta, Ga.

Working with members of the fire department, Mr. Ballard has standardized threads on the hose, hydrants and other equipment. It was explained that the movement is state-wide in its scope and equipment of other departments will be standardized, or already has been.

CHAIRMAN COX

Pitt County Man to Address Farmer's
Meet at Raleigh

Roy T. Cox, chairman of the Pitt county Board of Commissioners and a prominent farmer, will deliver the chief address at the farmers' meeting in Raleigh Tuesday morning when the governor will be called on to convene an immediate session of the legislature to consider tobacco compact legislation.

The announcement was made today by J. E. Winslow, president of both the Pitt county and State Farm Bureau, which organization is sponsoring the affair.

Mr. Winslow said Chairman Cox would set forth the action desired by the tobacco growers of the state and reasons for such.

President Winslow emphasized it was a farmers' meeting for the purpose of showing the governor there "is a demand for protection of farmers from starvation tobacco prices." We are only asking the right to control ourselves, he added.

Following the preparatory meeting in Raleigh yesterday, local officials said the Pitt delegation would leave here about 8 o'clock so the farmers from this section could arrive in Raleigh to secure seats together at the scene of the meeting at N. C. State college stadium.

It has been estimated by local sponsors of the march on Raleigh that 5,000 Pitt farmers will be at the meeting. Reports from other tobacco-growing counties indicate large delegations will attend from a number of sections.

Officials here today received a telegram from Senator R. R. Reynolds explaining that a flood control emergency bill took precedence over all other legislation as soon as the senate completed the impeachment trial of Judge Halstead L. Ritter, but that he would renew his efforts to secure consideration of the tobacco compact as soon as the flood relief bill was disposed of.

RALEIGH PREPARING FOR FARMERS' CAPITAL MARCH

Raleigh, April 18.—(AP)—Members of the state steering committee of tobacco areas predicted today that each tobacco producing county would send from 10 to 500 growers here Tuesday in a "march on the capital" to obtain acreage control legislation.

The mass meeting was called in an effort to impress upon state officials what was termed the need of a state tobacco compact for control of the 1936 crop.

The mass meeting here will be held at 11 a. m. Tuesday in the stadium at North Carolina State college. Members of the steering committee said arrangements had been made to furnish automobiles for growers who have no way to get to Raleigh.

Stills Are Destroyed
By Sheriff's Deputies

Sheriff's officers this morning broke up two stills, one of which was in operation. A negro Jasper Spain was arrested and a white man made his get-away at the still in operation, located in Greenville township.

The other distillery, located in Belvoir township was not in operation.

Kansas had six deaths from industrial accidents in February.

Little Eugene Hill, 11-Year-Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hill, Reported in Serious Condition

Little Eugene Hill, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hill of this city was critically, perhaps fatally injured, yesterday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile driven by Jesse Warren, negro. The accident occurred about the middle of the afternoon on Albemarle avenue near the Citizens ice plant. Witnesses were quoted by Chief George Clark as saying the boy apparently ran in front of the car, was knocked down and dragged some distance.

The man is being held under $500 bond pending the condition of the little boy. Chief Clark said his preliminary investigation tended to show the accident was unavoidable on the part of the driver.

Hospital catches reported this morning the little boy was in a serious condition, suffering a fractured skull.

The boy's father is an employee of the City Water and Light Commission.

CALL HOLIDAY
FOR TUESDAY

Pitt County Offices to Close in Cooperation with Farmers

All county offices will be closed Tuesday to permit officials and employees to join the "march on the capital" to request Governor Ehringhaus to call an immediate session of the legislature to consider tobacco compact.

The action was taken by the board here today. The county officials also adopted a resolution calling on all business interests to join the farmers in their trek to Raleigh next week.

The resolution, signed by Chairman Roy T. Cox, L. W. Cherry, B. M. Lewis, J. N. Williams and G. S. Porter, follows:

"Whereas the Board of Commissioners of Pitt County are of the opinion that almost all farmers and business interests, dependent upon tobacco production, feel that State Compact Legislation should be immediately enacted in order that control of 1936 tobacco production may be obtained, and

"Whereas Pitt County, being the largest tobacco producing county, over-production would without a doubt result in low prices and consequent financial disaster to the citizens of our county, and

"Whereas, Tuesday, April 21st, at 11 o'clock a. m. has been set as the date for a Mass Meeting of farmers and others interested in tobacco production control to assemble in the Stadium at North Carolina State College in the City of Raleigh to impress the urgency of the situation upon officials in whom authority is vested to take the first step looking toward the adoption of State Compact Legislation,

"We the Board of Commissioners of Pitt County, do hereby proclaim and declare that it is the duty of all interested citizens of make April 21st a holiday for Pitt County to the end that farmers, and all business interests and their employees, may join in the movement to have Pitt County lead the way in attending the meeting in Raleigh on April 21st."

J. CON LANIER
IN STATEMENT

Discusses Pending
Tobacco Compact
Legislation

J. Con Lanier, former tobacco expert and the invalidated AAA and also former tobacco warehousemen's code administrator, today issued a statement in regard to pending legislation authorizing tobacco compacts.

The full statement follows: "I desire herewith to state some facts that should be brought to the attention of the tobacco growers of this state in connection with the agitation for an extra session of the North Carolina Legislature of the North Carolina Legislature. I feel that perhaps the thinking farmers will appreciate some enlightenment upon this pressing problem."

"It is not only proper, but imperative, that the Congress pass the pending legislation authorizing the several states to make agreements among themselves regulating the production of tobacco. This legislation does not in any way regulate or seek to regulate, production of tobacco. It merely gives the states the right to agree among themselves to regulate it. Unless the Congress gives its permission, such agreements among the states are prohibited by the Constitution of the United States."

"Not only for this year alone, but for the years to come, proper control of tobacco production can be legally accomplished through state control operating uniformly in the states that produce tobacco. Enactment of the compact legislation by the Congress is only the first step towards the attainment of the objective."

"The second step is through similar legislation in the states of North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and Georgia. In the Virginia law, it is stated that the Act shall only become effective in Virginia, 'If and when' effective measures have been adopted to regulate, by agreement or otherwise, the marketing and sale of tobacco in Georgia substantially in accord with the general quota and marketing provisions of this Act and upon the enactment of a similar Act by North and South Carolina."

"It is beyond a doubt true that Georgia will not pass a legislative Act this year. It also appears a certainty that Georgia will not, by agreement or otherwise, comply (Continued on page four)

3 Men in Case

BREMNER CASE

Same Gang Which
Kidnaped Bremner
Charged with Ab-
ducting Brewer

Washington, April 18.—(AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, announced today arrests of three men in connection with the kidnaping of William A. Hamm, Jr., St. Paul brewer.

"I think we've solved the Hamm kidnaping at last," he told reporters.

The director of the federal bureau of investigation said the Hamm kidnaping involved the "same gang" as the kidnaping of Edward Bremner, in which the Barker-Karpis gang was involved.

Those arrested were named as Charles J. Fitzgerald, Jack Pfeiffer and Edward C. Bartholomey, postmaster at Bensenville, Ill. All suspects are now in St. Paul or en route there, Hoover said.

Also involved in the Hamm case, he announced, are William Bryan Bolton, now in jail at St. Paul for the Bremner kidnaping; Elmer Farmer, also convicted in the Bremner case; Arthur "Doc" Barker, serving sentence in Alcatraz Island, Calif. penitentiary; Fred Barker, killed by federal agents in a battle in Florida last year, and Alvin Karpis, "public enemy number one" still at large.

The actual perpetrators of the kidnaping were named by Hoover as Alvin Karpis, Arthur and Fred Barker, Fred Goetz, since killed, Fitzgerald and Bolton.

Hoover said "there may be more arrests soon."

The investigation chief said that Hamm was kidnapped on Thursday, June 15, 1933, immediately after he had departed from his office in the Theodore Hamm brewing company for luncheon. He was taken to a hideout where he was held until June 19, 1933. He was released at a point near Wyoming, Minn., after payment of the ransom.

TAX PROPOSAL
NEARER HOUSE

Forecast Bill Be Approved Today and Introduced Later

Washington, April 18.—(AP)—The house ways and means committee gathered today amid forecasts that the language of the new tax measure will be approved before midnight and introduced Monday.

Estimates of the expected yield were forthcoming last night when democrats of a tax subcommittee said they were virtually ready to approve the measure.

Chairman Samuel B. Hill (D-Wash.) of the subcommittee said there was a possibility that Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) of the full committee would introduce the complicated measure Monday, and if so, the bill would be taken up Wednesday.

Chairman Hill said the measure would be taken up Wednesday.

British Officials Con-

London, April 18.—(AP)—The British government, already harassed by the delicate Italo-Ethiopia and Rhineland situations, looked for clarification today of reports that Turkey had remilitarized the Dardanelles in violation of post war treaties.

The dispatches from Istanbul, former capital of Turkey, said troops moved into the demilitarized zone yesterday.

A Reuters (British) news agency dispatch from Ankara, present capital of Turkey, however, said the semi-official news agency there denied that Turkish troops occupied the zone.

British government sources, finding it difficult to believe that Turkey had dropped a new bombshell in troubled Europe, awaited word from the British ambassador at Ankara.

The Turkish ambassador denied flatly the reports of rearmament of the Dardanelles.

Felton Poe Arrested Early This Morning After Having Crashed
His Liquor-Laden Automobile

A man whose name was given as Felton Poe of 1911 Taylor street, Durham, was arrested early today by federal officers after his liquor-laden automobile crashed in the front yard of J. H. Blount following a chase by the officers.

Headed by Federal Officer Mallard of Kinston, a group of revenue agents had been on the lookout for rum runners for several hours and, according to reports, were about to abandon the watch when they "spotted" the liquor car.

The officers immediately gave chase, following the loaded car through the city and down Fifth street. Unable to take a turn in front of Mr. Blount's home, Poe drove into the front yard and wrecked his automobile.

About 175 gallons of liquor was found in the car, which wrecked about 2:45 o'clock.

Poe was scheduled to have been given a preliminary hearing before a commissioner in Washington this afternoon.

Two Are Bound Over

Two defendants, one white man and one negro, were sent up to County court this morning in Mayor's court. Dalton Grech was bound over on charges of driving while drunk and Luther Hunter, negro, was bound over on a charge of possessing illegal liquor for the purpose of sale.

To combat a wave of chicken thefts, Chief of Police T. S. Bryan of McAllen, Tex., invoked the town's old curfew law.

Rome, April 18.—(AP)—Unofficial but reliable Italian source said today the troops of General Rodolfo Graziani fascist commander in southern Ethiopia, were engaged in the fourth day of a powerful offensive against Harar, second city of Emperor Haile Selassie's kingdom. These sources added that the capture of the strategic point was believed imminent.

First reports of the encounter came from Marshal Pietro Badoglio, who reported in a communique that the Italian southern army had "contacted" the Ethiopian forces on the Somaliland front.

Rumors of a battle on this front had circulated in Rome military quarters for several days, together with reports of a drive by the northern army from Dessye toward Addis Ababa.

The two preceding communiques, relayed by the commander-in-chief of East Africa, told of scouting activities and advanced guard activity on the Somaliland front.

His latest communication, believed to be a veiled reference to a battle, came just as Italy fortified its home forces for a crisis in the conflict with Britain over the Ethiopian campaign.

Pittsburgh Mayor
Jailed On Charge
Of Embezzlement

Mayor William N. McNair Declares
He Will Remain in Jail Until Charges Are Withdrawn

Pittsburgh, April 18 (AP)—Mayor William N. McNair was arrested and taken to jail today on charges of embezzlement and non-feasance. The arrest came after the mayor declined to refund a $100 fine imposed by a police magistrate on a man arrested for operating a "numbers" lottery.

Officials said the charges were based on an old state law.

The mayor went along willingly with officers. After being booked at central police headquarters, he said:

"I won't leave until they withdraw the charges."

Judge Frank Piekarski had directed the Mayor to repay the money to Sam Collinger, 34.

McNair, hearing the officers were coming waited in his office nonchalantly.

Two policemen were with the Mayor when a constable came to arrest him. Pointing to the policemen, McNair said:

"They are here to see that the constable doesn't take me anywhere except jail. I don't want them to take me down an alley and beat me up."

FINE WORK

If the annual concert of the music department of our city schools given last night was a sample of what our contestants are going to do in the state-wide music contest next week at Greensboro, Greenville should again come away with high honors. Last night's concert was one of the best of its kind ever held here, emphasizing the fact that our local schools are making great strides in this department.

WHY NOT AN AIRPORT?

With reports that other cities in this and other states
are receiving federal funds for the establishment of airports comes the realization of how far our city is behind in the way of facilities for the present day air transportation. Once or twice in the past there have been spurts of enthusiasm on the part of some of our interested citizens toward the establishment of an airport here, but so far nothing definite has become of it. The day is not far ahead when the city that is without an airport will be in the same category as those that in the past were not on the railroads.

Greenville is in a direct line between two government flying fields, Langley
Field, Norfolk, and Pope Field, Fayetteville, and in view of this we believe there would be little trouble in getting government aid for a field here if our people really went after it. An airport here and an airline through this city would do as much as any one thing to put our city on the map and certainly it would prove a great help to this community in the way of faster mail and transportation service. While the government is putting out money for this sort of project is the time for our city to get busy and get an airport.

OPENING: A born and boring letter-writer recently wrote to the duPont brothers suggesting that they disband the Liberty League if they were sincere in their advertised desire to defeat President Roosevelt.

The volunteer adviser pointed out that Al Smith, the League's principal anti-Roosevelt orator, was once a liberal. It cited serialism, the social and economic legislation which had sponsored at Albany. Then it asked why the duPonts knifed on Al and frowned on Franklin. Next it maintained that the Liberty League under its present auspices was Mr. Roosevelt's shiniest asset.

The duPonts reply was complimentary neither to Al nor to Franklin. It said that Mr. Smith may have been a radical in years gone
by, but the duPonts were convinced that he had seen the "errors of his early ways." Therefore they adored him. The letter also held out the hope that if Mr. Roosevelt would

REINSTATED

"AND yet you came—" Mrs. Morgan repeated.

"Let's not go into that. Lots of water under the dam. Iris is still my friend. I couldn't let Iris down. I told her she couldn't go up against all this. What I meant was Georgi, but I couldn't tell her that, either.
But she's honest, Granny, as the day."

"And what about the business of her pretending she had Southern ancestors when they were honest
immigrant workwomen?"

He threw out his hands.

"Granny, Iris didn't know people ever lied for 'pleasure or profit,' as the Virginian said. Not real people.
I don't suppose it ever struck her that Phil could or would tell a story like that if it wasn't true."

"I thought I was right about her,"
said his grandmother. "Oh, my dear boy, to think you're alive!" She began to cry helplessly. Presently she checked herself, dried her eyes, and said: "I'm a weak old woman. But I'm honest, Jimmy. I'm going to make terms."

He laughed. "Gosh, it's good to hear you laying down the law
again!"

"You won't laugh," said his grandmother with tremulous mock-severity, "when you hear my terms, my boy."

"She's in her dressing room," said
the attendant. He knocked and entered.

Iris sprang up from where she had been sitting alone. Morgan stood there; very much the same Morgan of old. Before she remembered that he belonged to Kay, she had jumped up with a low cry of
"Oh, Morgan, Morgan, you made it!
It's heaven to see you—" She stopped herself. She mustn't let him know she cared. He belonged to Kay.

"Yes," he said, holding her hands fast (and she could feel the warm current of confidence flowing from them into her own, making her feel safe, happy, taken care of). "I've made it. I've seen—Mrs. Morgan.
It's all right. I was rough last time
I saw you, my dear. Sorry. I wish you all the luck and happiness in the world. . . . Good-by, Iris. Here's a note from Mrs. Morgan."

His hands loosened hers. His strong presence was gone; she could hear his footstep on the boards outside. . . . Lessening, dying. He was gone, and there was nothing for her to do but go on with her act.
She opened the note:

"I have spoken to Miss Blair about her mistaken ideas of your character, my dear Iris. She will apologize in due time. Meanwhile, let it let this upset you. Go on and stop the show."

She went through it even more brilliantly than she had at the afternoon rehearsal, the mothers in the wings told her as she came off after three encores.

IRIS found Camilla in her dressing room.

"I'm not going to wait for the rest of the pageant," she told her. "I can't tell you how grateful I feel—"

Camilla interrupted her. "I'll drive
you to Woodlands; I'm going there too."

It felt strange, here in the lighted
fresh dark summer evening, to know that this was the last time she would ever smell the scent of the flowering trees, made sharper by the salt air, that always meant the tall beautiful wrought-iron gates outside the gar-

Camilla broke into her reverie, speaking abruptly beside her.

"Owen left before we did. I came to see him."

There was nothing Iris could say.
She only said her hand out and pressed Camilla's strong brown one,
steady on the wheel.

The Elizabethan entrance hall was half lighted; but as they came close they saw the gleam of Owen's shirt-front. He rose and came to them.

"It was a great success," he said.
"Phina will be proud of you, Iris.
Oh, Camilla, I beg your pardon. I didn't see you. I watched for your number. In spite of the draperies I thought I knew which you were."

She interrupted his listless courtesies, gesturing Iris to stay.

"Owen, I came to tell you that I found out tonight that you love an-

into asking me to marry you. Here," Owen, his face stern, pushed away

PRESSURE: The inside story of the $50,000,000 seed-loan squabble is that Rural Rehabilitation Rex Tugwell won't advance funds to 180,000 farmers who are too hard up to pay off old debts.

Dr. Tugwell is spending government money for three classes of agricultural needy. He is doling out so much per year for folks who can get back on their feet with some federal assistance. He is dishing out rent-and-grocery money to groups
he inherited from Harry Hopkins.

The third class consists of people
so indebted to earlier relief agencies that they are up to their necks in government obligations. They're the ones who need seed loans so that a prosperous crop will yank
them out of debt.

FOA or Myers can't finance them
because under a presidential agreement that was to be Dr. Tugwell's assignment. Furthermore, Dr. Myers hasn't enough money for his own clients. As a result, the applicants for seed loans are caught between the devil and their old debts. But they are turning the heat on Congress, knowing that generosity in a political falling in a presidential year. Dr. Tugwell may be forced to yield.

ISSUE: Tariff Chairman O'Brien
didn't know it, but his proposal that the G. O. P. endorse the Roosevelt administration's reciprocal tariff program could not have been dropped at a more inopportune moment.

It came just after a dozen Western Republican Senators had spoken or written against Secretary Hull's commercial agreements. It fell upon G. O. P. ears just when they had privately cooked up a scheme for "debunking" the Roosevelt-Hull tariff system. The main thesis is that farm imports in 1935
totalled more than $1,000,000,000, and the G. O. P.-ers are planning to blame the flood on Mr. Hull's wicked ideas.

AAA-ers are already preparing to answer to these charges. They insist the increase in agricultural imports was due solely to the drought and not to the administration's policies. So they cheered, and Republicans razed, Mr. O'Brien's intervention.

New York
By JAMES McMULLIN

CAREFUL: The Supreme Court's delay in rendering a decision on the Guffey Act has New York almost as nervous as the pro-longed wait for a TVA ruling. There are no leaks from the Supreme Court—but financial insiders are reasonably certain they know what the trouble is. They hope it that the Court is trying to figure out some way to declare the Guffey Act constitutional without opening the gate to similar legislative treatment for every major industry.

The point is that the soft coal industry does present problems all its own. Even many conservatives agree that the Guffey law was a wise and necessary move to protect the industry from complete chaos.
Unrestrained competition would almost inevitably lead to that result. But that isn't saying that those who approve this measure
want to see the same regimentation applied to stronger industries like motors or steel. Anything but.

It's easy to draw practical distinctions between coal and other industries. It isn't so simple to express them in terms of law. This difficulty may well be demanding most careful study by the Court.

BAIT: Certain elements in Tammany tried to promote a revolt against Jim Farley behind the scenes before his reelection to the chairmanship of the New York State Democratic Committee this week.

They spread the word quietly and assiduously that after all Farley holds two national jobs and can hardly be expected to give close attention to New York state affairs. So wouldn't it be a sound idea to name a good man to the post who could give it his undivided efforts—such a man, for instance, as Mayor John Boyd Thacher of Albany?

This suggestion was bait for a new alliance with the O'Connells—Democratic bosses of Albany—who have often teamed with Tammany in the past. But the O'Connells have gotten along fine with Farley and weren't even remotely interested. Neither were any other county leaders outside Manhattan. So the lovely trick scheme fell flat and the boys will have to wait for their revenge until they have a chance to knife the national ticket

SCARE: The Walsh government contracts bill—which would compel companies doing business with the government to adhere to certain standards of wages and hours
—isn't going anywhere at this session of Congress despite the backing of organized labor. But astute New Yorkers expect it to become a lively campaign issue.

Many labor leaders regard this measure as the quickest and most effective method of restoring NRA labor provisions in many key industries. They figure it would stand up much better in the courts than the O'Mahoney bill, for instance, to require federal licenses for all corporations doing an interstate business. It would be hard to challenge the legal right of the federal government to set its own standards for the selection of companies from which it buys. The Walsh bill would also be a more rapid means to the desired end than a piecemeal series of "little NRAs" for each industry on the lines of the Guffey Act.

Stokes Sophomores Have Party.
Stokes, N. C., April 18.—The Sophomores and several other students of Stokes High School had their annual party Friday night at the home of Eric Whitchard.

They played many games, including basketball, in the large back yard, which was brightly lighted. Other games and contests were enjoyed in the house. Mr. Carr, principal, won a prize for pinning on the rabbit's tail. The party, numbering about fifty-five, were served ice cream and cake.

It is remembered that Stokes girls won the cup in the last basketball tournament. The majority of them are in this class.

Buddy Growing Up To 'Normal' Of 270.
Oakland, Calif. (AP)—Buddy Baer, giant young brother of Ex-Champion Max Baer, put on so much weight of late that his father consulted a physician specializing in diet.

Papa Baer was told his 21-year-old, who stands 6 feet 4 inches, would attain a normal (for him) weight of 265 to 270 pounds, and this without an ounce of fat.

Buddy scales 235 now. The young fellow comes by his size naturally enough. His father is a 250-pounder and his mother weighs in the neighborhood of 200. Max hits 235 pounds now. An aunt on his father's side weighs 300 pounds and has no surplus avoirdupois.

Fabric Ropes Trim New Hats.

PEACE ACTION

The Greenville Council for Peace Action held its second meeting on Thursday night at the Christian church, Mrs. Ryan presiding in the absence of the president, Rev. W. A. Ryan.

The local council is composed of representatives from a number of civic and religious groups in the city, each organization being represented on the council by one member. At this meeting it was voted to ask three other groups to elect representatives to serve on the council, the faculty, Y. W. C. A. and the Student Government Body of East Carolina Teachers College.

Mrs. N. T. Ennett, Secretary, called for reports of committees, the following reporting definite plans for work now in progress or to be undertaken in the immediate future: Community Programs, Dr. G. R. Combs, Chairman; News Publicity, Miss Lois Grigsby, Chairman; Education, Vester Mulholland, Chairman; Dramatics, Mrs. W. A. Ryan, Chairman and Peace Bonds, Rev. R. C. Grady, Chairman. Other committees of the local council are Committee on Peace Legislation and Committee on Membership. Two forthcoming projects announced and authorized by the Council were a community pageant for Good-Will Day in May and a city-wide Peace Bond drive. Information regarding the latter will appear in local papers from time to time.

While the Greenville Council for Peace Action is not yet affiliated with any national organization, it takes its lead from the National Council for Prevention of War, and has adopted their platform, which follows: (1) Progressive World Organization, (2) World-Wide Reduction of Armaments by International Agreement, (3) World-Wide Education for Peace.

New Construction In North Carolina Hits High Record

Total of $1,979,693 New Building Started During March, as Compared With $559,482 March, 1935

Reflector Bureau.
Sir Walter Hotel.
Raleigh, April 18.—New building in North Carolina reached a new high during March with a total of $1,979,693 new construction started during the month, as compared with only $559,482 of new building in March, 1935, according to the building permit figures from the 21 cities in the state which report each month to the State Department of Labor and which were released today. There were 584 new projects started last month as compared with only 400 in March, 1935, the figures show.

An increase of 148 per cent in residential building was shown in March of this year as compared with March a year ago; the figures show, with $449,690 of the total building outlay in March going to residential construction, while only $181,193 was spent on new residential building in March of last year. The gain in non-residential construction was 144 per cent, since $445,373 of the March building permits were for this type of building as compared with only $171,833 in March, 1935. A total of $214,630 was spent this past month on additions, alterations and repairs as compared with $206,436 in March of last year, an increase of only 4 per cent.

Women Lose Permits For Drunken Driving
Reflector Bureau.
Sir Walter Hotel.
Raleigh, April 17.—Two women were among the 56 drivers who had their driving licenses revoked today and yesterday for drunken driving, according to the list of revocations made public by Director Arthur Fuik of the highway safety division of the Department of Revenue. The licenses of 43 drivers were revoked yesterday and of 13 drivers today following convictions for drunken driving or allied causes, bringing the total of licenses revoked to date to 2,505. The two women whose licenses were revoked for one year are Mrs. J. W. Baker of Pomona and Mrs. Henrietta Morrell, Asheville.

Name Arboretum In Honor Member of College Faculty

Miss Sallie Davis, Charter Member of Faculty of East Carolina Teachers College, Honored

The new arboretum at East Carolina Teachers College, which is the center of the campus beautification project, has been named for Miss Sallie Joyner Davis, a charter member of the faculty who has had a vital part in the making of the history of the college, and will be called the "Davis Arboretum."

Miss Davis' reputation is based not only on her work as a scholar and as a master teacher of history, but on her leadership in extra-curricular activities, as she has served on important committees from the opening of the school.

A native of North Carolina, Miss Davis has spent her life teaching in this state, and has become one of the best known specialists in North Carolina History. She was born on a plantation in Wayne County and is widely connected with families in North Carolina that have had a prominent part in the history of the state. She attended the Goldsboro schools. She graduated from the Mary Baldwin School in Staunton, Virginia, and from the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, and has continued her graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania, Duke, and the University of California.

The arboretum, which is one of the State WPA projects, was planned and is being supervised by M. L. Wright. It is an extension of the beautification plans begun seven years ago when the lake and its surroundings were salvaged from the old hog lot and became the beauty spot of the campus. The one acre and the lake of that project with five additional acres make the Davis Arboretum. Blue prints were made last spring and the plans approved.

Work on this has been progressing rapidly this spring. Handsome stone gateways have been erected at these entrances which are on each side of the Science Building, walks have been laid out, and a great deal of the planting has been done this spring. Many of the trees and shrubs native to North Carolina are being planted and a great many others that flourish in this section are being imported. Many of the plants have been raised in the college nurseries.

In a few years the campus of East Carolina Teachers College will become one of the show places of the state and people will doubtless come far to see the "Davis Arboretum."

Greenville Kiwanians Attend District Meet

A number of Greenville Kiwanians attended the divisional meeting of the seventh division Kiwanis Clubs held at the Hotel Kingston in Kingston last night.

The feature of the meeting was an address by District Governor Henry LeRoy of Elizabeth City. Lt. Gov. T. C. Johnson of Kingston, presided.

The seventh division is composed of Wilmington, Goldsboro, Greenville, Kingston, New Bern, Jacksonville and Wilson. The annual meeting of the seventh division will be held as usual at Wrightsville Beach in August.

Kiwanians from Greenville attending the meeting in Kingston were President J. C. Galloway; Vice-President Berry Bostj, Guy V. Smith, Dave Moore, Robert R. Taylor, Clarence L. Russ, Herman H. Duncan, Rev. J. A. McIver, George V. Knight, Charles W. Parsons, Ralph C. Deal and Fred M. Stokes.

Seeing Through My Windshield

(By ETHEL NICE, H. D. A.)

4-Health Examinations.
The month of April is spent making health examination in the 4-H Clubs each year. This week 200 girls and boys from Grifton, Winterville, Stokes, Bethel, Fountain, Falkland, Belvoir, Patehous and Grimesland have had the annual health check. Miss Mary Ann Crockett, county nurse; C. D. Griggs, assistant county agent, and the home agent have made the check. The highest rating boy and girl from each group will be notified as soon as these examinations are completed and the county elimination contest will be held on Saturday morning, May 9. Letters will be prepared for each child telling the parents of the records made. We are interested in aiding the winners—but we are more interested in helping each child to know how to or she rates in order that the corrections can be made. There is nothing that will ever take the place of good health and in many ways we can control our health. It is positive health we want. Too few of us do our own part—such as eating the things we know we should eat, standing and sitting as we should. The girls at Grimesland have the best posture of any group examined so far. Each club member takes the following pledge: "I pledge my head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to larger service, and my health to better living for my club, my community, and my country." Each phase of the pledge is a part of our work each year.

Bethel H. D. Club
The Bethel H. D. Club met Wednesday in the community building with 17 members present. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Dail and Mrs. Gurganus.

Pierce H. D. Club
The Pierce H. D. Club met in the community club building Thursday afternoon. The club voted to assume half the cost of putting lights in the building together with the Grange. They also appointed a committee to meet a Grange committee to make by-laws for the use of the building, with an idea of making it a real community center, serving as many occasions as possible.

St. John H. D. Club
The H. D. Club at St. John met Friday afternoon. After the business meeting a few games were conducted by Miss Dorothy Taylor, recreation leader.

Club Members Visit Grange
Several club members and their friends visited the Azalea Gardens in Wilmington Monday. There were so many there it was hard to know just who was there. The Airline and the Orton Gardens were masses of flowers, which showed up at their best with the live oaks and the green grass. Some cars stopped at Penderlee on the way back. Homes were visited where families have been resettled and are intensely interested in making these new homes real models.

New Club
Mrs. J. R. Lewis and Mrs. Herman Baker have organized a new Home Demonstration Club between Farmville and Fountain. This club has not selected its name yet, but plans to hold the first meeting on Friday, April 30th at 3 p. m., with Mrs. J. H. Bynum.

To Organize New Club
Members of the Ballard's Cross Roads Club are organizing a new club in the Fountain section Friday, April 24.

Practice For District Meeting.
Friday, April 29 club members who will help with the playlet to be given in Robersonville are asked to meet in Sheppard Memorial Library to practice.

Art Exhibit
Club members, your attention is called to the Fine Arts Festival of the Greenville Woman's Club which opened today (Saturday). These programs are free to the public and will have to be splendid to surpass those of last year. You will especially enjoy the demonstrations and the luncheon Tuesday a. m. Watch the Reflector for the program.

If a problem perplexes, take time to think it over. But when you know which road is right and which is wrong take no time to think it over—turn to the right! A complete service, where every expense is governed by our client to keep the cost within his means, supplies a great public need.

How Free Is The Will?

'TIS SAID by some that there's no free will. Like the sunflower, man MUST turn to his god in the west. Like the moth, he MUST flutter into the flame. Like the wolf, he MUST slay the sheep.

What merit then in being good—what fault in being bad? What justice in rewarding the benefactor—in punishing the malefactor? What use at all in the Commandments of God or the teachings and warnings of Christ to a race with no power to choose between God and Satan?

Free will! Is it the RIGHT to do good or bad? Or isn't it the POWER to choose between right and wrong, between the wise and the foolish, between the difficult and the easy, between Heaven and Hell?

Because I MUST stop my car at a traffic light, have I no free will? Isn't it rather that I freely CHOOSE to stop because I approve the law or fear its fangs?

Because I MUST labor hard each day, it is proof that free will is a myth? No, I freely CHOOSE between the toil and the deprivations the lack of my wages would bring.

Because I MUST not steal, or kill, or covet, deprives me not at all of my freedom of will, but shows that I CHOOSE to obey my God because I love or fear Him.

Because I MUST assist at Mass each Sunday, makes me not a mental slave but proves my AGREEMENT with the laws which my Church has enacted for my spiritual welfare.

Freedom of will! A tremendous gift! An awful gift! It lifts us high above the beasts or drops us down below the worms. Stupid men who misuse it jam our jails and asylums. Clever men who use it ill, wallow in wealth but dread to die. But wise men freely choose to reject the magnified trinkets of the worldly world in order to pay the price that God has put on Heaven.

ROBINSON CRUSOE
DESCENDING THE TREACHEROUS WALL OF THE SNAKE PIT I HEAR MY NAME CALLED DOWN TO ME FROM ABOVE. I CAN HARDLY BELIEVE MY EARS.

LOOKING UP I SEE XURY ON THE LEDGE WHERE I FOUND THE CAVE. CAN THIS BE REAL? IT IS SOME MOMENTS BEFORE I CAN SPEAK TO HIM. "XURY" I CALL, WHERE HAVE YOU COME FROM?

NOT WAITING FOR A REPLY I TELL HIM TO CLIMB UP THE LIANE WHICH HAS STOPPED BURNING AND TO DROP ANOTHER PIECE THAT I MAY BE ABLE TO CLIMB OUT.

XURY ARRIVES AT THE MOUTH OF THE PIT.

GREENIES WIN FIRST BATTLE

Local High School Defeats Fayetteville 19 to 1

The spotlight of class "A" conference baseball was focused on the game between the Greenville and Fayetteville high schoolers yesterday afternoon at Fayetteville, and the Greenies topped their opponents by a score of 19-1, bringing home the first victory of the season.

Yesterday's game marked the downfall of the jinx which has been hovering over the locals since their season began, and their coach, Reynolds May was highly elated over the results and action he saw the team under his supervision display in their winning clash.

The pitching arm of Howard Hodges stood up under all strains and when the final swat was made in behalf of the locals, Hodges, survived by pitching a one-hit game, which is a very fine record for any high school school toser in the class "A" conference field.

Two of the Greenies staff could not accompany them on their celebrated trip. Those being Carl Pierce and Joe Halem. (Little) Dillon Forbes acted in the absence of Pierce, however, and did exceptionally well in holding down second.

Coach May said that each member of the team made an average of about two hits each in the game, and it was his desire to encourage them to possess a batting average which would exceed the ones made yesterday by a long shot before the season ends.

The next game on schedule for the locals is one with the Rocky Mount high, which will be played at the Third street stadium on Monday afternoon of next week at 3:30 o'clock.

Everyone is urged to attend, and see the Greenies on to another victory.

ROCKY MOUNT TO PLAY ETC

Piedmont Nine to Engage College Here Tuesday

The Rocky Mount Red Sox of the Piedmont League will play the E. C. T. C. team on the local diamond next Tuesday at 3 o'clock. The Rocky Mount club is a member of the very famous Boston Red Sox chain. This is known as the richest organization in baseball. It is said that Eddie Collins has promised the Piedmont Red Sox that they will not finish lower than third.

The Rocky Mount club is managed by George Toporcer, the former St. Louis Cardinal star. Billy Evans, one of the best known men in baseball, is president of the club. The city of Rocky Mount has invested a large sum of money in a new and modern athletic park in order to get the Red Sox to move from Charlotte to Rocky Mount. The Boston organization is naturally determined to give the new city in the league a fine team. The season in the Piedmont opens on April 23. Thus, the team that will appear at E. C. T. C. will very likely be the one that will open the season. It will represent the best of about 80 players that have been trying out.

Local baseball fans will have a fine opportunity to see the best ball club in Eastern North Carolina. The game will be called at 3 o'clock in order to permit the large number of high school students who will be on the campus on Tuesday to return home after the game.

Falkland Team Beats Local Baseball Nine

Falkland, April 17.—Friday afternoon at Falkland the boys of Mr. Conley's Sunday School class of the Methodist church won a ball game 10 to 7. Greenville made 8 hits, and one error. Falkland made 6 hits and 3 errors. The Falkland pitchers walked 15 men. Gaylord and McGown for Greenville walked three men. The first baseman for Falkland hit a home run. Gaylord and Clark made two hits each to place Greenville. Greenville rallied for three runs in the seventh to sew up the game. A large crowd witnessed the game.

J. CON LANIER IN STATEMENT

(Continued from page one) with the requirement of the Virginia Act. The sign-up in Georgia has failed. Less than fifty per cent of the tobacco acreage has been covered by contracts. Their crop has now been transplanted. Their contract provides that it is not binding unless 66 2-3 of the acreage is covered. Therefore, it is certain that this year's crop in Georgia will be grown, harvested, and marketed without limitation.

"This being so, the Virginia law, by its own express terms, is inoperative and void during this current year. Therefore, the Virginia crop will be planted, harvested and marketed without limitation. It is inconceivable that the Virginia Legislature will be called into another session during this current year."

year. "With these facts before us, which no Act of our legislature can alter whatsoever, it will be vain and useless for the North Carolina Legislature to be called together to enact tobacco legislation. With Georgia out, Virginia is also out, by the express terms of its law. With these two states out, North Carolina cannot, in justice to its tobacco growers, do otherwise than stay out until they come in. It might be worth while to state that a rider will in all probability be attached to the South Carolina law making it void unless similar legislation is enacted by the Georgia Legislature.

"I am 100 per cent in favor of the Legislature meeting in special session if it will do any good. But under the present state of facts which are beyond our control, what good can be done?

"I believe that if the mass of farmers who intend to march on Raleigh next Tuesday are properly apprized of the facts, they will agree that the calling of the Legislature at this time will be a vain and useless gesture. The Governor is charged with the responsibility of making his decision in the light of all the facts. If there is a possibility of its doing anything to help the situation, I feel sure that the Legislature will be called. But that possibility is not in sight, at the present time.

"Our main reliance at this time is the Soil Conservation Act. Let me close by urging all our growers to qualify under this Act, by planting not more than 70 per cent of their tobacco base acreage."

MORE BALLOTS ARE RECEIVED

Persons who have received The Reflector ballots or who receive one in the future are urged to vote them at the earliest possible opportunity in order that the published results of the poll from day will present an accurate picture of the true political situation.

While this work of polling the five counties in this section is being carried on by The Reflector, 19 other newspapers in various sections of this state are taking similar polls in their surrounding counties and on Thursday, May 7 The Reflector will publish the first tabulation of the statewide vote.

The governor's race in this state is one of the foremost topics of conversation at this time and this day to day report on the straw vote should prove interesting to The Reflector readers.

DEATHS MOUNT DURING MARCH

Births on Decrease, However, Board Report Shows

Raleigh, April 18.—Deaths in North Carolina during March of the present year took a decided upward trend, while births were much lower, according to a report issued today by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Board of Health.

The deaths last month numbered 3,583, an increase of 481 over the total of 3,102 for the previous March, while births dropped from 6,990 to 6,877, a decrease of 113.

Pneumonia, in all its forms, was the principal cause of death, with 571 deaths a gain of 156 over the 415 casualties recorded in March, 1935. Influenza, which assumed a mild epidemic form during the past month, accounted for 285 deaths, compared with 146 for the same month of the preceding year, a gain of 139.

One of the more favorable features of the report was a decrease in the number of deaths of infants of less than one year old, while showing a drop of from 495 to 463. The number of maternal deaths decreased from 51 to 47.

Not a single death was reported as a result of smallpox, measles or scarlet fever, while fatalities from whooping cough declined from 33 last March to two for the same month this year.

Despite reports of an epidemic of spinal meningitis in the state during March, the deaths numbered only eight from that cause, as compared with two for March, 1935.

There were 33 suicides, a gain of almost 100 per cent over the 18 deaths from that cause for the preceding March, whereas the number of homicides dropped from 30 to 24.

VIRGINIA STUDENTS OPEN 'PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN'

Portsmouth, Va. (AP)—Some 800 history students of Woodrow Wilson high school will hold their mock "Nationalist Party" convention April 21-22.

The mock party has a record of nominating the candidate who actually reaches the White House. In 1928 Herbert Hoover was the party's nominee. In 1932 Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated.

In "pre-campaign" work now in progress at the school, Senator Borah (R-Idaho) and President Roosevelt are leading candidates.
