

CHINESE HOLD BOOM BARRIER TO JAP DRIVE

Trend of Battle For Hankow Held in Secret, However

SEVERAL FORTS ADMITTED LOST

Conflicting Reports Issued on Aerial Attacks in Middle Of Yangtze Valley

Shanghai, June 29—(AP)—Chinese declared today they still held the important Matowchen boom barrier to Japan's drive up the Yangtze river against Hankow. But the trend of what may be a crucial battle in defense of the provincial capital, 170 miles up the river from the boom, was obscured behind cautious communications from both sides.

Chinese, who earlier had acknowledged loss of one of several forts guarding the barrier of sunken junks, said fighting still was raging in the area.

Japanese would not discuss their brief war bulletins in detail and made no claims to possession of the boom itself.

Both sides issued conflicting reports of aerial warfare in the middle Yangtze river valley, where the main theatre of the war. Japanese declared continued heavy air raid since the sector had inflicted new losses on Chinese aviation.

Chinese replied with denials of Japanese air victories. They asserted Chinese planes operating from Hankow were harassing Japanese river and land forces.

EXPECT RIVER REACH 16 FEET

Sharp Drop in Temperature Recorded Following Rain

B. T. Clark, in charge of the local weather station, today warned all persons having cattle and other stock in the lowgrounds to get them out as soon as possible.

The weather station manager declared Tar river was standing at 15 feet and three inches at 8 o'clock this morning, compared with 14 feet and seven inches yesterday morning, and was still rising.

What was described as a cloud-burst above Greenville will cause the stream to reach more than 16 feet here, it was declared.

At present cattle can be seen huddled together on little islands in the lowgrounds, threatened by the rising waters.

A sharp drop in the temperature was recorded here yesterday afternoon following the heavy downpour, which produced more than three inches in five hours.

At 8 o'clock this morning the mercury was standing at 65 degrees after having reached a low during the night of 62. Normal for this time of year is about 96 degrees.

Child Falls From Speeding Vehicle

Little Miss Carol Snyder Narrowly Escapes Serious Injuries Near Wilson Tuesday P. M.

Little Miss Carol Snyder, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Snyder of 400 Library Street, narrowly escaped a serious injury yesterday when she fell from the open door of a speeding car onto the pavement of the highway about two miles near Wilson.

In some unaccountable manner the back door of the car in which she was riding came open causing the accident. After hitting the pavement the little girl rolled several feet into a pile of broken glass on the shoulder of the road.

Emergency treatment was given in a Wilson hospital; further treatment and x-rays were given in the local hospital. Little Miss Snyder suffered a broken collar bone and severe cuts about the head and face.

Safety Drive Pushed On All Fronts In Carolina

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, June 29—North Carolina's drive for safety on the highways is being energetically pushed on all fronts by Major Arthur Pulk, head of the Motor Vehicle Safety division and commander of the State Highway Patrol.

One of the most recent innovations is utilization of every convention, or other event bringing many people together, in order to spread the gospel of safety.

For instance, Major Pulk himself was in Winston-Salem Monday while the American Legion convention was in session. He took one of the "Safety Campaign" cars over, made sure that it was seen on all streets, and did quite a bit of missionary work.

At the same time Ronald Hocutt, assistant director of the safety division, was in Wilmington in an effort to interest the Safety Council

Roads Suffer Little From Heavy Rainfall

DEATH AWAITS FRENCH SPIES

Decree Issued Establishing Penalty In Peace Time

Paris, June 29—(AP)—The French government today issued a decree establishing the death penalty in peace time for certain forms of espionage. The law was designed to halt the growing number of spy cases in France in recent years.

Sentences of penal servitude for life, hitherto reserved for war time espionage offenses, also were made applicable to peace time convictions in a new drive which authorities said emulated Germany's recent counter espionage activities.

There has been a feeling in government quarters for some time that the existing penalties needed stiffening.

There has been a huge increase in espionage arrests in France in recent years. In the Strasbourg area alone, near the German border, there were 150 convictions of espionage charges in 1937.

In addition to the $35,000, the amount of bonds, the check included $105 in premium and $181.81 in accrued interest.

TEACHER ASKS MAP, PUPIL PAINTS IT

Oklahoma City, Okla. (AP)—When Harrison White, 21-year-old University of Oklahoma sophomore, was in the history class of Mrs. LeVina Dennis at high school, she wished a number of times that she had a large European map on the wall.

Last spring White again was in one of Mrs. Dennis' history classes, this time in junior college, and again she wished for a map.

So White obtained a motion picture projector and threw a map of the world on the back wall of the classroom. With paints he traced the map on the plaster.

RAIL MAGNATE DIES AT HOME

Frederick William Vanderbilt Passes at Age of 83

Hyde Park, N. Y. June 29—(AP)—Frederick William Vanderbilt, 83, capitalist, railroad director and yachting enthusiast, died at his country home here today after a week's illness.

Vanderbilt followed in the footsteps of his father and two older brothers in the railroad business, but did not attain the high position in the Vanderbilt system which they reached, nor did he attract as much public attention.

He was thoroughly grounded in the science of railroading like the members of his family who preceded him. He gained his knowledge through practical experience as a young man in the various departments of the extensive railroad systems which the Vanderbilt family controlled.

PAYNE, TURNER TO DIE FRIDAY

Negro Also To Pay Penalty At Prison For Murder

Raleigh, June 29—(AP)—Preparations went forward at State's Prison today for the electrocution Friday of Wiley Brice, a negro, and the execution by gas of Bill Payne and Wash Turner, desperadoes, all convicted of murder.

Paroles Commissioner Edwin Gill indicated that pleas lodged this week for Payne and Turner would gain them a respite.

Warden H. H. Wilson said Brice would die first, at about 1 o'clock. The Negro was convicted of a slaying in 1936 in Alamance county. Under state law he must be electrocuted as that method of execution was in use when the crime was committed.

Payne and Turner were sentenced for the slaying of George Penn, a highway patrolman, and will be given gas under a 1935 law.

No passes to witnesses for the execution of Payne and Turner will be granted the general public, Wilson said. Some 1,500 requests were received, but the entire allocation, 10 in all, went to the highway patrol. Wilson said he sent five to each division, east and west, and did not know who would get them.

WHEN SPRING ARRIVES—THE JAIL FILLS UP

Billings, Mont. (AP)—Almanacs to the contrary spring didn't arrive in Billings this year until the middle of April.

"We don't consider it spring until our 'guests' at city jail total more than 10," said the desk sergeant at police headquarters.

"Guests" are those occupants of jail beds who appear voluntarily for a night's lodging.

"The 'guest' beds don't fill up until winterhunger gets into the blood of hibernating vagrants," said the desk sergeant. "That's when spring arrives."

Italy Suggests Insurgents Use Moderation In Efforts Check Spanish Supplies

Approve Bombings of Ships Carrying Contraband

DISCLAIM ANY RESPONSIBILITY

Revealed Franco Has Taken Measures To Satisfy Britain For Series of Losses

Rome, June 29.—(AP)—A spokesman for the Fascist regime declared today that Italy had advised General Francisco Franco, the Spanish Insurgent leader, to use "moderation" in his efforts to prevent British and other ships from bringing supplies to Government Spain.

The spokesman, the editor Virginio Gayda, said, however, that Italy approved of the bombing of vessels carrying contraband, but disclaimed any Italian responsibility therefor.

He disclosed the Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano had told the Earl of Perth, British ambassador, that France already had taken a series of measures to give the British government satisfaction with regard to the long list of bombings of British ships against which London has protested vigorously.

These measures Gayda said, were: First, France had given orders that British ships should not be attacked while navigating.

Second, he had ordered that the British flag be respected as far as possible in Spanish government ports.

Third, Franco was willing to name free ports in western Spain (Insurgent-held) where "honest" traffic would have free entry.

The Perth-Ciano conversations produced speculations that it might bring an end to air raids on British merchantmen in Spanish waters.

SEES HOPE IN CROP OUTLOOK

Extension Official Says N. C. Still Has Good Crops

Raleigh, June 29.—(AP)—North Carolina State College agricultural experts said today that rain, hail and wind had caused heavy damage to crops in many counties of the State in recent weeks, but that "good crops are still to be found in North Carolina."

Damage running into the millions of dollars has been done to tobacco and cotton by excessive rain and hail. John Goodman, assistant director of extension, said.

The News and Observer said a survey indicated the loss would exceed $12,000,000, with Johnson, Nash, Beaufort, Halifax and Franklin counties suffering most.

Goodman said the best crops could be found where farmers used soil building crops last year and had made provisions for drainage either by terracing or installing drainage systems.

Pastures, lespedeza and legumes have thrived during the wet weather, said E. C. Blair, of the extension service.

Goodman commented the excessive wet weather was not only hurting field crops, but was reducing honey flow with indication being that bees could not produce a normal crop.

COLLEGE HEAD URGES STUDENTS TO DREAM

Bloomington, Ind. (AP)—Jovial, heavy-set Dr. Herman B. Wells, Indiana University's new president, believes a student's four years in college should be a "time for dreaming of dreams."

A 35-year-old bachelor, Dr. Wells is the nation's youngest president of a state university.

On the campus he is known to the students as a good fellow. They aren't surprised when he walks into a restaurant, sits down with them, buys them soft drinks and talks over their problems.

"The hell-raising American doctor who won't quit traipsing around our territory." NEITHER SIDE ABLE TO GAIN

Insurgents and Loyalists Battle For City of Valencia

Hendaye, France—June 29. (AP) The battle for Valencia today swung on both flanks of a 50-mile front in eastern Spain with neither the Government nor the Insurgents able to gain a decisive advantage.

General Franco's forces held the upper hand in the coastal sector, where they attempted to break through strong government defenses guarding the important Mediterranean port.

Inland, where another Insurgent column was pushing east, General Jose Miaja's defense troops were more than holding their own.

The Insurgents' coastal forces were advancing slowly but steadily toward Nules, about 26 miles north of Valencia.

Fresh troops and heavy artillery enabled the Insurgents to push back weary Government militiamen to the line of fortification protecting Nules and the highway to the west.

Artana, only 28 miles from Valencia, is the point of the Insurgents' arrowhead.

Scrap Tobacco Test Case Set For Saturday July 2

Raleigh, June 29.—North Carolina's 1937 Scrap Tobacco Act will get a searching test Saturday at Snow Hill when constitutionality of the measure will be argued before Superior Court Judge J. Paul Frazier.

Attorney General Harry McMillan, for the state, and J. Con Lanier, of Greenville, for the J. B. Ficklen Tobacco Company, agreed on the date for a hearing, which will be a complaint of the company charging that the $1,000 license fee levied in the act (and which it paid under protest) is unconstitutional.

T. Wade Bruton, assistant Attorney General, will likely make the appearance for the state. The suit is nominally against A. J. Maxwell, Commissioner of Revenue, to whom the license was paid.

The state's 1935 act was held void for lack of clarity and because it did not specifically state that a

Meanwhile British Destroyers Sent to Mallorca

ACT SAID TO BE ONLY "ROUTINE"

Movement Believed To Be Result Pressure Brought to Bear On Chamberlain

London, June 29.—(AP)—Two British destroyers, the Imogene and the Isis, were ordered suddenly to Mallorca today from Gibraltar.

The admiralty described the movement as "routine" in connection with the Nyon anti-piracy patrol.

The admiralty described the movement as "routine" in connection with the Nyon anti-piracy patrol.

The Italian-operated airplane base at Palma, Mallorca, is the source of many of the insurgent air raids on the coast of government Spain and British shipping in Spanish waters. Mallorca is 150 miles east of Spain.

Observers connected the movement of the destroyers with reports from Rome that Premier Mussolini had interceded with Insurgent General Franco in an effort to halt attacks on British vessels.

Both Mussolini's action and the admiralty's were believed to be results of increasing pressure on Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain at home to do something to stop the attacks.

While warships are privileged to call at Mallors at any time, it was believed the present movement was in the nature of a "gesture" to command the Insurgents' attention and at the same time quiet opposition in parliament.

Opposition members of parliament have been getting more and more sarcastic in asking where the British navy was while ships flying the Union Jack were being sunk.

Bethel Plans For $30,000 Project

Street and Water Works Improvement Proposal Expected to be Approved at Polls Aug. 1

A $30,000 street and water works improvement project is expected to get underway in Bethel in the near future.

Of the total cost $13,000 would be provided by the Federal government, a PWA grant of that amount having been approved. The remaining $17,000 would be provided by the sale of bonds. The city will vote on the question of issuing the bonds on August 1.

M. K. Blount, of Greenville, who is aiding in the legal work for the project, said Bethel expects to carry the bond election with little opposition.

The project will include curb, gutter and paving and also some additional sewer lines.

FDR Signs Flood Control Measure

Declares, However, $386,500,000 Omnibus Control Bill Signed With Some Reluctance

Hyde Park, N. Y. June 29.—(AP) President Roosevelt announced today he had signed the $386,500,000 omnibus flood control bill "with some reluctance."

Asserting that it "is unnecessary for me to emphasize the importance of carrying on a large and continuing program to eliminate floods, lessen soil erosion, continue reclamation, encourage reforestation and improve navigation," the President declared the bill he signed "is not a step in the right direction in the set-up provided for general government planning."

"I am in doubt," President Roosevelt said, "as to the value of some of the projects provided for and it is unwise to place recommendations to the Congress solely in the hands of the engineer corps of the army in some cases and of the Department of Agriculture in other cases."

The bill provides for a five-year program of flood control works construction, for which $375,000,000 is authorized to be appropriated. In addition, the measures authorize $10,000,000 for examination and surveys by the war and agriculture departments and $1,500,000 for surveys by the Federal power commission.

ORDERS PROBE OF PRIMARY IN NORTH DAKOTA

Chairman Sheppard of Senate Committee Takes Action

ABSENTEE VOTES ARE QUESTIONED

Decision by Investigating Committee in Response to Request By Senator Nye

Washington, June 29.—(AP)—Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.) announced today the Senate campaign investigating committee would poll all county auditors in North Dakota at once to determine the extent to which absentee ballots were used in yesterday's primary election.

At the same time Sheppard told reporters he did not believe speeches by President Roosevelt in behalf of candidates in primary elections would fall within the jurisdiction of the investigating committee.

The committee's action on the North Dakota situation, he said, was in response to a request by Senator Nye (R-MD.) that the survey be made in the "cause of clean elections."

Nye was leading Governor William Langer for the Republican Senatorial nomination by about 16,000 votes when a third of the precincts had been reported.

Sheppard told reporters that although Nye did not clearly indicate what use should be made of the information, he assumed the North Dakota senator wished to compare the number of absentee ballots with those cast in previous primaries to determine whether there had been any "ballot box stuffing" by that means.

Sheppard said meanwhile he had read a report by the Workers' Alliance organization of WPA workers on the speech made them by Aubrey Williams, Deputy WPA administrator.

He said he would make a further study of the report and compare it with Williams' own version of his remarks.

Sheppard was asked whether the committee would regard speeches by President Roosevelt in the same light as the Williams speech. He replied that he was not authorized to speak for the committee on that point.

Christian Science Church.

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, June 26, 1938. The Golden Text was from Isaiah 35:10. "The ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he have faith, and have not works? can faith save him? If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food, and one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body; what doth it profit? Even so, faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone. Yes, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works; shew me thy faith without thy works, and I shall shew thee my faith by my works." (James 2: 14-18.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science, understood, coincides with the Scriptures, and sustains logically and demonstratively every point it presents. Otherwise it would not be Science, and could not present its proofs. Christian Science is neither made up of contradictory aphorisms nor of the inventions of those who scoff at God. It presents the calm and clear verdict of Truth against error, uttered and illustrated by the prophets, by Jesus, by his apostles, as is recorded throughout the Scriptures." (Page 358.)

Miss Briley Feted.
Dunn, N. C., June 29.—A lovely party on Friday evening with Miss Louise Briley as honoree and Mrs. Charles Aycock, Jr., as hostess was numbered among the week-end festivities which marked the social calendar. Mrs. Aycock entertained at her home on North Layton Avenue at 8 o'clock. Ten tables were grouped for bridge in the living room and dining room amid a pretty setting of garden flowers. A bridal slipper filled with rice and a miniature nosegay designated Miss Briley's position.

Miss Natalie Hudson held high score when scores were totaled and was awarded a double deck of cards. Miss Jewel Harris, runner-up, received bath powder. Miss Briley, honoree, was presented a silver spoon in her chosen pattern, Cor-sage. The hostess remembered Miss Edna Earle Lee, bride-elect of July, and Mrs. William Wright Carroll, a recent bride, with crystal bon bon dishes, and Mrs. George Thompson Noel, Jr., another bride, a bread and butter plate in her china pattern.

Dainty bowls of pastel colored flowers made a centerpiece for each of the card tables when refreshments were served and a green and white motif was carried out in the block cream centered with wedding bells and frosted cakes. Nuts in diminutive green baskets also graced each plate.

The war revenue law goes into effect July 1st. Then everything will have to be stamped before it can go.

There is to be a picnic near Cobb's store in Beaver Dam township, next Friday. There will be a large attendance.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coons

Hollywood — Opening of Hollywood Park gives the horse movie colony 43 less days in which they'll have to rely on bookies for thrills.

With Santa Anita and Del Mar (down the coast within easy weekend distance) already established, Hollywood has three first-class tracks at hand.

The new one, like the others, is a super special production. The backdrop, or scenic effect across the track, doesn't touch Santa Anita's—but even Jack Warner can't move mountains. Out there the fans who've lost their all on the first race can contemplate the hazy-covered peaks and pick one to jump from. At Inglewood (where Hollywood Park lies) fans in the same unhappy circumstance can look across the pretty artificial lakes and study only rolling hills dotted with oil derricks and an occasional farm house. Not bad, though, at that.

Maybe, it's symbolic, or something, as a friend pointed out: Two biggest gambles are horses and oil. Hollywood Park has both on display.

Snapshots
Big day, that opening. Studded with celebrities. Intimate glimpses: Mary Pickford munching a hot dog, Buddy Rogers quaffing a beer, in front row Turf Club seats.

Jack Oakie wandering around, carrying little weight since his reducing campaign but not jockey-size yet... Marjorie Weaver looking like a college kid trying to look like a movie star...

Not so intimate glimpses: Barbara Stanwyck putting the floral horseshoe on Air Chute, winner of the Hollywood Premiere race.

Half a million dollars went thru the machines, and Jack Warner and Hollywood leaders smiled as they do after a hit preview. Warner used to chide his employes away from Santa Anita during working hours. The wise-crack current at Hollywood opening day was: "Heard what's happened? Jack Warner heard of four writers who stayed at their desks today, and he's fired 'em all."

Preview Thrown In

president; "Oliver Hardy, Walter Connolly, Edmund Lowe, William LeBaron, et als) had foregathered to plot an extra added attraction for their track opening July 29, six days after Hollywood's closing.

"At this meeting", the resultant bulletin assured us, "it was decided to inaugurate a new form of evening entertainment for the members of the Del Mar Jockey Club. Every Friday night... there will be given for turf patrons a preview of some recently completed feature picture..."

So Del Mar will be the place for Hollywood folks to get away from it all.

HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES

The garbage can needs special care in summer. Wash it once a week with scalding water and soap suds. Rinse it thoroughly and then air it in the sun. (You'll find a hose or long-handled brush helpful in cleaning.) Line the pail with papers and always keep the lid tight in place.

Need a hurry-up meal? Combine all your left-over vegetables with a savory cream sauce. Add some grated chives and heat. Serve the combination on mashed potatoes fashioned into cakes or pour it over crackers or toast. You can add a little left-over gravy, too, for flavor.

To improve the flavor and texture of chicken used in salads let the cooked chicken stand an hour or so in broth. Then cut the chicken into small pieces—don't mince or chop it. Thin the salad dressing with a little of the chicken stock.

Fried mush is often served with chicken. To prepare the mush mold it in a loaf pan. Chill it until it is firm. Then cut it into four-inch slices and sprinkle with flour. Brown in chicken drippings and serve around the platter of chicken.

Want to be able to unmold corn-starch pudding easily? Add a tablespoon of butter to the mixture just before it is removed from the stove. Be sure, too, to rinse the molds with cold water just before you fill them.

Add a few salted peanuts to the chocolate sauce you serve over ice cream or sherbets.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

Quicker Germs Freeze, Slower They Die

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (AP Science Editor)

New York.—Some new quick-freezing experiments with germs at Rockefeller Institute show that the intense cold of interstellar space is probably not one of the barriers against germs reaching the earth from elsewhere in the universe.

No scientist now thinks bacteria come from space. But it has been discussed seriously.

At Rockefeller Institute Thomas B. Turner, M.D., froze disease organisms in solid carbon dioxide. The cold was more than 100 below zero. Syphilis germs were kept at that temperature a year. When thawed out, they were just as virulent as ever. The viruses of human flu and yellow fever endured six months of this intense cold. Afterward they were still as lively as before.

Apparently the quick-freeze had something to do with this preservation of life. For in less intense cold these and other organisms were mostly destroyed.

Dr. Turner's experiments are made in search for an improved method of preserving disease organisms for scientific purposes. Under natural conditions they usually die when removed from their "hosts", the tissues which they attack.

AUTO ACCIDENT VETERANS PREACH SAFETY GOSPEL

Omaha, Neb. (AP)—The "veterans of automobile accidents" are in the fight for greater traffic safety.

They are a group of Omaha men, women, boys and girls who fell victim to traffic pavement perils and who feel their first hand knowledge of the subject will enable them to do their part toward making the streets and highways safer.

Led by John R. McKenzie, Omaha attorney, they came on crutches and in bandages to an emergency hospital to organize and preach the gospel of traffic safety.

Not all the veterans were pedestrians. Many were car drivers, among them a woman whose right arm was two inches shorter than the left as the result of two automobile accidents which, she commented, "ruined my golf game." Another was a 27-year-old youth who lost a leg just below the knee after being hit by a car. He traveled 20 miles to join the organization.

Good Stuffing for Egg.
Use a variety of fillings to stuff the hard-cooked eggs you prepare this summer. Combine any of the following with the yolks: minced carrots, chopped cucumbers, cooked meat, fish or fowl, cooked vegetables, assorted cheese, chopped pickles or olives. Roughly re-fill the whites and chill. You may add a little salad dressing to moisten and season the stuffing.

Crust For Desserts
An unusual and tasty "crust" for refrigerator desserts may be made with any ready-cooked crunchy cereal. Mix two cups of the cereal, a third cup of melted butter, and a fourth of a cup of granulated sugar. Press a one-inch layer of the combination into a shallow pan. Cover it with any flavored cream mixture and sprinkle a few "crumbs" over the top. Chill for several hours.

BATTING TITLE DRAWS CROWD

Greenies Have Pair Players Among the Loop's Big Five

There's real congestion around top place in Coastal Plain League batting averages.

Howard Earp, kept out of action for several weeks because of a spike wound, has climbed to the No. 1 spot of 387 marks for 20 games. Dallas Thornton of New Bern, in 38 games, is only one point behind the Williamston shortstop.

The real leader is still Kinston's Johnny Wyrostek, who has a 366 mark for 51 games. He shares this percentage with Phil Morris, formerly of New Bern and now with Greenville. Riley of Greenville with 361 for 27 games is in fifth place.

Latest official averages for the league were announced Tuesday by J. Gaskill McDaniel of New Bern, league statistician.

Eagles And Goldbugs Play Tie Game, 2-2

Kinston, June 29—Goldsboro and Kinston played nine innings today to a 2-2 tie before rain called a halt to hostilities. Rain washed out all other games in the Coastal Plain League.

The Goldbugs got 11 hits all of them singles, off Eddie Nowak. The Eagles reached McMullan for 10 hits, three of which were doubles.

Goldsboro scored in the third and fourth, and two singles helped to fashion each run. Jans and McMullan hit safely in the third. Overton and Dirmann in the fourth.

Kinston tied the score in the 6th. Crouch's double scored Patton, who had singled. Pitcher Nowak then deadlocked things by hitting a double, scoring Crouch.

Kinston's Crouch and Patton, each with three hits in four tries, led at bat. Doljack, with two for four, led the Goldbugs.

Four umpires worked in today's game. Umpire Phaup became ill and had to leave the game. A player from each team was drafted to help Umpire Pichnera.

THE 'RAJAH' TALKS BUSINESS WITH NEW BOSS

Rogers Hornsby, new manager of the Chattanooga Lookouts in the Southern Association, wasn't long in donning uniform and getting down to brass tacks when he joined the club for the game with the Knoxville Smokies in Knoxville. Here is the "Rajah" talking to his new boss, Joe Engel, president of the Lookouts. Hornsby reported from Baltimore where he has served as coach after his starring days in the National League.

GOLDBUGS WILL MEET LOCALS

Mule Shirley's Hopes Here Thursday For Encounter

Ernest (Mule) Shirley, manager of the Goldsboro Bugs, will bring his hopefuls here tomorrow for a game with the Greenies, which the locals hope to take in their determined drive to reach the first division in two weeks or less.

Friday the Greenies will go to Goldsboro for the second game of the series. On Saturday Tarboro will be the Greenies' "guests" here and on Sunday the teams switch parks by playing in Tarboro.

Today the Greenies are in Snake-town to meet Mr. Henry's Serps. Yesterday's scheduled game with the Kinston Eagles was rained out, but maybe the fans who have them will get a chance to see the rain checks they got last Sunday.

It is reliably reported that the Greenies mean to "go places" from now on. Weak places on the club have been mended, and the jinx is said to have been laid low.

The club's hitting has been good of late, and the boys have decided to bunch them from now on in the effort to produce runs, which are usually needed to win games.

Monday, July 4th, the morning holiday game will be played at Third street park, and the evening encounter in the Ayden park. Both games are with the Aces, of course.

Shake Hands With F.D.R. No 1 Double He Admits That Roosevelt Looks Like Him

SHAKE HANDS . . . SPOON—New York—The Man Who Looks Like Roosevelt, J. Henry Smythe, Jr., "dropped into the office again to show us his clippings, so we asked him if the business of Looking Like Roosevelt doesn't take a lot of time and get in his hair. Smythe (you pronounce it Sm-Y) ran one hand through gray hair and commented that since his own reputation had been established nationally (as cheer leader for Teddy Roosevelt at the 1904 convention and as America's only exclusive slogan writer) long before F.D.R.'s, it really was a case of Roosevelt looking like HIM. "Of course," he said. "I have more hair than the President but I am about his height, weight and age. (Smythe is 5 feet 11, weighs 185 pounds and is 54 years old.) And if you want to take a picture, here's a tip—the resemblance is best when I have my chin up and me hat on. (His chin went up, his hat on.)

Shows How

Mr. Smythe

"My looks are my own but I don't mind looking like the President because my friends think the fact I'm a Republican takes the 'curse' off it. I'm no Roosevelt-hater although I didn't learn at Pennsylvania the Rand of economics HE preaches. My relatives don't like the publicity but I'm used to having people look at me as if they should know me, or having them say, 'D'd anyone ever tell you—Last year I was marching up Fifth avenue in a parade and a photographer asked me if I was the President.

"That's the only time THATS happened, but something like it happened to a Roosevelt double in Pennsylvania, who's pretty good until you look him full in the face. However, I've had more publicity than all of the rest of the Roosevelt doubles together. George M. Cohan? All he's got is stage makeup.

"A lot of my friends say I should cash in on the publicity. If I put in the time on slogans (remember 'Buy and Keep Liberty Bonds' and 'Keep the Faith?') I would make more money. Maybe I just don't care enough about money. But I think a lot about patriotism. I want you to put something in the story about me promoting the Franklin memorial movement. Let's do something for patriotism."

How's Your Health?

By judicious sunbathing during summer, the sufferer from psoriasis (a skin trouble in which scaly patches appear), can definitely improve his condition. Sunlight and artificial ultra-violet light irradiation benefit the majority of these cases and only rarely aggravate them. We don't know exactly why. Psoriasis is a very chronic condition, yet it should not be considered incurable. It is likely to improve at times, only to become worse again. Much can be done to control this skin disease even though we do not know how to eliminate it completely and permanently. Its origin remains unknown. There is no evidence that psoriasis is an infection. Some physicians believe it may be caused by a virus. The tendency to psoriasis appears at times to be inherited. Sometimes it disappears during severe illness. And quiescent psoriasis may become aggravated by minor maladies, such as head colds, tonsillitis, uncomplicated influenza and acute specific fevers. The "nervous" phase of psoriasis is interesting. Occasionally the disease may clear up temporarily under the influence of suggestion. If a doctor prescribes a bland and innocuous ointment for a psoriasis sufferer and assures him that it is a new and promising remedy, the odds are high that he will report a marked improvement in his skin condition. But when the same patient is subjected to emotional disturbances and to physical as well as nervous fatigue, his psoriasis is likely to become more "active." When foci of infection exist, they should be completely eradicated. The highest degree of physical and mental health attainable is desirable if the disease is to be controlled. The specific treatment of the sixth lesions of psoriasis includes frequent bathing for the removal of the accumulation of scales, and application of a variety of ointments which of course should be prescribed and used under medical supervision. Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington - In 1938, drought. The wheat crop went to pot, falling so low that some had to be imported.

Buckey-buckey all over the wheat belt rose opposition to further crop control and the lid was off in 1937. A reasonably good crop was harvested, and in spite of a carryover of 209,000,000 bushels, prices remained above the dollar.

As talk developed of new crop control machinery, farm delegations poured into Washington. No wheat quotas for 1938, they urged. Congress and the Department of Agriculture consented.

No restrictions were imposed on plantings for the 1938 harvest. As a result, 9,000,000 acres were seeded down to wheat, enough for a "calamity crop" of a billion bushels with good growing weather.

All restrictions were imposed on plantings for the 1938 harvest. As a result, 9,000,000 acres were seeded down to wheat, enough for a "calamity crop" of a billion bushels with good growing weather.

Under strict terms of the crop control act, wheat farmers expecting to share any further federal benefits would have to agree to cut their acreage almost in half next year.

To remove part of the sting, Congress provided just before adjournment that the acreage should not be cut below 55 million. Even with that, the country faces another harvest that may put 10 bushels of wheat in every pot and a stack of it in every garage.

Benefits To Farmers. How is the Department to persuade farmers to scale down their 1939 acreage?

First - Farmers who comply with crop control regulations get 12 to 15 cents a bushel in "benefits" on a "normal acreage".

Second - In addition to "benefits", complying farmers may expect eight or a bushel on their "normal" 1939 crop.

Third - By a system of loans the farmer will be guaranteed a minimum of 60 to 80 cents a bushel on his 1939 crop if it becomes necessary for the government to store the surplus.

Altogether the crop control job stacks up as a painful operation. It starts July 15, five days after the Department learns for sure just how big the billion bushel crop will be.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, June 29 - The long warring line of "Men in Grey" who fought for the South some seventy-five years ago has dwindled, in Raleigh, to one lone survivor in the Confederate Old Soldiers Home; but that one veteran, Walter Barfield, 96, is still active enough to undertake the long journey to attend the Gettysburg reunion.

He left last night, with the superintendent of the home, for the Pennsylvania battlefield where more than three score years and ten ago he fought through three or four July days.

Attorney General Harry McMillan has received a copy of the petition for rehearing filed recently in the New York Port Authority case - the now famous decision in which U. S. Supreme court in effect held that most state employees are not only liable for current Federal income taxes since 1926.

Attorneys for the New York officials contend that the court, without giving chance for argument on the subject, changed the previously existing test for immunity from income taxes. Previously, they say, state employees were exempt if they were engaged in "truly" governmental functions.

Incidentally, Mr. McMillan was unofficially "nominated" for Governor in 1940, by State Senator "Cousin Willie" Clark, of Edgecombe County, the North Carolina Traffic League's session at Wrightsville Beach.

Reports are that "Cousin Willie" disrupted the usual order of business in order to make a stump speech boosting Harry for the honor.

At the risk of invading the field of other writers, the sports world, this column rises to ask why Johnnie Allen, North Carolinian now pitching for the Cleveland Indians, is almost completely overlooked in passing out the laurels and plaudits that have gone to such sensational, but so far relatively untried youngsters as Johnny Vander Meer.

The State Rural Electrification Authority has received a request for the Four-County Electric Membership Corporation (more generally known as the Sampson County Co-op) to sanction allocation by the Federal REA of $13,500 recently made in order that the co-op may re-lead to members to finance installation of wiring and plumbing.

North Carolina will get more than twice as much Federal money for tenant purchase loans next year as was allotted for this. Vance E. Swift, state director of the Farm Security Administration, has announced.

Regional Director George S. Mitchell has advised Mr. Swift that this year the state's share will be $1,218,965, as compared with $527,586 for the fiscal year which will end Thursday.

The increase will enable extension of loans into additional counties of North Carolina. Last year loans were authorized in only 17 of the 100 North Carolina units.

Coons Calls 'Blockade' A Film Milestone For Protest Against Air Bombing of Cities

AIR RAID Madeline Carroll and Henry Fonda experience horror of civilians in Spain when death falls from the air.

As Hollywood correspondent of the AP Feature Service and Daily Reflector Robin Coons herewith names another Movie-of-the-Month - with reasons.

By ROBBIN COONS Hollywood - There are more entertaining films than "Blockade" in Hollywood June output, but none more significant, more fraught with potentialities, as a milestone along the screen's path through a storming world.

For artistry of direction and sheer entertainment, the frothy tidbit called "The Rage of Paris," directed by Henry Koster and introducing Danille Darrieux as a comedienne should rank first on the list of the month's films. And yet, because Hollywood occasionally polishes off a jewel of comedy but never before has produced a "Blockade," the of "Blockade" is propaganda against war in its modern horrendous manifestations. It is a frank and open charge of murder laid at the doorsteps of the new warlords who bomb civilian populations and starve non-combatants. The defendants are not likely to think Hollywood was polite in saying it.

Heretofore Hollywood has been afraid to touch on modern instances. "I Can't Happen Here" has lain on a studio shelf for this reason. "The Forty Days of Musa Dagh" has reposed in similar neglect because certain foreign governments objected to its filming. If "Blockade" is successful, other producers may turn seriously to consideration of contemporary problems, and the screen may begin to enjoy a freedom of expression hitherto unknown.

Wanger in his production has been careful to avoid, at least in outward trappings, identifications of either side in the Spanish conflict. His hero (Henry Fonda) is a simple farmer leading fighting for the protection of the soil he loves. Blame for the conflict is fixed upon an international intriguer (John Halliday) who profits from wherever it is fought.

As a picture "Blockade" could have been better. Either through William Dieterle's direction, usually more effective than here, or through choppy editing which may have resulted from pre-view protests, the film lacks smoothness.

It's drama, on inspection, resolves into fairly convention spy stuff. It is moments of almost poetic beauty, however, and the musical scores of Werner Janssen is especially noteworthy. Supporting characters include Leo Carrillo, Reginald Denny, Robert Warwick and Vladimir Sokoloff, and John Howard Lawson wrote the screen play.

Under and by virtue of the power and authority vested in the undersigned commissioners by that certain order entered by the clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County, North Carolina, in a Special Proceeding No. 3806, in said office, entitled Hugh Chapman et al, vs. John R. Gardner, John Chapman et al, an upset bid having been filed with the Clerk of the Superior Court of said county and said Clerk having ordered a resale of the property hereinafter described, the undersigned will on Thursday, July 14, 1938 at the Courthouse door in Greenville, North Carolina, at twelve o'clock noon, offer for sale and sell, to the highest bidder for cash the following described real property: One tract known as Lot No. 3 in the division of the Allan Mewborn land, beginning at a stake in Joseph Bland's line a corner of Lot No. 2 and running N. 10 7-8 W. 40 1-2 poles to a stake; another corner of Lot No. 6 in Slade Chapman's line; thence with Chapman's line S. 74 1-4 W. 16 poles to a stake, corner of Lot No. 8 thence N. 68 1-2 poles to the beginning, containing 4 3-8 acres, more or less and further described in X-13, page 124.

This 28th day of June, 1938. S. J. EVERETTE, J. H. HARRELL, Commissioners. 6 29 38 -ltwk. 2wks

Chapter 47 "Get goin'," Asey said, "an' name people! Hustle!"

"Why should I -" "Name people," Asey said, "or I go out a paddle."

With very bad grace, Lorne went through the series of pictures. "Now," Hanson said when he got through, "what good did all that do? We're back just where we started, Asey. We are right back -"

"No, we ain't!" Asey said suddenly. "No sreebob! Hanson, we been goin' at this from the wrong angle! It wasn't the way the person was pictured as a person, but the way they was pictured, an' what it told -"

"What! What? You -" Before Asey could explain, the door knocker sounded again. "See," Asey pointed gleefully. Hanson looked, and his mouth opened. "My God - but how can you prove - oh, damn that person he'll have that door down!"

"I'll go," Asey said, after all Jennie Mayo and her pint-sized husband, Syl, stood on the doorstep. "Look at you!" Jennie said. "Still in them paint duds! An' you ain't been to bed tonight, have you? Oh, it's the police you got in there, is it?"

She bustled into the hall. "Hullo Mr. Hanson, is it true that Roddy's murdered an' you're taken Lorne - oh, Oh, I didn't see Mr. Lorne!" Mr. Hanson grinned. "How do you know so much about things?" he demanded.

"It's the twenty-one party line," Asey said. "She's on it, an' nothin' escapes her -" "Whalin' Book!" "He's just laughin' at me," Jennie said amiably. "He used to have a phone on that line himself. Mr. Hanson, an' he listened just as much as anyone - say, it's kind of too bad that Roddy, ain't it?"

"Too bad what?" Asey asked surprised at the sympathetic concern in her voice. "Why, I don't know exactly how to say it," Jennie said, "but the first call I heard this mornin', it sort o' seemed there might be been something 'goin' to Roddy, after all. Seems like he'd been tryin' to tell me, not exactly to reform, but kind of make an effort -"

"What kind of an effort?" Asey ignored Hanson's signal to ease Jennie into the kitchen. "Well, it seems that Saturday mornin', he went into the library - you know, the one that his father gave the town? He'd never set foot in it before, an' Miss Perkins said that Roddy was sort of embarrassed, like he come in the library an' wanted a book."

"So he could read, could he?" Asey said. "I think you're horrid, talkin' that way about the dead! Anyway he asked for that book that his grandfather wrote, and was just as nice as he could be. Left some money for a new encyclopedia, too. He said the one they had wasn't no good. An' he said he'd have the whalin' book rebound in leather with nice gold trimmings before he returned it - wasn't that nice of him?"

"'Ennie," Asey said, "who built Octagon House?" "Who? I don't know!" Asey took her by the shoulder and propelled her to the phone. "See that?" he said. "Well, you go ring the twenty-one line, man by man. You find out, Jennie, who built the Octagon House! Hurry -"

"But -" "If you find out," Asey said, "I'll do anything you want." "Will you," Jennie asked, "put on some decent clothes before the reporters take pictures of you?" "White flannels, an' a blue coat," Asey promised. "An' my best yachtin' cap. Now, get goin', Dor! Ask questions now, Hanson. W! I'll see if this turns out - you see he didn't know about the murder, at first. That is, he didn't know the value -"

"Who didn't?" "Roddy," Asey said. "Then, after his plane crash, an' before he begun flingin' money to Nettie, an' offerin' rewards, an' being so lavish - sure, he'd bind it in gold! Why not? He remembered his grandfather's book, see? About whalin', an' ambergris. Looked up ambergris in encyclopedias, too, man, don't you see? It was Roddy who moved that ambergris out of the barn. Roddy Strutt! Roddy found out by then how much the ambergris was worth! An' Roddy has his savin' streak, an' the family yet to get money - Roddy moved it! I knew there had to be another person, an' some reason for him bein' killed! Got someone, Jennie?"

"Well, if it don't beat all, Jennie said. "The line was busy - I thought it would be, it most always is. But Emmaline, up to the office - she haun't gone home yet, she phoned her great-aunt for me -"

"Who built Octagon House?" "Earl Jennings' father, he built it. But I'm sure I don't know -" "Hanson," Asey said happily, "here's where we start in our provin'!" (Copyright, 1938, Phoebe Atwood Taylor) Asey gets going, tomorrow.

N. Y. Stock Market
New York, June 29—(AP)—Refreshed by a two day lull, the stock market leaped forward today on a resumption of its sweeping June advance to the highest levels of the movement.

Trading hit the fastest pace since the end of the autumn decline last October. Leading industrial shares rose one to six points or so and a few scored wider gains.

Building shares, benefitting from indications of a broadening building revival, were outstanding performers, most of them reaching highs for the year. U. S. Gypsum starting for the construction group, soared more than 10 points, but yielded part of the gain.

Films Still Raid Trucks Used For Broadway Stage

By ROBBIN COONS
Hollywood — The raid on the Broadway stage that began 10 years ago with the first talkies continues as Hollywood adds new names to its star roster.

FAY Bainter has played in "Jezebel," "White Banners" and "Mother Carey's Chickens."

NANCY KELLY, recently with Gertrude Lawrence in "Susan and God", is here to make "Splinter Fleet."

CHARLES COBURN already has impressed movie-goers in "Of Human Hearts", "Yellow Jack" and "Vivacious Lady."

AMANDA DUFF, from Broadway's "Tovarich", is romantic lead in Shirley Temple's "Lucky Penny."

JOHN GARFIELD (he was Jules Garfield in "Golden Boy" and "Having Wonderful Time") is in "Sister Act."

Oshkosh, Wis. (AP)—Once the largest door manufacturing concern in the world, the Paine lumber company factory here has resumed operations after having been closed for five years.

FARMERS PLAN SUMMER TOUR

Raleigh, June 29—Both consumer and farmer will receive increased trucks in the distribution of farm products when marketing programs are modernized so as to take advantage of all the opportunities they offer, in the opinion of Miss Frances Johnson, secretary of the North Carolina Truck Owners association, who quoted William C. Crow of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

In recent discussion of an improved marketing program for North Carolina, Commissioner of Agriculture W. Kerr Scott has repeatedly stressed the important part now being played by truck transportation in getting the state's products on the markets of other states and other sections of this state. The commissioner advocates establishment of a clearing house for information regarding the availability of trucks to transport various crops and the location of farm products which can be picked up by trucks if the information were available to them.

According to Mr. Crow large city markets now receive about half their supply of fresh fruits and vegetables by motor truck. New York receives about 40 per cent in that manner, Philadelphia 45 and from there the figures range up to 72 per cent for Atlanta and 83 for Los Angeles.

Mr. Crow is in agreement with Commissioner Scott on the necessity for a good reporting system.

"To get the full value to be derived from motor truck transportation proper wholesale markets must not only be provided in large cities, but also at assembly points in producing areas; and the market reporting system must be improved," he wrote.

London, (AP)—A nudist magician was the hit at a nudist society's indoor party held here recently.

The guests said he made knotted handkerchiefs untie themselves, pushed a metal bar through a sheet of glass without apparently breaking the glass, and even produced cards from behind people's naked shoulders.

FARMERS PLAN SUMMER TOUR

Itinerary Includes Almost Every County In State

Raleigh, June 28—Almost every county in North Carolina will be covered this summer by farm tours arranged by the State College Extension Service so that farmers might observe what their neighbors have accomplished by following good practices. It was announced by John W. Goodman, assistant extension director.

The schedule has been so arranged that different extension specialists can accompany the county farm agents on tours featuring work in their various projects and help explain the results to the touring farmers. The poultry specialists will discuss poultry, for example, and the dairy specialists will discuss dairying.

The Extension Service sponsors the tours on the principle that showing a grower the results obtained by another is worth more than a week of conversation explaining why a recommended practice ought to work.

The tours were scheduled by a committee composed of J. F. Criswell and R. W. Shoffner, farm management specialists, and E. C. Blair, extension agronomist. They will go on some of the tours, while other specialists scheduled are: L. P. Watson and H. R. Niswonger, horticulturists; A. C. Kimrey and P. B. Farham, dairying; L. I. Case, livestock; C. F. Parrish and C. J. Maulpin, poultry; D. S. Weaver, H. M. Ellis, R. G. Broadus, agricultural engineering; D. E. Jones, rural electrification; J. C. Ferguson, cotton ginning; J. O. Rowell, entomologist; W. D. Lee, soil conservationist; E. H. Meacham, farm management; R. W. Greaber, forestry; L. T. Weeks, tobacco; H. W. Taylor, Swine production and marketing; Dr. Luther Shaw, plant pathologist and John Harris, landscaping.
