HITLER'S GERMAN TROOPS AGAIN ON THE MARCH

AIM OF NAZIS 'GOBBLE' U. S. TO BE STUDIED

Noted Professor Called to Testify Monday

NAZI TEACHINGS WILL BE AIRED

Meanwhile, Washington's Seasoned Democratic Leaders Look to 1940 Elections

Washington, Aug. 19. (AP)—Told that Nazi Germany intends eventually to gobble up the United States, the Dies committee centered its attention today on how this might be brought about.

A committee representative said "a well-known educator whose professional standing and knowledge is beyond dispute," would be called Monday to testify concerning efforts to introduce Nazi teachings in American colleges.

Other developments: Some seasoned Democratic leaders are studying the practical problem of re-election which faces so many Democratic members of Congress in 1940 may serve to narrow the breach in the party's ranks during the next session.

Although a Democratic-Republican coalition worked effectively against much administration legislation during the last session, they said it may be more difficult to continue such a working arrangement next year.

Only Slight Damage In Fire Around Noon

Greenville firemen extinguished a blaze at the home of Roy Martin and N. R. Godley on the corner of 13th and Evans streets, around 12:20 today, with damage estimated by Fire Chief George Gardner to range at $40.

Fire Chief Gardner said the blaze was caused when an oil stove "flared up." He said that most of the damage resulted from smoke.

Firemen were summoned by another call this afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock when a light switch at the home of J. C. Cox on Colonial avenue, caused a short circuit, causing about $5 damage. The fire was out when firemen arrived at the scene.

Five Road Deaths In Pitt This Year

Five persons were killed and 62 injured on Pitt county roads the first seven months of 1939, while there were 456 deaths throughout the state during the same period.

During 1938 there were 18 persons killed in the county in 196 accidents. Throughout the state, traffic deaths for the present year are less than half of those in 1938 in 61 counties.

The counties in which more have already been killed this year than during all last year are Avery, Brunswick, Carteret, Cleveland, Cumberland, Currituck, Duplin, Henderson, Martin, McDowell, Mitchell, Orange, Rutherford, Union, Wilkes, Johnson and Lee.

Mistrial Ordered For Assault Case

Graham, N. C., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Judge John J. Burney ordered a mistrial today in the case of Roy Wagstaff, Burlington Negro, charged with criminal assault on a white woman of Burlington.

The jury, which began deliberations at 7 p. m., yesterday, reported this morning that it was hopelessly deadlocked, whereupon Judge Burney declared the mistrial and set the November term of court as the date for a second trial.

When Mrs. C. J. Mey, the complaining witness, testified yesterday, the court room was cleared of all spectators, including press representatives.

Alabama Flood Too Much for Locomotive

Plunging from a track undermined by floodwaters, this work-train locomotive carried Fireman M. C. Chisom to death and caused serious injury to Engineer E. D. Maharry. Scene of the accident was near Prattville, Ala., when a downpour dumped from four to six inches over the Montgomery-Prattville area.

ALL MANAGERS TO COOPERATE

Warehouse Officials Attend Dinner Meeting Here

Floor managers of the various tobacco auction warehouses in Greenville held a round-table discussion of mutual problems at a dinner meeting last night, at which they were guests at a steak dinner of their respective houses.

Gathered together for a round-table discussion of all market rules pertaining to receiving and spreading tobacco for its sale, they discussed all angles of this part of the auction sale system.

The consensus of opinion of those present was that Greenville has, by making a few changes and adding several new features, as perfect a sales system as can be devised for the prompt and orderly sale of tobacco. Without an exception, the various floor managers pledged their co-operation to Sales Supervisor R. C. (Bob) Rankin and to all others present, promising to keep the best interests of the tobacco growers and the market first in their minds throughout the 1939 selling season.

Practically everyone at last night's meeting mentioned the new market rule prohibiting the reservation of floor space, and stated that yesterday there were some patrons of the market who voiced objections to this new rule, but they were very few, the majority of those objecting agreeing, after the ruling and its benefits were explained to them, that it would prove to be beneficial to the farmer and the warehousemen alike.

During the 1938 season, many tobacco growers resented being told there was no room for their tobacco on a warehouse floor, when apparently three-fourths of the floor in that particular house was empty. Last year, reservations for space was booked one, two or three days in advance and then this space was held until the tobacco was brought to the market. Naturally a farmer was provoked when arriving in Greenville after a drive ranging from two to one hundred miles only to be told he could not have space on a floor partially covered with tobacco. Many of the floor managers expressed an opinion last night that

Far Cry of a Little Dog Still Rings Out in Wake

By HENRY AVERILL. Raleigh, Aug. 19. It seems a far cry from a yellow mongrel dog to that of government in North Carolina's capital city; but there are plenty of indications that just such a cur—or at least the killing thereof—is likely to prove decisive in swinging Raleigh from its city commission form of rule to a city manager.

Under a law passed by this year's General Assembly, an election is to be held next year to decide between the existing and the managerial form of city rule.

If it were to be held today, there seems little doubt that the managerial form would carry, and would carry principally, or at least largely, through burning, blazing resentment at the present Commissioner of Public Safety Robert C. Powell because what the resisters call his bungling of the situation which arose when City Detective Oliver Smith fatally clubbed a friendly dog to death on a main business street.

CalM Resolve IS ASSUMED BY GREAT BRITAIN

Balkans Carefully Eyed as Danger Spot

SLOVAKIA MOVE BEEN EXPECTED

Movement of Troops Enables Germany to Put Greater Pressure on Budapest for Aid

London, Aug. 19.—(AP) Britain eyed the Balkans carefully as a growing danger spot today, while holding firmly to an attitude of calm resolve in the face of grave European developments.

Government circles were said to have expected the announcing of the German "military possession" of Slovakia as a natural strategic move.

The little country which became a "protected state" after the partition of Czechoslovakia, yesterday provided the Reich with greater freedom to use it as a "jumping off" place by ratifying a military agreement with Germany.

Tacticians pointed out Germany, by having troops based in Slovakia on Hungary's northern border, could exert greater pressure on Budapest for cooperation in event of war.

It also was pointed out here German military forces in Slovakia would strengthen Germany's southeastern flank automatically in case of war against Poland.

Views With Alarm Clinic Attendance

Dr. N. Thomas Ennet, Pitt county health officer, today expressed much concern over the number of venereal disease patients who have recently lapsed in their treatment.

The health officer stated that he was unable to say how much of this is due to indifference on the part of the patient or how much is due to the employer. In an effort to overcome this situation, the health department is doing considerable follow-up work, and through the newspapers is making an urgent appeal to employers, both private and public employers, especially in this plea made to employers of tobacco laborers, to cooperate with the health department in its effort to control syphilis and gonorrhea in this community.

The health officer especially requested that the employer determine if the employee is under treatment, and if so, make it possible for the employee to be treated either privately or at the health department clinic.

The attendance at the venereal disease clinics in Greenville for the month of June was 1,645, for the month of July 1,176, and for August, estimated on a basis of attendance to date, 641.

Negro Convict Taken In Custody Yesterday

James Radman, Negro escapee from the prison camp near Aurora, was apprehended here yesterday by local police officers and last night was turned over to camp authorities.

Officers were advised that the Negro was believed to be in Greenville and they soon found the Negro and took him in custody.

Business 10 Per Cent Above Year Ago

Babson Sees More Improvement Coming This Fall

Babson Park, Mass., Aug. 19.—August business is fairly good. It is 10 per cent above a year ago and at the highest level for any August in 10 years, excepting only 1936 and 1937. It is a trifle quieter than it was a month ago, but it is well above the low point for 1939. Most encouraging point about the current recovery is the fact that business is really making money.

Earnings of over 300 companies, which represent a real cross-section of American industry, trade and transportation, were 80 per cent higher in the first six months of 1939 than in the same period of 1938. The profits of a few companies reached new all-time highs while the profit margin of the average concern was good. Of course, there are some "sick" companies that are still using plenty of red ink. Fewer businesses, however, have been go-

Will Germany Want More Than Danzig?

Map of Eastern Europe showing Danzig Corridor, East Prussia, and other regions.

This map, in which shaded areas represent territories lost by Germany in the World War, emphasizes the size of the German-Polish problem. While in Berlin it was hinted Germany might want more than Danzig heightened military activity took the spotlight at several points along the frontier.

At Schneidemuehl (1) German border town, roads were dotted with military cars and trucks. At Gleiwitz (2) German troops had "dug in" within 300 feet of Poland's border. At Mährisch-Ostrau (3) in the Protectorate of Bohemia-Moravia, a newspaper reported the Poles had closed the frontier between Poland and both the protectorate and Slovakia, barricading the road over the Jablunka Pass.

Pope Asking the World To Avert Further War

Urges Statesmen to Bring Quarrels to an End

Castel Gandolfo, Italy, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Pope Pius, XII, today asked that statesmen of the world try to settle their quarrels and avert further war.

Those who heard the Pope speak in Italian quoted him as saying "he had not abandoned hope that the rulers, conscious of their responsibility, wanted to spare the people such a serious disaster."

He spoke to a large group of Italian pilgrims.

His hearers said the Pope advised "prudence and reserve" while awaiting development of events.

Meanwhile, the Pope granted a private audience to Postmaster James Farley, who is on a European vacation trip.

Charges Brought Against Pitt Man

Corporal L. L. Jackson of the highway patrol today reported that Walter Stocks of near Farmville is being charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor and reckless driving growing out of an accident about two miles from Bruce when he struck a parked truck operated by Albert Coates of near Greenville.

Stocks received lacerations of the head in the accident. Henry Harris and Eugene Bass, both Negroes, riding with Stocks, received lacerations. Although painful, their injuries are not regarded as serious. The accident occurred yesterday.

WPA Teaching Women How to Operate an Auto

Grade A drivers. Average age of all the 2,367 drivers graduated (white and colored, male and female) is 24, and so the fledgling operators aren't all in the category of old dogs being taught new tricks.

A statistical breakdown for the 9 classes which have been completed has been issued by Lieutenant Lieutnant Early of the WPA, who head the schools operated in close cooperation with the state Highway Safety Division.

Auto Is Stolen Here And then Demolished

An automobile belonging to T. H. Bowling was stolen from here yesterday afternoon and wrecked about five miles from Greenville on the Falkland highway.

Highway Patrolman C. K. Williams today was continuing an investigation into the theft. He said the automobile was demolished.

Larger Slice Of Slovakia Occupied by Nazi Forces

Confirmation of 'Military Possession' Lacking in Berlin, But Tens of Thousands of Soldiers Observed in Northern Borderland, Causing New Fears in Poland

Bratislava, Slovakia, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The German army tightened its "protective" grip on Slovakia today with measures described by a Bratislava radio announcement last night as "military possession."

German troops were deployed along the Polish-Slovak frontier for at least a hundred miles, a far greater zone than that fixed by the treaty last March when Germany guaranteed Slovakia's independence for 25 years.

In Berlin it could not be confirmed that Germany had taken "military possession" of Slovakia. "Military possession" of the frontier districts indicated there had been no change in German recognition of Slovak sovereignty. These quarters said developments in Slovakia were "following the course mapped out when the country arranged for and received German protection."

Soldiers of the Reich were reported moving in large numbers through the high Tatras, the mountain stronghold of northeast Slovakia, which is regarded by military strategists as the back door to Poland.

Tens of thousands of German troops were observed in the vicinity of the northwest terminal of the Polish frontier.

Bratislava, the capital at the southwest tip of Slovakia, apparently remained under formal Slovak authority, but the high Tatras valley and the northern borderland were admitted were controlled by the German military command.

Slovak radio listeners were stunned last night when an English-speaking voice with reassuring tones announced from the Bratislava station, "Owing to the existing situation, Germany has taken military possession of Slovakia."

This action was taken for Slovakia's "protection," the announcement added.

Warsaw, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The Polish viewpoint on Germany's tightening of her grip on Slovakia is summed up in this way in political circles:

"It must be regarded as evidenced that German pressure (on Poland) is now increasing hour by hour instead of day by day. And also from a moral standpoint the reported move in Slovakia must be regarded as interesting. The same Germany which complained so bitterly of 'encirclement,' would appear to be embarking on a deliberate program of military encirclement of Poland."

Woman's Auxiliary Meets.
The regular August meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the N. P. D. C. met jointly with the local men's organization, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Evans, Friday, August 18th.

Plans for a local constitution were discussed, but final adoption was delayed until the September meeting. For the next month it was decided to have a "Round the Basket," to contribute to the funds of the club. The September meeting will be held at Mrs. W. G. Craft's.

A "white elephant" sale was greatly enjoyed by all the members. Prior to the adjournment a delightful social hour was enjoyed, during which the hostess, assisted by her daughters, Misses Hazel Gray and Jean Evans, served delicious refreshments.

Members present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Owens, Mrs. Clyde Maddrin, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Dudley, Mrs. W. G. Craft and Mr. and Mrs. Evans.—Reported.

First Presbyterian Church.
All members and pupils of the church school are reminded of the regular meeting of the school Sunday morning at 9:45. Since vacation is over it is time to start a Sunday school. There is a class for every age. "A School for the Whole Family" is the slogan. All teachers are urged to be present or provide a substitute.

The preaching service will be at 11 o'clock. At this service the pastor, Dr. Robert S. Boyd, will speak. The subject will be "What Old Time Religion Has to Offer." The text is John 10:9. The service for Meadbrook Mission will be at 8 p. m. This is an open air service. Comfortable seats are provided. The public is most cordially invited to attend. A cordial invitation is extended to all "newcomers" to Greenville to attend the services of this church.

Union services of the city churches will be held at this church Sunday night at 8 o'clock. Special music will be provided by a volunteer chorus.

On Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock the Woman's Auxiliary will meet in the basement of the church. All women of the congregation and their friends are invited to attend. This is the regular inspirational meeting of the women.

On Thursday night both Elders and Deacons of the church will hold their monthly meeting at the Mansie, 400 E. Ninth street, at 8 o'clock. Every officer is urged to attend.

All officers and teachers of the Bible school will meet next Wednesday evening at 7:30 with Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harvey, 410 Latham street. A full attendance is urged.

YESTERDAY: Lady Rathbone can't find her diamond pin, and insists that it wasn't LOST. Mrs. Brewster smooths over the unpleasant situation. Back as Olivia's Tony finds her bracelet on her bed.

Four Quarts Of Raspberries

Laura's small cottage lay a short distance to the right from the fork to the North road. The fork to the North road was in Cecily Stuart's memory. The path to the North road was the one that led to the little shack, to Locke, to her heart.

There were dewy cobwebs on the grass at that early hour. There were bright thistles and little crickets. New things to see in the early morning. Cecily greeted them all.

Laura's house had the look of a house asleep and, momentarily, Cecily felt that she ought to let it remain in its peace. But the pangs of hunger assailed her. She rapped loudly on the white door.

Laura, sleepy-eyed, opened the door. "What brought you here?" "Starvation," Cecily answered concisely, "and a desire for complete rest. Lead me to the kitchen and prepare to be waited on."

"You know where it is. You'll find bacon and other things in the cupboard. I'll be with you in a jiffy."

Cecily threw her coat on a settee and found an apron. She tied it on, took mixing bowls and skillet from Laura's pantry and went to work. Break the eggs into the bowl. Add a teaspoonful of ice cold water and one of thick cream for each egg. "Have you any Worcestershire? Good! Six drops per egg. Beat the daylight out of them.

Home-made bread? It's too good to toast. Put the coffee on. Why does coffee cooked over a wood fire taste like something from Heaven? Cook the bacon quickly and put it on a piece of brown paper to drain. There, now, pop in the beaten eggs.

Thick yellow china on a plaid cotton tablecover. A brown bean-jar filled with marigolds. Sunlight like benediction. Oh, it's fun to play house! It would be heavenly to have a house of one's own. No wonder the song-writers get lyrical over hearths and little white cottages and curtains in the breeze. They never write about mansions on Fifth Avenue, do they? French windows, or steam pipes?

"Yum! Laura, wide-awake, her nose eagerly sniffing the breakfast, came into the kitchen. "So you've domestic talents!"

"Try a snack of this and find out," Cecily said, helping her generously from the platter of eggs. "How was the party?" Laura said a little later.

"Well, it was exciting. Very formal at first. In fact, very formal to the very end, but there was an interlude! It began with may-I-presents, went on to clear mushroom soup, broiled sole, pheasant in wine sauce, peas in cream, artichokes and a dessert made of fresh raspberries, cream and I wouldn't know what—but glorious."

"All right, gourmet! Was that all the excitement?" Cecily laughed. "I'll weigh two hundred before I'm thirty if I keep up this Maine appetite. No, pet, that wasn't all. Lady Rathbone lost a valuable diamond pin and practically accused all of us of taking it."

"No!" "Yes! But Madame Brewster handled it so beautifully. I'm sure that just by willing it, she made the pin appear exactly where it should have been after we left. I suppose things like that seem terribly portentous up here just because things like that don't happen here, as Aunt Olivia pointed out."

"Locke's Strike" "But something must have happened! If she doesn't find the pin, surely there'll be police officers."

"Oh, Laura, don't be ridiculous! Can you imagine a police officer tendering his card at Mrs. Brewster's front door?"

"It does sound exciting, Cecily! What good luck! Late yesterday the orchid yarn that Miss Champion ordered came in. I can take it up to her this morning and see if the pin turned up."

Miss Champion was Mrs. Brewster's companion-secretary. "Don't you want to take a blood-hound with you?" Cecily laughed. Cecily kept her bemused smile to herself when she saw Laura looking at the clock later that morning while she unpacked her case of yarn.

"I really ought to take this to Miss Champion," she ventured. "Why don't you?" Cecily pretended that she didn't know Laura was burning up with curiosity. "A half-hour later, she was glad that Laura had gone.

Locke presented himself at the screen door back of the shop. "I brought you a present," he said grandiloquently and he presented as well as he could. "Jam!" she said, as though it were a jar of rubies. "The jam what am," he pronounced.

Wednesday afternoon in the Greenville Woman's Club building, Miss Pauline Smith and B. Troy Ferguson, district agents, and representatives from the AAA division were present. There is considerable alarm over the fact that only 30 per cent of the farmers in North Carolina are complying with the soil conservation program. In the nation, 80 per cent are complying. Money earmarked for this purpose is not being used, and each year we lose thousands of dollars. It takes good soil to make good crops and Pitt county as well as other counties faces a real crisis if the soil is not built up and maintained. All men and women are urged to give this every possible consideration.

Program Planning
Program planning meetings are being held by both men and women extension agents in all counties. This will be discussed with the women in each club this month. On September 19 and 20, a district meeting will be held in Rocky Mount, at which time these programs must be completed.

Witha Council Tribe No. 25.
Plans for a booster meeting were outlined last night at a regular session of I. O. R. M.'s enthusiastic council members.

Several spirited talks were made by several brothers of the tribe relative to the proposed booster meeting.

Despite the inclement weather, a good attendance was realized at last night's meeting.

Miss Staples Honored.
Miss Ramona Staples, who on Friday afternoon of next week will become the bride of Mr. N. O. VanNortwick, Jr., was honored last evening when Mrs. W. J. Bundy entertained at bridge at her home on Eastern street.

A color motif of pink and white was used in the table appointments and pink gladioli and asters in lovely arrangements decorated the rooms where the card tables were placed.

At the close of the playing Mrs. Bundy presented a guest prize to Miss Mary Louise DeBruhl of New Bern, who is the house guest of Mrs. John Bark. Miss DeBruhl was also presented a dainty shoulderette.

Mrs. Dave Mosier was awarded the high score prize and Mrs. J. W. Kirkpatrick received the low score prize. The slam prize went to Mrs. Billy Norman.

The hostess remembered Miss Staples with a gift of silver in her selected pattern. The honor guest was also presented a beautiful corsage.

A tempting salad course was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Wade Tedmore Britt Honored.
Ayden, Aug. 19.—One of the most brilliant events of the social season was a tea given by Mesdames E. D. Britt and Russell D. Britt on Thursday afternoon from four until six when they entertained at the home of the former, honoring Mrs. Wade Tedmore Britt, a recent bride.

On arrival, the guests were greeted by Mrs. Russell D. Britt, who directed them to the reading room where the receiving line was formed, being composed of the hostess, honoree, Mrs. Clay Stroud, Jr., Mrs. William C. Ormond, Mrs. Clyde Tyndall, Jr., Mesdames J. B. and Miss Jeanette Edwards. August 18th.

A color scheme of Jetze beauty dahlias predominated here. The hostesses presented the members of the receiving line shoulderettes of pink rosebuds and anemones showered with gypsophelia. The honoree wore a shoulderette of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley.

The guests were directed to the registration desk where permanent signatures were secured for the bride's book, presided over by Mrs. J. A. Collins of Greenville.

In the living room, which was decorated with lavender gladioli, blue painted tuberoses and angel lilies, Miss Frances Turnage directed the guests to the lace covered table from which Misses Willie Yvonne Boyd and Jean Cannon served delicious punch from a molded ice bowl studded with American Beauty roses.

Mrs. W. D. Johnson, Jr. invited the callers to the white gladioli and dahlia decorated dining room. A handsome lace cloth graced the dining table, which was effectively appointed in the traditional green and white, and held a silver bowl of tuberoses, pompos, lilies, asters and fern, flanked by white tapered silver candelabra, guarded by a miniature bridal couple. Here Mrs. Frank Davis of Farmville, and Mrs. J. E. Burgess served green and white block cream from silver platters, also decorated green and white cakes, minis and salted nuts. They were assisted in serving by Mrs. Ralph P. Hardee, Mrs. Sam Pierce and Mrs. E. L. Turnage.

Mrs. J. E. Taylor directed the guests from the dining room to Mrs. Pierce Sumrell, who heard the good-byes.

Electrically controlled instrumental music was furnished during the afternoon.

Around ninety-five guests called during the afternoon.

The series of farm tours conducted by the State College Extension Service this summer has resulted in more farmers adopting improved practices, says R. W. Snodgrass, farm management specialist.

UNC Sends Out Call To 45 Grid Candidates

Open With Citadel September 23; 12 Lettermen

Chapel Hill, N. C., Aug. 19.—The coveted call to return for early practice went out this week to 45 candidates for the University of North Carolina's 1939 football team.

The two-score hopefuls will gather here the first of September to start the race for prized berths—starting and relief—on the 1939 eleven, which opens against The Citadel here September 23.

Coach Ray Wolf will be beginning his fourth season here.

The number to receive the early practice call included a veteran nucleus of 12 lettermen, covering every position except right halfback.

Tar Heel supporters are expecting a team about as strong as last year's, which won six games, lost two and tied one.

Right tackle — Chuck Kline, Jim Mallory, Jack Connelly, Frank Doty.

Washington Daybook

By Frances Grover

Washington — Frank McHale, presidential campaign manager for Paul V. McNutt, is not even missing small bets for support in 1940.

Somebody tipped him off that Senator Bone of Washington was born in Franklin, Ind., which is McNutt's home town.

"Of course you will support a fellow townsman," he wrote to Senator Bone.

The power-baiting senator from Washington enjoyed the "touch." But maybe McNutt as a boy did not have "that commanding personality" which his friends say now distinguishes him. Anyway, Bone doesn't remember him.

One of the troubles with the administration's spending — lending bill was that it had too many aliases, none of which quite explained what it was.

"Self-liquidating projects bill," was one; "Work financing bill" another. More commonly it was known as the "Spending-Lending bill." Poes combined these words into horrendous "Spending."

In the hour of its death struggle, Senator Barkley, majority leader, fell on an old one in an attempt to give it a better background. But even under his title of "Works projects bill" the senate cut its liver out and the house embalmed it.

Placidly throughout all, the Congressional Record called it "A bill to provide for the financing of a program of recoverable expenditures and for other purposes."

Note to tourists: If you happen to be in the front yard of the White House he will clip you a piece of ivy right off the presidential mansion. You can keep it alive in a bottle of water or a wet towel until you get home.

And for a dime you can buy flower and vegetable seeds grown helps keep the old place from going to rack and ruin. . . . Also ask the guide at the Capitol to show you Vice-President Garner's office next to the senate. It will jar you. Assistant deputy road commissioners get better offices in your home state. . . . Of course, Garner, too, has a better office—a quarter-mile away in the senate office building.

Overhead in the Department of Agriculture: "That woman knows every man in this department under 40. There ought to be a law against it."

Just to close amid a rural atmosphere, we will quote Senator Smith of South Carolina (didn't call him Cotton Ed this time). He was busy attacking people who want laws to protect wool growers such as dairymen: . . .

"A senator who was devoted to the butter industry asked me, 'Do you pretend to say that the miserable stuff taken from cottonseed is as good as good Elgin butter?'"

"Well," I said, "I do not know. I take my cow and feed her on cottonseed alone and I milk from her the product of the cottonseed, as changed by the chemistry of her anatomy, and churn it into butter — pure cottonseed butter run through a cow. Science runs cottonseed through a machine and extracts butter. I believe I would just about as soon have the machine products, because it is not as subject to animal disease as it is when run through the cow."

And the senate laughed.

SHORT SHOTS

Reflector Bureau.

By HENRY AVERILL.
Raleigh, Aug. 19.—Under their constitution, Young Democrats cannot endorse the candidacy of any individual for any office, and so: Davidson county's Y. D.'s met in duly convened assembly, endorsed the "records" of President Roosevelt and Congress Burgh, and then: Adjoined as Young Democrats and re-convened immediately as a "mass meeting" whereat the candidacy of former State Senator Lester A. Martin for lieutenant governor was endorsed.

Just another proof of the old saw about there being more ways than one to kill a dog.

Speaking of dog killing reminds that the Raleigh detective who clubbed one to death recently was given 10 payless days in which to reflect on the fact that blackjacking is not nearly as approved a method as choking to death on a butter.

There has been much criticism of North Carolina's World's Fair exhibit. Neil (Battling) Lewis has been crying out against it and her castigations have been taken up by others.

Yet Bill Sharp's news office of the Department of Conservation and Development is still in there battling in its effort to prove the exhibit is just about the best at the fair.

Latest quote is a blurb from George Jensen of Minneapolis (otherwise unidentified), who wrote: "A perfectly grand exhibit—North Carolina must be some state. One of the finest state exhibits on the grounds. Compact but explanatory. When I entered your exhibit I thought North Carolina was just another state, but now I think it is one of the most outstanding."

It looked something like General Assembly days in the Sir Walter lobby Friday—what with Speaker Libby Ward, Greene's Representative E. A. (Sheriff) Rasberry and Dare's Roy Davis in a close huddle along about lunch time.

Libby had little to say on any political topic, only smiled discreetly when queried about his gubernatorial intentions. As for Rasberry, he would go so far as to indicate he is making no haste whatever to tie up with any of the currently touted candidates.

There is a school of thought which feels the popular Craven lawmakers might well slip in and run off with the main prize if there's too mad a scramble among the half dozen or so now regarded as the leading aspirants.

"Sheriff" Rasberry looked to be in prime health. He says he has been using "five gallons of gasoline a day" driving around his plantations.

Dare's Davis, like everybody else from down that way, was making Roanoke Island's "Lost Colony" so the skies and advising all and sundry they'd better make reservations in advance if ever they want to go to Manteo, Neg's Head or Roanoke Island on a week-end.

A timely tip to those who may wish to see State department heads "Don't come to Raleigh now—the officials are practically all either on vacation, off attending some sort of a convention, or just—"off" with no particular reason.

Here's one that is going the rounds — sometimes told on one of the gubernatorial candidates, sometimes on another. It probably didn't happen, but it might have, anyhow.

According to the yarn, the candidate approaches a very influential political leader whose support he is particularly anxious to get.

"I'm considering making the race for governor and I'd like you to support me."

To which the assigned answer from the political figure is: "Well, as long as you're just considering running, I'll just consider supporting you."

It has also been suggested that plowing under every third or perhaps every odd-numbered governorship aspirant might be a fine crop control measure.

R. P. Bender, Jones' perennial House member, was in Raleigh Thursday. The tobacco crop down his way is fine, the weather has been favorable and everybody is getting along well, Mr. Bender said.

In fact, the tobacco crop is so big that if prices hold anything like the level at which they started off on the Border belt, Jones county folks will get more money this year than they did last, the representative believes.

Speaking of "level," an old Negro saw Dr. Will Long, Alamance county House member, at the Big Farmers Day at Alexander Wilson school this week and accosted him thus: "Howdy, Doc Will. I thought they'd done leveled you off a long time ago."

Anybody watching the animated doctor in close communion with a good looking girl, will take the stand and swear he's still very, very much alive.

From the most recent issue of Employment News, organ of the North Carolina State Employment Service, it appears that the youngest employer ever to appear was a nine-year-old in Asheville. He came in with his mother, who runs a restaurant but cannot speak English, and did all the talking that led up to employment of a waitress.

The same source reports that in Durham a circus clown is registered as looking for a job.

ELEPHANTS' DREAM COMES TRUE—Though they all tried, these circus elephants could eat only 500 pounds of this peanut pile at Suffolk, Va. Peanut millers furnished the "eats."

BABSON

Investors are not the only ones who are smiling over the good profit reports coming out in the daily papers. Wage and salary workers have found the pressure for wage cuts letting up. Payrolls are 22 per cent greater than last year. In fact, in the last few weeks, I have heard of wages being upped in 252 companies in 24 separate industries. I have not heard of any decreases, but companies ordinarily do not advertise their cuts. Better profits are also being mirrored in higher strike totals as workers begin asking for more money. There are 179 labor flare-ups this month, compared with 150 last month and only 81 a year ago.

Three Major Reasons for these good earnings reports. The first one I have already mentioned—business is fairly good. Second reason is that costs have been cut to the bone by improved efficiency of workers and machines. The average does not realize it, but the progress which America is making with labor-saving machines is truly astounding. The labor-union activity of the last few years has forced concerns to install machinery that will do the work of hundreds of workers at a fraction of the cost. Despite low retail prices, the full effects of this trend are now finally being shown in company reports.

The third major cause of good profits is the low cost of raw materials. Despite recent stiffening, prices of industrial commodities have been drifting along at the lowest level in five years. Price weakness is usually considered a bad sign—but without reason. History shows that prosperity and low prices go hand in hand. Cheap raw materials mean retail price tags can be kept low, sales can be boosted, factories can be expanded, jobs can be increased. Five years of trying vainly to create recovery by inflating prices should prove to everyone that high prices ultimately bring depression—not prosperity.

Buying Power Holds Up
As a result of good earnings, there are more people working now than at any time since February, 1938. Meanwhile, 1939 crops are turning out well. Prices are off, but cash income for farmers in 1939 will be about as good as in 1938. So as the situation stands today, investors have a little more money to spend; there are more wage workers employed and their pay envelopes are fatter; and, finally, farm cash income is holding steady.

The natural result of all this is a step-up in retail sales. In spite of the usual July-August dullness, cash registers have been clanging vigorously all summer. Sales are averaging five to ten per cent ahead of a year ago throughout the continent. Newspaper advertising linage is higher, travel on the highways is greater, traffic on the railroads is heavier, use of electricity is at a new all-time peak, tourist spending is breaking all records.

Air Pocket Ahead?
We are moving into the dead end of the summer. For the next fortnight, business is going to drift along at about the current level or even a little slower pace. On September 5, the curtain rises on the business world's New Year. One of the most important factors that will affect the trend of business after Labor Day is the improvement in sentiment this summer. The New Deal's smashing defeat in Congress, the June-July improvement in business, the news of good company earnings, and the continued truce in Europe has cheered both Main Street and Wall Street.

In my opinion this lifting of the gloom means that we are going to have a good autumn. I am not forecasting any boom, but I am sure that the improvement that we have noticed since spring is going to carry on in the months ahead, barring war or war scares. A year ago I told you that there would be no European war before this fall. I was correct although most writers disagreed. Today I am making no forecasts. Eliminating war from the picture, however, look for business this fall as good or better than in 1937 or 1938.

There are also some reports, rather nebulous to be sure and not capable of confirmation, that the political forces which put Mayor Graham Andrews and Commissioner Powell in office are completely "fed up" on their own proteges and in rather a repentant mood for their coup in this year's municipal elections.

nated, 34 per cent of them men, 66 women. Average age of white enrollees was 23, and average grade for both courses was 89.
Raleigh, with 17 classes, graduated, tops the list, with Winston-Salem's 16 classes only a step behind. Fayetteville has had 11 units, High Point 9, Asheville and Durham 6 each, New Bern 5, Wilmington 4, Charlotte 2, Goldsboro 1. In addition there was one special class conducted for principals and teachers of the Columbus county schools.

All but two of the cities (Charlotte and New Bern) are still maintaining the schools, which have a current enrollment of 314, divided as follows: Asheville 74, Durham 33, Fayetteville 13, Goldsboro 39, High Point 27, Raleigh 33, Wilmington 45 and Winston-Salem 50.
On the Negro side of the picture 13 classes have shown a total enrollment of 695, with 547 graduates, of whom 28 per cent were men, 72 per cent women. Average age of graduates was 26 and average grade attained by the graduates was 84.

Raleigh has graduated 7 classes, New Bern 3, Fayetteville 2 and Winston-Salem 1. Currently there are 150 Negroes enrolled, 50 each in schools at Fayetteville, Raleigh and Winston-Salem. The New Bern classes have been discontinued.
Director Ronald Hocutt of the Highway Safety Division is enthusiastic about the schools, and is particularly elated over the fact that most of the enrollees are young people.

"I have consistently maintained that the only real long range solution of the safe driving problem is through the youth of North Carolina, and it is particularly gratifying to see that the young people are taking advantage of the courses in drive offered them by the WPA-sponsored schools," he said.
"When the day comes that safety is taught in our schools from the first grade through the graduating class in high school it will not be long before the fact is reflected in steadily declining accidents and fatalities on the highways.

It is my belief that teaching of safety to children carries right through the adults, because the child who is learning it goes home and tells about it to the grownups of his family."

N. Y. Stock Market
New York, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Stock market traders, while still "war conscious," apparently took a little calmer view of the European jumble today and selling contracted noticeably during the brief session.
Although few issues were able to negotiate any real recovery from Friday's sharp relapse, further declines were limited to fractions in most cases.
Transfers approximated 259,000 shares.

Escapes Revealed By Superintendent

Raleigh, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Leon Alphin, 35, serving a total of 20 years for conspiracy to rob, breaking and entering and larceny and receiving, imposed in March, 1938, in Greene county, has escaped from Calendon prison camp, Oscar Pitts, penal superintendent, said today.
James R. Redmond, 34, sent up from Johnston county in December for four to five years for forgery and false pretense, escaped from the Beaufort county camp, Pitts said.

Daniels Disputes Figures of Baise

Manteo, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Melvin R. Daniels, president of the Southern Association, issued a statement here today saying projects advocated by that organization would not cost nearly so much as Chief Highway Engineer Vance Baise was reported to have estimated.
In his statement Daniels said completion of a road from Croatan Sound to Manteo would not cost more than $10,000 instead of $50,000 estimate attributed to Baise.
"The probable cost of bridging Alligator river is set at $900,000," his statement said. "When one considers the width and depth of this river which compared with Currituck sound which was bridged for less than $20,000, we must assume that he has in mind giving us a bridge far superior to anything he builds in North Carolina. He quotes the cost of a bridge over Croatan sound, which we are not now insisting upon, as $1,000,000. Yet this bridge would cost little more than the Alligator river bridge. One million dollars would build both structures far superior to any now enjoyed by the Dare county section."
Daniels disputed other figures attributed to Baise.

Endurance Fliers Fly Only 9 Hours

Fox Lake, Ill., Aug. 19.—(AP)—The attempt of two Lake county aviators to better an endurance record for light planes failed today after approximately nine hours of flying.
William Solbert, 40, and Homer Sawyer, 24, landed their 55-horsepower monoplane at 9:45 a. m. CST after an unsuccessful attempt to get fresh fuel flowing from a special refueling tank.
Hoping to stay aloft until Sept. 2, the fliers took off from the lake region airport at 12:45 a. m.

Retired Artillery Chieftain Is Dead

Portland, Me., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Major General John W. Gulick, 65, retired, former chief of artillery, died here yesterday of a cerebral hemorrhage he suffered two weeks ago.
A native of Goldsboro, N. C., he began his military career as a first lieutenant of volunteers in the Philippines in 1898.
After returning last November he came to Portland, the home of his wife, to live. He is survived by his widow, who was Florence McMullan. The funeral will be held Monday in Arlington cemetery.

Negro Being Sought In Automobile Wreck

Highway patrolmen today were seeking to apprehend a Negro who will be charged with hit-and-run driving growing out of an accident on the Greenville-Bethel highway about 10 miles from here early today.
Patrolmen C. L. Teague and W. W. Massengill, investigating, said a light passenger car driven by an unidentified Negro struck a truck operated by J. A. Smith of Pinetown. Damage was slight and no one was injured.
The Negro fled from the scene of the accident and left his automobile.
The 4-H Wildlife Conference, to be held at Camp Millstone near Hoffman, August 21-25, is expected to draw delegates from most of North Carolina's 100 counties, said L. R. Harrill of State College.

SCALE TESTING FOR NEW BELT

Border Belt Scales Found To Be Accurate

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Aug. 19.—Weights and measures inspectors of the State Department of Agriculture are now checking tobacco scales in the New Bright tobacco belt prior to opening of sales there next week.
This checkup follows one which revealed that seed scales in the Border belt are almost one hundred percent accurate. C. D. Bacon, chief of the weights and measures division, said today.
He said he expects to find the same condition in other belts.
He pointed out that his division is a bit more active in the field of warehouse and gin scales because of the new state law enacted by the 1939 legislature requiring all public weights to be licensed.
Under provisions of the act, weighers are required to certify all commodities they weigh as to correctness of their weight.
Commenting on the excellent condition and almost perfect accuracy of Border belt scales he said:
"Typical of the findings of inspectors is the case of warehouses in one large market where 4,387,356 pounds of leaf were sold through the week ended August 11, representing approximately 33,000 baskets with a total error in weight of only 89 pounds about the tolerance being found."
"This condition reflects credit to the warehouse operators and gives the farmer assurance they are getting paid pound-for-pound for all the tobacco they sell. Then, too, the warehousemen seem to appreciate weighing equipment."
