DENOUNCES HITLER FOR BREAKING HIS PROMISES

Finland Urges Civilian Population to Leave two Cities

Minister of the Interior Says Merely One of Precautionary but Adds Sooner Carried out The Better; Finnish Mission Departs for Moscow Conversations

Helsinki, Oct. 10.—(AP)—All civilians who can go were urged to make immediate preparations to leave the environs of Helsinki and Viipuri in a broadcast tonight by Minister of the Interior Uhohe Kekkonen. He said the measure was purely precautionary, but the sooner carried out the better.

The warning was given as a Finnish mission was on its way to Moscow at the invitation of the Soviet government to discuss unspecified economic and political problems. Russia has gained sweeping concessions on similar missions from smaller Baltic states.

The Finnish mission is expected to reach the Soviet capital tomorrow.

Viipuri is a port on the gulf of Finland, almost directly north of Leningrad. Russian warships were reported massed today at Kronstadt, huge naval base near Leningrad and hundreds of thousands of Russian troops are on the frontiers of the Baltic states.

Even before the interior minister's broadcast, trains and buses were crowded with women and children leaving Helsinki for the country and the railroads added extra trains.

The radio and newspapers have been instructing the populace in air defense measures and volunteers have been flocking to the civil defense service.

Bourne Is Heard At Civic Meeting

By WYATT BROWN "Students placed in jobs by the new Industrial Department of Greenville High School are already showing they have made progress and are improving their services to their employers." Wallace Bourne, head of the Industrial Department of Greenville High School, said last night in presenting this new activity of the High School to the Greenville Rotary Club at their regular weekly dinner meeting in their club building on Rotary avenue.

Mr. Bourne said that employers who take students in this new program are really part time teachers. It will cost the employer at first because they pay the student and the student is to work in the shop as to be of little or no value but soon the student catches on and is of more value than the small salary paid. The training given by the employer in the fifteen hours a week the student is at work, is supplemented by five hours of study at the High School on subjects directly related to the work engaged in.

In speaking of the aims and objectives of this new department at the High School Mr. Bourne stated that it was designed to get the student who cannot or should not go to college located in life and started to learning how to make a living in passing Mr. Bourne stated that Greenville students are oversold on college causing some to go who should not. Thus it was inferred that those who should not go to college will find in this new course a way to get started at work without having college pictured as the one and only way.

Though some students this year are using the new idea of part study and part work as a way to earn their way, it is not the primary aim of the new course to supply such assistance.

Since Greenville cannot afford a vocational training school for the High School since its equipment would be so expensive to offer the wide variety of courses necessary to make it of any value, this present kind of course has been conceived using outside training facilities. Mr. Bourne explained. With hearty thanks the speaker told the Rotarians how much their ready cooperation, so far had helped.

The next speaker on the program was F. D. Duncan, Bursar of East Carolina Teachers College, who explained to the Rotarians about loan funds at E. C. T. C. In his opening remarks he spoke of the cultural value of the presence of the college and of the high standing in collegiate circles of E. C. T. C. and the fine faculty found here—which he said he could brag about since he does not belong to the faculty.

With nearly a half million yearly being spent by the college and over half that in salaries the college is

Refuse To Split Neutrality Bill

Testifies

Kenneth Goff, who said he was a member of the Communist party and a leader of the Young Communist League, is shown on the witness stand as he told the Dies committee in Washington that the league used the name of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt to advance Communism. He said leaders "boasted" of having tea at the White House with Mrs. Roosevelt.

Regarded as Victory For Administration

Washington, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Administration forces in the Senate defeated today a motion to separate shipping provisions of the neutrality bill from the arms embargo repeal issue.

There was a division of opinion among leaders as to whether the administration's victory could be counted a test of strength on the neutrality bill itself—the most controversial section of which is that providing repeal of the present embargo on arms.

Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky told reporters he regarded the vote as a measuring stick, but Senator Borah (R-Idaho), leader of the opposition in the neutrality fight, said it could not be so considered.

The motion to split up the bill was made by Senator Tobey (R-N.H.). He proposed to send the measure back to the foreign relations committee with instructions to write two bills—one the embargo repealer, the other setting forth restrictions on American shipping and travel to belligerents.

Tobey wanted immediate action on the latter provision, which would prohibit American vessels from carrying any goods to warring countries. He contended that procedure would not forestall early action on repealing the arms embargo, a move recommended by President Roosevelt.

Fire Chief Makes Appeal to Public

George Gardner, chief of the fire department, today again appealed to citizens not to interfere with firemen rushing to the scene of a blaze by pulling out behind the trucks and parking their cars too close to the fire.

Chief Gardner pointed out that there was a city ordinance requiring all motorists to pull to the curb and park the moment a fire alarm sounds.

"We would have to attempt to enforce this law by arresting these motorists, but something must be done," declared the fire chief.

Chief Gardner said that if cars would wait until firemen got to the scene of the blaze and then park a reasonable distance from the fire, spectators would be welcome.

He said that the department had been greatly inconvenienced on numerous occasions by persons driving right up to the scene of the fire. He added that in numerous cases it was necessary to lay a hose and often firemen have to wait for cars to be moved before undertaking the task.

"These few moments often can prove the difference in putting out a small fire and the loss of an entire building and its contents," the chief added.

Occasion for Chief Gardner's remarks was Fire Prevention Week which is being observed throughout the nation this week.

REPORTS FROM OTHER MARTS

Prices Reported Ranging From 12 To 18 Cents

Raleigh, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Flue cured tobacco markets opened at full blast today with price averages reported from as low as ten cents a pound to nearly 18 as the trading holiday brought about in mid-September by the European war came to an end.

Most reports said farmers appeared to be satisfied, although from a few markets came word that there was disappointment at the prices.

Practically all warehouses were said to be crammed and at some points farmers were reported to be placing their tobacco in the streets awaiting the opening of warehouse space.

Raleigh, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Auction markets of the flue cured tobacco belt swung into action again today after a suspension since mid-September due to effects of European war and opening prices were reported.

A Home and Family Life Institute, sponsored by the State Department of Public Instruction and featuring talks by authorities in various fields affecting the family, which will be held at East Carolina Teachers College this coming Thursday and Friday, October 12 and 13, will bring a number of out-of-town speakers to Greenville.

The institute, the last of three held in various parts of the state, will be under the direction of Miss Catherine Dennis, state supervisor of home economics, and Miss Bess N. Rosa, field worker in home eco-

Fuehrer, in Opening Winter Relief Campaign, Declares that Germany never Will Again Be Forced to Her Knees, and Places Responsibility for Continuing War on Allies

Berlin, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler declared today that Germany was determined to fight the war to the bitter end, if necessary, and once more laid the responsibility for continuing the struggle on the Reich's adversaries.

In a 21-minute speech opening the Nazi winter relief campaign, the Reichsfuehrer said that he had expressed his country's "readiness for peace," but that if this were declined by the Western allies the fight would go on.

The winter relief work, he demanded, must attain results never before achieved not only because great tasks lie ahead, created by the war, but also because the world must be shown he said, that rumors of disunion within the Reich are unfounded.

Germans must make common cause, the Fuehrer said, "in battle in victory and finally in peace."

Germany must once and for all convince the world that it must be allowed to live undisturbed within its own living space.

GREAT BRITAIN DELAYS REPLY TO PROPOSALS

Prime Minister Postpones Speech until Thursday

TIME TO ALLOW FURTHER TALKS

Prime Minister's Speech Thus Scheduled for Same Day As Meeting Called By Lord George

London, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain today postponed on Wednesday until Thursday the House of Commons speech in which he is expected to reply to Adolf Hitler's peace overtures.

Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, told Commons that the postponement had been decided in order to allow fuller consultation with the Dominion government.

The prime minister's speech thus is scheduled for the same day David Lloyd George, Britain's World War prime minister, has called a meeting of his council for peace and reconstruction.

Lloyd George has advocated an international conference to settle European issues.

Immediately after Sir John's announcement, Air Minister Sir Kingsley Wood told the House that the Royal Air Force had made a "complete photographic map of the Siegfried line" which forms Germany's west wall fortification.

The threat of German naval activity in the North sea, broadened by clashes between British war ships and Nazi bombing planes spurred the Royal Navy's "watchdogs" to new vigilance.

Air and sea patrols stood guard against any surprise maneuver of a German fleet now bottled up in the Kiel canal and the Baltic.

The British press said the fleet was taking every precaution to prevent the Germans from turning raiders loose in the Atlantic to prey upon shipping.

Despite German claims to the contrary, British naval experts said all enemy attempts to harass the North sea patrol from the air had failed.

Prominent Farmer Claimed By Death

Joseph Worthington, 63, prominent farmer and merchant of Winterville, died at Pitt General hospital this morning at 10:30 o'clock, following an extended illness.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. Chester Pett, pastor of Reedy Branch Free Will Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. W. B. Nobles, Free Will Baptist minister of Winterville. Burial will follow in the Reedy Branch cemetery with the Order of Red Men of which Mr. Worthington was a member, in charge.

Mr. Worthington was born, reared and spent his entire life in the Winterville community. He was a member of the Reedy Branch church and also a member of the Junior Order.

In 1903 he married Miss Bertha Manning, who died in 1904. Of this union one son, H. H. Worthington of Winterville, survives. In 1906 he married Miss Lucy Cannon, who survives, with three children, Fountain, Helen, Ruth and Athleen.

Worthington, all of Winterville. Three grandchildren and two brothers, Fred Worthington of Winterville and J. H. Worthington of Roseboro, also survive.

In the past 30 years the value of North Carolina's agricultural crops has jumped from $51,000,000 to a total of $241,000,000, says Dr. I. O. Schaub of State College.

Leaf Prices Above those On Day Mart Closed down

Sales Resumed on Greenville Market with Full Corps of Buyers; Unofficial Estimates Predict Average Between 14 and 15 Cents Pound

Auction sales were resumed on the Greenville tobacco market today after having been closed down since September 12, and a record opening day break was on the floors.

It was estimated that approximately 2,000,000 pounds would be disposed of during the day, at a price average expected to be between 14 and 15 cents, higher than the average paid on the day the market closed down because of the withdrawal of British buyers from the market and the subsequent drop in prices.

As sales were resumed the five sets of buyers were confronted with a variegated assortment of tobacco that was generally classed as medium, neither good nor poor. The quality of the break was said to be below expectations of local tobacconists.

Observers reported that no tags were being turned and no outward dissatisfaction was in evidence.

The market operated at a uniform rate of speed, the warehousemen being governed by the ruling of the United States Tobacco Association limiting the speed to 300 baskets per hour. The piles of tobacco were said to be larger than usual, leading to the belief that the break would be unusually heavy.

Tobacco started off at 9 o'clock selling well above prices paid during the last week in September and the market was reported to have strengthened considerably two hours later.

Robert C. Rankin, sales supervisor, reported he interviewed nearly one hundred farmers, both large and small, and that each expressed satisfaction over the prices and were optimistic about future prices. When the market closed on September 12 the average for that day was 12.23 cents per pound. There was no doubt that today's figure would exceed that average.

Greenville warehousemen are making every effort to conduct orderly sales, eliminating congestion and delay when possible. Much attention is being paid to the spreading of tobacco on the floors, arranging it so every basket gives the buyers an opportunity of examining it before bidding.

Lions Club Official Attends Local Meet

Neil Hester of Raleigh, district governor of Lions International, was the guest of the local club at its regular weekly meeting last night.

Mr. Hester, making an official visit, advised the club on several problems.

Following the regular meeting a zone session was held with officers from the Bethaven, Washington, Williamston and Greenville clubs attending. Mr. Hester, Raleigh newspaperman, advised with this group.

Baptists Will Observe Hospital Day Oct. 29th

Winston-Salem, Oct. 10.—Baptist pastors throughout North Carolina will observe October 29 as Hospital Sunday in support of the enlargement campaign of North Carolina Baptist hospital. The pastors will preach that day on some phase of the ministry of healing, and the benefit that the entire state will reap from the creation of a great new medical center at Winston-Salem, where Wake Forest College is moving its medical school, and where it will work hand in hand with the enlarged Baptist Hospital.

Hospital Sunday was originally set for October 22, but because State Mission Sunday of the Baptist denomination in North Carolina falls on that day, Hospital Sunday was moved ahead.

State-wide meetings held in connection with this campaign for $200,000 are attracting hundreds of leading Baptists. The first regional meetings were held at Fayetteville and Durham. Meetings this week began at High Point, and continue with meetings at Charlotte on Wednesday and Rocky Mount on Friday. Next week there will be meetings at Greensboro and Winston-Salem.

FRENCH CLAIM NAZI THRUSTS ARE REPULSED

Turn Back Assaults South of City of Saarbruecken

GERMAN DRIVES STARTED SUNDAY

Desperate Attempt Said to Have Been Waged by Nazis Before Retiring Under Heavy Fire

Paris, Oct. 10.—(AP)—French troops were reported today to have turned back numerous German assaults south of the strategic city of Saarbruecken with hand grenades and rifle fire.

The Nazi thrust, these reports indicated, apparently were aimed at breaking French lines, tightening on three sides of Saarbruecken. German raiding parties also sought to take prisoners to obtain information on French advance positions, it was said.

In both objectives, French dispatches said, the Germans failed.

The Germans were said to have fought desperately before retiring under a faking fire, Saarbruecken, rich German industrial city around which the operations centered, is near the middle of the Northern front.

A heavy artillery battle launched by the Germans Sunday and answered by French batteries in a 90-mile sector from the Luxembourg border to Lauderbourg provided a background for the action.

Terse reports of the fighting were contained in a communique issued this morning by the French general staff which said that "enemy patrols are still very active, notably east and west of the Saar."

The communique noted "reciprocal artillery action in the same region."

Both the French and Germans were reported moving up additional munitions.

FAIR GETS OFF TO GOOD START

Children to be special Guests of Fair Wednesday

The Pitt county fair, following its official opening yesterday, got into full swing with a good attendance last night and prepared to welcome thousands of school children tomorrow.

Children's day will be observed throughout the day on Wednesday and all students will be admitted to the grounds up to 6 o'clock free of charge. Admission to shows and rides will be reduced for the youngsters in order that they can make a day of it at a minimum cost.

Exhibitors were busy much of yesterday making last-minute arrangements and everything was in place today.

The exhibit hall for home and farm displays is filled with entries showing educational and agricultural accomplishments of Pitt county citizens. In addition to the individual entries, the various communities of the county are presenting displays of better living accen-

Reply Made By Daladier To Offer of Nazi Leader

Premier Asserts That France Will Not Lay Down Its Arms Until World Has Certain Peace; Says Nation Ready to Make Sacrifices For Safety of Western Civilization

Paris, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Premier Daladier in a radio broadcast to the French nation tonight accused Adolf Hitler of repeatedly breaking promises and said the French would not lay down their arms "until the world had certain peace."

"Under the circumstances," Daladier said, "we once more call upon the French people to make efforts to surmount their common dangers."

The speech was described in advance as an answer to Adolf Hitler's peace proposals.

"The French," Daladier said, "were willing to make sacrifices for the safety of Western civilization."

"Neither France nor Great Britain has embarked upon any war of conquest. They accepted the war because Germany wanted to impose domination of Europe."

"Austria was one of the first milestones in Germany's conquest. The peace that Germany offers now is one of ruse and violence. There will, however, be a real peace in the future."

Plan Fire Drills In Local Schools

The various units of the Greenville school system are carrying out Fire Prevention Week programs which will be climaxed by drills Friday with a fire truck on the scene to lead effect to the practices.

"Clean Up" is the slogan being preached and practiced in the schools as a fire prevention measure. The children are cleaning up the school buildings and are being urged to do the same thing at their homes.

In addition class room work is being devoted to fire prevention.

Fire drills will be held at each of the units on Friday. The Board of Aldermen has given the fire department authority to take a truck to each of the schools to participate in the drills, a move designed to impress the children of the importance of orderly procedure in case fire breaks out in one of the buildings.

J.H. Rose on Program Of New Bern Legion

J. H. Rose, commander-elect of the State Department of the American Legion, attended a meeting of the New Bern unit last night, at which time officers of that post were installed.

Congressman Graham Barden took part on the program.

State officers will be installed at ceremonies here Sunday and Monday.

Pleases Audience.
An enthusiastic audience heard
Donald Dickson, the noted young baritone of Metropolitan Opera and radio fame, in his concert at East Carolina Teachers College last night, and many of the audience
were heard to comment afterward
on the volume of his voice and his perfect control of it.

Among the parts of the program
seemingly most enjoyed by the audience were the first, which included
Bach's "If Thou Be Near," Dr.
Arne's "Air from Comus," and Handel's majestic "Thanks Be to Thee"; and the sixth, especially "I Heard a Forest Praying."
Both of these groups were in English, but the German group also received favor with many in the audience, partly because of the beauty of Mr. Dickson's German,
clear and distinct and without over-emphasis on the guttural sounds in the language. The singer's enunciation was notable in all his numbers.
Mr. Dickson easily filled the large hall with his voice and yet subdued
it at will to a remarkable softness.
Also much enjoyed were the piano
numbers of the accompanist, William Hughes, an artist himself, as his playing showed.

Mr. Dickson, on his first concert tour, admitted to interviewers that he found life on tour somewhat
trying, but added enthusiastically—
"But we had a grand audience here,
better than a grand audience here."
The artist had come to Greenville,
with his accompanist
and his most attractive wife, from a program in Cleveland, Ohio, and was on his way to Montgomery, Ala.
He will be on tour until sometime in February.

Tells of European Trip
Miss Mamie E. Jenkins of Raleigh,
a member of the English department of E. C. T. C., who has just returned from a summer tour of Europe, spoke to the Home Economics club members at E. C. T. C. at their first meeting of this fall,
October 4, in the "Y" hut.

Miss Jenkins brought out in her talk, interesting details of European food and dress.

Upon her arrival in France, she said the traveller's first request was
for a cup of coffee with cream,
"cafe au lait," and it was with both the appointment and enjoyment of the joke that she drank her coffee
black and ate the ice cream one presented to her.

"The French," said Miss Jenkins, "think that all Americans want ice cream any time of day, in or out of season. The first sight that greeted me at the Luxembourg Gardens was a hot dog cart selling for the benefit of Americans, ice cream,
chewing gum, and hot dogs."

According to Miss Jenkins, she enjoyed the European custom of eating in public, in the cafes, extending to the sidewalk. But there was one exception to the custom she said: in England, the people eat in such privacy that it is with difficulty that one can find a cafe.

The speaker voiced her astonishment at first seeing French loaf-bread. She mistook a cartload of loaves for a load of wood logs. She said she observed that when one of the unwrapped loaves fell to the ground, it was usually thrown back upon the cart.

"Europe is certainly not dress conscious," Miss Jenkins concluded.
"Europeans consider American women over-dressed, and think that they do not dress properly for travel."

Miss Jenkins's trip was cut short
by the approach of war, and she returned to America just in time to avoid the rush when war actually broke out.

Twilight Service
A hundred white-clad girls, present or prospective W. W. C. A.
members, followed their president,
Miss Sarah Ann Maxwell, in a professional down to the E. C. T. C. athletic field Sunday night just at twilight to take part in an outdoor service centering around a lighted
cross that had been set up there.

Singing "Just As I Am" the line
moved across the field and divided into groups of ten each in a half-circle behind the president, who stood by the blazing cross to dedicate anew the Y. W. organization on the campus. She ended by lighting
her torch at the cross.

Then the leader of the groups—
Dorothy Blalock, Black Creek; Ora
M. Han, Almond; Annie A. Wilkerson, Bailey; Juanita Eberidge, Whittakers; Nelle Bredlove, Oxford; Rebecca Ross, Anora; Virginia Whitley, Nashville; Sarah Gerhan, New Bern; Margaret Lawrence, Tarboro; and Celia Dall, Durham—beckoned forward in a time, gave an appropriate Bible
verse, and after having her torch lighted by the president, returned to her group to start the white-
candles in their hands burning.

To close the service the groups returned, half by one route and half
by another, to the Wright Circle.
There part formed a large cross on the step with candle in hand, and the others in a half circle at their feet sang "Draw Me Nearer" dancings in as they sang until they surrounded the cross.

The blowing out of the candle
entered the service.

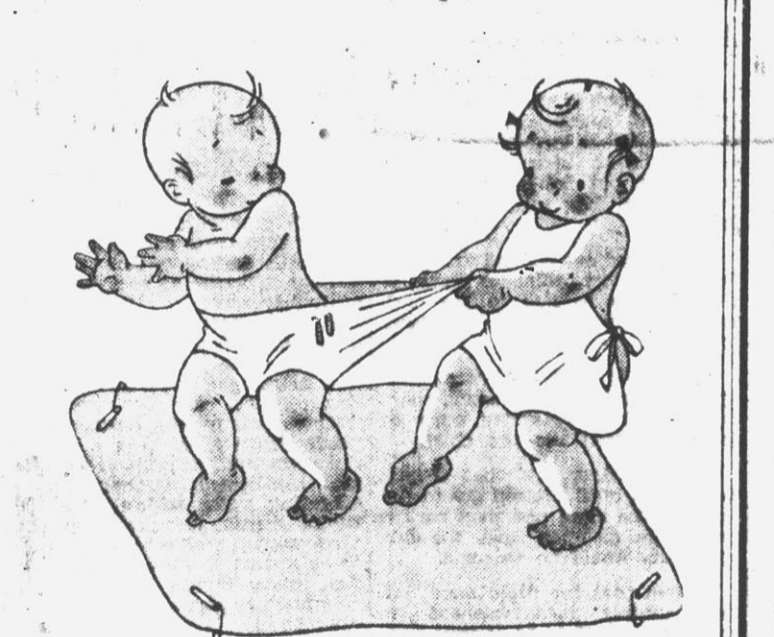

Miss Lucy Ann Barrow, La
Grange, planned the service.

Tar Heel Elevens Face Yankee Team Saturday

Duke To Invade Pitt; NYU Comes To Carolina

Reflector Bureau.
By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Oct. 10.—The damyankees will invade North Carolina this coming Saturday and already have been rendered to keep with Tar Heel defenders at Kenan Stadium in Chapel Hill.

Like their ancestors who followed Sherman in 1865, the invaders will be seeking revenge for a long series of defeats at the hands of Dixie's doughty hosts; because the sons of U. N. C. who will attempt to repel the New York University footballers have licked the Violets three in a row in the biggest city of America.

But a renewal of the War Between the States isn't all that football fans in this vicinity have to look forward to for Saturday. There has been conveniently scheduled as bitter an internecine brawl as the most fastidious can demand. Wake Forest and North Carolina State are down for an outright affair right here on Riddick field.

All of which will give opportunity to see two games in one day—though not for the price of one.

While all this is going on other members of North Carolina's Big Five will be playing out of the state—Duke at Pittsburgh against a very potent Panther and will have met on Friday at Sumner, the University of South Carolina.

Your correspondent saw Duke for the first time last Saturday and came away from the Blue Devils lair with the very definite impression that Wallace Wade has another powerful team; though by no means one which has yet proved itself great. Don't be too optimistic because of that 37-0 rout of Colgate's Maroons as the visitors from Hamilton, N. Y., collapsed completely in the second half.

The Devils are big and strong, have at least four boys who can kick a football from here to yonder, and are as alert as a politician looking for a hand to shake. This boy Killian can go through a broken field slicker than a pickpocket through the jeans of a hack at the state fair. George McAfee and the others do more than just look pretty in a dark blue uniform. Most of the time they seem to be in quite a hurry to get somewhere, and quite often arrive at the desired destination.

State on the form of the game it played against Tennessee could beat Wake Forest on the basis of the game the Deacs misplayed against Carolina, but unfortunately for the Wolf Pack, perhaps unfortunately at any rate, that isn't what they'll pay off on come this Saturday night. Wade couldn't possibly be quite as bad as it looked in Chapel Hill and State's defense against Clemson was obviously much more porous than against the bowl-humpy Vols from Knoxville. Yet there do seem to be the Wolves performed better on offensive than in previous outings. Anyway, what's the use in comparing previous records and scores when these rival teams meet? It ought to be one whale of a spectacle, though for finesse and perfection it will probably fall something short of the Carolina-NYU doings over at the Hills.

And there you have something, too. Brent Wolf's Heels failed to stifle or sparkle against V. P. I., but were due for a jettison after the way they mauled and man-handled Citadel and Wake Forest.

The New York Times described the NYU-Colgate battle as "featuring by the terrific hitting power of the Violets inside and outside of tackle," and told of a tremendous 200-pound line "behind which fast backs operated."

So what? So you guess the winner, this corner has had no luck at riddle reading.

WAKE AND NCS SET FOR BOUT

Old Grid Rivals To Meet at Raleigh Saturday

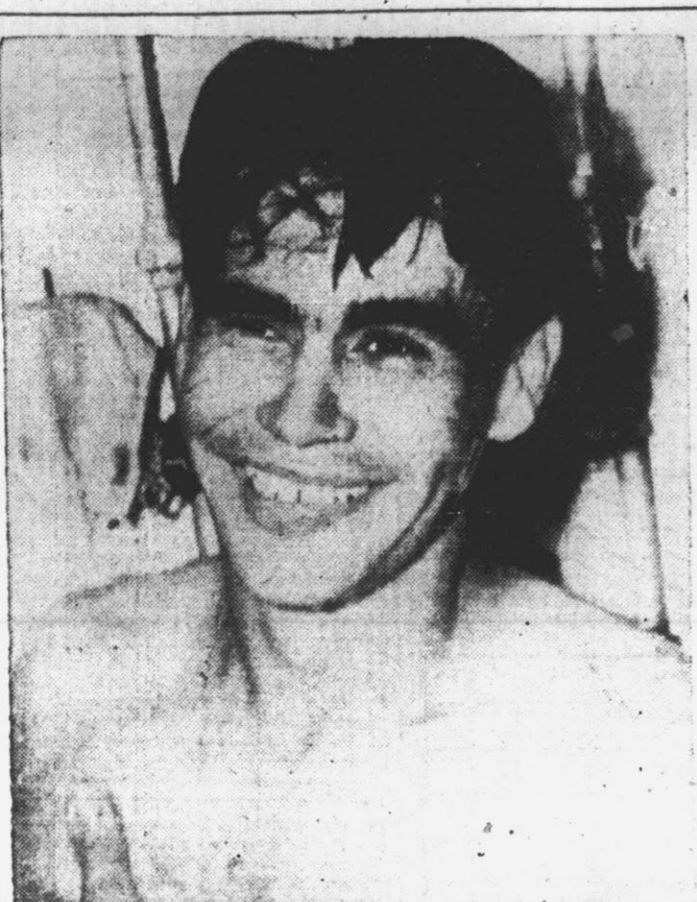

Wake Forest, Oct. 9.—With a soothing ointment in the form of a 33-0 victory over Miami University, 1938 Florida State Champions last week easing the pains of their 36-6 submission to North Carolina a week earlier, Coach D. C. (Pea-head) Walker's Wake Forest Deacons now point for the traditions-bound encounter with N. C. State at Raleigh Saturday night.

Last year Coach Doc Newton's boys pulled an upset to defeat the Baptists 19-7, and except in one or two instances the same teams that tangled a year ago will meet again Saturday. By graduation the past spring Wake Forest lost two regulars and the toll over Raleigh's State College way was one lighter.

While N. C. State has been particularly famous for giant-killing football teams and all opponents expect a real battle when the Wolf-pack-Deacs encounter this year should exhibit superior playing to the same contest a year ago. Both teams have played in-and-out football this season, which probably is an indication that anything can happen when they go together this week.

The Yankees won four games in a row, beating the Reds 7 to 4 in the last one.

BANKRUPT FOR CITIES FEARED

Warns of Dangers From Declining Populations

New York Oct. 9.—American cities are faced with serious problems, including possible bankruptcy, as a result of widespread declining urban population, R. Burr Smith of the University of Newark warns today in a report to the National Municipal League.

Municipal services in which large investments have been made will become obsolete, the value of taxable property will decline, the cost of pensions and relief will increase, and it will become harder to pay back public debt, Mr. Smith predicts. He advocates "careful analysis and planning" as the only antidote to possible disastrous results of a declining birth rate, stoppage of immigration and the movement of people from cities to suburbs.

"The need for schools, electric power, and transportation services will decline as they are dependent directly on numbers for their demand," he declares. "There will be a decline in the number of taxpayers and an even greater decline in the value of taxable property in the city. The larger number of dependent old people will probably increase the cost of pensions and relief."

Experts in the School of Agriculture and the Extension Division will teach the related courses which included weekly courses in farm conveniences, production of corn, wheat and oats, fruit growing, dairy production and farm management.

There are no entrance requirements, but young men who enroll for the short courses should be 18 years of age or older. Director Paul will send application blanks on request.

Following the poultry course, six-week courses will be offered in field crops, horticulture and livestock.

Indiscriminate Borrowing with the expectation that a larger future population will foot the bill is continued, the result will be bankruptcy.

Mr. Smith's study appears in the October number of the National Municipal Review, to be issued on Tuesday, October 10.

SIMINOLES WARY OF WEATHER BALLOON

Miami Fla. (AP)—Florida's first war scare occurred deep in the Everglades among the state's real pioneers—the Seminole Indians.

Since word of a great conflict had filtered into the wilderness, the Indians were suspicious when they noticed a strange balloon high in the sky. Indian watchers followed it cautiously for 30 miles or more, and inspected it at a safe distance when it finally settled to earth.

It turned out to be a mechanical stratosphere observer from the United States weather bureau at Miami, and the Indians were rewarded for returning it.

N.Y.U. VIOLETS TO INVADE UNC

Two Teams Appear Evenly Matched For Saturday

Chapel Hill, Oct. 9.—Eleven of New York University's veterans and 12 of North Carolina's will take up here Saturday where they left off in last year's brilliant game, won by Carolina 7-0.

The number 12 includes General Stirnweis and George Radman, who passed the Tar Heels to their

He walked round and round the Dodson place and finally passed over a pile of trash. The wand turned in his hand. The Dodsons lifted the trash and there was the ring.

one touchdown, and Big Ed Boell, who completed 14 of the Violets' 17 passes and ran the Tar Heels ragged all day.

New York is known as one of the greatest passing teams in the country, and the resumption of the duel between Boell and Stirnweis and Lelanne is expected to produce one of the finest air battles of the year.

This will be the only appearance in the State of the big New York team, which beat Colgate in its opener and routed Penn Military last week 43-0, and a near capacity crowd is expected to witness it.

G. E. Shepard, Assistant Athletic Director, said the ticket orders were running well ahead of the same time prior to the Wake Forest game which drew 20,000 and set a new early-season record here.

New York's big, powerful team, averaging 198 in the line and 188 in the backfield, will outweigh the Tar Heels again by eight or 10 pounds to the man, but the famous rivals will stack up fairly even in experience.

Although the Violent Violets can draw on 20 lettermen to Carolina's 12, the Tar Heels have six of those boys who started and 12 of those who played against New York last year to 3 and 11, respectively, for the invaders.

Stirnweis and Radman, backs, Co-Captain Woodson at guard, Bob

Smith at center, Gene Radman at tackle, and Chuck Hine at end are the Tar Heel veterans who started against the Violets last year.

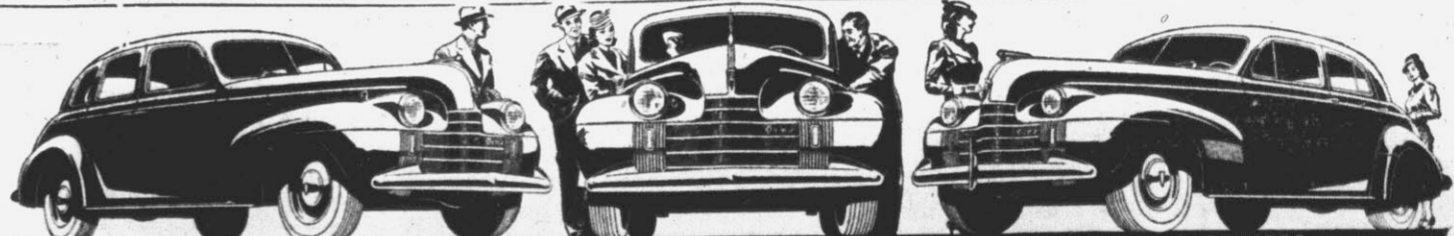

Boell at quarter, Conlin at center, and Helmecke at guard are the only Violet starters back, but eight others got in shortly after and took leading parts, including LaManna, Schneider, Campanis, Mikulka, and Feil, ranking backs; Connolly and Maureri, ends; and Castelli, guard.

Coach Dick Jamerson, who scouted New York in its wins over both Colgate and Penn Military, says the Violets have just as good a passing game as last year, which was one of the best in the country and an even finer running attack.

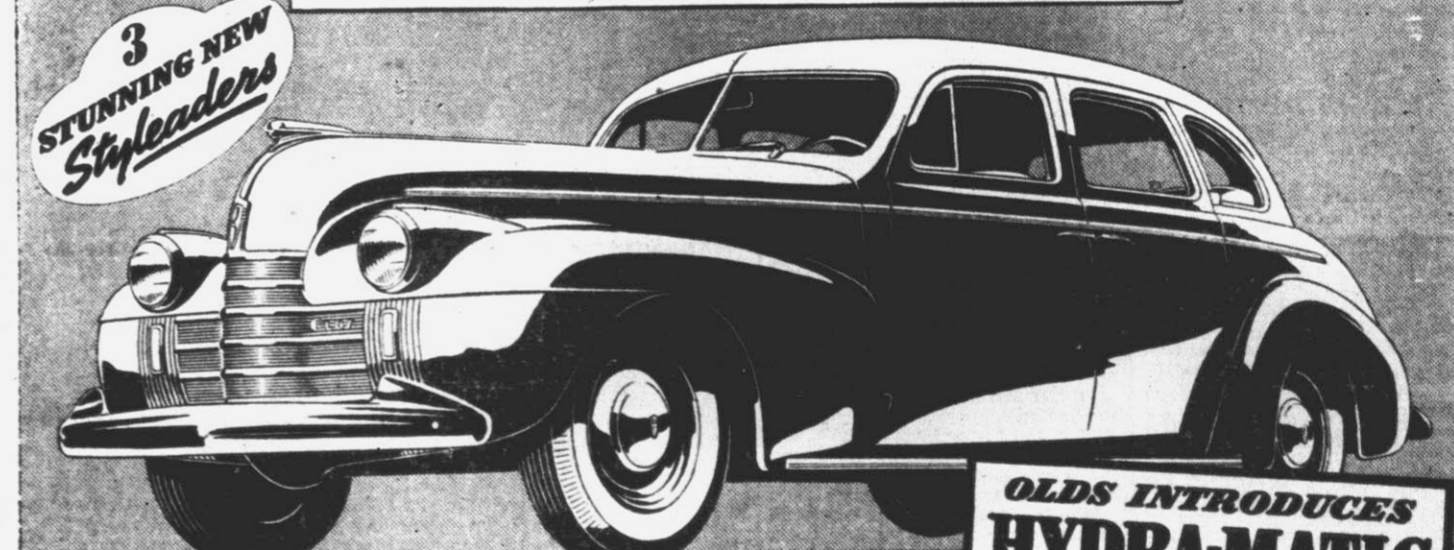

The Tar Heel was particularly glowing in his praise of the triple-threaters Boell and Frank; the running of LaManna, Mikulka, Campanis, and Barmak; and the unusual strength of the line.

Boell is one of the greatest passers and punters in the country, he said, and Frank, a newcomer, is almost as good a passer and an even more dangerous runner.

Sweet LaLanne is leading the Carolina attack this year with five touchdowns and two touchdown passes, and the Tar Heels hope to have both him and General Stirnweis who was held out with minor injuries last week ready for their crucial test Saturday.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington—We have just come back from the front at the War department and can give an eyewitness report that Assistant Secretary Louis Johnson is still there and so is Secretary Harry H. Woodring
in spite of strictly unofficial shelling that has continued for two years or more.

It has been no secret for months
that these two major figures in the War department have been at log-gerheads.

Fundamentally, the trouble is
this:
Woodring is no dynamo. He probably will not get down to history
as one of the great secretaries of war. Yet he was once governor of Kansas and has certain established qualities of an executive.

Johnson is a dynamo. He is a giant in size and his dominating personality has kept Woodring in an almost complete "blackout" by law he is the man in the department who deals with the industrial preparation of the big war.
The army must always be ready for that has given him even more of an edge on Woodring.

Alibi Affair
Further Johnson championed a whopping air force. He talked of an air expansion of four, five or six times. He got the ear of the President last year on the heels of Europe's Munich. Such a program represented not a mere purchase
order but a matter of army policy
where the secretary himself could have expected to have been the big
gun. But the President dealt directly with Johnson.

Then began the flood of rumors.
Mainly they centered on the theme
that Woodring was going to be escorted out into an ambassadorship.
Where did these stories originate?
With Johnson and rumor mongers.
We checked into that. It doesn't hold water. Possibly more substance
can be found in reports that certain New Dealers hoped to smother Woodring out and ease Attorney General Murphy into the job so New Dealer, Robert Jackson could
at last achieve the attorney generalship. Thinking that can't be proved or disproved.

Ultimately the fate hinged out of the airplane affair. Certain army generals got behind Woodring in a protest at such preponderance of air power. In the belief it would starve other branches of the army.
The heavyweight air program was transmitted to midlevelweight proportions.

That 'Permanent' Board
There was more. While Woodring
was inspecting the Panama canal, Johnson and Acting Secretary of the Navy Edison blossomed out with an imposing War Resources board. It was to be a permanent board. It was headed by young Edward Stettinius,
chairman of Morgan-controlled United States Steel. It became the President's pet and Johnson's pride.
Woodring again went into the "blackout."

But there was public and New Deal reaction against the administration taking so much of "big business" into its lap as was represented on the War Resources board.
Its ramifications reached into the neutrality fight in Congress.
Abruptly the President announced
the "permanent" board was not permanent. He accepted its report and ordered it dismissed.

There are political reasons suggesting it may ride on peaceabil-
ity. Roosevelt's administration ends.
Woodring's influence in Kansas and elsewhere is important.
Johnson, an ex-commander of the American Legion, is likewise important from the veterans' angle.

And just how President Roosevelt
seems not likely to disturb the trend toward party harmony unless a situation grows out of the war such as would lead him to compel harmony in the War department.

Chapter Three Tuck Wonders

WHAT is on your mind? Michael asked his wife.

Tuck thrust her arm through
his. "Come on over and sit down,"
she commanded, leading him back to the step and dropping down beside him. She put her elbow on her knee and was in the act of propping
her chin on her hand again when Michael took possession of both hands and held them firmly.

"Look me in the eye," he said,
when she struggled, "and answer
the following questions, first, who is she? And second, third, fourth and fifth, what's on your mind?"

Tuck sighed again, and not being able to use her hands, pushed her hair behind her ear with the point of Michael's shoulder. "Well," she said, "I guess it really isn't much,
I was just thinking."

Tuck laughed suddenly and settled herself more comfortably.
"After all," she capitulated, "it

looking at her house and garden?"
"Well," Tuck said frankly, "not quite. She called on me today."
"A-ha! At last! Is this your guilty secret?"

"Of course not. It isn't any secret, dumb-bell. She should have called on me today. We've been here exactly a week, and the curtains were all up yesterday."

"Well, now that you've answered
question number one," Michael suggested, "what about the other four? What's on your mind? Miss Lissey's future? Or did she say something to you that started all this fit of thinking?"

"Yes. She did. I don't think she intended to—or maybe she did—
but anyway, I've been puzzling about it ever since. It sounds so crazy I wasn't going to tell you.
But . . ." She faced him, her brown eyes very serious. "Michael, is your father . . . Do you know what cases
he's working on just now?"

Michael raised his eyebrows. He lit a cigarette with extreme care
before he answered her. "Not exactly, no," he said. "I haven't seen him for a week or so. Why?"

"Glimmerings"

"Well . . ." She rescued her hand and traced the veins on the back of it very carefully. "Well I just wondered. You know, he simply never does anything without a reason. I just got to wondering how he heard about this house
in the first place, and what made him think of us, and why he paid

Tuck had something on her mind, Michael knew.

may not be much. It may be mostly "imagination."
Michael waited.

"She is Miss Lissey, Miss Alix Lissey," she informed him.
Michael groaned. "Have we got to live next door to her?"

"Do you know her?"
"I took Latin from her ten years ago. It nearly killed me."
"I can see how it might," Tuck
said grimly.

"Do you know her, Tuck?"
"I've been looking at her house for a week. It looks like an old maid's dream. It's as prim as a prince. The inside is stuffed full of painted cushions and batik
curtains and arty furniture."

"You've been inside?"
"No. She's had everything outside. House-cleaning."
"I still don't see, from your description of her house, how you know anything about her."

"Well . . . well, look at her garden. It's old enough to have it full of mignonette and lavender
and phlox and sweet-william and things like that. But it isn't. It's all modernistic with bright colors and hard lines. Her house is like that and I can't explain . . . but if she were the kind of nice quiet person
who had another kind of garden,
and big shabby armchairs and comfortable furniture, and wore clothes to suit her, I'd like her.
That kind of modernistic experimenting is all right for young people who don't know what they're going to be, but when a woman
gets to fifty she ought to settle down instead of being unhappy
and dissatisfied with what she's got
and trying to pretend she's young."

"A Beagling Look"

MICHAEL hunched up his shoulders and shivered. "Thank Heaven I'm not a woman," he said
fiercely.

"Michael, I'm not being mean. I wouldn't tell anybody else what I thought about her. I suppose, really, I'm a little bit sorry for her. She won't let herself be happy. She goes around with a . . . beagling look all the time hunting for something that went past years and years ago."

"And you know all that just by looking at her house and garden?"

"Well, I don't know. But she didn't like it at all. She didn't like it when she asked me what your occupation
was and I told her you were a lawyer. She doesn't want to be here,
and she's going to make it as unpleasant as she can. Why, her silly

MARRIAGE ACT NO OPEN BOOK

New Law Still Vexes
And Propexes
Officials

Reflector Bureau.
By HENRY AVERILL
Raleigh, Oct. 10.—North Carolina's marriage law requiring testing of blood to determine whether
would-be brides and grooms are afflicted with venereal disease has been in full force and effect for something like six months, but it is still no open book to many registers
of deeds and private citizens in many places.

It is a thing which still vexes and
propexes, to say the least.
Within the last month the attorney general has been called upon to give his opinion and advise in at least four cases, with the result that he has ruled (1) That persons marrying out of North Carolina and returning to live in this state must comply with the law within a period of grace of 90 days; (2) that non-residents applying for marriage licenses in North Carolina must show
to the satisfaction of the register
of deeds that the state, or states,
from which they come has no similar requirement; (3) that it would not be a compliance with the law
for an applicant to have his examining physician obtain a laboratory
analysis of his blood through submission of the blood sample under the name "X", and after the report is received for the physician
to make affidavit that the applicant
and "X" are the same person—in other words, an applicant cannot conceal his identity until he has learned result of the analysis; and
(4) while it is the duty of persons who are married outside the state
to file with the register of deeds after their return to the state "It does not, in my opinion, require the register of deeds to search out such cases." The attorney general added,
"however, where violation of the act
is called to the attention of the register he should bring the matter to the attention of the local prosecuting attorney."

EXPANSION IN
N. C. INDUSTRY

Tar Heel Concerns
Shared Heavily in Sept. Boom

Reflector Bureau.
By HENRY AVERILL
Raleigh, Oct. 10.—North Carolina's industries shared heavily in the South's September construction
boom, with more than a million dollars spent or to be spent in new construction and expansion of existing plants, according to figures compiled by the Manufacturers Record
Southern business publication.

Seven projects alone accounted for almost $800,000 during the month, with the balance made up of smaller projects scattered all over the state.

In the South generally there was a marked increase in total construction as an upward trend in industrial awards and a sudden rise in governmental electric projects sent the total for the month to $82,378-000. This represents fourteen percent more than in the comparable

Christian Science Church
"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science
churches and societies Sunday, October 8.

The golden text was from Psalms
103:23. "Bless the Lord, O my soul,
and forget not all his benefits; who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thine diseases."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible. "Then he called his twelve disciples together,
and gave them power and authority
over all devils, and to cure diseases.
And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick. And they departed, and went through the towns, preaching the gospel, and healing everywhere" (Luke 9:1,2,6).

The lesson-sermon also included
the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science
and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. "The hour has struck when proof and demonstration, instead of opinion
and dogma, are summoned to the support of Christianity, making wise
the simple. In the result of some unqualified condemnations of scientific mind-healing, one may see with sorrow the sad effects on the sick of denying truth. He that describes this science does it presump-tuously in the face of Bible history and in defiance of the direct command of Jesus. Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel,"
to which command was added the promise that his students should cast out devils and heal the sick.
He bade the seventy disciples, as well as the twelve, heal the sick in any town where they should be hospitably received."

Cotton and tobacco stalks standing in the field should be destroyed
immediately to eliminate hiding places for insects, says J. O. Rowell, State College extension entomologist.

North Carolina farmers are expected to start digging their 1939
peanut crop shortly after October 20, says B. Troy Ferguson, district agent for the State College Extension Service.

President in Exile
Was Born in Exile

(By The AP Feature Service)
It is appropriate that Wladyslaw Rackiewicz (pronounced Ratch-kiewitch) should head the new Polish government-in-exile formed recently in Paris. He was born an exile in 1885, in Kutais, Russia,
where his nobleman father was sent by the czar for political activity.

Educated in the law at the University of Dorpat, Rackiewicz spent two years in Minsk, then emigrated to the Russian army as a reserve officer in 1914. With the outbreak of the Russian revolution in 1917,

he threw himself into political-military
activity, at first organizing
secret Polish military forces on Russian soil, later building up military resistance to the Bolsheviks in Eastern Poland.

From 1920 on, Rackiewicz held
numerous public positions, including several terms as the Polish minister of the interior, president of the Warsaw senate and governor of important Polish provinces. In 1937, when Poland was rife with anti-semitic riots, Rackiewicz warned
he would send to concentration camps all leaders of the movement.
He is the Polish equivalent of an English aristocrat. He is married, but has no children.

Fire Prevention Week Being Observed In Greenville

SCHOOLS PLAN STAGE DRILLS

Week. Mayor Jack Spain yesterday issued a proclamation in which he called upon the citizens of Greenville to observe the dates set aside for this worthy cause.

Proclamation Issued By Mayor Jack Spain

Chief George Gardner of the fire department is anxious to have every citizen in Greenville realize the responsibility that rests upon him in helping to prevent disastrous conflagrations.

Greenville, especially the city school units, are cooperating with the rest of the nation this week in observance of Fire Prevention Week.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood — There'll never be another like "Uncle Carl" Laemmle the movie pioneer now gone.

The open door to film riches through which he came, an Oshkosh clothier who had been a German immigrant, long since has closed. It may be possible today for some obscure little man to pyramid a nickelodeon into a multi-million dollar business, but it is not probable.

Movies are big business today. They were a freak amusement enterprise when little Carl Laemmle, in 1896, changed his mind about investing his savings in a chain of five-and-ten stores and bought a five-and-ten movie house instead. Carl Laemmle helped tremendously by his fight on the patents company which cleared the way for his own and other independent productions, and then by his own contributions to the screen to make the movies big business.

The little man is gone and buried now, and eulogies have been delivered. But the eulogies do not picture the quiet, amazing little

AFTER A MONTH OF WAR

The wars that started in the summers of 1914 and 1939 had certain points in common during their first month: the principal opponents, the fact that Italy stayed out, the fact that Germany fought on two fronts. But in many other respects the first month of war this time was far different from that 25 years ago. These maps give you a quick comparison.

Don't Go To Sleep With A Cigarette

By The AP Feature Service

Chicago—There's no place like home for fires.

The National Safety Council takes this week—Fire Prevention Week—as the occasion to report that fires in homes caused one-third of the 138 fire damage totalling $270,000,000.

Carelessness with such things as heating plants, matches, oil rags, cigars, cigarettes, inflammable dry cleaning fluids and faulty electric wiring caused loss in homes last year of $87,000,000.

Eight major causes of fires in homes in order of importance are rubbish, defective chimneys, combustible roofs, defective heating apparatus, matches and careless smoking, gasoline, kerosene, other inflammable fluids, electrical defects and hot ashes.

a heavy accent, it was usually in correct English. He was czar of Universal, even after the then general manager's surprise; he made his son, Junior, newly 21, general manager. "I can spank Junior at home and I can spank him here," he said once, reinstating a dismissed employe.

With a little time, he could have remained in this business he loved. The films he needed to save the old studio had been ready at the time, could have tided him over neatly.

It is curious that the one type of film for which he had no use, although that type rescued the old U from the doldrums more than once, was horror. Junior loved it, and made it — but the old man didn't see "Frankenstein" for months after it was a hit. He did not like fright stuff.

Public instruction, and grade and high school teachers. Meetings are open without charge to all interested persons. Plates at the luncheon at noon on Thursday will be 50 cents.

Miss Katherine Holtzclaw, head of the home economics department of East Carolina Teachers College, is in charge of arrangements for the meetings.

A number of other members of the faculty of the local college and certain Greenville officials will take part in the programs. President L. R. Meadows will welcome the visitors. M. L. Wright will talk Thursday on "Your Community's Resources," and Miss Katherine Holtzclaw Friday on "Housing." Mayor Jack Spain will speak Friday on "Town Planning," and Mrs. Adelaide Bloxton, E.C.T.C. and Dr. T. N. Bennett of Greenville, will participate in discussion groups.

The Thursday program will open with registration in the Austin building of East Carolina Teachers College, a greeting by President L. R. Meadows and one by Supt. Clyde Erwin, and an explanation of the institute by Miss Katherine Dennis; and will have its chief features an address in the morning by Dr. Howard Odum on "What are the Home and Family Life Problems in North Carolina?"; and one in the after-

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The stock market got back on the climbing path today with leaders moving up fractions to more than two points.

There was a brief buying burst after a quiet opening then the profit-taking recessed. Fresh support came in later, but the pace again slackened near the fourth hour and prices slipped from the best.

A more bullish tone in the European War news, brokers said, combined with the obvious reluctance of stockholders to sell in sessions of the past week or so brought in some short-covering and a smattering of quick-turn speculative purchasing.

New York Cotton

New York, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened two lower to two higher.

Prices held steady at one lower to five higher around the end of the first hour, October was down one at 9:03 and July was five higher at 8:23.

Prices around midday held steady, unchanged to seven higher. May set up to 8.45 for a net gain of seven.

Among the Best in His Profession

Mr. Lewis, owner and general manager of the shows bearing his name and which is "playing" the Pitt county fair this week, is one of the youngest carnival owners in the business—youngest in age, but not in experience.

Mr. Lewis well knows the thousand and one problems involved in operating a show of such magnitude as the one he now runs. He has been in the business 10 years as owner. Starting out with a small unit, he has added new attractions and rides until now he has one of the largest shows traveling the country. Indicative of his progressiveness, he has just purchased the rail equipment of Hagenbeck Wallace circus and hereafter will travel by rail.

Mr. Lewis precedes his troupe on his private airplane and personally supervises the setting up of his 15 shows and like number of rides. Three hundred persons go to make up the tented city.

The veteran showman is vice-president of the National Showmen's Association and on the walls of his trailer-office hang two plaques awarded by that organization for distinguished service in the showmen's world.

Colored News

Clemmons School P. T. A.
The Clemmons school P. T. A. meeting of the year was enjoyed by all a few nights ago. This meeting was blessed with the presence of Mr. Hardison, our local mail carrier, who spoke to the group along the lines of Boy Scout work, and the real meaning of the twelve laws of scouting. Mr. Hardison encouraged the Scouts of our school to be real Scouts and continue to grow.

Prof. Whitfield, the principal of Pocolous colored school, was also present. He spoke of the need and value of the high school work at Pocolous, to our community. The school's objectives for the year were discussed. The group was later served with ice cream and cake.

Those present, except scouts and visitors, were: Mesdames Bess, A. Daniels, J. Chanie, M. Yarell, M. Johnson, H. Whitfield, N. Spell, C. Roberson, J. Tyson, M. People, Mayo, and Miss Wilson; F. Whitfield, H. C. Clemmons, L. Fleming, Pres. J. Chanie, Secy. V. Wilson, Treas. L. Fleming.

Committeemen for the school are H. C. Clemmons, O. C. Clemmons, obby Moore, Ashley Daniels and Lonnie Fleming.

The next meeting will be held on November 7.

Reports From Other Markets

ed ranging from about 12 cents to 18 to 19 cents a pound.

The average at the time of the suspension was 14 to 15 cents a pound. First reports said farmers generally appeared to be satisfied, except at Leno, S. C., a small market, where the 12-cent average prevailed.

Wilson had a price range of from four to 23 cents, with much damaged tobacco being sold. All warehouses were filled to overflowing. A million pounds were lying in the streets.

Averages reported from other markets included: Whiteville 14 cents; Goldsboro 18 to 19 cents; Winston-Salem 17.80; Durham 16; Pamlico, S. C., 16 to 17; Mount Airy 14.05; Aberdeen 15 and Sanford 15 to 16.

Several markets said The Imperial Tobacco company and the Export Leaf Tobacco company, British companies whose withdrawal from the markets because of a lack of exchange were heavy buyers, especially of the better grades.

These companies resumed operations under a financial agreement with the United States government which was effected after producers had voted overwhelmingly last week to apply a control program to the 1940 crop.

Reports from various markets: Fairmont 3,000,000 pounds, 16 1/2 average top 32; Winston-Salem 4,000,000 pounds, average 17.90; Durham 3,000,000 pounds, 16 cents; Goldsboro 1,200,000 pounds.

Fair Gets Off to Good Start

tuating the live-at-home theory.

In the exhibit hall will be found superlatives running from products of the soil to handiwork. Upon leaving the exhibit hall one can visit the poultry and stock pens and view some of the finest chickens, turkeys, cattle, swine and even guinea-pigs to be found in this section.

Survivors of Sunken Ship

These crew members of the British freighter Clement, reported sunk by a German warship and an airplane in South American waters, are shown relaxing on the deck of the rescue vessel Itatica which brought them to Bahia, Brazil. They said the Germans held the captain and chief engineer as prisoners of war.

with two persons signing as surety along with the student. Never loan more than can be repaid in two years work after college to any one student for the college does not wish to mortgage too much of a former student's life.

Next Carl Adams of the E. C. T. C. faculty gave statistics to show that their college pays only 32 per cent of their college expenses.

Visiting Retarian last night was Norman Winslow of Washington. Carl Adams, club president, presided.
