STRUGGLE FOR POWER IN EAST IS BROADENED

Jap Naval Blockade Is Extended To Amoy Area

MEASURES ALSO FELT IN HANKOW

Japs Press Demands For Greater Hand in Control of International Settlements

Shanghai, June 15.—(AP)—The new struggle over Occidental interests in China was broadened today by a Japanese naval blockade of the International Settlement at Amoy, in addition to the police blockade of British and French concessions at Tientsin.

At the same time, messages from ten sources at Hankow said that Japanese forces had blockaded offices, warehouses and docks of a British shipping firm, refusing passage to British and Chinese employees. The concern is located near the Hankow customs house. Foreign advisers from Amoy said that three Japanese warships had isolated the island of Kulungsu, which is the Amoy settlement, halting all traffic and preventing landing of vegetables and other supplies. The Japanese was quoted as saying that the purpose of the blockade was to "bring the (Kulungsu) municipal council to its senses" with regard to Japanese demands for a greater hand in control of the settlement.

Before negotiations were halted last week by the departure of the Japanese consul general from Amoy for Tokyo, the council announced its willingness to accept two of its Japanese demands, holding that complete acceptance would give Japan control of the Kulungsu government. Last month, about the time the United States, Britain and France watched a Japanese landing party three to one with their own marines and blue jackets at Kulungsu, the Japanese halted shipping between Kulungsu and the mainland. However, a few days ago a Shanghai spokesman said that Japanese blockade had been lifted.

College President Is Chapel Speaker

President L. R. Meadows gave the opening assembly talk of the college summer session at chapel yesterday, welcoming the students to the campus and discussing for them the significance of the celebration this year of the hundredth anniversary of the founding of teacher-training institutions in the United States. President Meadows was quoted as speaking in the effect that a young man to the effect that there were only three true professions—medicine, law and the ministry—because only in them were persons entering the field required to have a specialized body of information not available to those outside. Thus, the speaker had said, teaching could not at the time yet be recognized as a profession, because anyone could get into it without specialized training.

More than a thousand years ago, said Dr. Meadows, people could go to universities to be trained for the ministry; and more than two thousand years ago Paul sat at a feet in Rome. But not until a hundred years ago did we establish a training school for teachers. This year, beginning in July, teachers colleges and teachers in every state in the Union will celebrate the centenary of the founding of that first teacher-training school, which was at Lexington, Mass.

President Meadows pointed out various things that may be gained by the nation-wide observance of such an anniversary, chief among them being the value of acquainting the public with the work and growth of teachers colleges, which now enroll more students annually than do state universities, and the opportunity through this growth in public understanding for education to rise to higher levels. "So," said the speaker, "let me urge you to join hands with thousands of other teachers throughout the nation by celebrating in some way in your community this important anniversary in the history of teaching."

N. C. RAILROAD SHOWS PROFIT

Not Yet Prepared To Turn Over Line To Lessee

Raleigh, June 15.—(AP)—Governor Hovey said today he doubted if it would be possible to complete plans for leasing the state-controlled Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad to H. P. Edwards of Sanford by July 1. The ICC has not ruled on Edwards' petition for permission to take over the line. Hovey pointed out, and an audit of the railroad's books by the state auditor will not be ready until July 1. President H. P. Crowell reported to Hovey that the line had a net profit of $4,078.59 in April an increase of about $3,900 over April, 1938 figures. In four months the line lost $3,232.07, but that showing was about $6,400 better than for the period in 1938.

Raleigh, June 14.—(AP)—Revenue Commissioner A. J. Maxwell said today Dr. William Hayes Winderly of Winton has been employed as physician to examine the 100-odd prospective applicants for 50 highway patrolmen's jobs. Maxwell said Dr. Winderly would hold examinations in various sections of the state. He also will be at the Highland Lake patrol training camp.

Seeks To Make $275,000 Satisfy All Concerned

By HENRY AVERILL. Raleigh, June 15.—North Carolina's School Commission is now studying the problem of stretching $275,000 until it will satisfy groups which are seeking about 10 times that much. It cannot meet all the needs and requests—that can't be done even with mirrors. Wednesday's hearing before the special teacher salary committee, headed by Dr. B. B. Dougherty, showed that there are five main propositions which must be considered. Here's the long and short of the alternatives before the commission when it comes time definitely to split the money available. At least here are the five things it was urged to do: 1.—To reduce the differential between the salaries now paid white and Negro teachers—a differential of about 30 per cent under present salary schedules. A group headed by Dean J. T. Taylor of the North Carolina College for Negroes asked that the existing differential be reduced by 10 per cent. To wipe it

U. S. And France Also Feel Effect Of Jap Blockade

Chamberlain Indicates That Joint Action By Three Countries Will Be Sought If Further Demands Are Made

London, June 15.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain today indicated the possibility of seeking joint action by Britain, France and the United States, if Japan used the Tientsin incident for more far-reaching demands against foreign interests in China. He told the House of Commons that a Japanese spokesman at Tientsin had indicated that the object of Japan's blockade of the British and French concessions was to obtain "a much wider form of co-operation from British authorities in China." "It is clear," the prime minister continued, "that if this statement represents the views of authorities in Tokyo the Japanese are using the incident to make the demands wider and more far-reaching than the handling over of the four men." Chamberlain referred to Japan's earlier demand for delivery to Japanese authorities of four Chinese accused of killing a Tientsin official and now detained in the British concession there. British rejection of this demand led to the imposition of the blockade early Wednesday. "Such demands," Chamberlain continued, "would raise important questions of policy in which other great powers are concerned no less than this country and the closest touch is being maintained with the French and the United States governments." "In the meantime, the British government is considering the situation created by the refusal of Japanese to accept a proposal for a committee of inquiry and by continuation of the blockade of the settlement." Chamberlain said the situation was "obviously a grave one," but added that "I am not prepared at this moment to say what action we shall decide to take."

CAFE RATINGS VOTE TO LIMIT SCOPE OF TVA

No Place in City or County Closed During May

No Greenville or Pitt county eating places were closed and no proprietor was prosecuted, the May report of cafe inspections, released by J. H. Moore, county inspector, and J. T. Welch, city inspector, and Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, Pitt county health officer, revealed today. Dr. Ennett called attention to the fact that while it is necessary that eating places be sanitary at all times, it is even more necessary that they be sanitary during the warm months than at any other time of the year. He especially stressed the necessity for eating places to be free of flies and suggested that patrons of cafes and other eating places could give the health department as well as the manager of the eating place, cooperation by calling attention to the presence of flies whenever they are found. He expressed his appreciation for the "fine cooperation" given the health department by most eating places and pointed out the following rating standards: 90 to 100, A; 80 to 90, B; 70 to 80, C; and when over an eating place has a rating below 70, the operator is ordered to close or be subjected to prosecution. No Forest Fires For County Since April

C. A. Bowling, Pitt county fire warden, today revealed that no forest fires had been reported in the county since April. Bowling said the drop in fires in forests of the county was due to green growth, but urged residents of the county to use precaution during summer camping trips, explaining that dead timberland can be ignited and cause heavy damage. Day's Happiness—Death Hovers

Death from cancer may be just a few weeks away, as doctors have said, but Mrs. Jill Taylor of Atlanta refused to let that interrupt a day of happiness at the New York World's Fair. Lying on a stretcher, she went the rounds with her husband, Lt. Col. With Mrs. Taylor is Nurse Irene Brooks (right). The flowers came from Fair President Grover Whalen.

Steps Against Britain Threatened By Germany

Washington, June 15.—(AP)—Two North Carolina representatives who today voted with a House majority to restrict operations of the TVA, expressed the opinion TVA was an experiment to establish a "yard stick" for power rates and not a "big stick" to run private utilities out of business. The House adopted amendments to the TVA act limiting its area of operation to the Tennessee Valley, cutting the proposed bond issuing authority to buy private utilities from $100,000,000 to $61,500,000 and requiring submission of fiscal policies to the general accounting office. Three North Carolina representatives voted for this curtailment, proposed to the House Military Affairs committee, while seven of their colleagues voted with the majority which favored a $100,000,000 bond issue amendment approved by the Senate. Two of the North Carolinians voting with the House majority were A. L. Bulwinkle of Gastonia and J. B. Clark of Fayetteville. The third was Carl Durham of Chapel Hill.

Nazis Irked Over Dismissal of Envoy at Liverpool

Berlin, June 15.—(AP)—An official announcement said today that the German government reserved the right to take retaliatory measures in the case of its consul general at Liverpool, who was asked to leave England because of alleged complicity in a spying case. The German statement denied that the consul general, Walter Reinhardt, was implicated in the case. (British Prime Minister Chamberlain yesterday told the House of Commons he had asked the German government to withdraw Reinhardt from Liverpool. He said that after studying court records he had to accept the conclusion that the German consul general at Liverpool was involved in the case of Joseph Kelley, 30-year-old armaments worker who was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment May 19 for selling vital secrets of the factory where he was employed.) "The charge that the German consul general in Liverpool had had relations with Kelley or had made connections for Kelley with espionage or intelligence organizations is false," the German statement declared.

Big Power Company Rates Below Munis and Co-Ops

Raleigh, June 15.—This year's reductions in electric power rates by the major power companies have resulted in putting the average rates of these companies far below those charged by municipalities and electric membership co-operatives backed by the federal REA, an analysis of the figures shows. Edgar Wombie, chief rate expert for the Utilities Commission, is of the opinion that the average of power company rates in North Carolina is now "lower than in any other state." The average rate to residential customers of the power companies, figured on a basis of 50 kilowatt hours, is 5.02 cents per kilowatt hour for the five major power companies. These five are the Carolina Power and Light, the Duke Power Company, the Durham Public Service Company and the two rates of the Tide Water Power Company (one in New Hanover county, the other on the transmission lines of the Tide Water outside New Hanover). The average rate to the same

SPEAK AGAINST RESTRICTIONS ON WPA FUNDS

Sec. Ickes And Col. Harrington Oppose Proposals

HOUSE TAKES UP RELIEF MEASURE

Germany, Meantime, Held Responsible For Munitions Disasters Prior To War

Washington, June 15.—(AP)—Two high administration officials spoke out today against restrictions on federal relief spending proposed in the $1,716,000,000 House bill to finance 1940 relief operations. Secretary Ickes said a prohibition against using future Public Works Administration funds to build industrial plants in competition with existing private enterprises "dictates and should not apply for and in that it distinctly traverses the democratic principles of government."

Colonel F. C. Harrington, WPA chief, said after a conference with President Roosevelt that "Some of the things in the bill are going to be awfully tough to try to administer." Meanwhile, the mixed claims commission held Germany responsible for the Black Tom and Kingsland, N. J., munitions disasters prior to the entry of the United States into the World War. The international tribunal, of which Supreme Court Justice Roberts is umpire, reversed its Hamburg decision of 1931 which accepted the "industrial accident" theory of the fires and explosion which rocked the New York metropolitan area in 1916 and 1917. American claimants who sought damages of $50,000,000 from the Reich have contended throughout 12 years of litigation that the destruction of Lehigh Valley railroad terminal at Black Tom in 1916 and the Kingsland plant early in 1917 was the work of saboteurs in the pay of the Imperial German government. Germany was equally persistent in her denials, advancing the theory that the vast quantities of the munitions which had been destined for allied nations were destroyed by accident, not design. Other developments: Representative Warren (D.-N. C.) sought to make certain the relief bill now being debated in the House would not contain a restriction against use of WPA funds for development of the Coast Guard air base at Elizabeth City, N. C. He held the House yesterday the measure eliminated all federal projects and questioned whether it would affect projects already authorized by Congress.

Hodges-Bostic.

On Wednesday afternoon at four-thirty o'clock the Memorial Baptist Church was the scene of a beautiful and impressive wedding, when Miss Margaret Sandlin Bostic became the bride of Mr. Walter Rex Hodges of Farmville, N. C. The altar was banked with palms and ferns, interspersed with baskets of white gladioli. Cathedral candles in seven-branched candelabra furnished a soft glow over the scene and the altar was flanked on either side with tall standard baskets of gladioli.

Following the ceremony yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. Berry Bostic entertained at a reception at their home on East Ninth street.

The entire lower floor presented a delightful picture. A bridal motif of green and white was carried out in the beautiful arrangements of white gladioli, feverfew and native greenery. Only candlelight illuminated the rooms.

Miss Laura Smith Fleming directed the guests to the dining room. In the dining room, white roses and gypsophylla in a silver bowl formed the centerpiece and white tapers in silver holders burned at either end of the floral arrangement. Silver platters filled with decorated green and white cakes, green and white mints and salted nuts completed the appointment of the table.

Mrs. L. S. Hardee Entertains. On Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. L. S. Hardee, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Robert Starnes of Durham, and other members of the family, gave a delightful shower honoring Mrs. G. L. Mann, recent bride.

The Red Bank Club, along with visitors, numbered twenty-five. The living room and hall were attractively decorated with gardenias and gladioli.

In a "Brides" contest and "Trees" contest, Mrs. S. B. Tucker and Mrs. Murphy won prizes.

Mrs. Mann was then invited to the bride's table, where she was asked to cut a lovely cake, around which were sprays of magnolia rosebuds to complete a beautiful touch.

Returning to the living room, the guest of honor was delightfully surprised to find a table loaded with useful and serviceable gifts. As these were opened, each person was thanked in a most appreciative manner. Accompanying cards bore expressions of good-will and devotion.

Guests were then asked to assemble on the newly arranged and comfortable porch where refreshments, consisting of iced tea, chicken salad, toasted nuts, ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. Ola Tucker, president of the club, led in a brief business meeting, this being the regular date.

Misses Bertha May and Beulah Harrington sang a duet, "Home On the Beach," which was composed by the hostess. Mrs. Ola Tucker accompanied them at the piano. The club seemed especially enlivened by this song, the words of which may soon appear in print.

Favors in accord with the shower, miniature white parasols, were given guests as they departed.

Entertaining Wedding Party. On Tuesday evening, immediately following rehearsal, Mr. and Mrs. H. Dall Laughinghouse and Miss Mary Jenkins entertained the Hodges-Bostic wedding party and a few friends at the Laughinghouse home.

The guests were greeted by the host and hostesses on the lawn, which was attractively lighted for the occasion.

Miss Lorraine Skinner served punch from a unique punch bowl placed in an old-fashioned well.

The home was decorated throughout with summer flowers.

After the arrival of the guests they were invited into the dining room where Mrs. R. C. Stokes and Mrs. John Clark, seated at either end of the table, served molded ice cream in bridal shapes.

A bridal motif of green and white was used in the decorations of the dining room. The table held a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom which were dressed as Miss Bostic and Mr. Hodges were to be dressed for the wedding.

During the refreshment hour much enjoyment was caused by the cutting of the wedding cake.

Mrs. Mann Honored. Miss Elizabeth Edwards recently honored Mrs. G. L. Mann with a kitchen shower, in which practically everything for the kitchen was received. Unlimited gratitude was expressed by the honor guest. Ice cream and delightful wafers were served. At the conclusion of the party, Miss Edwards rendered beautiful selections at the piano.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington—A new batch of food and drug regulations go into effect June 25 to make life safer for fat people, bald heads and sun bathers.

But life may still be fairly expensive for them, needlessly so, perhaps, for the food and drugs administration is unable to step out and tell people that sometimes a 50 cent variety of cold cream or ointment is as good for beauty or sunburn as a $3 item.

One zone of danger is constantly narrowing—that is the field of poisonous cosmetics. That part of the act went into effect immediately when it was signed last June 25 by the President. Poisonous hair dyes, eye-lash dyes, and many varieties of violent skin bleaches have been taken off the market already as dangerous.

All of the balance of the act was to go into effect this June 25 but an amendment is about complete to postpone some of the honest label provisions until next January 1, or perhaps even July 1, 1940.

Some Restriction
Going into effect June 25 however, is a provision stating that a cosmetic will be considered misbranded "if its labeling is false or misleading in any particular."

So if a sunburn oil says it contains certain elements good for shielding off the hotter rays, it better contain them, or fines may be heaped upon the faulty manufacturer.

Continued also will be "cheater" bottles and jars, indicating they may contain more food or cold cream or hair tonic than they really do. The food and drugs administration has a "chamber of horrors" among which are exhibits of cold cream bottles which hold barely a spoon full although from the outside they would appear to hold half a pint.

The administration is constantly surprised by the sort of things women will buy. A six-ounce bottle of perfumed salt water now abolished had a good sale at $1 a bottle as a shampoo which would not remove the wave in the hair.

If the salt water had been called a food or drug the bottle must have said what it contained. But Congress didn't go that far in the act with cosmetics. It was skittish about making excessive regulations on cosmetics without more experience. They were not subject to regulation at all until this bill went into effect.

Expect To Widen Out
Administration people believe it won't be long until the law is changed to require hair tonics, face lotions and creams to say what they contain. For one own personal satisfaction we hope that time will soon come as we have tried for months to persuade a young lady we know that she is paying $6 a pint for perfumed horse liniment. We should like to have the government prove it.

Just now the government is doing its best to stamp out harmful reducing compounds but is having no end of trouble doing it. The food and drug administration claims that such business should be done under direction of a physician and not from directions on a bottle wrapper. A lawsuit is pending on that matter now. The manufacturer asserts his method is safe.

You might just as well know that the food and drugs administration is pretty uncertain whether there is any cure at all for dandruff. They are keeping manufacturers from making exaggerated claims for dandruff cures.

SHORT SHOTS

Reflector Bureau.
By HENRY AVERILL.
Raleigh, June 15.—North Carolina's Negroes pay more than their share of the sales tax because they are poor folks," said Dean J. T. Taylor of the North Carolina College for Negroes. His contention is that they make more than their share of small purchases and therefore pay more than the three per cent rate.

If that's so, and it sounds logical, then there's a lot of us white folks who pay more than our share, too. At least we certainly qualify as "poor."

Secretary Lloyd Griffin of the School Commission had better keep out of Arkansas—he pronounces the last syllable "sas" instead of "saw," and in the state made famous by its razorback hogs and its forthright refusal even to consider changing its name; it's almost a capital offense to talk thataway.

The committee of Negroes who appeared before the School Commission Wednesday to ask for a reduction of the differential between salaries of white and Negro teachers was composed of realists who have no illusions that they can get what they want by a court decision.

Speaking of the Virginia suit for equal pay for Negro teachers—a suit which, incidentally was dismissed by a lower court in Norfolk and is now on its way to the United States Supreme court via the Virginia Court of Appeals—Dean Taylor said:

"Suits of this sort are usually not brought by the best minds of our race. We try to keep away from such procedure."
And later, when queried as to what he thinks would follow if the suit were won by the Virginia Negroes, he said:

"Any state can get around a decision of the Supreme court."
The Dean, however, does not expect the highest court of the country to overrule the Virginia case.

We believe the Supreme court is just like we are. It does not want to hand down a decision which would disrupt the harmonious relations existing between the races in most of the Southern states."

The Negro delegation was obviously and emphatically proud of North Carolina and the fact that they are North Carolinians.

"When a Negro from South Carolina or Georgia or Alabama or most of the Southern states goes to the North, he's usually ashamed to tell the Northerners what state he is from, but when a North Carolina Negro goes up there he's proud to tell everybody where he comes from," said Dean Taylor, who was spokesman for the group throughout the commission hearing.

Taylor was the dean in name, but the real dean in age was C. H. Williamson of Henderson, who has spent 52 years in the teaching profession. He is principal of the elementary school for Negroes in the Vance county seat.

After the hearing, he told your correspondent with quite evident sincerity: "North Carolina has the best white people and the best Negroes, too, in the world."

Other three members of the group which attended the commission hearing were W. R. Johnson of the Department of Welfare, Raleigh; M. W. Akins, principal of the Raleigh Negro schools, and H. L.

'LOST COLONY' OPENS JULY 1

Author Paul Green Back With Revised Script

Manteo, N. C. June 15.—Paul Green, noted Pulitzer Prize dramatist, arrived here today with the revised script of his historical drama, "The Lost Colony," which will inaugurate its third summer season at the Waterside Theater, Roanoke Island, July 1, in connection with the local historical celebrations.

In addition to revising various bits of the drama, depicting the heroic adventures of the first English colonists to make a permanent settlement in the New World, playwright Green has added a new scene in which Sir Walter Raleigh is knighted by Queen Elizabeth in recognition of his exploration and colonization of the Roanoke Island area during the late 16th century.

Mr. Green plans to attend daily rehearsals of the drama while here. Though other duties may call him back to Chapel Hill, he will be definitely here for the formal opening ceremonies of the new season of "The Lost Colony" in connection with the 352nd anniversary celebrations on Roanoke Island. With more than 200 performers in the cast, mostly native islanders and fisherfolk, "The Lost Colony" is presented as a sort of patriotic Oberammergau. It is a non-commercial venture and is being repeated by popular demand from both sides of the Atlantic. It has been seen by more than 175,000 persons from all parts of the country and 100,000 are expected before the season closes September 4.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nerve pain may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or heavy passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness, pain and energy, getting up nights, swelling, stiffness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Jenkins Homer Features 10-5 Triumph Over Wilson

FIRST IS WON 6-3 BY WILSON

Locals Divide Twin Bill To Retain The League Clip

By JAMES WHITFIELD
Greenville, N. C., June 15, 1939.

Dear Home Folks: I blasted a homer over the 375 foot region of the left field wall in the eighth inning last night, with the score deadlocked at 3 all and two men on bases, to help Greenville win 10-5 over Wilson, who defeated us 6-3 in the afternoon game.

Wilson's Jake Heblie was rather kind to us in the second inning and walked four consecutive men to give us our first run in last night's game. Two more runs came in the same verse on Vincent Smith's long drive which struck the right field wall and Freddie Caligiuri's sacrifice fly to left. Freddie did the hurling for us last night.

Greenville was out in front 5-1 when Wilson began batting. Jirak walked and Biershenk singled to open the inning. Jirak scored on Smith's single and Biershenk came home on Sanford's single. A single by Schuerholz to right center scored Smith and Sanford. A walk, single and an error gave Wilson its only other run of the night. These runs combined is what created that eighth inning deadlock.

I don't know what happened to us yesterday afternoon. Anyway, we couldn't make our hits count, although we got nine as many as the visiting club. Jack Threlfall, who has played with Snow Hill this season, did the hurling for Wilson. He didn't strike out but two men and walked one. However, it seemed that we could do nothing about it.

Allen Green, you know that boy who used to pitch for State College, started on the mound for us yesterday, but was chased after one inning of play. Allan seemed to be a little wild. McMullen finished the job.

I hope all of you are well. Your son,
Harry Jenkins.

Although this so-called letter was not written by Harry, he's welcome to use it.

Beat Dairy and Gulf To Go Into Tie for Loop Lead

The Water and Light softball team last night won two games to go into a tie for the loop lead with Royal Crown, which team won two games on Wednesday night. Both teams have won six and lost two.

The utilities won the first game over Carolina Dairy, 9-6, and came back in the second contest to beat Gulf, 14-8.

In the third game of the evening, Carolina Sales won a 14-8 victory over Blount-Harvey. The department store team stayed out in front during the early days of the season, but has suffered several defeats recently.

Pitt County Boy Making Good As Baseball Player

Lloyd Ellis Has Hitting Average Of .413 This Year

By JAMES WHITFIELD
Lloyd Ellis, 16-year-old Pitt County native, who got his start in baseball in the green pastures of the Winterville community while playing with the neighborhood game, has been voted all-star first sacker on the All-Western League team of Los Angeles, California; all-city first baseman, and All-Los Angeles high school star by the All-Southern California Board of Baseball.

Lloyd garnered the All-Western League honor by nosing out 35 other boys of Los Angeles, who were candidates for the coveted post. As a result of his honors, Lloyd and Jerry Marvin, his coach, attended a banquet in honor of the boys of high school age who were awarded various positions on the All-Western League team.

Although Lloyd moved from Pitt County with his parents about three years ago, all of his hitting power hasn't been gained out west. However, his power with a baseball bat is a little more effective than when he lived in Winterville, Ayden and

Twenty-Two Hits In Martin-Bug Contest

A ninth inning rally, good for three runs, gave Kinston a 4-1 victory over Snow Hill yesterday. The three-run party climaxed a pitching duel between Bill Herring of the Eagles and Lefty Harpe of the Billies.

Fans witnessing the contest at Goldsboro between the Bugs and Williamston Martins saw twenty-two hits hammered to the infield and outfield. The Martins took the game by a 8-6 count.

New Bern outthit Tarboro last night but runs determined the win in a ball game, so Tarboro edged a 5-4 win over the Bruins New Bern gathered 10 hits, but not more than two were realized in any inning.
