HAS HOPE YET OF EFFECTING MUTUAL PACT

Expects to Bring Russia Into Anglo-French Treaty

CONVERSATIONS STILL UNDERWAY

Chamberlain Announces, However, "Certainly" No Agreement Has Been Reached to Date

London, July 19.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain declared today he hoped to be able to announce conclusion of a British-French-Russian mutual assistance pact before Parliament recesses August 4, but he said "we certainly have not got an agreement yet."

Chamberlain made his statement in reply to questions in the House of Commons on the drawn-out Moscow negotiations for such a pact. He was questioned also on the Far Eastern situation and on Danzig.

The British and French ambassadors in Moscow had a further meeting with M. Molotov (Soviet premier) and foreign commissar on Monday, said Chamberlain. "Their report is now being considered by His Majesty's government in consultation with the French government."

Laborite Hugh Dalton said, "Are we today nearer an agreement as a result of all these instructions and communications than we were a week ago?"

"We certainly have not got an agreement yet," Chamberlain replied.

British leaders were officially silent, meanwhile, but obviously disappointed by President Roosevelt's decision to abandon his fight for revision of the neutrality law during the present session of Congress.

The decision, however, was not a great surprise to the foreign office, where it was admitted that "We had been advised to expect that the President would not try to force the issue at present."

Evidence Almost Drowns Officers

When ABC officers had P. W. Tyson, member of the sheriff's department, went to the home of Louise Whitehead, Greenville Negro, last night to stage a raid, they were almost drowned with evidence.

J. M. Ward, ABC officer, said two officers went to the back door of the home and that he and another officer proceeded to enter through the front. "Meanwhile," he said, "the Negro took an aluminum pot containing illegal contraband and buried the evidence through the front door."

Ward indicated that everything in the vicinity of the front porch, except the officers, was saturated with liquor. Although the officers had to return to headquarters without evidence, they booked the Negro on a charge of illegal possession of liquor for purpose of sale.

The Negro, an old offender, was given six months in Superior court recently after being convicted on a liquor charge, but sentence was suspended upon condition that the defendant remain of good behavior for a period of five years.

Refugee Problems To Be Discussed

London, July 19.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today invited officers of the International Intergovernmental Committee on Refugees to meet at the White House in Washington to discuss the problems of finding homes for refugees from Central Europe.

Announcement of the invitation was made after a meeting of the committee at the foreign office. "The United States representative, Myron C. Taylor, conveyed an invitation from the President of the United States to the chairman, vice-chairman and directors of the committee to meet in conference at the White House in Washington the first week in September," the announcement said.

Body Approves Fourteen Road Jobs

Raleigh, July 19.—(AP)—The Highway and Public Works Commission said today that 14 road projects had been approved for construction in Bertie county job being reported.

A final decision has not been reached on seven proposals.

Bids approved include two jobs in Cumberland county and one in Currituck.

Neutrality Bill Blocked At This Term, President To Take Fight To People

May-December Wedding Stormy

Carmelo Locapira, 60, and his 16-year-old bride, the former Torsilla Minichielli, smiled despite the many troubles that beset their "May-December" wedding in New York. Police and firemen checked a crowd that tried to break up the marriage. Later someone threw a stone through their apartment window, interrupting the wedding breakfast.

Attorney General Calls Probe Of WPA Strikes

Washington, July 19.—(AP)—Attorney General Murphy today ordered a federal grand jury investigation of the Minneapolis strike.

He ordered it following an investigation by the FBI.

V. E. Anderson, United States District Attorney at St. Paul, Minn., was directed to convene the grand jury.

"The FBI will continue its investigation and its findings will be presented to this grand jury," Murphy's announcement said.

"The grand jury will return indictments if in its opinion the facts warrant. The FBI information will be disclosed only to the grand jury."

Justice Department officials have consistently refused to disclose what the FBI investigation of the past several days has uncovered in the Minneapolis WPA strike which last week resulted in two fatalities.

The new relief law forbids any person from keeping a man from work on the WPA if he is eligible and wants to work.

Avden Doctor Speaks At Chapel Hill Meet

Dr. Grady Dixon of Avden, a member of the State Board of Health, yesterday addressed dentists from all parts of North Carolina who are attending the fourth Institute of Public Dentistry held at the University of North Carolina the first week of the summer session.

Labor Expected To Play Large Part In Politics

Raleigh, July 19.—Evidence accumulates that organized labor will have more influence on the result in the next North Carolina state campaign than it has in the past. This is one of the effects of the rivalry of the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization, or as more commonly known the AFL and the CIO.

Several things have occurred in recent months to indicate that labor, spelled with a big "L," is going to be more potent in North Carolina politics than ever before. The labor unions have had very jealous of their prestige, but heretofore they have not been strong enough in North Carolina to change any trends or election returns. Rivalry between the two big outfits has speeded up organization work, and there isn't evidence of as much jealousy between the two factions in this state as in some more highly industrialized areas. On many issues AFL and CIO are found fighting side by side.

Despite greater effort on part of CIO and AFL affiliates are still in a big majority in this state and it is the older organization that will most seriously affect political trends in the next succeeding elections.

For the past decade North Carolina has been free of serious labor troubles. There have been sporadic outbreaks and some minor instances of violence, but upon the whole the state has gotten along well in relations of employer and employe. That doesn't mean that labor has surrendered any of its claims or that labor has been idle in striving to attain the aims of the organizations. Labor suffered serious setbacks in the 1938 session of the legislature. (Continued on Page Three)

Roosevelt Reluctant To Abandon Legislation

SPECIAL SESSION IF CRISIS COMES

Several Senators Immediately Accept Unexpressed Challenge of Chief Executive

Washington, July 19.—(AP)—A White House aide said today that President Roosevelt would have to call a special session of Congress to act on neutrality legislation should a crisis develop in Europe after adjournment.

The statement came from Stephen Early, Mr. Roosevelt's press secretary.

When asked whether the President was going to take the neutrality issue to the country, Early replied:

"I'm certain of one thing, that from the time Congress adjourns until it reconvenes in January, the President will pray as never before in all his life that there will be no new crisis in Europe."

The President reluctantly accepted last night the advice of Senate leaders that he should abandon hope of neutrality revising—principally repeal of the arms embargo—this session, but there were strong indications that from now on until the issue arises at the start of the next session he will take his fight for repeal directly to the people.

Some Senators apparently accepted these indications today as constituting an unexpressed challenge which they were prompt to accept.

Among them were Senator Johnson (R-Calif.), an adamant opponent of administration neutrality proposals who told reporters that "if the President does go to the country, we'll go, too. We'll go on the slogan that this country wants no war."

President Roosevelt was represented as prepared to take his fight for repeal of the embargo to the country.

He left this question with a group which gathered around him last night to discuss the international situation and finally persuaded him and Secretary Hull that Congress has no disposition to spend a month or more debating neutrality legislation.

Patrol Is Helping Lower Death Rate

Since child fatalities have been on the upward trend this year, the State Highway Safety Division has taken steps to curb the death rate of children on the streets and highways of North Carolina, and the office of the Eastern division of the State Highway Patrol today released seven safety rules for "the safe bicycle rider."

The rules are: Always give proper signals when riding your bicycle. Have a bell and keep one on handle bars when riding; have a light on front of the bicycle or carry a flashlight when riding at night; never carry persons or bulky bundles on a bicycle, and if packages are carried, attach a basket at the rear of the bicycle for this purpose; have a light on the rear of bicycle when riding at night; keep brakes in good condition and never allow them to get in the way of your chain wheels, and ride with the flow of traffic on the right side near the curb or shoulder of the street and highway.

St. Paul, Minn., July 19.—(AP)—The federal grand jury was called for Monday by Federal Judge Robert Bell as the United States district attorney disclosed an inquiry into the Minneapolis WPA strike had established facts "on a number of violations" of the neutral code.

V. E. Anderson, United States district attorney, announced summoning of the grand jury after a telephone conversation with Attorney General Murphy in Washington.

Corey Has Letter On Paul McNutt

Although "third term" presidential speculation holds the limelight in political circles in the United States, Frank M. McHale, Democratic national committeeman for Indiana has already helped launch a movement to nominate Paul V. McNutt of Indiana for President, and today Senator Arthur Corey received a letter from McHale relative to the proposed nomination.

"Indiana is a pardonably proud of Paul McNutt's excellent results as governor, as national commander of the American Legion and as present high commissioner to the Philippines," the letter read.

The letter also said, "We sincerely believe his record embraces all the attributes of character and training expected of one whose name would be mentioned as a presidential nominee. We feel that he is one candidate whom the Democrats can support without sacrificing their essential principles."

Call For Bids On Pitt R E A Project

Martin Swartz, superintendent of the Greenville Water and Light Commission, announced today that sealed bids for furnishing materials required for construction of an additional 110 miles of rural lines would be received until 2 p. m. Thursday, August 3, at which time the proposals will be opened and read.

Pledge Broken

Two weeks ago Andrew Health, brickyard employee of Danville, Ill., made a pledge to his family that he would keep peace in his household. But police said his daughter, Alta, 16, (above) told them he came home again in a drunken condition and "started abusing me and the other children," and so she shot him to death.

TOBACCO CROP SATISFACTORY

Sales Supervisor Rankin Issues Regular Report

General satisfaction over the tobacco season for the past two weeks also as to the condition of tobacco still in the field was reported in the regular report on crop conditions within a 50-mile radius of Greenville made today by H. C. Rankin, sales supervisor of the Greenville tobacco market.

Mr. Rankin prepared his report after securing the opinions of prominent growers scattered throughout the different townships of 19 Eastern Carolina counties.

Following is part of the report: "Curing is in full swing. From Pitt county south, at least 50 per cent of the tobacco is in the barns north of Pitt the estimates vary. Halifax estimates range from 20 to 33 per cent; Hertford from 10 to 15 per cent. Growers are well pleased with the way the crop is curing up. About half say it is coming out of the barn with good leaf. The other half say medium or fair leaf. All say the color of the leaf is good."

"Some few sections report an average of 15 to 16 leaves to the stalk. Others report 18, 20 and as high as 22 leaves; 18 to 20 is the majority figure and 18 or 19 leaves to the stalk is a good estimate of the Belt average. Only one estimate of a low acreage yield was received. That came from Craven county and was 750 pounds per acre. All others were from 850 to 1,100 pounds with some as high as 1,200 and 1,300 pounds; 1,000 pounds was the popular figure and that is a good guess for the Eastern Belt average. Over two-thirds of the growers say tobacco is ripening faster than it can be saved and predict a loss from this cause. A number report stalk rot and wilt. These two troubles may take five per cent off of the 1939 poundage."

Other organizations also are planning some program to support the market. From now on, one member of the committee stated, an intensive campaign will be waged to have every citizen "talk for the local mart."

Being Painted. The office of the eastern division of the State Highway Patrol was being painted today and the job is expected to be completed some time this week.

Although the painting of an office sometimes retards progress, members of the highway patrol office remained on duty to handle regular routine affairs.

Two Arrested for 'Flim-Flam' Game

Fayetteville, July 19.—(AP)—Two men were lodged in jail today on a charge of defrauding Harry L. Fates, Fayetteville candy manufacturer, of $1,055 in an alleged flim-flam scheme two months ago.

They were booked by Jailer Chas. H. Randle as Scotty Lyles of Tennessee, and Luther E. Flowers of Augusta, Ga.

County officers A. Dunn and E. W. Jackson brought the pair here from Asheville where, the officers said, they had been charged with participation in a similar scheme.

The men described themselves as laborers, but Dunn and Jackson said each had a set of golf clubs costing about $180.

Danzig Police Arrest 20 Marxian Socialists As Alleged Conspirators

Presumably Associated With Hostile Power

TWENTY FACING TREASON CHARGE

Although Foreign Power Not Named, Poland and Russia Believed To Be Involved

Danzig, July 19.—(AP)—Danzig police announced today that 20 Marxian Socialists, "presumably associated with some hostile foreign power," had been arrested here.

The police said they had evidence that explosives were being stored by the "Marxians" and that the alleged conspirators were prepared to blow up bridges.

They asserted the prisoners would be charged with treason. The roundup of the Socialists was the first major assignment of the newly organized political police force of the Nazi-dominated Danzig government, now 4,000 strong.

The announcement did not name the power with which the prisoners were accused of having relations, but authorized sources said the police were trying to find out if "the conspiracy extended into Poland and Russia."

Authorities said the 20 were arrested over the course of several weeks, some in the city of Danzig and some near the Polish border to the south.

Police asserted that they believed they had rounded up all but three members of "the ring" and that the identity of the three was known.

The Socialist party was outlawed in Danzig in 1933. Authorities said that a few old party members remained unrecaptured to the Nazi regime of the Free City, but that on the whole illegal activities of the Socialists was not an active problem.

Market Supported By Local Groups

Indications that Greenville is more solidly behind the tobacco market, its biggest and best industry, than ever before were in evidence at a meeting last night of the Tobacco Market committee, composed of various business and commercial organizations and civic clubs of the city.

The meeting was called to continue efforts started at the tobacco dinner held at the college some time ago and a general air of optimism prevailed throughout the session. The committee was formed for the purpose of co-ordinating efforts of every business and professional man in Greenville in behalf of the market.

Representatives of the various civic clubs will report back to the respective organizations on last night's meeting and each is expected to have its own "tobacco market night."

Other organizations also are planning some program to support the market. From now on, one member of the committee stated, an intensive campaign will be waged to have every citizen "talk for the local mart."

Held Pending Hearing. Wilson, July 19.—(AP)—Chief of Police C. P. Houtt said that he was holding Ralph Vallance, middle aged Wilsonian, in jail here pending a hearing on charges of stealing a car belonging to Frank Harrison here and forging Harrison's name to some $200 worth of checks.

National Politics May Overshadow State Races

Raleigh, July 19.—Although present indications are there will be more candidates for governor than ever before in the history of the state for the next term, many political observers are predicting that the 1940 campaign will be like the 1938 one in that interest in national affairs will transcend local and state races.

Back in 1938 the candidates for governor, Congress and local offices were lost in the far greater interest in Al Smith. Smith was a candidate who did not tolerate mediocrity. Folks were either for him or against him, and in either event they went the whole way.

The New Deal or a third term for Roosevelt is likely to be a live issue in the next national pre-convention campaign and political wisecracks are not lacking who will say that even after the convention has made the nomination the same division of sentiment will prevail.

Of the half dozen or more avowed, but all unannounced, candidates for governor there isn't one who is violently pro or anti New Deal. That is a situation leading easily to oblivion for all of them in the event of a real fight over Roosevelt. Some man whose name has not yet been mentioned might enter the fray as either a pro or anti and capture popular interest sufficiently to assure his nomination.

Majority sentiment around Raleigh at this time, however, is that the governor's race may be a rather tame affair with too many candidates, representing virtually the same political group. With the only choice one between rather "negative" personalities the citizenry will look to the more colorful national campaign for the fireworks which they have come to love so dearly in primary campaigns.

'Man' Is Woman

After posing as a man for 23 years and twice marrying women, Minerva Whipp, 46, of Pasadena, Calif., was revealed as a woman, Samuel Bailey, vice squad officer in that city, said. As James Phipps, employed as a chauffeur, she was questioned by police following a minor traffic violation and it was then her identity was learned. Here she is shown in jail, where she was held on suspicion of false impersonation.

ANNOUNCE END TO LABOR ROW

Settlement Reached In Harlan, Ky., Dispute

Knoxville, Tenn., July 19.—(AP)—The Harlan County, Ky., soft coal labor dispute was settled today in an agreement reached by the county's coal operators association and United Mine Workers officials.

Dr. John Steelman, director of conciliation for the United States Department of Labor, announced the settlement.

The contract, drafting of which was begun immediately for signing later in the afternoon will provide:

1. Recognition of the United Mine Workers as the exclusive bargaining agency for all employees of the members of the association except exempted classes, until March 31, 1942.

2. Waiving of the "union shop" and "strike penalty" clauses of the "Appalachian agreement."

3. Immediate dismissal of all eviction cases against union miners in the county.

4. Submission to an arbitration board of disputes arising over the collection of union dues.

5. Agreement by the association to cooperate with the union in obtaining convenient and adequate meeting places for the local unions.

6. Immediate return to work of all employees to their respective lines with discrimination or prejudice.

Mr. Heath, well known in the tobacco industry throughout the section, will have charge of the Farmville department.

TRY TO ALTER PHASE OF NEW LENDING PLAN

Proposal Would Eliminate Revolving Feature

SEEKING TO CURB AGENCIES' POWER

Meantime, Coast Guard Announces Economy Move Resulting From New Consolidation

Washington, July 19.—(AP)—Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) informed the Senate Banking committee today he would offer an amendment eliminating the permanent revolving fund feature of President Roosevelt's $2,800,000,000 lending program.

This change, Barkley said, would confine the program to the total authorized in the bill and prevent its continued use year after year.

At the same time he said that among a number of amendments which would be offered when the committee considered the measure in executive session would be one to eliminate authority of various lending agencies to create corporations in the state.

Other developments: The Coast Guard announced its first economy move resulting from the consolidation of the lighthouse service to the Coast Guard.

The Cape Hatteras lighthouse of North Carolina was ordered manned by the regular men at the Cape Hatteras Coast Guard station.

The former keeper of the Cape Hatteras lighthouse was transferred to the Roanoke marshes lighthouse so the economy could be made without his dismissal.

Between those who think it does not go far enough and those who don't want it to go anywhere at all, the revised Hatch bill to curb "pernicious political activity" is headed for peppery oratory in the House tomorrow.

Lawrence Spitz of Woonsocket, a New England labor leader, testified today that proposed amendments to the National Labor Relations act would result in "industrial strife and turmoil" after he appeared before the Senate Labor committee to oppose changes in the law.

Prominent Lawyer Claimed By Death

The funeral will be held at the home tomorrow afternoon at 3:30, with Dr. G. Ray Jordan, pastor of Centenary Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Salem cemetery.

Hendren was a native of New Bern. He attended the University of North Carolina, where he completed his studies in 1894. Soon afterward he began the practice of his profession there.

He represented Forsyth county in the North Carolina Senate in 1931-32.

Surviving are two daughters, two brothers, two sisters, Mrs. E. Vance of Durham and Mrs. T. J. Roberts of New Bern; and two grandchildren.

Common Courtesies

Don't carry wet towels into the locker room, Miss Country Club Guest. They accumulate and get in the way of other people. Most courtesy clubs have attendants to help you about such things.

If you are a guest, ask her for a pool. When you're ready for the pool, ask her the way and follow her directions. Usually there are special entrances to pools.

When you leave the pool, ask the attendant for a towel—or help yourself if there is a pile handy. You can ask the attendant to take your clothes from your locker to the dressing room in the shower section.

Leave wet towels in the shower or in the receptacle provided for them. Leave your wet bathing suit there, too; the attendant will wring it out for you. Tips for a country club guest may be from a dime up. A quarter is a good one in almost any club.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds
By Robbin Coops

Hollywood—Perhaps on the theory that two Louis Haywards might be worth the price of admission where one isn't, Louis Hayward is going to see himself in "The Man in the Iron Mask."

I can picture the poor chap now, taking mental nerve tonics for the eyes. Because Louis is what we amateur psychiatrists call "a case." More than that, he's a card. He never, never goes near a theater where a picture of his is playing. He can dish it out but he can't take it—unless maybe a year later, when the pain is dulled, he makes a trip down to some beach city, sneaks in unobtrusively, and takes a gander at himself on the screen.

If this sounds sneery, it's meant to—because our Mr. Hayward has no right to suffer so convincingly as he does suffer, although I grant the suffering is real, however ineffectual. Here's a nice-looking young fellow, married to the quite gorgeous Ida Lupino, more than commonly successful in this flickering flame racket, a hard and serious worker at his craft, and yet he wears mental sackcloth-and-ashes. He's as sensitive, and as introspective, as an ingrown toenail. He works hard to cover up his natural shyness and reticence, which is one reason he is (a fact he probably would not admit) extremely likeable. You like a man who's in there pitching.

The other day Ole Doc C. steered this interesting patient into one of the Strip's less elegant coffee houses and heard something about it.

Sitting at the counter, Louis told of his newly acquired fealty to Hollywood as a place to live and work. The cause: his recent two weeks' sojourn with Ida in New York. They came back, bought a new home in Brentwood, and are ready to be permanent settlers.

Louis decided, long ago, that his forte in acting was youthful character stuff. He had a part like that in his first film, "The Flame Within," with Ann Harding and Herbert Marshall. Part of his dual role in "Iron Mask" is similarly off-normal. (He'll see it, he says, because he's intrigued by the technical miracles involved in playing two parts.) He has played conventional juveniles never felt at home in them.

"I'm neurotic," he said, "and when they tell me to be myself in those parts, as they do, I never can—because I don't know myself really. When I play a nice, clean-cut young fellow I'm really doing a character role—with the director pulling the strings. Oh, yes, I did one in "The Rage of Paris" with Danielle Darrieux, but it was Henry Koster who did it, not I. Was it good? No, I never saw it. I see a few rushes, just to get an idea how I'm doing, which I never get because I can't judge. I get a better idea reading certain critics, and from Ida. Ida is a fine critic. Aside from actually hurting when I see myself in pictures, I'm afraid it would make me self-conscious."

"I want to play 'The Hunchback of Notre Dame'—but I'm up for the conventional lead which I don't want. One I'm looking forward to is 'My Son, My Son!' Some of the fans have written in asking me not to play it—they hate the character—but I'm crazy about it. After all, I can do characters. I can keep on working for years. And after all, I'm a neurotic myself!"

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York.—We stood on one of the piers along the Hudson river waterfront, awaiting the arrival of the Mauretania, the fine new ship the British had just built and put into commission between New York and the Empire.

The pier was crowded with groups of men and women, chatting excitedly and waiting to greet friends who had made the crossing, or who were there just as interested sight-seers. Official reception committees were there with ribbons on their coats. Photographers and reporters with press cards in their hat-bands took up their position and craned their necks through pier openings, waiting for her to come up the river.

Now, and then a buoy bell tinkled as it swung gently with the swell. A tug with a barge of freight cars slid past. A gull dropped gracefully to the water and took off again. Tugs from Hoboken and Jersey City shuttled to and fro across the glistening stream.

Next to the pier where the Mauretania was to berth was another pier, and snugly warped into position was the giant Normandie. Her crew, with "French Line" spelled across their sweat shirts, like the members of an athletic team, yawned in front of the pier. They didn't seem much interested in the rival craft, just turning their heads occasionally to catch a glimpse of her in the river.

Past Ambrose lighthouse, past Ellis Island and into the mouth of the river the Mauretania came. The people on the pier began to cheer and wave, although it was still too far away to recognize anyone.

Still the French Line boys paid little attention. Several of them were pitching pennies on the walk in front of the shed. The crowd grew denser. Taxicabs leaped up and out tumbled excited people, carrying flowers and boxes, and wearing eager expressions on their faces.

Along the elevated highway, traffic ran a steady tune. Traffic in fact, on the highway. Cars streaked past as if lured by mercury. Suddenly there was a grinding of brakes, and two cars crashed into one another. You could hear the scream of the tires half a block away. But that was nothing to the screams of the drivers. They weren't hurt. Just angry with each other.

Overhead a great airliner was taking the skyway trail to Boston. Hardly anyone gathered on the pier saw it. They were watching the new ship, coming close now, escorted by little, grunting tugs. A great shout went up. The tugs gathered around her as infielders gather around the mound when a pitcher is in trouble. They began to warp her into her berth.

Outside, the French Line boys forgot their game of penny-pitching. They weren't yawning any more. They were lost in the straining mass of humanity along the pier—shouting and welcoming the vast, looming figure of their British rival.

This is what happens when a new ocean liner makes her maiden visit to New York.

BLOOD AGAIN FLOWS IN HARLAN STRIKE

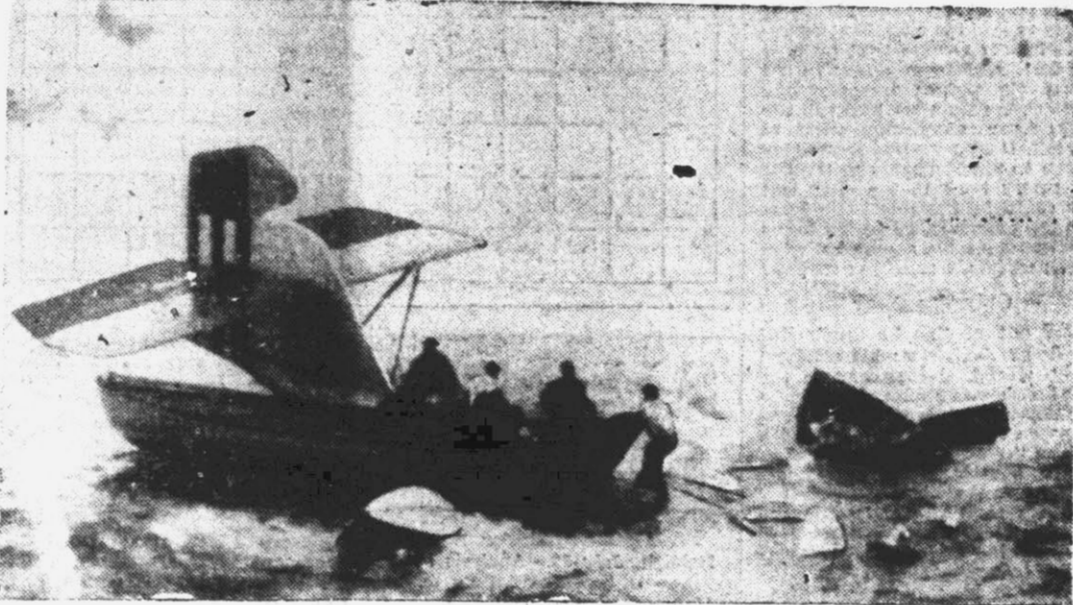

National Guardsmen with drawn guns are shown swinging into action on a main street in Harlan, Ky., after a union miner had attempted to wrest a rifle from a soldier while troopers were marching 250 persons to jail in the wake of an earlier outbreak at a nearby coal mine. About the time this picture was snapped, the guardsmen started shooting. Hubert Green, a miner, and his mother, Mrs. Kizzie Green, were wounded. In the outbreak at the mine, one miner was killed and a National Guard officer and three other persons were wounded.

Union Pickets Released On Bonds In Harlan

Here are some of the union pickets as they filed out of the courthouse at Harlan, Ky., after their bond was set at $500 each and they were released on their own ward. They were arrested on charges of banding and confederating after a pitched battle between pickets and national guardsmen at a coal mine near Harlan in which two men were killed and six wounded.

3 Die, 5 Rescued In Plane Tragedy at Sea

This dramatic picture was made as a whaleboat from the ketch Atlantis rescued five members of a Coast Guard scaplane's crew when the plane crashed after picking up a sick member of the Atlantis' crew at sea 150 miles off Woods Hole, Mass. The sick man and two members of the plane's crew perished when the airship sank a few minutes after this picture was made. The picture was brought ashore when the Atlantis docked at Woods Hole next day.

McEntee, Civilian Conservation Corps director.

LABOR EXPECTED TO PLAY LARGE PART IN POLITICS

(Continued from Page One) Instead of getting the state wage-hour legislation sponsored by AFL, the unions actually lost some of the advantages they had enjoyed for years. And the labor leaders haven't forgotten that experience. They are laying plans carefully now to capture enough strength in the next legislature and in the next state administration to assure more satisfactory treatment. Furthermore, labor doesn't hesitate to penalize folks not regarded as friendly to the cause.

The 1939 convention of the North Carolina Federation of Labor is scheduled to be held in Raleigh on August 14th. Normally the convention would establish headquarters at the Sir Walter Hotel. But the Sir Walter folks were more active in opposing the wage-hour legislation last winter. So the convention goes to the Carolina Hotel.

Another instance is the effective blocking of the appointment of Eugene Brooks, Jr. of Durham, as attorney for the regional wage-hour administrative set-up at Charlotte. Brooks was pretty well assured of the appointment until the labor folks entered the picture. They remembered that Mr. Brooks was attorney for the Hotel Association, and in that capacity appeared before legislative committees in opposition to the proposed wage-hour bills. It is tribute to his ability as an advocate that the labor unions put most of the blame for failure of their program on his shoulders. So the labor folks did not want Mr. Brooks to have any part in administering the federal law. This despite the fact that his principal argument against state legislation was that the federal act took care of the situation and that if properly enforced would be adequate without state laws to supplement it. However, the union folks, under leadership of James P. Barrett, southern publicity director for AFL, put up such a scrap against Brooks' appointment that he has just about lost any possible chance to land the job.

The appointment hasn't been made, but sporting gentlemen will offer odds that Lacey McBryde of Fayetteville will get it. McBryde was an outstanding New Dealer in the last two sessions of the General Assembly. Between the sessions he served as trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board. He put up a good fight for the wage-hour bills sponsored by organized labor in the legislature. He wasn't quite as good as Mr. Brooks, and he lost the fight. But he made friends among labor affiliates. They are strong for him as attorney for the administration unit embracing the Carolinas.

There is one thing that might keep McBryde from putting all his force into trying to get the job. He may want to run for Congress in the district now served by Bayard Clark. That will give rise to further complications. Clark is popular. He is not unfriendly to labor and has in the past fared right well at Labor's hands. What the unions will do if they have to choose between an experienced man who is friendly and a new man who is zealous remains to be seen. Indications here, picked up from conversation with the politically informed and labor leaders in the legislature, are that he wasn't almost solid support for anything he wants.

The significant fact is the increasing interest in and evidence of group action and concerted effort on part of organized labor in the next election, not only for Congress in one or two districts, but for all state offices. Observers do not believe that labor will attain the powerful position in North Carolina that it holds in some middle and northern states, but they do believe that it will be very foolish for candidates and political parties to ignore organized labor next summer.

"Queens" at Festival. Beaufort, July 19.—Two members of "loyalty" from Beaufort are guests of honor at Wilson's tobacco festival. They are Miss Lucille Thomas, who was "Miss Lucille of 1938," and who won distinction of being crowned "Queen of the Coastal Festival," an event she will reign over this year, and Miss Helen O'Brian, "Miss Beaufort of 1939," who was crowned "Queen of the Gladiolus Festival" presented on the Carteret coast recently.

Painfully Injured. Fayetteville, July 19.—Andrew Stewart, 18-year-old son of A. L. Stewart of Elizabethtown, was painfully injured at the DeVane Hall Lumber Company mill here when a tobacco stick became clogged in a machine for cutting the sticks and stuck entirely through the young man's thigh. Ed Yandle, another employe, was fending the mill and had stopped a minute to remove a splinter from his hand when the accident occurred.

Appointed To Annapolis. Elizabeth City, July 19.—Congressmen Lindsay C. Warren has advised Frank W. Hollowell, Jr., son of Frank W. Hollowell, Bay Side, of his appointment to the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Young Hollowell was prepared for the academy at the Marion Military Institute, Marion, Ala., and for the past year has attended State College at Raleigh.

Washington—In 1854 Japan was opened to world trade. Persons of the west therefore assume that her strength and her progress should be measured from that date to the present.

Japan became a significant world power during the World War. But Japan had been a very powerful state, maintaining an advanced civilization and culture for hundreds of years.

New Law Of War... Her actions seem crude to us for two reasons: First, her imitation is two generations behind our times.

Japan, too, accepted that theory and had respect for it during her wars with China and Russia in the World War.

That nationalism may be built upon hate of the Japanese, because in Japan are centered all of the grievances that China during the last three or four generations has had against foreigners.

Theories Of Peace... Fundamental theories and institutions of both Japan's and China's culture are built upon theories of peace, economic democracy within the nations and restraint.

FOUR BLIND DATES

By Edwin Rutt... Chapter 37... Root Of The Matter

HIS voice, floating out on the night breeze, came first to the ears of Matherton, the butler. Matherton took action. With stately tread he walked to the living-room and desired speech with Tacks.

"Beggin' your pardon, sir," Matherton said, "but there's an horrible 'owling goin' on 'boutside in the grounds."

Tacks looked at him, surprised. "How's that? Howling?" "Precisely, sir," said Matherton. "From somewhere within the premises there is 'bissin' a kind of bellowin' an' trumpeetin' as would wake the dead that it would, sir."

"But who," said Tacks, mystified, "is doing it?" Matherton gazed at the ceiling. He never liked to commit himself definitely. But the authority of some of the rich and easy expressions that were now ringing through the confines of Salsair Acres could be ascribed to out one individual.

"Well," Matherton said judicially, "in my h'opinion, sir, it could be the Master."

Tacks got the attention of his contemporaries in the living-room. "Hev!" he said. "Some of you come with me. There's monkey business afoot."

The occupants of the living-room rallied to the call nobly. Everybody wanted to go. Tacks seized three flashlights from the hall table and led his band out into the night.

As they filed out into the shadows they were met by a gust of wind of greater gust of profanity. Using Richard Craftonbury's efforts as a sort of verbal beacon, they converged upon the smokehouse. On its threshold Tacks halted the company. He and Matherton went inside.

Richard Craftonbury sat propped against the wall, spent by his exertions. He glowered fiercely into the beams of the flashlights. "Ha!" he said, with savagery. "Good Grief, Uncle Dick!" exclaimed Tacks. "What on earth has happened?"

"Happened?" barked Richard Craftonbury. "How the hell do I know what's happened? Cut me loose, you damned idiot!"

Tacks produced a pen-knife. A moment later Richard Craftonbury's nostrils were filled with the odor of pure wrath.

"Ha!" he roared, addressing the company at large. "Who struck me?" "No one," cried the honor. Richard Craftonbury glared at the group and went off on another tack.

"Where's that young woman I came out with?" he demanded. "Gee," said Tacks, "we don't know. You ought to."

Mr. Adams wheeled on him. "Me? How should I know, you damn fool. I went down the steps with the and some backguard struck me from behind."

GREENIES BEAT SERPENTS 7-1

Ben Mooney Hurls Six-Hit Ball In Short Contest

Tarboro and Greenville had planned a doubleheader last night, but after the first game was seven innings old, rain intervened with Greenville holding a 7-1 advantage.

Big Ben Mooney did the hurting and limited the Serpents to a half-dozen scattered hits. The Serpents were able to get only one run off their singles, that being in the second inning on one-base blows by Gorski, Pittman and Sitars.

Greenville's three-run first inning party came when Gracie Allen was hit by a pitched ball, stole second and scored on Black's double. Two more runs came in this verse.

The locals scratched two runs off Hammonds, Tarboro pitcher, in the second inning when Gracie Allen hit for the circuit with one aboard. The local's other runs came in the fifth inning. Two runs were scored in this verse.

Daniels, playing centerfield in the place of Ralph Simpson, and Harry Jenkins, got two hits in three trips to lead the locals' hitting. One of Daniels' hits was a double, but Allen's two-run homer was the hardest blow of the game.

Gorski, Tarboro second-sacker, was the only Serpent to get more than one safety.

Greenville will tangle with Mule Shirey's Gold Bugs here tonight in a program that has been dubbed "Rube Wilson Night". Rube will be honored for his work with the Greenies this year as local skipper.

All-Star Game Will Be Here Monday 8:15 P.M.

Dave Moore Is Elected Local Chairman

The Coastal Plain League All-Star will be played in Greenville Monday night at 8:15 o'clock, with Manager Red O'Malley's team at the park. The All-Star game is rained out Monday night, it will be played Tuesday night at 8:15 o'clock and Coastal Plain League games scheduled for Tuesday would be shifted to September 2, the officials decided.

The league's vice president, John C. Youngblood of Tarboro, today resigned his position and will be replaced by A. W. Fleming of Wilson as a result of voting that followed after Youngblood tendered his resignation, which was accepted with regrets.

Ray Goodman, league president, along with the other officials, sustained recent protests that have developed in Coastal Plain play and also designated August 12 as the deadline for trading or purchasing players, except rookies. However, the officials also put a damper on the number of rookies, limiting the number to three and it was set forth that the rookies could participate in post-season games.

Several changes in original selections by O'Malley and Walker, All-Star managers, were revealed at the meeting. Ed Chapman of Goldsboro, a pitcher slated to play with the Walkers, will be replaced by Cecil Longest. Bill Herring of Kinston, another hurler, will be replaced by Pete Kunis of Goldsboro. Barnes of New Bern, left-fielder, is out of the All-Star game, but it is not known who will replace him. Donovan of Tarboro is also out and will be replaced by Danny York. Blanco Smith of Wilson will not participate in the All-Star encounter, but will be here in uniform.

Roth of New Bern was termed a Class "D" man and Worliss Knorres was reinstated as a member of the league and will become the property of the New Bern club July 25.

Ray Goodman will select the umpires for the All-Star game and is expected to make this announcement in the immediate future.

It was revealed that "silver baseballs" will be awarded to each participant in the All-Star game.

FRANK DOLEZAL GIVEN LIE-DETECTOR TEST

Authorities investigating Cleveland's 12 bizarre "torso murders" gave Frank Dolezal, 52-year-old bricklayer who assertedly has confessed to one of the slayings, a lie-detector test. In this picture Dolezal (right) is shown upon his arrival to take the test from Detective Paul Beck (left). During the test Dolezal told a third story about the disposition of the head of Mrs. Florence Pollie, "torso murder" victim number three, Sheriff Martin L. O'Donnell declared. This time the suspect said he buried it on the Erie lake front.

LARGE PEANUT CROP IS SEEN

Preliminary Figures Place Crop at 262,000 Acres

Raleigh, July 19. — Preliminary figures place North Carolina's 1939 peanut crop at 262,000 acres, an increase of 12,000 acres over 1938's production, Dr. I. O. Schaub, director of the State College Extension Service, revealed today.

At the same time, Virginia's 1939 acreage of 171,000 represents an increase of 8,000 acres. The increase according to the preliminary estimate by the United States Department of Agriculture for the two states, is slightly more than four per cent.

Dr. Schaub said the advance figures for the entire southeastern peanut-producing region indicated an increase of 111,000 acres this year over the planted acreage for 1938, or a gain of slightly less than 10 per cent.

The State College extension director explained that the preliminary figures do not take in the large acreage of peanuts interplanted with other crops. They refer simply to peanuts grown alone for all purposes.

"However," he said, "so far as North Carolina and Virginia are concerned, these advance figures will come close to the final total."

In commenting on the present market situation, Dr. Schaub quoted the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics as saying prices are continuing firm for best jumbo peanuts. In fact, many growers who have good Jumbos on hand still prefer to hold them in hope that a sufficient demand will develop to boost prices before the end of the season.

The growing crop in Virginia and North Carolina is unusually good this year, with the condition percentage given in the July 10 report as 79 compared with an average of 73 per cent for the entire country.

THOSE BILLIES GET A NEW WIN

Goldsboro Registers Another Triumph Over Eagles

Snow Hill turned in another win in a two-game start in the Coastal Plain yesterday and, while this was being done, Goldsboro was trouncing the Kinston Eagles.

Wilson was overpowered by the Billies in a game at Wilson, which produced a 12-4 score. Bistoff, Soufas and Maisano hit homers for the winners, while Bershenk and Carnahan got a round-tripper apiece for the losers. The homers featured the scoring.

Goldsboro fared Kinston, 10-9, in many starts with the Eagles. Lefty Covington, Goldsboro hurler, was awarded the mound verdict over Johnnie Yent, former Greeter pitcher.

New Bern continued its usual fast clip by trouncing the Martins, 7-1, to duplicate the score Greenville turned in over the Tarboro Serpents last night. The Bears jumped to an early lead, which was featured by Benny Roth's two-run homer.

LOCAL JUNIORS ARE DEFEATED

Seniors Meet Tarboro Here Friday Night

Wilson's junior and midget swimmers jumped on the young Greenville fish for a sweeping victory in a meet held yesterday afternoon in the municipal swimming pool at Wilson.

Competition in the junior division appeared more keen than that of the midget division, in that the juniors registered only a 24-23 verdict, while the local midgets lost, 37-7, at the hands of Wilson county midgets.

While the local juniors and midgets relax during the remainder of the week as far as competition goes, Coach Vernon Ward's senior fish, who have gained two triumphs in as many starts, will meet the swift Tarboro seniors in a meet set for the local pool Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Greenville's crack swimmers are not expected to make a showing in a meet held yesterday afternoon in the present season, because the Tarboro team has recently emerged with top honors in AAU competition at Birmingham, Ala.

Despite any threats of the opposition, they will be given a water battle par excellence. At least, that's what the senior swimmers in Greenville believe. However, only the meet can determine the outcome.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, July 19.—(AP)—Air-craft shares led a final hour recovery in the stock market today, but many leaders failed to get out of the narrow rut in which they had fluctuated all day and there were more minus than plus signs at the close.

The opening was moderately fast on the Dow Jones, with traders anxious to annex the gains made in the rallies of Monday and Tuesday. Activity later slowed. Transfers approximated 1,000,000 shares.

Dorothy Parker's Alan Campbell Writes Well—And Parries Her Wit

There are lots of prominent women who are married, but of whose husbands you hear little or nothing. Sometimes, you probably wonder what Mrs. So-and-So's husband is like. In a series of personality sketches and photos The AP Feature Service will introduce you to some of these little-known fellows. Here's the first.

ALAN CAMPBELL

By ELIZABETH INSKIP WYE (AP Feature Service Writer)

New York—There's one person who doesn't have to worry about parrying the wit of Quip-Mistress Dorothy Parker. In fact, this one aids and abets her—it's her husband and co-worker, Alan Campbell.

In the six years of their marriage Campbell has collaborated with Parker on movies, on plays, and on conversation. The team would be perfect, if only they didn't sometimes disagree about what's funny. "Wobbling on an up-ended suitcase in a hotel room, while his wife nodded approvals from a chair nearby, dark-haired, animated Alan Campbell told how the business partnership works.

"If Dottie thinks a line is funny she tries to convince me by acting it out a lot of different ways. If I think a line is funny I act it out in different ways. It's never funny any of the ways," he added gloomily.

He may say that, but the Parker-Campbell team has top rating among Hollywood screen writers.

To the famous humor Dorothy Parker displays in her sketches, Campbell has brought a knowledge of the theater and a writing ability of his own. It's a good combination.

Campbell was graduated from Virginia Military Institute in 1925, and tried being a civil engineer for a while. He didn't think much of that, and switched to the stage. He appeared in "Design For Living" and "The Joyous Season," and other New York successes. Also, he's written a lot of sketches for "The New Yorker" and magazines like the defunct "Vanity Fair." Gets an article in a magazine "just the month before it folds," according to him.

Campbell has plenty to say about that vale of tearing hair—Hollywood. The Campbells' five years on the golden coast have left their mark, and they talk about little else.

"We're not fighting for our deatness prose." Campbell wrote a tele-gram—

"Then—" he said dramatically, "the girl in the telegraph office started to rewrite that. That was the end."

Now they're living in an old farmhouse in Pennsylvania, two hours from New York, and working at adapting a Hungarian play.

Somehow they don't get much done. Campbell has to look at the trees, Parker has to weed the garden. But they positively are going to start their working schedule—ell, say next Monday.
