WAR'S SPREAD
MAY SPEED UP
U. S. DEFENSES

Increase In Army and Navy Budgets Is Likely

PROPOSE BOOST OF $93,000,000.00

Suggested That Government Arsenal and Private Manufacturers Be Put On 24-Hour Basis

Washington, April 13.—(AP)—Spread of Europe's war brought national defense to the forefront of congressional problems again today and signs pointed to a possible $93,000,000 increase in army and navy budgets, which already total close to $2,000,000,000.

From a War Department source came information that as much as $75,000,000 was urgently needed to speed up production of "critical" equipment for the army. Capitol Hill likewise heard that an additional $18,000,000 would be sought to accelerate the navy's shipbuilding program.

The Nazi invasion of Scandinavia, War Department sources said, and the danger of further spread of the war, made it imperative to obtain faster production of the so-called "critical" items of army equipment.

Congress allocated approximately $262,000,000 last year to provide the army with semi-automatic rifles, anti-tank guns and kindred "critical" equipment. Authorities said that orders for most of this equipment already had been placed, but that the only way to speed up its delivery would be to put government arsenals and private manufacturers on a 24-hour production basis. This, they estimated, would cost an additional $60,000,000 to $75,000,000.

J. H. Rose Speaker
At Kiwanis Club

J. H. Rose, state commander of the American Legion, delivered the principal address at last night's meeting of the Greenville Kiwanis club, declaring that the organization now, as always, was the nation's principal advocate of peace. He said that the Legion stood for adequate defense, but was opposed to any foreign entanglements. The legionnaire believes in the use of ballots—not bullets—he told the Kiwanians.

He said that there were some 4,000,000 ex-soldiers now living in this country, in citing the strength of the American Legion.

The speaker also reviewed some of the activities carried on by the American Legion, especially stressing the work being conducted among boys and girls.

In a business session, the club decided not to hold a meeting next week because of the district meeting to be held in Wilson on Wednesday night. All members of the local club are urged to attend the Wilson meeting.

Other than the speakers, last night's only guest was Oren E. Sterling, president of the Sunbury, Penn., baseball club, who was here on his way to Kingston where that club is training.

Call Meeting Of The Board Of Trade

President R. M. Garrett of the Greenville Board of Trade today called a special meeting of the organization. The meeting will be held in the offices of the Greenville Tobacco company at ten o'clock Monday, April 15th. Matters of importance to the tobacco market will be discussed at the meeting.

Change Is Announced
In Student Secretary

Miss Zoe Anna Davis, who has served as the Methodist student secretary at the college for the past four years, has been transferred to the State Teachers College in Canyon, Texas, and expects to take up the work there in September. Miss Winnie Lee Davis of Mississippi has been appointed to continue the Methodist student program in Greenville, the appointment to become effective in the fall.

Touch of Winter

The calendar says that spring has been here about a month, and that summer is not far off, but persons in this community got a touch of real winter weather—snow, sleet and a cold rain—last night. A sharp drop in temperature, beginning yesterday afternoon, was followed by a slight snow fall and sleet about 11 o'clock last night.

German Crews Take Over
All Norwegian Vessels In
Ports Under Nazi Control

Where Bitter Naval Battles Raged

This map shows where Great Britain and Germany engaged in bitter naval conflict off Jutland, the Danish peninsula scene of the historic World War engagement. Meanwhile the fighting continued along the entire Norwegian coast. Centers of the greatest activity were Bergen (1) where the Germans claimed they captured five British munitions ships; Stavanger (2) where a Norwegian destroyer was reported to have sunk a German troop ship, only to be sunk itself, by German bombers; the Skagerrak (3) where England poured her warships into the straits to trap the Germans; off Marstrand (4) in the Kattegat where German troop ships were sunk; in Oslo fjord (5) where the German cruiser Emden was reported sunk by a Norwegian training ship. There was report that the Norwegians had recaptured Hamar (6), set up as the temporary Norwegian capital after Oslo was abandoned. The German high command claimed the capture of Bornholm (7), Danish island strategically located at the tip of Sweden.

Says No Threats Made
To Secure ConfessionsACCUSED MAN
FOUND HANGED

Was One Of 17 Men
Held On Sedition
Charges

New York, April 13.—(AP)—Claud Gunther Ernecke, 36, one of 17 defendants on trial in Brooklyn federal court on sedition charges, was found hanged today in the cellar of an apartment building. He had been missing since yesterday, when he failed to appear at the trial.

Judge Marcus B. Campbell ordered Ernecke's $7,500 bond forfeited when he failed to appear, despite the pleas of his lawyer that he felt Ernecke's absence was involuntary.

The attorney, former Magistrate Leo Healy, told the court his client had received several death threats and was worried over them. Healy said Ernecke had only $1.20 "to his name" when he last saw him on Thursday.

Ernecke's body was found by the superintendent of the apartment building. It was identified by an automobile driver's license and by police.

Healy said today, "I was afraid something like that might happen. He was terribly depressed."

The attorney said Ernecke had seemed frantic when he told him of threats against his life.

Has Tobacco Plants
Nearly Ready To Set

Clifton Evans of Greenville, route two, will have tobacco plants ready to set out the latter part of next week, unless the cold weather or blue mold seriously damages them, he declared today.

Mr. Evans brought several plants to this city and said his plants were "very pretty."

He declared that the plants were far enough advanced so that the blue mold would not seriously affect them.

Principal of Belvoir
Is Heard At College

H. A. Deaton, Principal of the Belvoir School, spoke to the student body of East Carolina Teachers College at chapel, yesterday, on the subject of "Problems of the Teaching Profession."

He declared that many teachers in their first year of teaching feel experienced, now that they have been formally graduated, and become mentally lazy. They say, "Oh, well, I'll use the drills of the past," and call that teaching.

Testifies Cotten
Made Statements
Voluntarily

Raleigh, April 13.—(AP)—Deputy Sheriff C. D. Maynard denied today that officers used any "inducements or threats" to procure alleged confessions from Woodrow Cotten and his wife, Margaret, that they killed her mother, Mrs. Mary Herndon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cotten, on trial for their lives in connection with the shotgun slaying last February, were quoted by officers as having confessed separately and then repudiated their confessions.

Defense attorneys, questioning Maynard, attempted to establish that Cotten admitted the slaying on a promise that his wife would be released, and that Mrs. Cotten confessed from fear of her husband.

The alleged confessions were admitted yesterday as evidence by Superior Court Judge Clawson Williams.

Maynard said that following a conference with her husband in the corridor of the Wake county jail, Mrs. Cotten wept and told deputies, "I will say that I did it."

When Cotten came in to confess, the deputy testified, he explained that the only reason he "let Margaret take it on herself" was that he wanted time in which to "get his business affairs straightened out."

C. D. Hatley To Join
Kinney's Shoe Store

C. D. Hatley, well-known shoe salesman of this city, on Monday will assume a position with the Kinney shoe store at 430 Evans street and invites his friends to visit him there.

For the past several years Mr. Hatley has served as manager of the Greenville Miller-Jones store having gone with that company in 1935.

Third Term Club

Raleigh, April 13.—(Reflector Bureau)—Unofficial, but apparently authentic, reports indicate that state headquarters of a "Loyalty to Roosevelt" campaign will be opened here early next week, perhaps Monday.

Objective will be selection at the Democratic State Convention in May of a delegation to the national convention favorable, if not actually pledged, to a third term for FDR. John Folger, former state senator and a brother of national committee man Lon Folger, will be chairman and state senator John D. Larkins of Jones County, secretary of the campaign.

A Break For The Middle Class

Babson Says Today's Forgotten Class Is Middle Class

Washington, D. C., April 13.—I hope that sometime, somewhere, a candidate for something will rise up and declare: "I stand for the man who wants to work and who wants to be an employer some day! I represent the middle class—the forgotten class of 1940! If elected, I will take the government's heel off your neck. I will stop spending your money recklessly. I will prevent government competition with you and your boss!"

I fervently pray that such a candidate will soon appear. For ten years, we have tried every experiment under the sun except giving the middle class a break! Let's try that experiment for the next four years!

I believe wholeheartedly in the American system. But I know that it has faults. Wealth has not always done the best job it could. Worldly goods are not evenly distributed as they should be. The methods by which a few of our big fortunes were created, unfortunately have been wrong. Many "capitalists" have misused their wealth, dodged their taxes, and shown disregard for public

Reich Sources Meanwhile Report Positions In Norway Being Strengthened with Reinforcements Reaching Oslo In Large Numbers And Artillery Strengthening Coast Defenses

Berlin, April 13.—(AP)—Germany today took over Norwegian ships in Norwegian harbors occupied by German forces and German crews were placed aboard the vessels, the official news agency DNB announced.

Meanwhile, German sources reported that the German positions in Norway were being strengthened by the hour, with reinforcements reaching Oslo "in large numbers" and with German heavy artillery reaching Trondheim to strengthen the coast defenses.

German occupation troops east of Narvik, far northern Norwegian port, have taken possession of the rail line to the Swedish border, DNB said.

Germany reported that Britain was hammering away at German positions on the Norwegian coast, but doing so ineffectively, losing 12 planes yesterday, while the Germans were losing only two.

The Germans said the British had not attempted to land anywhere in Norway.

The most effective British raid, German sources indicated, was at Stavanger, where the bombers came in waves, but were met promptly by strong German anti-aircraft fire. Reports from German quarters said that only one English plane penetrated the air barrier far enough to drop effective bombs.

The British lost eight planes in an ineffectual assault on Bergen, the high command asserted, and later DNB said that two additional planes were destroyed in this action.

The army also reported shooting down a plane at Oslo and another at Narvik.

Raleigh Weather
Record For April

Raleigh, April 13.—(AP)—A 29-degree temperature here early this morning was the coldest April weather Raleigh has had since records were started in 1888. Weatherman E. E. Kichline reported today.

The mercury fell to 34 degrees in Wilmington last night, 27 degrees in Charlotte and 22 degrees in Asheville. Snow fell at Boone, Rocky Mount and Warrenton, among other places.

Farm experts here feared that young cotton plants in the far south and fruit trees suffered damage.

Illinois Boy Elected
College YMCA Head

The Young Men's Christian Association of East Carolina Teachers College will be headed next year by Vernon Keutemeyer, an incoming junior, from Chicago Heights, Ill., as president. James Whitfield, Greenville, will be vice-president, and Albert Maness, Chadbourne, treasurer. The secretary is yet to be elected.

Keutemeyer has been president of his class during its first two years, and is active in music on the campus.

Whitfield, this year's sport editor and next year's editor-in-chief of the Echo, is serving the Y.M.C.A. at present as Chairman of Religious Education.

HEAVY LOSSES
BY AIR FLEET
ARE ADMITTED

Britain Acknowledges Eleven Bombing Planes Lost

SECURITY COVERS NAVAL ACTIVITY

Allies Mine Baltic Sea In Attempt To Cut Lifeline Between Germany And Forces In Norway

London, April 13.—(AP)—Britain today acknowledged the loss of 11 bombing planes in attempts to dislodge German troops from Norwegian ports and destroy German naval vessels in the war-torn Northern waters.

British fliers succeeded, the British said, in blowing up ammunition depots at the German-held port of Bergen, machine-gunning a destroyer and a motor torpedo boat, bombing German transport and supply ships and shooting down four German fighter planes. Two more of these Nazi planes were believed to have been destroyed and others damaged, the Air Ministry added.

The activities of Britain's powerful navy were closed in secrecy.

The British announced that eight warplanes were lost in bomber attacks on fleeing German ships. Two more planes were lost at sea on the way home, the Admiralty said.

Still another plane was lost in a forced landing in the attack on Bergen.

With the scaling of the Baltic sea by a gigantic mine field planted in its North sea approaches, the British and French allied navies counted on bottling up the remaining German fleet and thus simplifying the job of cutting the lifeline between Germany and the Nazi forces in Norway.

Dies Says Information
From Reliable
Sources

Washington, April 13.—(AP)—Rep. Dies (D-Tex.) said today he had information that Russia and Germany were plotting to bring on a revolt in Mexico and set up a puppet government at the doorsteps of the United States.

The House investigator told newsmen that Communist Russia was keeping alive for use in a Mexican upheaval "the same organizations" which functioned in the Spanish civil war.

This information, the Texan declared, constituted one of the reasons why his committee on un-American activities was questioning veterans of the Abraham Lincoln brigade, an organization of Americans who fought for the Loyalist government in Spain.

Dies said that five thousand to six thousand Americans were recruited by Communists for the brigade and that a military force of similar strength "might turn the decision in Mexico." He was informed, he added, that Communist heads in the United States were prepared to begin a new recruiting drive for a Mexican coup.

The committee head said that his informants included "elective" officials in Mexico and "one or two United States senators," all of whose names he withheld. Among the things they told him, he declared was that 10,000 Communists had moved into Mexico from Spain and France.

Owen H. Page Addresses Eastern Safety Council

Owen H. Page, general superintendent of the Atlantic Coast Line Railway system, in an address before the Eastern Carolina Safety Council here last night credited with pioneering the safety crusade, but added industries and other agencies were falling in line with the movement.

He cited figures showing that a total of 32,000 persons were killed in highway accidents in the United States in 1938, 32,500 were victims of accidents in the home; 8,000 died of burns and 7,000 persons drowned. He added that of the 100,000 persons who died of accidents in that year, a large number of them were young boys and girls.

He urged greater care in preventing accidents and commented the work being done by the Safety Council in this direction. He said that such movements as the one under way in Eastern North Carolina would do much to curb the fatalities. He said that safety should be advocated in the home, on the

I do not worry about America's "sixty families"—or the rich in general—for that matter. They are not the real capitalists of the United States anyway. Under most conditions, the really rich will always be able to care for themselves. Those who I worry about are the great middle class. They are the men and women who support and maintain our nation; who own farms and till the soil; who become employers after years of struggle; who save their earnings, pay their taxes, support their churches, and send their children to school.

IS LABORATORY

Transformed Into Vocational Guidance Class

Under the direction of L. J. Morris, the tenth grade geography class of Chicod high school has been transformed into a vocational guidance class.

Having finished the prescribed course of study for the year, Mr. Morris is now using the class as a sort of laboratory in which students are attempting to discover their individual inclinations in life.

Students are assuming full responsibility for obtaining the speaker in their individual fields. The speakers, when invited, speak before the whole class, giving advantages and disadvantages of the vocation in which they are engaged. Introducing the speakers is made by the student.

The first speaker was Dink James, attorney-at-law, who spoke on law as a vocation. Speaking on a business career, from a merchant's point of view, O. P. Matthews of Blount-Harvey, gave the young people an insight into the world of business.

Dentistry, as a profession, was discussed by Dr. Schultz. The field of medicine was the subject for discourse by Dr. W. I. Wooten.

Floral work was the subject for a very interesting discussion given by Mrs. Walter Cox of the Cox Floral company. Eli Bloom, a lawyer and owner of Bloom's located in Greenville, spoke to the class on salesmanship and saleswork.

The work of a librarian was made quite plain to members of the class by Mrs. W. C. Vincent, of the Shepherd Memorial library. Superintendent D. H. Conley told the students what to expect of teaching as a profession. Mrs. L. B. Tucker, music teacher at Chicod, gave an interesting discussion on music. The field of nursing was discussed by Mrs. James L. Evans of the Pitt General hospital. Mrs. Agnes Barrett from East Carolina Teachers College gave the class high lights of the abilities of a first class secretary should have.

Mrs. Betha Dunn from Betha's beauty shop located in Greenville, gave an impressive speech on beauty culture.

W. H. Woodard, vice president of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company, gave to the class valuable illustrations in banking.

Other fields of endeavor which are to be discussed in the future are as follows: dentistry, engineering, forestry, radio broadcasting, aviation, government work, and agriculture. (Continued on page four)

MAN IN STREET
BACKS LEADER

Citizens Resolved To Support Premier's Declaration That Country Will Maintain Its Freedom At Any Cost; Government Request For Use Of Territory

Stockholm, April 13.—(AP)—Sweden made urgent preparations today to fight if necessary in defense of her neutrality, while German troops and warplanes strengthened the Nazi hold on Norway.

Along the Southern Swedish coast air fields were packed with parked taxicabs and other automobiles to prevent airplanes from landing.

Throughout the country bomb shelters hastily are being constructed.

The "man in the street," having heard Premier Hansson's broadcast warning last night of Sweden's precarious position, apparently is resolved to back up his declaration that the country will maintain its neutrality, no matter at what sacrifice.

Hansson declared that there has been no demand on Sweden for use of her territory "by any belligerent nation," but that if such demand should ever be made, Sweden would have to refuse to comply with it.

In Norway, meanwhile, a German force broke through Norwegian defenses between Moss, 35 miles south of Oslo, and Hølen, 10 miles closer to the capital. Since the Germans were advancing toward Oslo, the were presumed to be newly landed troops pushing up the shore of Oslo fjord to join the invaders' expeditionary army.

Advices reaching here said the German advance caught the Norwegians by surprise and they had no time to meet it.

Defense troops holding position along the narrow fjord have established a semi-circular line around Oslo.

Blue Mold Found
On Farms In Pitt

County Agent R. R. Bennett today reported that blue mold had been reported in at least three sections of the county, Gardner's crossroads, Fountain and Grifton.

He declared that if the disease makes much headway it would provide a serious situation, since plans already are late and are still tentative.

The county agent said blue mold had been found on Alton Gardner's crossroads, on J. W. Reddick's farm in the Fountain section and on Charlie Stokes's farm near Grifton.

German-Held Port
Bombed By British

London, April 13.—(AP)—British warplanes bombed the German-held southwestern Norwegian port of Stavanger today, a British announcement said.

The announcement said it was believed that extensive damage was done to a tanker and one aircraft. It added that the rear gunner of one British plane, although wounded, shot down an enemy fighter plane in flames.

It's a Challenge For You

IN RECENT months untold thousands of dollars have gone out of our city and county to neighboring counties. This money went into the purchase of building materials — lumber — clothing — household needs and hundreds of other commodities.

THE PROFIT on each of these transactions has gone on the profit side of the ledger of some business man in a neighboring county — the sales force and other employees of these firms were paid from the gross of the transactions thus contributing to the progress of our out-of-town neighbors.

WE DON'T begrudge these out-of-town firms in securing business in our county, but we do believe that in many instances the commodities and supplies could have been bought in our county thus making local labor more stable — and local firms more prosperous.

THE PROSPERITY of our town depends on income and can only be safe-guarded by keeping every dollar in Pitt County that is consistent with good business. Summing up these facts — we say to you ...

Strength For The Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

BEAUTY CAN TAKE CARE OF ITSELF

A manufacturing concern some years ago had great difficulty in keeping its building clean. The tobacco chews, of which there were many among their employees, added greatly to the problem. Placards were of no avail. Placards were posted warning men that their unwillingness to cooperate with the company in keeping with the building, especially the hall-ways, clean and neat, would meet with dismissal.

At last, someone suggested that the walls be painted white and the floors a light color which would match the idea being that no one would have the heart to disgrace beautifully painted walls and floors with tobacco spitting. It worked like a charm. Rules which the company could not enforce were now obeyed gladly by the men themselves. Even the most careless could not bring himself to disgrace beautiful, white walls and expensively finished floors.

The best protection against defilement of any sort is beauty. Most men will hesitate to mar or destroy anything beautiful. This is not only the best way to protect property; it is above all things the best way to protect character. The grossest of persons will hesitate to lead into temptation a character which everyone can see is naturally beautiful.

A GOOD THING FOR ALL

The "Buy At Home" campaign being staged by local merchants and business houses is not just something to help the merchants themselves, but in the end will mean greater prosperity for our entire community if our people will really co-operate in a "buy at home" movement.

In co-operation, we do not mean that you should buy something you do not want just because you are trading with local merchants but we do mean that you try first to purchase your requirements right here at home from those business houses who are contributing to the upbuilding of our community.

Greenville business houses are on a par or above those of many cities our size and our merchants generally are wide awake and anxious and willing to serve you at all times. If it so happens that at times they do not have exactly what you want we believe they will make every effort possible to get it for you and at a price in keeping with what the same article would cost you elsewhere.

There is not a business house in Greenville that is not making a definite contribution to this community. Some of them own their business property, while others rent from local owners, but in the end all are helping to pay local taxes, which in turn operate our city and county governments, support our schools and other institutions which are essential to any community.

When you buy in Greenville you are helping to build a bigger and better Greenville. Think this over before you start on that next out-of-town buying trip or before you mail an order to an out-of-town concern for merchandise that you could purchase here.

Washington Daybook

By Jack Stinnett

Washington—A slew of capitalists are sitting around biting their fingernails, waiting to see what the census has to report on the migrants.

You could live in any one of two dozen states and think this report a minor item, but don't fool yourself.

Let's take Oklahoma, for example. (There's really no particular reason why we should, except that John Steinbeck has popularized the conception of migrants from that state). Ever since the "Grapes" made the nation migrant-conscious, Oklahoma has been privileged to laugh up its sleeve at California. "We are getting rid of a lot of surplus labor—a burden of relief—at the expense of California. Haha," the Oklahomans might say. Mind you, I say they might say. This is purely a hypothetical item. And since I know what they do say, I'm not only saying that they might well say that. But when the reports are in, California may have the last laugh.

Why?

Nobody knows. Estimates here—and they are purely estimates because nobody really knows the migrant situation—are that Oklahoma has lost 50,000 tenant farm families in the last few years. Estimates again are that there are about four persons to a family. That means, if there is anything in estimates, that Oklahoma has lost 200,000 persons. Oklahoma's population in 1930 was 368,000. It is definitely established that Oklahoma's rate of increase in population during the 1930-40 decade was one of the largest in the country. But eliminate 200,000 persons lost by migration and you have a comparatively static population.

What happens then? While other states gain or maintain their representatives in Congress on a basis of reapportionment, Oklahoma may stand still or lose. While other states get more money for highways from the federal government, Oklahoma may have to string along on what it has been getting. While the states which have been the mecca of the "Okies" and the "Arkies" get increases in relief funds from Washington, Oklahoma may have to sweat through with less than it has been receiving. And the point is that the problem there may be no different from what it is today, or has been for many months.

able estimates from that state. As a matter of fact, the Dakotas probably would provide more sensational figures if government agencies had carried through their investigations in those states.

There are it is claimed, some 350,000 migrant families in the country (this is a conservative estimate—some investigators will bet a hat that there are 1,000,000). And the national average size of family will probably run one-half to one more person than in Oklahoma. That means that only 11 to 17 per cent of the migrants come from Oklahoma. So you can see that this condition is not confined to the state selected here for illustration. The point is that somebody is going to take it on the chin when the census is in and a good many observers think that it will be the very states that have been losing their jobs.

This is only one facet of the many-sided farm labor situation which the 1940 census probably will uncover. Any time that any citizen, be he green-grocer or insurance man, banker or florist gets to thinking that this doesn't affect him, he should run around and have a talk with some competent college professor.

No matter whose figures you take on unemployment, there are about 1,500,000 more farm workers than there are permanent farm jobs. Farm workers out of work mean migrants—and migrants mean porter was informed from an entirely different source, that a very, very powerful group of industrialists of the Piedmont had met to settle on a candidate they would back for Governor. Further, it was reported, they emerged unitedly for Horton.

This corner hears that Senator Jack Morpheus, after announcing he would stand for re-nomination in the Thirty-third, has changed his mind and will leave the field open for Ed Whitaker of Bryson City.

Today is an important one on the election calendar. It is the last day for filing of candidates for the House of Representatives, State Senator and county and township officers. Next important date is April 27, when registration books will be open. This is doubly important in view of the new registrations being required in nearly two-thirds of the State's 100 counties.

Public reports of Postmaster General Jim Farley's visit to North Carolina indicated he made no allusions to a third term. Private advice from those who were at Boone and Statesville and who, to use their words "buled with Jim" outside formal speakings, indicate he was just as closed-mouthed in private conversation.

Naming no names, in view of the fact they've made no public commitments, it appears that at least five of the eleven district highway commissioners are for Horton, four for Broughton. Two are listed as doubtful.

The trouble about all these listenings of so-and-so as for or against any of the candidates is that quite often the listees change their allegiance without the slightest notice of intention to do so; and the man honestly listed today as for Broughton is quite likely to be in the Horton or Maxwell column tomorrow.

All of which adds vastly to the difficulty of sizing up the race, but also makes reporting it much more interesting and intriguing.

Reports from the West are that the "courthouse crowds" have just about decided to back all the "ins" in the race for minor state officers.

Which brightens prospects for Secretary of State Thad Eure, Auditor George Ross Pou, Insurance Commissioner Dan Boney and Commissioner of Agriculture Kerr Scott.

Sunbury Tops Greenies 15-13 In Free Scoring Game

SOME ROOKIES SHOW UP GOOD

Eighteen Local Players Take Part In First Game

By JAMES WHITFIELD
Spectators who turned out at the Guy Smith stadium yesterday afternoon to see Skipper Rube Wilson's Greenies in their opening exhibition game saw plenty of action as Sunbury of Pennsylvania jumped on three Greenies hurlers for 15 safeties to win 15-13 in a game that was halted after the sixth on account of rain.

A brisk spring breeze that whipped across the park and through the stadium held the hurlers in check to a certain extent, but the effective hitting power that came off the bats of players on both teams accounted for the wide variety of safeties that were scattered over all six verses.

Skipper Wilson gave 13 men an opportunity to see action in the exhibition encounter and the way they handled their assignments—in most cases—definitely proved that those Greenies are going to provide trouble for other teams in the Coastal Plain loop when regular scheduled play gets started within the next two weeks.

Sunbury's big doings came in the fourth and sixth innings on two six-run parties. Greenville's shining came in the third when the locals staged a five-run spurge and in the fifth when they produced four runs. The Greenies scored in every inning except the first.

One of the most unusual plays of the game—and one that is rarely seen in the local park or in any other game when Greenville staged a triple play in the fifth inning. The play was executed by Arthur Kracke, second sacker; Gail Kennedy, short stop; Rube Wilson, first baseman; and Gordon Hoffman, catcher.

In Kennedy and Kracke, Greenville has a short-second combination that is going to work very nicely in the future. Even though he was credited with a pair of blunders during the afternoon, Kennedy's playing entered the spectacular realm in the third inning when he jumped into the air and made a beautiful one-handed stab of Rube Wilson's ball.

Pultz's big Kennedy is a left-hander and as a result, the play was regarded as rather exceptional. Harry Jenkins, a veteran of the Greenville squad, was up to his usual capable tactics, yesterday. One of the best plays Harry made yesterday, and he didn't have the opportunity to make many, came in the second inning when he made a beautiful one-handed stop of Gene Garmon's blow and threw the Sunbury player out at first. The play was marked with all the precision that one could ask for in a baseball game.

Rube Wilson was a first baseman before he ever came to Greenville and his performance yesterday proved that he is still a first sacker. The same type of close play that has happened heretofore in scheduled games prevailed yesterday and Manager Wilson was forced to exercise plenty of stamina.

Harold Forbes, who was Greenville High's top-flight fielder during his undergraduate days, substituted yesterday for Rex Throop in left field and showed that he can handle the left field zone. His throw-in was powerful and his hitting also proved a feature of the Greenies' activities. Harold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Forbes of Pitt county, got one hit in two trips. His hit was a long double to right field.

Throop, another left-hander and a good-natured ball player, is a good outfielder and quite effective with the stick. One of the assets in Throop's stance at the bat comes from taking a crack at the good pitches and allowing the bad ones to go by. He hit a long blow yesterday.

Local Golf Event Held Up By Cold

The approach and putting contest scheduled to have been held at the Greenville Country club course yesterday, was postponed until next Saturday on account of the cold weather.

President Tom Smoot declared that it is hoped that a large number of members would participate in the event and it was believed only a few would have entered had the contest been held today. Women are invited to participate in the event, which will be held on Saturday of next week, weather permitting.

terday to deep right. Too, his powerful arm cut off the progress of Sunbury players who attempted to circle the bases too many times on Blow's to Throop's territory.

Jules Samocki, who handles assignments in centerfield rather neatly, proved to Skipper Rube that he can run after he hits that ball. When he poled a powerful double to left field in the second he gained so much speed circling first he had to take off his cap or lose it. The wind was calm at that stage of the game and couldn't have been responsible for his speed.

And here's something about Greenville's hurlers. Morris Wilson, one of the most capable members of Manager Rube's hurling staff last season, gave up four hits over a three-inning stretch in yesterday's encounter. He kept the visitors well in hand, however, limiting them to three runs. Bill Teller was somewhat kinder to the visitors, but he should come around with a little more experience. John Carver, the tallest man on the Greenville team, produced a laugh yesterday when he bent over to understand what Nick De Luca, diminutive Greenville catcher, said when he walked to the pitcher's mound for one of those intra-inning conferences. It was truly the "long and short of it" as Carver did the hurling and De Luca did the catching.

Ed Black, who was on the Greenies' staff last season, has not lost one ounce of his hitting power. His work yesterday included a homer and a long single. The only other Greenville to be credited with a homer was Ed Wimbro. Black's drive was over the rightfield wall and Wimbro's over the left. The only other homer of the game came off the end of Louie Hummel's bat in the second inning. This was the first score of the game for either team.

ANOTHER GAME SET FOR HERE

Harrisburg Fans Here to Watch Sunday's Contest

A number of officials and fans of the Harrisburg, Penn., baseball club, which is training in this city, will witness tomorrow afternoon's game here between the Senators and the Sunbury Indians. The game is scheduled to begin at 3 o'clock.

Among the Pennsylvanians here for the game are Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Warren, the former president of the Harrisburg club; Clarence S. Shaak, treasurer of the club; Henry Kohlman, director; David S. Kahn, Joe A. Volger, George J. Shoemaker, James Taylor and Mrs. Lester Bell, wife of the manager.

The Sunbury team yesterday afternoon defeated the Greenville Coastal Plain team in a free-scoring contest, handicapped by wind and rain.

Following tomorrow's contest between the two Inter-State teams, the next exhibition game set for Guy Smith park is set for Monday night, when the Greenies will play the House of David team.

COLD WEATHER IN ALL AREAS

Who must meet the interest on the debt and pay off the principal of these tremendous bond issues? Not the rich; their securities are mostly tax-exempt. Not the theorists. Unable to support themselves, they live upon the gratuity of an endowed college or some other well-intentioned organization. Not the propagandists of foreign nations. They have their support from Leningrad and Berlin. There is one group, however, who is always on the job when it comes to paying the bills for all this tomfoolery. It is the middle class, upon whose behalf some 1940 candidate should base his campaign.

America At The Crossroads.
When this candidate appears, I want to hear him say: "I represent the men and women who made America; we who, constantly, have had a sense of responsibility to the state and government in which we live; we who have asked for little and given much as we work aid struggle for a livelihood. We now declare that we will no longer tolerate conditions that are reducing us to poverty and rushing us toward national bankruptcy. This government must stop profligacy, extravagance, and waste. It must live within its means. A balanced budget must gradually be brought about. Industry and employers must be encouraged to develop jobs!"

Will such a man appear? I fervently pray that he will, regardless of whether he is a Democrat or Republican, Catholic or Protestant, young or old. Again I say that America is at the crossroads. The next four years either will make or break us. Too long our governments have been in the hands of the wealthy, the theorists, the racketeers. Let us not re-elect any of such but put in their places candidates who say, "I stand for the man who wants to work and who wants to become an employer." For of all things, America needs more employers today. This is the only way that our unemployment mess will be cleaned up.

Unemployment A Religious Problem
But again I say this change cannot be brought about by legislation or by appropriations. Only as all groups awaken spiritually will the "haves" give up and will the "have-nots" wake up. The great

Middle Class Totes The Load
In all the attempts made to solve America's problems in the last decade, no one has spoken for these men and women of the middle class. Yes, this group must solve the problem if it is ever to be solved at all. Labor has its lobbies. So has "big business." So have the theorists. WPA-ers and other spenders. The law gives the middle class no protection against labor. Yet, the middle-class citizen must pay for the cost of all our present waste and experimenting. And, while that citizen sweats and toils in an effort to pay the bill, the racketeer and spendthrift will crack the whip. Machine-ridden cities, the states, and the federal government itself issue millions of bonds with which to bribe the "have-nots" and to make beggars of persons who once had self-respect.

The Diesel Engine School to be established here in Greenville will offer thorough training in their Diesel Course, so that after completion of the course its students, no matter what field they may enter will have a thorough background of the fundamentals necessary for success. Classes will be held at night. The Diesel Engine School, Inc., of Richmond will offer this course of instruction here in Greenville. As to teaching staff, only thoroughly trained men will be used as instructors.

Diesel motors have now progressed to such an extent that many of the largest and best known car and truck manufacturers are now offering Diesel type engines in their products. R. H. Morse, president of Fairbanks-Morse

Company said recently that "the industry has definitely passed the pioneering stage, and sees ahead the golden age of Diesel sales."

Orville Adams, well known consulting engineer, remarked: "During the next few years many thousands of Diesel-trained men will be needed in this field, where employment will be profitable and interesting, and where there is little competition, and where the opportunities for advancements are perhaps greater than in any other line of mechanical work in the country today."

Pactolus School Drive

Sunday, April 28th will mark the beginning of a financial drive to purchase a bus for the Pactolus
Negro School by next school year.
The bus will provide transportation for high school students at St. Peter, Cherry Lane, Webb, Clemmons, Harris, Jones and Post Oak schools.

The rally will be held at Hayes Chapel Baptist church. We urge your cooperation.

Parent-Teacher Program

In order to get more acquainted with the children, their needs, possibilities and interests the Grimesland district Parent-Teacher association comprising seven schools,
Clark's Neck, Burney, Sweet Hope, Shelmodine, Calico, Simpson and Grimesland, is planning a citizenship program Saturday, April 20th at the Pitt County training school.
The program will begin at 9:30.

This organization is lining up with the State Parent-Teacher Congress in its campaign in making worthwhile future citizens out of our boys and girls that are in school and out of school. We believe that if the child is given proper training in the home and school, penal institutions will have no room for him. In order to carry this training program in
