MAY BE FORCED TO RECOGNIZE REBEL REGIME

Chamberlain Hints at Recognition by Democracies

NO DECISION ON QUESTION AS YET

Prime Minister Says, However, Impossible to Say What Action Britain Will Take

London, Feb. 13.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain hinted today before the House of Commons at early British and French recognition of the Insurgent regime in Spain, but said no decision had been made as yet.

The Prime Minister said that with the situation changing rapidly, it was impossible for him to give assurance the British government did not contemplate recognizing Insurgent authorities as the de jure government of Spain.

A de facto government is one actually functioning, although not set up permanently or not yet recognized. A de jure government is a legal regime.

"I may say, however," Chamberlain added, "that his Majesty's government who are in close touch with the French Government have taken no decision as yet in the matter."

Arthur Henderson, a Laborite, had asked assurance that recognition was not contemplated.

"It would obviously be impossible for me to give such assurance in a situation which is changing very rapidly," Chamberlain said.

Answering another question by Henderson, whether Chamberlain could be persuaded before any such fundamental change in policy is known, the Prime Minister said, "I am not in a position to say so."

State Gets Share Of Hosiery Mills

Raleigh, Feb. 13.—North Carolina got by far the lion's share of all new hosiery mills established in the United States last year, according to figures released by the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers.

Attention was called to these figures today by J. T. Anderson, industrial engineer in charge of the Commerce and Industry division of the Department of Conservation and Development. He pointed out that they show that more new mills were established in North Carolina in 1938 than in any other of the Union.

In all, 45 new hosiery plants—full-fashioned and seamless—were located in North Carolina, of which 37 began knitting. Of these 19 were full-fashioned and 18 seamless.

The Southern States attracted altogether 39 new full-fashioned hosiery mills, while only 15 new mills were established in all the northern, mid-western and western states—the figures showed. Of the 15 new mills in other sections, 12 were started in Pennsylvania and Delaware, two in all of New England, New York and New Jersey and only one in the Mid-West.

A total of 31 new seamless mills located in the South, of which North Carolina got 18. Only six mills opened in sections other than the South.

Five Others Injured By Blast Near Mars Hill

Mars Hill, N. C., Feb. 13.—(AP)—Three workmen were killed instantly and five others injured seriously early today in a dynamite blast at a rock quarry six miles from here.

The workers were warning themselves at an open fire when the explosion occurred at 6:45 a. m.

Officials of the Nello Teer construction company of Durham, operators of the quarry, said they were unable to ascertain immediately the cause of the explosion.

The dead were Fred Thomas, 45, of Mars Hill, and Cling Shepton, 18, and Roscoe Metcalf, 43, both of Laurin.

An eye witness who stood about 50 feet from the scene said portions of the bodies were scattered all around him.

Construction company officials said the explosion was a short distance from the fire.

Approximately one hundred men had been employed in crushing and hauling rock from the quarry for use in highway construction nearby.

LABOR SPYING IS CONDEMNED

Civil Liberties Committee Opposes Private Police

Washington, Feb. 13.—(AP)—The Senate Civil Liberties committee recommended legislation today to stop labor spying and to restrict the activities of company police.

The committee, headed by Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis.) was sharply critical of activities by police employed by the Republic Steel Corporation and the Harlan county, Kentucky, Coal Operators Association.

"The experiences in Harlan county, Kentucky, and in the industrial communities where Republic Steel Corporation operates," the committee said, "indicates clearly that where private police are used as instruments of anti-union policy they 'abridge and violate the civil liberties of workers and other individuals.'"

"Violate the rights of labor guaranteed by federal statutes. Result in riots and bloodshed, despoiling of life and injury to persons and property."

"Endanger the public safety."

"On the economic front, the committee declared, 'the use of private police systems as agents in employers' anti-union policy causes...'"

JUDGE DENIES HINES MOTION

Declines Dismiss Case Against Political Leader

New York, Feb. 13.—(AP)—Judge Carl C. Nott, Jr., denied a defense motion today for dismissal of the case against James J. Hines, political leader now being tried a second time on conspiracy charges that he used his influence to abet the $20,000,000 lottery racket operated by the late Arthur (Dutch) Schultz, Fliegenheimer.

Lloyd Paul Stryker, chief of defense counsel had argued, in the absence of the jury, for dismissal of the one conspiracy and 12 felony counts against Hines.

Stryker challenged the failure of the conspiracy counts to come within the two-year statutory limitations for misdemeanor and said the indictment was invalid.

Judge Nott said he would leave it to the jury to decide whether the conspiracy was outlawed by the statute of limitations.

Reports Of Committees Are Expected This Week

Reflector Bureau. By HENRY AVERILL. Raleigh, Feb. 13.—Reports from at least three highly important committees—the two big money groups and the House Election Law units—are likely to reach the floor of the House this week.

In any preview of coming events, these three possibilities must be given first place.

The Revenue and Appropriations bills will, of course, come out of the committees for study by the entire membership as a committee of the whole and not for immediate enactment into law.

The Election Law report will go immediately to the floor for passage and is certain to bring on the biggest and loudest debate of this session.

In addition to these three committee reports, an important feature of this week's activities will

REBELS BEGIN DRIVE AGAINST CENTRAL SPAIN

Insurgent Shells Hurl-ed Into Heart of Madrid

SIXTEEN KILLED THERE YEST'DAY

Premier Negrin Calls On Followers to Offer Same Resistance Shown Before

42—REBELS ... SPOON—Perpignan, France, Feb. 13.—(AP)—Spanish Insurgent guns, hurling shells into the heart of Madrid, brought the Civil war today back to the ancient capital, where the Government was striving to rally its dwindling forces.

Government dispatches said that more than 100 shells fell in the crowded central streets of Madrid Sunday, killing 16 persons and wounding 23. Steady repetitions of the bombardments were feared. Insurgent air raids on Government cities caused more than 100 deaths at Jativa, 40 miles south of Valencia and 20 deaths and injuries at Valencia also was bombed.

The central Madrid-Valencia zone had been quiet while the Insurgents carried out the campaign in north-eastern Spain, which started December and ended last week in the conquest of Catalonia.

Premier Juan Negrin of Republican Spain presided at a cabinet meeting yesterday in his new Madrid quarters. A proclamation to the nation was published, calling for the union of all classes to carry on a resistance like that which besieged Madrid has shown since November 1936.

FRANCO BEGINS PLANS TO DEAL WITH LOYALISTS

Burgos, Spain, Feb. 13.—(AP)—A blanket decree providing exile or loss of citizenship for Spaniards deemed "traitors" before the Civil war and anti-Franco political leaders after the start of the war was promulgated today by the Insurgent regime.

On what he called the eve of the "total liberation of Spain," Insurgent Generalissimo Franco selected the date of the unsuccessful October 1934 Socialist rebellion in Asturias as the first deadline applicable to those in conquered territory who will be outside the pale.

Franco's decree also aimed at harmonizing the civil interests of the conquerors and the conquered.

Insurgent authorities said the decree called the "law of political responsibility" was intended to protect the economic life of individuals, especially those who live in territory recently in government hands.

They said its intent was to insure such persons who were innocent of "subversive activities" against the Insurgents, the same civil rights have been accorded the people of Insurgent Spain.

Bill Would Provide For Shipments Of Liquor By Mail Into Dry Counties

Sen. Umstead of Orange Says Measure Will Be Offered Tonight; Contends Act Would Provide 'Control' and Put Bootlegger Out of Business

Raleigh, Feb. 13.—(AP)—A bill to provide for mail order shipments of liquor into dry counties by the State Board of Alcoholic Control will be introduced in the Senate tonight, Senator Umstead of Orange said today.

Senator Umstead had the measure preparing a few changes and said he expected several other members of the upper division to join him in sponsoring it.

"This is a control bill," said the senator, "and I mean that. We have statistics based on federal records which show that hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of legal liquor is being shipped to bootleggers in dry counties. This bill provides up to 10 per cent of the state profits for use in state-wide enforcement of dry laws. We plan real enforcement in counties that vote dry, but have big, big bootleg sales. We also want enforcement in the counties which will not vote for it. The present ABC law provides only for enforcement in the counties with liquor stores."

The State ABC Board would be empowered to operate warehouses for the shipment of liquor. No person under 21 years of age could buy any and all would have to be ordered by mail and delivered by common carriers. Blanks for the order would be supplied by the State ABC Board and the applicant would be required under law to state that he or she is over 21 years of age and has not received as much as a gallon of whiskey during the month in which the order is filled. All shipments would be one gallon or less.

During discussion of the bill by a group of legislators estimates of the revenue would give the state varied all the way from one to four million dollars a year based on belief that the state could sell by mail order where bootleggers get the business now.

Washington, Feb. 13.—(AP)—The Senate Military committee rejected today an effort to make public testimony it had taken on the sale of military planes to France.

Senator Clark (D-Mo.) had asked that the testimony be made public but the vote against his motion was 10 to 6. Witnesses before the committee were Secretary Morgenthau, Secretary Woodring and General Malin Craig, army chief of staff.

The committee's action followed an assertion by Secretary Hull that America would meet any foreign challenge "with determined defense and resistance." The assertion served as a prelude to the first congressional debate over the $552,000,000 armament program.

Hull told a radio audience last night that as long as there was any possibility of attack it was "the sacred duty of any government worthy of the name to maintain adequate defense forces."

CALL MEETING OF DEMOCRATS UNITE FORCES

Republicans, Meanwhile, Jubilant on Lincoln Day

DEMOCRATS SEEK TO REVIVE BLOC

Majority Party Has Been Experiencing Trouble in Keeping Members on Floor

Washington, Feb. 13.—(AP)—While Republicans celebrated Lincoln Day with greater jubilation than at any time in a decade, Democratic leaders in Congress were looking today for methods of uniting their forces.

The success of the Republican minority and dissident Democrats in bucking administration proposals has produced evidences of concern among New Deal lieutenants.

House Democrats will discuss the problem at a conference tomorrow. This will be preceded tonight by a meeting of about 40 House members called by Representative Voorhis (D-Calif.) to consider reviving the "liberal bloc" which suffered heavy casualties in the November election.

The immediate task of the Democratic leadership is to hold more votes on the floor through each day's session. During the first six weeks of this Congress, the House Republicans, captained by Joseph Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, have permitted few of their 169 seats to go empty and with some expectations, their members have voted almost as a unit such tactics enabled them recently to out-vote the majority party, Wednesday, by many absentees, and trim an appropriation for the Tennessee Valley authority.

Johnnie Harris, 32 of Simpson, received head and body bruises and had his hand crushed yesterday afternoon about 7 o'clock when he was struck by an automobile just as he stepped from another car on U. S. highway No. 264 at the intersection of the Simpson road.

Patrolman C. R. Williams, who investigated, said Harris was struck by a car driven by L. A. Hodges of Washington, who was absolved of blame. According to the officer Harris had just got out of a car which was parked about half on the pavement. The parked car was headed west while the Washington man was driving East.

California's "campus style" group of state administrative buildings will be enlarged by $1,400,000 worth of construction in 1939.

Nearly 1,500,000 American farm homes had electric service early in 1939 and the number was increasing at the rate of 200,000 a year.

As Hollywood correspondent of the AR Feature Service and Coons herewith selects another The Daily Reflector, Robbin Movie-of-the-Month—with reasons.

By ROBBIN COONS (AP Feature Service Writer) Hollywood—It's the movie—literally—of the month: "Gunga Din." This spectacular adventure tale of three merry, feuding fighting comrades in Queen Victoria's Indian armies is a movie first, last and all the time.

It isn't going to strain your thought processes. It isn't going to make you chuckle softly with its subtleties, and it isn't going to startle you with its cinematic innovations.

But it will, most surely, keep you entertained. It will, equally certainly, make your eyes pop with the eye-filling splendor of its settings.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., (left) and Victor McLaglen of the 'Gunga Din' rough-and-ready trio in a typical battle scene from the film.

CHECK-UP
Last month's best—"The Dawn Patrol" (Warner Bros.)—Edmund Goulding directing Errol Flynn, David Niven, Basil Rathbone, Donald Crisp.

This month's runner-up—"Jesse James" (20th Century-Fox)—Henry King directing Tyrone Power, Henry Fonda, Nancy Kelly.

Star-of-the-month—John Barrymore in "The Great Man Votes" Character-of-the-month—Henry Fonda in "Jesse James."

Also recommended—The Great Man Votes, Stand Up and Fight, Idiot's Delight, St. Louis Blues, Wings of the Navy, The Son of Frankenstein, They Made Me a Criminal.

Its photography, and its rapid-fire action. It will serve you a generous feast of incredible dare-devilry, plotty intrigue, sustained suspense, seasoned with dashes of comedy and romance. In a sense it's capital-A

Art, too—because it is, so honestly what it is, so well directed by Geo. Stevens, so convincingly acted by its players.

The story is built around the poem of Rudyard Kipling which celebrates the heroism of a lowly Indian water-carrier who aspired to be a real soldier and gained the title after his heroic death. Ben Hecht and Charles MacArthur wrote the story from which, with changes, Joel Sayre and Fred Guiol built their screen play.

Swashbuckling Trio

The three soldiers—Cary Grant, Victor McLaglen, Doug Fairbanks, Jr.—are swashbucklers from start to finish, lacking only plumed hats to put them in a class with the famed "Three Musketeers." Fairbanks is about to leave the army for marriage—to enslave Joan Fontaine—when strange outbreaks of murder in isolated British posts herald the revival of a murder cult, the Thugs, worshippers of the bloodthirsty goddess Kali.

Grant—at his rollicking comic best—has a special weakness for gold. Imprisoned by his superior

JOHN BARRYMORE

"The Great Man"—month's star McLaglen, Cary is freed by humble Gunga Din (Sam Jaffe) and Anna May. McLaglen's elephant pal Din leads Grant to a remote temple in the crazy boulder-strewn hills, and there they find not only a huge hoard of gold, but the very strongest of the Thugs. Here the high priest, Eduardo Ginepro, incites his followers to kill, and here Grant gives himself up so that Din can escape to bring help. Din brings only McLaglen and Fairbanks.

From this point on "Gunga Din" develops to its thrilling climax, with absorbing plot twists (however hokey) en route. You may guess most of the answers all the way, and snicker a bit at the high melodrama of it all, but it'll get you—unless your mental age is too, too ancient.

The Last Is The Best

The biggest scenes come last, which is to the good. "Gunga Din" has one of the few big, protracted battle sequences in which the audience can follow, step by step, the military lay-outs. You'll get the "picture" of what might happen when those sturdy ranks of British soldiers advance, and you'll know what's going on as clearly as the hapless heroes, seeing it all from their tower prison helpless to prevent what looks like mass massacre. So many of these colossal battles present just a frenzied jumble of men and guns and horses—this one has all that, but it's simplified for lay audiences.

How a New Pope is Elected

1. TEMPORARY leadership is held by Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, who becomes a sort of pope pro-tem because of his office as Cardinal Camerlengo, or Chamberlain.

2. IN THE SISTINE CHAPEL, shown here during church anniversary, the cardinals meet between 15 and 18 days after pope dies. Morning and afternoon they vote here for a new pope. Their home is a portable wooden city set up in Vatican corridors, with a small but comfortable cell—containing a crucifix, a bed, a table and a few chairs, for each cardinal.

3. SWISS GUARDS, watching to prevent any irregular communication from outside world, keep Cardinals virtual prisoners in the Vatican during the conclave.

4. DARK SMOKE from this chimney (ballots are burned with wet straw) means no one has won two-thirds majority. White smoke means pope has been elected.

5. THE NEW POPE then appears on this balcony of Saint Peter's cathedral. A great shout of "Il Papa!" goes up, and the newly-elected pope blesses the crowd.

Basketball Tournament At College This Week

Armory and E.C.T.C. Gymnasium To Be Used for Games

Bring Team Here

By JAMES WHITFIELD
 Hop on the "basketball special" with this reporter, sports fans, and he'll take you through some of the best contests ever witnessed in Greenville.

Curtain-raising for the fifth annual Invitational High School Basketball Tournament sponsored by East Carolina Teachers College will be launched Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Curtains will be drawn on this dramatic athletic production Saturday night.

Due to the unprecedented growth of the tournament, Coach J. D. Alexander, who will direct the basketball jamboree, has been forced to use both the city-county armory and college gymnasium for contests scheduled Wednesday and Thursday.

Ten games will be played at each of these centers Wednesday and Thursday. Five afternoons and five night games are on tap for each date. Games played Friday and Saturday will be confined to the college gymnasium. Twelve games are on schedule for Friday. Four will be played Saturday morning, with the remaining pair of championship games reeled off in Saturday night's activities.

Besides being food for the sportsman's thought, the tournament should enable the cash registers of local business firms to jingle. Here's the reason: forty-four teams are entered in the tournament, representing twenty-one East Carolina counties; there is a combined total of 472 players—boys and girls—on these teams. You can figure it out for yourself.

Commenting on the tournament—which will be the largest athletic event in the history of the city and college, Coach Alexander declared: "We're going to have some corking good basketball games. Entries in the tournament have won over fifty per cent of their scheduled games."

Gleanings from the tournament schedule indicate that the games will be better than good, in that the playing record for this season ranks high. Leading teams that sparked last year's tournament activities have been carded.

Coach Alexander may have a tuff of gray hair on his Swedish head before the tournament is concluded. While pairing and seeding the 24 boys' teams and 20 girls' teams, he showed indications of becoming bald as well as gray-headed.

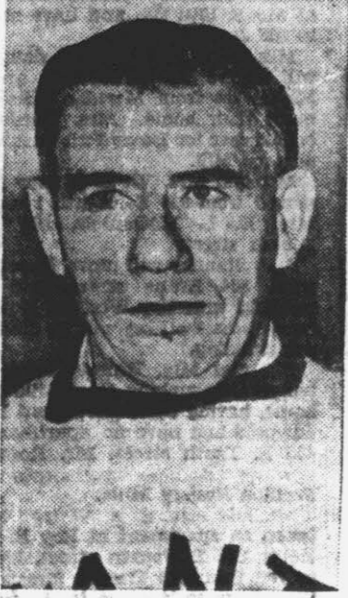

Boys' teams seeded by Coach Alexander are Stokes, Plymouth, Jamesville and Spring Hope high schools. Stokes clinched trophy honors in last year's tournament. Here's more good news: Stokes has the same team of last year with only one exception, that being the loss of a mainstay.

Girls' teams that were seeded are Beulahville, Harrellsville, Green Hope and Dunn. In case the finals of last year have slipped your memory, Green Hope and Dunn deadlocked the score thirteen times during the game. They divided trophy honors.

Despite the fact that several girls have been lost through graduation, Dunn high school's sextet has shown enviable progress this season. Comparison and contrast shows that Jamesville high school has the best record of the season over other entries in the boys' division. Grene Hope has the most favorable record for the girls.

Much time has been spent in trying to match the teams. At present, the pairings seem to be well-balanced. However, when the action really gets under way, it will be hard to predict what will happen. All of the teams entered in the tournament are good.

All afternoon games will start promptly at 1 o'clock. Activities for each tournament day will end at 11 o'clock p. m.

Pete Barry, who will lead his great aggregation of athletic stars in a basketball game sponsored by the Monogram Club at the College on Tuesday night, February 22, has completed twenty-five years of professional basketball as a member of the world famous New York original Celtics.

He is the only original Celtic still active in the game and is recognized as one of the cleverest shots in basketball today.

One of his favorite stunts is to use the football center snap back pass to score goals on unsuspecting collegians. His floor bounce pass netted him ten points against the nationally-known "Penn-Wichita's" Sunday night. He is coach and manager of the New York Giants Football team now playing basketball which will appear here.

Crop Prospect Best Since '32 As Heavy Rains Shrink Dust Bowl

AMARILLO, Tex.—The smell of damp earth, with a wheat crop germinating in it, has brought high hopes to the Great Plains dust bowl that this year's crops will be the best since "the big dry spell" started.

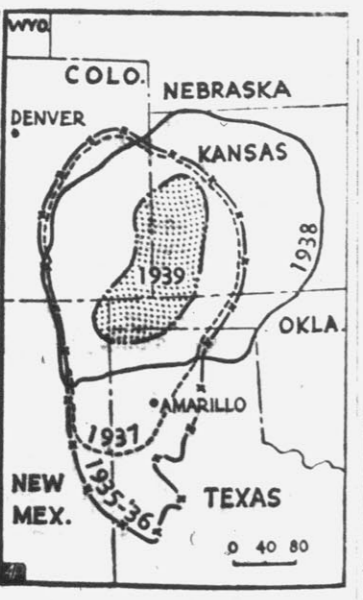

January rains in many parts of the drought area smashed moisture records of 50 years' standing and the dust bowl has shrunk to less than a fifth its original size, the regional office of the soil conservation service at Amarillo reports.

Already the bowl of the southern plains of Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma is in its best condition since 1932 and has been reduced from an acre to approximately 50,000,000 acres, at its worst in the winter of 1935-36, to only 5,900,000 acres on February 1. H. H. Fennell, regional conservator, reported.

While this represents the total acreage that may be "irritated" or damaged by dust, only 2,664,000 acres, compared with 6,086,000 in 1935-36, actually are still subject to blowing, Fennell said.

Moisture penetration tests in various parts of the bowl area showed the soil is wet to 48 inches and more in many fields that are terraced and contour tilled along lines recommended by the conservation service. On straight-row fields the moisture depth was as much as 36 inches.

Conditions in the northern plains generally aren't as favorable as in the south, but surpass any that

This map, prepared by the Conservation Soil Service office at Amarillo, Texas, shows how the area subject to dust storm damage has been reduced during the past three years. Heavy rains have caused an even greater shrinkage this year. The shaded area is the one called subject to "blow" this year.

figures for nine western states—South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico—indicate one of the greatest winter wheat plantings of all time in that territory. The total was 29,718,000 acres, compared with the 10-year average, 1926 to 1935, of 28,605,000 acres.

Then in January came the rains that measured more than four inches in some parts of the bowl and when the great plains advisory committee met at Amarillo late in the month its members reported the "best wheat crop prospects since the drought started."

SAYS DUST STORMS ARE DROPPING OFF

Goodwell, Okla. (AP)—Wright Laughlin, who keeps box scores on the severity and frequency of "black blizzard" dust storms, thinks they are declining sharply.

"The peak was reached in '37, when we had 157 dust storms in the Oklahoma Panhandle," said Laughlin, on the staff of the experiment station at Panhandle A. & M. college.

"In 1938 the number dropped to 75. In January a year ago there were 11, but in January of this year we had only five. The entire area has the best vegetative covering since 1932."

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES EXPECTED THIS WEEK

contingent diversion section, and perhaps a few others.
On the Appropriations bill basic battles will break out over almost any number of items—with every project and agency having some one to fight for more money, while on the other hand an "economy" group will seek to cut appropriations for practically every department, agency and activity.
The Elections reform row, however, is sure to provide material for a dinz dong battle of which nobody can be sure of the result. Through the elections sub-committee has apparently determined to report on the basis of abolishing primary absentee voting, while retaining it in the general elections. There is no certainty that this action will stand in the whole committee and still less certainty that the committee report—whatever it is—will be completely approved.
There is tremendous strength in the House for complete repeal in all elections—primary and general—and there is on the other hand a very substantial group which will do its very best to fight and kill, in one way or another, every suggested change or modification of existing election law.
All in all it promises to be a free for all with success of any substantial election reform endangered by the multiple division of opinion.
The week is also sure to be marked by intensified activity on the part of the school teachers' lobby, which isn't going to take action of the Appropriations committee with any too much grace. There is no group in the state which fights harder and more determinedly for what it wants than the organized teacher unit and legislators might just as well resign themselves to a barrage of letters, telegrams and button-holders this week.

LABOR SPYING IS CONDEMNED

disorganization of markets and interruptions in the free flow of commerce.
"The ruthless and brutal attacks of armed private guards to prevent union organization give unfair competitive advantages to those employers who oppress labor, create bitterness between labor and management, lead to strikes and cause interruptions in the flow of commerce.

"The use of private deputies in an anti-union campaign is inimical to the maintenance of orderly representative government."

Tragedies Bring Sudden Riches To 'Cinderellas'

By The AP Feature Service.
NEW YORK—The will of the late Jacob Ruppert, prince of beer and baseball, writes another chapter in the endless Cinderella story. Out of tragedy there rises again and again the dream-come-true of sudden riches for young women whose lot has been mostly hard work.

HELEN WINTHROPE WEYANT, former Broadway chorus girl, is to receive one-third of the $30,000,000 to $70,000,000 estate of the late Colonel Ruppert. The young woman, known as Winthrop Wayne on the stage, was described by one of the executors of the estate as "a very dear friend of the Colonel's and very charming."

LIBBY HOLMAN REYNOLDS was already on the road to Broadway fame as a throaty torch singer when her young husband was accidentally killed. Miss Holman received $750,000 from the Smith Reynolds estate. Her son got $7,000,000.

ANNIE LAURINE MacDONALD DODGE, formerly an 18-a-week telephone operator, was married only 13 days when Daniel Dodge, heir to auto millions, drowned in a lake near their camp. Mrs. Dodge received approximately $8,000,000.

FRANCES HEENAN "PEACHES" BROWNING, one of the most celebrated of the Cinderellas, first was adopted by then married to Edward W. Browning. Litigation long has plagued claimants to "Daddy" Browning's estimated $8,800,000 estate, but she has shared in it with other of Browning's adopted daughters.

ROSALIE SPATCHER KNISKERN, Radio City Music Hall ballet dancer, was the most surprised Cinderella of them all. Mrs. Edna Moss Allin Elliott died and left her an estimated $80,000. The 70-year-old Mrs. Elliott said she appreciated the dancer's kindness in chatting with her between rehearsals.

Moscow—(AP)—In 15 years of salvage operations, Soviet divers have raised 435 ships, aggregating about 800,000 tons. Many of these vessels were sunk during the civil war years. One of them, a British steamer, was said to be carrying $2,500,000 in gold to finance the White armies; but when the divers got to it the gold was gone.
