BRITISH SHIPS WITHIN SIGHT OF U. S. VESSEL

City of Flint Slowly Making Way Toward Germany

SEEKS KEEP OUT OF CONTROVERSY

Some See Possibility, However, Britain Will Try to Seize Craft When Flint Reaches Open Sea

London, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The British Admiralty tersely disclosed today that its warships were within sight of the American freighter City of Flint, now slowly making her way, in charge of a German prize crew, to a German port.

In what some observers interpreted as an indication the British would seek to avoid entanglement in the controversy over the ship's seizure by keeping "hands off," the Admiralty announcement said it was possible for the captured steamer to stay inside Scandinavian territorial waters until reaching the Baltic.

The admiralty communique said: "The admiralty announced that the steamship City of Flint has been sighted by our light forces proceeding to the southward inside Norwegian territorial waters."

"It is possible for the City of Flint to remain inside Norwegian and Swedish territorial waters until she reaches the Baltic."

The Admiralty gave no hint whether the British ships would attempt to seize the City of Flint before she reached the German port in possession of her German captors.

(At Bergen, Norway, where the City of Flint passed at 9:30 a. m. (3:30 a. m. EST), several British warships were observed, apparently keeping watch as the German vessel sailed the southward way.

Observers there said it was possible that the British men of war would try to seize her after she leaves Haugesund, where she was expected about 4 p. m. (11 a. m. EST). From Haugesund, about 75 miles from Bergen, she would cut into open sea across the entrance to Bukken Fjord.)

GERMANY PROMISES SAFETY FOR AMERICAN CREW

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The German government gave the United States today formal assurances that the safety of the American crew aboard the seized freighter City of Flint would be respected.

Alexander C. Kirk, American charge d'affaires in Berlin, cabled the State Department that a foreign office official had informed him that the foreign office had requested the appropriate German naval authorities to respect the wishes of the American government.

The wishes referred to were set forth in a communication presented to Berlin and London governments Tuesday by American diplomats expressing this government's concern for the safety of the American crew of 40 men under Captain Joseph Galtard.

No response has yet been received from the British government. The State Department is awaiting word from Ambassador Kennedy that he has presented the request cabled him by the department.

Committee Orders Canal Zone Probe

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—A complete investigation of union or organization activities in the Panama Canal Zone was ordered today by the House committee.

Rhea Witley, committee counsel, was instructed to make a thorough study of the subject after a witness, Frederick Phillips, former National Maritime Union official, told the committee a man named H. A. Stout, whom he identified as a Communist, was an organizer for the CIO's union in the Canal Zone.

Phillips said Stout was appointed to his job through the influence of John L. Lewis, CIO president, on the recommendation of Joseph Curran, head of the Maritime union.

Phillips told the committee that although only about seven to 10 per cent of the organization's membership was Communist, this minority held so many strategic positions it was able to maintain control.

The witness, who said that he was "illegally" expelled from the union for opposing Communism, said that "American seamen do not like Communism," but that most of them were "intimidated" into accepting it.

The enrollment goal of 50,000 members set by the North Carolina 4-H club this year has already been reached and passed, reports L. R. Harrill, 4-H club leader at State College.

President Gratified At Big House Majority In Repealing Embargo Bill

Demands Recall

Rep. John W. McCormack (D.-Mass.) of Boston demanded from the floor of the House at Washington that the United States recall its ambassador to Russia because of the criticism of President Roosevelt by Premier Molotov. He's shown leaving the floor after making the demand during the neutrality debate.

DEPORTS SLOW IN COMING IN

Only $2,400 Reported On Chest Drive Up to Noon

By WYATT BROWN

Only $2,400 raised up to noon today on the 1939 Community Chest campaign budget of $6,000. Campaigners are reporting very slowly this year but those turning in report good receipts wherever they go.

The modest amount requested by the local Community Chest reveals great caution and care in allowing the participating organizations the budgets sought. Neighboring communities as revealed by the daily press raise for larger sums and include items for hired workers to carry on the campaign and work while Greenville depends entirely on volunteers throughout.

Expenses for the campaign in Greenville this year will be the cost of pledge cards, book-keeping sheets, the cost of the cloth on which the banner on Evans street was painted and the work he put into making the banner as he does each year. Where is there a campaign put on with such little expense to the community? Where is there another general chairman like Rev. W. A. Ryan who can enlist volunteers for all the work and put over a drive with nothing but volunteered assistance.

"Reports have not been turned in as rapidly as one might wish," Mr. Ryan said today. "But we have word that all are working hard and waiting to make a final report on their lists before turning in. There should be more giving by everyone and not depending entirely on the liberal donors. Everyone can give something and feel they have a part in this campaign for the children and helplessness of our community."

"It is going to be necessary for more people to give this year and for those giving to enlarge their gifts to take care of the increased budget. The increase was not arbitrary. Girl Scouts should have funds to provide the girls with proper leadership to make Girl Scouting attractive. More relief for the helplessness must be provided."

Certain Type of Corn Grown by Pitt Family

A certain species of corn has been grown by the Buck family of Black Jack for the past century and M. R. Buck, after improvement, continues to grow the type raised by his father and grandfather.

Mr. Buck brought some of the corn to Greenville today and placed it on display in the window of the Reflector. He said when he first started raising the particular species it produced only one ear to the stalk but added he had improved it until now the yield is much better.

Chief Executive Very Glad Bill Has Returned Of Neutrality; Plans To Issue Proclamation; Calls on Congressmen to Remain In Washington During Crisis

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, expressing gratification at the size of the majority by which the House showed its approval of arms embargo repeal, asserted today he was glad the neutrality bill had restored the historic position of neutrality of the United States.

In response to a press conference request for comment on the legislation as it now stands, virtually approved by Congress, Mr. Roosevelt authorized this quotation: "I am very glad that the bill has restored the historic position of neutrality of the United States."

The chief executive, under further questioning, disclosed that he probably would issue several proclamations under the new measure, one

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—A joint Senate-House conference committee approved the administration's neutrality bill today, preparing the way for final congressional action today or tomorrow.

Only assured final approval by the Senate and House was necessary to send the measure to President Roosevelt.

The Senate arranged to vote this afternoon. Leaders were hopeful the House would act immediately thereafter, but some declared that chamber might wait until tomorrow.

He has signed it. He hopes to get the proclamations out of the way, he said, before leaving for his home at Hyde Park, N. Y., tomorrow or Sunday.

He told newsmen that before he left he would see A. A. Berle, assistant secretary of state, to discuss the proclamation in a preliminary way. Later today, he said, Secretary Hull will come in for a conference.

Mr. Roosevelt said he hoped to issue the proclamations as soon as possible after the neutrality bill comes to the White House from Congress. That may be some time tomorrow, although there was a slight possibility it might arrive late today.

The President expressed the hope that congressional leaders would remain in Washington and be available after Congress adjourns the special session.

Still Trying Case On Slot Machines

Slot machines were played in Pitt Superior court today, not for amusement only but to enlighten the judge and jury considering charges against L. B. McCormick and Walter Gaylor.

The warrant specifically charges the defendants did "manufacture, own or lease and distribute or place with other parties for operation on a rental or share or percentage profit-sharing basis, slot machines capable of being operated as a gambling device x x x."

The case was started yesterday afternoon and late this afternoon Solicitor D. M. Clark still was parading witnesses to the stand.

The case is being hard fought, with Albion Dunn appearing for the defendants.

At the morning session Judge J. Paul Frizzelle, presiding, instructed Solicitor Clark to draw up a bill of indictment charging P. A. Mixon with perjury after he offered testimony said to have conflicted with a sworn statement signed by him.

Hospital Facilities At College Extended

College students living out in town, with the exception of those whose homes are in Greenville, will have the same hospital privileges that students on the campus have had last year.

Beginning with the winter quarter, students rooming in town may pay a hospital fee of $1.25 a quarter and then have full infirmary privileges. Students who live in the dormitories also pay for the right to use the infirmary, of course, but the amount is included in what they pay for room and board, and is not a separate fee.

Actor Found Dead

Claude Gillingwater, 69-year-old character actor of stage and screen, was found dead in his Beverly Hills, Calif., home. There was a bullet wound through the chest and four typewritten notes told of suicide, police said. One not to the police explained that he did not want to "become a helpless, lingering invalid." In this picture the beloved actor wears the costume he wore in the film "Conquest."

JUDGE DENIES STRIKE MOTION

One More Step In Lengthy Whitehurst Litigations

Judge J. Paul Frizzelle of Snow Hill, in Pitt Superior court here late yesterday afternoon, denied a motion by counsel for former Sheriff S. A. Whitehurst and his sureties to strike certain paragraphs from a petition filed by attorneys for the county to have the consent judgment in the case of the county vs. Mr. Whitehurst and his sureties set aside.

Judge Frizzelle gave Whitehurst counsel 30 days in which to file an answer to the petition. This action automatically postpones action on the petition until some time next spring, unless a special session of court is called for the purpose of deciding the issue, as no regular term is set after expiration of 30 days until that time.

Judge Frizzelle rendered his decision after hearing the motion read and lengthy arguments by both sides. Albion Dunn and J. B. James represent the former sheriff and his sureties, while Jesse Jones of Kingston and Harding and Lee of this city represent the county in the litigations.

The consent judgment was signed last January by attorneys for the former sheriff and his sureties and by S. O. Worthington, county attorney. The judgment provided that the defendants pay the county approximately $17,000, the county indebted some $17,000.

Subsequently the petition to have the judgment set aside was filed and counsel for the defendants countered with the motion to strike, which was decided yesterday. Filing of the motion automatically determined action on the petition itself.

Official Communist Organ Asserts Finns Acting On Order of Western "Bosses"

Declares foreign minister's Remarks direct Challenge Of War with Soviet Russia; Says Position exactly like that Of Former Polish Premier Which Resulted in that Country's Fall

Moscow, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Pravda, organ of the Communist party, declared today that Finland's Foreign Minister Eljas Erko had "directly threatened" the Soviet Union and that his remarks of Wednesday night "can not be appraised otherwise than as an appeal for war with the U. S. S. R."

Pravda said Erko's position was "precisely like that of former Polish Foreign Minister Beck. It is known that he, too, made provocative speeches before the German-Polish Helsinki, Nov. 3.—(AP)—An abrupt end to Russian-Finnish negotiations was regarded as a possibility in informed circles today after they received word of the attack on Foreign Minister Erko in Moscow's Pravda.

A government spokesman announced at the same time that the Finnish delegation had arranged to go to the Kremlin in the evening to present Finland's answer to Russian demands for Finnish territory for establishment of military and naval bases.

The spokesman said that while Finland was rejecting a Russian proposal for territory on Finland's southern coast, the delegation was prepared to continue the negotiations if any basis were provided.

war and the result was that he provoked war with Germany."

Beck, it said, "had the support of certain powers and because of this Poland perished."

On Russia's part, Pravda asserted: "We shall send to hell any and all maneuvers and we shall go directly toward our aims. We shall assure our safety and obtain our goal crushing all in our way."

The newspaper attack unnamed the "political leaders" in Sweden, says, "during the Czarist regime when Russia had all of Finland, including the Aaland islands, they were licking the boots of Czarist Russia. Now when we ask for only one naval base they are screaming protests."

"We know that in doing so they are meeting the request of their Western bosses."

The article dealing with negotiations for concessions which Russia has asked of her little Baltic neighbor came on the day a Finnish delegation was expected to start its final discussion at the Kremlin.

Plans Observance Of Armistice Day

Plans are in progress here by the American Legion for a program and barbecue dinner, both of which will be held at the college, on Armistice Day, Saturday of next week.

Congressman Lindsay C. Warren will be the speaker for the occasion, but a detailed program has not been worked out as yet. A meeting of the committee in charge will be held Sunday night at which time a complete program will be mapped.

While no elaborate parade is expected to be held, indications are that ex-service men will march from some up-town point to the college.

All ex-service men in Pitt county are invited to attend the program and dinner. No general holiday is expected to be observed, although legionnaires are expected to take time from their business to attend.

Finds Diphtheria Prevalent in Pitt

Dr. N. Thomas Emmett, Pitt county health officer, announced today that diphtheria at present is unusually prevalent even for this time of year, despite a state law requiring that infants between the sixth and twelfth month of age and that children under five years of age also be vaccinated.

For example, Dr. Emmett declared in comparing October of last year with October of this year, stated that there had been almost 100 per cent increase this year over last year, the actual figures being 11 cases of diphtheria for October, 1938, and 21 cases for October, 1939.

Cameraman Beats Sun To Snow

An early-morning snowfall gave Chicago a midwinter appearance in November but a warm sun soon disposed of the four-tenths of an inch which fell. Motorists who left their cars parked on the streets awoke to find them snow-covered, as shown in this picture.

Two Patients Suffocate In N. C. Hospital Fire

Thirteen Others, One Critically, Injured In Blaze

Lincolnton, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Two patients were killed and 13 others injured, one critically, in a fire at the Reeves hospital here early today. Dr. J. R. Gamble, head of the hospital, estimated damage to the three-floor structure at $10,000.

The dead: C. B. Goodson, 56, former Lincolnton post master and former treasurer and sheriff of Lincolnton county.

Mrs. W. B. Reeves, 53, of West Jefferson, a niece of Dr. Gamble. Both were said to have died of suffocation.

Most seriously injured of the 13 persons taken to the Gordon Crowell Memorial hospital here was Mrs. R. E. Huffstader of Lincolnton county, who received severe burns and hospital attaches considered her condition critical.

Dr. Gamble said 17 patients were in the hospital.

Firemen said the blaze apparently began in the furnace and that smoke from clogged flues filled the whole building. Flames penetrated all three floors of the structure, but several rooms were not damaged.

Decision Rendered In Aluminum Case

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The Justice Department announced today receipt of an opinion from Federal Judge Francis G. Caffey, presiding in the aluminum monopoly trial at New York, holding that the government had presented sufficient evidence to warrant a jury in finding the existence of a conspiracy among the principal defendants.

The action is a civil suit against the Aluminum Company of America, Aluminum Limited, a Canadian firm, and 61 other defendants charging that these companies and the British-French-Swiss and German aluminum companies controlled production and price of the metal through a world cartel known as Alliance Aluminum Companies.

The trial began June 1, 1938, and will be resumed November 8 after a three-month recess. The government completed its evidence June 1 and the defendants have introduced only a portion of their proof.

Don't Be So Personal

Knoxville, Tenn.—(AP)—The Tennessee Supreme court will not permit attorneys to indulge in "personalities" such as calling an attorney by his first name.

Attorney R. D. Busbee, during an argument, referred to Assistant State's Attorney General Jack Smith as "Jack."

"In this court," rapped Chief Justice Gratford Green, "attorneys must refer to attorneys on the opposing side as 'adversary counsel' and not indulge in personalities."

USE OF FORCE NOT PROVIDED

No Implication on Part of American Republics

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The State Department said today the Western hemisphere neutrality zone created by the 21 American republics did not imply the "exercise of force on the part of any American republic."

To answer numerous questions regarding the declaration reached at Panama, the department made available a written interpretation which stated that the purpose of the naval patrol was solely to obtain information.

"There is no implication within this provision (the declaration of Panama) of the exercise of force on the part of any American republic."

The department added that the provisions of the declaration relating to sea patrols "provide for nothing more than the kind of patrol which the government of the United States and several other American governments have already undertaken."

"The purpose of the patrol proposed is to enable the governments of the American nations to obtain the fullest information possible with regard to what is going on within the restricted area. It must be apparent that in times such as these it is of utmost importance in the interest of the preservation of the neutrality of this hemisphere that each American nation have the fullest possible advice as to the activities undertaken within the waters near its coasts."

Bountiful hay crops have been reported in many counties of the state as a result of the excellent growing weather experienced over most of North Carolina this year.

FRENCH ALERT FOR POSSIBLE GERMAN DRIVE

Strong Nazi Troop Movements Reported On Front

FRENCH SET FOR NAZI OFFENSIVE

German Artillery and Patrols are Believed to be Testing Entire Northern Flank of Front

Paris, Nov. 3.—(AP)—French military sources reported strong German troop movements today northeast of Sarreguemines, accompanied by heavy artillery screen fire.

They said the French immediately placed their forces on the alert against the possibility of a German thrust in the area between Sarreguemines and Obernai, less than a mile from the frontier and about five miles south of the German city of Saverwick.

The French held a four-mile salient near Charental between the Elbes river and the Vosge foothills and reports said they were concentrating their answering artillery fire in an attempt to smash German communications.

Patrol units fought on the wooded flank of the Vosges, these sources said.

German artillery and patrols apparently were testing the whole length of the 100-mile northern flank of the Western front between Luxembourg and the Rhine river by shifting their action from one sector to another.

There still was no sign of a major Nazi offensive, but every time a concentrated artillery barrage starts the French set themselves against that possibility.

The action of the United States House of Representatives toward ending the embargo on arms was hailed in France as a major victory for the allies over Germany.

TOWN MATTERS

The Board of Aldermen had their regular monthly meeting Thursday night, the meeting being held in the new hall. From some cause enough members to make a quorum were a little late coming in, so that it was about 9 o'clock when the business proper began.

The finance committee reported $812.62 in the treasury, but added that they did not think this amount would be sufficient to pay off all the claims to be allowed at this meeting. This proved true, for when all the bills were in the aggregate amounted to $1,119.12. The large expenditures this month was due to putting in the tiling near the Presbyterian Church, rebuilding the roadway leading to the wharf and paying a note that was due on the fire engine.

The Lights and Wells committee reported everything getting on satisfactory in their department.

The Market House committee reported everything in good shape, but not as many tenants as can be accommodated.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

New York—Women who dislike dish-washing can now claim this practice should be barred as a health hazard.

They can quote records from the American Journal of Public Health. There Walter E. Ward and G. M. Dack of the University of Chicago report a comparison of hand-washed and machine-washed household dishes.

They point out that although much attention has been given to health hazards, such as bacteria, in dish-washing in large establishments, little heed has been paid to the similar domestic problem.

They tested two types of home dish-washing machines against hand-washing procedures.

Results: by hand 25 bacteria on each plate after washing; by machine, 11 germs per plate.

Cups sterilized before being washed picked up bacteria, again to the discredit of hand washing. The hand cleansed cups averaged 18 bacteria each against 7 for the machine washed.

The machines used hotter rinse water than the hands, but the investigators concluded the hotter water was not the explanation of less germs. This they credited to the greater washing-away action of rinsing in the machines.

Art Gallery Displaying Paintings by Mrs. Hearne

By WYATT BROWN
Talent to put onto canvass the beautiful things her trained eyes see is the artist's forte. Mrs. George Hearn has the trained eye and the art expressed in her unusual talent to transfer to canvass the colors what she sees that is beautiful.

Most people are untrained to appreciate the technique used by the artist to achieve her effects, but everyone can enjoy seeing something beautiful. Further, everybody in the community is proud that there lives an artist of unusual talent and artistic ability in our town sharing with fellow citizens in her gracious way her gifts and training. A one man show of her works is on exhibition at the local art gallery, corner Fourth and Evans street.

"The End of the Beach" is a striking beauty exhibited within the confine of a canvass but carrying the imagery of ones mind far away. Everyone has seen sand dunes that has everyone seen all the beautiful and sparkle Mrs. Hearne shows there. One almost feels the heat of the hot sunny day depicted on the canvass; one can almost feel the crunch of sand blown from the dunes into ones mouth—there is actually sand blown on the canvass. Mrs. Hearne painted and stuck the oil paints. It was done of an actual scene at Atlantic Beach which is familiar to everyone.

Speaking more technically the artist has achieved solidity—relief and depth, distance between the foreground and the background. The skill of the artist in handling the dunes she put on the canvass results in a pleasing pattern which gives the feeling of completeness to the segment of the dunes she chose to paint. Her highlights with pure white pigment is not obvious at a distance or even closer for they are so cleverly worked in as to brighten to brilliance the sand and gull in the sun.

We choose "The End of the Beach" as our favorite. But there is another painting which is a most beautiful painting. The movement of the lines keep delightfully varied ever within the orbit of the canvass. It is not only decorative but unendingly interesting to see.

LINKS DISEASE TO CAN OPENER

Wonders If Dull Openers Cause Appendicitis

Reflector Bureau.
By HENRY AVERILL
Raleigh, Nov. 3.—Without reaching any definite conclusion one way or another, L. B. Rhodes, associate chemist of the North Carolina department of agriculture, is wondering out loud whether dull can openers are the cause of appendicitis and perhaps other intestinal and abdominal ailments, some of which are shown by statistics to be on the increase in America.

"The fact that appendicitis, a disease of obscure origin, has increased in this country over the last thirty years, the annual death toll now being between twenty-five and thirty thousand, has led me to inquire whether this contamination (from metallic particles in food) could be a factor in the incidence of this and other intestinal and stomach diseases," said Chemist Rhodes, who then proceeded to admit quite frankly that he doesn't know the answer.

"The answer to this question is not available, and the etiology of appendicitis is still a matter of research," he concludes sagely. He does find from investigation, however, that practically every can opener on the market leaves fragments of metal sheared off the can in the contents.

"In the opening of large number of canned foods for inspection, the contents of almost every can when opened showed the presence of metallic particles in varying quantity," declared Mr. Rhodes.

"The possible harmful effect of this material might conceivably be considered negligible but when we consider that the continued presence of this foreign material can be shown to be a contamination nearly always present when cans are opened by the type of opener now used by practically everybody in the civilized world runs into astronomical figures it would seem incredible did not matter nor merit serious study and consideration," he continued.

Rhodes is really serious about the matter, despite his acknowledged inability to work out an exact and absolute solution to his own problem.

"If metal which falls into cans of food as they are being opened in any circumstances injurious, it is of extreme importance, because it is difficult to conceive of any person in this country who does not at times ingest this foreign material. It is amazing that this contamination has been so long overlooked."

Student Lieutenants Of Girl Scout Troop

Margaret Johnston

Martha Barton

Ann Hardee

These five Scouts have been chosen to serve as student lieutenants for the remainder of this year until next September. These girls are assigned in pairs to help officiate at various troop meetings. A lieutenant assists the leader in all troop business, helps to plan outings, parties, and public functions. The main purpose of lieutenants is to train interested girls to become Scout leaders who will some day have total charge of a troop.

Margaret Johnston and Martha Barton have charge of Troop 2 of Intermediate Scouts who meet on Thursday evenings. They will also be in charge of a hike and outdoor cook-out for this troop tomorrow evening.

Ann Hardee and Margaret Lee Duke conduct Troop 4 on Tuesday evenings. Before the street dance, these girls sponsored a Halloween party for the troop October 31st.

Anne B. Blank and Mary Elizabeth Austin (not pictured) are responsible for the Brownie Pack which meets Saturday afternoons. This group has already had one party and are planning an outing to be held in the near future.

Troop 1, of which these Scouts are members, have arranged for a twelve-mile hike this Saturday. The troop is scheduled to leave at 8:30 in the morning, hike down to the old mill bridge in the direction of New Bern, have a cook-out lunch, and return late in the afternoon. To pass a Girl Scout second class badge, a total of one hundred miles must be travelled, or fifty hours continuous walking. This hike will be preparatory to earning this badge. A cross-country hike is planned for this spring.

he points out.

It is difficult, if not completely impossible, Rhodes admits, for most of the public to avoid this ingestion and possible resulting injury, inasmuch as practically everybody eats canned food; but the chemist submits that it is important that a type of can opener be developed which does not leave metallic particles in the cans' contents.

"It is quite possible that a survey of openers might reveal a type that is free from objection," he surmises. "I would recommend that it is a worthwhile matter and of exceeding great importance that an opener if not available be designed that will properly open cans."

The present type can openers do not meet the objection, he says, pointing out that his opening of cans for inspection resulted in finding practically all openers leaving particles in the contents.

"Considerable pressure is required to open a can, and especially with dull openers. Lateral pressure causes the knife to bite into the folded edge and sever needle-like slivers, in cans of heavy sheet metal where pressures are higher, a scoring effect has been observed on the top and sides," he said.

Isolationist senators and house members insist that the West is going to be rough with those members voting for repeal of the arms embargo.

They reason this way: Of all sections of the country the West is most likely to fluctuate in 1940. It isn't predominantly Republican or predominantly Democratic.

They argue, and back up their case with masses of western mail, that isolationist sentiment in the West will play old hob with the lads who voted for repeal of the embargo.

They suspect that a change in the situation in Europe might give them a big bulge or possibly wipe out their case altogether.

The Creeping Man

by Frances Shelley Wees

YESTERDAY Michael decides to take Murchison's assistant Mc Bain, into his confidence and perhaps gain information. He learns that Murchison and his wife were not happy, and that Murchison got Devoe his post.

Ridiculous Question

MISS LISSEY is your anonymous letter writer," said Mc Bain.

Michael rubbed his ear. "I don't think so," he said slowly. "I asked her, pointblank, today. She knew what I was doing here, having guessed some and ferreted out the rest."

"You asked her?"
"Yes. And no one could have been so guileless if she'd had quite a little knowledge. No, I think we're off the track there."

McBain shook his head heavily. "It's a damned puzzle to me, from beginning to end," he said. "And those love letters—that's a greater puzzle. I told you what I thought of such a rotten idea once before. It got into his chair and sat thumping, while Michael watched his expression. 'Did it ever occur to you,' McBain said suddenly, 'that those mightn't be love letters at all?'"

"What do you mean, sir?"
"Those were with the diamonds. Sure, if Murchison had taken his valuables with him, of that nature. It appears that he didn't. Is it possible that the diamonds have some strange and secret history and the letters aren't what they seem to be but something else in code, relating to the diamonds? Do I make myself clear?"

"By the Lord Harry," said Michael softly. "I wonder if you've struck something? You're suggesting... let me think now... supposing the diamonds were stolen. He went on, disregarding McBain's hand. 'Stolen? Not necessarily by your friend—but still, quite possibly by him. Supposing, as you say, these letters are code letters, from someone familiar with the circumstances. Someone who is warning him... rather?' Michael smiled sweetly. 'We'll get some code on tomorrow.'"

"That would fit in with your letter from Chicago," McBain said abruptly.
"Would it?" Michael replied happily. "Murchison's afraid to give his address or any hint of his whereabouts to his wife. In that case, she may or may not have a hint of the real truth, and is acting accordingly. You can interpret her actions differently according to the light you see them in. But the thing that gets me is... why haven't we heard about the theft or loss or misappropriation of whatever you like... of fifty thousand dollars worth of diamonds?"

"They may have come from some other city," McBain said. "I don't believe for one instant that Murchison stole them. Forrester! I think you're barking up the wrong tree there. But certainly there's something strange about them."

"I don't know, I'm no jewel thief. But as for thinking of Murchison in that light, it would mean a sort of double identity. It's preposterous."

"You've got to come back to that letter warning the Commissioner, though," Michael said after a moment. "Somebody sent it. As for Alix Lissey, I'm convinced she thinks she knows something. I found her today out on the river bank, inspecting the rocks with a species of microscope. Can you tell me what might have been in her pretty little head?"

He expressed no opinion as to the advantages or disadvantages of legal liquor stores in their effect, if any, upon prevalence of drunken driving.

Getting over to more pleasant subjects, State Geologist H. J. Bryson reports that the war in Europe (though the isn't pleasant subject, either) has greatly stimulated the demand for North Carolina china clays, chiefly kaolin, since it has shut off almost the entire supply of china clays heretofore imported from England and Germany.

"Already most of the kaolin grinding and washing plants in the Spruce Pine area are operating on either 16 or 24 hour a day shifts," said Geologist Bryson. "One operator told me recently he was already several months behind in filling orders. The demand has been so heavy. One company which has been operating three plants has lately opened another grinding plant and has started mining another deposit, so that it now has four plants in operation, most of them on a 24 hours a day basis. These companies are not only operating their own mines but are buying kaolin from many small mine operators."

An acute political observer (he has to be) is representative of an association always vitally affected by tax legislation, predicted that State Senator Erskine Smith of Stanly county is going to run for the Lieutenant Governor job next year, despite the entry of Reg Harris, former House Speaker, into the race.

Erk will get powerful support from County Willie Clark in Edgecombe and that sector," he forecast, but added the opinion that Harris is not without his own powerful backers all through the east.

Charles Miller, who has announced he will run next year against State Auditor George Ross Pou, can't do much worse than he did in 1936 when he finished fourth in a field of four with 42,852 votes, against 61,684 for Willard L. Dowell, 113,850 for Baxter Durham and 223,517 for Pou.

Sunday School Lesson

By REV. D. A. WINDHAM

It was not the mission of our Lord to change any portion of the old Bible but to fulfill the terms Law and Prophets in verse 17 in the Greek or proper names and I see no reason why they are not so translated and refers to the Pentateuch and the books of the major and minor prophets and many of the Psalms. It was so applied and understood by all. But, the whole event in the Pentateuch—typical events, typical men, prophecies, promises, rites, ceremonies, feasts, festivals—were realized or fulfilled in Christ. The whole law in this respect was one grand prediction, one continuous prophecy which received its fulfillment in Christ; his mission, work, person and passion were fulfilled.

It was not his purpose to abrogate or repeal one precept of the moral law to which it is evident he refers, for he proceeds to vindicate it from the false glosses of the Scribes and Pharisees; neither did he formally abrogate or repeal the ceremonial law though it he also fulfilled among the Jews, when Providence rendered its observance impossible at the destruction of Jerusalem and the dispersion among the Gentiles; upon whom it was never binding.

The expression "one lot or one title" in our 18 seems to refer to the small account Mark used in the Hebrew language, and to omit one would change the accent and vowel sound, and in many cases change the whole meaning of the passage. Therefore the law was to be left just as it was and just as it is today for the Holy Spirit had moved, or exercised a quickening influence, on the writers and in Him, the Godhead bodily. Therefore until the types be fulfilled by the antitype, till the end be attained by Christ in his righteousness and the prediction with which all is illustrated and enforced shall lie fulfilled first in the dispersion and in the final restoration of Israel.

In verse 19 the term "one of these least commandments" is often misunderstood. It means the least in extent of duty and least in amount of injury when broken; for there is no little commandment in the Bible but all are great and important. "The kingdom of heaven" does not mean the kingdom of glory but the church militant as is the favorite term of Matthew for the church.

Verse 20 the term "your righteousness" does not mean "your not mean personal righteousness in an acknowledged sinner for the two ideas are utterly incompatible. There is positively no righteousness only that of God through faith. This righteousness exceeds that of the Pharisees—first in its origin and author—God in Christ; second in its perfection—having the excellency of Gods work in the flesh; third in its efficacy upon the conscience, to purge it—and upon the heart to write the law on it, and in this respect it exceeds the self righteousness of the Pharisees.

In verse 38 we have rules quoted to be used only by the judges in Israel and was not to be exercised by the laity.

Verse 39 warns against the practice of revenge and the whole scope of this section of the lesson would teach us to give place to the second injury rather than be revengeful at the first. In verse 40 there is some reference to a custom requiring a person to go with another who inquired the way one mile but rather than content over the answerable demand to do more than that. That is in every case do more than the courtesy demands for the Pharisees did even that.

The whole scope of the Christian duty is to do more than is ordinarily required and in this respect we show to the world that we have his love within our hearts.

The third section of the lesson is from Matthew 6: 1-4 and teaches us how to live a Christian life and

After The Poll
Henderson, Ky. (AP)—Frank Winstead, defeated for the Democratic nomination for state senator in this district, made it possible for the name of his successful opponent to go on the ballot in the November 7 election.

The nomination was won by F. M. Tapp, but Tapp failed to file his certificate of nomination with the secretary of state before the deadline.

It was necessary for Winstead, as chairman of the Webster county Democratic committee, and the chairman of the other county in the district, M. R. Posey of Henderson county, to meet and renominate Tapp.

Green Phantoms Off For Engagement With New Bern

TWENTY-THREE SET FOR GAME

Final Practice Session Held Yesterday Afternoon

The Greenville High school football team 23 players strong left the Third Street school ground this evening at 5 o'clock en route to New Bern for their second conference meet this season, which is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

So far this season the Bears have tied one contest, lost two, and won one. They will be out for revenge from the locals who handed them a 19-0 defeat last season.

The Phantoms have chalked up 85 points in five contests so far this season averaging 17 points per game. However, only one of these teams was in the conference. The Green lost this conference game to Roanoke Rapids by a close score of 1-6.

Yesterday the Phantoms practice consisted of running plays, kicking extra points, passing extra points and quick punts. They left this evening determined to bring back a victory at the expense of the Bears. When the kick-off sounds, John Collins and Larry James will be on ends for the locals. They have shown up very good this season. Earl Kittrell and Russell Rogerson will be at the tackle position. Warren Parrish and Paul Scott will hold down the guard posts and Charles Williams will be at center.

The four horsemen: J. B. Kittrell, George Sakas, Marvin Stocks and George Tyndall will be depended on to tramp through bear grounds for the local tallies.

T. Y. Walker invited the first and second teams, the two coaches, and the manager to be his guest at the Pitt Theatre last night.

DUKE OFF FOR GEORGIA TECH

Blue Devils Entrain For Georgia City Tonight

Durham, Nov. 3.—Duke university's big blue football eleven finished a week of stiff workouts with a light drill here this afternoon and were set to board their special train that will carry them to Atlanta for their seventh annual scrap with the Engineers of Georgia Tech tomorrow.

If the Blue Devils are a trifle fidgety when they climb into their berths tonight, there will be good reason. They know how tough those Engineers are on Grant field, and all hands look for a terrific battle.

Meanwhile in Atlanta, preparations were complete for the reception of a record crowd at Grant field tomorrow. Over 40,000 are expected to see the contest.

And there is also good reason why tomorrow's game should shatter attendance marks. On this same site in Atlanta two years ago, the Blue Devils and Yellow Jackets staged what was called the most thrilling game on record in southern football history. Duke won in a see-saw affair, 20-19.

Everything points toward a sequel to that sizzling 1937 struggle. Both teams are well-equipped on offense—Duke with its McAfee brothers, George and Wes, Roger Robinson, and Jap Davis, and Tech with

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Nov. 3. (AP) - The stock market recovered quietly today after a fast early sell-off that knocked down aircraft and other leaders fractions to more than two points.

Modest gains at the opening, especially in aviation, were quickly wiped out as profit takers hit the list with large offerings. The ticker tape for a brief period fell behind when blocks of as much as 20,000 shares changed hands. The comeback was slow, but extreme losses were reduced or replaced by minor advances near the fourth hour.

ASK BUSINESS TO COOPERATE

Lieut. J. H. Moye, acting commander of the local unit of the National Guard, Battery A, 113th Field Artillery, today released a proclamation by Governor Hoye in which the chief executive outlined new regulations adopted for the National Guard and called upon the business houses of the state to cooperate.

Lieut. Moye stressed the portion of the governor's proclamation urging the cooperation of business houses in the various communities and asked that all Greenville firms cooperate when the National Guard goes on a week of field training by making it convenient for members in their personnel to be relieved of duties for the period.

The full proclamation of the governor follows:

"Under the directions of the President of the United States, the War Department has allotted an increased strength of 753 men to the organizations of the North Carolina National Guard, which will bring the total strength to 4013, and has ordered that army training at the home station of each unit be increased from one to two drills per week until January 31, 1940.

In addition, the National Guard is required to hold maneuvers or undergo field training for seven days within the period mentioned. It may be necessary to hold this field training for the seven days consecutively, mobilizing either entire regiments or battalions at points not far removed from the stations of the units.

The personnel of the National Guard are naturally and largely employees of corporations and business houses of the communities and some in colleges and high schools. In view of the directions of the Federal government, and realizing the chaotic condition in the world today this additional training is deemed most important to the officers and the enlisted men of the guard. It is such type of training which fits the officer to take care of and provide for the men of his command, and that these men, generally, may learn more thoroughly to care for themselves under conditions which may at any time call them into the service of the state or nation. The call for this type of training at this time comes to me from the Federal government, through the War Department and the adjutant general of the state. It is realized that every state in the union will undergo similar training and as the National Guard of our state is, under the federal laws, a part of the army of the United States, it is necessary that North Carolina conforms to this directive.

As the governor of the state and the commander-in-chief of the National Guard in times of peace, I am deeply concerned that every citizen of the state in the union will undergo similar training and as the National Guard of our state is, under the federal laws, a part of the army of the United States, it is necessary that North Carolina conforms to this directive.

ROGERS PERPLEXED!

Yes, Ginger Rogers has romantic perplexities in the high hat comedy "Fifth Avenue Girl" opening at the Pitt Saturday.

peal most strongly and sincerely to the employers of the young men, members of the National Guard, interested in the protection of our state and nation to cheerfully and honestly make every effort to grant their employees concerned the time necessary to undergo this training. It is unfortunate that at times situations arise which may disrupt the normal activities of business; yet, such happens and in view of the necessity to have a well trained force competent to afford the protection of our homes and business, the situation at present calls for a sacrifice on the part of all concerned.

This training of the guard will embody that type of work which they cannot get in their army training, such as scouting and patrolling; night operations; security and reconnaissance; defensive and offensive combat; protection against the air plane, etc.

The adjutant general of the state will issue the state orders for this training following a conference of adjutants general of the eight states comprising the fourth corps area with corps area headquarters, Atlanta, Ga., on Nov. 1st, based upon information and directions received at that time.

I again urge upon all concerned to cooperate to the fullest in this matter."

the first signs of sore throat. He further stated that the vaccination was a simple procedure and the parent should take the child to his own physician, or if unable to have the vaccination done privately, bring the child to the health department where it is done free for indigent patients. Vaccinations in the health department are done on Wednesday afternoons and on Saturday mornings and it takes about 3 months after the vaccination for the child to get protection. The health officer also called attention to the fact that many parents fail to observe the quarantine law and in this way spread the disease to the neighbor's child. The violation of the diphtheria law, both as to vaccination and quarantine, is a fine of $50 or imprisonment of 30 days.

Mom' Says "O.K."...Three-a-Day for Judy Mae

A SWEET TREAT AT 10-2 & 4 - Mothers know hard-playing youngsters burn energy fast... that they need a bit of extra "fuel" between meals. So Judy gets a LIQUID sweet... a luscious, sparkling Dr. Pepper at 10, 2 and 4 o'clock; quick energy; quickly used; none left over to dull mealtime appetite. Judy's wild about the flavor, and mothers know fruit essence, natural flavors and pure cane sugar are wholesome and beneficial.
