FDR Proclaims Limited U. S. National Emergency To Strengthen Defenses

ALL BRANCHES ARE AFFECTED

Chief Executive Emphasizes Nation Will Not Be Put On War-Time Basis, But Authorizes Executive Orders to Increase Personnel of Army And Navy; To Aid Americans Abroad

Washington, Sept. 8. (AP)—President Roosevelt today proclaimed a limited "national emergency" to safeguard U. S. neutrality and to strengthen national defense.

Emphasizing at a press conference that under no circumstances would the nation be put on a war-time basis, the President said the proclamation would involve increase in the military branches, but not to the extent of the full authorized peace-time strength.

The President said that four executive orders would be issued by the attorney general later today authorizing the following four steps under the proclamation:

- 1. Recruiting for the army and calling back first-line reserves to increase the enlisted strength, but nowhere near the full 280,000 peace-time authorization. The actual increase has not yet been decided.
2. Increase the navy personnel but not to the full extent of the 180,000 peace-time authorization. The navy now has between 115,000 and 120,000 men and this figure will be increased to a total not yet determined.

The increases also will affect the National Guard and the Marine Corps, all to fill in what the President described as "gaps and holes" in the military branches.

3. Authorize the State Department under its emergency funds to use $500,000 to assist Americans to come home from the war zone.

4. Increase the personnel of federal investigating agencies to protect the United States against sabotage, propaganda and other subversive activities, such as this nation experienced between 1914 and 1917. Meanwhile Congressional sources described the President as wanting to be sure he has the votes to approve his neutrality legislation before calling the Senate and House into special session.

First the Senate Foreign Relations committee, and then the Senate itself, it was said authoritatively, will be polled by telephone and telegraph on the question of whether members would support administrative suggestions for revamping the neutrality policy.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Moxing, who live near the country club. Burial followed in Reedy Branch cemetery. Stocks of near Winterville.

Believed German Island Attacked

French Gain

Paris, Sept. 8. (AP)—The northern flank of the French army was reported tonight to have driven seven to eight miles within German territory.

This information, which was received in official circles without confirmation of the high command, bore out other reports of fighting on the western front, which said the French advance at the end of the sixth day of fighting, had averaged from three to four miles.

Tanks and armored cars reported for the first time to have entered the conflict, supporting deployed infantry in a give-and-take action between the French and German troops in the no man's land at the tip of the western frontier, where the French Maginot and German Siegfried lines fan out to a distance of some 25 miles apart.

CITY BOARD IN ROUTINE MEET

Bids for City Hall Furniture Are Considered

The Greenville Board of Aldermen, in regular session last night, tentatively approved bids for furniture and equipment for the municipal building now under construction, subject to approval of the PWA.

The bids exceeded the amount of money available for the purchases, but the mayor and a special committee were instructed to eliminate certain items, which would bring the expenditures down to the amount of money available, and submit the revised list of equipment to the PWA.

Should the mayor and committee and PWA authorities agree on the revised list, firms submitting low bids last night probably will be awarded contracts.

Quinn, Miller and Stroud was the only local firm submitting low bids and this company will receive a large part of the business if conclusions reached by the mayor and committee are approved by the PWA.

This was one of numerous proposals which came before the board last night.

The recently enacted barber shop ordinance, setting standard opening and closing hours for all shops in the city, was repealed and hereafter the various barbers will open and close at their own will.

The American Legion-sponsored Pitt county fair was permitted to operate without a city license. Arthur B. Corey appeared before the board in behalf of the fair association.

Cemeteries also claimed much attention of the city fathers. Harry Brown appeared before the board in regard to a tract for a colored cemetery, but no definite action was taken.

G. Robert Derick spoke on the proposed enlargement of Greenwood cemetery, but the board decided not to spend any money on the project at this time.

The board withdrew its permission granted Herman Sipe Company to pile materials on Fifth street, next to the municipal buildings now under construction.

Guns are Heard Over Nazi Anti-Aircraft Defense Base

Copenhagen, Sept. 8. (AP)—The thunder of guns and bombs last night and early today indicated an attack was being made on the German island of Sylt by airplanes.

The first attack occurred at 10 p. m., Thursday. At 3 a. m., today (9 p. m., Thursday, EST), a flight of airplanes dropped leaflets on the Danish mainland.

This was followed an hour later by the sound of heavy firing by the Sylt batteries. The explosions were interspersed with dull booms, suggesting exploding bombs.

All firing ceased at 4:30 a. m.

Trio Held In County Jail On Weed Thefts

A white man and two Negroes are being held in the county jail after being involved in two Pitt county weed thefts.

Rufus Harris, the white man, was convicted in Farmville city court for a motor violation, but it later developed that he was connected with the thefts.

The Negroes are Montie Barnes, $2.00 bond, and H. B. Willis, whose payment was set at $100.

German Pincher Movement Closes On Warsaw

This map indicates the war situation in Poland as three great German pincher movements closed around Warsaw, the Polish capital. The shaded area denotes Polish territory already occupied by the Germans. Heaviest fighting was reported on the line from Pionsk to Pultusk, north of Warsaw. Berlin claimed the Nazi armies were within 20 miles of Warsaw while Polish announcements claimed recapture of some of the lost territory north of Pultusk. In the northwest another German drive was reported advancing toward Poznan. From the south the invaders moved onward from Krakow and through Nowy Sacz. Meanwhile the spearhead of the German southern army moved closer toward Warsaw in hopes of cutting off the Poles caught between the pinchers in the area west of Warsaw.

ADVISE MARTS OF NEW RULES

Two Measures Adopted By Weed Officials Last Night

James S. Ficklen, president of the Tobacco Association of the United States, through C. S. Carr, secretary-treasurer, today advised 20 North Carolina tobacco markets and nine South Carolina markets that the "300 piles an hour speed regulation must be strictly observed, beginning today."

He explained that "beginning Monday, September 11, the selling time on all markets in all belts will be limited to six hours a day," and asked the cooperation of the markets in enforcing the regulation.

President Ficklen disclosed that Middle Belt markets which opened Monday, also would be required to adhere to the measures adopted last night in Rocky Mount in a meeting of officials of the Eastern Carolina Warehouse Association.

"Such action will relieve the serious congestion of tobacco which confronts companies at the present," Mr. Ficklen declared, "and will bring about more orderly marketing throughout the bright leaf belts."

Meanwhile, offerings continue heavy on the Greenville market, with 19,306,870 pounds sold through yesterday, and with more than 1,500,000 pounds spread before the buyers today, according to R. C. Rankin, supervisor of sales.

Observers said today's sales were composed primarily of tips, lugs and other common or medium types of good tobacco and that a small quantity of leaf and two prevailed on the warehouse floors. It was revealed that better leaf brought prices yesterday and this morning higher than any paid before this year. Top grades were sold for $35, $36 and $37 a hundred in a number of warehouses.

Rankin declared, "While today's break is heavy there is no doubt of the warehouse floors being cleared by closing time. With no block in sight, sales on Monday will start strictly according to the sales card."

Sub Off U. S. Coast

Boston, Sept. 8. (AP)—An unidentified submarine was sighted today by the crew of the Pollock Rip lightship, which guards the westerly approach to Nantucket sound, coast guard headquarters at Boston reported. Those aboard the lightship said the submersible had no identification marks and that she was headed in a southerly direction.

Coast guards said there was no alarm, but that a report was made to Washington. It was possible, they added, that the craft might have been an American submarine. The United States submarines Sea Dragon and R-13 were known to be off Cape Cod. The Sea Dragon is on trial.

GERMAN CRAFT STRIKES MINE

Another Unidentified Steamer Is Blown Up

Copenhagen, Sept. 8. (AP)—Seven members of the crew of the German steamer Heffried Bismarck were killed today when an explosion sank the ship south of Ore sound, between an island and Sweden.

Survivors said they believed the vessel, which went down in a few minutes, had struck a mine.

Seven were rescued. The vessel was loaded with salt-petre.

Earlier, an unidentified steamer was blown up off the Danish island of Aeroe. Observers said they believed that the ship was a German freighter and that all of the crew perished.

More than 100 miles separates the scenes of the two accidents. Both areas are on the eastern side of the Danish peninsula.

The area where the unidentified steamer was blown up has been mined by Germany, but shipping authorities expressed the opinion that a shifting mine was responsible, since the vessel was not in the charted mine fields.

Germany Driving On Warsaw from Three Directions

Plan Offensive

Budapest, Sept. 8. (AP)—The Warsaw radio, silenced yesterday, today broadcast a statement that "the Polish army yet will start its offensive."

"The war will continue a long time. The Poles will not capitulate.

"We will fight to the finish.

"The Polish air fleet is intact. The world will understand this before long."

The broadcast asserted that the Germans had captured only 1,500 Poles in the first week of war and that "the number of killed and wounded is very small."

(The German high command reported yesterday in Berlin that 25,000 Polish prisoners had been taken.)

NAZIS WITHIN FIRING RANGE

Hitler Troops Reported to be Closing in On Polish Capital From North, West And Southwest; Site 20 Miles From Warsaw Expected To Be Scene of Main Polish Defense Line

Berlin, Sept. 8. (AP)—The German supreme high command announced today that a German army unit forced its entry into Warsaw at 5:15 p. m. (11:15 a. m., EST).

The announcement called the unit armored troops (presumably an armored car formation).

It was further announced that the troops forging rapidly ahead had reached a point 12 miles southwest of the Polish capital.

(This would indicate the entry had been made by the German column which had been driving on Warsaw from the north).

Berlin, Sept. 8. (AP)—The German army declared today that three of its columns were closing in on Warsaw from the north, west and southwest and that at least one was within artillery range of the Polish capital.

The reports of the army of the east, however, did not specify which of the three converging forces was in position to bombard Warsaw.

An afternoon communique said the column advancing from the southwest was making rapid progress and had captured a town about 25 miles from the capital.

An earlier communique today placed the northern German column beyond Pultusk, about 28 miles north of Warsaw. A vanguard was reported to have crossed a river which flows through Pultusk and

FDR CONSIDERS PRICE OF FOOD

Seeks To Avert Cost Rises of World War Days

Washington, Sept. 8. (AP)—President Roosevelt told the American people through his press conference today there was an actual surplus of all foodstuffs and there was not going to be any repetition of price rises that this nation saw in World War days.

He said that many well-meaning people in the last few days had found some food prices up and were limited to small purchases of sugar and other staples.

The President then went on to say there was an ample supply of food of every variety and no indication of any conceivable shortage.

As Secretary Wallace said yesterday, the chief executive declared that all the fear of a shortage of sugar flour and other things was merely one of those things that come from not knowing the facts.

The President said some prices had gone up, but on the whole were exceedingly low compared with the normal goal sought by the administration.

In this the midst of his study of rapidly rising food prices, Secretary Wallace said that the 1940 crop control program would provide for little expansion in planting despite a possible increase in demand for American farm products as a result of the war.

Meanwhile, the Agriculture Department forecast this year's cotton crop at 12,380,000 bales of 500-pound gross weight.

That forecast of produced, based on the condition of the crop September 1, compared with a forecast of 11,412,000 bales a month ago, and 11,943,000 bales produced last year.

The condition of the crop on September 1 was 70 per cent of normal, compared with 74 a month ago, and 65 a year ago.

The condition of the crop, acreage yield and indicated total production by states include: North Carolina, condition 71 per cent of normal; acreage yield, 285 pounds; and production, 464,000 bales; South Carolina, 77; 320; and 833,000.

Rotary Club To Hear Discussion On Europe

Members of the Greenville Rotary Club will get first-hand information on the European situation at its regular meeting Monday night, at which time Dr. J. M. Ormond of Duke University will deliver the principal address.

Dr. Ormond has just returned from a several weeks' trip in Europe, where he visited the various countries now engaged in warfare.

ACTIVITIES OF SES REVEALED

Placements By Local Office up 131.06 Per Cent

An activities report just issued by the central office of the North Carolina State Employment Service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939, shows that the Greenville office placed 2,688 persons on jobs, as compared with 1,162 placements during the fiscal year ending June, 1938. This represents an increase of 131.06 per cent.

As the figures show, placements during the fiscal year just past were more than double the number made during the preceding year. The placement record of the service for the state as a whole was 31.47 per cent above the preceding year. This means that the increase shown by the Greenville office was approximately 100 per cent more than the increase shown as the state average.

A larger proportion of unemployed workers are now using the employment service both because of the provisions of the Unemployment Compensation Act and because of the development of the service as a placement agency.

In addition to the quantity of placements, there was a decided improvement in the quality of the job openings filled. Of course, the great majority of the applicants placed were laborers, tobacco workers, domestic servants and farm hands, but there was also a 100 per cent increase in the percentage of placements among persons classified as professional and commercial workers.

The report also disclosed a marked and steady improvement in the caliber of registrations in the Greenville office. During recent months, there has been a great increase in the percentage of applicants with college or business training courses and worthwhile work experience.

Non - City Residents To Pay Garbage Fee

The Board of Aldermen last night passed an ordinance requiring a one dollar monthly fee of persons living on regular garbage routes and who have been receiving the service free.

During each mealtime on a dining car of a railroad, about 1,000 dishes must be washed in a sink less than two feet square.

Board of Aldermen
The Board of Aldermen had quite a long and busy meeting Thursday night, being in session until one o'clock.

Chapter 2, Section 16 of the ordinance relative to fast driving on the streets was amended by adding the words "or in a reckless manner." So those who are careless in handling their horses, as well as those who drive too fast, will be subject to the penalty of the ordinance.

The special tax of $50 on vendors of oils from a tank or wagon was repealed and the Standard Oil Company's wagon was classed with drays and subjected to dray tax, according to the number of horses used.

The following new ordinance was presented and adopted:
That all persons owning property facing or fronting on Evans street between Third and Fifth streets, shall pave the sidewalk in front of his or her property with brick, stone or cement. This shall not apply to sidewalks now covered with plank except that said sidewalks shall not be repaired with plank or timber when pronounced in bad condition by the street committee, but shall then be replaced by brick, stone or cement, as above required.

DR. PEPPER IN ITS NEW HOME

This Section Served By Modern Washington Plant

The Dr. Pepper plant in Washington, distributor of the popular soft drink in this territory, is one of the most modern and up-to-date plants to be found in Eastern North Carolina.

The new Washington plant had its formal opening on Thursday, January 26, of this year, but since that time increases have been made to the personnel, rolling stock and other equipment of the plant. The 35 employees with the company at the formal opening have been increased to 50 at the present time. The firm now operates 27 trucks, distributing Dr. Pepper in 28 counties.

The comparatively new plant has a first floor space of 60 by 115 feet, while the top floor is 60 by 50. Tiled floors and gleaming white walls assure the utmost in sanitation. Visitors enter the plant through a large furnished reception room, which leads directly into the main office.

The Washington Dr. Pepper company is incorporated, all of the stock being owned by W. R. Roberson, Mrs. Roberson and Miss Nancy Watson, sister of Mrs. Roberson. Mrs. Roberson is president, Mr. Roberson vice-president and general manager, and Miss Watson secretary.

Five years ago Dr. Roberson saw the possibilities in Dr. Pepper. Then a salesman and operator of a small bottling plant, Mr. Roberson secured the Dr. Pepper franchise. The drink has been on the market in Texas for more than half a century, but was introduced in North Carolina only since 1930.

Mr. Roberson's 12 years of experience as a salesman has proved of much benefit to him in his Dr. Pepper business.

Dr. Pepper is a pure and wholesome carbonated beverage, containing pure and wholesome ingredients; it is a natural for satisfying that frequent craving for refreshments, and is a blend of pure natural flavors, forming a new and distinctive flavor all its own.

INFLUENCE OF AUTO SPREADS

State Guide Book Deals Chiefly With Tours

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Sept. 5.—The influence of the motor car and the tourist business on literature (at least WPA literature) will be clearly shown in "North Carolina: A Guide to the Old North State," which will be off the presses and in the hands of readers about the middle of September.

Announcement of the forthcoming guidebook has been made by Edwin Bjorkman, state director of the Federal Writers' Project, by which it was written and edited.

The major part of the guide's contents is given over to motor tours—that's where the motor car and tourist influence comes in. There are listed a total of 33 tours, following the federal and the principal state highways. These tours have been arranged so that they run from north to south and from east to west, but they have been prepared in such a manner that they can be intelligently read and followed, vice versa, so to speak.

From the state line, each tour has a mile by mile description of the countryside and the villages, towns and cities on the route. The sites of historical happenings are identified, places where fishing, hunting, golf and other sports are available are indicated.

Mr. Bjorkman is confident that the work will become a standard of reference. Although it is primarily designed and made up so as to guide out-of-state visitors, it contains a wealth of historical and economic data which will make it valuable to Tar Heels as an encyclopedic digest of the state and its resources.

France relies on the strong fortifications, sketched above by an artist. The Maginot line stretches about 200 miles along the German frontier and is comprised of a series of underground fortresses. It directly faces Germany's equally famous Siegfried line, which French soldiers are reported to have cracked. As shown above, the fortress is completely underground, with domestic gun emplacements, completely camouflaged. Fields cover the territory above the line, revealing no indication as to what lies beneath.

LABOR LOOSES BITTER BLAST

Assails Raleigh Hotel Manager For Civil Suit

Reflector Bureau.

Raleigh, Sept. 8.—Under the alternative head, "Munford's Measly Methods of Revenge," the North Carolina Federation of Labor, has lost a tremendous blast against Roland Munford, manager of the Sir Walter Hotel here, because of the hotel's suit against State Senator E. C. Gregory of Salisbury for alleged failure to pay room rent for the period of the 1939 General Assembly.

In the September issue of "North Carolina Federationist," Munford is accused of bringing suit against Gregory because the Rowan legislator supported labor-backed measures against which the Sir Walter manager lobbied hard and successfully. The Federationist also asserts that Munford unsuccessfully sought to get the State Federation of Labor to hold its recent convention at the Sir Walter.

Of Munford's alleged anti-labor activities, the Federationist said: "So pronounced was his activity against labor legislation that North Carolina State Federation of Labor refused to use the Sir Walter as convention headquarters last month. Munford made plea after plea, and some threats, in an effort to get the State Federation of Labor officials to hold the convention at the Sir Walter. He made no headway, however, for labor did not feel like spending its money with a man who had gone out of his way to oppose labor legislation."

Of the suit against Gregory, it said: "In view of the fact that no other member of the General Assembly...

THE HIT DOG SQUEALS

"With kind personal regards and best wishes, I am, Very truly, Sam O. Worthington," ends the following letter handed us for publication, which leaves us wondering how kind could be the regards and how good the wishes from a man who would write such a letter:

Greenville, N. C., Sept. 7, 1939 Mr. D. J. Whicard, Editor of The Daily Reflector, Greenville, N. C. My Dear Dave:

I have been reluctant to enter into a newspaper controversy with you, for that I do not believe such controversy has any result other than to confuse the public mind, cause bitterness and ill feeling and bring about petty squabbles. However, your editorial in the issue of your paper dated the 5th of September is of such nature I feel I should reply to it.

Whether, by your editorial you expected to benefit yourself and your business, or to do injury to me and mine I do not know; this I do know: that the statements therein contained were the most vicious, malicious and heinous falsehoods ever uttered by any person towards, against or about another person or group of persons, and to all appearances your statements were conceived in vengeful hatred, born of malice and premeditatedly and deliberately expressed with the ulterior motive and purpose of conveying to the public an erroneous impression, and without any regard for the truth whatever.

In the first instance Mr. Jones was not in the employ of the present board of commissioners. He had been employed by the old board, whose cause you now seem to foster. But the present board had at all times, from the first meeting, stated liberally expressed with the ulterior motive and purpose of conveying to the public an erroneous impression, and without any regard for the truth whatever.

Your news commentator was present at the board meeting on Monday and heard the discussion. It may be that you were not present, but you were told by the Hon. F. C. Harding, who was called into the meeting, stated very frankly under questioning from Mr. Williams, that he and Mr. Jones were paid $500.00 each to bring the suits, with an understanding that if they went forward with them the court should make orders for future fees. There was no suggestion that Mr. Harding or Mr. Jones had been paid to prosecute the suits to conclusion, or that they had been paid anything except a small retainer of $500.00 each. One of the last acts of the old board was to issue these $500.00 vouchers. Are you taking the position that there was an effort on the part of the old board to employ counsel for the new board, to tie their hands with employment of counsel prior to induction into office? That seems to be your position. Interesting to note that just prior to the issuance of the $500.00 vouchers Jones had received county vouchers, under Court order, for $5,300.00. Unquestionably the commissioners have a horror of such orders.

Again you stated "Worthington had been counsel in the bringing of various suits and restraining orders against the old board in efforts to put a stop to the Whitehurst case—"

You knew of course that only one suit had been brought and that by a group of citizens who foresaw what even you as a great newspaper man failed to see, that rape was going to be perpetrated on the county treasury and the taxpayers of the county made to suffer at the instance of a few seeking to satisfy their personal grievances at the expense of the county. You saw that rape perpetrated in one day in an amount of almost $10,000.00 for lawyer fees under an order of Court. Mind you, under the same kind of an order that Mr. Harding referred to before the board on Monday when he said the Court would make the orders for future fees. You knew that the suit you referred to was brought to ward off that very thing. If you did not know that, you could have gone across the street to the court house and have verified same without uttering a deliberate falsehood about it.

You call attention to the fact that I attempted to have the board compromise the suits. Again I say that by the least effort on your part you could have ascertained the facts. Mr. J. N. Williams, chairman of the board, Mr. G. H. Pittman and Mr. W. O. Jolly came to my office sometime in December or January and we discussed the Whitehurst suits. The three of them asked me to go over the audit and make some recommendation. I did so. I had nothing to do with whether they accepted or not that recommendation or not. The board has made honest efforts to reach a happy solution of the matters and I am frank to say that if outside influences would leave them to their own resources I most sincerely believe they would reach an adjustment that would be satisfactory, even to you, unless you desire to be a Hitler at Munich or a Hitler at Danzig. There is most certainly no adjustment with a Hitler any time or place.

There has never been any hearing before Hon. J. F. Harrington, Clerk of Court, in these matters. Again the record would have revealed the truth and you could have prevented yourself from erroneous statements had you so desired. At the meeting of the board when the recommendations of the suits were presented, only four members were present. Motion was made and seconded that the recommendations be accepted and the County Attorney instructed to settle the matters. Two voted for the motion, one did not vote, and at some later time the chairman asked to be recorded as voting against the motion, or something to that effect. The board, as a whole, was unable to agree. I was hoping the board would for some time longer hang together and have some meeting and get together. The time for answering was about to expire so I took the judgments, in accordance with the motion, over to the Clerk and advised him to hold them subject to my call, which action left the matter in suspense awaiting further action of the board. I did this hoping the board would take the matter up further and dispose of it. I have been advised that following that the chairman and Mr. Jones filed an appeal to such judgments without any authority from the board of commissioners and without the knowledge of at least three of them. I have repeatedly told the board that at any time it could reach an agreement about the matters they could be taken up again. There has been no effort to close the door in these matters, or to settle them without the full consent of a majority of the board, nor has there been any desire on the part of the board to do so. The records of this matter have always been open to the public. There have been open to the public the insinuations of something rotten, malicious, unjustifiable, without cause or provocation, and to my mind, when, as in this case, the facts were right at hand and could have been had for the asking, to misquote them as you have and to cast the insinuations at the board and myself as you did was the most thing heinous and heinous done, in fact is far worse than Hitler in all his atrocities.

You even stoop so low as to say you understand I was responsible for the continuance of the hearing of the motion on the appeals. It is much lower than to divulge where you got your understanding. Apparently your understanding came from the same source as the other information in your editorial, the imagination of a mind twisted and bent with prejudice, hatred and malice. I knew nothing whatever about the proposed hearing other than that conveyed in a couple of letters from Mr. Jones to Mr. J. B. James, copies of which Mr. Jones so graciously sent me. The Chairman of the Board of Commissioners was very anxious to hear the matters on the appeal the week that Judge Cowper was to hold court here. The next letter was to the effect that the matter had been continued to the criminal term when Judge Parker was here. I heard nothing more of the matter until Mr. James advised me it had been continued again. The board of commissioners has not asked me to have anything to do with this matter and until it does I most certainly shall not.

May I say frankly that the present board of commissioners meets with open doors, in the court house, on regular meeting days or upon duly called meetings and that you or any other citizen of the county is welcome, more than that, urged to come and be present at any meeting. In every matter that has come before the board since I have served it as county attorney I have endeavored to advise the board in strict compliance with the letter of the law. I have done my best to bring about a conclusion of any differences that have existed. If institutions the kind of yours would work to the common end of bringing harmony and good will among the citizens of its county rather than to seek to stir up strife and turmoil there would be far less to strife the minds of the people. I heard you make the statement on the corner by your office that you felt the proper way to settle any matter was for all concerned to gather around the table and fight it out between themselves. You were then talking about the Whitehurst matters. I wonder why you have backed away from your position. If you have not then why, since you are taking such an interest, have you not proposed some such manner of settlement. If you want to do the county some good lead your influence to the peaceful and happy solution of our problems, give constructive criticism, but do not try to distort the minds of the people by untruth. They never did any one any good.

With kind personal regards and best wishes, I am, Very truly, SAM O. WORTHINGTON.

Despite Mr. Worthington's charges of our "stooping," we could not stoop low enough to even attempt to answer such a letter, for from our childhood we have been taught that if we wallowed with dogs we would get fleas on us. The type and tone of Mr. Worthington's letter convinces us that probably the one charge we should lay at the door of the County Commissioners is the apparent serious mistake they made in employing the author of such letters as County Attorney for Pitt County.

Washington.—War news far from the front. Military experts didn't expect Poland to make a last-ditch fight to save Warsaw even though it is of immense strategic and morale importance. The big stand, they say, had been made about the new "industrial triangle" in south-central Poland based on Krakow and Lodz (pronounced something like Looof). In the last two years the government has subsidized industry to move into that zone because it is located more centrally and is easier to defend. Munitions have been concentrated there and a number of air-to-midling fortifications built. It is the only spot in Poland where there is even a semblance of a mountain to help the defense.

After A Man's Heart by JEAN RANDALL

Chapter Five George Weekes

Two weeks went by; three; and the only real change at the ranch was Tim's promotion to crutches which allowed him to come downstairs once a day. This usually happened about four o'clock, and he stayed down until his early bedtime.

George Weekes came often to visit his partner. "You ought to charge me board," he told Buff. "Or maybe I earn my vittles by taking old Tim off your hands for a while. He's not exactly thrilling company these days. There was a hint of interrogation in his voice, question in the way he looked at her, but she chose to ignore everything but his actual words."

"Oh, he's coming along nicely now. Dr. Westland is quite pleased with him."

"That's a darned nice girl," George informed Tim upstairs a few minutes later. "Pretty, too. Or had you noticed?"

"I—I'm afraid I hadn't." The other man was apologetic but still vague. "She's a kind little person."

Weekes said pointedly: "She's pretty! Did you hear me tell you so?"

"Her name is Buff," Tim had the air of a man who has performed his whole duty.

Buff late that afternoon when Tim was installed on the veranda, his crutches close at hand. "Buff—you don't mind if I call you Buff, do you? Thanks. I'd like your advice, if you'd be kind enough to give it."

"Advice?" She reached for a bit of wild sage, sniffed its clean fragrance. "What about?"

"Not his leg. That's coming along all right, Westland says."

"I know what you mean." Her small face assumed a look of gravity to match his own. "He's upset about something, terribly upset. It's not only overwork, is it?—has he lost any sleep?"

"No, it's not overwork. Tim's strong as a horse. He—he had a shock. A bad one. I wonder if I ought to tell you about it?"

"Please don't. It's sort of taking advantage of his being here, don't you think? Suppose we just let it go at what you've said; just let it go. It's affected his health." She smiled at him suddenly and he jumped. "What can we do to help him?"

"Golly!" said the startled young man. "That's some smile of yours. Did you ever turn it on Tim?"

"I don't know; he wouldn't know either. I might turn floppos all over his room, or stick out my tongue at him—I doubt if he'd notice. I'm just a voice to him. That's all right, too," she went on comfortably. "All he needs at present is a nice soothing voice. The impingement of another personality."

"Hey!" he exclaimed, aggrieved. "If it's psychology, I don't know any. And if it's classical English, I majored in mining and civil engineering. Please don't go high-tail on me."

"A Love Affair?" SHE explained with youthful dignity. "I simply meant that unless I can keep myself in the background—part of the scenery, in fact—Tim will depart hence. Is that clear to you? If you want to know," she continued with a hint of mischief, "I don't mind all in all to come to you here. I let you come—I ask you to come! because it's good for him. But what he's really like is to sink back into his thoughts and just remember what ever it was that happened to him. That's what he was doing when I found it was a love affair."

Always Look Under the Bed. Worland, Wyo.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Lee Phillips searched all through the house seeking their two-year-old daughter when they failed to find her in bed where she had been napping. Finally they called the sheriff. Half an hour later, after they returned home they found the child safely asleep under a bed. She had taken a tumble from bed to floor and then rolled over to finish her nap.

Baltimore.—(AP)—Too frequently in the past, wealthy law-making laborers of Baltimore's City Council have been interrupted by the collapse of a councilman's chair. To end these disturbances—municipal economy drive or no economy drive—Council President Richard O'Connell is putting in an order for 18 new and modern chairs.

So it was clearly "No Sale" on the racket register.

JAMES GODWIN DIES SEPT. 22

Lula Belle's Beau has Only Forlorn Chance

Raleigh, Sept. 7.—Only executive clemency stands between Lula Belle's beau and the gas chamber as Commissioner of Parole Edwin Gill prepares to hear last pleas of counsel for James Godwin, doomed to die September 22.

Commissioner Gill is in communication with High Point court, State Senator Tom Gold and Court-appointed Thomas Turner, Jr., but he said today that he has set no definite date for hearing their last pleas for the life of the young man who was convicted of killing a High Point textile worker not many hours after escaping from the Lexington jail through connivance of the jailer's daughter.

Counsel for Godwin sought, but failed to win a new trial for their client on the grounds that he is insane, basing their contention primarily upon an affidavit furnished by the noted Dr. Dyer, who was confined in the Guilford county jail (for non-payment of alimony and resultant contempt) at the same time as Godwin.

It is presumed that they will use the same plea before the parole commissioner. They will, in addition, quite likely stress the fact that the youth was convicted almost wholly upon circumstantial evidence and an alleged confession which they maintain was wrongly wrung from him.

Two other condemned men are now slated to die on the same day as Godwin, but in the case of Jim Moore, Pender county man, there is the probability that execution will be delayed, at least, by appeal from superior court.

James Curston, Forsythe Negro, is also slated to go on September 22. Commissioner Gill has been in contact with his counsel, but has not yet learned whether or not they have anything further to urge for the doomed man.

Raleigh, Sept. 8.—Utilities Commission Chairman Whitmore is one of the most vocal of logical selections to participate in the principal non-political activity (with a discussion of freight rate, differentials against Dixie) of the heralded non-political assembly of North Carolina Young Democrats at Charlotte. It is extremely doubtful, however, whether the Commissioner will make it over there for the talks, and he has one of the best non-political reasons in the world.

His daughter, Betty, will lead the Debutante Ball here in Raleigh and it is unthinkable that papa shouldn't be on hand for the most breath-taking and tremendous moment of Betty's young life.

So if he does make the trip to Charlotte, his dollars to doughnuts he doesn't stay long and that he hurries back.

If Kinston Wins Tonight, Finals Start On Saturday

GREENIES HAVE ONE MORE HOPE

Martins Gain Finals In One-Sided Win Over Goldsboro

Greenville outhit Kinston, 10-7, but the Eagles outscored the locals, 5-3, for three wins in five starts last night. If the Eagles are victorious in tonight's battle at Kinston, they will begin the finals with Williams on tomorrow, the Martins having eliminated Goldsboro last night, 15-6.

Kinston got off to a flying start by staging a four-run spurge in the first inning, a lead they never relinquished. Dot Morris' one-run single and George Kolosar's three-run single accounted for the run. King settled down and pitched the no-hit ball until the eighth inning.

A two-run party by Don King's single and Ed Black's infield out came in the second inning. Greenville scored again in the ninth when Rusty McCall singled, advanced to third on Heavener's hit for Jenkins, singled to center, and scored when Black reached first on a fielder's choice.

Rusty featured afield for Greenville as a result of his fine catch in the scoreboard zone in the eighth on Simpson's drive. George Kolosar made a beautiful shoe-string catch of King's blow in the ninth for the chief fielding feature of the Eagles.

Gracie Allen took the Greenies' hitting honors with three safeties in four turns. George Kolosar was the only visitor to get more than one hit.

Southern Conference Is Stronger But Duke Power Should Win Again

By BARTON PATTIE (AP Feature Service)

Richmond, Va. — (AP) — Seven Rose bowl starters will be missing when Duke University begins defense of its Southern Conference football championship this fall but indications are that the Blue Devils will be just about as formidable as last year.

With experienced candidates left for each position, Coach Wallace Wade's big blue squad is slated to be a little less effective defensively and perhaps more versatile offensively than the 1938 team which swept along unbeaten, untied and unscathed.

Wade's plan—which had as its big tooth the control of both direct and indirect financial aid to athletes—was stronger freshman contingents last fall.

Duke's major problem will be to train capable reserves, especially at center and the guards. Graduates most costly blow was the loss of Eric Tipton, the kicker who stopped Pittsburgh's "dream" backfield with his toe. Good booting is essential to Wade's power system and he tried out a dozen punters in the spring.

One of the versatile McAfee boys, George Wesley, will probably get the kicking assignment. Other members of the McAfee family expected to be Willard (Easy) Eaves blocking expert, and Roger Robinson, plunging fullback. Winston Seigried, triple-threat soph, may earn a regular ballcarrying spot, however.

Good Ends. The flanks will be well protected with Bolo Perdue, Bill Bailey, and Leonard Darnell returning. Captain Allen Johnson and Frank Haas are guard standouts. Bob Haas and Tony Ruffa, placekick ace, are leading tackle candidates. Gordon Burns is the only veteran available to take over Dan Hills job at center.

Clemson and V. M. I., who battled to a tie when they met last year, but lost no conference games, are due to furnish the loop's most spectacular backs.

Clemson's Banks, McFadden led the Tigers to a win over Tulane, but was handicapped by injuries for the rest of the 1938 season. McFadden ran wild against Duke in a spring practice game and opposing Coach Wade predicted that he would be the team's leading performer this fall.

V. M. I.'s all-star candidate is Paul Shu, durable triple-threat who has led the conference scorers for two years.

North Carolina ran unexpectedly into a line problem when two prospective starters were lost to Coach Ray Wolf through an automobile accident and the lure of professional boxing. A smashing Tar Heel backfield, however, with ground-gainers like George Stirnweis at quarter, George Radman and Mike Bobbitt at halves, and Sid Sadoff at full, will help offset any forward wall weakness.

Wake Forest's junior club, eyed fearfully by the rest of the loop as a potent contender, won but three games last year, but showed inexperienced power—and the entire 938 starting line up is back. Louis Trunzo guard and Tony Galovich and Marshall Edwards, backs are slated to do most of the headlining.

The only head coaching change between seasons sent Carl Voyles, Duke end, mentor and chief scout, to William and Mary to succeed the veteran Branch Boock.

Smith And Kline Offer Tar Heels 12 Veterans

End Zones and Center Still Lacking Punch

Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept. 8.—With Chuck Kline, veteran end, back in harness and Bob Smith, center, expected to return today or tomorrow, North Carolina will have its full complement of 12 veterans, but will still be far from top strength physically.

Kline turned up with a baseball injury and won't be ready to go for some time. And Smith, slated for first-string duty, who has been laid up with a stomach ailment for the first week's practice, will hardly regain either his strength or form for several days.

With these two regulars still restricted to the sidelines, Jim Mallory remained at end and Carl Suntheimer at center as Coach Ray Wolf pushed work today on the offense. Carolina is cooking up for The Citadel and Wake Forest.

Mallory is also a veteran, having split time with Kline at right end last year, and has been looking impressive in early practice both as a pass receiver and blocker. However, the 185-pound Suntheimer is a sophomore and has yet to prove himself under varsity fire, although he has been showing steady improvement in practice.

Dick Sieck and Gwynn Nowell, rookie tackles, and Roy Lee Connor and Don Baker, reserve halfbacks, were showed up with blisters and bruises today. Otherwise the squad was in good shape and showed flashes of power and ability as it raced through another long offensive drill.

The passing of George Stirnweis, Jim Lalanne and Frank O'Hare, and the receiving of Mallory and Severin, ends, and of Radman, Bobbitt, Connor and other backs have been noteworthy. Sid Sadoff, the many-sided fullback, has also been busting the line wide open on offense and plugging it up tight on defense.

Gates Kimball and Dick White, tackles, and Jim Woodson and Chuck Slagle, guards, have also been contributing some good blocking up front, along with some of the ends and wingbacks.

If the Tar Heels keep improving, all indications today were that the first team would develop a speedy and versatile offense, with a potent aerial game.

The offensive and defensive strength of the second charge, however, and particularly at tackle and center, remained an uncertain quantity, and the reserves are doubtless in for a thorough going-over in the remaining practices this week.

FOUR-H CLUBS PLAN EXHIBIT WAKE DEACONS AWAIT BIG TUFF

Will Tell Story of 29 Years of Progress Clashing With Elon Week From Saturday

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Sept. 8.—The story of 29 years growth and progress will be told by the North Carolina 4-H Club exhibits and booth at the State Fair, October 10 to 14, according to Miss Frances McGregor, assistant state director.

The club will have a central booth showing the type of programs presented by the club and with information about the number of clubs and club membership in North Carolina. From this central booth, streamers will lead to four others, showing (1) better farm practices developed by the 4-H, (2) improvements which make rural homes more pleasant to live in, (3) recreational activities the club work has added to rural life, and (4) accomplishments of the club in conservation of natural resources.

On the prize and premium side, awards to 4-H Club boys and girls in seed and livestock judging, special activities and exhibits will total $3,079 this year compared with $2,799.50 at last year's fair, according to L. R. Harrill, state 4-H club leader.

Club members will participate in judging many contests, will attend a banquet and will take part in many other fair activities.

Club members will have hundreds of individual exhibits, including examples of refinished furniture, furniture arrangement, window treatments; complete outfits made by girls in their clothing rooms will be shown, and canned food exhibits showing emergency meals taken from club girls' canned good supplies will be displayed.

Buffalo, N. Y.—A city court judge heard two youngsters had been fined $1 each for not having bicycle licenses. Said he: "I was a boy myself once and $1 was as big as a house to me. Tell them to come and get their money back."

Wake Forest, Sept. 7.—Only seven practice days remain before the Deacons of Wake Forest and Elon's Christians inaugurate the collegiate grid campaign for North Carolina, one week from Saturday night in Greensboro's Memorial stadium. This contest will be the only major game in the South, one of the few to be played in the nation on that day, and a large turnout of fans is expected by officials of both schools.

Reports from Greensboro indicate the Gate City is preparing a royal welcome for representatives of Elon and Wake Forest. Merchants and citizens are collaborating to make the grid game one of the most successful to be staged there this year. Elon, a representative of North

Bear-ing the Facts... Yellowstone National Park, Wyo.

(AP)—There is a court in Yellowstone Park, complete with chief justice, prosecuting attorney and defense attorney, that weighs the guilt or innocence of bears.

Evidence concerning the mischievousness of bears frequently is so conflicting the chief ranger decided the bears, favorites with park visitors, were entitled to hearings before being convicted of viciousness.

Most prevalent charge against a bear is biting a human being. When a tourist makes such a charge a ranger is sent to capture the bear; his case is placed before the court and the chief justice and a jury of rangers decides his fate. First offenders usually are given probation; second offenders are sentenced to be hauled off to a remote corner of the park and the "habitual criminal" type sometimes faces a firing squad.

joins the Bug river about 15 miles north of Warsaw.

(The Bug and Vistula rivers which draw an east-west line ranging from 10 to 20 miles north of Warsaw has been indicated as the site for the main Polish defense of the capital.

(Warsaw radio broadcasts today that the Polish retreat so far has been "for strategic reasons" and that "the Polish army will yet start its offensive.")

From the western front facing France came reports of a large-scale exodus of civilians from areas close to the frontier.

The afternoon communique still reported German territory had not been invaded by Polish air forces, but acknowledged that two German planes were shot down over Polish soil and one was missing.

"In the North sea and Baltic," the communique added, "the navy conducted a number of mines investigations. Units of a mine-sweeping flotilla shelled a Polish coastal battery which returned the fire without success."

"The fourth Polish submarine has been destroyed."
(Jane's "fighting ships," authoritative register of naval vessels, lists only five Polish submarines.)

The question of itinerant merchant licenses was left with the ordinance committee.

The street committee recommended, and the board concurred, that the State Highway and Public Works Commission be petitioned to widen West Fifth street and also, if it comes under the state agency's program, to resurface Tenth street from the Atlantic Coast Line tracks to Lawrence street.

The need for another motorcycle for the city police department was discussed and a motion carried to contract the State Highway Patrol relative to securing such a vehicle from that department and if this plan is unsuccessful to call for bids on a machine.

The board passed a resolution requiring that the city clerk be bonded, as provided by statute, and Mayor Jack Spain and Clerk H. B. Drum authorized to devise proper books or forms for keeping jail records.

A motion was carried to instruct the police department to enforce the ordinance against dogs running at large in the city.

The finance committee was left with the task of devising some means to attempt to collect back taxes.

New York Cotton
New York, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Cotton futures cold opened four points higher to six lower on active trade, mill and Bombay buying. There also was some hedge selling and local and foreign liquidation.

Futures abruptly were more than $3 a bale before the sharp advance brought out heavy selling and prices were carried down 18 to 25 points from the best. The list still held 32 to 47 net higher at mid-morning, however.

The market suspended operations for publication of the crop report and reopened 15 to 25 points below the 11.55 a. m. closing levels, or 10 to 30 points above last night's close.

Endorse Revisions
Of Freight Rates

Charlotte, Sept. 8.—(AP)—North Carolina Young Democrats, turning their attention first to economics instead of politics, endorsed the fight of the state and sought for a revision of the nation's freight rate structure at the opening session today of their eighth annual convention.

After the open forum discussion, the delegates authorized Leroy Martin, Raleigh banker, who presided in the absence of Representative Lindsay Warren, to draft a resolution advocating readjustment of rates on a country-wide basis to eliminate what speakers described as discrimination against the South.

About 50 delegates attended the forum. The remainder spent their time in informal group gatherings and milling about hotel lobbies and in rooms. Leaders said there was some talk of possible opposition to a number of the announced candidates for various offices, but that no strong sentiment along this line had yet materialized.

I. M. Bailey, Raleigh attorney, J. T. Ryan of High Point, manager of the Southern Furniture Manufacturers Association and president of the North Carolina Traffic League, and W. S. Creighton of Charlotte, secretary of the league, spoke at the forum which was called to order by President Gordon Gray of Winston-Salem.

Governor Hoey was to speak to night.

Price Rise Is Felt
In North Carolina

Raleigh, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Rising prices due to the war hit the state's pocketbook hard today.

The Division of Purchase and Contract announced it would buy 1,620 barrels of flour from one miller at $4.80 a barrel, if the flour meets state specifications. That price was 57 cents a barrel higher than the average paid under the last contract, but it was 85 cents lower than the other bids received Tuesday.

The division also ordered another 620 barrels with the top price being $6.34 a barrel. The average for the entire previous contract was $4.03 a barrel.

James Landley yesterday ran his bicycle into a woman pedestrian, knocking her to the ground. The cyclist was Negroes in both instances.
