18 KILLED BY EXPLOSIONS IN CITY OF HAIFA

Six Women and Three Children Among Fatalities

BOMBINGS SCENE IN MART PLACE

Telephone Exchange And Street Booths Badly Damaged By Series of Bomb Explosions

Jerusalem, June 19.—(AP)—Eighteen Arabs were killed at dawn today and 24 were wounded by explosion of a bomb in the Haifa market place, near the city's $20,000,000 port.

Nine of the dead were men, six were women and three were children.

The Haifa telephone exchange and street telephone booths were damaged considerably.

The establishment of strict lines of police and troops about the scene of the explosion prevented the details of the damage being given out until the task of taking the dead and injured to hospitals was completed.

The scene of the bombings was the market place where 55 persons were killed by explosions July 25, 1938, and 23 were killed and more than 50 injured on July 6 that year in an explosion and an ensuing battle between Jews and Arabs.

Two time bomb explosions in the market place threw scores of persons out of beds in nearby dwellings. There were two more explosions, one of which cut off approximately half of Haifa's telephones from the main exchange.

Curfew was imposed at 9 a. m. today.

WOMAN KILLER MAKES ESCAPE

Mrs. Velma West one of Four To Flee Ohio Camp

Marysville, Ohio, June 19.—(AP)—Mrs. Velma West, 33, serving a life sentence for the hammer-slaving of her husband, and three other prisoners escaped today from the state reformatory for women.

The office of Mrs. Marguerite Reilly, superintendent, reported that the cells of the four women were found empty at the 6 a. m. inspection.

Mrs. Reilly left for Cleveland early this morning before the escape was discovered.

Mrs. West was convicted of killing her husband, Thomas Edward West, in December, 1927. He was found dead, bound hand and foot, with his head smashed by a hammer and a table leg. His wife, then 21, was said by officials to have attended a party in Cleveland following the slaying.

The three other fugitives and the charges on which they were sentenced were: Virginia Brawdy, 19, of Akron, incorrigibility; Florence Shelton, 23, of Gallipolis, breaking and entering; and Mary Ellen Richards, 23, of Cincinnati, robbery.

Mrs. West was an honor inmate at the reformatory and had acted as an usher in the front office.

The superintendent's office theorized that the four escaped about 5 a. m. after stealing the keys to their cells. They were unable to determine definitely, however, how the escapes were effected.

School Commission Apt To Reduce Differential

By HENRY AVERILL. Raleigh, June 19.—When the state School Commission gets round to dividing the $275,000 available for teacher salary increases, the best bet is that it will allot a goodly percentage of this amount to reducing the approximately 30 per cent differential which now exists in the salary schedule for white and Negro teachers.

The next best bet is that there will be no ninth increment voted by the commission — an increment which was recommended by Governor Hoey's special committee which studied the school problem and reported at some length about the end of last year. Just what proportion of the $275,000 will go to the Negroes cannot be forecast just now, as the salary committee headed by Dr. B. B. Dougherty isn't going "round" dish-ing out information which might later prove wrong when the whole commission acts on its recommendations.

In spite of this reticence, however, it can safely be reported that the salary committee, or at least a sub-committee thereof, voted unanimously to make as impressive a gesture as possible toward reducing the white-Negro differential.

FARMERS SELL 'LEAN' COTTON

More Than 200,000 Bales Been With-drawn and Sold

Washington, June 19.—(AP)—Federal farm officials said today that some southern farmers were netting profits of from $1 to $5 a bale by withdrawing cotton stored under government loans and selling it to buyers hard pressed for supplies to fill their orders.

Because of a shortage of supply in the market, cotton prices in recent weeks have advanced to a level about one and one-fourth cents a pound above the rate at which the government made loans on last year's crop.

Thus, a farmer borrower might pay off his loan plus storage and interest charges and make a profit, officials explained.

Officials of the Commodity Credit Corporation, the agency which underwrites the cotton loans, estimated that 200,000 bales have been taken out of loan stock by farmers in recent weeks and sold to buyers for milling orders from both domestic and foreign users.

HOUSE BEGINS DEBATE ON TAX REVISION ACT

Prompt Passage of Measure Generally Predicted

SENATE AT WORK FISCAL MEASURE

Continuation of Presidential Monetary Powers Urged in Senate by Wagner of New York

Washington, June 19.—(AP)—Hurry to dispose of important financial legislation before July 1, the House today took up business tax revision while administration forces in the Senate sought a two-year extension of the President's monetary powers.

Urging the Senate to continue the administration's monetary power, Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.) said they "contribute both to domestic recovery and to international monetary stability."

Wagner, chairman of the Banking committee, opened debate on a House-approved bill extending to June 30, 1940, the President's authority to devalue the dollar further and the Treasury's power to maintain the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund and to buy domestically-mined silver at prices above the world market. President Roosevelt has reduced the dollar to 59 per cent of its former gold weight. The emergency authority permits him to cut it another nine per cent.

Wagner said the devaluation power, which is opposed by a group of Senators "is our chief weapon in preventing the initiation of currency wars."

With little real opposition in sight, the House debated the tax revision bill. Passage by nightfall was predicted.

However, Republican members of the House Ways and Means committee contended the measure does not go far enough in stimulating business.

Offered in response to businessmen's demands for changes in corporation levies, the bill would wipe out the tax on undistributed corporate profits and substitute a flat 18 per cent levy on companies earning more than $25,000 annually.

The present rate of 12 and a half to 16 per cent on corporations with incomes up to $25,000 would be continued.

Committee Approves Rivers, Harbors Bill

Washington, June 19.—(AP)—A Senate Commerce sub-committee today approved an omnibus rivers and harbors bill authorizing $407,855,600 worth of projects or $24,700,500 more than the amount voted by the House.

The bill would authorize construction of projects but provide no funds, leaving the question of initial appropriation to be acted upon next year.

Among the authorizations which the sub-committee added to the bill were these:

Panlico sound to Avon, N. C., $16,500.

Thoroughfare bay - Cedar bay channel, N. C., $20,000; Beaufort harbor, N. C., $54,000.

Maneto to Oregon Inlet, N. C., $45,000.

CONCERN FELT ON SITUATION

U. S. Interested in Japanese Blockade in Tientsin

Washington, June 19.—(AP)—Secretary Hull formally expressed today the concern of the United States with "broader aspects" of developments at Tientsin, China, where the Japanese army has blockaded British and French concessions.

Because of this concern, the Secretary of State said, the government was observing "with special interest all related developments in China." At the same time, he issued his formal statement, Hull told reporters.

Secretary of State said, the government was observing "with special interest all related developments in China." At the same time, he issued his formal statement, Hull told reporters. Tokyo, Eugene Dooman, had suggested that the office of the American consul general at Tientsin, John K. Caldwell, be used in mediation.

(Hull's statement was issued shortly after the Japanese had erected an electrically charged wire barricade to tighten the Tientsin blockade).

Bill Approved To Provide for Government Lending

Washington, June 19.—(AP)—The Senate Agriculture committee approved today a bill under which the federal government could underwrite $350,000,000 of private loans for the purchase of farms.

The bill, by Senator Lee (D-Okla.), would apply to farm purchase loans, a principle similar to that followed in the home loan field by the Federal Housing Administration.

Aides of Lee said that 52 Senators, a majority, had signed the measure as co-authors and that Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) of the House Agriculture committee, would press for a similar bill in the House.

The bill would be administered by the Farm Security Administration, which directs the government's existing program and financial assistance for farm tenants desiring to become land owners.

Britons Imprisoned In Concession Consider Evacuating Their Women And Children

London, June 19.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain announced today that talks were being held simultaneously in London and Tokyo in an effort to find a basis for settlement of the Tientsin dispute.

Chamberlain told the House of Commons that Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax had conferred with the Japanese ambassador and that Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, British ambassador in Tokyo, was trying to clarify the situation with the Japanese government.

"His Majesty's government cannot but believe that the Japanese government have their own desire not to widen the area of disagreement or to render more acute an already difficult situation," Chamberlain said. "At the same time they are fully alive to the reaction to the present dispute on the position of the British and international settlement in China."

Meanwhile in Tientsin British authorities considered evacuating their besieged women and children as the Japanese blockade of the British and French concessions continued its sixth day without a sign of either side weakening.

Spokesmen for the Britons, who are virtually imprisoned in the concessions, said they were resigned to "fight it out."

If the British decide to remove the women and children they probably will sail aboard a passenger ship Wednesday for a nearby beach resort.

Payment Received On City Projects

City Clerk J. O. Duval today was in receipt of a check totalling $24,950, as a second payment on the federal government's part of the cost of the new city hall, fire station and street department projects.

The payment represented 19 per cent of the total cost of the projects. The total will cost a total of $249,500. A check for 15 per cent of the cost already has been received. The remaining 20 per cent to be provided by the PWA will be received as work progresses.

The street department buildings have been completed and will be put in use in the near future. The fire station is well on the way toward completion and work on the city hall is progressing steadily.

Nab Two Negroes On Liquor Charge

Members of the sheriff's department and Pitt county ABC officers arrested James Stancill, Negro, of Belvoir township Saturday night around 10:30 o'clock with three quarts of illegal liquor.

Willie Edwards, another Belvoir township Negro, was arrested with one pint of liquor after leaving Stancill's home and is being charged with transporting liquor.

Officers said that Edwards' car ran into their automobile in an effort to get out of Stancill's yard. Edwards' car was damaged slightly.

Stancill is out under a $200 furnished bond, but bond for Edwards has not been furnished. Both will undergo trial in County court Tuesday.

We Need All These
If public spirit in Greenville would join in the race and keep pace with private enterprise, there would be some permanent improvements that the town would be proud of. Electric lights, water works and better streets all ought to be close followers to the many building improvements. And it should not be overlooked that factories and a modern hotel are among the town's greatest needs.
When all the stores along the recent burned district are completed, there are few towns that can show a prettier business street than Greenville. Some of the new buildings will be very handsome.

Mrs. Kramer, assisted by Mrs. Francis Nixon of Hertford, served a delightful sweet course.
Mrs. J. E. Nobles, Sr., Mrs. K. T. Putrelle and Miss Lucy Nobles joined the guests at the refreshment hour. Mrs. Van Stator, Jr., of Kingston, was an out-of-town guest for the occasion.

and devices, it's a better bet that some of the existing increments would be stricken out, or at least materially reduced.
There is known to exist among at least a large percentage of the commission members a feeling that the existing system of increments is topheavy on the upper end. These commissioners feel that the existing system is fine for those now in the teaching profession, but not so good for the school system and North Carolina's school children.

These minds would, if they had their way, start the teacher salary schedule at $100 per month, instead of the existing $96, and would stress the first and second year increments. This, they feel, would attract real talent into the teaching profession in North Carolina. Some of them believe that this raising of the first year teaching salary would be the finest single thing which could be done for the schools of the state.
Of course the teachers already in the schools do not want the additional funds distributed that way. The biggest bloc of teachers consists of those with more than five years' experience, and quite naturally this majority group wants everything it can get. That's what is behind the request of Miss Agnes McDonald, speaking purportedly for the classroom teachers, for distribution of the extra funds on the increments from the fifth up.
Ben Smith, Greensboro superintendent of schools and a past president of the North Carolina Education Association, went even further and plumped for putting all the $275,000 into a ninth increment. That, it is contended in many quarters, is the voice of the "Old Guard" in the N. C. E. A.

In support of their views, those who favor increased emphasis on more liberal increments for the lower experience brackets point to exhaustive studies—particularly those made by the University of Missouri—showing that teachers reach the peak of their efficiency in four years.

'Big Wind' Toll Kept At Minimum By Lookout And Warning System

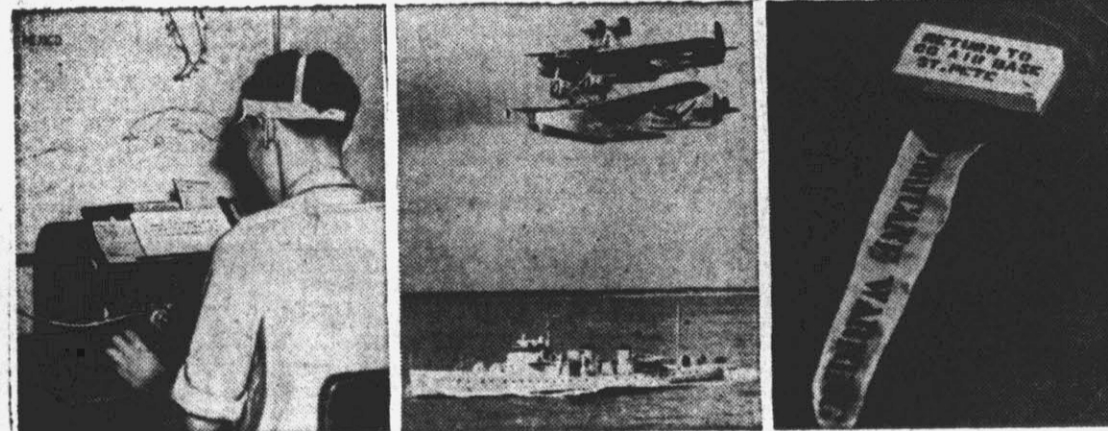

(By The AP Feature Service)
Miami, Fla.—The Weather Bureau goes on a war footing this month, ready for skirmishes or full-scale battles with its spectacular enemy—the tropical hurricane.

June 15 to November 15 is considered the great storm season, and during that time the forecasting service enlists an army of observers on ships at sea, on dozens of islands, in Central America and northern South American countries.

A ship's observer may note an ocean swell which spells danger—it could have been kicked up by a tropical hurricane just getting up steam. His message, or one from some other point, sets off well-oiled warning machinery.

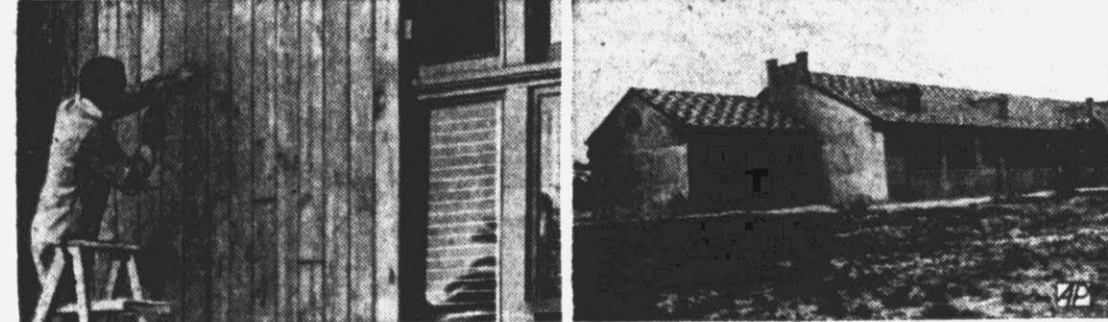

When It Looks Like A Hurricane...

REPORTS ARE FLASHED over a teletype circuit linking cities along the Gulf Coast and the South Atlantic, giving latest word from ships and observation stations in the Atlantic, the Caribbean and the Gulf.

THE COAST GUARD goes into action immediately with planes and cutters when a storm threatens a coastal area. Communication trucks also speed warnings to isolated areas and remain to assure contact after the storm.

WARNINGS for fishermen on boats with no communication facilities are dropped from planes rushed into the fishing areas at the first word of trouble. Floating on the water they mean—"Head for home!"

HOMES AND STORES are boarded up to prevent breakage by flying debris. Speedy warnings allow time to prepare in this manner.

'HURRICANE PROOF' shelters, built by WPA at strategic points, are ready for refugees. Normally they serve as community houses.

Maternal Deaths Off During Month

Raleigh, June 19.—Mothers and babies scored a victory in North Carolina last month, according to the May report of Dr. R. T. Stimpson, director of the State Board of Health's Division of Vital Statistics. During the month there were only 29 maternal deaths, as compared with 51 in May, 1938, the rate dropping from 7.5 to 4.6. Deaths among babies under one year of age totaled 366, as compared with 533 for the previous May, bringing the monthly rate down from 78.6 to 69.4.

The number of deaths among children under two years of age from diarrhea and enteritis the past month was only 39, as compared with 157 in May, 1938.

There was a drop in the total number of both births and deaths from all causes in May, 1939, births last month standing at 6,324, compared with 6,785 a year ago, while deaths totaled 2,605 against 2,862 the corresponding month a year ago.

Fatalities from preventable accidents showed a rise last month's total being 107, against 98 in May a year ago. Deaths from burns rose from 5 to 15 for the month, while drownings last month numbered 14 in the state, as compared with 9 a year ago.

There were no striking contrasts in the number of deaths from natural causes.

And How Would You Like Your Waitress, Sir?

Restaurant Men Believe In Dolling Us Help These Days

(By The AP Feature Service)
Look up long enough from your ham and eggs and you'll notice waitresses are wearing some mighty nifty outfits.

Smart cafe men doll up their help now with as much care as if they were a floor show—in fact they sometimes call them that.

Many restaurateurs change styles with the Easter fashion parade and again in the autumn. Others change the scenery every month. And proprietors of drive-in eating places know that pretty, smartly uniformed "car-hops" can flag down a lot of traffic for them.

The demand for attractive costumes has created a substantial supply industry with up-to-the-minute designers, colored catalogs and showrooms.

J. D. Alschuler, a Los Angeles supply house executive, says street styles influence waitresses' styles, and cites color as the big development of the last few years. The long sleeves and conventional black and white once the universal costume is worn now only in conservative places at dinner time.

Beauty operators, elevator girls, and others have switched to swivel costumes. But they're all far behind their scantily clad night club sisters of the "cigarettes, cigars" chant.

Old-Fashioned? Farm-Girlish? In Slacks? Without Straps? Black and white, with long sleeves, used to be the standard waitress costume. But restaurant men with a flair for showmanship have changed all that. Now the girls wear costumes ranging from the slacks suits of the drive-in spits to the farm-girl costumes of the places with that homey touch. But for flair and scantiness of attire the cigarette girls, like the one from Earl Carroll's Cafe in Hollywood, still lead.

WEIGH-MASTER LAW ENFORCED

Baucom Warns That New Law Must Be Heeded In N. C.

42 — WEIGH — FRANKS
Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, June 19.—C. D. Baucum, chief of the State Department of Agriculture's weights and measures division, today issued a warning that the 1939 "Weighmaster" act of the General Assembly will be enforced and must be obeyed.

"All persons or firms who maintain a weighing device and charge a fee for its operation must present a correct-weight ticket for the commodities weighed," said Mr. Baucum.

The weighmaster act, now in effect, requires all public weighmasters to obtain a license, which costs $5, through the weights and measures division," he explained. "The license covers 12 months, effective upon its issuance.

"In addition to being required to obtain a license and give a correct-weight ticket to each customer, the weighmaster is also required to obtain a seal which must also be stamped upon the ticket before the weight established becomes official."

Violation of the act is a misdemeanor and upon conviction a violator may be fined from $10 to $500, or imprisoned not more than three months, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Funds collected under the act will go into a special uniform weights and measures fund, which will be on deposit with the state treasurer.

"The act is strict enough to give the public absolute protection against fraudulent weighing, and the law has teeth to safeguard both the weighmaster and his customers," Baucum said. "When a customer pays a charge for having his commodity weighed, the act gives him assurance the service is worth the charge."

Weighmasters under the act include weighers of cotton, tobacco, peanuts, and all other commodities for which a weighing charge is made.

Report Paralysis Spreading In S. C.

Columbia, S. C., June 19.—(AP)—Seven new cases of infantile paralysis were reported today by the State Health department since its last tabulation Saturday, bringing the total "active" cases officially reported in the state to 52.

Three new counties, Lexington, Saluda and Darlington, were added to the list of those having active cases. They had not previously reported incidence of the disease, of which the department said there had been 206 cases since the first was discovered last November in Charleston.

Lexington, Saluda, Darlington and Henderson reported one new case each, with Charleston reporting three.

Washington Daybook. By Preston Grover. Washington.—The House temperature was raised 10 degrees when the Rules committee and Ways and Means committee forced members to go one record on the Townsend old-age pension bill.

Not only that, the two committees arranged for a week to elapse between the time the bill should be voted on. That gave Townsend clubs throughout the country time to flood House members with letters and telegrams. Opponents of the bill also got in their licks. No matter which way the members voted, they made enemies.

Why did the committees do it? Easy as pie. It was a slick way of putting the heat on Republican members. Democratic leaders knew that more Republicans than Democrats rode to victory in 1938 on Townsend support. The bill made them pay for the support with a record vote that may boomerang in 1940.

Of course the scheme wasn't perfect from a Democratic standpoint. Of the 97 voting for the Townsend plan, 42 were Democrats. They, too, will feel the heat.

VOTE IMPORTANT. House members willing to scoff at the Townsend idea are not as eager to scoff at the Townsend vote. Several senators and dozens of House members squeezed through the primaries by the margin of the Townsend vote, they were able to corral.

The pinch comes in the primaries as well as in the general election. In the primaries an up-and-coming Townsend organization in many districts can hold the balance of power and they can deliver the vote. No fooling. It is a serious business with these gentlemen. So angry was Representative Dewey Short, Ohio Republican, with the committee action in bringing the thing out for a vote that he belittled at the House: "If you combined the intelligence of the Rules committee and the Ways and Means committee into one creature you would have almost a halfwit."

Certain members will tell you they consider the Townsend idea "crazy to the core," but tremble at voting against it. Just as a measure of the weight attached to the thing, the House Foreign Affairs committee postponed a meeting on the important neutrality bill so as to sit in on the debate. Europe might be burning but they were tending the home fires first.

Things to read and forget. Of the eight rural paintings in the capitol rotunda, on the schedule of King George and Queen Elizabeth, four deal with the Revolutionary war period. One is a picture of the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown. Of the half dozen statues in the place, three are of men who helped dust off the British—Washington, Jefferson and Jackson.

FOUR BLIND WATES. By Edwin Rutt. Chapter 11 A Blasted Life

YESTERDAY, Tacks finds that Packy North is a singer at the Heel Tap Club. She puts no attention to his wild applause of her performance. Later, he grabs her outside the club.

IT OCCURRED TO Tacks that there was something vaguely reminiscent of the Ice Age in Packy's manner. "Very well," Packy said now. "Speak."

"All right," Tacks said hastily. "Let me take you home. Or else walk a couple of blocks with me." He indicated the massive door-man who stood aloof in frowny attitude. "We can't talk here in front of the Bear That Walks Like a Man."

Packy drew back. "If you have anything to say to me, say it right here in front of Dmitri." "Goodnight!" ejaculated Tacks. "Is that bushy-looking sap's name Dmitri?"

"It is," Packy said frigidly. "Did you wish to discuss his name?" As a matter of fact the bushy-looking sap, in private life, sounded off to plain Joe Banks. "I said Tacks, 'don't give a hoot what his name is. Look here, at least come back and let's lean against the building. We're blocking the fairway.'"

This seemed reasonable. With a shrug, Packy complied. "Now, listen," said Tacks doggedly. "What have I got, scarlet fever, typhoid or hydrophobia?" "You should know that. Why ask me?"

"Darn it, I do ask you. You treat me as if I were a gutter mongrel with an advanced case of mange." "Is there any good reason, Mr. Adams," Packy said, "why I should bother to treat you any way at all?"

"None on earth. But there's as much reason why you should give me a break as why you shouldn't. Isn't there?" She shook her head. "I don't see it that way."

"Why not?" "Need we go into it?" "I'd rather, if you don't mind." "I don't suppose it matters, Mr. Adams," said Packy, "whether I mind or not. Nothing discourages you."

"I can't afford to be discouraged. This means too much to me." She shot him a quick look out of black sparkling eyes. "You have the makings of a line," she said. "You aren't answering my question." Tacks said, "What the devil have I done to put you so far off me?"

Raleigh, June 19.—Principal celebration in which Tar Heels will be honored this week is, of course, North Carolina Day at the World's Fair tonight, with Governor Clyde Hoey and others showing the folks up in Yankee-land that we can put on the dog, too.

But right here in the state there will be three colorful celebrations and, as an added attraction, a Southern sports event—all within the next ten days. Wilmington will tell the "Tale of Two Centuries" Wednesday, Thursday and Friday to celebrate its bicentennial; Morganton will stage its colorful Mimosa Festival June 28 to 30; all this week Asheville will be gaily observing its traditional Rhododendron Festival; while on Thursday, Friday and Saturday the Southern Fly Casting tournament will be staged on Wildcat Lake in the Banner Elk area.

Wilmington has invited its guests by sending out warning: "Don't take any wooden nickels unless they are Wilmington Bicentennial nickels." The wooden nickel is one of the most unusual angles, but the city has arranged others—with more than 4,000 persons scheduled to take part in them, a large part of them in the mammoth historic pageant to celebrate the city's 200 years of existence.

An authentic historical atmosphere will pervade the celebration, with each day town criers will circulate through the city on horseback, ringing bells and crying the events to be held. There will be band concerts, speeches, ceremonies and a gala sports parade with 3,000 participants. There will be a pet and toy parade, a tea and style show, a military parade, period and fancy dress balls at the beaches and, each night the "Tale of Two Centuries" pageant.

At Morganton there will be celebrated the only Mimosa Festival in America; and an attractive schedule of events has been arranged. On the first day Lieutenant Governor Wilkins Horton will be present to crown the Mimosa Queen; but high spot of the celebration will be a pageant depicting the early history of Morganton and Burke county, which will be given on two successive nights. Other events include an Indian baseball game between two teams of Cherokees from nearby Qualla reservation; a parade; conducted trips to nearby points of interest; and a grand Mimosa ball on the final night.

Asheville's Rhododendron Festival has for years been one of the state's outstanding attractions and this year's celebration promises to surpass anything in the past. Designated this year not only to celebrate the blooming of the purple rhododendron in the highlands, but also to celebrate the dedication of the nearby Great Smoky Mountain National Park (a dedication which has been postponed to a later indefinite time), the festival will portray the beauty of the Western North Carolina mountains. A new link with the Blue Ridge Parkway will take the motoring visitor to the famous Craggy Rhododendron Gardens this year. This road will be one of the most popular touring routes during the week

Gov. Stark Gains Control Of Police

It seems to me that the celebrities who are always in evidence at the Aquacade are almost rival attractions to the mermaids themselves. On a recent afternoon, I saw the British ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, Helen Hayes, Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., John D. Rockefeller, Raymond (Abe Lincoln) Massey, Margaret Sullivan, Frank Buck, Lillian Gish and Eddie Cantor, all in their pew gazing contentedly at the splashing water-babies.

There are dime stores, of course, scattered all over New York, but their most concentrated stands seem to be along West 14th street and again on Fifth avenue. In a space of two squares are to be found a dozen five-and-tens where you may spend a fortune without being aware that you are buying very much. The most beautiful five-and-tens is at Fifth avenue and 40th street. Every girl in the place—and there are hundreds—is a Madonna.

She was young and beautiful and the sweetheart of James Stillman, the banker. She used to be kind to Pani in the days when he was little more than a waiter, bringing swarms of celebrities to his cafe and tipping him handsomely.

For Flo, that was all in the long ago. It has been the old, old story of extravagance and fast living catching up with the bankroll. In the newspaper interview that Pani read, Flo Leeds asked, "Would anyone be interested in hiring a white-haired woman, now past forty?" Well, you bet somebody would. Pani sent her this telegram: "Now it's my turn."

The Waldorf-Astoria has struck at the high prices of after-dark entertainment and is offering an arrangement whereby a most nominal sum will entitle guests to dinner and the privilege of dancing through the evening in its famed Starlight Roof. Previously, such an evening would have run into money, but now what would have ruined a five-dollar bill may be enjoyed for less than two.

In a day when cover charges and taxes in a dozen undisclosed forms place a premium on entertainment in the better hotels, this move is a boon and a godsend and I hereby salute the management for it.

Rube Wilson Homers Greenville's Way To Top Place

DEFEAT BEARS BY 7-5 SCORE

Jenkins Also Hits For Circuit In Scoring Party

Two homers by Rube Wilson — good for five runs — gave Greenville a 7-5 victory over New Bern yesterday and elevated the locals to top place and sending Snow Hill to second place.

Greenville came within five points of regaining the top perch Saturday by defeating Tarboro 10-7. The Tarboro team deadlocked the score in the ninth inning, but the locals staged a three-run party in the tenth to win.

Rube's first homer of yesterday came in the first inning with Black on the sacks. He homered again in the second with Allen and Black on the sacks. The other runs in the second for the locals came on Smith's double and Allen's single.

Harry Jenkins also got his second homer of the week yesterday when he hit for the circuit in the sixth inning. No one was on base at the time of the blow, but it was received with wide ovation.

Featuring the Bears in hitting says was Howard McAbee. Howard's day with the stick was featured with the batting in of four runs.

An infield out scored a run for New Bern after the sacks were loaded in the third. A bear walked to load the bags again and at this point Jim McMullen replaced Briggs, starting hurler. McAbee hit a double to clear the bases. McMullen settled down after this, allowing only four hits and holding the Bears scoreless.

Featuring afield for New Bern was Howard Jenkins. The box scores:

ANOTHER NITE TO BE STAGED

This Time On Friday For Farmville Residents

D. C. Moore, Jr., secretary-treasurer of the Greenville baseball club, today announced that the local club has designated Friday as "Farmville Night" in Greenville.

Rube Wilson's Greenies will tangle with Mule Shirley's Goldsboro Gold Bugs Friday night at 8:15 o'clock as the chief entertainment feature of the first "Farmville Night" ever held here.

Moore said also that he plans to have Farmville's Mayor here for the festivities. He will probably be called on to make a brief address through the amplifying facilities at the stadium.

Greenville staged its first "night" for a Pitt County town several days ago when Avden was the guest of the local club. More than 850 enthusiastic Avden residents attended and a large number are continuing to patronize the local club.

Although Farmville has never participated in Coastal Plain League play, many Farmville residents have attended baseball games in Greenville and the local club is inviting the town of Farmville to witness a baseball game here, free of cost, with the hope of stimulating interest in America's favorite summer sport.

Tickets will be printed some time this week and taken to Farmville for distribution. The center of distribution will be announced later in the week.

LOCAL JUNIORS PLAY TUESDAY

Game In Guy Smith Stadium at 3:30 O'Clock

The Greenville Junior American Legion team will play the Rocky Mount Juniors in a return engagement in the Guy Smith stadium Tuesday afternoon in a game starting at 3:30 o'clock.

In a game played at Wilson Saturday afternoon the locals were overcome by the Wilson Juniors 7-0.

Tomorrow's game with Rocky Mount will be the fourth game of the season for the Greenville entry. The locals defeated Rocky Mount 9-5 when they met for the first time at Rocky Mount.

Another game is also scheduled for Greenville on Wednesday afternoon. The locals will seek revenge for Saturday's defeat handed them by the Wilson contingent.

All games scheduled locally will get under way at 3:30 o'clock, unless scheduled differently.

Sentimental Motor.

Carlsbad, N. M.—(AP)—After a bolt of lightning burned out a 7,500 watt transformer here recently it was discovered the thing had been in service for 35 years and had been used originally at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904. Electrical engineers said the stamina of the ancient transformer "was remarkable" and the company that built it retained possession of it for "sentimental reasons."

Common Courtesy

When father and son go out together, father should be seated first.

By JOAN DURHAM (AP Feature Service Writer) A little deference is due father—even in this age of youthful emancipation.

In entering a restaurant, a grown son—particularly if he is being host—will say, "After you, Dad." The waiter will then lead the way to the table, giving Dad the choice seat. When father and son enter a taxi, father gets in first, son last; son more or less European.

gets out first, father last. At the theater if there is no usher, son leads father to seats he thinks father would like and lets father go to his seat first.

How should father and son greet each other in public? Most men prefer to shake hands with grown sons when they meet after a long separation. The kissing custom, even if it's only on the cheek—is

BUGS GET WIN OVER LEADERS

Herring Loses First Game In Seven Starts

Snow Hill took a tumble from the coveted top-place position in the Coastal Plain League yesterday afternoon when Goldsboro triumphed 15-14 in a ten-inning affair which lasted more than three hours.

Kinston took a beating to the tune of 7-4 at the hands of Wilson's Tobaccoists at Kinston. Bill Herring lost his first pitchers' battle in seven starts yesterday. Threlfall and Drantz performed for the winners.

Williamston turned in a 4-1 verdict in a game at Tarboro which lasted only five innings. Rain blocked further play in the game, which gave the Martins their fifth straight win.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, June 19. (AP) - Light buying put further props under the stock market today and at the best leading issues got up fractions to around two points.
The list encountered a few selling obstacles after noon, however, and top advances were pared in many cases at the close.
Volume was small either way with transfers for the five hours approximating 350,000 shares, one of the lowest turnovers for a full session in the past year.

WHAT IT MEANS:

Social Security Change

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
Washington - The present generation (that's you and me) is getting all set to tap the social security slot machine for the jack pot.
We're leaving precious little to the future, for that matter. We're rigging the contraption so it will turn out four or five nickels for every one we put in the slot.
That's the plain way of defining the phrases now picking their way through Congress under the title
"House Resolution No. 6497," or "revision of the social security law."
A lawyer or an insurance man would state it a little more carefully. Perhaps he'd say that what comes of paying a full pension to the present generation of old people without setting aside enough reserves to pay the bill.
Anyway the old age pension system is undergoing evolution. It is no longer a strict insurance system backed by full insurance reserves, like an insurance company. Where that evolution leads is not so plain.
Present law looks like a sort of government trust combined with insurance reserves.

Drops Tax Boost
The changes in the law will prevent social security taxes from going up to 11-2 per cent of payrolls for both employers and employees.
Under the original plan in 1935, next year was to be the year to step up the tax from one per cent of pay-rolls. This boost was to help accumulate a full insurance reserve to back up pensions.
The revisions also will "include in" a lot of people like bank clerks, charity workers, and others, who did not qualify for benefits under the original plan. Also, the new idea is to start payments in 1940, instead of 1942.

That means we're slowing down
the accumulation of social security reserves and at the same time adding more beneficiaries. In 10 or 15 years we'll be paying out more money than we are taking in for old age insurance.
Here's the difference between the old idea and the new as one expert has put it to me:
"In the next 25 years, the people who have enjoyed their pensions will have received four or five times what they and their employers have paid in. When somebody gets more than they pay into a kitty, somebody else has got to pay more than they receive, else the kitty will give out.
That somebody else, in this case, is

V. D. Clinic Started For Ayden Residents

A venereal disease clinic, held under the supervision of the Pitt county health department and conducted by Ayden physicians, got under way in the Town Hall at Ayden this afternoon at 2 o'clock.
Opening the new clinic provides Pitt county with four clinics for the treatment of syphilis. Others are located in Greenville, Farmville and Bethel. Over 2,000 persons received treatment at the three clinics during the month of May.

Local Citizens Urged Start War On Weeds

Chief of Police George Clark today asked the cooperation of all citizens in cutting down weeds. A city ordinance requires property owners to cut down the weeds on their premises and lots, but so far the cooperation has been so that no arrests were necessary.
"We sincerely hope that the citizens will continue this cooperation by cutting down the weed again this year," declared Chief Clark.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds
By Robin Coons
Hollywood - The glamorous scrub-lady, Myrna Loy, sat on the couch in her portable dressing room and sipped a soft drink from a bottle. Out in front of the camera the glamorous hero-Tyrone Power stood in a hospital corridor and went through his business with a bottled soft drink in hand.
Rehearsal time. Let-up time.
Afternoon time, with a couple of maybe three hours to go before everybody could go home.
"It's a good role for me, a grand role," said the scrub-lady, whose red hair was bound in a pale blue cloth, and whose dress was scrub-lady style, pale blue with apron.
"First time you've been a real meanie since 'The Animal Kingdom,' isn't it?"
"Uh-huh. Funny thing, when I read the book ('The Rains Came')
I didn't think of myself in it at all.
Maybe I thought, 'Grand part!' but and after murder and sentenced to four to seven years.

The parole statement said that "some doubt" had arisen to Artis' guilt and that a number of officials familiar with the case had recommended parole.
How Bill Powell feels about it now is not on record, but Producer Hornblow is reconciled.
"The girl is selfish and wilful and ruthless," said Myrna, "but the reason is that she's always questing for something she hasn't been able to find. She's understandable, hence not wholly unsympathetic. And she is regenerated before she dies - this is her regeneration costume. She's scrubbing floors and doing menial chores, anything to help out after the earthquake. I like the part."
The scrub-lady was called to the camera. She took up her scrub-pail marched into action. She was still the most glamorous scrub-lady I ever saw.
You have heard of embarrassing moments on the stage. The routine hazards of lost lines, props falling to work, costumes disintegrating before the eyes of a hilarious audience. All these things pale before the Gets:mane of young John Beal.

John was a star of the play "Soliloquy" last season - one of the Broadway year's least happy still-borns. John had faith in the production, which gave him his first departure from straight leading man roles. It made him a killer, a weakening - and its technique was novel: the star's thoughts audible to the audience via movie sound track.
The production in San Francisco and Los Angeles tryouts went off beautifully, reaped critical bouquets, including one from this corner.

Beal and company (his wife, Helen Craig, was co-star) set forth hopefully for Broadway. The dress rehearsal, at 5 o'clock before opening night, went off beautifully, too.
Opening night, curtain. It backed and growled and hissed. And along in the third act it died entirely.
There was Beal, who had recorded those "thoughts" three months before and practically forgotten them, left on the stage with no cues for the lines he knew. Stage floors never open mercifully, so Johnny dug deep in memory and plowed up forgotten lines, serving as his own sound track.

He thought, hopefully, that if curtain calls afterward signified audience forgiveness for the sound track. He took, next day, a critical, drubbing somewhat like that of Leslie Howard's "Hamlet."
