Churchill Asserts Trade To Benefit U. S. Defense

SPEAKS DURING RAID BY NAZIS

British Prime Minister Says Exchange Will Enable This Country To Take Danger By The Throat; Warns Britons U. S. Not In War

London, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Winston Churchill declared to his Parliament today that the British-American exchange of destroyers and defense bases will enable the United States "to take danger by the throat whilst it is still hundreds of miles away" —but he warned the British to remember that America is not in the war.

The Prime Minister, speaking for a time during a general London air raid alarm, declared however, that Hitler "no doubt will pay the United States out if he ever gets the chance."

Churchill told the House that no one must read into the British-American agreement anything more than is on its face and he stressed that it did not affect "in the slightest degree the non-belligerency of the United States."

Turning to the battle of England even while it raged above the capital itself, the prime minister declared the Germans had used a greater proportion of their air strength already than the British and warned of heavier fighting to come.

The sirens of the London area began screaming at 3:05 p. m. (9:05 a. m. EST) just about 20 minutes after the House had gone into session.

Waves of enemy aircraft had crossed the southeast coast at a great height and some of them were approaching London, when the alarms were sounded.

The Air Ministry said preliminary reports indicated no great harm was done in London, but gas and water mains were broken, a hospital was hit and another narrowly missed during an attack in Northwest England.

Several casualties resulted from the bomb hits on the hospital.

City High School Now In Operation

The 1940-41 term at Greenville High School got under way this morning with a general devotional assembly of both junior and senior high schools. Chapel was presided over by Principal V. M. Mulholland and J. H. Rose, superintendent.

A scripture by J. B. Kittrell, Jr. and a welcome speech by Fenner Corbett, both popular seniors, were highlights of the program. Fenner, temporary president of the Student Cooperative Association, will remain in this position until the fall elections. Mr. Rose also gave a welcome speech and stated that he was looking forward to a very successful school year.

Among new teachers in the Greenville high school for their first year are Miss Margaret Zinn and H. H. Cunningham, Social Science instructors, Miss Cooper Bell, Natural Science and Mrs. S. B. Underwood, Physical Education. Boley Farley and Miss Jesse Schnopp are returning to the high school staff after a year's absence.

Although it is understood that the new additions to the high school are more than able to take care of their job in instructing high school students, old teachers such as Miss Helen Dugan, History and English, Miss Mabel Lacy, Home Economics, Mrs. J. C. Bell, Business Courses and Herman Dally and Mr. Hubbard, History and Biology instructors, will be missed by the student body.

U. S. VESSELS LEAVE BOSTON

Eight Of 50 Presumably Headed For Canadian Port

Boston, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Sailing from Boston under secret orders, eight World War destroyers, presumed to be the first of 50 traded to Britain for air and naval bases, were on the high seas today believed en route to a Canadian port.

Departing coincidentally from Boston were the new destroyer leader Russell with Rear Admiral F. L. Reichmuth, commander of the Atlantic destroyer fleet, aboard and the supply ship Denebola. Departure of the Russell and Denebola remained unexplained, but waterfront sources speculated they might return with the crews of American sailors engaged in delivering the old destroyers.

Only one of the outmoded destroyers remained in port, but others of the 50 were expected. Manned by crews of 60 each, three of the destroyers left last night and five today.

No Pitt Forest Fires Reported For Month

C. A. Bowling, county fire warden, said today that not a single forest or brush fire had been reported in the county since the early days of August, but added that this year's record was not as good as that of last year.

Last year not a single fire was reported from April 17 until the middle of November.

Usually there are very few fires during the growing season, but occasional blazes were reported throughout the county this year until August. The long dry spell was said to have been responsible.

Warden Bowling observed that it would soon be time to start hunting and warned sportsmen to be careful not to start fires.

Mexico Acts To Quell Possible Armed Revolt

Almazon Party Leader Says Revolution Coming

Mexico City, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The administration of President Cardenas took extraordinary precautions today to forestall a possible armed attempt to seize power which a leader of General Juan Almazon's party declared might begin "within the next 10 hours or two days."

The government patrolled highways, watched airports and kept all trains under surveillance to check on movements of Almazon's followers, while responsible sources reported troop reinforcements were being moved to northern Mexico, regarded as an Almazon stronghold.

The head of the National Confederation of 3,000,000 peasants announced 80,000 trained members were ready to take up their rifles in support of the administration, which backed General Manuel Camacho against Almazon in the disputed and bloody July presidential election.

Angel Trechuelo, executive of Almazon's party, made the prediction of an early outbreak of revolt just before he left Mexico City for an undisclosed destination in northern Mexico shortly after midnight.

Declaring plans were so advanced that publicity would make no difference, the government is determined to stop us, Trechuelo, asserted 500 key directors of the revolt left the capital secretly during the night for pre-arranged meeting places.

HOUSE DEBATE CONTINUES ON MILITARY BILL

Enters Final Drive With Vote Due By Saturday

AMENDMENTS TO BILL TAKEN UP

Regular Procedure Resumed Following Fist Fight Between Rep. Sweeney And Rep. Vincent

Washington, Sept. 5.—(AP)—With the spectacle of a hard-hitting fist-fight on the floor to testify to the shortness of some tempers, the House began its final drive today for a decision on the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill.

Two days of general debate over the chamber settled down to consider the measure section by section and to act on the scores of pending amendments. The vote was expected tomorrow night or Saturday.

Sponsors of the bill, re-checking their strength, made sharp downward revisions in early predictions that it would pass by 150 votes. They say now they expect the bill's margin to be from 80 to 75 votes.

Rep. Vincent (D-Ky) and Rep. Sweeney (D-Ohio) threw punches at each other in the well of the chamber while the galleries looked on.

The fight followed a speech by Sweeney in which he assailed conscription and accused President Roosevelt of seeking to embroil the United States in war.

Sweeney returned to a seat beside Vincent and abruptly the flare-up occurred. Each representative landed hard blows to the face and kept slugging until colleagues intervened.

One grappled with the stocky Sweeney and rolled over a seat with him before he penned him down.

Sweeney subsequently apologized to the House. Vincent at first repeated a charge of "traitor"—but later withdrew it at the persuasion of friends. Each gave the House his version of the altercation.

President Farm Bureau At Work

Reflector Bureau. By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Sept. 5.—Flake Shaw, who recently took over as secretary and executive head of the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation, is beginning his administration with what appears to be a sincere effort to gain the good will of agricultural agencies, official and unofficial, in the state.

He has asked prominent figures in the state's various agricultural agencies to meet in the Governor's office Saturday morning for what will apparently be something of a "good neighbor" session.

The Governor, Commissioner of Agriculture Kerr Scott, Dean I. O. Schaub of the AAA and the State College Extension service, and numerous other big men have been asked to attend, and will likely be on hand.

There seems to be no special subject for discussion; but it seems that Mr. Shaw will offer his cooperation and assistance to all and sundry agencies and in turn solicit the good will and support of the agencies.

Under most circumstances a meeting of this sort would be little but routine news, as it's not out of the ordinary for the incoming head of any activity to try for good relations with other groups in the same line; but any rapprochement between the North Carolina Farm Bureau and the State Department of Agriculture is an extraordinary item in view of the never-ending quarrel that went on while E. F. Arnold, Mr. Shaw's immediate predecessor, was running the Farm Bureau. The Department had little to say, but Arnold never lost an opportunity to stick a sharp harpoon in the Departmental hide.

And so the fact that the new secretary seeks peace and harmony is worth recording.

Local Tobacco Prices Continue To Run Ahead Of Those Paid In 1939

Choice Lugs Bringing Around $28; Market Gets Down To Regular Schedule With Block Having Been Cleared Yesterday; Offerings Continue Principally Of Inferior Grades

Prices on the Greenville tobacco market continued strong today as the market settled down to normal after the opening-day break had been cleared.

Although sales continued satisfactorily heavy, with sales continuing until the scheduled closing hour the floors were emptied with first sales to be started tomorrow as set by the market.

Prices on the local market continue to run ahead of last year's opening week and farmers apparently were convinced their tobacco, grade for grade, was selling several dollars a hundred pounds higher than at the start of the 1939 season.

It was agreed by all, however, that the offerings were made up principally of inferior grades.

Prices were reported firm and uniform on all types of leaf today, with a possible upward trend on some grades. The quality of offerings on the floors at the start of sales today, however, was no better than those of the first two days.

According to the official report of the Agricultural Marketing Service, choice lugs yesterday sold for $28 a hundred pounds, with cutters selling somewhat higher.

Tomorrow will close the first week of sales for the local market and the opening auctions brought thousands of farmers here from a wide territory. Tobacco being brought to the Greenville market from many distant points as well as by farmers living within the county.

First sales tomorrow will be at the Center Brick, Harris and Rogers, Keel's, New Carolina and Star No. Two warehouses, with the market settling down to routine sales and on schedule.

BETTER PRICES ARE RECEIVED

Tobacco Said To Be Selling Slightly Stronger

Raleigh, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Tobacco prices appeared slightly better on bright leaf markets in early sales today.

At Wilson Sales Supervisor N. G. Blackman said the farmers "appear right well pleased" and generally regarded the quality of this year's crop as rather poor.

Blackman estimated that 1,250,000 pounds would be sold at Wilson today, clearing floors and that the average would be slightly above 18 cents a pound. Yesterday Wilson sold 1,350,000 pounds at about 18 cents and the official average there Tuesday was 18.33.

At Rocky Mount Sales Supervisor E. G. Johnston, Jr. said $49,324 pounds were sold Wednesday for an official average of 16.73 cents.

Johnston said offerings in the main consisted of ground lugs and other inferior types. Around a million pounds was offered today.

At Goldsboro prices apparently held at just about the same level as yesterday, when the official average was 17.52 cents. Sales Supervisor W. C. Tucker said he expected floors would be cleared by the sale of about 150,000 pounds. He said quality was still bad, but that prices for better leaf were picking up.

At Washington today's average prices were estimated at 16 to 18 cents a pound. Yesterday's official figures were announced as 116.284 pounds sold for $19,313.25, and the average was given as 16.69 cents, compared with the opening day average of 17.75. Officials said offerings included much inferior weed.

Premier Of Rumania In Control Of Government

Monarch Expected To Step Down And Join His Red-Headed Friend In Exile As Rumania Joins List Of Dictator Nations; British Bombers Challenge Hitlers Threats

By The Associated Press. Abdication of King Carol, II, to join his red-headed friend, Madam Magda Lupescu, in exile, was reported likely in Bucharest government quarters today as the Rumanian monarch bowed to the demand of his new Premier, General Ion Antonescu, for a virtual dictatorship.

After an all-night conference, King Carol issued a royal decree dissolving Parliament and suspending the constitution.

With full power yielded to General Antonescu to save the strifetorn kingdom from anarchy—arising from the recent cession of great chunks of Rumanian territory to Soviet Russia and Hungary—the little Balkan country for all practical purposes became once more in the glaring list of European dictatorships.

Madam Dupescu, with whom Carol fled in exile in 1925, abandoning his throne, was reported waiting for Carol aboard the royal yacht anchored at Istanbul.

Madam Lupescu has frequently been called the "uncrowned queen" of Rumania and has been bitterly opposed by the nation's anti-semitic Iron Guard and by the army.

As Carol was reported on the verge of quitting his kingdom for the second time, Hungary's agent regent, Admiral Horthy, rode astride a white horse leading 50,000 troops of the Hungarian army of occupation into northern Transylvania—the rich region wrested from Rumania under an axis-supported threat of war.

Mobs of Rumanian peasants in the ceded area armed with pitchforks and other crude weapons were reported clashing with Hungarian peasants as a result of the occupation. More than 150 were reported killed at the border town of Sibigh.

Unconfirmed reports said 3,000 Rumanian soldiers had volunteered to form a "death legion" to resist Hungarian occupation of northern Transylvania to show the world that Rumania has courage.

On the war front developments broke swiftly.

British bombers, challenging Hitler's threat to "erase" English cities in retaliation for night raids on Germany, dropped high explosives on the Berlin area in a two-hour attack, damaging a big electric works, nine miles from the heart of the capital and an army warehouse.

Hitler's high command reported one death in Berlin and 18 other Germans killed in a north German city.

In the Anglo-Italian conflict in the Mediterranean, Mussolini's high command reported a series of naval and air battles in which six British warships, including two cruisers allegedly were damaged by aerial bombs and 17 Royal Air Force planes destroyed.

FARM INCOME EFFECT SHOWN

Reflected In Rising Real Estate Value Of Farms

Raleigh, Sept. 5.—Gains in farm income prices and buying power since 1933 have been reflected in rising real estate value of North Carolina farms, Dr. I. O. Schaub, director of the State College Extension Service, said today.

In the year ending March, 1933, the value of farm real estate was only 86 per cent of the period before the first World War. From this low point, the estimated value per acre in North Carolina rose to 138 per cent of the pre-war level for the year ending March, 1940.

Thus, Dr. Schaub stated, North Carolina farmers found their real estate worth about 60 per cent more early in 1940 than in the first part of 1933.

For the United States as a whole, the Federal Department of Agriculture pointed out that in the year ending March, 1940, farm real estate values rose to 85 per cent of the level before the World War, as compared with only 73 per cent of pre-war in the year ending March, 1933.

The 16 per cent gain from 1933 to 1940 followed more than a decade of unbroken decline in the value of farm real estate, the Department said further.

Along with the rise in farm real estate values since 1933, there were more voluntary sales of farms in North Carolina and fewer forced sales and bankruptcies.

Dr. Schaub said voluntary sales and trades of North Carolina farms were 25.7 per thousand for the year ending March, 1939, as compared with 13.5 per thousand for the year ending March, 1933. On the other hand, the number of forced farm sales in the state declined from 86.8 for the year ending March, 1933, to only 12.3 per thousand for the year ending March, 1939.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pain, leg pain, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

COOPER FACES LOCAL BATTLE

Wilmington Mayor May Lose Fight To Hold Post

Raleigh, September 5.—Colorful Mayor Thomas E. Cooper of Wilmington, who was a statewide figure even before he polled some 35,000 votes for governor in this year's Democratic primary, seems to be in for a hard battle to retain his post and his political hold on the City-by-the-Sea.

Reliable reports reaching your Raleigh reporter indicate that Judge Alton A. Lennon of the New Hanover county Recorder's court, will make the mayor's race against Cooper next Spring, and if these reports are correct, that means that even the respectable mule dealer will have a tough time staying put in the City Hall.

Judge Lennon began his political career by defeating perhaps the most despotic "boss" New Hanover has had in many years. He ousted the veteran Judge George Harris whose word was law on the Cape Fear for more years than most can remember. True, the old fellow was ill and unable to make his usual effective campaign and equally true Lennon's margin was only about 115 votes in some six or seven thousand; but to beat George Harris under any sort of conditions was almost a miracle for any "upstart youngster."

Lennon appears to have grown greatly in political stature in the six years he has been on the bench. A complicating factor is that "Foots" Mahan, a Dry Pond storekeeper, has been actively campaigning against Cooper for more than a year already. This "Foots" polled 1,800 votes in 1938 against Sheriff C. David Jones, the most popular official in New Hanover county.

All in all, it looks like Mayor Cooper is going to have to stir his stumps next Spring, if he is to hold on to his job.

OPEN TALK ON SENATE POSTS

Bladen And Wake Solons May Draw Assignments

Reflector Bureau.
By HENRY AVERILL
Raleigh, Sept. 4.—Lieutenant Governor-to-be Reg Harris has been even more tight-lipped than Governor-nominate J. M. Broughton about the identity of his 1941 appointees, if any such degree of silence is possible; but in quarters regarded as reasonably close to the next No. 2 Tar Heel there is talked of Senator Clark for chairman of the 1941 Senate Appropriations committee and Senator Lin Ballentine of Wake for head of the Finance committee.

When your reporter says "Senator Clark" he does not mean the best known legislator answering to that name—because "Cousin Willie" from Edgecombe is likely to get about as much consideration from Harris as would Churchill from Herr Schickelguber.

Senator J. H. Clark, from Bladen county, is the man in mind. He was a member of the 1937 Senate, getting there through the medium of licking "Bombshell" Page, which in itself is something of an accomplishment. He is a member of the Budget Commission and is regarded as well versed in the financial structure of the state.

The source which boosted him to your reporter added that he looks on proposed expenditures with an eye just jaundiced enough to make him a fine head of the money-spending committee.

"Of course, he isn't as tight as old Jim Bell of Mecklenburg, who headed the 1937 Appropriations committee. Nobody is that tight; but Clark's just tight enough to keep things on a pretty level keel," he said.

As for Ballentine, the Wake man is one of the few third-termers of the 1941 Senate and is said to be the first ever since three times in a row by Wake county.

Senator Ballentine was not a member of the 1939 Finance committee, but was an Appropriations member. He is considered "sound" in his financial views; though in the last session he was at odds with the Administration all the way on the question of diversion of highway funds. The Wake county man was an implacable foe of diversion, even in the sugar-coated "contingent" form and on every occasion voted against that feature of the Revenue act.

His appointment as Finance chairman, for that reason, would be a welcome one to anti-diversionists. The next lieutenant governor is forth-rightly committed against any form of diversion and the Ballentine views are likely to be an asset, not a liability, if he should be receptive to the Finance appointment.

Ballentine supported Broughton in the primaries, and your reporter's best information is that Clark did also. This, too, would not work against them.

At this state, however, there is absolutely no guarantee of accuracy attached to the Clark-Ballentine parley. The talk is that they stand good chances to get the posts mentioned. It may all be talk; and even if it is anything more than that, circumstances could change the prospects almost overnight—and it's still five months until the General Assembly convenes.

Meanwhile little has been heard lately of the contest for president pro tem, in which Senators John D. Larkins, Jr., of Jones, and Archie Gay of Northampton are the avowed candidates. Last reliable information to the effect that it still looks up and tuck with neither having enough committed strength to be regarded as "in."

CITIES VALUES OF FARM TOUR

Raleigh, Sept. 5.—County farm and home tours are playing an important role in the development of a superior North Carolina agriculture, John W. Goodman, assistant director of the State College Extension Service, said today.

Through these organized visits to farms and homes where outstanding practices are being carried out or where extensive improvements have been made, the visitors have an opportunity to see how they, too, can improve their situations.

Interest in these tours continues on the upgrade, Goodman said. For instance, he pointed to Madison county where a report from Farm Agent P. R. Elam said "it is astonishing to note the increase in interest in some sections of the county over that of a year ago."

The report continued, saying that similar tours were conducted in most of these sections last year, at which time the results of some of the more recent agricultural practices were no as pronounced as they were this year.

During 1939 and 1940, Madison farmers used more phosphate and lime than ever before. When the tours were held a year ago, there was little evidence of the benefits of lime and phosphate applied earlier that year.

However, since that time the seasons have been favorable, and growers have seen remarkable results where these two materials were applied on the land.

In fact, Agent Elam said, these demonstrations and their results are making believers out of many who have been skeptical about the use of lime and phosphate in the past. As a result, it is anticipated that the amount of these materials used will increase substantially from now on.

Best Jewelry Store Formally Re-Opens Friday Night

Floor Was Provided By Atlanta Company

The modernistic and attractive floor covering at Best Jewelry store was provided by Lang and Fritz, Inc. of Atlanta, Ga., specialists in resilient floors.

The floor covering for the store was furnished and installed by the Atlanta firm and presents a standing tribute to the work of the company.

Best Store Designed By Atlanta, Ga. Firm

The designing for Best Jewelry store, which holds its formal re-opening Friday night, was the work of the T. H. Wills store designing service of Atlanta, Ga., recognized as one of the best in the South.

The firm specializes in merchandising and modernization and has as its slogan the phrase "Creators of Distinctive Stores." The local work would bear out this slogan as all who have witnessed the improvements highly praise the job.

LOCAL HOUSES PLAYED A PART

Outstanding Work Shown In Modernization Plan

Several outstanding business houses, including several in Greenville, played an important part in the modernization program just completed by Best's Jewelry store.

Individual stories regarding these firms appear elsewhere on the two pages devoted to the formal opening tomorrow night.

Among the local firms which helped remodel the store were Shoe and Cannon, Smith Electric Company, and City Plumbing Company.

In addition to these firms which helped to modernize the store, several other congratulatory messages were sent by companies whose products the local store handles.

Shoe and Cannon Had Part In Local Store

The general construction work of the remodelled Best Jewelry Company was done by one of Greenville's leading contractors, Shoe and Cannon, located on Dickinson avenue.

In congratulating the firm on its improvements, the local contractors declared they were proud of their part of the work.

Shoe and Cannon are well known in this section and have played a part in much of the development and improvement projects in the city.

Lighting Installed By Smith Electric

When the Best Jewelry Company decided to modernize and remodel their store here into one of the finest in Carolina they turned to Smith Electric Company, a well-known and established Greenville firm, to provide the proper and adequate lighting facilities.

Lighting in the store, of a combination direct and fluorescent cover lighting, is another demonstration of the excellent work of Jesse and Milo Smith. The lighting of Best Jewelry store is a demonstration of proper lighting, blended with attractiveness.

Show Cases Product Of Montgomery Firm

The Georgia Show Case Company of Montgomery, Ala., designers and manufacturers of store and bank equipment, provided the fixtures for Best Jewelry store.

The company is recognized as manufacturers of the most modern store fixtures in the South and the work here would bear out that reputation.

It's A Tie

Cleveland.—(AP)—James Lawson and Helen Meller argued from childhood over who would marry first, but now it's settled. Miss Meller is to become Mrs. Lawson.

The Welsh port of Cardiff is closer to Canada or the United States than any other English port.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coons

Hollywood—Tyrene Power, wearing black tights, black boots, black hat and black moustache, is doing a job he never did before.

He has played Jesse James, and del Espees, and a pioneer with Brigham Young, and except for Don Ameche he looks more the way historical characters are supposed to look than any other young man in the movies.

But now he's playing Doug Fairbanks, senior. Rather, he's playing against the fan memory of Doug as he was in one of his jumpiest bitterest silent epics, "The Mark of Zorro."

They're calling it "The Californian" now, and they've streamlined the story, but that's what it is—good old Zorro, the Robin Hood of early Los Angeles, when the fifth city was a pueblo and scarcely a dot in the mind of Mother Spain.

Ty hasn't reached the fence-leaping stage yet. "That's still to come," he says. "Right now I'm bothered by the fencing."

He's taking lessons from Fed Cavens, the duel master of the studios, who taught Doug, Sr., how to whip an army with a single sword. Ty is pitted against Basil Rathbone in the fencing sequence. Rathbone is a picture veteran of the foils and an amateur fencer in his spare time.

Rouben Mamoulian is directing "The Californian." "The Mark of Zorro" was the first movie he saw when he went to London some 26 years ago from his native Tills. He saw the movie again the other day. It may be crude by today's standards, he reports, but the "psychological thrill" still is there, and the picture doesn't suffer. The new version, he says, will have its athletic, acrobatic business toned down. "After all," he explains, "the other was made to Fairbanks' order, and this is going to be a logical story."

There'll be another difference, according to Ernesto A. Romero, technical adviser. Romero, for 12 years attached to the Mexican consulate here, knows how movies with Latin American locales should be made. "Once Hollywood paid no attention to such details as costuming, furnishings, accents when it made pictures of South or Central America," Romero says. "Latin Americans laughed at or resented Hollywood's pictures of themselves."

"Today every care is taken to assure authenticity. This setting, the home and patio of the Alcalde of old Los Angeles, is a beautiful example. We take some dramatic license, but we take none with details of wardrobe, settings and speech. Every Spanish word spoken by the players, to give flavor to their speeches in English, will be pronounced correctly, and Latin Americans will appreciate it."

The leading lady is Linda Darnell. The day I was on the set she walked in, informally slacked and bloused. Mamoulian took one look at her hands, and delivered a paternal lecture.

"Linda," he said, "in a few days we shoot you at prayer. Your hands must be clasped, and you must look as beautiful as a painting by an old master. But the audience will look at your hands and it will say, 'Ah! Linda has been biting her nails again!'"

"I'll use false nails," Linda promised Mamoulian.

Best Jewelry Store carries a complete line of Elgin watches and the firm at all times has a full assortment of designs for men and women. The popular timepiece is known throughout the world and rests upon its reputation.

Elgin watches are manufactured in Elgin, Illinois, by one of the oldest manufacturers of accurate timepieces in the country.

Raleigh, Sept. 4.—The WPA will soon strike down what is definitely the "last wooden courthouse" in North Carolina.

Graham county has applied for an $37,750. brick, stone, steel and concrete temple to house its county officials, the courts and provide a section for those transgressors curtailed by justice from transgressing further.

The project was approved by C. C. McGinnis, state W. P. A. administrator, today. The papers are now on their routes in Washington for final determination there.

To make way for the new building to be erected on the same elevated site, the endeavor calls for demolishing the old one, built in 1895.

Like the old court house, the fire-proof structure, at Robbinsville, will be nearer the capitals of six other states than to its own at Raleigh.

On a nearby hill is the marked grave of Chief Junaluska, who saved the life of Andrew Jackson at the battle of Horseshoe Bend, a fray between federal troops and the Creeks. The surrounding mountains contain much game, bears, deer and wild boars. Lake Santeetlah and the streams teem with small-mouthed bass and bream. The grandeur of the forests no doubt prompted Joyce Kilmer, author of the poem "Trees." A granite boulder with a bronze plaque and a memorial forest, both bearing his name, pay tribute to the late writer and the source of his inspiration. Beauty, history, sport and an industrious populace surround the spot where these, who cannot find jobs elsewhere, will build the serviceable emblem which will proclaim that even in America's remote regions, the rights of man as an individual, are sacred, worthy of a grand sanctuary. When a purveyor of news places "last" describing anything, "he puts his neck out." When Pamlico and Jones counties completed WPA-built court houses, "last" wooden court house in the state was heralded in connection with the one at Trenton. Came the letters proclaiming that the capital of Graham still had the dubious honor of possessing an inadequate frame house. No more will we even quote from "The Last of the Mohicans." But here we are again with that word, "last." We are satisfied this time, since we've traveled from Manteo to Murphy via Robbinsville for a bit of visual education. It has taken over a year, the careful planning for progress of Graham county officials and the Works Projects Administration and $87,750 to permit salvaging the wounds cracked down on the back of the neck when it was out.

J. B. Crisp, chairman of Graham county board of commissioners, and A. P. Chormley, county accountant are the sponsors' agents while Gwynn Denton, WPA engineer, will represent his organization in supervising the work on the two-story with basement, T-shaped building. The plans specify modern heating and plumbing equipment as well as landscaping "The Square."

Congratulations!

Strength For The Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

HAPPINESS OR ANIMAL EXISTENCE?

There are very few people in the world who are really happy—people who can stop at any moment of the day and realize with that warm, inner feeling of contentment that they are perfectly happy and satisfied. Happiness is not a matter of more and more. It is a matter of less and less. Multitudes of people merely exist as slaves to the routine business of making a living. They never stop to question whether or not their lives as a whole are happy. They know they get a pleasant sensation when they make a killing in the market, or see a beautiful picture, or make love, or get drunk, each according to his own predilections. They also know grief when they lose a loved one, fail in business, or are overtaken by illness. But they can never see the question of happiness or unhappiness as the great spiritual synthesis that it is. To such people happiness is merely a surplus of pleasant sensations over unpleasant sensations. There is merely an animal existence.

We do not live long, and the realization that real happiness has been sacrificed for sensation only too often does not come until bitter, disillusioned old age. The formula for happiness is in the Gospels. It is a simple formula, but the greatest paradox of all time. Sacrifice all to win, lose the world to gain it. This formula is trite verbiage to the sensation seeker, but to those who try it the paradox disappears and true happiness unfolds about their lives in unexplainable simplicity. (All Rights Reserved—Babson Newspaper Syndicate)

It seems to us that the Congressmen would have enough on their hands trying to untangle the affairs of our country at this time, without resorting to entangling in fist fights on the floor of the House, such as occurred between Representative Vincent of Kentucky, and Representative Sweeney of Ohio. No doubt the spectators in the galleries got a big kick out of the row, but as we see it, when so-called statesmen desecrate the halls of Congress by fist-fighting it's high time the districts from which such Congressmen hail should be looking new persons for the jobs.

There is a lot of argument pro and con on the method by which agreement was reached for the trade of 50 destroyers to Great Britain, but while many might feel that the transaction was irregular, most people seem to be pleased that we have lost no more time in giving this needed aid to Great Britain.

Congressman Harold Cooley is right when he declares that what this farming section needs most right now is not curtailment of crops, but adequate markets and distribution system whereby we can readily dispose of the products of our farms. Not until we can produce more and have a place to sell it can we hope for the farming areas to get on their feet financially. North Carolina alone sends millions of dollars from the state annually for supplies that can be produced right here on the farms of Eastern North Carolina.

Washington Notebook

H. J. L. Albany, Minn.—Claude R. Wickard, the new secretary of agriculture, is definitely not a fire-side farmer. Graduating from Purdue university in 1915, he hid right back to the 386-acre Carroll county, Indiana, farm that has been in his family for 100 years, and started immediately experimenting with some theories he had picked up in college—but it was dirt farming, not of office-chair stuff. He did some real pioneering in soil rehabilitation work and once was selected by a farm magazine as "master farmer of Indiana."

Right now, the 47-year-old secretary gets his biggest kick in life out of getting back to the farm and helping the hired hands harvest a crop. He has a husky, solid frame and a healthy grin that runs off in wrinkles at the corner of his eyes. He is sometimes referred to as "a swell dresser," but he looks plenty at ease in old wrinkled trousers, a pair of weather-beaten brogans, and an open-collared shirt.

He did do his dabbling in politics out in Indiana getting himself elected to the state senate in 1932 but resigned a little more than a year later to come to Washington in a comparatively minor capacity in the old Agricultural Adjustment Administration. He likes to refer to himself as an "Andrew Jackson Democrat." His father and his grandfather both were christened Andrew Jackson Wickard.

In Washington, the Wickards (there are two daughters, but one will be in school this winter and the other working in Indianapolis) practically keep open house for the many friends who drift through here from the Middle West. But whenever there's a holiday you find the secretary of agriculture back in Carroll county pitching hay or feeding the hogs. Incidentally, he is one of the first cabinet members here to come up through the ranks of his department.

K. D. Bristol, Va.—The Army and Navy are being so cagey these days it's almost impossible to get an accurate picture of either. The Army wrote the Army plans to call up about 6,000 reserve officers for emergency duty. These men will not be called up until the training camps are opened.

It might even be months before they get around to the reserve officer friend you mention and the fact that another acquaintance of yours has been called is hardly any indication that the former has a special pull.

W. E. D. Fort Worth, Tex.—Thanks for your enlightening letter on Gov. "Pass-the-biscuits-pappy" W. Lee O'Daniel. I hope the good people of Texas continue to enjoy that "blackout of higher taxes."

Mrs. N. D. C. Kansas City, Kas.—The reason that I have not carried any instructions on the alien registration and fingerprinting is simple: that although this is a national program, it is local in every community and I am sure that the home-town papers have carried the instructions from the agents. Aliens who have taken out first papers do have to register. The registration period closes day after Christmas. Aliens not registering by that time are liable to $100 fine and six months in jail. I think that in every community, the registration is taking place in postoffices and registration division officials assure me that in no instance anywhere do the police fingerprinting departments have anything to do with it.

T. R. B. Fairview, Neb.—To put it briefly, the Agriculture Department says the 1941 farm program is virtually a continuation of the present program, so I should think you could believe your farm agents that any benefits you receive this year will be forthcoming next. Since the Republicans, neither through Mr. Willkie nor Senator McNary, have given any hint of changes in the farm program, I can see no reason for thinking now that even a change in Administration would result in any material change in agricultural legislation.

Short Shots

Raleigh, Sept. 5.—Convention headquarters of the North Carolina Young Democratic clubs are very gloomy these days despite the fact that W. R. Rand has added a flaming red, white and blue belt to the patriotic "Roosevelt" suspenders he got recently.

The gloom comes from an unusual source. The Young Dems have just too much harmony, something which political organizations usually desire, but don't always get.

In the current instance, however, those who are charged with handling arrangements for the September 12-13-14 sessions only want sweet peace and concord after all the delegates have checked in and registered. A fight on the convention floor would be bad medicine; but pre-convention prospects of a knock down, drag out for the club presidency, made for a bigger and better crowd of Young Dems.

So Rand and his associates are now bewailing the fact that Lee Wilson pulled out of the race and seems to have left the field almost exclusively to young Ralph Gardner of Shelby.

In what seems a last-ditch effort—either to stir up advance interest or as a real effort to "Stop Gardner"—Miss Jane Brown of Greensboro, said to have been a strong gubernatorial primary, is being vigorously willing to make a fight against Gardner. From this angle it looks very much like a complete flop, whatever the motives behind it. Nobody hereabouts has taken the Brown rumor seriously.

Ouch! An officer of the North Carolina National Guard who will soon be stationed with his command at Fort Jackson, South Carolina, thought he would take time by the forelock and get an apartment or house for himself and family for the year the Tar Heel troops will be camped outside the Palmetto capital. He wrote a real estate agent, his personal friend, about the matter, and in reply learned that apartments and houses which have been renting for $30 to $40 per month are now at a premium at rentals from $85 to $90.

A couple of Raleigh officers have put their heads together, decided to buy a lot near Columbia for $700 and build their own duplex house on it through an FHA loan. They figure that if they stay as much as three or four months, let alone a year, they will break even if they just move out and make no effort to salvage anything from their equity in the property.

Not many people are aware of it, but the recent floods have given Federal officials of the Food and Drug division a tremendous job.

WORK STARTED BY ASPIRANTS

Successful Season Predicted For High Eleven

By RUBEN ROWLETT
The 1940 edition of the Greenville High School Flying Green Phantoms is beginning to shape up to an expectedly successful season of the gridiron of opposing teams in the Northeastern Conference.

Losing such veterans of last year's squad such as George Tyndall, George Sakas, Marvin Stocks, Polly Williams, Earl Kittrell, Russell Rogerson and others quite as useful will undoubtedly be a hindrance but with reserves of last year and with last year's regulars added to many newcomers, this seasons squad will probably be quite as dangerous and opposing as the 1939 eleven.

Ends such as Larry James and John Collins will be considerable threats to all opponents throughout the conference. Both boys were first stringers last year and will probably be among the starters this year. J. B. Kittrell, blocking back of last season is showing as much form as usual and will also be among the first stringers this year. J. B. is the only regular backfield man to return. All others were lost by graduation. H. R. Goodall, one of last season's able reserves will undoubtedly be giving much trouble to all opposite linemen this year. Goodall played center under Polly Williams last year and will probably get his starting assignments this year. Gene Johnson, newcomer to the squad is showing much promise as a backfield threat. Gene's punting is showing up considerably good for a beginner, and he will undoubtedly see much action on this year's eleven. Two newcomers, Bill and Gene Britt from Warsaw, are showing considerable form and will be giving old team members a fight for their positions. Bill was used in the tail back spot last year and also at blocking back. Gene, a larger and heavier boy than Bill is a lineman and is showing up to be an exceptionally good one. Leonard and James Briley, left over from last year's reserves are both doing well in practice and its believed that they will come through in games also. Both boys are backs and are especially good in the art of passing. Paul Scott and Noah Lee Edwards regular linemen of 1939 will also be in there fighting for the dear old alma mater.

The team all around is showing up exceptionally good for early season and it is the general belief that they will continue to do so for the entire time. Coaches Bo Farley and Heman Fulkerson are looking forward to and expecting just as good an eleven as last year's.

Probably all games will be played under the lights this year and undoubtedly all of the home games. The 1940 schedule will include most old enemies with a few newcomers added to the list. The first game of the season will be with Tarboro, but there is an open date before that. It is rumored that Blackstone (Va.) High School has placed their bid for the open date.

SERIES APPEAR NEARING CLOSE

Both Tarboro And Wilson Need Only One Game

Both Wilson and Tarboro pulled to within one game of victory in the two semi-finals series last night. Wilson took a 9-3 win over the Kinston Eagles to make it three games to two, while Tarboro defeated Goldsboro 8-4 to make it three games to one.

The Tobs finished strong to turn a threatened defeat into a one-sided victory. The Wilson team entered the ninth inning trailing 3-2, but with one away the Tobs started pounding the ball all over the park and before the other two men were retired had pushed seven runs across the plate to take a 9-3 lead. The Eagles were held scoreless in their half of the ninth. The two teams play in Wilson tonight in what may be the final game of the semi-finals series.

Tarboro was never behind in its game with the Goldbugs at Goldsboro. The winners scored two in the first and then put the game on ice with a five-run barrage in the fourth. The final Tarboro tally was marked up in the ninth.

Local Softball Team Gets Double Victory

The Greenville all-star softball team last night took a double-header from the New Bern Maolia team at Third street park. The contests even the post-season series between the two teams, the New Bern team having won both ends of a twin-bill in that city last Sunday.

It was doubtful, however, that the tie would be settled this year, as no further games are anticipated.
