SCHACHT AIDES ALSO REMOVED FROM OFFICE

Hitler Continues The Eradication of Conservative Group

STRONGER ARMY ALSO PROPOSED

All Germans Except Jews and Criminals Forced to Take Military Training

Berlin, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler continued today his eradication of the conservative influence of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht and at the same time moved to increase Germany's armed strength with a decree that every able-bodied man over 17 must keep fit for military service.

The Fuehrer removed from the bank's directorate two followers of Schacht, ousted yesterday from the presidency F. W. Levese succeeded as vice president by Rudolf Brinkmann, right-hand man of Schacht's successor as president, Economics Minister Walter Funk.

Both Dreyse—the board's oldest member, and Ernest Huehle, the other director removed, joined Schacht in opposing unrestricted spending and financing by piling up huge short-term debts. Their ousting left little doubt that the shelving of Schacht resulted from sharp differences of opinion with Hitler.

The Fuehrer's military measure would abolish physical unfitness in male Germans by compelling all but Jews and criminals to training from 17 up under direction of the brown-shirted Storm Troop organization.

Hitler raised the storm troops' status here, heretofore a pure Nazi party honor to the status of a badge of military fitness and made its acquisition the "basic" for pre- and post military training.

"Every man has a moral duty to win the SA (Storm Troop) badge of military fitness in preparation for army service," said the decree.

This means that male Germans with few exceptions, will be in uniforms of some kind almost from boyhood to old age. There were indications that Schacht, around whose head the storm broke yesterday, might be charged with continuing negotiations with George Rublee, American director of the inter-governmental committee of refugees, concerning emigration of German Jews.

Methodist Pastor Assembly Speaker

The Rev. Thomas M. Grant, of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, was the speaker at chapel at the College yesterday, his text being the verse from Paul's letter to the Philippians which says, "I press on toward the mark of the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

When people have no battles to fight, he said, they cease to be persons, and what God would like them to be.

In all conflict there is the possibility of going in two directions. "We are always facing temptation. There is a little black imp on our shoulder tempting us, but did it ever occur to you that there might be an angel on the other shoulder? Angels keep company withimps, and where there is an imp tempting us there is an angel pulling the other way. Our job is to ask which way we are going."

A person doesn't live until there is in him the decision: "I'm going somewhere." One might well keep before him the maxim, a German taught his students, "So live that the law of your life might become the law of all mankind."

Tax Penalty

A one per cent penalty will be added to all city and county taxes collected after February 1 and an additional one per cent will be added each month, making a three per cent penalty on taxes paid after April 1. Both County Tax Collector H. L. Andrews and City Collector J. O. Duval today called attention to the penalties.

INSURGENTS GAIN IN SPANISH CIVIL WAR

British Flying Boat Down 135 Miles East Of Norfolk

NONE INJURED IN N. Y. CRASH

Entire Front of Four-Story Brick Tenement Collapses

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The entire front of a four-story unoccupied brick tenement at 56th street and 11th avenue collapsed shortly before noon today, impeding the lives of children and others in the neighborhood after a thorough search of the rubble of bricks and mortar and broken laths. Fire Chief William Taubert said he was convinced no one had been killed or injured.

The roar of the falling bricks, which crushed a car parked at the curb, nevertheless sent shivers of fear throughout the neighborhood, and dozens of anxious mothers gathered at the scene as 50 or more firemen and policemen dug into the debris.

First reports were that a number of children playing on the sidewalk had been trapped in the shower of brick.

Thomas W. Lynch, a salesman, saw the walls drop as he was sitting at his desk across the way, facing a window.

He said just before the wall fell two small boys had emerged from the house with a sled. It was at first feared they had been killed.

The City of New York (five boroughs) is 36 miles long, north and south, and 16 1-2 miles wide.

Politicians Would Like Names On Old Age Rolls

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, Jan. 21.—Politicians are casting hopeful eyes at the House Committee on Public Welfare in wishful thought that this group may give a favorable report to a local bill compelling publication in Moore and Northampton counties of lists of recipients of Old Age Assistance and Indigent Children beneficiaries.

The idea is that if these local bills become law, it will be a good time to get the same law enacted for the state at large, thereby making available to the ambitious and office-hungry politicians a new source of campaign contribution collections through threats and intimidation.

Several Vessels Are Steaming to Rescue of Craft

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The New York office of Imperial Airways was advised at 2:15 p. m. today that Pan-American Airways "Bermuda Clipper" had left the Darrell's Island base at Hamilton, Bermuda, to search for the flying boat "Cavalier."

Earlier Mackay and Radio Mating Corporation reported receipt of an SOS from the British airplane Cavalier, flying between Bermuda and New York. Both said nothing more was heard from the plane after the first distress call.

The radio operator of the Cavalier reported his position to be latitude 38 north, longitude 70 west.

MacKay's operator in New York said the ship might be down and both radio companies said they were listening for further details.

The hull of aluminum alloy is considered strong enough to weather a considerable blow.

The flying boat is equipped with life belts and emergency rations. Each seat has a life belt underneath it.

The plane's position, it is given would place it several hundred miles east of Cape Hatteras.

The coast guard said the Pan-American office at Baltimore said the plane was completely crashed and reported the S.S. Lillian, a well.

SAYS GERMANY TO COOPERATE

Nazis Said Be Ready To Aid in Refugee Problem

Berlin, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Field Marshal Herman Goerring assured Geo. Rublee, American director of the inter-governmental refugee committee today that Germany was ready to continue trying to find ways of sending her Jews abroad.

Rublee, who arranged to go to Berlin tonight, said he would return to Berlin early next week. He said that the negotiations would continue on the basis of a plan already agreed by and discussed with Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, ousted yesterday, president of the Reichsbank.

Rublee asserted that his talk today with the number two man of the Nazi regime was "very cordial and satisfactory."

The Schacht plan, which Rublee and two American assistants came here January 10 to discuss, made the assistance of other governments in an expansion of Germany's export trade a condition of Nazi cooperation in German Jewish emigration arrangements.

SENATOR SAYS ECONOMY BLOC FACES DEFEAT

Sen. Adams Ruefully Predicts Defeat On Senate Floor

FAVORED SLASH IN RELIEF FUNDS

Senate Vote on WPA Appropriation First Test of Administration Strength

Washington, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The Senate Appropriations committee approved today a $725,000,000 relief appropriation. This sum, $150,000,000 less than the amount asked by President Roosevelt, already had been approved by the House.

The committee vote was 17 to seven in favor of the $725,000,000 figure.

Washington, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Economy advocates probably will "get the whey beaten" out of them when the question of slashing $150,000,000 from the WPA fund asked by President Roosevelt reaches the Senate floor, Senator Adams (D-Col.) conceded ruefully today.

Adams is chairman of the Senate subcommittee which yesterday followed the example of the House and voted $725,000,000 instead of the $875,000,000 requested by President Roosevelt to operate the work relief agency through June 30.

The Coloradoan, who voted for the reduction, predicted it probably would be approved today by the full senate appropriations committee, but he added:

"The committee will probably get the whey beaten out of it on the floor of the Senate as it usually does when it makes an honest effort to economize."

The Senate vote will be the first test of sentiment toward any part of the President's program of continued large-scale spending.

Mayor Laguardia of New York thinks the government work relief program will have to be continued for nine years.

This was disclosed with the publication of testimony before the Senate appropriations subcommittee which considered the WPA appropriations bill.

Laguardia said his nine year estimate was a "guess," but that with perfecting of the Social Security program and improvement in business, it should be possible to terminate the relief program in that period.

The 76th Congress completed its third week amid multiplying signs that Democratic peace-makers faced a tremendous task in its effort to achieve party harmony before the 1940 campaign.

The two major subjects for Congressional action, the relief appropriation and President Roosevelt's appointments, brought boiling to the surface the bitterness generated by court bill fight two years ago and an attenuated last summer by New Deal efforts to defeat unfriendly Democratic senators.

Wife And Small Child Perish As Home Burns

Mrs. Leslie Smith Of Williamston Dies in Flames

Williamston, N. C., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Mrs. Leslie Smith, 25, and her year-old daughter were burned to death early today when fire destroyed their farm home near here.

The charred bodies, clasped together, were found in the ashes of the kitchen near the spot where a window opened into the yard. Mrs. Smith apparently had tried to escape through the window.

Mrs. Smith was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Griffin, members of a prominent Martin county family.

Smith, overcome with grief, was restrained by friends as he sought to go into the blazing house in an effort to rescue his wife and child.

Recounting the tragedy, he said he called his sister-in-law, Miss Verna Griffin, a visitor in the home, when he discovered the fire and then went to a neighbor's to summon assistance.

When he returned to the scene, he said, he heard his wife scream and realized she was trapped. (Continued on page six)

Criminal Term To Begin On Monday

This week's civil session of Superior court was concluded yesterday afternoon after 16 of the 30 cases on the calendar had been disposed of and 14 continued.

Included in the list of cases continued were one each by Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Heath vs. J. M. Ward, et al. The cases charge the couple were frightened and as a result suffered from the experience when their house was allegedly hit when Ward and other special ABC officers fired on suspected rum runners.

A week of criminal court is scheduled to get under way here Monday morning with Judge Clawson Williams presiding in the chair. A total of 76 cases are listed on the criminal calendar, in addition to the 27 awaiting action by the Grand Jury and which are set for trial which and if called during the week.

Sees No Foundation For Talk Of 4,000 Road Jobs

Raleigh, Jan. 21.—Hopes of North Carolina laborers that they may get a chance at four million dollars worth of country road work during the next four months, seem to have been unduly raised by recent dispatches from Raleigh. These stories stated that State WPA Administrator George Coon had made available three million dollars to supplement the million dollars earmarked by Governor Hoke for farm-to-market road work during the spring and early summer. Availability of the money is not questioned, but practicality of its use is very questionable.

There is no change in the long established policy of the Highway Commission to use WPA allocations for labor only when it is advantageous to the state and when its use will get more road work for the North Carolina dollars. There have

Only Brief, Perfunctory Session By Two Branches of Legislature Today

Raleigh, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The House and Senate held brief perfunctory sessions this morning with only a handful of assemblymen present.

Each division adjourned to meet again Monday night at 8 o'clock following afternoon meetings of committees.

There were no house bills, but two local measures were passed by representatives and sent to the senate.

In the Senate Rodman of Beaufort and Gregory of Rowan introduced three bills, amending the Unemployed Compensation Commission act, and passed on third reading two local measures.

Rodman's and Gregory's proposals were identical with three amendments to the Unemployment Compensation statutes introduced in the House Friday. The amendments change the basis of benefits, provide an "employee merit rating" system for keeping funds and make provisions for seasonal industry.

A local bill by Rodman to allow the Beaufort county commissioners to settle damages done by fire to a store used as a school building was sent to the House.

Meanwhile a multiplicity of proposals and amendments of concrete developments marked the third week of the assembly.

Observers looking back saw but three definite actions:

1. The assemblymen approved a bill exempting veteran UCC employees from the requirement that they take merit examinations in order to hold their jobs, (however, the Commission advised its employees to take the examinations, which began today).

2. An unfavorable committee report apparently killed a proposal to abandon the lethal gas chamber and return to electricity as the mode of execution.

3. Forces opposing diversion of highway funds lost their first skirmish when the House by a vote of 62 to 38 ordered an anti-diversion resolution sent to the Finance committee rather than the roads committee. Later the Senate transferred a similar resolution from its Roads to its Finance committee.

Would Deport All Communist Aliens

Washington, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The government told the Supreme Court today that membership in the Communist party makes an alien in this country subject to deportation.

Solicitor General Robert Jackson made this statement in a brief filed in connection with litigation involving a deportation order against Joseph Strecker of Hot Springs, Ark.

This case is expected to have an effect on possible deportation proceedings against Harry Bridges, Australian-born west coast CIO leader.

Strecker's deportation was ordered by Secretary of Labor Perkins under a 1918 statute barring aliens who belong to any organization that advocated "overthrow by force or violence" of the government of the United States.

The government appealed from a decision by the Fifth Federal Circuit court that membership in the Communist party of America alone is not found sufficient to warrant the deportation.

Sabers, Miss Lucy Ann Barrow read effectively Henry Van Dyke's "The Lost Word" to the members of the vesper group at the college Friday evening. The story took place in ancient Antioch. Hermas, a rich heir who has given up his heritage for Christianity, decided that life would be well worth living to John of Antioch he gives the key word to religion—the name of Christ—in exchange for his dreams. Hermas returned to his father's home to find him dying. Attempting to give him the word in which he might have faith, he failed, for the word would not come. Hermas was married, he prospered but his life was not complete without that lost word. His horses won in the chariot race in the annual races but his son, the apple of his eyes, was thrown from the chariot and almost killed. Grieving over the condition of their son, Hermas and Antioch were interrupted by John of Antioch who returned the lost word, and with it their son, back to their use. Present Program At School. Celebrating the memory of Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson, whose birthdays are January 19 and 21, respectively, the George B. Singletary chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy in conjunction with the journalism class, yesterday presented two assembly programs at the high school. In the morning the senior high school students enjoyed the especially arranged program and in the afternoon the junior high students attended the same program, repeated because of inadequate space in the auditorium for both schools. The feature of the senior high program was the presentation of two volumes of "The Rise and Fall of the Confederate Government" by Jefferson Davis, to the high school library by the U. D. C. The books were specially prepared as donations to high schools. The program was opened with a hymn "My Faith Looks Up To Thee," followed by a scripture reading by Ruth Crumpler, Virginia Moore then led the audience in prayer. Kenneth Woolard told the story of several of the outstanding characteristics of Lee, and John Lauterbach read a poem "The Sword of Lee." Special music for the occasion was furnished by a mixed group of high school glee club members, who sang "Carry Me Back To Old Virginia," and Mr. H. A. McDougle, who gave a trumpet solo "Massa's In De Cold, Cold Country." V. M. Mulholland principal of the high school, then accepted the gift books on behalf of the high school. Wayland Tucker presided over the program.

Girls Turn To Grandma's Spinning Wheel To Help Earn Their Way Through College

(By The AP Feature Service) Mount Berry, Ga. — Pretty farm and mountain girls of the Southern Appalachians are using grandmothers' old spinning wheel to work their way through college. Not only do they spin the old-time way, but they also use old-fashioned carding sets to prepare cotton and wool for spinning, and ancient hand looms to weave the cloth. The results is homespun clothing of beauty and quality that would make their grandmothers proud. The homespun is made into dozens of customer attracting articles—scarfs, aprons, napkins, smocks, bedspreads, table covers, and the like. These bring premium prices at a sales room in Martha Berry's famous mountain schools where nearly 100 girls are working their way. For eight months of the year these girls (and other students) work two days a week and go to school for four days. The other four months of the year they may work full time. Paid by the hour, they can thus earn enough to pay their tuition, board and other expenses and still have some money left over. Visitors Buy Products. Approximately 15,000 persons visit annually the schools. Visitors furnish a fairly steady market for the products made by students. The 1,200 students on the 25,000 acre campus with its 100 buildings and 160 instructors and supervisors have 25 different farm, shop and home industries where they can earn money. They learn useful trades or vocations while working. More than 92 per cent work their way entirely through the high school and college departments. The other eight per cent are able to pay only a part of their expenses in cash. Only mountain or rural boys and girls who do not have money to get an education elsewhere are admitted to these schools which Miss Berry now past 70, has spent more than half of her life developing.

UNIFORMS FOR OUR BAND

The movement started yesterday to procure new uniforms for the 60 members of our city High School Band has already resulted in the donation of half the required number and those on the committee feel that other citizens when called upon will provide the others.

Our High School Band is a good advertisement for our city and certainly it should be attractively uniformed for its public appearances. The movement started by a group of local business men yesterday, likewise proposes the sending of the band to the New York World's Fair to take part in the North Carolina Day parade, and such a plan would be worth far more to the city from an advertising standpoint than the amount that it would cost.

We are sure that there are many local business firms and individuals who will desire to donate the cost of one of the uniforms and we urge such persons to get in touch with Joseph M. Taft or J. H. Waldrop at once.

RATE STRUCTURE SHOULD BE REVISED

Despite the fact that we feel that the whole Compensation Unemployment feature of the Social Security Act is but a nefarious scheme to get more taxes, and the rates charged are far beyond the amounts needed to take care of the situation, we feel that if Unemployment Compensation is to continue the Cherry bill submitted to the legislature yesterday is certainly a fairer plan of tax than the present flat rate now in existence.

Under the present plan every employer pays a flat three per cent tax on his payrolls, whether or not the industry is subject to frequent lay-offs, with the result that one industry is being made to carry the burden of paying compensation to persons laid off by other industries. The Cherry bill provides that each employer be based on a system whereby his rate of tax is in proportion to the lay-off of his employees. Such a plan, we believe, would be an incentive to some employers to keep their employees on the job rather than lay them off, and steady employment is the one thing that the country needs at present. Under the present system the tax is so burdensome that in many instances employees who are not badly needed are laid off in order that the employer might save enough to pay the tax.

We repeat, we are opposed to the whole plan of Unemployment Compensation, but if we must have the evil, certainly we believe that the burden of taxation should rest more lightly upon those employers who strain a point to keep their employees on the job the year round instead of letting them go just as soon as the rush season is over.

DANGEROUS SERVICE

by GRACE ELLIOTT TAYLOR

The Characters
Peter Mallone: An adventurous young Englishman.
Petronella: His sister, and staunch supporter.

Yesterday a newspaper editor advises Peter to take the rice-milling job in Burma, and send him articles if any news breaks there.

Chapter Four
Burma
THE voyage out to Rangoon exceeded both Peter's and Petronella's most optimistic expectations. As soon as they had settled down to the ship's life, they discovered that the "Ayshire" was carrying an exceptional number of young people. There were six girls going out for the season. If they were part of the famous "fishing fleet" they displayed no signs of anxiety. Their light-hearted love affairs engaged them with the newest "chakra," a sword brand with the ship's officers, or with anybody who happened to attract them. They formed themselves, after the first few days, into a mob of young, riotous people, who ran the ship, and whose spirit carried all before it.

Rangoon was an incongruous mixture of East and West.

Petronella was madly excited and happy. Just when she was feeling at her widest and maddest, she would feel her delight suddenly checked, held in the midst of laughter, turned to fear. What was going to happen to them all? This glorious picnic could not last. Mac Jamson was going to be banished for five years to the jungles of Ceylon. Would he be lappy there? So many of them did not know anything about the life to which they were going. So few of them knew what it meant to be lonely. In their serious moments, they talked to the older passengers, questioning them, listening to them. Peter asked questions too, of a tall, gray haired man in the I.C.S. His young wife had died of acute appendicitis, in a lonely station. He told her other stories that seemed to interest the gaily colored bubble of the present with a thorny landing.

When they reached Colombo, six of them hired a car and drove up to Kandi. In the sticky heat, they found it difficult to keep awake, and nudged each other when they dozed, to make them look at the scenery. They saw the temple of the Tooth, the elephants working timber. On the road home they were driven into a ditch, without accident. The driver, a miserable specimen, demanded more money, before he would persuade his friends to haul the car out again. Encouraged by Peter, they levered it out themselves, and drove on, leaving him sitting in the middle of the road with a punched head. They left his taxi in its tank, dined at a hotel and swam by moonlight in the warm, breaking waves at Mount Lavinia. They caught the "Ayshire," which sailed at one o'clock, by five minutes.

Petronella was pleased, surprised, but made to feel a little awkward, when her gray haired friend in government service gave her a beautiful unmounted snuff. Although he said nothing, as told her with his eyes that he loved her.

All this was very old stuff in deed to two hundred of the passengers. But it was very new to the Mallones.

Golden Pagoda
AFTER Colombo, they were suddenly anxious to arrive. The ship already carried ghosts. There were empty decks, and a deserted feeling about the dining saloon and cocktail alley. A great many of the forty who had sung songs, danced, and made love, had disembarked. Those that were left, spent the last few days more quietly, tending to nuzzle together.

Monday: Social whirl.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL and LYNN NISBET

Raleigh, Jan. 21—Libby Ward has made a fine impression as presiding officer in the House, but to date he has given voice to only one wise crack of the type which used to keep floor and galleries roaring during Greg Cherry's regime.

The one bright and original sally came during a session whereat everybody and his brother were being extended courtesies of the floor, galleries and what have you.

During a brief lull, Libby snapped: "Does any other member see anybody and where road who might vote for him—if so I'll extend the courtesies."

Within two minutes after the Ward sally, Wake's Bill Hatch showed himself a believer in pre-emptive action.

"I see in the galleries a group of prospective voters," he intoned. "I see the seventh grade of the Murphy School of Raleigh and I ask, Mr. Speaker, that the courtesies of the gallery be extended them."

Friday two veterans of hundreds of legislative battles skirmished very briefly over a question of parliamentary procedure.

Rowan's "Pete" Murphy, who sat in the House in the Gay Nineties, rose during the session to inform Bill Wener, temporarily presiding for Libby Ward that it requires a "suspension of the rules and a two-thirds vote to take a bill from the unfavorable calendar."

Whereupon up rose almost equal-veteran Zeb Turlington to point out that no suspension of rules is needed in such cases—only that two thirds vote.

Mr. Murphy quite readily agreed, with the remark he meant that it was similar to suspension of rules in that it requires two-thirds.

Up in the far west Democrats and Republicans take their party affiliation very seriously. The few Republican legislators seldom get away with any political shenanigans.

Representative Finch of Buickville is a legislative veteran and ought to know better. He asked permission to introduce a bill out of order at Friday's house session, and when the clerk started reading the Asheville man leaped to his feet and cried "That's the wrong bill; send it back!"

When the House of Representatives adjourned yesterday it adjourned in honor of former Senator Simmons, who that day observed the 85th anniversary of his birth. This action came upon motion of Representative Zeb Turlington of Iredell, who paid the former senator an eloquent tribute for his services to North Carolina.

The senate passed a bill bringing general embezzlement act under the general embezzlement act, and sent it over to the house. Representative Page wanted to know what it was all about, its purpose was explained. Page cracked back: "That fixes it so you can send them to jail with the rest of the bankers, does it? He voted loudly for the bill."

Senator John D. Larkins, Jr., was roaming around the Senate chamber Friday with a handful of tickets.

The distinctive-voting Senator was chairman of the successful Jackson Day dinner. He is now disposing of duats to the Eastern North Carolina Chamber of Commerce dinner to be given next week.

"Well, I'm the goat again," he called brightly to Senator Joseph Blaine.

"You mean still, don't you?" replied the Mecklenburger.

"At any rate, I don't think I'll have much trouble with these tickets—they're free," said the ever optimistic Mr. Larkins.

First bill of the session to be taken from the unfavorable calendar will soon find its way back there.

Representative Ashby Robinson of McDowell, with the backing of Cleveland's distinguished Octus M. Mull, got a unanimous vote to send back to Judiciary No. 1 his bill exempting motor vehicle owners from liability for injuries to hitchhikers and other guest riders in accidents caused by ordinary negligence.

Committee Chairman W. T. Hatch said the bill was given a thorough examination by his group which was unanimously against it. Which doesn't make it look good for Mr. Robinson's pet, even with the author appearing to plead for it.

Wilson Punchers Defeat ECTC Scrappers 3-2 Here

Williams and Wilkerson Turn in Victories for Locals

By JAMES WHITFIELD
Sparked by a weight advantage of from four to five pounds, Coach Chick Andrews' Atlantic Christian College pugilists ploughed through an attack meted out by a corps of scrappers representing East Carolina Teachers College and came out on the heavy end of a 3-2 verdict here last night.

Local victories were produced by two Greenville boys, Joe (Dynamite) Williams, E.C.T.C. captain, who weighed in at 165 pounds, and punched his way to a thrill-studded decision over Wilson's Elmer Mottern, 170-pounds, in the feature offer of the five-way fight card. Herbert Wilkerson, 126, was awarded a decision over C. F. Piley, 130, of A.C.C., in the first battle of the night.

Williams' duel supplemented a bout tentatively scheduled between David Breese, former Raleigh boy and E.C.T.C. ace, and Jim Brown, Holliday of Atlantic Christian College. Breese has developed molar trouble and was compelled to exclude himself from last night's doings. He will likely be ready to participate in the locals' upcoming performance, however.

From the sound of the gong in the beginning to the end of the scrap, Williams and Mottern made their engagement the topnotch event of the evening. Williams landed a series of terrific wallops on Mottern's anatomy in the first round. His ability to guide his punches to a chosen destination kept Mottern's back against the ropes several times.

Continuing to pepper his opponent with "dynamite" punches, Williams indicated in the second round that he was trying to land a lethal punch. When this round ended, both scrappers were on the receiving end of a barrage of powerful wallops. A knockout seemed inevitable in the last round, but it failed to come.

Neither Wilkerson nor Piley offered any serious threats in their minute battles. However, they were credited with displaying a clean and hard-fought duel.

Pee Wee Holmes, weighing 137 pounds, gained a technical knockout over Harvey Braddy, 136 pound E. C. T. C. scrapper. Holmes showed indications of victory in the early seconds of the first round. Blood-producing powerhouses than took effect on Braddy's chin and nasal region cut the battle short when sixty seconds had elapsed in the second round.

Jesse Gray, 136-pound E. C. T. C. entry, lost an unpopular decision to Wilson's Billy Lee, tipping the scales at four pounds more than his opponent. Gray is destined to become a fairly efficient scrapper. At present he is handicapped by the inability to dish out punishment, but he can take it. In last night's activities, both fighters gained punch momentum as the battle progressed.

Billy Dickinson, a 144-pound A. C. C. leather pusher, defeated Charles Brinn, weighing 140 pounds. Neither was energetic in the first round until the concluding seconds, with Dickinson holding an advantage. Brinn's knee collided with the canvas in the second round.

Due to regulations governing hilarity among spectators while a fight is in progress, the large number of fans witnessing last night's card refrained from cheering until the between-round periods prevailed. They were comfortably seated, for the most part, on portable seats purchased especially for use during boxing engagements.

Judges for last night's doings were George Gardner, Greenville fire chief, and Bob Forbes, local athlete. The Rev. Harry Jackson, Ayden minister, acted as referee.

This was the locals' first home engagement for the present season and the second defeat at the hands of the Bulldog boxers. A C. C. was victorious 3 1-2 to 2 1-2 at Wilson on Friday night of last week.

Junior Phantoms Lose 35 to 16 Tilt

Coach Herman Fulkerson's Baby Green Phantoms of G. H. S. went down in defeat last night at the hands of a stronger junior team in Rocky Mount, to the tune of 35-16. Experience and reserve power kept the locals in check through the game and at no time did they threaten greatly in scoring ways.

Gene Johnson, Phantom guard, led the losers with six points. Greenville did much better in the second half, actually outscoring the Rocky Mount juniors in this period, but the Blackbirds had taken over the situation in the first two quarters.

At half-time the hosts held a 21-1 lead.

Lose Heart-Breaking 16-14 Game to the Goldsboro Highs

By "Smut" Burks
Suffering their first setback of the season, the G.H.S. basketball live lost a heart-breaking 16-14 decision to the Earthquake five of Goldsboro high in a game played at Goldsboro last night.

The regulation game ended in a 14-14 deadlock and an extra period was necessary to settle the contest. Perry sank the winning goal after 2:15 of the three minute extra period to end the Phantom's victory march.

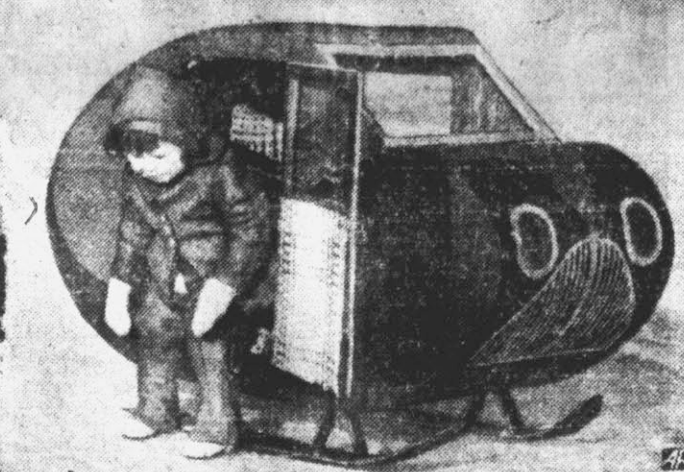

The first half saw little scoring by either team and Goldsboro held a 7-3 lead at the midway point. The Greene attack didn't seem to click the first half and the Phantoms didn't register a single field goal until the second half.

The G-men came back strong in the third quarter and tied into 14-9 lead and was out in front until the last few seconds of the game. With the score 14-12 in favor of the Phantoms and only two seconds left in the ball game Nickens scored from action to tie the score as the final whistle sounded.

Lautares, star guard and leader of the Phantom five, was ejected from the game via the foul rule in the third quarter with G.H.S. holding a 14-9 edge over the Earthquakes. The loss of Lautares seemed to dishearten the Greensies and bring about their defeat.

The Phantoms missed several apparently easy shots and also many foul shots, any of which would have won the ball game. Their shooting was very erratic and their attack was also by poor ball handling.

GIRLS OF G.H.S. IN 30 TO 22 WIN

Lady Phantoms Get Victory over Goldsboro Sextet

By KENNETH WOOLARD
In their third contest of the season the Lady Phantoms of G. H. S. downed the Goldsboro girls last night by a score of 30-22, for the second Greenville win. The game was played just prior to the game between the Goldsboro and Greenville varsity boys.

As the first quarter ended the locals were behind the Lady Earthquakes by a margin of 1 point, but they forced ahead and held a 15-9 lead at half-time. During the first half the game proved to be about equal, as both teams played fine basketball.

Fine defensive playing by the Greenville guards kept the crack-siders hosts under control most of the game. On offense, the Phantomettes were paced by Joy Flanagan, whose uncanny pot shots netted her a total of 11 points. Betty Tyson followed with 10 tallies and Audrey Leggett, who has copped 50 points in three games, ended the night's scoring with 9. Jane Harrison was the defensive star for the Greenville sextet.

Liles proved to be the star for the Goldsboro girls with 11 points. However, she was closely followed by Sutton with 10. The entire Goldsboro sextet played a fine floor game, and gave the guests much trouble.

Lineup for Greenville: forwards—Tyson 10, Flanagan 11, Leggett 9, Scoville, guards: Harrison, Dupree, Wells, Harris, Roberts.

Lineup for Goldsboro: forwards—Liles 11, Sutton 10, Flanson, Deane; guards: Flowers, Harris, Parker, Simmons.

Then Aldo Cipolat, who scored a total of 26 points for Lynchburg, started hitting the net. He made the local's final two points on free throws to give his team a 4-point lead. The visitors were able to score but one basket before the gun.

Hike Of Beer Tax Appears Unlikely

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Jan. 21—Comment of legislators—particularly members of the Finance committee—indicate that there is small likelihood that the present tax of 24 cents a case of 24 bottles of beer will be increased. Instead, there has developed a decided current of legislative opinion favoring a new method of collecting the tax on beer, which would keep the rate as at present.

The Budget Commission recommended a 50 per cent increase in the beer levy and shortly after the session convened there were rumors of an attempt to double the current tax. The Revenue Department's current collection method, which is to collect the tax on beer by the wholesaler dealer or bottler to pay the state levy of $3.00 per barrel or one cent per bottle. These dealers are required to keep voluminous records and there are numerous restrictions and regulations of the transportation of beer on the highways, but dealers contend that it is a comparatively easy matter to bottle beer into the state by means of fake interstate bills of lading.

It is proposed to levy a crown tax, a so-called "identification" method—whereby every bottle of beer sold anywhere in North Carolina would show clearly whether or not the tax has been paid thereon.

Adoption of the new method, dealers claim, would increase state revenue about $400,000 annually without any increase whatever in the rate.

Opposition to this change, however, is expected to develop from the bottlers of soft drinks, to whom the prospects of a "crown tax" has been a very real nightmare. They don't want any such precedent established for fear that the legislators, looking around for new tax sources, will lay such a tax on their products.

BRITISH FLYING BOAT DOWN

as the steamer General Lee and the tanker Virginia Sinclair were steaming to the rescue.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 21—(AP)—Coast Guard headquarters here was advised this afternoon that the position of the British plane Cavalier, down at sea, was 300 miles east of Norfolk. The Coast Guard cutter Icarus, out of New York City, was reported 135 miles from the plane's position.

TAXES GOING UP, UP AND UP
Herbert Hoover stepped into the White House. Yet President Roosevelt has now indicated that another $9,000,000,000 will be poured out in 1939-40. We are currently spending at the rate of $18,000 per minute, or approximately $9,000 since you began reading this article (nearly three hours ago). I have always considered $9,000 as a fair-sized estate. How can the government go on destroying 20 fortunes every hour, 500 every day, 180,000 every year?

Government Supporting 25,000,000
Last year, public spending, including not only the Federal, but the state and local government, totaled $17,000,000,000. This represented more than 25 per cent of the national income. Add up the number of individuals getting support from the government. My figures show 250,000,000. One person out of every six gets his livelihood from the government. There are only 100,000,000 workers who should be getting employed. This means that every seventh wage earner is not only supporting his family, but another person on the public payroll!

Just for illustration, let us take a family which earns $7 a week, $150 a month, or $1,800 a year. Studies show that such a family spends about $10 per week or $50 per year on food. Of this, 70 cents per week, or $35 a year, represents indirect taxes. Even if you pay taxes and pay $2 to the milk bill, $9 to the butcher's, $10 to the baker's, and $10 to the grocer, you are still paying $35 a year in taxes. On every loaf of bread, 33 cents taxes!

The Untaxed Taxed
The average family probably spends $30 per month in rent. Of this amount, $7.50 a month, or $90 per year, is for local taxes. Each year the average family of $175 of the family income. In this amount, $45 is the tax collector. The same dollar through 79 separate taxes, takes a $5 cut out of a $50 net. With 113 different taxes, he takes 103 per cent of the price of a package of cigarettes. This new paper is paying 83 taxes you never knew anything about. Every move you make, you are paying taxes to the public treasury. And when you see these incredible taxes, let a word high there are 157 of them!

$20 to Tax Collector
All that this average family—when taxes on real property and the 100 or so taxes—forks over $20-$24 of its annual income of $1,800 for hidden taxes. This represents one-seventh of the total income. It means that for every six dollars the family bread-winner works for himself, one for the tax-collector. In the case of very wealthy people the reverse is true; they work one day for themselves and six for the public. The significant point is that these unseen taxes are rising every year. In 1933, the hidden tax collector forced the wage earner to work only one day in ten. How soon will he be working one day in three?

Yet, the members of this family kid themselves into thinking that they pay no taxes. The dismiss a flagrant misuse of public funds by some comment such as this: "Well, let 'em spend. Rockefeller can afford it!"—Sure Rockefeller can; but can they? In this connection, let me say that our people are now forced to fill out 135,000,000 tax and other government forms per year. Certainly, these are not all filled unless America is swept by a spiritual revival, the day of reckoning is coming. Four years ago, I wrote that unless spending was curbed, America was headed for the rocks. The only change in my opinion today is that we are nearer the rocks.

Unless you—the voters—care enough for your personal liberty to have the courage to put the spendthrifts, grafters, wasters, and parasites out of public offices, the United States is headed for chaos and Democracy is doomed for a generation to come!
