FLORIDA SHIP CANAL BACKED BY WM. GREEN

Senators Are Urged to Lend Support to Project

SEN. VANDENBURG FLAYS PROPOSAL

President Names University of Virginia Law School Dean to Be Federal Judge

Washington May 16. (AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, urged Senators today to "give every support" to the Florida ship canal.

He made the request in letters to all members of the Senate just before Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) renewed his attacks on the canal in floor debate.

Vandenberg said the $200,000,000 project which would extend 195 miles across northern Florida "has been presented with all the synthetic allurements of a charming dream."

Other committees had warm issues before them as well.

Secretary Woodring told the House Military group that the army because it had to be ready to defend the western hemisphere if called on needed legislation which would put younger officers in the higher ranks.

President Roosevelt nominated Armistead M. Doble, dean of the University of Virginia Law School, to the new position of additional federal judge for the western district of Virginia.

The President's first nominee to the post, Floyd Roberts of Bristol, Va., was rejected by the Senate last February.

Controversy continued over the navy's purchase of Argentine beef. Senator Pittman (D-Nev.) called such buying "a very bad mistake."

E. E. Kuhne, who had told the House committee investigating the WPA that federal relief money was spent on projects that enhanced the value of property owned by politically influential men in Tennessee, apologized to those he had named. He had acted hastily, he said, on hearsay evidence.

Contract Let For Work On Building

Two hours after the contract was let, work got under way yesterday afternoon on an extension to the county-owned building at the corner of Greene and Third streets, designed to relieve the congested situation at the county farm agents' office.

The contract was let at a special meeting of the Board of Commissioners to L. M. Ernest Company for the general construction work. Cost of the building, exclusive of heating, lighting and plumbing will be approximately $1,600.

The extension will be a single large room erected at the rear of the present building. The addition will extend back to the Proctor property and will be 45 feet along this line. One side of the extension from the present building measures 13 feet, from the kitchen side, and 34 feet from the other corner.

It will be used as a work room and also will be available for committee meetings.

A plan is under consideration for the installation of a new heating system for the entire building. Pitt county grand juries have recommended that the present hot-air system, which also is said to be worn out, be replaced.

France Seeks To Bring Britain, Russia In Line

TAKES OFF ON OCEAN FLIGHT

Swedish Aviator Heads Out For Stockholm

St. Johns, N. F. May 16.—(Canadian Press)—Carl E. Backman, Swedish aviator, took off from America to Sweden, took off from Botwood airport today at 5:10 a. m. local time (2:40 a. m. EST), according to word received here.

Flying a 90-horsepower single-motored monoplane with a cruising speed of 110 miles an hour, Backman landed at Botwood last night after a hop from Bangor, Me. He arrived at Bangor Sunday night with the explanation he had flown non-stop from St. Louis, Mo.

Backman was quoted by Bangor airport attendants as saying he was one of three aviators in a "race" from America to Sweden. He spoke English brokenly and was described as slim, blond and 27 years old.

His plane has no radio and apparently was equipped with few of the instruments needed for trans-Atlantic flying. Its seat was about 18 inches wide and a gasoline tank blocked his view to the right. The rest of the cabin was full of auxiliary tanks.

Backman told Bangor airport attendants he would try to reach Stockholm and had mapped a course of about 2,300 miles.

Agricultural Marketing Proposal Wins Support

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, May 16.—Congressmen and agricultural leaders of the nation are "giving enthusiastic endorsement and rallying to the support" of Senator Bailey's bill to provide a $5,000,000 federal appropriation for the development of marketing and marketing services, Commissioner of Agriculture W. Kerr Scott said today.

Pioneering in a nation-wide campaign for federal marketing funds, Scott secured the adoption of his resolution favoring an enlarged markets program at the National Association of Commissioners of Agriculture at Miami last year and was named chairman of the committee to push federal legislation.

Senator Bailey (D-N. C.) introduced the marketing bill, April 24, asking $5,000,000 a year "to be apportioned among the several states on the basis of population."

Commissioner Scott said he was "optimistic over prospects for federal funds," basing his optimism on

Said to Have in Mind Plan to Break Deadlock

Paris, May 16.—(AP)—France strove today to bridge the conflicting views of her two allies, Great Britain and Soviet Russia, into a strong alliance that would be acceptable to all three.

The foreign ministry said reliably to have in mind a plan which it thought would break the deadlock kept in close touch with London.

An opportunity for direct dealings will be provided when the French, Russian and British foreign ministers meet in Geneva Saturday.

The British foreign secretary, Viscount Halifax, planned to confer here with Premier Daladier and Foreign Minister Bonet before going to Geneva.

Soviet Russia was reported reliably to have refused to join the British front on British terms with Russia's promise to fight, if asked, for Poland and Rumania should Britain and France first go to the aid of those countries.

Russia in rejecting the British offer, was said to have suggested a return to the original plan advanced by Moscow of reciprocal military pledges among the three powers and British guarantees for the safety of Baltic states.

Informed circles here believe that the Moscow stand was elastic enough to permit a compromise, which the French are trying to help work out.

With D. L. Turnage. Announcement was made today that Aubrey Tilley has accepted a position with D. L. Turnage, who is engaged in the real estate, insurance and fertilizer business.

Vessel to Reach Port at Quebec Some Time Tonight

TO LEAVE BOAT TOMORROW A. M.

Delay Forced by Fog and Ice Causes Officials to Change Itinerary of King and Queen

Aboard Empress of Australia, May 16.—(Canadian Press)—This liner carrying King George VI, and Queen Elizabeth to Quebec for their tour of Canada and the United States, sped along the Gaspé coast well up the St. Lawrence river in bright sunshine this morning.

At 7 a. m. the Empress and her convoy of two British cruisers and two Canadian destroyers were opposite Rivière Almarite and were expected to reach Father Point at 1:30 p. m.

Quebec, May 16.—(AP)—The liner Empress of Australia bearing King George and his Scottish Queen on a historic visit to Canada and the United States today neared a rendezvous with the St. Lawrence river pilot boat which will steer her into port at Quebec tonight.

At midnight the royal vessel reported her position as about 440 miles from Quebec.

Northern lights played over the clear sky as the liner and her escort negotiated the great waterway off the northeastern tip of the Gaspé peninsula.

While a veteran pilot of the St. Lawrence waited at Father Point for the Empress, harried officials in Quebec tackled a multitude of last-minute problems to insure execution of arrangements from the moment the king and queen step ashore tomorrow morning.

The officials were hampered by the necessity of telescoping parts of the Canadian tour to make up for a two-day delay forced on the Empress of Australia by fog and ice.

Arrangements for their Majesties to spend June 8-11, inclusive, in the United States stood unaltered.

Miners willing to work without a union shop contract returned to the soft coal pits of Harlan county, Ky., under the protection of national guardsmen ordered to the scene when the situation grew tense. Here militiamen guard a road near the county seat, while union miners eye them across a narrow "no-man's land."

A-T STUDENTS HEAR RIOT ACT

Called Down for Demonstration for Fired Coach

Greensboro, May 16.—(AP)—Major L. P. McLendon, member of the personnel committee and of the board of trustees of A. and T. College, virtually read the "riot act" to the student body in an address this afternoon, warning in plain language against any recurrence of last night's disorder and destruction of property which took place in a student demonstration against the alleged discharge of Coach I. A. Breaux.

Armed with a telegram from Governor Hoey, Major McLendon made it clear that the course to be followed to curb the disorder was dictated by His Excellency himself, and that no such occurrence could be tolerated by the state.

Major McLendon at first appealed to the students to stop the course they have adopted as being a serious reflection on the college and a disgrace to the state.

Meantime at Raleigh, Governor Hoey said the students of A. and T. College did about $100 to $200 damage last night by throwing rocks at the administration building as they demonstrated against the discharge of the college athletic director.

USE NETS TO RID BEACHES OF THE SHARK MENACE

Sydney, Australia.—(AP)—The scheme of shark-meshing to rid New South Wales coast of sharks and make beaches safe for bathers is proving effective.

During the first 36 weeks of the operation, 631 sharks of a dangerous species were caught, but only 219 were captured during the last 36 weeks. It is believed that the number of sharks has thus been depleted through the systematic netting.

Barden Optimistic On Flood Control

Washington, D. C., May 16.—(AP)—Representative Barden (D-N. C.) predicted today that the Board of Army Engineers would approve a recommendation for a detailed survey of a flood control project in and around Goldsboro and Kinston, N. C.

Such a survey, he said, has been recommended by the district engineer at Richmond, Va. The object would be to determine the extent of work required and the cost. A preliminary survey of the project has already been made.

BONDS SOLD AT 2.93 PER CENT

Issue for University Declared To Be 'Best Sale'

Raleigh, May 16.—(AP)—The state sold $250,000 University of North Carolina revenue bonds on an interest basis of 2.93 per cent today, which buyers said was the "best sale of revenue bonds" they could recall.

The Council of State awarded the issue to Lewis and Hall of Greensboro and voted to sell $2,250,000 or $2,500,000 state bonds June 15.

The state bonds, if $2,250,000 are sold, will fund into bonds money which was advanced from other state bonds for textbook purchases, work at the Western North Carolina tubercular hospital, and other institutions when it was found that laws authorizing bonds for them had defects. The 1939 legislature remedied the defects.

If the state is assured that it can get federal funds for an Eastern North Carolina tubercular hospital which was authorized by the 1939 legislature, the $250,000 for that will be included in the June 15 sale.

The university bonds were sold to raise part of $701,368 for a new electric power and heating plant for the Chapel Hill unit. The federal PWA is making available $315,540 and the state appropriated $135,828.

MAKES SURVEY OF PORT ROAD

Engineer Looks Over Proposed Connecting Length

H. D. Irving, assistant district engineer for the State Highway and Public Works Commission, located at Kinston, was here yesterday making a survey of the proposed spur highway to connect the Washington road with the port terminal to be developed on Hardee creek.

The connecting link will enliven the Washington-Greenville Highway about a mile beyond a point where Hardee's run crosses the main road, about three miles from Greenville. It is understood that work on the highway will be started within a few weeks so that the highway will be available in sufficient time for moving materials to the site of the terminal.

J. Nat Harrison, president of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce, which organization has been instrumental in securing the waterway route from Washington to Greenville, accompanied the engineer on the inspection trip. Others also joined Mr. Irving on the survey.

A contract has been let for the development of the waterway route from Washington to Hardee creek and dredging operations are expected to get under way about June 15. It is hoped that the project will be completed in about six months after work is begun.

The project will provide Greenville with the furthest inland port with a 12-foot channel in the state.

GOV. CHANDLER SENDS TROOPS TO NEW AREAS

Protection for Coal Miners Extended to Bell County

GUARD OFFICIAL SENT BACK HOME

Relieved of Command for Failure to 'Show Proper Aggressiveness' in One Trouble Zone

Harlan, Ky., May 16.—(AP)—National Guard troop protection for coal miners wishing to work has been extended into Bell county.

Governor Chandler at Frankfort revealed today that some militiamen are stationed in a corner of Bell county, but are part of a unit on duty in Harlan county.

Governor Chandler said the order for troops to go to Harlan, where operators refused to sign a "union shop" agreement with the United Mine Workers, provided for guardsmen "to preserve law and order in Harlan county and its environs."

Chandler said the mine of J. C. Stras, president of the Kentucky Cardinal Coal Corporation, is "on the Bell-Harlan county line" and that a detachment of troops was on guard there.

"Sheriff Martin Green of Bell county telephoned me about it this a. m.," Chandler said. "I explained the situation to him and he promised to co-operate with the troops." A National Guard officer was relieved of his command today for failure to "show the proper aggressiveness" as "13 additional mines, 19 in all, opened in the disturbed Harlan soft coal field under the protective guns of state troops."

Brig.-Gen. E. Carter, in announcing the officer's removal, refused to give his name, but said he had been sent home and his machine gun troop on duty yesterday at the Totz trouble zone broken up and distributed among other units.

It was at Totz that C. D. Bennett, general manager of the Harlan Central coal company, reported an automobile filled with miners returning from work was attacked by pickets and stones hurled through the windshield. No one was hurt. Bennett also reported 150 to 200 pickets were "threatening." Several units of troops were rushed to the spot and spent the night.

G. H. S. Senior Play. Under the direction of R. G. Walser, the annual senior play given by the graduating class of Greenville high school will be presented on Friday night, May 26, in the high school auditorium.

Director Walser has chosen for this year's production a romantic comedy in three acts entitled "The Prince and the Pauper." The play was first presented in Detroit in 1923 and later it was given at the Cort Theatre in New York, where it was hailed as a success and ran throughout the season. The original cast included movie star Basil Rathbone as the male lead, Dr. Nicholas Agi.

The play takes place in a mythical European kingdom. The plot centers around an attempt to unite Alexandria, daughter of Princess Beatrice, and Prince Albert, a visiting suitor, in marriage. Princess Beatrice whose throne has been lost, is very desirous of this marriage, which would again elevate her into the royal family of Dominica. Dr. Agi, the tutor of the castle, is secretly in love with Alexandria and finally wins her love, although she marries the prince.

Regar Gibson, senior class president, will portray the part of Agi with Katherine Kyzer as the beautiful Alexandria. Wayland Tucker is the young prince Albert, with Grace Parker as his mother, Maria Domonica. Christian Science Church. "Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, May 14.

The golden text was from II Cor. 5:4. "We that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened; not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "How long wilt thou sleep, O sluggard! when wilt thou arise out of thy sleep? ... Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little following of the hands to sleep; ... So shall thy poverty come as one that travelleth, and thy want as an armed man." (Prov. 6:9-11).

The lesson-sermon also included the following from the Christian Science textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "A mortal may be weary or pained, enjoy or suffer, according to the dream he entertains in sleep. When that dream vanishes, the mortal finds himself experiencing none of these dream-sensations. To the observer, the body lies listless, undisturbed, and senseless, and the mind seems to be absent. Now I ask, is there any more reality in the waking dream of mortal existence than in the sleeping dream? There cannot be, since whatever appears to be a mortal man is a mortal dream."

Play Thursday Night. Who killed Bjorn Faulkner? This question can be decided by Greenville residents Thursday night, May 18, when the Greenville Little Theatre Guild present "The Night of January 16" in the court room, of the Pitt county court house at 8:15.

The entire cast for the play is composed of Greenville people whose chief objective is to stimulate interest in the community for works of the stage. Each actor in Thursday night's production belongs to some phase of the business or professional world.

Bancroft Moseley will be the judge in the trial and Miss Hennie Long will take the part of the accused, Charles Whedbee, county court solicitor, is serving as district attorney, while Louis Skinner, judge of city recorder's court, is representing the defense.

The humorous touch to the play is provided by Annie Laurie Askew, Swedish maid; Charles Woodward, a thoroughbred gangster in the play, who reels off the vocabulary of an underworld thug associated with a murder; and Dick Walser, Swedish secretary to the deceased.

Dr. James B. Hawes is clerk of court in the production, which is combined with the Swedish element because it is reminiscent of the mysterious disappearance of Otto Kruger, the Swedish match king who, is believed by many, to be alive today.

Besides being presented in a court room, another unique characteristic of the play rests in the fact that the jury will be selected from the audience. Whether the accused is convicted or acquitted will be determined by the verdict of the jury.

"The Night of January 16th" has gained popularity wherever it has been presented and should draw quite a crowd. It was previously certified to present the play on both Thursday and Friday nights, but unforeseen developments necessitated presenting the play only on Thursday night of this week.

All members are especially urged to try to come for discussion of several important matters before the close of the year in June. The librarian and president wish to remind anyone who has a library book to please bring same and exchange for another. Also please remember that at this meeting we want to bring some little remnant, curtain, towel, bath cloth, dish cloth, sugar, flour or salt sacks to put in our box for Mrs. Morton's use in her Puerto Rico cottages and assembly hall.

Graduation gifts, like wedding presents, should be acknowledged as soon as possible. It's easier to write a short, friendly note a day or so after the gift arrives than the longer letter that will be necessary if several weeks elapse.

Unlike weddings, however, gifts from those receiving an invitation are not compulsory. The invitation simply notifies relatives and friends that the graduate has passed another milestone in life. Small gifts are nice, but not necessary.

Questions asked by many graduates: How should invitations with two envelopes be addressed? Put the complete address on the outer envelope, simply Mr. and Mrs.

ROBERT TAYLOR WEDS BARBARA

Well, girls, here's bad news for those of you who looked upon Robert Taylor as your very own Prince Charming. The great lover of the screen is married! Yes, he and Barbara Stanwyck slipped off to San Diego and took the vows in the home of a friend. The newlyweds are shown in blissful mood upon their return to Hollywood after the ceremony.

Louisville, Ky.—(AP)—Dr. Donald Bennett used a device constructed of an electric battery, a tin can, a photo electric cell, a revolving disc full of holes and an amplifier to play "Old Black Joe" and "My Old Kentucky Home."

Bennett, a University of Louisville physicist, played the tunes by directing a beam of light on the revolving disc. Mechanical impulses thus set up causes the apparatus to emit tones differing as the light strikes it through differently spaced holes. The amplifier makes the sound audible to the human ear.

Southampton.—(AP)—A group of men in a small room overlooking the docks here are learning to fly the Atlantic.

They are officers who will handle the British flying-boat service this summer between Southampton via Foyes and Montreal.

These are used to plan imaginary voyages, avoiding bad weather zones by changing course or flying different altitudes.

On which side of my mortar board should the tassel hang? The tassel should be worn across the left front quarter after graduation. In some schools it is worn across the right front quarter before diplomas are awarded and switched to the left afterward. In many schools, however, the tassel is worn over the left quarter from

Chapter 14 Visit To The Macks

"IT'S TIME you got your sense of humor back," Nola insisted. "You have a place to live, plenty to eat, and Bob says your roadside stand is making money." Placing her hands on her hips, she tossed her head and laughed. "If I had no sense of humor I'd be in an asylum!" she told him. "Mother got the idea last year of having a genealogist decorate the family tree. When she found out Daddy's ancestors were blacksmiths, leather-tanners and cobblers, she had a nervous breakdown. My great-grandfather, the one who founded the Cranston shoe factories, was only a poor cobbler who came to America via steerage. And since I decided to give away part of my money I've been hounded by cranks and radicals to the point where I wish I had no money!"

"I read something about it in the papers but I figured it was just a publicity stunt," Tally commented. "I can't imagine anyone giving away millions."

"I can't imagine anyone keeping them!" she retorted. "What good are they? I couldn't spend them if I tried. However, it begins to look as if I can't even give money away without starting a revolution. I wish I knew what to do."

His brows puckered thoughtfully. "If it were my money," he said slowly, "I think I'd give it to the government for re-forestation. I would draw up a contract stipulating the money could be used only for that one purpose and that a strict accounting must be offered. A person who did a thing like that would go down in history as a nation's benefactor."

Nola caught some of his eagerness. "Perhaps that is the solution—the idea I've been looking for. But this contract business..."

"I could draw it up for you," he offered, "or draft it out for you before you went to your lawyer."

"But I thought you were a farmer?"

"I am. I did study law, though, at Texas University. I passed my bar examinations but I never practiced."

"Why not?"

"Couldn't," he shrugged, wondering at the urge which prompted him to talk so much to this strange girl. "Things got bad on the farm and we had to let the hired help go. Gramp is too old to work, so it was up to me. I had dreams once but they disappeared as reality. Oh, I'm not sorry for myself. I like farming all right."

"Do you know," she announced with sincere candor, "I like you, Tally Mack!"

A flush spread over his tan cheeks. He felt a sudden lightening of the heaviness which had settled in his chest a few weeks ago.

"I'd like very much to meet the rest of your family. Talbot, Grand-ma Jocelyn used to talk to me about your grandfather."

into the house about an hour ago in the queerest-looking outfit."

"I have been visiting the Macks. All of them. I find them charming. 'Good heavens!' he exclaimed. 'Lyn said, "You can't mean that, Nola."

"But I do. Definitely. The old man is a quaint and fascinating character; the girl is sweet and unbelievably naive; and the child is a smart little tyke. As for young Talbot—" Nola paused for effect—"I fear you know nothing about him at all."

"I know enough," Lyn returned shortly.

"Did you know he is a college graduate with a lawyer's degree?" Nola persisted. "That the only reason he has never practiced is because of crop failure? He has a grand sense of humor and he's lots of fun. I like him. I believe he likes me, too."

Jocelyn suddenly wanted to cry. Her lips trembled. "I hate him and he hates me," she said. "Nevertheless, if you like him I suppose I shall have to treat him decently while you're here."

"You will," threatened Nola, "or I shall complain bitterly!"

Thorn seemed to be having difficulty swallowing a piece of toast. He also had difficulty in suppressing his desire to remonstrate with Nola about this new whim of hers. However, past experience had taught him not to interfere with Nola's whims. Interference only drove her to extremes. She liked to shock people. She was absolutely unpredictable. Her social position and her money made her impervious to anyone's opinion and she did exactly as she pleased. Still, he mused forlornly, as mad as she was at times, he loved her. She enchanted and captivated him. He wanted to marry her more than he had ever wanted to do anything in his life.

And so he swallowed his toast and said nothing.

"Bull In A China Shop"

"THORN," Lyn said the first moment they were alone, "our crowd is throwing the annual spring dance at the club tomorrow night. Remember? Nola is planning on you two going with Geoff and me."

"That should be nice," he offered absently. "Say, do you suppose Nola is really gone on that farmer chap?"

"How should I know? Listen—I want you to make Bob invite Talbot Mack to that dance tomorrow night."

"What is this?" he protested. "Are you crazy, too? First, you can't stand the sight of him, and now you want him at the dance?"

"I know what I'm doing. Nola has the idea that dear Tally is being persecuted and she's decided to champion him. If she does our lives will be miserable for the next few months. We must stop it now. Has many idea penetrated that dense skull of yours, dear brother, or must I draw a diagram?"

BAPTIST MEET READY TO OPEN

Convention Starts in Nashville, Tenn., Tomorrow

Nashville, Tenn., May 16.—The Southern Baptist Convention, which will meet in the spacious new Municipal Auditorium of Oklahoma City in its annual session beginning tomorrow and lasting through Sunday, will chalk up the best record it has made in recent years along many lines, according to information received from Baptist headquarters in this city. Governor Leon C. Phillips will welcome the eight or ten thousand messengers and visitors to the convention representing each of the 18 southern states and District of Columbia at the opening session.

The feature of the first session Wednesday afternoon, May 17, will be the address of President L. R. Scarborough of Fort Worth, Texas, on "Vital Essentials Worth Preserving and Perpetuating." Dr. Perry F. Webb, pastor of the First Baptist Church of San Antonio, Texas, will preach the annual convention sermon Wednesday night.

Among the many pre-convention meetings to be held will be the Woman's Missionary Union, auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention, presided over by the president, Mrs. F. W. Armstrong, Plattsburg, Mo., which opened its session Monday night in the Municipal auditorium and will run through the morning session Wednesday. This organization has broken all previous records during the past year. Three or four thousand Baptist women from all over the south are attending this meeting.

Among the visitors from outside the territory of the convention will be Dr. J. H. Rushbrooke, London, secretary World Baptist Alliance; Dr. Arthur J. Hudson, Cleveland, Ohio, president of the Northern Baptist Convention; Dr. L. K. Williams, Chicago, Ill., president of the National Baptist Convention; Dr. Francis C. Stuffer, New York, editorial secretary, American Bible Society.

Elm Creek, Neb.—(AP)—Elm Creek housewives encounter some of Mother Nature's creatures in strange haunts.

One woman discovered a rabbit dashing up the steps from her basement. Another found several black widow spiders in a bookcase. A probe of a cellar at another home uncovered a black and white salamander.

But Mrs. O. E. Poulson was most surprised of all. She found a garter snake on top of her linen closet.

is almost an economic necessity. Sometimes they are bitter, calling him a fanatic. But Mary, his mother, always understands him, when she thinks it necessary, always finds an excuse for him.

One of the most stirring scenes in the whole play is when Mary goes to an Inn where Jesus is staying. He has become famous and his presence is a boon to the Inn's trade. Mary hopes to see him and she sends him a message saying she will be there. But he never comes.

While she is waiting at the Inn she gets into conversation with a strange young man. He is swarthy and very nervous, almost jittery. They begin to talk about Jesus and the young man leaps up and declares that he, Jesus, is the most wonderful teacher in the world. Mary is made very happy by this intense enthusiasm.

Just then in come Jesus' brothers and she introduces them to him. Then she turns to the young man and says, "I'm sorry—I don't know your name." It is then that one of the spine-tling moments of the play takes place. The young man bows and says, "I am Judas Iscariot."

This is but one of a dozen episodes that make you forget to breathe. It is, as the title says, simply a picture of a family. It might very well be a modern family. The authors do not discuss the Divinity of Jesus. They do not point a moral. They make no effort in any way to alter anyone's conception of Jesus or His teachings. They simply permit you to be a guest in the home where He lived.

It seems to me that no actress in the world could play the role of Mary as beautifully as Judith Anderson plays it. It is something very difficult for me to describe or even talk about. All I know is that after seeing her you don't want to talk about anything or anyone else for a long while.

This girl graduate's spring suit follows the season's trend for dress-and-jacket combinations. It is designed of sheer beige wool and fastened with brown buttons. She tries something different in accessories—a boutonniere whose flowers are made of lacquered pumpkin seeds and a quilted bag studded with the same seeds, both designed by Grace Neff.

All persons indebted to said estate please make immediate payment to the undersigned at the home place, 1 on or before the 21st day of May, 1940, or this will be filed in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment.

SEEING IS BELIEVING!

Now... circus folks, too, are comparing cigarettes this strikingly convincing way...

"JUST watch 'em burn," is the advice smart smokers are giving on cigarettes these days. At the right, aerial ace Everett White of the Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey circus proves that one leading cigarette burns slower than other brands. The famous star of the high trapeze, Ed Rooney, observes that the winning brand is C-A-M-E-L! Camel's big advantage is in its costlier tobaccos, expertly blended in a cigarette made to burn slowly, completely!

Recently, a group of scientists made this interesting laboratory test on a bigger scale. 16 of the largest-selling cigarette brands were tested impartially. CAMELS BURNED SLOWER THAN ANY OTHER BRAND TESTED—25% SLOWER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME FOR THE OTHER BRANDS. (Camels were remarkably consistent. Cigarettes of some brands smoked twice as fast as others right from the same pack.) IN THE SAME TEST, CAMELS HELD THEIR ASH FAR LONGER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME FOR ALL THE OTHER BRANDS.

Camel is the cigarette of costlier tobaccos... always slow-burning, cool, mild, with a delightful taste!

IF you feel that life owes you a little more fun, try a cigarette made with costlier tobaccos... a Camel! See how Camel's delightful fragrance and taste can brighten you up. Camels are amazingly mild. Cool... easy on your throat... really a matchless blend.

Camels have more tobacco by weight than the average of the 15 other brands tested. Besides, Camels burn slower than any of those other brands. And by burning 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands, Camels give you the equivalent of 5 extra smokes per pack!

Everyone watches Everett White, the daring aerialist (center), intently, as Camels win in his cigarette test. He remarks: "Camel smokers know Camels smoke COOLER and MILD. And any smoker can see one reason why! Look how much slower that Camel burns! And, say, notice how the Camel ash stays on!"

New York—One of the strangest plays I ever saw and one of the most beautiful is a drama called "Family Portrait." It is almost impossible to describe this play because most people shy away when you say it is about Jesus.

Do not be misled by such a statement. The character of Jesus does not appear at all. It is his family who appear. Mary, His mother, and His brothers at work at their trade of carpentering. But they talk about Him always, and argue about Him, and frequently they rail against Him.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington — Every time President Roosevelt comes out with a new consolidation and reorganization plan, teeth chatter from one end of Pennsylvania Avenue to the other, but when he ordered abolishment of the National Coal Commission in his second plan the titters outdid the teeth-chattering.

The coal commission has been a comedy of administration errors since it was invented four years ago. The Supreme Court abolished it once in the Carter coal case but it was recreated under a new act and almost at once some of the fanciest storkes of patronage rows ever heard in Washington began leaking out.

Minority Evens Things Up
But only the majority members had these splendid ink and pen sets. The minority members had just a bottle of ink. They went to the newspapers about it. Justice was done.

But that was not all. Tribal jealousies developed. One of the minority members found that his secretary was paid $2,300 a year instead of $3,000 a year paid to the secretary of one of the majority members.

Instantly the minority member brought it up in commission meeting. We saw both jobholders and we couldn't tell the $2,300 secretary from the $3,000 secretary except that the $2,300 one a trifle prettier. Anyway, the under-privileged secretaries got an increase in pay.

Lot of Dittos

The home states of scores of employees were simply indicated by a ditto. One word "Pennsylvania" would be printed near the top of the page and then a long list of "ditto" marks would follow. Now it was not surprising that a lot of the employees should come from Pennsylvania as of all the states in the union Pennsylvania is the most coal-mined. But after all a coal commission is a nation of commission and Holt felt that he should have had a bird's-eye view of the patronage, anyway, more especially since his home state of West Virginia is right up close to Pennsylvania as a coal state.

The commission's job was to determine a schedule of base prices for coal so as to prevent certain mines chiseling on prices against other mines. It was not surprising that it proved a well-nigh impossible job, although as we understand it now a price schedule has been fixed up.

SHORT SHOTS

Raleigh, May 16.—The State Department of Agriculture and State College have many strange requests, but when a package came the other day containing about half a dozen green persimmons, and the man sending it wanted to know how come all the persimmons were falling off the trees before they got grown, the Raleigh experts thought that the limit had been reached. But—indicating the thorough service rendered by the estate experts to the citizenry, the persimmons grower was advised what to do to conserve his 'simmon beer' source for next fall.

Scene: a busy Raleigh street corner. Actors: one man driver, one woman driver, two cars. Woman starts across street intersection, red light catches her and she stops about middle of street. Man driver crashes into her car, and knocks off bumper. Man gets out, picks up piece of woman's bumper (that is piece of bumper off woman's car) and hands it to her. Then picks up piece of bumper off his own car, puts it in back seat and both cars proceed on their way. Not a word spoken by either party. That's what might be called a "gentlemanly" accident.

Reports around the capital city have it that several hotels which had hoped to get the annual convention of the State Federation of Labor have lost all chance of landing the convention because of lobbying activities in connection with the wage-hour legislation during the recent legislature. The Laborites do not care to spend their money with a hotel that actively opposed the wage-hour law supported so strongly by the Federation.

Kerr Scott, commissioner of agriculture, a few days ago was "kidding" some Sampson county folks about the poor land in that section of the state. Monday morning a good farmer from Sampson brought to Mr. Scott a stalk of corn already tasseling, and with the laconic statement, "Put one from Alamance county beside that," placed the corn on the commissioner's desk and walked out. Later in the day Mr. Scott confessed to newspaper men that perhaps he talked a little bit too fast. He says he can match, or beat, that stalk of corn but it will take a little time. Say till July 1.

Speaking of corn reminds some folks of the situation in the ABC stores. Sales of whiskey in the "wet" counties show a decided falling off during the past few weeks as compared with last year. Some state officials, who as usual prefer not to be quoted by name when they are talking about liquor, think that the price of legal liquor is too high, and that this high price is encouraging bootleggers. Others familiar with bootlegger business admit that the bootleggers still charge more than the ABC stores, but this increased price is largely offset by phone and delivery service not available at the legalized emporiums. Pretty generally sentiment is that the legislature made a mistake in boosting the tax on legal liquor, as the opinion prevails that if possible revenue expectations rather than control govern liquor legislation, the situation will soon revert to prohibition-bootlegger conditions of the late twenties and early thirties.

AGRICULTURAL MARKETING PROPOSAL WINS SUPPORT

Representative Bulwinkle—"I will give it every consideration."
Representative Weaver—"I will do everything I can to forward it."
Representative Folger—"Personally, I know of no legislation which would be of more benefit to our farmers at this time than this proposed increase of funds for marketing. I assure you that I am very much interested in this program, and I feel that every member of Congress and the Senate from our state is likewise very much interested and are willing to render every assistance."

Representative Kerr—"I wish to heartily congratulate you upon the fine work that you are doing and to assure you that I always stand ready to co-operate with you in every possible way. I believe the time has come when we must not only give careful thought to methods of production but we should also give special attention to an aggressive marketing program."
President, Southern Association of Commissioners of Agriculture and Louisiana Commissioner, Harry D. Wilson—"In my opinion, this is one of the best measures that has been introduced to assist the farmers in disposing of their products."
President, National Association of Agricultural Commissioners and Florida Commissioner of Agriculture—"The marketing of farm products is of sufficient importance and the need of better facilities are sufficiently urgent to justify the passing of Senate Bill No. 2212 (the marketing bill) or a measure of similar import."

Connecticut Commissioner of Agriculture Olcott P. King—"There is great interest in this state in the problem of marketing and I believe that this idea would appeal especially to the vegetable growers."
New Jersey Department of Agriculture, W. H. Allen, secretary—"I trust that it (the bill) will receive every consideration."
Delaware Board of Agriculture, V. J. Carmine, secretary—"We are writing our congressmen and senators, explaining the purpose of the bill and urging them to support the same."

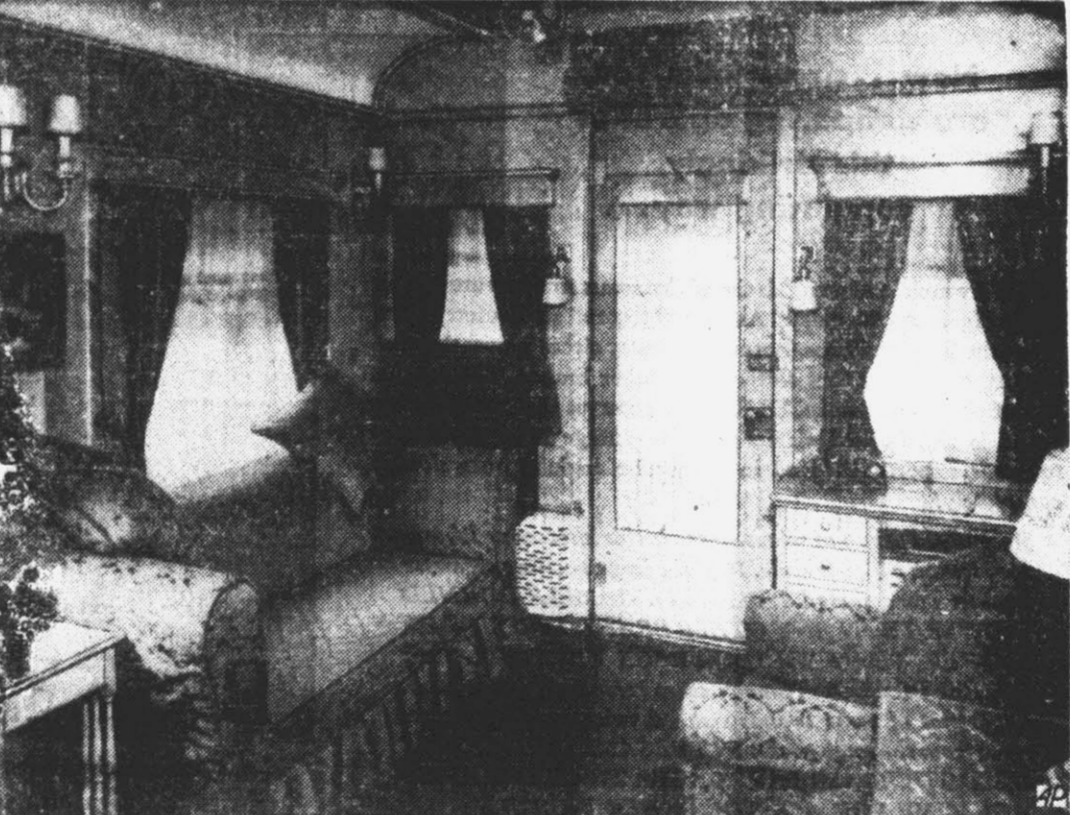

Arkansas Agricultural and Industrial Commission, H. H. Thacker, executive secretary—"I will . . . call this matter to the attention of the Arkansas delegation in Congress."
National Grange, Washington Representative Fred Breckman—"Not only the farmers of North Carolina but those of the entire nation would be greatly benefited if more attention were given to the subject of marketing and distribution in general."
Nevada Department of Agriculture, George C. Schweis, director, division of plant industry—"We are very much interested in the subject of orderly marketing and sincerely hope that your bill receives favorable consideration by the United States Congress."
Wisconsin Department of Agriculture and Markets, Director Ralph E. Ammon—"In my opinion, this bill is one of the most intelligent efforts yet presented to improve the farm situation. I am writing Wisconsin congressmen and senators to that effect."
Kansas State Board of Agriculture, J. C. Mohler, secretary—"You can be sure we are very much interested in any proposals for improving the marketing of farm products."
Vermont Commissioner of Agriculture E. H. Jones—"We, in Vermont, have long believed that too much attention has been paid to increasing the production of agricultural commodities and too little to the marketing of them. We will be glad to take this matter up with our senators and request them to support the bill."
University of Maryland, H. C. Byrd, president—"It will be a pleasure to do all I can to help this along."
Montana Department of Agriculture, Labor and Industry, Commissioner J. T. Sparling—"I believe this is a very good move and will today write the senators and representatives of our state, requesting that they get behind this bill."
Virginia Department of Agriculture and Immigration, Commissioner G. W. Koiker—"Am very much interested in the bill. . . . Hope it will become a law."
Missouri Department of Agriculture, Commissioner Jewell Maves—"It looks to me like a most interesting and practical proposition."
Georgia Department of Agriculture, Alton Cogdell, director, bureau of markets—"We are asking both Senators George and Russell to assist in any way they can in putting this bill over."
New York Department of Agriculture and Markets, Webster J. Bird-sall, director, bureau of markets—"It appears constructive and for a good purpose. Therefore, we will do what we can to assist in its passage."

Freddy Caliguiri In Rare Form To Shatter Kinston 6-0

HOLDS EAGLES TO FOUR HITS

Umpire Lane Runs Into Plenty of Trouble Over Decision

Freddy Caliguiri set the Eagles down with only four hits in the Lenoir city yesterday afternoon and the Greenies racked up a 6-0 win.

The locals return here tonight and meet the Eagles in a Ladies' Night affair, at which all women accompanied by a gentleman escort will be admitted free of charge.

Greenville made its six runs on nine hits. The locals got off to a good start in the first inning and scored two on a double by Allen, first man up, Simpson's walk, Rimmer's sacrifice, Heavener's single and Skipper Rube Wilson's double.

The game raked along at two-to-nothing until the seventh when Greenville added two more. The locals also pushed across one in the eighth.

There was plenty of umpire trouble between the Kinston fans and Umpire Lane. Manager Snake Henry was chased from the game because of remarks to the arbitrator. Lane was physically attacked following a decision on third base. Lane was escorted into the clubhouse by players and police, where he was guarded until police reinforcements arrived.

Four of the Greenies accounted for eight of the local's nine hits. Allen, Rimmer, Heavener and Wilson getting two each. Caliguiri got the other Greenville hit.

Ralph Simpson was hit on the head by a pitched ball, but is not believed to have been seriously injured. After returning to Greenville he was taken to the hospital for a check-up.

When he was removed from centerfield, Rimmer changed from right to center and Daniels took over the fielding duties in right.

LEAGUE PREXY FIRES UMPIRE

Tom Lane Replaced After Kinston Altercation

Aubrey Shackell, statistician for the Coastal Plain League, announced in Tarboro today that Tom Lane, umpire who was the victim of an attack in Kinston yesterday, had been fired by Acting League President Ray Goodman of Williamston.

What reprimand, if any, will be administered Snake Henry, manager of the Kinston Eagles, who was involved in a dispute with the umpire and who was banished from the game by Lane, was not revealed. Unofficial reports said Henry repeatedly stepped on Lane's feet with his spiked shoes during the argument.

It was announced that Jim Stroner, who started the season playing with Kinston and went from there to New Bern, but later released by the Bears, had been named to replace Lane.

It also was revealed that other umpires in the league might get their walking papers within a short while.

FORGET SPANISH WAR, LONDON MAGAZINE ADVISES

London.—(AP)—A magazine editorial complains about a daily paper's protest over "bombing of refugees in Spain," and takes the paper to task for suggesting the "deed" should be remembered "when Franco comes to us for a loan."

"That is hardly calculated," says the magazine "to increase friendly relations between financiers in this country and the forces of law, order and decency in the Spanish nation—where there is big business to be done in the future."

Night Games

Rube Wilson's Greenies will tangle with the Kinston Eagles tonight in a game starting at 8 o'clock, to launch a series of night games scheduled for the present month.

Officials of the local club last night decided to play all local games scheduled for this month under the lights. This does not include Sunday games, however, for these will be played in the afternoon at the usual time.

Tonight is Ladies' Night at the ball park.

Gulf, 16; Carolina Sales, 11.

The 1939 softball season got under way at Third Street park last night following opening ceremonies participated in by Mayor M. K. Blount, Water and Light Superintendent Martin Swartz, Superintendent of Schools J. H. Rose and Chamber of Commerce Secretary Willard T. Kyzer.

Mayor Blount told the fans and players that more, larger and better playgrounds would be provided in the future. The various teams were presented by Mr. Kyzer.

Despite the chilly weather, a large crowd, the largest ever to witness a softball game here, went out to see the opening games.

Blount-Harvey scored a 25-16 victory over Water and Light and Gulf defeated Carolina Sales, 16-11.

Hits and errors were plentiful in both games. The players were not accustomed to the lights and this was held responsible for so many errors. Too, the weather was rather cold for the opening games.

J. Barrett and Cary Warren, with the Blount-Harvey team, got four hits in five trips to lead in hitting. Max Minges of Gulf clouted three for four for the Gulf team.

THE QUESTION IS: what'll the season bring for these two baseball riddles—Carl Hubbell (left) of the N. Y. Giants and Errol Bullen of the Chicago Cubs? Between them, they have two of the most publicized flippers in the business, and nobody is climbing out on a limb to predict a big summer for either pitcher. They got together recently at New York, and, as shown here, compared the muscles of their pitching arms.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robin Coons - Hollywood - Such optimism may be premature, but it does seem to this corner that the movies are dealing somewhat more reverently with the novels and plays they translate on celluloid.

There'll always be changes made. Censors and story conferences, between them, will always be whittling here and hacking there. They say it's essential to the different medium of the screen, and that is largely true. A writer can spill over into a hundred pages of character analysis what the camera has to tell in a few feet of film and he can use dialogue (sometimes effectively, too) which would curl a censor's hair.

But investigation of recent trends with the exception that the girl in the story is presented less sketchily than James Hilton wrote her. "The Rain Came" is planned with fidelity to Louis Bromfield's original, and the Myrna Loy character is being presented as unsympathetically as she was written. Three minor characters are gone, the dialogue has been tamed, and the catastrophes - not dwell upon at length in the novel but such good pictorial material as to be high points for the camera - will be fully presented. These are the changes.

Just as Hollywood has reacted to its cinebiographical sins of recent times, notably "Jesse James," by an attempt at closer adherence to fact, so the current apparent interest in doing right by books and plays may owe its origin to gross crimes of the past.

Outstanding among these was Shirley Temple's venture as a "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," which bore no semblance - except in misleading title - to its beloved source. Stevenson's "Kidnapped" fared little better in adaptation, and other classics and best-sellers whose content has been ravaged by Hollywood make too tall a stack to enumerate.

Optimism, as noted before, may be premature. Margaret Mitchell's book - remember? - is now on its third director (Sam Wood replacing Victor Fleming who replaced George Cukor) and what will come of it on the screen we must wait and see. And "The Grapes of Wrath" and "The Free of Liberty," both tough adaptation nuts to crack, are not yet in the scenarists' hands.

Meanwhile, lest it appear that Hollywood has washed its hands completely of the blood of bayoneted books, it must be reported that "Golden Boy" will have a different ending. In the play, the boy, his victim still, lives, his life ruined. In the picture, the boy, with nothing to live for, will live. The picture thus will attain greater tragedy than the play - except for those who see in the mere maintenance of such a life a "happy ending."
