PREMIER ASKS APPROVAL FOR BRITISH ARMS

Chamberlain Warns Sum Sought May Not Be Enough

SEEKING P E A C E THROUGH TRADE

British Government Pushes New Foreign Policy Augmenting Appeasement Plan

London, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain today sought House of Commons approval for raising the limit of Britain's borrowing for her great arms program to 800,000,000 pounds ($4,000,000,000), and warned attentive members that even this huge sum might not be enough.

The Premier opened the second day of full dress defense debate with a reminder that 500,000,000 pounds ($2,900,000,000) was scheduled for armaments expenditure in the next year alone—a sum equal to almost the entire national debt in 1914.

He spoke after the foreign office announced a strong protest to Tokyo over alleged Japanese air bombardment inside Hongkong—an outpost of the empire the rearmament program is designed to keep intact.

The British government pushed a new foreign policy progressive slogan—"Peace through trade"—intended to augment in some measure at least Premier Chamberlain's program of appeasement.

Chamberlain had still hoped to achieve European settlement by peaceful bargaining with the dictators. But it was apparent that the British foreign policy was setting out on a new tack.

The announcement that Britain was dispatching representatives to open trade talks with Soviet Russia and Germany was regarded as a significant indication of a realignment of foreign policy.

Talk in both capitals, especially in Moscow, may lead to a closer diplomatic understanding. The surprise business approach to Russia coincided with reports that Britain was seeking closer political relations with the Communist power and that Chamberlain had decided the best way to advance his appeasement policy was through a general economic improvement.

Alligators Found In Tar's Lowlands

S. Everett of Fountain, whose story that he saw an alligator on the Pitt place farm two miles from Falkland on the Pinetops highway was doubted by some listeners, went with several of the skeptics to the farm this morning to show them the tracks and found a plenty—another alligator.

Mr. Everett said he was positive the alligator he saw this morning was not the same one he saw yesterday afternoon. He said the tracks made by the left foot were three feet from those made by the right foot and estimated the tail of the alligators to be four feet long.

The alligators were seen in the lowland about 7.0 yards from the Tar river and on the edge of overflow water five feet deep.

The two young men had come to this community to call upon two young women. They slept in a tourist cabin Saturday night. Sunday morning the stove exploded when one of them attempted to light it.

Much Comment on Painting Of Seal

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Feb. 21.—An oil painting of the Great Seal of North Carolina, which made its appearance on the wall of the reception office of the Department of Agriculture a few days ago, has occasioned considerable interest. In fact, it aroused so much comment and elicited so many questions that some data concerning it has been assembled.

FRENCH ENVOY IS INSTRUCTED

Told to Continue Negotiations with Franco Regime

Paris, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The French Foreign Ministry instructed its emissary today to go ahead with negotiations for diplomatic relations with Nationalist Spain, despite dwindling hopes for an early end of the Civil War.

Senator Berard, who came to the French border town of St. Jean-De-Jaz yesterday after meeting obstacles in his talk at Burgos, received new instructions by telephone from his minister, Bonnet during the night.

The French Government was understood to hope that even though the present negotiations should fail to bring peace, the recognition of General Franco's regime might help check Franco's swing toward the side of Fascist powers.

Foreign Ministry officials said Berard's report to Bonnet on his negotiations for diplomatic relations with Franco created an "excellent impression."

Berard's next conversation with General Count Francisco Jordana, Nationalist Foreign Minister, was set for tomorrow afternoon at Burgos. Officials expressed the hope the negotiations would be concluded quickly, permitting Berard to return to Paris Thursday.

A session of Premier Daladier's cabinet originally calling for today to recognize Franco's regime was delayed and indefinitely pending the outcome of the negotiations.

Held Taxation Of State Bonds, Salaries Illegal

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Feb. 21.—As Congress moves blithely toward laws levying the Federal Income Tax directly to the interest on state and local securities and upon the salaries of officers and employees of the states and their political subdivisions, it is doing so in direct defiance of an advisory opinion rendered by the legal staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation.

It is doubtful that this committee ever intended the report of its staff to become public, but a printed pamphlet of the staff's report with the note "This report has been ordered printed for purposes of information and discussion" is now getting considerable distribution.

This report shows that the legal staff's conclusions were that Congress has not the power to do directly either of the things mentioned; but the Federal House has already disregarded this warning and it seems likely the Senate will also.

North Carolina officials have pointed out that the State would, in years to come, suffer heavy losses in re-refunding its present bond issues, or in issuing new bonds by reason of the increased interest rates it would be forced to pay in order to float the issues. Of course North Carolina would lose nothing immediately, because the tax law would not apply to the issue already made.

Summarizing its findings the committee staff found: "Whether the Congress has the power to apply the Federal income tax directly to the interest on state and local securities. "It is the opinion of this office that a constitutional amendment is the only effective method by which the Federal income tax may be applied to this interest. "Whether the Congress has the power to apply the Federal income tax directly to the salaries of officers and employees of states and their political subdivisions. "Existing revenue laws tax the compensation of State and local officers to the fullest extent permitted under the Constitution."

Eight Ships Wrecked When Pilots Trapped in Fog

ONLY FOUR ABLE TO LAND SAFELY

Six Students Escape By Bailing Out in First 'Chute Jumps; Instructors Land

Pensacola, Fla., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Trapped in a dense fog, eight navy planes were wrecked and two pilots killed on a routine training flight last night.

Rain washed away the fog at dawn today, disclosing the full toll to officers of the Pensacola naval station.

Six student fliers escaped by bailing out in the darkness in their first parachute jumps. Four pilots landed safely in South Alabama.

Lieut. G. F. Tresser, Sr., a Brazilian navy officer receiving regular training here, died when his plane crashed and burned at Corry field where land planes are quartered.

Lieut. N. M. Ostergren was found in his wrecked and burned plane near McDavid, Fla., about 25 miles north of Pensacola. The fog kept his fate a mystery until after dawn, when scouting planes took to the air for a search of the entire section.

Lieut. J. P. Monroe, aide to the commandant of the station, said a board of inquiry would convene today.

Besides Lieut. Tresser, another Brazilian officer was in the group. He leaped to safety.

Nine advanced students and three instructors took off early last night for a routine after-dark flight.

Not long after they went aloft a soupy fog rolled in from the Gulf of Mexico. The well-lighted landing field was blotted out. Thousands of feet high, the fliers were faced with the choice of hunting an airport that was not fog-bound or flying until their gasoline was exhausted and jumping.

Three instructors and one student managed successful landings. All their planes save one crashed within 10 miles of Pensacola.

NATION FEELS MERCURY DROP

Unscheduled Visit Of Summer Weather Is Cut Short

By The Associated Press. The mercury dropped as much as 30 degrees and cut short today an unscheduled visit of summery weather to the Eastern United States.

Snow was general throughout the middle west, where some sub-zero readings were taken, rain drenched fog in Florida and readings in the 20s were reported in Texas.

New Englanders saw the mercury slide from yesterday's 66 to 36 today, while the weather bureau forecast continued cold and partly cloudy.

A severe cold wave chilled northern middle-western states. Minnesota lows included 45 below at Park Rapids, 32 below at Wadena, 18 below at Winona and two below at Minneapolis. Snow covered southern Wisconsin.

Light snow in up-state New York accompanied a drop of 26 degrees in 24 hours.

Pennsylvania had a mercury reading of 45 this morning, 17 degrees below that of yesterday morning.

Unseasonable warm temperatures prevailed throughout most of the Carolinas.

At Raleigh, N. C., the weather bureau forecast the Neuse river would rise another foot at Kinston, where the stream already has inundated lowlands, but said no substantial damage was expected from the overflow. The river reached an 18-foot level last night.

The Tar, Roanoke and Cape Fear rivers crested yesterday in their lower reaches, the bureau reported.

M'Call's Attorneys Ask Court Review

Ratford, Fla., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Attorneys for Franklin P. McCall, condemned ransom-kidnapper of little Jimmy Cash, left Tallahassee early today after all night conference and C. A. Averitt said he would go to Washington to seek a review of the case by the United States Supreme court.

Averitt indicated he had abandoned at least for the present an earlier plan to have an alienist examine McCall to test his sanity.

Scheduled to die yesterday, McCall had given up hope when his execution was postponed until 11 a. m. Friday by prison superintendent L. F. Chapman, a little more than an hour before the electrocution was to take place.

Vigorous Protest Made By Great Britain To Japan Over Bombing of Hongkong

Foreign Office Radioes Message to Ambassador

MAINLAND AREA OF COLONY HIT

Full Details of Bombing Not Immediately Available at Foreign Office, However

London, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Great Britain today sent a "vigorous protest" to Japan over the bombing of Hongkong territory by Japanese planes.

The foreign office radioed Sir Robert L. Craigie, British ambassador to Tokyo, to protest immediately to the Japanese government in the strongest terms.

Full details of the bombing were not available at the foreign office, but it was understood the mainland section of the colony was hit.

Dispatches from Hongkong said a railroad station inside the crown colony border was bombed by Japanese planes. A British Indian policeman was killed and about a dozen other persons were injured.

Officials said Sir Robert also was directed to press for a reply to the British note of January 14 asking clarification of Japanese intentions toward western powers in regard to maintenance of an open door to trade in China. (The United States on December 31 and France on January 19 made similar representations to Japan.)

Britain long has disputed Japan's apparent intention to restrict foreign commerce in China and Manchukuo and for these two countries into a single, virtually closed economic bloc with Japan.

Preaching Mission Begins Tomorrow

The plans for the Preaching Mission to be held in the Christian church, beginning tomorrow night, have been completed and the congregation is looking forward to a fine session of fellowship and spiritual helpfulness through the ministry of the Reverend Fred W. Helfer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryan will introduce Mr. Helfer and his wife to the members and friends of the church at an informal reception in their honor held in the Parsonage, 412 East Eighth Street, tonight from 8 to 9:30 o'clock. The host and hostesses have emphasized the fact that this reception is not for members of the congregation only, but for all friends in the community. No special invitations are necessary. They wish the people of the community to know these friends and feel that the friendly atmosphere of an informal social hour will serve splendidly as a place of introduction of their guests to the people of a friendly community.

The services will begin tomorrow night with a devotional service at 7:15. This service is a call to "Friends of the Altar" for preparation for the regular service which follows at 7:45. The service will be held each week night. "Friends of the Altar" at 7:15 and regular service at 7:45. There will be no service on Saturday but services at the regular hours of worship on Sunday. Mr. Helfer will speak during these ten days on the general theme of "God's Peace and the World's Unrest." Mrs. Worth Wicker serves as organist and choir director and there will be special music at each service by members of the church choir and guests. The people of Greenville and vicinity are cordially invited to attend.

Desire Sentiment on Wage-Hour Act

The State association has been granted a hearing before a legislative committee Tuesday morning on the proposed wage and hour act.

Mr. Blount desires to obtain the opinion of each Greenville merchant and business house on the wage hour proposal and the local Merchants Association has asked its members to write a letter to Mr. Blount or the association outlining their opinion.

The letters will be taken to Raleigh to be used during discussion of the act to regulate hours and wages in the state.

Cooperation Is Needed To Aid Cotton Industry

National Cotton Council President Heard at Raleigh

Raleigh, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Complete cooperation by all persons interested in all branches of the American cotton industry can save the cotton belt and the industry, President Oscar Johnston of the National Cotton Council, asserted here today and remove "a cankerous sore from the body politics of our nation."

The industry needs, Johnston said, an adequately financed promotional and advertising program to encourage use of cotton products. Johnston, who has been making speeches to state units outlining purposes of the council, was introduced by Governor Hoey. Members of the legislature and hundreds of persons interested in the cotton industry heard him.

Foreign markets must be fought for, said Johnston, but domestic markets also must be developed.

Living standards in the cotton belt continue low, Johnston said, largely because "the people that section have been forced to buy the things they require from the cradle to the coffin on a (tariff) protective market, at an artificial price, and to sell the commodity upon which they are dependent, cotton, on a world, or unprotected, market."

During the past 10 years, he said, production and consumption of foreign produced cotton has increased steadily, while consumption of American grown cotton has dropped. He estimated that 2,500,000 farm (Continued on page five)

Five bills were introduced in both the House and Senate to attend laws on banking. They would permit destruction of records of defunct banks five years after complete liquidation of the institutions amend laws on accounts by minors; amend laws on liability of public officials for deposit in insured banks and on bonds of insured banks receiving public deposits; and clearly define secured and unsecured evidences of indebtedness and investments.

The senate got two bills to provide regulation of the sheet metal industry and a bill to amend the Virginia state line, with the exception of the Dismal Swamp canal.

ABC Stores Will Not Be Closed Wednesday

ABC stores in Pitt county and elsewhere in the state will remain open tomorrow, George Washington's birthday, according to a story in Monday's Reflector stated that the liquor stores, post-office and banks would observe the holiday, but other business would go along as usual.

It was recalled today that Washington's birthday is not one of the holidays listed by the State ABC board and, therefore, the Pitt county stores will remain open as usual.

Labor Department Seeks Powers Granted Others

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Feb. 21.—Those who seek reconsideration of the vote by which the House killed the bill giving legal effect to Labor Department rules and regulations are preparing to point out that they are not seeking to make any innovation in the State's set-up.

On the contrary, they will show that just the same powers sought for the Labor Department, have already been conferred by the General Assembly without any wild outcry of "Delegated Authority!" or "Contrary to the concepts of a free government," as was asserted by Victor Bryant on the floor of the House.

Examples which supporters of the measure will cite are: (1) State Department of Conservation and Development Laws, Section 2141 (c) of the North Carolina code authorizes this board to make rules and regulations for the protection and propagation of wild life, fish and forests of the State, closed seasons as designated by the

TIME REQUIRED TO EQUIP ARMY WITH WEAPONS

Two Years Needed to Obtain Anti-Aircraft Guns

APPLIES ONLY TO "INITIAL FORCE"

Day and Night Shifts Would Be Required To Turn Out Weapons for Personnel

Washington, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The Senate Military committee heard today that the army can not obtain in less than two years sufficient anti-aircraft weapons to equip its "initial protective force" of 400,000.

Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.), chief of ordnance, told a committee in a closed session this morning that day and night shifts would be required in manufacturing plants to turn out sufficient of the heavier types of anti-aircraft guns in two years.

The army made a start on manufacture of this type of artillery under an appropriation of $13,000,000 and contract authorization of $10,000,000 by the last Congress.

Sheppard said testimony of western and other army officials disclosed that even the appropriation of $10,000,000 sought in the President's rearmament program for this purpose would not provide enough artillery, ammunition and other supplies for the 400,000 soldiers comprising the regular army, national guard and organized reserves.

Meanwhile, over the protests of Republicans that the action might result in leading this nation into war, the House voted to continue the functions of the export-import bank to June 30, 1941.

While the Senate committee considered armaments, the House Military committee was told by George S. Messersmith that European nations were "using every effort to press the services of their experts" on South American countries free of charge.

Messersmith testified on a bill to amend the law authorizing this country to detail experts for such foreign service.

Other developments: Rep. Warren (D-M.C.) said the War Department had approved unification of all North Carolina waterway projects under the army district engineer office in Wilmington.

He said all North Carolina waterways now under jurisdiction of the Norfolk, Va., office, with one exception, would be placed under control of the Wilmington office April 1.

The one exception was the Dismal Swamp canal from Norfolk to the North Carolina sounds, which temporarily will remain under the jurisdiction of the Virginia office.

Waterways to be transferred from the Norfolk to Wilmington office are:

That part of the Roanoke river basin at and below Weldon; that part of the Meherrin river basin at and below Burkesville; the Chowan river basin below the confluence of the Nottoway and Black Water rivers; and all of the area in North Carolina east of the Chowan river basin and south of the Virginia state line, with the exception of the Dismal Swamp canal.

Miss Lund Pleases Audience. The program of folk-songs given last night at East Carolina Teachers College by the Danish contralto, Miss Engel Lund, and her accompanist, Dr. Ferdinand Rauter, appealed greatly to her audience, partly because of its unique nature and partly because of the color and charm of the singer's voice and the dramatic quality of her constantly changing facial expressions.

Without scenery or special costumes, Miss Lund presents in their own language and makes understandable songs of the people from many countries. She has a most attractive stage presence and her charming explanation of each song before singing it helped her audience interpret her selections.

From her rich store of songs, picked up from all over the world, Miss Lund gave last night groups from Switzerland, Germany, France, Iceland, Sweden, Denmark (her home), England and America, having included two songs of the Appalachian mountains. She had also an interesting group in Yiddish.

As this singer has at her command something like a dozen languages, and seldom sings in one she does not also speak, her songs in the various languages have a truly authentic ring.

Forty Years Ago Today

Items From THE DAILY REFLECTOR Tuesday, February 21, 1899

SNOW AND ICE Are Colder Than These Items.

Travel is light now. Boats are running again. There was more tobacco in today. The skimmers will soon be hunting for shad.

People from the country say the roads are terrible. Some of the folks are putting out coal ashes which make the crossings better.

There was more weeping weather today but it faded off again this afternoon.

Greenville streets are very susceptible to weather changes. A tub of rain makes them muddy and a basket of sunshine dries them off.

The town is repairing the bridge over the Academy branch at the Evans street crossing. A good culvert put in there would save money in the long run.

PEACE ACTION

Last week's "Peace Action" article in The Daily Reflector pointed out the power of propaganda in our civilization. Any consideration of this subject brings the realization that one of the strongest agencies for the dissemination of propaganda is the moving picture.

The March issue, last year, of "Propaganda Analysis," in a discussion of "The Movies and Propaganda," by Dr. Edgar Dale and others, made the statement that the producers of motion pictures know "the keys to strike to rouse the proper emotions."

In commenting on that report, "Christian Century," adds that by "playing for the stock responses... they build up stereotyped attitudes in the mass mind."

With the knowledge that nations must believe in a cause before they are willing to fight for it, carefully planned propaganda can hardly fix the desired beliefs and attitudes in the minds of the masses more easily than through one of our most popular forms of amusement.

DANGEROUS SERVICE

by GRACE ELLIOTT TAYLOR

The Characters
Peter Mallone: Adventurous journalist.
Petronella: His charming young sister.
Tony Lance: British agent, in love with Petrel.

Yesterday: Peter gets hurt in a riot. Not realizing that, Tony asks him to get important papers from René Howard, fatally injured in a plane crash.

Chapter 30
'Everything Is Changed'
"RENÉ, dying!" exclaimed Petrel, "tell me quickly. What has happened?"

"He has crashed in the desert; near the Fayum Road, in flames. They have taken him to hospital. I was going to try to see him, but I met Peter. He said he was going instead. That he would bring me news. I do not want to see poor René die. He was a hard young man, but he was very beautiful. What will become of Fleur von Cratz now?"

Since the root of her sorrow was mainly selfish, Petronella found it easy to comfort her.

"If he dies, there will be some provision for you. Or perhaps a similar job, should be available. But he may not die. I'll go and see René. Peter has a broken wrist, and I believe he has concussion. If they have any sense they won't let him leave the hospital again tonight."

"Sure enough, she was admitted when she had given her name. She could see Peter first, then René, if she was allowed to see him.

"Your brother ought never to have come here alone," said the nurse reprovingly. "He was wandering, quite wandering. Sister found him in the private ward, with the young aviator, who was just waiting to be taken into the operating room. He is terribly injured, and should have seen no one. All I can think is that Mr. Mallone did not know what he was doing. He collapsed the minute he got outside into the corridor, so it was too late to scold him then."

"Is he conscious now?" The nurse smiled a prim, disapproving smile. "Yes. He keeps asking for you. Shouting for you is nearer the mark. I hope it will quiet him to see you for a few minutes."

"I'm very sorry, I'll speak to him. I'm afraid he has been a difficult patient," she apologized. "I'll keep him horizontal for ten minutes, so you've worked miracles to have kept him for quarter of an hour. As they entered the room, the nurse smiled again.

RED OAK NEWS

"The Red Oak Variety Show" was presented to a very appreciative audience at Falkland last Friday night. It would be hard to say which part of it was received with the most enthusiasm.

Twenty-one boys and girls dressed in red and white capes and caps formed the band and old and new songs were played on horns, wash-tubs, wash-boards and other instruments.

The next part of the program was Aunt Betsy (who is very, very deaf) and the Oil Stock. Mrs. James Allen was Aunt Betsy and Amos Evans was the salesman.

James Sydney Allen sang the lead in "Memories," while the other main characters were Vivian Allen, Grace Tripp, Audrey Allen, Mary Elizabeth Savage, Inez Allen and Lillian Joyner.

"Henry's Mail Order Wife" was a one-act play. It was a screen from beginning to end. Mr. and Mrs. Amos Evans, Miss Athleen Sermons, Mr. Jack Whitford, Marlow Hall and James Ray Mole, were the characters.

The most beautiful part of the program was "Sweethearts On Parade" presented by 26 boys and girls in song and drill. Miss Mimi Tripp's tap dancing was very much enjoyed.

This program is being sponsored by the Home Demonstration clubs of Pitt county. The Ladies' Aid Society of Mt. Pleasant Church will sponsor it at Belvoir Thursday night, Feb. 23.

Friends of Mrs. Sude Elks will be glad to know that although her condition remains very serious, that she was a little brighter Monday.

"SAFETY FIRST" is a battle cry in Memphis, Tenn., as that city tries to repeat its 1937 performance in winning the National Safety council award for the city having the fewest traffic deaths. Martha Jane Fletcher, Elmer Follis (both rear), Clarence Martin and Doris Warmath (both front) played roles as injured "traffic victims" in school play emphasizing safety.

WITH A CRASH AS ITS DESTINY, the army's new secret twin-motor pursuit plane poised thus at March field, Calif., before it shot across country in 7 hours, 36 seconds of flying time—only to crack up at Mitchel field, N. Capable of 350 miles an hour, it has stratosphere operating equipment, tricycle undercarriage, is designed to carry machine guns. Pilot Ben Kelsey, who made flight, was injured slightly.

SUCCESSORS TO POPE PIUS XI MAY BE PICKED FROM THESE EIGHT PROMINENT CARDINALS

THE NEXT POPE may be one of these cardinals whose names have been oft mentioned as possible successors to Pius. This is Cardinal Schuster, 59, archbishop of Milan.

FROM FLORENCE comes Elio Cardinal Dallas Costa (above), 66, who's well known for his preaching. He's much loved in his diocese, Florence, where he's archbishop.

PALERMO'S PRELATE, Luigi Cardinal Lavitrano (above), 61, is among those archbishops whose names are heard. However, favorites usually fare badly in conclaves.

HIGH ON LIST of papal possibilities is Giovanni Nasalli-Rocca di Cornigliano, 66. In the voting, no cardinal votes for himself; there are two ballots daily.

ARCHBISHOP of Naples, Alessio Cardinal Ascalesi, 66, is another choice. While voting, the cardinals pray constantly for divine guidance, are isolated from world.

THE ACID TEST

As has been pointed out by at least one prominent economist, the term "emergency spending" has been abandoned. Government spending on a gigantic, ever increasing scale is rapidly coming to be accepted as a permanent necessity.

The most serious attempts to economize have been drowned out with the cry of "emergency." Now the sale issue is spending for spending's sake versus economy. The nation is face to face with the acid test of national character.

The pinch of squaring accounts will be felt in every corner of the land. Will the people be equal to the task, after a ten-year spree? The answer to that question lies with some 130-odd million individuals from Maine to California.

SHORT SHOTS

Raleigh, Feb. 21—An indication of the lethargy which has marked this session of the General Assembly is found in the fact that there have been only two cases in the House where the "Ayes and Noes" have been demanded and not one single instance in the Senate.

The two House record votes were on the matter of referring the "Good Roads Bill" to the Finance committee (it was) and on passage of the bill giving the Labor Department's rules and regulations legal effect (it wasn't).

At this stage two years ago, the House had rolled on six different occasions upon which some member "spotted" the Representatives by calling for a record.

He isn't absolutely certain of it, but Senator "Doggie" Hatcher thinks he is the first Burke county law maker in recent decades, at any rate to serve in both House and Senate.

He also pointed out that no Burke county Representative with in memory of the current generation has ever succeeded himself and served in two consecutive sessions.

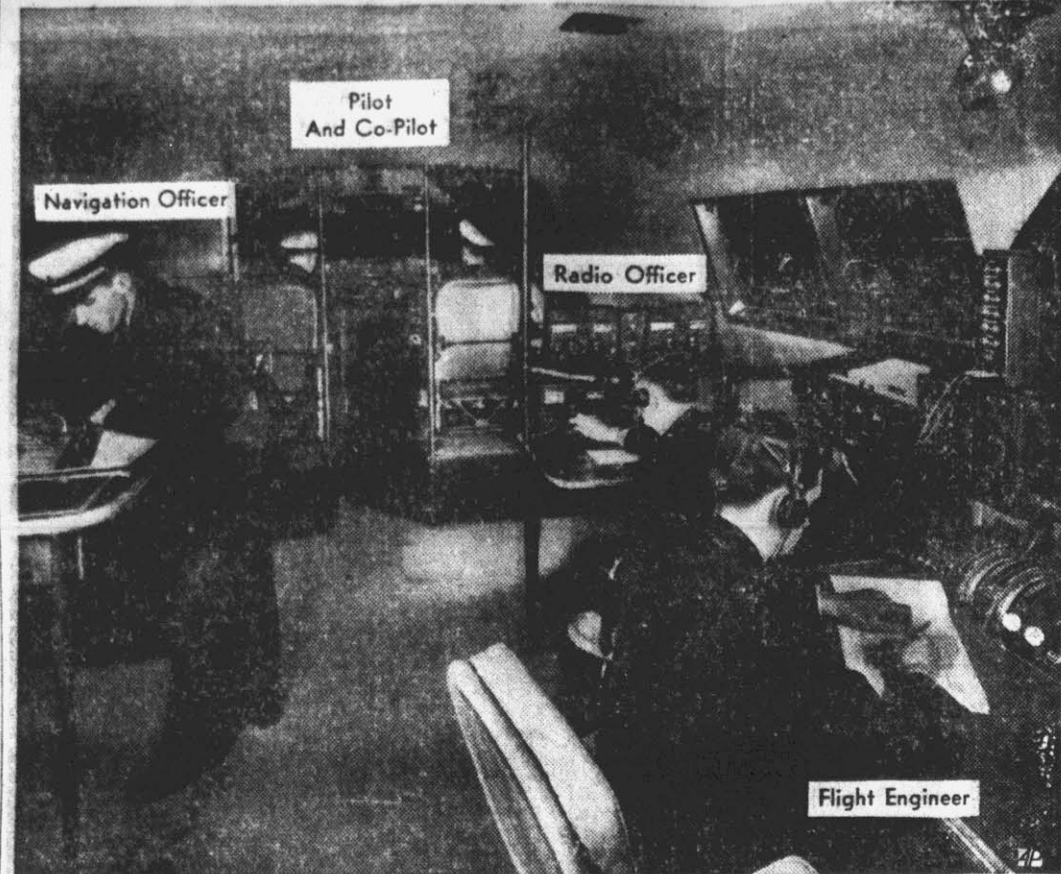

Incidentally the Senator vigorously said there are going to be "plenty of roll calls" on his side before this session ends.

One of them he emphasized is going to be on the matter of diverting $7,000,000 highway funds in the coming biennium.

J. M. Grainer, state Rural Electrification Authority secretary, says that electrification of the Tar Heel country side has brought a new danger and problem to rural youngsters. He pointed out that kite flying near high-voltage electric lines is very much of a menace.

'Flying Hotel' All Set For First Pacific Hop, 74-Passenger Sister Ships Will Fly Atlantic

ON THE UPPER DECK above the passengers' quarters the flight crew works at separate desks.

IN THE DINING ROOM passengers eat at table where their room for 14 at a time. Between meals the room's for recreation, with the galley serving as a bar.

By SAM JACKSON (AP Feature Service Writer)
SAN FRANCISCO—The world's biggest airplane, typifying America's supremacy on the peaceful side of aviation, awaits only a final Government okay before spreading its wings over the Pacific.

Nameless as yet—except for the label "Model 314"—the craft has been dubbed locally "the flying hotel." It is the first of six identical giants to be delivered to the Pan American Airways by the Boeing plant in Seattle.

The great ship justifies the old ad and the throats who have watched it circle San Francisco bay. It takes a crew of ten men to operate it, and comfortable accommodations are provided for 74 passengers. As a night sleeper it can carry 40.

Regular Dining Room
One does not dine off the portable lap-tables of the ordinary transport plane. There is a dining room which seats 14 at a time. Between meals it converts into a recreational room and the galley becomes a bar.

Passenger accommodations include the so-called "bridal suite." This richly appointed compartment contains a love seat, an end table, a combination dressing table and writing desk, a folding wash stand cabinet, an occasional chair and a coffee table.

The standard compartments contain 10 berths each, and there are commodious men's and women's dressing rooms. The galley has a steam table and a refrigerator.

The plane is operated from an upper deck, entirely separated from the passengers. Pilot and co-pilot sit together in smaller planes; behind them the navigator, the radio officer and the flight engineer work at separate desks.

And in a corner overlooking them all, like an executive in his busy office, is the supervisor who busynesses all activities. Can Cruise 6,500 Miles

The craft weighs 83,000 pounds and its four engines, developing 6,000 horsepower in all, can drive it at 200 miles an hour. Under best conditions it could cruise 6,500 miles without refueling.

There have been two larger planes built, but they no longer exist. An experimental giant built in Russia crashed. The German DOX made a flight to the United States, then was dismantled as impractical for exact plans for the five "314's" yet to come have not been determined, but most of them will go into service from New York to Southampton. They will fly first to establish a schedule next to carry mail, and later will take on passengers.

The Pacific Clippers cut the average passage time between San Francisco and Manila from 21 days to 5. The Atlantic air fleet will use the same figures in reverse. The 5-day passage of the fastest liners will be cut to 24 hours.

Another Basketball Tournament Starts Here Tonight

INDEPENDENTS TO SEE ACTION

Coach Gordon Gilbert's Outlaws Are Entered

By JAMES WHITFIELD
There's more to be played in the basketball realm scheduled for local sports fans, and action will get under way at East Carolina Teachers College tonight at 8:15.

In tonight's opener of the E. C. T. C. Independent Team tournament, the strong Colerain contingent will collide with the Wilson Bull Dogs, another action-producing semi-pro aggregation.

Coach Gordon Gilbert's E. C. T. C. Outlaws, known as just plain "gun heaters" to students on the college campus, will oppose the Morehead City Baptists in a game on the bracket for 9:15.

Kinston's all-stars will encounter the Winterville All-Stars in a game scheduled for 10:15. The Pitt County entry has progressed rather favorably in its present season engagements and should be able to give the fellows from Lenoir a tough battle.

Williamston Aces will encounter the Aurora Independents at 11 o'clock and the last game of the night will find the Washington Independents tangled with the United States Naval Base. The Naval Base is favored to garner laurels in the tournament, in that they have realized a barrage of victories during the present season.

This year's tournament promised to surpass all other tournaments that have been played in the college gymnasium heretofore in independent competition. The teams that finally gained a berth in the bracket nosed out over other entries, and all of them are rather evenly matched. Only play will determine which is the better of the entire number of entries.

There is a combined total of thirteen teams entered, with three byes. Four games are on tap for Wednesday night. The run on the semi-finals will be completed Thursday night, with final play rolled off on Friday night in the college gymnasium.

Coach J. D. Alexander, head of the physical education department at East Carolina Teachers College, will direct the activities of the tournament.

BATTLE ROYAL IS PREDICTED

Greenville and Wilson Sextets to Meet Tonight

Tonight at seven o'clock the Greenville high school Lady Phantoms will clash with the Wilson lassies in the high school gymnasium. This promises to be one of the most brilliant games of the season, since both teams are about equal in strength. The local sextet has lost only one game this year and the Wilson girls are undefeated.

Audrey Leggett, star forward of the Lady Phantoms, will play her last game on the home court tonight. Audrey's scoring has passed the 100-point mark, having rolled up more than half of the points made by the local team.

Last year the Lady Phantoms lost one game to the Wilson sextet and were victorious in one. All reports, however, show that Wilson is a much stronger adversary this year than last and that they promise to give the Greenville girls their stiffest fight of the season.

Those starting the game tonight will be Audrey Leggett, Betty Tyson, Joy Flanagan, Lib Wells, Jane Harrison and Doris Roberts.

A return engagement will be played in Wilson Friday night.

Young Chicken Thiefs.
Four Negro youths, all juveniles, were taken in custody today by local police officers on charges of stealing chickens.

The boys are alleged to have stolen three hens from the home of Charles Edwards at 815 Fleming street.

$2,000 Victory

He turned in a 72-hole score of 284 to lead the field by five strokes. Prize money was contributed by Mayor Robert S. Maestri of New Orleans.

How's Your Health?

Edited for the New York Academy of Medicine
By Isaac Goldstein, M.D.
Hazards of Aspirin

More than a century ago an American physician by the name of Beaumont profited by an accident to make valuable contributions to our knowledge of the physiology of the stomach.

A Canadian hunter, Alexis St. Martin, accidentally shot himself through the abdomen. Dr. Beaumont treated him, and while St. Martin recovered he was left with a permanent opening through the abdominal wall into his stomach.

For many years Dr. Beaumont employed St. Martin as a "stomach pig," and observed his stomach through its artificial opening. Beaumont wrote a classical work on the normal secretory function of the stomach, and its response to a variety of foods, fluids and irritant substances.

In recent years there have been developed certain instruments called gastrosopes by means of which it is possible to duplicate Beaumont's accomplishments. No artificial openings are required for the use of these instruments since they can be inserted (without much discomfort) into the stomach by way of the food pipe or esophagus.

An interesting report on one such study was made recently by Drs. Douthwaite and Lintott of Guy's Hospital, London. They set out to observe what effects aspirin has upon the lining membrane of the stomach.

The warrant for this study lies in the fact that clinically it is well known that aspirin is likely to cause indigestion, heart burn, and at times "pain in the pit of the stomach." In some cases aspirin has been known to cause gastric bleeding.

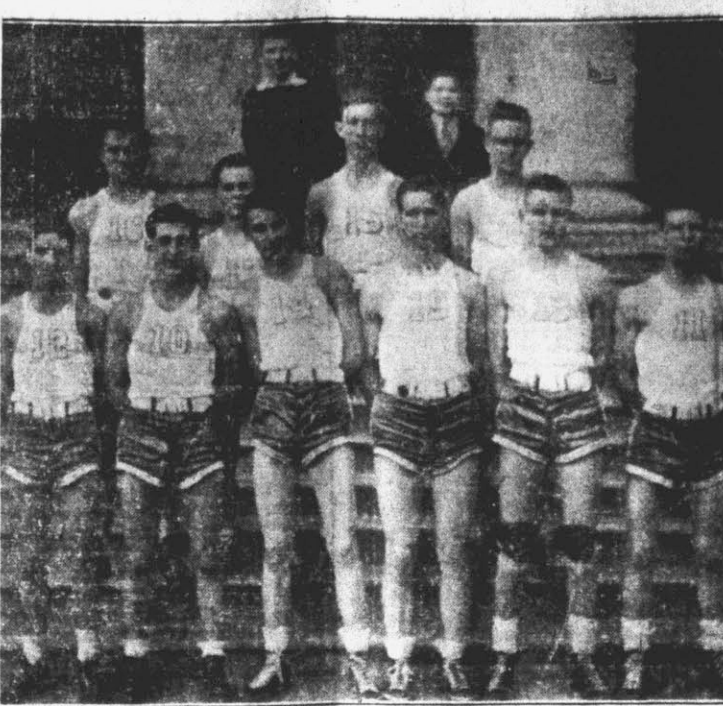

Drs. Douthwaite and Lintott fed different brands of aspirin to 12 individuals and observed the effect of the drug upon the gastric mucosa. They found that in about 80 per cent of their cases the gastric mucosa showed a localized inflammatory reaction to aspirin. The reactions varied from slight redness to intense congestion, and even to the development of submucous hemorrhage.

These findings should serve as a warning against the habitual use of the drug which, though of value when employed under medical supervision may be the cause of serious gastric disturbances when used as a cure-all.

"Glad I'm Alive!" . . . Life is pleasant if you are feeling good and peppy. That's what Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery did for me. It gave me a better appetite, increased the flow of gastric juice and thus improved my digestion. It's a tonic that helps build you up. It relieves stomach-aches due to excess acidity and you feel better in many ways. Buy now at any drug store.

MEET WILSONIANS TONIGHT

Greenville And Wilson To Meet Here Tonight

To Be One of Stiffest Contests of Year for Locals

Coach Bo Farley sent his Greenville high school Phantoms through a final workout yesterday in preparation for tonight's all-important game with the Wilson high cagers. The game will start about 8:15, following a preliminary affair with Coach Mary Shaw Robeson's Phantomettes clashing with the sextet of Wilson. Both games will be played in the local high school gym.

Wilson boasts of a Class A cage outfit which occupies second place in the standings, immediately below the invincible Durham high Bulldogs. The cyclones have run up victories over several Class A teams and have suffered defeats only by Durham on conference competition. Cokerell has shown the way in all their victories and will probably get in the G-men's way before the night is over. The Henson brothers are other luminaries of the Charles L. Coon team.

The Phantoms have made an enviable record this year. They have chalked up 13 victories while being set back only once in an overtime game. The Farley men have had comparatively easy times in winning over eastern conference competition but will not have a push-over tonight by a long shot. Coach Brodren has a fine team which has amassed an impressive series of victories. Tonight's contest will be the most evenly matched game of the year and will offer fans a different type of basketball. The G-men are definitely not the favorites and will run up against class competition for the first time this year. The game will surely be a tight affair and crammed with excitement.

How the G-men will stack up against Class A competition is a question which will be solved in tonight's game. Although Wilson has played better teams, the Greenies are rated a good chance of turning back the Cyclones. This test will be the final home game for the locals and the last chance for townspeople to see the Phantoms in action. Probably starters for the locals will be John Lautares, conference honor guard, and Ford McGowan as guards; Tracey Jordan at center; George Sakas and Larry James at the forward posts. Burney Warren, forward reserve, who suffered a sprained ankle early in the season, and Marvin Stocks will probably see action also.

John Lautares, Tracey Jordan and Ford McGowan will make their final home bow in the local gym tonight. They are the only regulars who will be graduated this year.

COOPERATION IS NEEDED TO AID COTTON INDUSTRY

families of the cotton belt during the last six years lacked by $2,100,000,000 getting "parity income" from cotton. Season's Most-Talked-Of Recruit Comes From Pacific Coast League

By DILLON GRAHAM
(AP Feature Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK—From the Pacific coast circuit comes this spring's most talked-of major-league rookie.

—Freddie Hutchinson.
"He's just 19 and only a couple of years off the sandlots but he was voted last year's outstanding minor-leaguer. The 200-pound, 6-foot-2 right-hander won 25 games and lost 7 for Seattle and compiled an earned run average of 2.48. Pacific coast rosters say he'll make as big a splash in the American league as did Joe DiMaggio.

Virtually every major-league club with any loose dough hopped into the bidding for this strong-armed pitcher. Just when every one thought the Pittsburgh Pirates had him booked, the Detroit Tigers grabbed him for $50,000 and four players. That was one of the highest prices ever paid for a green rookie.

Other 'Permanents'
Some scouts doubt if he's quite ready for the majors yet. But the Tigers, who need pitching as sorely as a polar bear needs ice, are going to give him every chance.

Several other far westerners seem likely to grab permanent jobs. Connie Mack unloaded a pile of cash for Infielder Bill Lillard, who hit .355 for San Francisco, and Pitcher Robert Joyce, who won 18 for Oakland.

The New York Giants pitching staff, a questionable quality with the sore-armed Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher, hopes to use Manuel Salvo, San Diego righthander. This 6-foot-4 Italian ace, who won 22 and lost 9, has been the Pacific's strikeout king for the last two seasons.

MANUEL SALVO

The Boss Listens.
Charles English, Los Angeles third-baseman who batted out 19 home runs and hit .303, has an idea he can bring into the Cincinnati infield. Bill McKechnie's listening.

Other rookie graduates include: Pitcher Henry Phippen, Sacramento, to the Philadelphia A's; Catcher George Dickey, Portland; and Infielder Tom Carey, Hollywood, to the Boston Red Sox; Pitcher Bob Eugene Lillard and Infielder Glen Russell, Los Angeles; to the Chicago Cubs; and Pitcher Robert Lee Sherill, Catcher Herman Franks, Infielder Joe Orenzo and Outfielder Elvin Adams, Sacramento, to the St. Louis Cardinals.

FOUR MEMBERS DISPLAY UNITY

Mecklenburgers Harmonious; Others in Discord

Reflector Bureau.
By HENRY AVERILL.
Raleigh, Feb. 20.—Contrary to all precedent, Mecklenburg's four-man legislative delegation is at this session proving a shining model of peace, unity and concord in the General Assembly, while at the other end New Hanover's three-member group is being cited as a horrible example of discord, dissension and discontent.

In between these two extremes the other plural delegations can be graded and rated at various levels—some working together smoothly and neatly on local questions while differing widely on state-wide policies, other getting all just fair to muddling in all respects.

The Mecklenburgers may well be classed with the lion and the lamb of ancient lore who lay down together in the utmost amity. Its four members come from four widely diverse spheres of activity, are far apart as the poles in most respects and still have been able to iron out all differences and present a united front so far. What they will do from here out in the session remains to be seen, and this story may, therefore, be a bit premature as a final judgment upon them and the 1939 Assembly.

But the fact remains that Raleigh has been treated to the sight of J. B. Volger, an independent merchant; J. W. Alexander, a farmer; Marvin Rich, a lawyer; and Joe Blythe, an industrialist, voting the same way on practically every question and displaying the finest of cooperation with respect to local matters.

ROOSEVELT LEAVES KEY WEST

President Roosevelt here is shown aboard a small boat for a bit of fishing in the famed waters around Key West, Fla., before sailing on the destroyer Warrington. Farther offshore he transferred from the destroyer to the cruiser Houston, which is carrying him South to witness U. S. fleet maneuvers near the Panama canal.

BENEFIT RATES ARE REVEALED

Fram Price Adjustment Payments On Four Crops

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration on 18 announced the rates of the price adjustment payments which will be made to producers who plant within their 1939 acreage allotments of cotton, corn wheat and rice.

The payments will be made on the normal yield of each producer's allotted acreage. The rates announced are: Cotton, 1.6 cents per pound, corn, 1.6 cents per bushel, rice 12 cents per hundredweight.

These price adjustment payments agricultural conservation payments are to be made under the provisions of the Price Adjustment Act of 1938. That Act allocates $212,000,000 to be paid to the producers of five major crops in amounts which will provide a return as nearly equal to parity price as the funds will permit.

The Price Adjustment Act provides that these payments will be made on the five basic crops in 1939 if their average farm price is less than 75 per cent of the parity. Since the 1938 average farm price of each kind of tobacco was above 75 per cent of parity, no price adjustment payments will be made on that crop in 1939.

On the basis of the estimated participating in the 1939 AAA Farm Program, estimates are that the $212,000,000 will be distributed among the other four major crops in the following amounts: Cotton $84,578,000, corn $61,613,000, wheat $64,113,000, rice $1,696,000. This allocation was made according to the formula set forth in the Price Adjustment Act, one half of it on the basis of the amount by which the returns from each commodity failed to reach parity income and the other half of it on the same basis as that on which funds are apportioned under the 1939 Agricultural Conservation Program.

The allocation was made on the basis of average farm prices for the marketing season ending January 31, 1939. The payment rates as announced will be net payments to producers.

AGAINST WAGE AND HOUR LAW

or similar trades. One would amend the present law on plumbing, heat-cover hot air heating. The other would create a new licensing body to cover the sheet metal, warm-air heating and roofing trades.

Dozens of hotel and restaurant operators argued to the joint labor committee that their businesses would not lend themselves to regulations of wage and hours. They contended they could not increase revenues and that putting wages of Negro workers in kitchens and similar jobs at the same level as white employees might create both labor and rival strife. Hotel operators said the proposals would ruin the tourist hotel business and close up "75 to 80" per cent of the state's hotels.

The North Carolina exhibit at the World's Fair in Chicago in 1893. It was painted upon the order of the Department of Agriculture, and has remained the property of the department ever since, being now in custody of the State Museum.

For the figure of Liberty on the seal (the woman who is standing and holding a staff in her hand) the artist used as model the wife of the late Col. A. B. Andrews of Raleigh, railroad executive. Mrs. Andrews was the mother of W. J. A. B. and John H. Andrews, all prominent citizens of Raleigh.

For the figure of Plenty (the woman sitting down and holding in her hand a cornucopia) he chose as model Mrs. Elias Carr, wife of the governor at that time. The painting became the centerpiece in the Chicago display and created much interest there. After the exposition it was brought back to Raleigh and until a few days ago it was cloistered in the seldom visited confines of the museum's art gallery.
