Amendment Curbs Financial Aid To State Employees

SENATE PASSAGE CERTAIN THING Designed To Prevent Workers Paid Partly From Federal Funds From Influencing Contributions

Washington, March 18.—(AP)—The Senate, moving toward a vote on legislation to expand the Hatch anti-politics law, approved today an amendment to curb the assessment of state employees for political contributions.

The amendment offered by Sen. Neely (D-W.Va.) would prevent any employee paid partly from federal funds from using his influence to obtain political contributions from other state workers.

Neely told the Senate the proposal was designed to stop those who are menacing state employees as some are in West Virginia. Sen. Morris (Ind-Neb.) and Sen. Hatch (D-N.M.) supported the amendment, Norris declaring: "I can't see anything wrong with this proposal. It is a good one. All who conscientiously are in favor of this bill will vote for it."

The bill would apply to state employees paid partly from federal funds the same restrictions against political activity which now are applied to federal workers.

While virtually a sure thing of Senate approval, the measure may be shelved in the House for this session. Speaker Bankhead of the House said he "was not in favor of the Hatch legislation."

MAKING PLANS FOR EGG HUNT

Merchants Sponsor Affair To Be Held Next Monday

Final details for the Easter egg hunt to be held here Monday afternoon of next week under supervision of the Greenville Merchants Association are being worked out by Mrs. Cora S. Powell, executive secretary, and a special committee of the association.

The hunt will be held on the West college campus, starting at 3 o'clock. All white children under 12 years of age are invited to take part in the affair, which it is planned to be an annual event.

Mrs. Powell announced today that younger children would be separated from older children so that the little folks will have an opportunity of finding more eggs.

The Merchants Association has purchased approximately 10,000 candy Easter eggs, which will be wrapped and hidden on the part of the campus just off Cotanche street. The Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and the Citizenship group of the woman's club headed by Mrs. W. F. Evans will help in hiding the eggs and looking after the children.

The hunt is open to children in the county, as well as those in the city. Schools of both will be closed Monday and the event is expected to attract thousands of young and old folks to the city. Various local merchants will provide special prize eggs. Cotanche street will be blocked off and children will gather there to start the hunt.

Act Declared to Have Reduced Farm Income; Question Of Whether to Redefine "The Area of Production" To Be Determined; No Mention Made of Tobacco Factories

Washington, March 18.—(AP)—Col. Phillip B. Fleming, wage-hour administrator, ordered his field force today to investigate complaints that the wage-hour act had reduced farm income.

Fleming said the investigation would determine whether his agency should redefine "the area of production," the area within which the processing of farm products is exempt from the act.

The law sets a minimum wage of 30 cents an hour and a maximum work week of 42 hours. Farmers have complained that processing houses outside the area of production are offsetting their increased labor costs by cutting prices they pay to farmers. Also farm cooperatives are said to have had their costs raised.

"In my opinion," Fleming said in a statement, "Congress intended to protect the farmer from any direct adverse effect on his market by the fair labor standards act." The wage-hour chief said he wanted to re-determine the whole question of area of production exemption to see if a definition or definitions might be worked out which would not adversely affect the farmer's selling price.

"In doing so," he said, "I should like to emphasize that we want to be careful that every worker engaged in industrial operations who is now covered by the act remains under the act." Fleming said complaints had been received from citrus and fruit growers and the producers of dairy products.

Although Administrator Fleming failed to mention complaints of tobacco-producing individuals, firms and farm organization groups have been working for some time in an effort to have stemming, re-drying and the handling otherwise of tobacco excluded from the terms of the wage-hour act. The act excludes workers handling agricultural products, but a clause states that any establishment working more than seven people shall not be excluded from the provisions of the measure. It is estimated that at least 1,500 Negroes went without work here.

Also 166 individuals refinanced their home loans to the value of $342,000 and the balance of approximately $396,000 was loaned out for repairs, reconditioning and miscellaneous purposes. He indicated that the February loan activity of the building and loan and Federal savings and loan associations of the state was on the par with last year.

ABANDON HOPE FOR RESCUE OF TRAPPED MEN

Seventy-One Miners Entombed Since Saturday

BODIES OF TWO REMOVED TODAY

Rescue Efforts Continue at Feverish Pace Despite Fact Little Hope Held For Ohio Miners

St. Clairsville, Ohio, March 18.—(AP)—Hope virtually was abandoned today for 71 miners trapped since Saturday in the Willow Grove coal mine.

Nevertheless, rescue crews continued their feverish efforts to penetrate the walls of slate blocking the chamber's entrance in which the men were caught by a mighty explosion contributed by mine workers either to gas or to coal dust. The bodies of John Marks, a mortician, and Ross McFadden were removed from the mine early today. They were the first of the entombed men to be recovered.

Coroner C. G. Hardesty immediately began an inquest. More than 100 miners reached the surface safely through an air shaft shortly after the blast. Two men lost their lives, breathing poisonous afterdamp fumes in a futile attempt to reach the others. John Owens, president of the Ohio district of the United Mine Workers, surveyed the wrecked tunnel last night and said he held "no hope whatsoever" that any of the entombed miners were alive. "However, nothing is being left undone to recover the men as soon as possible," he said, adding that they probably would not be reached before this afternoon.

Charles Whedbee Seeks Re-Election

Charles Harry Whedbee, Greenville attorney and solicitor of Pitt County court, today announced his candidacy for re-election subject to the Democratic primary on May 25. Solicitor Whedbee, a native of Greenville and son of the late Judge Harry Whedbee, received his elementary education in the Greenville city schools and was graduated from the University of North Carolina, where he studied law in 1932. He began his practice of law in Greenville following graduation and was elected solicitor of Pitt County court in the spring of 1936, assuming office in the following year. The candidate for re-election is skipper of the Sea Scout ship here and is active in religious and civic development of Pitt County.

Quiet Week-end Here Reported By Officers

The various law enforcement agencies in Greenville reported a comparatively quiet week-end. Sixteen persons were booked at the city police headquarters during the two days, eight each on Saturday and Sunday, but none on serious charges.

The sheriff's officers reported everything quiet and the State Highway patrol said only the routine arrests, on charges of driving drunk and failing to dim lights, were made. No serious accidents were reported by any of the agencies.

Candidates Settle Down For Fight Until Primary

By HENRY AVERILL Raleigh, March 18.—Candidates for statewide offices today settled down, or came as near settling down as a candidate can, for the long grind between now and the first primary voting on May 25. The deadline for filing past, those who have opponents know their identity and can now lay definite plans for circumventing them. The few who find themselves unopposed can finally sit back and sigh with relief after having been almost literally on pins and needles for weeks. Opposition is always opposition, no matter how feeble it may appear on the surface, and there hasn't been a single state official up for re-election this time who hasn't been growing a few gray hairs worrying about possible rivals. As of today four of the gubernatorial candidates have their Raleigh headquarters set up and going about the business of organizing to get votes. From the bottom up—speaking of

Seek To Rescue Entombed Miners

This blanket-wrapped rescue squad was one of several working to have more than 70 men entombed by an explosion in the Willow Grove coal mine at St. Clairsville, O. Two rescue workers were killed in the life-saving work. The entombed miners were believed at the time this picture was taken to have been near death because of threats of fire and death-dealing "black damp." More than 100 miners were removed safely from the mine.

SEES NEW HOPE FOR FARM BILL

Bankhead Predicts House Approval Increase

Washington, March 18.—(AP)—Speaker Bankhead today predicted that the House would agree to a prospective $300,000,000 increase in the next year's farm supply bill which will come up in the Senate probably tomorrow. The bill carried $713,000,000 when it passed the House, but the Senate Appropriations Committee added $309,000,000 for parity payments and increases in funds for surplus commodity removal. E. F. Creekmore, manager of the American Cotton Cooperative Association, urged a House agriculture committee to approve legislation which would authorize a $1,605,441 appropriation to discharge a federal obligation to 13 cotton cooperatives, incurred under the old Farm Board 10 years ago. A Senate-House conference committee failed to reach an agreement on additions which the Senate made to the first deficiency bill, which provides, among other items, $60,000,000 for delayed soil conservation payments to farmers who complied with last year's agriculture program.

Son of Weed Buyer Killed Accidentally

Word was received here today advising of the death of Pat Fagan, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Pat Fagan of Lexington, Ky. The youth was killed Saturday when a shot gun discharged accidentally. The youth was well-known among local tobacco circles, having been on the market several seasons with his father, who is a buyer for the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company. Funeral services were conducted from the late home in Lexington this afternoon. Catha is the old name for China. The practice of snuff taking became general in England in 1702.

Calls Labor Vote Of GM Employees

Detroit, March 18.—(AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today set April 17 for elections at which an estimated 125,000 employees of 59 General Motors Corporation plants throughout the country will vote on bargaining representation. The elections will be the largest in NLRB history. In most plants the contest for designation is between the CIO and AFL union known as the United Automobile Workers of America. Workers also may indicate a desire for neither union. The election will be by individual plants. In some instances where AFL craft unions or independent groups have a place on the ballot a bargaining unit for a single department may be chosen. The NLRB regional office here said General Motors had agreed to set up booths in the plants, employees casting their votes during working hours. The votes will be counted on the following day. Form Of Aid To Turkey Considered By Allies

London, March 18.—(AP)—Great Britain, France and Turkey are consulting on the form of aid the western powers should give their Eastern ally in event she becomes involved in hostilities, Foreign Under-Secretary R. A. Butler told the House of Commons today. The British government at the same time turned down a suggestion that it ask the League of Nations to set up a neutral commission to examine responsible proposals for peace in the European conflict.

Map Plan of Procedure If Turkey Involved in War

The suggestion was made by Laborite Arthur Woodburn and Butler rejected it, declaring Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax "is not convinced" that adoption of the proposal "would be best in the present circumstances."

Fuehrer And Il Duce Talk Possibility At Meeting

Gilt-Edged Sources Report Two Leaders Have Agreed on Possible Ultimate Entry of Italy In European Conflict As Ally of Germany; Rome Meanwhile to Favor Axis Partner

Berlin, March 18.—(AP)—Fuehrer Hitler and Premier Mussolini, in the opinion of excellently informed sources, agreed today on possible ultimate participation of Italy in the European war on Germany's side and when such a course should be deemed preferable to the present status of the Fascist empire as "not neutral and yet not waging war."

(The only interpretation given in Italy up to the same time to the meeting between the two leaders at the Brenner Pass was that their conference was "cordial.") Until the time should come for filling in the date for a declaration of war, it was said, Italy would lose no opportunity to demonstrate to the Western powers that she is Germany's ally economically, politically and ideologically.

Italy, for instance, abruptly ceased furnishing certain implements of war to France as she had done hitherto. The present German-Italian coal agreement will be followed by other agreements for putting resources of each at disposal of the other axis partner. (The coal agreement to furnish the major part of Italy's coal needs by rail followed upon the British blockade of German coal being shipped by water.)

In the event of Italy's entry into the war, it was said, Germany would supply her partner with all the things necessary for waging modern war.

Hitler and Mussolini further agreed, according to sources considered gilt-edged, that an Italian-Russian rapprochement must follow next. This in turn involves careful delineation of spheres of influence in the Balkans.

Wilkerson—McLawhorn.

Beautiful in its charm and dignity was the wedding of Miss Leckie Barnhill McLawhorn and Charles Vestal Wilkerson, which was solemnized in the Winterville Baptist Church Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. Officiating in the service were Rev. J. C. Moye and Rev. F. E. Morris.

The vows were spoken before an altar banked with palms and native greens, which formed a background for the tall floor baskets of Easter lilies, white gladioli and fern, which were tied with large ribbon bows, and interspersed with graduated standards bearing cathedral candles. All pews were marked with candle standards tied with maline and fern.

Mrs. Roy T. Cox, of Winterville, was at the console of the organ and rendered a musical program prior to the ceremony—using Schubert's "Serenade", "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms", and "Traumerl". Mrs. Lewis Bullock of Greenville, sang "O. Fair, O. Sweet and Holy", by Captain. Lewis Bullock of Greenville, sang "Because", by D'Hardiot. Preceding the entrance of the bride party, a vested choir composed of Mrs. Bullock, Miss Marguerite Moye, Mrs. J. C. Moye, Mrs. D. T. McLawhorn, Lewis Bullock, Darwin Waters, Bancroft Moseley and Pierson Hassell sang "O Perfect Love" by Burleigh.

The "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin was played as the wedding party entered the church. "To a Wild Rose" was used during the ceremony, and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the recessional. At conclusion of the impressive ring ceremony, "Tutkins" "Choral Benediction" was sung by the choir.

George Wilkerson attended his brother as best man. Ushers were D. T. McLawhorn, brother of the bride, and Lindsay, Herbert and Louis Wilkerson, brothers of the bridegroom.

The maid-of-honor, Miss Mary Ida McLawhorn, sister of the bride, wore a picturesque gown of orchid taffeta made basque style with sweetheart neckline, short puffed sleeves and long full skirt of double taffeta and net with matching tulle and net. She carried a bouquet of roses tied with yellow satin ribbon and maline.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. J. C. Whitehurst, sister of the bride, Miss Christine Wilkerson, only sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Ralph Cummings, of Ithaca, N. Y., and Mrs. C. C. Little of Ayden. Junior bridesmaids were: Misses Patsy and Mable Barnhill McLawhorn, nieces of the bride. They each wore identical gowns of pink net and taffeta, fashioned along the same lines as the gown of the maid-of-honor, and carried bouquets of Briarcliff roses and delphinium tied with rainbow satin ribbons.

Little Miss Jo Anne McLawhorn, niece of the bride, wearing a long dress of blue net and taffeta and bonnet to match, carried the ring in the heart of a lily. Little Misses Betsy Costelloe and Denyse McLawhorn, wearing pink net and taffeta and carrying colonial nosegays of Columbia roses and Roman hyacinths of pastel shades, were flower girls.

The bride entered the church with her brother, R. H. McLawhorn, by whom she was given in marriage. She was beautiful in her wedding gown of snow-white Duchesse satin, designed by Schiaparelli, with basque waist and heart-shaped neck outlined with Alencon lace. Her sleeves, worn finger tip length, were fitted tightly to the elbow and puffed gracefully at the shoulder. Tiny satin covered buttons were used as trimming on her sleeves and extended from the neck in the back to below the waist line, and her full skirt fell into a long sweeping train. Her imported veil of white bridal illusion fell from a bandeau of seed-pearls and small clusters of orange blossoms. It was worn full length, extending beyond the length of train. She carried an exquisite shower bouquet of valley lilies centrally lovely with its green and white decorations of lilies, carnations, gypsophilla, and snapdragons. The table was covered with an imported cloth and centered with a silver bowl of snapdragons, fern, and gypsophilla and flanked by silver candelabra. An exquisite shower of wedding bells, valley lilies and fern tied with maline and satin ribbons extended from the chandelier.

Immediately following the reception the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to Florida. For traveling Mrs. Wilkerson chose a two-piece woolen ensemble of navy sheer Rhoda fabric, fashioned by Larvin. Her short-fitted coat was trimmed with Azura fox and she wore navy accessories. Pinned to her shoulder was an orchid from her wedding bouquet.

On Saturday at one o'clock, Miss Christine Wilkerson and Mr. George Wilkerson entertained the Wilkerson-McLawhorn wedding party and out-of-town guests at luncheon at the home of Mrs. E. B. Ferguson. Covers were laid at individual tables, beautifully appointed with center arrangements of yellow-jonquils. Attractive cards directed the guests to their places. The bride's place was marked with a corsage of yellow roses.

A delicious three-course luncheon was served.

BLOOD HOUNDS

We have been informed by Gus Forbes that he has purchased two blood hounds to be kept here for the purpose of tracking criminals. He received a telegram Friday announcing that the trainer and two dogs would be here Tuesday night.

They will be given a trial and if proven satisfactory, Gus will keep them. We are glad to know this as it will probably be the means of catching the perpetrators of crime, who otherwise might escape.

It is possible that President McKinley may be vindicated by time, but it is not likely to be until after Col. Bryan has been elected to the White House and then it will be too late to do McKinley much good.

Decorated with orchids and wore a pearl necklace, gift of the groom.

Mrs. Charles McLawhorn, mother of the bride, wore a Vionnet gown of black chiffon with white accessories. Her shoulderette was of valley lilies.

Mrs. S. G. Wilkerson, mother of the groom, wore a gown of Capistrano blue crepe with white accessories and a shoulderette of sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Wilkerson, youngest daughter of Mrs. Charles McLawhorn and the late Charles McLawhorn of Winterville is a graduate of Winterville High School and of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina. She taught Home Economics for two years in Ayden high school. Since then she has been at her home with her mother.

Mr. Wilkerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Wilkerson, of Greenville, is a graduate of Greenville City schools and attended State College of the University of North Carolina, later graduating from Gupton-Jones School in Nashville, Tenn. For the past several years he has been associated with his father in business in Greenville.

RECEPTION

Following the wedding ceremony the bride's mother, Mrs. Charles McLawhorn entertained at a reception in her lovely country home. Guests were greeted at the door by Mr. and Mrs. Obed Castellio and directed to the living room by Norman Wilkerson, where Mrs. John R. Carroll introduced them to the receiving line composed of Mrs. Chas. McLawhorn, R. H. McLawhorn, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Wilkerson, the bride and groom, and attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Tucker directed the way to the dining room, where bridal ice cream, cake, mints and salted nuts were served by Misses Alice Graves Hunsucker, Janie Blair Cox, Sarah Brown Braxton and Mesdames Julian Worthington, Vernon Cox, W. A. Forbes, Jr., and Wayland Hunsucker. From the dining room guests were shown to the hall by Mrs. W. A. Forbes, Sr., and Clarence Whitehurst, where they were received by Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Gorman and directed to the brides' book which was presided over by Miss Irene Barwick and Rev. Clarence H. Patrick. Mrs. M. T. Speir and Coy L. Forbes directed the way to the library, where Mrs. D. Davenport.

The home throughout was artistically decorated with gladioli, jonquils, gypsophilla, ferns and burning tapers. The dining room was especially lovely with its green and white decorations of lilies, carnations, gypsophilla, and snapdragons. The table was covered with an imported cloth and centered with a silver bowl of snapdragons, fern, and gypsophilla and flanked by silver candelabra. An exquisite shower of wedding bells, valley lilies and fern tied with maline and satin ribbons extended from the chandelier.

Immediately following the reception the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to Florida. For traveling Mrs. Wilkerson chose a two-piece woolen ensemble of navy sheer Rhoda fabric, fashioned by Larvin. Her short-fitted coat was trimmed with Azura fox and she wore navy accessories. Pinned to her shoulder was an orchid from her wedding bouquet.

On Saturday at one o'clock, Miss Christine Wilkerson and Mr. George Wilkerson entertained the Wilkerson-McLawhorn wedding party and out-of-town guests at luncheon at the home of Mrs. E. B. Ferguson. The King's Daughters Meet.
The regular monthly meeting of the Patient Circle of The King's Daughters met at the home of Mrs. Hortense F. Moore on last Monday night, March 11th. Despite the fact that it was a very rainy night a large number were present. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. E. W. Harvey. The business of the month was then discussed. The State and Annual dues and Convention dues were sent to the State Treasurer for the full membership.

The chairman of the finance committee reported $15 was spent for charity for the past month, and much more could be spent as the need was very great. The President then called attention to the State Convention to be held in Durham April 24 to 25 with the Sheltering Home Circle of Durham as hostesses. For the entertainment, of the delegates there will be a drive and personally conducted tour to Duke University.

On the evening of the 24th there will be a banquet at the Washington Duke hotel. This is our Fiftieth Anniversary and great plans are being made to celebrate it.

After the business was well taken care of, Mrs. T. W. Reddick of Toronto, Canada, gave us a very fitting devotion taking the parable of the loaves and fishes. What great things were accomplished by our Master. She brought this lesson to a wonderful climax applying it to our order that it matters not how little we do and how impossible it seems, that great things can be accomplished by our zealous work if we ask Him who strengthened us and maketh all things possible.

This beautiful lesson was followed by a reading by Mrs. W. R. Jones on a study of the Twenty-Third Psalm, which was beautifully written. It closed with David's promises we "will dwell in God's house forever, but we must have the determination and the will. Are we making the effort to have our home a house the Lord will enter? For our social hour the hostess served refreshments. We then adjourned to meet one month from this date.

Christian Science Church.
"SUBSTANCE" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, March 17.

"The Golden Text was from Revelation 4:8. 'Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was and is, and is to come.'"

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible: "Then answered the Jews and said unto him, What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things? Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up. Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days? But he spake of the temple of his body. When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them; and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said." (John 2:18-22).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. "When Jesus spoke of reproducing his body—knowing, as he did, that Mind was the builder—and said 'Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up,' they thought that he meant their material temple instead of his body. To such materialists, the real man seemed a spectre, unseen and unfamiliar, and the body, which they laid in a sepulchre, seemed to be substance. This materialism lost sight of the true Jesus; but the faithful Mary saw him, and he presented her, more than ever before, the true idea of Life and substance." (Page 314).

With Jimmy and Jean At The Art Gallery

"Jimmy, we have very interesting visitors in our gallery. I wish you could be present and hear some of the comments they make on this exhibition of paintings by children of Finland."

The gallery attendant at the Greenville WPA Art Gallery discovered Jimmy intently studying an imaginative painting of some people in a boat with an immense dragon or fish just back of them. "Tell be about these visitors," Jimmy begged.

"One of them was Rex-Goriegh, a Negro artist whose watercolors and oils will be shown in this gallery for ten days following these Finnish paintings. It happens that he has visited Finland. In his exhibition we are including a picture of a Finnish harbor which he painted while in Finland and also a memory portrait of a Finnish farmer. He said that this painting at which you are looking has been strongly influenced by a very popular illustration of Finnish fairy stories."

"That is interesting," said Jimmy. "I want to see this Negro artist's work too. Who else has made interesting remarks?"

"A certain member of the teaching staff of East Carolina Teachers' College is a Finn who visited one day last week. She recognized the influence of folk legends in some of these paintings, but noted others showing the charm of Finland's cities and countryside. She was amused as she deciphered the title written in childish Finnish scrawl on the painting of a bowl of colorful flowers. 'To my sweetheart.'"

"Maybe it was done for a Valentine like we do over here in America," Jimmy said.

"This exhibition should make you and all the children of Greenville realize that the children of all nationalities have an instinctive feeling for art and thus speak a common language."

"Daddy says that the Finns are very honest people and that found purses have been known to be nailed to trees and claimed by their owners months later."

He says they are very smart people, but do not boast about the things they do. Jimmy added these valuable comments.

"Yes. You can see honesty and unpretentiousness in these children's paintings. Their schools are of a progressive type. These children, who like our own have clear vision and a marked ability to draw are allowed much freedom in reporting their observations of things of every day interest to them by means of color and line."

Jimmy noticed the look of wistfulness that came upon the gallery attendant's face.

"Would you tell me what you are thinking?" he boldly asked.

"Oh, I was just wishing that you children in our Sketch club here at the gallery would express yourselves as freely, as honestly and as interestingly as these Finnish children have. I know you can if you try hard."

Since President Lincoln signed the Homestead Act, about 275,000,000 acres of federal land have been transferred to settlers.

Local 1940 Team To Be Composed Chiefly Of Rookies

FEW OLD MEN WILL BE BACK

Manager Wilson To Start Training on April 4th

Manager Rube Wilson will put a team composed principally of Simon Pure rookies on the field when the Coastal Plain league opens its 1940 season here April 25.

A line-up of the team to date shows that only Morris Wilson, Harry Jenkins, probably Freddy Caliguri and Manager Rube himself will be the only members of last year's team to be back this year.

Wilson said he expected to start training on April 4, with all members of the team scheduled to report for duty on Wednesday, April 3.

Thirteen men, all rookies without any experience in organized baseball have been signed by the skipper and, in addition, negotiations are being carried on with several others.

"In order to stay within the salary limit of $1,200 a month, excepting the manager's salary, we will have to play rookies," declared Rube, adding that local sports enthusiasts had expressed their desire to follow the rules strictly—win or lose—and that he intended to do so.

Each club in the league is allowed only three unlimited class men. Greenville's three such men will be Manager Wilson, Morris Wilson and possibly Freddy Caliguri. All three are pitchers, but the skipper also is a first baseman. He declared that if he got a good rookie first baseman he probably would take his turn in the box, but that otherwise he would hold down first base and direct the team from that position. Caliguri has not signed his contract yet, but one has been tendered and negotiations are still under way with him. Should he not return, the local club probably will secure one other man of unlimited class.

Each club is allowed eight men with not over three year's experience in organized ball, such players being known as "service men." Jenkins is the only player in this class signed by the locals so far. After three years in organized baseball a player is known as an unlimited class man.

Rookies already signed by Skipper Wilson are: Outfielders—Rex Throop of Michigan, Keith Munroe of Indiana and Jules Samock of Pennsylvania; Catchers—Nick DeLuka of New Jersey, Gordon Hoffman of New Jersey and John Evans of Fort Bragg; First baseman—William H. Bivens, Jr., of Graham; Second base—George Kracke of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Short stop—Leland Watson of Fort Bragg; Third base—Gail Kennedy of Michigan; Pitchers—John D. Carver of Mebane, Edward Meyers of Pennsylvania and Bill Tell of Richmond, all right-handed.

Most members of last year's team have been sold or optioned out. Vincent Smith, catcher, and Ed Black, outfielder, go to Memphis, Tenn.; Alex Daniels, catcher and general utility man and Don King, pitcher, to Pensacola, Fla.; Gracie Allen, short stop, and Pat Malone, pitcher, to Jackson, Miss.; with the fate of Red Christopher, second baseman and Rusty McCall, outfielder, unknown here.

Machine In City For Recording Own Voice

Persons wishing to hear a recording of their own voice can find equipment for this at the McCormick Music store on East Fifth street.

A new Federal recording machine has been installed, whereby persons can have their own voice, whether singing or talking, recorded within a few minutes, taking the record home with them to play on their own talking machine.

It is estimated that there are 10,000,000 rubber trees in Liberia.

Bunt Starts All-Star Fireworks

Terry Moore of the St. Louis Cardinals is shown reaching first base safely on a bunt—the play which enabled Al Lopez of the Boston Bees to go home with the winning run in the All-Star game at Tampa, Fla. The Nationals defeated the American League All-Stars 2 to 1. First Baseman Hal Trosky of Cleveland dropped the ball which can be seen on the ground.

FIVE UNC JOBS ARE WIDE OPEN

Tar Heels Get Ready To Open Diamond Season

Chapel Hill, March 18.—Five positions on North Carolina's varsity baseball team were still wide-open today as the Tar Heels started their third week of spring drills.

On Thursday Carolina will go to Burlington to meet the May Hosley Mill in a practice contest and on Saturday the Tar Heels will inaugurate their 23-game schedule by entertaining Maryland in an important Southern Conference game.

Positions still unsettled are catching, pitching, first base, third base and left field.

Four inexperienced performers are candidates for the catching assignment. They are Bob Hermson, varsity reserve, and Harold Pope, Floyd McCombs, and Claude Myers, sophomores. None appear to have the playing qualifications of the graduated George Nethercutt, who had a three-year varsity batting average of over 400.

Henry (Bo) Reynolds, hefty sophomore, has the inside track at first base now, although Al Mathes and Ben Browning are still very much in the running. Reynolds was the leading hitter on the Carolina freshman team last year. A senior, Mathes is out for baseball for the first time he starred on the freshman team in 1937. Browning understudied Harold Bissett last year.

Sophomores John (Lefty) Cheshire and Horace (Red) Benton and Senior George Radman are leading the way among the pitchers. They will likely alternate next week.

Letterman Charlie Rich and Jimmy Howard appear evenly matched at third base with the probability that the two will alternate at the hot corner this season.

Art Gill, a senior, Julian Miller, a sophomore, and Radman stand

Local Golf Team Plays Wednesday

Greenville members of the Eastern Carolina Golf Association are scheduled to meet Rocky Mount in that city Wednesday afternoon of this week in the first match of the spring season.

Rains last week prevented the schedule from opening as scheduled, but the match with Kinston, will be played at a later date.

Kinston also will play in Rocky Mount Wednesday, doubles having been arranged for one of the seven towns in the league for each week.

Other matches set for this week are Goldsboro at Tarboro and Farmville at Wilson.

Rained out matches are supposed to be played on the day following. Thursday, but rain most every day last week prevented the match from being run off.

Chesterfields Are America's Busiest

"The Busiest Cigarette in America is Chesterfield" says the new campaign released to newspapers nationally this week by Liggett & Myers Tobacco company. The new message is made by famous figures of the theatre, sports and others fields. Action a-plenty distinguishes the illustrations for the new Chesterfield series. Among the featured stars are the Hill Sisters of basketball fame; Manager Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees; Bette Davis, America's leading motion picture actress; Paul Douglas and Patsy Garrett of Fred Waring's Chesterfield-Pleasure-Time program; the Crane Twins of the New York "Hellszapoppin'" cast and other notables.

The new campaign will be supported by point-of-sale cut-outs and by bill-board and magazine advertising, as well as by Chesterfield's Fred Waring and Glenn Miller radio programs.

FARMERS TAKE SCHAUB ADVICE

Said To Have Decided to Grow Something To Eat

Raleigh, March 18.—North Carolina farm families apparently are taking the advice of Dr. I. O. Schaub director of the State College Extension Service, literally this year.

For a long time now, Dr. Schaub has slipped into his talks before farmer groups these words: "Grow something to eat this year". Especially have these words been heard in the last two or three years when the major cash crops, cotton and tobacco, have seemed to be slipping.

Essentially, he was urging a balanced live-at-home program, which includes food for the family and feed for the livestock.

One of the first requirements under such a program is a home garden, in which each member of the family has at least one-tenth acre of vegetables.

This year reports from farm agents of the Extension Service indicate that home gardens will be more numerous and of a wider variety than in many years. Constant promotion on the part of the agents apparently has done the trick.

Also contributing to a larger garden acreage has been the payment of $1.50 by the AAA for home gardens. Any family can earn this payment by planting at least one-tenth acre of vegetables for each person, although not more than one acre is required.

To aid in planning and planting these gardens, the Extension Service has issued 50,000 pamphlets describing approved varieties and cultivation practices necessary for earning the AAA payment. In addition, another 8,000 copies of the same leaflet has been printed for the Farm Security Administration for distribution to rehabilitation clients. These are supplied along with the other garden publications prepared by the Extension Service.

Contests have also been planned to stimulate further interest in these home gardens.

TWO ABLE MEN HORTON AIDES

Candidates Aided By Senate's 2 "Strong Men"

Reflector Bureau. By HENRY AVERILL. Raleigh, March 18 - Appointment of Anson's Pat Taylor to the Honorary-Governor campaign staff gives the Lieutenant Governor both a "strong man" to aid him in his efforts to win promotion from the No. 2 to the No. 1 spot in Tar Heel government. Pat was chairman of the 1939 Finance committee, and he will now join his colleague Bill Rodman (who chairmanned Appropriations) in an effort to do as effective a job at electioneering as the two did in putting through the late Senate the vital Revenue and Appropriations bills.

known ability, but there seems no doubt, too, that the fact he is a prominent Baptist layman and a graduate of Wake Forest didn't detract at all from his attractiveness as a Horton worker. J. M. Broughton, one of Horton's leading rivals, is a prominent Baptist layman, too, and a graduate of Wake Forest. Taylor will be cited as living proof that not all Baptists and Wake Forest men are for the Raleigh lawyer.

Negro Hurt Badly In Sunday Brawl

James Carney, Negro, is in Pitt General Hospital recovering from painful injuries received last night after Bryant Harris, Negro, shot at him unsuccessfully with a gun and then beat him on the head and about the body with the butt of the firearm until he was unconscious.

Dr. J. L. Winstead, chief surgeon of the hospital, today said the Negro is suffering lacerations of the head and contusions. His injuries are not regarded as serious, however. The Negro told Dr. Winstead: "I feel fine doctor. I'm ready to go home."

Sheriff's officers today displayed several bloody parts of the gun used in the assault. The butt of the gun was broken from the stock. The affray occurred in the Parker's Chapel Church community last night around eleven-thirty o'clock and was the thirtieth of an apparent drunken brawl, according to officers. Harris, who is in the Pitt County jail awaiting trial, told officers that Carney tried to enter his home while "I was a sleep."

State Maintaining A High Birth Rate

Raleigh, March 18 - There were 332 more deaths and 194 fewer births in North Carolina last month than in February, 1939, according to a report issued Friday by the State Board of Health's Division of Vital Statistics, of which Dr. R. T. Stimson is the director. Deaths from all causes reported for February, 1940, totaled 2,877, as compared with 2,545 the preceding February, while births last month totaled 5,639, against 5,833 a year ago.

Influenza continued to take heavy toll, claiming 188 victims last month, as compared with 73 in February, 1939, making the total so far this year 412, against only 126 the first two months of 1939. With a total of 406 deaths among children under a year old, the infant mortality rate last month was 72.0, as compared with 65.8 a year ago, when the total number of deaths was 384. There was a slight decline, however, in the maternal death rate, which dropped from 6.2 to 6.4.

Pneumonia last month claimed 290 lives, compared with 277 in February 1939, but there were only 119 deaths from pulmonary tuberculosis, as against 128 a year ago.

Deaths from preventable accidents continued to climb, with 96 last month, and 93 a year ago. Three deaths were reported from air transportation accidents. None was reported in February, 1939.
