REGULAR BATTLE REPORTED IN CZECHOSLOVAKIA

GEORGIA VOTE IN SPOTLIGHT OF PRIMARIES

Administration Supports Camp Over Sen. George

PARTY RETAINS SEVEN SENATORS

Voters Show Tendency to Renominate Present House Members, Except in S. C.

(By the Associated Press) Seven Senators won renomination or moved to the front today in primary election returns, but national attention centered on the spectacular Georgia test of President Roosevelt's campaign against conservative legislators.

Georgia Democrats selected their senatorial candidates from these men:

Senator Walter George, described by Mr. Roosevelt as out of touch with the board objectives of the Democratic party and the government.

Lawrence Camp, Federal District Attorney in Atlanta, recipient of a presidential blessing.

Former Governor Eugene Talmadge, who the chief executive said would "contribute little to practical government."

In Connecticut another Democratic seceder who had opposed some administration measures was seeking renomination. He was Valentine Longenecker, endorsed by Attorney General Cummings, but opposed in a convention by Representative Herman Kopplemann and two other aspirants. New Deal politics threatened to become an issue in the race.

They did not enter any marked degree, however, in the seven senatorial elections made yesterday. In four states Democratic incumbents were unopposed. They were Senators Fred Brown of New Hampshire; Elbert Thomas of Utah; John Overton of Louisiana; and Alva Adams of Colorado.

Voters yesterday showed a general tendency to renominate present house members, but South Carolina was an exception. Representative John Taylor was defeated by Butler Hale and Representative Heyward Hahn by Joseph Bryson in Democratic run-offs.

South Carolina also supplied the most dramatic election incident of the day, when national guardsmen under instructions from Governor Johnston took possession of Charleston county ballot boxes.

Wyndham Manning, apparently beaten for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination by Mayor Burnett Maybank of Charleston, had asked for the troops because of reported "irregularities."

The latest South Carolina gubernatorial vote (11,495 of 1,505 precincts) Maybank, 161,474; Manning 147,774.

Sergeant Drum said that of the three bicycles stolen in the city this week, two were recovered by officers last night.

Whether the thefts ranged at more than three is not known, in that three bicycle thefts are all that have been reported.

HE LEADS WAY TO PEACE OPEN

Chancellor Adolf Hitler is shown in this radiophoto as he delivered his address to the Nazi congress at Nurnberg, Germany, for which the whole world waited with anxiety. Many feared his speech would mean war but Hitler was vague about German intentions toward Czechoslovakia and left open the possibility of a peaceful solution of the Sudeten German problem.

HITLER CALLS AIDE TO TALK NEW SITUATION

Summons Foreign Minister To Discuss German Plans

EXPECT HITLER GIVE STATEMENT

Complete Silence By Fuehrer Maintained Following Nurnberg Address Monday

Berlin, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler today called Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop to meet him at Munich to discuss what Germany might do in the face of what Nazis called the "new situation" in Czechoslovakia.

German generally expected Hitler to make some move if only a public statement in view of his defiant warnings to Czechoslovakia in Monday night's speech at Nurnberg.

American travelers have been advised "unofficially and informally" by the United States consulate here to return home "if they could conveniently alter their European travel plans," officials said today.

Members of the consulate staff disclosed numerous U. S. citizens had inquired what they ought to do in view of the critical situation in Central Europe.

Officials said, however, that American residents in Berlin have not been advised to leave Germany.

Nurnberg, in which he proclaimed his will to protect the Sudeten-Germans.

The German government has maintained complete silence so far on new disorders in the Sudeten area and the Prague government is emergency measures to suppress them.

While Hitler and the foreign minister conferred at Nazi headquarters in Munich, a multitude of rumors circulated in Berlin, causing considerable excitement.

Most of the rumors, such as the reported closing of the Czechoslovakian German frontier and the breaking off of diplomatic relations with Prague, were promptly denied by officials.

Propaganda Minister Paul Goebbels consider the situation so serious he departed from customs and personally gave his views to Berlin's chief editorial writers and correspondents of provincial papers.

To Call For Bids On River Project

A contract will be let around November 1 for improvement of Tar River from Washington to Hardee creek, just below Greenville, it has been revealed here following a conference between army engineers and Representative Lindsay C. Warren.

Mr. Warren said it would take six months to complete the project, which provides for a channel 2 feet deep and 100 feet wide from Washington to a turning basin of the same depth, 200 feet wide and 300 feet long in Hardee creek, 1,500 feet above its mouth. The proposal calls for an expenditure of $328,000 and it is estimated that it will require $49,000 annually for maintenance.

The town of Greenville and the county of Pitt already are making arrangements for constructing an adequate wharf. Efforts also are under way to secure a highway to the wharf.

Representative also has revealed that snagging operations below Tarboro would be completed to duplicate landing in January. An allotment of $13,000 was provided for this work, which is expected to relieve flood conditions in conjunction with expenditures which have been made in the Rocky Mount vicinity.

Man Faces Charge Of Passing Bad Checks

County Jailor W. G. Leggett today reported that J. M. Harris of Greenville had been lodged in jail by Constable J. Gus Stokes on a charge of passing three worthless checks.

He said that Harris was committed by Magistrate John Ivey Smith. Bond was set at $150 and has not yet been furnished.

Man Faces Charge Of Passing Bad Checks

The special session cost a little more than $11,000 and Governor Hoy expressed the opinion it was a "good investment" to hold it to get the Federal money.

This afternoon the building and grounds board met to take steps to acquire the deeds to the land across from the capitol square, on which the new $692,000 department of justice building will be erected. The state has an option to buy the site for $175,000.

All Hopes For Mediation Torn Down By Sudetens; Martial Law Is Extended

DISORDER SWEEPS SUDETEN GERMAN DISTRICTS

Eight persons were killed in a wave of disorder that swept over Czechoslovakia's Sudeten German districts following Chancellor Adolf Hitler's speech at Nurnberg in defense of the Sudeten people. The government promptly clamped martial law on eight of the disturbed districts. The trouble centers are indicated on this map. The black areas designate where Sudeten Germans dwell.

Roosevelt Concerned Over Tense European Situation

WORK PROJECT TO START SOON

ECTC Is Launching $334,000 Building Program

Work on the $334,000 building improvement program at East Carolina Teachers College is scheduled to get under way some time in the immediate future.

It was announced from the college today that the new classroom building costing $300,000 will be erected on a site between the present science building and infirmary.

Architect's plans call for a three-story structure. Science, industrial arts, and home economics departments, including a home economics practice house and nursery will be housed in the building.

Present plans call for the industrial arts department to be located on the first floor; home economics division on the second floor and science department on the third floor.

When completed, the building is slated to be one of the most modernistic and up-to-date buildings on the college campus. The building is expected to aid considerably in taking care of the increased class load in these divisions.

Dr. Leon Meadows, president of the college, received approval notice of the program last week. Of the total cost, the Federal government will provide a PWA grant of $150,000. The remaining appropriation will be furnished by the State.

In addition to the new classroom building, other work under the improvement program includes equipment for the building, $25,000; garage, $3,000, and an addition to the college laundry, which will cost $6,000.

Try To Get More Industries In City

Willard T. Kyzer, secretary of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce, today said that the organization is compiling information for several major industrial plants.

Secretary Kyzer said that principals in the prospective plants are working on the proposals, and that information on the progress of their efforts will be made public when plans become more concrete.

"One purpose of the Chamber of Commerce," declared Kyzer, "is to bring some new industries to Greenville as will fit the present industrial set up, and provide more year-round employment."

Heads For Washington After Telephoning Sec. State Hull

Rochester, Minn., Sept. 14.—(AP) President Roosevelt declared today "conditions in other parts of the world are extremely serious."

In a brief talk at the station before leaving Rochester where his son James Sunday underwent an operation for a gastric ulcer, the President said he was going "straight to Washington."

The President left for Washington at 11:08 a. m. CST, after talking with Secretary Hull by telephone and visiting James at the Mayo clinic.

The chief executive deeply concerned over events in Europe, decided to return to the capital after talking to Hull.

Mr. Roosevelt made a final check with Mayo physicians on James' condition. He was reported today to be making "satisfactory progress," even though the critical period has not passed.

The President drove to the hospital from his special train immediately after talking with the Secretary of State. The chief executive had been in frequent conversation with Hull regarding the fast breaking events in Europe.

At Washington meanwhile, Secretary Hull said American consuls in Europe had no special orders to start American travelers back home, but may do so on their own discretion.

Consuls are well within their standing instructions, associates added, if they suggest to Americans it might be wiser to quit war threatened Europe.

PWA dished out a lot of its cash today in seven figure lump.

Today's list, which had 69 projects approved, carried authorization of about $13,500,000 of grants and $211,000 of loans on projects estimated to cost $30,000,000.

Today allocations included Johnston county, N. C., schools, $35,460; Hoke county, N. C., Sanatorium building, $62,460.

Haul Sugar and Kegs And Are Later Jailed

Woodrow Lamb and Earl Ineco, both of Rocky Mount, were lodged in the Pitt county jail yesterday afternoon by Highway Patrolman C. R. Williams and were booked on charges of "transporting sugar and kegs."

County Jailor W. G. Leggett said the men came through the Pinetops section with their cargo and were nabbed in the Belvoir section by the patrolman. Both men were released last night when cash bonds of $200 each were furnished.

The automobile, the sugar, and the kegs are being held by Pitt county officers.

SEARCH ON FOR TRIO ESCAPEES

Felons at Liberty After Prison Farm Here

F. W. Jacobs, superintendent of the Pitt County Prison camp, declared today that a search was still being conducted for three white convicts who escaped yesterday while working with a road gang near Falkland.

The three escapees are Lloyd Witherington, 21, sentenced to from five to seven years in Wayne county for assault and robbery; Lewis Tew, 23, sentenced to from eight to 12 years in Wilson for robbery with firearms; and Joseph Hall, 28 sentenced to from three to five years in Granville county for larceny.

The trio made a "break" yesterday afternoon and one of the two guards was said by prison attendants to have opened fire, but failed to hit any of the convicts.

The various law enforcement officers in the county, including the Highway patrol force, joined in the search last night and early this morning. Superintendent Jacobs declared dogs trailed the men to the river bank, where they took a boat. The dogs picked up the trail about three miles down the river, but later lost it.

Mr. Jacobs said officers still were checking in the lowlands on the possibility the three men are still hiding along the river.

An automobile was reported stolen in Simpson today and some expressed the possibility the trio made their way there and took the automobile, although Simpson is on the opposite side of the county from where the convicts escaped.

Yesterday's escape was the second within three years. The other having been only last week when Flavonius Pruitt, a trusty, walked off, only to be apprehended later.

Unusual Weed Leaves Are Brought to City

J. Sam Fleming this afternoon exhibited Slamese tobacco leaves, with an additional leaf growing on the back of the twin leaves. The oddity had been cured.

Two leaves of the tobacco are side by side with no additional stem on the extra leaf. There were only two main stems to the "golden weed" oddity, and each stem had grown down the center of a leaf.

The tobacco was grown at the Henry Brown farm on Johnston's mill run about two miles north of Tar river.

FRESH TROOPS SENT TO AREAS

At Least 40 Reported Dead in Fighting Between Czechoslovak Gendarmes and Sudeten Germans At Various Towns In Region Near German Frontier

Prague, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Fighting between Czechoslovak gendarmes and Sudeten-Germans armed with machine guns, rifles and hand grenades at various towns in the Sudeten region near the German frontier today resulted in at least 40 deaths.

Sudeten border dispatches said that 2,000 Sudeten-Germans had attacked the Czechoslovak gendarmerie station at Schwaderback near the German frontier.

At least eight persons were reported killed.

The dispatches said bloody fighting was continuing tonight.

The gendarmes were ordered at first not to fire because of fear that shots might strike Germans across the border and create a more serious incident. The gendarmes, therefore, were forced to retire from the station.

Battling fiercely to control the Sudeten demonstrators, the gendarmes finally replied to the Sudeten fire, the dispatches said.

Earlier London reported a British news agency (Reuters) dispatch from Prague reported that Sudeten-German headquarters said "a regular battle" was in progress near Falkenau, northwestern Czechoslovakia, between Sudeten and Czechoslovak troops and police.

Prague, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten-Germans, informed the British Runciman mediation mission today that the Sudeten committee for negotiations with the Czechoslovakian government had been dissolved.

As a result there is a complete breakdown in efforts to solve the bitter, bloody dispute over the Sudeten demands for self-rule, there being no machinery on the Sudeten side for further discussion.

Meanwhile the government, ignoring the Sudeten's ultimatum demanding cessation of martial law in certain regions, commandeered motor busses in Prague to rush fresh troops into the regions under military control. The ultimatum expired early today without immediate results.

The Sudeten party is conducted on the leadership principle—following the Nazi German model—therefore Henlein, as Fuehrer, alone has authority to discuss anything with the Prague government.

Henlein reported his decision to dissolve his committee to F. T. A. Winton-Gwatkin, chief lieutenant of Viscount Runciman, and other members of the British mission at a conference at Aesch, Henlein's home town, at noon.

The Sudeten leader said that in view of acts of violence in the Sudeten regions the party felt that proper atmosphere for negotiations no longer existed.

Thirteen Tar Heel Students to Get Educational Loans

Reflector Bureau
Raleigh, Sept. 14—Mrs. Estelle T. Smith, district home agent at State College has announced that 13 North Carolina girls attending college this year will receive aid from the Jane S. McKimmon educational loan fund.

This aid will be extended to five girls who received loans last year and who are continuing their college work. Eight new girls have been granted loans, Mrs. Smith said.

Washington — Initiation of the Civilian Conservation Corps program has provided the nation with a brand new and extremely useful force for saving life and property in emergencies, such as floods, forest fires, hurricanes, severe storms and accidents.

Activities of this character, with the exception of forest fire fighting, were not included in the original program of work activities for the corps. However, the wide distribution of the CCC camps and the facility with which enrollee units could be mobilized for quick action made it inevitable that the CCC would be called upon for aid whenever communities adjacent to CCC camps urgently needed forces, enrollees have performed heroic service in saving motorists, ranchers and livestock caught by snow storms in the west. They have participated in searches for lost airliners. In numerous cases they have given vitally important first aid and other help to motorists after accidents.

The aid given during the disastrous Mississippi-Ohio floods of January and February, 1937 marked the high point of all CCC emergency activities. At the height of that emergency, more than 22,000 enrollees, hundreds of reserve officers and technical personnel, and in excess of 2,000 trucks were engaged in relief, rescue and rehabilitation work under the supervision of the American Red Cross.

Enrollees moved marooned families to points of safety, carried on rescue work, transported supplies, aided in the construction and strengthening of levees, guarded public buildings and bridges, constructed emergency routes of transportation, aided in the maintenance of communication systems and prepared CCC camps for use in housing refugees.

Each year the 300,000 men of the corps spent more than a million man-days combating floods and forest fires, conducting rescue, relief and rehabilitation work, searching for lost children and answering other calls for aid. The corps rendered valiant service during and after the Mississippi and Louisiana tornadoes in 1935; the severe eastern floods in 1935 and 1936; the Mississippi-Ohio river valley floods of 1937; the New London, Texas, school explosion in 1937 and the wreck of the Hindenburg the same year. Led by reserve officers and members of the camp supervisory expended on flood activities by the corps.

In its first five years, the corps spent more than 50,000 man-days searching for missing persons. On one occasion an 8-year-old girl became lost while picking huckleberries. Her father, assisted by the other berry pickers, searched for her for two hours and then called the CCC camp at Ukiah, Ore., to ask for help. Twenty-five enrollees went to the rescue. They found the little girl alive at the foot of a mountain some six miles from where she became lost.

The CCC camps in the vicinity of Fort Douglas, Utah, rescued 100 persons, cleared more than 1,000 miles of roads and saved the lives of 200,000 head of livestock during severe snow storms in the winter of 1936-37.

Girl Scout Troop Asks For Donation

Girl Scouts of Troop 1 are planning to furnish quarters, which have been provided by the Greenville Rotary club. The club has donated the second floor of the building to provide space for games, a library, craft work and exhibits.

It was explained that since this is the only Girl Scout troop in the city, members of the troop have been compelled to solicit contributions. A Scout official said the group would be glad to have book shelves, book stands, game tables, and craft work. It is being hoped that a suitable table for ping pong will be contributed.

Other articles on the needed list are paint, paint brushes, stools, pictures, magazines, rugs, baskets, dishes and pans. The Scouts would also like to be on the receiving end of any materials which could be used after alterations for furnishing the Scout room or making hand-craft articles.

MRS. HARRIETT BEATTY

This very petite, very pretty, very blonde wife of the famous Clyde, presents an act of her own creation—only one of its kind in the world—three natural jungle enemies, a lion, a tiger and an elephant, all working smoothly together in the big steel arena.

Famous Robbins Circus Showing Here Thursday

All wild animals fear fire, but a wisp of a woman, Harriett Beatty, has conquered the ferociousness of a lion and tiger and has taught them to jump through a hoop of flame.

Mrs. Beatty, the wife of Clyde Beatty, the greatest wild animal trainer of all time, has quickly won for herself recognition as the world's outstanding woman wild animal trainer. Both she and her fearless husband are featured by the famous Robbins circus, which will exhibit in Greenville afternoon and night next Tuesday, Sept. 20, at the old Fair grounds.

In the same great circular all-steel arena in which Clyde Beatty presents forty-three lions and tigers at one time, Harriett Beatty presents a huge Siamese elephant, a vicious Bengal tiger and a treacherous black-maned Nubian lion—three of nature's most deadly enemies. It is the only act of the kind in the world.

The unprecedented sight of these three ferocious enemies being mastered by a slightly built woman brings gasps of surprise daily from thousands of circus fans. The lion and the tiger, riding in a howdah on the elephant's back, is a presentation never before exhibited to circus audiences anywhere in the world.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Sept. 14.—Your correspondent yesterday met for the first time Dr. H. Bernard, one-time representative from the Folger-repudiated balliwick of Surry.

The fat, jovial M. D. is a staunch, sturdy Republican so it can be understood that his House service was before the days of the Folger ascendancy.

Meeting the doctor was quite a treat—he's one of those chaps who tells a good story with the best of them—though many of the yarns cannot be committed to type by reason of their—shall we say, piquancy or spice.

Dr. Bernard was in Raleigh with Charlie Jonas, G.O.P. senatorial candidate, and is doing everything possible to help out the Lincoln county former Congressman.

He is rather gleeful at the in-party fighting in Democratic ranks and gets a particular joy out of the shouts of Anti-New Dealers that Roosevelt and his followers are radical.

"I've been called a 'Damned Radical' all my life. I'm sick and tired of it and it does me good to hear them hollering it at somebody else," he chuckled.

AMONG THOSE PRESENT

Approximately 13,000 persons, enough to populate a small city, who would otherwise have died in auto accidents during 1938, will probably live to welcome the New Year next January thanks, largely, to the tireless efforts of such agencies as the National Institute for Traffic Safety, The National Safety Council, The Automotive Safety Foundation, thousands of newspaper editors, and the casualty insurance industry.

The men and women who are directly responsible for saving these 13,000 human lives will receive little or no recognition for their tireless services. Their only solace will be found in dry statistics.

Morehead reports the capture of the second sailfish ever landed in that sector last week—caught by Russell D. Britt of Ayden.

All the big fish didn't get away from Chief John D. Poole of the Salisbury police department on a recent trip to Hatteras. With a group of friends he snagged a haul of amberjacks, a sweet tasting fish usually found in the Gulf of Mexico. They are seldom caught in North Carolina waters. The chief pulled the "jacks" from the Gulf Stream, the largest weighing forty pounds.

Postmaster L. T. Yaskell of Southport, recently broke all records for that section, landing an 8-pound freshwater bass from Pump Pond. Some of the best big mouth bass fishing in the state seems to be available in that section.

Seriously, Dr. Bernard declared that members of his profession are, taken as a whole, overwhelmingly Anti-New Deal. This he attributes quite largely to the proposal he said Roosevelt sponsors for socialized and state medical aid.

"We doctors are quite naturally against state medicine. We do not want private initiative taken out of the profession."

As for the Folgers, he left no doubt of his position.

"Any time you want to write anything, just say whatever bad you can about the 'dynasty' and quote me as saying it," he said.

The Department of Conservation and Development continues to turn out fish stories from all sections.

From Canton comes the report that brook trout, six inches and over are being planted in Pigeon river by the Pisgah Ranger Service.

Approximately 65,000 rainbow and brook trout are to go into the Mills river in the section.

Chapter 33

The Unshorn Truth

Twice during Wednesday I was haled again to the death-chamber and put through my paces, but by now I was wary. I had told my story, and was sticking to it. Three times the next day I made the trip to the police station, sat for half an hour in a small, stuffy room, and submitted to a quick-fire battery of questions from a succession of plain-clothes men.

Dusk was falling as the car deposited me at the gates of the Château for the third time, and I was brain- and body-weary. The hall was empty and shadowed, but as I turned towards the lounge, a movement behind the office counter halted me, and I saw the chasseur eyeing me from behind it, his eyes pale, luminous slits in the gloom.

One Little Hint!

His eye lighted on the table, and I thought my stars that I had had the forethought to turn the drawing upside down but at sight of the pen, the ink, the paper, he rapped out a sudden oath. "The imbeciles!" he muttered. "I will have their skin for this! Monsieur Lumsden, this was done by no one but me."

I could have blurted out my tongue next minute, but the mischief was done. He sprang back, his hand flew to his trouser-pocket, and next instant I found myself staring into the muzzle of an ugly-looking gun.

"Put it down!" I said sharply, but even as I spoke, a tall, angular whirlwind swept out from the office beside us. It was the house-keeper, her round, puckered face contorted with rage. "Are you mad?" she said sharply to the chasseur. "Put that thing away!" And as he obeyed sulkily, she swung round on me.

"This is too much!" she said furiously. "How dare you threaten my servants? I will not have it, do you hear? You, a criminal, a suspected murderer! I shall report you to the police."

"Report away, woman!" I advised her. "It may be the last chance you have!" and I turned on my heel and stalked away.

I could have kicked myself for my stupidity, but I was too tired to do it. Body and mind alike were exhausted, and the one thing I craved for was food and bed. But as I turned to mount the stairs I noticed in the angle of the balustrade, a set of bookshelves, crammed with aged and tattered volumes.

A curtain was hanging behind them, concealing, I imagined, some wall cupboard, and I gave an idle tug to it.

It was no cupboard, but a small alcove, backed with a white-washed door on which a notice was tacked. I looked at it, and as I read it, every atom of fatigue dropped from me. It ran: "THE INKKEEPERS OF FRANCE CLUB DES BANS CLUBS"
