

Complete Mobilization Of British Navy Ordered As Army Also Strengthened

ADDITION ALSO TO AIR FORCES

Moves Taken After Special Meeting of Defense Ministers and Key Cabinet Ministers; Stock Exchange to Close Tomorrow; Few Signs of Optimism in London

London, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The British government today ordered complete mobilization of the navy and called up the remainder of the regular army reserves and supplementary reserves.

This move was announced in a statement from the prime minister's residence after a special meeting of defense ministers and key cabinet ministers had discussed preparedness steps to meet the European crisis.

It also was announced an undetermined number of Royal Air Force volunteer reserves were being called up. It was understood this would bring the air force virtually to war strength, since other reserves previously had been called up.

Earlier the government had ordered "precautionary" removal of approximately 3,000,000 women, children, invalids and aged from London and other danger zones.

The London stock exchange announced it would be closed tomorrow. No date was fixed for the reopening of the exchange, although it was assumed it would resume operations as soon as transportation facilities again became normal after the evacuation rush.

In proof of Britain's readiness for any eventualities Prime Minister Chamberlain had told the House of Commons Tuesday that the whole key was "now ready at a moment's notice to take up the dispositions (battle stations) which would be necessary in war."

The evacuation will begin tomorrow and was expected to require several days. In announcing the move the ministry of health said this did not mean that war was inevitable.

There were few signs of optimism in London, however. The intense diplomatic activity which had revolved around the exchange of secret notes with Adolf Hitler earlier in the week was noticeably slackened today.

No reply had been received from Hitler to the latest British communication delivered last night to the German foreign minister, Von Ribbentrop, but officials expected the Fuehrer to send some sort of message during the day.

Kiwanians Will Hear Dean of County Bar

F. C. Harding, dean of the Pitt County Bar, who is considered as one of this section's best informed men on international conditions, will be the principal speaker at this week's meeting of the Greenville Kiwanis Club, to be held tomorrow evening at 6:45 in the Woman's Club building.

The committee in charge of the program is composed of Dink James, M. K. Blount and Dr. J. M. Barrett.

Tar River Stands At Level of Bank

Raleigh, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Eastern North Carolina rivers, flooded by heavy rains early this week, started to recede in their upper portions today.

The Neuse was falling at Smithfield but still was six feet out of its banks, H. E. Kichline of the Raleigh weather bureau said. The stream still was rising at Kingston.

The Cape Fear river reached a stand at an eight-foot flood stage in Elizabethtown and was receding at Fayetteville, where it was at the bank-full level.

Overflows of the Tar at Greenville and Tarboro were forecast. The stream is at the bank-full stage in both cities and is expected to rise three or four feet within the next few days.

A total of 1,500 two-hundred-man CCC camps and approximately 100 smaller camps are now in operation.

Pause Observed In Negotiations

New British Envoy

Lord Lothian, Great Britain's new ambassador to the United States, here is shown upon his arrival at New York aboard the S.S. Aquitania. Lord Lothian, who succeeded Sir Ronald Lindsay, expressed his conviction "the British government, parliament and people are now united and resolute in preparing to resist aggression as the first step toward restoring principle in international affairs."

CONSCRIPTION AGES LOWERED

Russia Makes Move; To Consider German Pact

Moscow, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Both houses of the Supreme Soviet, Russia's Parliament, today adopted a new and tighter conscription law which War Commissar Marshal Voroshiloff declared would show Russia's enemies that "we shall not be caught unawares."

The bill extends some terms of service, lowers conscript ages for high school graduates and provides for war-time mobilization of women trained in medicine and communication technique.

Among today's speakers in support of the measure were three women who declared they were ready to give their lives for the "Soviet Fatherland and for Stalin."

The Supreme Soviet decided to consider ratification of the German-Russian non-aggression act at 7:30 p. m. tonight (11:30 a. m. EST) in joint session.

Premier and Foreign Minister Molotov expected to report to the session.

At the same time the defense commissar told the delegates that the Soviet union is extending the terms of service for aviators, border guards, and non-commissioned infantry officers from two to three years.

The conscript age also is being lowered from 20 and 19 for high school graduates to 19 and 18 years, respectively.

Approvals, Revisions Made By Pitt Board

K. T. Futrell, superintendent of public welfare, today disclosed that much was done in old-age assistance and aid for dependent children additions and revisions at a last meeting of the Pitt County Welfare Board.

There were 18 approvals for new old-age assistance cases and three approvals for aid to dependent children. There were 15 revisions in old-age assistance cases and nine revisions in cases of aid for dependent children.

The Department of Commerce says the sale of false teeth abroad is a lucrative and practically depression-proof industry. The United States exports 41,000,000 false teeth yearly.

Peace Efforts Are Not Broken Off, However

Berlin, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Authorized Germans said tonight that a "pause" had come about in crisis negotiations with Great Britain, but that negotiations "are not broken off."

Announcement of full mobilization of the British fleet, coming on top of Poland's extension of mobilization yesterday, these persons indicated, were at least partly responsible for the "pause."

As a result, it was uncertain as to whether British questions, put to Adolf Hitler by the British government handed to the Fuehrer last night, would be answered.

This morning it was said that the questions would be answered. Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop, however, it was then said, had given Sir Neville Henderson, the British ambassador, an oral indication that the reply would be.

Asked whether any new moves were to be expected as a result of the "pause" this afternoon's informants said:

"We have laid our cards on the table, whether the British will come forward with any more suggestions, we do not know."

These quarters said that British fleet mobilization had "increased the tension," in that the general situation today was "very unclear."

The Italian ambassador, B. Attolico, called at the foreign office this afternoon after twice having seen Sir Neville Henderson.

It was said that the Italian government was "in constant contact with Berlin."

Father Local Man Claimed by Death

Dr. W. C. Wicker, father of the Rev. Worth Wicker of Greenville, died of a heart attack at Elon College around noon today. He was 72 years old.

After being advised of his father's death, the Rev. Mr. Wicker left immediately for Elon College. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Dr. Wicker had been a professor of mathematics at Elon College for the past 30 years and was widely known in Masonic circles throughout the State.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Martha Newman Wicker, surviving are five children, W. S. Wicker of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. L. R. Johnston of East Orange, N. J.; Dr. Dan B. Wicker of Parkersburg, West Va.; the Rev. Worth Wicker of Greenville, and Mrs. Ruth Rogers of Elon College.

Payment on Pitt Debts Made Today

Checks had been written today for payment of $11,540 in interest due September 1 on Pitt county and township bonds, it was revealed by County Treasurer J. Vance Perkins.

No principal payments fall due tomorrow, it was stated.

Of the total amount, $572.50 was paid to Pitt county itself, representing interest payments on bonds held as part of the various sinking funds.

Payments to the county were on the following bond issues: four and one-half per cent road and bridge bond, $22,500; five per cent Winterville township road issue, $525; five per cent county bridge bond, $25.

The following payments were to New York banks: four and one-half per cent road and bridge bond, $3,352.50; five per cent county road and bridge issue, $5,665; five per cent bridge bond, $1,225; five per cent Winterville township road issue, $725.

Uniforms Donned By Polish Civilians

Warsaw, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Thousands of grim-faced Polish civilians donned khaki uniforms and marched off as soldiers today to answer President Moscicki's order of near-general mobilization for defense of the republic.

Flee From Threat of War

Valises in their hands and blanket-rolls on their backs, these Paris schoolboys are fleeing from the threat of modern war, which strikes from the air and spares neither women nor children. The youngsters, two of nearly 50,000 children being evacuated from Paris, are shown hurrying to school to join their fellows in the flight from the French capital. This is a cablephoto.

BRITISH CENSORING PRESS DISPATCHES

London, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The British government tonight clamped a censorship on press dispatches and simultaneously on all telegraphic and telephonic communications between London and the European continent was halted.

Shortly after the British ban was imposed, however, dispatches were received in New York directly from Paris, Rome, Berlin and Moscow, showing that up to 2 p. m. EST, nothing sensational had occurred in those capitals.

Notice was transmitted to New York by a cable company that censorship had been established in Great Britain. Messages to Britain hereafter were required to be written in English or French; code and cipher were prohibited; no code addressed nor code signatures were permitted.

The London office of the Associated Press was informed (at 1:09 p. m. EST) that the British censorship would begin within a few minutes, cutting in on the wires carrying its dispatches.

(What was happening to communications between various European countries was not immediately known. At least one channel between Paris and New York remained open.)

Cable messages were received directly from Rome also after the shutdown in London. One said that telephone communications between Rome and London had been "indefinitely interrupted."

PRICES "GOOD" U. S. HAS MADE FOR OFFERINGS NO NEW PLANS

Washington, Aug. 31.—(AP)—President Roosevelt was described by a high official today as believing that for the time being there is no further move which he can make for peace.

The government, therefore, will keep its attitude of watchful waiting, it was said in the hope that the diplomatic exchanges going on between London and Berlin will open a way toward settlement of Europe's crisis.

Officials here viewed the European situation as follows:

It is better psychologically because the nations are talking, writing notes and sending ambassadors. But the issues narrowed by the exchanges between Great Britain and Germany or they may have been broadened into the possibility of a wider settlement than merely the German-Polish problem.

Hitler has made strong demands on Poland that will be hard to meet and equally as hard to back down from.

The President has received no reply to the appeal he sent to Adolf Hitler a week ago. If one is received, officials said, it is likely that President Roosevelt will reply immediately so as to keep discussion open.

Atlanta, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Georgia tobacco auction sales for the 1939 season totalled 101,336,208 pounds at an average of 12.82 cents a pound, the State Department of Agriculture announced today.

Last year total sales were 94,877,201 pounds at an average of 18.43 cents.

Hitler Seeking To Effect Soviet Military Alliance As Threat Against Poland

Duce Splits Army In Two Divisions

No Explanation Given for Military Activity

Rome, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Division of the Italian army into two parts, respectively, commanded by Crown Prince Umberto and Marshal R. Graziani was announced today.

No explanation was given for the brief report, made known over the air to Italians.

Umberto has been inspector of military and a member of the army general staff. Graziani, next to one marshal, was Italy's principal Ethiopian war commander.

The Fascist press contended that the European crisis had spread from the German-Polish dispute over Danzig and the corridor to the vastly wider question of giving Germany and Italy their share of the world's wealth.

At the same time Fascists expressed fear that Polish action might precipitate war at any given moment by "abusing Germany's patience."

Developing the Italian arguments for a general revision to settle the present crisis and prevent new ones, Il Popolo di Roma said:

"It is no longer the fate of the Free City which is in discussion. The question has widened and includes a problem of high justice. It is now desirable to give Europe a real peace and deal with all the problems which regard colonies, lines of communications and raw materials; in order to repair old and new errors."

Italy meanwhile, went ahead with defense measures. While civilians were deprived of coffee, as that commodity was reserved for the troops, it was announced that if war comes there will be enough bread for everyone.

Gray Given Terms On Four Charges

Hubert Gray, 18-year-old Greenville boy, was given maximum sentences totaling five and one-half years in Pitt Superior court today on two charges of forgery, one of larceny and one of assault.

The boy is alleged to have stolen the automobile of his father, H. C. Gray, later being apprehended in Iowa. After being returned here he attacked a fellow inmate, Burney Tripp, in county jail, breaking his jaw.

Gray was given six months each on the forgery counts, six months on the assault charge and from six months to three years on the larceny count, the sentences to run consecutively.

Robert Lenton, another young white man, was given 12 months for assault, inflicting injury.

Marvin Meawborn pleaded guilty to assault and was given a 30-day sentence, but the sentence was suspended and the defendant placed on probation for two years.

Wille James Little, Negro, was given two to three years after pleading guilty to a manslaughter charge in connection with the death of another Negro.

Changes Being Made In Field Worker Plan

R. Eugene Brown, assistant commissioner of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare, today advised K. T. Futrell, Pitt welfare superintendent, that Wallace H. Kuralt will be Pitt county's new field representative.

Several changes in the field work of the state board will be inaugurated after tomorrow, necessitating increasing the territory of the field workers. Miss Nell Johnson has served as the Pitt field worker for some time and is succeeded by Kuralt.

Contributes $5,000

Lieut. Commander Allan R. Wurtelle (above), U.S.N., retired Louisiana sugar planter and Minneapolis industrialist, has deposited $5,000 in a Minneapolis bank as the nucleus of a fund with which to buy the Polish corridor and Danzig for Hitler. Of his peace plan he commented: "This offer may sound screwball but it isn't half as screwball as a general European war into which the United States would be dragged."

REAFFIRM AIM TO BACK POLES

Paris, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The French cabinet in an urgent two and a half hour meeting tonight unanimously reaffirmed its promise to support Poland if she is attacked.

The French cabinet met in urgent session at 6 o'clock tonight (12 noon EST) with President Lebrun only three hours after Premier Daladier had conferred with British Ambassador Sir Eric Phipps.

As the premier entered the meeting at the presidential palace he announced that the session "is not called to consider general mobilization."

He gave no indication of the reason he did call it.

During the first hour of the cabinet meeting a rumor circulated widely in parliamentary circles that the ministers had been called to consider a British-Italian proposal for a six-power peace conference.

The date mentioned was September 5, next Tuesday.

France, England, Poland, Germany, Italy and an undisclosed power were said to have been included among the conferees.

Diplomatic circles linked the report with two conferences in Berlin this morning between the British and Italian ambassadors there and two calls the French ambassador in Rome made on Italian Foreign Minister Count Ciano.

Members of Parliament expressed the belief the call might be to consider the German reply to the British note, delivered to Adolf Hitler early today by Sir Neville Henderson, with French approval.

Even in times of crisis a call on so short a notice for the cabinet to meet with the President is unusual.

The French government drove swiftly ahead with its preparations for war, if it must come, by decreasing that Paris henceforth must be blacked out.

Meanwhile the diplomatic lines for peace negotiations were kept open. Across the Rhine border, however, French sources said the German army was already on a war-time footing. Through the Paris police an order (Continued on Page Two)

DRAFTS REPLY TO QUESTIONS

Fuehrer Said to Be Attempting to Win Stalin Over to Idea of Actively Aiding Germany to Force Poles to Berlin for Talks; Queries Asked by Britain

Berlin, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler was reported today to be ready to play a Russian trump card in an effort to convince the Poles they should come to Berlin and negotiate.

The Russian councillor of embassy called at the foreign office while hints were spread that unless Poland bows to pressure being put upon her, Hitler intends to announce some degree of military cooperation with the Soviets.

Should Hitler win Stalin over to actively assisting Germany militarily, Poland would find herself in a highly precarious position.

Further mobilization orders in Poland yesterday were interpreted by the Berlin government as the answer to efforts to bring Poland to negotiate. Astonishment over the move was expressed in informed quarters which spoke about the possible military co-operation with Russia.

Meanwhile, Hitler and Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop were preparing an answer to questions raised in the British message handed to Von Ribbentrop today by Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador.

The British note, foreign office quarters said, was not in the nature of a reply to the latest German memorandum. Rather, it asked several elucidating questions which the Fuehrer now is answering.

Official quarters said the creation last night of a supreme defense council had been planned for some time, to go into operation in case of need.

Some observers asked whether Hitler had not signed away some of his powers to the council, especially to Field Marshal Goering, who heads it. Officials said, however, this was not the case.

Von Ribbentrop was understood to have given Sir Neville an oral indication of what the German answers would be during their 45-minute interview early today.

Local N. G. Chief Gets Appointment

Capt. Worth Wicker, commanding officer of the local unit of the National Guard, Battery A, 113th Field Artillery, has received appointment to attend a three months' course in intensive training in field artillery firing and training in communication, occupation of position, etc., beginning at Fort Sill, Okla., September 14.

Captain Wicker will leave here tomorrow afternoon of September 6 and will take his family with him. They will go via Columbia, S. C., Macon, Ga., Meridian and Biloxi, Miss., Houston and Dallas, Texas.

Rev. Mr. Wicker was given a leave of absence for three months, the Episcopal vestry last May, tentative upon his securing the appointment. Bishop Darst will provide a supply rector for the church.

Captain Wicker explained that the course is nothing new. Appointment of the local commander was the only one in this state, and the first in the state since 1936.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds
By Robbin Coon

Hollywood.—In a community that abounds in fancy, high-sounding names, I couldn't believe in the existence of a real living Paul Jones. Plain Paul Jones, nothing else.

He's here, though. And he hasn't changed it to Pablo von Jones, or Paul de Jones, or Paulus van der Jones. It's plain Paul Jones.

He's a producer. He's been in pictures 24 years. He's been everything, practically, there is to be in pictures. He spent his last nickel, actually, to get in pictures. That was for carfare when he decided, came noon one day in the shoe store where he was clerking, that he couldn't stand shoes any longer. The nickel took him to a movie studio, where he got work as an extra. He turned to "propping," gag-writing, assistant-directing (with all the big ones) and then writing.

He's a producer, which is a miracle in itself—because he became one after recommending the story which developed into Paramount's finest picture and one of its more impressive box-office failures.

"I'd read the novel by Josephine Lawrence called 'The Years Are So Long' and I was crazy to produce it—only I wasn't a producer, he remembers. 'By I told Leo McCarey about it, and he made it a grand picture but not a popular one. After that, I got plenty of black looks about the lot and hesitated to show my face there, but it turned out all right for me in spite of all.' (For McCarey, too, as witness 'The Awful Truth,' 'Love Affair,' etc.)

Plain Paul Jones lives in a nice little house in the valley and has a wife and an infant—his daughter for whom he goes toy-shopping at intervals. He's dieting at present on account of the daughter—he had some pictures taken with her and he didn't like his waistline. Afraid, I guess, his daughter will see those snaps some day and think Daddy was a producer like the ones in the cartoons.

Paul Jones is producing, at present, an epic called 'Untamed.' He's enthusiastic about it—"hotter," he says, "but we're using real snow for three reels. Shooting in an ice-stare where you have to wear a fur coat or you catch pneumonia. I wouldn't have taken the story if we hadn't been able to use real snow."

Paul Jones (no descendant of John Paul Jones, whose life he'd like to film) has a middle name—Meredith—but he doesn't use it. He hails from Bristol, Tenn. Which is enough, for the present, about Plain Paul Jones.

Lee Shippey is one of those rare newspapermen who don't talk about writing novels. Lee just writes them. His latest ("If We Only Had Money") is about Hollywood—and for a composite picture of Hollywood, as it is, without caricature or satire, you can't do better than read it.

Shippey's hero is a young very poor writer who thinks what the title implies. He lands a movie contract and he learns—as so many writers before him have learned—about money as it is in Hollywood. He also learns what money and the movies can do to a person.

And in this theme, Shippey has caught one of the major tragedies of the town. You can read it in a paper (it actually) in the news stories about Hollywood bankruptcies.

The Public School
Many people have been enquiring if there would be any public school taught this fall in the district of Greenville. We have spoken to the school directors about the matter and they say that all the money for this district has been used except enough to run the school about six weeks, and the next apportionment will not be available until the first of January. Therefore, instead of having the school open for a few weeks now and then have to close, the directors think it better to wait and begin about the middle of November, then by the time the present money is exhausted the other will be available, and the school can go right on without interruption through the spring.

To The Bar For Beauty.
Paris—(AP)—Ranks of American bars in Paris, already reaching from the Bastille to the swank purlieus of the Porte Dauphine, have a new addition—the Vitamine Bar. It serves tomato seeders and potassium pills. There's an iron cocktail for pale people, many mixes for the non-clean, and numerous drinks generally in the cause of beauty.

Coffee-Making Care.
Never mix stale and fresh coffee. Use up all old coffee before opening a new package. Keep coffee tightly covered. Since the oils from coffee can cling to the pot and give your brew a disagreeable flavor, always wash the pot daily in hot water and plenty of suds. Rinse it in boiling water and air it out often.

By HENRY AVERIL
Raleigh, Aug. 31.—After the re-codification of North Carolina's myriad of laws is completed there is a chance that lawyers will no longer wistfully refer to the "Consolidated Statutes" as "Concealed Statutes."

Speaking before the Fourth District Bar Association at Goldsboro this afternoon, Attorney General Harry McMullan promised that every effort is being made to make the index to the new code intelligible.

"A special effort is being made to perfect the index, as to which so much complaint has been made," said Mr. McMullan. "The department itself will make a complete index for comparison with that provided by the Michie company so that its index will be available for future use by the state in any other publication of its laws."

Raleigh looked like it was entertaining a political convention, or the General Assembly, Wednesday—what with Dr. Ralph McDonald, Speaker Libby Ward, McChenbury Representative Jim Polger, Lieutenant Governor W. P. Horton, State Senators Emmett Bellamy of New Hanover, Jack Morpew of Graham and Bill Rodman of Beaufort, John Folger of the Surry Polgers, just a few of the greats and near-greats seen around and about.

anywhere but in the West.
Forrest Pollard of the Bull City is the only openly avowed candidate seeking the office.

Senator Jack Morpew of Graham says there isn't any political interest in the far west of North Carolina right now. Not even the Republicans, he said, are able to get up any real steam over a proposed third term for FDR; though the "Radicals" of the mountains are speculating some on who will be the nominee of their own party.

R. O. Self, chief clerk of the Utilities Commission, acting for the state agency and also in his capacity as an Interstate Commerce Commission attaches, has about ready for release a new consolidated and co-ordinated collection of bus schedules for the entire Southeast.

He says there are no drastic changes in existing routes and times, but that the new time tables, which will go into effect September 15, will be more convenient for the public.

Gordon Gray and other Young Democrat officials have worked out a counter-offensive to prevent any political bleeking at the Charlotte convention. Their idea is simplicity itself: they'll just keep the boys busy endorsing freight rate equality for the South that they won't have time to get round to bawling over the New Deal and a third term.

Nice work, if they can do it.

Incidentally, the name of State Senator John D. Larkins, Jr., of Jones county, is being bandied about as a possible candidate for president of the Y.D.'s. He is said to be the choice of some easterners who still aren't ready to admit for any purpose whatsoever that Durham is

Collections Drop Noted for State

Raleigh, Aug. 31.—(AP)—State tax collections this month dropped $24,941.29 below receipts in August 1938, but Revenue Commissioner A. J. Maxwell said the decrease was caused by bookkeeping rather than business conditions.

The monthly revenue report released today showed total collections this month of $5,565,601.81 compared with $6,010,243.10.

The largest decreases, in franchise and gasoline receipts, are "not a real reduction at all," Maxwell said. Actually the general trend of revenue is upward, he added.

The decrease in franchise collections was caused by the fact that many large concerns made their August payments last month, and the payments were reflected in the July report. Actual payments reflected during July and August this year are $144,321 above figures for the two months last year, Maxwell explained.

The dropped gasoline receipts, he said, resulted from advance payments during August 1938, of taxes on 3,794,957 gallons of gasoline held in storage by certain large companies. Such payments have not been made this month.

Ask Pensions for World War Vets

Boston, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Resolutions demanding that World War veterans receive pensions equivalent to those awarded Spanish-American War veterans were adopted today at the annual convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The proposal would give veterans a pension on reaching the age of 65 provided they had received honorable discharge and had served 90 days. At the same time disabled veterans would be given pensions on a graduated scale, depending on the degree of their disability.

The action came on voice vote with few delegates objecting.

While supporting increased pensions for disabled veterans, Paul Wohlman of Baltimore, a former national commander of the organization, opposed the demand for a straight pension after 65, declaring it was "not an opportune time" and that it might impair efforts to seek increases for disabled veterans.

Teachers.
Rusk, Texas.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson of Rusk, who celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary recently, have unusual records as educators. Mr. Thompson taught school for 40 years—without missing a day on account of illness. Mrs. Thompson was a teacher for 30 years. Five of their six children are teachers.

BRITISH BIRDMEN FLY SOUTH IN WINTER

London.—(AP)—Imperial Airways will probably try its hand at a South American service this year when it suspends its North Atlantic line for the winter.

Aviation circles said the route would probably be England-Lisbon-Bathurst-Buenos Aires.

Flying boats now used on the Foynes-Hotwood route and three 32-ton four-engine seaplanes, built at Rochester will be available. The first of the latter class—the Golden Hind—has already completed test flights. The Grenadier will be launched shortly and the Grenville will follow a month later.

Father-and-Son item for Today.
Rayle, Ga.—(AP)—Between them, Webster S. Sherrer, Wilkes county farmer, and his father have lived through most of the history of the United States.

Sherrer, now 79, was born when his father, Thomas Sherrer, was 81. The father was born in 1779 and lived to be 94.

The son, still hale and hearty, says he expects to live at least to the average age of members of his family, which is about 90 years.

UNWORTHY EMPLOYMENT

Assistance for the needy is one of the fruits of this great "land of the free and home of the brave," but when a citizen refuses private employment primarily for the purpose of helping himself to a governmental relief plum at the expense of those who are trying to earn a living, whether they like the work they are doing or not, then it is time for those who are being held responsible for the Federal government's relief spending to sit up and take notice.

In the last session of Congress, a measure was enacted calling for wholesale dismissals of all persons who had been thriving on the Works Progress Administration, typically known as the WPA, for a period of 18 months. When WPA officials launched the dismissal program, workers began flooding welfare offices in counties of many states, in that such agencies are referral headquarters.

We are not familiar with actual employment conditions in other counties, but an unfavorable situation prevailing in Pitt county has been brought to our attention. An estimated 15 or 20 persons, formerly on the WPA program, have been applying to the Pitt welfare office daily with the hope of securing additional benefits under the WPA program. However, a majority of these people have been offered private employment, but refused it. The welfare department is conducting a survey to find if the former WPA employes have been offered employment, or if employment is available. Practically all of the questionnaires are returned with an affirmative answer.

The local employment office informed Pitt welfare officials of some cases where as many as three persons were directed to one particular job, but went to the welfare office for a WPA referral instead. When a person receives benefits, he should not be the one to choose the type of work he does, and should not refuse private employment because the Federal job pays more money.

Under the present WPA wage scale, the laborer will receive about $39 a month for 16 and one-fourth days, a daily average of $2.45. The federal program offers only temporary relief, as does private employment. Only one of forty applications for a referral have been approved thus far by the Pitt board. When a person refuses private employment and gets on WPA, he is robbing someone of a job who really deserves work. But Pitt officials have discovered the little game of such persons and are rejecting them. They should.

Average Englishman And Frenchman Look For War
By WILLIAM McGAFFIN (AP Feature Service Writer)
Paris, Aug. 31.—(AP)—A boat train speeds through the moonlit night laden with Americans, rushing to an emergency sailing one jump ahead of "another European crack-up."
In a restaurant car three young Americans sitting near me begin to talk.
"Just as soon stay and see the fun if it weren't for the folks back home."
"Fun!" Mr. X snorts this morning when I return from covering the departure and mention the American remark. "How could anybody speak of war as fun?"
Meet Mr. X, average, middle-class resident of France and England. He sees not only imminent danger and death to his family too this time. He sees also the possibility of his little world collapsing. He suddenly realizes that, with all its imperfections, it could be a lot worse.
War time conditions, however, sharpened John Englishman's wit. Confidential admission "When we start getting funny about a thing you can get it pretty serious."
Humor is John's escape.
Samples:
Porter buying paper in Strand. "What'll be and done today—gone bolshevik!"
Paper salesman: "If that house painter thinks he can paint this town red, he's got the wrong ladder."
Grave Jean Frenchman's mind doesn't run to joking at such a time. He grows more philosophic, fatalistic. War seems much nearer here. You get the feeling when you see hundreds of thousands of men being called to colors. Many are in civilian clothes, changing to uniform on train after au revoir have been said.
Even blue-bereted taxi drivers seem more conversant with the situation in Paris. They run out to buy newspapers as they wait for you in American style cabs at the bank. They discuss the situation intelligently.
A scene like the following never could happen in Paris:
Two women rubbering at shop windows as they ride down Oxford street on a London bus.
First woman: "They say there's going to be another war."
Second woman: "Do they? Look—don't you like those with black band and cerise top?"
Parisians are alert, but placid. On a swing around town, I see fishermen still waiting for bites by a suburban stretch of the Seine. Jean Frenchman buys his favorite newspaper as fast as it comes out. But he makes no fuss about it. A news-reel cameraman cruising about for color shots has to prod him into action.
French crisis vignettes are poignant. Scene by side of road which touched an ambassador's heart. Dear old peasant woman patiently explains to troops as they requisition her horse how to treat a sore on its leg.
English vignettes run more to the type of woman who is buying black silk to shield her windows.
"It will do nicely for an evening frock when it has served its purpose for black-outs."
Sample London headlines:—"Couples queue to marry in Britain's biggest rush." "Banquet dances still being arranged."
Jean Frenchman's still dancing, too—in the streets. While accords wait a sad refrain, he has one last dance with chic little Yvonne before taking train for the eastern front. He dances at night clubs, too.

N. Y. Stock Market
New York, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The war dice rattled a bit more feverishly on Europe's political tables today and financial markets generally resumed the retreat.
Stocks dipped one to three at one time, but slowness of dealings provided some conciliation for bullish quarters. Transfers were around 300,000 shares.

CHRISTIAN COUNTY GOES TO THE POLLS
Hopkinsville, Ky.—(AP)—Fred L. Weir withdrew from the race for Democratic nomination for state treasurer to support a friend in the recent Kentucky primary.
But when Christian county (Hopkinsville) votes were tabulated, Weir had nearly twice as many as the friend.
He canvassed the state for Russell Fryman. The vote in this county was: Weir, 626; Fryman, 320. Fryman also lost in other parts of the state.

Average Englishman And Frenchman Look For War

gradually being invaded by that silly English booms-a-daisy. Still bright spots in war-dimmed capital.
Paris papers are all politics, as usual. London sheets are more like American. John Englishman reads on one page hints on what to do in air raids. On the next, a gardening expert tells him, "Plant new strawberry beds now."
Mother reproaching her whimpering child as they wait for a train at Victoria station:
"Stop it, you little Hitler."
The driver of a TNT truck stops at an American-type petrol station. Attendant: "What you got?"
Driver: "A few fireworks for the kids."
Sign outside a church, "If your knees are knocking, kneel on them."
No need for such advice. John Englishman, like Jean Frenchman, is taking it stoically. Chin up, I've talked with scores of Frenchmen and have been on the wire almost constantly with London. The impression I get is Mr. X thinks, "It's really coming this time." And he doesn't care much.
He's anxious for a crack at "that man" in Berlin. He's sick of this "horrible caricature of peace" in which he's been living since Munich. A German embassy official told me the other day the French were "too logical" to fight over Poland. He doesn't understand the French very well. Soldiers I overheard talking among themselves said, "It won't be for Poland. It will be for an ideal—freedom."
London and Paris are calm and collected. But the provinces even more so. "Oh tell 'ee, Oh had three jacks." "You didn't m'lad. Turn

REA LAUNCHES DRIVE IN N. C.

Campaign To Be Waged In "Ten Worst" Counties
Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Aug. 31.—The North Carolina Rural Electrification Authority has launched a drive to improve conditions—insofar as rural electric lines are concerned—in the "10 worst" counties of the state in this respect.
Already active steps have been taken in three of them—Jones, Onslow and Tyrrell—leaving seven western counties still to be "cracked." This group, according to the REA listing, is composed of Cherokee, Clay, Graham, Madison, Swain, Macon and Yancey; rated as their rural electrification status as of July 1.

At that time, Jones was listed at the very bottom of the list as the very "worst" county of the state; but since that time there has been a big change in status, it is pointed out by J. M. Grainger, engineer for the state REA.
Jones, together with Onslow, has moved up the list—well up it—as the result of organization of a federally backed electric membership co-operative with the complete co-operation of the state authority.
Application for this project has been approved by the state REA, which took an active part in preparing it for action, and has been forwarded to the federal REA in Washington. The program calls for

GORMAN'S WAREHOUSE
Matt Long—Jack Moye—Yock Joyner
With Freeman Parrish as auctioneer, we believe we have the best sale in Eastern Carolina. We have no trade men, no truckers and no split commissions. Whatever we have to give we are putting into our sales for the benefit of the farmer. Whether you sell with us or not, we urge you to visit our sale and make your own comparison. Don't you think you owe it to yourself to do this? It might pay you.
First Sale Monday Sept. 4th—Wednesday Sept. 6th—Friday Sept. 8th
