JOHN L. LEWIS FLAYS GARNER AS LABOR FOE

Will Oppose Lacey For President in 1940

GARNER REFUSES TO MAKE REPLY

CIO Chieftain Calls Vice-President 'Poker-Playing, Whiskey-Drinking, Evil Old Man'

Washington, July 27. (AP)—John L. Lewis, CIO chief, charged today that Vice-President Garner, whom he termed a "poker-playing, whiskey-drinking, evil old man," was responsible for recent attacks on labor in Congress.

Lewis accused the Vice-President of responsibility for recent attempts to modify labor legislation and declared he would oppose Garner when he seeks the presidency in 1940.

Shortly after Lewis made his remarks, Garner was found in his office adjoining the Senate chamber, where he had been presiding.

The CIO chieftain's statements were read to him by reporters and heavy white eyebrows contracted for a moment, then he chuckled and said, "I have no comment to make."

Lewis' remarks about Garner minimized his testimony before the House Labor committee in opposition to proposed changes in the wage-hour law.

Other developments: President Roosevelt sent to the Senate the nomination of James L. McIninch to be a member of the Federal Communications Commission, replacing Frank R. McNichol, who has resigned.

McIninch has been chairman of the commission. He has been chief counsel of the TVA. He has been mentioned as a possible successor to McNinch as FCC chairman.

When Mr. Roosevelt transmitted the nomination to the Senate it disclosed for the first time that he had accepted McIninch's resignation. The Communication Commission's head, former head of the Federal Power Commission has been in ill health and on temporary leave.

Senator Byrnes (D-S.C.) announced that negotiations had been completed for the cash sale of a district under the prevailing world price of approximately 175,000 bales of government-held cotton to France and Switzerland.

Underway said negotiations were now under way with one unnamed country for an additional sale of the same basis. He and Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) of the House Agriculture committee, introduced enabling legislation today.

President Roosevelt signed an amendment to the 1938 crop control law providing that the national cotton production goal shall not be less than 10,000,000 bales annually hereafter. Old provisions lifted a 10,000,000 bale minimum after this year.

Reports Earnings Of Major Utilities

Raleigh, July 27. (AP)—The Utilities Commission reported today that six major power companies operating in North Carolina sold 2,866,825 kilowatt hours of electricity last year for $30,555,700.89.

Edgar Womble, commission statistician, said minor companies sold another 31,340,455 kilowatt hours of current.

Womble said the major companies, Carolina Power and Light, Duke Power, Durham Public Service, East Tennessee Light and Power, Tidewater Power and Virginia Electric and Power, reported total revenue of $35,619,421.50 for 1938. Gas sales, street railway and bus receipts, water, ice and merchandise sales were listed in addition to electricity sales.

The companies reported total expenses of $28,958,894.27, leaving $6,660,527.23 as net income, or profit.

Control Needed?

Washington, July 27. (AP)—Secretary Wallace declined today to say whether he believed rejection of marketing quotas by growers was "partially responsible" for reduced prices of tobacco at Georgia fine cured markets.

The Agriculture Department reported that good to choice quality grades sold at opening markets this week are from $8.50 to $12 per hundred pounds lower than a year ago.

Asked at a press conference if he believed rejection of quotas played a part in the lower prices, Wallace replied, "I'll let the tobacco farmers answer that one."

Tobacco Auctioneers Again Chant In South Georgia

Opening of the 1939 tobacco marketing season in South Georgia was heralded by sing-song chanting of auctioneers in numerous warehouses. Here's a typical scene in the auctioneer Harold Dunn (facing camera, mouth wide open) is shown hard at work in a Waycross, Ga., warehouse. Unintelligible to the general public, his chant is filled with meaning for the tobacco buyers crowded around to bid on the "golden weed."

Move Gets Under Way For Closing Weed Warehouses

HEAR EVIDENCE IN CHILD DEATH

Deputy Testifies in Drowning of Man's Step-Son

Kenansville, July 27. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Gurman Powell testified in Superior court here today that Sheprose K. Holland, 44, Krist mill operator, charged with murder in connection with the death of his step son, first told him he carried no insurance on his three-year-old child's life and then reversed his statement.

The state charges Holland killed the boy, Ray James Goodman, to collect an insurance policy. The body was found in a mill stream.

H. L. Pierce State Bureau of Investigation agent, and Coroner Ralph Jones of Duplin county also testified before the noon recess. The state swore in 13 witnesses.

Powell said the child's body still was in the water when he arrived on the scene and that Holland told him he had not attempted a rescue because of his inability to swim.

The 12-man trial jury, composed entirely of farmers, was seated late yesterday.

Pitt Farmers Get Benefit Payments

R. R. Bennett, Pitt county farm agent, today revealed that 80 per cent of the benefit payments under the 1938 Soil Conservation program had been received and distributed through his office.

It was explained that $327,823.15 in benefit payments had been turned over to 6,195 farmers in Pitt county. The money expended by the government under the control program represents 2,253 applications.

Bennett declared that farmers in Pitt are due $473,000 under the program for 1938 and the amount received represents 80 per cent of the total benefits.

Drop In Tobacco Prices Spurs Control Supporters

Reflector Bureau By HENRY AVERILL Raleigh, July 27.—Lower prices than last year on the opening of the Georgia tobacco markets were "just what was to be expected" and will give added impetus to the forces campaigning for some sort of control of tobacco production and marketing, Dr. Clarence Poe, editor of The Progressive Farmer and one of the South's leading agriculturalists, said today.

He pointed out that prices for one or two days cannot be taken as sure or certain indices of anything; but added that it is obviously impossible to produce a quarter-billion pounds of tobacco in excess of prospective consumption and not have at least a corresponding drop in prices.

"Whether or not the opening prices in Georgia are out of line even with the prospective crop cannot yet be definitely determined, but it is clear that production of a

Vexed Farmers Seek Aid of Governors Rivers

Douglas, Ga., July 27. (AP)—Vexed at the comparative lowness of bids for their tobacco, a group of South Georgia growers arranged a protest meeting here today and sought aid of the governor for a temporary closing of warehouses.

Governor E. W. Carr announced from Atlanta he would close warehouses if the public good demands it. He did not say how he would propose to effect the closing.

Sales in the two opening days at 15 South Georgia markets ranged from $4 to $12 per hundred pounds, lower than in the 1938 opening week.

The agricultural marketing service reported. Opening sales this year ranged from 16 to 18 cents per pound average compared with above 20 per cent in 1938.

The south Georgia and Florida beet producers the blue-cured bright leaf used for cigarettes. The sales are the first leaf offerings of the year.

Last year, Georgia growers sold 92,533,931 pounds for $18,813,763.95, an over-all average of 20.34 cents per pound. Florida's crop is much smaller. Prices were about the same.

Prices appeared a bit stronger in the Douglas market today, the range of some sales being from 16 1/2 to 20 cents a pound. One grower, R. W. Griffin, said, "The idea in this section is to plant all you can and hope that something goes wrong in North and South Carolina."

Prices ranging from 20 to 25 cents higher than the average were reported from the Hazlehurst market today.

Sales at Titon yesterday totaled 82,786 pounds at an average of 15 1/2 cents a pound.

Frank M. Park, Jr., sales supervisor at the Nashville market, said Wednesday sales there totaled 762,922 pounds. A 16 1/2 cent average this far was reported from the Adel market.

Sales Supervisor C. F. Isom at Moultrie said 634,704 pounds were sold at an average of 14 1/2 cents per pound.

There are about 2,000 stars visible to the naked eye on a clear night.

It follows that the movement for some sort of control will be greatly strengthened by the decline in prices, he said, though there is still no indication that the drop this year is so drastic as to lead to closing of the markets or to any immediate demand that something be done at once and without delay.

Principal immediate action will be added pressure on the Senate to enact a measure already approved by the federal House, under which it would be possible to call an emergency referendum and thereby set up control of this year's marketing quotas without waiting until too late to do anything about the 1939 crop.

Dr. Poe forecast that in general it will be the higher grades of to-

SITE DECIDED FOR HOSPITAL

Decision is Reached, And Will be Announced Soon

Raleigh, July 27. (AP)—The site committee for the proposed Eastern North Carolina tubercular hospital mailed its report today to Lee Gravelly of Rocky Mount, chairman of the board of directors of the state's tubercular sanatoriums, without revealing its decision.

Chairman Joe Blythe of Charlotte, along with O. M. Mull of Shelby and L. L. Burgin of Hendersonville, discussed the matter with Governor Hov, but the governor agreed with the committee members that the chairman of the board should announce the site.

The committee was tendered 123 sites in eastern counties and personally inspected nearly all.

The legislature authorized issuance of $250,000 in state bonds to build the sanatorium if the federal PWA will make a grant for the institution. The bonds will not be issued until the PWA allows its share.

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, July 27.—Captain A. A. Nicholson, World war veteran and an expert on industrial economies, will be the principal speaker at the annual convention of the North Carolina Truck Owners Association, Saturday evening, August 12, at the Ocean Terrace Hotel at Wrightsville Beach, it was announced today by Miss Frances Johnson, secretary-treasurer of the association.

He is personnel director of the Texas Company, one of the major petroleum products companies of the country. His topic at the convention will be "Has Business Reached the End of the Road?"

Captain Nicholson has had a colorful career both in military and civil life. He was educated in the Columbia University School of Journalism, but for 26 years he has engaged in an industrial career. Starting with the Texas company as a common laborer he has been craftsman, foreman, salesman and finally personnel director.

During the World war he enlisted as a private, rising to the grade of major before being discharged from service. He saw active service on practically every second of the western front and was awarded the Croix de Guerre by the French government. He was twice cited in American army orders.

In his present position, Captain Nicholson has visited virtually every important industrial plant in the United States during a ten-year study of industrial economies.

A committee charged with the task of selecting a site for a tubercular sanatorium in Eastern North Carolina visited Greenville yesterday afternoon, accompanied by a state engineer and Dr. P. P. McCann, superintendent of the State hospital at Sanatorium.

The fact that Greenville was one of the few towns to which the committee made a second visit tended to encourage Greenville citizens in their hopes that the institution would be located in this section.

The committee has not indicated when it will reach and reveal a decision.

LONDON CALLS EXTRA GUARDS AFTER BLASTS

Cabinet Ministers are Kept Under Eyes of Police

THREE SUSPECTS ARE QUESTIONED

Extra Precautions are Taken by Scotland Yard Following a Series of IRA Explosions

London, July 27. (AP)—Scotland Yard put Prime Minister Chamberlain and other cabinet ministers under special guard today, held three men for examination and questioned scores in a search for terrorists following yesterday's series of five bombings.

The explosions, in which one life was lost, occurred as the House of Commons adopted drastic measures to combat the outlawed Irish Republican army.

Extraordinary precautions were enforced today at all railroad stations, including two where bombings occurred in the last 24 hours.

The houses of Parliament and the British museum were the objects of closest scrutiny.

Afternoon newspapers said Scotland Yard was looking for "a man with a slouch" who was believed seen yesterday at Kings Cross station just before an explosion there with one and perhaps two companions.

Authorities said the explosions were in line with the IRA "plan S," which Home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare described to the House of Commons Monday as calling for wrecking of key industries, blasting of Parliament buildings and pollution of water supplies.

Police guards kept a close watch on railway and subway stations, on post office and on other vulnerable points. Persons leaving packages in checkrooms were asked to submit them to inspection.

Five men were seized for questioning in London and one in Liverpool, but authorities said none was being detained on specific charges.

Clue To Mystery Of 'Lost Colony'

Discovery and translation of 13 stone slabs which apparently record the burial of 64 members of the famed "Lost Colony" of Roanoke Island, N. C., may aid in the solution of the mystery surrounding disappearance of the colonists. Dr. H. J. Pearce, president of Brenau College at Gainesville, Ga., announced. The stones were found on the Saluda river near Greenville, S. C., some 350 miles southwest of the North Carolina coast, and, if genuine, indicate the wandering of the colonists. Dr. Pearce (right) and his son, Dr. H. J. Pearce, Jr., of Emory University, Atlanta, who was associated with his father in the announcement, here display the stones at Gainesville. As yet no claims have been made as to authenticity of the stones.

France Names Delegate To Military Conference

ONE IS VICTIM OF AUTO WRECK

Durham, July 27. (AP)—Edward Elmore, Harvey Hazlewood and John Willis Smith, Jr., of Roanoke Rapids, who were injured in the automobile accident near Creedmore early this morning in which Harry Norwood, also of Roanoke Rapids, lost his life, were seriously hurt, but none is in dangerous condition, attendants at a Durham hospital announced.

All three suffered fractures of both legs and Elmore sustained several lacerations of the forehead. One of Norwood's legs also was broken, making seven broken legs among the party of four men. Norwood, who was riding in the rear seat, was thrown from the car, sustaining fatal head and internal injuries.

The accident took place about 1:30 this morning, just across the Durham line in Granville county. Elmore, the driver, told ambulance attendants that he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car which forced him to his right and, in the fog which hung over the road at that point, did not see the bridge until it was too late.

If all the 4-H club members in the United States were to march single file all in one long line, that line would be more than 700 miles long.

Paris, July 27. (AP)—General Joseph Edouard Doumenc, newly appointed member of the Superior War Council, was designated today to represent the French general staff in military conversations at Moscow with Russian and British commanders.

General Doumenc will undertake this mission as soon as negotiations for British-French-Russian mutual assistance treaty have been completed.

Advices from Moscow and London indicated that an agreement was near, and might even be reached in a meeting in Moscow late today. French circles expected it before the week-end.

When General Doumenc goes to Moscow he will be accompanied by aides from the French general staff.

What Mr. Chery said and what the article intended to state was that he could guarantee any able-bodied colored person a job. The story failed to draw the race distinction and has caused Mr. Chery no end of time in explaining.

Mr. Chery reiterated that any colored man or woman able and willing to work could be found employment, as the tobacco factories are making heavy demands on labor.

Scott Promises To Give Free Soil Tests In N. C.

Oxford, July 27.—Free soil tests will be inaugurated by the North Carolina Department of Agriculture about September 1 in order "better to enable farmers to purchase their fertilizers economically," while additional marketing specialists are to be employed in preparing their crops better for market," Commissioner W. Kerr Scott told farmers at the tobacco experiment station here today.

He lauded the enlarged marketing program and addition of a soils testing laboratory in the department.

"They will put thousands of dollars in the pockets of the growers in months to come," he said.

Of course, the addition of a few marketing specialists will not provide an adequate marketing program for the state, he said, but additional services rendered in the fruit and vegetable fields this season have brought handsome returns to the growers.

He spoke highly of the department's market news service which he declared is rendering invaluable aid to farmers in furnishing them with up-to-the-minute price information on crops and livestock.

"We are providing a new service for the first time this season to prospective cattle buyers, giving them detailed information on cattle available for sale by our own producers," he added. "This service not only will enable Tay Heel farmers to buy from Tar Heel cattle producers but in addition to seeking a home market we are contacting out-of-state prospects."

Farmers generally are pleased with the department's services in controlling the Japanese beetle, destructive pest of 300 plants and grasses; control of Bang's disease of cattle; the increased testing of seed for germination and purity and the fertilizer and feed control program.

U. S. TREASURY TO BACK ACTION

Morgenthau Says Department Studying Means of Backing Up Termination of Treaty

Tokyo, July 27. (AP)—The United States' decision to terminate the 28-year-old commerce and navigation treaty with Japan was regarded today in foreign office and other official circles as an unfriendly act because of its abruptness.

The foreign office spokesman declared that ending of the treaty was "unthinkable."

"Nobody can ignore the political significance of the action which was not preceded by any exchange of notes or previous notification," he said.

"We fail to understand America's real intention."

It was learned authoritatively that the United States embassy was as surprised by the swiftness of the State Department's action as was the Japanese foreign office.

Although neither the embassy nor the foreign office had received an official explanation of the move, it was disclosed in official circles that the Japanese government already was studying possible steps to retaliate in an economic way.

Tokyo, July 28 (Friday). (AP)—The Japanese foreign office declared today that Japan would be glad to negotiate a new treaty in place of that denounced Wednesday by United States, if Washington agrees.

In a formal statement on the notification the foreign office issued, however, its belief that American move was a political ploy connected with the British-Japanese negotiations on China now in progress here.

Washington, D. C., July 27. (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau announced today the Treasury was studying means of backing up Secretary Hull's termination of the Japanese commercial treaty by action involving United States purchases of Japanese gold, silver and merchandise.

Morgenthau explained that the announcement of abrogation came before the time to decide the course of action, but "since reporters are asking me about it, of course I will look into it."

He gave no hint of what kind of action could be taken.

However, it is known that for one thing the Treasury is studying alleged Japanese subsidies of cotton cloth exports to the United States with a view of imposing penalty tariff duties against the cloth.

The United States has cleared the way toward an embargo against Japan by terminating the 1911 treaty of commerce and navigation with that country.

Secretary Hull, with the approval of President Roosevelt, sent a note to Japanese Ambassador Horinouchi saying the United States would expect the treaty to expire in six months.

When Congress meets in January it may proceed with legislation for an embargo on shipments of raw materials to Japan, any legal obstacle having been removed by cessation of the treaty.

Only close friends of the bride and groom and immediate members of the family attended the wedding.

Prior to the ceremony, Miss Opal Claire Harris organist, rendered a lovely program of nuptial music.

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the bridal couple entered the church unattended, and were met at the altar by the bride's pastor, the Reverend Clarence H. Patrick, before whom the nuptial vows were spoken, the ever impressive ring ceremony being used. "Lied-strum" was softly played during the ceremony.

The bride was lovely, attired in a dress of navy blue chiffon with accessories to match. Her shoulder corsage was of bride's roses.

Mrs. Cobb is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stocks of this city. She received her education in the city schools and since her graduation has been employed by the local Charles store.

MODES of the MOMENT

School girl frock of old-fashioned dotted blue Swiss is bow-tied instead of buttoned and juvenily cuffed and collared with fluted white linen. Maggy Rouff designed it for hot summer night.

Manufacturers of the higher-priced cigarettes, cigars and smoking tobacco are already pretty well stocked up, he said, a fact which will make competition for the highest grades relatively dull.

On the other hand, manufacturers of the medium and low-priced cigarette, are apparently not so well stocked, with the result that they will be in the market for quantities of the weed. As a consequence, prices for this kind of tobacco are likely to hold up fairly well, he prophesied.

But no matter what happens in the matter of price this season, Dr. Poe is convinced that there must be some form of control over production and marketing if the tobacco farmers are not to suffer ultimate and overwhelming disaster.

He laid repeated emphasis on the fact that this season's crop gives all indications of being far in excess of any possible consumption before the next is due. That being so, he contends, there is going to be a heavy carryover of tobacco, and if the same condition continues to exist for as many as two or three years it then will drop completely out of tobacco prices.

Summing up the situation as seen by Dr. Poe there seems little likelihood of any serious emergency, accompanied by closing warehouses and "marches on Raleigh" this year; but there is really grave danger that overproduction will before long result in serious consequences to the tobacco growers.

Maybe you've forgotten, but one day you gave Joe some advice. Joe was a slight, sandy-haired youth of 21 then, and movie-struck. He hung around the front gate, and you maybe got tired of seeing him, or maybe just liked him. You said, "Go in the back way, son, and TIEN go up front."

I guess you know Joe followed that tip. Maybe Joe told you how he'd come to New York from a little town in Hungary when he was 19, a town so small Joe had seen only one movie in his life. Joe discovered movies in America.

As a cafeteria busboy he couldn't see many movies, but he made deals with Broadway ushers. Doughnuts and coffee in exchange for free tickets. He saw "The Miracle Man" 19 times.

Anyway, Joe got in the "back way." He became a busboy, later a waiter, in the Paramount commissary. He was so cheerful (and he still is) that people noticed him. One day Allan Dwan, who was directing Gloria Swanson, looked so grumpy over his lunch that Joe chided him.

Allan and his assistant, Dick Rossen (the man who recently visited Nazi Germany), used to kid Joe about acting, but in the end Dwan took him on. Joe acted—somehow awful. He really wanted to direct, so Dwan made him an assistant cameraman. When the studio closed, Joe was an assistant director.

Maybe you don't know what happened to Joe when he left Long Island. Out here, he found another chap, also broke—Billy Wilkerson, now publisher of a movie trade daily. Practically on promises they made a movie with El Brendel, Wesley Ruggles saw it, made Joe his assistant at Univeral.

In 1928, Uncle Carl Laemmle sent Joe to Europe. Joe didn't get back until 1936—after Uncle Carl had sold the studio. A hangover from an old regime doesn't rate with the new. Joe sat around until they gave him a modest "B" film to do. He had brought back with him a young director named Henry Koster, Joe and Henry went to work, and the modest "B" turned into "Three Smart Girls" and put Pasternak and Koster and Durbin on top.

You'd find Joe an odd fellow—for a producer. He always has time to see people.

He is sentimental about America as about people. Nowhere but in America could he have made his success story. His formula: (1) Luck, (2) Patience, (3) Back up luck and patience.

He likes to give opportunities to "new people" — partly because he remembers he was "new" once. In Durbin's "First Love" now he has Robert Stack and Lewis Howard, leading men in their first film. He also has Leatrice Joy, persuaded to leave her retirement.

He got Durbin, too. But he flatly says Koster deserves all the credit for her stardom. His formula for good pictures: many people, preferably friends, all working together—hard.

Anyway, old Irish doorman, Joe would like to see you.

TRIUMPHS OF UNDERDOG: BLUEJAY DIVISION

Arkansas City, Kans.—(AP)—A bluejay, twittering noisily, hopped upward from branch to branch of a tree as a predatory cat sought to sink his claws into his feathers.

Finally the bird had lured the cat to a high limb. The cat found himself out at the end of the limb and it bent downward with him.

Suddenly a whole flock of bluejays appeared and they attacked their enemy in a body; kept the ex-up in the air three days.

The Rev. Carlton Clark of Arkansas City, a witness, tells about the incident.

STRANGE TRIBE INCLUDES WOMEN WHO WON'T TALK

Simla, India.—(AP)—Special police armed with sporting rifles have been sent to the Andamans—India's penal settlement island — to put down a wandering tribe of deadly Jarawas, none of whom has ever been captured alive.

These natives, living under ultra-primitive conditions, number only 300, but line in wait for laborers, cultivators, and police parties and cause many deaths with deft bowmanship.

Apart from other defensive measures police have attempted to learn their language from women Jarawas. But the women, showing great

Greenies Get 25 Hits, 15 Runs In Two Game Series

HARRY JENKINS HITS A HOMER

Win 11-2, 4-1 Over Walker's Snow Hill Billies

Rube Wilson's Greenies collected 25 hits and 15 runs in an evening and night twin bill with D. C. Walker's Snow Hill Billies yesterday to extend their consecutive wins to a dozen. Rube's boys turned back the Billies 11-2 in the afternoon encounter and triumphed 4-1 in the night doings.

Don King, Greenville left-hander, who is leading the league in the number of wins, hurled six-hit ball in the afternoon game as his mates jumped on Cecil Longest and Speedball Bryan for three times as many safeties. This was Don's 16th straight pitching win.

Harry Jenkins, youthful Greenville third-sacker, featured Greenville's afternoon attack by blasting a homer over the scoreboard with two aboard in the third inning. The other runs in Greenville's five-run party for this verse came when Christopher doubled and Rube Wilson singled. The locals' first run in the afternoon was produced when Red Christopher singled and advanced to third on Gaines' error and scored on Lovest's wild pitch.

Snow Hill opened its scoring in the first inning when Felix Stirewalt hit a 250-foot homer over the right field wall after Empire Phaup had called three balls and two strikes on the batter. The Billies' other run was in the fourth. Bistrot and Soufas walked and Tatum singled to lead the bases. Lovest hit to King, who threw Bistrot out at home, but Vincent Smith hit Longest on a throw to first to score Soufas.

The Billies' only run of the night game was in the eighth when Nalberk walked, advanced to second on Whitaker's single and scored on Joe Bistrot's single to left field.

Greenville matched the Billies' lone tally in its half of the first after Red Christopher had reached second on Yenowsky's error, advanced to third on Ed Black's single and scored when Daniels' reached first on Soufas' error. A walk by Yenowsky and another single by Black gave the Greenies two more in the third, which was enough to sew up the game.

Leading hitters for the Greenies in the afternoon game were Red Christopher with four hits in five trips, Whitey Hrestener with two safeties in as many official turns, and Harry Jenkins with three for four. Ed Black collected three for four to feature the night attack, the outstanding feature of which was the catching of Pat Malone, who handled the ball with the skill of a seasoned veteran.

Big Jim Tatum got three hits in four turns to feature the Billies' afternoon hitting. Yenowsky got two hits in three turns for the night game.

'Peanuts' Lose 22nd

Tarboro's Goobers, or Peanuts, gained their twenty-second consecutive setback of the season yesterday behind the four-hit hurling and 11 strikeouts of Red Swain of the Williamston Martins, who fanned the Tarboro team, 6-2. The name "Goobers" was given the Tarboro club yesterday by Manager Stumpf.

DISTRICT SWIM MEET PLANNED

Greenville Scouts to Perform Here on August 11

Rev. M. Campbell, chairman of the 1939 swimming meet of the East Carolina Council of Boy Scouts to be held in Greenville August 24, today announced that the district swimming meet for Greenville would be held August 11, the purpose of which is to select swimmers in the Greenville district for possible participation in the annual council meet.

All district Scout organizations in the East Carolina Council are to have elimination contests some time before the annual affair being sponsored by the Greenville district of Boy Scouts and the Greenville Junior Chamber of Commerce. The meet will be held at 7:30 o'clock on the night of August 24.

Scouts in good standing as of August 1, who have not competed in collegiate competition and who have not reached their eighteenth birthday, may enter the council meet. A Scout must participate in the district meet to be eligible for participation in the scheduled event for the council meet.

Events for the district meet, which will be the same as those of the council meet, are as follows: Five style, one length; breast stroke, one length; novelty event, dive across string stretched across the pool; plunger for distance; free style, two lengths; back stroke, one length; novelty event, ten plates to be thrown into the pool and each Scout will attempt to recover as many as possible; medley relay, three Scouts, back, breast and free style; diving, plain, front jack back diving and any other two optional events according to official intercollegiate handbook rating; special life saving, with one Scout victim and one Scout fully dressed at start to conduct the hypothetical rescue.

The final event will be the free style relay, with four Scouts participating. Each will be expected to swim the length of the pool, officials said. It was pointed out that none of the novelty events would be counted in the regular scoring.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's filter. They are taking excess acids and poisons out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints of acid in about 3 pints of waste.
Frequent urination, passage with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
If the filter of your kidneys is clogged and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. This causes what is called kidney trouble. It may be a sign of kidney disease. It may be a sign of kidney stones. It may be a sign of kidney infection. It may be a sign of kidney failure. It may be a sign of kidney cancer. It may be a sign of kidney disease. Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York — It's like this. She just put out her hand and a silver dollar dropped into it.

It was most mystifying to Mrs. Florence Lennon of Boulder, Colo., who is a guest in New York. Mrs. Lennon is registered at the Hotel Pennsylvania, and this morning she descended to the lobby to purchase some stamps so that she could mail a letter to her mother back home in Colorado.

Then she stepped to the big brass mailbox. As she lifted the metal flap and inserted the letter, a big round silver dollar dropped into her hand. She uttered a startled cry but she held on to the dollar. For a moment it looked suspiciously as if Jim Farley had been turning his mail boxes into slot machines. She was standing by the box, still niplussed. Looking at the dollar when a gentleman leaped out of the elevator and exclaimed, "Has anyone seen a silver dollar?" He appeared wildly excited.

"Why, yes," replied Mrs. Lennon. "I have. When I put a letter in the box it jumped at me. It almost bit me."

"The man, whose name was Rene Levy, exhaled in relief. "It's mine," he said. "To you it is only a dollar, but to me it is everything. It's the first dollar I ever earned. I was up on the eighteenth floor, tapping with it on the mail box, and it slipped down the chute."

Mr. Levy, for your further information, is chief of the Pennsylvania's banquet department. And that extremely cheerful countenance he wears may be explained by the fact that he has his lucky dollar back.

The new cigarette tax in New York City which compels smokers to pay a total tax of nine cents on each package—six cents federal tax, two cents state tax and one cent city tax—has renewed interest in the roll-your-own gadgets which enjoyed a brief popularity a number of years ago.

These self-rollers are now practically given away with the purchase of loose tobacco, and some of them produce a monogrammed cigarette.

Sammy Kay, the swing and sway band leader, tells me that a couple of alert fellows in New Jersey, which has no tax, are advertising cigarettes at pre-tax prices in the New York papers. They "manufacture" any quantity desired and deliver in Manhattan. The officials haven't found a way yet to prevent this.

An old favorite in New York is that outrageously disproportioned map of the United States which is titled "A New Yorker's Conception of America." The state of Texas on this map has shrunk to the size of a pea. New York itself is Russian-like in vastness, monopolizing the northeastern section of the country. Most of the rivers, including the Mississippi, are called "Swamps."

The West is an unexplored region of Neanderthals.

You'll find this map on countless walls, from Wall Street to Harlem. But mostly the men in these offices aren't New Yorkers. They are from Kansas and Texas and Ohio and Arizona and other states. If the man who drew this map has it properly patented, he must be a rich man. Hundreds of thousands of copies have been sold.

Chickasha, Okla.—(AP)—The city of Chickasha has just learned it has been violating one of its own most venerable ordinances for years. Alderman Ed Singleton informed astounded colleagues the years-old poll tax ordinance required every able-bodied male adult to do 12 hours' work a year on city streets. And the city had been letting the males off by paying $3.

FAN MY BROW! (AND SLAP MY BACK!)
Miami, Fla.—(AP)—A hearty slap on the back meant more than friendship here recently.

The city experienced one of its worst mosquito invasions in years, and citizens co-operated in protecting each other from the pests.

Pointing to "Australia's future place in the Pacific, her very existence, perhaps" Professor Stephen H. Roberts urges the New South Wales government to teach American history in its schools.

The planet Jupiter is covered by a layer of ice 16,000 miles thick.

Thirty thousand craters are visible on the moon.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, July 27. (AP) - Buying of rails and a handful of specialties helped give the stock market a late selective recovery. The day after frequent slip-ups throughout the first part of the session.

While early losses, running to a point or so for leaders, were reduced or equaled in many instances at the close, small minus signs were plentiful and the best that could be said was that final prices were moderately mixed. Transfers were around 750,000 shares.

TULIP DISPLAY BOOSTS STATE

Washington Festival Gains Favorable Publicity

Raleigh, July 27. -The pictures and stories which have been sent out over the entire United States concerning the annual Tulip Festival in Washington, N. C., has not only helped to publicize the immediate section but has given North Carolina world-wide advertising. H. van Dorn, owner of the Terra Ceta bulb farm and one of the large tulip growers of that section, says in a letter to the news bureau of the Department of Conservation and Development.

"I want to thank you for the fine publicity you put over for this section last spring during our Tulip Festival," Mr. van Dorn said. "And not only for this section but for the entire state, since it really is advertising North Carolina in general."

"We have had letters from people as far as Wyoming, Montana and Texas, and all the states in between, asking about our flowers. Several people asked for information about this section of the state and the climate here. My folks in Holland even wrote me that some of the news stories about the Tulip Festival had been in the newspapers over there."

"We are looking for a big increase in our business this fall and a great part of this is due to the publicity you have given us, for which we are very grateful."

Since a good many people are continuing to write Mr. van Dorn for general information about North Carolina, he has asked the Division of State Advertising to send him some of its advertising booklets to send to these people.

BETTY NOBLE

If you wake up some morning feeling dull and stupid, just try this simple exercise, pictured above, by Betty Noble. "It's great for the lips," says Betty, the dainty devastating terpsichorean from Miami's sun kissed shores. Possessing a slyish like form and the beauty of a Grecian goddess, Miss Noble is presenting acrobatic dance routines with talent and grace. This artist is one of the many bright features of "Models and Melodies" which appears in Greenville for one performance only - tonight, July 27.

Words cannot adequately describe the massiveness of this offering, for nothing like it has ever before been presented in a tented theatre. With an entourage of eighty people, including many lovely girls and fifteen specialty acts, "Models and Melodies" is headlining the personal appearance of Gene Austin, the world famous song stylist and his two comedy sidekicks, Kandy and Koko. Gene Austin comes to local audiences directly from a successful engagement at Billy Rose's famed Casa Manana in the city of New York.

The mammoth tented theatre, seating over five thousand, will be located at the old Fair Grounds, opposite the new stadium. "Models and Melodies" is offering a three dollar production at popular prices. The doors will open at 7:30, the overture follows at 7:45 and the performance starts at 8:30 sharp.

The largest soap consumption per capita of any country in the world is that of Holland. The United States is second, followed by Denmark, Belgium, France, England, Germany, Hungary, Italy, Austria, Soviet Russia, Poland, Yugoslavia and China in that order.

PENALIZED IF CARD MISUSED

Cotton Farmers Refused Quotas in Such Instances

Raleigh, July 27. -Cotton producers who misused their marketing cards in 1938 to help other producers sell cotton in excess of farm quotas will lose all payments to which they might be entitled under the 1939 farm program, E. Y. Floyd, AAA executive officer at State College, said today.

This ruling of the AAA, recently approved, is based on a provision of the program that all or any part of a farmer's payment may be withheld if he has adopted any practice that tends to defeat any of the purposes of the farm program.

Floyd explained that under the marketing quota regulations, the holder of a red marketing card is required to pay a penalty on that part of his cotton marketings in excess of his quota.

A white marketing card indicates all penalty-free cotton. The new ruling provides that if a cotton producer who held a white card ginned or sold cotton for a farmer who held a red card, neither will receive consideration or price adjustment payments in connection with the 1939 program. The county AAA committee will determine if the action was contrary to the cotton marketing quota regulations.

The AAA found last year that in some cases farmers with red marketing cards managed to sell their excess cotton through other farmers who held white cards and whose cotton was not subject to penalty. As a result, records kept by ginner and buyers credited the white card owner with more cotton than he actually produced. This erroneous data gave their farms a higher yield per acre than that to which they were entitled.

Floyd said all cases in which marketing cards appeared to have been misused are being investigated. Where violations are found, the ruling for withholding payment will be applied.

Lanier Is Blaming Quality For Prices

J. Con Lanier of Greenville, former tobacco code administrator, expressed the belief in Washington yesterday, while talking with agricultural authorities, that "poor quality tobacco and not overproduction" is responsible for the low price level for tobacco on the Georgia and Florida markets.

Henry Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, declined to comment on prevailing conditions of the southern weed markets, but pointed out that "The tobacco section of the AAA act at this session of Congress will have the effect of clarifying in the minds of the growers just what is involved in crop control referendums."

NEED IS SEEN FOR GUIDANCE

Youth Needs Training As Part of Preparation

Durham, July 27. -"Guidance will be the next nationwide public education program," Dean Paul W. Chapman, of the University of Georgia College of Agriculture, told educators assembled at Duke University yesterday for the Conference on Education as Guidance.

"The need for the guidance of youth is very obvious," he declared, "and is being accepted by thinking people. Youth, as they face life, is beset by complex social and economic problems, and they need counselling services that will assist them in the adjustments that must be made as they reach adult life. Guidance is that process of helping the individual discover and use his natural endowments in addition to special training obtained from any source so that he may make his living and life to the best advantage to himself and to society."

Dean Chapman, while stressing the importance of guidance in relation to the choosing of a vocation and preparing for it, said that it is as broad as all the interests and ac-activities of life, and is a part of the educational process at all levels. In his address to the conference, which is to be continued through August 4, Dean Chapman declared that personality development is one of the greatest factors in the individual's occupational success. There is hardly an occupation in which personality development is not important or one wherein there is not entailed certain contacts with people in general.
