PEACE IS SEEN WITHIN SPAIN AT EARLY DATE

Communist Revolt Is Crushed by General Miaja's Forces

COMMUNISTS IN OFFICE OUSTED

Consolidation of Loyalists Regarded As Prerequisite to Armistice with Insurgents

Madrid, March 13.—(AP)—The defense council, as a pre-condition to seeking peace with Nationalists, removed Communists from civil positions today to consolidate a military victory over them.

The council announced that it had crushed military units of the party and had wiped out the six-day revolt of the Communists against the peace policies of General J. S. Miaja, head of the council government.

The number of casualties suffered by Communist soldiers was not known, but was said to be great.

It was understood that many Communists hunted by the council were in hiding. Some sought refuge in foreign embassies and legations. The government reported two chief leaders of the revolt were captured.

The last communist stronghold in Madrid fell yesterday when Miaja's troops followed up a 15-minute artillery bombardment with an assault on the unfinished government office at the top of Castellana avenue.

At Hendaya, France, on the Spanish frontier, General Miaja was reported ready to make immediate peace with Generalissimo Francisco Franco to forestall a threatened Nationalist offensive to take the rest of Spain by force.

After a five-hour session in Madrid the defense council announced that with the six-day Communist uprising suppressed, the government would go ahead with the plan drawn up before the rebellion.

The plan, it was believed, would mean the end of the Civil War by virtually unconditional surrender.

Member Of Ranks To Succeed Coan

Washington, March 13.—(AP)—S. H. Reynolds, D. N. C. said today he had been informed by Col. F. C. Harrington, federal works progress administrator, that a successor to George W. Coan, Jr., who has resigned as North Carolina WPA administrator, would come from within the ranks.

Reynolds said the names of C. C. McGinnis, assistant administrator, and Fred J. Cohn, information director for the North Carolina office, had been mentioned.

"Both are fine fellows," he declared.

Coan's resignation, announced over the week-end in Raleigh, will become effective April 1.

Chicken Bill

Raleigh, March 13.—It has long been against the law to steal chickens and hams, although many of the colored brethren don't seem to know it. It has also been against the law to buy stolen property.

Senator Arthur Corey of Pitt thinks that a little additional bookkeeping might increase respect for these laws. So he has offered a bill requiring any person or firm which buys or sells chickens, dead or alive, fresh or cured meats, etc., to keep a record of the transaction, showing the name and address of the person from whom purchased, the color and description of the hen or the ham, and certain other information which might assist in identifying stolen property. Furthermore, the whole business must be done after sun-up and before sun-down. By this method Senator Corey hopes to curb the habit of some Pitt county folks of stealing and selling other folks' chickens.

Head of the entirely new Slovak cabinet formed at Prague by Czech and Slovak negotiators is Karl Sidor (above), who was named premier. He was vice premier of the central government and Slovak representative in Prague at the time of his appointment.

F. D. R. ADMIRER BY POPE PIUS

Pontiff Praises President's Stand On Religion

Vatican City, March 13.—(AP)—Pope Pius, XII, was quoted today by Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador to London, as expressing "great admiration for President Roosevelt because he always admired his stand for religion."

The pope received Kennedy, who was President Roosevelt's representative at yesterday's coronation, Mrs. Kennedy and eight of the nine Kentucky children in a private audience.

"The pope expressed gratitude to President Roosevelt for having sent a representative," Kennedy said.

Pope Pius opened his summer estate in the Alban hills to the envoys of 41 nations, who saw him crowned in St. Peter's yesterday.

Diplomats, prelates and princes were among the 500,000 or so persons who watched the resplendent scenes of religious pageantry and enthusiasm in the vast mother church of Catholicism when the tiara was placed on the head of the 262nd pope.

Airplane Workers Asked To Register

W. G. Cherry, Jr., manager of the local Employment Service, declared today that there is much interest concerning the availability of skilled mechanics and machinists in view of the improving business outlook and because of the increased activity in the aviation field.

For this reason the Employment Service offices are interested in securing the names and addresses and a record of the experience of all skilled machinists and mechanics who are not now working at their trade who have had aircraft experience or who would be interested in securing training in aircraft mechanics.

All such previous registrants should renew their applications and such unregistered mechanics and machinists should get in touch with their local employment office. This is not to be construed as the promise of a job, but may be important to the applicant when openings are presented, Mr. Cherry added.

Enactment Of Two Money Bills Possible This Week

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, March 13.—North Carolina's General Assembly has now reached the point where final enactment of both big money bills (Revenue and Appropriations) is within the bounds of possibility this week. That both, or either, will be so enacted, however, is not probable in view of amendments made in the Senate to the House version of the Revenue bill, and to the further likelihood that there will be differences in the Appropriations measure adopted by the two branches. The Revenue bill will come up in the Senate for third reading tonight and will no doubt go through without change from its reading contents. It will thus vary from the House bill by providing an estimated $143,000 more in revenue. Thus on Tuesday the bill can go back across the Bridge of Sighs to the House of concurrence or disagreement with the amendments. Ordinarily it would be safe to pre-

Declares Substitutes Form Grave Danger to Industry

HOLDS THAT JAPS OBSERVING PACT

President Discusses WPA Needs Until July 1 at Conference With Democratic Leaders

Washington, March 13.—(AP)—N. C. Williamson, president of the American Cotton Cooperative Association, told the House Agriculture committee today that rayon and other substitutes constituted a grave danger to the cotton industry.

"These substitutes form a more serious threat than foreign production in our foreign markets," Williamson said. "And when we raise artificially the price of cotton we are encouraging the substitutes."

He said rayon was replacing markets for about 3,500,000 bales of cotton and added that development of the southern pine industry was cutting cotton acreage appreciably.

Williamson strongly endorsed the program approved by a conference of growers with Secretary Wallace here January 16. It included appropriation of between $400,000,000 and $500,000,000 annually for parity payments to cotton growers, reduction of the government's holdings of about 11,000,000 bales of loan cotton and transfer to the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation of 1,500,000 bales from the loan holdings.

Under questioning by Rep. Coffee (D-Neb.), a committee member, the witness agreed that the federal program of subsidies, loans and benefit payments had tended to increase cotton production through increased yields per acre.

Washington, March 13.—(AP)—The State Department informed the Senate Naval committee today that so far as it knew Japan had not violated a treaty forbidding fortification of former German islands in the Pacific which are now under a Japanese mandate.

This information was conveyed to the committee in response to an inquiry which it sent the department recently after hearing charges that Japan had excluded Americans from the islands in violation of the (Continued on page six)

Several Cases In City Court Today

An unusually heavy docket was disposed of in Municipal court this morning.

James Clark, Negro, who was charged with assault with a deadly weapon, highway robbery and other counts, was convicted only on simple assault and ordered to pay a fine of $5 and costs.

Other cases tried at the session were: Aaron Nobles, Negro, larceny, 90 days or $5 fine and costs; Mamie Ruth Brown, Maggie Wellington and Hubert Wellington, Negroes, riotous and disorderly conduct and assault, costs 30 days each; LeRoy Cromwell, Negro, worthless check, nolle prosequi; Earl Frizzelle, drunk, cost 30 days; William Little, drunk, cost 30 days; James Johnston, drunk, 30 days or costs.

Edith Short, Negro, worthless check, not guilty; Preston Harper, Negro, worthless check, not guilty.

CONVICTED IN ESPIONAGE CASE

Handcuffed together after conviction at Los Angeles on espionage charges, Mikhail Gorin (left), 34-year-old Pacific coast manager of a Soviet travel agency, and Halls Salich, 32, Russian-born naturalized American and a former U. S. naval intelligence service operative, here are shown in court. Sentencing was deferred until March 20. Salich was accused of selling 69 naval intelligence service reports dealing with Japanese activities on the West Coast to Gorin for $1,700.

Talk Extra Locks At Panama Canal

Washington, March 13.—(AP)—Addition of a third set of locks in the Panama Canal will be considered by the House Merchant Marine committee tomorrow as a link in the administration's defense program.

On the eve of congressional hearings on a variety of proposals supplementing the nation's "lifeline" between the Atlantic and the Pacific indications were today that the administration had turned down plans for a canal across Nicaragua.

Secretary Hull told Chairman Bland of the Merchant Marine committee that the one billion dollar Nicaraguan proposal was not in accord with the President's program.

The extra set of locks for the Panama canal would cost about $200,000,000. Experts said it would do much to minimize the danger of sabotage crippling the existing canal which Secretary Woodring declared "must be made absolutely impregnable."

The governor of the Panama Canal Zone has recommended that extra locks be installed as an alternate route from one to three miles from existing ones to lessen chances of enemy aircraft disabling the waterway with a single well-placed bomb. The canal already is equipped with some emergency locks.

ASKS VIEWS ON CITY MANAGER PENSIONS BILL

Rep. S. O. Worthington Wants to Know Will Of People

Rep. S. O. Worthington, home from the General Assembly for the week-end, urged Greenville citizens to familiarize themselves with a bill providing for a referendum on the proposed adoption of the city manager form of government and make known any honest, serious objections at an early date.

The bill provides that the referendum could be held at the call of the Board of Aldermen any time after the May 1 city election within the next two years. The measure includes the employment of a city manager only and does not include several features included in drafts previously drawn.

The measure, if adopted at the referendum, would empower the board to employ a city manager, who shall be executive agent of the board of administration of the affairs of the city. The new official would be chosen solely upon the basis of his training, experience, administrative qualifications and the choice not be limited to inhabitants of the town or state. It provides, however, that no member of the board shall, during his term of office or within one year after expiration of his term, be chosen city manager, whose salary would be set by the board and who would be appointed for an indefinite period and would serve at the will of the board.

Tobacco Plants In Critical Condition

Raleigh, March 13.—(AP)—Tobacco plants are in a "critical condition" throughout North Carolina because of nearly continuous rains, the N. C. State College Extension Service reported today.

Lloyd Weeks, assistant tobacco specialist at the college, recommended that application of about 15 pounds of a mixture of organic and inorganic nitrogen as a top dresser to every 100 square yards of bed where plants are small. He urged growers to wash the plants with at least two barrels of water per 100 square yards to prevent burning.

Legislators Are Opposed To New Dealers For 1940

Raleigh, March 13.—North Carolina's legislators, men who keep their ears to the ground in an effort to detect the slightest change in shades of opinion back home, are widely split on their choice for a Presidential nominee in 1940 if a survey of more than half a hundred of them, chosen at random and representing every section of the state, is any true criterion. The amount for a four per cent deduction from pay of employees (an employee being defined as one regularly in service of and whose compensation is paid by employer, except school teachers and elective officials not devoting a majority of time to duties.) The employer (that is, city or county) would contribute amount sufficient to provide a pension to equal the annuity the employee's contributions provides, and also to meet accrued liability. The employee would be eligible for benefits at the age of 60. In most cases the employee must retire at 65 unless requested to serve longer and at 70 retirement is completely mandatory both upon the employee and the employer. The amount for a four per cent deduction from pay of employees would be based on the annuity provided by the employee's salary deductions and pension provided by the employer's contributions. Several benefits are provided in the bill. There are provisions for disability benefits for employees with more than one year's service, and any employee would be entitled to the return of his contributions if he quits before he becomes entitled to retirement benefits. There are also provisions for payment of accrued benefits in case of employee's death. TWENTY-SEVEN KNOWN DEAD IN MARCH STORM

STORM CONFINED TO NEW ENGLAND

Varied Week - End, However, Brings Snow, Sleet or Rain to Most of Northern States

By The Associated Press The worst March snowstorm since the blizzard of 1888 spent its fury in the New England states today and moved northeastward over the Atlantic, ending a varied week-end storm which brought snow, sleet or rain to most of the northern states and left at least 27 dead.

The weather moderated over the middle west today and clearing skies were predicted in the East this afternoon. Snow fell today over Massachusetts, Vermont, Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Maine, leaving at least 10 dead, New York City dug out of about three inches of snow, which brought three deaths.

Three died in storms in up-state New York, where snow fall ranged from two to 14 inches.

The storm caused six deaths in New Jersey and traffic was hampered throughout the state. Farther south in the Maryland area, cloudy weather followed week-end rains and snow flurries. Two pedestrians were killed by autos on ice-glazed roads.

Changes Effected By Federal Board

Charlotte, March 13.—(AP)—Ben M. Williams, manager of the Charlotte field office of the Federal Security Board, said today he had received a communication from Washington announcing three changes in the North Carolina set-up.

Williams will be promoted March 27 to assistant representative of the Bureau of Old Age Insurance, with headquarters in the central office of Region Four at Washington. George N. Adams, manager of the Rocky Mount field office, will succeed Williams here.

Marshall Barney, assistant manager of the Raleigh office, will become assistant manager here to replace R. S. Marshall, who will become manager of the Rocky Mount office.

George Clapp Out From Fifth Ward

George H. Clapp, native of Greenville and resident of the city for practically his entire life, today announced his candidacy as alderman from the fifth ward.

Mr. Clapp is the only publicly announced candidate for the post. The office now is held by Troy Burnette.

The new candidate is seeking office for the first time. He is a farmer and tobaccoist. Two other candidates have publicly announced for the Board of Aldermen. They are G. A. Robertson from the second and J. D. Simpson, present member from the third.

Of those who voted for the Governor only one gave any indication he thinks the Hoey name will be seriously considered at the Democratic convention of 1940. This was the choice of eight out of 54 legislators, being the only one of that ilk to get even one vote.

North Carolina's popular Governor Clyde R. Hoey led the poll with 14 votes; but there is more an even chance this only goes to show that the Tar Heels haven't really made up their minds and are waiting to see just which way the political cat will jump.

OFFICERS BUSY OVER WEEKEND

Investigate Several Wrecks in and Around City

Several traffic accidents were investigated in and around Greenville over the week-end by highway patrolmen and local police officers.

Automobiles driven by Harold Bowers and B. T. Jones were involved in a head-on collision on Dickinson avenue last night around 9 o'clock. William Jones, riding with B. T. Jones, was admitted to Pitt General Hospital for treatment after receiving a severe throat laceration, but was released this afternoon.

Riding with Bowers were Ray Smith and Edna Earl Eilers, both of Greenville. Other occupants of the Jones car were Bill Baker, Bertha Jones and John Jones. Several of these occupants were treated, but not confined to the hospital. Officer L. D. Page investigated. The case will be aired in the regular Friday morning session of city recorder's court.

Word was received here today from Rocky Mount that Adrian Ayers, East Carolina Teachers College senior and popular athlete, was confined in a hospital there with several broken bones and severe body bruises received last night in an automobile accident near Rocky Mount. Although painful, his injuries are not regarded as serious.

Ayers was slated to catch for the E.C.T.C. Pirates' baseball team this season.

Gulford Cherry of Bethel, is facing a charge of reckless driving as the result of a collision between a car driven by him and one operated by Lloyd A. Stokes of Onaoke Rapids, about 10 o'clock Saturday night, two miles from Bethel on the Tarboro highway.

Cherry is alleged to have been driving to the left of the center of the highway. Several persons were injured in a collision between a car driven by Mrs. Caddie Little of Stokes, route one, and one operated by Marvin Barnhill, also of near Stokes, about 7 o'clock last night in the Stokes community. DECLARE NAZIS TO INTERVENE IN CZECH CRISIS

Some Sort of Intervention Said To Be Certain

FORM OF ACTION NOT KNOWN YET

German Officials In Constant Touch with Italian Officials, Rome - Berlin Axis Partner

Berlin, March 13.—(AP)—Official sources acknowledged today that some sort of intervention would be made by Germany in the Czecho-Slovak situation, which involves agitation for the independence of Slovakia from the rest of Czecho-Slovakia.

The mildest form would be diplomatic representations, but the possibility of "stronger action if necessary" was also mentioned by a foreign office spokesman.

On Wednesday the spokesman said Chancellor Hitler will appear at a parade in Vienna, just 34 miles from Bratislava, the Slovak capital. When asked whether army units and detachments of Nazi uniformed guards were moving to the southeast, he replied affirmatively but insisted they simply were en route to participate in the Vienna parade.

He indicated that German officials were in constant touch with the Italian officials, their partners in the Rome-Berlin axis.

In Prague Czech official sources reported that the Czecho-Slovak government had decided to protest by Germany against activities of minority Germans in that section and of the Vienna radio station.

HOW'S YOUR HEALTH?

The slogan "An apple a day keeps the doctor away" was not coined by the apple growers' association. It is older than all trade associations and it is in fact something that has come down to us from ancient folk medicine. Like all such sayings it overstates the case.

In recent years however it has been found that raw apples are valuable in treating diarrhea in infants and in adults.

It is told that during the World War an epidemic of dysentery developed among the half-starved prisoners of a prison camp. Several of the ill prisoners secretly ate some apples which they procured from nearby apple trees, and promptly showed a marked improvement in their symptoms.

This "escape" came to the attention of the camp physician, who was so impressed by the results that he promptly set about investigating the merits of the apple diet in the treatment of diarrhea. During his investigation he discovered that the use of apples to treat diarrhea was an age-old practice among German house-wives.

The matter was reported in medical literature and a number of scientists and clinicians followed up the clue. Careful study corroborated the original findings, and the apple diet treatment for diarrhea

SAYS MARRIED COUPLES SHOULDN'T SETTLE DOWN

Chicago (AP)—Couples who marry to "settle down" are likely to be headed for difficulties, said Dr. Paul Popenoe, Director of the Institute of Family Relations, Los Angeles, in a recent address here. "Marriage is an entrance to a dynamic, new and richer life," Dr. Popenoe declared. "Don't marry to settle down."

"Most marriage difficulties are caused by improper balance of normal human needs—the need for social acceptance, a full emotional life and some outlet for individual creative impulses. Marriage problems are problems of personality and lacks in balance can be recognized easily if partners honestly study themselves, and see causes rather than symptoms of discord."

Washington - People curious about what foreign correspondents in America sent to their home newspapers overseas will be interested to read dispatches sent from here about news breaking in this country.

Not long ago Hiroshi Saito, former Japanese ambassador to the United States, died in his apartment here after a lengthy illness. The last man to interview him was Masua Kato, Washington correspondent for Domei, the Japanese News agency. A translation of his story of that interview - the story he sent to Domei in Japan - is included below along with the story he sent when President Roosevelt here to Japan to take back to Japan the ashes of the dead enemy.

Japan is one of the three "axis" nations repeatedly scolded by this country. It has a censored press. Nevertheless the stories sent from here to Japan are strikingly in harmony with stories printed in American papers. The former ambassador's comment in the first dispatch, not before printed in this country, throws a new slant on Japanese reaction to the Guam affair.

"Acted With Common Sense" The dispatches, slightly cut down, read:

"Washington - I believe in the common sense of the American people," were the last memorable words the writer heard from the late Ambassador Hiroshi Saito, who lived in this country for 18 years as a diplomat.

"These words can be taken as his firm belief in the people of the United States. Saito had many friends among the Americans in all walks of life. He understood the American people better than any other Japanese."

"The writer met him and had a talk with him Tuesday morning, before his death, early Sunday morning, without realizing that would become the last talk with him. He looked a little bit pale that afternoon and was lying down in the bed with an ice bag on his chest. But he showed little change in his expression. He received the writer with a smile and, instead of talking about his condition, began to talk calmly of the current issues in which the Guam question was involved."

"Before the writer asked any questions the former ambassador said the American people sometimes seem to go to the extreme in sentimentalism, but as was the case in the vote in the House on the Guam question they were sane and acted with common sense."

"His death is a great loss to Japan, especially in connection with the American - Japanese relations as we need such a man as Saito to adjust the relations between the two countries."

Madame Saito Appreciative. And the second dispatch: "Washington - President Roosevelt's offer to furnish a heavy cruiser of the United States Navy to transport the ashes of the late Ambassador Saito was an unprecedented affair. American war vessels have often been used to transport the bodies of active ambassadors to their homeland, but as far as the United States government is concerned, at least, there is no precedent for carrying the remains of a former ambassador in a warship to his native country."

"Several American friends of the writer told him it was a high tribute to the late Ambassador Saito, who was so popular in this country and was the most friendly gesture on the part of the United States Government. They further commented that there were many misunderstandings between Japan and the United States, but the offer of President Roosevelt might become an important factor in adjusting the relations between the two countries, as nothing is nobler than the friendship remembered in bereavement of a friend. Saito was one of the very best friends of the American people."

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AYERHILL and LYNN NISBET

Raleigh, March 13 - Senator Edgar H. Bain of Wayne, a Baptist deacon, was called upon by Governor Horton to open the 1939 Saturday morning session of the senate with prayer. The chaplain had long since gone home, and the senators were tired after 10 hours strenuous work on the revenue bill. Also they were proud of the record they had set, and the main petitions in the Bain invocation were that what they had done might prove pleasing to the Lord, and "to the people back home."

At the same session, convening actually at 12:25 a. m. but theoretically and legislatively at 12:05 a. m. the Senator from Burke made his usual report to the effect that "your committee on the journal has carefully examined the same and found it to be correct. I move that it be dispensed with." Which was a very proper motion in view of the fact that the journal had not been written and so could not be read. The previous session had been adjourned only five minutes before.

With Austin of Ashe and Prince of Henderson able to outvote two-to-one Lumpkin of Franklin, the election law reform bills by the house have some rough sledding ahead in the senate sub-committee. The far western counties have all along contended for the status quo in absentee voting, and while Mr. Lumpkin is a hard fighter and in this case has a cause into which he puts his heart, he doesn't hope to salvage a great deal of reform out of the senate committee.

The General Assembly is still trying to find out what a newspaper is. The bill defining papers in which legal advertising may be printed has been recalled from the house twice after passing the senate through the route of being twice re-referred to committee.

George McNeill of Fayetteville, who as a member of the long-drawn 1935 senate had to climb the capitol stairs several times a day, and who has been a frequent visitor at this session in connection with election law reforms, suggests that the stairway in the eastern wing of the capitol building be replaced by a modern elevator. Mr. McNeill thinks the added convenience would more than compensate for any loss in architectural beauty.

As the 1939 General Assembly approaches the closing, George Uzzell, from Rowan, is speeding up his campaign for speakership of the next house. Serving as chairman of the committee on the whole during senate bill consideration, Mr. Uzzell got some practice which will help him if he wins the next speakership. Although several other westerners are surveying prospects, to date Uzzell is the only avowed candidate.

Republicans in the legislature are becoming very watchful. They have had two or three "below the belt" licks struck at them during the session and they know that in the rush of the closing hours others may be attempted. To their aid, Senator Powers wasn't paying much attention to the proceedings, but heard the reading clerk pronounce "Avery." That's Bowers' county and he got busy at once, had the reading held up until he could find out what it meant. When he discovered that it was just some other county wanting to come under the terms of a special act applying now only to Avery and two or three other counties he smiled and sat down. But he wasn't going to let them Democrats do anything to his county - if he could help it.

Reader Needed Help. Austin, Tex. (AP) - An emergency gave Mrs. Francis Cloud the opportunity to become the first woman reading clerk in the history of Texas' legislature. The incident occurred during the current session when Reader Clarence Jones had to call for help because there were 140 captions of bills to be read. Jones read 100; Mrs. Cloud read 40.

Labor Secretary Works A Hunch To Coax Union Chiefs To Parleys

FRANCES PERKINS: 'Smiles When She Says It'

When President Roosevelt called on the AFL and the CIO to heal the breach in labor's ranks, did he act on a sudden inspiration or was his letter part of a carefully laid plan? Sigrid Arne, AP Feature Service writer, has made a painstaking study of what went on behind the scenes. This article is the first detailed account of what happened.

By SIGRID ARNE, AP Feature Service Writer

Washington - Those "Dear Bill" and "My Dear John" letters the President issued from Miami were not notes written on the spur of the moment.

Behind them lay five months of trekking back and forth by the determined, black-clad figure of Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins. She has kept so still about what she was up to that even yet her trail is vague.

It was early in September she had a "hunch" the time was ripe for another attempt to bring CIO's John Lewis and AFL's William Green together in an effort to reach a labor truce. Now the meetings have been started.

Timing with Babe Ruth The Madame Secretary admits she had the hunch. Past that, she won't talk. But evidently her timing was right. And in public office a sense of timing is like having three men on bases with Babe Ruth coming up to bat.

Madame Perkins' opening gun stirred scarcely an echo. It was her labor Day speech. What she did then was to take the lid off by talking openly about the labor strife. Up to that point, for almost a year, administration leaders had avoided the subject.

Now, just talking about labor unions management of their own affairs might have brought a biting rebuff. And such a rebuff would be sour apples to any administration. Y. E. T. ABOUNESS, (The Gloria Shappe), Mar. 2-17-4w.

Anyway, the gun's there, and I'm here, and all the town heard me say up in the Club Parlor today that I hadn't a cent except what Mary gave me, and that I was afraid of being fired almost any time. I was joking, but it won't be a joke tomorrow."

"They won't," Zeb said. "They can't." "I'm used to headlines," Jane told Asey. "When father died, I was five hundred miles away at school, but you might have thought I pushed him out of the window."

When mother married the Spig—oh, but why go on? I'm used to it. She's dead. There's a sonnet lying about how if you got the worst at first, then you were more contented about the remainder. Or something. Maybe it was Nash Zeb, aren't you glad I never decided to marry you—

"If you'll marry me tonight," Zeb said. "Don't be quixotic!" Jane said. "Think of your father and the headlines. 'Baked Beans Heir Jilts Suspect Fiancee—Romance Ends in Old Home Killing'—d'you suppose they'll call it 'The Old Home Killing'?"

"Asey, I don't mean to gabble on so, but I feel wound up. I—well—I feel desperate, if you want to know. Oh, Asey, I simply adored Mary, and she's been so marvelous to me!"

UNCLE SAM PARADES MIGHT IN CARIBBEAN SEA

Wings and ships of the United States navy here are shown at a rendezvous near Culebra, a small island midway between Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, during the recent extensive naval maneuvers.

LEGISLATORS ARE OPPOSED TO NEW DEALERS FOR 1940 (Continued from Page One) No less than ten legislators said they are now undecided about the matter. About half of these said they will vote "for any good Democrat who is nominated."

Leaders of the party, like State Chairman Gregg Cherry of Gastonia, were very reticent in expressing any choice and none of them would go into any detailed analysis of the situation for publication.

The Dean of North Carolina's House, Walter Murphy of Salisbury, who first sat in the legislature of 1897 when the House had 27 Negro members, said, for instance, that it is much too early to name any definite favorite.

"I'll never vote for President Roosevelt again, even if he should be nominated," he said. "I sat in both conventions that nominated him and I was for him—but the man has never lived, nor will ever live, for never I would vote a third term."

On the Republican side of the state there was almost complete indifference—there are only nine Republicans in both Houses of the legislature. Only four were interviewed, of whom three said they haven't any choice and one plumped for Senator Taft of Ohio.

J. M. Haley Jr., young Madison county representative who stirred up a hornet's nest here in 1937 by introducing a resolution praising Senator Bailey's fight against the Roosevelt Supreme Court plan said: "I haven't any favorite, but whoever we nominate is going to win."

Proponents of the bigger funds evidently thought they were licked if the matter had come to a vote Friday, because it was one of their number, Dan Tompkins of Jackson, who forestalled a vote on reconsideration by hastily moving that the committee of the whole House rise and "report progress."

But anyway it's looked at this week to be an interesting one and it should send the Assembly well along the road to sine die adjournment unless unexpected complications develop.

Shamefacedly, the patient said: "I hate to tell you. My car choked on top of the hill and I got out to crank it. The thing wouldn't start and I got so all-fired mad at it I socked it in the eye. I poked my fist through the headlight."

Frankfort, Ky. (AP) — When a man with a badly-lacerated, bloody right hand came to his office, Dr. Tom Leonard, Frankfort physician, asked several questions to learn whether a police report would be necessary.

ROYSTER'S IS FIELD TESTED

A Complete Fertilizer For The Best Tobacco Crop

A Complete Fertilizer For The Best Tobacco Crop

Chemists have learned through years of field testing that secondary plant foods are deficient in many soils and it is now generally recognized that many fertilizers as manufactured in recent years do not supply this deficiency. Scientific findings have brought recognition of the fact that the calcium, sulphur and magnesia content of fertilizers is an important agronomic problem, especially in this section. Agronomists now recognize the fact that any fertilizer to be suited for general use in this area must contain adequate supplies of these elements.

Every farmer who buys fertilizer should know how much of these important Secondary Plant Food Elements his fertilizer contains. A deficiency in any one of them might well be the cause of a crop short on quantity or quality—might well mean the difference between a loss and a profit on his year's work.

Royster is blazing the industry trail this season with specific guarantee of the Secondary Plant Food Elements, in every brand of their tobacco fertilizer manufactured.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, March 13.—(AP)—The Stock Market took on a watchful, waiting attitude today and most leaders shifted over a slightly uneven route.

Lack of any real selling pressure at the same time tended to encourage recovery proponents. Dealings were quiet in the forenoon and failed to pick up momentum near the fourth hour.

Traders moved to cash profits here and there, brokers said, pending congressional developments having to do with business aid and economy. It was learned, however, that the President's plea for some $150,000,000 additional relief would not go to Congress today.

Bonds were irregular with recently strong Latin-Americans suffering a set-back. Commodities were also mixed, as were most European markets.

Mycock. The division contends that the Boswood amendment would take control of game protection in Currituck county.

The bill creates a local Game Commission of five members at a salary of $50 a year each, with the chairman to receive in addition $100 per year in addition to mileage of five cents for each mile traveled in attending not to exceed six meetings a year.

It also provides that the Currituck Game Commission shall approve all salaries fixed for game wardens, with the all-time warden's salary to be "not less than $125 per month."

The division also objects vigorously to a provision giving the Currituck game commission authority to fix any rate it sees fit for licenses to hunt wild fowl in Currituck.

Prior to 1935 Currituck had its own game laws. At that time it was taken over into the state-wide game system of the Department of Conservation and Development.

NEW VACCINE CUTS COLDS IN HALF

Oxford, O. (AP)—A new cold vaccine was reported by associate medical director C. I. Stafford to have decreased colds nearly 50 per cent among Miami, Ohio, university students.

Dr. Stafford said that 649 suffered only 2.53 days of illness and experienced 22.53 colds during the season. In previous years each student suffered an average of 5.17 colds, responsible for 58.3 days of illness. Many of those treated went through the entire school year without a cold.

Women's Query Begun In Carolina Goes On!

While Carolina women are talking about results of the CARDUI query here, the Reporters visit women in more states. Of the 1,100 CARDUI users interviewed, in eleven Southern cities, 93 per cent declared they were benefitted by CARDUI! Charlotte's record of 94 per cent helped was higher. CARDUI is a good stimulator of lagging appetites, a potent aid for digestion and assimilation. That's the reason its regular use enables so many women and girls to build up physical resistance, and help avoid the periodic pain of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition. Try CARDUI!—(Adv.)

PEACE ACTION

Peace is being promoted by the activities and ideals of Rotary International. In Nazi Germany, where Rotary ideals were flouted, all charters were revoked.

The ideals of Rotary enunciate clearly international good will, tolerance, and hope for peaceful relations of nations. Annual conventions of Rotary are held at least once every four years in some country other than the United States. Clubs are located all over the world. The visiting back and forth among Rotary clubs of business and professional men promotes greater understanding among nations.

In 1928 a Foundation was created with funds to "actually promote understanding and good will in ways that will be proper and feasible, and to bring into practical operation various suggested plans for communicating the ideal of service to the peoples of all lands and to all classes of humanity. To intensify and perpetuate the fine influence of Rotary upon the world."

So Rotary has a practical program for promoting good will among peoples as well as constantly emphasizing the ideal in all its member clubs through the nations of the world. Rotarians visiting in foreign countries are considered good will ambassadors by all peoples.

There have been many rumors recently that Japan was fortifying the islands and these rumors were cited by advocates of a pending proposal to improve naval airplane facilities on the American-owned island of Guam, about 1,400 miles from Tokyo. The Guam proposal was defeated by the House after critics had contended that it would be an unfriendly gesture toward Japan. The Senate committee is discussing whether this project shall be revived.

Washington, March 13.—(AP)—President Roosevelt discussed with Democratic leaders of Congress today how much additional money would be needed to operate WPA until July 1.

The leaders told newspapermen afterwards that the President would send a message to Congress tomorrow on the subject. White House officials had said earlier that it was problematical whether it would be completed by them.

Asked whether the message would request the full $150,000,000 which Congress cut from the President's original $875,000,000 request in January, Speaker Bankhead replied: "You will have to wait and see."

Others present at the conference were Vice-President Garner, Senator Barkley, the majority leader, and Rep. Rayburn, the majority leader in the House.

Much Concern Over Wild Game Measure

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, March 11.—The Game division of the Department of Conservation and Development is up in arms and anxious to get a killing shot at a bill introduced in the House Thursday by Representative Gideon Boswood to amend an act "for the better protection of migratory wild fowl in Currituck Sound to enable the county of Currituck to cooperate with the State Board of Conservation and Development of North Carolina."

The division avers that this title is "simply a camouflage measure designed to pay off political debts in Currituck county at the expense of sportsmen throughout the State." In the words of Rupert E. West, district game protector of
