TRADE TREATY
AGREED UPON
BY COUNTRIESUnited States And
France to Sign Reciprocal PactLEAF TOBACCO
TO BE AFFECTEDTreaty to Apply Not Only to France, But to Colonial Possessions As Well

Washington, May 6.—(AP)—The state department announced today an agreement with France on a reciprocal trade pact is to be signed in Washington late this afternoon.

Although no details of the agreement were available immediately, great importance was attached in both countries to the commercial accord which is intended to lower certain restrictions now applied by the French against the American products.

France is America's fifth best customer and the new agreement is regarded by state department officials as second only to that recently entered into with Canada. The pact will represent the thirteenth to be negotiated by the state department under this government's reciprocal trade program.

Negotiations with France have been proceeding more than a year. It was understood agreement on the last remaining technicalities was reached only last night.

The new pact will apply not only to France, but to its colonies, dependencies and protectorates as well, with the exception of Morocco.

In the main, the United States exports to France such products as unmanufactured cotton, petroleum products, refined copper, leaf tobacco, wheat, lamb and apples and pears.

The chief imports from France are luxury articles.

New Orleans, May 6.—(AP)—Fred Hunter, associate of Alvin Karpis, public enemy number one, who was captured in a raid on his New Orleans apartment last Friday by Federal agents, was arraigned today before U. S. Commissioner Reginald C. Carter, Jr., on a charge of harboring Karpis and was held under bond of $200,000.

After his arraignment Hunter was placed in custody of a United States marshal. He waived extradition and it was understood he was to be taken to Ohio on charges of a postal inspector to answer a charge of mail robbery at Garrettsville.

Hunter was arrested with a pretty young woman, Ruth Robinson at the Carter's apartment late Friday by J. Edgar Hoover head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and a score of his agents.

F.D.R. LEADING IN CALIFORNIAMore Than Half Of Delegates Named to Both Conventions

Washington, May 6.—(AP)—More than half of the delegates have been chosen for the big political shows next month in Philadelphia and Cleveland.

With immediate attention directed sharply toward primary battlegrounds in California and South Dakota, the latest tabulations showed the democrats have picked 552 of their 1,100 delegates to the national convention which will renominate President Roosevelt.

The republicans have chosen 685 of their 1,001 delegates amid clashing predictions as to how many of them will vote.

Incomplete returns in the California republican vote showed that delegates pledged to Governor Alf M. Landon of Arkansas, without his endorsement, were running behind a slate of uncommitted delegates.

On the democratic side the slate picked by President Roosevelt and pledged to him was far ahead of the slate behind the technical candidates of Upton Sinclair and Representative John McGoorty.

In South Dakota an uncommitted slate which is claimed by supporters of Landon ran slightly ahead of a slate pledged to Senator Borah of Idaho.

Of the 111 instructed republican delegates, 90 are for Landon and 21 from Wisconsin are for Borah.

Remaining to be selected are 316 republican delegates and 548 democrats.

Several state conventions are being held this week to pick more delegates.

The Missouri democratic convention pledged the state's 30 votes at the national convention to Mr. Roosevelt.

Mining payrolls of Salt Lake county, Utah, increased nearly $1,000,000 to $4,372,464 in the year ending June 30, 1934.

REPRISAL: House-Senate backbiting over the Black committee's "snooping" threatens to kill of several politically important investigations. The feud forecast long ago by Whirligig has reached dangerous proportions behind the scenes. The cloakrooms sizzle with recriminations.

Few days ago the House passed a routine, end-of-the-session resolution appropriating $75,000 to finance nine select committees through the summer. The funds are needed to continue inquiries into the Townsend movement, real estate racketeering, patent pools, lobbying, etc.

Will Pursue

London, May 6.—(AP)—Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, declared to the House of Commons today "the League of Nations must go on."

The minister, upon whom has devolved British relationship to the Italo-Ethiopian struggle said his government was beginning immediately a study of the problem raised by the Italian war in East Africa.

For this purpose, he stated, the government is entering into consultations with the dominion.

"It is clear that the League of Nations must go on" said Eden. "In the modern world it is absolutely indispensable for the organization of international affairs."

"No doubt a blow has been struck at the structure of the league and the conception of collective security. We must face these facts frankly."

The Foreign Secretary sidestepped attempts to have him clarify what policy Great Britain would pursue at Monday's meeting of the league council.

Measure

Washington, May 6.—(AP)—Chairman Connery (D-Mass.) of the House labor committee, said today the twice re-written Ellensbogen bill for federation regulation of the textile industry would be reported to the House as soon as a minority report was completed.

The bill was to have been reported today to the House but was held up at the request of Rep. Bentley (R-N. J.) who expressed his intention to submit a minority report.

The labor committee chairman said he would seek a rule from the rule committee to bring the measure to the floor as soon as possible.

Connery also filed a report of the subcommittee, headed by Representative Keller (D. Ill.), which said the measure could meet constitutional tests. The report added that the government should cooperate in eliminating out-of-date machinery now used by the industry and in establishing independent sales agencies.

G.O.P. LEADERS
PREPARE FIGHTTo Organize Opposi-

Measure

Washington, May 6.—(AP)—House republicans were summoned today to a conference carrying the new relief fund, when it reaches the House floor tomorrow.

President Roosevelt yesterday turned down flatly suggestions of some house members for earmarking $400,000,000 of the requested $1,500,000,000 relief appropriation for PWA projects instead of turning it all over to Harry L. Hopkins for the works progress administration.

Representative Taber of New York, ranking republican on the appropriations committee said:

"There will be a fight. That is determined in advance. But the conference will be more for the purpose of explaining the situation to the membership than to organize the opposition."

SAYS SENATOR
NEW DEAL FOEFountain Predicts
Bailey Will Vote
Against Tax Bill

Rocky Mount, May 6.—"If Senator Josiah W. Bailey runs true to form, he will very likely vote against the House-passed and Roosevelt-sponsored tax bill," it was declared in a statement issued at state campaign headquarters of former Lieut. Gov. Richard T. Fountain, who is opposing Bailey for re-election, made public today.

"Bailey has voted against virtually every other measure in the Roosevelt program, why should he make an exception of the tax bill?"

"A great Washington (D. C.) Republican newspaper on Monday of this week," the statement continued "intimated Senator Bailey would not vote to bring the bill into the Senate floor from the Senate Finance Committee, of which he is a member, until he learned how the provisions of the bill would affect North Carolina industries."

"We are sure Senator Bailey will discover that the gigantic corporations of this state will have to pay their proportionate share of taxes, as they should. For that reason, we predict Senator Bailey will vote against the bill, as he has done against virtually every other Roosevelt sponsored law since 1933, when the President assumed office."

"The smaller businesses and industries have nothing to fear from the bill. It is only those great corporations that are able to pay that will be required to pay additional taxes."

"Mr. Fountain firmly believes Senator Bailey would better serve the state by voting against the bill."

McDonald, Hoey Together
On Liquor Control Issue

Reflector Bureau,

By J. C. BASKERVILL

Raleigh, May 6.—Dr. Ralph W. McDonald of Winston Salem and Clyde R. Hoey of Shelby, though as far apart as the North and South poles on list of the issues in the present campaign, are as close together as the Siamese twins on the liquor issue and standing on the same bone-dry plank dictated by the United Dry Forces of the state.

Sandy Graham, likewise a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, said here today in an exclusive statement to the afternoon newspapers:

"The Shelby orator, Clyde Hoey, is generally regarded as the staunch supporter of conservatism and standpointism in the state, while Professor Ralph W. McDonald is looked upon as being the apostle of radicalism, if not of anarchy," Graham said.

"So it is a strange paradox to see these two gentlemen and rival candidates for the gubernatorial nomination standing with their arms figuratively around each other's shoulders while they sing in close harmony 'How Dry I Am.' At least, that is the tune they sing in the western part of the state. In the Piedmont they would have it appear that they are at least slightly damp, while in the east they both would have it inferred that they are 'wet' at least to the extent that they would not interfere with county liquor control and county liquor stores in the counties (Continued on page three)

STATE VOTINGState-Wide Tabulation in Straw Vote
Coming Thursday

Many of the questions that have been in the minds of the voters of this state with regard to the Democratic gubernatorial race will begin to be answered tomorrow when The Reflector and 24 other co-operating North Carolina newspapers publish their first statewide tabulation of the standing of the four candidates in the newspapers' straw vote poll now being taken.

Who will be high man in the first primary? What will be the approximate lead of the high man in the first primary? Who will be in the second primary and what two candidates will be eliminated from the race in the first primary? What sections will the various candidates will carry and what will be their approximate pluralities or majorities in the various counties?

The trend toward these answers will be found in the publication of the first statewide tabulation in The Reflector tomorrow and on each succeeding Thursday between now and the primary the publication of the statewide tabulations will present an even truer picture of the political trend.

In the statewide poll The Reflector is covering the five counties of Pitt, Martin, Bertie, Beaufort and Hyde. Yesterday's tabulation of the votes received from these five counties showed McDonald to have a clear majority of 56 votes over all the other candidates with 190 to 80 for Hoey, 52 for Graham and 4 for McRae.

The 12 ballots received today gave McDonald 7, Graham 3 and Hoey 2, increasing McDonald's clear majority to 58 to date. Total of Graham's votes today came from Beaufort and Hyde.

The population of Addis Ababa which had run riot for four days turned en masse today to greet the conquering Italian forces.

While an Italian flag flew over Ethiopia, Haile Selassie's palace natives stood along the streets and gave imitations of fascist salutes to the 30,000 Italian soldiers who poured through the streets.

Order was re-established with the coming of the Italians and fascist guards went on an outpost duty to prevent the possibility of raids.

The state department at Washington received a message from vice counsel William H. Cramp at Addis Ababa, the Italian guard around the American legation had been withdrawn after disarming a number of natives during the night.

The fascist soldiers were summoned to the assistance of besieged Americans in the legation after the building had been attacked yesterday by Ethiopian bands.

New York, May 5.—(AP)—Pennsylvania anthracite operators and miners, deadlocked for several days agreed upon the major points of a new contract today.

While the announcement of the joint wage conference of 14 men at the end of the session was limited to a brief statement devoid of details, an irrefragable source said that a two-year contract would be signed today.

Gypsy Weather

By MARGARET BELL HOUSTON

SYNOPSIS: Rupert Joris has been bitten by Elmer Fleming because of his drinking. True to form, he gets himself still drunker, and when a lovely young stranger comes to the house to get legal advice from him, he asks her to marry him. She does—and now, in the cool light of Sunday morning, he sees how silly he has been and wishes the girl's promise to grant an annulment in return for a $5,000 check. Dirk's younger brother, is attracted to the girl, and sympathetic, her name is Hope—

Chapter 13

A CHANGE OF MIND

RUPERT was shaving when Dirk came upstairs. "Isabel's been here," said Dirk. "Isabel and Natalie Page. They came to see the bride."

"So it's out," said Rupert.

"Thoroughly. Nora told the Robinson's cook, and the Robinsons' cook told the Burtons' chauffeur, and the Burtons' chauffeur..."

"Damn that woman's tongue," Dirk said after a silence.

"Elmer says it won't last."

"So Elmer's been here."

"No. Isabel told me. The Burton chauffeur took the news to Isabel's house-girl, and Isabel went over to tell Elmer. The story is that you and your bride have known each other for some time, that you were loyal to Elmer until she set you free. There are also tales of the bride's youth and beauty—and a lady born, if ever there was one—Can't you hear Nora telling it?"

"Isabel and Natalie came over for further details, and to view the subject of these panegyrics. I produced neither and they seemed snubbed. Isabel said, 'Oh, well, it probably won't last. Elmer says it won't, and she ought to know.' Rather young of Isabel, I thought."

Rupert was silent. He had meant to tell Dirk how painlessly he had settled with the girl, but he said nothing. After a moment Dirk went out. Rupert heard his car in the driveway. He continued shaving, had his bath, dressed himself with care.

Presently he went into the short passage that separated him from the tower-room, and knocked on the door. There was no response. He tried the knob, wondering if she had gone out.

The door was locked. For the first time within his memory, the bolt was drawn.

He went into the hall and knocked more formally. Her voice asked who was there.

"Rupert," he said, after some reflection, and she opened the door.

SHE had been brushing her hair. It fell dark and soft around her face. A blue kimono was drawn about her, and the shelf below the long mirror was strewn with an array of brushes and combs, of powder and rouge-boxes, all spilled from a shabby overnight bag, that still stood open.

Rupert had entered, closing the door. She had drawn away, and stood waiting. There was no revolution in her eyes, however. He was glad of that.

"Were you going out?" he asked.

"Later," she said. "I'll be back by four."

"I've been thinking about our conversation," he remarked. "If you really desire to stay, I've no objection."

"Even after the annulment?"

"There will be no annulment," he replied. "If you wish to stay."

She sat down, weak, it seemed, with relief. He thought, as Dirk had thought before him, how small she looked beside the immense furniture.

Her eyes had come back to him.

"Why have you..."

"I changed my mind," he said shortly.

"About the check?"

He was compelled to smile.

"That was not my reason."

"But you won't give it to me if I stay?"

She looked so crestfallen that he said,

"I will. I run the risk, of course, of your running away with the money to annoy me later."

"But I want to stay. I want to stay most of all."

"So you implied. In any case you shall have the check. I will give it to you this afternoon, so that you may have a drawing-account. You must pay your debts. I imagine they are not large."

"No," she answered rather absently. "They are not large."

"Have you seen Dirk?" he inquired. "Since our talk, I mean."

"No. He came to the door, but I was not dressed. He's coming back later to take me for a drive."

"When you see him," said Rupert. "Don't mention our first talk. Say, if you like, that I have given you money, and that you are going to stay, but that's all. I shall require a few things in return for your home here. Loyalty is one of them."

"I understand."

He had turned to the door, and she rose.

"A NOTHER thing I shall require," he said, "is that you do not bolt your door. This door, yes, but not the one that leads into my room. There is no necessity for bolting it. Please understand that you have nothing to fear. You are Mrs. Joris merely in name. You shall pass as such. I shall provide for you, and try to make you happy here. In return I wish your loyalty and a certain respect for appearances. The servants would not understand a locked door. I want no gossip about such things."

She was silent, and he added,

"You may unbolt it now."

After a moment she crossed the room and bent her energies upon the bolt. It seemed more unyielding than when she had pushed it into place. He made no movement to help her. Presently it rasped back into the groove.

He opened the hall-door and went out.

Later he returned, knocking on the door she had unbolted. He brought the check and the name of a reliable bank. He had also written down the name of a certain exclusive shop he had heard Elmer mention.

"I want you to have clothes," he said. "Things suited to your position. I wish you to have them at once."

She thanked him, reading the check. In the shabby black suit and the red beret with the frayed feather, she had lost her bambino look. Her clothes proclaimed her, plainly enough, the honest daughter of honest dwellers in a rural town.

"You'll attend to this tomorrow?" he asked.

She promised, and he went out as she folded the bit of paper into her bright red purse.

PEACE FORCES CLAIM ATTACK INJURED KERR

Raleigh Division To Hold All-Day Session Monday

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, May 6.—In Edenton Street Methodist church Monday, May 11, the Raleigh division of the National Emergency Peace Campaign will hold its all-day sessions over the plans to promote peace throughout the nation and the world.

Bishop Paul Kern of Greensboro is chairman of the Southern Spontaneous who number some of the most prominent citizens in this group of states. The Raleigh sessions which will begin Monday morning at 11 o'clock will have as its speakers Rev. Carl Herman Voss and Mrs. J. Henry Highsmith who discuss the cause and cure of war and the pacific alternatives to armed conflict, and Dr. David A. Lockmiller who will take up "the war threat in Asia, Europe and Africa."

There will be luncheon at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon at which time Dr. F. W. Burnham, pastor of the Christian church, Richmond, talks on the significance of the emergency peace campaign. The luncheon tickets will be sold by Mrs. J. S. Holmes and by representatives of church societies. Reservations may be made by telephone through Mrs. L. W. Bishop up to 9:30 May 9th in the morning.

At eight o'clock in the evening there will be a mass meeting at which time Dr. Burnham talks on the world organization for peace; Prof. J. M. Hobbs of the University school of commerce discusses political and economic changes essential to a peaceable world order, and R. B. Ezazer, secretary of the Commission on International cooperation, of Atlanta, lectures on making the will to peace effective.

Though this effort is local, it is a part of the national and international "will to peace." Every state of the union and 300 cities in those states are working together. The "one paramount purpose" is "to keep the United States out of the next world war which may come this year, next year or within five years." The colleges and their young citizens are enlisted in the campaign which will undertake to acquaint the people with the underlying causes of war and the fundamental folly of trying to secure world disagreements with arms. In the youth section it is planned to recruit 1,000 young women and men and train them in international relations. Such an institute is set for Duke University June 8 to 19 inclusive.

This work is to be more fully discussed at the meeting here Monday and plans for carrying the gospel of peace to every section given.

Accordingly, the increase which will be granted will not amount to as much as 5 per cent of the salaries paid this year, since the 1935-36 salaries were increased 20 per cent above the salaries in effect January 1, 1935. But this increase will give the teachers, principals and superintendents an increase of 25 per cent over the salaries received as of January, 1935, Griffin pointed out.

The school appropriation for the 1936 school year will be $20,900,000 instead of only $20,031,000 this year, and hence will contain enough to provide the additional salary boost of 5 per cent for all the teachers, Griffin said.

Farmers of Lower Rio Grande valley realized a high return on new potatoes and tomatoes this year, many reporting a net of $350 the acre.

A. O. Dickens May Benefit from Gubernatorial Charges

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, May 6.—When second district visitors coming to McDonald headquarters in Raleigh find Candidate McDonald's back turned, many of them will say that Governor Ehringhaus has strengthened himself in his attack on Congressman John Hosea Kerr.

These gentlemen may be conceded to Judge Kerr's opponent, A. O. Dickens, without formality. They say they argue interestingly. They say the Governor is right about that session, that Judge Kerr's tobacco compact bill is not a crop-saver and that the Congressman was highly vulnerable when he opened on the Governor.

There is of course slight disagreement in the McDonald camp. These hot Dickens supporters like the way the executive assaulted the incumbent, but Candidate McDonald was counted on to make capital of the Governor's determination not to summon the legislature to Raleigh. Even so, the kick given to Judge Kerr pleases them. They cannot shout any praises because that might pitch an inharmonious note into the dulcet notes of the McDonald song.

It was interesting to hear from Wilson, Warren and Northampton praise of the Governor for raw-hiding the incumbent congressman. What Dr. McDonald says about Governor Ehringhaus is not to be retracted, but when it comes to saying the world in season for Mr. Dickens these second districters are very much in favor of Mr. Ehringhaus.

Judge Kerr intimated that Governor Ehringhaus had something suspicious as a reason for refusing to call this special session. The intimation was that a fear of a governorship candidate dominated his excellency. But the congressman evidently was not counting on the turn of events which would make that hard-headedness of the Governor work in the interest of the very dynamic Dickens.

School Commiss'n Seeking New Data

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, May 6.—The State School Commission is now sending out blanks to the various city and county superintendents on which they will make a detailed report of their school operations costs. This year, which will be used by the commission, when returned and tabulated, in allocating the school funds for next year. Executive Secretary Lloyd E. Griffin said today.

The figures shown on these blanks, known as the "organization reports" for each school, will determine how many teachers will be allotted next year and how much will be allotted each city and county for school purposes from the state appropriation. Since teachers are allotted on the basis of the average daily attendance of each school, those schools which show a higher average daily attendance this year than last will be entitled to additional teachers.

While all of the school teachers will get another salary increase of 5 per cent beginning with the next school year, this increase will not be computed on their 1935-36 salaries, but on the basis of the year's salary they were receiving as of January 1, 1935. Griffin pointed out. For the 1935 appropriations specifically directs that the 5 per cent increase which will become effective the fall of 1936, shall be computed on the basis of the salary received as of January 1, 1935.

"Get-Acquainted Week" At College
One of the high spots of "Get-Acquainted Week" which is being sponsored by the Tau Sigma fraternity of the college, was the "Colonel Ayres' Amateur Program," presented last night in the Austin Auditorium of the college.

This was a musical program with Adrian Ayres as the announcer, Bruce Simmons and Wesley Bangston were in charge of the program.

Miss Marjorie Bray and Edna Earle Perry sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." A quartet, composed of Francis Ferebee, George Willard, Tex Lindsay and Frank Jennings sang "There's a Long, Long Trail a-Winding." Francis Ferebee gave a comical interpretation of the song "Out Down the Old Pine Tree," and "Sadie, My Darling," as an encore. Miss Johnnie Deaton, accompanied on the piano by Miss Nola Waters, tap danced. A piano duet was played by Misses Evelyn Thompson and Nola Waters. James D. Simpson sang two popular numbers, "Lost," and "Darktown Strutters Ball," and, as encore, "Sweet Sue." The closing number was a tap dance by Miss Carolyn Hamric, accompanied on the ukulele by Billy Tolson.

The moving picture "In Person" co-starring Ginger Rogers and George Brent was shown. A small admission fee was charged for the program.

The first week in May was set aside as "Get-Acquainted Week" so as to foster social life on the campus, and the effort to encourage the cultivation of new friendships on the campus.

Tomorrow night, at the close of the week, there will be a special mass meeting of the students when a contest will be held to see who knows best his fellow-students. A loving cup will be presented to the winner.

Austin, gave the paper for this meeting on "Famous Homes of Virginia." Virginia is noted for its famous homes and gardens—many of them patterned after English estates. Many gardens belonging to these estates were described. Most outstanding among the numerous homes described were: Westover, the Byrd family house in Richmond; Claremont Manor, in Surry county, in whose gardens Edgar Allan Poe wrote some of his famous poems; Stratford Hall, where Robert E. Lee was born and Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, near Charlottesville. Various homes and gardens of the Washington family were also described.

Following this vividly descriptive paper, the hostess, Mrs. Wyatt Brown and Mrs. G. F. Smith served an ice course.—Reported.

TO SPEAK AT COTTON MEET

that outcome. Endorsement of Vandenberg by the Michigan state convention gave indication he might even move out of the dark horse classification.

Those who would have Vandenberg wait for that if President Roosevelt is re-elected the defeated Republican candidate, whoever he may be, will fade out of the 1940 picture. That is almost traditionally the fate of defeated presidential candidates, Cleveland and Bryan being exceptions.

That Vandenberg recognizes his own availability for the nomination seems indicated by his persistent refusal to quiet the talk about himself. Action of the Michigan Republicans makes it virtually certain the name of the senator will come before the convention when the first ballot is cast.

Back of the live but at present limited public agitation for him is the record he has established since he overcame a Democratic threat to his re-election in 1934.

He has kept his senatorial record largely free of New Deal flavor. He led a successful fight against continuing the Florida ship canal and the Passamaquoddy power project. More recently he set a fire under AAA which brought out what he called "reluctant disclosure" of benefit payments running into hundreds of thousands of dollars to certain corporate land holders.

There is tremendous flattery in a presidential nomination even though it means only that the candidate is to be listed with the Parkers, the Davises and the Blaines who didn't do so well against their opposition.

Vandenberg is 52. In 1940 he will be 56, well below the time when "too old" could be attached to him.

Either decision is a political gamble. To take the nomination now would pit him against known opposition, which he might or might not overcome. To defer the race until 1940 might mean his popularity would wane.

"MUCH RELIEVED" SAYS LADY AFTER TAKING CARDUI

Although they may be very active and apparently in good health, many women, at certain times, will do well to take Cardui. It may relieve some of the nagging symptoms that are so annoying every month.

Mrs. F. T. Foster, of Greensboro, Ky., writes that she has "derived great benefit" from Cardui. "Before taking Cardui, I was weak and extremely nervous, and suffered from sleeplessness. This made me tired and worn in daytime. My back ached continually. Being an active woman, I did not want to continue in this condition. Having heard a great deal about Cardui, I found, after just a few bottles, I was much relieved. I continued taking Cardui and was so much helped."

Of course, if Cardui does not benefit YOU, consult a physician. (Adv.)

"HIT AND RUN DRIVER"

While we are not making an effort to advertise the theatre just to get you to attend, we feel that every motorist in this community should see the picture "Hit and Run Driver" showing at the Pitt Theatre today and tomorrow. A hit-and-run driver is a potential murderer and the picture places him in this category. The picture, however, ends with the driver ending with a 20 years prison sentence which is far different from the leniency shown such offenders in our local courts, but certainly there is in the picture a good lesson for every driver of an automobile and we urge all to see it. Such pictures should not run just two days at a theatre but should be repeated and repeated until every person in the community has had an opportunity to see it.

"INDIFFERENCE"

In his charge to the Wake County Grand Jury Judge M. V. Barnhill pointed out that crime and crookedness in that community was the result of the indifference on the part of the lawabiding citizens. When Judge Barnhill made this statement he voiced what is the root of most of the troubles of this and other sections. "Indifference" would make a good subject for every preacher in the land to deliver a sermon on and for every layman in the land to study carefully.

The reason that bootlegging and other crime has flourished is not because the great majority of the citizens want crime to flourish but because the great majority are indifferent to these things and do not take up a fight against them. The reason there is an apparent waning interest in our churches is not that our people wish to fight the church but merely because they are indifferent to the matter.

The reason that politics is said to be so rotten in this and other states is not because the majority of the people want it to be rotten but because there are large numbers of persons who are indifferent to it and never take the trouble to vote to put good men in the places of public responsibility.

We could go on and on calling attention to the menace of indifference on the part of our people regarding the various aspects of our civic, social, moral, religious and business life.

Indifference is one of the greatest menaces that must be overcome if our people are to go forward to bigger and better things and Judge Barnhill has given the cue to the leaders in the various lines of endeavor. A war to victory over indifference in any community will accomplish apparent miracles for that community.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

ate bosses whisper that it will not there unless the House backtracks on Black's $10,000.

SPOTTED: Harry Hopkins is rated as Public Enemy No. 1 in Congressional cloakrooms. Top bosses brag that he couldn't command twenty votes for a pageboy's job.

For almost two years the leaders have committed every crime except political mayhem to freeze the Frazier-Lemke bill in committee. They have wheedled and whipped members into erasing their names from the public petition when it appeared that the total would reach the necessary 218. Farm representatives have flouted their constituents by scratching off their signatures on private assurances the measure would never come to a vote. Father Coughlin has made their lives miserable by denouncing this filibuster.

Rules Chairman O'Connor may be defeated next November for his deft of the cleric, although it had FDR's hearty approval. Then Rep. Berlin of Pennsylvania went down to an unexpected primary defeat. His conqueror happens to be an ex-Hoover Republican who was named WPA director by Hopkins. WPA trucks and workers campaigned against Mr. Berlin, although he had been a thorough-going New Dealer. In revenge, he jockeyed for enough signatures to force the $3,000,000,000 inflationary proposal to a vote. Thus Mr. Hopkins has put everybody on the spot—including the President.

HEIR: The Roosevelt - Farley move to revise the two-thirds nomination rule impresses politicians as a bit of long-range strategy.

Mr. Roosevelt is believed to be thinking of 1940 in urging fighting Democrats to base their presidential nomination a mere majority rather than a two-thirds vote. And contrary to backstage opinion, he isn't planning to seek a third term. What he's most concerned about is fixing up the party machinery so that he can name his successor—choose his "crown prince."

The President, naturally, wants to see his experiments and reforms become fixtures in the economic and social structure. He realizes that it may require years for that. He also has an excellent historical background. He recalls that liberal Democratic regimes have usually been followed by conservative-minded leaders—Bryan by Alton Parker, Wilson by John W. Davis. He knows that except for a few personal idolators and Progressive adherents his party is as basically conservative as ever. So he wants to dominate the 1940 scene. And his heir apparent is understood to be ex-Republican Henry Wallace of Iowa.

SPYING: Although President Roosevelt may not ask the Senate to ratify the London naval treaty at this session, his diplomatic spokesman are quietly propagandizing hostile senatorial isolationists. They are spilling secrets you can't find in the text itself.

State Departmenters privately concede that the agreement is not a move toward disarmament. It bristles with provisos and "escape" clauses which permit the three signatories—Great Britain, the United States and France—to expand their navies at will. But now it develops that its principal provision is to furnish advance notice of intent to build and to detail the type of vessels. That clause, it appears, is aimed directly at Japan, which waiked out of the parity when denied equality.

Under the new theory the three signatories will keep a sharp eye on Japanese naval growth. Three nations' intelligence services will swap secret data on new inventions and technique in sea fighting developed at Tokyo. If Germany, Russia and Italy eventually sign up—all the great powers will be on guard. They will spy on Japan—and on each other. To some Senators it sounds like a pact built on mutual distrust instead of trust, but they don't see any harm in it.

New York

By JAMES McMULLIN
CHOICE: Many New Yorkers are anxiously peering into crystal balls to learn what manner of President Mr. Roosevelt would be in his second term. The widespread conviction that he will be re-elected causes them to seek the views of every contact who might possibly be supposed to know anything about FDR's intentions. The net result of these inquiries is confusion worse confounded.

Conservative Democrats who are going to stick to the Roosevelt ship maintain vigorously that business has nothing to worry about. "He has to pull this left wing stuff in his speeches to keep the liberals satisfied," they say. "But he isn't listening to the Frankfurters and the Twells any more. Once he's safely elected he'll forget this visionary blab about a 'planned economy' and get down to safe and sane brass tacks." New Deal liberals contend with equal fervor that re-election would be the signal for FDR to cut loose with a "real New Deal" of reform that would make the past three years look like an old-fashioned quilting party. You pay your money and you take your choice. Shrewd and dispassionate analysts call it an odds-on bet that the liberals are much nearer right.

COMFORT: The Republicans have their own private brand of political applause too. Word is being passed in financial circles that the G. O. P. platform is to be a surprisingly liberal document—especially as to monetary and agricultural policies.

It is explained that this is necessary bait for the midwestern farm vote which the Republicans must capture to have any chance of victory. "And then there's Borah," adds a New York G. O. P. chief. "We have to let him play with the platform to keep him happy. We can't afford to have him run out on us."

The reason for this advance ploy is to brace eastern conservatives who are not privy to Republican family secrets against what might otherwise be a brutal shock when the platform is published—and to comfort them with the assurance that they needn't take such gestures to the left too seriously.

BANDWAGON: New York political sharps figure that the big-delegation states—New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio—will have the decisive voice at Cleveland. These states are not yet for Landon—despite renewed reports that New York is in his bag—although Ohio is friendly.

If yesterday's California figure proved up as Landon backers forecast on top of his showing in Massachusetts, the bandwagon will look good to certain—or uncertain—dusky delegates from the deep South who take their cue from Perry Howard, veteran colored national committeeman from Mississippi.

CLINCHER: So far as the New York delegates are concerned, Landon's strength in Massachusetts—while it registered deeply—was not enough to induce them to nail their banner irrevocably to the Kansan's mast. Key Republican leaders in this state are a trifle skeptical of Landonite claims that the Massachusetts vote demonstrated an irresistible popular ground swell for their candidate.

For one thing, they doubt that Landon would have rolled up such an impressive majority over his competitors if he hadn't been the only candidate whose supporters conducted an active campaign in the Bay State. For another, the actual preference vote for all candidates combined was small compared to the total of enrolled Republican voters. Finally, they wonder whether the widespread rank-and-file sentiment for Landon all over the country is authentic enthusiasm or merely the result of aggressive promotion and the feeling that there's nobody else in sight.

New York G. O. P. chiefs privately regard California as the clincher—one way or the other—of their own attitude towards Landon.

If the California voters like him well enough to elect delegates pledged to him in the teeth of strong organization opposition, veteran politicians are ready to concede that he has proved his outstanding popularity beyond argument. If not,

GALA OPENING OF BALL PARK

Rocky Mount to Play First Home Game Next Monday

Rocky Mount, May 6.—The first home game for the Rocky Mount Red Sox team of the Piedmont league, Monday, May 11, promises to be one of the greatest events in the history of the city.

The new city stadium, which has been classed by experts as being one of the best in minor league baseball, will be used for the first time when the league leading Rocky Mount team clashes with the Durham Bulls at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Government and baseball dignitaries will be on hand to help launch Rocky Mount's home season. Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus will be here to throw out the first ball. Mayor T. W. Coleman will be the batter facing the state's highest executive. Dan Hill, president of the Piedmont league, will catch the governor's slants, and Judge W. G. Braham, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, will be in the field.

Billy Evans, supervisor of the farm operations of the Boston Red Sox, will be there. Eddie Collins, general manager, and Tom Yawkey, owner of the Boston team, are also making plans to be present.

In keeping with the magnitude of the event, a large parade to the park will be staged. The entire city is cooperating in making the opening day one of Eastern Carolina's biggest events.

The Rocky Mount stadium is one of the most modern structures of its kind to be found anywhere. In addition to the grandstand which seats over 2,000, there are bleacher accommodations which make the seating capacity of the park over 4,000.

Plans are being made for an opening day crowd of 5,000. Interest here is running at a high pitch and a holiday atmosphere will prevail.

Rocky Mount is the only city in Eastern North Carolina which is a member of the Piedmont league. The loop is made up of Durham, Asheville, Richmond, Norfolk and Portsmouth.

The officials of the baseball club have announced that the regular prices would be charged on the opening day with no advance being made for the big event.

Report Activities At Inter-Racial Meeting

Parmelee, May 6.—A fair sized crowd attended the Parmelee Training school Sunday afternoon, May 3. Among those who spoke were Attorney Raphael Ohara, of New Bern, and the Rev. Father Julian in charge of mission work in the Catholic church.

Lawyer Ohara stressed the importance of doing away with hatred and prejudice and building up a spirit of good will, and thereby making a worth while contribution to the State and nation. "That is our one and only great hope is in the ability of all forces working cooperatively together for the betterment of all mankind," he said.

Father Julian spoke on loyalty and achievement on the part of both races, looking upon each individual as a part of God's handiwork. Said he: "We should work in unity, stick together, boost each other, shove one another ahead, and build something that will have a permanent effect. Build in the spirit of good will and you will erect a beautiful temple to honor that will be a credit and a blessing to the human race."

Another interesting feature of the occasion was a solo sung by Daisy Jones, teacher in the colored school, Robersonville. The Glee Club of the Training School furnished the music.

Seattle gives civil service applicants a "reaction test" by means of a complicated system of lights and buzzers.

Wolf Hopper, now in the movies, is the son of the late De Wolfe Hopper and Hedda Hopper, Hollywood actresses-agent.

SPORT SLANTS

With something like 55,000 fans gathered at the Polo grounds to witness the opening clash of the season between the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers it would be just my luck to run smack into Bill Johnson.

Now Bill Johnson happens to be one of the most rabid of the rabid Brooklyn rooters. And has been as long as I can remember. He is the one person I might well have expected to see at the first meeting of these inter-borough rivals. Bill hasn't missed a Giant-Dodger series since the war. A few years ago he borrowed a pass to the Brooklyn ball yard when the Dodgers were starting a long home stand and quit his job in the paint factory so that he could take in every game. I just about broke up my happy home. His wife, a most tolerant lady, heaped all the blame on my shoulders for having tempted him with the pass.

Practice Fan, Too!

At that, she might have overlooked the fact that he gave up his job to take in a daily ball game but when he rented a room near Ebbets Field so that he could take in the morning workouts—well, there is a limit to everyone's patience!

So, as I said before, Bill Johnson was the one acquaintance I really could bank on seeing at the battle between the Giants and Dodgers.

"Come on, sit down on the Brooklyn side," he urged. "You used to live in Brooklyn. And besides I want to tell you about this swell new team Casey Stengel is putting on the field this year. Bill Terry is going to find out that we are in the same league this year."

"But you seem to be saving that seat for someone," I parried. "That package belongs to you, doesn't it?"

I sat down. And learned that it was a mistake to have brought up the subject of the package.

"See that package?" he said. "It's a little surprise I brought along for Bill Terry," he added with a sly wink.

"I'm going to tie it around his neck after Earnshaw sets them down with a string of goose-eggs," he chuckled.

True To Flatbush

My remark to the effect that it would be a good idea to tie the bell on Terry so that the Dodgers would be warned in advance of his coming and could run and hide was completely ignored as he broke out in a loud boo for Sam Leslie as the Giants' substitute first sacker, who was with Brooklyn last season, fouled one into the stands in batting practice.

"Buddy Hassett can play rings around him at first—I'm doggone glad the Giants bought him back," he went on. "Wait until you get a close-up of Frenchy Bordagaray's crop of whiskers. And don't forget we have two minor league batting champions in the lineup—Ox Eckhardt, from the Pacific Coast league, and Johnny Cooney the American association leader."

"George Earnshaw is in the best shape of his career, he'll win as many games this season as Muncie. Brooklyn will have the pitching this year, the staff looks like one of those groups old Uncle Robbie used to gather together—they'll stand the National league batters on their heads," Casey Stengel told me that the Dodgers would . . .

At this point, observing that Bill Johnson was completely absorbed in the Dodgers' practice, we slipped away—leaving him to suffer alone as the Dodgers went down to defeat in an exciting game by a score of 8-5.

Get alloyed oil . . . and you'll get the difference

Ask your wife. The least little heat makes smoke out of some of the oily substances she puts in her frying pan. They vanish double quick, while others stay put.

That's the sort of difference your hilliest hot-weather drive will show you in Germ Processed, the alloyed oil. Patented.

It not only stays up around "Full," but stays right up in every working surface of your engine. Yes, the pistons, cylinders, valve gear, and any types of bearings ever used, can really take in this alloyed oil. You might say they become lastingly, smoothly "oil-glazed."

And you can see that this added sleek oil-surfacing, together with the high-durability Germ Processed oil-film, easily doubles your guard against summer grief. Now when you want to go farthest fastest, get Conoco Germ Processed oil—the alloyed oil. Continental Oil Company.

Dr. J. J. Murray Delivers Second Talk in Series Here

The Rev. J. J. Murray, D. D., of Lexington, Va., in the second service of the special meetings being held this week at the First Presbyterian church, preached last evening on the subject of "The Church Behind Closed Doors."

Taking his text from part of the 12th verse of the 20th chapter of John's Gospel—"the doors were shut where the disciples were, for fear"—Dr. Murray asserted that the Christian church had come to a similar impasse today. "Not that the doors are shut in prayer and in preparation for winning the world. That would be very well. But the fact is the church does rest in lethargy behind closed doors—not for fear of the world, but because of its impotence to go forth and conquer the world. It is in this condition largely because of three things: it's love of things, it's love of self and its love of ease."

It will never gain the power Christ has promised it until it recognizes that nothing in human life or in human society is alien to its message. It must awaken to its task of creating a social order along Christ-like lines that human beings might have equal opportunities and proper chances for true spiritual development. It must awaken to its task of an earnest, constant and intelligent evangelism. It must gain a world-wide vision. It is more interested in priding itself upon its past history than in making history."

Conservatives and liberals alike are guilty: the conservative in his attempt to straight-jacket doctrinal truths to such an extent that he loses the vitality and warmth of religion and the liberal in his effort to so intellectualize religious truths as to lose the power and motivation of religion. The greatest heresy is not in the intellectual realm but in the realm of practice—of lack of practice and Christian service, the church's failure to be enthusiastic about its great message. If we would give to the world what we profess, we had best be possessed by it — our religion—and His Spirit first, ourselves," the preacher concluded.

Tonight Dr. Murray will preach on "Religion, Power or Power?" The public's attention is called to fact that services have been moved up to 8 p. m.

ITALY MOVES TO DEFEND FRUITS OF ITS CONQUEST AGAINST OTHER NATIONS

League of Nations' sanctions seized. A tentative plan to transform Ethiopia into an Italian possession already was formulated and rejoicing Rome students, celebrating before the royal palace, hailed Victor Emmanuel as "emperor, emperor."

French sources said their government would oppose outright annexation of Ethiopia as an Italian colony, preferring a treaty to give Ethiopia nominal sovereignty.

They looked also for a movement to abandon sanctions at next Monday's session of the league council. The British cabinet, likewise, studied the league question with one section of the ministry understood to favor a drastic reconstruction of the Geneva institution. Many believed, however, that Britain, leader in the sanction campaign, would step aside now to permit other powers to make the next move.

ONE of the lowest priced and most economical cars in the world today stands in a class by itself for sheer performance and driving pleasure. Over two and a half million American motorists have swung to it in less than four years. Over one million chose it in 1935 alone.

That car is the Ford V-8. Now we urge you to drive this great new 1936 Ford V-8 before you decide on any car at any price. We urge you to know for yourself the "feel" of Ford V-8 engine performance—the almost effortless ease of handling—the remarkable stability under all road conditions—the true fine-car riding comfort—which have "taken hold" so quickly and convincingly with the hardest-buying audience that ever tested America's cars. Before you set out to judge modern motor car values, get the "feel" of the one low-price car that's in a class all by itself!

Local Branch of Production Credit Association Secured $210,490 For Farmers First Quarter

This spring, for the third consecutive season, the production credit associations in the South Atlantic States are leading the country in number of loans, and the North Carolina figures are the highest of any state in the country, according to a release from the Farm Credit Administration today.

The production credit association at Greenville made the largest amount of loans $219,490—an increase of 24 per cent over the first quarter of 1935; and the Raleigh association was second in amount with $216,160, up 12 per cent. The Statesville production credit association had the largest number of loans in the State—755—and also a substantial increase in business over last year.

Some 10,777 North Carolina farmers borrowed $2,829,346 from the production credit associations in the State from the first of the year up to April 1. Total loans in the third district, which includes the Carolinas, Georgia, and Florida, amounted to $8,954,000, compared to the first quarter of 1935.

The total number of loans in the third district was 29,793 almost double that of any other district, and the amount was second being exceeded slightly by the volume in the Berkeley district which includes California, Arizona, Utah and Nevada.

The New Orleans district, covering Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, was second in number with 16,088 loans and third in amount, $8,746,000.
