

Mostly cloudy, showers Wednesday, probably beginning in noon and extreme west portions tonight.

LULL NOTED IN ALL PHASES OF BALKAN CRISIS

Rumania Looks To Germany To Halt Invasion

FEARS HUNGARY AND BULGARIA

Hungarian And Rumanian Troops Declared to Have Been Withdrawn To Prevent Further Incidents

By The Associated Press Amid an apparent lull in the critical Balkan situation, Rumania looked anxiously to Germany today to prevent further dismemberment at the hands of her hostile neighbors, Hungary and Bulgaria, both reportedly emboldened by Soviet Russia's successes.

A purported British Broadcasting company broadcast from London said that Hungary, in a move "inspired" by Germany, has ordered partial demobilization and proposed a demilitarized zone on both sides of the Hungarian-Rumanian frontier.

Later unconfirmed reports said both Hungarian and Rumanian troops had withdrawn a short distance from the border to avoid further incidents.

Diplomatic dispatches from Bucharest said a movement to force the abdication of King Carol, II, of Rumania, was being launched by extremist members of the Nazi iron guard.

The arrival at Brasov airport in the center of Rumania of a fleet of German-made bombing planes strengthened the belief in Balkan diplomatic circles that the Reich is supporting Rumania in her stand to prevent Russia from making further advances and to settle peacefully the territorial claims of Hungary and Bulgaria.

Hungarian and Bulgarian attacks on Rumanian border outposts were reported in Rumania with casualties on all sides.

N. C. Deaths Over National Average

Raleigh, July 2.—Pedestrian deaths in North Carolina in May topped the national average for the month, the Highway Safety Division reported today.

An analysis of May accident statistics revealed that pedestrian fatalities were responsible for 37 percent of the total traffic deaths in the state, whereas 34 percent of the highway fatalities nationally were pedestrians. Twenty-two of the 58 street and highway deaths in this state last month were listed as pedestrians.

Fifteen of the 22 pedestrians killed in May were killed during daylight hours, which is contrary to general experience.

Causes of the accidents were listed as follows: walking in roadway, 7; crossing between intersections, 6; stepping from behind cars, 3; playing in roadway and hitching rides, 3.

Five of the pedestrians killed in the state last month were "toddlers" under four years of age.

Saturday deaths outnumbered those of any other day of the week, numbering 7, followed by Sunday with 6.

Calls Are Issued For Condition Of Banks

Washington, July 2.—(AP)—The comptroller of the currency issued a call today for the condition of all national banks at the close of business Saturday, June 29.

Raleigh, July 2.—(AP)—Bank Commissioner Gurney P. Hood issued a call today for all state banks to report on their condition as of the close of business Saturday, June 29.

Holiday

The Reflector, along with other business firms of the city and in accordance with a custom of long-standing, will observe a holiday on Thursday, July Fourth.

In addition to being closed all day Thursday, the Wednesday afternoon edition will be printed and delivered earlier than the usual time. All persons having notices, advertisements or any items they desire in Wednesday's paper are requested to get them into the office as early as possible tomorrow morning in order that the issue can be printed by about 1 o'clock.

Both Germany And Italy Renew Submarine Warfare Against British Shipping

Soviets Land Tanks By Planes

In a letter of speculation over the meaning of the Russian penetration into Rumania, a Rumanian delegation sailed from Constantia for Odessa (1) to confer with Soviet representatives over the Russian occupation of Bessarabia. The shaded portion on the map in the area bounded by the Prut and Danube rivers is the territory the Soviets claim was included in the Rumanian cession to Russia. The dispute was marked by a bloody battle at Cernavoda (2) and another at Galati (3) where it was reported an "armed Jewish force," which rose up against the Rumanians, was cut down with Rumanian machine guns. The Russians surprised a Rumanian garrison by landing tanks from air planes at Reni (4) and with parachutists at Bolgrad (5). The harbors at Sulina and Constantia (5) were mined. Meanwhile the Rumanian government considered moving the capital from Bucharest (6) to the Carpathian mountains.

Sees Much Opposition To Excess Profits Tax

WILLKIE MAPS HIS CAMPAIGN

New Type of Set-Up Considered By Nominee

New York, July 2.—(AP)—A new type of set-up for a national political campaign was under consideration today by Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican nominee for president, who was reported to be ready to name a committee of three men to head up his activities.

One man, it was understood, would be the campaign manager, another would be the national chairman of the party and a third Willkie's personal representative.

Willkie himself declined to discuss the situation at a morning press conference. But it was considered likely one of the three men would be John D. M. Hamilton, present head of the Republican national committee, and another Russell Davenport, former managing editor of Fortune, who quit his job to work for Willkie's nomination.

Willkie said he had made no choice of a man to handle his campaign and added:

"I am looking for that man now. He must be a strong, vigorous man with organizing ability and he may be a business man, a newspaper man or a politician."

Willkie said he hoped to see Senator McNary, vice-presidential candidate, in Washington before leaving on a vacation. The date of which still has not been set.

"I hope to be able to announce the basis for my campaign set-up by Friday," Willkie said.

Eastern Chamber For 3-Year Quota

The Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce with headquarters in Kinston launched its section-wide campaign in behalf of three years of control for tobacco this week, with the distribution of advertising matter throughout the section, according to a statement given out by President John D. Larkins, Jr.

President Larkins stated that this action was taken at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors after a delegation had appeared requesting that the organization take an active part in sponsoring this campaign. There is considerable interest being manifested in this election, according to information reaching headquarters of the organization in Kinston.

Admiralty Admits Heavy Losses Inflicted Recently; Success Attributed In Part To Disruption of Escort Arrangements; Italian Subs Said to Be Augmenting Nazi U-Boats

London, July 2.—(AP)—A new intensified wave of submarine warfare with both German and Italian torpedoes taking their toll was admitted today to have inflicted "heavy" losses on British merchant shipping recently.

The Admiralty disclosed that 85,250 tons of shipping had been sent to the bottom in the week ended June 23, even while the British Isles fought off "raids" also by air.

Admittedly increase in numbers of German U-boats raiding British sea lanes were said to be augmented by Italian submarines in the Mediterranean and possibly also in the Atlantic.

Their success was attributed in part to disruption of British escort arrangements because of the necessity of using escort ships for the withdrawal of British, French and other Allied soldiers from France.

Nazi warships, striking overnight from northern Scotland to Southern England, left 12 persons killed and 22 injured.

The new spurt of sea warfare still falls below the average of April, 1917, when Germany sank 196 British ships totalling 600,000 tons and left Britain with only 400,000 tons of food supply.

(Announced British merchant losses since the start of the war total 970,977 tons. British reports estimated German losses up to June 4 at 830,000 tons, including ships captured and scuttled.)

Simpson Assumes Seat Of Alderman

J. D. Simpson was sworn in as alderman from the Third ward at a special meeting of the Greenville Board of Aldermen yesterday afternoon.

Dr. M. B. Massey of the Fourth ward and J. A. Watson of the Second ward also were sworn in for another two-year term each.

Dr. Massey did not have any opposition in the May primary election. Alderman Simpson, who succeeds J. M. Taft, defeated Hoover Taft. Alderman Watson defeated J. B. Kittrell.

The terms of Mayor Spain and other members of the board, L. B. Fleming, R. E. Sellers, G. H. Clapp, J. A. Collins and D. A. Evans, do not expire until next year.

The regular Thursday night meeting has been postponed until Monday night of next week.

Success In France Hailed In Germany

Berlin, July 2.—(AP)—The German high command hailed the Nazi triumph in France tonight as the greatest military victory of all times and attributed it not only to superior arms and generalship, but also to the unity of the whole German nation under National Socialism.

It listed these German losses from May 10, when the Western offensive began:

Killed, 27,074; wounded 111,034; missing, 18,384. These make total German casualties of 156,492. Against this was listed more than 1,900,000 French captives, among them 29,000 officers.

DEFICIT OF $3,612,065,936.71

Washington, July 2.—(AP)—The United States wound up the fiscal year with a deficit of exactly $3,612,065,936.71.

The government took in a total of $5,924,836,402.76 during the year and spent $9,666,085,539.47.

FIGURES SHOW THAT U. S. FLEET LARGEST

Washington, July 2.—(AP)—Official figures indicated today that the United States navy, building at top speed toward "two-ocean" strength, already has become the world's largest, both in number of ships and in total tonnage.

STIMSON WINS ON 14-3 VOTE OF COMMITTEE

Senate Military Group Approves Nomination

VOTE ON KNOX IS SET FOR P.M.

Both Appointees Declare Possibility Of Third Term For FDR Had Not Been Discussed

Washington, July 2.—(AP)—The Senate Military committee approved today President Roosevelt's nomination of Henry L. Stimson to be Secretary of War.

The vote of 14 to three after Stimson had testified for two hours regarding his qualifications and declared that his nomination "had no relation to politics" and that he had not discussed the question of a third term with President Roosevelt.

Also today, Col. Frank Knox, the 1936 Republican vice presidential nominee, testified similarly with regard to the third term issue.

(Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) of the Senate Naval committee, before which Knox appeared, said that his committee would act this afternoon on President Roosevelt's selection of Knox for Secretary of the Navy.)

The two men testified at hearings demanded by Republicans and some Democrats who asked an expression of their views on the question whether the United States should intervene in the European war.

At one point Knox was asked by Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) whether publicly or privately he had urged "giving military support to the Allies."

Regarding the circumstances of his appointment, Stimson said that the President telephoned him at his New York law office on June 19 and asked that he take the War Department position "as a call to duty."

"The position had absolutely no relation to politics," the President told me," Stimson said, "and I agreed with him."

Louis C. Skinner Is Local Chairman

Willard T. Kyzer, finance chairman of the war relief drive of the Pitt County Chapter of the American Red Cross, today announced that Louis C. Skinner, judge of city recorder's court, had accepted the appointment as chairman of the war relief drive in Greenville.

Judge Skinner, who is immediate past president of the Greenville Lions club, will launch his drive at 8 o'clock. The quota for Greenville is $2,485, the quota for the county being $4,000.

Chairman Kyzer also released a telegram received from national headquarters which he read relative to reports that some residents in this area were of the opinion that Red Cross war relief funds are not reaching those for whom they are intended.

Norman H. Davis, national chairman, wired as follows: "American Red Cross relief in Europe is being supervised by American personnel. All supplies have been distributed to those for whom they are intended. American Red Cross will continue relief only upon condition that we have full liberty of action and protection of property."

W. F. Owens will attend Federation Meeting

W. F. Owens of the Greenville post office, will leave tomorrow morning for Chapel Hill, where he will attend the annual convention of the North Carolina Federation of Post Office Clerks.

Mr. Owens has been active in the federation for some time and at present is a vice president of the organization.

Shelterbelts, totaling about 2,500 miles in length, now exist on approximately 4,000 Kansas farms.

Continued Control Seen As Only Salvation For N.C. Tobacco Growers

Both Hutson and Gov. Hoey Tell Farmers Gathered At Oxford Test Farm That Defeat Of Control Would Result In Disastrously Low Prices; Fair Prices Seen If Control Voted

Sentenced

Oxford, July 2.—(AP)—Tobacco farmers must approve a continuation of control of the flue-cured crop or face disastrously low prices, warned J. B. Hutson, assistant federal AAA administrator, and Governor Hoey today.

Hundreds of tobacco growers attended the eighteenth annual field day of the tobacco test farm here.

Hutson said it would be difficult to export tobacco this year, but added that if farmers voted July 20 in favor of a three-year control program prices this fall "will be protected at or slightly above last year's price levels."

Governor Hoey urged diversified farming and told the tobacco growers "the universal opinion of practically all farm leaders is that the tobacco farmer can not afford to vote against control in the present state of world affairs and the large tobacco surplus. We have control of the 1940 crop, but unless the crop next year is to be controlled, the price for this year's crop will be disastrously low. The government can not and will not attempt to support the price for an uncontrolled crop with the present large surplus. Therefore, the tobacco farmer really has no choice if he is to consult his own interest and that of his fellow-farmers."

Hutson revealed for the first time that quotas for the 1941 crop would be the same as for this year if a three-year control program is approved. If quotas are approved only for 1941 they will be reduced 10 percent, he said, and prices will probably fall under last year.

Hutson said that he expected the established export tobacco companies would aid in trying to secure export markets. He said the Commodity Credit Corporation again would buy tobacco and hold it for possible export later if control is approved.

Two Sentenced On Whiskey Charges

LeRoy Best and Abram Best, colored, were convicted in County court this morning of maintaining a still and having illegal liquor in their possession and were given sentences of four months each. A gun found on Abram was ordered confiscated.

John Turner, white man convicted of assault with a deadly weapon, was given a 60-day sentence, suspended upon payment of costs and the sum of $6 to Fred Tripp, prosecuting witness, and also a doctor's bill incurred by Tripp.

Abram Peyton, Negro, was convicted of non-support and was ordered to pay a total of $36 into the welfare office to be used in behalf of his alleged illegitimate child, the money to be paid over a term of two years. The defendant appealed to Superior court.

Perry Bryant, colored, pleaded guilty to non-support and prayer for judgment was continued upon payment of one dollar weekly for the support of his family.

The case of W. B. Phillips, charged with disposing of property, was called and the court found that judgment imposed on April 2 had not been complied with and gave the defendant a sentence of 30 days, to be suspended upon making certain payments to be turned over to the prosecuting witness and upon payment of costs. The sentence was appealed to Superior court and bond fixed at $200.

Police Activities Quiet Last Month

Activities at the Greenville police headquarters during the past month were the quietest of any month of the past year or longer, according to the monthly report on Municipal recorder's court, issued today by Desk Sergeant and Court Clerk H. B. Drum.

Only 42 defendants were tried in the tribunal last month, the report revealed. Fines amounted to only $20 and costs $147.65. During the previous month 72 defendants were tried and fines amounted to $137.99 and court costs $302.10.

May also was considered a light month as upwards of 200 defendants have been tried in some months during the past year or so.

STIMSON SAYS U. S. NOT SAFE FROM INVASION

Says Much Depends On British Control Of Atlantic

FDR NOMINEE IS QUESTIONED

Frank Knox Also Called Before Senate Naval Committee Following Appointment By Roosevelt

Washington, July 2.—(AP)—Henry L. Stimson, President Roosevelt's nominee for Secretary of War, told the Senate Military committee today he did not believe that "we shall be safe from invasion if we sit down and wait for the enemy to come to our shores."

Stimson, a republican, testified regarding his qualifications for the war secretaryship, while the Senate Naval committee started a hearing on the selection of Frank Knox, 36 Republican vice presidential nominee, to be Secretary of the Navy.

Stimson, who was Secretary of State in the Hoover administration and Secretary of War under President Taft, told the military group that "we are faced with an unprecedented peril."

He recommended compulsory military training as one means of bolstering the nation's defenses. He continued:

"Today the time which we will have for our rearmament is very largely dependent upon the continuance of Great Britain's control of the North Atlantic."

"Under these conditions any assistance which we can safely give toward the continuance of that sea power in the North Atlantic is a step most important to our own interest and preparation."

He said that "the situation today is much more critical than it was last autumn when Congress repealed the arms embargo" and the time which can be saved by the existence of British sea power much more precious.

The United States, Stimson said, has no desire to send American troops beyond our borders unless the protection of this United States itself makes such action necessary."

Two Negro Children Are Burned To Death

Lillington, July 2.—(AP)—Four-year-old Charles Stokes and a six-year-old brother, Eddie Stokes, Jr., were burned to death in a fire that swept their home near here last night and left two other members of the large Negro family severely burned.

Lois Stokes, two, who was carried with her badly burned mother to a Fayetteville hospital, was not expected to recover.

The mother, Frances Stokes, said that the children along with four others who were not hurt were asleep on a pallet near an oil lamp which exploded. The mother said that she was burned trying to extinguish the fire.

Hungary Proceeds On Plans For War

Budapest, July 2.—(AP)—Hungary's mobilization went ahead according to plans tonight despite reports that the chances for a peaceful settlement with Rumania over Transylvania had improved.

It appeared obvious that Hungary intends to maintain her war footing until Transylvania is regained in one way or another.

Responsible quarters said the general situation was "unchanged" and they denied reports that a demilitarized zone had been created on the Hungarian-Rumanian frontier.

CITES EFFORT FOR UPRISING

Bucharest, July 2.—(AP)—Charges that Hungary was attempting to foment revolution among the Magyar population in Transylvania in order to pave the way for eventual entry of her army into the province were made in government quarters tonight.

Sources close to the palace and cabinet asserted the Hungarian government was smuggling rifles, machine guns and hand grenades into Transylvania, ceded to Rumania by a post-world war treaty.

They declared that the more than 1,500,000 Magyars in the former Hungarian territory were in a position to kill Rumanian officials and harass defense should Hungarian troops cross the frontier.

Diplomatic quarters reported that the Rumanian government had suggested to the Reich that a conference of all southeastern European powers be held in Rome in the near future to settle all problems affecting this region. The reaction to this suggestion was not known here.

A possibility that the disappointed Rumanian public, seeking a scapegoat for the loss of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina, may turn against the Jews even greater. The inspired press published many articles against Jews.

Weather Report

Table with weather data including temperature (High yesterday 91, Low yesterday 65, At 1:30 p. m. today 82), precipitation (For 24 hrs. ending 1:30 p. m. Total for month), and barometer (7:30 last night 30.92, 7:30 this morning 30.94, Prevailing Wind and Velocity 7:30 a. m. 131, 1:30 p. m. 131).

Social and Personal

Rev. and Mrs. H. Frederick Jones, of Baltimore, will arrive this afternoon to spend several days at the home of their daughter, Mrs. J. Vance Perkins.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lee have moved from Dickinson avenue to their new home, corner Woodlawn Avenue and Park Drive.

Miss Eloise Warren has returned from New York World's Fair and Harrisburg, Pa., where she visited her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Warren, Jr.

Miss Margie Bell, of Rocky Mount, spent the week-end in Greenville.

Mrs. C. A. Bowen has returned from a visit in Morehead.

Mrs. Harvey Ward and Mrs. Nan Moore left this afternoon for Atlantic Beach. They will be joined on Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. John Collins, who will be guests at the Moore cottage.

Miss Kelly Rue Vandford has returned from a week's visit at Carolina Beach.

Misses Mary Dudley Whitmore, Josephine Gibson, Margaret Lee Duke, Queenie McGowan, Charlotte Moye and Dorothy Nixon and Hoyt Minges have gone to Peace Junior College in Raleigh to attend Albemarle Presbytery's Young Peoples' conference.

Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Hinchaw and daughter, Garnette, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Spain have returned to their home in High Point.

Miss Mary Council Horne is spending this week in Macesfield where she is an instructor in a Daily Vacation school.

Miss Margaret Harris is visiting friends in Charlotte.

Miss Mary Crane left this morning for Montreal to attend the Assembly Council meet for Young People. Mr. Crane is President of the Council.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Ketch and William Ketch left this morning for North Wilkesboro.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Oakley and family, of Detroit, Michigan, are visiting Mr. Oakley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Oakley.

Mrs. Marvin Honeycutt and Mrs. Karl Cahoon have returned from Albemarle, where they visited Mrs. Honeycutt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Morrow.

Miss Dorothy Whitley of Albemarle is the guest of Mrs. Marvin Honeycutt.

Miss Leslie E. Babcock and Mrs. Babcock have returned from Morehead.

Miss Mary Lee Bland of Washington, D. C., arrived Monday to spend a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bland.

Hugh Waldrop, of Goldsboro, spent the day in Greenville.

Mrs. N. E. Bass and children, Jimmie and Don, of Rich Square, visited friends in Greenville this week.

Miss Madeline Jenkins, of Washington, D. C., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Jenkins for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hardee and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hawkins were week-end visitors at Morehead. While in bathing Mrs. Hardee suffered a fractured heel. She is confined to Pitt General hospital.

Mrs. G. A. Cratch of Blount's Creek is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Oscar Hardee, who is a patient in Pitt General hospital.

Mrs. A. C. Jackson of Winterville was a visitor in Greenville today.

Mrs. and Mrs. J. D. Boyd, Mrs. Leo Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hardee, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Eiks, of Greenville, and Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Cratch of Blount's Creek, spent Wednesday at Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl E. Hardee have returned home from their wedding trip. Mrs. Hardee was the former Miss Clara Jane Cherry of Greenville.

NOTICE
Mrs. W. J. Bundy is now taking her vacation. Anyone desiring information regarding hospitalization or who would like to pay his or her premium see or call Mrs. Selma Carson Moore. Dial 2761. 1-3ts

Board of Stewards to Meet.
The Board of Stewards of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church will meet at the church tonight at 8:00 o'clock.

In Hospital.
D. T. Beaman, Sr., underwent an operation yesterday in Pitt General hospital.

Two-Day Holiday
The College students and faculty will leave tomorrow afternoon for a two-day holiday, which means a prolonged week-end. Classes meet last Saturday to make up for the day following July 4. Most of them will leave the campus, but a few will take advantage of the extra time to catch up or get ahead with work. It gives a breathing spell shortly before the final.

The term closes July 17 and the second term begins July 18.

ENJOY A GLORIOUS FOURTH OF JULY
At The Safest Beach on the Coast
Free Fireworks Thursday Night, Amateur Boxing Wednesday night, Colorful Roller Skating Friday night, Gala Dinners Thursday and Saturday nights, Free Concerts Thursday and Sunday afternoons, Music by Charlie Harris and his Richmond orchestra, with Marjorie Hatfield, girl vocalist.
Spend A Cool Holiday at ATLANTIC BEACH
NORFOLK CITY, N. C.

Social Calendar

TUESDAY
7:45 p. m.—St. Mary's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Church will meet.

7:30 p. m.—Official Board of the Christian Church meets.

8:00 p. m.—Chapter 149 of the Eastern Star will meet.

8:00 p. m.—The Business Girls circle of Immanuel Baptist Church will meet with Miss Lala Brantley.

WEDNESDAY
7:30 p. m.—The choir of the Methodist church will meet for practice.

THURSDAY
7:30 p. m.—The Knights of Pythias will meet.

7:15 p. m.—The choir of the Presbyterian church will meet for rehearsal.

FRIDAY
8:30 p. m.—The Kiwanis club meets.

8:00 p. m.—The choir of the Christian church will meet for rehearsal.

8:00 p. m.—The Red Men will meet.

Primitive Baptist Service
Elder Lee Hanks, of London, Ky., associate editor of The Advocate and Messenger will preach at the Primitive Baptist Church Wednesday morning, July 3, at 11 o'clock. The public is invited.

Notice.
Sheppard Memorial Library will be closed all day on Thursday, July 4.

"Cinderella" as a three-act play will be presented in the Austin Auditorium of the College at eight o'clock tonight by the "Wizard of Oz" Marionettes.

The public is again invited free of charge. This is the fourth of the public entertainments this term and all have been excellent.

The one scheduled for next week on Thursday night, is a variety attraction, "Bubbles Concerto", marvelous things that are done with bubbles to musical accompaniment.

Christian Science Church
"CHRISTIAN SCIENCE" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies, Sunday, June 30.

The Golden Text was from II Peter 1:21. "The prophecy came not in old time by the will of man; but by holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible, "Jesus cried and said, He that believeth on me, believeth not on me; but on him that sent me. I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness. . . . If ye love me, keep my commandments. And I pray another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever." (John 12:44-46. John 14:15-16).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "The true Christian Science was introduced by the author to designate the scientific system of divine healing. The revelation consists of two parts: 1. The discovery of this divine Science of Mind-healing, through a spiritual sense of the Scriptures and through the teachings of the Comforter, as promised by the Master. 2. The proof, by present demonstration, that the so-called miracles of Jesus did not specially belong to a dispensation now ended, but that they illustrated an ever-operative divine Principle. The operation of this Principle indicates the eternity of the scientific order and continuity of being. Christian Science differs from material science, but not on that account is it less scientific. On the contrary, Christian Science is pre-eminently scientific, being based on Truth the Principle of all science." (Page 123).

Gala Events at Beach for Fourth
Atlantic Beach, July 2.—Independence Day programs here will extend through the entire week, with special dances, concerts, fireworks and other events. It has been announced by Manager John H. Singleton, in his desire to provide entertainment for the large holiday crowds expected on the beach.

Seven amateur boxing bouts are scheduled for Wednesday night in the casino, featuring a return engagement between L. M. "Smoky" Dodd, Golden Glove champion of Raleigh, and Henry Gilkin, "Fride of Morehead City", and a match between Tiny Taylor, 225-pound heavyweight champion of South-eastern United States, and Harry Smith, 230-pound boxer of Goldsboro and Colerain.

Free fireworks will be displayed on Thursday night from the beach boardwalk, followed by an Independence Day ball in the casino. Free concerts will be given Thursday and Sunday afternoons; and the usual dance will be held Saturday night. Colorful roller skating will be featured Friday night.

Charlie Morris and his orchestra, of Richmond, direct from an engagement at the John Marshall hotel there, will provide the music during the week, with Marjorie Hatfield as the girl vocalist.

Birth Announcement.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Padgett, a daughter, Peggy Ann, on Tuesday, June 25, 1940, at the home of Mrs. Padgett's mother, Mrs. Josephine Fleming, 117 Seventh St.

Birth Announcement
Mr. and Mrs. Steve Edwards announce the birth of a daughter on Thursday, June 27, 1940.

BELL ARTHUR NEWS
Alfred Earl Hemby has been at home from Norfolk for the past week.

Among those who attended the Hookerton Union at Airy Grove Church Saturday were: Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert Davis, Mark H. Smith, Misses Marjorie and Lena Carraway, Albert French Tyson and Gilbert Davis, Jr.

James Crecy of Wrightsville Beach, a student at Atlantic Christian College, spent last week-end with Albert French Tyson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Rogers of Greenville had dinner Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Strickland.

Miss Aileen Crawford visited Mrs. Gilbert Davis during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Ray Smith and son, Kendall, of Farmville, visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert McArthur on Friday night.

Mrs. B. S. Anderson has returned home from Duke hospital, after regaining strength, she plans to return for further treatment.

Bob Nichols who has been critically ill for several days is reported as being much improved.

Mrs. Florence Denmark, Miss Emma Starkey, Mrs. Ross Rouse and children, of Kinston, visited Mrs. William McArthur Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Marriner and little daughter, of Hobequot, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland Collins and sons, Swindell and Grover, Jr., of Nashville, visited Rev. and Mrs. Davis Sunday night.

Mrs. Robert McArthur and sons spent a few days last week with her

MODES of the MOMENT

Exposed to the sun, but not too exposed, is this summer girl in a playsuit of denim. Her shorts are knee-length, her mid-length blouse tops rather close to the waistline. The trim fit will last as long as the suit, because the fabric has been treated to control shrinkage to 1 per cent.

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
July 2, 1900

THE OLD AND NEW
Though the administration of the affairs of the Town changed Monday, there was only slight changes in the personnel or either the Board of Aldermen or the officers elected by them.

The Board presented to Mayor J. G. Moye a beautiful bouquet, in appreciation of the efficiency with which he had discharged his duties. Mayor Moye responded very neatly.

The Reflector takes pleasure in adding a tribute to the excellency of the administration of Mayor Moye. In all our knowledge of the town, Greenville had no better mayor or than he has made. While he has upheld the law and demanded its respect by all who were brought before him, he has never been harsh on any. Every decision rendered by him has been exactly what he conceived to be right and for the best interest of the community. As presiding officer of the Board of Aldermen, he has held the highest esteem of every member of the Board.

announced by Manager John H. Singleton, in his desire to provide entertainment for the large holiday crowds expected on the beach.

Seven amateur boxing bouts are scheduled for Wednesday night in the casino, featuring a return engagement between L. M. "Smoky" Dodd, Golden Glove champion of Raleigh, and Henry Gilkin, "Fride of Morehead City", and a match between Tiny Taylor, 225-pound heavyweight champion of South-eastern United States, and Harry Smith, 230-pound boxer of Goldsboro and Colerain.

Free fireworks will be displayed on Thursday night from the beach boardwalk, followed by an Independence Day ball in the casino. Free concerts will be given Thursday and Sunday afternoons; and the usual dance will be held Saturday night. Colorful roller skating will be featured Friday night.

Charlie Morris and his orchestra, of Richmond, direct from an engagement at the John Marshall hotel there, will provide the music during the week, with Marjorie Hatfield as the girl vocalist.

Birth Announcement.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Padgett, a daughter, Peggy Ann, on Tuesday, June 25, 1940, at the home of Mrs. Padgett's mother, Mrs. Josephine Fleming, 117 Seventh St.

Birth Announcement
Mr. and Mrs. Steve Edwards announce the birth of a daughter on Thursday, June 27, 1940.

BELL ARTHUR NEWS
Alfred Earl Hemby has been at home from Norfolk for the past week.

Among those who attended the Hookerton Union at Airy Grove Church Saturday were: Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert Davis, Mark H. Smith, Misses Marjorie and Lena Carraway, Albert French Tyson and Gilbert Davis, Jr.

James Crecy of Wrightsville Beach, a student at Atlantic Christian College, spent last week-end with Albert French Tyson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Rogers of Greenville had dinner Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Strickland.

Miss Aileen Crawford visited Mrs. Gilbert Davis during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Ray Smith and son, Kendall, of Farmville, visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert McArthur on Friday night.

Mrs. B. S. Anderson has returned home from Duke hospital, after regaining strength, she plans to return for further treatment.

Bob Nichols who has been critically ill for several days is reported as being much improved.

Mrs. Florence Denmark, Miss Emma Starkey, Mrs. Ross Rouse and children, of Kinston, visited Mrs. William McArthur Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Marriner and little daughter, of Hobequot, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland Collins and sons, Swindell and Grover, Jr., of Nashville, visited Rev. and Mrs. Davis Sunday night.

Mrs. Robert McArthur and sons spent a few days last week with her parents of Fountain. Mr. Dilda has been sick for the past several days.

Rev. H. M. Wilson of Farmville had supper Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Tyson.

Robert and Edwin Tyson, sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Tyson, are having quite interesting experiences this summer traveling in northern countries. Robert is touring and working in the Arctic Circle regions and Edwin is in a section of French Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack G. Smith visited Mrs. S. F. Pollard in Greenville, Sunday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. Davis and son, and Miss Aileen Crawford had dinner on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith.

An impressive consecration service was the program of the Christian Endeavor Society Sunday night. Marjorie Carraway and Herschel Tyson, representatives to Youth Conference in Montreal, conducted the services.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Flanagan of Richmond, visited Mrs. Annie Flanagan and Mr. and Mrs. Robert McArthur Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin McArthur and family had dinner Sunday with Mrs. W. H. Hyde.

Alvin McArthur, Jr., is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Jesse Moye of Farmville.

parents of Fountain. Mr. Dilda has been sick for the past several days.

Rev. H. M. Wilson of Farmville had supper Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Tyson.

Robert and Edwin Tyson, sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Tyson, are having quite interesting experiences this summer traveling in northern countries. Robert is touring and working in the Arctic Circle regions and Edwin is in a section of French Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack G. Smith visited Mrs. S. F. Pollard in Greenville, Sunday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. Davis and son, and Miss Aileen Crawford had dinner on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith.

An impressive consecration service was the program of the Christian Endeavor Society Sunday night. Marjorie Carraway and Herschel Tyson, representatives to Youth Conference in Montreal, conducted the services.

At Townsend Convention

supplied the "Topper" and "Turnabout" illusions, was elected to city council in his home town of Hermosa Beach—on a "reform" platform. Danielle Darrieux is in town—but only in a French movie. . . . It's been a long time since a Harold Bell Wright novel was screened. . . . Now it's to be "The Shepherd of the Hills," with Bob Preston and that busier-and-busier Betty Field.

Mrs. Loretha Chase, 50, of Detroit; Mrs. Margaret Mason, 71, of Royal Oak, Mich., and Mrs. Isabelle Kirker, 76, of Detroit (left to right), delegates to the Townsend National convention in St. Louis, are shown in ardent discussion while waiting for the activities to get under way. Many aging persons, of whom these three are typical, attended the convention.

Library News

Forty-one children present for the Story Hour. Twenty-five finished required number of books for club reading.

One hundred and eighteen club members.

These are figures of the Junior activities at Sheppard Memorial Library last week. The story hour in the reading garden was well planned and much enjoyed. Stories were told by Misses Christine Johnston, Effie Moore Darden and Mary Eakes, two young women who are in Miss Johnston's Primary Education class at the local college this summer.

There will be a story hour in the reading garden at five o'clock Friday afternoon this week.

Children young people, parents and teachers are invited.

—Mrs. W. C. Vincent.

George Abbott, tall, gray, distinguished, in town for screen transposition of his "Too Many Girls," in time for final scenes of his "Boys From Syracuse." . . . Kay Kyser returned for a five-week stint at Catalina Island, talking over his next picture with David Butler, director of his first. . . . This time they won't make a story about an orchestra leader who hasn't a story for his picture. . . . Says Butler: "We have a few ideas, but nothing definite yet." . . . Says Kay: "We've heard we have Dorothy Lamour as the leading lady—and several other

Hollywood

Sights and Sounds
By Robbin Coon

Hollywood.—Cuts from the news-reel:

The Ritz Brothers, after squabbles at the U. have settled on "Argentine Nights," in which the Andrews sisters of disc, air and stage note will be their threesome. . . . Hollywood is launched on that South American way with this and with "Down Argentine Way," in which the film inseparables, Faye and Ameche, co-star. . . . Cast also has Carmen Miranda, the South American Way Girl. . . . Few knew it, but Anna Sten does-

B. H. Stephens ARCHITECT

317 1/2 Evans Street Greenville DIAL 2058

Some Wednesday SPECIALS

Spring Dresses

A group of 100 spring dresses, ideal for traveling. In a variety of styles and sizes.

1/2 off

Cypress Furniture
A set of 3-pieces made of Florida Cypress, especially for lawns and gardens. Usual price $13.95.
SPECIAL $9.95

supplied the "Topper" and "Turnabout" illusions, was elected to city council in his home town of Hermosa Beach—on a "reform" platform. Danielle Darrieux is in town—but only in a French movie. . . . It's been a long time since a Harold Bell Wright novel was screened. . . . Now it's to be "The Shepherd of the Hills," with Bob Preston and that busier-and-busier Betty Field.

SELDOM ALIKE
Two men may be the same age and may have approximately the same income, but it is seldom that their life insurance needs are the same. Deciding the best insurance plan to follow is a matter of experience plus careful analysis and study—based on your own individual needs. This is a service that I am rendering every day and one that I'll be happy to supply you entirely without any obligation, as part of my service to people of this community.

N. C. BROOKS
GREENVILLE, N. C.
Representative
JEFFERSON STANDARD LIFE INSURANCE CO.

BRODY'S
4th of July SPECIALS
FOR Wednesday Morning
Here's a real opportunity to buy your 4th of July Merchandise at Unusual Savings.

274 Dresses
• BEMBERGS
• COTTON SHEERS
• WASH SILKS
Sizes 9 to 17—12 to 20—38 to 46
$3.95 VALUES
$2.91

54 Silk Dresses
Values to $6.50
$3.88

45 Silk Dresses
Values to $7.95
$4.85

Our Entire Stock of EVENING DRESSES
Evening Dresses
1/2 PRICE

Red Cross Shoes
Whites—and White and Brown
$5.00

BRODY'S
STYLE • QUALITY • ECONOMY

Prices Reduced!
Why Pay More?
REG. $3.50 WAVES . . . $2.00

$5.00 Waves . . . $2.50
6.50 Eugenes . . . 4.50
7.50 Realistics . . . 4.50
Frederick Vitron . . . 3.50
Oil of Tulipwood . . . 3.50

A BETTER PERMANENT FOR LESS MONEY!
Ask your neighbor—ask your friend—THEY HAVE ONE!

APPOINTMENTS
DAY OR EVENING
MRS. JOHNSON
1509 Chestnut St.
At West Greenville School
DIAL 2810

LETTER of APPRECIATION
Mr. L. W. Tucker, President and J. L. Little, Secretary and Treasurer, The Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Association of N. C.

Dear sirs:
We wish to thank you for check $1,000.00 in full settlement of a loss for a tenant dwelling on our Hathaway farm.
We cheerfully recommend your company to all farmers in Pitt County desiring fire protection at reasonable rates.
Yours very truly,
R. L. and W. H. SMITH,
By W. H. SMITH.
July 2, 1940.

Willkie Makes Friends And Amazes People By Speaking Out In Business

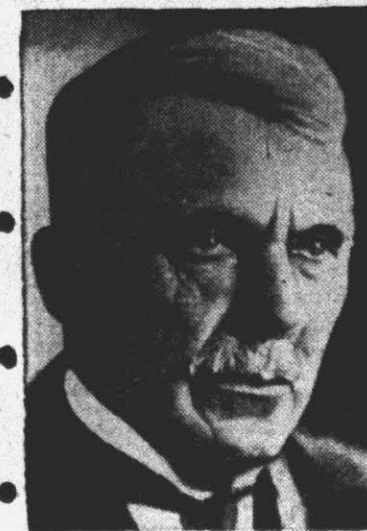

This is the first of a series of three stories about the unique new star of American politics—Wendell L. Willkie.

By MORGAN M. BEATTY,
AP Feature Service Writer.
One day back in 1937 when the New Deal utility scrap was making

Wendell Willkie, age 6 months. Grew to 6 feet 1, 220 pounds.

Washington weather stickier than usual, I had to get some information about Commonwealth and Southern, the big holding company Wendell L. Willkie runs.

Father Herman Francis Willkie was a lawyer, too. There were six children.

the voice, crisp like iceberg lettuce. "But I didn't know you were in Washington, Mr. Willkie."
"I'm not," he snapped, "but when a reporter wants my side of this scrap, I'm ready to give it to him. Shoot!"
From his New York office right next to Wall Street, Wendell Willkie rattled off his answers.
"Call me any time," he finished. And as I wrote my account I wondered, as lot of people have lately, what manner of man this Willkie was.

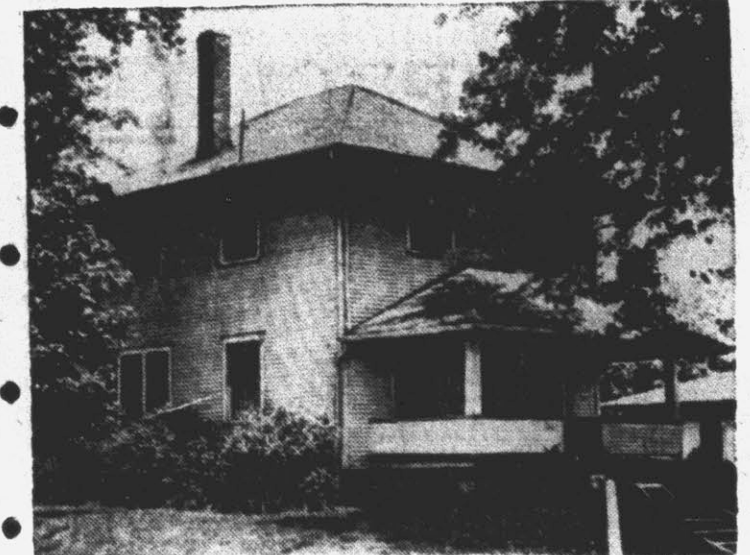

He Surprises 'Em All
Willkie's the man who joked about a presidential boom while others were desperately trying to launch theirs. He's the fellow who actually shooed away able young men who insisted on throwing up good jobs to help Willkie bring down the moon, but finally failed to dissuade them.

He's the tobacco-chewing, fist-slinging young man who once challenged the Bible on the campus of Indiana University, aboutfaced, listened to the Methodists, and ultimately chose the Episcopalians.

He's the hobo with book learning who once turned down a farmer's daughter and her 150 acres of Iowa

Mother Henrietta Tusch Willkie was one of the first women admitted to Indiana bar.

Shady frame house in Elwood, Ind., where Willkie was born.

A utility representative in Washington said:
"Sorry, I can't speak for C. and S., but I'll pass on your questions."
Then the phone rang.
"This is Wendell Willkie," said

FIVE STAR BLENDED WHISKEY

Pint ... $1.10
Quart ... $2.10

G&W

Gooderham & Worts, Ltd., Detroit, Michigan. Est. 1832.
72% grain neutral spirits. 90 proof corn land.

(A few weeks ago, more than a quarter of a century later, an Iowa town that story on Willkie at a political rally. After the meeting, an elderly farmer stepped up and asked the candidate what year he had been a hobo farm hand in Iowa. Willkie counted back for his inquirer. "None," said the old fellow, "you ain't the man; I'm looking for a chap that didn't exactly turn down the farmer's daughter.")

Ousted The Bankers
Willkie's the rough and tumble Hoosier who went to New York a dozen years ago with a chip on his shoulder for bankers, and fired all but one out of Commonwealth and Southern swivel chairs. Then he turned right around and accepted an invitation to lunch from a group of Morgan partners.

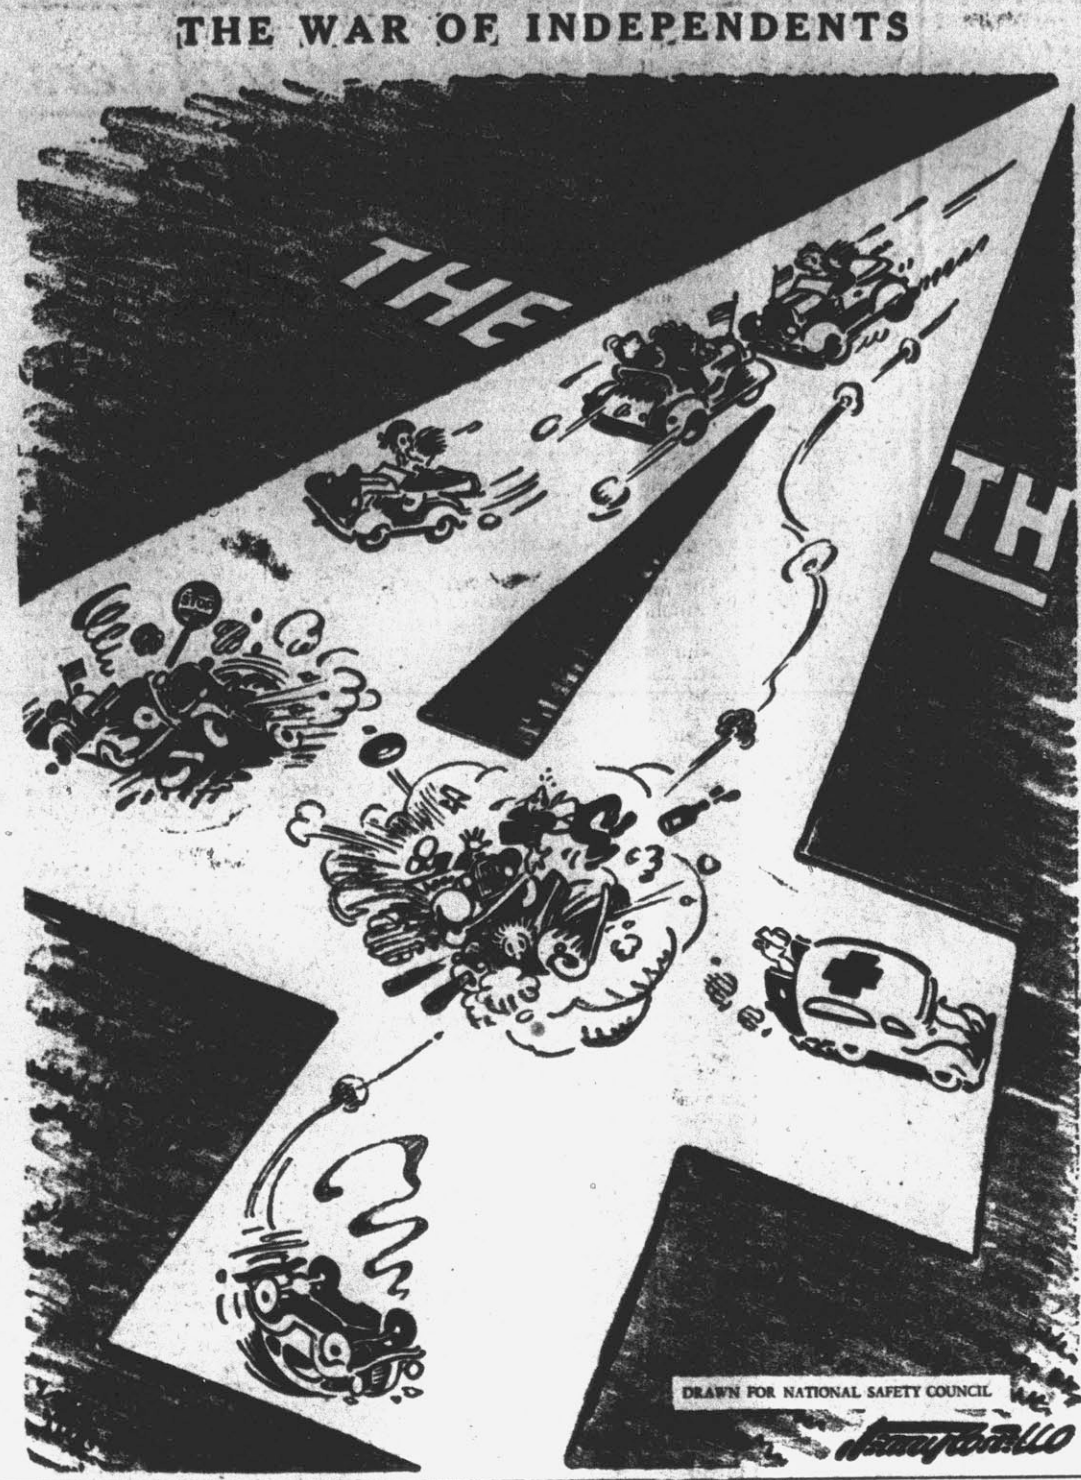

(They fooled him for fair. Instead of trying to tell him how to run his business on the strength of their small stock holdings in his company, they just talked about flowers and the weather. And there sat Willkie with a useless chip on his shoulder.)

And Wendell Willkie's the man whose slim, lively wife had rather just stroll down the street with her husband than do most anything else.

The biography broadcast from the Willkie-for-President headquarters is, in the words of William Allen White, the slickest literary goose grease that has burdened the second class mail in sometime. It skips part of the lofty hokum usually used to doll up a candidate, cheerfully paints Willkie in his youth as "Peck's Bad Boy, whom no mother would take as a model for her son.

Typical American Boy
"He was always in trouble," it says, "fighting, tipping over neighbors' privies, using his Sunday school text cards from the Methodist church to play a gambling game with his five brothers and sisters."
But in its more serious passages, the campaign biographer is also earnestly eager to give you a portrait of a "big shot" utility executive who undeniably is a selfmade man.

It tells you how the ailing B. C. Cross, executive of Commonwealth, called the able lawyer from the Middle West to New York at three times his midwest income, and in 1933 made Willkie the boss of the whole show at $75,000 a year.
"No wonder," the biographer adds, "that Wendell Willkie believes there is still opportunity today in America. From hobo to corporation chief

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York.—We are warned by Julian Etinge, who already has "retired for good" five separate and distinct times, that this may be his final appearance in public as an entertainer.
And on the off chance that he may mean it this time we dropped in for a chat with the world's best known female impersonator—first, to ask him a few questions about a real estate venture he and Sol Bloom, now a congressman, entered into some time ago, and second, to sort of close out the era, if this appearance really is his last.

Of all the hundreds and thousands of people who have come to Broadway to see him, Etinge is one of the few, one of the six or seven or a dozen, who has had a Broadway theater named after him. This is the Etinge, on 42nd street, once a celebrated playhouse but now a dowdy shooting gallery given to the cinema of the third and fourth run variety.

Al Wood, the producer, had a hand in this theater. Wood is the sort of producer who likes to keep miniature sets of his plays in his office. You walk into his office today, and on his desk you will find a miniature scaffold, with a dangling noose. This is an exact replica of a scene from one of his earlier hits. Wood, Etinge and Sol Bloom built the Etinge. "It was a beautiful little house," Julian recalls, "but we discovered a few days before opening it that it had no elevator or dressing rooms. So we had the carpenters tack up little cubbies in the wings, for dressing rooms. They were man-killers and back-breakers. I guess they were the worst dressing rooms of the 'cottage' variety in theatrical history. We had a little toy elevator put in, too—a miniature scenic railway holding a man and a half. We tried to get some value out of it by advertising it as the smallest elevator in the world."

What is Julian Etinge doing in New York and why isn't he on his California ranch? There is now a notice posted on his door to this effect: "For Sale—One $300,000 ranch for $40,000.—J. Etinge."
"That ranch, I just found out, never earned a dime since the day I bought it. Now that I am in the clutches of Billy Rose I doubt that I will have time to do anything further about it this season. Rose is the man who proposed that I forget all about my previous retirements and come to Manhattan. So here I is a long stride. If he made it, he thinks other men can do as well."

"Semi-Religious Movement"
But the biography might have left off the next sentence:
"He has no powerful friends, no personal influence, no 'pull'."

No man who has done the things he has done, or possessed the Willkie fire and dash could help but attract friends from many walks of life, as well as make a few enemies along the way.

When the Willkie boom was in its infancy, an old lady wrote a Philadelphia newspaper that to her way of thinking, the Lord had sent us (presumably the Republicans) Wendell Willkie.

William L. Harman, vice president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works and head of the Pennsylvania Willkie-for-President clubs, added:
"I regard this as a semi-religious movement, and we are trying to get it on a revival basis." To which the Republican convention said, "Amen!"

am at the Diamond Horseshoe, on Broadway, right where I was 30 years ago."

The war has set Mr. Etinge reminiscing about his own European adventures. While he was strolling in Berlin, in the Tiergarten one day, an equestrian stepped up and said: "His Imperial Majesty the Kaiser, whose carriage you see halted ahead of you, instructs me to present his compliment and to inquire the breed of your dog."
Flattered, Etinge gave him the information. He thought, "Gee, this is the nuts. This is great stuff. Even the Kaiser likes my dog."
But instead of a courtesy, the equestrian turned without a word and returned to the carriage, which then drove off. Etinge remained genuinely puzzled by this behavior until he remembered the precise words of his reply: "My dog," he had told the equestrian, "is a bulldog of the French type—which is noted for looks, loyalty, and ballantry in battle."

NOTICE TO CREDITORS
North Carolina, Pitt County
IN THE SUPERIOR COURT
IN RE: Olivia Sherrod,
Admx. Estate of William W. Humphrey.

Olivia Sherrod, having this day qualified as Administratrix of the estate of William W. Humphrey, deceased, before the Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to said estate to make immediate settlement with the undersigned Administratrix and all persons holding claims against said estate are hereby notified to file their said claims, itemized and duly verified with the undersigned Administratrix within twelve months from the date of this notice, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of recovery on said claims.

This the 18th day of May, 1940.
OLIVIA SHERROD,
Administratrix Estate
William W. Humphrey.
Harding & Lee, Attorneys.
M18-10wk-6wks.

NOTICE
Having qualified as executor of the estate of Lillian Denny Austin, deceased, late of Pitt county, North Carolina, this is to notify all persons having claims against the estate of said deceased to exhibit them to the undersigned at his office in Greenville, N. C., on or before the 5th day of June, 1941, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment.
This 5th day of June, 1940.
S. B. UNDERWOOD, Jr.,
Executor of the Estate of Lillian Denny Austin.
11wk6wks-6-5-40.

WANT ADS PAY

WORLD'S FASTEST SWIMMER smokes the slow-burning cigarette

I WANT ALL THE MILDNESS AND FLAVOR I CAN GET. CAMELS BURN SLOWER AND GIVE ME WHAT I WANT, ALONG WITH EXTRA SMOKING, TOO!

PETER FICK—World's Champion Sprint Swimmer

"NO SPEED for me in my cigarette," says Pete. "I know what a difference there is between a fast-burning smoke and a slow-burning one. I stick to Camels." Yes, Camel's costlier tobaccos and slower burning give you extras in mildness, coolness, and flavor—and extra smoking, too (see right).

FOR EXTRA MILDNESS, EXTRA COOLNESS, EXTRA FLAVOR—

CAMELS

SLOW-BURNING COSTLIER-TOBACCOS

5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

AT BELK-TYLER'S

Tomorrow—8:30 Sharp!

PRE-HOLIDAY SALE

400 Lovely SILK Dresses

OUT THEY GO TOMORROW IN THIS PRE-HOLIDAY SALE!

Drastic Reductions For Tomorrow's Sale

Printed Bembergs! Triple Sheers! Washable Crepes! Sports Frocks! Novelty Sheers! Navy Sheers! In a wonderful range of late Spring and early Summer styles!

Dresses Regularly Up To $7.00 ... Sale	$4.44
Dresses Regularly Up To $8.00 ... Sale	$5.44
Dresses Regularly Up To $10.00 ... Sale	$7.44

BE SURE TO BE DOWN EARLY FOR THIS IMPORTANT DRESS SALE TOMORROW ... YOU'LL WANT SEVERAL WHEN YOU SEE THESE ... SEE WINDOW TONIGHT!

BATHING SUITS - Drastic Reductions!

$2.00 SUITS	Reduced to $1.67
$3.00 SUITS	Reduced to $2.47
$4.00 SUITS	Reduced to $3.29
$5.00 SUITS	Reduced to $3.97
$6.00 SUITS	Reduced to $4.77
$7.00 SUITS	Reduced to $5.37

PLAY SUITS

Well-tailored of sharkskin, seersucker, wash silk, spun rayon and prints. In two- and three-piece styles.

98c $1.98 $2.98

TOMORROW!—8:30 A.M. SHARP!

A SENSATIONAL BUY!

THE BIGGEST PICK-UP OF THE YEAR!

SALE 900 PAIRS PURE THREAD SILK HOSE

Fine pure thread silk, semi-chiffon weight, picot tops. In all the newest summer colors. Regular 79c grades.

BUY THEM BY THE BOX TOMORROW!

53c

2 PAIRS FOR $1.00

SALE! 6000 YARDS SHEER PRINTS 10c

Sheer Batistes, Lawns, Dimities. In gorgeous new patterns. Guaranteed fast colors. Regular 15c grades. SALE!

BELK-TYLER CO.

GREENVILLE, N. C.

The Daily Reflector

Every Afternoon Except Sunday
Established 1882
DAVID J. WHICHAID, Jr.
Owner and Publisher
DIAL 3356

Entered at the Post Office at Greenville, N. C., as second class mail matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
(Payable in Advance)
One Year $5.00
Six Months $2.50
Three Months $1.25
One Month50
One Week15

Subscriptions will be discontinued at expiration of time paid.

MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatched credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein. All right of publication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES
Thomas F. Clark Co., Inc., New York, Chicago, Indianapolis, Philadelphia, Kansas City, Richmond

Strength For The Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

HE COULD TAKE IT
OR LET IT ALONE

Old Hank died yesterday. He will be buried in a day or two in Potter's field. Ten years ago he had charge of a large office force, ten years before that he was a promising middle-aged man pressing on to bigger things. In his youth his family regarded him with pride, and all who knew him were confident that he would make a great success of life.

But one little weakness killed him—he couldn't let alone alone. He finally died of cancer. A small growth a quarter the size of a pea grew into a fatal tumor which finally took his life. The drinking habit grew on him the same way. He was temperate as a young man, and fairly temperate as a middle-aged man. But as he went into the 50's and experienced a few business reverses, the habit grew. The cancer on his character, so small that he paid no attention to it in earlier years, now grew into a great thing that brought him at least to an ignominious end.

And it all could have been avoided. That is the tragedy of such stories. No one needs to get started on that downward path if he will just exercise enough self-control to go the way of wholesome living, in spite of the fact that his companions choose the broad highway of indulgence. The tragedy of Old Hank's undoing was that it constituted a pathetic waste of human energy which never needed to have taken place.

All rights reserved—Babson Newspaper Syndicate

FIRES YOU MIGHT HAVE STARTED

Did you ever think of all the fires you might have started?

You've probably thrown burning cigarette butts out of your car window on hundreds of occasions. If luck was with you, nothing happened. Had luck not prevailed, one of those butts might have been the source of a fire that would have destroyed a fine farm, grain stacked in fields, or thousands of acres of irreplaceable woodland.

Remember the time you put a penny back of a fuse to get the electricity flowing? You were luck that time too, as the house didn't burn down. There was a very good chance, however, that it would.

And how about all the odds and ends of junk you've stored away in attics, closets, basements, etc., figuring to get rid of them on some vague future day? Accumulations like that may go on for years and do no harm—or, if the breaks are against you, they may start or feed a destructive blaze any minute.

And don't forget those occasions on which you took it

Have We Forgotten Anything?

for granted, that you'd get away with postponing necessary heating, wiring, chimney and similar repairs until another time.

All of us have come within an ace of starting fires on more occasions than it is pleasant to count. And every so often luck turns—and life and property is needlessly destroyed as a consequence. Keep that in mind—and you won't be taking so great a chance with fire in the future.

Washington Daybook

By Jack Stinson

Washington—Footnote on Philadelphia:

Among the now-it-can-be-told stories is how the Republican convention bogged down on its foreign relations plank.

Before the convention started, smiling Alf M. Landon, titular head of the party, former governor of Kansas and chairman of that important committee drafting the foreign plank, told us about plans for streamlining the convention.

There would be none of this slow-train-through-Arkansas business, he said. The Republican big guns had been mechanized and were traveling with the speed of Nazi tanks.

A week before the convention started, Herbert K. "Slick" Hyde, part-Indian from Oklahoma and another of the convention's accents on youth, called his resolutions committee together. That's how they were going to do it this time. And by opening day, that "postcard platform" would be ready and waiting. If that was a postcard platform, then you and I, using bold Spencerian, could write the constitution on a pinhead.

You Have To Juggle
The trouble with a platform is that no matter who gets in, it's got to fit. When it comes to broad outlines, there might not be so much difference between a Taft and a Vandenberg or a Hoover. But when you start considering a gang-busting young district attorney and a director of utility empires who changed party banners only a few years ago, you have to go in for language juggling in the grand manner. That goes for any party's convention where the candidates are numerous. You can pull a candidate out of any hat in the ring, but if he can't wear the party fedora, he's going to the polls berefted. And you can't get into the White House, you know, without a topper.

The idea is to make the party hat fit everybody and that's how come the Landon-Hyde streamlining plans went astray. Instead of having the platform ready and waiting, they were a little over a day late and held up the balloting for hours. You can't pick a man until there's something for him to stand on... that's a convention rule.

What happened was that Hyde's committee and Landon's subcommittee "went up in their lines," to use a theatrical phrase. They knew the plot, but they couldn't get the lines right. Back and forth, from subcommittee to committee the various phraseologies flew... trying to find the exact wording on foreign policy that would satisfy committee, convention, candidate and people.

Room 808, the Bellevue-Stratford. It's as informal as ladies' sewing circle. A few more than 15 men are rolling about in comfortable chairs. Some have their coats off. There's Hyde, with black hair and dark, smooth skin showing his Indian blood. He seems to be the only man in the room who can take his ease in a straight-backed chair. There's Landon, a little rumped, a little unshaven, a little gray and weary with the strain. There's former Senator George Wharton Pepper, one more of the real big-wigs of the G. O. P.—and another one, Walter E. Edge, former senator and former ambassador to France.

The conversation is an unheated debate... back and forth... back and forth. At the moment, it revolves about the phrase, "aid to oppressed peoples." Shall that phrase be included or shall it not? Shall the principle of it be worded some other way? Somebody says that the whole trouble with it is that it sounds exactly like the FDR foreign affairs plank that will be written into the Democratic platform. That starts an argument. It goes on endlessly.

Outside the door, 14 men, yawning with weariness from all-night sessions, bored with waiting, sit on the floor of the corridor. A few are reading, but mostly they are arguing, back and forth... back and forth. Oddly enough, their conversation is almost identical with that inside the room. Should "Aid to oppressed peoples" be included or shouldn't it? The bout ends in a no-decision. These men are the Press.

There would be none of this slow-train-through-Arkansas business, he said. The Republican big guns had been mechanized and were traveling with the speed of Nazi tanks.

A week before the convention started, Herbert K. "Slick" Hyde, part-Indian from Oklahoma and another of the convention's accents on youth, called his resolutions committee together. That's how they were going to do it this time. And by opening day, that "postcard platform" would be ready and waiting. If that was a postcard platform, then you and I, using bold Spencerian, could write the constitution on a pinhead.

You Have To Juggle
The trouble with a platform is that no matter who gets in, it's got to fit. When it comes to broad outlines, there might not be so much difference between a Taft and a Vandenberg or a Hoover. But when you start considering a gang-busting young district attorney and a director of utility empires who changed party banners only a few years ago, you have to go in for language juggling in the grand manner. That goes for any party's convention where the candidates are numerous. You can pull a candidate out of any hat in the ring, but if he can't wear the party fedora, he's going to the polls berefted. And you can't get into the White House, you know, without a topper.

The idea is to make the party hat fit everybody and that's how come the Landon-Hyde streamlining plans went astray. Instead of having the platform ready and waiting, they were a little over a day late and held up the balloting for hours. You can't pick a man until there's something for him to stand on... that's a convention rule.

What happened was that Hyde's committee and Landon's subcommittee "went up in their lines," to use a theatrical phrase. They knew the plot, but they couldn't get the lines right. Back and forth, from subcommittee to committee the various phraseologies flew... trying to find the exact wording on foreign policy that would satisfy committee, convention, candidate and people.

You Have To Juggle
The trouble with a platform is that no matter who gets in, it's got to fit. When it comes to broad outlines, there might not be so much difference between a Taft and a Vandenberg or a Hoover. But when you start considering a gang-busting young district attorney and a director of utility empires who changed party banners only a few years ago, you have to go in for language juggling in the grand manner. That goes for any party's convention where the candidates are numerous. You can pull a candidate out of any hat in the ring, but if he can't wear the party fedora, he's going to the polls berefted. And you can't get into the White House, you know, without a topper.

The idea is to make the party hat fit everybody and that's how come the Landon-Hyde streamlining plans went astray. Instead of having the platform ready and waiting, they were a little over a day late and held up the balloting for hours. You can't pick a man until there's something for him to stand on... that's a convention rule.

What happened was that Hyde's committee and Landon's subcommittee "went up in their lines," to use a theatrical phrase. They knew the plot, but they couldn't get the lines right. Back and forth, from subcommittee to committee the various phraseologies flew... trying to find the exact wording on foreign policy that would satisfy committee, convention, candidate and people.

Agriculture publications chief, is on his vacation. There are reports that he will attempt to even the fishing score with his wife, one of the U. C. C.'s most decorative young ladies, who is with him. On her very first angling expedition Mrs. Wilson shamed her hubby by landing a veritable whale while Louis got nothing but a very minute minnow.

Handbills distributed by union members here Monday may not have been completely veracious, but they were a bit out of the ordinary.

"Strikebreakers Walkout," screamed the varicolored leaflets in big letters at the top, then continued: Second Strike on Raleigh Times in five weeks. Union printers were forced to strike on the Raleigh Times on May 21, 1940. On July 1, 1940 (today) Non-union printers walked out on Raleigh Times."

And at the bottom in italics and quotes: "Everybody's Out of Step But Johnny". Publisher of the Raleigh Times is John A. Park.

Wage-Hour inspectors are checking up on lumber concerns from Rocky Mount and Washington this week. From Rocky Mount the inspectors will go to Goldsboro next week, while those now at Washington will move to New Bern.

Ronald Hocutt, director of the Highway Safety Division is calling up all North Carolina motorists to make July 4th this year a "holiday instead of a horror day."

He points out that nine persons were killed on North Carolina streets and highways over the Fourth of July week-end last year.

Incidentally, Hocutt is very optimistic that June will be shown to have had a very much improved safety record over last year.

Figures received through Saturday of last week showed only 39 killed in June as against a total of June, 1939, of 82. More fatalities for last month are still to be reported, of course, but Hocutt hopes that the

Short Shots

By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, July 2.—There's a lesson in handihood and tenacity to be learned from the lone larkspur bravely blooming in the driest, barrenest, most-sunked bit of soil in Raleigh—between the old Supreme court building and the sidewalk.

Louis H. Wilson, Department of Daily Cross Word Puzzle

ACROSS

- Formerly
- Summer recreational center
- Cooking
- Ballot
- Above
- Copy
- Ardor
- Particle
- Former President's nickname
- Lowered
- Wagon shaft
- Flower
- Kind of meat
- Faithful
- Cautious
- Admission
- Poor actor: slang
- Prof. of being elsewhere
- Depression between mountains
- Pronoun
- Military student
- Sign of life
- Short sleep
- White poplar
- That which is woven
- Cheer
- Demolish
- Lively dance
- Sharpen
- Retinue of wives
- Go before
- Self
- Genus of the Virginia willow
- Goode's of
- Mark of a blow
- Copper coin
- English letter
- Girdle
- Margin
- DOWN
- At any time
- Part played
- Increase for athletic games
- Act of holding
- Arrives
- Encountered
- Past tense
- Faithful
- Age
- Have effect
- Domestic
- Fowl
- Biological tower
- Article
- Appearance
- Princely
- Italian family
- Light
- Memoranda
- Sphere
- University students
- Identifying mark
- Ingratiate
- Scotch river
- Move back
- Age
- Pronoun
- In this place
- Eons
- Animal: inclusive
- Sound of bell
- Princely
- Italian family
- Light

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

1. Formerly
2. Summer recreational center
3. Cooking
4. Ballot
5. Above
6. Copy
7. Ardor
8. Particle
9. Former President's nickname
10. Lowered
11. Wagon shaft
12. Flower
13. Kind of meat
14. Faithful
15. Cautious
16. Admission
17. Poor actor: slang
18. Prof. of being elsewhere
19. Depression between mountains
20. Pronoun
21. Military student
22. Sign of life
23. Short sleep
24. White poplar
25. That which is woven
26. Cheer
27. Demolish
28. Lively dance
29. Sharpen
30. Retinue of wives
31. Go before
32. Self
33. Genus of the Virginia willow
34. Goode's of
35. Mark of a blow
36. Copper coin
37. English letter
38. Girdle
39. Margin
40. Increase for athletic games
41. Act of holding
42. Arrives
43. Encountered
44. Past tense
45. Faithful
46. Age
47. Have effect
48. Domestic
49. Fowl
50. Biological tower
51. Article
52. Appearance
53. Princely
54. Italian family
55. Light

Casual Slaughterers

By VIRGINIA HANSON

YESTERDAY: Sandra Ferguson left a single message, and Miss, Colonel Ferguson's young wife, come to collect their man, Julia, the Colonel's daughter, asks Kay to go swimming.

Chapter Seven Julia's Story

SITTING on the boat Julia proceeded to question me. "Are you engaged to Adam?" "No."

"Are you in love with him?" She waited a decent interval of time, went on evenly. "Were you ever—what's the euphemism?—disappointed in love?"

I sat up, looked at her and laughed again. She watched me moodily, lying there on her back, long and beautifully built and so desperately unhappy.

"I'm not just being fresh," she said. "You listen awhile. I told her gently. I met Adam at Fort Herrens last summer. I was engaged to a lieutenant there. When I left I was no longer engaged. Adam knew about it and was sorry and helped me to forget him."

"Did you love him? The lieutenant, I mean?" "Yes."

"Had you known him long?" "All my life. We grew up together."

"And you're all over it now?" "I think so."

Her face twisted; she turned on her side and stared away from me out across the lake.

"What do you want to know," she said at last in an uncertain voice. "But I don't think I'll get over it."

"I thought that too, at first." She was silent for a while. "It's not knowing that hurts."

She said finally in a little, defeated voice. "I thought he loved me was so sure of it. It never entered my mind that we wouldn't be married as soon as he graduated. It isn't as if he had just met her—there she was right in his own house from the time she was twelve. They didn't even get along well as kids."

"Who is Sandra, anyway? I've only heard scraps of the story." She sat up and dangled her long, straight legs in the lake, thrashing them violently for a moment until the water was white. Then she checked the small tempest and began to talk with her usual unsmiling poise.

"Sandra's father and Jeff's father and my father were classmates at West Point, and Jeff's father was from Memphis. The Tacks had a beautiful old home there, and not a dime to bless themselves with. The place was eventually sold, but not before the three boys had spent an unforgettable fortnight there during their Furlo. Two years later, in the chapel at West Point, Dan married Melissa Tack—Jeff's father's cousin. She was my mother; Jeff's mother was her best friend."

"Then you and Jeff are cousins?" "Not exactly. Step-cousins once removed, or something like that. It's a very slim relationship. Colonel Tack and mother had the same grandfather, but the old gentleman was married twice and they had different grandmothers. I knew him—the common ancestor. He had been a circuit judge and at some time or other in his early days he had bought a farm in the Ozarks. Everyone said it was a fool investment—nothing would grow there. But he liked it, and went there to live when he retired. Jeff and I spent a few weeks with him when we were little kids—it was the year Colonel Tack was at Leavenworth attending the staff school. We loved the farm, too, and the old gentleman was very kind to us. Jeff owns the place now—inherited it when his father died a few years ago. But why am I telling you all this? Where was I?"

"Russian Refugee" "ABOUT Jeff's mother and your mother. But who did Ferguson marry?"

"No one for a long time. The two brides tried their best to corral him for one or another of their friends, but he wasn't having any. They think he was in love with Mrs. Tack. The three men all chose cavalry for a time. Then the war came and everything went haywire. Dad went abroad with one of the first outfits; while he was gone I was born and my mother died. I guess he tried not to come back—that's how he got so many medals and things."

"My mother was an orphan and Dad's people were old. The Tacks took me and kept me until the war was over. You see, Colonel Tack never went across—he was Captain Tack then, of course. They were all captains—he was in one of the training camps here at home. But Dad was over there for the duration, and in Germany after the armistice. I wasn't a baby any longer when he came home and took me, and the Tacks had got fond of me. That was why, later, they got Sandra. North had left of course, but he was three years older and a boy. They wanted a daughter."

But I thought you said Ferguson didn't marry.

"He brought a wife and baby back with him from France. Sandra's mother was a Russian refugee; she committed suicide when her husband died of pneumonia. Sandra was twelve. The Fergusons were a queer, cold lot—Bostons. They had always looked down their noses at the Russian girl and they persisted in speaking of Sandra as her daughter, maybe, since she was born abroad, they just couldn't believe she was a Ferguson. Anyway, they didn't want her, and when the Tacks offered to adopt her there were no objections raised."

"Nice people!" "Werren't they? And wasn't it swell of the Tacks? They were like that. But I resented it and hated Sandra. It seemed to me that she had my place, and when I went to them for visits it wasn't the same any more. We're about the same age, and everyone thought we ought to be friends, but we weren't, ever. I was too jealous."

"She was probably jealous, too. Of course they loved you best—they had you when you were a baby."

Julia looked surprised. "I never thought of that. Maybe they did—Mother Tack at least. She used to take my part sometimes. . . . Well, if Sandra was jealous, she's more than even now. She's got all I had left, except Dad; and I expect she could get him, too, if she tried."

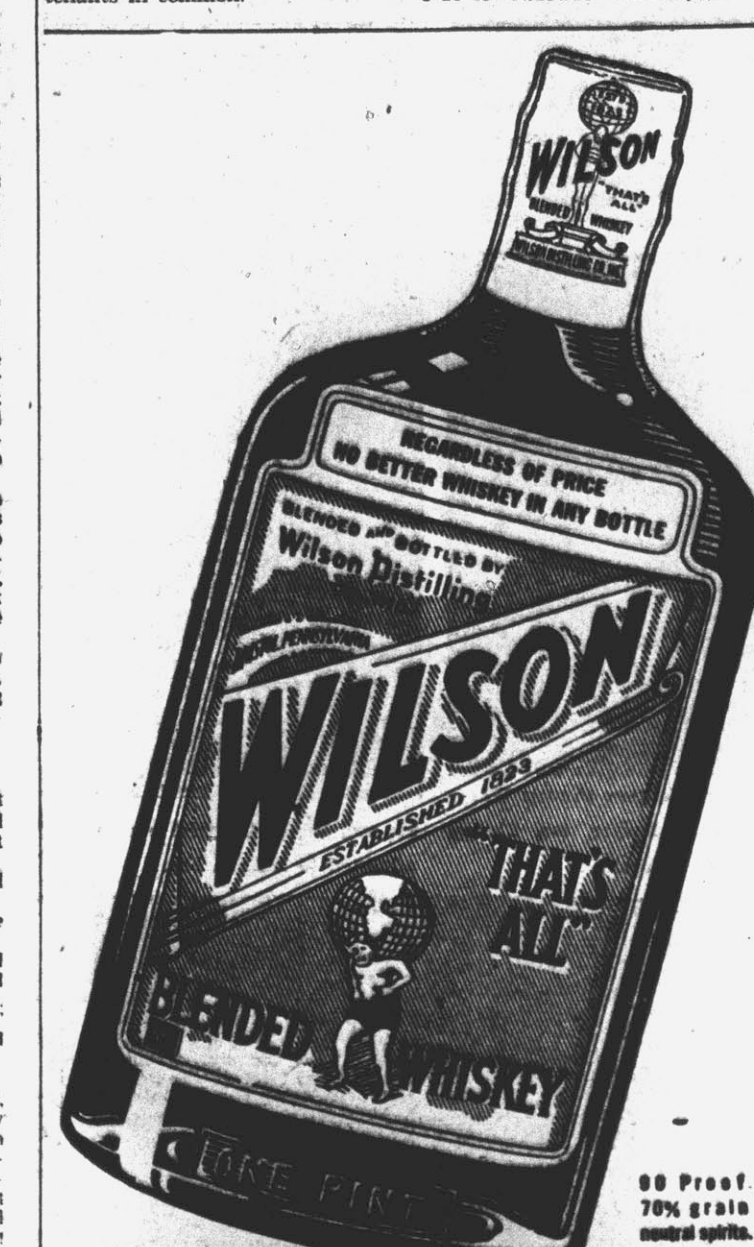

NOTICE OF SALE
North Carolina, Pitt County.
By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Pitt County in that certain Special Proceedings, entitled Lena Hines, et al. vs. Fannie Mae Hines, widow of F. R. Hines, et al., the undersigned commissioners on Saturday, the 13th day of July, 1940, at 12 o'clock, noon, expose to public sale to the highest bidder for cash before the courthouse door in Pitt County, the following described real property, to-wit: That certain tract, lot, or parcel of real property situated in the Town of Ayden, Pitt County, North Carolina, bounded on the north by Mrs. Lucy Worthington, on the East by the lands of C. G. Bland's Heirs, on the south by J. F. Dixon, on the west by College street in the town of Ayden, N. C., containing about 4 1-2 acres more or less, and being the same lands set out and described in that certain deed which appears of record in the office of Register of Deeds of Pitt county, to Lena Hines and Lizzie Hines, and being the same property whereon Miss Lena Hines now lives. This property will be subdivided and sold in separate lots.

This sale will be made for the purpose of making partition among tenants in common.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE
Having qualified as Administrator of the estate of J. G. Lawson, deceased, late of Pitt County, North Carolina, this is to notify all persons having claims against the estate of said deceased to exhibit them to the undersigned, John W. Rook, on or before the 14th day of May, 1941, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment. This 14th day of May, 1940.
JOHN W. ROOK,
Administrator of the estate of J. G. Lawson.

APPLICATION FOR POOL TABLE LICENSE
Notice is hereby given that I have placed a pool table at Seven Fines, and will make application to Pitt County Commissioners for License to operate same.
E. L. JONES,
Walstonburg, N. C.
6-28-40—1w3kws—Jne26Jy3,10.

This sale will be made for the purpose of making partition among tenants in common.

WILSON DISTILLING CO. BRISTOL, VA.

USED CAR VALUEGRAM

Don't Miss Our Used Car Values For The 4th-Check These Listed Below.

— Ellwanger

TOMORROW— IS YOUR LAST CHANCE TO BUY USED CARS AT THESE PRICES—

1931 Model "A" FORD COACH	$350.00
1937 PLYMOUTH COACH	$350.00
1936 CHRYSLER SEDAN	$235.00
1935 CHEVROLET MASTER COACH	$225.00
1933 PLYMOUTH COACH	$145.00
'35 'OLDS' COACH Reconditioned	$245
A BEAUTY!

ELLWANGER MOTOR SALES

5 E. 5th St. "Your Chrysler and Plymouth Dealer" Dial 2416

666 checks MALARIA in 7 days and relieves COLDS

Liquid - Tablets - COLD

Save-Nose Drops symptoms first day Try "Rub-My-Tum", a Wonderful Laxative

Greenies Win With A Two-Run Party In The 8th Inning

KINSTON PLAYS HERE TONIGHT

Bill Teller Does The Shining for Rube's Greenies

A two-run party in the eighth inning that climaxed a spurge of three hits and two walks produced a 5-4 triumph for Rube Wilson's Greenies over the Kinston Eagles on the Lenoir county diamond last night.

Bill Teller, who performed on the mound for the Greenies, was walked in the eighth, as was Dides, Stingles by Samocki, Kracke and Mance Wilson gave the Greenies needed and winning runs.

In addition to his nifty job on the mound, Teller raked Kinston's two hurriers—Stringfellow and Dwyer—for three hits in as many trips to the plate. This gave Bill a batting average of 1000 for the night.

Things looked pretty dark for the Greenies in the first inning, when their opponents scored three runs.

The Greenies came through with runs in the second, fourth and seventh before rounding out the game with two in the eighth.

Kinston will play the Greenies here tonight in a game starting promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

The box:

Greenies	Ab	R	H	Po	A	E
Samocki, lf	4	0	1	4	0	0
Kracke, 2b	2	2	1	5	0	0
Dides, rf	4	0	0	2	0	0
Wilson, lb	5	0	4	10	0	0
Crowe, cf	3	1	0	5	1	0
Jenkins, 3b	5	0	0	2	1	0
Shelton, ss	5	0	0	1	6	0
Forbes, c	2	1	0	2	0	0
Teller, p	3	1	3	0	1	0

Totals	36	5	10	27	14	0
Kinston	Ab	R	H	Po	A	E
Kennedy, cf	4	0	1	5	1	0
Demasi, rf	4	1	2	0	0	0
Weeks, lf	4	0	1	0	0	0
Russo, ss	4	1	1	0	0	0
Congdon, 3b	4	1	1	1	3	0
Overton, c	3	0	1	6	1	0
Koloszar, 2b	4	0	1	2	1	0
Bator, lb	4	0	0	12	0	0
W. cinser, p	2	1	1	1	0	0
McClough 0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Stringfellow, p	0	0	0	0	1	0
Dwyer, p	0	0	0	0	0	0

Royal Crown last night took an 11-4 victory over Carolina Sales and Pepsi Cola defeated Water-Light 17-6. Results of the two games left Carolina Sales, in second place, only half a game ahead of the Pepsi Cola team, which got off to a slow start, but has been racking up wins of late.

The Water-Light team, however, protested the game and a ruling is pending. Should the protest be sustained the game will be resumed from the sixth inning, time of the protest, President J. D. Simpson has ruled.

The protest was made after a runner had been called out for interference with the fielder. The batter hit the ball down the first base line and the runner and pitcher, who was trying to field the ball, collided. At the end of the sixth inning Pepsi Cola was leading 16-5.

The Pepsi boys made three in their half of the first after the utility boys had scored two. Water and Light jumped into the lead with three in the second and held their foes scoreless in their half of the second. In the third, however, Pepsi Cola got six, added two more in the fourth, five in the fifth and one in the sixth. Water and Light was held scoreless after the second until the seventh, when the team made two.

In the second game of the evening Carolina Sales got two in the first, but the lead was short-lived as Royal Crown got four in its half and never relinquished the lead, getting two in the third, three in the fourth and two in the fifth. Carolina Sales added two in the fifth and was never able to get another.

The box scores:

First Game	Ab	R	H	O	A	E
Water-Light	3	2	1	3	0	0
Bryson, 3b	3	2	1	3	0	0
Roebuck, ss	4	2	3	2	0	0
Barnhill, c	4	0	1	0	0	0
Small, 2b-cf	4	0	1	1	0	0
Brewer, lf	4	0	1	7	0	1
Langley, rf	4	0	2	2	1	0
Evans, sf	3	0	2	3	0	1
B. Harris, if	3	0	1	0	1	0
Terry, cf	1	0	0	1	0	0
Flye, p	3	1	2	0	1	0
Ellington, cf	1	0	0	0	0	0
Seigler, 2b	1	0	0	1	0	0

Totals 35 6 12 18 10 3

Score by innings:	R
Water-Light	230 000 2-6
Pepsi Cola	306 251 x-17

Two base hits: Langley, Flye, Hobgood, Phillips. Three base hits: Williams, Feede. Home runs: Phillips 2, Hobgood, Bryson. Stolen bases: Bryson, Roebuck, Barnhill 2, Terry, Flye. Double plays: Langley to Roebuck. Left on bases: Water-Light 8, Pepsi Cola 3. Base on balls off: Flye 3, Bowling 1.

Totals 29 4 9 18 7 5

Royal Crown	Ab	R	H	O	A	E
H. Waldrop, ss	2	1	1	3	5	0
Feede, 2b	4	1	1	5	2	0
Phillips, cf	3	2	0	0	0	0
Mosier, p	3	2	1	1	1	0
Armstrong, 3b	4	2	2	3	5	0
Warren, cf	4	1	0	0	0	0
Whitchard, cf	3	0	1	0	0	0
Hill, rf	3	0	2	0	0	0
Dudley, lb	4	0	0	0	0	0

Totals 29 4 9 18 7 5

Carolina Trailways
CAROLINA COACH COMPANY

R. C. COLA IS IN 11-4 VICTORY

Car. Sales and Water-Light Go Down In Defeat

STANDINGS	W.	L.	Pct.
Double Cola	13	6	.684
Car. Sales	11	8	.579
Pepsi Cola	10	8	.556
Blount-Harvey	9	8	.529
R. C. Cola	9	10	.474
Tadlock	8	9	.471
Water-Light	6	11	.353
Carolina Dairy	6	12	.333

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS
Pepsi Cola 17, Water-Light 6 (protested).
R. C. Cola 11, Car. Sales 4.

TONIGHT'S GAMES
Carolina Dairy vs. Tadlock.
Double Cola vs. Blount-Harvey.

The softball game scheduled for Wednesday night will not be played until a later date, it was announced today by League President J. D. Simpson.

Tonight's games will be played, however.

The two games set to have been played tomorrow night were rained out earlier in the season.

You get a wonderful view of the ball game from my position—and you need it. It's your job to analyze every playing situation and to meet every emergency in a flash.

That's one of your most important jobs but of course there are others. First, though, let's check up on your qualifications for the job. You should be tall—height helps in grabbing wild pitches and throws from the outfield—but there have been good catches of every size and shape.

If you're a worrier you'll have a tough time. I find the position requires a calm, objective view of the field at all times. But you must be an actor too.

If you're still interested in the job, put on a mask and come behind the plate with me. We'll take up some fundamentals.

Now, get into the crouch with your legs comfortably spread, trunk and knees slightly bent, weight on the balls of the feet. I find it's a good idea to keep the left foot advanced an inch or two to speed up the rise to throwing position.

The best throw is a snap, forearm power shot, sent as nearly as possible on a straight line to the objective. And you know to be a catcher you have to do some catching—matter of fact you have to be a complete master at catching any type of pitch from bullet-like fast balls to the most freakish curves.

Remember to guard your bare hand. Practice keeping it clenched in a fist until the ball strikes the glove—then clamp that hand over the fist. That trick will save you.

Signals for pitches, as you probably know, are given with fingers projecting from under the mitt, held between the legs away from the eyes of baseline coaches and the opposition outcut. It's a good idea to work out an alternate set of signals and switch back and forth when a man's on second so that he can't catch on to your signals and relay them to the coaches and batter.

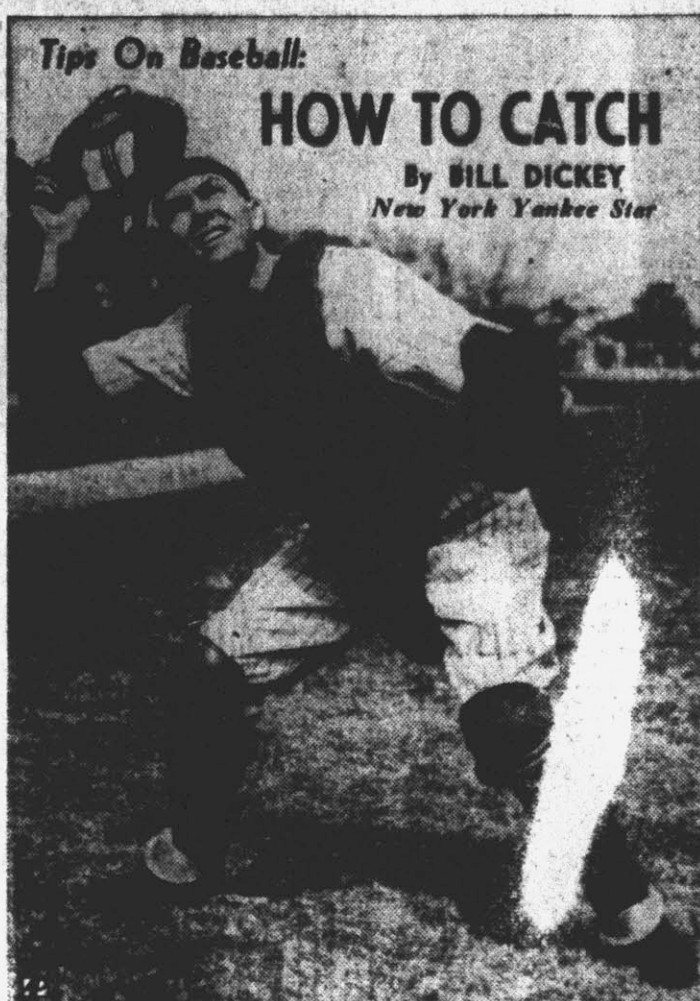

Now a few rules of play: Always keep an eye on a runner on first and take an occasion throw to first to keep him close if you think he's contemplating a steal. Never leave your position at the plate if there's a runner in scoring position. And when a runner is pounding for home on a basehit do all these things:

Block that plate, legitimately, and watch the runner out of the corner of your eye as you concentrate on the ball speeding toward you. If he slides as you catch the ball, play for his foot. Always tag that foot—plenty of spit fingers, stoved hands, and other mishaps. Remember that a catcher benched with an injury is no good to his ball club.

Stand up close to the bat, you'll find catching curves is easier there. And on low balls that strike the ground before crossing the plate, drop to your knees to block the ball with your body if it bounces past your glove.

Now, about headwork. I try to keep a mental library containing exact information about every hitter who's ever stepped into the box before me. From that knowledge, coupled with the stage of the game, position of men on bases, and the pitcher's specialties, I decide what the next pitch should be.

AP Feature Service
You get a wonderful view of the ball game from my position—and you need it. It's your job to analyze every playing situation and to meet every emergency in a flash.

That's one of your most important jobs but of course there are others. First, though, let's check up on your qualifications for the job. You should be tall—height helps in grabbing wild pitches and throws from the outfield—but there have been good catches of every size and shape.

If you're a worrier you'll have a tough time. I find the position requires a calm, objective view of the field at all times. But you must be an actor too.

If you're still interested in the job, put on a mask and come behind the plate with me. We'll take up some fundamentals.

Now, get into the crouch with your legs comfortably spread, trunk and knees slightly bent, weight on the balls of the feet. I find it's a good idea to keep the left foot advanced an inch or two to speed up the rise to throwing position.

The best throw is a snap, forearm power shot, sent as nearly as possible on a straight line to the objective. And you know to be a catcher you have to do some catching—matter of fact you have to be a complete master at catching any type of pitch from bullet-like fast balls to the most freakish curves.

Remember to guard your bare hand. Practice keeping it clenched in a fist until the ball strikes the glove—then clamp that hand over the fist. That trick will save you.

Signals for pitches, as you probably know, are given with fingers projecting from under the mitt, held between the legs away from the eyes of baseline coaches and the opposition outcut. It's a good idea to work out an alternate set of signals and switch back and forth when a man's on second so that he can't catch on to your signals and relay them to the coaches and batter.

Now a few rules of play: Always keep an eye on a runner on first and take an occasion throw to first to keep him close if you think he's contemplating a steal. Never leave your position at the plate if there's a runner in scoring position. And when a runner is pounding for home on a basehit do all these things:

Block that plate, legitimately, and watch the runner out of the corner of your eye as you concentrate on the ball speeding toward you. If he slides as you catch the ball, play for his foot. Always tag that foot—plenty of spit fingers, stoved hands, and other mishaps. Remember that a catcher benched with an injury is no good to his ball club.

Stand up close to the bat, you'll find catching curves is easier there. And on low balls that strike the ground before crossing the plate, drop to your knees to block the ball with your body if it bounces past your glove.

Now, about headwork. I try to keep a mental library containing exact information about every hitter who's ever stepped into the box before me. From that knowledge, coupled with the stage of the game, position of men on bases, and the pitcher's specialties, I decide what the next pitch should be.

plenty of spit fingers, stoved hands, and other mishaps. Remember that a catcher benched with an injury is no good to his ball club.

BASEBALL STANDINGS

COASTAL PLAIN LEAGUE	W.	L.	Pct.
Wilson	48	20	.706
Tarboro	39	27	.591
Goldboro	37	31	.544
Kinston	33	34	.493
New Bern	31	35	.470
Greenville	30	37	.448
Snow Hill	30	37	.448
Williamston	26	47	.359

PIEDMONT LEAGUE	W.	L.	Pct.
Ashville	43	29	.597
Richmond	41	30	.577
Durham	38	30	.559
Charlotte	38	31	.551
Rocky Mount	35	34	.507
Winston-Salem	29	39	.428
Portsmouth	27	43	.381
Norfolk	25	41	.379

AMERICAN LEAGUE	W.	L.	Pct.
Cleveland	42	26	.618
Detroit	39	25	.609
Boston	36	27	.571
New York	33	32	.508
St. Louis	32	37	.464
Chicago	28	35	.444
Philadelphia	25	38	.397
Washington	27	42	.391

NATIONAL LEAGUE	W.	L.	Pct.
Cincinnati	41	22	.651
Brooklyn	39	21	.650
New York	38	22	.633
Chicago	34	34	.500
Pittsburgh	25	34	.424
St. Louis	25	34	.424
Boston	20	36	.357
Philadelphia	21	40	.344

STOKES ROUTS PACTOLUS NINE

Hops on Two Hurlers To Get 14 Hits And 15 Runs

Stokes hopped on two Pactolus hurlers Sunday for 14 hits and 15 runs. It was expected to be a good game, but it turned into a riot for the Stokes nine.

Franklin "Lefty" Roebuck turned in a four-hit mound performance, while fanning 11 batters.

The leading hitters for Stokes were Alton Whitley with four singles for four trips to the platter. Close on his heels were two of his teammates, Carroll Whitchard, with three for five and Auburn Whitehurst with two for four. Pactolus' leading batter was Cleve Mobley with two for five.

Batteries: Stokes: Roebuck and A. Whitehurst; Pactolus: C. Mobley, Dixon and Baker.

Yesterday's Results
COASTAL PLAIN LEAGUE
Greenville 5, Kinston 4.
Williamston 6, Snow Hill 1.

PIEDMONT LEAGUE
Portsmouth 5, Durham 1.
Richmond 11, Charlotte 1.
Winston-Salem 3, Rocky Mount 1.
Others not scheduled.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Philadelphia 9, Boston 1.
St. Louis 2, Cleveland 1.
Detroit 3, Chicago 1.
New York 8, Washington 4.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
St. Louis 3, Cincinnati 2.
Pittsburgh 4, Chicago 3.
New York 7, Boston 1.
Brooklyn 4, Philadelphia 3.

Today's Games

COASTAL PLAIN LEAGUE
Kinston at Greenville.
Williamston at Snow Hill.
Wilson at New Bern.
Goldboro at Tarboro.

PIEDMONT LEAGUE
Rocky Mount at Winston-Salem.
Ashville at Norfolk.
Portsmouth at Durham.
Charlotte at Richmond.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Cincinnati at St. Louis.
Pittsburgh at Chicago.
Boston at New York.
Brooklyn at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York at Washington.
Philadelphia at Boston.
St. Louis at Cleveland.
Chicago at Detroit.

Kool-Aid 5c
MAKES 20 FROZEN SUCKERS
FREE 3 SUCKERS
Every Package

BOOSTERS' NIGHT
BASE BALL
Tonight 8:15
KINSTON at GREENVILLE
GUY SMITH STADIUM
BOOSTERS' NIGHT

KESSLER'S
Private Blend
The straight whiskies in this product are three years or more old; 25% straight whiskies, 75% neutral spirits distilled from grain. 90 Proof.

PINTS and QUARTS

JULIUS KESSLER DISTILLING COMPANY, INC.
LAWRENCEBURG, INDIANA

WANT ADS PAY

Home of 'Right Now' Service
SHOP AT TRIPP'S TOMORROW MORNING FOR HOLIDAY SPECIALS
Closing Wednesday at 1 p. m.—All Day Thursday
DIAL 2284 EARLY for "RIGHT NOW" Delivery

Branded Western Steer Round Steak lb. 30c
Branded Western Steer Boneless Roast lb. 30c
Cured Ham, sliced lb. 35c
Lean Sliced Boiled Ham lb. 40c
Meat Loaf, sliced lb. 25c
Spiced Luncheon Meat lb. 25c
Balogna lb. 18c
Fryers lb. 22c

Home of 'Right Now' Service
TRIPP'S MARKET
Corner Second and Evans St. Dial 2284
Home of 'Right Now' Service

Home of 'Right Now' Service
KILLS Mosquitoes QUICK
See Brand A INSECT SPRAY

BLONDIE — by Young

WOODLEY HAS HAD OUR HEDGE CLIPPER OVER A WEEK
'OH NOW DARLING DON'T LET YOURSELF GET SO EXCITED
THESE NEIGHBORS WHO BORROW THINGS AND DON'T RETURN THEM BURN ME UP!!

WOODLEY, COULD I PLEASE BORROW MY HEDGE-CLIPPER?
IT'S HANGING UP IN YOUR GARAGE DAGWOOD I CLEANED AND SHARPENED IT AND BROUGHT IT BACK RIGHT AWAY
THESE NEIGHBORS WHO BORROW THINGS AND THEN RETURN THEM WITHOUT TELLING YOU BURN ME UP!!

I SENT A MESSAGE BY JEEPOGRAPH TO OLIVE, TELLIN' HER I FOUND SWEETPEA
AN' I TOL' HER I YAM TAKIN' 'M TO THIS MYSTERIOUS LAN' WHERE I YAM GONNA FIGHT SEVEN MEN FOR SOME MORE SPINACH MONEY
ARF-ARF
I JUS' HAPPEN TO THINK THAT THIS JEEPOGRAPH IS A SWELL THING

'CAUSE NOW I KIN HAVE THE LAS' WORD WITH OLIVE
THE REASON WHY OLIVE KIN NOT HAVE THE LAS' WORD, IS 'CAUSE SHE AIN'T GOT NO JEEP
ARE ARE ARE
HM-A SLIGHT CASE OF MAL' DE MER. NO DOUBT

THIMBLE THEATRE (Starring Popeye)

I SENT A MESSAGE BY JEEPOGRAPH TO OLIVE, TELLIN' HER I FOUND SWEETPEA
AN' I TOL' HER I YAM TAKIN' 'M TO THIS MYSTERIOUS LAN' WHERE I YAM GONNA FIGHT SEVEN MEN FOR SOME MORE SPINACH MONEY
ARF-ARF
I JUS' HAPPEN TO THINK THAT THIS JEEPOGRAPH IS A SWELL THING

'CAUSE NOW I KIN HAVE THE LAS' WORD WITH OLIVE
THE REASON WHY OLIVE KIN NOT HAVE THE LAS' WORD, IS 'CAUSE SHE AIN'T GOT NO JEEP
ARE ARE ARE
HM-A SLIGHT CASE OF MAL' DE MER. NO DOUBT

I SENT A MESSAGE BY JEEPOGRAPH TO OLIVE, TELLIN' HER I FOUND SWEETPEA
AN' I TOL' HER I YAM TAKIN' 'M TO THIS MYSTERIOUS LAN' WHERE I YAM GONNA FIGHT SEVEN MEN FOR SOME MORE SPINACH MONEY
ARF-ARF
I JUS' HAPPEN TO THINK THAT THIS JEEPOGRAPH IS A SWELL THING

'CAUSE NOW I KIN HAVE THE LAS' WORD WITH OLIVE
THE REASON WHY OLIVE KIN NOT HAVE THE LAS' WORD, IS 'CAUSE SHE AIN'T GOT NO JEEP
ARE ARE ARE
HM-A SLIGHT CASE OF MAL' DE MER. NO DOUBT

A Breach Of Etiquette!

WOODLEY HAS HAD OUR HEDGE CLIPPER OVER A WEEK
'OH NOW DARLING DON'T LET YOURSELF GET SO EXCITED
THESE NEIGHBORS WHO BORROW THINGS AND DON'T RETURN THEM BURN ME UP!!

WOODLEY, COULD I PLEASE BORROW MY HEDGE-CLIPPER?
IT'S HANGING UP IN YOUR GARAGE DAGWOOD I CLEANED AND SHARPENED IT AND BROUGHT IT BACK RIGHT AWAY
THESE NEIGHBORS WHO BORROW THINGS AND THEN RETURN THEM WITHOUT TELLING YOU BURN ME UP!!

I SENT A MESSAGE BY JEEPOGRAPH TO OLIVE, TELLIN' HER I FOUND SWEETPEA
AN' I TOL' HER I YAM TAKIN' 'M TO THIS MYSTERIOUS LAN' WHERE I YAM GONNA FIGHT SEVEN MEN FOR SOME MORE SPINACH MONEY
ARF-ARF
I JUS' HAPPEN TO THINK THAT THIS JEEPOGRAPH IS A SWELL THING

'CAUSE NOW I KIN HAVE THE LAS' WORD WITH OLIVE
THE REASON WHY OLIVE KIN NOT HAVE THE LAS' WORD, IS 'CAUSE SHE AIN'T GOT NO JEEP
ARE ARE ARE
HM-A SLIGHT CASE OF MAL' DE MER. NO DOUBT

WANTS

Rates 1 1/2¢ per word, minimum charge 25¢ for 25 words, one insertion; six insertions $1.85; one month, $7.50. Indented lines, known as classified display, or larger than regular size type, double price.

Other than to business houses having regular accounts with us, no want ads will be charged. Send or bring cash with order. To prevent errors, want ads will not be taken over the telephone.

WE HAVE INSTALLED A PAINT Conditioning Machine for thoroughly mixing paint. This insures a better paint job for the consumer and saves time for the painter. J. A. Watson, Seed-Feed-Provisionist. 10-1f

Special For Wednesday Morning Only!
RAYON BED SPREADS—Special..... 98¢
HOME FURNITURE STORE

SPECIALS FOR WEDNESDAY— Cherry Tarts and All Kinds of Cookies and Rolls for your picnic. Peoples' Bakery. 2-1f

FOR RENT TO COUPLE WITH- out children, three room furnished apartment. Private bath. Mrs. C. W. Wilson, Dial 3467. 2-1f

FOR RENT—FOUR-ROOM UN- furnished upstairs apartment. Price reasonable. Located Evans and Twelfth Streets. Dial 3087 or 2635. 29-31s

THE DOCTOR SAYS EAT MORE salt during the summer months for health's sake. Potato Chips freshly cooked daily have this much-needed salt. Peoples' Bakery.

WORLD'S FAIR SIX-DAY TOURS at frequent intervals. Ricks Tours—Telephone 3681-L. 7-1f

FOR RENT—NICE SIX-ROOM house in College View on Blittmore Street. Dial 3587. 28-6ts

OLD FASHION SQUARE DANCE Every Wednesday Night
Music by Martin County Ramblers
Admission 35¢
Regular Sat. Night Round Dance
Every Saturday Night from 9 till
Music by Carolina Stompers
CRAGO'S PLACE
Bethel-Tarboro Highway

FOR SALE—BUILDING LOT 60 by 110 feet. Pavement. Convenient College. $625 Cash. When you wish to sell or buy, see L. J. SMITH, Real Estate-Insurance. 2-1f

Colored News

We wish to thank the people, white and colored, for the kindness and sympathy given us in the illness and death of my daughter, Neil C. Fleming.

Sadie B. Fleming, Mother.
Willie C. Fleming and Charity Fleming Waddell, Sisters.

The state G. W. matron of Eastern Star, Mrs. Sallie Evans of Fayetteville, N. C., came to Greenville, June 17th and rehabilitated "Ladies Delight No. 10 O. E. S. She was assisted by Mrs. Martha Pearson, matron of Jephthah's chapter No. 1, Washington, N. C., who is also grand deputy of Tyrell, Washington and Martin counties; Mrs. Maggie Strong, grand deputy of Pitt, Beaufort, Hyde, Lenoir and Greene counties; Special Deputy Prof. C. M. Epps; Mr. H. C. Strong, a W. M. and visiting patron; Mrs. Sarah Reeves; W. M. of Wisdom, Chapter No. 37, Ayden, N. C., and the following ladies from her chapter: Mesdames Josephine Reeves, Lucy Strong and Malissa Pugh.

After reorganization the officers were elected as follows: Prof. C. M. Epps—W. P.; Mrs. Lavenia E. Latham—W. M.; Mrs. Maggie Cherry—A. M.; Mrs. N. W. Cherry—Coadj.; Mrs. Mattie Daniels—A. Cond.; Mrs. Belle M. Atkinson—Secretary; Mrs.

NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATION

Having this day duly qualified before the Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County as Administrator of the Estate of Arnold Rogers, deceased, this is to notify all persons having claims against said estate, to present them to the undersigned, duly verified, within twelve months from date of this notice, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of recovery. All person indebted to said estate will make prompt settlement.

This 28th day of June, 1940.
G. G. WARD, Administrator.
7-2-Itwk-6wts.

FOR YOUR PLUMBING—CALL
S. A. "RED" HORTON
Phone 2622—Greenville Hotel
• Repair Work A Specialty •
$1.50 per hour — License No. 422

Greenville Beauty Shoppe
48 EAST FIFTH ST. A. 1324
PRIVATE PARKING LOT, ENTRANCE

WOODSTOCK
J. A. Moore Office Equipment
Company, 254 Tarwell Street,
Norfolk, Virginia; W. E. Kerr,
Agent, Rocky Mount, N. C.

We Clean and Press Men's Suits, Ladies' Coats—Dresses
Our work must please and a trial will convince you.
CAROLINA DRY CLEANERS
Dial 2276—Leon Smith, Prop.

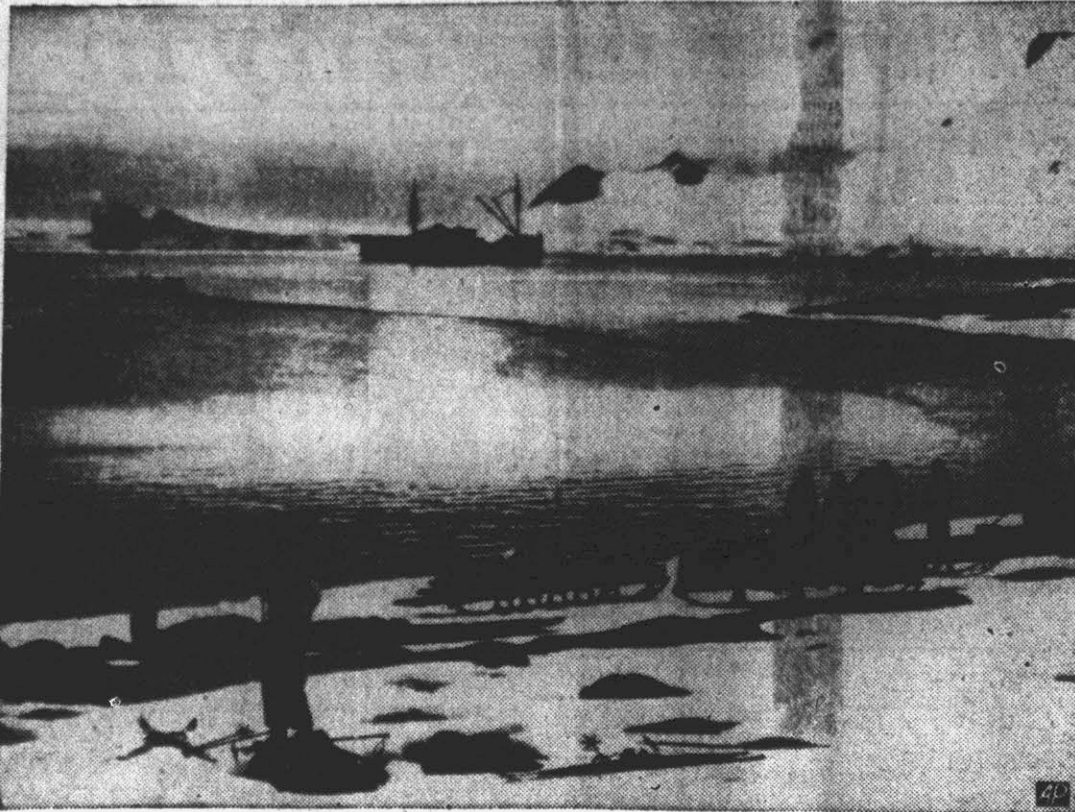

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM. Reasonable. Hot and cold water. 114 West Tenth Street. 15-1f

FOR RENT—TWO-ROOM APART- ment comfortably furnished, good location. Dial 2818. 27-1f

CORN WANTED—WHITE, YEL- low or mixed. Am paying 65¢ per bushel. We shuck and shell, furnish bags free. Mixed corn slightly less, or we will buy it in the shuck. Highest price. Write or come to see. Telephone 461. Gower Corn Co., Grifton, N. C. 24-1mo.

SEE US FOR YOUR MIXED HAY peas and late seed corn. Also have arsenate of lead, calcium, paris green, rotenone dust and other insecticides. J. A. Watson, Feed-Seed-Provisionist. 28-1f

Byrd Expedition Works In Antarctic Sunset

This striking picture, which has just reached this country, shows members of the Byrd antarctic expedition bringing supplies ashore from their ship, the North Star, preparatory to establishing their camp in "Little America." The antarctic sun, rapidly disappearing for the season, casts a weird glow over Marguerite Bay. (Associated Press Photo from United States Antarctic Service)

Texas "Flash" Flood Leaves Hundreds Homeless

At least four were dead, about 12 were missing, hundreds were homeless and uncounted property damage remained after a thirty-minute "flash" flood swept over sections of southeast Texas. Hallettsville was the town of Hallettsville. Every business house except three in that city was flooded to a depth of four to six feet. This picture, taken at Hallettsville, shows residents crossing a smashed bridge, the only means to enter or leave the town.

New Orleans Docks Guarded Against Saboteurs

Fearing activities of "fifth columnists" and possible saboteurs, dock board officials have placed armed patrolmen on guard along the docks and wharves of New Orleans with orders to bar everyone without special written permission. Guards are shown inspecting passes necessary for admittance.

Richmond Livestock

(Courtesy J. N. and J. L. Williams)
Richmond, July 2.—Hogs, quotations are based on hogs producing hard carcasses after normal chilling. Hogs producing soft and oily carcasses are discounted 40 cents and 80 cents, respectively, from hard hog prices, market 15 cents higher than Friday, quoting good and choice 180 to 225 pounds $5.80 to $6.00 the top; 100-120 lbs. $3.75-$4.25; 120-140 lbs. $4.25-$4.75; 140-160 lbs. $4.75-$5.20; 160-180 lbs. $5.20-$5.55; 225-250 lbs. $5.05-$5.55; 250-300 lbs. $4.75-$5.25; over 300 lbs. $4.65-$5.15. Slows under 350 lbs. $4.00-$4.50; over 350 lbs. $3.50-$4.00. Cattle, receipt principally slaughter steers, market active, steady. Bulk good steers $9.00-$9.50. Few higher mediums $9.00-$8.50, common down to $6.50. Receipts of cows and bulls fairly light. Market steady, most offerings grass fat dairy type cows $4.50-$5.50, canners downward to $3.50. Weighty sausage bulls quotable $6.00-$6.50, light fleshed kinds $5.50-$6.00. Receipts of vealers fairly light, early market full active, practical top on good and choice $6.50. Market on spring lambs steady, practical top on strictly good $9.50. Common and medium largely $8.00 down.

Chicago Grain Market

(Courtesy Vernon Parrish)
WHEAT— Open Close Pr. Cl.
July 75 75 74 7/8
Sept. 75 75 75 7/8
Dec. 76 76 76 7/8
CORN—
July 60 60 60 5/8
Sept. 57 57 57 5/8
Dec. 55 54 54 5/8
OATS—
July 31 31 31 3/8
Sept. 28 28 28 3/8
Dec. 29 29 29 3/8
RYE—
July 40 40 40 4/8
Sept. 42 42 42 4/8

HOG MARKETS

Richmond 6.00
Rocky Mount 5.60

New York Cotton

New York, July 2.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened two to four lower. Futures closed eight lower to three higher, middling spot 10.63, off six.

Courtesy E. A. Pierce and Co., Dial 3161—Wilson, N. C.

July 10.12 10.08 10.16
Oct. 9.23 9.29 9.20
Dec. 9.08 9.12 9.10
Jan. 8.92 8.96 8.91
Mar. 8.82 8.86 8.84
May 8.65 8.70 8.68

N. Y. Stock Market

New York July 2.—(AP)—Stocks made heart-hearted recovery gestures in today's market, but most failed to climb out of an extremely narrow area.

The list lagged at the opening, then revived with a brief show of activities when steels, motors, aircrafts and shipbuilding issues edged forward. Sluggishness soon returned and extreme gains running to a point or so were cut or eliminated. Prices were slightly mixed at the close.

The turnover was around 325,000 shares.

N. Y. STOCK LIST

Courtesy E. A. Pierce and Co., Dial 3161—Wilson, N. C.

Anacosta 19 1/2
American Radiator 5 1/2
Bethlehem Steel 74 1/2
Chrysler 62 1/2
Commercial Solvent 8 1/2
Consolidated Oil 6 1/2
Continental Can 38 1/2
Electric Bond and Share 4 1/2
General Motors 42 1/2
Gillette 4 1/2
International Telephone 2 1/2

FINDS IT PAYS TO DRY COTTON

Survey Shows Cleaning And Drying Worth $3.95

Raleigh, July 2.—It is worth about $3.95 net per bale to dry and clean damp or wet cotton, says J. C. Ferguson, Extension cotton gin specialist of N. C. State College. This is on the basis of gin results tabulated for the past season.

"A summary of gin reports in North Carolina shows that the fuel cost per bale for drying cotton amounts to less than 20 cents, while the value of a bale of dry and clean cotton averaged $4.15 more than damp, dirty cotton," he said. "In Georgia and other states the average increase in value is even higher."

Last year, 12,974 bales of damp or wet cotton were dried by 21 North Carolina gins having drying equipment. In addition, 9,035 bales were improved by passing them through drying machinery with little or no

TODAY and TOMORROW THEY ARE LATIN IN MANHATTAN

Senor 'Woo' Herbert... in a Fun Fiesta of Man hat tang, Matadors and Melodians!

HUGH HERBERT in La Conga Nights

Confess with Details
MOORE-O'KEEFE
ARMIDA-EDDIE QUILLAN

— Plus —
"YOU'RE NEXT"
Comedy
"FU MANCHU"
No. 12

heat. Ferguson pointed out that the gin capacity is increased more than 20 percent by drying damp or wet cotton. He said approximately 175,000 of the 401,228 bales produced in the State in 1939 were harvested green, damp, or wet.

The Extension specialist said that only about 2.5 percent of the State's cotton gins had driers last year, but a concerted effort is being made to increase the number of gins having such equipment.

"We can't hope that all of the gins will be equipped with mechanical driers this year, or for perhaps many years to come," Ferguson declared, "but the value of dry, clean cotton has been proven and farmers can help themselves by picking only mature cotton, while it is dry. The ginners are modernizing their machinery as rapidly as finances permit, but the growers don't have to wait to put into practice these harvesting and handling methods which will cost them nothing."

TODAY - WED.
The girl in the Alice Blue Gown is taking the town!

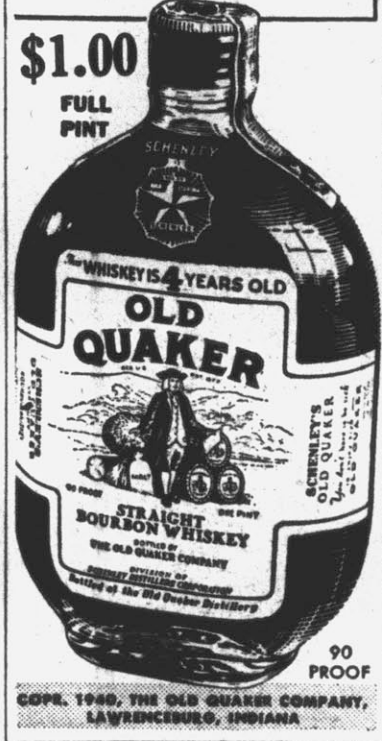

LOVE! LAUGHS! SONGS!

NEAGLE-MILLAND Irene
ROLAND YOUNG - ALAN MARSHAL
MAY ROBSON - BILLIE BURKE

On Same Program—
"BLABBER MOUSE"
Merrie Melody

PITT

THIS WHISKEY IS 4 YEARS OLD

REPORT OF CONDITION OF THE State Bank & Trust Company GREENVILLE, N. C.
At The Close of Business June 29th, 1940

RESOURCES
Cash and Due from Banks.....	$495,115.88
U. S. Government Securities.....	161,100.00
North Carolina Bonds.....	60,000.00
Town of Greenville Bonds.....	53,000.00
Other Stocks and Bonds.....	5,000.00
Total Cash and Marketable Securities.....	$ 774,215.88
Loans and Discounts.....	448,690.29
Banking House.....	50,000.00
Furniture and Fixtures.....	10,000.00
	$1,282,906.17
LIABILITIES
Capital Stock.....	$ 100,000.00
Surplus.....	100,000.00
Undivided Profits.....	32,248.71
Unearned Discount.....	24,613.66
Reserve for Depreciation.....	24,000.00
Reserve for Taxes and Expense.....	3,000.00
Reserve for Accrued Interest.....	3,000.00
Deposits.....	996,043.80
	$1,282,906.17

YOUR BUSINESS INVITED, APPRECIATED AND PROTECTED