HOUSE DEBATE TO EXTEND RFC OPENS MONDAY

Life of The Affiliated Agencies Also To Be Considered

EXISTING LAWS EXPIRE JUNE 30

Ambassador to Germany Testifies Before Secret Session of Senate Military Committee

Washington, Feb. 17. (AP)—The House Rules committee cleared the way today for the House to begin consideration Monday of legislation to extend the life of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and its affiliated agencies.

As approved by the House Banking committee, the legislation would continue the RFC, the Commodity Credit Corporation, the Export-Import Bank and the Electric Farm and Home Authority to January 15, 1941.

The legislation also would increase the capitalization of the Disaster Loan Corporation from $20,000,000 to $40,000,000 and make it available of aid victims of disasters occurring after December 31, 1938, the present limit.

Republicans on the Banking committee served notice they would offer amendments to change the proposed expiration date of RFC and its affiliates from January 15, 1941, to June 15 of that year.

The Senate approved yesterday a bill to extend the RFC until June 30, 1941.

Other developments: Hugh Wilson, ambassador to Germany, testified at a profoundly secret meeting of the Senate Military committee. Even the official stenographer was barred from hearing his discussion of the European situation.

Wilson was reported to have turned aside many questions put to him by the Senators, on the grounds that any answers he made might disturb international relations and impair his own usefulness.

The Senate Appropriations committee approved a $17,203,000 TVA appropriation which had been referred by the House. The committee vote was 13 to 11.

The condition of Representative Doughton, D-N.C., in Naval hospital here, was reported to be "very satisfactory."

Doughton was taken to the hospital late yesterday after an attack of grippe developed into bronchitis.

Club Established By Women In City

The Business and Professional Women's club of Greenville last week took necessary steps to apply for a charter and the organization was permanently established. The meeting was held at Shepherd Memorial library and was presided over by Mrs. Hugh S. Ragsdale, temporary chairman.

Messengers from practically every club in the state and also from the national headquarters were present, welcoming the Greenville organization into the national and state federations.

The club has 29 charter members. The charter roll will not be closed until the next meeting and any members joining by that time will be recognized as charter members.

The next meeting will be held at the library at 3 o'clock next Thursday, at which time the nominating committee will report and permanent officers elected. Officers to be elected next week will serve only until July, when the federation's year ends.

Ejected

Brussels, Belgium, Feb. 17. (AP)—Belgium police and firemen today stormed the Spanish Government consulate building and ejected insurgent sympathizers who had seized it in an early morning coup.

Police climbed fire ladders to get the building after the invaders had defied attempts of authorities to oust them.

Eight men surrendered to police and were taken to the Palace of Justice.

They had seized the building from its caretakers and, shouting "vivi Franco," had raised the colors of insurgent General Franco to its flagstaff.

COL. FLANAGAN ASKS CHANGES

Prepares Bills In Regard to Change In City Charter

E. G. Flanagan, former member of both houses of the General assembly, has prepared substitute bills providing for changes in the city charter and will present them at the mass meeting to be held tonight.

Col. Flanagan has prepared three companion bills. Besides providing for the adoption of the city manager form of government, provisions for the setting up of a Planning Commission and a Park Commission, they would make the city manager a member ex-officio of the Water and Light Commission and add two other members to the body, which now is composed of three members.

The city manager also would be made a member ex-officio of the school board. Under the Flanagan bill the city manager would have the power of veto both on the school board and on the Water and Light Commission.

The latest proposals follow: "Section 1. That the official name of the Town of Greenville, a municipal corporation situated in Pitt County, North Carolina, be and the same is hereby changed to 'City of Greenville,' and the word 'town,' wherever it appears in Chapter One Hundred Fifteen, Private Laws of One Thousand Eight Hundred ninety-nine, and all acts amendatory thereto be, and the same is hereby stricken out and the word 'city' substituted therefor."

Reform Of Election Law Is Threatened By Delay

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Feb. 17.—L. Insure, progress to date of the House committee on Elections and Election laws is beginning to be a serious menace to final enactment of any worthwhile legislation on election reform at this session.

Not that Chairman George W. Phillips hasn't done his best to keep things moving; not that the committee members haven't been faithful in attending called sessions; and not that the sub-committee appointed some time ago hasn't functioned as rapidly and smoothly as circumstances permit.

The reason little has been done is two-fold—there are so many conflicting opinions to reconcile, and there is such a powerful bloc that doesn't want to see anything done that it has been almost humanly impossible to get along any faster than the committee has moved.

Conceding all this, however, it is clearly realized by Chairman Phillips and by such sincere advocates of effective action as Odus Mull, J. B. Vogler and Frank Taylor.

At yesterday's session, for example, all members of this quartet either publicly or privately expressed concern over the fact that the committee is not yet ready to make any report to the floor of the House on the absentee ballot question (concededly the chief bone of contention and the real crux of the committee's problem).

Difficulties of the situation are multiplied by the multiplicity of other committee meetings, a fact which makes it very hard indeed to get the elections committee together as frequently as is desired by those who really crave action.

Another delaying factor is the fact that everybody on the committee or almost everybody at any rate seems to want to say something. (Continued on page six)

Explanation Of Japs Occupation Of Island Asked

Request by Ambassador Joseph Grew Follows by Few Days Similar Requests By French, British Ambassadors

Tokyo, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Ambassador Joseph Grew today asked the Japanese government for an explanation of the Japanese navy occupation of Hainan, Chinese island some 750 miles west of the Philippine Islands.

The request was made orally in an interview with Foreign Minister Arita and followed by a few days similar requests by the French and British ambassadors to Tokyo.

It was understood that Arita's reply was similar to those he gave Monday and Tuesday to Charles A. Tamm and Sir Robert L. Craigie, French and British envoys, respectively, that the occupation was for military purposes and also to tighten the Japanese navy's blockade of the Chinese coast.

At the same time a Domei Japanese news agency dispatch said the Japanese foreign office was opening a consulate general on Hainan, one of its representatives planning to leave Canton tomorrow for that purpose.

This move was interpreted here as an indication that the Japanese intended to make their occupation of the island a long one with possible establishment of business and other interests, not military alone.

The U. S. destroyer John D. Edwards returned from the island to Hongkong today after confirming that 10 Americans at Hoihow and Kiungchow, two cities occupied by the Japanese last week, were safe.

Fifteen other Americans were in Kachok and Nodoo which a Shanghai dispatch said the Japanese still had not occupied.

CHARGES AILED IN CITY COURT

Seven Defendants Face City Record-L. C. Skinner

Seven defendants, four of whom were white men, faced trial in Recorder Skinner's Municipal court this morning.

Louis Gaylord, charged with drunkenness in three separate cases asked for a trial by jury and had his case transferred to Superior court February 12.

Tot Little, Negro, was convicted of assault with a deadly weapon and was given a 6-day sentence suspended for one year upon good behavior.

Frances Warren, Negro woman, was acquitted of a charge of disorderly conduct and destroying personal property.

John Miller, Negro, was convicted of assault and was given a 30-day sentence, suspended upon payment of $10 to be applied on court costs.

Raymond Venters was acquitted on a charge of reckless driving but Clarence Harris was ordered to pay $12 on the costs of court.

Calvin Haddock was given 30 days suspended upon payment of court costs, following his conviction of drunkenness.

Grifton Boy Injured As He Runs Into Auto

Raymond Earl Joyner, seven-year-old Grifton boy, sustained a broken leg late yesterday afternoon when he darted from behind one car and ran into the side of another.

Patrolman C. R. Williams, who made an investigation, reported that the boy ran directly into the side of a car driven by G. L. Midgett, salesman of Oriental. The boy was brought to the Pitt General hospital here following the accident near Grifton about 5:15.

Brief Completed On Need For Air Mail

Raleigh, Feb. 17.—(AP)—L. H. Duncan, secretary of an association of cities seeking an air mail line from Norfolk, Va., to Knoxville, Tenn., said today the brief setting forth the need of the service had been completed and would be sent to Airlines, probably next week, and then would be laid before the Post Office department and Civil Aeronautics Authority.

ATTEMPT REPORTED ON IL DUCE'S LIFE

Rome, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Rumors that a demented man had shot a guard at Premier Mussolini's home, the Villa Torlonia, in an apparent attempt on Il Duce's life last Wednesday spread in Rome tonight.

Officials first denied there was any truth to the rumors, then said they could neither affirm nor deny them. The most persistent version of the several rumors was that a man loitering outside Il Duce's estate was asked by a guard to identify himself. Thereupon, the report said, the man drew a pistol from his trousers' pocket, said "take this to your master," and shot the guard in the groin.

'Chip' Robert Challenges Accuser

Called before a legislative investigating committee to testify in reply of charges that Georgia's "Little New Deal" government agreed to pay his architectural and engineering firm an extraordinarily high fee for construction work at State institutions, L. W. (Chip) Robert, secretary of the Democratic National Committee, is shown on the witness stand in Atlanta as he challenged Rep. DeLacey Allen to waive legislative immunity and repeat the charges of the general assembly floor.

Son Of U.S. Ambassador In Midst Of Civil War

Mrs. Joseph Kennedy Anxiously Awaits Word

London, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Joseph Kennedy, wife of United States ambassador to the Court of St. James, anxiously awaited word today from her son, Joseph, Jr., who is in besieged Madrid.

The 23-year-old adventurer reached the palatial, but shell-scarred United States embassy in the Spanish capital last night from Valencia, just as insurgent gunners ended a bombardment of the city.

News about him was delayed today because of the communication difficulties imposed by war conditions in Madrid, whose only contact with the outer world is censored radio.

Ambassador Kennedy last night disclosed that Joseph, Jr., left London Saturday and said his son "is just looking around."

The ambassador returned here from the United States on Wednesday.

Marrying Parson Dies At Age of 84

Elizabeth City, Feb. 17.—Edwin Ferebee Sawyer, 84, said to have married more than 5,000 couples during a ministry of 60 years, died at his residence here today at 4 a. m.

Mr. Sawyer, who had been ill in bed for the last four weeks, has had hundreds of acres of low lying land a stroke last year. He had married some couples this year.

"Marriage is part of the Lord's work," was one of the minister's well-known statements, it was said today. He did not make any change for marriage writs and performed them at his residence or in the courthouse. There were many early morning marriages at his home.

Figures On Shipments Of Liquor Please Everybody

By LYNN NISBET. Raleigh, Feb. 17.—Although they were definitely not pleased with the bill, every speaker against the Umstead liquor warehouse proposal was glad that Senator Umstead had presented figures and photostatic copies of original orders for liquor to be shipped into dry territory in North Carolina.

Mr. Umstead thought when he offered this evidence that it showed a demand for the liquor, and further that it was a foolish waste of money to let this liquor come in and be sold and nobody but the bootleggers profit.

But when Messrs. Burgess, Simms and Barton got through thanking him for bringing these pretty pictures, he didn't know just what they proved; but he still thinks they are worth more to his side than to the other.

Senator Umstead explained his bill before the joint finance committee, offering it as a further "control" measure for the liquor traffic as well as a sort of a straw for a bunch of drowning money raisers to grasp.

Supporting both contentions he presented photostats of orders of shipments of liquor from four small distillers near Baltimore to eleven counties supposedly dry. Nine of these counties are predominantly rural with only Mecklenburg and Guilford in the possible class of "metropolitan" areas. Into these eleven counties for the first ten months of 1938 from these four distillers came 141,298 gallons of liquor. No figures were offered for shipments from other points and none as to value of the product.

Senator Umstead thinks this proves the need for state regulated warehouses from which liquor may be legally purchased. The heavy artillery of the opposition was furnished by R. N. Simms, Raleigh lawyer, and president of the State Baptist Convention and by (Continued on page six)

HOUSE AGREES TO SETTLE FOR BUS ACCIDENT

Proposal to Pay Property Damage Bit-terly Assailed

CONTENT STATE IS NOT LIABLE

Very Little Done In Either House as Legislators Evidently Begin Early Week-end

Raleigh, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Representatives Taylor of Wayne and Pickens of Guilford today vigorously assailed a bill to provide payments to W. S. Williams of Nash county of $347.25 for damages suffered from a school bus accident. The bill passed.

"This amounts to this legislature attempting to try an action for damages," contended Pickens. "We should authorize the school commission to pay this if justified."

Taylor argued that from time immemorial the state had not been regarded as liable "in tort actions." He said that if the bill passed the state should have a general statute "saying the state will pay all legitimate claims in tort actions."

Abernathy of Nash read letters from the State School Commission and Nash County Superintendent of Education saying the claim was justified. He was supported by Fanner of Nash and Moore of Wilson.

There was no major action during the day and legislators agreed to consider only local business tomorrow and meet again Monday night.

The joint Appropriations committee this afternoon tried to finish work on the $154,000,000 spending bill for 1939-41. It took up a proposal to combine the parole and probation commission.

Expect Big Crowd At Meet Tonight

Indications this afternoon were that a large crowd would attend the mass meeting to be held at the courthouse tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of discussing proposed changes in the city charter.

Since calling the meeting, Mayor M. K. Blount has been urging individuals and the various civic clubs and other organizations to be present and hear or join in discussion of the merits and demerits of the proposals.

Two bills have been tentatively drafted. One provides for the adoption of the city manager form of government, and gives the Board of Aldermen the authority to establish a Planning Commission and a Park Commission, while the other would provide for the election of aldermen by the city at large, with citizens voting on a candidate in each ward although the aldermen would continue to be elected by wards. The plan is identical with the present method of electing county commissioners.

Burned Fatally In Automobile Wreck

Fayetteville, Feb. 17.—(AP)—W. G. Gordy of Laurel, Del. was burned to death and Charles Larimore of Bethel, Del., was burned critically today when their truck overturned at a bridge on the Fayetteville-Raeford highway early in the day.

Larimore was brought to a Fayetteville hospital, where attaches described his condition as serious.

The truck, headed south, overturned and caught fire at a bridge over a creek at the foot of a downhill curve near the Cumberland-Hoke county line.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Blount At Home.
Preceding the regular choir practice on Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Blount entertained the Methodist choir at their home on Fifth street with a lovely three-course dinner in honor of Miss Helen Sawyer and Mr. Ed Parkinson, whose marriage takes place Wednesday evening, February 22nd, at the Methodist Church.

Dinner was served on small tables, attractively placed in the music room, which was decorated with a profusion of spring flowers. The honorees were presented with crystal compotes.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Blount were Mesdames Karsnak, Johnston, Kirkpatrick, Gullidge, Hadley, Misses Kilgo, Brown, Sawyer, Foley, Horne, Beaman, Messrs. Rose, Tilley, Parkinson, Simpson, and Metz.

Mrs. Glass Entertains.
Mrs. W. G. Glass entertained at a bridge luncheon on Wednesday at one o'clock, at her home on East Tenth street.

From a table centered with a beautiful arrangement of hawthorne and narcissi, Mrs. W. M. Scales and Mrs. J. S. Ficklen served a delightful buffet luncheon.

Mrs. W. M. Scales was presented a potted plant for making the high score at bridge. The hostess remembered Mrs. Madeline Myers with an attractive guest prize.

Bethel Round Table Meets.
Bethel, Feb. 17.—The Round Table held its regular meeting on Feb. 14 in the home of Mrs. J. A. Staton.

The lower floor of the home was used ensuite and was decorated with spring flowers.

Mrs. J. B. Bunting, in the absence of the president, presided over a short business session, after which Mrs. Tom Andrews presented Miss Grace Elkin who gave a most interesting and ably written paper on "What Music Means to the Child and School." She emphasized that music is a power and the highest of art; also the language of emotion. Following this, a very interesting discussion of current events was held.

Mrs. Staton, assisted by Mrs. R. L. Barnhill and Mrs. Alton Carson served a delectable salad course. Her table was most attractive with spring flowers and lighted candles. Each found her designated place by lace doilies with flowers attached.

Her Custody Sought

Folk Song Recital.
Engel Lund, dramatic interpreter of songs of many lands, who made her first American tour last year, will give a folk-song recital at the college next Monday night at eight o'clock in the Austin auditorium.

Miss Lund, Danish by blood, Icelandic by birth, and any one of the dozen other nationalities in speech, has picked up in every corner of the world the songs she uses in her programs. "Wherever we go," she says, "people sing to us the songs of their countries."

She presents the songs without scenery or costume, depending solely on her singing for creating her characters.

Miss Lund planned originally to be a concert singer. She studied in Copenhagen and Paris with the leading teachers of voice, and even made her debut as concert singer; but as she became more and more interested in her hobby of collecting folk songs, she decided to make the presentation of such songs her career.

Her program was well received on her first American tour last year. A New York Times critic, for example, called her "an artist of uncommon intelligence, sincerity, and knowledge." The Baltimore Sun described her program as "Ruth Draper or Cornelia Otis Skinner style," and the Chicago Daily Times said, "Her recital gave a glimpse into the human heart of many peoples."

She will sing songs from probably nine countries including some of these of the southern highlands.

E. C. T. C. Speaker.
Miss Kate Lewis, head of public school art at the college, drove yesterday to Scotland Neck, at the invitation of the Woman's Club of that town, to speak to the club on "Trends in Modern Art."

Miss Lewis discussed for the group, tendencies in the work of certain of the contemporary artists, especially in the field of murals, and demonstrate with copies some of their paintings which she had carried with her.

Miss Mamie E. Jenkins accompanied her, and after the program at Scotland Neck, the two drove to Palmyra to have supper with a friend there.

Glee Club Sings At College.
The men's glee club of the Agricultural and Technical College, of Greensboro, received an enthusiastic welcome in their program at East Carolina Teachers College last night from 6:30 to 7:15, a program made up of religious music from the great composers and many beautifully rendered spirituals and songs of their own race.

The director, Warner Lawson, who is a graduate of Pisk University, Nashville, Tenn., and has done graduate work at both Yale, from which he has a Master's degree, and Harvard, where he is working toward his Doctorate, drew from his choir unusual harmonies in many of the selections.

Their perfect blending of tone and the excellent rhythm which is so typical of their race, came out strikingly in Hahn's "Rapturous Hour" and many of the spirituals, which included "Po' Ol' Lazarus," "Stand the Storm," "Ezekiel Saw the Wheel," an arrangement by a North Carolinian of "Go Down Moses," "De Glory Road," with its intricate patterns, and a number of others.

The choir, about 25 strong, their pianist, and their leader had already appeared in two programs yesterday, and were scheduled to close their full day with a program at the Fleming street high school last night.

"Tobacco Road" Here Next Week.
"Use no dialect" was the injunction given the actors at the opening rehearsals of "Tobacco Road," Jack Kirkland's history-making drama of the poor Georgia whites which will be seen at the Wright Auditorium

Black-Ange

Winterville, Feb. 17.—The marriage of Miss Myrtle Ange to James Hampton Black of Johnstown, Pennsylvania, was solemnized Friday evening, February 10, at 7 o'clock, in an impressive ceremony at the Baptist Church here, with the Rev. Frank E. Morris officiating.

The church was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and snapdragons, southern snailx, palms and evergreens. Arches held burning cathedral candles.

Prior to the ceremony, Miss Sarah Brown Braxton rendered several selections at the piano. Mr. Howard Carlston of Johnstown, Penna., sang "I Love You Truly," and Miss Lilla Crawley of Fayetteville, sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." The traditional marches of Wagner and Mendelssohn were used as processional and recessional.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth O'Brien of New York City. She wore a gown of chartreuse taffeta made bouffant style and carried an arm bouquet of carnations and narcissi.

Attending the bride as bridesmaids were Mrs. Vernon White of Aurelian Springs, and Miss Fannie Mae Ange, sisters of the bride. They wore identical gowns of cruise pink made bouffant style and carried arm bouquets of carnations and narcissi.

The bride entered the church with her brother-in-law, Vernon White of Aurelian Springs, by whom she was given in marriage.

She was gowned in white Duchess satin with a full circular skirt which extended into a long train. The neck-line of the gown was heart-shaped and was daintily embroidered with French embroidery. Her veil of illusion was held in place with a tiara of orange blossoms and extended beyond the train of her gown. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses, showered with lilies of the valley.

Howard Carlston of Johnstown, Penna., attended the groom as best man and ushers were Thomas Ray Olesby of Winterville, and Joseph Dixon Tripp of Ayden.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Waleen Ange of Winterville. She is a graduate of Chowan College, where she was May Queen during her senior year. After graduation there she continued her studies in New York City, taking an advanced course in dramatics.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Cora M. Black of Johnstown, Penna. He attended the Johnstown city schools and Johnstown Preparatory College. He is manager of the Greyhound bus terminal at Johnstown, Penna.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Vernon Cox and Mrs. Wayland Hunsucker greeted the guests and Miss Mary Ida McGlohon introduced them to the receiving line which was composed of the hosts, bride party and Mrs. Cora M. Black of Johnstown, Penna. Mrs. J. A. Croyle of Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. Howard Carlston of Johnstown, Pa., and Miss Katie Vincent of Penderlea.

Clio Club.
On Tuesday, February 14, Mrs. Dean Tabor was hostess to the Clio Club.

After a short business meeting presided over by the president, Mrs. Dink James, Mrs. Roy Barrett gave an interesting talk including a series of travel talks. She ably handled her subject, "Seeing America First," by touching on the outstanding place of interest in each state. Some states attract visitors for their history, others for climate, and still others for scenery. Washington, D. C., has more visitors than any other city in the United States. She closed by touching on the three ways of travel, air, bus and rail.

Guests for the afternoon were

Mrs. A. L. Dittmer, Mrs. E. R. Browning, and Mrs. W. E. Padgett. The hostess then served a sweet course, after which the club adjourned.—Reported.

Forty Years Ago Today

Items From THE DAILY REFLECTOR Friday, February 17, 1899

Buyers Want Tobacco.
The Eastern and Greenville warehouses had very bad breaks today considering the weather. The buyers were hungry for tobacco and did some lively bidding. The farmers who can get in with a load now will find good prices.

SNOW AND ICE Are Colder Than These Items
The streets are simply awful to walk on.

Dealers were expecting coal on the freight train Thursday but failed to get it.

We heard a red bird singing cheerily this morning. It sounded like the coming of spring.

R. L. Humber returned Thursday from Beaufort.

The guests good-bye.

The bridal couple left later in the evening for an extended trip south, after which they will be at home in Johnstown, Penna.

The bride wore for traveling a dress of navy and dawn blue with navy accessories. She wore a shoulette of roses and lilies of the valley taken from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Skinner Complimented.
An outstanding social affair of the week was on Thursday afternoon when Mrs. W. T. Lipscomb and daughter, Mrs. Iverson Skinner, were hostesses at tea, at the home of Mrs. E. B. Ferguson, complimenting Mrs. James Skinner, a recent bride.

The home throughout was tastily decorated in a colorful arrangement of snapdragons, jonquils, hawthorne, narcissus and greenery.

Mrs. T. H. Boykin greeted the guests upon arrival and they were introduced to the receiving line by Mrs. R. W. Stark.

Receiving with the hostesses and Mrs. Skinner in the drawing room were Miss Ada James, Mrs. Douglas Creach and Mrs. Nancy Bench Crother of Petersburg, Va.

Guests were invited into the dining room by Mrs. J. B. James and Mrs. W. W. Lee, where Mrs. H. W. Whedbee and Mrs. W. I. Skinner poured tea from a beautifully appointed table centered with a silver bowl of red carnations and narcissi, flanked with burning white tapers. Assisting in serving tea accompaniments were Mrs. Will James, Mrs. Chas. Whedbee, Mrs. Laurine Skinner Burnette and Mrs. Nina James Guy.

Receiving in the hall were Mrs. E. W. Harvey, Mrs. James Beebe, Hawes and Mrs. Will Whedbee. In

After a short business meeting presided over by the president, Mrs. Dink James, Mrs. Roy Barrett gave an interesting talk including a series of travel talks. She ably handled her subject, "Seeing America First," by touching on the outstanding place of interest in each state. Some states attract visitors for their history, others for climate, and still others for scenery. Washington, D. C., has more visitors than any other city in the United States. She closed by touching on the three ways of travel, air, bus and rail.

Guests for the afternoon were the sun room, Mrs. James Ficklen and Mrs. Larry James, assisted by Misses Elizabeth Skinner and Louisa Hooker, Mesdames Julian White and Ed Wilkerson served raspberry ice. About one hundred and fifty guests called during the tea hour.

Pay Your Homage To Washington With A Luscious Red Cherry Pie

An old-fashioned cherry pie becomes a holiday climax when decorated with cherries in honor of George Washington.

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE, APature Service Writer

Cherries won't be ripe for some time, but that needn't keep you from having luscious cherry pie on Washington's birthday.

Canned cherries are about as good for pies as freshly-picked ones. Most housewives prefer the canned "pie cherries" as they are called, which are put up without any sugar. They retain the flavor, color and texture of fresh cherries and are very easy to use.

Favorite Two-Crust. The old-fashioned two-crust cherry pie heads the list in popularity, but that type has some formidable rivals.

If you want a pastry that will keep well, though prepared ahead of time, jellied cherry pie is the thing. It's an unusually festive pie, too.

Summer for fifteen minutes three cups of unsweetened red cherries with one cup of granulated sugar and a cup of cherry juice. Then drain off juice, but save it. Soak one tablespoon of granulated gelatin in one-fourth of a cup of cold water, dissolve in the cherry juice, reheated to boiling. Chill until quite quivery.

Fold in the sweetened cherries, one-fourth of a teaspoon of cinnamon, one-fourth of a teaspoon of grated orange rind and a third of a cup of broken nutmeats (black walnuts preferred). Chill until quite thick. Keep in a cold place until serving time and top with whipped cream, slightly sweetened and flavored with just a little chopped candied orange peel.

A Quick Pie. When you want a pie and don't have any too much time to make it, try this opened face tart pie. You can make a large one or individual ones. Bake a crust. When serving time is near fill it with 3 cups of red cherries that have been cooked with one cup of granulated sugar and two tablespoons of flour until thick. Cool and cover crisp-

OLD-FASHIONED CHERRY PIE

2 cups pitted red cherries (or one No. 2 can), 1 1-2 cups granulated sugar, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon butter, plain pastry for two-crust nine-inch pie. Drain cherries. Cover with sugar and let stand ten or fifteen minutes. Line a nine-inch pie plate with pastry. Pat two tablespoons of flour into the surface of the lower crust. Fill the crust with the sweetened cherries, and dredge with remaining two tablespoons of flour. Dot surface with butter and place top crust in usual manner. Bake at 400 degrees for 15 minutes, then reduce heat to 300 degrees for 20 to 30 minutes.

This dessert is good warm or cold. Then you can vary the crust for cherry pie by using rolled toast or zwieback crumbs. Here is a receipt: Mix one and a half cups of rolled zwieback (unsweetened) with half a cup of butter, a teaspoon of cinnamon and one-fourth of a cup of light brown sugar. Reserve one-fourth of the crumbs and pour rest in a buttered pie pan. Fill with two cups of seeded cherries, mixed with two tablespoons of flour and half a cup of granulated sugar. Quickly cover with reserved crumbs and bake twenty-five minutes in a slow oven. Cool and serve plain or topped with whipped cream.

Deep-Dish Recipe. Deep-dish cherry pies have many followers, and justly so. Pour a two-inch layer of cherry mixture into a shallow dish or pan and cover it with cake batter, pie crust or rich biscuit dough. Bake about twenty-five minutes in a moderate oven. You can ring in changes on any kind of cherry pie by accompanying it by hard or lemon sauce or cream cheese mixed with whipped cream or grated zippy yellow cheese. Pass or spread over top of pie just before it is served.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington. — Harry Hopkins, so inside informant has it, may soon wheedle Secretary Ickes out of his tattered position in the power picture and begin a program to pacify the $13,000,000 electric industry.

If the thing develops as forecast, it will mark the second time Hopkins has come out as Presidential No. 1 man in the recovery effort, while Ickes takes a rear seat. Before it is in the spending for prosperity effort, WPA spending was slow. WPA could spend fast, and Hopkins got most of the money. Ickes growled for months.

For five years the power industry has been the New Deal's whipping boy. It came out of the prosperity period with hands dirtied by the Insull debacle and was a prime target for reformists like Senator Norris and the welter-weight left-wingers, Corcoran and Cohen. They first put through the public utility holding company act and then helped to pump government capital into publicly owned power production through Ickes' PWA and the Rural Electrification Administration.

Now the power industry, in normal times, spends from $400,000,000 to $500,000,000 a year in plant expenditures. Beginning about 1932 that type of power company spending stopped.

Complaints of Companies.
The companies have complained that government interference on many fronts made it impossible to get new capital; that their depression troubles have been augmented by:

1. TVA, Bonneville, and similar government power enterprises.
2. The menace of drastic reorganization enforced under the holding company act.
3. Financing by rural electrification, and, far more seriously, by Secretary Ickes of 365 municipal and regional power projects with a potential outlay of more than $125,000,000.

Long ago the Securities and Exchange commission indicated it was going to deal tenderly with power companies under the holding company reorganization act. Current reports say, with the exception of Associated Gas and Electric, the companies and SEC are getting along with reasonable harmony.

The recent $80,000,000 price paid by TVA for Commonwealth and Southern's Tennessee properties indicated that the TVA phase of the war was smoothing out. Bonneville competition is still something in the future for the Northwest.

Logs In The Jam.
That leaves Secretary Ickes. He and his municipal power program are not the only logs in the jam. Yet we have it on good authority that PWA loans and grants for power projects create most of the complaints from companies seeking to comply with the holding company act.

Here is an example cited. Two centrally located companies own operating systems which dovetail into each other like a cross-word puzzle. Under the holding company act, this "sprawling" type of organization is frowned. Each unit must be rationally interested. The head of one company was willing to trade plant for plant so each company could consolidate its holdings. The other executive balked. He said two federally financed municipal projects were growing up right beside some of the property he would have to accept in trade. They are still not integrated.

Like his other PWA projects, Ickes had to start his last municipal power project by last December 31. He can't start any more unless Congress puts up more money. That is where Hopkins, now Secretary of Commerce, comes into the picture. Our information is that there won't be much more municipal power money beyond that already allocated. But there are lots of municipal power advocates in Congress, all grouped around Senator Norris, whose state is being cross-hatched with them.

And the supposition is that Hopkins can't calm the power executives until he can assure them, among other things, that they can resume their half billion yearly expansion program without too much fear that Ickes will park a publicly financed plant right down beside them.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL and LYNN NISBET

Raleigh, Feb. 17—Whenever Odus Mull gets on his feet to discuss any legislative question he is sure of an attentive hearing, not only because he is recognized as knowing what he's talking about but also because he can handle language in as colorful, picturesque fashion as any member of the General Assembly.

At yesterday's election law committee session he got off three gems.

"I have been present at the birth of every important election law within the past twenty years—not as a doctor, mind you, but just as a midwife," he first.

A few moments later he delivered himself of this bit of powerful political philosophy:

"I have always tried to base my political career on this principal: 'the folks divide up in crowds on all political questions. I always try to find the biggest crowd and get right in the middle of it.'"

And as he neared the end of his talk:

"I ain't a-gonna say much more, but I want to argue with you just a few furthers."

Members of the House rose en masse yesterday and cheered loudspeaker Libby Ward said simply: "I see in the lobby my mother, and I desire to extend to her the courtesies of the lobby and the floor."

Zeb Vance Turlington is having a lot of fun with his single legislative "baby"—an act to permit hunting rabbits in the snow in Iredell county. Yesterday he rose to offer an amendment to this measure as it reached the calendar for passage.

THIMBLE THEATRE (Starring Popeye)

DANGEROUS SERVICE

by GRACE ELLIOTT TAYLOR
The Characters
Peter Mallone: Adventurous newspaper correspondent.
Petronella: His young sister.
Tony Lance: British agent, the man Petrel loves.

Yesterday: Petrel meets Tony in Cairo. He is surprised to learn she is famous.

Chapter 26 'I Love You'

TONY'S regard traveled from her short, attractive hair, over her figure, which was slight and tense in her neat, suit, down to pretty ankles, and smart American traveling shoes.

"You're attractive. But still alone, I wonder why?" She would not answer.

"To make it easier, let me tell you something, Petrel. I love you. I always have. You were a child when I knew it first." She raised her eyes. She was amazed. He had confessed it so simply. It was like hearing an echo of her own imagination. This was what she had known would happen.

She dared not be glad. It could not be as simple as it sounded. Tony went on. I thought then, as I still do, that the most unfortunate thing that could happen to you would be to love me in return. I do not believe women, as a whole, love long, or deeply. I told myself you would meet someone else; be happier than I could have made you. You see I couldn't offer you any garden, they with a promise to help you plant it, any more than I can today. Petrel. It is only the change in you—a mistake, mind you, that makes me tell you now. And the fact that you haven't met anyone else. That wasn't the only reason I cleared out as I did, of course. I'm selfish. I wanted my freedom. I did not want a home or to be tied to a wife. Can you understand? Can you see what a jam you've put me into now? You still belong, by rights, to that English garden. But something has happened to you. I'm not sure you would be content there, for long?"

Outside the hotel, there was a great deal of noise. They heard the distant staccato of firing.

"I wonder, too, Martin Rcwdon warned me. He said, 'Europe gets you.' Perhaps he was right." She shrugged. "I'm glad you explained, Tony; and that you told me. Will you say it again. I didn't believe you the first time."

Her lips were tremulous as she asked it.

"I love you." He caught her hands tightly.

"We must be mad," she said, looking into his eyes. "I've met you four times in five years." "I love you," he repeated. "It doesn't necessarily mean there is anything to be done about it, but I want you to know."

row has much justification for supporting teacher pay increases as any member of the legislature. He has nine school teachers boarding in his home at Hollis in Rutherford county. He is afraid that he might not get even the chicken neck if he went home without voting for what the teachers wanted.

The omission of a comma in a revenue bill once necessitated a special session of the Connecticut legislature. Minor clerical errors delayed passage of two senate bills this week. One had to be recalled from the engrossing office and placed back on the calendar, the other went over till next day for correction of typographic errors.

of Senator Separk to restore $241,000 in public education appropriation, which amount has been cut out last week. Motion had about a dozen seconding speeches. Treasury Watchdog Pickens had spoken Assistant Treasury Watchdog Worthington was trying to speak. Demands came from all over the hall for the "question" Worthington was having a hard time of it. Chairman Rodman observed that Mr. Worthington has a right to be heard. Veteran Pete Murphy muttered, "But so far as I know there's no compulsion to listen." Those who listened didn't. The vote was 45 to 2, with half a dozen members not voting either way.

Speaking to the same motion Senator Wayland Spruille, he of "rippling waters" fame, had chided the committee for failure to provide for teachers when it had nonchalantly approved additional money for judges. "Of course," said he, "half of the folks in this room have an ambition to become a judge."

Plenty Of Excitement In Basketball Tourney Being Conducted Here

Stokes Scores Striking Victory Over Arthur

By JAMES WHITFIELD
A major portion of the forty-four team tournament games have been removed from the schedule by the action route, but they're still playing basketball at East Carolina Teachers College.

Highlighting yesterday's activities were ten games in the E. C. T. C. gymnasium and five in the city-county armory. Nine games are booked for the college gym today. Semi-final play will get under way Saturday morning and the finals will be tucked away in some team's book of laurels Saturday night.

Stokes high school, last year's winner in the boys' division, turned in an exciting triumph in yesterday afternoon's opener by trouncing another Pitt County team—Arthur—by the ridiculous verdict of 46-13. Stokes piled up an early advantage—led 22-4 at intermission—and never relinquished their lead the rest of the way. Carroll Whitchard, a senior Stokes varsity member, chalked up 13 points. Isham Nichols with 6 was top-performer in scoring ways for the losers.

Two forfeits caused play in the city-county armory to get under way at 4 o'clock in yesterday afternoon's doings. Leland high school's boys forfeited their game to Chitwood and the Plymouth girls failed to contest the Dunn girls by the forfeit route.

Fairfield high school's boys turned back Vanceboro 29-24 in the second phase of afternoon play. The winners were ahead 16-12 at half time. Bill Williams, Fairfield center, piled up 14 points for his colleagues. Vanceboro's Edward Ormand, center, with an even dozen tallies was best for the losers.

Plymouth came from behind Mars Hill's 14-8 intermission advantage and to turn in a 31-21 triumph in one of the afternoon thrillers. The score was deadlocked twice in the first half. Red Liverman, Plymouth center, went on a scoring spree and chalked up 17 points. Edward Brown got nine points for Mars Hill.

Jamesville's boys faded Dunn 23-20 in a hard fought afternoon battle. Jamesville was in front 12-9 at half-time. The count on the score board was deadlocked at 19 all five minutes before the final whistle. Edward Martin, forward, with 9 points, paced the winners. Carl Fitchett racked up 7 points for Dunn.

In the first afternoon game at the armory, the Beargrass girls breezed to a 21-15 triumph over Aurora's girls entry. Beargrass led 13-6 at intermission. Reola Rawls scored 11 points to lead Beargrass. Clara Hall with 7 was the pacesetter for Aurora.

Vanceboro's feminine entry turned in an 18-12 decision over Bath. Vanceboro was ahead 6-2 at the half. Adams with 10 was tops in scoring ways for Vanceboro. Latham shot 6 points to forge to the front for scoring honors in her division.

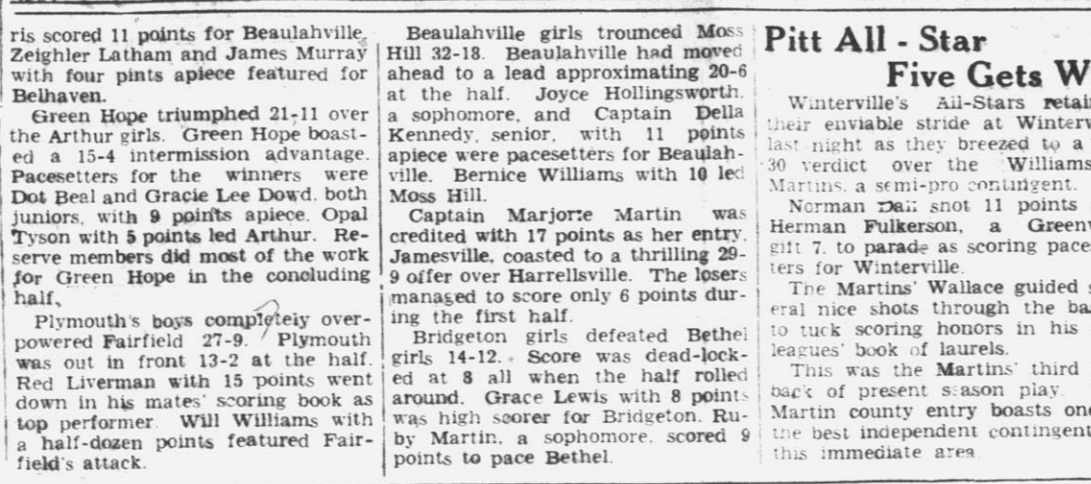

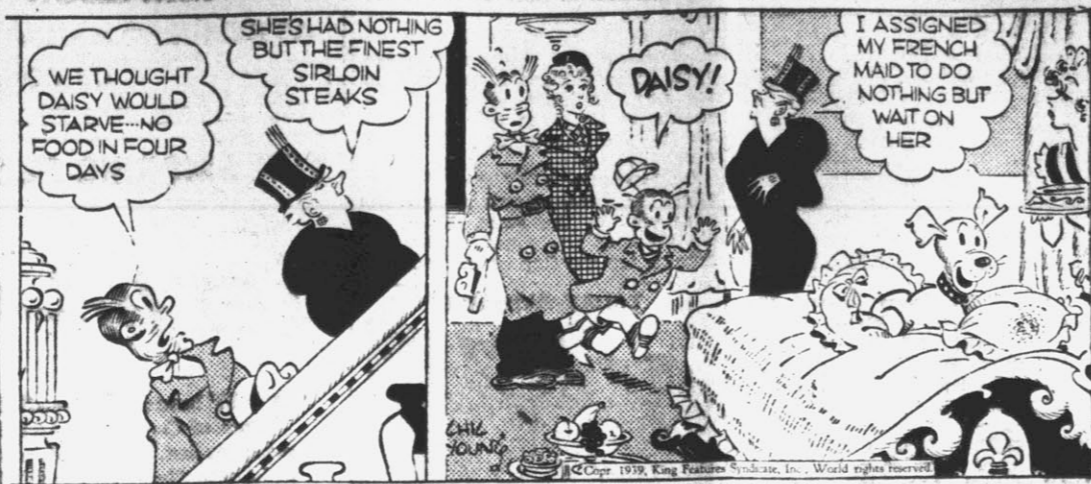

Bridgeton's boys overpowered Bethel, a Pitt County team, 32-23. Bridgeton had piled up an advantage of 17-10 at half time. Edwin Hanson, sophomore guard, guided 13 points through the basket for Bridgeton. Basil Carney got 8 points for the losers.

Grimesland girls mixed with Chitwood to the tune of 39-18. Pitt County's Grimesland boasted a 19-1 lead at the half. Fannie Clark, who led all other scorers in opening-day scoring activities, was credited with 30 of her mates combined number of points.

Belvoir's boys triumphed 29-20 over Mangum high school after coming from behind an 11-11 dead-lock created at intermission. Carl Scott sank several nice shots to garner 11 points for Belvoir. Mangum's George Ellis got 8 points.

Beulahville turned on the steam in the last half to defeat Belhaven boys 27-14. Beulahville was in front 10-8 at the half. W. B. Har-

GIRLS TO PLAY HERE TONIGHT

To Meet Washington High School Girls' Team

Washington High School's girls' basketball team will come to Greenville tonight to try to gain their second victory over the Lady Phantoms of Greenville high. The game will be played in the local gym and the opening whistle will sound at 7:15 sharp. There will be no preliminary affair.

Coach Roberson's lasses are all set for tonight's all-important contest and are doped to upset the Washingtonians, although the Lady Packers handed the locals a 25-18 defeat in a game played in Washington. The Greenies have gone undefeated since this loss.

Greenville and Washington high school athletic teams always put on a lively scrap and tonight's game will surely be no exception. The Phantomettes are itching to avenge their previous loss to their rivals and will give the visitors the fight of their lives and to even the two game series in the present season. Louise Papperville, who led the Beaufort girls to their first victory over the Greenies, will bear the brunt of Washington's attack tonight and will give the locals trouble before the game is over. Papperville has amassed a large number of points in 1938 play and is Washington's pride and joy.

Coach Roberson will be counting on Betty Tyson, southpaw shooting star and Andrew Leggett, aggressive forward, to tally enough points to send the Phantomettes to victory. Joy Fianagan will probably be the their forward teacher. At the guard posts will be Captain Jane Harrison, Lib Wells and Doris Roberts.

The conference leading Phantomettes journey to New Bern tonight to engage the Bear quint of New Bern high for their last conference test of the season. The Phantoms took a 38-15 win from the Bears in an earlier game played in Greenville.

ris scored 11 points for Beulahville. Zeigler Latham and James Murray with four points apiece featured for Belhaven.

Green Hope triumphed 21-11 over the Arthur girls. Green Hope boasted a 15-4 intermission advantage. Pacesetters for the winners were Dot Beal and Gracie Lee Dowd, both juniors, with 9 points apiece. Opal Tyson with 5 points led Arthur. Reserve members did most of the work for Green Hope in the concluding half.

Plymouth's boys completely overpowered Fairfield 27-9. Plymouth was out in front 13-2 at the half. Red Liverman with 15 points went down in his mates' scoring book as top performer. Will Williams with a half-dozen points featured Fairfield's attack.

Beulahville girls trounced Moss Hill 32-18. Beulahville had moved ahead to a lead approximating 20-6 at the half. Joyce Hollingsworth, a sophomore, and Captain Della Kennedy, senior, with 11 points apiece were pacesetters for Beulahville. Bernice Williams with 10 led Moss Hill.

Captain Marjorie Martin was credited with 17 points as her entry, Jamesville, coasted to a thrilling 29-9 offer over Harrellsville. The losers managed to score only 6 points during the first half.

Bridgeton girls defeated Bethel girls 14-12. Score was deadlocked at 8 all when the half rolled around. Grace Lewis with 8 points was high scorer for Bridgeton. Ruby Martin, a sophomore, scored 9 points to pace Bethel.

Pitt All - Star Five Gets Win

Winterville's All-Stars retained their enviable stride at Winterville last night as they breezed to a 37-30 verdict over the Williamston Martins, a semi-pro contingent.

Norman Dain shot 11 points and Herman Fulkerson, a Greenville girl 7, to parade as scoring pacesetters for Winterville. The Martins' Wallace guided several nice shots through the basket to tuck scoring honors in his colleagues' book of laurels. This was the Martins' third setback of present season play. The Martin county entry boasts one of the best independent contingents in this immediate area.

"I LIKE POTASH"

LESTER ROBUCK, R. D. 1, Robersonville (below), says: "In 1937 and 1938 I used 3-8-8 at 4,000 pounds per acre on my tobacco. Extra potash gave me better quality because of better bodied leaves—it meant easier handling. There was less disease in my tobacco than formerly. In 1937 my yield was 8,778 pounds of tobacco on six acres—about 1,500 pounds of tobacco per acre."

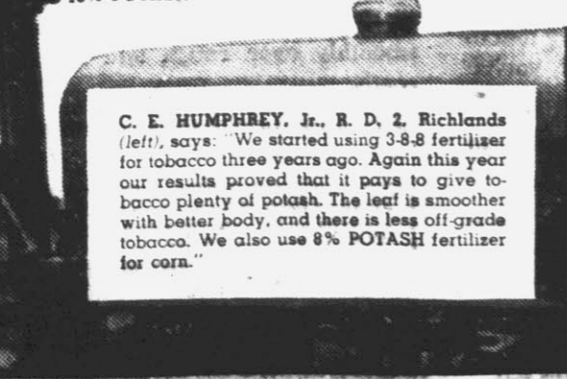

Says Mr. R. D. Sauls
R. D. S. Raleigh, "I side-dress my tobacco with NV SULPHATE OF POTASH in addition to using 1,200 pounds of 3-8-8 per acre under my crop. Potash gives me better bodied tobacco and helps the weights with better yields. I use 3-8-8 on cotton and 2-10-6 for corn."

R. E. HICKS, Deep Run, says: "My tobacco got 1,200 pounds of 3-8-8 per acre and 100 pounds of top-dresser containing 15% POTASH. The yield was 1,300 pounds per acre, representing a return of about $300.00 per acre. In the past I used only 5% POTASH in my fertilizer, but I have found that more potash gives me better results."

L. W. PATE, Goldsboro, says: "I have always used plenty of potash in my tobacco fertilizer. In 1938 I used 1,100 pounds of 3-8-5 per acre and side-dressed with 125 pounds of top-dresser containing 15% POTASH."

C. E. HUMPHREY, Jr., R. D. 2, Richlands (left), says: "We started using 3-8-8 fertilizer for tobacco three years ago. Again this year our results proved that it pays to give tobacco plenty of potash. The leaf is smoother with better body, and there is less off-grade tobacco. We also use 8% POTASH fertilizer for corn."

ROY DEANS, R. D. 4, Oxford (left), says: "I followed the fertilizer recommendations of my Experiment Station, using 800 pounds of 8% POTASH fertilizer under my crop and side-dressing with 100 pounds of NV SULPHATE OF POTASH per acre. The extra potash produced bigger yields of better quality tobacco that showed no disease. This convinced my neighbors. They also plan to side-dress with NV SULPHATE OF POTASH this year."

THE BIGGEST NEWS among tobacco farmers is the big extra profits to be obtained by giving tobacco a lot more potash than it received in the past. That is why such mixtures as 3-8-8 TOBACCO FERTILIZER have become so popular. That is why so many farmers now side-dress their tobacco with NV SULPHATE OF POTASH.

The Tobacco Research Committee recommends fertilizer containing at least 6% POTASH at 800 to 1,200 pounds per acre, plus a side-dressing of potash equal to 100 to 200 pounds of SULPHATE OF POTASH per acre, the side-dressing to be applied within 20 days after transplanting.

It does not always pay to buy fertilizer on brand name alone. Check up on the analysis. Make sure you are getting enough NV POTASH. Your Fertilizer Man can supply you with 3-8-8 made with NV POTASH to use at planting and for side-dressing he has NV SULPHATE OF POTASH. POTASH PAYS! N. V. ## Bill Is Aimed At Ending Collusion

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, Feb. 17—In the 1937 legislature Senator Jack Joyner of Iredell introduced a bill with a sort of innocent title like "To protect owners and drivers of automobiles from damage suits by dependent relatives" for injuries received in accidents.

The bill ought to have been named a "Bill to prohibit collusion for the collection of money from insurance companies." "It didn't survive."

Yesterday Senator Joyner put almost an identical bill in the senate hopper. He still doesn't expect it to pass the house, but he is doing what he can to break up what has come to be in many quarters little less than a legalized racket.

REFORM OF ELECTION LAW IS THREATENED BY DELAY

(Continued from page one) on the absentee question, and usually what they have to say requires much time in the saying.

Take yesterday's meeting as an example of how hard it is to get along. Practically all the committee members were in the appointed place at the appointed time, but a few of the subcommittee members, including Chairman Joe Carruthers, were at an earlier committee session and didn't get in for something like a quarter-hour.

Once these late arrivals had come in, things started at a reasonably brisk rate. Mr. Carruthers was asked to read the bill prepared by the subcommittee—the measure which would abolish the absentee in primary elections and surround it with many safeguards for general elections.

It's long bill and that used up a lot of time. Then it seemed that there are only ten copies of the bill in existence, not nearly enough to go round to the members. There was talk and argument about this. It was noticeable that John Kerr, Jr., one of the group which doesn't want anything done if it can be helped, talked at some length urging that everything stop until the bill can be printed.

Warren Drug Store

The morning's session. A few more such delays and it will be just too bad for the chances of any real reform at this session.

FIGURES ON SHIPMENTS OF LIQUOR PLEASE EVERYBODY

Dr. A. Barton of Wilmington, long-time leader against any movement or candidate with the odor of alcohol on its breath. Interspersed between these first and last assaults was a mortar-barrage fired by Dr. M. T. Plyler, editor of the N. C. Christian Advocate; Mrs. J. B. Derieux, legislative representative of the almost defunct W. C. T. U.; R. E. Price of Rutherfordton, B. M. Covington of Wadesboro and Rev. N. M. Fleming of Mebane.

LIGHT UP FOR SAFETY

To break old lights and your Buick's... headlight safety mirror

Then Mr. Mull got the floor and made considerable argument for the subcommittee report. It was an able effort—but when all is said and done, nothing but an almost word-for-word repetition of a previous address to the very same committee on the very same subject. By the time he was through, it was time for the House to convene, so adjournment was hastily taken, with the election reform bill just about as far from being reported and acted on as at the opening of

Spring's on the way! Get out and meet it!

NO, we're not trying to beat the gun—we'll be seeing quite a lot of winter before the spring buds burst.

But spring always has come—and with it a sudden itch to get out and see the awakening world. And also—all too often—the discovery that to get the new car you want, you've got to wait!

So what? So take steps now—to meet spring halfway!

Take steps to retire that slow-moponents charged that the bill was essentially a money-raising effort or it would not have been in the finance committee hands.

And on that point there is pretty general agreement. There are those around the table who see this as the possible solution of a two million unbalance in the budget. Rankly, few legislators concede the accuracy of sponsors' estimates of revenue, but they know the bill will raise a good many sorely needed dollars.

Introduction of the bill already has had some effect, according to one of its sponsors. It has broken up a tentative trade between representatives of "dry" western counties and "wet" eastern counties on several matters of pending legislation.

FOR SMOKING PLEASURE AT ITS BEST... LET UP - LIGHT UP A CAMEL!

"THEY have a mildness all their own," is the feature of Camels that Arch McLean, bank guard, mentions first. Rest periods on his job mean for him, as he says, "letting up and lighting up a Camel. A pause to enjoy a Camel eases the tension that goes with my job." The difference in Camel's choice tobaccos tells its own story! You will also find that Camels add to the pleasure of life by putting more enjoyment into your smoking. Get acquainted with the grand, rich flavor of Camels—their welcome, mellow goodness! Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS... Turkish and Domestic.

Spring's on the way! Get out and meet it!

Easy on the eye—easy to buy—on General Motors terms!

Put a Dynafash straight-eight under your toe to do battle with tough winter going—get the comfort of BuicOil Springing to float you smoothly over rough and rutted roads.

Get a new outlook for winter horizon or for spotting the first flush of green on the meadows in Buick's "visibility unlimited"—as much as 412 more square inches of safety plate glass to see through.

Then consider also: Your present car is worth less each day as a trade-in. The risk of repair bills grows steadily greater. Old rubber's dangerous, tired batteries a bore—and a bright new Buick is sound and supple all through.

Besides—Buick's prices are lower than a year ago, lower than you'd expect, lower than some sixes!

So why not drop in to talk it over? You'll probably want to get your Buick while the getting's good!
