Giants Score Six In Second Inning For First Victory

Series Now Standing
At Three to One in Yanks' Favor

YANKS 101 000 001-3 6 0
GIANTS 060 000 10x-7 12 3

Batteries:
Yankees—Hadley, Andrews,
Wicker & Dickey.
Giants—Hubbell & Danning.

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 9.—The New York Giants (National League) took their first game of the 1937 World Series this afternoon by defeating the Yankees (American League) by a score of seven to three. The Giants' victory today placed the series standing at three games for the Yankees to one for the Giants. The fifth game of the series will be played at the Polo Grounds tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock.

A base on balls and seven hits in the second inning netted the Giants six runs to overcome the one run of the Yankees gained in the first inning. The Giants' other run came in the seventh inning as a result of a base on balls and three hits.

Lou Gehrig, Yankee first baseman hit a home run in the ninth inning, the second home run of the season. Carl Hubbell, Giant ace hurler, pitched the entire game while the Yankees used Hadley, Andrews and Wicker on the mound.

The Giants stacked up twelve hits and made three errors while the Yankees made but six safe hits and no errors.

The game, play by play.

First Inning

Yankees—Cruzzetti flied to center field. Rolfe hit to center field for three bases. DiMaggio lined out to right field. Rolfe scoring after the catch. Gehrig fouled out to first base. One run, one hit, no errors.

FREE SMITH IN NEGRO KILLING

Slaying Here Last Night Declared Justifiable Homicide

A coroner's jury verdict of "justifiable homicide" today freed Lester Smith, operator of "Smitty's Place" on Dickinson avenue beyond the new underpass, in the killing of Jasper Cooper, Negro, last night.

Chief of Police George Clark declared that Cooper and four other Negroes drove up to the filling station about midnight last night and ordered five gallons of gasoline from an attendant. An argument ensued, it was understood, with Cooper denying that the attendant put the gasoline in the car and threatening him.

Mr. Smith then was called by the boy and the Negro is alleged to have attacked him with an oil can. The proprietor then fired at Cooper and the bullet entered his breast and killed him almost instantly.

Chief Clark said that Cooper was reared in this vicinity, but had been away several years. He described the slain man as a "bad Negro."

RUSSIA TO BUY ARMS FROM U.S.

Authorizes Agent To Purchase $50,000,-
000 Worth

New York, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The Soviet government, engaged in Europe's headlong armaments race, has authorized commercial agents here to purchase $50,000,000 of naval equipment for export to Russia in the immediate future, it was disclosed today.

Morris Wolf, counsel for the Carp Export and Import Corporation of New York, which is negotiating the huge deal, said the war material would consist of pre-fabricated parts of battleships and other types of fighting craft—turrets, armor plates, propelling machinery, boilers and engines and 16-inch naval guns.

The corporation is the special munitions purchasing organization for the Soviet government, he said, and is headed by Samuel Carp of Bridgeport, Conn. Carp, an American citizen, is a brother-in-law of Premier Molotoff of Russia.

The State Department's September report of licenses issued for the export of arms, munitions and implements of war, showed Russia was licensed to take out more than $10,000,000 worth of war materials in the first installment of the $50,000,000 order. The licenses included $2,250,000 for guns, $1,500,000 for ammunition and $1,000,000 for explosives.

Contracts for the $10,000,000 order, it was said, was still in the stage of negotiations.

CRIPPLED MAN FATALLY HURT

J. R. Peterson Meets
Death Crossing Five Points Here

J. R. Peterson, about 55 years old, was almost instantly killed at Five Points about 11 o'clock this morning when he was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. A. F. Harrington of 402 Student street, Greenville.

Peterson, a cripple who was forced to use his hands to pull himself along, is well known here although his home is in Kinston. He has been selling pencils on the streets of Greenville on various occasions for the past several years.

An ambulance was summoned, but Peterson died shortly after arrival at the hospital. The body was taken to the Williams funeral home and efforts were being made to get in touch with some of his people. He is said to be married and have at least one child.

Peterson was killed as he was crossing Evans street going South. He was almost across the street when the car driven by Mrs. Harrington struck him. City police officials investigated the fatal accident and expressed the opinion that Mrs. Harrington was unable to see the man. No charges have been preferred against her. Coroner A. A. Ellwanger said in announcing that an inquest would be held Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

COGGINS GETS LEASE ON LIFE

Death Sentence Commuted to Life Imprisonment by Hoey

Raleigh, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The death sentence of Melvin Coggins, 39, who was to have been executed next Friday for murder, has been commuted to life imprisonment, Governor Hoey said today.

"From all the facts and circumstances that have come to my attention," Hoey said, "I am of the opinion that this prisoner is of extremely low mentality and that the ends of justice do not demand the exacting of the death penalty."

"Mental tests given the prisoner establish a very low mental status," the governor added.

Coggins was convicted in March of the murder of Henry Fogleman, Nash county farmer, and lost an appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Governor Hoey said a petition "signed by nearly 1,000 responsible citizens of Nash county" urged the death penalty not be imposed.

Clemency also was recommended, Hoey said, by Collicter Don Gilliam, the jury, Nash county jailor and deputies sheriff, the chief of police of Rocky Mount, Spring Hope and Nashville, and other Nash officials.

The governor quoted Trial Judge Paul Frizzelle as writing, he was "clearly of the opinion that the prisoner is considerably below normal in mentality... and I therefore feel and recommend that his sentence of death be commuted to life imprisonment."

The Nash county sheriff wrote that Coggins received a "fair and impartial trial" and recommended commutation "because of his low mentality," Hoey said.

'Let's Go and Give' Slogan For Drive

Gratifying Responses On Part Of Workers and Givers Assure Success for Community Chest

Evidently "Let's Go! and Let's Give!" is a good slogan for that is just what the people of Greenville are doing about the Community Chest. Workers are going and people are giving.

While there is still a need for additional workers for residential districts and the total needed has not been reached, still there are enough gratifying responses on the part of both workers and givers to assure those directing the campaign that the work of the Chest will be completed. The campaign will continue until the entire city has been canvassed and the total budget subscribed. If you haven't given your services, go to 326 Evans street and ask for an assignment—if you haven't given your money, then drop in at the same place and leave your gift. ### Two Seriously Hurt

Zebulon, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Two men were seriously injured and two other persons less severely hurt near here today when their car was struck by a Norfolk-Southern rail bus, bound from Washington, N. C., to Raleigh.

The injured were Garland Price, 27, and Craven Carroll, 17, both of near here. They sustained head injuries.

Japan Causes China As Italy Ignores Invitation

(By Associated Press)

Japan's accusation of China as the responsible party in the Far Eastern conflict was studied by world powers today while on the other side of the international picture interest centered on the Italian reply to an Anglo-French invitation to discuss withdrawal of foreign volunteers from the Spanish civil war.

The Japanese statement, made in reply to condemnation by the League of Nations and the United States, charges the Chinese forced hostilities by provocative acts, among them plans to kill 30,000 Japs in China.

Although official sources gave no indication of what Premier Mussolini said in his reply to France and Britain, it was described unofficially as rejecting the possibility of a meeting to talk over the question of foreigners in Spain unless Germany is invited.

Coincident with delivery of Il Duce's reply to the French and British envoys in Rome, the Spanish government accused Italy of planning an unprecedented campaign in support of the Spanish insurgent cause.

Italy was drawn into the Sino-Japanese picture by a Domei (Japanese) news agency report from Tokyo that the Italian ambassador, Signor Auriti, assured the Japanese vice-minister of foreign affairs that Italy approved Japanese measures in China and "will never spare general support to Japan."

On the Far East war front, Chinese and Japanese looked apprehensively on the dawning of China's national holiday, each on guard against the other's possible move.

MEETING HELD TO BOOST FAIR

Real Agricultural Exposition To Be Offered Here

That the Pitt county fair will be a real agricultural exposition was stressed at a meeting at Green Wreath Park last night sponsored by the Pitt County Post No. 39 and the Farmville Post of the American Legion and attended by the county farm agent and home demonstration agent.

The two American Legion posts are sponsoring the exposition. Approximately 150 attended the meeting, which followed a chicken stew dinner. Wives of legionnaires and all Auxiliary members were invited and a number of women attended.

The announced object of the meeting was to boost the fair and the objective was realized when a number of those present pledged their support and asked that all members of the two Legion posts join in making this year's edition the best fair ever held here. Dr. Paul E. Jones of the Farmville post and S. A. Whitehurst of the local post served as a committee on arrangements. The meeting was presided over by Commander Jim Joy-

ROPER SPEAKS TO S. C. WOMEN

Declares Economic Balance Most Pressing Problem

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 9.—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Daniel Roper asserted today "the most pressing problem of our time" is that of "keeping in balance the economic and social segments of civilization."

He told women assembled for the Pee Dee district meeting of the South Carolina Council of Farm women "We should study to find a way to keep a balance."

Reviewing the rapid industrial and economic development of this nation and its effect on the individual, Roper said while many of the fundamental objectives of President Roosevelt had been accomplished and "human beings... have been evaluated on the basis of new concepts, there are lingering impediments which lurk on the highway of human progress.

"Millions of American citizens are yet unadjusted in their relationship to society and are ill-led and ill-clad and ill-housed! Their condition is as dangerous to democracy as an enemy without."

Roper, turning to the farm situation, said "fundamental to national safety is the economic security of the American farmer."

Roper said the farmer must have a value for his products with a parity of things he has to buy and added that to this end "we need to look more to the reduction of trade barriers that affect his foreign markets than to financial aid from the federal treasury."

Supreme Court In Secret Conference

Final Meeting Before Expected Announcement Monday On Hugo
Black's Right To Keep Seat

Washington, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The Supreme court met today for a final conference before its expected announcement Monday about Justice Hugo Black's right to a seat on the bench.

This was the third secret meeting this week at which the justices discussed pending petitions and agreed whether to review the decisions of lower courts.

Their ruling will be announced Monday, the 65th birthday anniversary of Justice Harlan Stone.

Two challenges of Black's title to his petition, along with litigation involving six Roosevelt administration laws, were included among the 300 petitions before the tribunal.

Albert Leavitt, former federal judge in the Virgin Islands, and Patrick Henry Kelly, Boston attorney, contested Black's appointment a few minutes after he took his seat last Monday.

New York sources, meantime, said that Vittorio Mussolini, 20-year-old son of Italy's premier, planned to fly to Washington, D. C., during the day for a brief visit with the president.

Indianapolis (AP)—Six hundred fewer beginners enrolled in Indianapolis schools this fall than last. School commissioners attributed the decline to the fact that this year is the first in which "depression babies" reached school age. A decline in the birth rate was one of the results of the depression.

Speaks To College Students.

J. D. Alexander, new physical education director at the college, presented to the group at assembly yesterday the schedule of the season in football and asked for the support of the student body in the games scheduled here, the first one to be played this afternoon.

The coach pointed out three ways in which students not on the football team can contribute to the team's success.

First, he said, their presence at games is important. Then, they must let their presence be known by their cheering and enthusiasm.

He said that if every student on the campus would take an active part in some sport all would then be much more eager to support them.

Coach Alexander gave a few hints about how to watch a game so as to get the most pleasure out of it, saying that if the spectators understood the penalties and the "breaks of the game" they would enjoy watching the struggle.

Rumley-Ward

The marriage of Miss Ethelyn Louise Ward of Greenville, and Charles Anderson Rumley of Farmville, took place this morning at eight o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on Evans street.

Rev. J. W. Berry, pastor of the Pentecostal Holiness Church, officiated, in the presence of only immediate families and friends of the bride and bridegroom.

The room was decorated with white dahlias, ivy, white tapers gleaming in antique candelabras. The improvised altar was banked with pines, ferns and potted plants.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. L. B. Tucker, pianist, played "Love Dreams," by Arthur L. Brown. The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was used as processional and "To A Wild Rose" by Edward McDowell, was played during the ceremony. These were played by Miss Jennie Manning on violin, accompanied by Mrs. Tucker. Mendelssohn's Wedding March from "Midsummer Night's Dream" was used as a recessional.

The bride wore a lovely dress of royal blue velvet with navy blue accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Rumley is the charming young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hutchen Ward of Greenville, and received her education at the Greenville high school.

Mr. Rumley is the son of Mrs. Mamie Rumley and the late Rev. J. L. Rumley of Farmville. He received his education at East Carolina Teachers College and Duke University. He is connected with the Ormond Wholesale Co., of Greenville.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Rumley left for a short trip to points unknown. They will make their home at 311 West Third street, Greenville.

HELPS FOR HOUSEWIVES

By MRS. ALEXANDEE GEORGE
Try baking eggs on biscuits or English muffins. The latter should be baked before their centers are removed and the uncooked eggs inserted. The biscuits or muffins should then be placed on a flat pan in a moderate oven until the eggs have set. (About ten minutes.) A small quantity of grated cheese. Seventy of these were present.

Collect a few vari-colored gourds or small squashes of unusual shape. Coat them with a thin layer of colorless shellac. When the vegetables are dry arrange them in a shallow bowl or tray and use them as table decorations.

Cranberry sauce is a colorful and tasty topping for baked, sliced ham. Add one cup of sauce to a pound-and-a-half slice of ham after the ham has baked for thirty minutes.

A good fall dessert may be made of ice cream and chocolate sauce on top of baked chocolate waffles. Ice cream also may be used as a filling for two baked waffles and the combination covered with sauce.

Moisture in the refrigerator encourages the growth of bacteria, causing food to spoil. Wipe off all moisture inside the refrigerator and be careful to remove spilled foods.

Artichokes should be soaked, heads down, for thirty minutes in two quarts of cold water to which two teaspoons of salt have been added. They are then ready for cooking.

Outside, wilted leaves should be removed from cabbage, which is stored in the refrigerator. Put the cabbage in a tightly-covered dish to prevent the odor from permeating other foods.

If you have an ice refrigerator be sure to keep the drain clean. It should be scalded once a week with a solution of two quarts of water and two tablespoons of sal soda.

Plans Made to Offer Four Weekly Entertainments

A good portion of the one-hour meeting of the Greenville Kiwanis club was consumed last night in discussions of the Collins Festival four weekly entertainments to be presented here under the sponsorship of the club for the benefit of underprivileged children.

The entertainments will be presented at the High School auditorium. Each member of the club has been given five adult and five children tickets to sell and will be given more than this number if sold.

The first program will be on October 14, featuring King's Ambassadors Quartet, male voices at their best, superb bell-ringing. On October 21 Harold D. Eide will offer a dramatic story of Arctic exploration and adventure. The October 28 program will present Lucille Elmore and company, up-to-date music. The final entertainment, on November 4, will be a play, "The Mysterious Mr. Mason," a comedy of high finance.

Each of the entertainments will be presented on Thursday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock.

W. E. Hooker is chairman of the underprivileged child committee of the club and he and D. C. Moore, Jr., club secretary, explained plans for presenting the festival.

Claude E. Ward, member of the committee, brought the McLawhorn sister-cousin team here to offer song and dance numbers. They were accompanied by Miss Sarah Brown Braxton of Winterville.

Two new members were accepted into the club. They were the Rev. Clarence Patrick, pastor of Immanuel Baptist church, and Robert L. Coleman.

MEETING HELD BOOST FAIR

Plans were announced for a booster parade throughout the county next Friday, beginning at 8 o'clock. John Hill Paylor, adjutant of the Farmville post and vice president of the Fair Association, will have charge of a motorcade of Farmville legionnaires and Sheriff Whitehurst will conduct a group of members of the local post on a parade. The two motorcades will meet between here and Farmville and make a tour throughout the county.

Immediately after the dinner, Mr. Joyner introduced D. J. Whichard, Jr., member of the Pitt county post and president of the fair. Mr. Whichard urged the necessity of the support of all legionnaires. He declared that the job was not for only a few legionnaires, but declared that if the exposition was to be a success it was necessary that every member in the county give his full support.

"We are not only interested in the American Legion, but in providing Pitt county with a real agricultural exposition," declared the fair president. He added that the Legion was not in the field to make money, but to offer an opportunity for farmers to display their various agricultural exhibits in the hopes it would serve as a stimulus to all agriculturists in this community.

All Legionnaires were urged to support the exposition by bringing exhibits to the fair and urging their neighbors and friends to do the same thing.

County Agent R. R. Bennett pledged his support to the movement and declared that he would be glad to assist farmers in any possible way in picking out their best products to put on display. He stressed the advantages of a real agricultural fair and declared it would mean much to the farmers in the section.

Miss Ethel Nice, home demonstration agent, also pledged her cooperation and added that she would do anything she could in aiding the women in preparing their exhibits.

Mr. Paylor urged cooperation on the part of legionnaires in the county and declared that the members of the Farmville post were behind

ABC OFFICERS DESTROY STILL

Most Large Plants In County Believed Cut Down

Pitt county ABC officers, who have located and destroyed a number of stills in the past two weeks or so, are showing no let up in their activities although it appears that the largest stills in the county have already been cut down.

The latest plant to fall before the axe of the officers was a small still located yesterday afternoon in Chisocod township. The distillery was the smallest taken so far in the recent campaign on illegal whiskey-making. It was of 25 gallon capacity and had only two barrels for mash, both of which were empty. No one was at the still, and it was not in operation.

The war being waged on illicit whiskey in Pitt county has resulted in what officials believe the destruction of most of the large stills in this section. The pit officers worked in cooperation with Beaufort officers in destroying several stills on or near the county line.

Home-Made 'Rake.'

A long-handled fork is most convenient to use for "raking" foods from the hot coals of the camp fire. Fasten a long-handled kitchen fork to a yard stick, broom handle or straight stout stick.

For Outdoor Cooking

Charcoal stoves are handy to use in outdoor cooking. Folding stoves, which are easy to carry, may be purchased. Only a few cents worth of charcoal will be needed.

For Inexpensive Meals.

Budget-pleasing main dishes include: Deep dish tuna pie; vegetable and hard-cooked egg pot pie; noodles and ham baked together; baked lima beans with fresh pork; kidney beans and celery; spaghetti and cheese; veal stew; lamb pot pie with vegetables; scrambled eggs and minced ham.

Wall outlets for electrical devices used in the kitchen, pantry or butler's pantry should be placed at table height. This permits the use of shorter cords with cooking utensils, eliminating coils that are likely to get in the housewife's way.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Oct. 9.—Bang! Bang! Bang! It sounded like a miniature battle in progress on the capitol lawn.

Passersby stopped in their tracks, turned around hastily to see what was going on, prepared to take cover at the least provocation.

What they saw was a stout, elderly man loading and firing a toy pistol as rapidly as possible.

Some thought of phoning the police, others favored calling a Dix Hill ambulance. Cooler heads prevailed and an investigation was started.

It was the Capitol gardener, trying to frighten off the great flocks of pigeons which habitually infest the lawn. It seems the gardener has just sowed much grass seed on parts of the lawn where the stand has become thin. Pigeons don't help to seed grow any.

Each postoffice box holder in Raleigh has received a mimeographed sheet from Postmaster C. L. Williamson asking "Dear Patron" to cooperate in observance of Air Mail Week.

"It is hoped that during this period you will so far as practicable use the Air Mail service exclusively for out of state correspondence. This will greatly assist the postal service in making the occasion a great success.

Incidentally—quite incidentally, of course—it will help James Aloysius Farley show a surplus for the Postoffice Department at the close of the fiscal year.

The case of Melville Coggins, Nash county slayer who killed one of that county's substantial citizens, is giving Governor Hoey quite some difficulty.

Coggins is scheduled to be executed next week. His counsel and friends are urging clemency on the grounds he isn't "all there" mentally. The governor, who this week saved two Beaufort Negroes from the gas chamber, is giving the case deep thought.

Parole Commissioner Edwin F. Gill and his assistant, Hathaway Cross, are to attend the big Parole conference in Philadelphia next week. They will likely be out of town the entire week.

There will be a meeting of the State Rural Electrification Authority commission in Raleigh next Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, it has been announced by REA head Dudley Bagley.

Mr. Gagley is enthusiastic over the progress of the rural electrification drive in North Carolina.

"We can't keep our maps up to date," he said. "Because every time we get new lines charted on them maps, there have already been more and newer ones constructed."

Dr. C. C. Crittenden, executive secretary of the North Carolina Historical Commission, expressed great surprise at the lack of public interest manifested in President Roosevelt's strong anti-war declaration of this week.

"It's the most important development of the last decade," he said. "Yet I haven't heard one person mention it in ordinary conversation. Everybody seems interested in Black and the Klan and the World Series and the Duke-Tennessee game, but nobody cares whether we go to war or not."

State Birth Rate Continues To Gain As Deaths Decline

Total of 52,978 Little North Carolinians Born During First Nine Months of This Year

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Oct. 9.—North Carolina's birth rate continued to hold a lead over the previous year during the first eight months of 1937, while the death rate shows a decline from 1936 figures, it is revealed in reports compiled by the Bureau of Vital Statistics, State Board of Health.

There was a rise in infant mortality, however, while maternal deaths showed a decline.

During the first eight months of 1937 there were 1,519 deaths among infants under one year old, as compared with 3,380 the corresponding period in 1936. It also appears that there were 616 deaths from diarrhea and enteritis among children under two, as compared with 447 from January through August last year. Here, the percentage of increase was considerable.

Through August, 1937, there were 52,978 little North Carolinians born compared with 50,681 the same period last year, a gain of 1,147, while deaths recorded this year numbered 2,954, which, compared with 24,207 for the first eight months of 1936, reflected a decline of 1,253. Maternity deaths during the period so far reported this year numbered 301, while last year's total in North Carolina through August was 335. The largest number of births in a single month this year, so far, was 7,197, in June, this figure having also exceeded all months in the corresponding period of 1936. Fewest births occurred in January, when the total was only 6,108, while April, last year, with 6,075 held the low record for that period. The largest number of deaths this year in a single month was 3,277 in March, while the fewest, 2,578, occurred in August.

The loon is one of the lowest forms of bird life, biologically speaking, but it's no fool.

MAP PROGRAM FOR INSTITUTE

Public Welfare Meeting Set for Chapel Hill

Reflector Bureau.
 Raleigh, Oct. 9.—North Carolina's 18th annual Public Welfare Institute will be held in Chapel Hill from October 19, through October 22, according to Mrs. W. T. Bost, Commissioner of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare.
 More than fifty prominent state and national leaders in welfare work are scheduled to appear on the program during the four-day session. North Carolina's Social Security program will come in for more than a little discussion, according to plans, with Mrs. Bost and Nathan H. Yelton, director of the division of Public Assistance leading the conferences.

All sessions of the Institute will be held in the Chapel Hill Presbyterian church, and the Institute's headquarters will be in the University Alumni building.
 The Institute is sponsored by the state Welfare Department and the Division of Public Welfare and Social Work of the University of North Carolina.
 A reception will be held in Graham Memorial at 9:30 p. m., on October 21, and the final session will start at 7 o'clock the following evening. A dinner meeting is scheduled for the last evening of the conference, the place to be announced later.

The committee on arrangements for the Institute consists of Dr. Howard W. Odum, director of the Institute for Research in Social Science; Mrs. Bost; Dr. Roy M. Brown, director of the division of public welfare and social work; George H. Lawrence, assistant professor of Social work and director of field work; and Miss Anna A. Cassatt, director of the division of case work training and family rehabilitation.

- Cordelia, Nina's closest friend.

Chapter Six

David 'Gets It' Wrong

AS NINA pressed the telephone in the hall, it rang and she lifted the receiver.

It was David Day.

"Oh, hello David. It's Nina Button."

"It's fine and I'm very well too, thanx you for asking."

After all the serious thoughts that had been filling her brain, his foolishness was refreshing—like a drink of cool water on a hot day.

She said: "Oh, I'm splendid, thanks, since you call."

"Good. And now that our healths are an established fact, do you still want us to call this afternoon?"

"You and Button? Will you tell him to keep a civil tongue in his head? . . . Oh, listen, David, I just thought . . . could you make it some other day? A million things have come up since I saw you. . . . She didn't feel like broadcasting Honey's news, without asking her."

He interrupted: "Can't I be one of them?"

But she said she was afraid not.

"O. K. I get it, Pal. I get it."

"Don't be a sap, David."

"I—won't."

"Give me a ring tomorrow?"

"Oh, sure. Sure."

"David. . . ."

But he had said: "Goodby," and hung up.

Nina stood, frowning, for a minute, and then continued on her way.

No Diet, No Dye

HONEY was sitting propped up in her double bed, all radiant and white and goldy, like a Christmas-tree angel.

Nina felt a little embarrassed.

Honey was 44. She kept her hair its original flaxen color with some sort of an egg shampoo; and she had occasional facials, when she was worn out from running around not doing much of anything . . . but that was all she did to herself. Her skin was pink and smooth, but when you looked at it closely you could see definite little wrinkles under her blue eyes.

There was a distinct line, too, just under the point of her chin, with fullness below . . . but somehow, on Honey, it only looked cunning. She wore clothes that were inclined to be frilly, but in perfectly good taste for a woman of 44, and she was the youngest looking thing you ever laid your eyes on.

She was the despair of those of her friends who dieted, and dyed and made themselves up into a semblance of youth. Hers came from within . . . and they couldn't compete with that.

"Darling! Come over here and sit down. I'm glad we're going to have a minute alone together."

So was Nina.

And then her mother said a very extraordinary thing . . . for her.

"You know, baby, I have the feeling that last night we were all play-acting."

Nina's eyes opened so wide that she had to blink quickly. She didn't want Honey to see how astonished she was. Daddy's words came back to her: "If he was the right man, your mother would be a different person. . . ."

"There were so many things I wanted to say to you, and just—didn't, somehow. I do so want you to be happy about this new marriage of mine, darling. I think your father would be."

Nina reached over, took the soft plump hand that lay on the counterpane.

"I know he would be, Honey dear, and I'm happy, if you are."

"And I wanted to tell you that it won't—couldn't—come between us, in any way, baby! or interfere with your life."

Nina said: "Silly, I hadn't even thought of that."

"You wouldn't think of yourself! Of course you hardly know Richard yet at all, but you'll adore him in no time—the way I did—the way everybody does."

"Bridget has succumbed already."

"Has she? That's nice. Bridget can be so difficult."

Nina smiled at the memory of the maid's dour face at breakfast. And then she smiled even more broadly, because Honey had apparently exhibited enough new qualities for one morning, and was back to normal again.

It Was A Madhouse

SHE began to scribble down lists of things that had to be done before she left, on the backs of envelopes that had come in the morning's mail; and then she said: "Oh, let's clear away this mess!" and tore them all up, and couldn't remember what she had written. She made little ineffectual motions with her soft, plump hands, and begged Nina to help her.

The papers and lists of friends to be notified, and last minute shoppings. . . . The whole day went like that. It was a madhouse.

Telephone calls, and flowers and bundles, and reporters, and more telephone calls.

Cordelia had whooped with excitement over the wire, and promised to come in to lunch the next day, when the honeymooners were off, and things were quieter.

When Nina had waved her last wave at the night train for Hot Springs, she sighed a sigh of the most devastating fatigue, and returned to a house that was a heaven of calm.

Cordelia Thorpe was a year older than Nina. She was as dark as her friend was fair, and this year she had gone in for a soft wavy bang across her white forehead.

In tableaux and charity fashion shows, wherever it was possible, they were exploited as a team—the perfect complement, one for the other. Nina seemed doomed to Bride roles, and Ice Maidens; while Cordelia had been Maid of Honor, and Queen of the Night, so many times that she didn't even have to go to rehearsals.

In their debutante year, they had usually called up and found out what the other was wearing, so as to go well together; but they were pretty sick of it now, and of compliments, too. That was probably one of the reasons why Nina had liked David so—instantly, because he had been rude to her, for a change. And, by the way, where was he? He hadn't phoned.

Nina runs into Button on the street Monday.

of Senator Black and his colleagues on the lobby investigating committee.

In court, witnesses are protected by their counsel and by certain rules of decorum. But in a senate committee all bars are down and the witness is at the mercy of senators who act as judge, prosecuting attorney and jury. They make their own rules of procedure as they go and show little mercy when in pursuit of evidence to support the legislation for which they are drumming.

His Style Cramped

It was in that field, and in his earlier experience as police judge and prosecuting attorney that Black learned the art that made him the most savage examiner since the late Senator Walsh of Montana, who conducted the Teapot Dome investigation.

Yet when the justice begins his work on the court, his field for examination will be hemmed in on a dozen fronts. First off, he won't be examining witnesses. He will be examining skilled attorneys. He will not be searching witnesses for facts, but will be questioning attorneys about points of law. For in the Supreme Court there is little digging out of bare facts. Facts of the case all must have been determined in the lower courts. The Supreme Court, save in rare instances, deals only with how the law applies to the facts.

It is true that attorneys are occasionally subjected to grueling examination by members of the court. But often a member of the court will come to the rescue of an attorney being picked to bits by another member.

Court Discipline

Justice Brandeis delights in pulling beleaguered attorneys out of the claws of some of the conservative members of the court. If he feels that an attorney is being led into an unfair position through questioning by one of the justices, he will say unhesitatingly:

"If I were counsel, I should not answer that question."

Again, a justice may baffle an attorney with a demand for a citation of cases to support some obscure point. Justices Stone, Butler and others, liberals and conservatives alike, may cut in to suggest:

"Does the attorney recall the case of Anderson vs. The United States in which it was held—so and so."

Or one justice may take a more direct course by shooting the answer straight back at the justice who asked the question.

Now Black comes to the court skilled as an examiner after facts. But even his best friends would not say he is so quick on the trigger in law as his veteran colleagues. And court observers suspect the elderly justices will be laying for him if he seems to get out of bounds.

DUKE'S FALL TERM ENROLLMENT AT 3,316

Durham, Oct. 8.—Duke university has registered 3,316 students for the fall semester, a new record attendance. The medical school began work this week with 245 students.

The fall's enrollment is 114 more than any previous first semester the next highest being in 1935. Undergraduates number 2,543.

Tabulation for the individual schools are: law 107, graduate school of arts and sciences 216, religion 101, nursing 35, dietetics 4, technicians 15, and medicine 245.

The enrollment has increased 643 students in the past five years.

This year's enrollment includes 1,028 women, 858 of whom are undergraduates, 3 in the law school, and 54 in the graduate school.

Washington Daybook

Washington—The brilliant, biting style of examination of witnesses that made Hugo Black, the senator, famous and feared, probably will find little outlet in the Supreme court.

Even before the Klan issue arose, veteran hands around the court predicted that the elder justices would make short work of any efforts by the vigorous ex-senator to tangle attorneys in their own tales.

Black was relentless in examining recalcitrant witnesses before senate committees. Corporation executives who had survived hours of cross-examination in court with superb calm were reduced to wild-eyed bewilderment under the fire

Greenies Defeat Kinston 12 To 0

THIRD WIN BY LOCAL ELEVEN

Two Touchdowns Of Game Made in 1st and 3rd Quarters

The "Flying Phantoms" of the Greenville High School fought their way to a 12 to 0 victory over the "Red Devils" of Kinston High School in a thrilling football game yesterday afternoon.

The game was played on the home field, and was the third straight victory for Coach Dally's boys. This game marked the fourth straight year that Greenville has been victorious over Kinston.

Greenville's two touchdowns came at the beginning of the first and third quarters. At the start of the game Greenville received the kick-off on the eight-yard line and returned it to the thirty yard marker. A series of line plunges gave Greenville three straight first downs to put the ball on the six yard line. From that point Baxter Clark went off-tackle for the first score.

The second touchdown, made in the third quarter, followed an exchange of punts. Greenville gained possession of the ball in mid-field. Parrish passed twenty yards to Hodges who in turn made a lateral pass to Henderson, who crossed the goal line standing up.

Kinston featured a fine running attack throughout the game, but was unable to make much headway against the heavier Greenville line except in the second quarter. In that period they advanced the ball at one time to the five yard line, but were unable to score. In the fourth period they stopped a Greenville drive on the one foot line. Outstanding players for Kinston were Harper, Croom and Evans.

Greenville's best playing was done in the first five minutes of the game. After that it was rather spotty. Hodges, R. E. Clark, Parrish, and B. Clark stood out for Greenville.

TROUT WON'T COME IN OUT OF THE HAIL

Denver (AP)—R. G. Parvin sighed for the good old days when trout could take care of themselves and then admitted the state may have to screen all its mountain lakes or take out hail insurance on the fish.

"The fish apparently are getting sissified and can't stand rough weather any more," said Parvin as he read a report on the demise of 1,000 trout at Trapper's lake.

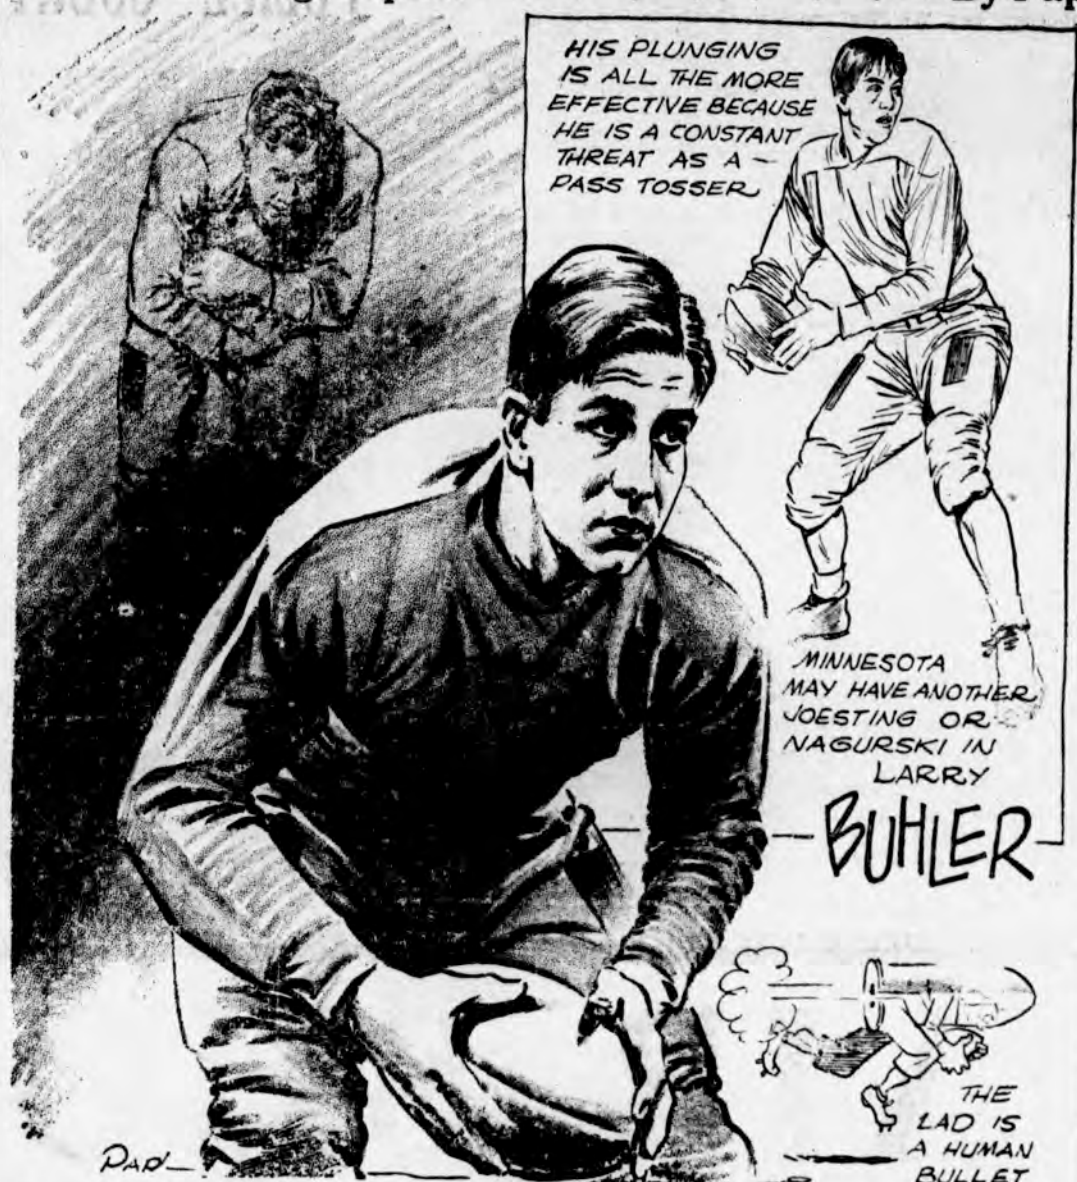

At first it was thought the trout had died from salmon eggs used by fishermen as a lure, which might have been poisoned.

But post mortems disclosed disease, which probably resulted from blows. The disease was fin rot, a fungus ailment which follows physical injury.

"The only explanation I can offer is that the fish were feeding near the surface of the water in a hail storm and got battered," said Parvin.

By PAP'

From a husky harvest hand to one of the most devastating line-backers in a long line of great Minnesota fullbacks—that has been the 4-year metamorphosis of Larry Buhler, the Gopher's big back-field siege gun.

Two factors have been directly responsible for Buhler's development. One was the faith of his townsmen in his latent ability. The other was his own knack of recognizing his faults.

Larry earned his place on the Minnesota eleven in spite of himself. As a boy in Windom, Minn., he preferred baseball to football, joining the Windom football squad only after Coach Les Puikraek, former Minnesota lineman, had asked him to come out for the team.

After a season spent at guard, during which he did little to improve his opinion of himself as a football player, Buhler was shifted to the backfield and immediately started to make frequent and lengthy trips up and down the high school gridirons in his vicinity. In his last year of high school, he scored all of the touchdowns made by the Windom eleven.

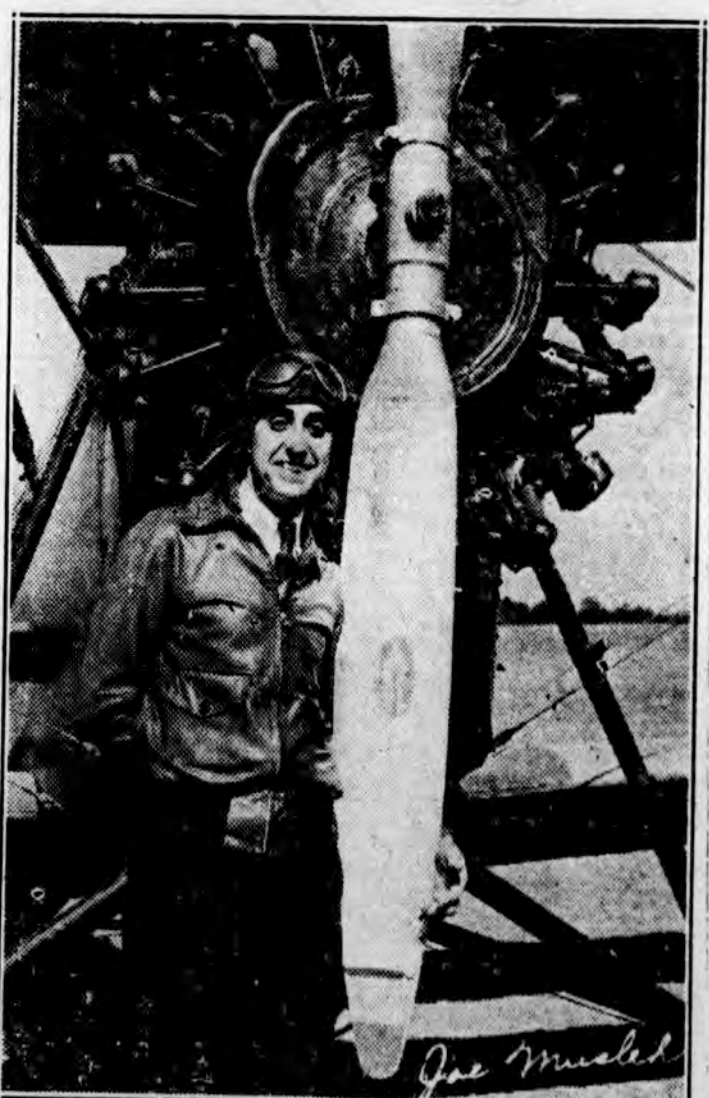

Meanwhile he was running the 100-yard dash in 10-4, tossing the shot and discus for the track team and playing forward on the basketball quintet. His summers he spent as a farm hand.

In high school, as a halfback Buhler had crashed the opposing lines without even bothering to lower his head. At Minnesota he found that his upright stance made him a good target for defensive linemen, who took great delight in hitting him simultaneously in half a dozen spots as he came charging up to the line. So Buhler started to learn how to plunge from a crouched position.

"I still have trouble that way," he admits. "I have the habit of closing my eyes when I put my head down and go into the line. The only way I can offset that is to concentrate on the proper stance just before I take the ball." The success of Buhler's powerster.

TO FEATURE PARACHUTE JUMPING

Famous Flier and Jumper At Dudley's Airfield Air Show Here Saturday and Sunday

Joe Musleh, noted aviator, and Ray Anderson, veteran parachute jumper, are being featured at a free air show at the Dudley air field across the river today and Sunday.

Mr. Musleh, shown above standing beside one of the many planes he has piloted in his many years of experience, is noted for his skill in handling the giant tri-motored. He will execute various stunting exhibitions, including loops, tailspins, dives and rolls of every kind. The stunts to be exhibited here are declared to include a number that thrilled thousands at the National air races throughout the country.

The show, being sponsored by the White Chevrolet company, will be free to the public.

Wolfpack To Be At Home Saturday of Fair Week

Raleigh, October 9.—State College's Wolfpack is concerned with Furman's Purple Hurricane in Greenville, S. C., tonight, but next Saturday evening will meet a colorful V.P.I. eleven here in Riddick Stadium in another Southern Conference game.

The game will be one of the feature battles of the Conference next week and will pit the schools together for the 22nd time since 1900—the year the rivalry between the institutions began.

The game, coming as one of the features of the annual N. C. State Fair, is expected to attract another large crowd to Riddick Stadium.

The Virginians have one of their best and most colorful clubs with a brilliant backfield composed of Co-Captain Carol Shockey and Mel Henry, half backs; Phil Demuro, quarterback, and Kinky Darnell, fullback.

Shockey and Henry are two of the best running backs in the State of Virginia.

There have been great ball games between the Virginia school and Tech. Tech has a decided edge in number of wins with 12 as compared to State's six, but the record book shows that most of Tech's wins, and also those of State, were gained by close decisions. Three of the games resulted in ties.

State has been the winner the past two years. The score in 1935 was 6-0, and last year, 13-0. The Techs have a much better ball club than the one that faced State here last fall and will come down from their mountain home next week fully determined to break State's two-game winning streak.

Many Different Ways To Prepare Potatoes

Raleigh, Oct. 8.—"Sweet potatoes can be prepared in so many different ways that we could eat them in some form every day and not tire of them.

"Sweet potatoes are plentiful everywhere and they furnish us with a most palatable and nutritious dish," said Dr. J. S. McKimmon, assistant director of the State College extension service.

They rank high in food value and are a good source of vitamins A, B and C—a better source of vitamin A, in fact, than is the Irish potato, he continued.

They also furnish some of the minerals needed by the body and are good to give bulk to one's meals.

Dr. McKimmon pointed out that one of the favorite recipes sent out by the division of home demonstration work at the college is for candied sweet potatoes. This recipe follows:

Six medium-sized sweet potatoes, one cup of hot water, 1-4 cup of butter, 1-2 cups of sugar either white or brown, one teaspoon of vanilla extract, and 1-2 teaspoon of salt.

Partially cook the unpeeled sweet potatoes in boiling water. Cool and peel. Slice them 1-4 to 1-3 inch thick lengthwise. Put in layers in a baking dish, not packing too closely. Make a thin syrup of sugar and water, cooking it for five minutes. Add butter and salt and pour the syrup over the potatoes.

Place in a moderate oven and bake until the potatoes are clear and the syrup is heavy. More syrup may be added if necessary to keep the potatoes from being dry.

Two cups of cane syrup may be substituted for the sugar and water syrup. Or one cup of sugar and 3-4 cup of cane syrup may be used. Lemon extract or cinnamon may be substituted for the vanilla extract.

MINING AREAS FOUND IN STATE

Properties Being Developed in Various Sections

Reflector Bureau.

Raleigh, Oct. 9.—Unusual activity is being shown in the development of mica, feldspar, talc and pyrophyllite properties in various sections of the state, according to H. J. Bryson, chief of the mineral resources division of the Department of Conservation and Development.

Four companies engaged in the mining of talc or pyrophyllite are either enlarging their plants, building new grinding plants or reconditioning present ones, Bryson said. Another company has purchased two mica mines and leased two others in Mitchell and Yancey counties while another company is building a plant in Yancey county for the manufacture of a cleanser.

Another concern has taken over several volcanic ash deposits and will develop it commercially. It is estimated that these new properties that have been purchased together with the improvements, represent an outlay of more than $500,000, Mr. Bryson said.

The new uses which have been developed for pyrophyllite, which is a variety of talc, are responsible for the recent rapid development of the industry, according to Bryson. This mineral, which is a low grade talc that belongs to the soapstone family, is used in the manufacture of battery boxes; rubber goods, including automobile tires; in the manufacture of chinaware and glazed white tile, to prevent crazing; as a filler for paper and cloth and to some extent in the manufacture of talcum powder. In the manufacture of white tile, 40 per cent of the mix is usually pyrophyllite, Bryson said.

The largest pyrophyllite deposits are in More, Randolph and Orange counties and virtually the entire world's supply is produced from the mines in this section. The production has been increasing steadily during the past five years as new uses for it have been developed. True or pure talc deposits are found farther west in Cherokee, Swain, Avery, Yancey, Mitchell and Madison counties. Cherokee county talc is regarded as some of the best in the world.

GROUSE THRIVE IN N. C. COUNTY

Avery Aspires To Be Known as 'Scotland of America'

Reflector Bureau.

Raleigh, Oct. 9.—Avery county aspires to become the "Scotland of America" as the result of a program for protecting grouse both against hunters and that enemy of all wild life, forest fire. The native grouse have been increasing at a rapid rate.

The county's hopes of becoming like the land of the thistle and heather lies in plans for adopting the Scottish method of using "beaters" for grouse hunting.

From last November 20 until December 15, enthusiastic grouse hunters hunted the high slopes of Beach, Grandfather, Sugar and Blood Camp mountains and many of them bagged their full bag limit on the very first day.

In one respect, Avery's folks hope to be decidedly different from Scotland, however, as it has been estimated that the cost of bagging each grouse there is between $5 and $10, a price too stiff for the ordinary hunter to pay.

In Avery, on the other hand, the sport is open to the poor as well as the rich.

Grouse thrive anywhere in the Blue Ridge at a 3,000 foot elevation, and many of the best grounds are around Banner Elk, which has an elevation of 4,000 feet. At one time, the grouse were successfully raised on the Lees-McRae college

Governor Cautious Over Prison Industry Decision

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Oct. 8.—Final decision on the matter of inaugurating an industrial program at Central Prison here will likely be made by the Highway commission about October 20, according to Governor Clyde R. Hoey, upon whose advice the commission has been making haste very slowly in reaching a definite conclusion.

"It's a matter in which too much money is involved to make a hasty decision," said the Governor. "I feel that the Commission should have a very definite, concrete plan in mind, with all details thoroughly worked out before it goes into an industrial program.

Available for establishment of industrial activity at the prison is $200,000 earmarked for that purpose during the administration of Governor Ehringhaus.

When the $200,000 was set apart by the Ehringhaus regime it was thought that the money was to be used in equipping and making ready for operation a small cotton mill.

Mr. Johnson said recently such a mill is one of the most expensive industries to establish and that the $200,000 would only be sufficient to set up equipment enough for a mill with 15 prisoners. This, he said, would not include cost of building.

Farmers tell of having seen large numbers of young grouse in the field this summer.

The season opens again on November 20th.

Director of the Penal Division R. Grady Johnson, who some weeks ago made an inspection tour of numerous other state and federal penal institutions, is of the same opinion as Governor Hoey with reference to industries. He has said that it takes about $1,000 per prisoner to set up the average industry.

The Manchoukuo flag has five colors, representing the races of Hans, Manchous, Japanese, Koreans and Mongols.

MANY TRIED IN POLICE COURT

Trespass, Drunkenness and Assault Cases Heard

Eight Negroes, convicted in city police court this morning of trespass, were fined and taxed with the costs, the total amounting to $100.55. It was doubtful, however, this amount would be collected as several of the defendants probably will not be able to pay their part and will have to serve terms on the roads.

The eight were Thad Dawson, Aaron James, Joe Willie Peyton, Julius Langley, Harold Carr, William Harrington, Otis Watson and Willie Southerlin.

Otis Watson also was convicted on another charge of trespass and was fined $10 and costs in this case.

Lonnie Waddell, Negro, was ordered held for County court under bond of $300 on a charge of stealing a coat.

Elijah Collins and Ivey Meadows, white men, were held under bond of $300 each for their reappearance in County court to face charges of larceny of tobacco from a local warehouse.

W. B. Davis was taxed with the costs upon conviction of drunkenness; Harry Price, Negro, was given 30 days on the roads on a similar charge, and Guy Warren was fined $10 and costs on a like charge.

Dave Turnage, Negro, was fined $10 and costs upon conviction of assault.

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEEMAN TO SPEAK AT UNC IN NOVEMBER

Chapel Hill, Oct. 9.—Brooks Hays Democratic national committeeman from Arkansas, will speak at the University of North Carolina on November 18 as a representative of the National Policy committee and under the auspices of the Carolina Political Union.

The policy committee was established three years ago "to improve the function of the democratic process by bringing closer together the electorate and the understanding of the ways to satisfy national needs."

Mr. Hays is special counsellor for the resettlement administration.

PATRICK TO REPRESENT UNIVERSITY AT OHIO

Chapel Hill, Oct. 9.—Dr. J. R. Patrick, Associate Professor of Psychology at Ohio University, Athens, Ohio, has been designated to represent the University of North Carolina at the inauguration of President Harry Kelso Eversull at Marietta College, Marietta, Ohio, on October 20. Dr. Patrick received his Ph.D. in Psychology at Chapel Hill in 1931.

New York Cotton N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The stock market tried to get its teeth in a small rally today but met sufficient selling to dull its appetite. Aircrafts, reflecting a big government order for Boeing, pushed up from the start along with steels, coppers, motors and specialties. Dealings were comparatively quiet during the great part of the session with transfers around 450,000 shares.

New York, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Cotton prices opened steady at two to seven points decline on lower cables and under foreign and southern selling. December sold up to 7.68 and shortly after the first half hour was 7.66 with the list four points net lower to one higher. Futures closed steady 14 to 25 higher. Spot steady, middling 8.30.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robin Coons

Hollywood.—Those who won't be happy until they decide who's best in "Stage Door"—meaning K. Hepburn or G. Rogers—had better stay away. Likewise, those who insist on literal screen translations of stage hits. But they'll be the losers in entertainment if they do stay away. The new Gregory LaCava-directed film belongs on even the most conservative of "must" lists.

"Stage Door" takes up, specifically, the story of Terry Randall (Miss Hepburn), who is unlike the other victims of footlights fever in that she is wealthy. Her father, to "cure" her, angles a play on condition that she be starred. Innocent of the plot, Terry is rehearsing woodenly and terribly, and Tony Powell (Adolphe Menjou) as the producer is in despair. Opening night Kay Hamilton (Andrea Leeds), a little actress who might have had the part but for Terry Randall, commits suicide.

Jean Maitland (Miss Rogers), a tough little chorine feuding with Terry, brings the news before the opening curtain. Shocked and torn emotionally, Terry goes on for a great performance. And life goes on at the boarding house, the girls wisecracking to hide their economic fears, elating over one-line parts, hoping against hope.

Both Hepburn and Rogers are splendid, the former recapturing the mod of her "Morning Glory", the latter establishing her right to be considered seriously as a dramatic actress. Surprise sensation in the cast is Andrea Leeds, until recently a college girl with minor film work behind her. As the artistic, sensitive Kay, the girl delivers a performance, beauty and personality that stamp her indubitably as star material.

IT'S ODD, But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (AP Science Editor)

New York (AP)—Perhaps the fisherman can help science find a new word. One is wanted to describe the sea food in the top layers of mud.

In the last analysis, all the fish of the sea live on food which small creatures dig out of this mud and out of the water above. The food of the waters is called plankton.

Some sample names for the mud food are reported by Robert T. Morris, M.D., of Stamford, Conn., in Science. All were given to him by fellow scientists.

There are: iloen and ascion. Both mean slime-imbudded.

Another name is limous plankton. It is taken from limus, meaning mud or slime. Dr. Agnes De Sales, College of Mount Joseph on the Ohio, suggests acropelotic. This is a combination of two words: akros, meaning top; and pelos, meaning mud.

For more than 200 years a Lake Parima was shown in Guiana on British maps and then its existence was disproved.

Take It Or Leave It "Music for Madame" is another pleasant outgrowth of the association of Jesse Lasky, producer, and Nino Martini, singing star. The story brings Martini to Hollywood seeking fame as a singer, with Joan Fontaine cast as an extra girl striving for recognition as a composer. There's a jewel robbery, which leads to romantic complications for Nino and Joan, but the happy ending is on tap.

Joan, in her first big lead, again indicates that sister Olivia de Havilland may have trouble keeping first movie honors to herself in the family. "This Way lease" belongs in the take-it-or-leave-it department. It isn't very good but it isn't very bad. It has Buddy Rogers playing an orchestra leader in a movie house, with Betty Grable very nice as the usherette who falls in love with him. Also present and contributing are Mary Livingstone (Mrs. Jack Benny), Ned Sparks, Jim and Marian Jordan (Fibber McGee and Molly), and, most effectively, Rufe Davis.

Social justice department: On a sweltering day, Olivia de Havilland, Claude Rains, and a large crew perspired on a hot stage under the extra-hot lights needed for technicolor. Across the way, in a huge air-cooled stage, two actors, director, and a small crew worked on intimate scenes. The air-cooled actors were Colbert and Boyer, both guest artists at Warner's.

Judge Meekins will speak at University Chapel Hill, Oct. 9.—Judge Isaac Meekins, prominent state Republican and federal judge for the eastern North Carolina district court, will speak in Memorial Hall here on October 19 at 8:30 p. m.

Judge Meekins' speech is called "The Making of the Constitution". He has been working on the speech for several years, and it will be published following its delivery here.

A leading North Carolina Republican candidate for high office several times in the past, he was a personal friend of Presidents Coolidge and Hoover, as well as being mentioned as a possible presidential candidate in 1936. He is a leading constitutional authority at this time.

The law school faculty will entertain Judge Meekins at dinner on the evening of his speech here.

Stained Aluminum Boil stained or discolored aluminum utensils for about four minutes in one quart of water and two tablespoonsful of vinegar or two tablespoonsful of cream of tartar. If the receptacles still do not clean readily boil them a little longer. Then wash them well in hot water and soap suds.

Camera Coverage Of The World

ACROSS THE TABLE from America's railroad companies sits Alexander F. Whitney, president of the powerful Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

CHINA'S LITTLE AMERICA is represented in this small fragment of United States property over which flies the Stars and Stripes. Located near the borderline of Shanghai's native quarter, Chapei, the section shows evidence of damage by shell and fire. In the foreground is a barricade of sandbags, while the sky in the background is filled with smoke from fires raging in all parts of the city. Gunfire echoes everywhere.

GOOD NEWS to Lawrence Connery of Lynn, Mass., was his victory in a special election to fill the congressional seat of his late brother.

OVER HER BUDGET went Patricia Mudgett, 26, in the matter of husbands, a Mararoneck, N. Y., detective charged, saying she admitted wedding seven times without divorce.

LAWLESS GANGSTERS SEE THE LIGHT, but not for long. Though their foes were dummies, the setting was realistic enough as G-men, using every modern weapon at their command, "rubbed out" a desperado hideout at the marine rifle range, Quantico, Va. Creeping stealthily toward the two-story painted canvas structure, federal agents tossed a gas bomb through an upper window, released parachute flares and then laid down a merciless, deafening barrage of machine gun fire which riddled the "gangsters" with tracer bullets and destroyed the "death trap."

AND CHANGES LIVING HABITS for hundreds of former city slum dwellers. This is a portion of Williamsburg, largest slum-clearance project in the nation, built at a cost of $13,452,000 to replace 12 square blocks of over-crowded, worn-out tenements in New York City. Here eventually 1,600 families will live in apartments with all rooms outside and every modern convenience in place of heatless, often windowless, squalid rooms.

SLINGIN' SAM'S SUCCESSOR as peer of the passers in the Southwest conference, Jack Robbins, Arkansas University's 185-pound triple-threat quarterback may toss his way to a berth on the All-American eleven this year. He paved the way for the tying touchdown against T. C. U. this year.
