President Calls On Manufacturers And Exporters

NO COUNTRIES ARE MENTIONED

States Government Policy of Condemning Unprovoked Bombings of Civilian Populations

Washington, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Without naming countries, President Roosevelt said in a formal statement today the government hopes American manufacturers and exporters of airplanes, aeronautical equipment and materials would bear in mind the government policy of condemning "unprovoked bombings" of civilians.

The brief statement was issued after the president had conferred with Secretary Hull in his White House study.

It followed two presidential appeals to Finland and Russia not to bomb civilian populations.

The statement follows: "The American government and the American people have for some time pursued a policy of wholehearted condemnation of the unprovoked bombing and machine-gunning of civilian populations from the air. This government hopes that such unprovoked bombing shall not be given material encouragement in the light of the recent recurrences of such acts that American manufacturers and exporters of airplanes, aeronautical equipment and materials essential to airplane manufacture will bear this fact in mind before negotiating contracts for the exportation of these articles to nations obviously guilty of such unprovoked bombing."

In releasing the statement to the press, Stephen Early, a White House secretary, said that the American minister to Finland already had received an oral reply expressing the Finnish government's "high gratification" that the president's action and assuring that a formal response was being prepared.

Washington, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The White House announced today that President Roosevelt will issue a statement during the day on the international situation in which he would attempt to clear up, among other things, the question of a "moral" embargo on sales of bombing planes to Russia.

After cancelling a trip to the Army-Navy football game at Philadelphia, the president arranged to spend most of the morning with Secretary Hull.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, asserted that there might be a statement on international conditions, but gave no clue to its nature aside from his remark that it would have some bearing on the moral embargo.

Meanwhile, he said, the president had given him no information that Finland or Russia had replied formally to this government's request that they pledge themselves to refrain from bombing civilians.

Early was asked whether he regarded that as an answer to the president's appeal.

"You might ask the dead, the injured and their widows and orphans how pointless it is or has been, of course I mean the dead civilians."

Partial Demobilization Is Decreed For France

Fathers of 2 or More Children To Be Sent Home

Paris, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Premier Daladier announced today that all fathers of two or more children who have been mobilized, will be released and sent back to their homes.

The demobilization will begin December 15 with fathers of four children or more whose release had been ordered previously.

Hundreds of thousands eventually will be affected.

At the same time the premier announced men 40 years of age will be taken out of the front lines and replaced by younger men now in service in the rear.

On October 28 France ordered demobilization of 100,000 soldiers who had four or more children or were in the older age classification.

Meantime the Western front awoke to new life. French military sources reported, with suddenly increased patrol activity at many points.

Localized raids executed by both sides failed to change the location of the line, these reports said, but the French succeeded in capturing several prisoners.

Heavy German artillery was reported in one unnamed sector.

Both City, State Car Tags On Sale

Both state and city auto license plates went on sale yesterday at the local branch of the Carolina Motor club, located on West Fifth street, just beyond the State theatre from Five Points.

Mrs. N. C. Brooks, in charge of the local branch, reported that 145 state plates, passenger vehicles and trucks, were sold yesterday. The number is just about the same sold on the first day last year. A total of 1,444 plates were sold at the local branch last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks this year also are selling city license plates, under a contract with the Board of Aldermen, and persons purchasing both state and city tags can get them at the same time. Thirty-four city plates were sold yesterday, compared with eight the first day the tags went on sale at the city hall last year.

The office will remain open daily from 8 a. m. until 4 p. m. during the rush. Automobile and truck owners are urged to purchase their tags early in order to avoid the rush, which becomes so great about Christmas time and the end of the year that a person has to stand in line before reaching the window from which the licenses are dispensed.

Both 1940 state and city license plates are legal from now on and a number of persons already are making use of them.

Both the city and state tags are given with red letters.

Wright Brother Dies At Dayton, O., Home

Dayton, Ohio, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Lorin Wright, 77-year-old manufacturer who by choice never shared the world spotlight with his famous brothers, Orville and Wilbur Wright, accredited with making the first sustained airplane flight, died at his home here last night.

His death leaves Orville the sole survivor of a generation of Wrights born in rural Indiana who became famous in aviation.

Inventory Discloses No Liquor Was Taken

Dr. Charles O. H. Home, chairman of the Pitt county ABC board, following completion of an inventory yesterday afternoon, revealed that no stock was missing from ABC store No. 1, which was entered during the Thanksgiving holidays.

The store was entered after a bar had been prized off a window, and the pane broken. An unsuccessful attempt was made to get into the safe, containing approximately $1,700 and money evidently was the sole object of the would-be robber, or robbers.

Of about a dozen "international languages" invented by scholars, none has come into general use.

New Bund 'Fuehrer'

G. Wilhelm Kunze (above) took the leadership of the German-American Bund as "fuehrer" after Fritz Kuhn, the "fuehrer," was convicted in New York of forgery and theft from the bund's treasury. "Fuehrer Pro Tem" Kunze's first objective was to raise money to file an appeal for Kuhn and get him out of jail.

OFFICER SLAIN FROM AMBUSH

Deputy Said to Have Raided Illicit Still Alone

Mount Airy, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Walter Willis, about 45, a Patrick county Va. deputy sheriff, was shot from ambush and killed today about eight miles from here near the Virginia state line.

A bullet wound in the body resulted in death before the officer could be brought to a hospital here.

Mount Airy police said they understood Willis earlier had raided alone a liquor still near Willis gap.

Search was begun immediately for the killer.

Hold Final Rites For Bethel Woman

Funeral services for Mrs. R. M. Andrews, 70, who died following a stroke of paralysis at her home in Bethel Friday, were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock by the Rev. D. W. Alexander, Free Will Baptist minister of Bethel, Burns, was in Bethel cemetery.

Surviving are her husband, Thomas Andrews of Farmville, W. D. Andrews and Lee Blain of Bethel, four daughters, Mrs. Alden Andrews, Mrs. Joe Cherry and Mrs. Ello Andrews of Bethel and Mrs. H. J. Jones of Washington, N. C., and brothers R. H. Blain of Bethel, State Blain of Greenville, Fernado Blain of Martin county and Chester Blain of Washington, N. C.

Mrs. Andrews was born and reared in Martin county and had spent nearly all her life there. She had been a resident of the Bethel community for a year.

Local Huntsmen Kill Three Deer on Coast

Deer hunting is becoming a rather popular outdoor sport in Eastern North Carolina, particularly around the Core Point section. Four Greenville men have just returned from a hunting trip in that section, which netted them three deer and other game.

Two bucks killed by the party weighed over 200 pounds each, while a third buck was under the 200-pound mark. The deer were killed during the Thanksgiving holidays, but the huntsmen are still making meals off the meat.

Those in the party, which reported also that duck hunting was good around the Core Point section, were C. H. McGowan, Charles McGowan, P. H. Cannon and Cary Lee Buck. The men are warehousemen.

Soviets Expect "No Good" of Finns Own New Regime, But Look to Rival Russian-Approved Government to Bring Peace; Appeal of President Roosevelt Brushed Aside As "Pointless"

Moscow, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Soviet Russia formally recognized today a "people's" provisional regime which she proclaimed for Finland while scorning the embattled Finns' own new government.

Premier Foreign Commissar Molotov declared the Soviets expected "no good" from the Finnish government and praised the rival Russian-approved group as a factor leading to "hope for a peaceful and satisfactory solution of the present crisis."

He brushed aside as "pointless" an appeal by President Roosevelt, the United States that Finnish civilians not be bombed from the air.

"Soviet airplanes have not bombed towns and are not going to do so," said Molotov.

Since Russia invaded Finland Thursday air raids involving civilian casualties have been reported from Helsinki and other Finnish cities.

The Red army reported successes all along the Finnish border including penetrations up to 16 miles, capture of the Arctic port Petsamo and occupation of a number of border towns on the Karelian isthmus with the shooting down of 10 Finnish airplanes.

The Red army reported it had "passed" the town of Terijoki on the isthmus. "Finns said they still held the town."

It was there that "the people's government of the democratic republic of Finland" was established with the Finnish Communist Otto Kuusinen as premier.

The Russians were said to have left on the battlefield more than 150 dead whose equipment and clothing indicated the Red troops were poorly prepared for war in the far north. Many apparently had suffered frozen feet.

Russian reinforcements were reported en route to Petsamo and a new battle was expected.

Soviet warplanes meanwhile continued active in the narrow Finnish corridor leading to the Arctic. Low-flying planes were reported to have attacked Finnish motor buses, carrying refugees toward the Norwegian border.

Advance Seal Drive Drawing To A Close

The advance seal and bond sale of the Tuberculosis Christmas seal campaign will be completed within a few days. After this portion of the campaign is closed the personal solicitation campaign will begin one time within the next week.

In this phase of the campaign an effort will be made to give every Greenville citizen an opportunity to purchase Christmas seals in "mounds" to put all pocket books following the personal solicitation efforts will be placed at strategic points throughout the city in order to enable those who have not been contacted or had the opportunity to buy seals to do so.

Citizens are urged to use tuberculosis Christmas seals on all letters and packages.

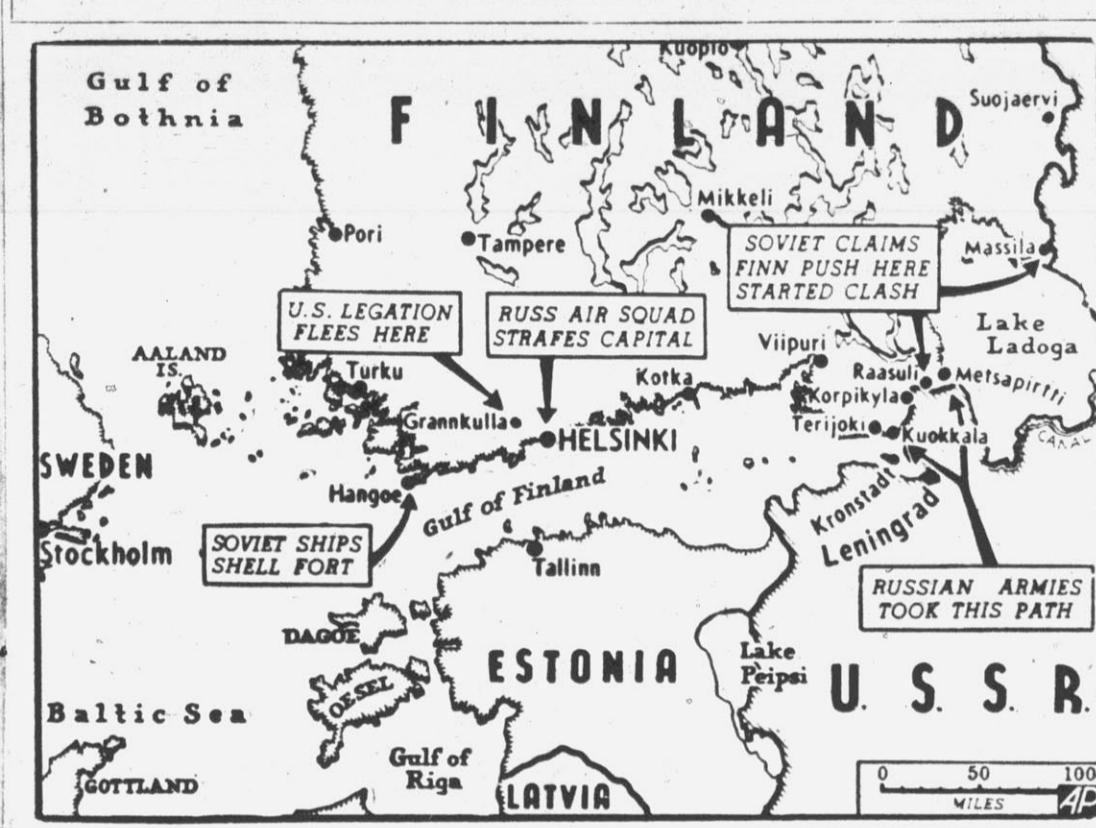

Business Hitt Ten-Year Peak

Babson Says America Afraid of Prosperity

New York, Dec. 1.—Business closed November by sweeping up to the highest level for any month in ten years! Without adjustment for our increase in population, activity is now only 6 per cent below the all-time high of 1929 and is 93 per cent above the depression low of March, 1933. Business sentiment, however, continues uncertain and confused. In 1929 the business world thought we could never have another depression. In 1939, the same group thinks we can never have another boom.

It is an even decade since the Golden Era collapsed. In the years after 1929 business took the sharpest and longest drop in history. As measured by the Babsonchart, it powered-dived from 123 to 59 in the short space of three and a half years. Stocks cracked from an average price of $381 a share to $41 a share. In 1933, the trend changed.

Russian Invaders Continue to Bombard Finland

This map denotes the centers of fighting as Russian Soviets continued to batter Finland from land, sea and air, even though the Finns formed a new government and dropped leaders who had been assailed by Russia. Russian warships bombarded the fortress at Hangoe and planes raided the capital city of Helsinki again. But Finnish forces were reported resisting stubbornly. The United States legation was moved from Helsinki to Grankulla. Russians claim Finnish action at Raasuli, Korpikyla and Massilla started the conflict.

VICTORIES FOR FINNS VERIFIED

Refugees Arriving In Norway Confirm Reports

Kirkenes, Norway, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Civilian refugees arriving here from Finland reported today Finnish troops had retaken the Arctic port of Petsamo.

Finnish authorities here were said to have confirmed the report. Earlier the city was reported in hands of Russian forces which parachuted to earth from airplanes.

The refugees also declared the Finns had defeated the Russians in a battle 50 miles north of Salmijarvi, site of valuable British-Canadian owned nickel mines.

The Russians were said to have left on the battlefield more than 150 dead whose equipment and clothing indicated the Red troops were poorly prepared for war in the far north. Many apparently had suffered frozen feet.

Russian reinforcements were reported en route to Petsamo and a new battle was expected.

Soviet warplanes meanwhile continued active in the narrow Finnish corridor leading to the Arctic. Low-flying planes were reported to have attacked Finnish motor buses, carrying refugees toward the Norwegian border.

To Aid Americans

Stockholm, Dec. 2.—(AP)—A Swedish-American steamer has been chartered to remove the Americans connected with the United States legation in Helsinki and will reach Abo, Finland, tomorrow.

Frederick A. Sterling, U. S. minister to Stockholm, announced today 45 persons will be brought to Stockholm.

The American legation already has established temporary headquarters at Grankulla, west of Helsinki.

EX-COMMUNIST DIES WITNESS

Testifies that He Was Ousted by Joseph Stalin

Washington, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Jay Lovestone told the Dies committee today he was ousted as general secretary of the Communist party by Joseph Stalin in 1929 because of a "violent conflict" in Moscow over how the various units of the party should be led.

The witness said he and his followers were particularly opposed to the "monopoly" of this leadership by Soviet officials.

Asserting that he had insisted upon a principle of "party democracy" the witness told the committee that "Stalin and his puppets, while they did not reject it on paper, vitiated every concept" of such a principle.

The witness said it took him and other expelled party members seven years to get over the idea of free unification of the party in this country, but they abandoned it finally in 1936.

As one of the organizers of the Communist party of the United States and a "founder" of the Communist International, he said he had received and been subjected to all the honors of the party save one—liquidation by the firing squad.

Turpentine Is Fresh Despite Ancient Age

Frank E. Brooks, affiliated with the dredging project operations under way on Tar river, said today that the dredge had picked up part of a barrel head at least 150 years old and that the turpentine in the head was still fresh.

Brooks said the barrel head was found at the mouth of Hardee Creek, one of Pitt county's principal shipping ports when river traffic was active many years ago. Tar river is said to have been given this name because of tar shipments it carried in yesteryears.

Dredging operations are nearing the completion stage and the river will be ready for large boat traffic again in the near future. Docks are being erected at the creek and a concrete road will link the Greenville-Washington highway with the port.

W. Z. Morton, Pender Grocery Co., Keel's warehouse, M. R. Long, M. D. Lassiter, Wilkerson funeral home and D. W. Mosier, $5 each.

NEW ACTIVITY IN WAR AT SEA

Two German Vessels Captured; British Ship Sunk

London, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The British today captured two German vessels, the 2,185-ton steamer Elbek and the 215-ton trawler Sophie Busse.

London, Dec. 2.—(AP)—A Reuters British news agency dispatch from Capetown, Union of South Africa reported today the scuttling of the 9,521-ton German liner Watuzzi south of Cape Point.

London, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The 8,010-ton British tanker San Calisto was sunk by an explosion off the southeast coast of England today with one killed and four injured. Forty of the crew were saved.

Dr. Jones to Head Jackson Day Fete

Success of the Jackson Day campaign in Pitt county is indicated by appointment of Dr. Paul Jones as county chairman. Announcement to this effect has just been made by State Director John D. Larkins, Jr.

The purpose of this campaign, which began last week and will culminate in a mammoth Jackson Day dinner at Raleigh on January 8th is to raise money for the Democratic campaign and convention next year. North Carolina and Pitt county have established reputations for exceeding expectations in similar efforts.

Last year, with no election campaign in the immediate offing, the state raised more than ten thousand dollars. This year demands upon the party treasury will be much heavier by reason of the election next fall and the convention this coming summer.

A speaker of national reputation has been secured for the celebration which will be held on January 8, 1940 at the Hotel Sir Walter Raleigh. A high standard was set at the 1939 dinner by the speech of Governor Chas. Brantley. "Happy" Chandler of Kentucky, State Director Larkins, who managed the last campaign, guarantees that the 1940 program certainly will not fall below that standard.

Under the leadership of Chairman Jones, Pitt county is expected to be among the first to announce completion of its quota. The first county to reach this goal will be accorded very special recognition, not only at the Jackson Day dinner, but also in the permanent records of the state and national party organizations.

Official ruling that the Hatch Act will not prevent any federal employee, other than relief workers, from contributing to the fund or attending the dinner makes success easier to attain.

Bunch-Sumrell. Mrs. Maude Sumrell announces the marriage of her daughter Lila to George H. Bunch, Jr., on Wednesday, the twenty-ninth of November. Nineteen hundred and thirty-nine Greenville, North Carolina.

In a quiet ceremony on Wednesday evening, November 29, at 8:30 o'clock, at her home on Ridgeway street, Miss Lila Rook Sumrell became the bride of Mr. George H. Bunch, Jr., of Kinston and Greenville.

The living room was decorated with longleaf pine, ivory and white chrysanthemums, with burning white candles, in crystal holders.

The bride and groom entered unattended, and the vows were spoken by the Reverend Chester Pelt, Free Will Baptist minister of Winterville, using the impressive ring ceremony.

The bride wore a dress of gold crepe, with a shoulder corsage of yellow roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Bunch is the daughter of Mrs. Maude Sumrell of this city, and has spent most of her life in Greenville. She finished her education in the city schools and for the past year has been employed in the office of Attorney J. W. H. Roberts of this city.

The groom is the son of Mr. G. H. Bunch and the late Mrs. Bunch of New Bern and Kinston. At the present he holds a position with the National Biscuit Company of this city.

Following a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Bunch will be at home, 625 East Ninth street, Greenville.

McDonald-Charles Mrs. Harry Bessent Charles announces the marriage of her daughter Aileen Brooks to Mr. Albert Sidney McDonald on Thursday, the thirtieth of November nineteen hundred and thirty-nine Gritton, North Carolina.

In a ceremony of beauty and impressive dignity, the marriage of Miss Aileen Brooks Charles and Albert Sidney McDonald of Roanoke Rapids and Greenville, was solemnized in the First Christian church, Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The Reverend Perry Case of Wilson, pastor of the bride officiated.

The church altar and chancel were decorated with tall standards of lilies and carnations arranged against a background of native pine, palms and smilax. Lighted candles cast a soft glow over the wedding party.

As the guests assembled, Mrs. George Tomlinson of Wilson at the piano played, "Schubert's Serenade," "Dance of the Spirits" by Gluck; "To an Evening Star" by Tanhauser, Miss Otella Vaughan of Roanoke Rapids sang, "Because" and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." As the vows were being spoken Mrs. Tomlinson softly played "To a Wild Rose." The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was played as the processional and the traditional Mendelssohn was played as the bride party left the church.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her uncle, Lloyd Chapman. The bridegroom had as his best man his brother, D. J. McDonald of Henderson. Ushers were Harry Charles and Edward Peele of Elm City.

Mrs. Edward Peele, only sister of the bride was dame of honor and only attendant. Her gown was fashioned by Vionet of astring pink faille moire, with full length skirt and slight train, the bodice was tight fitting with short puffed sleeves and sweetheart neck line. From the neck line in the back extending to the bustle was a row of tiny covered buttons. She wore a velvet turban of grape wine and elbow length gloves, her old fashioned bouquet was of tallisam roses.

The bride was lovely in a hyacinth gown fashioned identical to that of the dame of honor, with this she wore a doll's hair, pleated illusion having velvet streamers and bandeau of groto blue velvet, her gloves were of white and her bouquet was of white brides roses and valley lilies. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, a gift of the groom.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Charles was a gown of black velvet, her corsage was of white roses.

After the wedding the couple left for a trip to northern points, Mrs. McDonald wore as her going-away outfit a Long model of sea green moss crepe with touches of gold at the neck, a black fur coat and accessories, she wore a corsage taken from her wedding bouquet.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Gladys Charles and the late H. E. Charles. She is a graduate of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. She taught in the Roanoke Rapids city school and for the past two years has been assistant supervisor of public school music in the city schools of Burlington.

Mr. McDonald is a son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. McDonald of Roanoke Rapids. He attended the Georgia School of Pharmacy at Atlanta, Ga. He is now assistant manager of the Greenville and Washington district of the Gate City Life Insurance company with headquarters in Greenville.

Immediately following the wedding the bride's mother entertained at a reception at her home on Church street. White and pink chrysanthemums, smilax and lighted candles added to the charm of the home. Mrs. J. S. Chapman greeted the guests as they called, Mrs. T. J. Williams introduced them to the receiving line composed of the hostess, Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Francis Starke, sister of the groom, and the wedding party. Mrs. Edward Smith and Mrs. Sallie Klingenschnitt directed callers to the dining room.

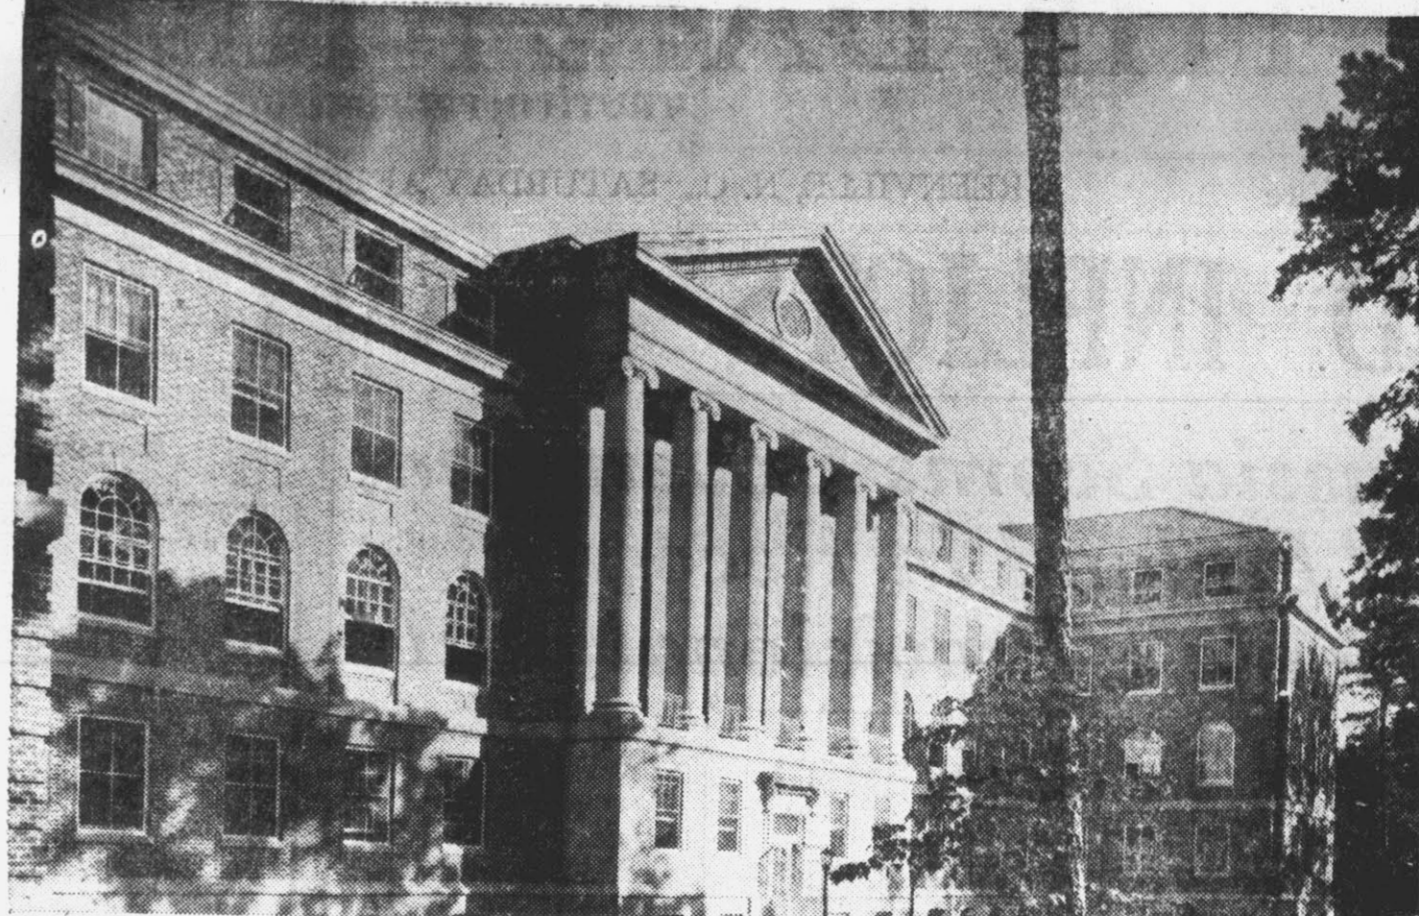

The dining room was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with a crystal bowl of pink roses flanked with burning pink candles in crystal holders. Mrs. W. I. Bissette, Miss Marle Tucker Chapman and Miss Sara Frances Williams served bridal ice, individual cakes, nuts and mints.

Greeting the guests at the gift room was Miss Mary Holley of Adams, N. Y. From here they were asked to register in the bride's book by Miss Helen Sikes of Asheboro. Mrs. William Bagwell received at the coffee room, where Mrs. C. R. Cobb, Mrs. Pauline Hooker were seated at a beautifully appointed table. Miss Marie Chapman and Miss Josie Tomlinson served coffee. Saying good bye to the many callers was Mrs. R. A. Nelson.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were: Mrs. Frances Starke, Miss Otella Vaughan, Miss Lillian McDonald, Miss Elizabeth Brown, Miss Ruth Chapman and the late Mrs. Mrs. Jack Lewis of Farmville; Miss Aileen Porter, Miss Vivian Griffin, Miss Ruth Warren, Miss Ethel Burnham, Mr. G. ## New Medical Building At University

Here is the new home of the University of North Carolina's School of Medicine and Division of public health which is to be dedicated at formal exercises in Chapel Hill Monday, December 4. The building and a new dormitory for medical students will be open for inspection throughout the day. Highlights of the day's program include addresses by a number of distinguished speakers during the morning beginning at 10:45 o'clock in the new building's auditorium, and again at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. An informal tea will be given in the new Charles E. Kistler Medical Library from 4 to 6 o'clock and at 6:30 a dinner meeting is scheduled at the Carolina Inn.

on Fifth street. This was the first meeting since the chapter was re-organized just a month ago.

Presiding at the meeting was the newly elected president, Mrs. Harry Forbes, who asked the cooperation of all alumni at the Homecoming day on March 9, at which time Governor Hovey is to be the guest speaker at the dedication of the new classroom building at E. C. T. C. This is scheduled to be one of the most outstanding days in the history of the college.

Mrs. Forbes also reported that the services of a state alumni secretary had been secured, her work to begin February 1. This is a most important step in the progress of the Alumni Association, and one that will create much interest throughout the state.

Mrs. Clem Garren, Mrs. C. H. Edwards and Mrs. Tyson Bilbro were appointed to function as a finance committee, and Mrs. Louis Gaylord, Mrs. Gus Forbes and Mrs. Harry Forbes as a program committee.

It was decided to have the regular monthly meetings of this organization at the "Y" hut on the college campus.

At the conclusion of this business came the highlight of the meeting when Dr. A. D. Frank discussed in a most interesting and informative manner the current problems and situations among the warring nations today. Dealing first with the situation now existing between Russia and Finland, then with the three-month-old war of Germany against England and France, he closed with the statement that he fears that Japan today threatens the peace of our United States more than do any of these European countries. After having had a most profitable and peaceful trade with China for over 150 years, the United States is now threatened more than we realize by the coming of Japan into China.

After the hostess, assisted by Misses Mae and Elizabeth Meadows, served tempting refreshments, the meeting was adjourned.

Methodist Circles To Meet.

No. 8, Mrs. Hortense Mow, Chm., will meet Monday night at eight o'clock with Miss Arterissa White at the home of Mrs. W. I. Wooten.

TO BROTHER

In memory of our dear brother, James B. Elks, who departed this life three years ago, December 3, 1936.

Dear brother, we so much miss you since you went away. You were freed of your troubles three years ago today.

Lonely are our hearts without you. Sad it seems with us today. For the one we loved so dearly has forever passed away.

We grieved for you in sadness. Few eyes can see us weep. But many are the tears we shed. While others are asleep.

Our hopes and dreams may die. But I know we can meet you, Dear brother, In the sweet by and by. (By a Sister, Louise Elks).

Memorial Baptist Circles To Meet. The circles of the W. M. S. of Memorial Baptist Church will meet Monday afternoon at 3:30 as follows:

Lottie Moon Circle will meet with Miss Mary Lea Smith at the college.

J. B. Lawrence Circle will meet with Mrs. B. F. Bullard on East Third street.

Annie Armstrong Circle will meet with Mrs. J. L. Winstead on Greene street.

Fannie E. S. Heck Circle will meet with Mrs. L. A. Stroud, West Fifth street.

Henrietta Hall Shuck Circle will meet with Mrs. H. R. Goodall on Ninth street.

Basil Lee Lockett Circle will meet with Mrs. R. D. Harrington on East Fourth street.

Emma Leachman Circle will meet with Mrs. W. L. Hall, W. Fourth street.

The Inabelle Coleman Circle will meet at 7:45 Monday night with Mrs. Charles Flye, on West Eighth street.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ryan.

Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Hagman of Nantunghow, China, are the guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Wm. A. Ryan at their home on East Eighth street.

Dr. and Mrs. Hagman have been in China for 25 years, where Dr. Hagman is superintendent and surgeon in the Nantunghow Hospital. Mrs. Hagman is on the staff of the nurses' training school, teaching chemistry, dietetics and allied subjects. In August, 1937, the Nantunghow hospital was destroyed by incendiary bombs and Dr. Hagman went to Wuhu where he served in both the Base Hospital and Methodist Hospital in caring for the casualties of the Sino-Japanese war, giving him wide experience in war surgery.

The Hagmans have two adopted children, both of whom are Chinese. The older daughter is in school in Western China and the younger one came to America with Mrs. Hagman and is enrolled in a high school in Kentucky. The older daughter, in a letter received yesterday, stated that they were being subjected to daily bombings and had re-arranged their schedule so that they slept in the morning, had classes in the afternoon, to be prepared for interrupted rest at night, when most of the bombings take place.

Dr. Hagman will speak to the men's class in the Christian Church tomorrow morning and Mrs. Hagman will be the Woman's Day guest speaker at the regular service of worship at eleven o'clock. This is one of the two annual missionary days for Disciple women and it is anticipated that many of the people of both the Christian and other churches will be interested in hearing the messages tomorrow, coming as they do from one of the most interesting and important fields of human interest today.

Could Save 'Em For Next Year Louisville, Ky.—(AP)—Joseph J. Ballard, a circuit court clerk, can go to the 1939 World Series now. He's just found his tickets.

Ballard wrote to a Cincinnati friend before the series and was promised four tickets "as soon as they go on sale." He didn't receive them and thought his friend had forgotten him.

When fiscal court clerks began moving to a new office, the tickets turned up in an overlooked, unopened envelope.

Lugano, Switzerland. (AP)—Giuseppe . . . Albisotti, lieutenant colonel in the Swiss army and a former police official of Lugano, has asked Swiss authorities to investigate pro-Fascists in Swiss Ticino canton. He said they denounced Italian-speaking Swiss who were anti-Fascist to Italian authorities.

Albisotti had a reason for his request. He went to Italy for a week-end visit in April, was jailed, and didn't get out of jail and back to Lugano until October.

He said he was the victim of "false denunciations."

Cooked on a

HOTPOINT ELECTRIC RANGE

Not only on Thanksgiving but every meal of every day the whole family will give thanks for pleasant memories if meals are cooked on a Hotpoint Electric Range. Meals prepared on a Hotpoint are better tasting for Father and the children with less work and fussing for Mother—and, best of all, the low cooking bills will please the family budget.

Make every day Thanksgiving Day by cooking every meal of the year on a Hotpoint Electric Range. Investigate today.

See These GREAT HOTPOINT QUALITY FEATURES

- 1 Modern styling with gleaming white enamel finish.
- 2 One-piece, acid resistant top.
- 3 Oversize, fully automatic oven, big enough to roast two 20-lb. turkeys.
- 4 Oven heavily insulated with rock wool.
- 5 Equipped with the famous Hi-Speed Calrod surface units.
- 6 Six-quart Thrift Cooker.

How CALROD Warms Heat

As a good cook carefully measures ingredients, so Calrod precisely measures heat. Electric fuel makes it possible for Calrod to apportion accurately the exact amount of heat for each cooking need by means of a single switch. Calrod's 5-Heats cover the complete scope of cooking—from intense high heat to low warm heat for simmering.

Seven Colleges Represented On All-Southern Eleven

THREE PLACES WON BY DEVILS

Team chosen by votes From 91 Coaches And Writers

By BARTON PATTIE
Richmond, Va., Dec. 2 (AP)—Co-champions Duke and Clemson won five berths in the 1939 Associated Press All-Southern Conference football team, yielding the other positions to five rivals.

Duke's Blue Devils earned three of the honor team spots; Clemson and North Carolina two each, and Wake Forest, Washington and Lee, Furman and Richmond, one each. The widest representation on the post-season squad in years. The team was selected on the basis of votes from 10 coaches, scouts and sports writers in the four-state conference area.

George Anderson McAfee, Duke's southpaw triple-threat back, was the loop's No. 1 performer in the opinion of the scribes and coaches who gave him close to a unanimous vote. His rushing average from scrimmage was 6.6 yards per carry in 96 tries. He tossed 15 passes, completing nine for 138 yards with none intercepted, and caught ten himself for total gains of 229 yards. His average on 37 punt returns was 9.9 yards and his scoring total for the year was 42 points.

The No. 2 man with 90 per cent of the ballots was Banks McFadden, Clemson's six-foot, three-inch star, who proved he could handle every backfield assignment and handle it well, especially when the pressure was on.

George Stirnweiss, North Carolina, and Rotten Shetley, Furman, won the other two backfield positions over such standouts as sophomore John Polanski of Wake Forest; Jim Laine, North Carolina's kicking and passing ace; Shad Bryant, McFadden's talented running mate at Clemson, and V. M. I.'s Paul Shu, who had been a member of both the 1937 and 1938 all-conference elevens.

Joe Blalock of Clemson, the only sophomore to gain recognition, and Paul Severin, North Carolina, nosed out Bill Bailey of Duke in a three-way battle for the end berth. Bill Burrell, Richmond's lanky passer; John Jett, 215-pound Wake Forest Deacon, and Willard Perdue, Duke, member of the 1938 all-star team, also had a number of supporters.

The struggle over tackle positions was also close. Ruppert Pate, Wake Forest, and Dick Boisseau, Washington and Lee, veteran 200-pounders, winning by slim margins over Ed (Ty) Coon, N. C. State, and George Fritts, Clemson. Coon was a member of last year's honor eleven.

Frank Ribar and Allen Johnson swept the guard posts for Duke with Jim Woodson of North Carolina running third. Ed Merrick, Richmond's rugged center, gained the nod over Duke's Gordon Burns. These two fine pivot men so monopolized the balloting that few votes were left for the other centers of the loop.

The honor squad includes five team captains—Pate, Boisseau, Johnson, Merrick, Shetley and a co-captain, Stirnweiss. The loop as a whole had probably its best season since the secession of the southeastern members eight years ago. Four teams lost only one contest—Duke, Clemson, North Carolina and Richmond—with the Tar Heels and Spiders both taking their blows on the chin from conference brothers.

This made competition for positions so keen that Stirnweiss was the only one of five eligible 1938 all-stars who made the grade a second time. The hefty line averages 191 pounds and the backfield hits the scales at 183. Six men hail from the conference area, Pennsylvania claims three and New York and Ohio furnished one each.

The All-Southern Conference team for 1939:

Joe Blalock, Clemson, end, height 6-2; weight 183; sophomore; home town, Charleston, S. C.

Paul Severin, North Carolina, end; height 6-0; weight 187; junior; Natrona, Pa.

Ruppert Pate, Wake Forest; tackle; height 6-1; weight 200; senior; Goldsboro, N. C.

Dick Boisseau, Wash. & Lee; tackle; height 6-0; weight 200; senior; Petersburg, Va.

Frank Ribar, Duke; guard; height 6-1; weight 190; senior; Alliquippa, Pa.

Allen Johnson, Duke; guard; height 5-10; weight 195; senior; Lexington, N. C.

Ed Merrick, Richmond; center; height 5-11; weight 172; senior; Pottsville, Pa.

George Stirnweiss, North Carolina; back; height 5-9; weight 177; senior; New York City.

George McAfee, Duke; back; height 5-11; weight 178; senior; Ironton, Ohio.

Banks McFadden, Clemson; back; height 6-3; weight 185; senior; Great Falls, S. C.

Rotten Shetley, Furman; back; height 5-10; weight 190; senior; Union, S. C.

Second Team

Bailey, Duke, end; Burge, Richmond, end; Fritts, Clemson, tackle; Coon, N. C. State, tackle; Woodson, North Carolina, guard; Cox, Clemson, guard; Burns, Duke, center; Lalanne, North Carolina, back; Bryant, Clemson, back; Shu, V. M. I., back; Polanski, Wake Forest, back.

Third Team

Jett, Wake Forest, end; Perdue, Duke, end; Ruffa, Duke, tackle; Kimball, North Carolina, tackle; Gosney, V. Tech., guard; Wofford, Furman, guard; Sharpe, Clemson, center; Pritchard, V. M. I., back;

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York.—Rain fell over Manhattan with rigorous, relentless persistence. The cop on the corner kicked his heels against the curb, dislodged the mud. A girl in a bright red raincoat and red rubber slippers walked straight up to the cop. "Balsa to heyama okay?" she said. "Are you talking double talk to me?" the cop inquired wearily.

"Oh!" exclaimed the girl. She stepped back. She said, "I'm sorry. He's sorry; everybody's sorry. Everybody in the whole world's sorry." She kept backing away, as if she had become badly frightened. Suddenly she turned and fled. The cop blew through the trickle of water running off his nose. "Drunk," he said. "Second one tonight."

But next day an item, just a tiny little item in one of the papers, put a different light on the story. The unidentified body of a girl had been found in a room in Brooklyn. She hadn't been slain. There was no evidence of suicide. She had simply died. "She was dressed," the paper said, "in a bright red raincoat and a pair of red rubber slippers."

So often these tragic vignettes of the hard side of Manhattan life turn up. A girl and a cop on a rain-swept corner in New York—and now a place in that house of shadows near Bellevue—the morgue—where the unidentified and the unclaimed are held for awhile, and then taken to potters field.

I don't know who she was probably she was somebody like the girl who lives next door to you. It may be that she came here and found that the demands of the city were too exacting. Something must have hurt her, and weighed on her mind, and drove her to say, and perhaps do, irrational things. She wasn't drunk. As is usual in such cases a chemical analysis was made of the contents of her stomach—and there wasn't any alcohol.

There was just five cents in her purse. Not a nickel—just five little separate pennies. I saw them I went down to the morgue with the police doctor. I saw the cop to whom she had spoken, because when unidentified bodies are picked up, a description of the person and their clothing is always flashed to all police. This cop remembered her. He said as long as he lived he would always remember the look on her face as she backed away from him. That was when he said in a bored way, "Are you talking double talk to me?" He thought she had been drinking. He thought she was being silly, and dumb.

Lexington, Ky.—(AP)—Proclamation of a new date for Thanksgiving this year probably led to this sign on a local merchant's store: "Do your Christmas shopping early! Who knows? Tomorrow may be Christmas!"

Mayberry, Wake Forest, back; Radman, North Carolina, back; Warriner, Va. Tech., back.

Honorable Mention

Ends—Coley, Furman; Mallory, North Carolina; Darnell, Duke; Gondak, William and Mary; Cowan, Davidson.

Tackles—White, North Carolina; Coleman, Va. Tech.; Winterson, Duke; Hall, Clemson; Granote, South Carolina.

Guards—Lindsev, Washington & Lee; Trunzo, Wake Forest; Deschamps, Citadel; Lawrence, Maryland.

Centers—Smith, North Carolina; Pendergast, Wake Forest; Retter, N. C. State.

Backs—Robinson, Duke; Jones, Richmond; Blouin, South Carolina; Edwards, Citadel; Mondorf, Maryland; Yoder, Davidson.

Here is the All-Southern conference football team selected for the Associated Press with the assistance of the Associated Press and sports writers. Duke university leads the field with three men on the team—McAfee in the backfield, and Ribar and Johnson in the guard positions. North Carolina placed two men, George Stirnweiss in the backfield and Blalock at end. Clemson has the same number on the team, Banks McFadden getting a backfield berth and B back; Pate of Wake Forest, tackle; Merrick of Richmond, center; Boisseau of Washington and Lee, tackle.

HEAVY LOSS BY FOREST FIRES

October Report Bad—Worst Expected to Come

Raleigh, Dec. 2.—The October forest fire report of W. C. McCormick, in charge of the forest fire division of the Department of Conservation and Development, showed much heavier losses than usual—and the worst is still to come.

The latest McCormick figures do not include the much heavier damages more in early November before providential rains finally extinguished blazing infernos all over western North Carolina.

As for October there were 165 forest fires which burned over a total of 3,724 acres and did damage amounting to $12,028. That of course is for the entire state. November's report when issued will show heavier losses than this in one county alone.

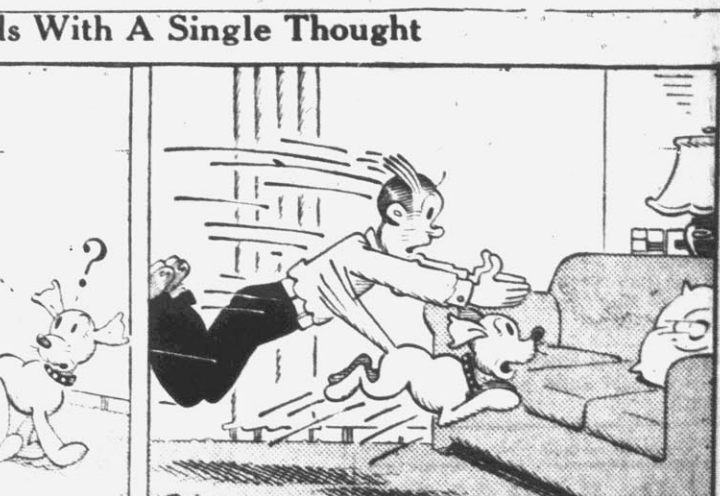

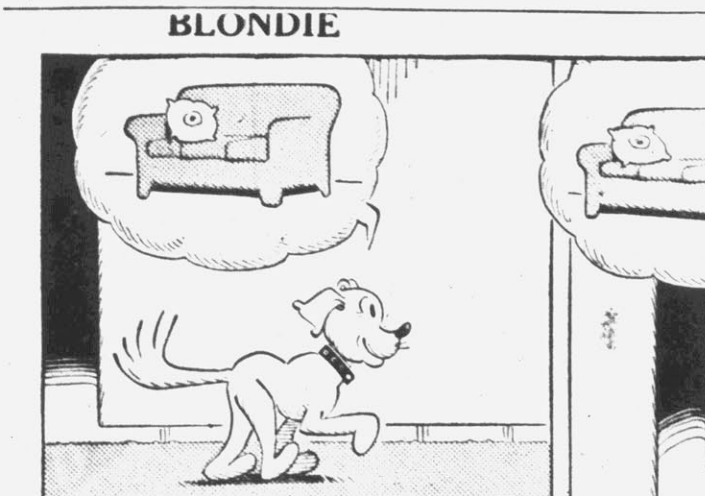

Nevertheless last month was far worse than October, 1938, when there were but 88 fires which burned 1,554 acres with total damage of $3,029. Each fire this year burned 22.6 acres against 17.7 acres last.

Almost all the October losses were in districts 1, 2 and 3 in the mountain counties of the West, and on state-protected lands in the counties under the state forest fire control system. No fires in National forests or National park areas or in non-cooperating counties are included in the McCormick report.

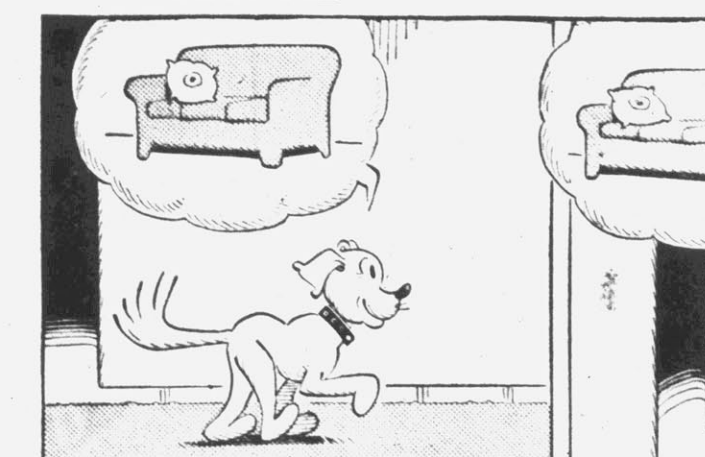

Excessively dry weather throughout most of North Carolina during October was largely responsible for the October losses, according to McCormick. There was a precipitation of less than an inch of rain for the Asheville area for the whole month—the exact total being 82-100 of an inch. Normal rainfall for the period in this area is 2.75 inches. Last month was reported as having been the fourth driest in the history of the Asheville area.

Total seating capacity of the motion picture theaters in the United States is slightly over 10,000,000.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Dec. 2. (AP)—Efforts to extend Friday's modest stock market rally met with opposition today and leading issues generally shifted over an extremely narrow range.

Traders had little fresh news to go on and the disposition of most was to stay slightly.

Prices in virtually all categories were slipped from the start and dealings frequently were at a standstill during the two-hour proceedings. Transfers were around 250,000 shares, one of the smallest turnovers since the middle of October.

Why We Spent $30,000,000,000

For years, economists and politicians promised us that if we could start business spiraling upward it would continue to rise under its own momentum. The forecast was that if we put people back to work in the heavy industries, they would buy more goods, stores would place new orders with manufacturers, factories would hire more workers. These new employees, in turn, would buy more goods, and so on, and so on, and so on. The public was so convinced that this upward spiral would bring back prosperity that it allowed the Administration to spend $30,000,000,000 printing the pump, inflating the balloon, starting the spiral.

Today, the upward spiral is under way. The heavy industries are finally going full blast. The majority, however, fear that the current upswing is just a war baby. True, the German invasion of Poland united the spark. So far, however, the war has neither helped nor hurt American business on balance. The 1939 elections, labor troubles, rising taxes and similar hobnobs are blinding business men to the best industrial news in a decade. Ten years of depression have taken their toll. With rising heavy industries booming, earnings good, stocks and commodities cheap, business men are forgetting fundamentals as completely as they ignored them in 1929.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington - Much of the conflict over the design of recent classes of destroyers appears to spring from an effort to reconcile two schools of thought by letting both have their way.

Destroyers are those low-cut, slim-lined boats, about the size of a middle-weight yacht, that can outrun any warship afloat. They have two major duties - to destroy or neutralize submarines, and to dash forward in time of battle to spray a hail of torpedoes, which will compel the enemy to take a disadvantageous position.

Their main job is fast, or they will be brought down before they can come close enough to release their torpedoes. They must be nimble as a cat, to dodge torpedoes, and to fire heavier guns.

They must carry massive fire power, or both in guns and torpedo tubes.

1944 POLITICS ARE PONDERED

Ralph McDonald Is Eyed As Possible Candidate

Reflector Bureau.

Raleigh, Dec. 2.—There is still much doubt about the identity of candidates for governor in 1940, but there is a definite impression in the minds of many politicians and observers hereabout that one entrant in the 1944 sweepstakes can be listed with certainty and assurance.

This four-year ahead of time candidate is by no means a stranger to North Carolina's voters, for it is just short of four years since he was vigorously seeking the post now held by Clyde R. Hoey of Shelby and North Carolina at large. He isn't named Graham or McRae, either, which limits the field to that well-known professor of psychology and practitioner of the art of practical politics, Dr. Ralph W. McDonald, associate director of the University of North Carolina's Extension Department through appointment of President Frank Graham, confirmation of the board of trustees and sufferance of the state administration.

Those who have reached the conclusion that McDonald will run go even further and advance the rather startling proposition that he will not only be a candidate, but will be the candidate of the administration. Considering the venomous and al-

World War Experience

Old-line officers have always emphasized seaworthiness. They need to go back only to the World War to point out that efforts of bright young officers to put more and more gadgets on the Ford eagle boats brought a naval scandal. These, in original design, were seaworthy. By the time all the surplus gadgets were installed they began tipping over even in smooth water.

Changes in design in the past half dozen years indicates, the present class, the Farragut class, of 1933 and 1934 carried eight torpedo tubes, neatly balanced in the centerline of the ship, so that they could fire to either side. They had five 5-inch guns and reputedly could do 41 knots - about 46 miles an hour - in a pinch.

The Craven class of 1937 had 4-inch guns, but carried 12 torpedo tubes, six on a side. They are probably faster than the Farragut class, although the navy keeps their speed a secret.

New Powerhouse Ship

Then comes the Hammam class, about which the controversy arises. Reputedly they are as fast or faster than the Craven class. In addition they carry 16 torpedo tubes, four more than the Craven class and having a double deck bank of guns forward.

It makes them a powerhouse. But to this, outside weight, other features designed to make them even more rugged were added. The navy now says that all in all an effort was made to make them too tough.

They work fine in smooth water, but when one had its test in rough water, it took a high sea on a full-speed turn and listed so badly that the navy decided something had to be done.

What will be done remains a naval secret. Possibly the top bank of guns will come off, together with some of the over-riding observation and fire control towers. The torpedo tubes, now strung in clusters along either side, probably will be moved centerward.

ORPHAN BAND COMES TO PITT

Junior Order Group To Play in Ayden, Farmville

Lexington, Dec. 1.—The concert band of the National Junior Order Orphans Home at Lexington will play three concerts in eastern North Carolina next week, according to W. M. Shuford, superintendent of the orphanage.

The concert will be part of programs of district meetings to be held at Lasker and Ayden. The other will be the final part of a Junior Order rally being staged at Farmville.

Two of the concerts will be part of programs of district meetings to be held at Lasker and Ayden. The other will be the final part of a Junior Order rally being staged at Farmville.

At Lasker Junior Order members from Northampton, Hertford, Gates, Bertie and Martin counties will gather during the afternoon of December 6 for the fall meeting of the fourteenth district at which District Councilor William M. Futrell will preside. J. A. Pritchette, an attorney of Windsor and one of the Albemarle section's most forceful speakers, will make the principal address.

Following a barbecue supper the band, under the direction of Sam Hensley, will give a concert open to the public at the Lasker high school auditorium, at 8 p. m.

At Ayden the members of the Junior Order of the seventeenth district will hold their annual fall session, beginning at 2 p. m. on Thursday, December 7. The district is composed of Wilson, Wayne, Greene, Pitt and Lenoir counties. John Hill Paylor, of Farmville is district councilor. The concert will be given at the Ayden high school auditorium at 8 p. m. The public is invited to attend.

The program of the public meeting to be held at Farmville will be held at the Farmville high school of Friday, December 8, at 3 p. m. Following short patriotic exercises under the direction of the Farmville council the band will be presented in a full concert program.

This is the first group of appearances of the band in full programs since it was organized more than a year ago, when instruments and uniforms were presented to the home by the North Carolina State Council. However, prior to that time there had been a symphonic organization at Lexington for a number of years and many of the children had studied music in the school there since being admitted. The present group which will appear at these concerts is made up of 27 boys and girls who have had nearly two years training and instruction under the director, Sam Hensley, who is also director of the Lexington high school band. They have appeared a number of times this fall both as a separate unit and as a part of the Lexington band in concerts and at football games in the town's adjacent to Lexington. They have received excellent notices of praise for their ensemble musicianship wherever they have been heard. At football games Miss Vivian Perry, drum major and assistant to the director, has been a striking figure both for her beauty and her capers while leading the unit in marching formation.
