BRITAIN SAYS ODDS AGAINST SUB BLOCKADE

Government Gives Assurance to Home Front

MAY EXPECT BIG SHIPPING LOSS

Despite Many Disasters, Asserted Submarine Has Been Shown to be "Very Vulnerable"

42 - ENGLISH ... Ontl. ... MOP. London, Sept. 23.—(AP) The British government assured the home front today in a communique that "enemy submarines alone can never maintain an adequate blockade," but warned that "we may have to endure great losses at sea before the present war is ended."

Despite reports of fresh losses inflicted by German undersea raiders, the Ministry of Information declared "energetic measures" taken by the royal navy and air force had proved the submarine to be "very vulnerable."

Inhabitants of the Heio islands off the Norwegian coast, yesterday reported the torpedoing of the British freighter Akeneside, 2,694 tons, bound from Lythe, England, to Bergen, with a cargo of coal. The crew of 26 escaped in lifeboats and was picked up by a Norwegian ship.

While the sinking of the Akeneside, Britain had lost about 35 merchantmen.

A Finnish steamer loaded with woodpulp for England was sunk today off the southern coast of Norway. Members of the crew, all safe, said a member of the German submarine boarded the steamer and destroyed it with explosives planted in the hold.

Another communique issued last night from 10 Downing street, after a meeting of the supreme war council of Great Britain and France, announced "complete agreement" on the course to be followed in the war.

Funeral to be Held For W. H. Gardner

William Henry Gardner, 63, died at his home here Friday night at 9 o'clock.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the late home by the Rev. A. B. Denton, Primitive Baptist minister of Rocky Mount. Burial will be in Brigers cemetery near Wilson.

Mr. Gardner was born and reared in Pitt county, but spent most of his life in Wilson county. He moved to Greenville from Wilson 11 years ago and had been associated with the North Side Lumber Company of Greenville.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Gertrude Winslow Gardner, four sons, Grady, Marvin, J. D. and Russell Gardner, all of Greenville; three daughters, Mrs. H. J. Bell of Norfolk, Mrs. R. S. Radcliffe and Mrs. L. P. Stokes, both of Greenville; one brother, G. W. Gardner of Rocky Mount; two sisters, Mrs. J. J. Short and Mrs. J. W. Robins of Wilson; three grandchildren, and his father, Henry Cleophus Gardner.

Active bearers will be Joe Phebe, W. B. Peale, G. A. Conway, Woodrow Corbitt, H. T. Boxeman and Clifton Stokes.

Church Observing 112th Anniversary

The Memorial Baptist church will observe its 112th anniversary tomorrow morning, at which time the pastor will deliver a special message. Every member of the church is requested to be present.

During the 112 years since the church was founded it has been served by a long line of outstanding pastors.

The church stands as a memorial to the organization of the general convention of North Carolina Baptists, or in this city in 1826 four teen men met to organize the convention. The present church building was dedicated in October, 1890, after being under construction for seven years.

In addition to the message by the pastor, Dr. J. D. Simons, Mayor Jack Spain will deliver a message of appreciation.

British Patrol Boat Hits Mine In Channel

London, Sept. 23.—(AP) —The British patrol boat Kittiwake struck a mine in the English channel and was damaged, an official announcement disclosed today. Five of the crew were believed dead and two injured.

The admiralty said the Kittiwake struck a mine September 20. The two injured men were taken to a hospital when the patrol returned to its base for repairs.

Hitler Joins Troops on Western Front as Nazis Undertake New Assaults

Campaign Ended

Berlin, Sept. 23.—(AP) The German army high command in a communique tonight declared "the campaign in Poland is ended" and "a Polish army of millions of men has been defeated, captured or routed."

"No single Polish active or reserve division, none of their independent brigades, etc., escaped this fate," the communique declared.

It admitted that Warsaw still held out against the German siege, but described the Polish capital as one of three "hopeless positions," the others being Modlin and the Heia peninsula.

Earlier the supreme command had announced the cutting off of Warsaw from Modlin.

PITT SESSIONS START MONDAY

Forthcoming Referendum Will Be Outlined

A series of meetings relative to the forthcoming referendum on the 1940 crop control program will be held in each of Pitt county's 13 townships beginning Monday afternoon and continuing through October 3.

Farmers of Pitt county have already attended a number of meetings and familiarized themselves with what must be done to improve prevailing tobacco conditions. Crop control was unanimously endorsed at a county-wide mass meeting of Pitt farmers here Friday night.

R. R. Bennett today announced a complete schedule of meetings to be held in the townships during the ensuing two weeks, with two meetings set for each day of the first week. One will be held in the afternoon of the scheduled dates and the other at night.

The schedule follows: Monday, September 25, Beaver Dam, high school, 2:30 o'clock, and Falkland, high school, 8:00; Tuesday, September 26, Fountain, high school, 2:30 o'clock, and Pactolus, high school, 8:00; Wednesday, September 27, Farmville, town hall, 2:30 o'clock, and Ayden, town hall, 8:00; Thursday, September 28, Bethel, old school building, 2:30 o'clock, and Carolina, high school, 8:00; Friday, September 30, Grimesland, high school, 2:30 o'clock, and Chicod, high school, 8:00.

Saturday, September 30, Swift Creek, Stokes' store, 2:30 o'clock, and Belvoir, high school, 8:00; Monday, October 2, Winterville, town hall, 2:30 o'clock, and Grifton, high school, 8:00; Tuesday, October 3, Greenville, agricultural building, 8 o'clock.

THE PREVIOUS TENANTS WOULDN'T STAY—Dickens, Tex.—(AP)—John Koonman, Dickens county sheriff, thinks it would be good business to place a "for rent" sign on his jail.

"There is less crime in this county now than for years."

What About Foreign Investments

Babson Says All Foreign Bonds Are A Hazardous Investment

Yokohama, Sept. 23.—The war has changed the business and investment picture overnight. It has sent American business hurtling forward in one of the sharpest rises in its history. It has radically marked up or down the prices of securities. It has loaded the investor with new problems. Steels, oils, coppers, coals, sugars, have skyrocketed. Yet, foreign bonds, particularly those of European countries and the British commonwealths, have plumped 10 to 20 points.

In recent days I have been asked by a number of my fellow travelers how I felt about the future course of Japanese, South American and European bonds. After visiting Yokohama, I believe that Japanese bonds may be a good speculation. It is too early to attempt an inter-

GERMANS PRESS DRIVE IN POLAND

Announce Capture of City of Lwow, Later Yielded to Advancing Soviet Russian Army

Berlin, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Colonel General Baron Werner Von Fritsch, former commander-in-chief of the German army, has been killed in action in front of a comparatively minor post.

He died yesterday, Adolf Hitler's headquarters announced, and informed sources said he was serving with "his artillery regiment."

It was made clear he held no army command or any other post corresponding to his rank of colonel-general, just below that of field marshal.

Von Fritsch, who resigned as commander-in-chief after the fuhrer shook up the army leadership in February, 1938, had been made honorary commander of the 12th artillery regiment. This post was bestowed by Hitler "in recognition of great service in rebuilding of the Third Reich—considered a move to reinstate him in a position of honor."

Hitler ordered a state funeral for the 59-year-old "old school" officer and issued an order of the day honoring his memory.

The supreme army command announced, meanwhile, the cutting off of Warsaw from Modlin, apparently bringing the fall of both Polish strongholds a step nearer.

Modlin is a fortress approximately 10 miles northwest of the Polish capital.

The daily communique also announced the surrender yesterday of Lwow, more than 200 miles southeast of Warsaw.

German troops in turn yielded the city to advancing Soviet Russians, Nazis asserting that there, as elsewhere German-Soviet co-operation seems perfect.

In mopping up remnants of the Polish army in the Buzza river sector, west of Warsaw, German forces reported the capture of one especially prominent Pole, General Bortowski, described as supreme commander of the Polish Corridor army.

Josephus Daniels To Visit Raleigh

Washington, Sept. 23.—(AP)—State Department officials said today Josephus Daniels, ambassador to Mexico, was expected to visit Washington and also his home in Raleigh, North Carolina, in the near future.

They said Daniels was scheduled to leave the Mexican capital by airplane today to attend the American Legion convention in Chicago. Before returning to Mexico City he was expected to come here but it was not known immediately whether or not he would first visit North Carolina.

The ambassador's trip to this country was described officially as a leave of absence.

NYA Officers Confer With Pitt Officials

John A. Lang, state director of the National Youth Administration, and Miss Virginia Pettit, district supervisor for NYA, were in Pitt county yesterday conferring with officials about proposed work in the county during 1939-40.

While in the county, they attended the dedication at Grimesland of the vocational building of the Pitt County training school. Members of the Pitt County Board of Education also attended.

Orphanage Will Give Concert In This City

The singing class of Oxford Orphanage will give a concert in Greenville high school auditorium next Wednesday night, September 27, at 8 o'clock.

T. A. Etheridge, committee chairman for the program, said, "We are confident that the forthcoming visit, like those of the past, will be a blessing to our community."

There will be no admission for the concert. However, a free will offering will be made.

New Neutrality Provision Designed to Win Support For Administration Plans

Would Prohibit Any American Vessel From Carrying Materials or Passengers To Any Belligerent Nation; Near Senate Majority Favors Repeal of Embargo on Arms

Washington, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A strict prohibition against American vessels carrying "any articles, materials or passengers" to any belligerent was incorporated today in the administration's bill to repeal the embargo against arms shipments to warring nations.

Some senators thought the new provisions were designed to win the support of legislators who, like Alf Landon, the 1936 Republican presidential candidate, reports strong sentiment in the country for a general "cash and carry" system of sales to belligerents.

It was said reliably that the bill also would tighten up on presidential discretion, using the word "shall" instead of "may" frequently in outlining the Chief Executive's duties under the legislation.

At the same time, repeal opponents reported they were deluged with mail upholding their stand and thought further of forming an unofficial committee to "educate" the public.

(President Roosevelt arrived at Hyde Park this morning and drove to his family home to spend the week-end with his 85-year-old mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt. He came from Washington by special train.)

Meanwhile, an Associated Press compilation showed that 44 senators, within five of a majority, had announced they favored repeal of the embargo on exports of arms to Europe's warring nations.

Nineteen members have expressed themselves in opposition to repeal of the embargo, while 33, holding the balance of power, either have declined publicly to commit themselves at this time or have not been reached for comment.

Of the 33 senators not included in the compilation, these, among others, declined publicly to express themselves on the question at this time: Reynolds and Bailey of North Carolina.

Wheels of American aircraft plants have been so speeded up, especially since the start of the European war, that the $300,000,000 expansion of the army air corps may be attained six months or more ahead of schedule.

Seek Protect Shipping In Western Hemisphere

American Republics In Conference at Panama

By The Associated Press The United States strengthened its "neutrality patrol" off New England today and demands increased among Pan-American nations for strong measures to safeguard shipping from interruption by European belligerents.

These developments followed President Roosevelt's disclosure that foreign submarines had been sighted off Boston and off Alaska and earlier reports of submarine activity on the south Atlantic.

Six Coast Guard cutters were placed under United States Navy supervision and assigned to patrol the coast from Maine to Connecticut. The cutters, including three now en route from the West Coast, were of destroyer size and carried flying boats. (The "neutrality patrol" is operating from Eastport, Me., to and including the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean sea.)

Sentiment for the adoption of stern measures to protect shipping between North and South American countries crystallized in conferences among delegates to the neutrality conference of American republics opening at Panama today.

The Paraguayan delegation urged American nations to "unite in claiming the greatest respect from belligerents for legal commerce" and recommended that "all means within reach" be taken to prevent the operation of belligerents in this hemisphere.

"The American nations should unite in determination of a line of action to make their claims effective," the delegation said. Some delegates suggested co-operation in a continental patrol.

Fred Haddock, 66 Claimed by Death

Fred Haddock, 66, died at his home in the Sheldermine community Friday night at 10:15 o'clock from a stroke suffered three months ago.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at the late home at 2:30 o'clock by his pastor, the Rev. R. P. Harris of Kinston. Burial will be in the family cemetery.

Mr. Haddock was engaged in farming and was a member of the Free Will Baptist Church at Sheldermine.

Surviving are his widow and two sons, Rufus and Amos Haddock of Sheldermine; three daughters, Mrs. Snodde Sutton, Mrs. Jimmie Kite and Mrs. Louis Hudson; three brothers, Joe of Bryant's Creek, Darenus of New Bern and Heber Haddock of Grimesland; one sister, Mrs. L. F. Mills of Black Jack.

PRESIDENT QUIET ON 3RD TERM QUESTION

Hyde Park, Sept. 23.—(AP)—President Roosevelt smilingly turned down today an invitation to reply to a suggestion by former Governor Alf Landon of Kansas that he announce to the country that he did not want a third term.

Reporters clustered around him in a hayfield where a new library soon will arise, showed the President an excerpt from Landon's statement that the "greatest single contribution" the chief executive could make in the present troubled situation was to tell the country that he did not want a third term and would refuse the nomination if it were offered.

The President said he had not seen Landon's full statement and would be unable to comment. He added that he was sorry, but that he had to protect himself. "I wish you would, son," said his 85-year-old mother, who was seated beside the President in his blue touring car.

She had asserted on the occasion of her birthday Thursday that she believed her son had no desire for a third term.

Landon was quoted by the New York World Telegram in a copy-righted interview as favoring adjourning all party politics, but asserting it was up to the President to insure such adjournment by removing himself from the 1940 picture.

PITT FARMERS BACK CONTROL AT MEET HERE

Program Unanimously Endorsed by Hundreds

J. E. WINSLOW CHIEF SPEAKER

Tells Farmers That if Referendum Carries Government Prepared to Offer Immediate Aid

With cries of "support the referendum" ringing in their ears, several hundred Pitt county residents, directly affected by the prevailing tobacco crisis, unanimously endorsed crop control in a county-wide mass meeting in the court house last night.

After being told by J. E. Winslow, president of the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation, that representatives of the buying companies in the Washington conferences were opposed to reopening the markets and federal aid for the farmer if crop control isn't carried, those in attendance appeared eager to do anything to remedy the situation.

It is estimated that Pitt farmers have 35,000,000 pounds of tobacco from this year's crop on hand.

Approximately 300 members of the Eastern Carolina Warehousemen's Association will assemble in the Y. M. C. A. building at State College Monday morning at 11 o'clock for the purpose of discussing the crisis. B. B. Sugg, vice-president of the Association, expressed the belief at last night's meeting that each of the warehousemen would go on record as supporting the tobacco farmer to support crop control.

Introduced at last night's lengthy rally was a program adopted by the government and endorsed by the tobacco companies, which will be used if the vote is favorable in the forthcoming tobacco referendum.

According to Winslow, the government and companies are confident the new program can be worked out satisfactorily.

"If the referendum is carried an attempt would be made to work out arrangements with the Imperial Tobacco Company," declared Winslow, "under which the buyers of this company would follow the markets as usual and purchase a quantity of tobacco for the Commodity Credit Corporation equal to that normally purchased by this company."

Winslow explained that "this company, acting as agent for the Commodity Credit Corporation, would grade, retrim price and store the tobacco as if purchased for their own account. The Imperial Tobacco Company would have an option for the purchase of this tobacco within a stated period of time if exchange became available. The Commodity Credit Corporation and the Imperial Tobacco Company would work out an agreement under which each would pay a part of the cost incident to the purchase, retrimming and pricing."

"If the referendum carries," said Winslow, "the Federal government has already agreed to support this proposal with from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 to stabilize the market along the same price trends of the opening."

"The laws are on the books and are constitutional," Winslow concluded, "and the government can stabilize prices if the farmer wants them stabilized."

Immediately after his brief, but frank address, Winslow was presented with a gold watch as a gift from farm bureau members and other farmers for his work in behalf of the farmers of the State.

Many of the farmers who had planned to be on the inside of last night's activities could not get the room and had to resort to the grapevine method as to what was going on. Those who did jam the building loudly applauded the following speakers when they sounded the Farm Bureau's slogan "Support the Referendum"; W. H. Woolard, (Continued on page three)

Resolution of Thanks

The Synod of North Carolina in session at Greenville, North Carolina, desires to go on record as deeply appreciating the untiring efforts put forth for the entertainment and comfort of the Synod.

To the Rev. Dr. Robert S. Boyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Greenville, North Carolina, his officers and members; to the young people of the First Church and members of Boy Scout Troop No. 33; to Dr. L. R. Meadows, president of East Carolina Teachers College, and his associates; to Miss Ruth White, member of the faculty in charge of registration and assignment of rooms to Commissioners, and to another faculty member, Mr. Dean C. Taber, who directed the music; to Mrs. L. L. Rives and Mrs. L. Rosa Harrell, who provided such delightful meals; to the local daily papers which have given generous space in publicizing the actions of the Synod; and last but not least, to the efficient committee of arrangement, Messrs. J. Nat Harrison, A. E. Gibson and Hunter Keck.

To all these, Synod extends sincerest expression of appreciation of this efficient, courteous and untiring provision for our comfort, and convenient attention to the business of this church court, and in leaving we carry delightful memories of your kindness and assure you of our continued prayers.

WHAT'S NEWS I. Q. THIS WEEK?

By The AP Feature Service

1. What did President Roosevelt do to stem rising food prices? 2. Congress was called into special session to do what? 3. Did the Germans capture Gdynia, Polish Baltic seaport: (a) the first day of the war, (b) the first week, or (c) the second week? 4. Identify the representative of the U. S. government, right, who accused the Nazis of bombing open Polish towns. 5. The Polish Ukrainian and White Russian areas, invaded by Russia, were once part of Russia. True or false? 6. What famous exile returned to his native land recently? How long had he been gone? 7. Has the unofficial Russo-Japanese war in Outer Mongolia been (a) resumed or (b) suspended? 8. Identify the man, left, who promised the administration "a real war in the legislative field" over the neutrality law. 9. A Yale professor recently exhibited a film showing how he trained three rats to: (a) eat more cheese, (b) work for a living by pushing a lever to release food, or (c) gnaw bigger holes? 10. American steel production boomed because of the war. True or false?

Each question counts 10; a score of 60 is fair, 80 good.

State Wolfpack Given Send-Off In Big Rally

Clash With Davidson Today In Season Opener

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 22 — Amid the fanfare of the first student pep rally of the year the North Carolina State college football Wolfpack tonight was given a rousing send-off for its season opener at 3 o'clock tomorrow night against Davidson College's Wildcats in the War Memorial Stadium in Greensboro.

A light workout in game togs this afternoon turned the Pack to a fine point and tonight the boys appeared anxious to get going against the spirited North Mecklenburgers.

Coach Newton is anticipating an unusually hard game from the improved Wildcats, whom he coached up until three years ago before coming to State.

While little is known of the Davidson personnel, due to so many players from the Freshman and B squads of a year ago, State also is very much of a question mark because of many new faces that are slated to break into the lineup.

The battle will be the third time Coach Newton and his former aide, Gene McEver, now coaching Davidson, have met. In both previous meetings State has won by close margins before record-breaking throngs. According to information received here another huge turnout is expected for tomorrow's Southern Conference opener.

Co-Captains Babe Retter, center, and Andy Pavlovsky, halfback, probably will have only three of their 1938 teammates with them when State takes field. They are Little Artie Rooney, quarterback; Ty Coon, all-American tackle luminary, and Mickey Sullivan, end.

However, five other probable starters are lettermen—Guards Bill Windley and John Savini, Tackle Ralph Burt, Halfback Pat Fehley, and Fullback Tony DiYeso. Wade Brown, a six-foot-three, 190 pound end from last year's B squad, probably will complete the lineup.

The probable starting lineups:

Davidson N. C. State
 McClintock Brown
 Pennington Center Savini
 Knoeller (C) Right Guard Burt
 Cowan Right Tackle Sullivan
 Sharpe Right End Rooney
 Bolin Quarterback Pavlovsky
 Hand Halfback Fehley
 Yoder Halfback DiYeso
 Fullback

UNC TO BATTLE CITADEL TODAY

Thirty Cadet Grid-ers on Hand for Big Tilt

Charleston, S. C., Sept. 23.—With more than three weeks of hot weather grinding under their belts, approximately thirty members of the 1939 Citadel football squad will be on hand at Chapel Hill today for the Citadel-University of North Carolina Southern conference season opener.

Coach Tatum Gressette and his men arrived in Chapel Hill yesterday and the cadets were declared in good shape for the opening encounter.

The Tar Heels will be heavily favored to roll over the Citadel today. Coach Ray Wolf has more men weighing better than 225 pounds than Gressette has tackles and guards combined, including the reserves.

But if Coach Wolf is looking for a "breather" game in which he can throw his reserves and use only one or two simple plays he probably will be panned.

While the Citadel's chances with North Carolina are not much stouter than Poland's chances against Germany, Coach Gressette has stuck to his earlier statement that, "We're not conceding anything to anybody—and that includes North Carolina and Tennessee."

With Graham Edwards and Hank Foster flanking passes with well-known accuracy to Bob David and Jake Burrows, the cadets might easily make the afternoon very interesting for the Tar Heels.

changing into investments. Denmark, Finland, Norway, Belgium, have—up to now—kept their bonds in the investment class, but the war has given them a tremendous jolt. Under current conditions, with huge expenditures for defense fastened to already top-heavy national debts, I cannot consider any foreign bonds as anything but speculations.

I cannot say why any American would want to put his money into foreign bonds. If anything should ever make us bitter toward all foreign nations it is the treatment that they have given American investors. At the end of 1938, over 600 issues of dollar bonds totaling about $6,000,000,000 were outstanding. Of this amount, 275 issues amounting to $2,000,000,000—one-third of the total—were in default. Moreover, these figures do not include the war debts which these governments owe Uncle Sam.

How Investors Are Rooked

Here is a brief outline of what these racketeering nations have done to our investors: A foreign government defaults on its debt. Its bonds immediately drop to default levels which means they sell from 15 to 50 cents on the dollar. Holders of the bonds lose the interest that is owed to them. Some are forced to sell the bonds at huge losses. Meanwhile, the offending nation collects some cash. Instead of using this cash to pay bond interest and put the bonds back on an investment basis, the nation enters the New York bond market and buys its obligations at 20 to 50 cents on the dollar. Then it cancels the purchased securities and thus cuts

Postal Oddities

QUEEN VICTORIA'S PORTRAIT WAS THE ONLY SUBJECT ALLOWED ON BRITISH STAMPS FOR 60 YEARS (1840-1900)

MANY POSTAL CLERKS COUNT ENVELOPES & POSTAL CARDS BY SOUND!

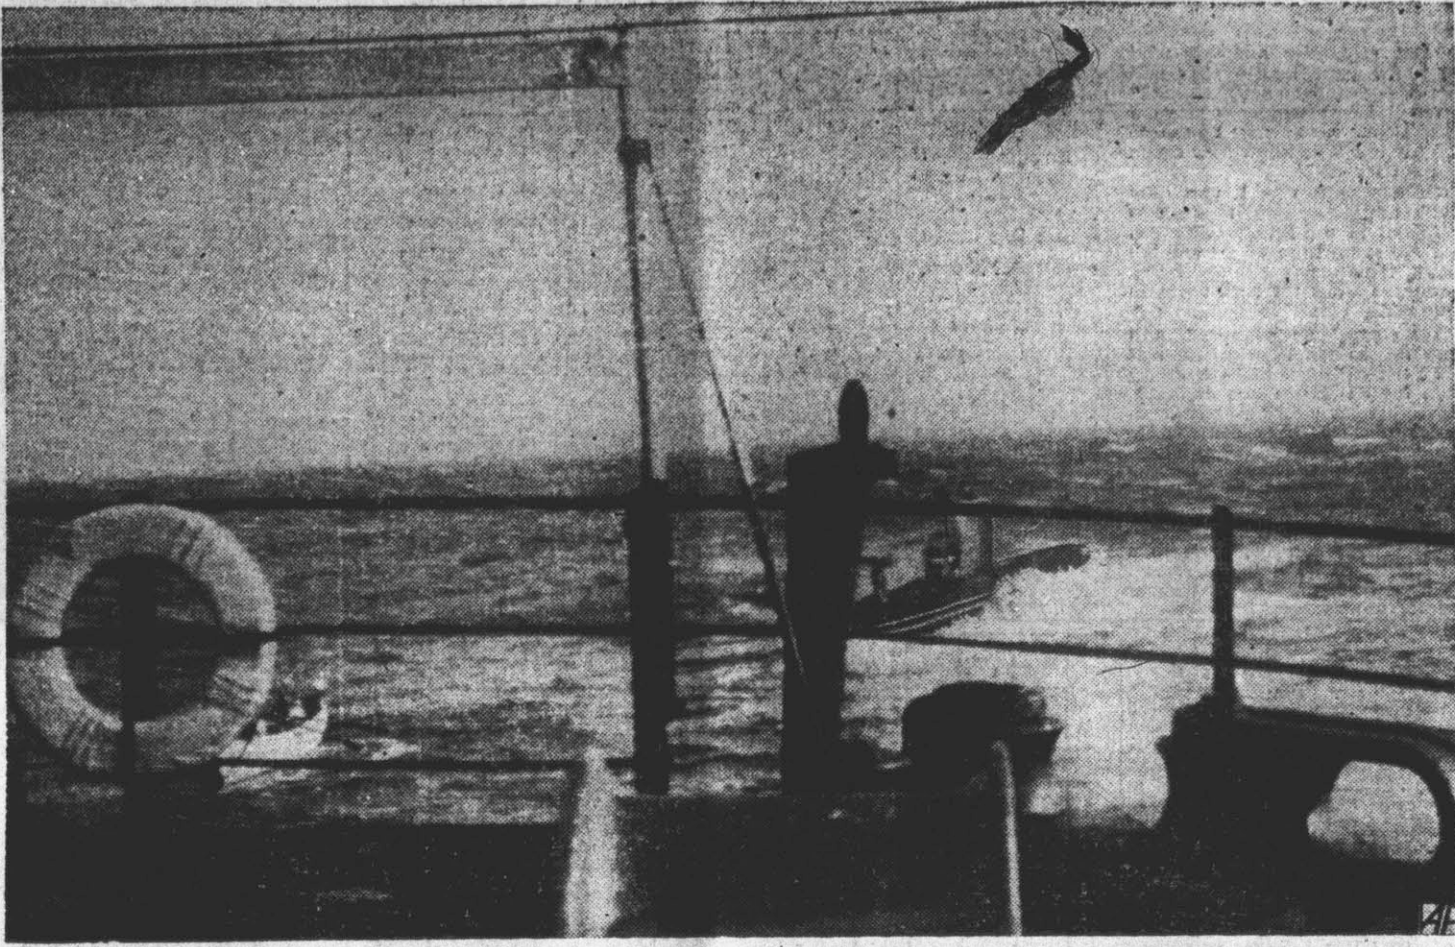

BRITISH SUBJECTS ONCE RAN THEIR OWN POST OFFICE AND PRINTED THEIR PRIVATE STAMPS WITHIN A FEW MILES OF BERLIN, GERMANY!

CONTRIBUTED BY ARTHUR KING CLARK DRAWN BY JOHN BAER

At the outbreak of the World War several thousand British subjects were interned for the duration of the war at the Ruhleben Race Track near Berlin, Germany. To facilitate delivery of mail they established a post and printed their own stamps, these to cover costs of handling mail. The demand for these non-postal issues became so great that German Postal Officials ordered them out of circulation. . . . Odd, isn't it?

German U-Boat Halts American Freighter Wacosta

Made from the deck of the American freighter Wacosta of Mobile, Ala., this picture shows the German submarine which fired a shot across the vessel's bow to halt her off the Irish coast September 9. The shot, though, was the result of a misunderstanding. Capt. George R. Self of the Wacosta said, because he didn't understand the submarine's signal to heave to. After a search revealed no contraband the freighter she was allowed to proceed toward New York. In this picture a lifeboat from the Wacosta is shown as she was pulled aboard the submarine to pick up the German officer and three sailors who conducted the search. Men can be seen on the submersible's deck. This picture was brought to this country by the Wacosta which reached New York September 20.

Will Map of Europe Look Like This?

Will the map of Europe look like this when the German-Russian campaign in Poland is finished? The slicing up of Poland was indicated in the manner shown above on maps of German origin distributed in Rumania — maps to which significance was attached despite the fact they were not considered official. Should Poland be carved up as indicated, it would become a considerably smaller buffer state sandwiched between slices taken over by Germany and Russia. In the shaded area of "Greater Germany" are shown that nation's acquisitions under Adolf Hitler. Indications pointing to Russian intentions of dominating the North Baltic sea led to speculation whether the U. S. S. R. might swallow the little Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania.

its total debt and total interest claims.

The result is that the foreign nation benefits itself at the expense of the American creditor who has no come-back. This practice, called "repatriation," cost American investors over $2,000,000,000 in the last few years. European creditor nations have a clearing system that prevents this racket. For instance, up until the guns began to roar, Germany was paying on debts it owed to British and French citizens, but left Americans out in the cold.

At least 20 foreign nations that said that her repurchases approached a quarter of a billion dollars. Chile and Brazil have repatriated over $100,000,000 worth of bonds. While these governments refused to pay what they owed to American citizens, they have squandered billions on armaments. Since the World War, total default on South American issues has been estimated at $1,200,000,000, while the total default on German issues has been estimated at $873,000,000.

These figures are wholly apart from the indebtedness of the allies.

Nazis Worst Offenders

Germany has been, by all odds, the leader in the movement. It is to us for money borrowed during the last war. Taking no account of interest, these countries today owe us a total of twelve billion dollars in war debts. England and France are our biggest debtors. They owe us about four billion dollars apiece. This is our reward for "saving democracy" in 1917-18. It is one of the best arguments for us to keep out of "Round Two."

Keep Our Dollars Home

Hence, my advice is that readers should do their "digging for diamonds" in their own backyards. I am a staunch believer in diversification, but I beg you to seek it at home rather than abroad. It is difficult enough to keep posted on developments in North America without getting involved in the complicated foreign muddle. I have always opposed the purchase of all government bonds except those of Canada and the United States. Today, I am more opposed than ever to their purchase.

Flanagan, former Senator from Pitt; B. B. Sugg, vice-president of the Eastern Carolina Warehousemen's Association; and Judson Blount, well-known merchant and landowner of Pitt County. Brief talks by each of these speakers hinged on crop control.

E. F. Arnold, executive secretary of the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation, told the farmers they were "on the brink of disaster" and then related how the American Farm-Bureau Federation and the State Farm Bureau had secured appropriations and amendments to help the farmer face the present crisis.

R. R. Bennett, Pitt County farm agent, pointed out how the 1940 program applies to the farmer, and told of necessary requirements for a farmer to participate in the forthcoming referendum. It was revealed that Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace was sending data on the referendum to all weed growers.

G. E. Trevathan of Fountain, president of the Pitt County Farm Bureau, had charge of the program and introduced the speakers.

Legion Pageant to be Staged in Raleigh Soon

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Sept. 23.—Dr. C. C. Crittenden, secretary of the North Carolina Historical Commission, is hopeful that the American Legion's pageant, to be staged here October 2 to 6, will bring to the public generally a greater appreciation of the part played by this state in winning American independence.

The expert on things that happened in the long ago cited numerous instances of great and important events in early Tar Heel history which he says have never received the attention and general recognition they deserve.

Here are a few events, which the pageant will feature and which have been much overlooked, with Dr. Crittenden's comment on them:

"In resisting the hated Stamp Act, Cornelius Harnett and his followers on the lower Cape Fear were among the most courageous and daring patriots in all America.

"The decisive Whig victory at Moore's Creek bridge early in 1776, which is not even mentioned in most of the general histories, broke the power of the strongest Tory group in the South and prevented a British invasion of the southern states.

"The state was a leader in the movement for complete separation from Great Britain. The Halifax resolves, passed by the North Carolina Provincial Congress on April 12, 1776, nearly three months before Washington. The present evidence that Russia may be toying with the idea of playing power politics could bring on another of those grandly dramatic situations wherein little old England takes on the whole continent of Europe and with the use of her diplomacy and sea power leads it back into shape.

A glance at a single day's headlines discloses that England and France are extremely hard pressed. Russia's plunge into Poland indicates that Stalin is looking for easy gains and might find them in other directions, notably southward of the Caspian where the rich Persian oil fields are situated.

It is possible their combined influence might swing all of the Balkan territory over to their side in spite of British efforts to save some support there. It might bring in Turkey. Already Turkish papers in inspired articles have emphasized that Russia is Turkey's very dear friend.

Such a situation would leave England and France desperately straitened. To defend against German attack would be added the necessity of protecting Persian oil from Russian hordes, and perhaps even by the need of protecting India from a Communist invasion.

REMEMBER THE ARMADA? But with all this and perhaps even Italy against them, it would not necessarily mean the end of France and England. The tremendous force of British sea power has three times pulled England out of similar straits.

THE DIFFERENCE England's present desperate situation is different from her previous crises in two ways. Never before has she had to face Europe when Germany was so overwhelmingly powerful. In Napoleon's time there was no Germany of consequence.

After A Man's Heart

YESTERDAY: Life goes smoothly for two months. In January Iris DeMuth returns. Tim angrily accuses Buff of being philanthropic by buying his worthless land for what he paid. He won't listen to her denials.

Chapter 18 Lightning Strikes Again "I'M NOT especially anxious to see you—ever again," Buff told Tim when he telephoned.

"I don't wonder. But honestly, Buff..." "Hurry up!" she said, a crackle in her voice. "I've only another two weeks."

Nevertheless he was waiting for her when she returned at lunch time. "And you have to be polite to me because I'm a guest," he said. "Webby invited me to stay. She's set a place for me."

Her expression of austerity did not soften. "I suppose," she said, "you've discovered the smug philanthropist who paid the exact sum for your slice of mountain, and have come around to apologize."

"How you do put your finger on the truth!" was his admiring comment. "I have more than that, you rang the bell a second time. It was Iris."

"Iris!" This startled her despite what she had said the day before. "You mean to say Iris DeMuth—the girl who tricked you into buying out a lot of useless land—Iris bought it back? But why?"

"Neither. She... I know it sounds screwy, Buff. It did to me. In fact, it was a long time before I could believe it! But it seems Iris would believe it! But it seems Iris who thought up the scheme and he had sort of a hold over her..."

"Sort of? What sort of? Blackmail?" "You'd have to know Iris to understand. A softened note crept into his voice. "She's a trusting, innocent sort of a girl; not independent and self-reliant like you, Buff. She... well, it's almost made her ill all these months—knowing that she'd been the unconscious partner in a fraud, I mean. She..."

Tim had been called to the telephone soon after dinner the night before, Buff, of course, he thought, to say she was sorry for their quarrel of the afternoon. Buff, thank heaven, never held to a resentful mood long. Her anger flared white and quick, and died almost before she knew it. He had not known how much he had suffered beneath the girl's displeasure until he believed it was to be lifted by this call. He was dazed when he heard a voice, which was not Buff's but was still undeniably familiar, speak his name.

"Yes? Who is it, please?" "Oh, Tim," sighed the voice sorrowfully. "Iris!" "IT WAS then he knew. No one else in the world spoke with the same wistful sweetness, the same little curling upward inflection of his name."

"Yes, it's Iris, my dear! Come back to undo—so far as I can!—the great wrong I did you last summer." He stood dazed and silent, the receiver at his ear. For weeks after Iris had left Boulder, and before he himself had shown signs of collapse, he had dreamed, sleeping and waking, of just this thing: of Iris returning to say it was all a mistake; that she loved him, that there was a reason for her seeming treachery.

Now it was coming true, and instead of the wild ecstasy he had thought to feel he was merely numb with bewilderment. "Are you there, Tim? Why don't you speak?" Surely, he thought impersonally, Iris had the sweetest voice in the world; not low like Buff's, with little gruff and boyish notes in it, but musical, throbbing; the kind of voice which awakens emotion in the most practical of listeners. "I'm here," he replied. "Will you come—at once? I'm at the hotel. And of course there are millions of things I must say to you."

He cleared his throat. "Iris, I don't think I should say anything. No, dearest, I'd rather you didn't—not until after I've seen you, at any rate. All sorts of things have taken place since I... since I imposed in times past? If the British fleet survives air attack, Germany is due for a lot of hunger—not for food, which eastern Europe might supply, but for oil, which a triumphant British fleet can keep from her."

Tommies Off To The War

British Tommies haven't been deterred by their sense of humor or by the ability to "Smile, Smile, Smile." This cablephoto shows Tommies marching somewhere in England before leaving for service on the Western front. Note the smiles and the "bed and breakfast" sign attached to the rifle one carries.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL Raleigh, Sept. 23. — This month's issue of the Municipal News, organ of the Muni Leagues of numerous Southern States, comments that it has found a number of foolish and screwy laws to match North Carolina's public exposure statute which

'IT'S AN ILL WIND THAT DOESN'T . . .'—Their first taste of country life delights English youngsters, some of million evacuated from London because of air-raid dangers.

NO, GUESS AGAIN!—These aren't pearls; they're salmon fry, seven weeks' old, at fish hatcheries in Melbourne.

'THE TIGER'—"A soldier 24 hours of the day" is phrase used by intimates to describe Viscount Gort, commander-in-chief of British field forces, nicknamed "Tiger."

FAVORITE—Raymond J. Kelly (above), a Detroit attorney, reportedly has a good chance of election as national commander at the American Legion convention in Chicago.

STRATEGIST—Nazis' naval warfare is directed by Admiral Erich Raeder (above), who in 1938 said that Germany would build up to parity with Britain in submarines.

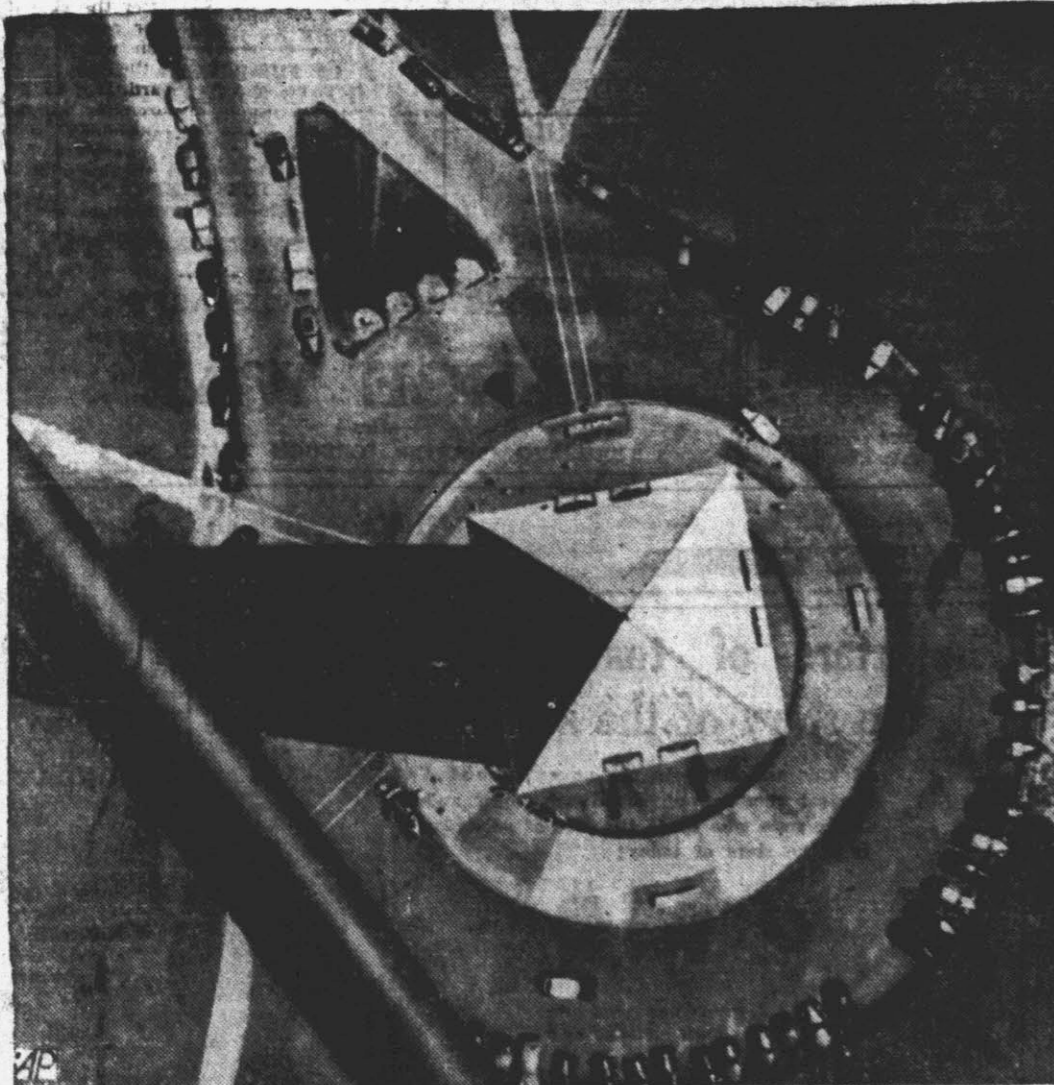

FIGHTING IRISHMEN—"Mike" was the natural choice of a name for this canine mascot of the Notre Dame team which started gridiron practice with Coach Elmer Layden (left) and Capt. Johnny Kelly of Rutherford, N. J., very much on hand.

DARN THOSE BULBS!—Two furry paws shot up to shield the eyes of this six-month-old giant panda when photographers' flash bulbs exploded, greeting the rare beast's arrival in Seattle. Or maybe the panda is sun-shy, having just come from war-ravaged China. Bound for the St. Louis zoo, the panda is shown with George P. Vierheller, director of the zoo.

ON GUARD—To tighten Panama Canal defenses, F. D. R. has placed Maj. Gen. David L. Stone, canal army commander, in charge of both civil and military administrations. He supercedes the civil governor.

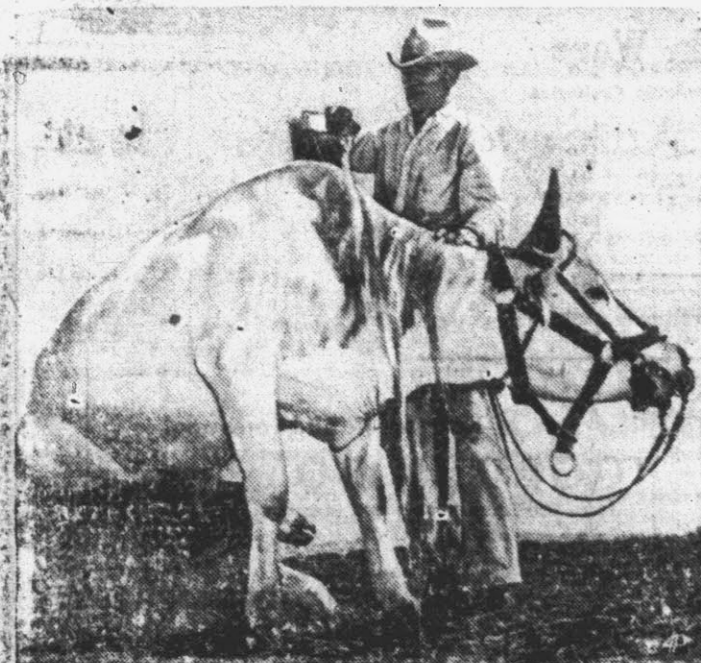

CAMERA SCORES A BULLSEYE—The shutter clicked just as photographer was above tip of 555-foot Washington monument in nation's capital. Sightseeing cars add to the pattern.

ARMY TACTICS—What the 1939-40 campaign in the football wars is to be remains a deep military secret between Head Coach Bill Wood of the academy at West Point, and Harry A. Stella (right), of Kankakee, Ill., army grid captain.

HIP, HIP, HOGRAY!—Or maybe women don't care to cheer the new styles requiring pencil slimmness or corseted curves. Above rose-wine and powder-blue Turner gown was shown in New York City.

COMES SATURDAY NIGHT—Well, maybe night hasn't fallen yet but Ferdinand, two-year-old Brahma bull, gets his bath, anyhow, from his master, Charley Ellis of Dallas, Tex. Sitting on a stool is one of Ferdy's several cute tricks.

KINDNESS WINS—EVEN A BULL—"He's gentle as a kitten," says Charley Ellis of Dallas, describing his pet Brahma bull seen bowing politely to his master. Ellis says that Ferdinand is broken to a saddle, has a sunny disposition, and "plays dead" on command. Thanks to their rodeo performances most Brahmas have a reputation for sheer mean-ness.

GAS MASK IN BRIDAL WHITE—Carrying their gas masks in special containers painted white to match the bride's gown, Denise Wright, an English girl, and Serge Cadier, a Frenchman, leave London's Church of Notre Dame de France after their wedding ceremony. But the bride didn't forget her bouquet of lilies, too. The bridegroom left next day for war duty in France.

BUNDSMAN—"Adolf Hitler will lick the world," Fritz Kuhn (above) told a recent rally of the German-American Bund at Sellersville, Pa.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Stock market buyers got behind rail equipments and specialties today and neglected many of the recently strong war issues.

There was little change in the news picture from a market standpoint, although domestic business promise remained sufficient during the session to bolster selected stocks. Transfers approximated 6,000,000 shares.

The U. S. government issues did better in the bond department and corporate bonds improved.

Over Charitable.

Napa, Calif.—(AP)—Jack O'Donnell was so impressed by the tale of a hard luck told by a hitch hiker that he lent the man his car to go looking for a job. Later, he reported to police that the man had absconded with it.

Danzig Greet Its Fuehrer

This radiophoto from Berlin shows Chancellor Adolf Hitler (left) of Germany greeting Albert Forster, Danzig's No. 1 Nazi, in that city under a sign proclaiming "Danzig Welcomes Its Fuehrer." Der Fuehrer and Forster exchanged greetings shortly before the former defiantly announced Germany's readiness to fight seven years if necessary. This picture of Hitler's appearance in Danzig is the first to be received in the United States.

ALL QUIET ON N. C. POLITICS TIES RENEWED BY OLD FOES

Chatham County Rally Latest Outward Move

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Sept. 23.—All's quiet on the Western front—the eastern, the middle and all others, too, for the matter.

And that's not a communique from Paris or some other European capital. It's late, up-to-date summary of the political situation in North Carolina in so far as it concerns the nomination and election of state officials in 1940.

Since the Chatham county rally in honor of Lieutenant Governor Wilkins Horton last Saturday, there hasn't been a really concrete development in the situation, either public or, so far as this correspondent has been able to learn, on the strict q.t.

Moreover there isn't anything in sight likely to cause more than the mildest of eyebrow lifting.

All of which does not mean that things which will influence next year's primaries are not happening. They are, and they probably are happening much more frequently than most people, or candidates, either, suspect.

For instance, sentiment is crystallizing one way or another in the matter of control for tobacco; and the turn that matter takes is certain to exert a powerful influence on next year's political campaign.

Again, the neutrality matter is working itself out; though nobody yet knows how. And there's another thing that may turn out to be the most vital one of them all, in view of the possibility that it will keep the U. S. out of, or get it into, the War. And it takes no seer to realize the importance of any such development.

Russia and Hungary Renew Diplomatic Relations

Budapest, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Diplomatic relations between Hungary and Soviet Russia, discontinued early this year, have been re-established, it became known today.

With Soviet troops now on Hungary's Ruthenian frontier, the two governments agreed to resume active diplomatic relations which were discontinued by Russia after Hungary announced last January she had agreed to sign the anti-Comintern pact of which Germany, Italy and Japan were the principal signatories.

Russia closed her Budapest legation shortly before Hungary signed the pact last February 2. Hungary countered by recalling her minister to Moscow but neither nation formally broke off relations.

Hungary's new minister to Moscow will be Dr. J. Cristofy, who still holds the post of councillor of the Hungarian legation at Warsaw. The name of the Russian envoy to Budapest was expected to be announced tomorrow.

Today, Hungary, known as one of the most anti-Communist nations of Europe, has 100 miles of frontier with the Soviets, under the Russian-German plan for partitioning Poland.

The decision to resume active diplomatic relations, it was understood, came after it became known that Germany and Russia had agreed that the Soviets should have a frontier with this country.

Local Men to Attend Building - Loan Meet

A. C. Tadlock, Dink James and W. W. Lee will attend the national convention of all building and loan associations, to be held at Atlantic City beginning Monday morning.

Mrs. James and Mrs. Louise Tadlock will accompany the local building and loan executives from all parts of North Carolina will attend the convention, and Wheeler Merritt, president of the state association, estimated that approximately 100 Tar Heels would be present.

A number of outstanding speakers have been secured for the convention.

Man Ordered Held For Pitt Robbery

Magistrate T. T. Jenkins today ordered that T. Jones, Pitt county man, be held under a $500 bond when probable cause was found in a case charging him with breaking entering and larceny.

Ola Jones, relative of B. T. Jones will be given preliminary hearing Monday morning before the magistrate.

Both Jones were jailed yesterday for allegedly entering a filling station at 7 in the county and taking from $10 to $20. They were arrested when fingerprints taken at the scene of the robbery matched their own.

Band Concert Will Be Held In Ayden

Mayor W. C. Ormand of Ayden today announced that the band of the Sudan Temple, New Bern, would give a public concert in Ayden High school auditorium Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Lee Gravelly of Rocky Mount, potentate of the Sudan Temple, will be present. Walt Bagley of Raleigh is director of the band and Capt. Charles D. Farmer of the State Highway Patrol is a member.

Mayor Ormand said the concert is being given to create interest in the Ayden High school band and in the Masonic and Eastern Star orders. A barbecue dinner in the Masonic Hall at Ayden for Masons and other guests will precede the concert.

Justice Butler Better

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—(AP)—A hospital reported today that Justice Pierce Butler of the Supreme court had spent a comfortable night.

Butler was described by physicians yesterday as a "very ill man." He is suffering from a kidney ailment.

Gen. George Argesanu (above), one of the country's outstanding soldiers, was appointed Prime Minister of Rumania, succeeding Premier Arman Calinescu who was assassinated on a principal street in Bucharest. Gen. Argesanu is known as a "tough disciplinarian."

KEEP QUIET ON ANTI-CONTROL

Tobacco Crisis Subdues Two Most Vocative Antis

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Sept. 23.—One of the most noticeable features of the present tobacco crisis in North Carolina is the manner in which it has almost completely subdued the voices of two of the state's hitherto most vocative anti-controllers.

The pair who have been saying exactly nothing about control recently in all known languages are United States Senator Josiah William Bailey, who has in the past delighted to assail control from every available rostrum, and Journalist-Radio man Carl Goerch who for a longtime has felt that day lost on which he couldn't squawk against control from every convenient microphone and in his personal publication "The State."

The Senator has injected himself into the business of doctoring the sick tobacco producers of North Carolina, and has written a long letter to the President imploring the Chief Executive to do something about the current emergency; that through it all he has maintained
