BAD WEATHER SPREADS OVER MUCH OF U. S.

Worst Storm of New Year Stretches To Atlantic Coast

SLEET AND RAIN HINDER TRAFFIC

Blizzard Sweeping Through New England Extends to N.Y. and Rhode Island

(By The Associated Press) The worst storm of the new year spread over the nation today with snow and sub-freezing temperatures general from the Atlantic coast to the Rocky mountains.

Sleet, rain and snow caused many traffic fatalities. Four persons died when a Northwest Airline plane crashed in flames in a snow-covered coulee near Miles City, Mont.

A blizzard sweeping through New England buffeted New York and Rhode Island with particular fury, although all the North Atlantic states suffered.

A 10-hour snow fall covered New York City streets to a depth of eight inches and jammed traffic so badly in Manhattan that police appealed to out-of-town residents not to attempt to drive their cars into the city.

The tie-up was described by traffic patrolmen as the worst in years. The department of sanitation mustered an emergency brigade of 32,073 men to clear the streets.

In the wake of the snow a 40-mile an hour gale roared up the East coast. The weather bureau ordered storm warnings posted from Cape Hatteras to Eastport, Maine.

Transportation was retarded by ice-glazed highways in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Iowa and Illinois. Most roads remained open, but buses were running up to 90 minutes late in Pennsylvania. Low visibility tied up shipping in the Delaware river at Philadelphia and grounded commercial planes at the Newark, N. J., airport.

Germany Convicts American Citizen

Hamburg, Germany, Jan. 14.—(AP)—George Joseph Roth, a naturalized U. S. citizen and former steward on the U. S. liner Washington, was convicted today of perpetration of treason and sentenced to six months in prison.

Roth was charged with possession of a newspaper of communistic sympathies printed in LeHavre, France. He testified he did not know the paper was communistic.

He was tried in the criminal section of the Hansatic Supreme District court.

One month and two weeks of his sentence were to be deducted for time spent in jail since his arrest November 29.

The president of the court, in imposing sentence, said "Germany, through international treaties, has the right to protect herself through safeguarded measures. The court is of the opinion the defendant was fully aware he possessed a newspaper of communistic tendencies directed against Germany."

Several Projects Approved by WPA

Raleigh, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Eight projects, costing $236,465.95 and employing 447 persons, received the stamp today of U. S. Federal Administrator George Coan, Jr.

The projects included: Wilson, $76,428 for developing an athletic field; Star, Montgomery county, $39,770.95 for building gymnasium-vocational building; Dare county, $80,993 for improving and repairing roads not in federal aid highway systems; Micro, Johnston county, $11,252 for improving streets; Tarboro, $3,858 for indexing minute docket, marriage and birth and death records in register of deeds office; Washington, $10,989 for installing a drainage canal and installing storm sewers and culverts.

Allots WPA Sum For Landing Field

Raleigh, Jan. 14.—(AP)—State WPA administrator George Coan announced today the allocation of $128,050 for clearing a site for a landing field at the U. S. coast guard air base in Pasquotank county.

This project will be preliminary to construction costing about one million dollars. The county and Elizabeth provided the site and the base will be a connecting link between similar units at Brooklynn, N. Y. and Charleston, S. C.

The Pasquotank project was one of 15 announced today to cost about $562,000 and provide employment of 1,247 persons.

HOMELESS CHILD CLINGS TO DOLL

Verna Lee Daniel is 23 months old—and everywhere she goes, her doll is sure to go. Both are homeless now—unless this pile of belongings can be called home—since Verna Lee's parents joined other sharecropper families in highway right-of-way camps near New Madrid, Mo., in public protest against their own economic status.

Native Of Pitt County Sought By FBI Agents

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 14.—(AP)—A 38-year-old Greenville, N. C., resident, charged with defrauding a Baltimore business woman of $52,000, was sought today in the Pittsburgh district of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

BRIEF SESSION IN EACH HOUSE

Raleigh, Jan. 14.—(AP)—The Senate received from Senator Curtis of Buncombe today a bill to permit Buncombe county to establish a domestic relations court.

Curtis said he sent the measure forward at the request of Asheville ministers. The bill was referred to judiciary committee number two.

Both the house and senate held short sessions, with only a few legislatures present, and adjourned to meet again Monday night.

There were new house bills. Meanwhile, recommendation of a record 154 million dollar budget to the General Assembly for the next biennium brought in its train this week a flurry of controversy over what to do about the sales tax and whether to increase tuition at the state's educational institutions.

While the biennial sales tax fight was slowly gathering momentum as the week ended, the storm of protests over the suggested tuition boosts flared suddenly.

Here at North Carolina State college hundreds of students adopted a resolution calling on the General Assembly not to allow the increases, designed to fill the gap left by lower direct state appropriations.

ABC County Legislators To Oppose Increased Tax

Raleigh, Jan. 14.—There are increasing evidences around the hotel lobbies here that legislators from the 27 counties with ABC stores are not going to take the proposed increase in liquor taxes by the state "lump down" or in any part of a rebutment posture.

Yesterday for instance, Wilmington's W. D. McMillan, Chairman of the New Hanover ABC board, was busy as the proverbial one-armed paper hanger afflicted with a disease curable largely by scratching.

He was around and about button-holing all and sundry law makers who can be expected to lend aid and comfort in a fight against the proposal to raise the state's tax on liquor from seven to ten per cent, all of which would be taken directly from the counties have the liquor stores.

Mr. McMillan made no bones stating his belief that the 27 counties should not be taxed for the benefit of those living in the other 23.

If they are so bold they can't have liquor stores, they ought to be too holy to want liquor tax money," he remarked bitterly.

None of the liquor store county legislators has so far openly declared war on the tax hike, but in "off the record" interviews it is easy to learn that many of them are preparing to do a bit of dickering with a view to trading.

They point out that while the 27 counties are in a hopeless minority as compared with the dry units, there are any number of controversial issues on which the vote will be close.

It seems that a coalition of the wet counties is being attempted, but with what success remains to be seen. There is no doubt such a coalition would be powerful if it can be effected.

Authoritative Hint Is Produced by Proposal in Congress

FORCE OF 6,000 PLANES SOUGHT

Meanwhile WPA Appropriation of $725,000,000 Passed By House goes to Senate

Washington, Jan. 14.—(AP)—A proposal in Congress to authorize an army air force of 6,000 planes produced today an authoritative hint that the administration favored removing all legislative limits on the corps' size.

Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the House Military Committee, said he would propose the new limit next week in response to President Roosevelt's recommendations that the army air force be expanded as soon as possible by at least 3,000 aircraft.

Reliable administration sources reported, however, that army spokesmen would ask Congress instead to "make the sky the limit," so far as authorizations are concerned.

Congressional authorizations are distinct from actual appropriations. Often the legislators, authorize a program extending over several years, then pass annually upon the amount of money to be spent carrying it out.

Legally officials said the army now has authority to increase the air corps to 4120 planes.

Meanwhile, Democratic insurgency against the administration's relief program spread to the Senate after the rebellious House had jipped $150,000,000 from the appropriations asked by President Roosevelt to finance WPA for the next five months.

Leaders of the Senate economy bloc predicted that the $725,000,000 fund voted by the House would win Senate approval probably late next week, despite the President's request for $875,000,000.

The House passed the "bet bill" last night, 397 to 16, after an informal coalition of Republicans and many Democrats had reduced its amount and incorporated prohibitions against political activities in the WPA.

Name Violator Of Neutrality Policy

Washington, Jan. 14.—(AP)—The State Department said today the United Aircraft Corporation of East Hartford, Conn., was the "one outstanding exception" among airplane companies in not conforming to the department's six-months-old policy of keeping American aircraft out of the hands of those air-bombing civilian populations.

The department announced that it issued this corporation a license during December to export to Japan 600 propeller blade forgings valued at $102,000.

In making the announcement the department called attention to a letter Secretary Hull addressed to all manufacturers and exporters of airplanes and airplane parts last July 1, in which it was stated the government condemned bombing of civilian populations or its material encouragement.

Rep. John S. Moore of Belmont, one of Pitt county's representatives in the General Assembly, will be at the court house here at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning to confer with interested persons on the pending bill relating to licenses for seed dealers.

Rep. Moore said he would be glad to confer with any present seed dealer or any persons who are considering entering such a business. The original bill would reduce from $10 to $1 the annual license fee for dealers selling less than $100 worth of seed each year.

BUILDING—Industry of The Year

Babson Says We Are On Threshold Of Construction Boom

home-building potential of $6,800,000,000.

F.H.A. Big Help High costs and financing difficulties have been the bugaboo of building for the past few years. Building costs have dropped about five per cent from the 1937 peak.

The trend in modern small home building, however, is toward standardization. As a result, contractors are able to make good savings on mill-cut kitchen cabinets, staircases, doors, windows, and the like.

Moreover, the F.H.A., through its advisory and supervisory functions, is helping home builders to keep construction costs as low as possible. While costs are still high, financing handicaps have been hurried. The new F.H.A. "installment mortgage" plans are the real incentive to new building. In those territories (Continued on page five)

PASTOR HEARD AT CLUB MEET

Dr. Peacock Of Tarboro Speaks Here on World Affairs

Dr. J. L. Peacock, pastor of the Tarboro Baptist church and former president of Shaw University, Raleigh, addressing the Greenville Kiwanis club last night, inferred there was more cause for fear of elements within our own border than there was from aggression by a foreign power.

He declared he saw no need of spending millions to build a navy, especially when it is agreed that if war comes it will be an invasion by air.

Speaking on the topic "World Affairs," Dr. Peacock contended there was no cause for us to become alarmed. "We are told that 1938 was a most momentous year," he said, "but we always have had hectic times. We have always had dictatorships," he continued, naming Alexander the Great, Caesar, Nero and others. During the reign of the dictators most of the educated classes were forced to suffer and were made virtually slaves, declared the speaker.

He stated that history repeated itself and in connection for this said he had little sympathy for Belgium when it was trampled by Germany during the World War. He recalled the atrocities perpetuated against the Africans by the Belgians.

Franco's Forces Apparently on Way to Final Victory

Barcelona, France, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Spanish insurgents reported that their Southern Catalan army had driven to about three miles from the Mediterranean southwest of Tarragona.

Dispatches said a village on the seaboard about 16 miles southwest of Tarragona had been captured by General Franco's forces.

This would give Franco's artillery command of the important coastal highway leading to Tarragona and cut off at least 100 miles of government territory between that Catalan seaport and insurgent-held Tortosa.

Another insurgent column approaching from the north reported the capture of an important government air base only 12 miles from Tarragona.

Government lines were said to have broken and thousands of militiamen started falling back toward the coast as three insurgent columns converged on Tarragona.

Capture of the air base was reported by the Navarrese army corps moving down the Lerida-Tarragona highway.

Two other insurgent units struck at Tarragona from a point on the west and Tortosa on the southwest as the insurgents offensive launched December 23 gained momentum.

Barcelona, Jan. 14.—(AP)—All Spanish citizens through the ages of 17 and 55, both men and women, were drafted today into the military reserves by the Spanish Government threatened by a sweeping insurgent offensive toward Barcelona and the Mediterranean.

The order was one of series approved at a cabinet meeting January 12 but was not mentioned previously, when all men between the ages of 20 and 45 were mobilized and seven more military classes called for service.

TENANTS TOLD TO CLEAR ROAD

Ordered by Highway Patrol To Return To Houses

New Madrid, Mo., Jan. 14.—(AP)—The forlorn army of ragged, shivering share-croppers, encamped along the soggy rights-of-way of highways 60 and 51, were ordered today to move back into the houses they left four days ago when their demonstration to draw attention to their economic plight was started.

The State Highway Patrol, acting on orders of the State Board of Health, first notified about 75 persons camped near Charleston that they must "break up immediately."

The rain-soaked group of demonstrators reluctantly started preparations for moving as two patrolmen stood guard to see that the orders were carried out.

Dr. Harry Parker, state health commissioner, pronounced the situation "a serious menace to public health" following a hurried inspection last night. He was accompanied on the inspection tour by Col. Marvin Casteel, superintendent of the highway patrol, and Capt. A. D. Sheppard, head of the patrol in this district.

"Although the demonstrators have offered no resistance to the orders to move," Capt. Sheppard said, "they are not too hot over the idea."

J. H. Rose to Attend Legion Meet Sunday

J. H. Rose, superintendent of the Greenville school system, will attend a meeting of the seven-man commission of the North Carolina Department of American Legion, in Greensboro tomorrow for the purpose of organizing a state camp for boys.

Department Commander Burgin Pennell of Asheville, will preside over the meeting.

Last night Mr. Rose addressed an educational meeting in Warren county.

FEARS OF NEW CRISIS EVOKES FRENCH ACTION

Both Diplomatic And Military Lines Are Strengthened

REASONS CITED FOR PESSIMISM

Daladier Summons Various Ministers to Conferences As Uneasiness Grows

Paris, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Fears that a new European crisis was developing caused France today to strengthen her diplomatic and military lines.

Diplomatic sources were pessimistic from these viewpoints:

1. The Anglo-Italian conversations left the situation for France virtually where it was before Prime Minister Chamberlain went to see Premier Mussolini.

2. Reports of new Italian troop concentrations in East Africa, although unconfirmed, brought new anxiety for France's strategic seaport of Djibouti on the Gulf of Aden.

3. The Spanish insurgents' whirlwind campaign in Catalonia increased the danger of extension of Italian influence on the Pyrenees border and many expert communications to North Africa.

Officials let it be known that the foreign office and the Ministry of National Defense were in continuous communication on "questions of mutual interest" and Premier Daladier summoned various of his ministers for frequent conferences.

Foreign Minister Bonnet issued statements saying he "knew nothing" concerning Germany's reported intervention in the Rome conversations or reports of Italian reinforcements near Djibouti.

The Council of State Bar in Raleigh yesterday ordered disbarment prosecution of four North Carolina attorneys, including Jesse A. Jones of Kinston, who is well known in Greenville.

The action against the attorneys charges him with "deceitful conduct," but details of the charge or the origin were not disclosed.

Mr. Jones is known here especially for his participation in the ouster proceedings brought against former Sheriff S. A. Whitehurst. He also was retained by the old Board of County Commissioners to bring civil action against the former officer and his sureties in an effort to collect approximately $17,000 alleged by the old board to be due on accounts of the ex-sheriff.

The other lawyers against whom disbarment action was brought are W. O. Williams of Morehead City, G. V. Spaserman of Salisbury and W. T. Fasher of Charlotte.

Gain Is Shown By Local Post Office

Gross postal receipts for the last calendar year totaled $61,042.19 compared with $55,665.89 in 1937 and $35,831.07 in 1933, figures released by Postmaster T. T. Hollingsworth revealed today.

During the quarter, October, November and December last year, the local post office took in $17,918.88 to set a new record. The last quarter always run higher than the other three because of the Christmas business. During the first quarter of 1938 postal receipts amounted to $14,104.84; second quarter, $14,060.04; third quarter, $15,075.44. Although the fiscal year ends June 30, the above quarters are listed according to the calendar year.

Mr. Hollingsworth said that receipts on "the other side" money orders, etc., showed gains in the past few years proportionately to those of stamps.

MERIT SYSTEM SHOULD APPLY TO ALL

A bill has been introduced in the State Senate to blanket all present employees of the Unemployment Compensation Commission into service without having to stand the merit examinations scheduled to be held on the twenty-first of this month. As we see it, there is no just reason why those now in the employ of the commission should not have to stand the examinations just the same as all new applicants. It is our opinion that appointments to the service to date have mostly been based on politics rather than competency, and if it so happens that along with political pull the applicants were competent that was just a coincidence and had little to do with the appointment. It seems that the plan has been for the applicant to be lined up "right" politically or to have the "right" parties to say a word for him or her and the appointment was forthcoming. If employees of the commission are to be placed on the merit system, as they should be, we see no reason why present employees should be exempted from the examination. If they are competent, they should have no trouble in passing the examinations and holding their jobs, and if they are not able to pass the examinations, certainly they are incompetent to continue on the jobs they now hold.

We sincerely hope Pitt county's delegation in the legislature will vote against the pending measure that would guarantee continuation of employment of a large number of political appointees regardless of their ability to hold the jobs.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL and LYNN NISBET

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Jan. 14.—When a man on the public payroll drawing a salary for a job in which there is no work, asked the legislature to abolish that job, it is new.

John Kerr, Jr., representative, and Frank Gibbs, senator, from Warren county thought the matter important enough to move suspension of rules and get the job abolished forthwith yesterday. The act put through by this process repealed a 1937 statute making the solicitor in Warren county recorder's court an assistant solicitor in the superior court, with an additional salary of $300 a year. The position is held by Joseph P. Finken of Littleton, and since Warren has already three terms of criminal court a year, and the law-abiding citizenry there furnishes relatively light dockets for these few weeks, Mr. Pippen regarded the job as useless. He asked that it be abolished. The legislators obliged, and after ratification of the bill today, he is no longer entitled to the $300.

The first bill of this legislature remedying defects in the hasty legislation of the special session last year was offered by Senator

Next Great Aerial War Already Being Fought—In Laboratories

Experts Say Only "Suicide Bombers" Can Hurt Us Now

BACKGROUND
While congress considers spending millions of dollars more for preparedness, military experts say the bulk of the U. S. defense is still the navy. But planes must play a part in any defense program. This story tells why—and how much we have to fear right now.

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE (AP Feature Service Writer)
WASHINGTON—Will the people of New York or San Francisco—in a year not far away—live in dread of being awakened any night by the roar of exploding bombs?

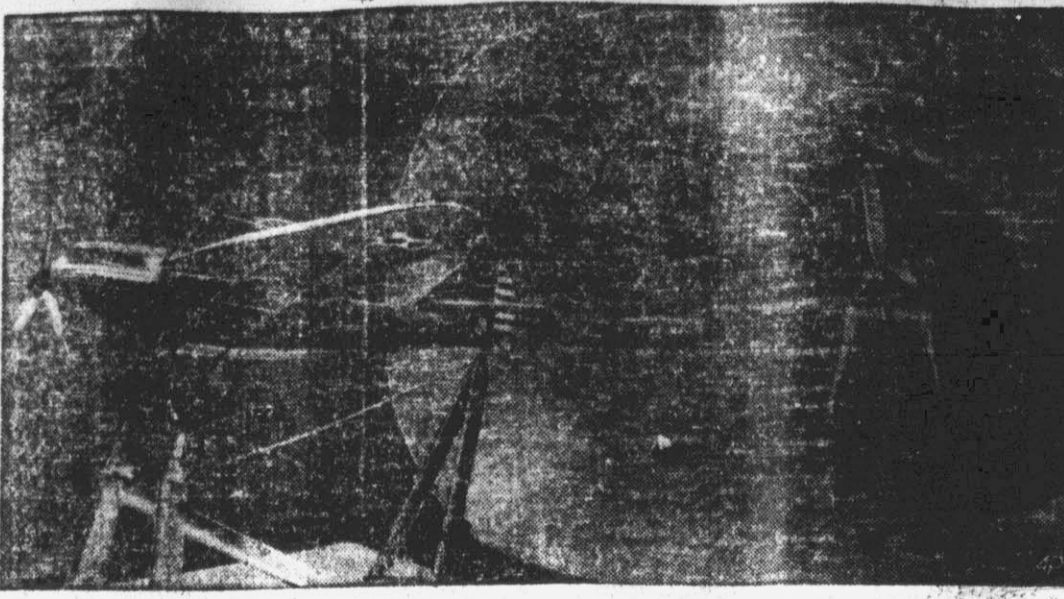

How soon will they be fitting gas masks to their children, their fears turning ever toward the skies? The answer, in large part, remains hidden in the aircraft research laboratories of the world where plans for bombers that will fly 6,000 to 10,000 miles without refueling are closely guarded secrets. These experts attack the problems which may determine the outcome of any future aerial warfare.

The military experts will tell you: 1. No bombers in operation in Europe or Asia today can hop either of the big oceans, dump a cargo of explosives on an American city and return to their home bases without landing en route.

2. Super-bombers able to make the round-trip ocean flight probably are on the drafting boards of many military aircraft designers. When will they advance from the blueprint to the performance stage? Any answer would be just a guess.

3. "Suicide bombers" could take off from Europe today with a small load of bombs, fly over the Atlantic under favorable weather conditions, drop their "eggs" on an eastern American town and then come down somewhere in this country, Canada or the ocean.

Might Military Effectiveness
The suicide bombers might cause

Giant wind tunnels like this one at Langley Field, Va., are "testing grounds" for Uncle Sam's planes. Propellers generate an 118-mile-per-hour wind.

considerable property damage and kill scores of people but their military effectiveness would be very slight. The raid probably would be as costly to the invader as the invaded. Big bombers are expensive weapons, costing $250,000 to $500,000 and the risk of losing them must be justified by a severe blow to the enemy.

A most liberal estimate places the effective tactical radius of today's best bombing planes at 2,000 miles. A more typical military estimate is that of Rear Admiral A. B. Cook, chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics. He told a congressional committee recently that a bombing plane could take off from an airfield carrier 1,200 miles off the Atlantic, fly to our eastern seaboard and back to the carrier.

The Germans have developed Diesel-motored planes which reportedly can cover a given distance with 25 to 35 per cent less fuel than gasoline engine planes. Their flying range has not been divulged but most of the Nazi bombers are designed for European operation, not trans-oceanic excursions.

What our Army and Navy is doing with Diesel-motored planes is a military secret with a capital S. A well-informed officer, who has a very high opinion of Germany's aircraft engineers and their products, told the writer that American military men are not worried about foreign Diesel developments. He said that the world's foremost research work in that field is being done in this country.

Nazi Lead Causes Worry
What does worry American defense planners is Germany's tremendous lead in three vital aspects of air strength. These are:

1. The Reich's 10,000 modern planes ready for war service today. (Italy has 6,000; Britain 5,000, the United States, 4,000; Japan, 2,500, and France 2,200. These figures include modern planes of all types.)
2. The large and rapidly increasing number of German military pilots.

Hitler's trained pilots are estimated at 20,000 compared with 5,000 for this country.

Germany's rapid production of aircraft. The average monthly output was 500 during 1938, stepped up to 1,000 in November, which is triple the American monthly average. Germany has 400,000 aircraft mechanics; the United States 36,000.

While recent European technical developments are described by U. S. air officials as a challenge to American supremacy, most military authorities here believe our planes are still unsurpassed in design and performance.

The next great aerial war, however, is being fought in the laboratories. Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, has said that while Great Britain is spending $15,000,000 a year for aeronautical research, France about $10,000,000 and Germany and Italy probably much more, the United States is devoting only about $6,000,000 for this purpose.

NEW YEAR'S LOVE

by Angela Lorden

The Characters
Noel Marchand, a beautiful young actress.
Alan Collins, the man she loves.
David Norris, the man she was supposed to marry.

Yesterday: After running away to a small town, Noel meets the head of a Little Theater.

Chapter 27
Avid Curiosity

BART EHLERS brought a new interest into Noel's strange summer. "This is charming—it must be fun working here," she told him when they visited the remodeled barn on Sunday.

Ehlers, showing her about, was like a little boy with a whole flock of new toys. He had her examine the lighting effects, explained the new drops that were coming up from New York.

"Together they read some of the manuscripts Ehlers had brought with him. Under the shady tree for the few afternoons he was there, and in the staid old Victorian parlor on nights after their early supper.

Noel missed him when he moved up to Weston and the nucleus of his company joined him. She was nervously restless. A dozen times she was on the verge of going back to New York—asking Swanstrom's advice. She had to do something soon. There was the fall season ahead—she couldn't afford to be idle. Board at Mrs. Winters' was ridiculously cheap; she had to other expenses except the money she spent to be driven over to the Weston Playhouse.

"Why don't you come on over here?" Ehlers asked her the second time she went over and watched a rehearsal. "You're bored now, I can tell. And that's the worst thing in the world for an actress."

"You mean you'd give me a part in your plays?"
Ehlers was exuberant. "If only you would!" He was planning her vehicle already. "Now I've got a play that needs someone like you."

"He was off on a wild rush of enthusiasm, trying to persuade Noel. "We can't pay your salary, Noel," she was told to him now—but as long as you're up here

"I'll do it," Noel decided impulsively.
"Most of Ehlers group were very young—and burning with a desire for theatrical fame. Noel felt old sometimes, talking to these "children," as she called them. The character players, older troupeurs who had lost their illusions—success had missed them.

"Not Now"
NOEL was thinking of New York and its associations, today. The papers had come up and on the sailing list of the Elana she saw David's name. He was going on the cruise!

To everyone but Ehlers Noel was Miss Martin and strongly one, no one realized she was Noel Marchand. "Such is a little success on Broadway," she exclaimed to Ehlers, a little disappointedly.

"They'd be amazed to think of your leaving a New York hit—for this sort of thing," Ehlers' eyes took on an inish gleam. "I'd like to tell them."

"No—not now," Noel protested. She was having fun.
The troupe, when not rehearsing, painted scenery, fixed up the sets, or sat around and talked of the big time. Noel was the big thing in their enthusiasm. She wanted to say, "It won't be like you dream it at all. There'll be the thrill of an opening, the satisfaction of a long run—if you're lucky."

But New York can be more lonely than any small town on the road. But she listened quietly instead.
The first evening performance brought out a surprisingly smart audience. Summer colonists from nearby resorts, and a sprinkling of the townfolk, filled the atmospheric old barn. There was an informality about the occasion which did not get in a city theater. The audience applauded spontaneously—not politely. And Noel never had a better reception! They called her back again and again. She could hear a buzz of appreciation from the front rows.

Afterwards Ehlers brought a tall, stately, middle-aged woman to meet her. "This is Mrs. Bannister, Miss Martin. She's quite captivated by your work." There was a twinkle in Ehlers' eye. He threw a quick glance at Noel, as much as to say, "If the lady only knew!"

It was to the comparative quiet of Mrs. Winters' house that Ehlers brought a thick-set young man one morning later. "This is Mike Howe of Criterion Productions," he told Noel. "He wants to arrange a screen test for you."

Noel turned angrily on the visitor. "I've played three seasons up Broadway, and Hollywood won't be interested in my work. Now because a lot is printed about me, you think maybe I'll do."

"I wouldn't say that, Miss Marchand," Howe replied placatingly. "A test doesn't mean a contract—even in Hollywood. But it's a big chance for you. You shouldn't mind as long as you're getting publicity."

Washington Daybook

By Preston Gruber

Washington—There is no escaping the ceremonial note that attended the swearing in of the two cabinet appointments by President Roosevelt.

The latest was former Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan, who was named Attorney General. Earlier came the appointment and swearing in of Harry Hopkins, former WPA chief, as Secretary of Commerce.

Ordinarily these things are hooped along as a matter of course and the oath to support the constitution is read off more or less casually although with due respect for the fact that it is a very serious occasion for those involved.

But in the case of Murphy and Hopkins, there was a special note of gravity, if not religious fervor, that caught the few chosen spectators off guard. Prior to taking the oath Murphy spent upwards of an hour closed with Roosevelt in the executive's chamber.

Murphy solemnly
Murphy, usually jovial, was as solemn as a Hindu prophet. He had scarcely a smile for even his close friends among the group and was quite obviously impressed by the situation. Then came the swearing in by Associate Justice Reed of the Supreme Court. Murphy had his own Bible for the occasion, one presented him at the age of 15 by his mother when he was graduated from grade school.

"To Dear Frank from mama on the day he graduated, June 26, 1913," was inscribed on the fly leaf. But that was not all. Once upon a time his mother had marked two preferred verses, Isaiah 11, 4-5.

"But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth; and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.

"And righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle of his reins."
(Note: the next verse begins "The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb," etc. That was not marked.)

Wiseacre Breaks Through
On these two verses Murphy placed his hand as he was sworn in.

There was less of old school religious atmosphere about the swearing in of Hopkins, but he took the occasion, with equal solemnity. If ever there was a wiseacre, it was Hopkins. On an occasion it has been Hopkins, but not this time. Solemnity enveloped him. Mrs. Roosevelt made it the occasion for giving him a Bible since he is a close family friend, and upon it he took the oath.

It was not until the spectators were outside that the coat of arms of the rustic atmosphere. But wisecracking Washington took hold again as one remarked: "In God we trust," is replacing the brain trust."

"Haven't you seen it?" Ehlers was frankly surprised. He fumbled awkwardly. "In this morning's Star. The gang's been eating it up."

Ehlers got her the copy, left her alone. There it was on the first page of the second section, the two-column head, over a picture of Noel with fear that mounted her anger as she read it. Noel went through the whole thing. Part was the truth, the rest was supposition and reporting the rumors on Broadway.

The gist of the title was that Noel had left "Susan is Waiting" the same night she jilted the wealthy man she was to marry—practically on the eve of the wedding. Had disappeared, leaving no trace. And had been discovered under another name playing in a small summer stock company.

Every detail was there. Her present whereabouts, her record in the theater. Tears of fury filled Noel's eyes. She hurried back to the inn.

"New York's been telling you," the lanky proprietor of the place informed her. "Several times." He was obviously impressed.

"Thank you," was all Noel replied.
"Shall I get them for you?" The man, curiously watching her, was reaching for the phone.

Noel declined and started for her room.
"I'm going back to Mrs. Winters," she told Ehlers, after she'd hurriedly packed her bags. "I don't want to talk to anyone now. Why can't they let me alone?"

It was to the comparative quiet of Mrs. Winters' house that Ehlers brought a thick-set young man one morning later. "This is Mike Howe of Criterion Productions," he told Noel. "He wants to arrange a screen test for you."

Noel turned angrily on the visitor. "I've played three seasons up Broadway, and Hollywood won't be interested in my work. Now because a lot is printed about me, you think maybe I'll do."

"I wouldn't say that, Miss Marchand," Howe replied placatingly. "A test doesn't mean a contract—even in Hollywood. But it's a big chance for you. You shouldn't mind as long as you're getting publicity."

PHANTOMS GET 20-10 VICTORY

Coach 'Bo' Farley's Lads Lick Washington Quintet

By "SMUT" BUKES
Coach Bo Farley's Phantom basketball team will meet the strong Rocky Mount five at 7:30 o'clock Monday night and local fans fear the local's unbeaten record is facing serious threats.

The Phantoms have played four games so far this year, having defeated Winterville, Kenaplois Y.M.C.A., Roanoke Rapids and Washington.

Rocky Mount is a class "AA" team and probably will afford the Phantoms their stiffest opposition of the season so far.

The preliminary game the junior high five of G. H. S. registered a 20-5 win over the junior boys of Washington high.

The participants in the varsity contest couldn't seem to get straight what type of game they were playing. At times the spectators thought they were playing football, and at other times it looked like a game of basketball and wrestling mixed.

The game was hard-fought and spirited all the way, probably due to the keen rivalry that exists between the two schools. There was never a dull moment in the game, although there wasn't much scoring.

There was no scoring for the first five minutes and George Sakas, Phantom forward, finally broke the tie with a shot from action. Neither team seemed able to find the basket throughout the first half and after excessive puffing and panting the half ended with G. H. S. holding a measly 6-5 margin.

The third quarter also had few points scored by either team and was frequently tied, passing by both continents. The boys seemed to like the floor, for at least one-fourth of the game was contested on the hard wood of the armory. The rivals didn't mind diving headlong after the ball in order to keep their opponents from gaining possession of the ball.

Willie Duke, Pam-Pack center, whipped the cords twice in succession to pull W. H. S. to within two points of their opponents in the third quarter. The score at the end of the third quarter was 11-9 in favor of G. H. S.

The Green Phantoms came back in the fourth quarter and put the game on ice by scoring 11 points while holding the Pam-pack to a lone four-shot. Stocks, James and Laurens each scored from action just before the final whistle to make the final score 20-10.

Ford McGowan, guard on the Phantom quint, was the sparkplug of the Greenville attack. He was always in the fighting and played a swell defensive game. Laurens and Sakas also offered outstanding play with Sakas making 7 points for high score of the game. Laurens, James and Stocks each garnered 4 points in addition to playing a nice floor game.

Duke led the Washington team with 6 points and was the outstanding player of the Pam-Pack. Kelly and Rodman also played well for W. H. S.

In the preliminary game Carroll was the star of the G. H. S. juniors. He made three action shots for six points and was high above the others in all-round play. Goodall ranked next with 4 points plus an excellent floor game. Fowle and White were best for the Washington Juniors.

LOCAL SEXTET SCORE VICTORY

Independent Girls' Team Wins By 21-8 Count

Friday the 13th did not hold any jinx over the Greenville Independent girls' team as they defeated the fast-playing Kinston All-Stars 21-8.

The game at the end of the first quarter found the locals leading 5 to 0, and at the half the score was tied, 8-8.

Then from the beginning of the second half until the whistle blew for the end, the Greenville girls played superbly.

Capt. Katie James led the locals with 16 points and her spectacular floor work and excellent shooting gave the game a real all-star finish.

Askew and Jones were also at their best, not to mention the excellent interception of passes by Gibson, Leggett and Simpson as Edwards.

Medlin was high scorer for the Kinston team.

The Greenville All-Star girls will play a return game in Kinston next Thursday night. Watch the All-Stars twinkle.

The Port of New Orleans has a water frontage of 133 miles and each year handles exports valued at approximately $500,000,000 and imports valued at $150,000,000.

The sale of medicinal and pharmaceutical products in Greece increased from $4,000,000 in 1936 to $5,500,000 in 1937, an all-time high.

Among single persons in the United States, only one out of ten earns $2,000 a year and six out of ten earn less than $1,000.

If the total American income was divided evenly among all the 128 million inhabitants, each person would have received $469 or $9 per week during 1938-39.

Game Monday

The Greenville High School basketball team will meet the strong Rocky Mount five at 7:30 o'clock Monday night and local fans fear the local's unbeaten record is facing serious threats.

The Phantoms have played four games so far this year, having defeated Winterville, Kenaplois Y.M.C.A., Roanoke Rapids and Washington.

Rocky Mount is a class "AA" team and probably will afford the Phantoms their stiffest opposition of the season so far.

BUILDING INDUSTRY OF THE YEAR

where the banks have pushed the F.H.A. plans aggressively, building is already active. Banks are notoriously slow in trying something new. However, they are now getting interested in the F.H.A. everywhere. It is not only a good deal for the home builder, but it is a good deal for the banker, especially right now when he cannot find any volume of sound loans which will yield more than 4 per cent.

People Want Homes

The rising income of the nation is another sign pointing to an active building year in 1939. People have more money to spend than a year ago and they have more confidence in the future. The current marriage rate is much higher than in the depression. Our population is steadily growing—even though at a slower rate. A modern home in the suburbs has a tremendous attraction. As soon as people get an automobile they want to get out of the big cities with their high tax rates and huge relief burdens. Now, with better business and the F.H.A. easy payment plan, here is their chance.

Rents on choice and desirable homes are relatively high, although rents on unattractive property are still low. What is more logical, therefore, than to expect to build where the monthly payment (including interest and principal) on a $4,000 to $8,000 new home, with a stream-lined kitchen and all the latest gadgets, is no more than the monthly rental on a shabby, out-of-date home?

450,000 New Homes

From present indications, 450,000 homes may be built in 1939. This will compare with previous years as follows:

1938—325,000; 1937—275,000; 1934—59,000; 1929—430,000; 1926—610,000 (all-time peak).

How many of this year's 450,000 homes will be built on a 10 per cent margin and later foreclosed is not for me to discuss today. The ultimate future, however, does not look good to me.

In addition to a busy year in home construction, I expect factory, commercial and public building to boost the volume. Many plans which were postponed when the "Recession" struck in 1937 should be brought back to life in 1939. Public utilities will spend more money on their systems. Railroads should do more maintenance this year. Merchants, manufacturers, warehousemen and other commercial property owners will do more repair work. The sharp activity, however, should be in home building, with houses from $4,000 to $10,000 creating the bulk of activity.

Labor Gets Lion's Share

We may have a total new construction volume of about $4,000,000,000 in 1939. This would compare with $3,050,000,000 in 1938, and $2,900,000,000 in 1937. It would make 1939 the best building year since 1930! Of the above sum, nearly 60 per cent will go to labor "on the site" and the remainder to materials. Moreover, much of the money spent on materials eventually will go into payrolls. No other industry helps workers in so many separate businesses as building. Ordinarily, we think of construction as aiding only contractors, carpenters, painters, plumbers, plasterers, masons, and paper hangers. Yet building creates jobs in twenty-six separate businesses, and indirectly it makes work in hundreds of others. Here are just a few of the people who prosper when building prospers: Gardeners, lumberjacks, hardware dealers, lawyers, cabinet makers, interior decorators and awning makers. A heavy volume of building is the keystone of general prosperity.

Business and Building in Step

However, the building cycle and the business cycle seldom move together. One is usually on the way down when the other is on the way up, or vice versa. For example, from 1926 to 1929 building was dropping, but business was rising. Today, for the first time in twenty years, the building cycle and the business cycle are moving ahead together. This is why I am bullish on 1939 business and why I am picking building as the "Industry of the Year!"

GLOOMY over the prospect of lasting peace, Mrs. Carris Chapman (above), pioneer suffragist and soldier of peace, said the "world outlook is dark" recently in New York where she and friends observed her 60th birthday.

How Hockey's No. 1 Goalie De-Frosts His Opposition

(By The AP Feature Service)

The goalie on a hockey team skates only in practice. During a game he stands in front of the goal, hops, twists, turns flips—40 keep the other team from scoring. Outstanding goalie of the National Hockey League this season has been the Boston Bruins' rookie, rank Brimsek. He prevented six of seven recent opponents from making a single point. His big hands helped. So did the coordination between eye and hand he learned as a baseball player. The pictures show Brimsek and high spots of his playing:

BEFORE A GAME, he puts on one special, snow saute of a goalie—to make quick, short jumps and twists easier. A goalie's other special equipment: Shin pads, heavy gloves, a hockey stick with a broad blade. All help him fend off the vicious, flying puck.

BRIMSEK credits assistance from teammates for his success. Notice four Boston men are helping Brimsek (No. 1) protect his goal. Only one N. Y. American is visible in the background of the photo. One Boston man is already after the puck, off to the right.

THIS IS the toughest part of a goalie's job. An opponent has skated past the defense and Brimsek is on his own. He may grab the puck, but he must throw it away at once—to a mate, if possible. He may block the puck or he may even fall on it.

A.C.C. DEFEATS LOCAL BOXERS

Wilson College Wins Over ECTC in Thrilling Events

The East Carolina Teachers College boxers lost three and a half to two and one-half decision to Atlantic Christian College last night in one of the most thrilling boxing meets the Wilson fans ever witnessed.

In the first fight of the evening Herbert White of A.C.C. last to Norman Fleming of E. C. T. C. in a fight marked by much offensive scrapping. The two lightweights were unable to put the finishing blow in for a knockout, but both fighters were in an offensive battle from beginning to end.

The second fight of the evening resulted in a decision for Pee Wee Holbes of A. C. C. over Harvey Braddy of E. C. T. C.

In the third fight of the evening Charles Brinn of E. C. T. C. lost to Bill Lee of A. C. C. in a technical knockout.

Probably the fastest fight of the evening was between David Breece of E. C. T. C., a 145-pounder, and Jim Brown Holiday of A. C. C. This fight was a draw.

In the next scrap, Jesse Gray of E. C. T. C., fighting his first fistic bout, lost to Billy Dickerson by decision that was much booed by the fans. Gray fought an offensive fight from the beginning and supplied his adversary with much punishment and received several damaging blows himself. This fight was marked by more action than probably any fight of the evening.

In the last fight of the evening Joe Williams, 166-pound fistic star, defeated Elmer Mottern, 165-pound A. C. C. boxing team captain, by decision. Williams fought a great defensive game in the first round but was unable to mark out the tough Mottern when he opened up his offensive fighting in the second and third rounds. Mottern proved to his fans that he can really take it as Williams delivered blow after blow with terrific force.

State Theatre Shows Lots Duke-USC Shots

Shots of the Rose Bowl game between Duke and Southern California will be shown at the State theatre here Sunday and Monday. The scenes will be different from the ones shown at the Pitt theatre this week.

Shots in the Metropole News include each of the four big gains that Duke made, two of Tipton's 15-yard runs and McAfee's 20-yard run and the long pass of Tipton to McAfee. It also includes Duke's two passes that were tipped by California men before they hit the ground. A long run by Jones of California with excellent blocking, is shown, as well as two of the four finishing passes, including the one that scored the touchdown.

Ruffa's field goal which appeared for a while to be the margin of victory is shown.

TO HIS LAW STUDENTS at Harvard this is a familiar pose of Prof. Felix Frankfurter, nominee to U. S. supreme court. Students cheered his first class since the nomination. Said he: "Thanks, but it won't make the course any easier."

Eighth N. C. District Nurses Hold Meeting

Wilson — The Eighth District nurses of the North Carolina Nurses Association met here Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in St. Timothy's Episcopal Parish House, with about eighty nurses attending from Washington, Weldon, Greenville, Rocky Mount, Goldsboro, Tarboro, Kinston, Snow Hill, Roanoke Rapids, and Wilson.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Miss Mary Smith, of Greenville. Business of importance was discussed and new officers for the ensuing year installed. During the afternoon Kitty Farmer, novelty dancer, accompanied by Miss Cecilia Crawley, pianist, gave several numbers. Movies of the history of Nursing were shown with Miss Myra Maxwell as narrator.

GIRLS OF G.H.S. IN 41 TO 10 WIN

Lady Phantoms Defeat Kinston in Impressive Victory

The Lady Phantoms of G. H. S. last night won an impressive 41-10 victory over the visiting Kinston sextet. The game was played in the high school gym and was the first of the regular schedule.

The guards of Coach Robeson's sextet offered outstanding play in holding the Kinston team to 10 points. At the half the visiting girls had only one point to their credit and the Phantomes held a 21-1 advantage at the end of the first half.

Audrey Leggett, star forward of the G. H. S. sextet, led both teams by garnering 26 points ere the final whistle. She was all over the court and seemed to make points from every angle.

The game was more interesting than the score indicates and both aggregations exhibited a clean but spirited game.

The victory by the Lady Phantoms concluded a perfect night for the athletic teams of G. H. S. The varsity G. H. S. cagers and the junior team won a double-header over Washington high school. Three victories in one night is very unusual for any team and especially on the night of Friday, the 13th.

Dinner was served following the meeting.

New officers installed were: President, Mrs. I. B. Paul, Washington, N. C.; first vice president, Miss Elizabeth Winborne, Wilson; second vice president Mrs. L. W. Gurvey, Rocky Mount; secretary Miss Ida L. Baird, Washington; treasurer, Miss Essie Mae Sivorthorne, Washington; Mrs. J. C. Raper of Wilson and Miss Frances Clairborne, of Washington, N. C., are two-year directors.

Pirates Win

The East Carolina Teachers College Pirates won a hard-fought basketball game from William & Mary College (N. D.) last night in Norfolk for a score of 34-25.

Brook, E. C. T. C. center, led in scoring with 14 points. Bill Shelton was held to 7 points by the superior guarding of Popkin of William & Mary.

The Pirates met the U. S. Naval Base basketball team at the Naval Base in Norfolk tonight.

Semitic campaigns being waged in Germany and elsewhere. Dr. Peacock expressed the opinion that the United States gone into the League of Nations, the League would have been stronger and the invasions by one country of another within the past several years would not have been experienced. He said he believed we were participating in part for the invasion of China by Japan. It all started, he said, when Japan invaded Manchuria, now Manchoukuo, without any interference from other nations. Then followed, he recalled, the invasion of Ethiopia by Italy, the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia and conquests by other countries to such an extent "we do not know where it will end."

Concerning the dangers within our own borders, the Tarboro minister said Communism, Fascism or some other "ism" may attempt to gain a hold on our country, and listed four means of maintaining our democracy as follows:

1. Education. Educating our children from the primary grades through the universities as to the value of the democratic form of government over any other method.
2. Maintenance of a free press. "Any nation which begins to curb its press is certain to bring about its own revolution. We must maintain a free press, free speech and the right of assembly."
3. Abolishment of poverty - as much as possible. "Poverty brought about the revolution in Russia and is bringing it about in other countries. Give the working man his rights."
4. Religion. "Religion is the only thing above all others that is going to save the country from all 'isms'. The war in Spain was caused by differences in religion, with the Loyalists seeking religious liberty and Franco's forces desiring adherence to the Roman Catholic church." Dr. Peacock said that if only one verse in the Bible was practiced there would be no strife, discontent or fear of overthrow of government. This quotation, from the seventh chapter of Matthew, seventh verse, follows: "Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them." The verse is known as the golden rule and literally interpreted as "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Rev. Clarence Patrick, chairman of the new program committee, was in charge of last night's program and introduced the speaker. Other members of the program committee to serve during President D. C. Moore's presidency are Dink James, O. P. Matthews, Dr. J. H. Barrett and Thomas E. Wilson.

Marvin L. Westmoreland, new state finance officer; Willard T. Kizer, executive secretary of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce; and Vernon Sheffield, North Carolina Kiwanian, were guests of the club last night.

The club endorsed a resolution asking the state to contribute financially to local libraries and calling upon the Pitt county delegation in the legislature to support such a movement.

This being the 24th anniversary of Kiwanis, Dink James read a message from the international president.

LEGISLATIVE LIMITS ON SIZE OF ARMY'S AIR FORCE DESIRED BY ADMINISTRATION

Chairman Byrnes (D-S.C.) and his unemployment committee have worked out a program for distributing WPA funds under rules laid down by Congress instead of authority delegated, as for the last six years, to the administration. Byrnes was expected to announce details of the proposals late today.

Also, administration leaders in the House tacitly endorsed the principles of proposed legislation to aid the railroads, but they indicated other problems would receive congressional consideration first.

NATIVE OF PITT COUNTY SOUGHT BY FBI AGENTS

On the return trip he escaped.

Chief of Police George Clark said today that Adrian Dudgey sought by FBI agents, on charges of defrauding a Baltimore woman of $52,000, is a son of the late Adrian Dudgey, who was born and reared about seven miles from Greenville. Chief Clark said the elder Dudgey left here and went to Washington, N. C., where he ran a saloon until he died. The man now being sought also lived in Washington. His mother is said to have married after the death of her first husband and to be living in Ayden now.

THE DAYS OF THE COAL RUSH on above site of Pittsburgh Housing Authority's first slum-clearing project was brief but highly satisfactory to the nearby residents. They grabbed shovels, bags, baskets, and dug some free winter coal. The housing authorities called the coal part of the famous "Pittsburgh vein," hadn't expected the outcropping on their land.

C.W. Howard Back After Trip to West

C. W. Howard, president of the Greenville Tobacco Company, returned yesterday from a trip to the Pacific coast, during which time he attended the Rose Bowl football game and visited numerous large cities.

Among the most important cities included in his itinerary were San Francisco, Portland, Minneapolis and St. Paul, Chicago and Louisville.

Mr. Howard declared that he found the ground covered with snow in each of the states he passed through, except California, Illinois and Kentucky. "We were virtually wrapped up in snow for three days," he said, adding we do not realize how fortunate we are to be living in North Carolina.

Although he reported much unemployment, especially in the western states, he said he found the people "very happy."

N. C. Library Head Visits Greenville

Miss Marjorie Beal, director of the State Library Commission and president of the Southeastern Library Association, spent today in Greenville, discussing with members of the board of trustees of Sheppard Memorial Library the demonstration new book truck service, and plans for future development.

Miss Beal expressed delight at the splendid record made by the bookmobile and the reception which it has had in the county. In only one county has the circulation from the bookmobile exceeded that of Pitt. The circulation last week was 1,333 books and all told has exceeded 5,000.

The bookmobile next week will make its last visit to stations in the county and begin collecting all books.

The bookmobile goes to Franklin county for the month of February and many are asking when Pitt county will have permanently a bookmobile to distribute books to the county.

EIGHT WOMEN CAUGHT WITH THEIR HAIR DOWN

London - (AP) - Eight women in a Richmond hairdresser's shop were halfway through a permanent waving operation when the electric lighting the district failed.

The hairdresser took his clients in taxis to Putney about five miles away and completed the "permanents."

OYSTERS FEEL NO PAIN

Sydney, Australia - (AP) - Sympathy for oysters eaten alive is "astounded sympathy," says T. Ireland, Australian museum conchologist.

"It can cut an oyster into 50 bits and it will feel no pain," he said.

Texas officials estimate the state is losing $200,000 a year from people who ship their cigarettes into the state by parcel post to avoid paying the state cigarette tax.

Reciprocal Trade Agreements with Latin and South American Countries Boosted Trade in All Texas Ports in 1938

Principal exports were oil and cotton and chief imports were raw sugar, canned beef and coffee.

New York Cotton

New York, Jan. 14 - (AP) - Cotton futures opened six to 10 higher. Trading was light. Support came from the trade in addition to some Wall street speculation buying.

In mid-morning trading continued on a narrow scale with prices up six to seven points, although December was nominally 10 higher. Futures closed six to 10 higher. Spot nominal, middling 8.92.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Jan. 14 - (AP) - Stocks took rallying nourishment in today's market and leading issued raked up gains of fractions to more than two points at the best.

While buying interest was relatively light, transfers were around 500,000 shares - pivotal steels, motors, aircrafts and rails were favored.

Action of the House of Representatives in lopping $150,000,000 from the President's WPA spending program seemed to please Wall Street.

Bonds trailed stocks to a lesser extent.
