SPAIN ELECTED BY MARGIN OF 377 MAJORITY

Wins Mayor's Race Over J. H. Boyd and H. H. Duncan

FLEMING WINS IN FIRST WARD

Collins Defeats Two Opponents; Sellers, Evans and Clapp Also Victorious

Jack Spain, Greenville attorney and business man, polled 1,482 votes in yesterday's city primary-election to gain a clear majority of 377 votes over his two opponents.

J. H. Boyd polled 571 votes and H. H. Duncan 534, to run second and third in the three-way race.

In the five aldermanic races, two incumbents were ousted; two, one of which was only recently appointed to fill a vacancy, retained their seats for another two years, and in the fifth contest the incumbent was not a candidate for the board.

J. A. Collins duplicated the feat accomplished by Mayor-elect Spain by gaining a clear majority over his two opponents in the race for alderman from the Second ward, a position to be vacated by Mr. Spain. Mr. Collins polled 397 votes to 197 for C. A. Robertson and 174 for J. Hicks Corey.

The closest race, however, developed in the Third ward between J. D. Simpson, the incumbent, and R. E. Sellers. The votes were so close election officials decreed a recount which gave Mr. Sellers 216 to 209 for Mr. Simpson, a majority of seven votes.

L. B. Fleming, mayor pro-tem and present chairman of the Aldermanic Finance committee, polled 174 votes to G. C. Honeycutt's 146, to retain his seat from the First ward.

The other hold-over is David A. Evans, who was recently appointed to the board to succeed A. C. Taddock who resigned when he moved from the Fourth ward. Mr. Evans polled 293 votes to 156 for E. H. Wilson and will continue to represent the Fourth ward on the board. George Clapp polled 304 votes to 287 for Troy Burnette, the incumbent, to win by a majority of 17 votes, and will represent the Fifth ward.

A large number of citizens expressed their confidence in Recorder L. C. Skinner and Solicitor Harry Brown of Municipal court. With no opposition, Judge Skinner polled 1,548 votes and Solicitor Brown 1,429.

Mayor-elect Spain won a clear majority in both precincts and from the start of counting it appeared that he would win in the first primary. Wards One, Two and Three, voting at the court house, balloted as follows: Spain 862; Boyd 322; Duncan 352. Voting in Wards Four and Five, balloting at the city hall, was as follows: Spain 620; Boyd 249; Duncan 181. Spain's majority in the court house box was 187 and in the city hall box it was 190.

The voting yesterday was the heaviest in the history of the city, a total of 2,587 ballots having been cast in the contest for mayor, compared with 1,815 in the contest between Mayor Marvin K. Blount who polled 921, and H. H. Duncan who polled 894, in the 1937 primary-election.

A look into the files of two years ago also reveals other interesting information. Sellers lost to Simpson in 1937 by a margin of 12 votes. Yesterday Sellers defeated Simpson by seven votes. Two years ago Burnette defeated A. E. Hobgood by 23 votes. Yesterday Clapp defeated Burnette by 17 votes.

Three members of the present board were elected last May and were not up for election this year. They are J. A. Watson from the Second ward; J. M. Taft from the Third, and Dr. M. B. Massey from the Fourth.

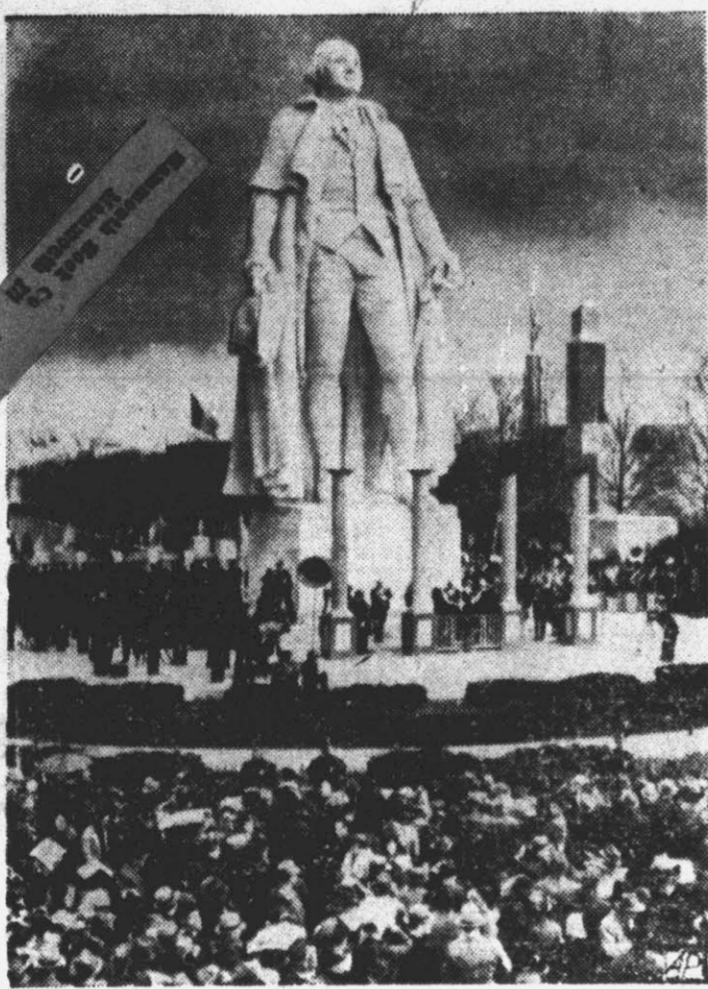

Officials elected yesterday will take office July 1. They were elected for two-year terms. Mayor-elect Spain, a native of Pitt county, began his law practice in 1931. He served a two-year term as county court solicitor, retiring to run for judge. He was defeated in a close vote by Dink James. In 1937 he ran for the Board of Alderman from the Second ward and won by a wide margin.

Predicted Vote

The nation has its "Big Jim" Farley to boost of as a political prognosticator, but Greenville has its own "Big Jim" (J. W.) Clark, who can outguess Farley. Last week Mr. Clark predicted the number of votes Mayor-elect Jack Spain would get, and wrote it down on a piece of paper, handed it to J. C. Tyson and told him to open and read after the election.

The prediction was read last night showing a guess of 1,480. Mr. Spain polled 1,482.

HEAVY DOCKET IN CITY COURT

Sessions Scheduled For Monday Conducted Today

One of the largest dockets in several months was disposed of in Municipal Recorder's court here this morning as the session scheduled for Monday, but postponed on account of the primary-election, was conducted.

A charge of drunkenness against Louis Gavlor was not pressed.

Charges of disorderly conduct against Elizabeth Tucker, Louise Whichard and Alice Lee Cox, all Negroes, resulted in 60-day sentences each, the sentences suspended during good behavior for one year and upon further provision that the defendants not violate any laws for one year.

Charges of engaging in disorderly conduct and of assault against Rene Little and Alice Lee Cox, Negroes, were dismissed.

Frank Gooding, Negro, was bound over to Superior court under bond of $100 when probable cause was found in a charge of obtaining money under false pretense.

Louise Whichard was acquitted of a charge of having whiskey for sale, but Wilbur Dixon, co-defendant, was convicted as charged and given a 12-month sentence. Dixon appealed to Superior court and bond was set at $100.

Luther Strum and Tom Woodley, white, were convicted of drunkenness and each defendant was ordered to pay $5 on the cost of court. Thirty-day sentences were provided.

Funeral Rites Held Mrs. Fannie House

Funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon for Mrs. Fannie House, 61, widow of William L. House. Mrs. House died Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock, following a week's illness with pneumonia.

The services were conducted at the home by Rev. W. H. Brunson. Burial was in the Ayden cemetery.

Mrs. House is survived by two sons, three daughters, four sisters and a brother.

Rook Is Retained As Bethel Mayor

J. W. Rook was re-elected mayor of Bethel in yesterday's perfunctory election following the primary last week. Mr. Rook defeated C. M. Burton.

Seven candidates were entered for the five seats on the city board. E. I. Blount led the ticket. The other five winners were W. C. Whitehurst, J. S. Smith, S. C. Ives and F. L. Blount.

Blount is the only new man on the board. He succeeds Royal Green, who did not enter the primary.

TO TAKE TIME ON PACT WITH SOVIET RUSSIA

Chamberlain Says "We Must Discuss The Best Form"

URGES CITIZENS HAVE PATIENCE

Declares, However, That Britain is Anxious to Conclude Mutual Assistance Pact

London, May 2.—(AP)—Britain wants "to conclude an agreement with Soviet Russia, but we must discuss what is the best form," Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today.

In a brief statement on long drawn-out negotiations between London and Moscow on some form of mutual assistance pact, Chamberlain added:

"Although I quite understand that there might be a certain amount of impatience (over delay in announcement of an agreement), there is no want of good will on the side of the British government."

Chamberlain spoke in answer to the opposition Liberal leader, Clement Attlee, who said, "Is the prime minister aware that many people are disturbed at the slow progress which is being made in these conversations and they have not felt that the British government is pressing on as rapidly as they might?"

Chamberlain replied, "I can not help it if people get that sort of idea and I hope that Mr. Attlee will not do anything to encourage it. I am sure that he does not want to make mischief between Russia and this government. We are carrying on discussions of a personal and friendly character. Many details have to be considered and other governments have to be borne in mind."

Asked if he had seen a statement in a London newspaper, The Times, that the British government wants to restrict the nature of the agreement and proposals put forward by the Soviet government, the prime minister replied, "I think the public would do well to await an official statement."

The government, meanwhile, proceeded with the difficulties of construction by tackling delicate questions raised by Ireland, and ordered the expulsion of an unspecified number of "undesirable" German residents.

Little Damage Done By Hail This Morning

Strong winds and some hail visited parts of the county today, but damage was not considered extensive to small tobacco plants, although some farmers did report some of their plants were destroyed.

The section around Ayden was visited by hail. Although the pellets were rather large, they were said to have been soft, in some instances appearing like snow.

The Lang's crossroads community also was visited by hail, but the damage was said to have been light.

Much hail also fell in the Sheldermere section, but the fall there also was said to have been soft and caused only slight damage. Most destruction was caused where coverings had been left off tobacco beds and the small plants were struck by the hail.

The mixture of rayon with cotton in making fabrics has been required by law or government decree in the last few years in Germany, Japan and Italy.

Southern Truck Owners Battle Trade Barriers

Raleigh, May 2.—Executives of the truck-owners' organizations of the ten Southern states have organized to fight for removal of trade barriers between states in order that state lines may become highways of commerce, serving the general welfare. Miss Frances Johnson, executive secretary of the North Carolina Truck Owners Association said today.

Miss Johnson had just returned from Roanoke, Va., where the organization meeting of the group was held and where she was elected secretary of the new organization—the Southeastern Association of Truck Owners Association Executives. John A. Ebel of Jacksonville, Fla., was named president.

There was general agreement among those attending that Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace was right when he recently said, "Today we cannot say that we have free trade between the states."

The new group will exchange information and ideas in their efforts

Speculation Over Fate Of Slovakia Aroused By Visit Of Hungarians To Germany

Nazi Officials Admit That Area Recently Placed Under German Protectorate and Coveted by Hungarians Among Subjects Discussed During Three-Day State Visit of Hungarian Officials

Government authorities refused to commit themselves beyond the statement that "naturally, Slovakia was talked about, too, and what agreements, if any, were made to bring nominally independent Slovakia more closely into line with Hungary probably will remain secret for some time."

Hungary has coveted Slovakia, now under German protection, following the break-up last November of Czechoslovakia, and informed quarters discussed the possibility that Hungary might get more of it in return for closer co-operation with Germany.

On April 4, Hungary and Slovakia signed a protocol fixing their new frontier, with Hungary getting title to most of the Slovak territory which Hungarian troops occupied in frontier warfare March 23 to 25, and some additional areas for a total of about 386 square miles and a population of 45,000.

(As a sequel to the Munich conference, Hungary received 4,896 square miles with a population of approximately 1,035,272, mostly from Slovakia. A small part of the area lies in Carpatho-Ukraine).

Chancellor Hitler's newspapers, meanwhile promised an answer for what it called the "shabby" treatment of nine Germans, ordered expelled from Great Britain; Warsaw press demands for Polish protectorate over the free city of Danzig aroused interest here, and Hitler left for his mountain home.

Officials said the Fuehrer had no engagements at present with foreign statesmen.

Complete Session Of County Court

Richard Allen Cook, convicted in county court this morning of driving drunk, reckless, and passing a school bus while it was stopped for unloading passengers, was fined $50, taxed with the costs of court, had his driving license revoked for two years and given a six-months road sentence, suspended upon good behavior and upon further condition that he show good behavior and not possess or drink intoxicating liquor.

Russell Barnhill and James Perkins were convicted of larceny and given a four months road sentence each.

Clifton Morris, convicted of cheat and defraud, was ordered to pay the costs of court and pay $10 to Joe Griffin, the prosecuting witness.

Will Isaac McLawhorn was freed of a charge of non-support when a motion to dismiss the case on the grounds of former jeopardy was sustained by Judge Dink James.

R. B. Teel, convicted of fraud, was given a 60-day road sentence, suspended upon payment of costs and checks for $182 and $1746 to the prosecuting witness.

Hailstorms Descend On Eastern Carolina Areas

Snow And Hail Visit Section, Crop Damage Small

Raleigh, May 2.—(AP)—Raleigh had a moderate heavy hailstorm today and a heavy accompanying rain and thunderstorm.

The weatherman found conditions somewhat surprising, he admitted, as the weather map yesterday had indicated clear and warmer weather for this area today.

The temperature dropped more than 44 degrees, along with the hail, and two hours later the ice balls were visible in drifts looking like sleet.

H. E. Kichline, the weather man, said his information was that central North Carolina and part of central Virginia were having heavy rains this morning in the surprising weather and the eastern part of both states was having light rain. The remainder of the nation, he said, was getting its expected clear and milder weather.

Wilmington had weather similar to Raleigh this morning and Wayne, Pitt and other eastern counties reported light hail, with slight damage to crops.

Snow fell in large flakes for 10 minutes at Henderson, coming after a seven-hour rain which totaled 1.41 inches. The temperature fell to 37 degrees.

At Burlington, snow mixed with a heavy rain fell as the temperature took an abrupt nose-dive following last night's brief but violent hailstorm.

Crop damage and heavy destruction to flower gardens were reported throughout Alamance county, but no figures were available as to the actual loss.

Dr. Adams Elected Rotary President

New officers to take charge in July were announced last night by the Greenville Rotary Club. Carl L. Adams is to be president, Steve Wilkerson, vice-president, and John Proctor, secretary and treasurer.

The program for last night's meeting presented the editor of the high school newspaper and the college newspaper.

First to speak was Allen Taylor, editor of Green Lights, which is published by the Greenville high school. He related the process of publishing a story from its inception to its final printed appearance; then he indicated the various kinds of stories and features that went to make up his newspaper and the distribution through the issue.

Billy Daniel of Wilmington, editor of the E.C.T.C. bi-weekly newspaper, spoke next, elaborating on his editorial policy and the purposes of a college newspaper—written record of happenings on the campus, journalistic experience, adventure in creative effort, and what he called editorial experience. These two student leaders were presented by Herbert Barber with a word of appreciation for the boys' manifestation of qualities of leadership.

AGAINST PLAN END CONGRESS ON JUNE 15TH

Proposal By Bankhead Brings Quick Opposition

WAR MAJOR ITEM IN DISCUSSIONS

Demands Made On Senate Floor That Congress stay in Session 'To Keep Us Out of War'

Washington, May 2.—(AP)—A proposal by Senator Bankhead (D.-Ala.) that Congress adjourn June 5 brought quick demands in the Senate today that legislators stay here "to keep us out of war."

Bankhead suggested that congressional committees work during the congressional recess on the debate-provoking issues of neutrality, taxes and social security amendments.

Senators Johnson (R.-Calif.) and Connally (L.-Tex.) vigorously opposed the proposal, saying Congress should remain in Washington as long as there was any chance that the nation might become involved in war.

"The consequences of a war to this country are such that I tremble when I think of them," Johnson shouted to the Senate. "If we once embark upon this mad adventure, this great government of ours will be gone, gone, gone."

Other developments:

The House investigating committee voted to permit a House shutdown, probably tomorrow, on a resolution of disapproval for President Roosevelt's initial plan for government reorganization.

The AAA announced it would issue three types of cards, red, white and blue, to regulate sales of this year's marketing crop quota provisions of the farm law.

Quotas approved by growers at a referendum last December limit the amount of cotton each may sell. Excess sales will be subject to a penalty tax of three cents a pound compared to two cents last year. The law authorized the increase in the penalty.

The national marketing quota is about 12,000,000 bales. White cards will be issued to growers who plant within their cotton acreage allotment. Such growers will be allowed to sell without penalty all the cotton they produce on such allotments.

Red cards will be issued to farmers who overplant their allotments. Such cards will specify how much the holder may sell free of penalty. All 1939 cotton grown above the quota will be subject to a penalty tax of three cents a pound marketed.

Blue cards will be issued growers who hold cotton carried over from last year produced in excess of 1938 marketing quotas. The holder of such a card who plants within his 1939 acreage allotment, but produces less than his normal production may sell carry-over cotton to make up the full amount of his quota.

The State Department, it was learned, is investigating the national defense value of establishing a 12-mile zone of territorial waters around the United States.

This extension of the present three-mile limit of coastal control was proposed to the department by Chairman Pittman (D.-Nev.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

Pittman said officials had advised him the proposition was under consideration but it was complicated by international questions, since the department would prefer to take the step with other nations.

Reveals Sale Here Of Savings Bonds

The Greenville post office ranked seventh in the state in the sale of savings bonds during last year, it was learned here today. The ratings were based on the per capita sales. Bonds in the amount of $59,625 were sold here during the year. Chapel Hill, with sale of $49,321.25 ranked first; Hendersonville was second and Wilson third in sales per capita.

Charlotte sold $609,900 worth of the bonds, but ranked sixth in per capita sales. Greensboro, with sales of $314,118.75 was second in total count, but ninth in rank. Henderson ranked eleventh with sales of $35,362; Goldsboro twelfth, with sales of $75,056.25.

Ormond Is Chosen Mayor For Ayden

W. C. Ormond was elected mayor of Ayden, defeating J. B. Eure, the incumbent, in a comparatively close race yesterday.

T. G. Worthington was re-elected to the City Board over A. R. Cannon and Russell Britt in the First ward. S. M. Edwards also was re-elected, defeating Lyman Baldrice and Charlie Tripp in the Fifth ward. E. J. Gardner of the Third had no opposition.

The terms of J. D. Cannon in the Second and R. L. Turnage in the Fourth do not expire until next year.

Mr. Eure was re-elected judge of Recorder's court, being without opposition for the position.

Vesper Services At College. Miss Ella Ramona Sircar, president of the Christian Student Association of India, which corresponds to the Young Women's Christian Association of the United States, spoke to the vesper group at the college on Monday evening.

She began her talk by telling of the Madras conference held in India last year. At that conference the Y.M.C.A.'s and Y.W.C.A.'s of the represented countries united into one group called the Christian Student Association, which she said is not a church but a part of the church.

Miss Sircar then spoke of the work of Ghandi and his followers. She said that Ghandi does not wish his country to win independence from Great Britain by violence, but to appeal to man's soul and intellect, which war does not appeal to.

Miss Sircar said that the Christian students in India today desire to build a life of Bible study, so that the Bible will speak for itself, and a life of prayer.

At the conclusion of her talk she answered questions on the social and economic life of India today.

Miss Sircar was brought to Greenville under the auspices of the Presbyterian Student Association, the Methodist Student Association, and the Young Women's Christian Association of the college.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coons

Hollywood—Streamlining Jane Withers, one of the week's best ideas—and her own.

Last time I saw her she was a chubby child, apple-cheeked. Presto, comes Jane's big resolution to exercise, cut down on potatoes and candy—and here she is, entering her 13th year, a slim and pretty young lady ready to be "graduated" into roles to fit her new "maturity."

Ann Sheridan is going to be a "lady" in "Winter Carnival"—playing an American-born countess, but with plenty of oomph as usual.

Tragic bulletin from 20th: "Marjorie Weaver, whose great physical beauty has abetted her career as an actress, will be without this useful prop when she appears in "Young Mr. Lincoln." In the interests of realism, Director John Ford forbade Marjorie to wear any make-up.

"Mary Todd didn't wear any," he told her, "so neither will you." It is really a brutal handicap to Marjorie.

Are your tears dry yet? Stu Erwin ought to help. Stu says he's going to enter politics—to campaign for a railroad station in Beverly Hills, where there isn't one.

"We're a city of more than 600 station wagons—and not a single station," Stu orated. "Where do we drive them to? To the beach, to the mountains—I drive mine to work. We need a station, though. Don't need any trains, just a station where we can park our wagons and have pictures taken."

Stu sees station wagons as a real gauge of player popularity, to wit: "If you drive your wagon the length of Hollywood boulevard and still aren't asked for autographs, you ought to realize you're washed up."

Stu is today in jail—for "It Could Happen to You"—and he's been rehearsing a scene with Raymond Walburn for some time. It's ready to go now, but Director Alfred Werker things of something.

"Your shirt," Werker says, "May be you ought to change it—somebody's sure to notice."

"But it's white," says Stu. "Another one would look the same—unless I wear a checked one. How about changing my tie?"

"Change your tie," agrees Werker. The ensuing delay can be checked up against the one or two people—in every movie audience—who go to movies to search for infinitesimal "faults."

Mozelle Britton (Mrs. Alan Dinehart) visited her husband on the "Second Fiddle" set and her spring ensemble attracted admiring notice of the Misses Sonja Henie and Edna May Oliver.

"Where'd you get it?" the usual question.

"I didn't," said Mrs. Alan. And she told the truth. Alan, the perennial movie villain, buys most of his wife's clothes—bought this outfit from shoes and stockings to hat.

"His judgment," said the mistress, "is superb."

Either Mrs. D. is one wife in a million, or Mr. D. is one husband ditto.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York—"I had known there were lady detectives for years, but it wasn't until I saw a woman steal a pair of hose in a department store that I decided to become one myself."

"So I went to the manager and told him I thought I could be of benefit, and that was my first assignment.

"It is a thrilling experience for one of my temperament, but I wouldn't recommend it to any young girl, as courage, poise, and considerable strength is required.

"You never know what might happen to you. Once I received a broken rib and a severely scratched face from a beautifully gowned woman, a merchant's wife, who stole a box of handkerchiefs. She bit and scratched until we calmed her. Her husband came right over and explained that she was a kleptomaniac—she stole things without really knowing why—and of course the store refused to prosecute.

"My job is to pose as a shopper. I browse through the counters, and stroll from one department to another, occasionally making 'purchases,' examining various items of merchandise. But actually I am eyeing the customers. I watch them closely and when one is observed secreting some object in her coat or pocketbook I stay right behind her until she is out of the store. Then I seize her and yell for assistance.

"We never accost them inside the store. If we did that the store would become liable to a suit. If you find anything on a person in a store they can simply say they were examining it with a view to purchase, and they get away with it. But if you catch them with merchandise after they leave the store, and with no purchase slip to identify the article, they have no alibi.

"It would amaze you to know the names of prominent people who have been caught in department store thefts. It is a widespread mania. There are cases in our records of really distinguished women who cannot resist the chance to obtain some insignificant item for nothing.

GRAY GORDON

Gray Gordon and his Tic-Toc rhythm orchestra will provide music for the "May Frolics" dance to be held at the armory here Friday night of this week.

This popular orchestra has for the past three months been featured at the Edison Hotel in New York City, from where they have been heard four times weekly over NBC. His outstanding success at this spot has made him in great demand in all parts of the country. Prior to this engagement Tic-Toc Rhythm was featured on the radio commercial program, "Nesco Royal Cooks." Gray Gordon was brought to Chicago to fulfill a limited engagement at Chicago's unique and exclusive Canadian Club, Doodlebug Cafe, at A Century of Progress. Visitors to this great exposition soon began to clamor for Gray and his distinctive Tic-Toc rhythm. Due to this tremendous popularity, the orchestra was held over for the entire season.

Greenies Defeated By Goldsboro, 5-2 For First Loss

VINCENT SMITH LEADS AT BAT

Bad Fourth Inning Proves Waterloo For Locals

Although out-hit by only one safety, the Greenies were defeated by Goldsboro, 5-2, yesterday in the Goldbugs' park. It was the first loss for the Greenies, who won their first two encounters of the season.

Vincent Smith, acknowledged by all as one of the best catchers in the league, continued to look good at the bat this season and yesterday got three for four and scored one of the locals' runs. Red Christopher garner two safeties, Spence, Heavener and Wilson with one each accounted for the rest of the locals' eight safeties. Skipper Wilson was the only Greenie to make an extra base clout.

Greenville matched the first-inning tally of the Goldbugs in the fourth, but the tie was short-lived, as Goldsboro came back in the fifth to rack up four and force Badger from the box. Badger was relieved by Spence, the loss being credited to the former.

While it was the first loss for the Greenies, it was the first win for the Goldbugs. Greenville still has a clear title to third place in the standings, led only by Williamston and Tarboro, which teams have won three and two, respectively, while not dropping a single contest.

JEWISH REFUGEES ARE RESTRICTED

Caracas, Venezuela.—(AP)—The government of the Republic of Venezuela has announced it would accept two groups of Jewish refugees from Europe, but has placed a ban on further immigration. The groups, numbering more than 250 refugees, were allowed to remain in the country "solely as a humanitarian act and owing to their very distressing position."

A government communique said the Jews would be prohibited from engaging "in any activities of a commercial nature." They were granted a stay of two months at Guaymas, near the capital, but at the end of that period they will have to "proceed to the interior parts of the republic only."

Farm economists expect about the same demand for all types of tobacco in 1939-40 as in 1938-39.

TAX TOKENS POPULAR AS AFRICAN ORNAMENTS

Denver.—(AP)—William Payne returned from an African trip, says sales tax tokens are popular there. "The natives get them from tourists and wear them for necklaces and other ornaments," he said. "They prefer the shiny aluminum or zinc kind, such as Kansas and Colorado distribute."

If given their preference, many of the natives chose the tokens for tips instead of much more valuable silver coins, because the tokens are perforated and easy to string.

Four-H Club work began in 1914 and since then has been a factor in training approximately 7,500,000 farm boys and girls.

DRAFT DATED IN 1851 PUZZLES BANK OFFICIALS

Marvsville, Calif.—(AP)—Bank officials were puzzled over a sight draft presented for payment by Alfred Grant of this city. Drawn on Wells-Fargo & Company, it was for $200—but dated February 16, 1851.

Grant said he had found it among the papers of a deceased uncle. The bank started investigation to learn if it is valid.

Injured Flier

Brig. Gen. Vladimir Kokkinaki, pilot of the soviet plane which was forced down on sparsely settled Miscou Island, N. C., suffered a slight contusion of one rib. The flier and his radio operator-navigator were on an attempted non-stop flight from Moscow to New York. The two men refused to leave their plane, giving as their excuse that fuel tanks burst and they feared smokers might set the plane on fire.

MIGHTY THROG PRESENT FOR OPE NING OF NEW YORK WORLD'S FAIR

A mighty throng of New Yorkers and visitors was on hand at Flushing Meadows for the official opening of the New York World's Fair of 1939. This view, made from the speakers' stand and looking toward the fair's now famed trylon and perisphere, shows part of the crowd of 35,000 guests of honor who were in the "Court of Peace" to hear the official opening address by President Roosevelt. It was expected that more than a million persons would visit the fair on the opening day.

HOPE DEVELOP FOREST TREES

College Botanists 'Nurse' Row Chest-nut Trees

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, May 2.—Botanists at State College are tenderly "nursing" a thin row of chestnut saplings which they devoutly hope will become progenitors of mighty chestnut forests in North Carolina. They look hopefully, but somewhat tremblingly, far into the future and envision these forests in centuries to come. They know there isn't any earthly chance that any of their dreams will be realized in their generation, or even the next after them.

The trees at the college, some hundreds of them, were transplanted nearly four years ago from their native mountainsides, 200 miles away. They were fleeing the deadly Asiatic blight which has all but denuded western Carolina's lordly mountains of their one-time gorge-ous covering of chestnuts.

No effort will be made to re-plant the young trees until the blight has killed the last tree in the highlands and therefore has no further victims to feed upon.

At that, they will not have long to wait. Two decades ago the chest-nut was one of North Carolina's most lordly trees. Highly prized as lumber it was also valuable for chemical extracts and for pulps. But chiefly it was beloved for its succulent yield of nuts.

About 1904 an oriental fungus known as Endothia Parasitica ap-peared on the trees and with ap-palling speed swept through New England and entered the South. It attacked the bark of the American chestnut, girdled the trunk and killed the tree with amazing dis-patch. The fungus was very pro-ficacious and its seed so light that every breeze wafted it on its lethal journey.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, May 2.—(AP)—The stock market chugged up the rally-ing ramp today for gains of one to three points, but steam was lacking on the comeback and closing prices were well under the best in many cases.
