

SUCCESSOR TO WM. DOUGLAS IS APPOINTED

Henderson Appointed As Member Securities Commission

WOULD BAN SALE OF TOBACCO SEED

Act Designed To Restrict Production Of American Types Of Tobacco Outside the U. S.

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—The Senate confirmed without dissent today the nomination of Leon Henderson, 44-year-old economist, to be a member of the Securities Commission.

Henderson will succeed William Douglas, now an associate justice of the Supreme court. There has been reports that the commission will elect Jerome Frank to succeed Douglas as its chairman.

Henderson now is executive secretary of the monopoly investigating committee.

Meanwhile, House debate on the record-breaking $770,473,241 navy appropriation opened with a declaration by one of its sponsors that while the current European war crisis does not justify the huge expenditures, "it is part of our domain that is ultimately at stake."

Chairman Scruggs (D-Nev.) of the House naval appropriation subcommittee, made this statement while recommending enactment of the bill carrying funds to start construction of 23 new warships, including two 45,000-ton battleships and 500 additional airplanes.

Other developments: The Senate agriculture committee approved a bill by Representative Kerr (D-N. C.) to prohibit shipment of tobacco seeds to foreign countries.

The measure, designed to restrict production of American-type tobacco abroad, has been passed by the House.

A $378,000,000 increase in farm appropriations was approved by a Senate subcommittee.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate group said this amount had been added to the $335,000,000 voted by the House more than a month ago.

Spain Resigns As Auto Agency Head

Mayor-Elect To Be Succeeded As General Manager White Chevrolet

Employees of White Chevrolet Company held their annual barbecue dinner last night which was presided over by Jack Spain. In Mr. Spain's opening remarks he explained to the employees that due to the responsibility which he would assume as mayor of Greenville on July 1 it would be impossible for him to continue as manager of White Chevrolet Company. He then asked Mr. White, president of the corporation, to accept his resignation. His resignation was accepted with reluctance, and then Mr. Spain was elected vice president and will continue his association with the company.

Mr. Spain then presented W. L. Harrington, who was elected to succeed him as secretary and treasurer and general manager.

Mr. Harrington is one of Greenville's outstanding young business men and has been connected with the automotive industry for a number of years. In Mr. Harrington's remarks in accepting his new responsibilities as general manager, he asked for the full co-operation and support of each employee in his new undertaking. After a few more remarks from Mr. Harrington, Mr. White called on each employee present for a short talk.

Each employee welcomed Mr. Harrington as new manager and pledged him their 100 per cent co-operation.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Copeland of B. & W. Chevrolet Company, Farmville, attended the meeting and both made interesting talks.

Tobacco Market Mats Are Available Here

Greenville tobacco market mats for use in newspaper advertising are available to the various merchants and others in Greenville who wish to insert them in their local advertisements and may be secured from Sales Supervisor Robert Rankin, who has offices with the Chamber of Commerce secretary on Evans street.

The mats list the 10 warehouses which will operate in Greenville this year, depicted as spokes in a wheel with the inscription, "Not a week goes by without a wheel in the state." At the base of the wheel is printed, "Best Market in State."

Batchelor Brothers is the first to make use of the mats, having inserted one in today's advertisement.

WPA EXHIBIT UNDER FIRE

Here is the Works Progress Administration building at the New York World's Fair which was brought under criticism by charges of Representative Taber, Republican of New York, that it will cost $2,500,000 or ten times more than originally estimated. Allen Stephens, 600 or ten times more than originally estimated. Allen Stephens, treasury department engineer, told a congressional committee $544,000 had been spent on the building alone when it was 95 per cent completed. Taber said the cost of shipping WPA exhibits to the building would total $400,000.

No Agreement Reached In Coal Mine Deadlock

BRINGS CHARGE AGAINST A. C. L.

Railroad Accused Of Violating Wage-Hour Law

Richmond Va., May 4.—(AP)—John J. Babe, representing Elmer Andrews, wage-hour administrator, filed a petition in Federal District court here today asking an injunction to restrain the Atlantic Coast Line railroad from alleged violations of certain sections of the wage-hour law.

The petition charged the railroad arbitrarily assigned houses, some of which were not in existence, to maintenance of employees and charged amounts bearing no relation to, and in excess of, the amounts which were declared reasonable for such living quarters.

The railroad further was charged with selling foodstuffs to its employees at a profit in violation of the law.

As a result of these two charges, the petition stated, the railroad was not complying with the minimum wage scale of 25 cents an hour.

The petition also charged the company with failure to keep adequate records of the number of hours worked by its employees and the amounts paid them.

Babe said the suit was the result of an investigation which began in January when a group of maintenance laborers complained of altered conditions.

He said the railroad had 20 days in which to file an answer to the suit.

The government seeks only to restrain the railroad from continuing the practices, Babe declared.

The Richmond News Leader said George Elliott, president of the railroad, told it in a telephone conversation from Wilmington, N. C., that "the petition filed in the court in Richmond is a surprise."

"I had no idea that there was any contention that the Atlantic Coast Line has been violating the wage and hour law," he said.

Other representatives will be Jack Daniels, for the retiring editor of the paper; Miss Pete Hill, retiring editor of the Tecan; Miss Prue Newby, new business manager of the annual, and Miss Lucille Johnson, retiring business manager of the paper.

Total of 338,000 Miners Been Idle For A Month

New York, May 4.—(AP)—W. L. Robison, chairman of the bituminous miners and operators negotiating committee, announced today the conferees had failed to reach agreement on a new contract for the soft coal industry and that such disagreement would be reported to the joint wage conference tomorrow.

The disagreement, following eight weeks of negotiations which have left 338,000 miners idle a month, will be reported to the Appalachian conference, composed of 300 representatives of operators and U. M. W. miners at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

The announcement by the chairman indicated the union had refused to accept the last compromise offered by the operators, which calls for exclusive bargaining rights for the U. M. W. A. an agreement under which non-union employees would pay the same dues to the labor organization as those paid by the union members.

The break-up of the conference came dramatically at the end of the morning session, which was attended by Dr. John Steelman, chief mediator for the federal Labor Department, and his aide, James Dewey.

GREAT BRITAIN INTERESTED IN MAKING TRADE

Barter Agreement for American Cotton Proposed

U. S. WOULD GET RUBBER AND TIN

Sen. Byrnes Tells Reporters Suggestion is Being Favorably Considered in London

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—Senator Byrnes (D-S.C.) said today London had advised the United States that Great Britain was interested in negotiating a barter agreement for American cotton.

Byrnes recently outlined a plan by which this country would barter surplus cotton for rubber and tin held by Great Britain and other countries. Preliminary negotiations have been under way in London.

Byrnes told reporters today that the barter proposal was "meeting a favorable reception in London."

"The first effort was to see whether Great Britain would be interested in the barter proposal," Byrnes said. "I think it is justified to say that Great Britain has expressed an interest in the plan and in negotiating an agreement."

Today's information, Byrnes said, was the first definite word that Great Britain was interested in the barter deal. Previously, he said, it merely was known that talks regarding the proposal were under way.

Thus far, Byrnes said, the London conversations have centered on the possibility of trading American cotton for rubber. He said that tin might enter the discussions later.

The senator said information coming to him was that no decision had been reached on how much cotton might be involved.

London, May 4.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain announced today negotiations had been opened between the United States and Great Britain "for exchange of certain raw materials required as strategic reserves in both countries."

Although Chamberlain declined to specify the materials involved, it was understood the United States proposed to exchange cotton and wheat for rubber and tin from Britain.

POWELL HAILS COURT RULING

Banks And Insurance Companies Must Pay Taxes

Raleigh, May 4.—(AP)—Unemployment compensation officials said today the Supreme court's ruling that bank and insurance companies which are members of the Federal Reserve System or federal home loan banks had to make payroll contributions was "an important victory."

Officials, asking not to be quoted, said they believed the cases decided yesterday holding that the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company and Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company had to make contributions were the first of their kind in the nation.

Chairman Charles Powell of the commission said that the decision meant that employees of banks, insurance companies, building and loan associations and savings associations, which had contended they were federal instrumentalities, would now come under the unemployment compensation act.

Powell said, "Each case must be considered on its own merits," when asked about the effect of the court's ruling that the 1936 tax was retroactive and therefore unconstitutional. He said $3,099,929.38 was collected in 1936 taxes and that "many employers paid the tax without protest." The tax was imposed in the law passed in December, 1936.

GREAT BRITAIN AWAITS REPLY

General Feeling Poland Will Give in to Demands

London, May 4.—(AP)—A general belief that Poland's answer to Adolf Hitler on the Danzig question would be conciliatory and avoid provocation of Germany was expressed today in British government and diplomatic quarters.

Results of British-French efforts to bring Soviet Russia into a new security system, meanwhile, were left in doubt by the sudden resignation of Maxim Litvinoff as Soviet Russia's foreign affairs commissar.

British officials professed to have no indication yet as to the nature of Foreign Minister Beck's address to the Polish Parliament tomorrow. The official position was that Britain was refraining from "one word of unsolicited advice" to Poland on how she should answer Germany's demand for Danzig and a right-of-way across the Polish Corridor.

Reports from Warsaw, however, were to the effect that the Polish people were certain that Beck would answer "no" to Germany's demands.

MERRY MAY Meets More People On The Move

J. F. King came in Wednesday evening from Henderson.

L. I. Moore came home Wednesday evening from Nash court.

Henry Moye, one of the barbers, has put up a handy contrivance to fan his customers while they are being shaved.

The rain Wednesday was a nice one.

The weather was much cooler today.

Ilighon, and a more zealous interest in our communities and in our country at large, and what it stands for.

Governor Clyde R. Hoey welcomed the club women of the state to Raleigh, and Mrs. Hoey introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Dunbar.

A reception at the Sir Walter Hotel and a tea at the Governor's mansion, the opening of the state art exhibit and a program by the Choric Club of Rocky Mount, were pleasant features of the program, but the state convention is not all play, by any means. With a rigid schedule the Federation went about its business. Various reports were heard from state officers, department and committee heads, all showing how unity is achieved in the organization and from presidents of the 16 districts, vital in club activity, showing that the clubs in their several sections are devoted to civic good and are steadily moving forward.

Mrs. Moore was proud that honor came doubly this year to the local club, two members having won silver loving cups in their special fields of interest. The two cups, the Mrs. S. Clay Williams Cup, won by Mrs. C. W. Hearne for her portrait "Allison in Wonderland," and the Federation Cup for poetry, won by Mrs. W. C. Harris for her sonnet "The Fire of Life in a Handful of Dust," were on display on the mantel in the assembly room.

Mrs. Moore spoke of the well-merited praise of the judges, experts in their fields, given the work of these two local winners and reiterated that the club is proud of them.

Mrs. Harris' sonnet was then read by Mrs. C. C. Hilton.

The local club also received recognition and honorable mention for having held this spring the most elaborate Fine Arts Festival in the state.

Mrs. Moore gave in addition, a brief report of the Symposium held recently at Duke University, and spoke of the fine speeches made by distinguished men and women at this time, and said that "group leadership" was stressed.

Mrs. Vance Perkins gave an enthusiastic report of the activities of the State Federation of Junior Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. Karl Bishop of Spray, is state chairman, and which met in Raleigh at the same time.

Mrs. Perkins told of the luncheon she attended, of the inspirational talks made at that time, and how the Junior Club delegates were made to feel that they are indeed a part of the older women's clubs and not a separate organization. She said that the graduation last fall of the Junior Woman's Club into the senior organization, forming the Citizenship department of the Woman's Club, made history for the local clubs. This distinctive achievement, she said, had been praised by the entire state. A new Junior Club, headed by Mrs. Harry Hagerty, was organized recently and Mrs. Perkins is sponsor for this group.

A motion to sponsor the N.Y.A. project, presented by Mrs. Louis Gaylord, was carried, and this business was placed in charge of the Education department.

Mrs. Moore submitted her annual report which showed not only that the club had experienced a very satisfactory year, had grown both in influence and in numbers, was rated still a 100 per cent club by the State Federation, but said by an amazing amount of work had been accomplished as well. She listed the work done in each department and threw out challenges here and there as she called to attention certain points on which the local club does fall down.

Mrs. W. L. Wooten, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the new club officers for next year, after which a motion for adjournment was made.

A social hour followed. From a lace-covered table, centered with a lovely arrangement of red roses, Mrs. J. L. Fleming poured tea. A variety of cakes and sandwiches were passed.—Reported.

REPORT OF ACTIVITIES OF WOMAN'S CLUB 1938-1939

(By Mrs. J. H. B. Moore)

Another club year is drawing to a close and as president of this corporation I am required to make an inventory and report to you. I am happy to report that altogether we have had a very satisfactory year, in many respects our best one.

We have grown in numbers and I believe in influence in our community. We have served the State and National Federations to the best of our ability and are rated by our State Federation as a 100 per cent club. We made history at our first club meeting in the fall, when we graduated our Junior club into the Woman's Club 100 per cent. Our state president made mention of this fact in her report at the convention.

During the year we have served in many capacities and I shall list the various activities of the work as done in the different departments.

American Citizenship—Has had regular monthly programs; presented Judge I. M. Meekins in a public address on the Constitution; gave $5 to a needy child; $12 to school children for glasses; $114.16 to club building for renovations and painting; gave a Christmas tree to the county home; each member of the department gave a gift for a child at the Flanagan Christmas tree; helped with sale of T.B. Christmas Seals and sponsored sale of Crippled Children Seals; assisted the club with all its projects; window exhibit of children's books during Book Week.

The Education Committee presented Mr. John A. Lang, state chairman of N.Y.A., in a program on What club women can do to help the youth of their community; assisted the teacher of adult illiterates by giving magazines and sewing materials for use of her class; worked with local director of N.Y.A. and furnished work and instruction for N.Y.A. students, when asked to do so; worked with Negro adult classes, a member of the club acts as treasurer for the Negro adult work in Greenville. The president of your club serves as president of the board of directors of the Negro Social Service group and also serves as a member of the Interracial group in Greenville. We have been with the Negroes to the Board of Aldermen, asking for a public library and recreation building for the Negroes. We co-operated with the A.A.U.W. and P.T.A. in presenting Mrs. Ernest Groves in a public address on Family Relationships.

American Home—We gave an all-day program, to which all women of the 15th district were invited. On this program members of the college faculty and others gave talks and mimeographed copies of suggestions for study on various subjects for the home: Nutrition, Music, Literature, Family Relationships, Religion, Safety, Art, Gardens and Flowers.

Fine Arts Department—An Art Exhibit each month of the year has been given entirely free to the public. We have had several very outstanding exhibits during the year. Our Fine Arts Festival covered a period of eight days. Programs of music, literature, drama, architecture were given. We featured exhibits of local artists throughout the year and during the festival had a very large exhibit of art done during this year in the local schools. This is the first year we have had a full-time art teacher in the public schools and we were delighted to have an opportunity of showing the work done in the schools. During the year our art department has given to two clubs in the county an art program, Farmville and Fountain. For the past month the club has been busy working for a Federal art center in Greenville.

Literature Department—This department has had a regular study program throughout the year, meeting bi-monthly. It has co-operated with all activities of the club. A member, Mrs. Harris, won a cup in the state contest.

The Garden Club has enjoyed an unusually interesting year's study and enthusiasm—five out-of-town speakers, each a specialist in his or her line, have given programs. The special column in the daily paper has given reasonable planting information to the public, as well as other interesting and inspiring facts. The plantings at the A.C.L. depot plot have been added to and the plot cared for. The plot at the end of Fifth street has been cared for and extra plantings made. A plot of land on Eastern street was planted.

A committee from the Garden Club assisted the town in landscaping and planting the new recreation park in which 75 water oaks, 12 gycamoses, 56 dogwood, 50 red bud, 25 mimosas, 75 myrtles, 50 roses, 24 crepe myrtles were planted. Sponsored the planting of dogwood on the Ayden highway. Ordered and delivered to its members 5,136 bulbs. Sponsored the planting of more than 1,000 daffodils, forsythias and other yellow flowers that would help to make Greenville a City of Sunshine.

Asked the town to put on a Clean-up week and helped with sponsoring of that week. Sowed grass and did other work to improve looks of club house grounds. Observed Garden Fortnight in co-operation with the state Garden Clubs.

Public Health and Welfare—The club members helped with the sale of T.B. Christmas Seals, assisted with clinics throughout the year. At Christmas time programs were given around the Roy Flanagan Christmas tree. Fruit and gifts were distributed to 126 white children and 106 colored children. Fruits, candy, etc., were sent to a needy family at Christmas time, and clothes were furnished another family. Magazines were sent three of our state correctional institutions, Samaritan, Stonewall Jackson Training School and the Farm Colony for women were each remembered with subscriptions to four magazines. Letters from the superintendents of these institutions expressed a great deal of appreciation and assured us that these magazines were of great help throughout the year. Total amount spent in department, $70.

I certainly hope that next year we may do a great deal more to promote Community Music. I feel that we have done so little in Youth Conservation, for adult illiteracy, to encourage better movies, for law enforcement and public safety, in community service and conservation. I wish to close my report with this challenge of our General Federation president, Mrs. Dunbar:

Mrs. Dunbar says wherever there is a child in need of good homes, good education, plenty of recreational advantages, good religious influences, there is work for women's clubs. Where there are illiterates, underfed and underclothed adults—there is work for women's clubs. Where there is sickness, poverty, dirt—there is work for women's clubs. Where there is a lack of the beautiful, appreciation of art, music, literature—there is work for women's clubs. Where there is little or no interest in government, local, state, national and international, and where preachers talk to empty benches—there is work for women's clubs. Let's take a look at our community, see what we can do to make it a better training ground for the citizenship of tomorrow.

Through our house committee we have made several very fine improvements in our club building. Walls have been cleaned throughout the downstairs, new curtains made and hung in the parlors. Chairs covered and a new rug for the hall have improved the appearance of the entire house. Much new equipment was added to the kitchen. The entire club membership is grateful for these improvements and we certainly thank those who supervised the work.

We are proud of our new Junior Club Working under the enthusiastic sponsorship of Mrs. Vance Perkins, we know will grow and do many worthwhile things. Already plans are made for a preschool clinic for the summer months.

Our club house has been used a great deal during the year. It is truly a community center. Our building and loan is not in arrears at the present time. It is hoped that our members will be willing to help during the summer months so that we will not begin our club work in the fall so much in debt. Our mortgage, $5,000, will be matured on February 1st.

This is a long report—we have accomplished much—but there are many red marks in my inventory I wish to see changed to black. Where are our playgrounds and supervisors for them? Surely our club women need to take an active lead in more wholesome recreation for the youth of our town. What about music in our town? We need a music promotion committee in our club. We do not observe National Music Week.

At the recent meeting, committees were appointed to make preparations for a luncheon meeting in June, which will climax the League's activities for the year.—Reported.

Mrs. Wiley Brown was hostess to the Ladies of the Round Table on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

A short business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Howard McGinnis. The club voted to co-operate with all the book clubs of Greenville in having a uniform date for club meetings.

The program committee presented the subjects for study and the club decided to have a miscellaneous program during the coming year.

Miss Lella Higgs was guest speaker for the afternoon, and gave a most interesting talk on "Period Furniture." She traced the development of furniture from the crudest forms to the ultra modern of today. Her talk was made intensely interesting by the pictures and fabrics she displayed.

Mrs. Brown's guests for the afternoon were Mrs. J. C. Wooten and Miss Higgs.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Wyatt Brown and Miss Zahniser, served a delicious ice course.—Reported.

Masons To Meet.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington - Stated simply, the government figures that for $60,000,000 it can bribe the world to buy 6,000,000 bales of cotton in 1939 instead of perhaps only 4,000,000. That is what the cotton subsidy plan amounts to.

This is a special emergency year for cotton among all the emergency years it has had in the past decade. Cotton control legislation effective as early as 1933 began holding down the plantings. Each year the Treasury had to pay farmers for keeping some of their acreage out of cotton.

1937 Deluge Hit
Once before, in 1934, the country had a fresh crop of cotton coming on while it had on hand a surplus about the size of the present one. Under the control program it managed in two years to work off half the surplus and was very slowly working off the balance when the overwhelming 1937 crop hit.

But the situation now is different. In 1934 we had a good share of the world market. Now we don't. Foreign growers in Brazil, India and Egypt, taking advantage of the loan machinery which kept U. S. prices from falling, have garnered a huge slice of the foreign market we once had.

Here is what is expected from the subsidy plan now virtually agreed upon:
It will affect first the oncoming 1939 crop. Without the subsidy it is estimated we would sell abroad only 4,000,000 bales of the estimated 12,000,000 bale crop. With the subsidy the Department of Agriculture expects about 6,000,000 bales will be exported.

That will leave 6,000,000 bales for domestic consumption. That is not enough. About 7,000,000 is the domestic need. So the extra 1,000,000 bales for domestic need will come out of the government's hoard of 11,000,000 bales. For that the domestic mills will have to pay about 6 cents a pound. That is above the present price but the mills seem willing to pay it. What they want is a steady price, not a low one.

Still Heavily Loaded
That still leaves 10,000,000 bales in the government hoard. Some of that may be traded to Belgium, Holland and England for emergency supplies of rubber and tin. The trade would be on agreement that the cotton, tin and rubber will be held as a reserve supply, not to be sold until prices are higher.

If there is any of the expected $60,000,000 cotton subsidy money left by Jan. 1, 1940, after the 1939 crop is mostly marketed, some of the subsidy money can be used to help more of the government hoard. But the growers get the first crack at the subsidy to help them move their own cotton.

American mills will share the subsidy on cotton goods they export, but not on cotton goods sold domestically. The idea is, if foreign mills are going to be permitted to buy U. S. cotton at five or six cents a pound—the subsidy price—the U. S. mills must be given the same chance, so they too can compete for the business of making sarongs for sea islanders.

It will force world prices down, and damage Brazil, India and Egypt. They may escape part of the hurt by coming into a conference with the U. S. to share the world market, allowing us somewhere near the share we once had. So far they haven't been eager to do that. They may change their minds if the U. S. subsidy begins squeezing our sales higher.

Raleigh, May 4—Here's a lawyer who doesn't seem to think much of the state's evidence concerning the mental condition of one Bricey Hammond, convicted in Robeson county of first degree murder. At least here's what he said in his brief:

"The defendant contends that the evidence of his mental condition at the time of the crime shows that not only has the state substituted invention for evidence, but that its inventions are not even plausible."
In the same case, the same lawyer presents a vivid picture of a man hunting a potable draught at illicit whiskey joints:

"It is not unnatural for a customer of such an establishment to leave it for another in the hope of finding a drink less vile."

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 2 pints a day or about 2 pounds of waste.
Frequent or acute passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start aching backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Tenth and Eleventh: December 12
Commissioner of Agriculture W. Kerr Scott is in Washington to attend a conference on "Interstate Trade Barriers" called by Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace to meet today, tomorrow and Saturday.
"In addition to the conference on interstate trade barriers, it is expected that Senator Bailey's bill calling for an appropriation of $5,000,000 a year for the development of marketing and marketing service for farm commodities will be discussed," the commissioner said before leaving for the national capital.

Through last Saturday, Wallace was holding its lead as the largest shipping point for strawberries in North Carolina, but its supremacy was being challenged by Chadbourn which has this year shown a tremendous growth in berry shipments.
Through April 29, Wallace had shipped 89,148 crates by truck and 3 carlots by rail, while Chadbourn's corresponding figures were 72,094 and 3.
This compared with Wallace's 117,086 and 20 for last year to the same date, against Chadbourn's 45,482 and 13.
Wallace and Warsaw, incidentally, are the only shipping points to show losses as compared with 1938 to the same date.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker
New York—Now that his dream of a New York World's Fair has materialized, one wonders what multiple impressions crowd through Grover A. Whalen's mind as he sits in his luxurious offices in the shadow of the Trylon and Perisphere on what used to be known as Flushing Meadows.

Whalen used to be Commissioner of Police in New York. He was a business man associated with a big department store, and later with a big distilling house. He dreamed up the fair and hammered home his ideas to bankers and industrialists until finally they acquiesced and he had his way.
And yet, for all this, it is ironically true that Grover Whalen everywhere is referred to as the man with the mustache, the boutonniere, and the sharply creased trousers.

Whalen hasn't been treated very gently by his critics. He has been given what, in Broadway parlance, is known as a "bad press," and it bewilders him. He is frequently referred to as a dandy with a gardenia in his lapel, when as a matter of fact he never wore a gardenia in his life. Cornflowers and carnations, certainly—but there is a vast difference between carnations and gardenias.

They say now that Mr. Whalen's salary is about $100,000 a year. He is worth every cent of this. He it was who crammed this fair down the city's throat despite wholesale opposition—an opposition, incidentally, which now is cheering and rubbing its hands at the prospect of a billion dollar take which the fair seems certain to insure. All this will drop into the laps of the railroads, the hotels, the restaurants, and the merchants.

During the first year of the fair preparations Mr. Whalen's services were gratis, or practically so, for he came on a "loan" from his distilling house on a dollar a year contract. Now he has fleet limousines at his call, luxuriously appointed suites here and there about the fair grounds and the city, and a yacht upon which important visitors are entertained.

There are those who criticize Whalen because he seeks to take credit for everything concerned with the fair. The truth is that he personally drew Ford, Chrysler, and General Motors into line; he personally is responsible for 50 European nations laying $30,000,000 on the line; he hires and fires, makes the decisions, signs the contracts. If the fair is a dud his shoulders must take the consequences. Under these circumstances he would be less than bright if he didn't insist on the credit.

It is no longer doubted by even his severest critics that he is one of the most expert organizers in the nation. He is a full-fledged, big time executive with skill and imagination and the ability to set his ideas into motion. Seemingly he is tireless; his working days run from 15 to 18 hours. He seldom sleeps more than five hours a night, spends

Greenies Defeat Kinston 7-2; Snakes Play Here Friday

SMALL CROWD SEES CONTEST

Caliguiri Allows Foes Only Seven Scattered Hits

Rube Wilson's Greenies broke up a beautiful pitchers' duel between Fred Caliguiri and Kinston's Bill Herring yesterday in the sixth inning at Guy Smith park when they scored five runs and sewed up the game.

In fact, the Greenies had scored one tally in the fifth, but this single tally did not look so safe, until the boys got busy and ran up a six-run lead. Kinston made one each in the seventh and eighth, but never seriously threatened to match the local team.

Caliguiri allowed only three hits the first six innings yesterday. In the seventh Manager Snake Henry doubled, Blanton, running for the Skipper, scored on Albritton's single, but the inning was retired without further scoring. In the ninth Blanton, who had replaced Henry at first base, singled; Briscese was hit by a pitched ball; both advanced on an infield out and Blanton came home on Herring's single to left.

After holding the locals scoreless for four innings, Bill Herring weakened temporarily in the fifth when Harry Jenkins, who had singled and had advanced to third on Red Christopher's single, raced home on Caliguiri's sacrifice fly.

In the next from the Greenies really got busy and gave Caliguiri a safe lead. During the frame Wilson doubled, Jenkins and Christopher singled, runners advanced on Smith's outfield fly. A passed ball also featured in the locals' scoring. The final Greenville run was pushed across the plate in the 7th on successive doubles by Centerfielder Simpson and Right-fielder George Rimmer.

Only a small crowd braved the cold and damp weather to witness the locals in their second home tilt. Many of the approximately 100 spectators were without overcoats and huddled about small fires in an effort to keep warm.

Lights Being Installed At Third Street Park

Everything is being made ready for the opening of the softball league season here Monday night, May 15. Lights are being installed at Third Street park. The various teams have started practice and expect to play some exhibition games before the regular season opens.

Exhibition games have been scheduled for Friday at 6 o'clock as follows: Water and Light vs. R. C. Cola at Third Street park; and Carolina Sales vs. Tadlocks at the College park. No admission will be charged for either game.

The league is trying to raise money enough to pay for the lights and the Business and Professional Womens Club will sell tickets good for 25 games at $1.50. ## MARTINS TIED WITH TARBORO

Both Clubs Turn In Wednesday Wins to Pace League

Both Williamston and Tarboro turned in victories yesterday afternoon to retain their lead in the Coastal Plain League. The Martins scored a five-to-four win over the Snow Hill Billies, while the Serpents were defeating Goldsboro, 2-0 at Goldsboro.

As the Greenies were defeating Kinston's Eagles, New Bern was winning over Wilson, the newest entry into the league which so far has not made its debut in the win column.

NO AGREEMENT REACHED COAL MINE DEADLOCK

A few hours before the shut-down in the eight-state Appalachian area was to be extended to outlying regions under control of the United Mine Workers of America.

The U. M. W. A. policy committee of 150 members was to meet this afternoon and hear the report of John Lewis, CIO chief, and miners present on the disagreement.

SUCCESSOR TO DOUGLAS IS APPOINTED TODAY

Russell said the Senate group approved a $225,000,000 increase for "parity payments," $113,000,000 additional for the administration's farm surplus removal program, $25,000,000 for the farm tenancy act and $15,000,000 for other agricultural department activities.

Broughton Was Worried Over Lack Of Applause

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, May 4.—J. M. Broughton, Raleigh lawyer, has made more than fifty speeches over North Carolina in his "unofficial" campaign for nomination as governor, and he will make many more speeches. But he has sworn off of one kind of speech. He will make no more school commencement addresses in a Baptist church.

He delivered the commencement address at Cary High school in Wake county Tuesday night. Cary is getting a magnificent new school building to cost about $130,000. Meanwhile, the old building has been torn down and commencement exercises had to be scattered all over town. Some programs were given in the gymnasium, some in the Methodist church, some out of doors, and the graduating exercises were held in the Baptist church. An unwritten law of that congregation is that any sort of meeting held in the church building must observe all the decencies and commendation exercises.

Some programs were given in the gymnasium, some in the Methodist church, some out of doors, and the graduating exercises were held in the Baptist church. An unwritten law of that congregation is that any sort of meeting held in the church building must observe all the decencies and commendation exercises.

That made him feel better, but he still swore off. He himself is author for the statement that next time a school house is not available for the commencement speech, he is going to decline the invitation or arrange to have the exercises under a pine tree somewhere. He'll make Sunday school and church talks—he has made thousands of 'em and doesn't expect applause. But if he is run of a religious service, hence going to make a commencement speech he is not going to be so cumscribed. That's final.

Four Capital Cases Set For Argument Next Week

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, May 4.—The State Supreme court will next week hear oral arguments for four men condemned to death for capital felonies. Three of the quartet were sentenced by Superior Court Judge John J. Burney who took his seat on the bench less than six months ago.

Three of the cases resulted in first degree murder verdicts, while the fourth conviction was for arson of an occupied dwelling in the night time. Two are from Robeson county, one from Hoke and the other from Guilford.

None of the cases presents any novel or unique feature on appeal, counsel for the condemned men urging errors in instructions, admission of improper and exclusion of proper evidence and similar ordinary reasons for appeal.

The capital cases:
(1) State vs. James Godwin, perhaps the most notorious of the cases in view of the fact that it was Godwin who escaped from jail by the clever device of wooing the jailer's buxom daughter and prevailing upon her to unlock the doors.

Godwin was convicted of killing one Donald Moss after his jail break and some touring of the country with a companion in crime, one Bill Wilson. Moss was shot as he sat in his automobile on Pine street in High Point.

Godwin's counsel contend that they were forced into trial when unprepared. The shooting occurred on October 3, 1938. Godwin was arrested on October 7, the judge (Hubert E. Olive) appointed counsel on October 10, and the trial was begun October 18. They also argue that evidence of wholly unconnected and that alleged confessions of the defendant should have been excluded because induced by "hope of reward" held out to him.

as the latter was fixing a flat tire on the car.

(4) State vs. Alfred Caper, from Robeson. Caper was convicted of the ambush shooting of J. C. McNeill at the latter's home. He was tried jointly with one Al Bostick, who was acquitted by the jury which doomed Caper.

Only One Big Fire Here During April

Greenville firemen were summoned to three fires during the month of April, but only one of them caused any material damage, it was reported today by Chief George Gardner.

The blaze at the college kitchen caused a loss estimated at $2,000. A loss of $7,362.72 was experienced here during the first four months of the year.

Both the figures for the month and for the four months compare favorably with corresponding dates last year. During April, 1938, a loss of $2,274.87 was experienced and for the four months the damage was estimated at $12,054.87.

In March this year, the city had seven fires, with a loss of $2,055.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coons
Hollywood.—The not-so-ancient Order of Halt Callers today will hear an address from Mansfield, Ohio, where D. W. takes the platform to take the movies over the coals.

Lots of things about the movies get my goat. For instance: those gosh-awful trailers. . . . It's even happened to me that the trailers were run between each feature on a double bill.

"Then there's too much bad English on the screen. I've heard a person who was supposed to be educated say 'It's me' instead of 'It's I' when knocking on a door. And 'who' is often used for 'whom.' It seems to me the high mugs would realize what an opportunity they have to teach good grammar.

"It riles me when someone is supposed to have peeled a lot of potatoes, then calmly does something else without even wiping the hands. Hands need to be washed after that. . . . And how I'd like to see just once a person who is starying sit down to a good meal and eat, instead of getting interested in the conversation. . . . And why do they light a cigarette, take one or two puffs, then tamp it out? . . .

Operator! Operator! into the all around, but never a bit of vapor coming from their noses or mouths. . . . I'm tired of seeing old ladies or housewives of another century with perfectly manicured nails. . . . Also poor shop girls. . . . I think a real actress would see that her hands were in character. . . . In the movie on the life of Stephen Foster, his wife had red nails in the 1840's or 1850's! (In spite of that I'd like to see it again—enjoyed it so much.) . . . "I've known quite a few people and have never heard anyone yell
