30 PROPOSALS TO LABOR ACT BEFORE HOUSE

Debate Over Wage-Hour Measure In Sixth Day

MAJOR CHANGES APPEAR DOOMED

Administration Leaders Even Soft-Pedal Attempts To Keep Wagner Act From Coming Up

Washington, May 2.—(AP)—In its sixth consecutive day of debate, the House confronted today with more than 30 separate proposals today for exempting various groups of agriculture processing workers from the wage-hour law.

Among these, one by Rep. Buck (D.Calif.), already tentatively accepted, seemed destined to provoke further argument since members disagreed over what it meant. Buck claimed it would exempt about 200,000 workers in small cooperatives.

Opponents said it might be much broader in effect than that.

In the wage-hour controversy administration house members, encouraged at repeated votes against sweeping exemptions, expressed belief they would have a good chance of defeating far-reaching proposals to revise the Wagner labor act.

Five days of wage-hour argument, it was learned, have caused them to soft-pedal their campaign to prevent the Wagner act controversy from coming before the House.

Although Democratic leaders have not yet placed Wagner act amendment on the calendar, it was considered likely that the subject might come up the week of May 13.

Germany's Scandinav'n Bases Raised By Allies As Nazis Gain On Land

New Classes of Greek Officers Called To Colors As New Apprehension Felt That Italy May Enter The War On Side of Germany, Spreading War To Southeastern Europe

By The Associated Press

British air raids on Germany's Scandinavian bases and Nazi claims of continued land successes today heightened the tempo of northern warfare, while Greece gave evidence of mounting apprehension that war might spread into southeastern Europe.

Ten classes of Greek officers were called to the colors effective May 5, a move believed linked with fear that Italy might jump into the war on Adolf Hitler's side.

Britain reported her planes had caused heavy damage to German bases in Norway and Denmark in night raids on Stavanger, Aslorg and Fomberg. The same bases were savagely raided the preceding night.

Germany countered with reports that the British were moving out of Andalsnes, one of their main coastal bases, and that fighting between Oslo and Trondheim had become principally a pursuit in which 3,500 Norwegians were captured.

The Dombas area, controlling rail lines from central Norway to the German-occupied southern section, saw the heaviest fighting with the outcome still obscure by conflicting claims.

British naval units struck at Germany's troop transport lanes in an effort to cut off further reinforcements from the Reich. Swedish coastal observers said that warships, supported by planes, invaded the Kattegat yesterday for a two-hour naval battle, in which one German ship was sunk and another set afire.

His appointment, the official pronouncement read, "has created a spirit of uneasiness and resentment in the minds of a great number of people and instead of promoting peace has engendered discord and strife which seem calamitous this time when there is imperative need for harmonious united action on the part of all those who fear God and love righteousness."

This statement, approved with only a few hands among 776 conference delegates raised in opposition, was drafted by the Methodist churches committee on interdenominational relations, headed by Dr. James W. Moore of Newport News, Va.

It passed over vigorous protests by several delegates who protested "this is no time to stir up religious hatred."

Dr. Harold Paul Sloan, editor of the New York edition of the Christian advocate, sought to strike from the resolution that portion asking for the recall of Taylor on the ground "it is nothing new for the United States to have a representative at the Vatican."

Dr. C. Ray Jordan of Winston-Salem, N. C., argued: "If the United States is to be represented at the Vatican, there is no reason why it should not also be similarly represented with the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Anglican church and other religious organizations of the world."

Raleigh, May 2.—(AP)—Ronald E. Turner, about 27, a truck driver for the city sanitary department, shot and killed Joe B. Mitchell, 40-year-old city mechanic, today and then shot himself in the head, inflicting "a very serious wound," Coroner Roy M. Banks said.

Banks said Mitchell had eight pistol shot wounds, seven of them in the back of his body, neck and head.

C. G. Chappell, superintendent of the sanitary department, told police and reporters that he believed domestic difficulties caused the shooting.

AAA PROGRAM IS DISCUSSED

Cooperation Between Farmer-Business Man Urged

Close co-operation between business men and farmers in behalf of a long range farm program was the theme of a banquet meeting of local business men and farmers held at the woman's club here last night.

The speakers reviewed the accomplishments of the triple-A program, agriculture and pledged support to a continuation of the program. The occasion was the gathering of the county AAA committee together with the 13 township committees and their invited guests.

The meeting was presided over by J. Van Taylor, of Bethel, county committee chairman, who following the serving of the banquet, called upon County Farm Agent R. R. Bennett to explain the purposes of the meeting and outline the farm program being carried on in this county.

After introducing C. D. Griggs, assistant county agent, and other members of the farm department staff, Mr. Bennett reviewed the agricultural situation in this county and pointed out how farmers, by complying with the provisions of the farm program could benefit themselves in the way of improving their soil and receiving government benefits. He stressed the need for greater diversification of farming in this county and section as a means of procuring income to supplement the lower incomes that will be derived from our cash crops.

This year, said Mr. Bennett, there will be planted in Pitt county only 28,222 acres of tobacco compared to 48,600 acres last year which means approximately $3,000,000 less income from tobacco this year even if last year's price average is maintained. He also pointed out that in 1928 Pitt county produced 16,200 bales of (Continued on Page Six)

TWO SENATORS CALL ON PARTY ENDORSE FDR

Platform Approving Administration is Proposed

SPECULATE ON PARTY'S POLICY

Wheeler of Montana And Pittman of Nevada Urge Endorsement of Roosevelt at Convention

Washington, May 2.—(AP)—Two Democratic Senators—Wheeler of Montana and Pittman of Nevada—called today for endorsement of President Roosevelt's administration in the party platform.

"Any other course would be political suicide," said a statement by Wheeler, a candidate for the presidential nomination if Mr. Roosevelt does not run.

Pittman told reporters that the platform to be adopted at the national convention "must endorse the principals of the Roosevelt administration," but added that this "does not mean the endorsement of every piece of legislation sent to Congress."

Wheeler forecast that the platform would pledge the party to keep out of war, trying to bring farm prices to a parity with industry, try to reduce unemployment and "denounce totalitarianism in all forms."

While democratic platform talk was in the air, Post Master General Farley arranged for a round of political conferences, including one with Vice President Garner. Both are candidates for the presidential nomination.

From Garner's campaign managers came a statement that the vice president's chances for the nomination "are improving daily."

It was issued following conclusion of an agreement between supporters of Garner and of President Roosevelt that the Texas delegation to the national convention would be pledged to Garner, but would not participate in any "stop Roosevelt" movement.

NEGRO KILLED BY POLICEMAN

Gibsonville Officer Badly Wounded In Battle

Gibsonville, N. C., May 2.—(AP)—Willie James, 32-year-old Negro, was killed and Policeman A. S. Williams was critically wounded in a furious gun battle on a Gibsonville street early today.

There were no witnesses to the fighting, but officers said circumstances indicated the shooting began after Williams had arrested James as the latter was emerging from a store with a quantity of merchandise.

Ten bullet wounds were found in the Negro's body, which was found sprawled in the streets with handcuffs around his wrists.

Williams was lying unconscious about 10 steps away. He had been shot in the head and there were signs that he had also been beaten on the head.

The policeman was taken to a hospital in Greensboro where he remained unconscious.

The Egyptian house-cat, is believed to have had a major share in the development of European breeds.

May Is Designated For Cancer Control Program

The month of May has been set aside for the Control of Cancer Campaign and Cancer Control Program under the American Medical Society through the Women's Field Army. It was announced today by Mrs. Helene Higgs Kirkpatrick, city commander for the field army.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick declared that it was important that every person realize that early cancer is curable. She explained that treatment is "early" if it is taken while the cancer is limited to the particular organ affected, and has not caused degenerative changes.

She also cited statistics showing that 80 per cent of cancer cases are curable if treatment is taken in time. She added: "When we recall that approximately one million dollars per year have recently been given by the American public for research in infantile paralysis, a disease that kills only a tiny fraction of the death toll from cancer, we are impressed with the fact that more knowledge of the existing needs in cancer research is called for and it is hoped this will produce increased funds."

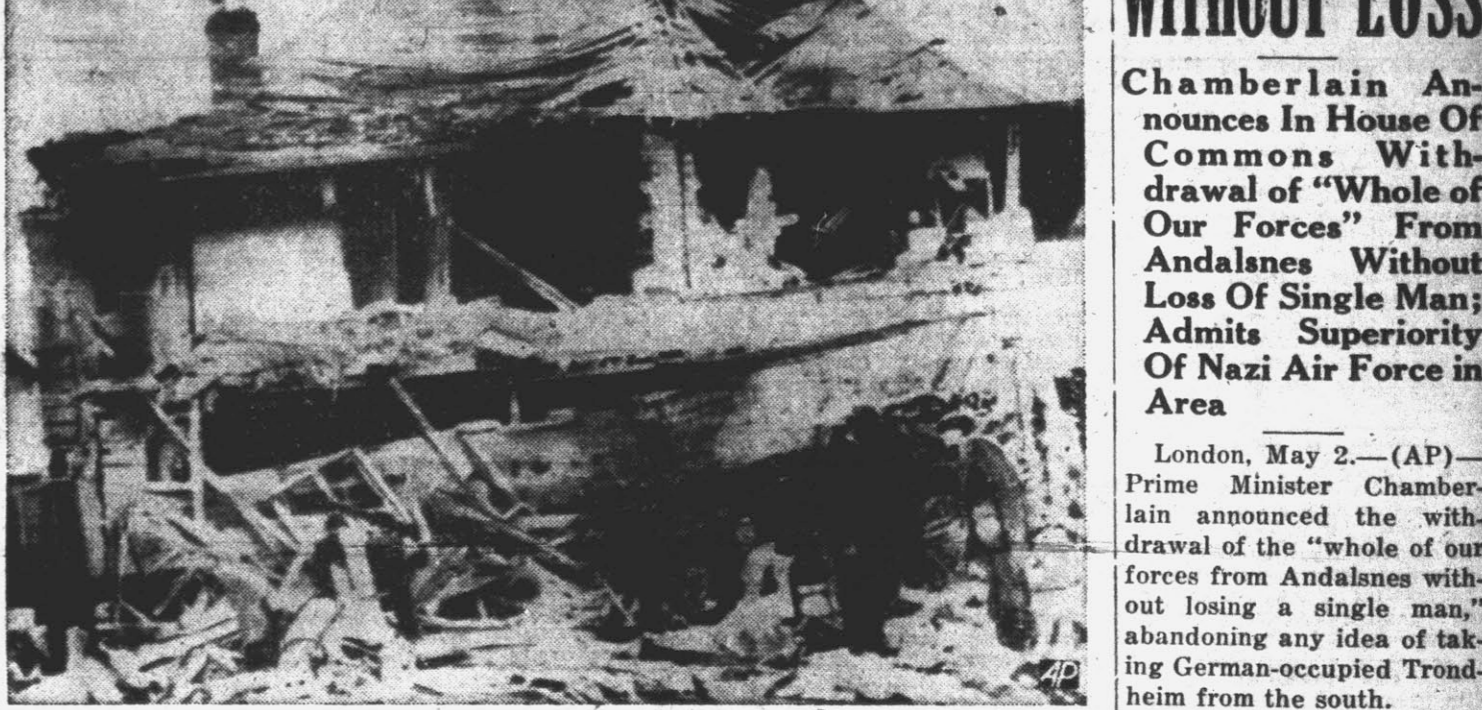

She said that one great need was an educational campaign against cancer and added that education leads to early treatment.

"One of the great aims of this campaign is that of education," she declared, adding that the encouragement of periodic health examinations and the building up of organizations to make such examinations more general among women is a splendid objective for Women's Field Army units.

Joseph S. Moyer has been selected as county treasurer and captains will be appointed from the different organizations of the city in the near future.

Bern.—(AP)—Temperance organizations have proudly issued figures showing that the Swiss are drinking fewer distilled liquors and wine, and more beer and cider.

From 1923 to 1929 the Swiss per capita consumption was 49 quarts of wine, seven quarts of distilled liquors, 33 quarts of cider, and 50 quarts of beer. From 1933 to 1938, it was 41 quarts of wine, three quarts of distilled liquors, 36 quarts of cider and 33 quarts of beer.

Pitt Farmers Urged View Demonstrations

County Agent R. R. Bennett today declared that farmers would benefit by witnessing blue mold demonstrations being conducted on two Pitt county farms tomorrow under the direction of Dr. Luther Shaw, plant disease specialist of the State College Extension service.

The first supervised demonstration is scheduled to be held on the farm of J. P. Davenport of Pritchard at 2 p. m. and on the farm of Brantley Speight of near Winterville at 5 p. m.

The county agent declared that "sufficient results have been obtained on the farms to justify your visit."

Mr. Bennett pointed out that it would take only half an hour to get the information and urged farmers to take advantage of the opportunity to see one of the demonstrations.

MEET HELD BY TRADE BOARD

President R. M. Garrett Announces Committees

President R. M. Garrett of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade, at a special meeting of that organization held this morning, announced committees which will govern activities of the board during the new year.

Local warehousemen accepted in its entirety a budget prepared and submitted by the advertising committee, and then made plans to make the forth coming season one of the best since tobacco was first sold at auction in this city, regardless of the drastic cut in this year's crop.

During the 1939 season Greenville led all other bright leaf markets, with three or more sets of buyers, in a percentage gain over 1938 sales. Local warehousemen realize that the smaller acreage means less tobacco this year, but expressed the determination to sell even a greater percentage of the crop this fall than they sold during the past season.

The following officers and committees were announced at the meeting by Mr. Garrett:

President, R. M. Garrett; vice president, G. V. Smith; secretary and treasurer, H. A. Bost; supervisor of sales, R. C. Rankin.

Advertising Committee: C. W. Howard, chairman, F. W. Brown, W. Z. Morton, R. V. Keel, B. B. Sugg, Harvey Ward.

Arbitration Committee: J. L. Kilgo, chairman, F. M. Laws, G. V. Smith, F. A. Bendall, W. S. Bost.

Basket Committee: W. D. Pruitt, chairman, H. G. Clayton, H. R. Rogers.

Executive Committee: J. S. Picklen, chairman, M. R. Long, W. T. Lipscomb, B. E. Sugg, W. Z. Morton, Floyd McGowan.

Sales Committee: A. E. Hobgood, chairman, L. T. Shotwell, C. A. Womack, T. D. McMillan, C. J. Sawyer, Ward Wilkerson.

Sales Card Committee: B. B. Sugg, chairman, W. S. Moyer, C. H. McGowan.

Ticket Markers' Employment Committee: W. Z. Morton, chairman, A. E. Hobgood, R. V. Keel, G. C. Smith.

ROME ASSURES BALKAN POWER

U. S. Envoy Promised Yugoslavia Will Not Be Invaded

Belgrade, May 2.—(AP)—Italian and German diplomats today assured the Yugoslav government that any fears of aggression by these countries against the Balkan states were groundless. Similar assurances were reported delivered to other Balkan capitals.

Rome, May 2.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Count Ciano today assured United States Ambassador William Phillips at Yugoslavia, Italy's neighbor on the Adriatic sea, was safe from Italian invasion, it was reported in usually reliable quarters.

The United States ambassador's talks with Premier Mussolini yesterday and with Ciano today noticeably eased tension in diplomatic circles.

Anxiety had reached an acute point with the announcement that British shipping had been diverted from the Mediterranean as a precaution.

Phillips' visit to Ciano was his second in two days. The ambassador saw Mussolini yesterday and, it is said, received assurances from Il Duce that Italy did not plan any war move for the present.

Although nothing was made known at the American embassy, it was said in political circles that Germany wanted to keep all Balkan countries, including Yugoslavia, at peace as sources of supply for the Nazis.

Rome, May 2.—(AP)—The announcement that a British and French battle fleet was in the Mediterranean today revived tension which earlier had been relieved by Italian disclaimers of any intention of going to war immediately.

The announcement was regarded in foreign circles as further indication that Britain is preparing for any eventuality.

Local School Class Pictures Available

Students of grades one to seven in the Greenville school system, or their parents, who wish a picture of the class in which the pupil is enrolled can secure one by going by the Home Building and Loan Association on Evans street.

The home-financing agency some time ago had pictures made of each class in the primary and elementary grades in the various schools and these are to be distributed to students and parents who call by the agency and request them.

It is necessary for one or both of the parents, or guardian, however, to go for the picture as they will not be distributed to unaccompanied children.

A total of 750 pictures are available.

TROOPS RETIRE WITHOUT LOSS

Chamberlain Announces In House Of Commons Withdrawal of "Whole of Our Forces" From Andalsnes Without Loss Of Single Man; Admits Superiority Of Nazi Air Force in Area

London, May 2.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain announced the withdrawal of the "whole of our forces from Andalsnes without losing a single man," abandoning any idea of taking German-occupied Trondheim from the south.

At the same time he told the House of Commons that the British and French battle fleets were in the eastern basin of the Mediterranean sea, on their way to Alexandria, Egypt.

The German high command earlier in the day had reported its troops with in 25 miles of Andalsnes and said opposing forces were in "head-over-heels" flight.

Chamberlain said that "German local air superiority" had made it impossible to land "the artillery and tanks which would be necessary to enable our troops to withstand the enemy drive from the south."

He said the troops were withdrawn "under the very noses of the German airplanes" without the loss of "a single man."

Chamberlain assured the House Britain has "no intention of allowing Norway to become merely a side show."

Though it has not been possible to capture Trondheim, Chamberlain said he was satisfied "that the balance of the advantage lies up to the present with the allied forces."

"Norway is not conquered," he stated, "after three weeks of war in which heavy losses have been sustained by the enemy on the sea, on land and in the air."

The naval movement to Alexandria he said "was to effect more normal distribution of ships through release of some from the North sea."

The losses of the German navy, he said, "were so substantial as to alter the entire balance of naval power" and permitted "an important redistribution of the main allied fleets."

Berlin, May 2.—(AP)—German forces were reported authoritatively today to have a solid hold on all of south and central Norway after British forces "in headlong flight" had rushed to the sea to abandon the Andalsnes sector on the Norwegian Atlantic Coast.

The German high command reported tonight hits on two British aircraft carriers and a destroyer when a strong British fleet unit approached the Norwegian coast yesterday.

The British force south of Trondheim landed at Andalsnes more than two weeks ago and advanced to Dobbas, 56 miles east, where it was defeated.

Mr. Gravelly's managers advised today that he would come to the Proctor hotel following the speaking engagement and would be glad to meet old friends and make new ones.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisons waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging headaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headachy and dizzy. Frequent or steady passage with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Miss Nice led a most interesting discussion on "The Home", and the arrangement of furniture.

A committee composed of Mrs. N. O. Hodges, Mrs. Pearl Move, Mrs. J. B. Meadows, Miss Ella V. May and Mrs. B. L. Tyson was appointed to make plans for a community fair to be held in the club house the week before the Pitt county fair. Prizes will be given for outstanding exhibits in sewing, cooking, garden and field crops, etc. The 4-H boys and girls will also be awarded prizes for their entries. This list of prizes will be given at the June meeting so that work can begin in earnest.

Basel, Switzerland.—(AP)—Handsome Moroccan "sons of the desert" have so many charms for the Swiss maidens of Solothurn canton that the cantonal police have come between them.

May Build Food Bins
Berne.—(AP)—Landlocked Switzerland has to import 90,000 tons of foodstuffs over a four months' period but has storage space available for only 40,000 tons. Much of the space is available only in frontier regions, so the federal government has been considering plans to subsidize building warehouses for food stores in central Switzerland, where an invader would have to cross many a snowcovered mountain range before reaching them.

Springfield, O.—(AP)—Assistant Fire Chief Edward Garrity has lost faith in "public spirit." It happened thus: Arriving at a fire, Garrity decided more equipment was needed. Dashing to the nearest pay phone, he found a man using it.

"Could I use that phone a minute to call out some more fire equipment?" pleaded Garrity.
"Get away from here!" the man growled. "I paid a nickel to use this phone and you can have it when I get through."
The man then told his wife to get the children out of bed and come to the fire, Garrity insists.

A LITTLE MORE SHEIK
THAN SWISS CAN STAND
Basel, Switzerland.—(AP)—Handsome Moroccan "sons of the desert" have so many charms for the Swiss maidens of Solothurn canton that the cantonal police have come between them.

The Moroccan troops patrol the French frontier near the little Swiss town of Roderdorf. Cantonal authorities noted with alarm that there was considerable flirting going on between Moroccans and Swiss girls. Now cantonal police patrol the border highway to discourage such goings-on.

May Build Food Bins
Berne.—(AP)—Landlocked Switzerland has to import 90,000 tons of foodstuffs over a four months' period but has storage space available for only 40,000 tons. Much of the space is available only in frontier regions, so the federal government has been considering plans to subsidize building warehouses for food stores in central Switzerland, where an invader would have to cross many a snowcovered mountain range before reaching them.

Ain't Humans Mean Things?
Springfield, O.—(AP)—Assistant Fire Chief Edward Garrity has lost faith in "public spirit." It happened thus: Arriving at a fire, Garrity decided more equipment was needed. Dashing to the nearest pay phone, he found a man using it.

"Could I use that phone a minute to call out some more fire equipment?" pleaded Garrity.
"Get away from here!" the man growled. "I paid a nickel to use this phone and you can have it when I get through."
The man then told his wife to get the children out of bed and come to the fire, Garrity insists.

WILSON'S Weekly MEMO
by GEORGE RECTOR

What's the difference between a little pork sausage and a big one? With Wilson's Certified Pure Pork Sausage Links there is just one answer: the size. The small, packaged, finger-sized links are preferred by many because of their dainty size. The larger, heman size links contain the same pure pork sausage meat. Then there are Smoked Sausage Links, with the same perfect seasoning, only with a slightly different flavor due to the smoking. All three are equally good. In the words of the circus barker, "You pay your money and you take your choice."

The Missing Link
If something has been missing from the family menu lately, in the way of zip and zest, perhaps it is because you have not bought a pound of Wilson's Certified Pure Pork Sausage Links lately. Get a package today and serve them this way:

LINK SAUSAGE WITH MINCEMEAT APPLES
Select good-size baking apples. Core and peel one-third of the way down. Stuff with mincemeat and place in a baking-dish with 1 cup pineapple juice. Bake at 350°F. for one hour or until done, basting frequently. Fry twelve Wilson's Pure Pork Sausage Links, putting them in a cold skillet and turning frequently. Encircle each apple with the sausages. Serves 4.

FRIZZLED CERTIFIED HAM with SCRAMBLED EGGS
Next time you have a whole Wilson Certified Smoked Ham in the refrigerator, use part of it for a scrumptious Sunday morning breakfast as follows:
Cut four good slices from a Certified Smoked Ham and broil quickly under the flame or in a slightly greased skillet. In another skillet, place 2 tablespoons of Wilson's Clear Brook Butter. When melted, add 1/2 cup top milk. Break in 5 Wilson Clear Brook Eggs, unbeaten, and add 1 tablespoon minced parsley and salt and pepper to taste. Have flame low. Stir gently and constantly with a palette knife. Cook only until eggs are set. Place a portion of the eggs on top of each slice of frizzled ham. Serves 4.

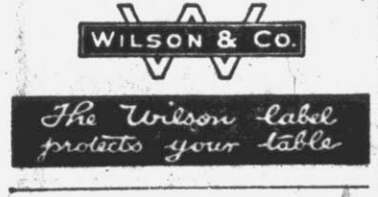

Mushroom MOR-bit
A zippy, satisfying entree for lunch, Sunday evening supper or the evening repast. Quick to make and mighty good to eat.

1 can Wilson's MOR
1 package Certified American Cheese
3 tablespoons Clear Brook Butter
1 Clear Brook Egg yolk
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup cream or top milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce,
dash of cayenne
2-oz. can mushrooms

Cut the MOR into 4 equal slices, lengthwise. Brush with 1 tablespoon of the butter, melted, and place under the broiler a few minutes until hot and sizzling.

Melt 1 tablespoon of butter in saucepan and blend in flour. Add cream or milk and stir until slightly thickened. Add seasonings and grated cheese, and stir until thoroughly melted. Add mushrooms, sauteed in butter. At the last moment, beat in egg yolk, and serve at once, over the MOR. Serves 4.

GRAVELY SEES GRAVE FUTURE
Declares State Facing Most Serious Situation

Reflector Bureau.

Raleigh, May 2.—Lee Gravelly, Rocky Mount's "business man" candidate for governor last night took sharp issue with those who are elated with rising state revenues and who see, as a result, a rosy future in which there will be plenty of money for increased state services.

Gravelly, in a speech prepared for delivery, flatly declared: "We in North Carolina are facing the most serious situation we have faced in a quarter of a century."

He reasoned thus from the bleak outlook for the 1940 tobacco farmer.

"The income of the farmers of this state in 1938, from tobacco alone was more than the income from all other major crops combined and when you cripple that income you not only cripple the farmer but you cripple the man in the town."

He outlined the tremendous shock of 1939 when the British withdrew from the markets, and added "Now, we are facing a worse situation."

He conceded to his "distinguished opponents" a better knowledge of "the legality of things," but contended that his life-long experience in the tobacco business qualifies him better:

"The problems today in North Carolina are not legal; they are practical and need the application of practical business principles."

He made no direct reference to a third term for President Franklin D. Roosevelt, but lauded the present administration which "so far as I know the only administration that has ever done anything about it that has been of any practical assistance in raising the income of the farmer, as well as the laborer, has been the present one headed by our great Democratic president."

Hot Contest Being Waged For Lieutenant Governor

Reflector Bureau.
By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, May 2.—The "forgotten men" of the current North Carolina primary campaign are the candidates for lieutenant governor; but at least three of the four who filed for the Democratic nomination are beating the bushes with much more than ordinary fervor.

Dan Tompkins, of Jackson county, was a last minute entrant, but so far as Raleigh hears he quit the race at about the same time he entered it. It is possible, of course, that he's making a brisk campaign in the hinterlands with the state's capital city becoming aware of that fact.

The others—State Senator Erskine Smith, former speaker of the House Reg Harris and former state Senator L. A. Martin are getting around in a fashion which rivals the peregrinations of the active seekers of the governor's chair.

They seldom break into the public prints, which have a way of studiously ignoring such speeches as the No. 2 post aspirants make; but they're hard at work just the same.

There isn't any real indication of the relative standing of the contenders, though what scant and meagre reports have reached this bureau from time to time would seem to favor Smith.

The Albemarle man—who was president pro tem of the Senate in 1939—started his active campaigning a bit earlier than his rivals, however, and there are now being heard stories that Harris is picking up strength as his campaign

STATE TO HAVE BIGGEST YEAR
Records Being Set In Sales And Gasoline Taxes

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, May 2.—The April revenue report not only showed that North Carolina's income tax collections have surpassed previous records, but it also indicated clearly that the state will this fiscal year have its first, twelve million dollar sales tax and twenty-five million dollar gasoline tax year in history.

Revenues for May and June, the two remaining months of the fiscal period, have only to equal the corresponding months of last year in order to bring this about.

In addition, there is a possibility that the income tax returns will ultimately pass the twelve million dollar mark, though the possibility is a remote one.

On the assumption that May and June, 1940, are no better and no worse than they were last year, the final sales tax figure for the fiscal year 1939-40 will amount to $12,092,378.62. As of April 30 it stood at $10,181,206.14 and the remaining pair of months should average only slightly less than a million dollars apiece.

Assuming only the same gasoline tax receipts as in May and June of 1939, this fiscal year's figures will reach $25,636,819.19.

It is interesting to note that of these three taxes, which together account for practically two-thirds of all tax revenues, the gasoline levy is the only one which has shown an increase in every one of the past three years. Both sales tax and income tax receipts were down for 1938-39 as compared with 1937-38.

Some easterners are fearing Harris as a referendum advocate, but close friends of the Roxboro candidate declare there's nothing to the reports.

To a recent questionnaire on the subject of diversion, particularly with reference to the "contingent" subsection of the Revenue Act, Martin failed to reply at all; Smith said that he would try to appoint a committee which would give the matter "fair" consideration; and Harris came out flatfootedly against diversion and in favor of repealing the existing authority for diverting $2,500,000 annually under certain circumstances.

It was only a matter of weeks until British aircraft carriers had hydraulic machinery and tripping cables on the decks of their aircraft carriers.

And I hope I'm not going too far when I disclose the fact that it was again a matter of weeks until Uncle Sam's own naval attaches aboard a British carrier on parade day, discovered a British refinement of our tripping device. Soon our navy had taken all its hydraulic apparatus off the landing decks of our carriers and fastened it to the side of the vessel, out of the way.

LITTLE SPIRIT FIRE

By Jean Randall

YESTERDAY: Affairs on the Street are taking an odd turn. Judge Harper holds Brenda responsible for a silly love letter written him by Mac VanNess, and Ned Barrow is so interested in biology that he has dropped the idea of marrying Adelaide.

Chapter 25 Mysterious Malady THERE was something the matter with Adelaide. She had returned from her visit neither rested nor refreshed, though she was voluble over the kindness shown her by her hosts. She seemed not to notice the changes Isobel had made in the arrangement of furniture; she was entirely uninterested in reassuming the household reins; worst of all she was indifferent to the health and happiness of her entire household.

Mac spoke. "She is ill. I'm perfectly sure. I happened to touch her hand just before she went upstairs and it was hot. Flu, perhaps; there's a lot of it about." But the next morning Adelaide seemed better though languid and still unlike herself. She had no temperature as Brenda asserted, tanned by the simple process of producing a thermometer and firmly bidding her landlady keep it in her mouth for the necessary length of time.

BY NIGHT she was able to dress herself though the ominous color still burned in her cheeks, and her eyes were too bright. Mac, informed privately over Miss Ormond's teacup, had died of the operating table. All the stubbornness of her character concentrated itself on this point. She sternly forbade the worried girls to call in a doctor; she refused the simple home remedies Isobel offered her.

Tadlock Insurance Agency's team last night defeated Water and Light 19-16, in the first overtime game of the softball season when Turnage blasted a home run in the eighth inning with two men out and two on the bases. Turnage's blow to center field was barely touched by the fielder, but it was too much of a blow to go as an error.

R. C. Cola continued its winning streak in the other game of the evening defeating Pepsi Cola 12-10 in a game which was anybody's until the final out. Pepsi Cola scored three in the final frame, but could not match the lead rolled up by R. C. Cola, which team scored six in the fifth and four more in the sixth. The winners were out-hit 15-14, but the R. C. Cola boys made only two errors behind Mosier's huriling while six nobbies were credited to Max Minges' Pepsi boys.

The Tadlock team rocked along with a lead until the fifth when Water and Light really got hot and scored 13 runs before the insurance men could put out three men. At the end of the fifth the score was 16 to 10 and it looked as if the Tadlock boys might suffer another defeat following their 32-12 sheik-lacking at the hands of R. C. Cola the previous night.

Scoring three runs in each the sixth and seventh to knot the count, the boys evidently sensed victory and redred Water and Light with jam-up playing in the first half of the eighth. A desperate attempt was made to win the game in the last half of the seventh when Duncan of Tadlocks attempted to steal home, but was caught at the plate for the third out.

Lupton led off in the winner's half of the eighth and fled to short Hale was walked and Jones flied out to center. Although Tadlock needed only one run Turnage rounded the bases and came home in order to receive credit for the homer.

The Williamston Martins scored their first victory of the season yesterday defeating the Greenies 12-1 at Guy Smith stadium to send the locals hurtling to the cellar position.

Skipper Rube Wilson continues to "shake up" his team in an effort to find the best nine-man combination and, needless to say, he is anxious to produce a winning lineup.

Millet, Martin hurler, held the Greenies in check throughout, keeping the seven hits made by the locals well scattered, while Teller, regarded as one of the Greenies' best prospects, was being nicked for 17 safeties. Three Greenville errors helped the Martins in their scoring.

Rube's Rockies—and every man playing except the skipper himself, was a simon pure rookie—were just unable to get on to Miller. Only Deluca reached the rookie hurler from Martin for more than one safety, getting two in four tries.

PIRATES BACK FROM DEFEATS

Return After Unsuccessful Three-Day Road Trip

Coach Bo Farley and his East Carolina Teachers College Pirates returned to the campus last night from a three-day road tour, which produced about everything a fan could ask for in baseball, but not a victory for the locals.

Atlantic Christian College, traditional rivals of the Pirates, piled up a half-dozen runs in the opening innings yesterday to decide the score in a 7-3 victory over the Pirates. The Pirates had one big inning, that being a three-run fourth.

Paying the way in hitting for the Pirates were Windy Winstead with three safeties in four trips, and Mickey Northcutt, with a pair of three-baggers in four turns.

The Pirates handed the boys from Oak Ridge a 3-2 setback recently and the Cadets got revenge on the tour by trouncing the boys from East Carolina 16-6. It took only an eight-run first inning to decide the count over the Teachers. And that's almost enough runs to decide the game against any team. Mac Flythe did the hurling and limited the Cadets to 19 safeties.

One of the longest games in several years for the Pirates came when they locked horns with High Point's Panthers. The game lasted 15 innings and finally was called on account of darkness.

The Panthers scored four runs in the first five innings, with the Teachers scoring three in the sixth. The boys of High Point duplicated the Pirate's sixth-inning splurge and the locals came back with three more in the seventh and one in the ninth to dead lock the score at 7-all. Both teams fought hard to break the ice but with no avail. The game ended in the tie.

Kelly Martin and Mac Flythe performed on the mound for the locals in the devastating attack on the Panthers. The Panthers pitted three hurlers against the Teachers.

That's Uncle Natchel's philosophy... if Mother Nature made it, it's good.

Chilean Soda is good because it's "Natchel"—the only natural nitrate in the world. It's good for all crops, before planting or after. It's particularly profitable for sidedressing and topdressing. It acts quickly, picks the crop up and pushes it ahead to early maturity.

Sidedress — topdress — with natural Chilean Nitrate. It gives your crops plenty of quick-acting nitrate, and a natural balance of many other protective plant food elements.

LITTLE OR NO FRUIT DAMAGE

Crops Escaped Freezing Weather In Mid-April

Raleigh, May 2 - Little or no damage was done to fruit crops at high elevations in the state by the freezing weather in mid-April, but several apple and peach orchards in the lower regions of the upper Piedmont were severely hurt by the cold. H. R. Niswonger, extension horticulturist of N. C. State College, reported today. He is receiving reports from county farm agents and other agricultural workers in the principal orchard sections.

Quoting a report from G. D. White, farm agent in Henderson county, Niswonger said that it was at first feared that the crop of apples in that area would be a total loss, but later inspections of orchards indicate that fully 75 per cent of the crop is still alive.

White reported that the apple crop of Arch Corther is seems to be one of the hardest hit. His crop of Delicious variety apples will be very small.

J. S. Wilkins, farm agent in Cleveland county, wrote the extension horticulturist as follows: "Mrs. Tob Webb's orchard at Toluca in the upper end of the county, near the South Mountains, was hard hit by the cold, and not more than a five per cent crop is on the trees. Wayne Ware's orchard at Kings Mountain has at least a 60 per cent crop on the trees. W. P. Leister's apple orchard at Mooreboro has an excellent crop; not more than 10 per cent cold damage."

C. E. Van Deman, experiment station employee working at the Brushy Mountains Apple Laboratory at North Wilkesboro, said in his report "it looks now as if they might have a good crop even in Alexander county, in spite of the freeze. Orchards on top of the Brushes in Wilkes and Alexander are still in bloom."

AAA PROGRAM IS DISCUSSED

vide a long range workable program for agriculture and emphasize that the full co-operation of both farmers and business men was necessary if agriculture was to attain its proper place in our national economy. He also reviewed the history of the Farm Department in Pitt county and recalled the early days when some of our citizens wanted to discontinue the department along with the health and welfare departments as an economy move. He praised the work of County Agent Bennett and his associates and declared that Pitt county had one of the hardest working and most efficient farm departments in the state.

David T. House, member of the state AAA committee, spoke briefly on the farm program and then called on B. B. Sugg who spoke on the necessity of the national farm program. Mr. Sugg pointed out the problems that face the farmer and business man and declared that only by a long range program backed by the co-operation of all, could our section hope to overcome its present economic difficulties.

John T. Thorne, of Farmville, spoke on the relation of farm and welfare departments as an economy move. He declared that the agricultural section was so closely knit that what affected the farmer had its effect upon business in general and he urged a spirit of close co-operation between farmers and business men.

J. R. Carroll, of Winterville, gave a brief history of the farm programs since their beginnings in 1933 and declared that the farming sections of the country had been greatly benefited by the programs. He pointed out that under the programs North Carolina had profited more than any other state and that within North Carolina Pitt county, because of its supremacy in the production of tobacco, had profited more than any other county. He called attention to the growing national income and expressed the belief that if the farm programs were continued with the full support they deserved, the day was far distant when the national income would reach the desired goal of 100 billion dollars annually.

Mack G. Smith spoke briefly on the 1940 conservation program. He stated that of all the farmers in Pitt county only 23 failed to sign a work sheet this year signifying their intentions to comply with the program. There has been a great improvement in the attitude of farmers toward the program since they have come to understand it, he said, and he urged the farmers and business men to lose no opportunity to inform themselves and keep others informed as to the farm programs in general.

R. L. Little, of Grimesland, spoke on the soil building phase of the farm program and stated that Pitt county farmers had lost $150,000 since 1936 for their failure to comply with the program. He expressed pleasure that a greater number of farmers have decided to comply this year.

Dawson Jefferson, of Fountain, explained how farmers who wished to adopt soil building practices could procure soil building materials from the government and at the same time be paid benefits for carrying out the work on their lands.

The matter of gardens was discussed by Arch Flanagan, of Farmville, who pointed out the necessity of sufficient gardens on every farm in the county if our people are to avail themselves of a balanced diet necessary to healthful living. The mattress project whereby families of low income could receive cotton and other materials for the making of mattresses, if proper application was made for same. Under this program, he said, the government is helping to cut down the cotton surplus it now has on hand. F. C. Martin, of Bethel, pointed out the gradual decrease in cotton acreage planted in this county within the past few years and urged farmers to plant their allotted acreage this year in order not to lose same. He declared that cotton was still a debt-paying crop and warned the farmers against the loss of their cotton acreage allotment as a result of non-planting.
