NAZI AIRCRAFT SHOT DOWN IN COASTAL RAID

Ten Planes Reported Lost in Battle Over England

FIGHTER PILOTS CIRCLE RAIDERS

Anti-Aircraft Guns Also Said To Have Played Important Part In Breaking Up Attackers

London, July 10.—(AP)—Ten German planes were reported shot down this afternoon in a great air battle over England's southern coast and the English channel, involving nearly 150 planes.

An air raid warden at a southeastern English port said two formations, each nearly 50 strong, attacked a convoy of small ships and he believed one ship was sunk.

"I saw three bombers go down in less than two minutes as the British fighter pilots maneuvered to encircle the Nazis," he declared.

The warden was authority for the estimate of the forces involved and German planes destroyed.

The warden said that in a colossal dive-bombing assault the Germans enveloped the ships in a cloud of smoke.

Anti-aircraft guns helped the fighting planes break up the raid and smoke poured from several of the raiders as they retreated toward the French coast.

British accounts of another phase of the battle over land said more than 30 German bombers, accompanied by fighting planes, kept in close formation until swift British fighters split them up. Then they released their bombs, shaking buildings, and turned back toward France.

The government announced that "a few persons" had been killed on the south coast of Britain when German bombers struck there.

Merchants Return From State Meet

The Greenville delegation to the annual North Carolina Merchants Association at Elizabeth City returned last night with reports of a most successful meeting.

The local delegation regarded the resolution urging all merchants throughout the state to support the tobacco referendum as among the most important business transactions at the convention.

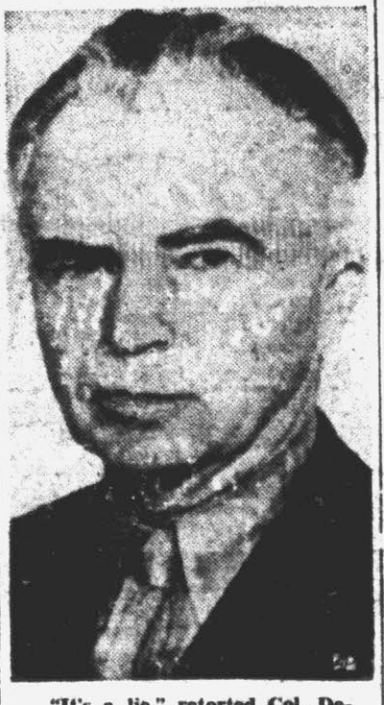

Mr. Matthews was elected on the Board of Directors of the state association.

Among those from here who attended the sessions were President B. D. Johnston, L. A. Stroud, Mr. Matthews, Curtis Perkins, Mr. Blount, Mr. Sugg, Mrs. Cora S. Powell, executive secretary of the local organization, and Miss Imogene Ricks, assistant secretary.

The meeting, which was attended both by Gov. Hoey and Governor-Elect Broughton, was declared one of the most instructive and enjoyable since the last meeting held in Elizabeth City in 1928.

Jap Army Joins Navy In Bitter Verbal Attacks On U.S. Marine Garrison

"It's A Lie!"

"It's a lie," retorted Col. DeWitt Peck, (above), commander of the United States Marines in the international settlement at Shanghai, in denying charges by Japanese officials that 15 plainclothes gendarmes had been maltreated while in Marine custody. Japanese authorities demanded an apology for mistreatment of the gendarmes.

HUNGARY TOLD NOT TO STRIKE

Advised by Rome and Berlin Not To Upset Appellate

Munich, July 10.—(AP)—Hungary's leaders were told definitely by Adolf Hitler and the foreign ministers of Germany and Italy today that Hungary must not upset the Balkan appellate at this time by trying to "secure her rights" from Rumania, informed German sources said.

Premier Count Teleki and Foreign Minister Count Csaky who came to discuss Hungary's demands that Rumania restore at least part of war-lost Transylvania to her, conferred first with Foreign Ministers Von Ribbentrop and Count Ciano and then were received by Hitler.

While both Hitler and Premier Mussolini of Italy are agreed that their program for scrapping World War treaties means also revision in the Balkans, the informant said Hitler holds this is not the time for revisionists to press their claims too aggressively.

However, a brief communique issued by DNB, official German news agency, said the German-Italian-Hungarian discussions "proceeded in the spirit of the traditional friendly relations among the three states."

There were indications that means for tightening the blockade against England through closer integration of the Balkans in the axis economic system were discussed.

Soviet Russia was said by informed German sources to have been a dissenter from the axis view that revisionists claims should be postponed.

ANOTHER HUGE DEFENSE FUND IS REQUESTED

Congress Asked For $4,848,171,957 By President

NOT TO BE USED FOR AGGRESSION

Roosevelt Also Asserts American Men Will Not Be Sent To Take Part In European Wars

Washington, July 10.—(AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress to authorize an additional $4,848,171,957 for defense today in a special message asserting that "we will not use our arms in a war of aggression; we will not send our men to take part in European wars."

Mr. Roosevelt's request brought to approximately $10,000,000,000 the funds and contract authorizations asked this session for land, sea and air armaments.

Specifically, Mr. Roosevelt today requested $2,161,441,957 in cash appropriations and $2,686,730,000 of contract authorizations.

"The principal lesson of the war up to the present time is that participation in the defense of the country is a matter of sacrifice and work and unity proposed to remain free."

"I am greatly offended as a soldier and as a Japanese subject by such an insult to the honor of Japanese forces. I am paying attention to developments of the case with greatest concern."

EXCESS PROFIT LAW AMENDED

Provision Made For National Defense Facilities

Washington, D. C., July 10. (AP)—Agreement has been reached that the forthcoming excess profits tax shall carry a special provision permitting amortization over a five-year period of additional industrial facilities created for necessary national defense purposes.

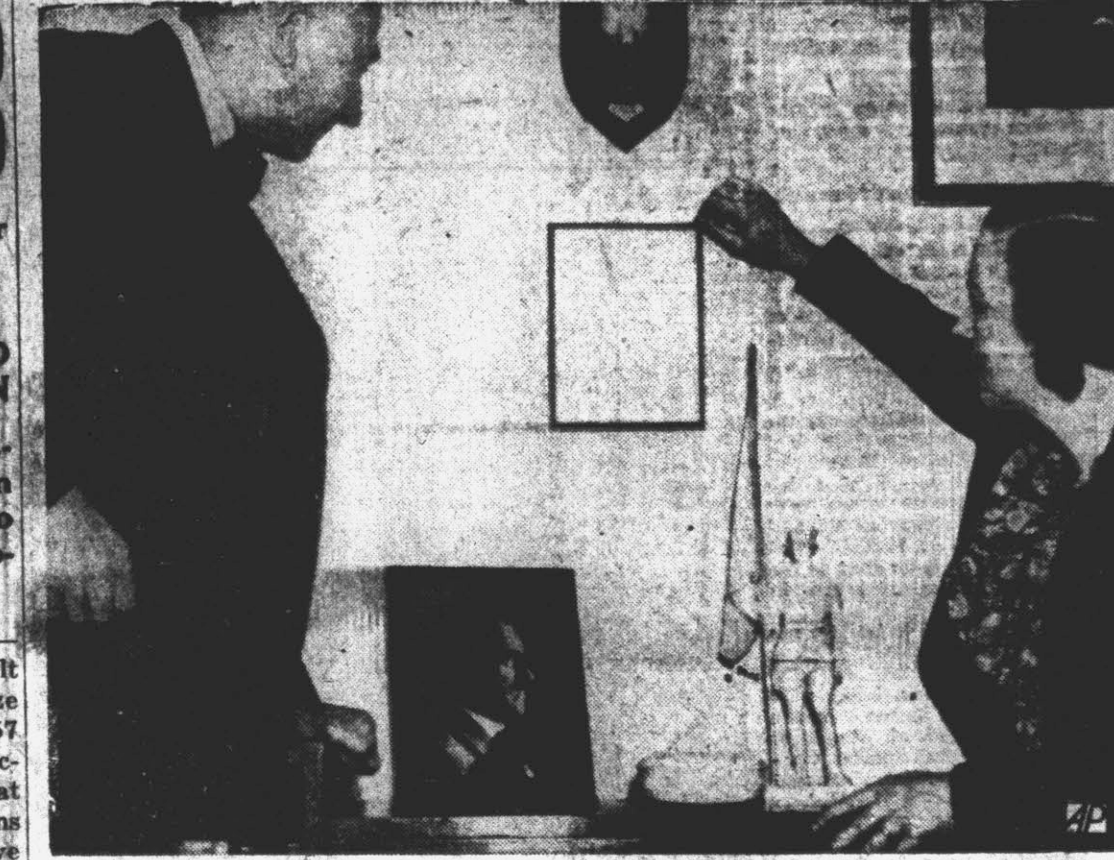

The announcement was made by Stephen Early, White House press secretary, after Mr. Roosevelt had conferred with Secretary Morgenthau, Jesse Jones, the federal loan administrator; William Knudsen, of the National Defense Commission; Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.), of the Senate Finance committee, and Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn.) of a House sub-committee on taxation.

Early said that the amortization provision, designed to protect industrialists against the uncertainties of the international situation, would affect such additional facilities as were credited by the army and navy and the advisory commission of the National Defense Council as being immediately necessary for national defense purposes.

DEFENDS NAME OF EX-PREMIER

Herriott Goes To Defense Of Former Colleagues

Vichy, France, July 10.—(AP)—The French National Assembly passed tonight a bill giving the Petain government full powers to draft a new French constitution. The vote was 569 to 80. There were 15 abstentions.

Vichy, France, July 10. (AP)—A dramatic shouted defense of former Premier Edouard Daladier and other absent leaders by the elder statesman Edouard Herriott today interrupted proceedings of the National Assembly gathered here to pave the way for a new totalitarian constitution for France.

Boos greeted the reading of a list of senators and deputies who had offered excuses for not attending the proceedings.

Herriott, ex-premier and president of the Chamber of Deputies, infuriated, rushed to the speaker's rostrum and shouted out a defense of his former colleagues.

The National Assembly decided that the nation's new constitution when drafted will be submitted to the people for their approval in a nation-wide referendum.

SEN. WHEELER NOT DEFINITE

Not To Offer If Roosevelt's Name Is Presented

Washington, July 10.—(AP)—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.), removed himself today from the list of presidential aspirants who expect their names to go before the Democratic National convention regardless of President Roosevelt's plans.

Asserting that he would not be a party to a "stop Roosevelt" movement, Wheeler told reporters that continued silence by the President would have effect of quashing all other candidates.

"Of course, Mr. Roosevelt can have the nomination—he has the votes to get it and there is no question about that," Wheeler declared.

"It doesn't make an announcement it will be rather embarrassing to everybody else as to whether or not to have his name presented."

Wheeler's position appeared to leave Vice President Garner as the only other aspirant whose friends still insisted that his name would be placed in nomination. One Garner supporter said, however, it was entirely possible that once President Roosevelt's name had been put officially before it, the convention might storm down any other nominating attempts.

Each Nation Lays Claim To Victory

British Report of Naval Battle Declares Italian Ships Fled Behind Smoke Screen; Italian Communique Claims British Fleet Driven Off In Conflict In Ionian Sea

By The Associated Press Italy sharply disputed Britain's rule over the seas today as both sides claimed victory in a violent naval battle in the Ionian sea—just below the instep of the Italian "boot."

While the British version said the Italian warships fled "almost immediately" behind a smoke screen after an Italian battleship had suffered a long-range hit, an Italian communique asserted the British fleet had been driven off.

"Our aviation, notwithstanding extremely strong anti-aircraft fire, followed the enemy until darkness, striking some of its ships with bombs of heavy calibre."

Descriptions of the battle under victory flaring headlines in the London press said the British Mediterranean fleet under its Commander-in-Chief Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham engaged an Italian force of cruisers and numerous destroyers.

John W. Goodman, assistant extension director at N. C. State College, said that an appeal for aid from potato growers yesterday and that by late last night "satisfactory arrangements" had been made.

W. L. McGahey, Beaufort farm agent, sent in the first appeal, saying between 150 and 200 cars of potatoes remained to be moved from his county and that the regular market had virtually collapsed.

Goodman said even larger shipments from the Elizabeth City area remained to be made and that Tyrrell county also had considerable unmarketed potatoes.

ROSENBERGER-HOLLAND
Smithfield, July 10.—Characterized by beauty and simplicity was the wedding of Miss Jeanette Holland of Greenville and William Edward Rosenburger of Rochester, N. Y., which was solemnized Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Noble on North Second street. Mrs. Noble is an aunt of the bride, who was born and reared in Smithfield.

Only relatives and a few friends witnessed the interesting event which took place before an altar improvised with floor baskets of shesta daisies and Queen Anne's lace and ivy-entwined standards bearing tall cathedral candles. Candles and white cut flowers adorned the mantel.

Mrs. John Morris of Goldsboro, aunt of the bride sang "At Dawning" and "Because" prior to the ceremony and Miss Anne Noble played as a piano solo "Traumerel."

As the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Leberlein sounded, the bride descended the stairway in the hall on the arm of her brother, Norwood Holland of Vidalia, Ga., who gave her in marriage. The bridegroom entered the living room from a side veranda with his best man, his father, P. W. Rosenburger of Forest Hills, New York City. They were joined in marriage by the Rev. J. J. Boone, pastor of the Methodist church. The ring ceremony was used. The bride and bridegroom knelt on satin pillows as Mrs. Morris sang "The Perfect Prayer."

As soon as the vows were spoken, Mr. and Mrs. Rosenburger received the congratulations of those present and then repaired to the Gabriel Johnston Hotel where Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Obrien of Charlotte and Norwood Holland, brothers and sister of the bride, entertained the bridal party and out-of-town guests at a delightful breakfast.

The bride wore for her wedding a Wrage model of white shark skin, white shoes with blue trim, and a candy stripe blue and white hat. She carried a prayer book showered with valley lilies and Euphorbia tied with silver tricotine ribbon. Her corsage was of orchids and valley lilies tied with orchid ribbon. Her only ornaments were her maternal grandmother's bracelet and a pin which was a gift of the groom. For traveling she added a blue and white candy stripe taffeta coat which her hat matched.

After the breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Rosenburger motored to Raleigh, where they boarded a plane for Rochester, N. Y. From there they drove to Canada for their wedding trip. After two weeks they will be at home at 1625 East Avenue, Rochester, N. Y., where Mr. Rosenburger holds a position with the National Carbon company.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. N. T. Holland of Clayton and his first wife, the late Mary Myatt Holland, and is a granddaughter of Mrs. Mary W. Myatt of this city. For the past two years she was employed by the Carolina Sales Corporation in Greenville. She spent the month before her marriage here with relatives and was three recipient of numerous social courtesies.

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR July 10, 1900

Thursday of next week, the congressional convention for this district meets in Elizabeth City. As the time is so close to the August election there will probably not be as large attendance as if the date had been a few weeks later. However, there is hardly a doubt that Hon. John H. Small will be renominated. Really there should not be a vote cast against him in the convention, but his nomination should be made by acclamation. He ably represents the district and should be returned to Congress.

Mrs. Rufus White, Alfred Edwards and daughter, Magdalena and son, Ray, of Godwin, and Paul Edwards of Raleigh were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Dixon.

Mrs. Retha Matthews of Vanceboro has returned to her home after spending a few days here.

Mrs. B. S. Carrawan of Pantego spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Spencer.

Mrs. Emily Adams still remains in Pitt General hospital and is improving very slowly.

C. S. Dixon has returned from Pitt General hospital and has been reported slowly improving.

Man About Manhattan
By George Tucker

New York.—A hard-bitten fishing schooner, fresh from the Newfoundland Banks, thrust her nose into a berth along the South Street waterfront just after midnight this morning, and a landing crew went to work on her cargo. She carried 34,000 pounds of codfish in her hold.

A stone's throw away lay another schooner—this one from the Caribbean. To the left lay another, and another, from the Georgian Banks, from everywhere that fish are caught by men who dip down into the sea with nets.

These fish were being hauled to the oldest fish market in the western hemisphere—a market that has been open for business every morning for more than 200 years. This is the famed Fulton Street fish market, where Al Smith worked as a boy.

More than one million and five hundred thousand pounds of fish are delivered to the Fulton Street market every day. That's a lot of fish. These fish are Florida mackerel and cod; they are swordfish and flounder; they are lobster and butterfish and whitefish.

To handle these fish 2,000 men are at work in their stalls every morning before five o'clock. These men are employees of the New York Fishmongers Association. The market itself is owned by the city of New York. Two huge stall-like buildings, a hundred yards each in length, house this vast store of sea food. These buildings are leased to the Fishmongers Association by the city.

It is from this point that the scallops and sole like those you bought today, go out to thousands of retailers all over the city and all over the metropolitan area.

Salt water fish aren't the only ones handled here, for sweet water fish from the great lakes, and great steel-head salmon from the Oregon rivers, still silver and gleaming, are brought in by boat and by train.

There's a funny story about the mackerel. They used to be known as Spanish mackerel. But after the Spanish Civil war people began to boycott most goods with a Spanish name. Fishermen promptly began calling them "Florida" mackerel—and the sales at once mounted to their normal level.

The most impressionable item about the Fulton Street menage to strangers is the odor. People say they can smell Fulton Street six months after being there. Perhaps that is true. Men who work there tell me they never notice the smell of fish until they are away from it. Then they are uncomfortable; life doesn't seem normal without the heavy, pungent odors that are a part of their daily surroundings.

The market itself operates largely on a warehouse basis. When the doors are flung open the buyers crowd around and bid for lots. One buyer may be interested solely in butterfish. Another in shellfish. There is a department that features gigantic turtles, and, curiously enough, most turtles in New York wind up in Chinatown. Turtles are known to grow to very old ages. There is a belief among Chinese that if they eat enough turtle flesh they may live to become very old too. At least that's the story.

One of the choicest items at the market, from a "color" point of view, are the frog legs. Many of them come all the way from Japan. The Japanese also send swordfish, huge frozen monsters, and despite the cost of transportation and trade barriers, they sell for just half the price of American swordfish. However, the American variety is called vastly superior in taste.

Jelled soups are delightfully refreshing summer foods and can be made up well ahead of serving time. (You can keep several cans of prepared jelled soups in the refrigerator.) For a good (etever) suggestion, combine vegetable juices with meat broth, stiffen with granulated gelatin and serve in half-inch cubes. Lemon quarters improve the flavor of all jelled soups, so include one with each portion.

"Hashburgers" are something new for your next picnic. Make your usual hash. When it's crusty underneath, scoop up portions and quickly fit them into toasted buns that have been partially split. Tuck in thin strips of dill pickles and watch the "picknickers" go after them.

Here is a summer short cut for making rolls. Instead of rolling out the dough, place spoonfuls of the soft dough into greased muffin pans, let them rise until doubled in size (this usually takes only about an hour) and bake as usual.

Finally it had to be jacked up, and planks were placed under the wheels so that it could regain hard soil.

"Distinctive Clothes For Women"

Here's An Idea: Two Fur Coats To Every Woman Pelts Are Cheaper And Furriers Are Hopeful

By AMY FORTER AP Fashion Writer The slogan for prosperity used to be "A chicken in every pot," but now it's "A fur coat on every back"—every feminine back, that is.

Some furriers doubt their aspirations, making it "Two fur coats for every woman; one for sports, one for dress."

In a gloomy world, the hopeful furriers are little rays of sunshine. Visit the August fur sales and you'll understand why. Furs are cheaper, more plentiful and more attractive than ever before.

Federal Reserve figures for the six months beginning last August show that fur sales in many stores increased from 40 to 70 per cent.

The national increase for the entire year was 28 per cent. This spring, fur sales held their gain with a 40 per cent increase over last year, and forecasters say furs will do even better this fall.

The rising tide of sales has wiped out price barriers. Very cheap furs are selling in unprecedented quantities. And so are very expensive ones.

The girl with her first job feels abused if she, too, can't have a fur coat. She can have, at from $50 to $100, a choice of coney, muskrat, kid, astrakhan, paw, mouton, and many others.

This new styling is possible because improved processing of skins has made furs lighter, more pliable, raccoon, beaver and seal are three heavy furs they've sheared down is the sudden popularity of short fur jackets. Women love them because they're wearable with day and with evening clothes. And they cost less than long coats.

This short collarless jacket of mink would be the making of any costume, day or evening. With it, Benay Veneta, radio singer, wears a flare-brim brown felt hat with a wide mink band.

Improved processing, in turn, makes many cheaper furs available. Louisiana muskrat, for instance, is poor in color, but it wears well.

If, for the first time, you find a luxury fur within your price range, you can thank the breeding farms. They now produce heavily silvered foxes, once a rarity, at low prices.

Dark mink, too, is easier to come by, now that it's bred to color. Still another factor in fur success

Laziness Brings On Fat' Says Girl-With-A-Figure

By BETTY CLARKE AP Feature Service Writer Two years ago Beatrice Pallister was just another fat girl. Now, she's a red-haired glamorous girl who's a highly-paid model. That's because she took a tip, re-routed her ambition, and put herself into shape.

Her figure is her fortune today. Beatrice Pallister, pointing for a job as airline hostess, went visiting in Chicago. Someone there made a great to-do over her, said the bone structure of her face was photogenic. Suggested she try for a modeling job. She got the job.

Then she came to New York. She ate a lot, slept a lot, got fat. She started to slip as a model.

"I'll make a good story," she said, laughing. "Because I lost 25 pounds the right way." So, she perched on a stool, hooked her high heels on a rung and told me this:

Soon after reaching New York she married David Pallister, a broker, and had to get up and cook breakfast. Her hours were more regular. She had housework to do, too.

So she changed her diet at her doctor's suggestion—ate less every day, skipped bread, potatoes and heavy sweets, concentrated on fresh vegetables, fruit salads and milk.

Down she went to 110 pounds, but she picked it back to 118 because she liked that better. She eats few rich desserts.

And she is known today as a model for full-length shots—not just head shots. Setting-up exercises bore her. But she's always liked sports. Three or four times a week she goes horseback riding. She likes walking in flat shoes, collegiate saddle shoes, preferably.

Some Make-Up Ideas Her face has a lovely sheen. Here's her recipe: 45 minutes to apply make-up after a 15-minute bath starting with warm water, ending with cold shower. She dabs on heavy powder base, then rouge. Next she splashes her face with cold water—that's where the sheen comes in. Finally she powders, blotting off the excess with a towel. She matches lipstick to finger-nail color.

She never wears a hat if she can help it, hates hose with a reddish cast. Her wardrobe contains 15 pairs of shoes, but only two are favorites told me about a track going up in Culver City. Everybody said the Hollywood crowd would take in races at Culver City in preference to Pasadena—so I tore up my check.

"The stock I would have bought then would be worth about $50,000 today. Since then, I've bought everything."

HE TOOK TO THE WOODS BUT DEPUTY WOULDN'T Pueblo, Colo.—(AP)—Chasing a 22-year-old fugitive, Deputy Sheriff John Krutka saw him leap into the trees Tarzan style, and disappear.

Not being a good tree climber, Krutka peered upward into the foliage for a block along the street and then gave up. He drove around the corner, extinguished the lights and came right back "Tarzan" was just climbing out of the branches and he landed right in Krutka's arms.

OIL INDUSTRY ADOPTS CRAZE Petroleum People Capitalize on Quiz Popularity

Reflector Bureau By HENRY AVERILL Raleigh, July 10. — The North Carolina Petroleum Industries committee, or rather its astute Secretary S. Gilmer Sparger, is taking advantage of the current quiz craze to impress upon the minds of many people a number of facts in which the industry is acutely interested.

Mr. Sparger has prepared a ten question quiz which he is inducing luncheon clubs all over the state to try out on members. Naturally all the questions and answers deal in facts the oil folks are particularly anxious to impress upon the public; though in justice to Mr. Sparger it should be said that not one of the questions is directly linked with any controversy such as diversion.

Every one of the questions is correctly answered by a number and there isn't any doubt about the authenticity of the figures.

Here are the ten questions which are really of interest to every motorist in North Carolina; though the true importance of some may be open to dispute. See how many of them you can answer without looking further down for the answers, which will be appended.

- 1.—In what year did the State of North Carolina levy its first gasoline tax? 2.—What was the amount of the tax per gallon when it was first imposed? 3.—What is the total amount of Federal, State and inspection tax on each gallon of gasoline today? 4.—What was the total amount of tax collected from all sources by the State of North Carolina during the fiscal year ending June 30th? 5.—What amount of the total tax collected from all sources was derived from the gasoline tax and motor vehicle license plates? 6.—What is the approximate amount of the above tax that can be diverted to the General Fund under the present law? 7.—What amount does the average North Carolina motorist pay in gasoline taxes and motor vehicle fees annually? 8.—What is the total mileage, both primary and secondary in North Carolina's highway system? 9.—What is the total mileage of all-weather (hard-surfaced) roads, both primary and secondary in our State highway system? 10.—How many communities in North Carolina are entirely dependent upon highway transportation?

Here are the answers: 1. 1921; 2. 1 cent; 3. 75-4 cents; 4. $76,000,000 plus; 5. $34,000,000 in round figures; 6. $2,600,000; 7. $59; 8. $0.00 in round numbers; 9. 10,000 approximately; 10. 1,329.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds By Robbin Coon Hollywood.—It's a strange new sight for Hollywood: famous artists at their easels in studios within

Willkie Greets Press From 'Throne'

From a high-back chair on a raised platform in a Washington hotel, Wendell Willkie met the press and confirmed the selection of Rep. Joseph Martin, Jr. of Massachusetts as chairman of the Republican national committee and director of the Willkie presidential campaign.

movie studios. Ever impressed by fame in other and related fields, the movies once were content with the "famous players" idea originally espoused by Adolph Zukor, who built a movie company (now Paramount) on that basis.

Later Samuel Goldwyn, winner of great success, inaugurated his "eminent authors" program only to learn the people who bought silent movies didn't care who wrote them as long as they were good and featured the equivalent of "famous players"—stars created by themselves. The really famous players of Zukor's day, as it turned out, were not those he imported from the stage but the hitherto unknowns developed on the then flickering screens of the nickelodeons—Mary Pickford, Florence Lawrence, Charlie Chaplin.

Today's artistic invasion will not affect the screen directly. Walter Wanger has enlisted the artists—topflight men of the American art world—to paint for exploitation purposes the picturesque characters of "The Long Voyage Home."

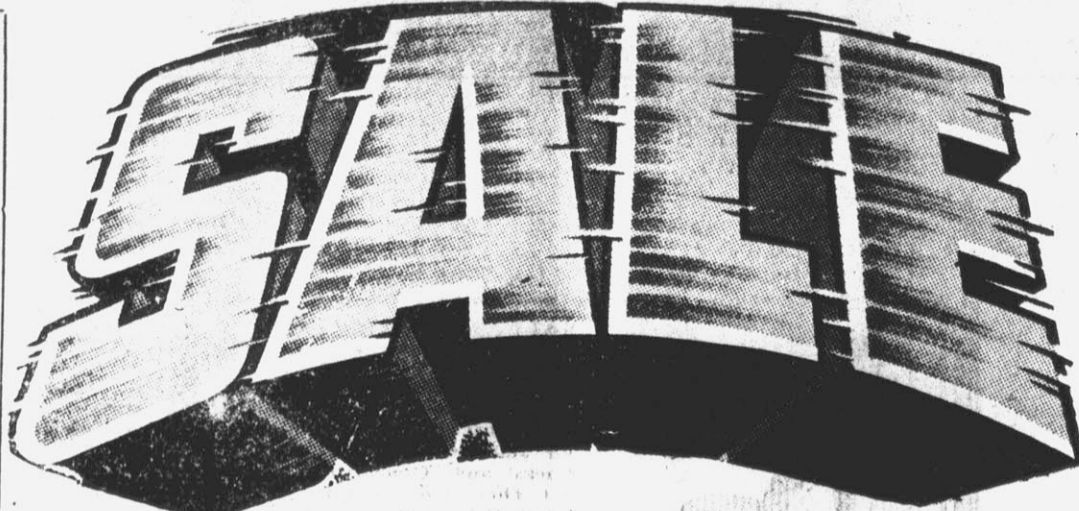

Their names: James Chapin, Georges Schriber, George Biddle, Grant Wood, Thomas Benton, Robert Phillip, Luis Quintanilla, Raphael Soyer, Ernest Fiene.

While these artists daubed with paint, the cameras on a Wanger set were recording scenes for "Foreign Correspondent," which in fury of wind and water were reminiscent of "Hurricane." A transport air liner adrift on "waves" created by cascading tons of water from chutes over the studio "tank," was being buffeted by the artificial fury.

The "passengers" clambered over the fuselage and wings, many of them to be swept overboard. Even on the sidelines, sprayed and blown along with Joel McCrea, Lorraine Day, Herbert Marshall and the rest, you could appreciate why "doubles" were being used for the long shots. About the only solid, unshaken item on the set appeared to be the director, Alfred Hitchcock.

Greenville Divides Double-Header With Tarboro Nine

1ST GAME WON BY 4-1 COUNT

Nightcap Dropped To Edgecombe Team Six To One

The Greenies divided the twin-bill in Tarboro last night winning the first contest 4-1 and dropping the nightcap 6-1.

The locals got four runs in the fourth frame to clinch victory in the initial contest with Tarboro getting its only marker in the sixth. Kracke, with three for three and Thornton with two for three led the Greenies at bat in the victory. Not a single error marred the game.

In the second game things were reversed. Tarboro got off to a good start, getting three in the first, one in the second and two in the third. This ended the Cubs scoring for the night, but Greenville was only to push one across in the seventh-inning affair. This came in fifth.

Max West Grabs All-Star Glory

Max West (No. 4) of the Boston Bees, slugging for Mel Ott of the New York Giants, slugged out a three-run homer in the major league all-star game and paved the way for a National league victory at St. Louis. ## Golf Tourney Arranged For All Tobacconists

A large number of Greenville tobacconists are expected to take part in the second annual Eastern North Carolina Tobacco Golf tournament to be held in Rocky Mount on Saturday.

T. A. Smoot, local golfer, said today that all persons connected with tobacco in any way, whether a farmer, auctioneer, buyer, factory man, warehouseman, official or in other capacity, are urged to go to Rocky Mount Saturday and participate. He said that tobacconists, and others who do not play golf are invited to join the trek and join in the fun.

A letter from officials at Rocky Mount said that the response had been gratifying and indications were that a large field would take to the course.

The tournament to be held on the Benvenue Country Club course, will start at 9 o'clock. Keen competition is expected.

Medal play of 13 holes has been arranged with prizes for each flight.

Following the tournament, dinner will be served at the country club for those participating and special guests.

Mr. Smoot is anxious that a large number from here attend and asks all tobacconists, whether they play golf or not, to go.

Charlie Shackelford, Joe Clark and "Satchel" Carroll led the winners at bat with three safeties apiece. The losers were paced by James Allen, with a long triple, and Robert Bowling with two singles.

Red Shield Bows To Winterville Nine, 2-4

Hugh Peede pitched the route for the Devils, and never was in serious trouble. Louis Gordon, Red Shield pitcher was hit hard and often and his mates committed five errors to aid the Devils.

Gordon and Crawford hit triples to lead the local batsmen. Hobgood, who starred afield for the visitors shared batting honors with Avery.

Kitchen Full of Filthy FLIES?

Here's what to do. Close kitchen doors and windows. Use a good sprayer and fill room with a good mist of Bee Brand Insect Spray. Leave room closed 15 minutes. When you go back the only flies will be dead ones on the floor. Sweep and destroy filthy insects. Don't confuse Bee Brand Insect Spray with other insecticides. It has no nasty, burning smell—only a clean, cedar fragrance that soon disappears. And Bee Brand really kills flies, mosquitoes and other flying insects quick as lightning. Just one good mist of Bee Brand Insect Spray—in the red and yellow cans—is all you need with a guarantee of satisfaction or your money back.

Of, Come To The Rattlesnake Fair ...

The snake-and-lizard set of Los Angeles has just held another of its annual shows in a swanky woman's club under the auspices of the Western Herpetological Association. Curious visitors who didn't know what "herpetological" meant got a shock at the displays of pythons, alligators and gila monsters. But Aubrey Frisbie (above) liked the show, especially Nip-And-Tuck, the two-headed snapping turtle.

Rattlesnake fry was on the program, along with such lively events as milking a rattler for venom and feeding a 3-foot python. Red diamond rattlesnakes were chosen as the supper entrée. Here you see the reactions of three snake-eaters, Amy McLaughlan (left), Patricia and Mary Dant. They said snake meat tasted like fried chicken.

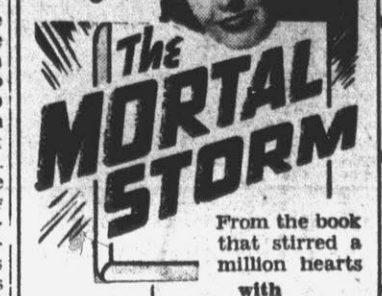

Two beauties. The one you're looking at is Dorothy Ripel, and the one she's holding is a fine specimen of tegu, a lizard that comes from South America.

Several Are Involved In Rumors On Job Shakeups

Reflector Bureau
By HENRY AVERILL
Raleigh, July 10.—Latest political gossip hereabout — maybe rumor would be more accurate than gossip — in connection with the coming J. M. Broughton administration involves four Broughton stalwarts in a shifting of jobs whereby the quartet will all be well taken care of with sweet, toothsome plums.
The four officials around whom the reports center are Parole Commissioner Edwin Gill; his chief assistant Halaway Cross, now serving as Governor Hoey's private secretary; Robert Grady Johnson, executive head of the prison department and Oscar Pitts, superintendent of prisons.
All four did yeoman service in bringing about the nomination of Mr. Broughton. All stand in line for reward and recompense if the ordinary system of paying off is followed.
The most generally talked arrangement for their paying off lists Gill as the next commissioner

President Speaks At Assembly Hour

President L. R. Meadows, at the College weekly assembly yesterday morning, made a talk explaining the purposes, objectives, and set-up of the campaign for a ten-year plan for "Balanced Prosperity in the South."
In enumerating the sixteen definite items that will receive special attention in this state, he paused to give concrete examples or to explain some of the items for which special cooperation of the teachers and schools are needed.
He gave 1700 as the number of people directly connected with the these chiefs will have to be taken care of in order to make the promotions probable.

Johnson as head of the Highway Commission has been talked for a long time, but the Gill for Commissioner of Revenue is completely new.
It is argued to make the Gill appointment to the Revenue post sound plausible that the present commissioner of paroles is very close to O. Max Gardner, still a name to conjure with in North Carolina politics. Beyond that nobody has yet assigned any very sound reason why such an appointment is even a possibility. Mr. Gill, so far as appears on the surface, is entirely content with his present post and there is little or no reason to suppose he is out looking for the trials and tribulations which beset a Revenue Department head. He has enough of them now.
The suggestion of Johnson for Highway Commissioner runs head-on into the widely-believed theory that Mr. Broughton will try to coax Capus Wayne, High Point editor, back into that job from which he was ousted by Governor Hoey some years ago. The Wayne for Highway Chairman reports simply will not do; though neither Mr. Broughton nor Mr. Wayne has said anything to lend them increased credibility.

campaign in North Carolina counting the state chairman, eight district chairmen, one hundred county chairmen with a committee of sixteen in each county. Counting this as an average state, there are 22,000 or more people in the southern states directly enlisted in working out the plan.
Clarence Poe, general chairman, is largely responsible for the plan, which was sponsored by the Southern Governors' Conference which met in Nashville some time ago. Frank Graham is the state chairman. The eight districts in this state are Asheville, Winston-Salem, Durham, Elizabeth City, Greenville, Lumberton, Fayetteville and Charlotte.
The campaign is even more important, Dr. Meadows believes, because of the present crisis, as greater prosperity resulting from the plan may prevent disaster. The cutting off of foreign markets for our "money crops" makes it all the more necessary for us to replace these with crops that will meet our own present market demands. Those who might have thought the plan too materialistic now when their own incomes are endangered realize that the money element is of importance.
Four significant advantages of the campaign have been summarized as follows: it utilizes existing agencies; it is constructive and inspiring in that it highlights and honors progress and achievement; it does not wait till perfection is achieved to provide recognition and applause; and the plan reaches down to little towns, little communities, little men and women.
This assembly program was the last for the first term of the summer school. Dr. C. L. Adams, chairman of the Assembly Committee, who has had charge of these all summer, presided.
The glee club, under the direction of Dean Tabor, sang two numbers, "Hymn to Summer and an Irish Ballad," "Heaven at the End of the Road," marked by finish and beautiful tone which were remarkable considering the short time they have had for practice.
Dr. Meadows, before his formal talk, commented on the increased taxes for defense we have just begun to pay and the fine spirit in which we are all paying those because they are for the purpose of avoiding war. He read a chapter from the Bible that was peculiarly appropriate to the times.
