BALKANS FEAR OF WAR IS INCREASED

ACT AIMED AT FIFTH COLUMN BECOMES LAW

Measure Requires Registration Of All Aliens

LOCAL ATTEMPTS SCORED BY F.D.R.

Federal Agencies Coordinate Plans to Inaugurate Program Aimed At Undesirable Aliens

Washington, June 29.—(AP)—President Roosevelt signed into law today a bill requiring registration and fingerprinting of approximately 3,500,000 aliens in the United States.

In a statement issued simultaneously, the President expressed hope that no "loyal aliens" would be subjected to harassment in the course of this program, but added:

"With those aliens who are disloyal and are bent on harm to this country the government, through its law enforcement agencies, can and will deal vigorously."

In effect, Mr. Roosevelt reproved some states and communities which have undertaken to deal with aliens individually.

"The only effective system of control over aliens in this country must come from the federal government alone," his statement said. "This is as true from a practical point of view as it is from a legal and constitutional point of view."

Federal agencies coordinated final plans for the start of active operations against the new public enemies—undesirable aliens and fifth columnists.

The first portion of the campaign gets under way Monday, the effective date for regulations which make the legal entry of aliens into the United States more difficult.

A second portion—aimed at illegal entry and infiltration—got the "go ahead" when President Roosevelt signed a bill yesterday providing funds for doubling the border control and increasing the maritime inspectors who check up on alien seamen.

Cites Success Of Progr'm In County

Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, Pitt county health officer, today received a letter from Dr. Ernest A. Branch, director of the division of oral hygiene, in which he said in part as follows:

"The money your county appropriated for a mouth health program, with a like amount from the state board of health, enabled us to make the necessary dental corrections for 1,435 underprivileged children in your schools. In addition to those who received the corrections, many more children were taught the value of having clean, healthy mouths. We feel sure that the parents and children of Pitt county appreciate the board of commissioners and the health department making this service possible."

Dr. Ennett expressed the opinion that so important is good oral hygiene to the health of the school child that no school health program is complete which does not attempt to furnish free dental care to indigent school children.

He stated that the North Carolina board of health, through the able director of the division of oral hygiene, Dr. E. A. Branch, had pioneered in this essential aspect of school health work.

More Cotton Blooms Found On Pitt Farm

Another report of cotton blossoms being found on Pitt county farms reached the Reflector office this morning, indicating an early crop this year.

The blossom was grown on the A. L. Garris farm in Winterville township by A. D. Elks, who reported finding several scattered about the field.

Pitt's Growth

Pitt county has a population of 61,237, a preliminary count of returns of the sixteenth census taken as of April 1, it was announced today by Denton W. Lupton, district supervisor of the census.

The 1940 census compares with 54,475 as of April 1, 1930, a gain for the decade of 6,762.

AIRPORT HERE IS SUPPORTED

Encouraging Developments Reported by Co-Chairmen

W. L. Nisbet, Jr., and Tom Rivers, co-chairmen of the Junior Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of the airport project, today reported recent developments were "very encouraging."

They revealed that Mayor Jack Spain had received a telegram from the Civil Aeronautics Authority offices in Atlanta advising that the agency would have an inspector here the second week in July to continue a preliminary study of the proposed airfield.

The two chairmen also explained that they had just received a letter from Dean Blake Van Leer of N. C. State college, who inspected the site and met with local sponsors here several days ago, stating that he had interviewed Major A. B. McMullan of the Civil Aeronautics Authority; Pedro Fellows, chief engineer of the WPA; and Col. Otto Trunk of the United States Army Air Corps.

The letter added that "things look good."

The establishment of a fully equipped airport here is being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Wicker Is Selected Post Defense Officer

Commander T. J. Swain and Commander-Elect T. K. Fountain of Pitt county Post No. 39, American Legion have cooperated on the appointment of a defense officer, Rev. Worth Wicker being the appointee.

The activities of the defense officer are expected to be increased considerably as the Legion is contemplating a program supplementing the National Guard in the various posts throughout the state.

Gasoline, Sales, Income Levies Push $50,000,000

Reflector Bureau. By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, June 29.—As North Carolina's tax revenues this fiscal year reach a high they have never previously attained, it is of more than passing interest to note that three tax schedules—gasoline, sales and income—will come within a grant year's hair of reaching $50,000,000 this year if indeed they fall at all to make that figure.

The regular standby, North Carolina's 6 cents a gallon levy on gasoline, will, as ever, total more than the other two big tax producing levies. On June 26 there had been collected for the fiscal year which will end Sunday, no less than $25,895,000 plus. That will likely be the final figure for the year as there appear to be no more outstanding sources from which further gas tax revenue is due.

The sales tax—for the first time since its imposition—will pass $12,000,000 for the year. On June 26, that stood at $12,100,000 and some odd thousands; while the income tax collections were pushing $12,000,000 solesly there still remains a chance that the million a month average will be reached before the

Noted Italian Marshal Had Been Governor General Of Libya Since His Apparent Demotion Following Historic Flight To United States And Winning Of High Popular Favor

Rome, June 29.—(AP)—Marshal Italo Balbo, governor general of Libya, was killed yesterday, while piloting a plane over Tarbuk, Libya, during an enemy bombardment, an official announcement said today.

The plane crashed in flames, killing all aboard.

The Italian high command issued the following special communique: "While flying over Torbruk during an enemy bombardment on June 28 the plane piloted by Italo Balbo crashed in flames. Italo Balbo and the members of the crew perished."

"Flag of the armed forces of Italy are lowered in a sign of homage and high honor to the memory of Italo, Alpine volunteer in the world war, one of the quadrumvirate of the revolution, trans-Atlantic flier and air marshal who died at his post in combat."

The dashing, colorful trans-Atlantic flier was one of the fascist celebrities and some times was mentioned as a possible successor to Mussolini as Italy's next duke.

Since Mussolini sent him to Libya, however, at the height of his popularity, Balbo's name has been less often in connection with possible fascist succession than that of Count Ciano, Mussolini's son-in-law and foreign minister.

Marshal Balbo in 1931 led a historic mass flight of Italian planes to the United States.

He received such an ovation both in the United States and at home as a result of the flight that Premier Mussolini was rumored to have been displeased at his rapid rise in popularity.

Shortly after his return to Italy in 1933 he was appointed to the Libyan post, a move interpreted in some quarters as designed to remove him from the limelight.

Most Business Firms To Observe Holiday

Mrs. Cora S. Powell, executive secretary of the Greenville Merchants Association, declared today that "practically all stores in the city have indicated they were planning to be closed all day Thursday, July 4, and also to observe the regular Wednesday afternoon holiday."

The Reflector, in accordance with its usual custom, also will observe the July Fourth holiday and the Wednesday afternoon issue will be delivered earlier in the afternoon than usual.

The extended holiday being planned by local business houses generally will provide employees with longer time to go to the beaches or elsewhere of their choosing.

FDR REQUESTS OWEN D. YOUNG TO LEND HAND

Asked To Help Train Youth for Defense Activities

TO ADVISE ON CCC PROGRAMS

Meanwhile Exact Extent of State of Emergency And Whereabouts of Fleet Arouse Conjecture

Washington, June 29.—(AP)—President Roosevelt has asked Owen D. Young, retired board chairman of the General Electric Company, to assist and advise Sidney Hillman, CIO leader who is in charge of training workers for national defense activities.

Stephen Early, the President's press secretary, told reporters today that Young had been asked to help Hillman temporarily, particularly on the government's youth program and the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Young was a White House visitor yesterday.

Early said he thought the retired industrialist would comply with the request.

Meanwhile the exact extent of the state of emergency now existing in the nation and the secrecy veiled plans of the main United States battle fleet aroused Capitol conjecture.

Three lines in a presidential proclamation which accompanied a Treasury department order yesterday raised the question of whether the limited state of emergency announced by Mr. Roosevelt on September 8, 1939, had been broadened.

The proclamation, after stating that the conditions of September 8 continued to prevail, declared "the existence of a national emergency by reason of the threatened disturbance of the international relations of the United States."

The September 8 document made no mention of a "threatened disturbance of the international relations of the United States."

The proclamation directed the Treasury to impose extraordinary control on all shipping in American waters because of world conditions.

RECORD SET BY N. C. REVENUES

Total For Fiscal Year Just Ending Is $76,004,841.68

Raleigh, June 29.—(AP)—North Carolina State revenue soared to a new high at $76,004,841.68 for the fiscal year ending at midnight tomorrow, Acting Revenue Commissioner Lee O. Gregory reported today.

The total was $7,058,799.11, ahead of the $68,946,133.37 collected in 1938-39.

Better business conditions in 1939 and the first six months of this year shot license, franchise, income and sales taxes to record high levels in the general fund and gasoline taxes and license fees to new tops in the highway fund.

General fund receipts were $40,147,051.01, a gain of $4,811,615.74 over 1938-39. As a result there was no need to divert $2,509,200 from highway funds as authorized by the legislature.

Highway fund income was $33,857,790.67, a gain of $2,277,992.57 over last fiscal year.

Income taxes brought in $12,700,105.64 for the first time. The best previous total was $11,296,281 in 1937-38.

The sales tax, a barometer of business, from June 1, 1939, through May 1940, brought in a record of $12,206,076.12. The best previous yield received when the tax did not permit exemptions now in effect was $11,320,245 in 1936-37.

Gasoline taxes brought in $25,905,732.83 to exceed by $1,000,000 the $24,440,996.29 last year and indicated good business up through May.

Well-Wishers Greet The GOP's Choice

Strangers and friends alike gave Wendell Willkie a warm greeting as he stepped from his Philadelphia hotel following his early morning nomination as the Republican presidential candidate. Here's a scene as well-wishers around the victorious candidate.

Rumania Given Assurance Both By Rome And Berlin

INTEREST NOW ON DEMOCRATS

Questions To Be Decided At Chicago Convention

Washington, June 29.—(AP)—Will it be Roosevelt vs. Willkie?

If so, who will be the President's running mate to balance the republican selection of Sen. McNary (R-Ore.).

These were the two big questions in Washington today as Democrats sought to gauge the strength of the Republican ticket headed by Wendell L. Willkie, New York utilities executive, and looked ahead to their own convention in Chicago two weeks hence.

The answer to the first query rested with President Roosevelt, but he has kept mum on his intentions regarding a third term. Ardent third-termers, however, have been more insistent than ever of late that the turn of events abroad makes it imperative he run again.

There is no dispute that Mr. Roosevelt commands sufficient convention delegates for the nomination. He had 707 1-2 votes pledged to him when the last tabulation was made and only 548 are required to nominate.

Even anti-third-termers concede the nomination to the president—if he wants it.

The unanimity is not so complete on the vice presidential nomination. Senator Byrnes (D-S.C.), staunch administration supporter, has spoken here of high as a likely contender for second place on a third term ticket. But there also has been talk of another Roosevelt-Garner slate. Other running mates mentioned have ranged from Secretary of State Hull to Fiorello H. LaGuardia, New York's mayor.

Payment Made on Debts Of County

Checks totalling $10,650, representing principal and interest payments on indebtedness of the county and various sub-divisions, were drawn and mailed today by County Treasurer J. Vance Perkins.

Of the total amount only one payment was on principal, this being $2,000 on a six per cent Farmville school bond dated July, 1921. An interest payment of $420 also was made on the issue.

Other payments, all interest, included: Ayden five per cent road bond dated September, 1916, $800; County five per cent funding bond dated June, 1919, $2,500; Ayden, five and one-half per cent school bond dated January, 1929, $1,980; Chicod five per cent road bond dated January, 1916, $350, this amount having been paid to the county sinking fund, holder of the security.

Axis Partners Agree To Prevent Further Advances

Bucharest, June 29.—(AP)—Germany and Italy were said of high authority tonight to have assured Rumania that they would prevent any further Red army advances into King Carol's kingdom.

The informants, who are close to the palace and cabinet, declared that the governments of Rome and Berlin had promised Rumania even land and air assistance if Russia made further attempt to overstep the line of territorial demarcation agreed by Barol in ceding Bessarabia and northern Bucovina to the Soviets.

Aid Still Needed In Little Norway

Although the fighting in Norway has terminated with the withdrawal of allied troops and the surrender of Norway's own soldiers, the need for assistance still remains great in the little seaside county.

To date the American Red Cross has sent $45,000 abroad for the relief of the Norwegian sufferers. Of this amount $25,000 was sent to the British Red Cross which has purchased and shipped relief supplies to Norway. The remainder was forwarded to the Swedish Red Cross to assist in caring for Norwegian refugees fleeing to Sweden.

The British Red Cross has sent a representative to Norway to act for both it and the American Red Cross in supervision of relief.

MENUTT HEARD AT ALBEMARLE

Declares This Country No Nation Of Chamberlains

Albemarle, N. C., June 29 (AP)—Federal security administrator Paul V. McNutt told an audience today at the dedication of Morrow Mountain state park that "America is not a nation of Chamberlains. And if the time comes to defend democratic liberties there will be no appeasement here."

McNutt and Gov. Hoey were the principal speakers at the dedication of the park, the largest recreational area maintained by the state.

McNutt, pointing out that this nation was a peace-loving people and consequently had devoted comparatively little time and money to building armaments and military establishments, said:

"But we unto the man or the nation that thinks America can not or will not defend itself, its life and its liberties. The response to the president's call to the nation to arm itself leaves no doubt about the answer. And if the occasion arises it will appear how quickly this nation of happy, sports-loving men and women and boys and girls will be ready to make the sacrifices necessary to defend their freedom."

Outlook For Graduates Babson Says Youth Face Changed World And Opportunities

Dixville Notch, N. H., June 29.—America's mammoth educational mills have just thrown 2,000,000 school and college graduates on the doorsteps of industry. Already plagued by nearly 10,000,000 jobless, this new army of hopeful odds furthers testimony to the fact that America must as a vital part of our defense program, solve the unemployment problem. It is a new world that greets these 2,000,000 fledglings, a vastly different world than the textbooks just tucked away on the shelves told them about. But these newcomers into the battle of life are desperately needed in helping America realistically face her challenge in this world-wide revolution.

Profit Trend Down Bluntly, graduates must recognize there are not the same opportunities for them that there were for their fathers and mothers. Jobs cannot pay so much in the future as they have in the past. For the first time in half a century the trend of the profits of American business is headed downward. The increased efficiency of our factories, machines, and gadgets cannot offset the huge toll which defense expenditures will take.

For five decades, America's un-passed engineers constantly improved the efficiency of our industrial machine. This increased efficiency sopped up sensational advances in government and labor costs. Machines have made it temporarily possible to work less, waste more, and yet enjoy a higher standard of living. Now, with government and labor costs still rising, increased efficiency of American factories and machines cannot hope to overcome the additional burdens of mammoth defense expenses as well.

Effect of a German Victory With that point firmly fixed in mind, today's graduate should also weigh the effect of a German-controlled Europe on American economy. Bluntly, again, the truth here is that the United States is in the worst competitive position in history. Despite our efficient industrial methods, we are on the defensive in world markets because of our high salaries, high wages, high taxes, and terrible waste. Moreover, political influence always follows economic influence. Germany, Japan, and Italy will exploit this to the fullest extent, particularly in South America. Individually-controlled democratic American businesses will find

Soviet Army Pushes Into Area Ahead Agreed Line

Russian Thrust Accompanied By Sporadic Fighting; Hungary Rushes Troops To Rumanian Border In Threat Of Own Invasion; Berlin Scoffs At Idea Of Any Great Balkan Dislocation

By The Associated Press

Armed forces of Soviet Russia penetrated deeper into Rumania today, reportedly passing boundaries of territory yielded under ultimatum, and the Balkans trembled under new war alarms, as King Carol sped mobilization of 2,000,000 men.

Sporadic fighting accompanied the Russian thrust.

Reports through uncertain communications out of areas jammed with refugees and soldiers said the Red army occupying Bessarabia and northern Bukovina might have crossed agreed limits in error.

Semi-official sources said the Soviet forces were in two towns 15 and 25 miles west of the river Pruth, western boundary of Bessarabia.

Events of war and war-affected developments around the world were the following:

Great Britain, facing a crisis with Japan, ordered compulsory removal of all European women and children from Hongkong, British crown colony. United States officials were expected to follow suit.

Japan's foreign minister warned Western powers that Japan would permit no upset in the status quo in East Asia and the South seas.

Hungary, watching the Russian invasion of Rumania with anxious eyes, rushed troops to the Rumanian border and threatened an invasion of her own if the Red drive should continue.

Furthermore, Hungarian officials said they had the support of both Germany and Italy in this stand.

In Berlin, however, German official circles scoffed at the idea that any great dislocations were in prospect for the Balkans, but acknowledged that Germany's interest was to prevent a spread of war to a region which is such an important source of raw materials.

Street fighting with perhaps scores of citizens killed and wounded was reported in Cernauti, Bessarabian city in the area which Rumania gave back to Russia rather than go to war. Communists and anti-Communists residents fought before the Red army got there yesterday afternoon. Then the anti-Communists took to the roofs and continued shooting at the Red troops.

Many Russian soldiers were reported killed at an undisclosed spot when they disregarded the cease fire limits.

LIKES FIRST GRADERS: THEY SHOW RESULTS

Clarksburg, W. Va.—(AP)—After 47 years as a first-grade teacher, Mrs. Clara Conrad decided to retire. She never taught in any other grade.

"When the children first start to school," she said, "they are so eager and honest that you can really work with them and see the results from day to day."

The commencement Friday afternoon ended the Meadowbrook Bible School. The school has been under the supervision of Miss Mary Council Horns. Sidney Crane held the morning devotions and had charge of the singing. Mrs. Myrtle Meeks assisted by Mary Elizabeth Allen had charge of the Primary Class; Miss Mary Council Horns had the Intermediate Class; and Miss Minnie Belle Craft had the Senior class. The total enrollment of the school was 68 with an average attendance of 45. Mr. Crane opened the Commencement by having the school sing "This is My Father's World." Miss Horns welcomed the visitors. She then read a list of the pupils that had a perfect attendance record. They were: Edna Louise Pollard, Virginia Robeson, Marjorie Dean Robeson, Melba Grace Andrews, Bilibeth Ayers, Lillian Jolly, Sambo Fleming, Lillian Nelson, Annie Bruce Nelson, Frances Robinson, Charles Dudley, Clifford Sullivan and Ruby Seigler. After this the children gave their program. The Primary Class gave a review of the things they had done during Bible School. Each child repeated a verse they had learned from the Bible. They sang two songs, "I Washed My Hands This Morning" and "Father, We Thank Thee". The Intermediate Class gave a review of the lesson they had each day. Barbara Clement read verses from the Bible that went with the lessons. They told about painting stobs to put around the shrubbery in the church yard. The children gave the birth and life of Jesus in their own words and used pictures to illustrate the different steps they studied in his life. The Senior Class repeated the fourteenth chapter of St. John, verses 1-12. Each child had a verse that was important to him, that he said. In these verses they brought out the important events in Jesus' life. They gave the places that these verses could be found in the Bible. The class made booklets. In these they had a list of references in the Bible that they would need, the story of the life of Jesus, each day's lesson with the place it could be found in the Bible. Books in the old and new Testaments, and pictures that illustrated the lessons they had studied. The entire school sang, "Fairest Lord Jesus, Tell Me the Stories of Jesus," "I Would Be Like Jesus," "I Would Be True," and "Through the Love of God, Our Father". Mrs. Hubert, assisted by some of the children, served lemonade and cakes to all those present. Celebrates Birthday. Mrs. A. V. Gilson celebrated her twenty-eighth birthday Friday at her new home on the Washington highway. Only a few friends and members of her family were present. Mrs. J. C. Williams, mother of Mrs. Gilson, served ice cream and cake to the guests. Those present were: Mesdames J. C. Williams, Jack Williams, E. L. Edwards, Jimmy Johnson, Carl Weston, Tom Adams, Alfred Wainright, and Misses Elizabeth Williams, Mary Rose Edwards, Frances and Jean Williams; Messrs. Harold and Jimmy Lee Johnson, Bobby and Kenneth Adams. Mrs. Gilson was presented many lovely gifts.

Angus-Guy Mr. and Mrs. James Burton James announce the marriage of their daughter Nina James Guy to Mr. John Angus, Jr. on Saturday morning, June twenty-ninth, Nineteen hundred and forty Greenville, North Carolina At Home 419 South Park Avenue Asheboro, N. C.

Mrs. Nina James Guy was married today at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Burton James, of Greenville, N. C., to Mr. John Angus, Jr. of Chicago and Winston-Salem, in a ceremony marked by beauty and classic simplicity. The marriage vows were spoken in a setting of southern smiles and fern, a background for arrangements of white gladioli and lilies. The Rev. T. M. Grant, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, performed the ceremony.

Schubert's "Ave-Maria," "Liebestraum," and Debussy's "Clair de Lune" were among selections played by the harpist, Mrs. R. M. Huguenin of Raleigh, in a musical program prior to the ceremony. The bride wore pale blue chiffon over taffeta, with a picture hat of blue horsehair, and carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Frances Fries Willingham, of Winston-Salem, who wore pink evel with a large pink straw hat, trimmed with delphinium blue veil, and carried a bouquet of mixed summer flowers. The groom had as best man W. A. Armfield, of Winston-Salem.

Mrs. Angus, mother of the groom, wore lace with a corsage of lilies of the valley and gardenias. Mrs. James wore blue flowered chiffon with a gardenia corsage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Burton James, of Greenville, N. C., and granddaughter of the late Col. and Mrs. F. G. James, and also the granddaughter of Mr. and the late Mrs. Henry R. Brown, of Greenville, Tennessee. She attended school at Atlanta, Ga., and Baltimore, Md.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Angus, of Chicago, Ill. He is a graduate of Lawrenceville, Princeton University, and Chicago University Law School. He is a member of the Princeton Elm Club and of Twin City Club and the Forsyth Country Club of Winston-Salem. He is a reserve officer of the United States Artillery, and is at present connected with the textile industry in Asheboro, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. James were hosts at a wedding breakfast following the ceremony. A graceful arrangement of white roses and blue delphinium, in a crystal bowl, centered the dining table, covered with white organdie over white satin. At either side, rose shaped crystal flower holders were filled with mixed summer flowers in delicate colors. Crystal compotes, holding green mints were at either end of the table. On the buffet was a lovely arrangement of white gladioli, blue delphinium and lilies.

Punch was served in the sun room, where lavender and yellow gladioli and yellow daisies carried out the color note. Assisting the hostess throughout the house, which was decorated in its entirety with a profusion of colorful summer flowers, were: Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lipscomb, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Flanagan, Miss Elizabeth Tibbatts, Mr. and Mrs. David Mosier, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Rivers, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Blount, Mr. and Mrs. B. Sugg, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Forty Years Ago Today

Six months more and a new century comes. No, of course, there is no alliance nor even understanding between Great Britain and the United States, but American troops are marching and fighting under orders of British officers in China all the same. And the British wonder why students do not do the same without complaint. Surely in view of the brilliancy shown in South Africa by British generals, no one could wish more able leadership than their's. A complimentary German was given Friday night in the opera house by Messrs. Cary B. Mayo and Major I. Fleming in honor of the guest of Miss Bertha Patrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Andrews were here yesterday from Bethel, visiting Mrs. N. R. Edwards. Peggy, daughter of Mrs. Edwards returned home with Mrs. Andrews. Sylvester Fleming and Richard Jackson went to Norfolk Friday on business. Miss Juanita Hoell has returned home after visiting Miss Rosa May Alligood in Washington, N. C.

Cox Mill News

Mrs. Charlie Elks, Mrs. Leon Evans, and Miss Lizzie Edwards and their mother visited Mrs. Walter Cox on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Tyre Buck are spending the week-end with Mrs. Buck's mother in Edenton. Mrs. L. S. Tyson, Miss Bernice Tyson and Mrs. B. C. Tyson were shoppers in Washington Thursday. Mrs. W. E. Venters, Miss Mildred Beeton and L. C. Venters were in Raleigh Friday. Peggy Anne Cox is visiting Mrs. F. D. Moore this week. Friends of Myrtle M. Tyndall will be glad to know that she is back home from Duke hospital and her condition is much improved. Miss Bennie Tyson is ill at her home. Mrs. J. M. Cox's condition is improved and she is able to be out again.

Mrs. James Smith Honored Mrs. Marvin Smith and Mrs. Corey Stokes received at an informal tea Tuesday afternoon from 3:00-5:00 o'clock at the Chicod Home Economics building, honoring Mrs. James Smith, recent bride. Spring flowers were used in decorating the building. Mrs. Corey Stokes presided over the punch bowl, assisted by Mrs. Herman Stokes. Ritz and cookies were served with the punch. During the afternoon guests presented the honoree with lovely gifts. Around 300 friends called. Entertain at Bridge Mrs. Newman Lewis and Miss Mildred Beeton entertained at a Bridge Party Wednesday evening. Gladioli were placed in attractive arrangements in the living room, where guests assembled at eight tables. Iced drinks were served at the first progression.

Mrs. Uran Cox received a lovely gift for high score, Mrs. Jimmie Edwards low. For men, Durwood Stanley high, James Smith low; Walter Cox, floating prize. Mesdames W. E. Venters, Jimmie Morris, James Smith, Tyre Buckall, recent brides were remembered with a lovely gift. At the conclusion the hostesses assisted by Mrs. Durwood Stanley, served ice cream and cake.

Home Demonstration Meets The Home Demonstration Club met at the Home Economics building Thursday. Pierce club was the guest for the day. Refinishing furniture was the subject. Several pieces of furniture were used for the demonstrations. Miss Ethel Nice demonstrated many interesting things to do for old furniture: Removing paint, varnishing, sanding, waxing, painting and shining were all taken up. Lunch with tea was served in a picnic style. Our next meeting will be at the usual time next month. Miss Nice will help us with canning, so be sure and bring your vegetables and jars early.

BABSON

(Continued from page one) themselves at the mercy of state-controlled Fascist cartels. Confident of victory, Germany has just offered steel, for instance, to South America for October delivery at a substantial reduction from our prices. She can dictate selling prices because she can dictate what she pays for wages and raw materials. This Nazi announcement sounds an ominous note not only for our economy, but for our security. Naturally, our export firms are frightened. Hence, the 1940 job-seeker should not count on foreign trade opportunities. Opportunities Selective So far this is a pretty dismal outlook, but balanced against the uncertain picture of America's economy as a whole are definite opportunities in selected industries. Here are a few: 1. Chemicals: Most chemical companies are prosperous and have a tremendous future. Great developments are taking place in the plastic industry particularly. The future offers unlimited opportunities—war or peace, Fascism or Democracy, New Deal or Old Deal. 2. Aviation: The industry is America's youngest, America's most hopeful. The day is not too distant when it will be as cheap to ride the highways as the railways and the commercial piloting should enter through the air corps. But the industry needs more than pilots—it needs young men to grow up with it in its vital administrative work. 3. Building: One of the greatest contributions of the New Deal to the American scene is its attempts to put homes in the reach of small income brackets. It has solved the problem of financing and it is now attempting to solve the problem of high costs. Despite the uncertainties that war always brings to home building, I believe that building, its products, and trades offer real opportunities. 4. Merchandising: America still needs better salesmen. This includes stores, mail order, advertising, and personal selling. Whatever goods are made, or whoever makes them, they must be sold, irrespective of the value of the dollar or the character of the government. 5. Defense: The army, navy, air force, coast defense need able young men to make defense their career. The past 25 years clearly show that disarmament is a snare and a delusion,—that this country must not be caught unawares as were France and Great Britain in 1939. Must Make Opportunities I am attending a convention of fire chiefs—men who never consider themselves and have no fear of danger. I cannot help thinking that that they have the key to real success. It is true that today there are new conditions to combat, that competition is very severe, and that 1940 graduates cannot depend on government aid, relief, or artificial crutches of any kind. Those, however, who make up their minds to work harder and longer hours, to follow the New Testament's command—"to give full measure, pressed down and running over"—those graduates will make opportunities for themselves which may lead to more in the end than they ever hoped. In short, the future of the 1920 graduate depended upon what was about him; but the future of the 1940 graduate depends upon what is in him. Opportunities? Yes! But the opportunities of today are in the development—not of the character of the land but of the character of the man! National Adequate Wiring Bureau, this design for modern electric service enhances the extra livability of the other features of the house. Capacity and circuiting specifications assure continued economy in the increasing use of electricity which is the trend today. According to Mr. A. C. Tadlock of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, this house can be erected in Greenville for about $4,000. Working drawings and specifications recommended by Architect Evans and by the Monthly Small House Club, Inc., may be seen at the office of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Thrift Is Emphasized For House Of Month

The July house of the month, designed for the Monthly Small House Club, Inc., by the well-known architect, Rudolph Evans, is a pleasing adaptation of neo-classic architecture to the American scene. This July house of the month, sponsored in Greenville by First Federal Savings and Loan Association, being an almost perfect square, provides the smallest possible amount of wall space and is, therefore, the most economical type of house that can be constructed. It relies wholly on simplicity of line for its pleasing exterior. It contains only 13,000 cubic feet exclusive of the basement and in most sections could be built without a cellar for as little as $4,000. It is so designed, however, that it can be constructed above a full basement, in which cases the stairs to the basement descend through what is shown on the floor plan as the Heater Room (H. R.). By glass-enclosing the dining porch, this compact four room house becomes a five room home. The kitchen is particularly worthy of note. Although the total kitchen area is just about 100 square feet it is so efficiently arranged that the household chores should almost do themselves. The front entrance is under a protected vestibule and opens, not directly into the living room, but into an entrance hall with a coat closet. Through skillful planning, an abundance of closets is provided out of a minimum of space. Thrift and serviceable is the plan for electric wiring indicated on the architect's plans. Approved by the

Help Arrange For Debutante Ball

Pictured above is the debutante committee which has been selected to help the Terpsichorean club of Raleigh with its twentieth annual debutante ball. The ball is to be held in the Raleigh Memorial auditorium on September 6, 1940. Under the present plans, the week-end of entertainment honoring the debutantes is to be even more elaborate than that of years past. The high light of the occasion will be the presentation to society of the 1940 debutantes of North Carolina by the Terpsichorean club. A large number of the prominent young people of the state are expected to attend. Members of the committee are, from left to right: Standing: Frances McKee, Alice Cheshire, Nancy Maupin, Alice Broughton, Katherine Harris, and Barbara Thompson. Seated: Dorothy Thurman, Sue Joyner, Olive Cruikshank, chairman, Flora McDonald, and Lucile Aycock.

Casual Slaughters By VIRGINIA HANSON. YESTERDAY: Immerman, the waiter, seems agitated at the table conversation. After lunch, Felicia drives to Chicago to do some shopping and Key goes to the Post Exchange. Immerman is there buying a regimental insignia like the one connected with the first robbery. Chapter Five One Paying Guest I WANTED to tell Adam the incident but two second lieutenants found me first and established themselves firmly and dutifully at my side, addressing their attentions so obviously to the major's girl that I felt about eighty instead of twenty-four. When Colonel Pennant arrived they sprang to their feet and moved chairs and carried drinks, then effaced themselves like well-bred children, haloed with knowledge of duty well done. The girls, Colonel Pennant explained, were still in the city. "You couldn't get them to leave until the stores close," he went on cheerfully. "I long ago gave up trying to understand the feminine lust for shopping. And when you consider that they have the extra thrill of helping choose a trousseau, I shall be surprised if they don't get locked in."

Oh, for the Life of a War Correspondent... Bern, Switzerland. Dear Editor: Just to give you an idea of what your correspondent is up against in a country like Switzerland where they take their Fifth Columns and spies seriously listen to this. The other day the newspapers carried a warning to all good Swiss (there are about 4,000,000 of them) to watch out for strangers who call up on the telephone and ask for information. The general staff said they might be spies. Now the general staff and I knew they didn't mean me—but the Swiss didn't. Next day a German bombing plane started home from France across Swiss territory. A Swiss fighting plane shot it down near Yverdon. A general staff communique told me that much. Naturally I wanted to know more. I telephoned the Yverdon police. I explained who I was and asked if the Germans had been killed. "I don't know you," said the gendarme. I explained. He said he still didn't know me, and I was forced to admit he was right. I had never been to Yverdon. He said he couldn't tell me anything. I asked who could. He said he couldn't even tell me that. I asked if he knew anybody who could introduce us. He didn't and I didn't. Finally, he said if I would call up the military commander of Yverdon that gentleman might tell the policeman to tell me if the Germans were dead or not. I asked for the number of the military commander at Yverdon. He said he couldn't possibly tell me that—it was obviously military information. Finally he suggested I call the long distance operator. She said she had orders not to tell any strange man any military number. A minute later she called me back and gave me the chief operator. I explained the whole thing and she gave me the military commander of Bern. He wouldn't even tell me his name, but suggested I call general staff headquarters. He said he wouldn't tell me the number, but he'd get the operator to give it to me. There somebody, who wouldn't give me his right name either, said he knew what had happened to the plane's crew, but couldn't tell me, because he wasn't allowed to say anything more than the official communique said. And that was that. Sincerely, Your AP correspondent. P. S. The German crew is alive, well, and imprisoned. I'd hate to be a Fifth Columnist here. It's bad enough trying to be a newspaperman.

Strength For The Day By EARL L. DOUGLASS

A REALITY HARD TO FACE "Every man shall bear his own burden" Galatians 6:15. This is one of the hardest realities in life to face. Much as we may desire to pass on responsibility to others, this must be regarded in large measure as sheer impossibility. Many people grow resentful over their burdens, crying out to heaven and asking why those particular burdens are on their hearts. If something else had been sent, it could have been so easily borne, but this one thing crushes them to the earth and makes the day, and sometimes the night, a season of despair. This simply adds to the weight of the burden the weight of a spirit which is lacking in nobility and courage. We fall victim to the temptation to be led away from the very problem we are trying to solve. We do ourselves a fearful injustice when we take such an attitude. One thing we must do, if we would face life with resolution and courage: we must bear our own burdens, accept them, strap them securely to our shoulders and count ourselves happy that we have been made responsible for this one thing. Here is a verse with which to reinforce our courage when we face the worst: "I like the man who faces what he must. With step triumphant and a heart of cheer: Who fights the daily battle without fear: Whose hopes fail, yet keeps unfaltering true: That God is God." (All rights reserved—Babson Newspaper Syndicate) in the slightest an important work. The high patriotic duty of every official is to weigh, analyze and plan budgets for the various departments which will be models of economy. Will they do it? The American people must demand maximum results for every dollar spent. Economic preparedness is a vital partner of military preparedness. Governmental waste from now on is one of our country's most insidious enemies, for it can be disguised in so many forms.

Washington Daybook By Jack Stinson. Washington—Notes from the cuff of a shirt worn at Philadelphia: Say, what is this... a Hollywood world premiere? Gangs of gawkers shut the marquee lane to G. O. P. national headquarters. Maybe Hoover, Landon, Taft and Company don't have glamour, but they sure got what it takes to draw the madding throng. Sam Pryor, Jr., who is running this whole shebang, being convention committee chairman, is right. There's not much giggling going on... But it's the first time in my life I ever paid 25 cents for a pitcher of cracked ice. Remind me to ask Martha Taft about that little carnation-red platter of hat... Did she buy it to match the carnations or did "Bob" pick red carnations as his flower after he saw the hat?

Short Shots

People are crazy, but it's fun being crazy. Say, lady, give me that banner! A Fifth Columnist? Most discussed sandwich man at the convention: The fellow who walked up and down the most crowded block of Broad Street, between signs that read: "Zippers installed and repaired while you wait." The fellow that manages that second-run theater house must be a fifth columnist here for the Democrats. The day the G. O. P. installed their famous peace plank in the platform, he put on the double bill: "Fire Over England" and "French Without Tears." Say, what goes on here, a riot? Who are they mobbing? Who's the victim? There must be 3,000 pushing, jamming, struggling people. What's up? (Fifteen minutes later, when a flying squadron of police had gently but firmly thinned the mob, I found out. It was Herbert Hoover, arriving to make his speech.) Greta Garbo and Hedy Lamarr combined, in their finest bathing suits, couldn't make an entrance like that. Say, how am I going to sleep tonight with those six parties raging around me? Maybe I ain't. But I'm sure going to the hotel and get the weight off my aching feet. Conventions are great if you've got the constitution of an elephant. Several Tar Heel officials point out that Wendell Wilkie, Republican nominee for president, is GOP prototype in action and general demeanor to North Carolina's "Iron Major," Gregg Cherry, about as fine a rough and rowdy, two fisted political leader as is to be found in a month's travel. Raleigh American Legionnaires started something when they launched a drive to register all aliens under the 1927 Bolich act. Only 43 registered in the 13 years following its adoption. In the last ten days 26 names have been added, and the Wake superior court clerk estimates that at least 200 will be put on the books as the result of the campaign.

Adam Seemed to be everywhere at once.

"Felicia is in town, too," I said. I had yielded to his insistence and let him order a glass of sherry for me. I looked at him over it and thought again what an attractive person he was. "I feel a little improper being here in bachelor quarters without a chaperone. I don't believe I've thanked you and Mrs. Pennant for being so nice about letting me have rooms here. I assure you I won't abuse the privilege." He looked slightly shocked. "You don't need to tell me that," he said gravely, with a trace of old-fashioned gallantry. "We're honored to have you here. We're only sorry we couldn't offer you our own hospitality. At any other time—" He was going to tell me of the plans for the wedding, which was to be in September, when the gong rang and we went in to dinner. Immerman was not there. A strange waiter took care of us. But I still had no opportunity to speak to Adam about him. The Club SO MANY things were to happen at the club during that fortnight that it occurs to me I should describe it in some detail. On some posts the bachelor quarters and the officers' club are separate, but at Fort Michigan they occupy the same building—a big new building of gray stone, shaped rather like a broad, flattened letter H. The main entrance, approached by a semicircular drive, is in the central bar of the H. Across this section, from wall to wall of the flanking wings, stretches the glassed veranda furnished in brightly patterned willow, with a ping-pong table at one end. Behind the veranda is the large room usually furnished as a lounge, with easy chairs and reading lamps and tables invitingly spread with magazines, but which is cleared for the fortnightly hops, the meetings of the Ladies' Bridge Club and for occasional other, privately given parties of the commissioned personnel. From the paneled walls of this room framed oil paintings of officers in uniforms old and modern look benignly down. At the back of the lounge there is the broad main stairway and on either side of it a cloakroom and a powder room. To the right of the lounge, as you enter from the street, is the chromium and red bar, its walls decorated with the campaign. Overheard in the Bryson City office of the N. C. State Employment Service, according to the N.C.E.S. "News." Interviewer No. 1: — Where is that dam list? Interviewer No. 2: — "What dam list?" WASTE! OUR NUMBER ONE ENEMY

There is growing public demand that all government expenditures be drastically reduced by legal mandate, with the sole exception of appropriations for interest on the national debt and for the great rearmament program. The American people are today ready and eager to make any necessary sacrifices to the end that the country may be made secure against invasion. They will literally give until it hurts, and then give again. But the American people are in no mood to see their money further squandered for uneconomic, unnecessary and wasteful purposes. The time has passed when we can afford political "luxuries". The time has come when every possible nickel must be saved for the necessities. In all probability, great cost cuts could be made so far as most governmental activities are concerned without impairing

Eating And Drinking

People are nuts. The bars are full by breakfast time. Guess eye-openers are a convention institution. If you want to hear a story about stowing away the food, remind me to tell you about that chicken dinner Wendell Wilkie tossed for the Negro delegates. Young man who grew most in stature during the convention: Harold E. Stassen, 33-year-old Minnesota governor. His grin is fetching. His platform delivery is a perfect example of controlled force. It's a trick of getting vibrantly tuned up inside and continuing to appear outwardly calm. Very few gestures, no shouting. Say, why hasn't somebody written a dissertation on what loud-speaker systems and radio have done to public speaking technique? That elderly gent with the white mustache, prodding about through convention night-life, is Michigan's Gov. Lorne Dickenson. Remember, he's the sinner who put the stamp of wicked Babylon on New York cafe society. Wonder what he'll have to say about the whoopee Republicans in Philly? Unkindes' convention cut came from the fellow who, when offered a Wilkie button, said: "Hell, no, I'm a Republican." So were a lot of those people in that mad-dance that wore through the Bellevue-Stratford lobby shouting, "We want Wilkie!" People are crazy. Look at them piling in behind that Dewey-for-President fife and drum corps. Why, it's developing into a parade. I need a little air. Think I'll string along and see what happens. No thanks, lady, I won't carry a banner. I just came along for the stroll. Everybody's singing, guess I will, too. Say, this is fun. Being a strict neutral, I'll have to march in all other candidate's parades just to square myself.

Greenies Get First Victory Over Goldsboro This Season

FREDDY HURLS FIVE-HIT BALL

Greenies Get 13 Hits To Rack Up 8 to 1 Victory

Rube Wilson's Greenies won their first victory of the 1940 season over the Goldsboro team last night, coming out on the long end of an eight to one count.

The Greenies came very close to winning a protested game of June 18. The game was protested by Greenville on the grounds that the umpire called a scheduled seven-inning affair at the end of the sixth two minutes before the deadline of 11:50 for starting an inning and the protest was sustained and the seventh inning ordered played.

Greenville held Goldsboro in their half of the seventh and then scored one run and got the winning rally on base. Thornton, first man up, doubled down right field line. Shelton and Jenkins struck out. Caligiuri hit a long double to right center, scoring Thornton. Dides and Kracke walked to fill the bases. Manager Rube Wilson came to bat with the winning run on base, but he fanned, making strike-outs for the frame.

In the regulation affair, started immediately upon the completion of the protested game, Greenville jumped into a three-run lead in the first, a margin which proved sufficient to win. But to make certain and with a determination to break the jinx held all season by Goldsboro, the locals added one more in the third, the same frame in which Goldsboro got its lone tally and two each in the fifth and sixth.

With The Swimmers

By WARREN FICKLEN

Last night the Goldsboro Swimming team defeated Greenville by a combined score of 94 to 49, the boys score 42-35 and the girls 52-14. Although the girls were badly defeated, the boys meet with nip and tuck all of the way. The Goldsboro boys got 20 points from 3 events alone, the two relays and diving. Before the diving started, Greenville was in the lead by a 15-11 score, and until just before the last relay, the score was tied at 35-35. Ernest Crone, E. C. S. A. diving champion, and Kenneth Johnson dived for Goldsboro, and "Snag" Clark dived for Greenville. Clark, although an inexperienced diver, deserves much credit for his showing last night. Official results, the winner named first, are as follows.

Boys: 300 yard medley relay, Goldsboro, Simmons, Hodgins, Ward, Greenville, Edwards, Johnson, Brown; time 3:59.1.

220 freestyle, Shumate, Goldsboro; Taylor, Greenville; Kittrell, Greenville; time 2:40.2.

50 yard freestyle: Ficklen, Greenville; Warren, Greenville; Sommons, Goldsboro; time 28.4 seconds; diving: Crone, Goldsboro; Johnson, Goldsboro; Clark, Greenville.

105 yard individual medley, Shumate, Goldsboro; Edwards, Greenville; time 1:18.

100 yard freestyle, Ben Ward, Goldsboro; Brown, Greenville; Johnson, Greenville; time 1:01.2.

100 yard breaststroke, Hodgins, Goldsboro; Crone Goldsboro; Horne, Greenville; time 1:21.8.

100 yard backstroke: Edwards, Greenville; Turner, Greenville; time 1:19.6.

400 yard freestyle relay: Goldsboro, Simmons, Crone, Ward, Shumate; Greenville, Johnson, Kittrell, Taylor, Brown; time 4:46.2.

Girls: 300 yard medley relay: Goldsboro, Mechaux, Mallard, Liles; time 4:45.1.

220 yard freestyle, Lancaster, Goldsboro; Moye, Greenville; time 3:29.4.

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS
Blount-Harvey 11, R. C. Cola 9. Carolina Dairy 13, Double Cola 12.

The cellarite Carolina Dairy team overcame an 11-run lead last night to defeat the league-leading Double Cola team in the last half of the seventh inning 12-12. Double Cola got off to a big start, scoring one in the first, seven in the second, one in the third and two in the fourth, all before Carolina Dairy had marked up a single score. It was a different story, however, from then on. The Dairy boys made five in their half of the fourth and came back in the fifth with a determination to get five more, but they bettered this and got six to pull into a 11-all tie. Neither team scored in the sixth, but Double Cola made one in the half of the seventh, Carolina Dairy came to bat and Brees, first man up singled, J. D. Simpson got on when Griffin errored his infield blow. Patty and Sermons singled and Moye was safe at first, but Simpson was out coming home. Powell singled, bringing home the winning run, Brees having scored on Sermon's single.

Ernest Wells with three for three led the winners at the bat. In the first game of the evening Blount-Harvey got off to a good start, but R. C. Cola threatened in the latter stages of the game. The department store team made four each in the first and second innings, Blount having hit a three-run homer in the first and Gibbs a triple in the second. Gibbs and Tripp with three for four, led at bat. Blount-Harvey made its final three runs in the fifth frame, when Sumrell potted out a homer with two on.

R. C. Cola did not get started until the fourth inning, the first three having seen three up and three down. The R. C. boys got three in each of the fourth, fifth and sixth, but fell short of knocking the count.

STOKES TEAM PLAYS SUNDAY

Fast-Stepping Nine to Engage Pactolus Team

Stokes engages Pactolus in a baseball game at Stokes on Sunday, June 30. Stokes has lost only one game so far this season. The pitching staff is featured by Franklin "Lefty" Roebuck, an E. C. T. C. product. The infield is composed as follows: Auburn White-hurst, catcher; Gordon "Spooky" Clark, an A. C. C. product, first; Carroll Whichard, a Lenoir-Rhyne player, second; Forrest Whitley, shortstop; H. L. Whitehurst, third; and the outfield is made of: C. H. "Red" Roebuck, an A. C. C. player, left field and pitcher; A. Whitley, center field; T. A. Whitehurst, right field; Carl Simmons, right field.

It promises to be a good game as these two teams have met before, with Stokes bringing home the bacon by a 11-8 score. Both teams have had more experience and it should be a lots better game than before.

Australia's 1939-40 wheat crop is estimated at 215,000,000 bushels.

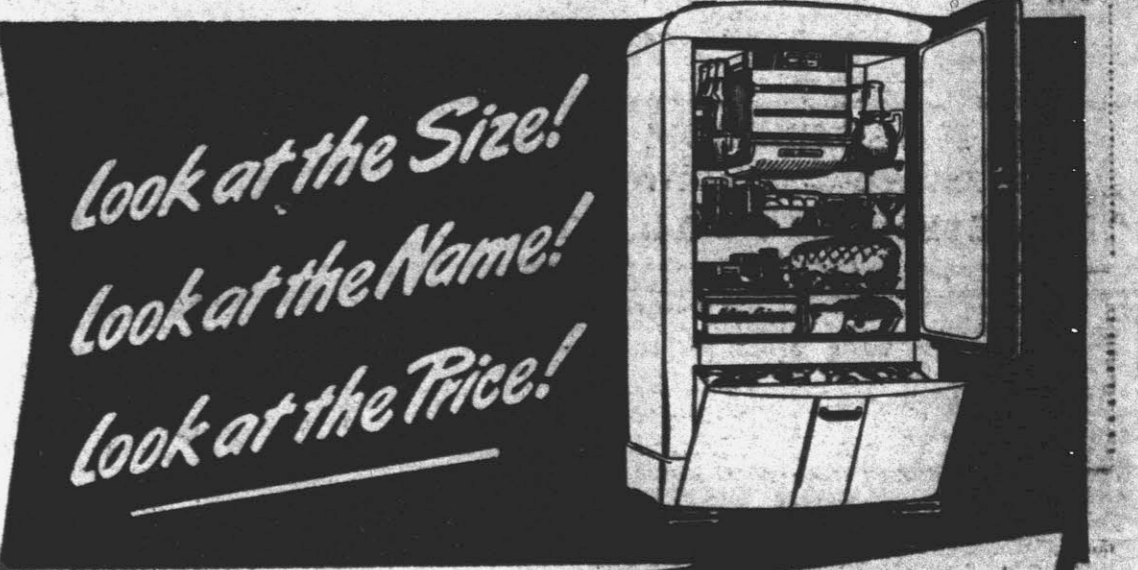

Uruguay does not have capital punishment.

Forfeit Credited To Greenies Team

The Greenies had another game credited in their favor today when President Goodman advised that the loss suffered by the locals at the hands of Williamston a week or so ago had been ruled out and the game forfeited.

Williamston also lost two other games, one each to Tarboro and New Bern, for the same reason — playing a man not under contract. The league prey held that the Martins used Nick Rhanbe in several games without having him under contract and therefore all its games won under these circumstances were ruled out and ordered forfeited to their opponents.

It is agreed with practical unanimity that the state faces something in the nature of a real crisis in the very near future.

Governor-nominate J. Melville Broughton, speaking Thursday night at the North Carolina Press Association meeting in Hendersonville posed a number of very im-portant questions as to the course events over the next year or so.

Here is how he enumerated some of the problems:

"Problem number one will relate to our agricultural situation. The farmers of North Carolina are con-fronted with a world situation that is without precedent. It has already involved an appalling loss of for- eign markets with no improvement in sight. Clear thinking and con-centrated action are essential if disaster is to be averted.

"A considerable decline in state revenues may be one of the conse- quences of war conditions abroad. If this should occur we will be con-fronted by several alternatives, namely, (a) curtailment of state

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, June 29.—(AP)—Buy- ing demand faltered in today's stock market, and many traders stepped aside to await further developments in politics, business and the Euro- pean war.

A portion of yesterday's rally seeped into the list at the start, when fractional gains were register- ed in most departments. At the close prices were spotty with several lead- ers down a shade to around a point. Transfers approximated 200,000 shares.

WILL DISCUSS LEAF CONTROL

Hutson To Be Speak- er at Oxford To- bacco Test Farm

Oxford, June 29.—A discussion of "the tobacco situation and control program" of the future by J. B. Hutson of Washington, D. C., chief of the southeastern division, mar- keting section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, will be a prominent feature of the 18th an- nual field day to be held here at the Oxford Tobacco Station, Tuesday, July 2.

Governor Hoey will be the prin- cipal speaker on the program to be presented in conjunction with the Granville County Centennial Cele- bration. He will be introduced by Commissioner of Agriculture W. Kerr Scott.

Dr. T. B. Hutcheson, chief agronom- ist, V. P. I. at Blacksburg, Va., will speak on "Practical Methods of Soil Building and Fertilization." Be- tween 8,000 and 10,000 farmers and their friends are expected for the field day exercises over which Frank W. Hancock, Jr., member of the Federal Housing Administration board, will preside.

E. G. Moss, assistant director in charge of the station, will supervise tours of the experimental plots on the farm. Exhibits will be present- ed by State College, U. S. and N. C. Department of Agriculture special- ists.

The program for women, begin- ning at 2 o'clock, will be in charge of Miss Virginia Wilson, Granville county home agent, with Miss An- amerl Arant, district agent of U. S. State College Extension Service, as speaker. Granville County Agent C. V. Morgan and Assistant Agent W. B. Jones will be in charge of a nail driving contest for women.

Four-H club members of Caswell, Durham, Franklin, Granville, Per- son and Wake counties will present a pageant in the afternoon.

EXPECT CROWD AT FIELD DAY

Annual Affair To Be Held at Test Farm On July 18th

Reflector Bureau.

By HENRY AVERILL.

Raleigh, June 29.—The 35th an- nual field day at Piedmont Test Farm, Statesville, July 18, is ex- pected to attract farmers from at least 30 counties.

Commissioner of Agriculture W. Kerr Scott said today that promi- nent agricultural and industrial leaders will be on the program. An inspection of the "march of pro- gress" in farm research will be one of the features, too.

Among the speakers are listed Odus M. Mull, Shelby industrialist, farmer and legislator who is re- garded as a formidable candidate for Speaker of the 1941 North Caro- lina House; Harry B. Caldwell, mas- ter of the State Grange; Mrs. Rosa- lind Redfern of Wadesboro, An- son county home agent; and Dr. I. E. Miles, director of the soil testing divisions, State Department of Ag- riculture.

D. C. Coltrane, assistant to Com- missioner Scott, will preside as chairman for the day. Wade Hen- dricks, assistant director in charge of the Piedmont Test Farm, will su- pervise the tours of the experimen- tal plots of the farm.

Miss Annie Tucker of Statesville, Iredell county home agent, will be chairman of the women's program in the afternoon. A mattress-mak- ing demonstration will be presented as a feature.

Contests will be held in the af- ternoon under direction of A. R. Morrow, Iredell county agent, as- sisted by J. W. Pout and Dave Red- fern, assistant Iredell county agents.

F. E. Miller, director of the test farms division of the State Depart- ment of Agriculture, will be chair- man of the central committee for the events.

Vacation time is here. Vacation time is a time when children should catch up with their reading. Books provide many happy hours for chil- dren who will read them. Reading clubs are now being organized at the library for the children of the city and county as a whole. Prizes will be given to the ones who read the greatest number of books by Sep- tember 1.

The North Carolina WPA Library Commission has lately placed in the library for the use of the public, 165 new books. Books to suit the interest of both children and adults are included in this collection. A short list of the new books are as follows: "Reasons" by Jackson; "Bright Morning" by Simon; "Friendly Little Jonathan" by Bry- an; "Mary Poppins Comes Back" by Travers; "My Poetry Book" by Hul-

Local Party Enters Spain From War Area

James Fleming and Robert Hum- ber and family have crossed the French frontier into Spain, accord- ing to word received here by rela- tives of the two local men.

The party was in Paris until they fled in the face of the German in- vasion. It moved southward and continued on to the Spanish border and crossed into that country.

Further plans were not known here, but it was presumed the group would leave on the first American vessel leaving for home.

Kiwanis Meeting Held In Falkland

Greenville Kiwanians met last night in Falkland school and round- ed out a fellowship program under the direction of Judge Dink James and Claude Ward.

A report by Tom Wilson on his activities as a delegate to the na- tional convention in Minneapolis was one of the features of the pro- gram.

Special guests, residents of Falk- land, introduced by Dr. S. M. Crisp were Sam E. Yow, J. T. Lewis, O. H. Lemmon, K. E. Wooten, Carson R. Jones, M. L. Farrior, Jenness Morrill, Jr., H. L. Brown, A. S. Pierce, G. H. Pittman, W. P. Bryan. Another guest was Roy T. Cox of Winterville, who was recently elec- ted to the office of register of deeds.

Singing of Kiwanis songs was led by H. A. McDougle. Supper was puts on its plays only once a year and then only for a week. "Love for Love," therefore, is only a memory. No manager could pay the salaries demanded for a commercial engage- ment with such a cast. Originally the Players began with the Booths and the Drews back in the 80's. To- day the club includes famous writ- ers and authors as well as the dis- tinguished names of the theater. Two hundred and fifty years ago the Players hadn't yet been invent- ed. But a man named Congreve had written a play, and a man named Churchill was wielding a sword in defense of England during her hour of need. Today Congreve's old com- edy is something for New Yorker: to giggle over, while 3,000 mile: away another man named Church- ill is wielding a sword in defense of an empire that sorely needs him.

Oscar Serlin, in his elation over the good luck "Life With Father," has enjoyed, has published a very funny fancy album for his newspaper and his theatrical friends, each with the name of the recipient embossed in gold on the front. It is a handsome piece of work, profusely illustrated and carrying a fund of interesting information about the players, au- thors, the famous old Empire the- ater at 40th street and Broadway, and something, too, of the real father, Clarence Day, whose life inspired the play. Serlin loves the play, he says, because it "celebrates an era when life was peaceful and grac- ious, and the future secure."

This phrase, "and the future se- cure," no doubt comes from Serlin's heart; he was born in Yalowka, Po- land, and Poland, as he has seen, has been anything but secure.

"The Neighbors' Kids"
Prairie City, Ill.—(AP)—This peaceful west-central Illinois village had to break precedent and hire a policeman because, the town board said, of "rowdiness by youngsters, many of them from neighboring towns." Prairie City's population is 531.
