ANTI-BRITISH PARLEYS HELD NORTH CHINA

Discussions Are Set to Last For Three Days

DEFENSE FORCES ARE MOBILIZED

All Britons and Their Interests May Be Forced Out of Area If Plan Is Affected

Tientsin, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Anti-British leaders in North China opened a three-day conference today to consider resolutions calling for such things as an anti-British movement in British Colonies and Canada.

The meeting began with parades. It was not likely the demonstrators would attempt to enter the British Consulate blockaded since June 14, but British defense forces were mobilized to meet them at the boundary if necessary.

One resolution before the conference would make the anti-British campaign a part of the general restoration scheme in North China with the object of forcing out all Britons and their interests. Another would establish an anti-British course in junior schools.

In Shanghai, the municipal council, governing body of the International Settlement announced that no further "European refugees will be permitted to land at Shanghai."

The order, designed to prevent further influx of Jewish immigrants followed a similar ban effective Aug. 10. The Japs announced last Friday for the section of the settlement they control north of Soochow creek.

Pitt Legion Post Meets Tomorrow

The regular monthly meeting of Pitt County Post No. 39 American Legion will be held tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock on the Herman McLawhorn farm on the Ayden-Winterville highway.

Notices of the meeting sent to members of the Pitt Legion Post stated the meeting would be held Tuesday afternoon of next week, but this was erroneous, according to Adjutant J. Hicks Corey, who said the meeting is to be held tomorrow afternoon instead.

Those attending the meeting tomorrow afternoon will be feted to a supper. Hosts for the occasion are members of the Pitt County Post who live in the Winterville and Ayden communities.

Aged Pitt Citizen Claimed By Death

Wallace Laughinghouse, 84, died at 1 o'clock yesterday morning at his home in the Cox Mill Community after a few days of critical illness.

Funeral services were conducted this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the late home by the Rev. T. McM. Grant, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church. Burial was in the family cemetery.

Mr. Laughinghouse was born and reared in Craven county, but had spent the last 50 years of his life in Pitt County. He was a member of Winterville Methodist Church.

Besides his widow, surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Reba Carroll and Mrs. Sam Jones, both of Greenville and a half-sister, Mrs. Lonnie Hudson of Tarboro.

Active pallbearers were A. L. Grey, H. M. Page, S. N. Baker, J. J. Edwards, D. O. Taylor and J. J. Carroll.

Arrest Negro Again On Identical Charge

Cleve Little, Greenville, Negro, who was convicted in City Recorder's court recently for manufacture of home brew after officers raided his home and found 498 bottles, is in jail again confronted with a similar charge.

Officers said a small quantity of home brew was found in Little's home over the week-end and that he is again charged with manufacture of home brew. He will be tried in the Friday morning session of city court. No court was held today.

OFFICERS BUSY IN PITT COUNTY

Investigate Shooting, Fighting and Stealing

Law violators kept officers of the county rather busy over the week-end, with most of the disorder confined to shooting, fighting, stealing and drunken driving.

Lloyd Balance of Penny Hill is charged with assault with a deadly weapon after shooting Alex Stalls following an argument over a mule. A member of the sheriff's department said that Balance shot in self-defense, however.

Officers said Stalls went to Balance's home late Saturday afternoon to inquire about his mule that allegedly was in Balance's lot. Witnesses told officers that Stalls and Balance began fighting and after Stalls proceeded to attack Balance with a heavy piece of wood, Balance went into the house, got his gun and discharged a load of shot into Stalls' right foot. Stalls was treated at Pitt General Hospital for the injury, but it is not regarded as serious.

Brothers of the wounded man, Clyde Stalls and Major Stalls, were jailed early Sunday morning after allegedly going to Balance's home and threatening to take his life because he had shot their brother. Bonds for each were set at $200. Officers said the brothers "raised hell" but that was about as far as their threat was carried.

Tobacco valued at $35, stolen some time Saturday night from the packhouse on the Bill Sutton homestead, had not been recovered off yet. Mrs. Clara B. Todd owned the tobacco and lived on the farm in Beaver Dam Township. This is believed to be the first week theft of the season in the county.

Officers said that Jim Ross and Mrs. Lillie Bell Ross were jailed Saturday night for fornication in the residential district of Winterville. They said that the woman is the wife of Jim Ross' brother. Both are residents of the Winterville community and bond for each was set at $200.

Jesse Mills was jailed by Highway Patrolman C. R. Williams Saturday night on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. Bond was set at $200. Lonnie Mills, arrested simultaneously, was charged with being drunk on the highway. He was released under a $50 furnished bond.

NEVADA WRECK THOUGHT TO BE WORK OF FIEND

At Least 20 Slain and 114 Injured in Tragedy

SUSPECT SOUGHT BY STATE POLICE

Man 'With Both Ears' off Believed to Have Been Responsible For Misplaced Rail

Reno, Nev., Aug. 14.—(AP)—The fiendishly plotted wrecking of a $2,000,000 streamlined train left at least 20 persons dead and 114 injured today, while police sought a man "with both ears off" for questioning about the tragedy.

Southern Pacific officials said evidence clearly indicated the wreck of their "City of San Francisco" in central Nevada Saturday night was deliberately planned. A coroner's Reno, Aug. 14.—(AP) Harry Fletcher, Reno captain of detectives, said today a crippled man with part of his right ear missing had been arrested for questioning in the wreck of the Southern Pacific streamline train.

The suspect was arrested in the railroad yards at Sparks, Nev. He gave his name as Bob LaDucher, 28, of Lewiston, Mont.

His pockets were filled with junk, including old papers, rags, a pair of socks, an oily glove and a broken seal taken from a freight car.

Officers said he had denied any knowledge of the train wreck, but Fletcher said he was to be questioned further.

Jury summoned to the scene found the disaster was caused by "a rail misplaced by a person or persons unknown."

Forty-four spikes had been removed from the outside rail of a curve near the approach to a 60-foot bridge over the shallow Humboldt river, where all but four of the 17 cars in the flyer hurtled off the tracks and angle plates connecting rail lengths had been removed.

An entire 30-foot length of rail had been moved four inches inward and the rail tie plates repositioned to the ties in their new position, said I. J. Foley, assistant Southern Pacific division superintendent.

As this evidence of what Foley termed "really a case of sabotage with murderous intent" was uncovered, the Nevada state police asked officers throughout the state to be on the lookout for a man whose ears had been cut off.

Chief of Police A. M. Welliver of Reno said he was informed this man had been "acting suspiciously" at Fernley and had inquired yesterday morning at a Fernley garage. "Has anything happened?"

Painting Is Returned By Disgusted Painter

Paris, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Police announced today that the stolen Watteau 'L'Indifferent' had been returned by a 25-year-old painter who said he took it because he was "disgusted" with the way it had been restored.

The painting disappeared from the Louvre June 11. The painter, Serge Bogousslavsky, said he was so indignant at the way the picture had been retouched, that he had "just purely and simply taken it home with me."

"There I restored it to its original condition," he said.

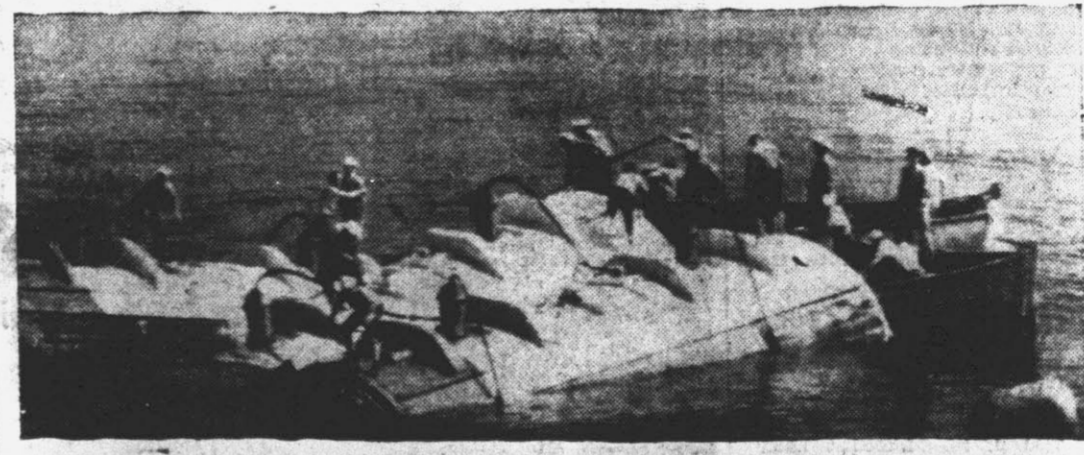

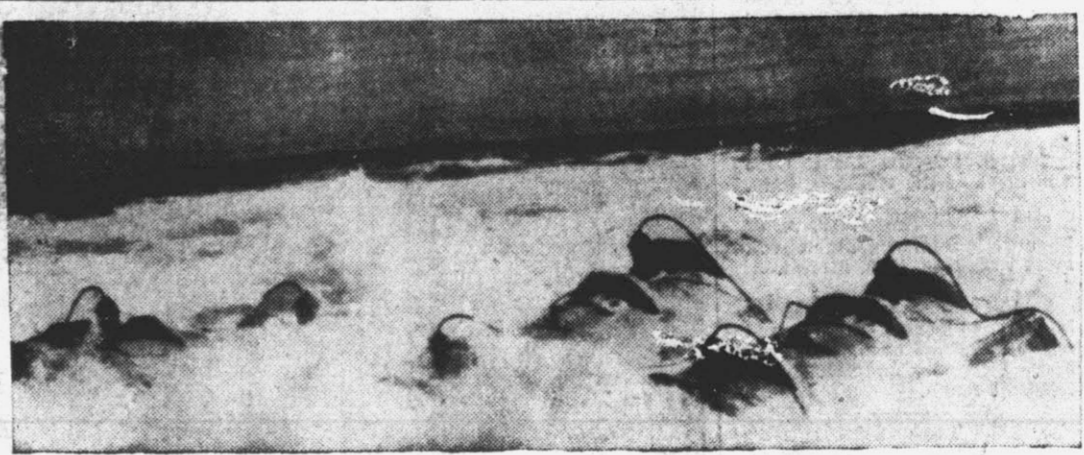

Fear South Losing Hold On Tobacco Production

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, August 14.—A group of specialists in tobacco culture returning from the sessions of the Tobacco Research Committee at Greenville, Tennessee, last week view with mild alarm the evidence of an increasing interest in tobacco throughout the world. They wonder if North Carolina and a few adjoining southern states are fated to lose supremacy in the world tobacco markets as the South has lost it in cotton production.

Prompted by this concern the committee declined to take action on the insistent invitation of Canadian members that next year's meeting be held in Canada. The visitors offered glowing inducements of extremely low cost transportation and entertainment. But there were some members who felt that the committee's activities should be confined to the tobacco belt of the United States. Its purpose is to improve types and production methods, and sentiment was general among those attending the 1939 meeting that it would be folly to render this service to a potential strong competitor in the world markets. Divided into three divisions—agronomy, plant pathology and entomology—the committee met as a whole and in groups. As yet there is no division dealing with processing and marketing, but if interest in the activities of the present group continues these divisions may be added. Discussions centered around uniformity of types, proper fertilization and cultivation and disease control. Attending the Greenville meeting were representatives from Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky. There were six visitors from Canada, one from

Navy Salvagers Raise Squalus From Ocean's Floor

More than two months' patient labor at the scene of the Squalus disaster off the New Hampshire coast bore fruit when navy salvage vessels raised the sunken submarine, 100 feet off the floor of the Atlantic and began the slow towing job to shallower water. These pictures tell the story. Top, cluster of three pontoons attached to the sub's stern stir up the quiet sea as they are forced to the surface. Middle, intrepid seamen board pontoons for inspection of connections and securing of air valves. Bottom, two clusters of three pontoons each, supporting bow and stern of the Squalus 80 feet off sea floor, are shown along with the salvage tugs (left-right) Sagamore, Falcon and Wandank. Four more big lifting pontoons are yet submerged.

FIVE INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

Charged With Harboring Fugitive Criminals

New York, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Two indictments charging five individuals and two corporations with conspiracy in the alleged harboring of fugitive criminals returned today by the Federal special Grand Jury impeached a week ago in the government's general drive against the underworld.

Principal quarry in the drive is Louis (Lempe) Buchalter, fugitive racketeer against whom Federal and city authorities have joined forces.

The indictments were described by Federal prosecutors as the first ever voted on the legal theory that the passage of money to a fugitive constitutes an act of harboring if the impounded a week ago in the government's general drive against the underworld.

ROAD DEATHS DROP IN STATE

Lowest July Rate Since 1932 Is Reported

Raleigh, Aug. 14.—(AP)—The Highway Safety Division reported today that July fatalities dropped to 66, the lowest for a July since 1932 and a decrease of 14.3 per cent over July 1938.

Last month there were 588 injured in the 571 accidents which killed 60 and in July, 1938, there were 70 killed and 654 hurt in 587 mishaps.

Highway accidents took 456 lives during the first seven months of this year compared with 453 a year ago.

Ten persons killed last month were children under 15 years of age and 31 fatalities were caused by speeding, reckless driving or driving on the wrong side of the road. Seventeen pedestrians were killed.

Find Missing Girl At Va. Roadhouse

Goldsboro, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Fifteen-year-old Catherine Sessoms, whose disappearance July 29 resulted in the arrest of two men on kidnapping charges, was back at her home in Magnolia today.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Wallace of Kenansville said that the girl was located at a roadhouse at Petersburg, Va., through a tip from an unidentified source.

Her father, the Rev. J. B. Sessoms, went to Petersburg yesterday, found his daughter and took her back home. Wallace related. Bonnie Teachey, 20, Tin Cottage farmer, and Charles Tullington, 26, Warsaw insurance man, were arrested several days ago on charges preferred by the minister.

UNION PRAISED BY GOV. HOEY

Chief Executive Cites Progress of Past 10 Years

Raleigh—Gov. Hoey today cited progress made by labor in North Carolina during the past 10 years and congratulated the State Federation of Labor for a "blessed peace" in this state, while other parts of the nation had "so many serious industrial and labor disputes."

The Governor spoke at the first business session of the Federation's annual three-day convention. Other speakers included Frank Fenton, director at Washington of organization for the American Federation of Labor, and T. A. Wilson, a former state Federation president who is now chairman of the State Industrial Commission.

Slated for discussion was a program for the coming year of the North Carolina buildings trades union, which one official said included plans to meet the "invasion" of the building trade fields by the CIO.

"I wish warmly to congratulate organized labor in North Carolina upon the splendid relationship existing between the employers and the employees," said Hoey, "and the harmony and good will manifested by each group and among all groups."

"There have been no major labor disturbances or disputes in the state during my administration and this is a source of much gratification."

"All parties concerned have learned that it is much wiser to settle controversies and differences by conference and discussion, rather than resort to strikes and violence. While 80 many serious industrial and labor disputes have raged in other portions of the country with ensuing violence and lawlessness, there has been a blessed peace in North Carolina for which industry and labor and the whole people of the state should be very grateful."

PLAN OF PEACE FOR FREE CITY IS SUGGESTED

Calls For Danzig Reunion With Germany

IDEA ACCEPTED FOR DISCUSSION

Observers Think European Powder Barrel Will Explode if Danzig Issue Is Not Settled

Berlin, Aug. 14.—(AP)—A Nazi source with unusually good connections with high officialdom said today that Prof. Carl Burckhardt, League of Nations commissioner for Danzig, has a plan for peaceful settlement of the dispute between Germany and Poland over the Free City.

The plan, according to this source, calls for the reunion of Danzig with Germany and for a "direct and guaranteed connection between East Prussia (including Danzig) and Germany proper."

Reichsfuehrer Hitler, Polish Foreign Minister Joseph Beck and Danzig Leader Albert Forster were said to be acquainted with the plan and to have accepted it as a possible basis for discussions.

This Nazi source said that Commissioner Burckhardt was making a secret trip to London to present the plan to Lord Halifax, the British foreign minister.

Today, for the first time, authoritative quarters acknowledged that Prof. Burckhardt saw Hitler last week.

This disclosure came as officials were weighing the results of the week-end conference, among Hitler and the German and Italian foreign ministers, in which Germany and Italy were said to have set a joint course of action.

A declaration today on the Danzig issue said that unless it was settled speedily "the European powder barrel may explode."

The multiplicity of the foreign office said, "If the stubbornness and insolence of certain powers in questions that do not in any way concern their interest continue, they may be sure that the determination of Germany and Italy will be posed against them."

In London, the discussions between Hitler and Burckhardt were seen by British official circles as a possible preliminary to efforts to negotiate the Danzig dispute.

A government spokesman, commenting on Burckhardt's visit to Hitler, said his commissioner was now "in a position to make contacts with the Polish government and the Danzig Senate."

It was admitted that no reports on the discussion had been received in London, but official circles said Burckhardt made the call at Hitler's invitation and it was assumed that the fuhrer must have had some settlement plan to present.

Greenies Win Two Week-End Games; Here Tonight

LOCALS THANK RUSTY MCCALL

Don King Extends Triumphs for Season to 19

Rube Wilson and his boys went to Williamston yesterday for a double header, but won the first encounter 5-4, while rain was credited with the win in the second.

Tarboro's Gobbers received an 8-4 setback behind Don King's hurling Saturday night. This was Don's 19th victory for the season. He is now tied with Red Swain in seasonal wins. The Martin redhead extended his wins to 19 over the week end.

Williamston will engage the Greenies again tonight at 8 o'clock in the Guy Smith stadium. This will be the last scheduled appearance here this season.

The Martins jumped to an early lead yesterday and retained their clip until the seventh inning, when the Greenies forged to the front on a homer by Rusty McCall. A single by Gracie Allen, scoring Smith and Jenkins, gave the locals two more.

Harry Jenkins went on a homer spree over the week end. He got a homer in the game against Tarboro Saturday and also got a ninth-inning homer in the game yesterday.

After Williamston scored two runs in the 9th yesterday, Morris Wilson ceased his hurling and was replaced by Ben Mooney. The "big boy" also did a fine piece of relief hurling against Tarboro Saturday. Greenville's leading hitter was Rusty McCall with three hits in four official turns. Featuring the Martins' attack were Hank Spires and Ace Villepique, who got two hits apiece.

Amateur Softball

Amateurs, as opposed to professionals, are supposed to display a pronounced aura of that rare and wonderful quality known as sportsmanship. We are familiar with, and mayhap condone, the professional athlete who flies off the handle and stamps with rage at adverse conditions and situations that may seriously affect his economic status. BUT, your amateur athlete is supposed to bow gracefully to such misfortunes as may arise, smile and wish himself better luck next time. Softball in Greenville is still an amateur sport. So, may it be said, until it does become professional, let the players (and spectators) so conduct themselves that their relations with each other and with the duly constituted officials be of, at least, a slightly facetious nature and not one of deadly seriousness. Else softball as an amateur sport had far better not be attempted.

Tipton, a resident of Petersburg was appointed assistant to freshman coach, Dwight Stuessy and will handle the backfield.

Bugs and Tobs Divide Exciting Twin Bill

Snow Hill and Kinston mixed in an old-time baseball game that went two innings beyond the regulation distance, but the Eagles emerged with a 3-2 triumph after Cecil Longset, the pride of Beaufort county produced a wild pitch.

Thornton walked in the 11th, advanced to second on Sid Stringfellow's bunt, to third on Dicken's single and scored on the wild pitch. When the ninth inning rolled around, the Eagles were ahead 2-1, but a timely single in behalf of the Billies deadlocked the score at 2-all.

Goldsboro's Gold Bugs and the Wilson Tobs divided a twin bill yesterday. The Bugs won the first 5 to 4 and the Tobs took the nightcap 9-1. In the afternoon, a homer by Tom Burnette in the tenth inning for the win.

The effective hurling of F. B. Bissette, Wilson youth, helped the Tobs tame the Bugs in the finale. He yielded five hits while his mates jumped on Mule Shirley and his boys for five runs in the fourth.

Maybe the rain had something to do with it, but Lefty Archer hurled a 14-0 shutout over Tarboro's Gobbers. The two Peanut hurlers were reached for 19 safeties. Runs were produced by the Bears in every inning except the second and seventh.

DOLPHINS GET A. A. U. HONORS

Local Fish Score 10 Points at High Point

Six tired members of the Greenville swimming team returned home early Sunday morning after two days of competition at the Carolina's A. A. U. meet in High Point. The Greenville fish, swimming in their first big-time contest, tallied one second place, one third place and fourth places for a total of ten points.

Carolyn Hamric, Greenville's star woman diver, undefeated in Eastern Carolina competition this year, won a silver medal for her second place in senior women's diving, placing behind Messick to High Point.

Lib Wells swam third in the 100-meter backstroke, making a good show against Prince Nufer and Carolyn Perritt, who finished first and second respectively. The first and second place winners are from Goldsboro.

The Greenville senior women, with a total of six points, ranked fourth in their division behind Goldsboro, Tarboro and High Point.

Bob Kittrell, placing fourth in the 440 and 220-yard freestyle events, captured two points for Greenville's senior men, while Jack Edwards, fourth in the 100-meter backstroke brought the total for the local senior men to three points.

Gene Johnson, the only midjet entered for the locals, took a point by placing fourth in the 50-meter breaststroke.

The Green Dolphins had the experience of competing against one of the strongest fields of amateur swimmers to be assembled in the South this year. Three Nation Juniors A. A. U. championship events drew contestants from as far north as Massachusetts and as far south as Florida.

HOSPITAL HAS A HEALTH ROLE

Duty In Public Work Cited by Speaker At Duke

Durham, Aug. 11.—"The old idea that a hospital is just a place to take care of sick people has passed out," Dr. J. Moss Beeler, superintendent of Grady Hospital, Atlanta, Ga., said Thursday at the Southern Institute for Hospital Administrators, in session at Duke University.

"Now we consider the modern hospital as a health center, as an educational clinic for health and preventive medicine; a place in the community where all types of diseases are diagnosed and treated, but also a place where people can come for health education, both from a curative and preventive standpoint; a center where social problems, from a medical standpoint, are considered. It is a center where nutrition, health education, disease control, sanitation, infant maternal welfare, venerable disease control and all forms of health control are taught. It is a place where the public many take any medical or allied problem they may have for help. This modern hospital is interested in all phases of life of the people it serves.

"With this conception of a hospital it is almost impossible to draw the line between public health, preventive medicine, and the modern hospital and curative medicine. In fact, public health is of very vital interest to the hospital. They are intimately connected. A poor health department or no health department in a community increases the number of infectious and contagious cases that cost above the average."

Dr. Beeler suggested ways in which the hospital and the health department may co-operate for the benefit of public health in a community. He cited programs that are of interest to each and should be undertaken co-operatively. These co-operatively sponsored programs include nutrition classes and clinics, control of communicable diseases, venereal disease programs, maternal and child welfare programs, cancer control programs and joint dental clinics.

IT LOOKED LIKE A BALL OF FIRE
EAST LIVERPOOL, O. (AP) — "There was no damage to speak of, but it sure had us scared for a minute," Councilman Bert Goodballet related after lightning invaded his front door.

Striking the metal tip of an umbrella held by Elaine Reagle, one of the several children sheltered from the storm on the Goodballet's front porch the ball of lightning rolled into the front door, across the rug and apparently disappeared into a lamp cord, Goodballet said.

"It looked just like a ball of fire witnesses added.

EVEN PIGEONS GET LOST ONE MILE DOWN
PRESCOTT, ARIZ. (AP) — Carrier pigeons released at the bottom of the mile-deep Grand Canyon failed to find their way back to their home lofts here.

Only one of the five returned to Phantom ranch, from which they were released. Park employes said the birds seemed bewildered after their trip down into the canyon on the back of a mule.

Another effort to fly pigeons out of the canyon will be made next June. Training flights will be made, meanwhile, from the south rim and other nearby points.

Washington.—It appears now that the administration looking on foreign policy, administered in the Senate, can be traced to a tactical blunder in selecting a group far removed from anything directly to do with foreign affairs—the Senate steering committee.

The steering committee is an unofficial but important group of majority members that decides who is to get what committee assignments. Ordinarily the majority leader is very much the master of the committee, as it is supposed to be a sort of an advisory body to aid him in assigning members to committees.

Each year finds only a few committee posts to be filled by new or transferring members, so the balance of power on important committees may be very close. A steering committee desiring to route policy legislation through a committee such as that on foreign affairs will watch these things closely.

THREE POSITIONS CHANGE Barkley didn't do that.—There were perhaps extenuating circumstances. He was elected majority leader by a margin of one vote.

Now we get back to the Senate foreign relations committee. A steering committee loyal to the administration never would have allowed Senator Clark of Missouri to succeed the late J. Ham Lewis on the foreign relations committee.

Similarly, Senators Reynolds of North Carolina and Gillette of Iowa would not have got the seats left by the defeat of Senator Duffey of Wisconsin and the transfer of Senator Chavez of New Mexico to another committee. Reynolds is flatly opposed to the administration's foreign policy.

Five CONFUSED MONTHS Although the foreign relations committee then reported out the bill as passed by the House, it lay on the calendar for several days before Pittman could round up enough committee support on the floor of the Senate to help match the opposition.

of filibuster by Senator Vandenberg killed it. Both bills are scheduled to come up early next session. By agreement with Republican leaders, the neutrality embargo bill will come up early in January.

SHORT SHOTS

Raleigh, August 14.—These hot days when most folks are inclined toward indolence and when most of the politically wise are away at vacation points, there are still a few gossipers who work up body heat conjecturing over what is likely to be the issues in the forthcoming campaign, state and national.

Despite torrid emanations from the blistering sidewalk, several such folks in front of the supreme court building the other day and figured out the whole thing. Most important issue in the governor's race, one liquor is going to be put right square into the fight by one of the candidates for governor. The rest of 'em want to side step it, but he won't let them. Whether he ties up with Lester Martin, announced candidate for lieutenant governor or not, this gubernatorial aspirant is going to ring all the changes on the old sob stuff.

Since Republican Candidate Jordan has already let it be known that he is a dry and expects to force a statewide referendum on A B C stores, the Democratic espouser of the same cause may find the interest in his platform lessened.

One of the best communities he has ever visited, says D. S. Coltrane, assistant to the commissioner of agriculture, is around Greenville, Tenn. The town has ten large tobacco warehouses, is one of the big-growing tobacco producing counties in the whole country, and yet it derives more income from cattle and poultry than from tobacco.

Balanced agriculture was the theme of Dr. Clarence Poe's address at Rocky Mount test farm field day last week, and is the same theme he has emphasized for years. More than 25 years ago, speaking at a small farmers meeting in a rural community of Union county, Dr. Poe said that the trouble with Carolina farmers is that "they work hard all summer to kill grass to grow cotton to get money to buy hay."

Upwards of 40 years ago when young Will Tate encouraged and helped the Wright boys in their airplane experiments in Eastern North Carolina, some of his neighbors thought he was as crazy as the Wrights. Friday night in Raleigh a distinguished group of citizens, including a former governor and several who would like to be governor, staged a banquet for Captain Tate. Midst all the jollity and good wishes of the banquet occasion ran a vein serious thought on the rapidity with which science and invention has moved in the short 36 years since the epochal flight on Kitty Hawk in 1903.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Rabbin Cohen

Hollywood — Ann Sheridan is one of Hollywood's healthiest specimens which is astounding when you hear about a cork she once had.

The dark kitchen queen was excessively fond of keeping in supplies. She used lard when she had it, butter when she hadn't.

A dinner guest at Annie's house some time ago reports that the meat course sported such a peculiar flavor that he was obliged, despite himself and Miss Post, to inquire its nature.

Ilona Massey usually is the cheeriest, brightest of souls, but once in while, she confesses cheerfully, she wants to be alone to mope. The beautiful Hungarian cherishes, although not so studiously as some we could mention named Carbo, her right to occasional solitude. This she spends luxuriously in contemplating the sadness of things. This is merely the Hungarian equivalent of the mood indulge. "But I cannot do it often," she laments. "My friends—they telephone me, and they say I sound so lonely, so forlorn. They come right over to cheer me up! To cheer me up—when I am having such a lovely little being said."

Adolphe Menjou, have no doubt, is a monstrous clever fellow. Menjou's two passions—aside from saving enough money to insure against an old age in the poorhouse—are stamps and pennies. Of both he is an ardent collector and student.

William Gargan, working with him in "The Housekeeper's Daughters," is himself a collector of pennies. One day recently Gargan acquired a Lincoln copper—1908, I believe, but rare whatever its vintage—and decided to bait his friend.

He gave the penny to a studio waitress, with instructions she should let Menjou see it but demand a dollar for it. Simply buying a penny of course gives no true penny collector the thrill of the chase, and Menjou professed no interest in the coin although his eyes bulged at the sight.

"Hm-m-m," he told the girl, "I can buy one any time—it's no fun." For a couple of days Gargan was away from the studio. When he returned, he checked up. "I weakened," Mr. Gargan, the girl confessed. "He wouldn't give me a dollar for the penny—but he kept doubling my tips so—so—oh, well, I gave it to him!"

Menjou, by the way, is invariably gloomy about the prospects of any film he is in. Once he delivered himself of this class of capsule criticism: "There were three major catastrophes in 1939—the Thetis, the Squalus, and—that picture!"

DON'T SHOOT!—That trigger finger of A. L. Keith of the White House police force means business. He shot 296 (of a possible 300) in annual treasury department shoot at Washington. Armvid Anderson of Warroad, Minn., scored 299.

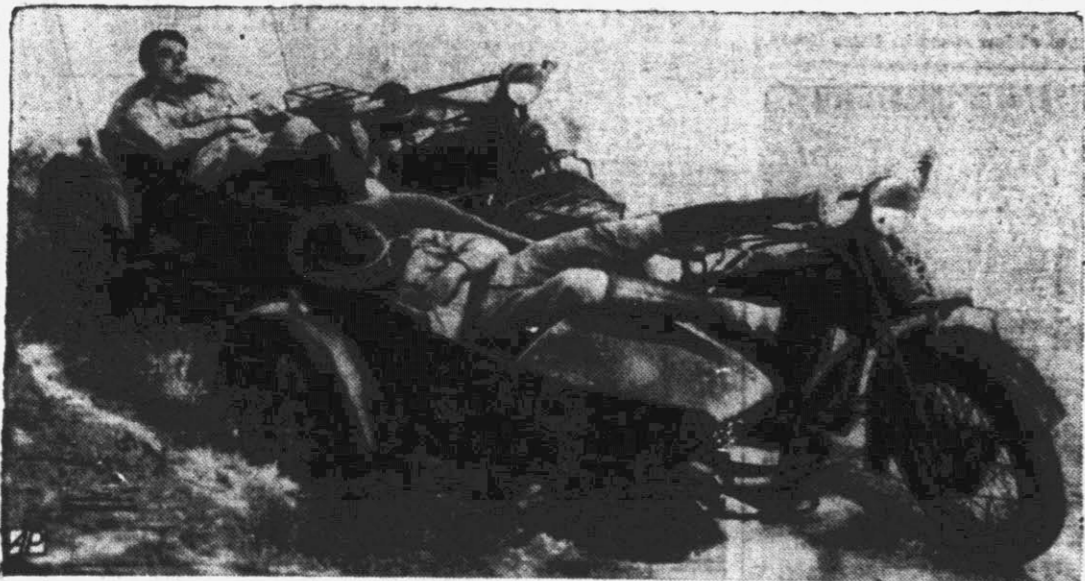

BEHIND THE WEIGHT BALL—Water for irrigating 36,400 acres of Colorado's fertile land will pile up behind Vallecito dam, of which above sphere is the form (in place) for a chamber that'll house four 5 x 5-foot gates in the outlet works. The bureau of reclamation is building this 150-foot earth and rock dam on the Pine river, 14 miles above Bayfield, Colo.

DOING THE BEAR WALK—To make sure that more muscles get healthy action, a school in Melbourne, Australia, has this bear walk for outdoor exercise in the school yard. Awkward at first, the pupils become experts at it.

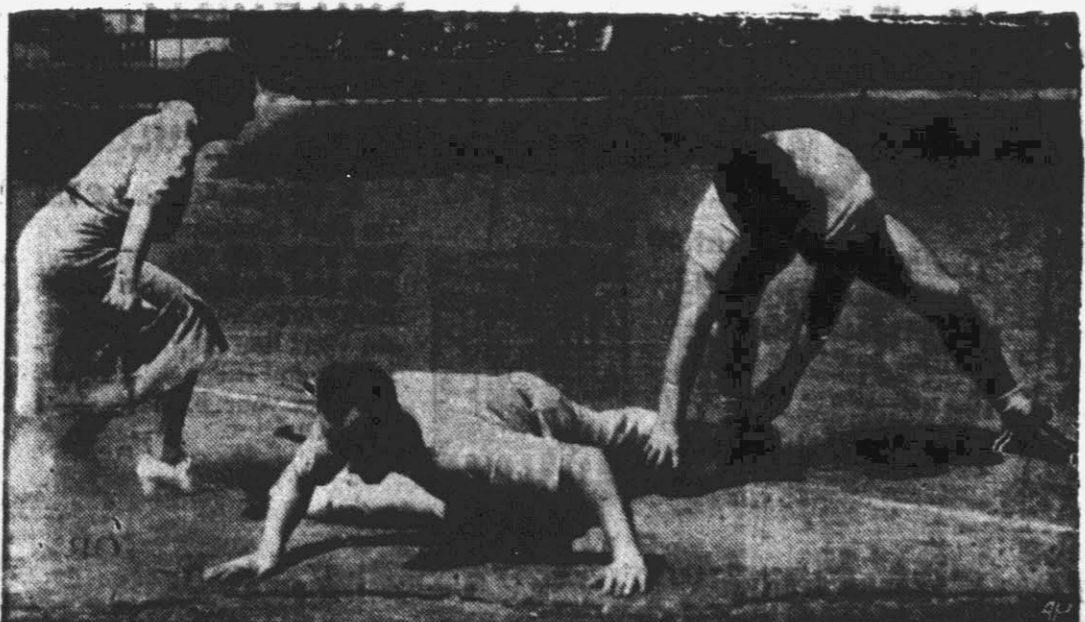

MAYBE SHERMAN WAS WRONG, ABOUT WAR—Two tired dispatch riders from Pennsylvania National Guard snooze, awaiting business during Manassas, Va., maneuvers.

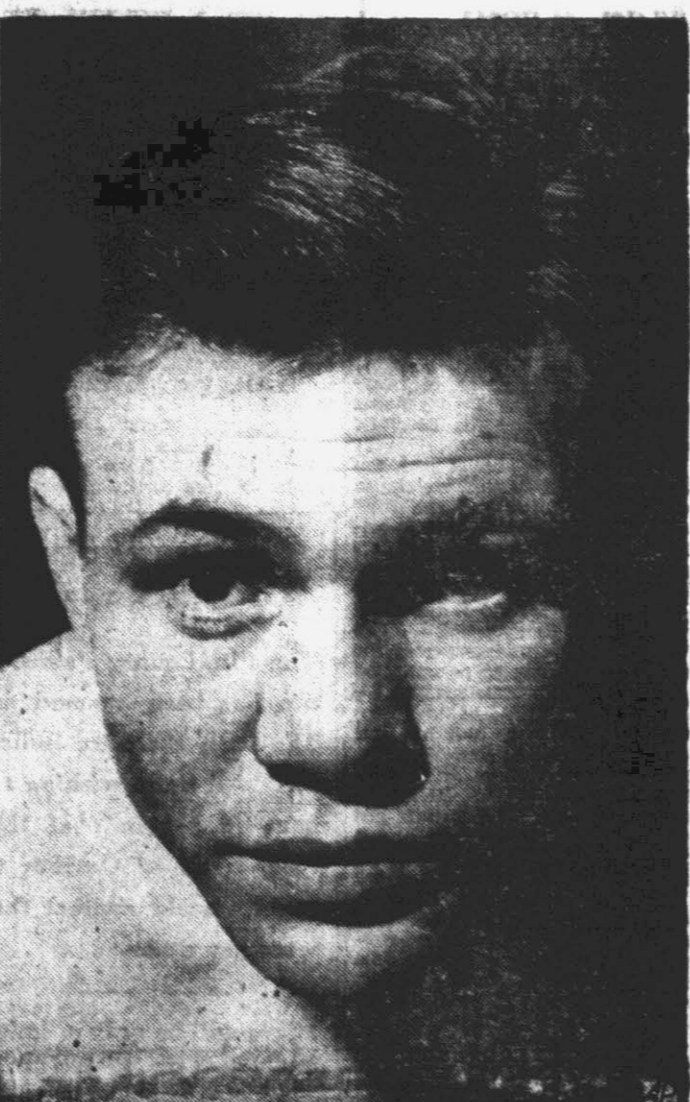

ENTER THE VILLIAN—No amount of coaxing could lure hay fever victims this close to some giant ragweed plants, 11 feet tall, being pointed out to Betty Lucansky, 5, and Irene Kokosz, by O. C. Durham, Chicago botanist. Ragweed is regarded as the worst offender among those plants whose spreading pollen brings sneezes and sniffles to hay fever sufferers.

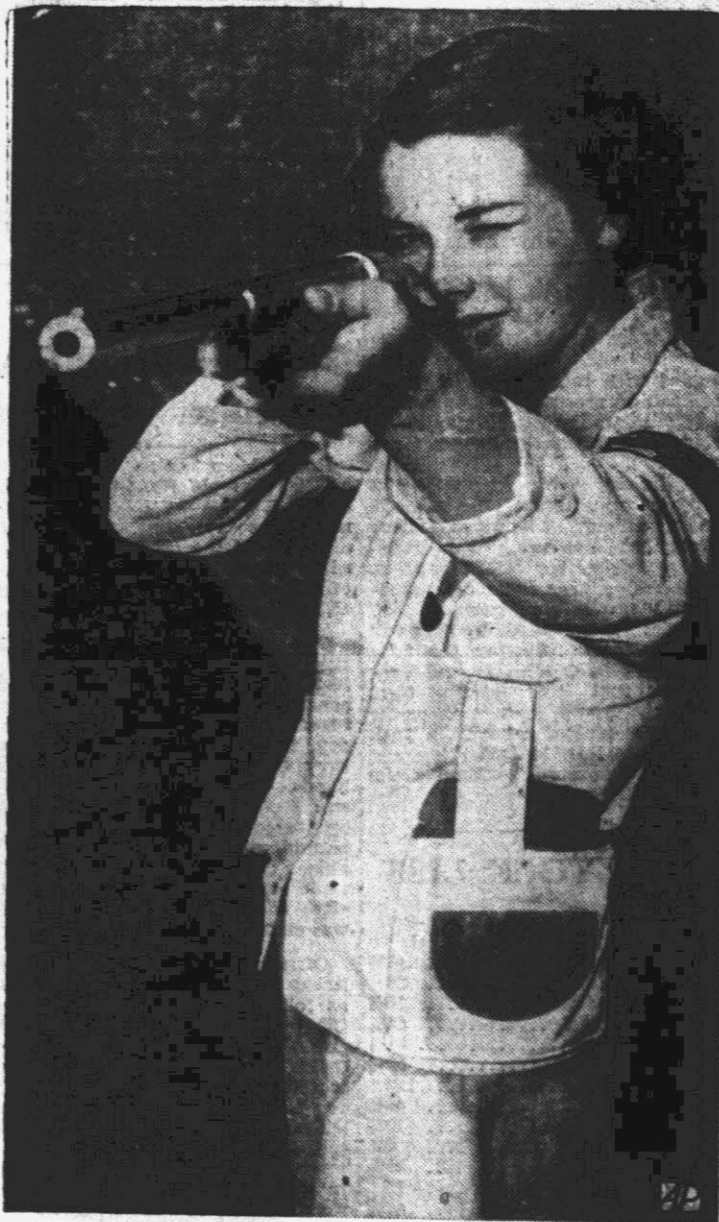

ROCK-BOUND COAST OF MAINE—Sadly the seven men comprising a crew for this Gloucester dragger, Annie Mary, watched her pound on the rocks off Cape Elizabeth, Me. The vessel, bound for Portland, Me., went aground in a fog, forcing the men to abandon ship and take to dories. No lives were lost. A Cape Elizabeth coast guard lifeboat picked up men.

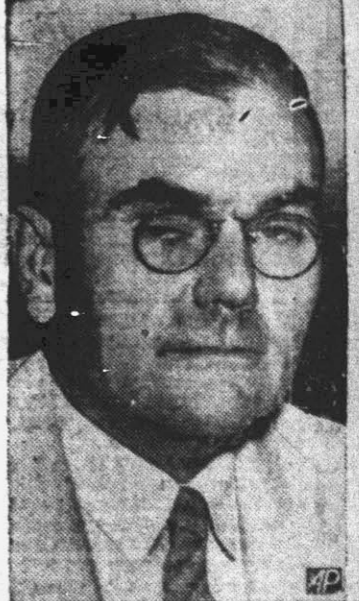

AND IF SHE CHANGES HER MIND?—The fans might have something to say if Lillian Spaulding, umpiring a game between six-man teams in New York, changed her mind, as is a woman's custom. Miss Spaulding, athletic director at Three Rivers, Mich., is studying baseball at Columbia. She calls Chuck Hotelich of Cleveland safe; Frank Bennett of Washington, N. J. covers bag.

RETURN ENGAGEMENT—When Lou Ambers (above) meets Henry Armstrong Aug. 22 in New York, he hopes that ring history won't repeat itself. Lou lost his fight with Henry in August, 1938, losing thereby the lightweight title.

WINS IF SHE LOSES—Even if she loses her national women's skeet shooting crown in the championships at San Francisco, Patricia Laursen, 27, of Akron, would win—a beauty contest. More than 300 sharpshooters are competing.

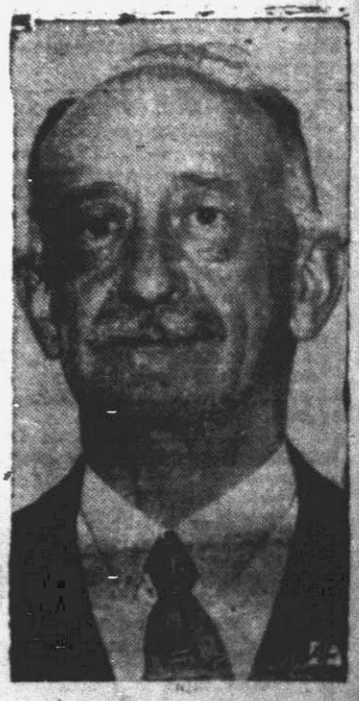

CHIMES—A musical as well as a legal note is struck by Golden Bell (above), who's to be legal adviser to Francis B. Sayre, new U. S. high commissioner to Philippines.

'ICEMAN'—Making up in grit what she lacks in size, frail-looking Mrs. Daisy Herbert, 95 pounds, is an 'iceman' at Barnegat, N. J., serving 130 customers even when they ask for 50-pound pieces four times a week. That must be a mega-ice cube she's carrying, above.

CALORIE-COUNTER—Extra poundage has been trying Henry Armstrong (above), who has to make his match with Lou Ambers Aug. 22 in New York.

N. Y. Stock Market
New York, Aug. 14—(AP)—A little better tone to the foreign news coupled with continuance of pleasing business prospects at home, help plenty stocks gain fractions to around two points in today's stock market.

Buying in nearly all categories made its appearance after a hesitant first hour. Volume was slack throughout, however, with transfers approximating 300,000 shares. Profit taking near the close reduced top marks in most cases.

One of the best performances was given by steels following the estimate of the American Iron and Steel Institute that this week's steel operations would jump two points to 62.1 per cent of capacity, a peak figure since Nov. 14, last.

Bonds improved. Commodities were a trifle mixed.
