FAIL TO AGREE OVER FOREIGN POLICY PLAN

Controversy Over Plans For Convention Session

DELAY SESSION FOR AFTERNOON

Sen. Pepper Presses Fight To Have Party Pledge Full Aid Short Of War To Britain

Chicago, July 17.—(AP)—Final drafting of a plank on foreign policy tangled the democratic committee in renewed controversy today and snarled plans for the convention program.

Senator Alben W. Barkley, of Kentucky, convention chairman, said upon leaving a committee session that an agreement had been reached to recess this afternoon's scheduled session until 7 p. m. CST.

The plank had been scheduled to go before the 1 p. m. session, but the committee was so tied up on the war plank that a final draft was considered impossible of attainment until much later in the day.

Barkley declined to discuss events in the committee, but it was learned that Senator Claude Pepper of Florida had started a determined fight to force inclusion in the foreign policy declaration of a pledge for "full aid short of war" to Great Britain.

As the committee met to consider the platform draft completed by a sub-committee last night and known to include a war plank satisfactory to non-interventionists, Pepper arrived with the announcement:

"We have no intention of surrendering unless there is substantial compromise with what we want." Earlier, the "Pepperian," a member of the full resolutions group, had said only that the draft contained "two obvious deficiencies."

These, he declared, were failure to include an "aid short of war" provision and a pledge not to yield to appeasement.

Local Men Expect To Dock Thursday

Robert Humber and his family and James Fleming are scheduled to arrive in New York tomorrow aboard the liner Manhattan after having fled Paris immediately preceding the entrance of the German army.

The party sailed from Lisbon, Portugal.

Mrs. J. L. Fleming, mother of James Fleming, and R. L. Humber, father of Robert Humber, left for New York this afternoon to greet the party upon its arrival. It was not known whether the group would return here immediately or stay in New York for a few days.

Tar Heels Join In Big Demonstration

Chicago, July 17.—(AP)—North Carolinians were enthusiastic after the demonstration for President Roosevelt at the Democratic national convention last night.

Former United States Senator and Governor Cameron Morrison of Charlotte took a prominent part in the demonstration and for a time carried one end of the large banner which proclaimed: "North Carolina's 26 votes for Roosevelt."

Governor Hoey and State Chairman R. G. Cherry of Gastonia stood in their seats throughout the demonstration and waved to the delegates.

Merchants' Board For 3-Year Plan

The Board of Directors of the Greenville Merchants Association, in regular session last night, followed the action of the state association in unanimously adopting a resolution urging farmers to support and vote for three-year tobacco production control.

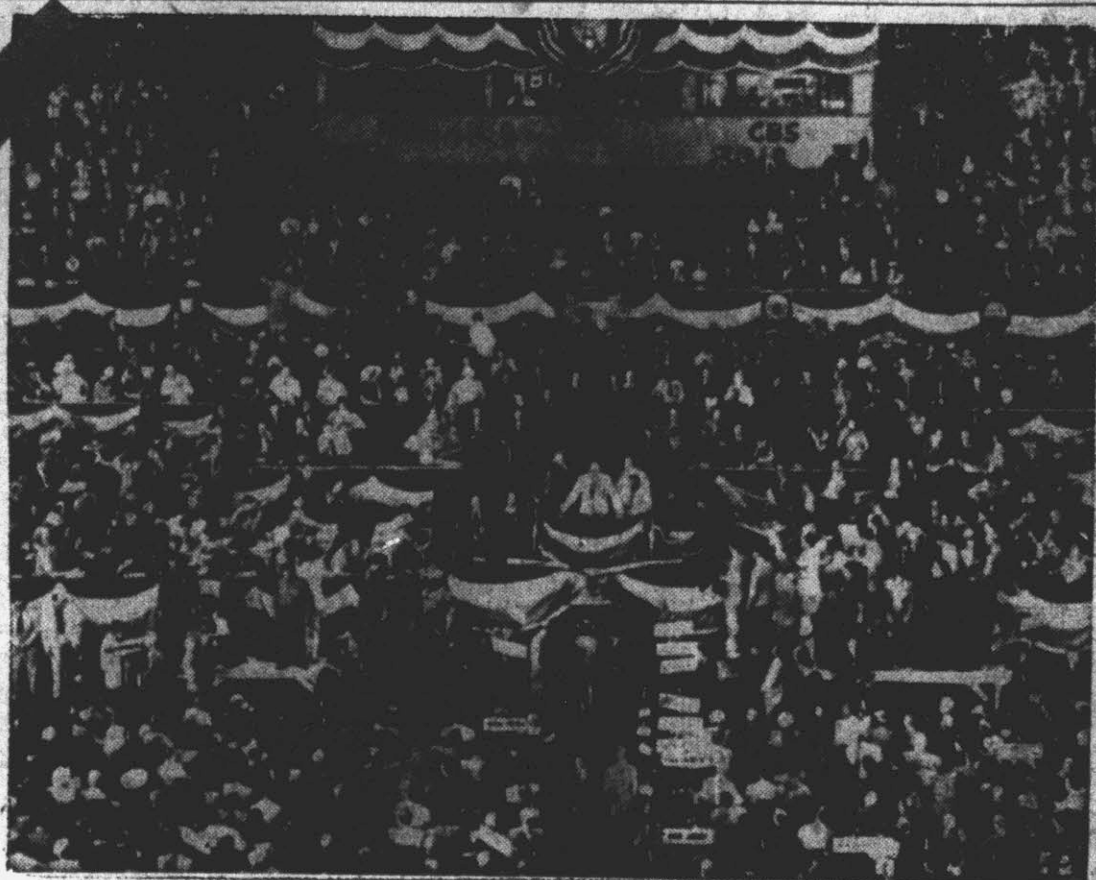

The state association adopted a resolution at its annual convention in Elizabeth City last week.

O. P. Matthews made a report on the convention, which was attended by several officers and members of the local unit.

The directors last night also took up the question of employees and employers parking on the main street, but no definite action was taken. The association is considering some means whereby the parking space can be left for shoppers.

About 60 per cent of all farm families are inadequately housed, according to U. S. Housing authorities.

Democrats Give Farley A Roaring Ovation

This general view of the speaker's platform and the press sections of the Democratic National Convention in Chicago shows National Chairman James A. Farley (in white suit on stand in center) delivering an address which sounded to some like a formal farewell to his party colleagues. The convention gave him a rousing ovation. There are persistent reports that Farley will retire and head a syndicate which plans to purchase the New York Yankee baseball club.

Nazis Express Confidence In Ability To Win Strife

WILLKIE GETS SET FOR RACE

Says He Hopes Campaign Will be Solely On Issues

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 17.—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie said today he hoped the coming presidential campaign would be "conducted solely on the issues," but added that "if the opposition decides to reduce it to a smear campaign" he and his associates would "take care of ourselves."

Asked at his press conference how his campaign would be conducted, Willkie responded: "I am hoping that the campaign will be conducted solely on the issues. If, however, the opposition desires to reduce it to a smear campaign—by discussing wholly extraneous matters from the very fundamental and important issues—we will do our very best to take care of ourselves."

"In all my public discussions I have never made an unkind reference to any individual. I am hoping during this campaign to follow the same course."

Willkie predicted that President Roosevelt would receive and accept a third term nomination and renewed his declaration that he would rather run against the President than any other Democrat.

Willkie said that the chief executive was the best representative of the New Deal side of the coming campaign and that he would like to have a fight against him.

Install Officers Of Legion Post 39

T. K. Fountain was installed as commander of Pitt County Post No. 39 of the American Legion at the regular monthly meeting held at the Third Street hall last night.

The installation of officers during the summer was in line with a plan adopted at the state convention. Previously new officers had assumed their duties in the fall.

Mr. Fountain succeeds T. J. Swain. Other officers installed were: vice commander, Paul Maguire of Grimesland; A. F. Rouse of Ayden; J. N. Woodard of Greenville; adjutant, H. L. Jordan of Greenville; finance officer, Paul Scott of Greenville; service officer, W. T. Kyzer of Greenville; guardianship officer, Z. V. Bunting of Bethel; sergeant-at-arms, H. P. Johnson of Greenville; chaplain, K. T. Futrell, historian, Dr. A. M. Schultz; athletic officer, R. C. Rankin; child welfare officer, Miss Stella Grogan; national defense and Americanism officer, Rev. Worth Wicker; grave registration officer, Ed Williams.

Boy Scouts Present Interesting Program

The Boy Scout troop of which L. S. Spence is Scout Master, presented an interesting and entertaining program at West Greenville school last night. A number of parents and friends of the Scouts were in attendance.

Members of the troops presented quartet singing and solos and one boy impersonated various characters.

Nation Calmly Waits For Decisive Test Of Strength

Berlin, July 17.—(AP)—Complete confidence in Nazi ability to crush England was reflected today in the calmness with which the German people awaited a decisive test of strength which they believe may come at any minute.

The authoritative commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland which only yesterday reported everything was in readiness for a mass onslaught upon England declared that the nation was waiting Adolf Hitler's command to strike with a serenity which permitted it to look beyond the final struggle to the task of establishing a new order in Europe.

(Dispatches from Rome quoted German sources as saying Hitler might deliver an ultimatum to Britain within a few days in a speech before the Reichstag.

British sources, however, dismissed reports of a Rome-Berlin "peace offensive" as merely a resort to the "war of nerves" strategy and emphasized Prime Minister Churchill's declaration Sunday Britain will fight to the end.)

1st Summer Term Of College Closed

The first term of the summer school of E. C. T. C. closes tomorrow and the second term opens tomorrow.

While a number are leaving, others are coming in and some are remaining for the full twelve weeks, but the number is always less in the second term. The faculty is also reduced. The Training School is closed, and all practice teaching ended.

Of the forty-six members of the Senior Class who are applicants for degrees in August, a number completed their work today, and will return for commencement exercises in August.

Many of these are graduates of the old two-year course who have been teaching and have returned summers, advancing one or two terms a year. Some have gained points by taking study tours or doing extension work while teaching, but the number of such non-resident points is limited.

Mary Lucy Brown, 12, Dies At Stokes Home

Mary Lucy Brown, twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon S. Brown, died early this afternoon at the home on Stokes RFD One.

Funeral services will be at the home Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock. Services will be conducted by Rev. L. E. Ballard, pastor of Greenville Free Will Baptist church, assisted by Rev. D. W. Alexander, Free Will Baptist minister of the Bethel community, and burial will follow in the family burial ground on the Stokes highway, near C. G. Little's home.

Mary Lucy is survived by her parents, three brothers, Sam, Herbert, and Russell Brown, two sisters, Agnes and Eleanor Brown, all young children and residing at home. She is also survived by her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Little.

She attended school at Stokes and had been ill for seven weeks.

NORTH, SOUTH IN AGREEMENT

Compromise Reached On Delegate Reapportionment

Chicago, July 17.—(AP)—The south and north compromised today their difference over delegate reapportionment to future democratic national conventions. This resulted in Rules committee approval of a plan for a bonus of two delegates at large for each state going democratic in a presidential election.

The plan was to be submitted to the convention for expected acceptance today.

The compromise overturned a national committee proposal calling for only one additional delegate. Each state now has four delegates-at-large.

The compromise plan also provided that reapportionment be turned back to the national committee for further study before the 1944 convention in accordance with the "instructions" of the 1936 convention after it had abolished the two-third-nominating rule.

Southern delegates contended before the Rules committee that consideration should have been given to basing future bonuses on "Democratic strength" in congressional districts as well as states, but northerners successfully argued that "districts" were not mentioned in the 1936 resolution on the matter.

Red Cross Fund Now Stands At $1,730.00

Two new contributions, one for $10 and one for one dollar, today boosted the total raised by the "Pit" county chapter in its Red Cross War Relief campaign to $1,730.

The latest contributions came from R. E. Sellers, one dollar, and Miss Lois G. Gorrell, ten dollars.

Third Term To Be Issue If Roosevelt Nominated

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
Washington, July 17.—(AP)—Republicans and Democrats head toward the nation's first show-down battle over the third-term issue.

The plank in the G.O.P. platform calling for a constitutional amendment providing that no President shall serve more than two terms is the first of its kind to be adopted by a Republican convention. (The 1912 Democratic platform urged a single-term limitation, but the Democrats forgot it in World War year 1916.)

Never Sought Before
A Roosevelt candidate would be the first clear-cut challenge of the anti-third-term tradition. No other President has sought a third consecutive term. Grant had served two full terms, but there was an intervening administration before his third and unsuccessful bid for the nomination.

In Teddy Roosevelt's case there not only was an intervening term—Taft's—but T.R. also had been elected just once. His first term, of 3 1/2 years, followed elevation from the vice presidency after McKinley's assassination in 1901.

Although a Franklin Roosevelt renomination would be history-making, a "do not choose to run" statement by him at this late stage would be more of a political sensation than his defiance of the precedent. Reason: Republican and Democratic policies, and a large majority of the public, have assumed for some time that he had decided to take a "draft" nomination.

ABC's of The Question.
Here's how neutral observers size up the ABC's of the third term question.

A Roosevelt refusal to run would tend to make late and third-term precedent almost iron-clad.

A Republican victory over Roosevelt likewise would greatly strengthen the tradition, probably lead to constitutional limitation of presidential term.

JAPS DEMAND DISARMING OF U. S. MARINES

Resolution Approved By Mass Meeting Of Japs

MANILA ACTION BRINGS PROTEST

Prominent American Residents In Island City Had Urged Stern Measures Be Taken By U. S.

Shanghai, July 17.—(AP)—Three thousand Japanese residents approved a resolution at a mass meeting tonight urging Japanese military authorities here to "demand the disarming of United States marines unless the marines express their sincerity" by apologizing for treatment of Japanese gentlemen July 7.

Japanese Major General Miura complained the marines roughly handled 14 Japanese plainclothesmen they arrested.

Col. DeWitt Peck, commanding the United States marines in the Shanghai defense area, denied that the Japanese had been mistreated. A spokesman of the Japanese embassy expressed disapproval of messages sent by a hundred prominent American residents of Manila to Peck and Secretary of State Cordell Hull urging a strong stand in the incident of the gentlemen.

"The Manila action is unfortunate," said the spokesman. "We fear it will make settlement of the case more difficult. We must consider what would happen if such decisions were adopted in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Seattle or elsewhere."

An authoritative source declared the case had grown far out of its original proportions since the Japanese have taken the position that the honor of their army and nation will not be satisfied unless the Americans apologize.

Hoey Is Thankful For One Delegate

Chicago, July 17.—(AP)—If Southern States can get but one additional delegate apiece at this convention they ought to take it, said Governor Clyde R. Hoey of North Carolina.

He agreed with others, however, that when the two-third-nominating rule was abrogated four years ago the Southern states were led to believe they would get even more delegates to the national convention.

Hoey said maybe the southerners shouldn't be too hasty in their decisions.

Annenberg Fails To Get Probation

Chicago, July 17.—(AP)—Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today denied M. L. Annenberg's petition for probation.

Annenberg is under sentence to serve three years in prison for violation of the income tax laws.

The court also denied a motion for a six weeks' extension of Annenberg's stay of execution submitted Monday by the Philadelphia publishers' chief counsel.

Judge Wilkerson sentenced Annenberg July 1 on a plea of guilty of evasion of $1,217,296 taxes on his 1936 income.

Draft Roosevelt Move Gains More Momentum

Clamor For Third Term Follows FDR's Message

Chicago, July 17.—(AP)—The clamor of "We Want Roosevelt Now" swept a third term draft movement forward today in a bolstering reply from Democratic delegates to President Roosevelt's message that he had "no wish to be a candidate."

So rapid was its sweep that directors of the campaign to enlist Mr. Roosevelt for another term predicted the national convention would wrap up the nomination for him before tonight's session ends.

What the President would do then remained to be seen. But all the chief New Deal lieutenants on the scene predicted that he would accept.

Secretary of Commerce Hopkins said he had "feeling and assurance" that "when the President is nominated he will accept."

For 25 minutes the delegates had let loose a bedlam of shouting and marching last night when Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky mentioned the President's name during his speech accepting the permanent chairmanship of the convention.

And then when he finally read the message from the White House for which the delegates had been fidgeting they turned the big stadium into a 50-minute clamorous tumult.

Plan Radio Talks On Crop Control

A series of radio programs has been arranged for tonight and tomorrow with a number of prominent citizens speaking over the local station in support of the three-year tobacco production control proposal.

Tonight at 7:45 o'clock J. H. Blount will make the address. Tomorrow's schedule follows: 12 noon, B. B. Sugg, president of the Eastern Carolina Warehousemen's Association; 2:15 Willard T. Kyzer, executive secretary of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce; 2:45 p. m., B. D. Johnston, president of the Greenville Merchants Association; 3:15 p. m., Abram Roberson, of Robersonville, farmer and member of the Martin County Board of Commissioners; 7:05 p. m., J. H. Waldrop, cashier of the Guaranty Bank and Trust company; 7:45 p. m., J. C. Lanier, farmer, attorney and state senator-elect.

A definite movement is on here in support of the three-year proposal, with the prominent business and professional men of the city and county urging farmers to vote in behalf of the plan at the referendum to be held on Saturday.

JAPAN NAMES NEW PREMIER

Complications Arise In Berlin With Declaration U.S. Should Condemn British Blockade Of Germany And Italy; More Talk Of Peace Offer By Axis Powers

By The Associated Press
America's interests in the Orient sharpened today—amid an ominous lull in the European conflict—as Japan chose a new premier to carry out a policy of foreign expansion and United States warships were believed speeding toward the Far East.

New complications arose too in Berlin, where authorized Nazis said the United States, following its expressed desire of keeping world trade lanes open, should "condemn" the British blockade against Germany and Italy.

Reports that Adolf Hitler is preparing a "last chance" offer to Britain—presumably a "surrender or be destroyed" ultimatum—were strengthened with the scheduled departure of Italy's foreign minister Count Ciano for Berlin.

Count Ciano, due in Berlin Friday, is expected to confer with Hitler regarding possible "terms" to be offered Britain.

The Japanese foreign office announced Britain has agreed to close the Burma road—China's main lifeline of war supplies—and also shut off the flow of arms traffic into China from the British colony of Hongkong.

China, however, has insisted she will not give up the fight against Japan despite these announcements. In Tokyo Emperor Hirohito summoned Prince Konoye to the imperial palace and commanded the 45-year-old advocate of a totalitarian one-party system to form a new cabinet.

Prince Konoye's predecessor, Admiral Yonai, resigned yesterday under criticism for his failure to satisfy expansionists' demands that Japan seize the "golden" chance provided by the European war to extend Japanese influence over British, French and Netherlands possessions in the Orient.

Powerful forces of the United States fleet, which steamed out of Hawaii yesterday, were believed en route to "patrol" British and French islands in the South Pacific—the region eyed by Japan.

In the European war theatre the German high command reported bad weather ruled air attacks on Britain, but Nazi planes flew high over the island kingdom again this morning and heavy explosions were heard in a southeast town.

Carrying the spotlight was the totally unexpected action of Spain in severing diplomatic relations with Chile.

The Spanish government said it had acted because an anti-nationalist campaign in Chile had "reached intolerable limits."

Any work program established to employ relief labor must have competent engineers, personnel experts, labor relations advisers, social workers, and other trained administrative personnel in order to function efficiently.

Entertains at Luncheon
Mrs. D. C. Whitthurst was hostess at a lovely luncheon yesterday at her home on Summit Street, honoring her daughter, Miss Eleanor Harrington, whose marriage to Dr. Francis Morris, of Beaufort, will take place August 14th. Guests were invited for one o'clock.

Individual tables were set up in the living room and dining room. Each table was centered with an arrangement of shasta daisies. Place cards were in the bride and groom. The place of the bride and groom was designated by a miniature bride and groom. Covers were laid for Miss Harrington, bride elect; Misses Nanette Rowlette, Hazel Harris, Christine Hellen, Patricia Brooks, Clara and Ruth Crumpler, Mattie Lee Ward, Willie Gray Cox of Winterville, Marie Dawson of Kinston, Ludell Bellflower of Oak City, Dorothy Robertson and Helen Hall of Tarboro and Mary Lawrence Davenport of Pactiva.

Coward-Hill
The old historic St. Thomas Church in Bath, N. C., was the scene of a lovely wedding on the afternoon of Tuesday, July 16 at one-thirty o'clock, when Miss Esther Hill of Greenville and John Coward, Jr., of Ayden, were wed in a private ceremony performed by the Rev. A. C. D. Noe of Bath. The ring service of the Episcopal ritual was used.

The bride wore light blue chiffon with V-shaped neckline and full skirt. Her hat was a small turban effect covered with pink and blue flowers. She wore pink and white accessories. Her only ornament was a diamond-studded locket. Her corsage was pink roses, and lilies of the valley.

The bride had as her only attendant, her sister, Miss Julia Hill as maid of honor. She wore a dress of new white crepe. A large picture hat of white straw and white accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses and lilies of the valley. The groom's brother, Graham Coward was best man.

Mrs. Coward is the daughter of Mrs. Michael Hill, of Sea Level, and Atlantic, N. C. She graduated at St. Luke's hospital, a training school for nurses in New Bern. For three years she has been employed in Pitt General hospital, Greenville, working recently as night supervisor of nurses.

Mr. Coward, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Coward of Ayden, received his education at the University of North Carolina. He is now employed as bookkeeper for J. R. Harvey company in Oritou.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal couple left for a short wedding trip.

Upon their return August 1, they will be at home at 401 Jarvis Street, Greenville.

Pears, peaches, apricots and apples, when baked, have better flavor if the baking dish is covered tightly until the last 10 minutes of the cooking period. Uncover then to brown the tops. Less baking time, too, is usually required in covered baking dishes.

FARM TENANTS ALLOWED VOTE

Any Person Sharing In Crop May Cast A Ballot

Raleigh, July 17.—Any person who will share in the proceeds of the 1940 flue-cured tobacco crop, and not just landowners, will be eligible to vote in the marketing quota referendum to be held on Saturday. It was emphatically stated today by E. Y. Floyd, AAA executive officer of N. C. State College. This means operators, tenants, or sharecroppers who will receive a share of the proceeds of the 1940 flue-cured crop, he explained.

Floyd said that county AAA offices have prepared registers of eligible voters, but that if a person's name is not on the register, he will be allowed to cast his ballot. It will be kept separate and the County AAA Referendum committee will investigate the case to determine if the voter was eligible. In this way, all qualified persons will have a voice in determining the future of the flue-cured tobacco industry, he stated.

Polling places will be set up in every tobacco-growing community in the State, and the voting will begin "not later than 9:00 a. m., and will continue until at least 5:00 p. m." However, Floyd said that most polling places will be opened by 7 a. m. and, if necessary, will remain open until 7:00 p. m.

Growers will vote on three questions: (1) Do you favor three year quotas? (2) Do you favor quotas only for 1941? and (3) Are you opposed to quotas for 1941, 1942 and 1943?

Floyd explained that the three-year plan will enable the Government to protect prices of the 1940 tobacco crop "at or slightly above the 14.9 cents per pound level established in 1939", and also allotments will not be reduced next year. However, if one-year quotas are approved, there will be a 10 per cent reduction in allotments in 1941 and prices probably will be 2 or 3 cents below the 1939 level," he concluded.

Mobilize Leaders To Pick Up Where Paris Quit

By AMY PORTER
AP Fashion Writer

The American fashion industry, since the fall of Paris, has been like a child without its mama.

Independence looked good at a distance but close up it was frightening.

During the last few weeks, the industry has had a bad case of the jitters.

Big strong fashion leaders waited. "What'll we do without Paris?" "Where shall we turn for new fall designs?" "Even if we had designs we haven't any craftsmen. Americans can't do fine handwork. Americans aren't creative."

To stop the general waiting and to put some spunk into the industry, the Fashion Group held a big pep meeting.

Before an audience of leading manufacturers, retailers and designers, optimistic speakers hailed America's fashion future. They pooh-poohed the faint-hearted who can't see that New York is destined to be the fashion capital of the world.

"The fall of Paris means opportunity for American fashion," said

Mary Lewis, stylist.
"There's no reason this country shouldn't take up where Paris leaves off. We have talent enough here. And resourcefulness is bred in the American soul."

Madame Lyolene, French designer who has her headquarters in New York, agreed. "There are three big sources of inspiration for a designer in this country," she said. "First, the excellent figure of the American woman; second, the comparative youth of the fashion industry; third, the beauty of the country itself. It's nonsense to think style can't develop here as well as in Paris."

One of the biggest "buts" offered by those who are dubious about America's fashion capabilities is the lack of expert craftsmanship. Where, they say, are the skilled artisans—the buttonmakers, accessory creators, textile designers willing to work up dozens of experimental fabrics for the sake of producing one perfect pattern?

In answer, Annette Simons of Saks Fifth Avenue, said, "There are plenty of beautiful American embroideries and laces available." And Mrs. Jean Earle of Bamberber's contributed: "Rayon, silk and cotton mills in America are second to none in Europe."

All speakers agreed that American timidity about style was a matter of habit rather than of necessity. They advocated a new mental attitude, purposeful, hopeful.

The American people believe in work for the unemployed. It not only creates permanent public facilities which add to the wealth of the nation but it conserves skill and manpower.

Tall, Frosty Drinks Give Summer Some Of Winter's Coolness

MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

AP Feature Service Writer

A tray of frosty tall glasses, brimful of tangy fruit beverages in colors to rival the rainbow—just a sight like that starts to unsizzle a hot summer day.

With the abundant supply of fruits, berries, bottled juices and canned beverage liquids that modern markets supply, every home can provide its own array of summer nectars.

Do keep plenty of these makings on tap in the refrigerator and have a good supply of fruit and sugar syrups, lemons, oranges, and jars of red and green cherries to blend with them so you can turn out summer coolers on short order. You, your family and your guests will all appreciate it on hot days.

Here's a starter: Fruit Chill. Boil a cup each of sugar and water 2 minutes. Cool and add 1 cup logan berry juice, 1/2 cup each of lemon, raspberry and pineapple juices. Chill until needed and add 4 cups of iced water. Pour into glasses, 1-3 filled with chopped ice. Top each with a ball of pineapple, apricot or raspberry sherbet and dress up with finely chopped green mint gum drops.

Keep tropical frost in the refrigerator. It is a fruit syrup already for quick action. Boil together 4 minutes 2 cups each of granulated sugar and water. Cool and add 2 cups orange juice and a cup each of lemon and pineapple juices. Fill tall chilled glasses one-third full and then add chopped ice and iced water. Stick in mint leaves, twists of orange peel and preserved fruits. Cherries, berries, apricots or peach—small portions—are gay top-offs.

Fruit Pizz will revive Dad (as well as the rest of the family) when he comes home heat-fagged. Boil together, for 2 minutes, 2-3 cup each of sugar and water. Add 8 fresh crushed mint leaves. Cool, remove leaves and pour syrup into 1 cup grapefruit juice, 1/2 cup lemon juice and 2 cups ginger ale. Pour tall glasses 2-3 full of mixture, fill with chopped ice. Garnish with thin slices of orange and with mint leaves.

Fruit Rickey is a grand cooler for callers or an evening party. Boil together 1 1/2 cups each of granulated sugar and water for 4 minutes. Cool and add 1 cup grape juice, 1/2 cup each of lemon and pineapple juices and 1/4 cup lime juice. Chill until serving time and then add a quart of carbonated water and half-fill tall glasses. Fill the glasses with chopped candied ginger and red cherries.

Save the syrup left from canned cherries, apricots, pears, peaches and berries, combine with iced water or iced tea and you can make up unusual and delightful beverages with subtle flavors. Remember to add a little lemon juice to all coolers. It helps the other flavors and assures trainees—an essential in thirst-quenchers.

If the day is a scorcher call Currantade to your aid. Mix a cup of sugar syrup (made by boiling together for 5 minutes 2 cups each of granulated sugar and water) with a cup of currant juice and 1-3 cup each of lemon, pineapple and grape juices. Add equal amount of iced water and serve in glasses filled with chopped ice. Add a teaspoon of raspberry jam, lightly sprinkled with cinnamon, to each glass. Plum or grape juice can be used in place of the currant.

This Summer's Games Have An Aerial Twist

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Feature Service Writer

Games are going to give you more fun this summer, if you follow the new play trend.

Lots of people are playing them to banish wartime blues. Lots of others are fostering them—hostesses answering the summer problem of entertaining guests on week-ends and rainy Sundays. Most of the favorites are fairly inexpensive, can be played without a great deal of practice and are set up easily on the lawn or the beach.

Here are some of them—new ones and older favorites—that might answer some of your own summer hostess problems:

First choice seems to be a new version of an old timer; it's aerial croquet. The course is laid out with three-foot high wire wickets that have a big ring in the top. The game is played with wooden balls and mallets that have been shaped to give the ball a loft. You loft the ball up through the rings in the wickets, one after another on around the course, winding up by sailing the ball into a suspended net bag.

Aerial Bowling

Another aerial game is a new variation of bowling. If you want to try your hand at that, set up tiny wooden ten-pins in regular bowling formation, take a rubber ball that's been made fast to a string and aim it at one of the tenpins. Hold the string taut. If you knock the ten-pins down and catch the ball on the return, the point is yours. If you fail to do either, you lose.

Bat-trap-ball—a modern version of one o'cat—has other fans. The base is a wooden shoe which has a tongue-like trigger. To play set the ball on the shoe, strike the trigger with the bat and, as the ball flies into the air, clout it. If your opponents catch the ball on the fly, you're out.

If you want your games a little more strenuous try Swedish ring catch. Players are armed with sticks that resemble billiard cues. One player has a rope ring on his stick. Idea is for him to throw the ring toward you and for you to catch it on your sword and split it back to him so that he won't be able to spear it.

Modified Jai Alai

There's a new version of jai alai out now. It's not so fast and furious as the famous Cuban game. But don't worry, it's fast enough to enable you to work up a good circulation before a dip. It's played with wicker scoops that are held by a handle instead of being attached to the hand.

Badminton is a bigger favorite than ever. This year it is sometimes played with a ball of clipped wool instead of a shuttlecock.

Amusement a little more fitted to the mood of Sunday luncheon guests can be found in various versions of darts, archery, horseshoes and ring toss. A new and different treatment appears in many of them. One dart board is designed to revolve while the throw is being made, adding a little spice to the game. Horse-shoes are rubber covered and stakes are set in blocks so that they can be used in the house or on the porch without much noise.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbie Coome

Hollywood.—If anybody's thinking about laying out a new college campus, here's the place to come. I never knew how a campus should be laid out until I saw the set of "Too Many Girls," which offers the buildings and grounds of dear old Pottawatomie University, mythically located at Stopgap, New Mexico (a town which also ain't).

The set will offer more ideas, of course, if the youthful campus cuties are decorating its environs and parading solemnly through its stately halls of learning. I can't guarantee any solemn academic parades, however, for come to think of it there isn't a hall of learning in sight. This too is an idea for campus layer-outers.

What strikes you first about dear old Pottawatomie is the way they've provided for dance routines. Take that pueblo-type adobe home of the college president. There's a balcony on the second story and you reach it by two wide flights of stairs, whereon the coeds and eds can—and do—practice their steps. In the patio in front there's a big sun-dial, like half a drum, on which you know Hal Leroy and Ann Miller are going to tap a conga. You're right, because that's what they're doing now. They and the other kids are warming up in the prexy's patio, to the strains of a rumba orchestra which plays that hot bit called "Give It Back to the Indians."

The professor over there, the tall, distinguished gent in the sweater is George Abbott, sometime of Broadway, who is taking a fling at movie-making. The associate professor, stocky and dark, is Leroy Prinz, whose course is dancing. Between Abbott's direction and Prinz's dance direction the kids never get a peek at their books. But they get the essentials of a college education: Swing, hot rhythm, rumba and Conga and song.

Campuses need walks and stairways to swing and tap on. Sun-dials for steps. And—of course—youth.

"Too Many Girls" has all that. Youngsters so young they make an old man feel older. So active, practicing taps and jitterbug stuff even when they could be resting, they wear you down. (I called for my cane and decided to grow a beard, long and white, after Ann Miller asked if I'd heard of the Conga and had ever seen it. She was very sweet about it, to be sure, and respectful—as any child of 19 would be to a patriarch of the Schottische and Polka era.)

Three of the principles—Ann and Lucille Ball and Richard Carlson—weren't in Abbott's stage production. Most of the others were, including Desi Arnaz, the Cuban youth whose rumba and tango have the local girls dithering.

Hal Leroy, the dancer, is making a come-back to films. He was in "Harold Teen" at Warner's some years ago. Another comebacker is Ann Miller—to the same studio she left, after getting nowhere in particular, for the stage. She was a hit in George White's "Scandale" and on opening night she had five movie offers. Which goes to show why local girls like Broadway.

HERE'S A PEACE-TIME USE FOR AIRPLANE WARFARE

Anchorage, Alaska (AP)—Wolf hunting by airplane to protect Alaska's big game is advocated by Pilot Don Glass.

He declared that because hunters have to obtain the left front foot of a wolf to collect their $20 bounty they are not likely to hunt in inaccessible areas due to the expense.

He said he has seen wolves in country flights and that moose never ever growing numbers during cross travel singly any more because of the wolves but instead are seen in bands of at least eight or more.

He suggested an Alaska game commission official might go along with the hunter-pilot to testify to the number of wolves killed.

COED TENNIS MAKES VARSITY

Carlisle, Pa. (AP)—Alike Abbott, Philadelphia co-ed, was so good the boys couldn't keep her off the Dickinson College male tennis team. She plays No. 5 position and has lost only one match this year. Miss Abbott prefers to play tennis with men while some of her male opponents object because they are torn between feelings of chivalry and the embarrassment of defeat at the hands of a pretty co-ed.

During the last 30 years 3,999,123 men and boys have at some time been members of the Boy Scouts of America.

England Muddles Through Smiling

"Smith Carries On"—Roy Ulyett in The London Star.

Englishmen still laugh, despite all the trouble they're seeing these days. These cartoons are proof.

The cartoon of two men in an office shows the British can work a 7-day week—and laugh at it. The golf-course drawing shows they can anticipate parachute troops—and smile.

But, strange to Americans, no Englishman chuckled when a raging snow storm cut off communication between England and the European mainland and newspaper placards proclaimed:

"Continent Isolated."

Bankhead Gets The Gavel And Delivers Keynote

Speaker William B. Bankhead of the House, serving as temporary chairman of the Democratic national convention in Chicago, is shown receiving the gavel from James A. Farley (left), chairman of the national committee, shortly before delivering the keynote address. That's Senator Key Pittman (D-Nev.) in background (in dark suit). Bankhead called for an aggressive campaign on the "record" of performance, and an uncompromising resistance to "malignant" aggressors abroad and a revival of the GOP platform.

Caligiuri Blanks Goldsboro As Greenies Win Another LEAGUE LEADERS SCORE EASY SOFTBALL VICTORIES

FREDDY YIELDS ONLY 3 BLOWS

Greenies Make Four Double Plays During Evening

Freddy Caligiuri yielded only three safeties last night as Greenville defeated Goldsboro 3-0 to take its third straight victory.

Manager Rube Wilson who has really had his batting eye clicking of late, drove home the three Greenville tallies with a circuit blow in the first to score two runs ahead of him. Dides was on by virtue of a single and Kracke had drawn a walk.

Two of the Goldsboro hits were made by Peele and the other by the pitcher, Threlfall.

Threlfall did a fine job of pitching himself and his hurling would have won most games. He allowed only four hits in addition to the two made in the first inning.

After that first inning it was a real ball game, with neither team scoring and only two players. Dides of Greenville and Pawlak of Goldsboro, reaching third base.

Stockholders

Officials of the club declared that important questions were to be taken up and urged a full membership.

How To Play Third Base

By HARVEY LAVAGETTO
Brooklyn Dodger Star
AP Feature Service

Third base is rightly named the "hot corner." Standing only 90 feet from the batter and handling 200-foot-a-second drives from his club would qualify it for the name even if there weren't a dozen other reasons.

It's a job that calls for some special qualifications to handle its special duties. A third baseman, preferably tall, must have a strong, accurate throwing arm. It's a big help, too, if he can acquire a sort of sixth sense about the batter's intentions.

For instance, when a strong "pull" hitter comes to bat the third sacker must be ready for anything, especially if there is a runner on first. If the baseman plays deep the hitter may lay down a bunt. If the baseman is up "on the grass" the batter may pull a hit direct through or over him.

The safest rule, with a runner on first, is to play up for a bunt until the batter has two strikes on him. Then you can move back.

General Rules

Here are some general rules: On base hits to the outfield, you should play the bag to relay throws or to cut off an advancing runner. In the case of hard singles to left of second base you sometimes act as cutoff man on throws to the plate from the outfield.

It's just as important for the third baseman to study batters and runners and know where they are likely to hit and run as it is for any other infielders.

With runners on first and second the pitcher usually handles bunts down the third base line and you hold the bag for a forceout. If there's a runner on third, always make sure he's going to try for home before you make a throw to the plate. In the event the bases are full the throw is always to the plate. When runners are on second and third the infield always plays for a rundown on the runner on third.

Special circumstances call for special duties. For instance, the third-sacker may have to cover second if both shortstop and second baseman are pulled far off the bag to field a ball.

There's plenty to do if you're a third baseman. It's really a "hot corner."

Speedy George Case Comes Through Again

George Case of the Washington Senators, current-day "Ty Cobb" of the major league base stealers, is shown at Washington adding to his season's base thefts. This slide in the third was his 18th steal this season. That's Ken Keltner, third base man for the Cleveland Indians, covering the sack. This particular Case steal helped the Senators to beat the Indians 8-6.

Greenville Riding Club Now Being Patronized

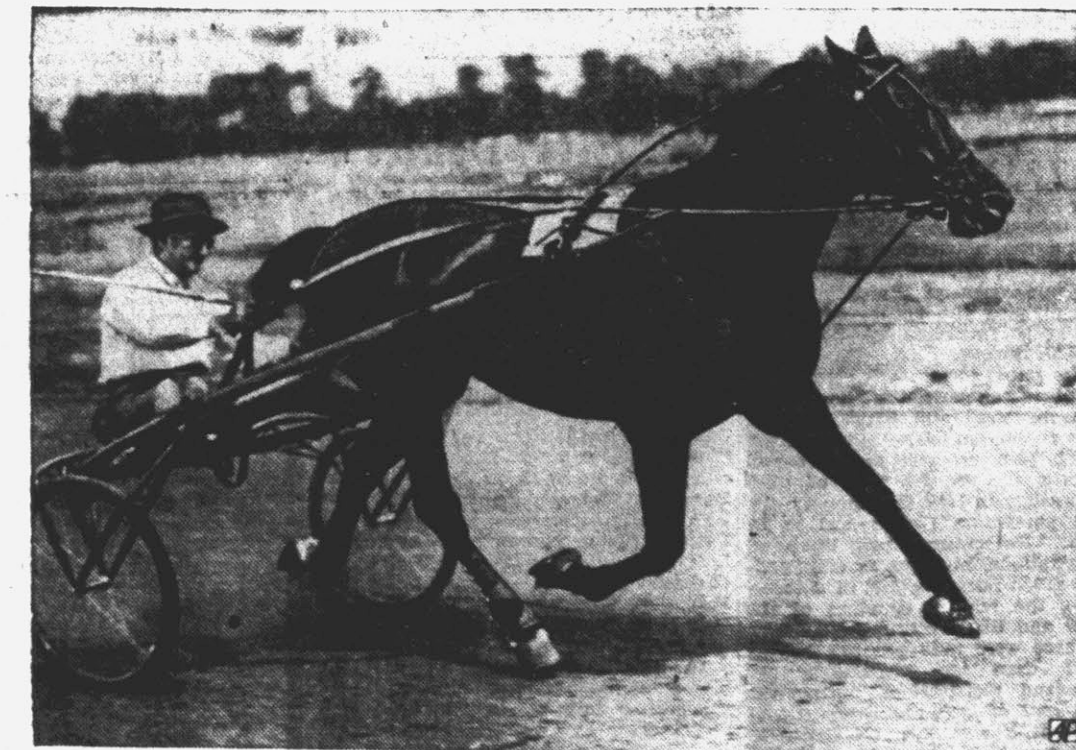

Important Meeting of All Members Set For Tonight

The stables and ring have been completed by the Greenville Riding Association and the new enterprise already is being patronized at its location by the Guy Smith park.

An important meeting of the association members has been called for tonight at 8 o'clock at the Person-Garrett tobacco company offices and all members are urged to be present.

It was announced that there are plenty of horses at the stables and that horses would be available to members with horses for riding this coming Sunday.

The public is invited to visit the stables and ring.

TROTTERS GROOM FOR THEIR 'DERBY DAY'—Two-to-one favorite for the $40,000 Hambletonian stake at Goshen, N. Y., in August is Kuno, this bay colt by Guy Day now training for the event. Kuno is owned by Dunbar W. Bostwick of Old Westbury, Long Island, and is being trained by Harry Whitney (above). Bostwick, an amateur driver, will pilot the colt in a Hambletonian "preview" at Historic track, Goshen, and in the big race, too. Trotting events are still favorites among state and county fair circuits.

Car. Dairy vs. Pepsi Cola.

The league-leading Double Cola team scored a 11-3 victory over Water-Light in the first game of last night's softball program, after which the runner-up Blount-Harvey team won over Tadlock 13-4.

The department store men allowed the insurance boys to get four runs lead before scoring in the third, but from then on it was all in favor of Blount-Harvey. Five runs were scored in the third—enough to win—but the department store team went on to add two in the fourth in the fifth and two in the sixth. Sumrell, with three for three led both teams at bat. One of his blows was a home run. McGowan and Williams, also of the winners homered.

The losers also scored first in the second game, Water-Light getting one in the second, while Double Cola was unable to score until the third, when three runners tallied. Two were added in the fourth, 4 in the fifth and one each in the sixth and seventh. Water-Light got one each in the sixth and seventh. Hatem and R. Gaylord got circuit blows for the winners. Ed Wells hurried for the Double Cola team and allowed the utility team only four safeties, none of which were for an extra blow.

As a rule people at this season forget everything but tobacco in remembering this one thing think of the fall gardens, place the baby chick for fall broilers, clean up, mend up and put away all tools as fast as you finish with them. Keep cheerful. God has been good to us to send the rain and sunshine in dry season.

FEDERAL HELP FELT IN STATE

Estimated $37,368,488 Is Released Throughout N.C.

North Carolina received an estimated $37,368,488 in Federal loans and expenditures, during the six-month period July 1, 1939, through December 31, 1939, E. Leigh Stevens, State Director for North Carolina of the Office of Government Reports, announced today.

Of this amount, loans repayable to the Federal Government amounted to $5,484,770.00. Expenditures, which were largely grants-in-aid, partly payments, and other non-repayable disbursements for public works and the conservation of human and natural resources, totaled $31,883,718.00.

In addition, the Federal Government through the Federal Housing Administration insured loans of private capital in the amount of $5,228,875.00 for housing improvement notes, and mortgages in the State.

Agricultural loans amounted to $2,880,998.00, while loans made by other agencies including the new Federal Loan Agency totaled $2,604,572.00.

Agricultural expenditures amounted to $7,679,041.00; grants-in-aid and direct Federal expenditures made by the principal agencies within the new Federal Security Agency totaled $5,953,731.00; and disbursements for public roads, public works and housing under the Federal Works Agency were $6,547,360.

Data on loans and expenditures by States and agencies are contained in the Consolidated State Report of Selected Federal Expenditures released by the Office of Government Reports for the first half of the fiscal year 1940.

Wet Counties Have Best Record For Revocations

Reflector Bureau.
By HENRY AVERILL
Raleigh, July 17.—The 27 North Carolina counties in which there are legal liquor stores had a slightly better record in the matter of revocations of drivers' licenses than did the 73 legally arid Tar Heel units during the first six months of this year.

The "wet" county aggregate was 5.28 revocations for every thousand passenger automobiles, while the "dry" counties had a mark of 5.83 revocations per thousand registrations.

For the entire state there were 2,618 revocations and 460,859 registrations, giving a record of 5.68 revocations per thousand registrations. These figures were arrived at by your Raleigh reporter by the tedious, but thoroughly accurate, method of taking the revocations by counties for the first six months as furnished by the Division of Highway Safety and dividing the figure for each county as furnished by the Motor Vehicle Bureau.

The result corresponds very closely with a comparison of the revocation in "wet" and "dry" counties on a population basis—a comparison which your reporter made several months ago on the basis of total revocations in 1939. Of necessity, the 1939 population figures had to be used. Revocations per thousand registrations, however, is admittedly a much fairer method of determining the relative standing of the ABC and the dry counties.

There were nine counties having more than ten revocations per thousand registrations during the first half of 1940, and every one of them is legally dry. Of the ABC counties, New Hanover's 8.29 per thousand was the highest revocation figure.

When the total revocations were published without relating them to the registration figures, Guilford, Mecklenburg and other large counties naturally showed up with the highest totals; but when the rate is figured out the situation is completely changed.

On the "per thousand of registrations" standard, Jackson county leads without even close competition. In that small western county there were registered 965 automobiles through June 30, while during the same period there were 9,388

Re-election of Roosevelt would weaken the precedent since it could be construed as indicating a majority of voters favored overriding the tradition under certain circumstances.

The historic argument against a third term—the danger of perpetuating power in the hands of one man—still is the big argument.

Main contention of third-term defenders has been—and still is—that in an emergency it may be essential to the welfare of the nation to permit a President, supported by popular vote, to serve a third time.

the third-term issue will be a tough one to gauge. New Deal "achievements" and New Deal "failure", plus the appeal of the Republican standard-bearer, will be much more important.

Congress frequently has tackled the question of limiting the presidential term. In the 1830's several constitutional amendments were proposed, but they got nowhere.

When the Coolidge third term boom (the served only one and three-quarters terms) still showed signs of flowering after his "I do not choose to run" statement, Senator La Follette introduced an anti-third term resolution. The Senate adopted it 56 to 28.
