BILL PROVIDES HIGHER STUDY FOR N. C. NEGRO

Measure Passed By House and Sent to Senate

ASKS COURSES IN NEGRO COLLEGES

Educational Facilities At Greensboro And Durham Institutions Would Be Improved

Raleigh, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The House passed and sent to the Senate today the administration bill to provide graduate and specialized courses for Negroes at two state-supported Negro colleges.

The measure provides that when demand warrants it, such courses shall be instituted at the North Carolina College for Negroes at Durham and the Agricultural and Technical College at Greensboro.

Representative Murphy of Rowan, author of the bill, told the House it was an answer to "the mandate of the United States Supreme court which we must follow."

He referred to a ruling that Missouri must provide graduate and specialized courses for Negroes.

"This is the only way we can prevent Negroes from entering our white institutions," said Murphy. "Its enactment will provide that possibility. It is a measure of justice and right we can not evade."

The bill praised the relationship between the races in this state.

The measure carries no specific appropriation and the House refused the request of Caffey of Guilford that it go to the Appropriation committee to study a figure to be reported to the House.

Senators, with only two or three dissenting votes, passed and sent to the House the "fair sales law" bill designed to prohibit sale of any merchandise at below cost.

Senator Council of Columbus introduced a bill to permit the Federal government to use Lake Waccamaw as a hydro-plane base. He said there had been "some talk" that the government might develop and use the property if it were made available.

Three Senators, Lumpkin of Franklin, Eagles of Wilson and Pink of Brunswick, offered a resolution petitioning Congress to investigate the administration of the Federal Housing act in North Carolina.

Lumpkin said the state was being behind the other 47 in "loans closed" and cited that Florida, with half as much population as North Carolina, has "three times as many loans closed."

Small Boy Injured When Hit By Auto

Eleven-year-old Alton Brock, son of Mr. Jim Brock of the cotton mill section of Greenville, was seriously, and perhaps critically injured about 2 o'clock this afternoon when he was struck by an automobile on Dickinson Avenue.

The boy was hit by an automobile driven by Larry Tripp of Ayden. Eye witnesses were quoted as saying that the Brock son ran into the street after a marble and tennis ball, the accident unavoidable so far as Tripp was concerned.

The boy was taken to the hospital in an unconscious condition and doctors were not able to determine immediately to what extent he was injured.

The accident occurred in front of the Salvation Army building on Dickinson avenue.

STRING ON DOG MEANS TELEPHONE TIE OFFICE

St. John, Kans. Feb. 14. (AP) Like the St. Bernards of Alps fame, the dog of Dr. Ernest Baker, St. John veterinarian, carries things around his neck. Instead of refreshments for the war, however, it is a message. When Dr. Baker isn't in the office, but is wanted there, his staff turns the dog loose with a black shoe string tied to his collar. He never misses finding his master around town. The string means: "Telephone the office."

IN OLD DAYS, MEN DID THE DECORATING

Evansville, Ind.—(AP)—The men—and not the women—used to compact in the days of the Ohio river mound builders.

Fred Phillips, educational director of a CCC camp, said the CCC boys digging into a mound under the Evansville-Henderson, Ky., bridge found the compact—lidded stone containers with paint in them—only where men were buried.

Lost in the Sky

Roy Shreck (above) United States weather bureau pilot, flew his plane three miles up into a stormy sky above Spokane, Wash.—and two days later nothing more had been seen of him. Airmen and ground patrol joined in a search for him after his plane failed to return.

JAPAN - RUSSIA ROW DEVELOPS

Recurrence of Border Clashes Reported in Tokyo

Tokyo, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Border clashes between Soviet Russian and Manchoukuo troops were reported by Domei (Japanese news agency) today while the lower house of Parliament demanded a stronger policy against Russia.

The Domei dispatch from Hsinking, capital of Manchoukuo, said the clashes occurred Sunday and Monday near the scene of recent skirmishes. It was admitted the Manchoukuo forces were being increased in the area.

A Moscow dispatch Feb. 1 said Japanese and Manchoukuo soldiers had attempted to take a Soviet island in the Argun river, which forms the northwestern boundary between Manchoukuo, Japanese protectorate, and Siberia. The dispatch said Japan was being warned of "possible consequences."

Subsequent reports from Moscow and Tokyo have mentioned further clashes in the area, which had been quiet following an incident last August when Japanese and Russian troops fought for a hill near the junction of the Siberian, Manchoukuo and Korean frontiers.

A communique today said the Soviet troops were repulsed. No mention was made of casualties.

Keel Couple Here Not After Divorce

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus V. Keel want it understood that they are happily married and have no intention of seeking a divorce.

The misunderstanding arose through a legal notice running in the Reflector in which Ina Mae Keel is serving summons by publication on her husband Rufus Keel. The Keels for which divorce proceedings have been started are Negroes.

R. V. Keel is a prominent tobacco warehouseman here. He said the situation, however had led to much embarrassment as he has had numerous persons to ask him about the notice in the paper and also had received long distance telephone calls.

Fund Transfer Will Add No One To Pension Rolls

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Feb. 14.—Legislators supporting transfer of $250,000 from pensions for widows of Confederate Veterans to the regular Old Age and Social Security division and who believe that this transfer will bring an increase in the number of old folk on the rolls or any increase in the pittance now paid them are doing so under a mistake of fact, in the opinion of Nathan Yelton, director of the Social Security program in the State.

As a matter of fact, not one person—except the Confederate widows—will be added, nor will the division be able to increase by so much as a dime the average payment for Old Age Assistance or for aid to Dependent Children.

Principal beneficiary of the new arrangement will be the equalizing fund set up to take care of those counties which have been obliged to levy a tax of more than ten cents to take care of their old people and their dependent children; though it is of course true that Mr. Yelton and his division would be forced to decrease the average payments of those now on the rolls were it not for the fact that he will get a bit more money by reason of the fact that the Federal government will match the amount transferred from pension to Social Security funds—something it has not done in the past.

As this comes about through a somewhat complicated and unusual state of affairs, under which the Social Security division had more beneficiaries on the rolls last fiscal year than it could normally do with the same nominal appropriation it was given by the State.

This state of affairs was brought about through the fact that the

CENTRAL SPAIN PREPARES FOR REBEL THRUST

Government Braces To Meet Franco Offensive

PREMIER NEGRIN VISITS SECTIONS

All Areas Reported Quiet While Franco Shifts Full Strength to Central Spain

Perpignan, France, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The Spanish Government braced its central front today to meet the shock of an insurgent offensive expected soon in an effort to clinch victory in the Civil war.

Government dispatches said Premier Negrin and several members of his cabinet were visiting Jarama and Guadalajara to bolster the defenses in those sectors.

Political party and labor unions of the People's Front government were being consulted by other ministers on measures to bring the central army's force to top form.

All sectors were reported quiet as the insurgents shifted their strength from the northern front to the central zone. Border observers, however, expected an early insurgent thrust to center the government's efforts at reorganization.

The heavy odds against successful resistance in the central zone were reflected by an insurgent announcement showing the division of territory since their conquest of Catalonia.

The insurgents' zone was estimated at 148,000 square miles with a population of 7,500,000, compared to the Government's region of 77,000 square miles with 5,500,000 inhabitants.

In northern Spain a handful of Government machine-guns remained in the snow-covered Pyrenees with a dynamite squad to protect the last units of Government forces plodding across the border to French concentration camps.

FOUR CASES IN COURT SESSION

All Defendants Face Charges Involving Whiskey

Of the four defendants to face Judge Dink James in County Recorder's court this morning, all were accused of charges involving the manufacture of whiskey.

Although only four cases were tried, one case being sent to Superior court for lack of jurisdiction, only about four cases remain on the docket for later trial.

The case of Isiah Edwards, Negro, charged with having carnal knowledge of a girl under 14 years of age, was transferred to Superior court. It was brought out during the discussion the girl had died since the warrant was served.

W. M. Williams, was convicted of having equipment to manufacture liquor and was ordered to pay $50 costs to be deducted and the balance to go as a fine. The defendant also was given a four-month sentence, suspended upon payment of the $50 and upon further provision he remain of good behavior.

JURY TO PROBE ORDER BERARD FLOGGING CASE

Wayne Grand Jury Summoned for Meet This Afternoon

Goldsboro, Feb. 14.—(AP)—A special session of the Wayne County Grand Jury was summoned to meet this afternoon to investigate the abduction and flogging of two Negro prisoners a week ago.

The Negroes, Floyd Edwards and Kirby Baldwin, were seized from the city jail before dawn by a band of white men and taken into the country and lashed with tree saplings, and then released.

The Negroes had been jailed in connection with an attack a few nights ago on Mayor J. H. Hill of Goldsboro.

No inking was given of what evidence would be presented to the grand jury.

WIFE KNOWS ANSWER TO RAZOR'S LONGEVITY

Van Alstyne, Tex.—(AP)—J. M. Neathery, retired druggist, can't give any special reasons why his wife has lasted 60 years, but his wife has an answer.

"I didn't use it to rip seams, sharpen pencils and perform some of the other household chores that many women find a razor will accomplish handsily," says Mrs. Neathery. It is the only razor Neathery has ever used.

INDIA'S NEW MAP SHOWS LATEST CHANGES

Delhi, Feb. 14. (AP) A new map of India, on a scale of 50 miles to the inch, showing all the changes brought about by the introduction of the Government of India Act, has been issued.

The act involved the creation of new provinces and regrouping of states into different political charges, which made all previous maps of India out of date.

POPE PIUS TAKEN TO LAST RESTING PLACE

Vatican City, Feb. 14.—(AP) Pope Pius XI was carried to his final resting place beneath the floor of the great Cathedral of St. Peter today.

There were comparatively few invited mourners. Cardinals, Bishops and other prelates of the papal aristocrats.

Today's ceremonies began soon after 4 p. m. (10 a. m. EST). Witnesses already were in their places the women wearing black veils, the laymen clad in tall coats with black vests and white ties with papal decorations on their chests, the papal gendarmes, the noble and palatine guards in their brilliant uniforms.

On Friday Premier Mussolini and the Italian Royal family will pay tribute to the Pope who re-established peace between the Vatican and the Italian state.

The great crowds of those appearances, often numbering more than 50,000, were missing.

HITLER RATES HIS OWN RULE WITH BISMARCK

Says Iron Chancellor Has Triumphed Through Hitler

LIKENS HIMSELF TO PREDECESSOR

Pictures Creator of German Empire As Much the Same Kind of Man as Himself

Hamburg, Germany, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Germany's Fuehrer saw the Reich's newest and greatest battleship slide down the waves, bearing the name Bismark today and declared the Iron Chancellor's hopes had triumphed at last—through Adolf Hitler.

Before 50,000 yelling Nazi diemartaries and onlookers Hitler seized the opportunity of picturing the creator of the German Empire as much the same kind of a man as himself—destined by providence to be a lonely figure fighting against a world of obstacles.

The spirit of Bismark, he said, should shine before the eyes of those who man the new 30,000-ton warship, which is another advance on Nazidom's self-styled "road of destiny" for 1939 "in the hours of the most difficult performance of duty."

He said Bismark stood forth among all others to help create the precondition for the present-day greater Germany, and added:

"Everywhere the nonentities arose in opposition to the only genius of his time.

"It was a fight which only he can appreciate who himself has been compelled to face such a world of obstacles."

Hitler said the destruction of the German fleet after the World war "even today grips painfully at our hearts" and shouting that national Socialism "tore the nation out of its ruts and led it to new domestic and foreign successes."

After three and a half hours of debate the cabinet decided merely to leave the diplomatic situation unchanged.

The ministers agreed, however, to send Senator Berard on a second mission to Burgos, the insurgent capital for negotiations which many believed would lead to eventual recognition of Franco's government.

It was indicated at the same time that Berard would go as the official agent of France. When he visited Burgos a week ago his status was semi-official, although he had the approval of Premier Daladier. He was said to have offered an "understanding" to Franco and brought back the insurgent leader's demand for recognition, together with a promise that no foreign—Italian or German troops—would be permitted to remain in Spain after the Civil war.

A communique after the cabinet meeting today said the session was devoted to Foreign Minister Bonnet's explanation of the foreign situation.

TAR EXPECTED TO GO HIGHER

May Exceed Predicted Crest of 17 Feet Thursday

B. T. Clark, in charge of the local weather station reported the one o'clock reading showed the Tar river here standing at 15.8 feet and rising at about the rate on a foot a day.

The river had been expected to crest at 17 feet Thursday, but it was explained that the rains expected this week in the upper reaches probably would send the stream to an even higher level.

Raleigh, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Flood waters in the rivers of eastern North Carolina receded in the upper reaches of the streams today and despite new rains, no new floods are in immediate prospect, said Lee A. Denson, weather man here.

The overflow in the Cape Fear had passed below Elizabethtown, the Neuse was dropping at Smithfield, the Tar was holding stationary at Rocky Mount and the Roanoke was (Continued on page four)

SPAIN OUT FOR MAYOR OF CITY

First Officially to Announce Candidacy For Post

Jack Spain, well-known attorney and business man of Greenville, today formally announced his candidacy for mayor, the first to officially toss his hat in the ring for the position.

The present Mayor, Marvin K. Blount, has publicly announced he would not be a candidate to succeed himself.

A graduate of the 1923 class of the University of North Carolina and 36 years old, Mr. Spain was born and reared in Pitt county. He started practicing law here in 1931 and has served two terms as solicitor of County Recorder's court. He has been connected with the White Chevrolet company for 13 years and at present is general manager of the agency.

He made a successful run for the Board of Aldermen in 1937 and is completing his term this year.

Mr. Spain also is active in church and civic affairs. He is a member of the Christian Church and is teacher of the Men's bible class, a member of the Greenville Rotary club and president of the Pitt county Alumni Association of the University of North Carolina.

Vanceboro Farmer Claimed By Death

Jasper D. Morris, 47-year-old farmer of near Vanceboro, died at his home at 6 o'clock this morning, following a lingering illness. Funeral services will be conducted at the residence at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon by Father Pierson, Catholic priest of Vanceboro. Burial will follow in the Ellsworth churchyard.

Mr. Morris was a member of the Vanceboro Catholic Church. He spent practically his entire life in the community where he died. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Clark Morris; four sons, Jasper Earl of Vanceboro, James H. of New York, Jack Reid and Murray C. Morris of Stateville; one daughter, Doris Pate Morris of Vanceboro; and his mother, Mrs. Mary H. Morris of Vanceboro.

THE 82-year-old Brandis, whose shock of unruly hair made him a picturesque figure on the bench, made known his decision to retire in a one-sentence note to President Roosevelt late yesterday.

The President promptly penned a letter of regret.

Teachers Likely To Get Same Pay, More Pay Days

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Feb. 14.—North Carolina's teachers are quite likely to get something they haven't fully made up their minds they want; while at the same time they just as likely will not get more than a meagre portion of those things they have announced long and loud that they do desire.

As a result of the leaning of this General Assembly toward "economy," the Appropriations committee has already declined to grant the salary increases and increments sought by the pedagogues and this action is likely to stick, despite the uproarious outbreak from outraged instructors all over the State.

On the other hand the Assembly, seeing that it wouldn't cost anything at all is more or less inclined to pass a bill to provide for the payment of teacher salaries in twelve equal monthly installments, rather than in eight as is now the vogue.

Two years ago Senator Henry Ingram of Randolph county (not back this time as the result of a rotation agreement in his district) introduced such a bill in the Senate and pushed it through that branch. It perished peacefully in the House.

Teacher organizations have carefully refrained from specific endorsement or disavowal of the proposal because of varying views of members—some contending that pay over a twelve months period might lead to demands for twelve months work, while others hold that the smaller monthly salary on the twelve months basis would furnish a very effective argument for salary increases.

At all events, there is a growing belief that the Assembly may decide to pay a twelve months payment bill, in order that its members can go home and tell everybody they did something for the teachers after all.

COX SUGGESTS CO-OPERATION OF PRESIDENT

Georgian Delivers Rousing Speech in Party Conclave

MEETING CALLED TO LINK PARTY

Campaign Started To Have Westerner Named to Succeed Justice Brandeis

Washington, Feb. 14.—(AP)—House Democrats heard complaints at a party conference today that there was not enough cooperation between the White House and Democratic leaders.

Several members who attended the closed meeting in the House chambers asserted that Representative Cox (D-Ga.) had made a rousing speech, the tenor of which was that the administration would do well to go along with Congress and not insist so much that Congress go along with it.

While the conference, held in an atmosphere of cigar smoke and general good fellowship was described by Democratic leaders as entirely harmonious, a number of those present said Cox had spoken of a lack of consultation between the White House and Democratic legislators.

They said the Georgian, who had opposed some administration measures, had suggested that if Mr. Roosevelt took members into his confidence more, he would obtain greater co-operation from Congress.

The party meeting preceded by a few minutes a session of the house at which an important phase of the President's national defense program was the scheduled business.

Meanwhile the AAA announced rates of "price-adjustment" payments which will be made to farmers who plant within their 1939 acreage allotments of cotton, corn and wheat.

Payments will come from $212,000,000 appropriated by the last Congress.

The rates: Cotton 1.6 cents a lb; corn six cents a bushel; wheat 11 cents a bushel; and rice 12 cents per hundredweight.

No payments will be made on tobacco, they added, since the 1938 average farm price of this crop was above 75 per cent of the "parity" price goal of the crop control law.

By official estimates the price adjustment fund would be distributed as follows among the four basic crops: Cotton $84,578,000; corn $61,613,000; wheat $84,113,000; and rice $1,936,000.

President Roosevelt was described by White House aides as "much better." He remained in his second floor quarters, however, for the fifth day, recuperating from grippe. He had no temperature.

The retirement of Justice Louis Brandeis, from the Supreme court brought a chourous of senatorial demands that a westerner be appointed to the seat he held for nearly 25 years.

Former member of the court, western legislator pointed out, comes from beyond the Mississippi river. He is Justice Pierce Butler of Minnesota.

The 82-year-old Brandis, whose shock of unruly hair made him a picturesque figure on the bench, made known his decision to retire in a one-sentence note to President Roosevelt late yesterday.

The President promptly penned a letter of regret.

Citizenship Department Meets. Miss Catherine Holtzclaw of the Home Economics department of the college gave a most interesting and enlightening talk on the American Home at the regular meeting of the Citizenship department of the Women's Club on Friday afternoon, Feb. 10th. She gave statistics showing how North Carolina is very low in measuring up to the functions of a home. The functions of a home are to provide for the family and each individual member: (1) a healthful environment; (2) comfortable surroundings; (3) safety; (4) convenience; (5) beauty; (6) privacy and relationships; (7) development and space for productive and consumptive activities.

She urged that we as good citizens work to secure laws to establish better housing conditions.

Mrs. Helene Higgs Kirkpatrick delighted the club with her singing of two lovely songs, accompanied at the piano by Miss Wilda Royal of E.C.C.

Display in Library.

That the mathematics and science departments of the Greenville high school are doing vital study is manifest in the exhibit of work from these departments, now on display in Sheppard Memorial Library.

From the mathematics department there are charts and scrolls showing most practical applications of geometry to designs and of arithmetic to buying and owning, selling, and banking.

Through the science units Greenville citizens may see in miniature and through charts and kodak pictures the whole process of how the muddy water of the Tar river is converted at the city water plant into pure water supplied to Greenville homes.

Of particular interest to garden-minded persons is the soilless garden display. Charts give information on how plants may be fed by chemical mixtures, and a window box of flourishing plants is the students' proof that soil is no longer an essential to indoor gardens.

The entire exhibit is a demonstration of how academic subjects are coordinated with the daily lives of Greenville's present and future citizens. The exhibit is sponsored by the A.A.U.W. and the Greenville high school.

WHAT IT MEANS: U. S. Foreign Policy

Washington—To get a strange hold on the elusive question of American foreign policy, go back to the President's annual message to Congress a month ago and sneak up on this puzzling sentence: "There are methods short of war, but stronger and more effective than words, of bringing home to aggressor governments the aggressive sentiments of our own people."

They are evidence that the United States is in there plighting for democracy.

Washington Daybook
 By Preston Grover

Washington—In spite of President Roosevelt's threat to veto, there is a new rush of demands for special coins to help promote everything from peace to refurbishing St. Augustine, Fla.
 It is a slick system for helping finance local fairs and monuments. The government mints the money and sells it at face value exclusively to the local committee which in turn can market each coin at a premium of 100 to 400 per cent to souvenir hunters.

Senator Adams of Colorado chairman of a senate coinage committee charges that the local committee with plenty else to do, often enough is glad to sell the coinage right to a dealer for a fat premium, cash in hand. Then, says Senator Adams, begins the real scalping.

The dealer goes after the coin collectors. Smarties call them numismatists. There are 50,000 in the country, and of these, says Adams, at least 10,000 will buy any American coin that comes out since they wish to keep their collections complete. Often they are made to pay through the nose, sometimes two or three times, for occasionally the special coin is issued in installments a year apart so the collectors have to come to the speculator each time.

Nice For 'Money Makers'
 The government is not shedding any tears about the hard plight of numismatists but this business of issuing special coin in an open invitation to counterfeiters. Further the treasurer fears that a flock of odd looking coins floating about might damage public confidence in the currency. Already there are a dozen varieties of half-dollars in circulation.

The rush for anniversary celebrations in the past several years has been so great that President Roosevelt put his foot down and said "no more of it." But here they come again.
 Senator Pepper of Florida asks 2,000,000 50-cent pieces to aid in the historical restoration of Saint Augustine, oldest U. S. white settlement. He would limit premiums to $2 a coin. Senator Nye of North Dakota proposes 100,000 halves picturing the "international Peace Garden" on the Dakota-Manitoba boundary to help celebrate 120 years of peace along the Canadian border.

Senator Cappers of Kansas wants an unstated number to help Manhattan (in Kansas, not New York) erect a memorial to General Leonard Wood. Senator Schwartz of Wyoming asks 25,000 50-cent pieces to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the admission of Wyoming as the first state guaranteeing woman suffrage. Senator Thomas of Oklahoma wants 100,000 halves to help maintain the Will Rogers memorial at Claremore, Okla.

Still They Come
 Rep Shandle of Connecticut wants three sets of 50-cent coins to help commemorate the 300th anniversary of the founding of Milford, Branford and Guilford in his district.
 There are others, but we will close with the proposal from Senator Davis of Pennsylvania to mint a flock of pennies for general distribution to promote the idea of peace. The motto on one side of the coin would contain the words "Peace, United States of America, E Pluribus Unum, One Cent."

Miss Oliver, director of the woman's section of the Probation commission, is one of the political set's most charmingly-eligible young ladies.

The American Nautical Academy of Washington, D. C., is advertising a "free summer training cruise for young men between the ages of 11 and 21."

If Burr Frink can put across his Josephus Daniel Nautical Academy plan, they'll be making that kind of cruise out of Southport next summer.

Anti-Diversion headquarters (N. C. Highway Users Conference) and the Spanish Loyalists are in the same class when it comes to optimism and a spirit of keep up the fight.

Latest broadside from the Antis is a sheet headed "Can They All Be Wrong?" reprinting no less than 20 anti-division editorials from almost that many newspapers over the state.

Across the bottom is a streamer line "The Fight is Not Lost See Wire, Write Your Legislators Today."

Copies were sent all prospective candidates for Governor, which alone made the mailing list quite a long one.

"Along about this time of the year you may expect—" said the old time Almanac, that the robins will start back north. Long about this time in nearly every legislature the "round robins" make their appearance in gossip if not in actuality. There haven't been any papers signed yet, but several ardent anti-divisionists have been talking around and making notes on old envelopes and things. Signatures may be requested most any time now.

Who went to Europe and why, FIND TRANSFER WILL ADD NO ONE TO PENSION ROLLS

 first year of the program began practically in the middle of a fiscal year, rather than at the beginning. It followed that at the end of the first fiscal year of the biennium, there had not been expended much more than half the entire amount available.

For the second year, therefore, the Social Security division had available the funds it would normally disburse over a year and a half and not a year's time. Allotments for Old Age Assistance and Aid to Dependent Children were accordingly made on the basis of the amount available and not on the nominal appropriation for the year.

As a result of all this there are today on the Social Security rolls more beneficiaries than it would be possible to care for (at the present average of payment) with the nominal appropriation.

Therefore, although there will go into next year's Social Security appropriations a total of $250,000 more than the present nominal appropriation, this increase will not permit the Division to add any beneficiaries to its rolls or to raise the payments made of these current beneficiaries, because the Division is now functioning on a basis which requires more than the $1,000,000 Old Age and the $525,000 Dependent Children carried in the Appropriations Bill.

Of course the Federal government is mulcted for the $250,000 transferred from Pensions for Widows of Confederate Veterans, but the state will continue to spend just as much money as it is now spending, and no additions will be made to the Social Security Rolls.

It probably isn't the idea of those responsible for the transfer that it will add old folks to the rolls, but it undoubtedly is the thought in the minds of many average legislators who will vote for the transfer in the firm belief that they are actually doing something for North Carolinians now on the Old Age rolls who really should be.

Earlier in this piece something was said about the equalizing fund and the fact that it will probably benefit more than anything else through the pension fund transfer.

It's a really complex thing and so technical as to be quite difficult of explanation in any reasonable-length story, but in its broad outlines it works something like this:

Theoretically every North Carolina county is required by law to pay one-fourth of the total allotments for Old Age Assistance and Aid to Dependent Children in its limits; but there is a provision that the state shall step in and help when it becomes necessary for any county to levy a tax at a rate of more than ten cents. Whenever this happens the Social Security division pays, from its Equalization fund, three-fourths of the excess paid over the yield of a ten cent tax.

In its first year of operation, the Social Security division was forced to spend more than $90,000 from this fund, but in the second year it required less than $25,000 from the same source because of the surplus left over from the first year's appropriation and the money left in the counties' share.

Now it's a case of getting down to full-year periods and the equalization fund for the fiscal year 1939-40 will, of necessity, be much greater than even the $94,000 spent the first year—probably as high as $150,000.

In this event the Social Security division estimates that it will not be able to take care of any added beneficiaries—it will, at best, do no better than hold its own.

Of course the Federal government will be bearing some part of the cost of pensioning widows of Tar Heel Confederates, and that may be a great satisfaction to many who have for years been paying a share of federal pensions to Union veterans and their widows without any sharing whatever in the benefits of those pensioners.

TAR EXPECTED TO GO HIGHER

 rising very slowly at Weldon. The new rains "may cause complications" in the lower stretches of the rivers, where crests have not been reached, as at Greenville, Williamston, Goldsboro and Kinston, Denson said.

'Tobacco Road' Here On February 27th and 28th

John Barton as Jeeter Lester

For the first time in several years Greenville will see a New York stage success when John Barton and his associate artists present "Tobacco Road" at the Wright Auditorium Teachers' college on Monday and Tuesday evenings, February 27 and 28 and at a Tuesday matinee, Feb. 28. The company will come here directly from an engagement at the National theatre in Washington, D. C. in its fifth visit and sixth week in that city. This is the only company presenting "Tobacco Road" on tour and it was seen last November at Chapel Hill at the invitation of the University of North Carolina. "Tobacco Road" written by Jack Chattanooga, Knoxville and Nashville in Tennessee. Following its brief return to North Carolina, brought back by C. E. Newsom and Mrs. Virginia Nowell of Raleigh at the request of hundreds of theatre-goers who were unable to secure seats for the Chapel Hill performance it goes to Louisville and Memphis and then out to the Pacific Coast for the World's Fair in San Francisco.

As an authentic picture of existing economic conditions "Tobacco Road" has been called "a superb play" by Alexander Woolcott and has won the praise of such other literary celebrities as George Jean Nathan, Theodore Dreiser, Carl Van Doren, Stark Young, Brooks Atkinson, Gilbert S. Ide, as well as such noted ministers as Rev. John H. Holmes of New York and Rev. Preston Bradley of Chicago. Sixteen colleges and universities, among them Princeton, Purdue, Northwestern and University of Pennsylvania require its study as extracurricular work in their English departments.

The distinguished cast will include Sara Perry, last seen on Broadway in "Stage Door" as Ada, the wife; Patricia Quinn of the original production as Sister Bessie; Norman Budd, William Dorne, Shell Brent, Eugenia Wilson, Dick Lee, Lillian Arrell, Alan Jason and Walter Ayers.

Ward's Win A Help To Administration

Reflector Bureau
 Raleigh, Feb. 14—The longer this general assembly lasts the more general becomes the impression that Governor Hoy and his Administration were, next to Libby himself, the biggest winners in the Speaker-ship sweepstakes in which Craven's Mr. Ward vanquished Durham's Victor S. Bryant by a scant two votes.

In the beginning, the Ward win was regarded as having been something for the Governor to regret just a little bit—not a real administration defeat, but certainly not the administration victory that a Bryant success would have been.

In a sense that impression still prevails, but it is tempered by a growing feeling that if it were not for the fact that Libby is in the chair, there might be much more Anti-Administration sentiment on the floor—and with much more determined leadership.

The basis for this feeling is the idea that Bryant, Greg Cherry, Odus Mull, Zeb Turlington and other Bryant supporters have remained much stauncher Administrationists than would Ward, Bill Fenner, Fred Seeley, John Caffey and other leading Ward backers had their candidate gone down in defeat.

A strong Ward partisan, one who knows this politics and political angles said today: "If Victor Bryant had been elected Speaker, there's no way of telling, when this session would end."

SOW YOUR SEED IN YOUR OWN FIELD

THE report of the National Emergency Council says, "The paradox of the South is that while it is blessed by nature with immense wealth, its people as a whole are the poorest in the country!" Without attempting to analyze the extent of the condition pointed out in the Council's report, we should ask ourselves this question: Was this situation brought about because the South for many years has not been sowing its seed in its own fields?

Southerners send millions of dollars to other sections of the country for products and merchandise that could be produced at home. Every year Southerners send away from home $310,000,000 in life insurance premiums... and additional millions in interest on money borrowed. If a greater portion of the money spent by the people of the South for farm products, merchandise and LIFE INSURANCE were kept at home, think how much it would help citizens of the South by creating more and greater home pay rolls—more local jobs—greater wealth and prosperity.

We do not advocate buying exclusively from Southern companies. Other companies serve the South well and deserve their share. But, no matter what we buy, shouldn't we who live in the South always ask ourselves: "Wouldn't it be better to sow our seed in our own fields?"

If you are interested in the South's future read the inspiring booklet "A Pattern for Southern Progress," recently written by President Julian Price. Now in its fourth printing, a copy of this booklet may be secured from any Jefferson Standard Agent, or by writing to the Home Office in Greensboro.

DANGEROUS SERVICE

by GRACE ELLIOTT TAYLOR

The Characters
Peter Mallone: Adventurous newspaper correspondent.
Petronella: His accomplished young sister.
Tony Lance: British agent, the man Petrel loves.

Yesterday: The Mallones spend Christmas in Alexandria as guests of Michael, who wants to marry Petrel.

Chapter 24
Cairo

PETRONELLA stood beside the window of the flat in Alexandria. The room was in darkness except for the small lamp on the desk. Its light caught the sheen of her satin evening dress. It shone like a sheath of rich beauty. Shaded lighting could do much, she thought, glancing down at the material. It made a dress which was tired, rubbed and old, look lustrous and new. It made you look younger, if you were getting old, fresh, if you had danced too long, and too often, and were tired. This frock had been new when she came to Alexandria. Now, two weeks later, though it was to be used among her "successful" towns, it had seen its life.

Not far out, at sea, were the lanterns of the fishing boats, they formed a twinkling circle as they closed in upon their nets. Those were the headlights of Mike's car, now, coming along the road. Soon, she would be dancing under the gray guns, with rubicund Lieutenant Jim Blake, serious Flag-Lieutenant Andrews, the little surgeon, the charming, impersonal Captain. She would be dancing with Michael for the last time. That thought saddened her.

She heard Michael's ring, and went and let him in.

"Hello, my dear. A drink before we go?"

"Yes! But don't turn on the lights. The coast looks good through that window." He came and stood beside her. His arm slipped round her waist, and pulled her close to him.

"There's something I'd better repeat, in case you've forgotten since last night. I love you. Will you marry me?"

She shook her head. "No. More fool I! This visit has been heavenly. Too perfect. Michael. Just one long party. This place, the climate, the life, have all conspired together to make me feel, too, that perhaps—"

"Perhaps?"

"Perhaps I do love you. But I don't know I want to be sure. I've felt like this before. Mike, for other men. Awfully fond, and happy. But it passes. Peter has a wire from his editor. I cross a frontier. We find ourselves in a country where the people talk a different language, where the rhythm of life is different. The feeling I hoped was going to last goes. It is just a memory, sweet, but it goes. It hasn't any power to cause me pain. You haven't the power to hurt me, Mike. That is why I don't think I love you. You see, there is someone else, who has."

"In heaven's name, why ask for misery?" he groaned. "Why should love cause you pain? Woman! Stop talking!"

He kissed her. Was it possible that he was right? Had she held the wrong conception of love for a long time? Was this all?

She disengaged herself. "Let me cross that frontier." "This time you'll come back." He was very triumphant and sure. Other women had rendered Michael quite certain of his attraction. If only he were right, wished Petrel. She did not want to go. She wanted that he would forbid her, keep her here against her will, until her will was gone. But he released her.

"You know you're awfully odd in some ways, darling. Very young, and immature. You're not fit for my society so. You take life so seriously."

"Someone once said life was a comedy to those who think, a tragedy to those that feel. I can't help feeling."

"But do you really believe in spiritual love? Petrel, half the couples who marry don't feel that about each other. They take a chance. Sometimes it goes well, sometimes poorly. If it's unbearable, they rack it up. That is the adult way to regard love. With us, I believe it will go well. And you're serious about it. And you have so much. Do you realize that?"

"International Young Woman."

"I FEEL I have very very little. Just a propensity for being useful and friendly. He handed across the world's greatest her."

"No! And you're sometimes beautiful. You can go anywhere, talk to anybody. You're an international young woman."

"That doesn't sound decent." She laughed. "But you're a very big girl. A diplomat, an Arch-bishop, a dentist, an engineer, an anatomist, and a Communist. Fascist anarchists attack. Marxist philosophers, poets, socialists, stars and politicians. I don't care. I'll be next tomorrow, if you're here to spend. What a horrible thought!"

"I think I know several others."

faces that will be pleased to remedy the deficiency. They haven't been looking very friendly." "They don't count," she knew that they would count again, when she was gone. If she did not return, Michael did not understand love which persisted, even when you wanted to be free. Love, like that single, relentless love of hers, which could cross all frontiers, and be with her still.

From immediately overhead, in the searing blue of heaven, the sun beat down upon the hot, glaring pavement of Cairo. It was mid-day. The shaded balconies and lounges of "Sinighrida" and the "Continental Hotel" were full of Europeans wearing light suits, and drinking long drinks. The tingle of the two-horsed gharries which passed alongside the large square, with its gray statue, intermingled with the clinking of ice in their glasses. Both were fast amid the other sounds of Cairo. Street hawkers cried their trashy merchandise as they passed, laden with Eastern carpets, silks, or beads.

In the distance, if all other sounds had ceased suddenly, could have been heard another, uglier murmur. In a mean street, the followers of Nahas Pasha had stood listening to an impassioned speaker. Many of them were students, wild young rowdies, armed with sticks and brickbats. Now worked up to a frenzy of excitement and resentment, they turned. In a shouting, jostling throng they rushed towards the man, thug-like. There, they would overthrow more stately cars, unroot more lamp-posts, break more British windows.

"Down with Sir Samuel Hoare! Down with Sir Samuel Hoare! Freedom for Egypt," were their indistinguishable cries.

This was a day in November of 1935, Sir Samuel Hoare's reply to the Wafd's demand for a return to the 1923 treaty, mercilessly modified by Sidky Pasha, seven years later, had just been published. It appeared in many Egyptian papers and leaflets, in a much twisted version. The mob were not satisfied with such apparently vague promises from the British Government. They did not care to look forward to "settlement at a more opportune moment." When, for example, Mussolini's troops had reached the Mediterranean through the canal to Eritrea. They would continue to demonstrate more violently than ever, until their problem received attention and was solved.

"Love Of A Lady"

BUT because the police in Cairo mounted on their white Arab horses, are some of the finest in the world, the British could continue drinking and playing. Gently, the white horses stepped, sideways, pushing, coaxing, and stemming the angry crowd. Standing in the shelter of a doorway, an Englishman stood watching them, admiringly. "Good work!" he commented aloud. He had thoughtful eyes, and long, strong features. He was brown-haired, gathered that the agitation in this quarter of the town was under control he turned. He and his foreshortened shadow strode in the direction of the Continental Hotel. But a smile came to Tony Lance's lips, because of the white horse and the little Arab who detached himself from an adjoining wall and shuffled after him.

He thought: "Damn them! All ready! They know everything. He had been here only twelve hours, yet he was being treated as if it was his own province to which he was accustomed."

As he entered the lounge of his hotel with its chattering mid-day crowd, its red leather and chromium modernity, he heard a voice call to him.

"Hi there, Tony!" "Why, Mike, this is fine." "Where have you sprung from?" "Abyssinia and other places."

"Same old dark horse, eh? Come and have a drink. Eritrea they mix 'em well here, or Cairo gives me a better thirst than Alexandria."

"I might as well ask you the same question. Why are you here?" "Business for H.E. and the love of a lady."

"I see." "You do not," Michael responded gloomily. "What's that, a drink?" He ordered their drinks. "No, I was a fool to come, and I'm leaving soon. When I do, I'll do the whole business over the telephone."

"I'd like to see the girl who's fast you into such dependence. You have a most serious case."

"I'm laughing at you. I should have said, 'Tony, get out. He was saying Eritrea and other places.'"

"Talk to me, Tony. I'm a doctor, and I'm a very busy man. I'll be next tomorrow, if you're here to spend. What a horrible thought!"

"But, Petrel—"

"We must go. You've spent my fee, and we're missing the party."

"This time tomorrow, if you're here to spend. What a horrible thought!"

"I think I know several others."

Winterville Highs Twin - Bill Won By

Winterville, Feb. 13—The boys' and girls' basketball teams of Winterville, each came through Friday night with a victory. Captain Myrtle Ruth Dickerson with ten points led her teammates to a 19-9 victory over the Farmville girls. Caraway with five led Farmville.

In the second half, scoring was scarce again. With the score tied at 10 all, Herbert Forrest dropped in the winning basket just 30 seconds from the end of the game to give his teammates a 12-16 victory. He led his team with six points for high score.

This was the boys seventh consecutive victory. All five of the five starters for Farmville scored two points each.

The next home game will be with Eureka here, Friday night Feb. 17 at 7:30 o'clock.

Makes Report

PRESIDENT PRICE

REPORT SHOWS BIG INCREASE

Assets totalling more than $80,000,000, new life insurance sales of more than $46,000,000 last year, a substantial increase in contingency reserve fund, and the lowest lapse ratio in the history of the company, were reported to stockholders of Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company by Julian Price, president, at the recent annual stockholders meeting.

"The financial position of the company at the end of 1938 places the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company in the best condition in its history," Mr. Price told stockholders in annual session.

Col. William A. Blair of Winston-Salem, a member of the board of directors, acted as chairman of the stockholders' meeting, which was largely attended. All directors of the institution were re-elected by stockholders. All officers of the company were re-elected by directors in session following the stockholders meeting.

The directors approved the recommendation made by the management that a 5 per cent bonus be paid the employees. The board declared the regular dividend of 50 cents a share, and took occasion to recognize this year as being the 10th anniversary of Mr. Price as president of the company.

Report given by President Price and various company officials indicate the Jefferson Standard to be one of the largest financial institutions in the south as evidenced by $82,000,000 in assets.

"The success of Jefferson Standard," stated Mr. Price, "may well be taken as an example of what the people of the south can do. It is a 100 per cent southern enterprise. More than 98 per cent of Jefferson Standard stock is today in the hands of southern men and women. Approximately 80 per cent of our insurance in force covers southern policyholders. At present 85 per cent of our mortgages are on southern property. 96 per cent of stocks and bonds holdings are securities relating to public and private enterprises in the south.

"The Jefferson Standard has more than $1,000,000 deposited in southern banks.

"In all more than 90 per cent of the company's assets are invested in the south. The record of our company shows that this faith in the south is well founded."

President Price showed in his annual report that during 1938 the company's assets gained $6,814,000 which is an average increase of $67,000 every 90 days, or 2 1/2 per cent.

He reported the contingency fund capital and surplus, increased $5,600,000. This is a fund maintained in addition to the regular reserves required by law as additional protection to policyholders. "Payments to policyholders and beneficiaries during the year amounted to $6,000,000," he reported, "bringing the total amount paid to policyholders and beneficiaries since organization 32 years ago to $105,000,000."

"With the sale of new insurance in the amount of $46,000,000 last year, the company's total amount of insurance now in force totals $385,000,000, which is the highest mark in the history of the company. This amount is held by 160,000 policyholders."

Report by Mr. Price. In addition to the lowest lapse ratio in the history of the company, Mr. Price reported an excellent condition in interest earned and interest paid.

"The record net interest earned on invested assets in 1938," he said, "amounted to 5.1 per cent. For the three years prior to 1938 the Jefferson Standard led all major companies in the United States with its record of net interest earnings."

On funds held in trust by the company for policyholders and beneficiaries, the company has paid a per cent interest, a rate that has been paid continuously since organization in 1907. The Jefferson Standard is the only company in the country that has such a record of interest payment.

A mortality rate lower than for any year since 1926 was reported, the actual mortality being 40 per cent of expected mortality.

Members of the board of directors re-elected include Selby Anderson of Wilson; Col. W. A. Blair of Winston-Salem; W. L. Brooks of Charlotte; Joseph M. Bryan of Greensboro; Sheppard Bryan of Atlanta; Charles W. Causey of Greensboro; W. G. Clark, Sr., of Tarboro; Julius W. Cone, Emory C. Green, Howard Holderness and C. Elmer Leak of Greensboro; A. G. Myers of Gastonia; Julian Price, Ralph C. Price, Pierce C. Rucker and Julius Smith of Greensboro.

The directors reappointed the executive committee, composed of Julian Price, president; C. Elmer Leak and Ralph C. Price, vice-presidents; and Julius C. Smith, vice-president and general counsel.

CRIES OF WOLF ARE CONFUSING

Requests and Threats Questioned by Committee

Raleigh, Feb. 14.—The cry of "wolf" is heard so often by appropriations committees that they soon reach the attitude of questioning the accuracy of every request and every threat. The threat that such and such important work will be discontinued unless more money is made available, that good men will leave the state and teachers will walk out on class rooms unless paid more, usually doesn't get much attention. And when a real wolf howls the appropriations boys don't believe it.

Such, at least, is the reasoning of Clarence Brannon, entomologist in the state department, and C. D. Matthews, extensive Sandhills peach grower. They are sure that the wolf they hear howling is a genuine man-eater. Their wolf is a telegram from Washington advising that unless North Carolina takes steps immediately to combat the Japanese beetle, federal quarantine regulations will be applied to this state within the next two or three months. That will mean that no peaches or apples, no snap beans or tomatoes, no strawberries or dewberries or roasting ears can be shipped out of North Carolina until certain stringent and expensive treatment has been given them.

house appropriations committee, in support of the request already endorsed by the joint committee on agriculture, for an immediate appropriation of $30,000 for Japanese beetle control. If the money is made available at once, the federal government will co-operate and the quarantine will be stayed off for months, and perhaps permanently.

The seriousness of the situation is not fully understood by the vegetable and truck growers, according to Mr. Matthews. The peach men have spent some money investigating and the state department has reported beetle infestation from the mountains to the coast. A group of peach growers appeared before the agriculture committee and they may come back this week to press their claim before the appropriations committee. Peach men are leading the fight, but they say that the danger is more acute to truck and vegetable growers in the east.

SAYS THE WEALTHY ARE WORST BOOK THIEVES
London —(AP)—The wealthiest readers are the most prolific book thieves, according to the borough librarians of Ealing, a suburb of London.
One librarian said the magazines which disappear most quickly are those containing plans for expensive interior decoration schemes in large houses and giving lay-outs for luxury gardens.
