PSI CHI TO INSTALL FIFTH NORTH CAROLINA CHAPTER AT ECC

GREENVILLE -- The psychology department at East Carolina College has announced that the official installation of the local chapter of Psi Chi national honor society in psychology will be held Thursday, Dec. 8.

The East Carolina chapter will become the fifth in North Carolina. Others are at Duke University, North Carolina College, and University of North Carolina campuses at Chapel Hill and Greensboro.

At East Carolina the installation of six faculty members and 22 students is scheduled in Room 129 of the Education-Psychology Building at 7 p.m.

Dr. William F. Grossnickle and Dr. Charles C. Mitchell, members of the psychology faculty and advisers of the local Psi Chi chapter, will conduct the installation.

Special guest speaker at the installation will be Dr. Leo Jenkins, president of the college.

Faculty members in addition to Drs. Grossnickle and Mitchell who are already members of Psi Chi are Dr. Thomas E. Long and Dr. Donald W. Zimmerman.

The six faculty members who will be initiated are Graham J. Burkheimer, Calvert R. Dixon, Dr. Leighton E. Harrell Jr., Dr. Charles T. Martoccia, Dr. Clinton R. Prewett and Franklin J. Sadlack.
